Originalism is not brilliant. It is far from the kingdom. There are those who are using it as a tool for ignoble purposes to bring in fascism in the sheep's clothing of Christianity. They rail against judicial activism that is often simply upholding the spirit of the law that is first and foremost to be justice.

Judges were never supposed to be mere text regurgitaters. Judges were to mete out justice, which is fairness. He who sits in the judgment seat is supposed to be the height of justice. Only God can sit there. Jesus said, "Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?" (Luke 12:14). He also said, "Yea, and why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right?" (Luke 12:57).

Mr. Scalia attempts to qualify to cover himself by suggesting that the authority to use the death penalty applies "only to lawfully constituted authority that rules justly." Naturally, he believes that the government of the US and the state governments are lawfully constituted authorities and rule justly. How then did so many state governments execute so many who were not guilty of the charges leveled against them by those states? It was not just. It was heinous injustice and cannot be justified accept by hypocrites. It was lawfully constituted solely by reason of might makes right.

Those whose spirits allowed them to assert their self-authorized will upon the rest of their siblings simply just state arbitrarily that they are in charge and make the laws and will punish any who find otherwise. I find otherwise, based upon the new commandment, the highest law.

One may not free from imputation of guilt the federal authorities by appealing to state's rights in this case either. It is the federal bench that determines the constitutionality of the death penalty. If US Supreme Court justices allow for the death penalty under the Constitution of the United States of America, the blood is on their hands as much as upon those in the various states carrying out the abomination that is the death penalty. It is cruel and unusual within so-called developed nations. The liberalism of those nations, such as it is, has pulled them away from the abominable practice. All involved must repent of the sin of capital punishment.

Favoring the death penalty favors Satan

Here we have someone raised up to what many would call the level of his incompetency and by the power of mammon worshippers more than suggesting to the whole world that real Christianity sanctions capital punishment and other human-on-human punishment when that is a flat out lie and Mr. Scalia knows it. He knows without a doubt that Jesus was a pacifist and totally against that kind of sword. He deliberately appeals to St. Paul, avoiding Jesus.

By Mr. Scalia’s crafty and calculated faulty reasoning, every martyred Christian killed for refusing to bare arms against his fellow man has deserved it for refusing the orders of the powers that be allowed of God befitting the sinful level of the time. His is an argument that favors Satan.

Jesus answered Pontius Pilate as follows:

> Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. (John 19:11).

Please notice that Jesus said "the greater sin"; therefore, Pontius Pilate had the lesser sin but nevertheless sin for allowing, sanctioning, the use of the death penalty against Jesus. Pilate, the state, knew better but went along with the mob. He went along with popular opinion to placate the mob. He went along with the tyranny of plurality. The terror of democratic voice-vote for capital punishment ruled the day.

Oh, Pilate received his authority from above alright, but had the base, mean-spirited, selfish, satanic mentality been purged yet? "Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?" (John 18:38).

Someone who did not know what truth is was necessary to carry out the prophecy. That's the whole point. Only one without the truth could order the sentence regardless of how indirectly. Caesar was allowed by God. That doesn't mean that God was pleased with the caesars. Hitler was that same kind of instrument. Yet, Hitler fell to the satanic spirit. Hitler was full of wrath and punished tens of millions. Woe befell him though.

It's just what Jesus said. Evil must come, but woe to the one who brings it. "He is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil." He though will fall under the same standard he used to mete out so-called justice upon others. Is he free of hypocrisy? Can he throw the stone? Is he prepared to be stoned by Satan's fallen angels for doing so?
What do we learn from this? How are we to conduct ourselves? What does it say about taking wrath into our hands? What does it say about calling down the wrath of God? Jesus did neither. He overcame. He showed the way. Jesus didn't call in the Romans to destroy Israel. He spoke the truth. The Romans were not moved by that spirit.

Were the Hebrews forsaken by God when the Romans marched through? Were they forsaken when the Nazis marched also? Were they repentant before either case? Were they persecuted in either case on account of their righteousness?

There is no way in heaven that Paul may be used to negate Jesus, and there is no way that Jesus was in favor of any death penalty. Had Jesus said yes to the temptation to worldly empire, he would have fallen short in leading the way to the truth that the violent way of Alexander and all the other historical and legendary men of renown is not the path to God but is rather being tricked into bowing down to worship Satan. Because Jesus did not bow down to Satan becoming his own worst enemy, Satan's realm was further reduced and will be completely reduced. Rather than bowing down to the Satanic spirit, Jesus taught to turn the other cheek always. He taught not to use the death penalty or any punishment. He taught not to call down wrath. He taught to pray for mercy, love, justice, and redemption. Everything else comes from the liar from the beginning. Don't be duped.
Stop using Paul to excuse for all manner of wrong thinking

Oh, how people must stop using Paul as their excuse for all manner of wrong thinking! Why do ostensible Christians insist upon elevating their interpretations of Paul's teachings above the plain and clear meaning of the Gospel message of Jesus Christ? The answer is that they are able under that interpretation to continue in their traditional selfishness while under the Gospel their sins are exposed. If what I am saying here is inconsistent with Jesus, do not follow it. If it is right though, then help.

You may be wondering what all of this about the death penalty, Scalia, and Paul have to do with conservative family values. Well, of everything in the New Testament, Paul is the one who is mainly used by the conservatives to sanction all their false traditions. Paul fits more easily with their Old Testament delight. They love the gore of the Old Testament. They love the male-centric side of the Old Testament. Jesus is too discerning for them. They don't like it.

Therefore, if we show the mistake of the stream of thinking of capital punishment, Scalia, and the interpretation of Paul without Jesus, we show folly in the bloodline-first, conservative, family-values stream.

We say that people must stop using Paul as their excuse.

Head coverings and hair length

1 Corinthians 11 is attributed to Paul and has much of the traditions of men and not what came directly by way of the Holy Spirit of truth. Verse 4 says, "Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head." Can you hear Jesus saying that? 1 Corinthians 11:14 says, "Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?" Can you hear Jesus admonishing a man for not having short hair? Also, how can one be separated out in a Nazarite-type separation and be worried about hair? Short-hair at the time was a Roman Hellenistic tradition. Paul was a Roman citizen. It is contrivance. It is a human invention. It is the opposite of communing with God without the distractions of human traditions.

Many militaristic conservatives point to Paul and say Paul was more than hinting that long hair suggests homosexual tendencies. Plenty of homosexuals have short hair though. Probably more do than don't. Plenty of heterosexual males have long hair. Length of hair has nothing to do with it. What is contrivance?

Long hair on a male is not unnatural. What did people do before hair-cutting implements? Their hair grew and they strove to groom it as any creature does or others did it for them in affection and care and to serve.

Paul himself said the following:

Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment. (1 Corinthians 7:25).

But she is happier if she so abide, after my judgment: and I think also that I have the Spirit of God.
(1 Corinthians 7:40).

Paul gave his judgments he thought were trustworthy due to his faith. He gave his opinions. However, the Holy Spirit does not give one opinions. That is not my mere opinion. It's the truth. It comes from the Holy Spirit. The word of the Holy Spirit is commandment. One goes with it or not. Paul had no commandment from the Holy Spirit about head coverings or short hair or even virginity. However, of course denying oneself in secret consistent with the words of Jesus on the subject is a righteous thing.

There are those who say that the first pictures of Jesus were those in the catacombs showing him with short hair and beardless. They claim this is proof that Jesus was that way in life; however, the length of hair and the length of beard on the gods depicted in the catacombs of Rome were about the god's time as a god and not about whether or not the given god actually had short hair or was beardless. Jesus was a new god in Rome. It was paganism superimposed on what was seen as a new religion. Jesus was associated with Hercules in some catacomb images. Does that mean Jesus was Hercules come to life? It means that Jesus was seen as a heroic savior who more than fulfilled the desires people had in the Hercules figure.

There are those who attempt to disconnect the separation aspect of the Nazarites from Jesus's own separation. Jesus had been through the separation experience of a Nazarite. He fasted alone in the desert for forty days and forty nights. Jesus though was not subject to the Nazarite vow for life. Jesus was beyond that. He was beyond the traditions. He was the way, truth, and life. He was and is the spirit of the law. He could eat the showbread. Referring to David, Jesus said, "How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests?" (Matthew 12:4). Neither did he have to do the ceremonial cleaning that is the washing of hands before eating. He was the Son of God. He was, and is, above Abraham and Moses yet he serves them.

Many anti-long hair people are simply a cover for rabid militarism. This of course is not to say that long-haired people cannot be militarists. This is all simply to say that the length of one's hair has to do with separating oneself from the contrivance that is human tradition of keeping the hair short, which was what Paul was going by. If it's in the way, cut it off. If you want to tie it back, tie it back. Long or short hair won't prelude salvation.

One will note that most of those who try to take Paul's personal judgments and claim those are the word of God are those with the strongest, churlish, conservative agenda. Even Paul made clear, as seen above, that he wasn't giving out a commandment from God. He said he was giving his judgment and that he thought he had the spirit. He left room for doubt via his wording. The strength of the spirit can ebb and flow. Doubt weakens it.

Now, it is based upon mostly Paul's writings in conjunction with certain Old Testament scripture that the family-values people build their case. They take Paul's writings and leave them unqualified by Jesus's direct teachings. It is a real problem. That approach has caused much confusion. One must read Paul in light of Jesus, sorting out Paul's opinions from his reiteration of, or expansion upon, Jesus's teachings.

Paul and Mosaic ritual

Paul taught that observing all the Mosaic rituals would not assure anyone of salvation, not after Jesus revealed the greater light. Paul called following those Mosaic rituals or observances "deeds of the law." Okay. Now Paul was referring specifically and only to those particular Mosaic laws in their symbolic minutia. I make this clarification, because the Mosaic law also contains the great commandment and the second like it. Therefore, that law contains the golden rule. It speaks in no uncertain terms of the spirit of Jesus's new commandment (the law). Therefore, that law is still alive. It is still the law, and we must adhere to it to the best of our ability.

We must understand that Paul had his own personal experience upon which he based his genuine concerns about the law.

I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day. And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. (Acts 22:3-4).

Paul followed the law as he was brought up to understand it. He did the state’s bidding. The temple was part of the state. He did the deeds of the law as interpreted to him by the hypocrites. This runs contrary to the earlier concept put forth by Scalia doesn’t it. We have Paul confessing the sin of having done the state’s will, wrath, against the Christians, something Paul refused to continue doing when his conscience caught up with him on the road to Damascus.

Before that, he did not do the spirit of the law consistently from the root (loving God as our Father we know) through to all the lesser commandments (doing only good to all of one’s fellow human beings).

In truth, following Jesus’s new commandment is the path to perfection. It is the path to a purging of all guilt. It is the path to the blotting out of all sin. It is the path to being made again, anew, and wholly innocent. It is the path to complete forgiveness. Is this a paradox? There are no paradoxes with God. All things are possible with God within context. When we are reborn, we are not the same creatures anymore.

Is this a denial of passed sins? No. It is a statement of the power of God. There will be no residue of evil after God cleans us (puts us in new white garments).

Is this a denial of Jesus’s grace? No. It affirms it. It was Jesus who gave the commandment to love one another as he loved. It was by his grace that we are shown that kind and degree of love. Either we believe in the power of keeping his word or not. They were his words. They are the truth. If one loves him, one believes it.
"Wisdom is justified of her children." We are still justified by our actions. Our actions say who we are. Our actions show whether or not we have the faith. It would be easy to just profess Jesus and sit waiting without bringing forth the results of truly loving one another as Jesus loved. Let's not fall for that temptation. That way lies death of the soul.

Nazarite spirit today

Others will say that it is not possible to be of the Nazarite-vow spirit today, because there is no temple, etc., and that that precludes fulfilling the vow. However, the temple is the vessel of the Holy Spirit dwelling within. In addition, the vow says "the door of the tabernacle of the congregation" and does not refer exclusively to the first or Herod temples, per se. The Nazarite experience, the wilderness and fasting experience, is a way to reduce the distraction of human tradition down to a minimum so one may see what really matters: Love that is unselfishness.

Paul, James, and Ebionite judaizing

Judaizing is trying to get Christians to be Jews first rather than Jews and others to be Christians. Jesus made clear that keeping the Mosaic law was not possible. Stoning is sin. That's why he brought the New Testament, new commandment, and fulfilled the prophecy. Once one had that in one's heart, all the ceremonial was counter-productive, a distraction. That's why the daily sacrifice was taken away. The sacrificers were expert in following the ritual but had no knowledge of mercy, God, in their hearts. The ritual was not reminding them. It was unduly encumbering them. It was impeding their further enlightenment.

There are those who claim that Paul underwent a Nazarite vow, since he with others went to have his head shaved in the temple.

Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them; Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law. (Acts 21:23-24).

Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them. (Acts 21:26).

Now, Paul arrived in Jerusalem and the next day he met with James and the day after that he went to the temple for this ceremony. He had no time to undertake the Nazarite vow of separation.

Had it been a Nazarite ceremony, Paul and the others would have caused in the temple animal sacrifices and burnt offerings of "one he lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish for a sin offering, and one ram without blemish for peace offerings" for each of the four plus Paul. This they would have done after Jesus had specifically said the following:

But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. (Matthew 9:13).

Jesus was referring them back to the scripture. "For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings." (Hosea 6:6).

Why would Paul and the others do that? Jesus spent forty days and forty nights fasting in the desert. We don't have it that he returned to the temple to shave his head and offer animal sacrifices. That would have been a major diversion from his message. Look at what Jesus is saying that it takes to bring back those astray. He says that mercy (in all its implications—feeding all the lambs and sheep) is what it takes to call sinners to repentance, call wrong-doers who know better to turn to godliness. He specifically says that God doesn't want sacrifices that were supposed to be statements by those who were already behaving righteously. Of course, those who were in charge of the temple where the main sacrifices were done were not showing that they were of the merciful spirit. That's why such sacrifices are not what God wants. They are disconnected from righteousness. Carrying out such sacrifices was not reminding the people to be really righteous that is merciful. It was not teaching the people to stop being hypocritical. Those in the temple were feigning piety.

It is just as with those who go through the motions of Holy Communion or the Eucharist (wine and bread). Once it starts being done perfunctorily (routinely and without making the connection—remembering the whole message), it isn't what God wants. God wants what it is suppose to remind us to do and to be.

James was well-intentioned, but he wasn't his brother, Jesus. The same goes for Paul. He wasn't Jesus. None of the Apostles was Jesus. This is not to take credit away. It is simply to state the truth. Of course, being Christlike is easy to say but hard to do.

Had the Jews been complaining that someone such as Paul was teaching the Jews amongst the Gentiles not to worry about the law for the hardhearted, including such sacrifices, Jesus would have said again, "I will have mercy, and not sacrifice." We are not to water down the message. Remember, Jesus chased those selling animals for sacrifices and the animals out of the temple to cleanse it.

The message sets the divine standard for the highest separation. It gives different levels. It is relative to the degree one grasps and adheres. However, the idea is to bring people up. It is not to lower the overall impression of what is truly required just for the sake of accommodating converts. That is diluting the message. That is converting people to continued falsehood. It is quantity before quality by having low expectations of the people. It is selling them short. It is keeping heaven from earth. If we lower the standard, we will fall short of the real standard.

Jesus showed us where sin lies. It lies in not keeping to the full spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it when one grasps the new commandment and that it comes from God, which it does. It takes absolutely zero animal sacrifices to keep the first and great commandment and the second like it. It takes only one animal sacrifice to insult God after one has been plainly and clearly told to focus on mercy to call sinners to turn. Why is that so difficult to see? It isn't.

This sort of confusion shows why the current situation is so apostatized.

The error of Judaization

Judaization is a mistake when Judaism is held to be the current Pharisaic, rabbinical religion. However, when real Christianity is understood as the religion of the real Jews, then of course judaization is fine. Here, we have again run into contextual dependency.

People have the wrong idea. Are Christian men supposed to shave their heads and kill lambs in the worship of God? That's not conducive to the pacifistic spirit of turning the other cheek. It is heading in the direction of cold-heartedness. The message of The Bible is a progression away from the beastly and animalistic. Going back to animal sacrifices would be regressive. It would be just as regressive as an eye for an eye. We are supposed to be going up and into the light and not down into the darkness from whenest we have crawled after our fall to the low estate of lust.

Paul took exception to judaization. He saw faith in Jesus as replacing all the perfunctory ritual. He was right about much that he observed as the meaning of the life of Jesus. He and the other Apostles though digressed from Jesus's focus. The Apostles took up the cause of defending their individual revelations rather than working cooperatively to gain a sharper focus on the focus of Jesus. They argued at cross-purposes. They didn't take enough time to hash things out. They missed some of each other's valid points so that finally they didn't completely reconcile the mundane paradoxes as Jesus certainly had. It is understandable. It is easier to see it in hindsight.

We cannot say everything here that the Holy Spirit will say to individuals who ask, seek, and knock. It isn't necessary for us to be exhaustive. The new commandment sums it all up. Keeping the new commandment is keeping all the divine law. God won't care whether or not you are circumcised or when you did it or why if you will turn and keep the new commandment. All the ceremony and ritual in the world won't save you if you reject the new commandment. Nothing will save you if you reject the new commandment.

We are endeavoring to be consistent. Each of the apostles endeavored to be consistent. It is right to do so. Consistency is the only right path. Everything else is hypocrisy.
Paul wasn't infallible

If you want to believe that human traditional readings of Paul that run contrary to Jesus are infallible, just as the Roman church claims for their pope, you are free to be wrong. It is your choice.

When one writes, one must take into account, one must anticipate, how one's words may be misinterpreted. This is why, as one grows in the spirit, one must be clear in telling people to read the Gospels for their understanding of consistency, against whatever anyone says including how people have interpreted Paul. The point itself is made in Acts 17:11 as follows:

These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

Now, they did not have the Gospels to search. They had only the Old Testament and the other writings they held sacred that were not finally canonized by the early church. So, had they had the Gospels, they would have found Jesus saying that Pilate was sinning, regardless of whether his authority had come from on high. They would have had Jesus's words not to throw the stones to kill anyone. They would have had Jesus's words to turn the other cheek, always meaning do not punish and do not violently resist evil. They would have had Jesus's words saying those [nations] who live by the sword will die by it. Then they would have tested Paul's teachings for consistency as Paul himself admired, which is good and right.

Paul and women

They would have had all the other teachings in the Gospels against which to gage all of Paul's teachings and writings or writings attributed to Paul. They would have had Jesus's example toward women that is not consistent with Paul's alleged admonition for the women to remain silent in the congregation holding their questions for their husbands for after the group had disassembled.

> Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience as also saith the law.
> And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church. (1 Corinthians 14:34-35).

Inconsistent doctrine or teaching lends credence in the minds of many to the notion that the scriptures have been tampered with or that Paul was not always in the spirit when he wrote. After all, this alleged teaching of Paul is not only inconsistent with the impression people have of Jesus's view toward women as shown in the Gospels, it is also seen by many as inconsistent with other of the teachings often attributed to Paul.
Paul said of a woman that others were to follow her instructions. Wasn't the letter to the whole church and, therefore, to males also?

I commend unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at Cenchrea: That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you. (Romans 16:1-2).

How can males be the head of women {"The head of the woman is the man." (1 Corinthians 11:3)} yet have to follow the instructions of women? Some will say that this part of verse 3 must pertain only to married couples as suggested by "Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord"

(Ephesians 5:22) and "To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed." (Titus 2:5). Also, "Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection. But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence." (1 Timothy 2:11-12).

Some people doubt that Ephesians and the pastorals 1 Timothy, 2 Timothy, and Titus were authored by Paul. Regardless, this whole train of thought concerning the submission of women to the rule of men stems from the Book of Genesis.

Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee. (Genesis 3:16).

Of course, there is the entire Eden story where woman is made from man, etc. In the Eden story, she was made for him. Some people take it literally. Conservatives use it to support their family-values position that contains a decidedly antifeminist leaning. Other people see it as an attempt by the then anthropologically primitives, so-called, to explain existence and connect the fact that males have one fewer ribs. For many, it is seen as a way of having explained male physical dominance and all that naturally followed from it. The usual primary biologically predisposed roles of the genders naturally turned out to be that human males were the first-line of defense, the primary protectors, and food providers since, likewise, the females were bearing and nurturing babies and children and could not engage in those more male-disposed roles. Neither could the male bear children or nurse them and such. Under this thinking, how the Eden-Genesis concept necessarily became male-centric is understandable since the male had to be outward looking for the sake of anticipating perceived threats. It fell to him to arrange and command the family to move about, work for food, and for similar reasons. All of this structure was attributed to God's design. From that design, the Book of Genesis creation story was backed into.

Eden-Genesis

However, the Eden-Genesis story is not properly defined under any condescending terms. It recognizes many truths that have been completely submerged by so-called modernity. The teleological (design in natural phenomena) truth that we exist in unfolding, prophesied history, therefore, God is, is sublimely apparent in the mind or minds behind the Eden-Genesis story. Even though it is highly mystical while being also decidedly terrestrial, it touches upon the most profound questions of humanity. Most importantly, it rightly expresses that we are in a fallen historical and spiritual condition.

The truth of righteousness does not rise or fall upon the mundane literalness of the Eden story. We are required to adhere to the spirit of the great commandment, not because the Eden story in Book of Genesis is either literal or figurative (as those terms are understood by the mundane mind) but because we know now that the commandment is true on its face. It is self-evident. It is not conjecture. The historical consequences for adhering versus going astray are hard fact. We see the impact every moment. Splitting hairs over the Eden story can be exceeding procrastination, which is a sin.

What is the metaphorical, real fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil? The fruit of evil is the result, effect, consequence of selfishness. To know evil is to experience it. When were you introduced? From that point, one is conflicted until one causes, through the spirit that is God, the manifestation of partaking of the real fruit of the tree of life (eternal real life). One is conflicted until one does righteous deeds, through the spirit that is God, bringing forth tangible results of having eaten and become the cause and effect, the flesh and the seed, and the words and deeds of God in Jesus, the root essence and magnification of infinite, divine love and redemption.

Paul and women, continued

Nevertheless, seeming inconsistencies opens up the teachings attributed to Paul to the not wholly implausible questions of ambiguity and hypocrisy. If the admonitions for silence of women are meant for married couples only, where is the equality in the spirit in such marriages? Are't there marriages where the female is in the spirit and the male is not? What then? To that, the apologists will say that 1 Corinthians 11 attributed to Paul was addressing only those couples where both are in the spirit. However, this still assumes incorrectly that it is always the male of the Christian couple who is closest to the kingdom, which has not always been the case.

Also inconsistent with that anti-female view written in 1 Corinthians 14 about women remaining silent is the writing in chapter 11 of 1 Corinthians that women were empowered by God with the gift of prophecy.

> But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were shaven. (1 Corinthians 11:5).

How can a female be able to prophesy but not be allowed to speak of it in the church? There is a different emphasis in some of the writings attributed to Paul; therefore, the questions people have raised are legitimate. The Holy Spirit will tell them if they continue asking.

Galatians speaks directly to the spirit of equality or oneness of male and female, etc.

There is neither Jew nor Greek,
there is neither bond nor free,
there is neither male nor female:
for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.
(Galatians 3:28).

How could one hold that view but at the same time be telling women that they are inferior to the extent that "It is a shame for women to speak in the church"?

Also, in pointing out hypocrisy, Jesus would refer back to scripture in the following manner: "And Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lapidoth, she judged Israel at that time."

(Judges 4:4). Jesus would say that if she, Deborah, judged them, then women are not to be subjected to laws banning them from teaching in the churches.

Jesus would also have referred to the following:

And the king commanded Hilkiah the priest, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Achbor the son of Michaiah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asahiah a servant of the king's, saying, Go ye, enquire of the LORD for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us. So Hilkiah the priest, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Asahiah, went unto Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe; (now she dwelt in Jerusalem in the college;) and they communed with her. (2 Kings 22:12-14).

Huldah was a prophetess to whom the king sent his priest and other representatives, and she prophesied to them. Now, who would tell her to be silent in the church?

We also have Joel prophesying that daughters shall prophesy.

And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions. (Joel 2:28).

Philip's four daughters prophesied. "And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy." (Acts 21:9).

The Gospel includes the following:

And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity; And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day. And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem (Luke 2:36-38).

Anna lived in the temple. She taught in the temple "to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem," obviously both male and female. She was not silent in the congregation or church.

Now, with equality and inequality in the writings attributed to Paul, was it Paul who wrote that women are to remain silent and the other discriminatory things? Was it some other writer or writers who altered Paul's writings for reasons of antifeminism? Was it some other writer or writers who wrote entire letters attributed to Paul also for reasons of antifeminism? We don't say so.

The truth is that both the male and the female of a married couple ought to be dutiful and amenable concerning one another under the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. While people ignore this, internecine debates rage and the work of God is put off.

Now you see why we must look to the words and life example of Jesus first and foremost for guidance. We are to ask the Holy Spirit for truth. We must take care not to allow Paul or anyone else to be taken in isolation to guide us. If we do, we will fall into the same error as Antonin Scalia concerning the death penalty, justifying his position with half-truths.

More on Antonin Scalia, the death penalty, and Paul

Contrary to Antonin Scalia's conservative view, as shown in his assertions concerning the death penalty, one is not supposed to do everything one is told to do by the powers that be (even if those powers imagine themselves legally constituted and just) regardless of whether those orders run contrary to Jesus's teachings. One is not blindly to follow after the traditions of one's fathers and mothers. One is not to put genetic family above spiritual family.

Evil minds will use any means, including the scriptures, to assert control. Even altering the scriptures for reasons beyond mere emendation (clarification) is not unprecedented. Think of how easy it is to misinterpret the scriptures asserting false doctrines. We do have the evidence of the Johannine comma insertion by Desiderius Erasmus in his third edition of the Textus Receptus upon which the New Testament of the King James Version of The Bible, for instance, is based. I will flesh that out later in this work.

If the powers that be tell you to kill, you are to refuse. If they kill you for refusing to obey them while you are obeying Jesus, then so be it. You will not have sinned. They will have sinned, because they have heard the word and they understand that they are not supposed to kill.

If you think Paul meant that people are to obey orders to kill or do other evil and you believe in the message of Jesus, then you are obligated to reject Paul's teaching as false. If you think that Paul's teachings have been misinterpreted or altered or misattributed to him or that Paul just didn't qualify his judgments enough to avoid later confusion and that Paul would never mean for anyone at any time to do anything against the teachings of Jesus, then keep his teachings but interpret them and qualify them accordingly.

Paul (Saul of Tarsus at the time) had been fervently persecuting the Christians.

As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3).

He was so much the instrument of the powers that be at the time that he went to the high priest to obtain letters empowering him to go to Damascus, Syria, to arrest Christians and to haul them to Jerusalem for prison or worse.

And Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. (Acts 9:1-2).
Earlier, Saul had watched over the coats of those who were busy stoning Stephen to death. "And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul." (Acts 7:58).

Yet, Paul himself ended up openly, directly, and obviously disobeying the powers that be. He sided with the Christians rather than those powers. Therefore, it is right to take things in the spirit that Paul thereafter never intended to lead anyone at any time to do anything against the teachings of Jesus.

One is always confronted by the question of when and where one stops obeying the orders of worldly authorities or the traditions and mere opinions of men. Jesus did not resist evil while he did no evil. Jesus paid his taxes. Had they commanded him to be a soldier in their army, would he have obeyed? No. Also, regardless of issues of head coverings, hair length, and the like, Jesus was concerned with avoiding anything that was misleading, inconsistent, and, therefore, hypocritical. Are concerns with head coverings and length of hair and other issues in 1 Corinthians 11 misleading? Were they, and are they, distractions, just as the ceremonial hand washing of the Pharisees was a human tradition and a hypocritical distraction? Did Paul or the writer of those things attributed to Paul guide the people to have their minds headed through the strait gate and down the narrow way with those particular suggestions? In any case and while doing no evil, one is not to violently resist whether it be the greater or lesser of evils in this world for violence is evil.
Do not find, or love, your life in this the worldly way. Capitalism and empires built upon mammon work to divide people from God. Ask the Holy Spirit to tell you where the lines are drawn between not resisting on one hand and going over to the dark on the other. Jesus did not dodge his taxes. "If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?" (Luke 16:11). However, when those of the unrighteous mammon command you to kill others, then the verse before it must speak to your heart. "He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much." (Luke 16:10). What is injustice in much? Wouldn't it be caving into the temptation of someone asking you to kill or do other evil acts?

Taxes used for evil?

Some will question what of taxes paid that are then used for ungodly ends. Ought one to then refuse to pay such taxes? That is the question the Pharisees asked attempting to trap Jesus. Where did the money originate? Caesar is the answer. Did you choose the economic system under which you were born? Can you itemize where your taxes will be used? Jesus paid taxes. He called it unrighteous mammon. Isn't it and wasn't it generally permeating? The only way out is via a new wineskin that is a different system that is communism. It is not mammon-based. Some are fortunate to already be living under that system.

Why is paying taxes that are used to pay for a military that kills any different from joining the army to kill for Caesar? Money came from Caesar. Life came from God.

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed. (Luke 2:1).

And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute? He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free. Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee. (Matthew 17:24-27).

Jesus was saying that there ought not to be any such tax. "Then are the children free." It is not a question. It is a declarative statement: A logical conclusion. It is because all are the children of the real King of the earth who is God. There ought to be no need for unrighteous mammon: Money.
Do not find, or love, your life either in human laws and legal interpretations that run contrary to God's first and great commandment and the second like it. Find your life and love outside the worldly walking death. Find it in the service only to God that is unselfishness.

He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it....For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. (Matthew 10:39;16:25).

If you fit this current world ruled by mammon, you will not fit the eternal life of the just. If you save your life in the world of mammon by renouncing God or Jesus out of fear of pain or death of the flesh rather then standing pat in your conviction that Jesus is who he said he was and still is (taught and did), you will lose your life in the eternal. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." (John 15:13).

The preponderance of those in America today whom refer to themselves as conservative Christians press for what they call family values. They don't understand that those who do the will of our Father are to be one's family and that that is the value. These so-called conservative Christians don't understand that they are to hate the iniquity in their genetic family members and in themselves. They find their lives here and now in their genetic nuclear families not in the spirit. They misuse Paul to defend offenses such as the death penalty and invidious discrimination against females. They make themselves perfectly fit for unrighteous mammon without batting an eye. Conservatives also do not know when or where to stand up without violently resisting. They distort the value system of Christianity. Look how the so-called conservative Christians fail to see the hypocrisy in their human laws and traditions even after nearly two thousand years of having the written Gospels to get it right.
Chapter 7  Equating Economic Prosperity with Blessings

The conservatives equate personal economic prosperity with the blessings of God.

Perhaps you have heard the expressions prosperity preacher, faith message, prosperity Gospel, confess it and possess it, name it and claim it, mark it and park it, and the like. These are put forth by those claiming to speak the word of God and who give teaching the Gospel a bad name. They go on endlessly about how being or becoming a Christian will bring the blessings of worldly prosperity in the form of personal wealth in the form of mammon and worldly material possessions. Sure those things will flow in if the money stops with the preacher and the laity willing to sell out to the devil (worship mammon). They preach self-centeredness. The reward for professing Jesus they claim is financial security or bounty in the churlish, non-liberal sense.

They create megachurches based upon motivational speaking and writing techniques, entertainment production-values, and providing consumers with what those consumers are told to want by the corporations. This is church capitalism. This is church as a commercial profit center. This is church as industry, business. It runs diametrically opposed to Jesus cleansing the temple, clean out the commerce. Yet, the preachers serve this stuff up to their parishioners in the name of Jesus. It's sheer blasphemy.

There is nothing wrong with being motivated. In fact, Jesus asked us to be motivated and joyous about the message. The problem is that there is so much comfort while so many others are neglected and left suffering directly because of that very comfort (hoarding).

The idea of feel-good ministries, the idea of being trouble free about the correctable plight of others is just not in the Gospel message. Otherwise, why would Jesus have instructed the rich to give all to the poor? The Gospel is clear about not being troubled about being a Christian, but not about mercilessness. Otherwise, why would Jesus have gone to the cross to draw eternal attention to what was, and still is, wrong with this world? The feel-good message of some ignores the rest of the message. It is true that the Christian must resign him or herself to the rejection of the message by others. That though does not relieve anyone of the duty to feed the lambs and sheep both physically and spiritually.

They get their version of prosperity from, among other things, the saying of Jesus concerning the fig tree and the mountain.

Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done. (Matthew 21:21).

The prosperity preachers (capitalists) don't differentiate though between getting their rewards here and now as a result of selfish acquisitiveness and hoarding versus getting it on account of justice (sharing all) after persevering. They say that if you give to their ministries, money supernaturally will pour into your life. Nothing is said about the pitfalls of riches or that one may be getting one's evil reward now, thereby, missing out later on the non-worldly, real peace. Jesus said, "He that findeth his life shall lose it." (Matthew 10:39). These false preachers are telling people to find their lives here and now in this world of mammon, thereby, being cutoff from God and Jesus in the new earth and new heaven. What goes on here?

Pyramid scheme

It is a pyramid scheme using the spirit world. The false ministry becomes wealthier and wealthier. These conservative preachers become multi-multi millionaires. For instance, conservative, ostensible Christian televangelist Pat Robertson's personal net worth has been estimated to be anywhere from two hundred million to one billion in United States dollars. He keeps his personal net worth a secret though. That's the reason for the estimates. Now how can he be so personally wealthy when Christians are supposed to give and not hoard? Many such self-styled ministers have accounting setups that on paper show them receiving even little to no compensation from donations, etc. However, they live in their own posh mansions, drive, or are chauffeured in, ultra-expensive luxury cars, and wear the most expensive clothes and accessories. They travel in luxury. They eat whatever they want with cost being no object. Little to nothing is said about the real deeds. Much lip service is offered about faith. There is much talk about the message of American-style prosperity. Sometimes there are deeds, but those come as afterthoughts or for appearance sake to deflect criticism. The financial books of many of their ministries are closed.

Open books, secret giving

Of course, people should be able to donate in secret just as Jesus said that one is to give alms in secret. Now, ministries are also supposed to be able to give in secret from what they are given and for the same reason that individual donors are to give in secret. This is supposed to be the case until all has been fulfilled.

One may ask how this fits in with the concept that the means to the end are the end (heavenly means will result in heavenly ends)? Well, once all people are in the spirit, secrecy will be moot. No one will be giving for the sake of accolades, and everyone will know that. All will give and share all in the real spirit of unity that precludes all motivation of selfish gain even in its most subtle forms. Therefore, you should be able to see that giving in secret is reconciled with the concept that the means to the end are the end. The means (secret giving in this case) are completely consistent with the spirit of heaven.

However, there are people who are very busy attempting to make secret giving by ministries all but impossible. In their drive to expose corrupt ministries under the guise of protecting donors and other seemingly laudable goals, they are directly undercutting part of the Gospel imperative that is the commandment of Jesus to give in secret to decrease in the world the evil that is the motive of giving for selfish reasons. They are trying to force faithfulness into the inherently unrighteous system of mammon. They are trying to force heaven. It can't be done. They are promulgating and publishing their arbitrary rules of mammon for all ministries. They are also building for themselves a bit of empire attempting to force all ministries to have to be cleared through them to reach people for donations. They are endeavoring to set things up so that without their stamp of approval, ministries will be viewed with automatic suspicion. That is not a good thing for the real Church. Meanwhile, how much are they paying themselves for their efforts? How democratic are they within their organization?

Nevertheless, a real ministry working to bring forth has no reason not to be open, honest, and direct about total donations and ministerial wages or expenses or however necessities are met. As for divulging the identities of donors or recipients or how much or what those donors give or recipients receive, no one should ask that information for purposes of policing ministries from the outside. Even internally, members should not be motivated to have such information in a spirit of policing before there is any reason. It harms the spirit. It is doubt. It is the yeast of the Pharisees. It is the leaven that leaves no area untouched.
With all that said, the system of mammon has made complete secrecy all but impossible. Therefore, just as Jesus paid taxes with the mammon of the caesars, ministries are coerced so as not to offend the powers that be. The line, across which one must not cross, however, is told to one by the Holy Spirit within, moving one to act in accordance with good conscience. Ask and you will be told. It is a learning process.

Also, their will always be critics if a minister even has a foxhole in which to sleep. Such critics just do not understand that Jesus stayed in the homes of the riches people in town when they opened their homes to him and he could offer the peace to them. He did not sell out to those who did not receive or have the peace. On those occasions, Jesus took his peace with him when he left. Where one is obviously living within normal means (a worker deserves his wage), the world should not pry as if a minister is a common criminal, even guilty in the mundane sense until proven innocent. It is simply to say that one should know them by their fruits.

If would-be ministers are rich in the worldly way, they will live that way and will have accumulated that worldly wealth against the admonitions of the one they claim to follow whose word they claim to be spreading. If they are unrighteous about that (by being rich in that evil way), what else on even more weighty matters are they unrighteous? What are they spreading that is leading the people miserably astray? Are they touting the evil of war as a righteous and just thing for example? If they stand one righteous thing on its head, they can do it to everything else in their selfishness. They put right for wrong and wrong for right. This is a grave danger to those who fall prey and remain with these ministries or stay in these churches rather than following the real good shepherds. By their actions, these capitalist self-styled preachers facilitate the sons of darkness (perdition), the unenlightened. The hard-sell prosperity preachers are by no means the only danger that is false preaching. False preachers abound. We are here talking about the occasional misstatement or misstep by the otherwise striving minister. We are talking about the self-styled preachers, ministers, pastors, priests (call them what you will) who are in bed with mammon. These are the ones with multi-multi million dollar operations, or wish they had one, who are not spreading the real word and doing the real deeds as Jesus admonished. They may have started on a shoestring. They may have given all away at one time. They did not though remain in that spirit. If it was ever real, they fell away. Now, the televangelists are nearly all arch conservatives who pledge their allegiance to the country of mammon as if it is one and the same with God.

There are those who call themselves American Christian conservatives who will simply say that they do not subscribe to this prosperity preaching. The truth though is that even though they may not be as blatant about it as those unabashedly creed-of-greed preachers themselves, they do think of their prosperity as being due to their being American (land of plenty, bountiful, land of opportunity, blessed of God, land of the American Dream, etc.)
However, being a conservative American with financial success is the reward of selfishness. Also, being a conservative American without financial success is nevertheless to have committed the sin of hoarding in one's heart.

For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him. (Luke 19:26).

Hath what? Hath the spirit to give and share that calls sinners to repentance and has brought forth the fruit thereof. What shall be taken away? From those who do not have the spirit, who have not brought forth the real fruit, even all their personal wealth and possessions shall be taken from them and even their own souls.

The conservatives do not have faith that God will see to it that there will be plenty for all if all give and share as the original Apostles did in the first church. The conservatives only have faith in capitalism: Selfishness. They give in selfishness. They give to get, supernaturally or otherwise.

Where is the money going to come from is their mantra question. The starving masses around the globe are just not in the forefront of their minds. They are out of sight and out of mind until some new disaster strikes and the media then cover it primarily as much for commercial ratings and for appearances sake rather than solely out of genuine concern with solving the problem at its root cause: Greed.

The conservatives own more and more of those media, where coverage and images that are unpleasant reminders of the constant deprivation and oppression brought as a result of the greed of the rich are kept away from their audiences. The implications that would be made clear by real coverage would be the downfall of their own for-profit news and religious-broadcasting industries.

The so-called conservative Christians equate personal economic prosperity with the blessings of God. They have their prosperity preachers and multimillionaire preachers with their pyramid schemes built upon distorting the message of Jesus. Many have been fraudulent about total donations, wages, expenses, and where all the donations go (how they are used).

Their god is unrighteous mammon. They will lie about more than prosperity. They have no faith in God, because they doubt God about where the money will come from if they give to the solution for the poor rather than to rich churches for preachers earning even seven and either figure compensation packages. Their so-called blessings are the receipt of their reward now for having bowed down to mammon.

What they receive is not a reward for righteousness, because they hoard in the face of starvation and other great want. Theirs is far from the real bounty described by Isaiah. The conservatives and many false liberals too have their conspicuous consumption that others may envy them. They have their reward.

The prosperity preachers show off their personal worldly gain and brag about it and about the personal worldly gain of their followers in order to engender envy in outsiders.
They have their reward.
Chapter 8  Equating God and Country

The conservatives equate God and country. The United States is the wealthiest country in the world. It attained much of that wealth by negatively exploiting its natural, God-given resources. It also gained wealth by militarily threatening other peoples such as Japan, forcing trade upon them. There was a great deal of gunboat diplomacy and saber rattling to coerce the opening of markets for greed under capitalism. It still goes on. America gained wealth by, among other things, military domination over the Central American fruit industry. One could go on and on with example after example around the globe of American business interests being forced upon local and indigenous peoples despite the real needs of those peoples. Does that sound like God is country?

The history of the development of the American capitalist empire and now global domination is long and sorted. The generally accepted viewpoint within the United States that most American foreign military involvement has been for purely noble causes is flat wrong. Military involvement has been more so directly in the interest of furthering American imperial designs: To keep any other nation or nations from gaining a position keeping America out of markets. It has always been competitive and always the cause is couched in moral terms to obfuscate the economic designs on the world. Does that sound like God is country?

White man's burden

Anglo-Saxon racism and bigotry has had everything to do with it. The rest of the world was seen, and is still largely seen albeit not spoken of as openly, in terms of Rudyard Kipling’s phrase the "white man's burden" and especially white men of English descent. God was, and is, seen as Anglo-Saxon. Dominion was granted to the Anglo-Saxons, because their aristocrats were superior, even to the point of being rather casual about it: Smug in an aloof nearly indifferent sense.

Now, the US neoconservatives and so-called Christian right spew God and Country, forging a subconscious irrational association in the masses, feeding their libidos for war. They distort religion and history for the sake of prettexts for war-profiteering. It isn't Godly.

Selfishness engenders wars to come

Neville Chamberlain, prime minister of the United Kingdom (1937-40) is seen as the great appeaser, because he is characterized as having appeased Adolf Hitler concerning Germany's annexation of Austria and the Sudetenland of the then Czechoslovakia. Hitler then invaded the rest of Czechoslovakia and Poland. Neville Chamberlain in the meantime and contrary to popular misconceptions, began building up the weak British military and he started the peacetime draft.
Of course, what is missing here is that had the victorious powers after World War I not put into place such harsh war reparations against Germany, Hitler never would have had a political platform for his rise to power. That is the lesson here and not whether appeasement was right or wrong, although peacemaking is always right.

So currently, we have American-Empire builders pointing the historical finger at the likes of Neville Chamberlain while they ignore the weightier matter of why Hitler rose to power on the back of harsh, conservative, selfish war reparations. Right now, the Iraqis are being made to pay a heavy price in the form of the US commandeering Iraq's oil reserves in the name of not appeasing terrorists, even though there are those who have made legitimate complaints about harsh US treatment going back long before the US invasion of Iraq. This is making people extremely bitter toward the US. It is setting up a long-term hatred that will have bad consequences due to the short-sighted desire for gain of certain American oil and Empire interests. Iraqis were killed or murdered in a mundanely illegal war so the US could increase what was not America's to begin with. "Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his!" (Habakkuk 2:6). Iraqi oil handed over to US oil companies by the fiat of George W. Bush amounts to amassing wealth via stolen goods: War booty. It is exactly what Habakkuk the prophet warned against. He pronounced that God said woe on those who do this. People won't forget easily. It will take a great deal of atoning to accomplish that.
Winston Churchill

Also, just as the conservatives wrongly point to Neville Chamberlain as proof of the mistake of peacemaking, they wrongly point to Winston Churchill, prime minister of the United Kingdom (1940–45; 1951–55), as the quintessential conservative and epitome of sensible militarism and empire building and defending, etc. Let's look more closely at Churchill.

Winston Churchill suggested using gas "against recalcitrant Arabs as an experiment." He said as follows:

I do not understand this squeamishness about the use of gas. I am strongly in favour of using poison gas against uncivilized tribes. The moral effects should be good, and it would spread a lively terror.

Now that's disgusting. Winston Churchill advocated gassing people as an experiment, because in his mind, they are uncivilized and it would terrorize them.

That's the voice of the one the conservatives hold up as their champion? Does that sound like the voice of God to you? How can they get God and Country right?

What else did Churchill say?

This movement among the Jews is not new. From the days of Spartacus-Weishaupt to those of Karl Marx, and down to Trotsky (Russia), Bela Kun (Hungary), Rosa Luxembourg (Germany), and Emma Goldman (United States)... this worldwide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilisation and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development, of envious malevolence, and impossible equality, has been steadily growing. It has been the mainspring of every subversive movement during the 19th century; and now at last this band of extraordinary personalities from the underworld of the great cities of Europe and America have gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads and have become practically the undisputed masters of that enormous empire.

He wrote that in the Illustrated Sunday Herald, February 8, 1920. It certainly shows that he was a conspiratorial-thinker. With the way so many Jews toss around the label of anti-Semite, why haven’t we heard them complaining against Churchill-lovers?

I do not admit for instance, that a great wrong has been done to the Red Indians of America or the black people of Australia. I do not admit that a wrong has been done to these people [Palestinians] by the fact that a stronger race, a higher-grade race, a more worldly wise race to put it that way, has come in and taken their place.

That’s what he said to the Palestine Royal Commission in 1937.
The unnatural and increasingly rapid growth of the feeble-minded and insane classes, coupled as it is with a steady restriction among all the thrifty, energetic and superior stocks, constitutes a national and race danger which it is impossible to exaggerate... I feel that the source from which the stream of madness is fed should be cut off and sealed up before another year has passed.

That's what Churchill told Herbert Henry Asquith in 1910. Asquith was the prime minister of the United Kingdom and Churchill was a member of Asquith's cabinet as home secretary. Churchill was pushing to forcibly sterilize and place in labor camps the people he described in the quote above. Of course, this is one of the issues dealt with in the famous Nuremberg Trials of Nazi judges who had sanctioned sterilizations by the Nazis for exactly the same reasons of eugenics as advocated by Winston Churchill.

I will not pretend that if I had to choose between communism and Nazism, I would choose communism.

That was Churchill speaking in the British House of Commons in the fall of 1937. One must realize that he was not speaking simply of the Stalinist brand of communism or that he was referring purely to the materialistic (anti-spirit) brand of communism. He meant also the Jesus brand of small-c communism.
It is alarming and nauseating to see Mr. Gandhi, a seditious Middle Temple lawyer, now posing as a fakir of a type well known in the east, striding half naked up the steps of the viceregal palace, while he is still organising and conducting a campaign of civil disobedience, to parlay on equal terms with the representative of the Emperor-King.

That's what he said about Mahatma Gandhi when Churchill was meeting with the British viceroy of India in 1931.

Mahatma is a title meaning "great soul." Gandhi was striving mightily for enlightenment and consistency. He was not advocating that the people be mendicants (living off begging).

Gandhi found that the people were healed through working together on communally owned property. He believed in giving and sharing all. He practiced it in his life to the best of what he was given to understand.

We are not saying here though that we subscribe to his syncretism, as we know it allowed in non-pacifistic tendencies—a form of resistance that went beyond that advocated by Jesus.

He admired both Jesus and Mohammed. He did not see in Mohammed falling short and Mohammed's undermining Jesus. Neither did he see in Jesus the conflationary call up to the one and only path. He was closer to the kingdom then many, many however. He was closer than Churchill wasn't he?
Muslims can be reached peacefully

We don't agree with Islam, as you have seen. We believe it is inconsistent. We've shown that to be the case based upon the Qur'an itself. However, we do not discount history. Neither do we discount that Islam is a religion of tradition, much as the Roman Catholics are traditionalists. We find in the history of Islam, in the tradition of Islam, there were periods when far from being savage and brutal, the Muslims were relatively peaceful. We say this, because we find no logical justification, mundane or otherwise, for people professing Christianity to be about the business of revving up war against Islam as inherently fascist religion. Islam is mistaken in that it is not a pacifist religion, but Islam has shown in history that it can exercise peaceful inclinations over warring inclinations.

The people of Islam can be reached by Christians being Christians. There is no other right way.

(We must rally against) a poisoned Russia, an infected Russia of armed hordes not only smiting with bayonet and cannon, but accompanied and preceded by swarms of typhus-bearing vermin.90

That's Churchill advocating biological warfare—indiscriminate, mass annihilation—very Old Testament—very antichrist.

"The choice was clearly open: crush them with vain and unstinted force, or try to give them what they want. These were the only alternatives and most people were unprepared for either. Here indeed was the Irish spectre - horrid and inexorcisable.

He wrote that in his multivolume work on WWI, The World Crisis and the Aftermath, 1923-31.

Unless you accept the frontier [Curzon line] you are out of business forever. The Russians will sweep through your country and your people will be liquidated. You are on the verge of annihilation.... In any case you are not giving up anything because the Russians are there already.... You are callous people who want to wreck Europe - you do not care about the future of Europe, you have only your own miserable interests in mind.

That is what he reportedly said at a British Embassy meeting to the Polish government in exile in London in October of 1944. He said it to them when they didn't want to agree to the new borders in Poland but more so to being swallowed up by the Soviet Union, which they were. Franklin Roosevelt had already told Stalin in Tehran, Iran in November of 1943 that Stalin may have Poland.
You see, the major powers just trade other whole nations as if they are inanimate objects. It is a chess match that each side tires of playing. They either fight, capitulate, or sign a truce, which may or may not last depending upon the power of the spirits.

To have a disagreement between the US and USSR at the end of the hot war of WWII would have resulted in additional tens of millions of deaths. The US would have used atomic weapons on the Soviets and would have had to occupy Russia to set up a workable regime.

The US against workable regimes

The US has never known how to set up a workable regime. It does not know how to pacify a people, thereby freeing them. It doesn't want to. It doesn't want to redress grievances. It is too busy being moneygrubbing to be beneficent. It is too busy making money selling weapons and ammunition and doing all the other unjust things.

So far as Britain and Russia were concerned, how would it do for you to have ninety percent of Romania, for us to have ninety percent of the say in Greece, and go fifty-fifty about Yugoslavia?

That was a settlement proposal Churchill voiced to Stalin in Moscow in October of 1944.91

---

91 Amy Iggulden. "The Churchill you didn't know: Thousands voted him the greatest Briton - but did they know about his views on Gandhi, gassing and Jews...." The...
US eugenics

It wasn't only a British or German notion. Some sixty-five thousand people were subjected to compulsory sterilization or eugenics practices in the US during the twentieth century. Many white Americans advocated for exterminating the Black African Americans just as they had had their expression that "the only good Indian is a dead Indian" during the Indian Wars in the US. Notions of the relative value of different peoples still prevail in the world.

It isn't just an old notion—the inferiority—the less valuable. How can Condi Rice stay in the Bush-43 administration when she is a witness to the racism of the administration concerning hurricane Katrina and New Orleans when she is a black from Birmingham, Alabama? She puts herself first. That's exactly what the superrich want her to do. They want her to serve as a model for all blacks. If you do what we tell you, we'll let you become one of us: Rich and powerful. You have to be willing to forsake all that is holy however. You have to put yourself first by putting us, the superrich, first. You have to sell yourself into servitude to the immorality that is selfishness. Then you may join us to an extent—just remember to keep your place.

One can see the obvious racism and bigotry here running through Churchill to Condi Rice. The statements above are but a few of Churchill's blatantly racist and bigoted statements. He also made more than a

http://www.guardian.co.uk/g2/story/0,,849122,00.html
smattering of fascist observations, for instance admiring Benito Mussolini as an example for how to deal with Marxist Communism. He called Mussolini a "great man." He didn't mean it in the sense that one would call Bush one of the great and powerful. He meant it as a compliment.

Are we to just assign all of Churchill's comments and attitudes to the times in which Winston Churchill lived? No. We are to see them for what they were and always have been. We are to see how that conservative mentality has always been detrimental to all that is right and holy.

I was raised under a political-socialization process that told me Winston Churchill was one of the greatest leaders of all time. All the World War II British and American propaganda movies made him out to be a savior and so did the history books in the schools. They never revealed the dark side. That of course would have threatened the war-effort and would threaten the conservative agenda up to and including now. Therefore, the truth was covered up and history was revised even as it was being made. People throughout America at the very least were totally misled into thinking Churchill was someone he was not. Churchill never repented. The point is that, since it was done concerning Churchill, concerning how many others has history been revised and fabricated?

Also, the same blind eye is being turned for the sake of the war-effort against the new and perpetual enemy: Terrorists or anyone the Empire chooses to label as such. The Empire can label anyone a terrorist.
Of course, the real definition of a "terrorist" is anyone who terrorizes anyone else. People were terrorized by George W. Bush dropping bombs on them. The people were terrorized when Osama bin Laden’s group sent jets into the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. People can argue over all sorts of terms and their meanings: Who is or isn’t a terrorist or asymmetrical warrior or guerilla warrior or whether or not one is deliberately targeting civilians and issues concerning so-called just wars. The truth is that it isn’t a matter of whether you are on George W. Bush’s side or Osama bin Laden’s side. It is a matter of whether you're on Jesus's side versus George W. Bush’s and Osama bin Laden’s. Bush and bin Laden have more in common with each other than either has with Jesus Christ.

Don't confuse God and any status-quo country. Only the new nation, the spiritual nation, the real, liberal, Christian church, is the country of God.

According to the conservatives, we are to look the other way while many calling themselves Christians perpetrate worldly, satanic, empire building just as Hitler, Mussolini, and, yes, Churchill were such empire builders.

Still dominated by that Anglo-Saxon spirit coming out of racism and bigotry, American-Empire builders see great nations as having to exert themselves against other colonial and imperial powers by having their own colonies, whether physically occupied or economically or politically dominated. They still must have resources in the form of markets, labor, material, equipment, and infrastructure to satiate their homegrown consumers.

More and more though, the Empire is dominating via subsidiaries and proxies spread around the world and with the goal of total global conquest in mind. Also, the racism of the empire builders will be replaced by invidious discrimination against people of the spirit of holding all things in common. Those of the rabid capitalist spirit hugely oppress those of the real Christian spirit that is holding all things in common.

America’s Empire started back with the creeping than furious western imperialistic expansion across the continent under what came to be called Manifest Destiny, claimed to be a right and duty under God. The natives were simply pushed out of the way and left with what was seen at the time as the dregs of the land. The land and wildlife too were raped on the path to the Pacific Ocean.

We trust you are seeing how this is not Godly. America is not God. God and country cannot rightly be said as one by the worldly Empire. When referring to the current America, it is blasphemy.

American exceptionalism: Definitely imperial

What has been called American exceptionalism is the racist notion that white America is inherently superior and deserving to run the world as proven by the unique combination of characteristics that destined it to control from coast to coast. Under this philosophy, proof of right is military victory. Then Jesus was wrong according to these people. Yet, most of them swear by Jesus.

Monroe Doctrine

In 1823, there was the Monroe Doctrine of president Monroe stating that the policy of the United States is that no European power or any other power really could have any territory in the Western Hemisphere. It was all America's backyard to control. This was also divinely ordained in the eyes of many just as the current push for global empire is seen as divinely ordained. What they don't understand is that it is not divinely ordained that the Empire necessarily do good. Obviously, the Empire has been doing a great deal in the name of selfishness that is far from good. The Empire is in the role of the devouring spirit and the offensive and evil punisher that will be filled with woe (torment).

Stealing Texas

The territory of Texas, part of Mexico, at first welcomed and wanted Anglo-American settlers. However, those settlers declared independence from their host country of Mexico and undertook a violent, greedy, bigoted, religious revolution resulting in 1835-36 in tearing away the huge territory of Texas (considerably larger than the current state of Texas). This was followed by the annexation in 1845 of the so-called Mexican break-away Republic of Texas by the US as a new slave state just before James K. Polk took office as US president. James K. Polk then undertook a trumped up war against Mexico, called the Mexican-American War (1846-48), for acquiring more territory by military invasion and to add additional slave states to the nation. Polk’s war resulted in stealing about one-third of then Mexico under the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo.

Japan

Commodore Matthew C. Perry served Japan with an ultimatum in 1853 to open its market or face war with the US.

Hawaii

In 1894, the US sent in the Marines to back a coup d’etat by US businessmen that resulted in the illegal overthrow of the constitutional monarchy of the Kingdom of Hawaii. In 1898, Hawaii was annexed by the US primarily for the interests of the Anglo sugar and fruit industry. The sugar and fruit interests wanted to be annexed by the US in order to avoid import tariffs, thereby, increasing their capitalistic profits. Earlier in 1887, they had violently forced a new constitution (Bayonet Constitution) that had stripped the voting rights of the majority of native Hawaiians and given those rights to non-citizens. In other words under the Dole family (originally self-styled Christian missionaries to the islands) and others, the Anglos literally stole the entire nation.

Cuba, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, and Guam

William McKinley in 1898 ordered the US to invade Cuba.
Theodore Roosevelt's hyper-expansionistic activity started with that Spanish-American War of 1898. That war started over the falsely reported mine explosion of the USS Maine battleship in Havana, Cuba. In fact, the battleship suffered an internal explosion. William Randolph Hearst's newspapers had been making up stories of Spanish abuses in Cuba in order to agitate for war. This does not mean that the Spanish did not have their concentration camps in Cuba. They did. However, much of what William Randolph Hearst was alleging was fabricated to stimulate hostilities. Does making up stories agitating for war sound familiar with recent events concerning Iraq? This Spanish-American War with the then weak imperial Spain resulted in the US ending up with the Philippines, Puerto Rico, and Guam as part of its growing empire.

The wars with the native Americans were largely over. The US Navy had new weapons it wanted to test. The war-profiteers were clamoring for war.

China

Then there was secretary of state John Hay's "Open Door Policy" of 1899 and 1900 that forced China to open its markets to all the imperial powers. China had tried to stop the illegal importation of opium into China by British commercial interests. It resulted in the Opium Wars of 1839-42 and 1856-60. China lost and was forced to agree to onerous peace terms forced upon China by the imperial European and Anglo-American powers. China effectively had to allow those nations unfettered access to China for the commercial interests of those other nations. Trade, whether it was good or not, was rammed down China's throat. China was given no choice. Such is the method of imperial capitalism. It is far from democratic or free, not to say that China was either of those before. That doesn't excuse the US or others.

Panama

Again Theodore Roosevelt, now as US president, eager for expanding US imperial power, sent the battleship USS Nashville and a detachment of marines to Panama to back an insurgency to take what would become the Panama Canal Zone from Columbia in 1903. Roosevelt often repeated the African expression to "Speak softly, and carry a big stick. You will go far." Roosevelt was big on the United States exercising what he saw as America's divine right of international-policing power. He used it to police against any nation thinking it had the right to keep America from running over the top of others for the sake of American greed and expansionism.

Now America still carries a big stick but it speaks very loudly and will end in disaster if it doesn't repent. The list goes on and on. From the Spanish-American War until the 1929 stock-market crash the US sent troops to Latin American countries thirty-two times to force American capitalism on the locals. It was often for the sake of vertical monopolies such as the United Fruit Company of the US that had its stockholders in the highest branches of government. It was wholly undemocratic, overthrowing any banana republic government that attempted to impede any of its activities. It did this with the military backing of the US. This conservative, capitalist mentality, this love of money, the conscience of the conservative, has not stopped since.

In 1905, Teddy Roosevelt ordered the invasion of Honduras.

In 1912, William Howard Taft ordered the invasion of Nicaragua.

From 1914-18, Woodrow Wilson ordered the invasion of Haiti, Cuba, and Panama. Also concerning Wilson, he forced the British to leave Venezuela and then supported a vicious dictator. (It hasn't been just Republicans who have engaged in such acts.)

From 1924-26, Calvin Coolidge ordered the invasion of Nicaragua and Honduras.

In 1954, Dwight Eisenhower overthrew the democracy of Guatemala.

In 1961, John Kennedy ordered the CIA invasion of Cuba. Kennedy also conducted a coup d'etat against president and labor leader Joao Goulart in Brazil who had been too much of a leftist to suit the Kennedys. They trumped up a pretext that Goulart was headed toward Communist dictatorship. It's the same thing the neocons are trying to do against Hugo Chavez now. It was a lie then just as now. They installed a brutal dictatorship that lasted two decades. (We're focused on military and paramilitary interventions in this list though.)

In 1965, Lyndon Johnson ordered the invasion of the Dominican Republic.
In 1973, Richard Nixon overthrew the democracy of Chile.
In 1981, Ronald Reagan ordered the CIA war against the democracy of Nicaragua.
In 1983, Ronald Reagan ordered the invasion of Grenada.
In 1989, George H. W. Bush ordered the invasion of Panama.
In 2004, George W. Bush overthrew the democracy of Haiti.

Latin American truth coming out

Now, many of the locals in countries where parents and grandparents and great grandparents remember thousands of their fellow nationals being killed for the sake of American profits know the history much better then the general American population. The typical American has never heard the true history. For many who have, they know that the truth has been twisted by the Empire into pro-democratic stories. This is coming out more and more by the movement of the Holy Spirit to expose the corruption so we may turn and be healed. The stories have been distorted to keep the American people from being able to understand why so many non-Americans hate the American government and the ultra-wealthy conservatives and neoliberals controlling it.

Most of those locals in other nations know that typical Americans have been fed full of a bunch of propaganda lies about what the American government has been up to for centuries.
However, what those locals don't know is that many Americans turn a knowingly blind eye for appearances sake. What they don't know is how many Americans want to be lied to for pretense sake. God knows though. God sees right through all of it. There is no place to hide the greedy heart from God. Those who keep trying in the face of book such as this one and the very Gospel message will regret it terribly.

It's just like the Germans during WWII claiming later that they didn't know the Nazis were exterminating Jews and others. It's just like the Jews in Israel right now who claim that many of their fellow Jews don't really know what is going on in the Occupied Territories. What a lie! They pretend not to know. They run in their minds from what they know is going on so that they may pretend to themselves that they have no responsibility and they will not be held to account.

There has always been a strong current of opposition within the US to this belligerent, capitalist, conservative trend, but that opposition has obviously failed to stem the tide from within the system, of course. Rather than set a good example to the world by being truly Christian, America continues to hide its expansionism behind the façade that America has had no choice but to fight or lose its freedom. The truth is though that the mission of the US military is, and always has been, securing strategic natural resources and gaining and maintaining access to markets regardless of any democratic movement within any country to the contrary. This is capitalism over democracy and all of what is commonly labeled civil liberties or civil or human rights. The right of rich Americans to become richer supersedes the rights of all others, and the rich, they imagine, have the might to prove it.

Contrary to what the conservatives see as the virtues of capitalism, the pacifism of the likes of Jesus Christ has been labeled variously as treasonous, cowardice, isolationist, Marxist, dangerous extremist, and any number of other false charges.

Installing and backing ruthless dictators for Satan—mammon

The leaders of US have from the beginning taken America into war after war and climbed into bed with dictator after dictator while publicly professing to be Christian.

"Baby Doc" Jean-Claude Duvalier of Haiti; "Papa Doc" Francois Duvalier of Haiti; Anastasio Somoza García of Nicaragua; Augusto Pinochet of Chile; Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines; Fulgencio Batista y Zaldivar of Cuba; General Suharto of Indonesia; Manuel Noriega of Panama; Mobuto Sese Seko of Zaire (now the Democratic Republic of the Congo); Mohammad Reza Pahlavi (Shah) of Iran; and Saddam Hussein of Iraq, among others, are but a few of the totalitarian dictators supported by the US and in some cases put into power or kept in power by the United States. Collectively, the regimes supported by American, imperial, capitalist power are responsible for many millions of murders. Death and torture squads in these regimes were trained by the United States of America and within recent enough history that some of it occurred under persons currently in charge of American foreign policy. Many people believe that enough tens of millions of people have died at the hands of all the dictators supported by the US since WWII and all the wars fought by the US against more unselfish regimes that it constitutes WWIII and that the next war will be WWIV. They don’t believe there was ever a Cold War, per se. They have a point.

Suharto, continued

With the direct aid of the CIA and US military equipment, General Suharto of Indonesia probably killed around a million people starting in 1965 and lasting through the decade.

Suharto overthrew Sukarno. The CIA provided Suharto with a list of five thousand Indonesians to eliminate. He did. The US capitalists were elated. He opened the country to privatization and foreign corporate takeover. While the rich pumped billions in loans into Indonesia, Suharto and his family helped themselves to a third or more of the funds. The vast majority of Indonesian still live in abject poverty on less than one dollar a day in 2006, working often literally all day long in sweatshop conditions. They live in squalor while the US corporations that make it all possible turn a blind eye.92

Poor, tiny East Timor

Suharto’s troops tortured, raped, mutilated, and slaughtered all over East Timor with the knowledge of the US and UK and others and using the weapons supplied by those immoral regimes. Survivors were herded into areas where they couldn't grow food. There was mass starvation. Suharto's troops mowed down hundreds of unarmed, peaceful protesters.

It was all for money and power. Suharto sucked up to the US, and the US made money selling weapons and the capitalists grab the oil keeping it out of more egalitarian hands, as always.

Practical, real, not naïve:

Let us speak in practical terms. Let's be realists. The time to stop being naïve has arrived. The military is doomed. It is cursed. Unrepentant war-instigators will end up in the lowest hell.

The time to renounce violence is always here. The time to renounce harmful resistance is always here. Real peace is the new commandment and only the new commandment. The new commandment is God's eternal law revealed.

School of the Americas—same old, same old

The US Army School of the Americas located in Fort Benning, Georgia, now called the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation, trained over sixty thousand Latin Americans. Training at this and other US governmentally sanctioned institutions has included torture, summary executions, blackmail, and other methods to destabilize any democratic movement that, in the minds of US capitalists, might repatriate (restore to the country of origin) the right of Latin Americans over their own lands and resources.

The training is documented in the manuals produced and used by the school. These are similar to manuals developed by the CIA known as the KUBARK Counterintelligence Interrogation Manual of 1963 and Human Resource Exploitation Training Manual of 1983. That later manual expressly says that illegal detention only requires an authorization from headquarters. It recommended the following:

…arresting suspects early in the morning by surprise, blindfolding them, and stripping them naked. Suspects should be held incommunicado and deprived of any kind of normal routine in eating and sleeping. Interrogation rooms should be windowless and soundproof, dark and without toilets.

It is telling that the US-operated, secret "Dark Prison" near Kabul, Afghanistan, follows much of the exploitation recommendations above. The NGO Human Rights Watch has documented many allegations made by the attorneys for prisoners held at Camp X-Ray in Guantánamo Bay, Cuba about having been also held at the Dark Prison. ABC News reported November 18, 2005, that CIA supervisors told them that these things, in fact, have been going on recently.

Now ABC reported about the internal debate within the CIA about whether such tactics garner reliable information in the first place. That is an irrelevant consideration. Even if torture always resulted in reliable information, torture would remain evil. It can never be justified. There is no such thing as a necessary evil, within context. The entire prophecy of Jesus is that evil will be eliminated through mercy and love. Those who choose evil to fight evil will go the way of evil into the lake of fire. They will be cut off and burned up so to speak. Only those bringing forth the good fruit as a result of mercy and love will survive.

Giving the troop mixed signals, confusing them about right and wrong

As mentioned elsewhere in this work, cruel interrogation techniques are hated by God. All cruelty is hated by God. Neither can one train people to be militaristic and also train them to be humane. Militarism and humaneness are at cross-purposes. They are forever at odds never to be found in the same spirit at the same time. Militarism is of the devil. Humaneness is of God.

In 1985, someone overwrote passages in the KUBARK manual to make the manual appear to advocate the opposite of its first edition. It was ineptly tweaked so as to leave room for plausible deniability. It is so ineptly done that it is beyond plausible. Of course, even if it had been highly polished, it would not have been cover enough from God who knows the heart of everyone. They curse themselves. The only people who buy into such deceptions are those who desperately do not wish to confront the truth. They just want to close their eyes and pretend everything being done in their name is moral and acceptable to God. It is not. Those later revisions have been cited as proof that the US never trained Latin Americans in torture or any other deplorable technique.

The above by no means covers the entire history of American imperialism. It barely touches upon the subject. It is enough though clearly to see the regrettable pattern. The United States of America is its people. From slavery of Africans and the ethnic cleansing of aboriginal Americans to death squad and torture training right up to the present, this pattern has been developed in the name of the American people. They did it all in greed or profit.

Putting down democracy

Corporate interests have a long history of getting the US government, in the name of the people of the US, to put down democratic efforts in various parts of the world. That is what the supported dictatorships represent. Democracy is lauded by US leaders, but it is then put down when people might vote for laws that are not in keeping with US business interests and global-empire designs. Local industries in other nations are being controlled by US business owners and stockholders who take the lion's share of profits without doing the labor and hen do not treat the workers with justice.
At the point of rifle barrels, the capitalist dictators coerce otherwise democratic regimes into legitimating capitalism. Those dictators are the governmental instruments of punishment of the wicked. We are to submit to the laws (See Bibliography: John 19:11; Romans 13:1; Titus 3:1; and 1 Peter 2:13-14). However, we are to strive mightily to be consistent with the greatest commandment in all its spirit.

Remember from earlier in this work. The spirit of truth continues to show that division. As mentioned above, the history of the development of the American economic empire and global domination is long and sorted. In addition to the support and creation of murderous regimes, there were the hideous MKULTRA mind control and brainwashing experiments conducted by the CIA under the direction of Nazi scientists brought to America by the US government after World War II for the purpose of learning and perfecting the techniques of the Nazi regime and those that may have been being conducted by the Russians and Chinese and others. It is reported that the Rockefeller and Ford foundations contributed funding for these activities. Most of the MKULTRA records were destroyed in 1972 by Richard Helms, director of the CIA under president Richard M. Nixon.

Many people testified to the US Congress about the various projects. They and others were subjected to LSD and other drugs, various chemicals, and even high radiation. Much of their stories could not have been made up. The testimonies are consistent with secret government documents about the projects which documents were released to the congressional investigating committees under strong censorship from the executive branch.

There were children subjected to high radiation for experimental purposes who would have had no way of knowing otherwise about the layout of facilities at the time of the experiments which facilities have long since been torn down or altered. Photos and blueprints of the secret places that remain apparently corroborate the testimonies. That is far from the only supporting aspect concerning the witnesses.

Donald Ewen Cameron

Prior consent was not an issue with the CIA. It is reported via these testimonies that Americans were locked up against their will in sensory-deprivation chambers and administered LSD. Some were given LSD daily for months. Some were given electroshock at forty times the usual power used for treatment. Some were put into drug-induced comas up to three months long. Some people died as a result of these human experiments by the US government. Many of the secret experiments were carried out in Canada on unsuspecting Canadian citizens to avoid detection by US citizens and foreign spy networks. Most of it occurred at the Allan Memorial Institute at McGill University in Montreal. The head of the experiments was US doctor Donald Ewen Cameron (often spelled Ewan).

Some of these experiments were carried out by Nazi scientists brought over by the US government under an operation name PAPERCLIP. The US wanted to be able to do all the things the Nazis had done and more. The CIA has refused to release hundreds of thousands of documents about the United States government's operations, practices, and pursuits with Nazis after World War II. What more are they hiding? What more are they covering up? What living Americans are they protecting from the eye of the public? What wealthy and politically powerful American families are they covering for? What living American subjects of experiments are they waiting to die so that living witnesses will not be available to corroborate the documentation? Naturally, the US owes those people, and if they die, the wealth of the nation owned by the rich, the rich imagine, will not have to go toward any atoning efforts.

Hubertus Strughold

Dr. Hubertus Strughold of Dachau and over thirty other Nazi scientists accepted PAPERCLIP contracts apparently under the US military Joint Chiefs of Staff. Think about it. The Joint Chiefs of Staff of the US military and the CIA employed Nazi concentration-camp scientists to experiment on fellow American citizens. This is akin to importing Dr. Josef Mengele, of the infamous Auschwitz Nazi concentration camp where he performed abhorrent experiments on the prisoners. The US military and the CIA (beginning as the Office of Strategic Services) did this in the name of the citizens of America. Experiments were conducted even on frightened children the government thought would not be missed. The Canadian government turned out to have helped in the funding (that fact came out in Canada after the US Senate Church Committee findings). This is all the picture of the conscience of the conservative. If you call yourself conservative, are you still proud?

Jose M. R. Delgado

If you doubt that such conservatives exist, consider Jose M. R. Delgado, M.D., who wrote the book, Physical Control of the Mind: Toward a Psychocivilized Society, (1969). Delgado was director of Neuropsychiatry, Yale University Medical School who developed mind-controlling, radio-frequency, brain-implant technology. People are having such brain implants implanted to control Tourette's syndrome; however, this same technology can be developed for use in controlling the urge for unselfishness. There is also the US military push for nanotechnology to use for mind-control purposes known as cognotechnology. There are those who would control thoughts with high technology not requiring the use of implants. In this case, messages are simply sent via high-technology equipment from outside the brain or body directly to the brain. This is simply a higher-tech approach to doing what mass and directed marketing and advertising of capitalistic messages does now. Science fiction you imagine?

People's thought waves are already controlling computers. Do you imagine that the reverse is not possible? It could be forced on people. It could be done without their knowledge or consent by unscrupulously greedy and controlling people just as has happened since the beginning when evil thoughts were put out to others as temptations.

They were successful decades ago at beaming voices into people's head via microwaves.

Do these things sound like God's doing to you, or is it a country that has turned away from God?

This was long ago in terms of the rate of scientific and technological advancement. The ability of the government/Pentagon to control minds is very far advanced relative to the initial microwave-carrier voices. Hearing voices now could be the Pentagon speaking. People's complaints cannot be just dismissed as mental illness, in terms of how that state was defined before WWII.

We are confronted with technology that will be controlled by the spirit of God or Satan. If it's Satan, heaven help the righteous. May the LORD have mercy and save them.

Sidney Gottlieb

Frank Olson was a biological warfare expert. He committed suicide after being given LSD hidden in liqueur by Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, Director of MKULTRA. Olson's family determined that he committed suicide subsequent to a bad LSD trip only after reading Nelson Rockefeller's 1975 report on the CIA, finally published 22 years after Olsen's death. They were given $750,000 in compensation by Congress.\textsuperscript{93}

They want you to think this is untrue

Now you may be imagining that we've crossed the line defining our church as kooky or crazy. You may be ready to slam shut this work. If you do that, you will miss reading the proof of what I'm saying here. The vast majority of people have never heard of these things. That's because the US government doesn't want people hearing about them. They don't want anyone questioning these things. They don't want the masses about the globe aware of the technological developments in these areas. They are depending upon the reader's conditioned reflex response of automatically dismissing as pure fancy anything that suggests what sounds now to be science fiction. However, you've just read about historically proven secret experiments that started fifty and sixty years ago. You've read that many of the documents concerning those experiments are positively known to have been deliberately destroyed by those at the top of government. Read the whole work to learn of, and understand the why of, more recent and current experiments and military developments beyond dispute.

Frequency, vibration

Thought pattern can be altered. It happens every moment of the day. Every event and the ambient surroundings, every message induces thought patterns. The very harmony and disharmony of the brain is affected. The rest of the body follows. The person alters events and surroundings. It is a cycle in and out. All the associated frequencies are physically transformative by definition.

Contrary to what these conservatives are preparing, the heaven of Jesus is perfectly harmonious. In the heaven Jesus has prepared, all is in accord with righteousness.

This force of frequency is what the theoretical physicists are just recently theorizing while it has been known all along and spoken of and written about and not just in metaphorical terms.

Siddhartha Gautama (the Buddha) for instance was not wrong in his analogy concerning human beings and musical strings being too tight or too loose producing the wrong vibrations. This is not an endorsement of all of the teachings of Buddhism. The Buddhists are though credited for not being out and about the world causing mayhem nor are they worshipping mammon. With a truthful reading of the Gospels, they will see that with an all reconciling perspective that is far more than the middle way, all the aspirations of the Buddha are fulfilled and delivered in the Christ.

Now, with all the history of military and other actions to force US domination of markets, how can conservatives possibly continue to make the mistake of equating the harmony of God with the discordance of country unless they are confusing God with Satan?

What are the frequencies (vibrations or vibes) coming out of many young people other than discordant screams for help and cries of detachment and the confusion of their perceived unreachable condition? These are not vibes conducive to peace and love. The vibrations of much of the current American youth are manifested in, among other things, their musical and video expressions. Those expressions are reflective of the conditions of their hearts. They consequently reflect the aggregate culture of humanity to which those children are exposed. Those expressions hold the power of transformation especially for teenagers who closely relate to the anxiety and depression within those expressions. Make no mistake about it though. The negativity is universally transformative as well. It all rubs off on the whole of society which feeds it right back again reinforcing the downward spiral of negativity: Greed, violence, destruction, railing, futility, frustration, confusion, loudness, thoughtlessness, and more that is all selfishness. Each person's tiniest selfishness magnifies the dark side affecting the whole.

The advocacy and practice of peace and love without the confusion of iniquity is not much in evidence. Their philosophy of life lacks meaning. They don't know the meaning of life. Many see themselves (albeit often subconsciously) as abused and, therefore, deserving of abuse which they heap upon themselves masochistically. They feel they do not deserve better, since they imagine they must have deserved the abuse, neglect, or abandonment they experienced. Their music, videos, electronic games, movies, magazines, and nearly all the rest reinforce the quagmire. They cannot escape the constant messages against peace and love and for fighting, bickering, backbiting, greed, prurient interest, and rebelling against and hating God. It starts extremely early with all the violent toys, games, and cartoons, etc. One sees three-year-olds hitting others in the same aggressive manner that those little impressionable ones see people hitting people on TV and elsewhere. The children are under the false impression that walking away from a fight or turning the other cheek is cowardice.

Cleans your temple

It's a real indictment of the older generation that we have that kind of garbage around to infiltrate and ruin the innocent. All the violence needs to end. It all needs to change. The temple that is each person's heart must be cleansed. We must change it by talking and doing both peace and love. We must change the culture of the whole world. It is our job. Blessed are the peacemakers.

Each person may start by just ending all purchases of all things that promote violence and iniquity. Take all that money and give it to the cause of the poor. Don't have the message of violence in your home. Don't supply it to your children. Supplying your children and the children of others with all the mental and spiritual poison is a crime against humanity. It is a crime against God. Vote with your pocket book. To the best of your ability stop being a customer or supporter of organizations that facilitate decadence. Help raise up the children. Do a complete cleansing. If it isn't wholesome, if it promotes violence, if it desensitizes one to violence or greed or sexual depravity, get rid of it. Don't pass it on. Destroy it. If other's don't like it that you are getting rid of your things that have led to the deterioration of individuals and the whole of humanity, that's their mistake. Let them call you names. If they like all the greed, violence, and depravity, they will cling to it. You though are not obligated to hold on to any such illness. It is self-censorship, and you have every right to exercise it and, in fact, you have a duty. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. There is no decadence in heaven. Your highest duty is to God. It is not to the greed of others. You have a duty to curb that as much as possible.

Emotional expression: Harmony or discord

The emotional condition is translated into expressions of all kinds from, among other things, the following: Body language; facial expression; tone of voice; word choice (such as swearwords); clothing selection; hair treatment; shaving; body piercing; tattooing; self-inflicted burns and scars; obsessive hair plucking; obsessive nail biting; smoking; substance abuse; and opposition to, and defiance of, peace, love, purity, and, therefore, truth.

Understand here that just as what issues from the mouth in the form of words that defile the speaker, ("Those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man." Matthew 15:18.) the other things about a person that express and signify can likewise defile that one and infect others around him or her. Whatever emanates selfishness makes the source selfish. That which is not selfish will not emanate selfishness. If you don't want to be evil, then emanate, say, do, and partake of unselfish things only. These things are not arbitrary connections. The entire construct of existence has meaning through connectedness and relation apart from the artificial. It simply remains for human consciousness to discern what is being expressed by the signs and patterns, what they mean, what they tell us about what is coming. "Discern the signs of the times." (Matthew 16:3). Discern the signs about you, emanating from you, and what they say about you and where you are headed if you don't turn.

Emotions and signs have consequences.

Depending upon the emotional-spiritual source, they can be either good or bad.

You see, there is an absolutely objective, universal, ideal reality which is pure love that is completely unselfish and will share with the world complete freedom from suffering and evil when we are all completely trustworthy meaning completely unselfish. That is the meaning of life.

Rather than tearing things apart and leaving everything fragmented and dead, the living word of God allows you the gift of interpretation seeing all the implications that are the truth that will manifest wholeness. This is the opposite of false modernity, which is really apostasy. What has come since the onslaught of modernity is just further and further disintegration that devours souls. Look in the mirror, and determine to undo the fracturing of your being. Determine to unblock the dams within that are keeping you from flowing freely with the movement of the spirit of unselfish love. See the light of truth. That's where the real nation, real country, and God are one.

Self-mutilation

Consider body piercings that are self-mutilation. What is it that people are doing? What is it that they are putting through their skin? For the most part, it is metal. It is hard. It projects hardness (abuse) while softheartedness is what saves individuals and will save the world. It also sends out the signal of coldness. Warmth of heart is not expressed via hard metal objects protruding from deliberate piercings designed to influence the emotions of others. When metal is hot enough, it is softened and then liquefied. In the state in which it is stuck through peoples' flesh, it is a coldhearted sign (a sign of having been abused and being confused). What do the holes in the skin signal? What emotional responses do they promote? They send out vibrations or frequencies of pain and maiming. They are outward wounds of choice. Why does one think one deserves such treatment? Why does one seek to have this inflicted upon oneself? Is it because one has been abused by the lustful and confused of the world and believes that one must have deserved it? Is it controlling the abuse, since the first abuse was from a deceptive source that was beyond control? What does all this magnify? Does it promote goodness? It speaks of great internal turmoil. The compassionate and merciful seek to heal it. The selfish though are stimulated by it to greater pain and suffering.

Wearing contrived darkness

Often, these things are further associated with wearing nothing but black everyday, a washed out look on the face, and an otherwise intentional ghoulish image. What does wearing all black all the time say? It says darkness. The message is anti-enlightenment. What good can come from it? What does the ghoulishness more than allude to? It speaks of spilling blood and devouring flesh. It is of the devouring spirit that ensnares, keeps captive, and then devours (kills) souls. All of this speaks of the disease of the soul. It is harmful and deadly generally and specifically.

"Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour." (1 Peter 5:8).

Some will say that the wounds of Jesus were also of choice. His wounds, however, were for the sake of others to learn the opposite of coldheartedness. The wounds of the body-pierced-for-fashion today are far from for the reasons Jesus was wounded. They are for just the opposite reasons. They are a caving into the temptations that such body piercings offer. They are, among other things, for the sake of conformity to gain acceptance by kindred spirits in apostasy. They are not offered for the atonement of any. They are a signal of uncontrolled appetites running away with the soul. They are not to say this is how much I will willingly take for your sake because I love you and to which others are subjecting me.

Some believe that they are released from emotional pain through self-mutilation. Some go on to think that such release is spiritually releasing. Well, they are correct concerning both things; however, what they are delving into is actually more of the selfish stream of consciousness or spirit that brought them the emotional or physical pain that is only transformed on the outside, mounded up, and just delayed.

When I was a small child and would bump or bang and be experiencing pain, I knew someone who would say "think about this instead" then hit me hard somewhere else on my body. Needless to say, after experiencing this several times (along with the other onslaughts) the treatment only served to harden my heart (fight-or-flight reaction) into wrathfulness toward hardheartedness, which is the dark spirit that has a hold of perpetrators and spread itself, tempting me.

I am speaking here on both the mundane and spiritual levels. All emotional abuse is experienced physically and all physical abuse is experienced emotionally, meaning the brain matter is altered as a direct result of the abuse or offense. It all begins in the eternal spiritual realm, however. The spirit, good or evil, becomes manifest. Also, as for the release or sense of freedom that self-mutilators experience, I mean here by self-mutilators those who imagine they are voluntarily undergoing mutilation.
As for the proper way to react to abuse, overcoming all temptation is best. Retaliation is not helpful in the short or long run and, therefore, not helpful at all. Any respite after retaliation or taking it out on oneself is a cover for the engraining of a conditioning toward using fighting to solve problems or save the world.

Not manlier to fight

For the male, contrary to popular myth, it is not manlier to fight. It is more animalistic. Concerning this, it doesn't matter whether or not one believes in Darwinian evolution (Darwinism). Man is a kind whether God created man without bringing him up via evolution or not. The manifest truth is that man is to overcome, which means he is to evolve. He is to awaken to man's higher level that is not reptilian despite the recesses of the brain. The higher is to rule the lower and not the other way around. Therefore, when you opt to fight, retaliate, or take revenge, etc., you perpetuate and condition-in the lower and darker spirit.

Overcome the savage beast within

Being a human being with a conscious ability to comprehend the difference between a lion savagely killing and devouring other kinds and a human being savagely killing even his own kind, you sin whereas the lion does not. The lion is called a noble savage and king of the jungle beasts. Sharing some characteristics with lions is not bad, but imagining that savagery in human kind is human nobility is falsehood. We are to tame the savage, not be one. The beast in man is to be displaced within the heart of each man. The beastliness that is capitalism will be thusly displaced by real Christianity.

Why did I move from self-mutilation to the subject of attacking others? Aren't they disparate? They are in the same lower stream of consciousness. They are different manifestations of the dark spirit. This is why the contrived person who feels compelled to dress for success and get frequent haircuts and shave and groom for lust and vanity and not for unselfishness (not to offend with the confusion of slothful stink for instance) and be always spit polished, etc., who advocates or indulges in war, that contrived person is suffering from the same deception as the wildest Punk Rocker or Goth or other who buys into self-mutilation. The difference is simply the disease manifesting various symptoms. It is the difference in the way in which people react to the disease. Only in the case of following after Jesus does one overcome the disease and all contrivances so as to become real again. Self-mutilation is vengeance. It is false gain (anti-real Christian) just as surely as are the war-profits of those bloodthirsty, greedy, corporate shareholders and executives in the military-industrial complex and those who are duped into self-serving compliance and who curry favor, fawning over the self-aggrandized leaders who came up through the ranks working that whole corrupt system.

Don't fall to militancy

Even with that said, it is especially important to emphasize to the youth and others who are in the Punk Rock and other tributaries of the wide path, to understand that militancy is not the answer. You will be further dragged down by being militant. Speaking truth to the worldly rich and powerful means warning them and never harming them. Overcome the urge to fall to the temptation to do that which is counter-productive and selfish. Harmful bullets are never the answer.

Civil disobedience and passive resistance, continued

You want an end to evil. The absence of evil is the perfect law, condition, state, order, and discipline. What you want is for people not to take selfish advantage of freewill to harm others. You believe that the warmongers take selfish advantage. They do. Don't be hypocritical by choosing to do to them what you don't want them doing. Jesus never engaged in civil disobedience, not even when he cleansed the Temple. He was not accused of having illegally cleansed the Temple. He won every legal argument even in the end when he didn't defend himself. He was on a higher moral plane than the evil spirit on high that was trying to usurp the good spirit on high. Jesus's proper warnings were never a passive mask for aggression (passive-aggressive). He was genuinely doing the right thing regardless of whether anyone else thought he was a troublemaker. He made trouble for falsehood, which means he didn't make trouble. That is why he is the anointed Son of God sent to save the world by dividing it into those who hear the truth and those who refuse.
There are those who advocate what they call civil disobedience or passive resistance. However, if people will come to understand the divine law that is the new commandment, they will come to understand that what they understand as civil disobedience and passive resistance are about the old wineskin and on a certain level, spinning one's wheels in the mud. The new commandment is the highest law. It says don't resist anything other than the temptation not to follow the new commandment. Jesus never resisted anything but that temptation. He understood the perfectly logical, divinely logical, divinely pragmatic, implications of the movement of the Holy Spirit. He was always right in his legal interpretation. His logic always prevailed, because his premise was love that is always unselfish. As explained in this work, it is not possible to violate the real spirit (ultimate) of any law, when one practices the new commandment.

Concerning what are called civil disobedience and passive resistance, the aim is often to draw attention to the plight of people or injustices or to stop injustices from occurring. This is admirable. However, the means, nevertheless, must stand in comparison with other means to that same stated objective. In working not to stop others directly from injustice but rather in providing justice ourselves, are we not going to draw even greater attention while creating justice by comparison? The answer is decidedly yes.

Also, while it is good that those who practice what are called civil disobedience and passive resistance are consciously motivated by non-violence, the aim of both is new wine in an old wineskin. The aim of those employing such means is change from within the system that cannot accept such changes. Jesus knew this and taught this. It is impractical to use civil disobedience and passive resistance to effect change in the vessel designed to hold only the essence of evil that is selfishness. The entire system must be changed without resistance or coercion or else it will remain the old system. This means do the new commandment.

Remember, Jesus cleans the old temple and yet it fell.

It is a call to a different type of action from simply attempting to block the efforts of those bend upon the opposite of the new commandment. This is not to say that there are not many people who do both, who block efforts and also actively feed and clothe and house, etc., the poor and neglected. It is also not to say that the historical efforts of people actively to block evil ought to be condemned or that blocking renders people contemptible.

We are saying that both blocking and feeding are better understood when viewed from within the context of providing not a temporary stopgap measure but rather the permanent solution, which is doing what is being called for in the new system.

Blocking isn't doing

Naturally, it is difficult for people to prioritize these things since lives are in the balance right now and have been in every moment since the beginning of selfishness. However, if all actions were blocking, what would be the result? What would be offered in place of that which is being blocked? If all actions were simply transferring the output of capitalism to those in need, what would be the result? All things being equal, capitalism, which is no solution, would continue indefinitely with the needy being permanently relegated to handouts. Remember that capitalism has systemic unemployment by design.

The system has people it doesn't even count anymore. Those are people who have given up in the face of so much greed and selfishness. These are people who have been beaten down often generationally. They are a part of those in serious need of love from others so that they may regain the spirit of love within. They need their faith in humanity restored.

Now contrast on one hand the combination of blocking capitalism and giving handouts (which handouts many will say have their place and can be mounted while a permanent solution is put into place) with on the other hand devising and implementing real liberal devices that get people helping others to help others, ad infinitum.

Our job

Our job, our duty, is not to block and do nothing. Our job is not to block and/or transfer handouts. Our duty is to do that which we say ought to be done, which is to build a society with the solution built in. Our duty is not to wait until we have blocked others into some degree of temporary capitulation only to see the fruits of their conspiracy of culture come roaring back with a vengeance, as we have seen in history time and time again in the form of the pendulum swinging from false right to false left and back again. The gravitational pull of the new commandment has been weakened by our relative distance from the source. If we build a society upon the new commandment as the supreme law of human kind, the swing back and forth will end and the direction will be one way toward all that is best. The quality of life of every person will be every person's quality of life.

Our duty is to make the world inhospitable to selfishness. We must not regard or esteem the selfish. We must not honor them. We must consider them as we must consider all, but we must be clear that we hate the falsehood they sell that is selfishness.

An unselfish world is an impossible haven for selfishness. Within an unselfish universe, there is no seedbed for a conspiracy of the culture of selfishness. That is the address we seek. That is our destination right here. We must re-engineer the world so that unselfishness is universal. So, there is resistance, and then there is resistance.

The argument between the Pauline and Johnnine

This is the argument between Paul and John of The Gospel of John and of The Revelation of John, regardless of whether those Johns are one and the same. Paul and John or the Johns are not wholly incompatible, but it takes movement by the Holy Spirit of truth to reconcile them, meaning it takes seeking truth to have revealed where, when, why, and how the status quo in the here and now may be resisted, which Jesus did.

It is safe to say that Paul remained greatly influenced by the traditional relative to the more radical view of John. Paul looked to the afterlife while John looked to that life and this one being wholly transformed. The real, liberal, Christian church is decidedly more Johnnine than Pauline in this regard.

Both Paul and John describe antichrist. Where they differ concerns how Christians are to act in response, what to emphasize, how to set the priorities.

We can avoid doing harm by actively pursuing the solution, which is the fully communist life that is absent hoarding, hoarding (excess) being lack of faith. We aren't talking against all setting aside of provisions. We're talking about miserliness. It isn't the same thing.

This process is decidedly not to return to some earlier notion of Christianity put forth by those who didn't bring forth, but rather to what Christianity in its earlier incarnations, aside from within the heart, mind, and soul of Jesus Christ, never sustained in the here and now. In this way, we are not planning to work for a revival of a dead civilization—Roman, British, America Empire. We are planning to work for a wholly new culture—real Christian communal living for all.
Trust giving, sharing, and non-violence

It is at once very profound yet simple and very deep yet clearly manifest. It all boils down to trusting in good. Soldiers who go to kill and possibly sacrifice (be sacrificed) their lives for the cause of capitalism are warned to choose rather the Christian system for which to self-sacrifice their fleshy lives if it comes to it. Why do what is ostensibly unselfish, which is dieing for others, for a system of selfishness? If you are going to die for a cause, die for the real system of unselfishness as Jesus did. Is it better to be a martyr for capitalism or a martyr for real Christianity? One cannot be both.

Also, for those who are misguided toward militancy against capitalism, the same question applies. Karl Marx was wrong. Malcolm X was wrong, although still awakening at the time of his assassination in 1965. Were they less mistaken than their greatest enemies? Yes. However, we must each of us rather strive for holding to the new revealed standard of the real savior-mind. That is the guiding voice to the highest heaven, and it will extend to the whole world.

Swearwords

What is the problem with swearwords? One might imagine that they are words that have been arbitrarily labeled as bad, that they are harmless unless taken with offense. However, they have not been identified arbitrarily, and it is very difficult for people to be subjected to them without harm. That is especially true of impressionable children. Regardless, just because there may be some people able to keep from falling into temptation is no excuse for others to test such people. Such testing is the work of the spirit of evil. They promote discord. Swearwords are truly obscenities. Here again, one might imagine that the standard for identifying obscenities is completely arbitrary. It is not so. Swearwords have been properly identified as being designed to illicit negative, lustful emotions, thoughts, words, or deeds. They are design to provoke selfishness. They run contrary to the unselfish spirit of love, truth, peace, mercy, and the rest of the good. Unless overcome, such words conjure up self-defiling manifestations within the tempted as well as the tempter or temptress. They cause a falling further into darkness. They are the opposite of enlightening. They lead astray. Those who use them are astray.

So we have the youth in the US being confused left and right with messages of greed, violence, and sexual depravity. Their self expression just screams these things. Does this sound like God and country as one to you?

Children shall rise up against their parents

Also consider that many children suffer under the delusion that their parents have no rights or responsibilities. Many children refuse to take responsibility for their actions and feel they are immune from being held to account in this life or in the hereafter. They feel they may be disrespectful, destructive, and abusive, even violent toward nonviolent parents. They can even stoop to persecuting them treating them with ill will for their Christian beliefs. They rationalize away their bad behavior. The prevailing culture has reinforced such inexcusable and dangerous attitudes. It is the evil sign spoken of in The Bible. "The children shall rise up against their parents." (Matthew 10:21).

There are lulls in the weather before the storm. Therefore, don't imagine that a reduction in crime per capita is a sign of righteousness. It is more the sign of temporary expedience and momentary surprise rather than a turn to doing righteousness for righteousness' sake. The extreme on the criminal acting-out side can be momentarily suppressed. It is not being accompanied by a proportionate increase in holiness on the other end. The average age of the population is increasing, and with age comes a greater recognition of consequences and the sense that wild crime is just not worth it. The bulk of the youth though are clustered just a little back from the edge of the precipice. As this is being written, there is not a large mass of youth striving for holiness heading away from the bottomless pit. Just avoiding committing the most horrendous of crimes within the borders of the nation is not good enough. We are not to be satisfied with that. It is better than having more of those crimes, but it is far from good enough. In fact, those clustered about the edge will fall in when the hardhearted spirit starts to blow and push them toward the pit. They will not be practiced enough in overcoming. They will falsely imagine that it can't be that bad since it is such a little step away. They are still lost milling around the edge. It is still darkness around the edge. Where are the voices calling them away and back and into the light that is unselfishness?

Unfortunately, lessons are not being learned enough to be retained. Self-centeredness will yet increase. Hardheartedness will increase. Pressures will increase, and most people will refuse to turn to God to cope. Mundane effort is, and will remain, unable to stem rebelliousness against the creator of existence.

Children are beating themselves up and turning themselves into total contrivances, because they figure they deserve the punishment. It is a conscious and subconscious reflective statement of what society is doing to them. The insanity of selfishness breeds greater confusion and hardheartedness. Evil begets evil. The bad tree produces the rotten fruit. The confusion of the current youth reflects the seeds sown in earlier generations. It is not the fault of the current youth until they know better, have heard the word of truth, and then ought to turn and take responsibility. They then are obligated to have the confusion end with them and to not pass it on leading others astray.

Parents aren't teaching their children what the parents never learned

The confusion is most definitely contagious. Adults and children lead each other further astray in such confusion. They disturb the healing result of what tranquility people might otherwise be able to enjoy. They pound their chests in great aggression even through their subwoofers with their dark, spirit-lowering, intelligence-lowering, unhealthful frequencies. It is temptation. They are tempting others to use coercion to put a stop to the selfishness. They are tempting others to use evil against evil. They also show their hostility through their unmuffled, wasteful engines and other means to what end? It is rudeness, impoliteness, and bad manners without justification. They are getting back they think, gaining and exerting negative control, but they are harming the innocent and making things worse. It is a form of ignorance even as it is deliberate and willful and they know that on a certain level. It is slamming doors on buildings and vehicles. It is speaking loudly or yelling when others may need their rest. It is stomping up and down stairs. It is honking horns rather than going to someone's door for no other reason than sheer slothfulness. It is intentionally disturbing the peace often in hopes of getting a rise out of somebody else, pushing buttons, sadism. It is also often just an ever-increasing desensitization to the needs of others. It is a conscious, and subconscious, delight in cruelty. It is taking pleasure in sin. It is the opposite of the mercy called for by Jesus Christ, the real prophets, and God. It is the spirit of Satan.

Isn't it antagonism, tortuous hedonism, sadism, masochism, futility, nihilism, temptation, which is all hell on earth, and hereafter for those who refuse to repent? It is tribulation. Doesn't it all make it easier for the youth to go join the military and to kill the innocent? Isn't it all in the same vein, the same stream of consciousness with Satan?
The military thrives on discordance

There are those within the military who understand just enough of the implications of the power of frequencies to transform reality to get them into further trouble. They see the difficulty that negative vibrations cause. They hear the discordant screams of the youth. It is why they use hard music with huge loudspeakers in an attempt to throw their enemies off balance. By the extension of their twisted logic, the military has contracted for the production of psyops (psychological operations) weapons capable of producing radical transformations. This is why all the mind-control experiments have been conducted even if the experimenters themselves do not fully understand their own motives.

Michael Persinger

Scientists under government contracts or otherwise on the government's often secret payroll have bombarded people's brains with computer-controlled electromagnetic fields in all sorts of variations and on different parts of the brain all in an attempt ultimately to learn to control reactions. Many scientists at various universities and other organizations are funded by the CIA and the US Department of Defense and other agencies in government for this purpose. Dr. Michael Persinger of Laurentian University, Canada, is one such scientist.

Neurotheology

In addition to the research he conducted or conducts under apparent CIA contract, Dr.
Persinger has conducted research under the scientific academic field called neurotheology. In this field, because the brain is effected by thoughts of God and thoughts of God may be induced by directed energy fields stimulating regions of the brain where unselfish thoughts are centered, neurotheology scientists believe that belief in God is a result of evolutionary experiment that may or may not prove to be an evolutionary advantage and that, therefore, God is not real outside the evolved mind and thoughts of human beings.

Some of this type of research has reportedly led to actual battlefield use where enemies have been inundated with subliminal frequencies and propaganda inducing them to surrender.

Directed energy weaponry

In addition to purely psychological operations weapons, the military is procuring many other weapons directly out of science fiction. Directed energy weaponry is a huge field for obvious power-hungry reasons. These include but are not limited to laser beam, particle beam, high-power microwave (HPM), electromagnetic (EM), and radiation and radio frequency (RF) weapons. The capability of these weapons over thirty years ago still sounds futuristic to most people. Microwave technology was used that long ago to cause people to actually hear scripted voices in their heads. Today, we have audio technologies on the open market that allow audio to be amplified into discreet zones where people side-by-side hear totally different messages.
Existing weapons are capable of producing fear, anger, joy, nervousness, sexual tension, diarrhea, skin burning, and other problems. When turned up in power, they can incinerate you and other targets at the speed of light.

Some of the crowd- or protester-control devices include the Active Denial Technology weapon that can be set on non-lethal pain and discomfort settings and lethal settings and the Sonic Crowd Control weapon that causes any range of hearing pain to deafness and is deployed in Iraq now for crowd control and has been introduced by the Israelis against Palestinian protesters.

There are many, many weapons ready for rollout. There are many more in the research and development stages. Many others are on the drawing boards of the imaginations of the bad seeds of Satan.

Mind control and mind reading

Experiments are in progress that are in effect the reverse of the mind-control process, meaning thought patterns are being scanned and recorded in order to match up those patterns with particular behaviors or readable body reactions that are extremely subtle. This in essence is experimentation into mind reading. Consider having no private thoughts or memories from the human powers that be. I am not so much concerned about the exposure of everyone's past evil deeds (God already knows those) so much as the evil uses to which such technology will be employed. With the rapid advances in super computer technology in conjunction with the relaxed inhibitions against Machiavellianism (the outright so-called intellectual assault on Jesus's message as quaint and childish na"ive), etc., the abuse will be earth shaking. With the history of corrupt uses of past technological developments and current signs as a guide, unless morality makes huge progress and soon, the living hell awaits; hence this work and the call for as many people as possible to turn away from the insanity of which country can top the other's offense.

---

This is why the conscience of the conservatives turned a blind eye to the moral question concerning bringing Nazi scientists to the US to continue their gruesome experiments on unwilling children and others. They said others are doing it or will do it and we must catch up or be first and stay out ahead. This is not Christianity. This is not God and country.

Christianity is the reception and transmission of spirit, but of the spirit of pure righteousness to result in complete freedom from the lack of the power of the conscience to prevent such abhorrent behaviors or desires. It is not artificially induced by selfish capitalists praying to gain a monopoly on everything.

Nothing coming out of selfishness ever works as the selfish anticipate. Many imagine that their selfishly motivated creations will result in good results. It is not possible. They will gum up the works even further with their striving for a contrived, capitalist, utopian empire. The whole thing is a contradiction. It is building upon a divided, fractured foundation. It cannot succeed.

In addition to MKULTRA mind control, there were many other projects conducted by the US such as MKDELTA, MKNAOMI, MKSEARCH, BLUEBIRD, ARTICHOKE, CHATTER, etc. MK stands for Mind Kontrol. Know the mindset of the Antichrist. Be as wise as the serpent, Jesus said.

American intelligence community projects and atrocities

Operation CHAOS and Project RESISTANCE and Project MERRIMAC were CIA projects aimed against the antiwar movement especially on college campuses. The CIA had over seven thousand dossiers on US citizens. Now the intelligence community has hundreds of millions of dossiers to grow to billions, if not already. The NSA taps participating and non-participating corporations. Corporations can be infiltrated with moles even more easily than foreign governments and terrorist organizations. Existing employees can be recruited. It is all leading up to the Total Information Awareness whereby they will attempt to predict, via pattern recognition, who will do what and to preclude some things and cause others to happen—Total control.

If you are interested in delving into these things, you may wish to search on Steve Kangas and his Timeline of CIA Atrocities.

The conservatives have a way of speaking about all of this that attempts to make it all palatable for the American people. It is not palatable, nor should it ever become so. It is all offered here as constructive criticism that is an attempt to encourage people to turn and repent for the sake of every soul.

Steve is dead, so his timeline does not run to the present. Were he alive, he would trace the CIA atrocities to the newer neoconservative institutions and the current consolidation and centralization of all so-called intelligence. Steve was in the intelligence community. He was a whistleblower back in the 1990's. The same holds for many of the leaks concerning atrocities in Vietnam and Central America and elsewhere. It is a shame that more people do not have the courage to step forward in a huge swell of purgative truth-telling to lead others away from the mistaken ways of the past and to set the record of history straight so as not to be repeated via the same old conservatism wrapped up in new sheep's clothing.

Don't allow yourself to delve endlessly without taking action though. We all must work cooperatively in our Father's proverbial field in order that the right kind of environment inevitably results for the sake of the children, the poor, and the whole of humanity.
Some will simply say that all of the atrocities were just otherwise good and sensible conservatism turning fascist, getting carried away. Wrong. The mentality that is conservatism is conducive to atrocities. Only a complete emotional about-face to Christianity can save these souls. They must repent. All must repent. How can those who try to rationalize any of this away escape damnation?

Much of this was brought to light in the US Senate by the Church Committee (United States Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities, 1975), named after the late senator Frank Church of Idaho, who has been vilified of late because his committee led to ethical restrictions upon the governmental spy industry after the revelation of illegal so-called intelligence-gathering methods that include not-so-secret torture and even murder. After all, to whom has George W. Bush been referring when he has said that there are those about whom he cannot speak openly but who will no longer threaten America? Of course everyone knows he means that there are those who have been killed in clandestine US operations. There was no due process involved. There were no trials. There were just executions. The suggestion has been and still is that 9-11 might have been prevented if ethical restrictions had never been put in place. 9-11 happened, because the selfishness of capitalism bumped heads with the selfishness of the zealots of Islam. Those zealots would have fewer and possibly no recruits were it not for the enemy giving them ammunition in the form of the history of US greed and violence in empire building (US world hegemony). Both sides are wrong and are to put down their weapons and make peace. Besides, had those ethical restraints not been in place during the last thirty years, the American people would have been subjected to all the abuses those restraints were designed to prevent. Now those restraints have been removed or pushed aside by changes in the organizational chart of the US intelligence system. New legislation will be hard pressed to put it partially back in the bottle.

It will leak that they are using the secret information gained for unethical political purposes against their domestic political opposition. It's there. It just hasn't come out yet.

Advisory Committee on Human Radiation Experiments

In the mid-1970's, the presidential Rockefeller Commission also exposed much corruption of the so-called intelligence community. In 1994, president Clinton established the Advisory Committee on Human Radiation Experiments (ACHRE). Its findings and more are available by searching on the Department of Energy's (DOE) Office of Human Radiation Experiments. There is no doubt that the government funded illegal human experimentation. That is the conscience of the misnomered conservative at work. It is vile and churlish. The real liberal could never engage in any of it.

This whole affair has come to be known as the Plutonium Files after a book by the same name.
written by Eileen Welsome. The full title is The Plutonium Files: America's Secret Medical Experiments in the Cold War. It helped document for the public that thousands of unsuspecting Americans (men, women, children, pregnant women) over the course of decades were systematically and deliberately poisoned with radiation by the US government—lovely country that. How can anyone trust such people? Yet, many of them still run things or have been replaced by offspring of the same evil spirit, as we can see by their fruits displayed in the headlines, albeit often between the lines.

McCarthyism

There is further history also for which the conservatives have remained unrepentant known as the McCarthy era. McCarthyism was a blatant noble-lie and big-lie policy during the red scare (Marxist-Communist scare). There was a Marxist calling for the violent overthrow of the US government under every bed.

Then there was the verbal and cold war on secular humanism. Then there was the covert War on Drugs. Now there is the open and covert War on Terrorism and Islam. To come is the all out violent persecution of homosexuals and the other sexually astray. What will the ostensible conservatives do when they have to start being so morally straight or face the wrath of their own making? Their drive to fascism won't serve their purposes then. Also, to come is the all out persecution of real Christianity. That will be the straw that breaks the camels back in heaven and earth.
There were witch hunts throughout government and the entertainment industry suffered under infamous black listing where people could not work just for opposing the black listing of others. It was never illegal to be a socialist in the US so long as one was not advocating the violent overthrow of the government. The publicly fronted assumption was that being anti-capitalist meant one was necessarily in favor of violent revolution. This was, and remains, a false assumption. Of course, those involved in this red scare knew this; however, they wanted to persecute any and all who were for any form of giving and sharing all. They wanted all lumped together just as today they have been trying to lump all together under the "you are either with us or against us" stance of George W. Bush. This was in the Republican Party's official 2004 National Platform. If one is not against those whom George W. Bush is against, one is to be construed, without due process, as being against righteousness itself. Well, we are against what George W. Bush has been doing and what he is still doing as of this writing, but we are foursquare for righteousness. We are also against those who attack the US or other nations and seeks to terrorize (including when it is done by the US), but we are foursquare for righteousness.

That national platform also says that Saddam "harbored terrorist leaders." Harbored whom?
J. Edgar Hoover

COINTELPRO

Add to McCarthyism the FBI’s COINTELPRO (counter-intelligence project) that deliberately illegally spied upon and agitated within US peace-making and civil-rights groups beginning in the mid 1950’s and ending in the early 1970’s. It started out as counter-foreign intelligence aimed against Marxist Communism that became blanket, domestic anti-liberal espionage. Some militant-leaning groups were acted against; however, pure peacemakers were also heavily targeted for political suppression and disruption by the ultraconservative J. Edgar Hoover, director of the US Federal Bureau of Investigation (1924-1972). Hoover’s methods were despicable. He had his agents spread lies about people to discredit them. They made up stories wholesale and printed and distributed those lies. They infiltrated the groups and planted lies about members, one member to another, trying to stir up trouble. They lied when giving testimony. They undertook illegal break-ins. They intimidated the families, friends, associates, and employers of group members. They hired people to physically attack group members. The whole thing was very racist and extremely reactionary. It was not grounded in facts. In fact, Hoover didn’t want facts. He ordered his agents to disrupt ideological liberals regardless of whether his, Hoover’s, assertions were born out by facts. He told his agents to ignore the facts. It was completely antichristian.
Palmer Raids

Of course, Hoover didn't begin his vendetta against liberalism with COINTELPRO. He had been heavily engaged in anti-liberalism right from the start of his career. In his mid twenties, he was instrumental in the Palmer Raids (1918-1921), which included the illegal deportation of thousands from the US, many of whom were later shot to death by order of Stalin. It was all a capitalist gambit in the long history of anti-democracy. It was intended to remove voices decrying exploitation under capitalism. It was also intended to subvert the Christian message of holding all things in common. It was intended to intimidate everyone who held, or still holds, that belief regardless of ideological or religious bases.

Vendettas

Such vendettas are common in the US. I've mentioned the Haymarket Riots, Ludlow Massacre, the Taft-Hartley Act, and the USA Patriot Act. There is also the Smith Act, also known as the Alien Registration Act of 1940. Under that Act, there were a number of prosecutions against freedom of speech, inquiry, and association, among other things.

Smith Act trials

The Smith Act trials: In 1941, there were trials of socialists, Communists, and unionists where the government claimed they had advocated the violent overthrow of the government of the US. It also involved charges of encouraging insubordination in the US military. A number of people served time.

Sedition Trials

In 1944, the Sedition Trials were aimed at isolationists (those against US involvement in World War II) and supposed pro-Nazis. Those trials failed.

In 1949, there were more trials of Communists. They were tried and convicted on the basis of simply having literature in the form of the writings of Marx, Engels, and Lenin. The writings of Marx, etc., were considered subversive by the government and proof of the intent to violently overthrow the government of the US, which of course is a ridiculous assumption. More indictments kept coming until 1957. Finally, the concept of free inquiry and free speech about the concepts of Marxism was upheld as constitutional. Just thinking about the subject or reading about it didn't prove intent to violence or advocacy for violence let alone with an end to overthrow the US government.

Conservatives: Always against justice and fairness

Capitalism has historically been against all increases in justice. The superrich always fought and fight against fundamental fairness. A reading of history will show that conservatives always start out against improvements in justice and fairness.
All capitalist nations started out as a superrich class above a poor class. It was only through the efforts of the poor class to advance fairness to some degree that any fairness exists today. The only reason the so-called rich nations can point at all to any fairness within them is not due at all to the superrich but rather due to those who forced the superrich into accepting any fairness.

Laborers and clerical staff and low-level managers and mid-level managers are a matter of cost-benefit analysis to the superrich. They are valued according to what they can contribute to the expropriation by those at the pinnacle of the pyramid.

Wobblies: Wobbly Shops and Semco SA

The capitalists still work to roll back all the advances in fundamental fairness. They hate uncoerced, pure, direct, participatory, workplace democracy. They hated the non-violent Wobblies (Industrial Workers of the World) and still do.

They will laud Ricardo Semler, who converted his father's business, Semco SA, a Brazilian company into a Wobbly Shop, but they really hate that company's example to the world. They hate Wobbly Shops where worker-owners elect fellow workers to positions and no one will last in a position without being a good servant (Very Christian; Good Shepherds chosen and followed). The conservative capitalists crushed the Wobblies in the US culminating in the 1920 Palmer Raids. Imagine since Semco SA has done so well since 1982 just how well the entire planet would be doing by now had the US conservatives allowed the Wobblies to remake the American economy along Semco SA lines. The country and world would be some sixty years ahead of where Semco SA is today. Would war have vanished? Would pollution have been eliminated? What a difference over eighty years of a better direction would have made. Of course, there is no time like the present as they say. The message of Jesus is that it is not too late to turn in this life even in the eleventh hour.

Now they laud the success of a Wobbly Shop. What hypocrisy. What shortsightedness. Yet, their political platforms don’t include planks for the facilitation of Wobbly Shops.

Semco SA under went a complete re-engineering to employ full workplace-democracy. It is a huge success relative to all organizations that do not employ full workplace-democracy. The Semco SA story adds to the proof that Christianity is best, even though one does not have to be a professing Christian to do what Semco SA has done. Semco SA is not spiritually perfect. It is just much better than traditional organizational structures. Going over to full Christianity would still be a radical change even for Semco SA from where it stands now.

The conservatives hate the various Green parties. They hate Jesus. They hate Christianity, even though many of them claim to be Christian and to love Jesus. They’re lying. They don’t yet all believe that global warming is happening. What Bible are they reading? They don’t understand. They are the ones who are going to be cheering on the human technology that battles the prophets sent to speak truth that plagues the wicked. They are the ones who are going to call the prophets devils. They are the ones who are going to congratulate themselves upon murdering those prophets. They are the selfish ones.

They cannot admit they were wrong all those decades while the system they lauded has slowly killed them with industrial pollution. They are dead of the spirit, and they don't know it. Even as some of them now admit to what has been plainly obvious for a generation even to non-professors of Christ, they still are looking for ways to maintain the selfish system that produced the evil. They are dead. Eco-evangelist capitalists will get nowhere. That's the wide path to hell.

They love hierarchy they can control along any lines they choose. They love the environment where they can secretly defraud the people and workers. That is not possible in a grassroots democracy. They hate the idea of doing away with wages and money and replacing those with Christianity. They hate the idea of peaceful, willing, unanimous land reform and redistribution of wealth that is also Christianity.

USA Patriot Act II

Now, the activity under the Palmer Raids of deporting people on a presidential whim is exactly what was written into the draft of what is called the USA Patriot Act II (Domestic Security Enhancement Act of 2003), drafted under then US attorney general John Ashcroft. Some of the proposals under that draft have been inserted in other legislation and subsequently passed.

When there is another terrorist attack on US soil, the full measures in the drafted legislation will be trotted out in order for the imperial presidency to more deeply secure its dictatorial control over the people of the US and other parts of the world.

J. Edgar Hoover kept a huge so-called personal file. That file was destroyed after Hoover's death by his secretary, Helen W. Gandy, just as with the MKULTRA records that were destroyed in 1972 by Richard Helms, director of the CIA under president Richard M. Nixon. Now we have George W. Bush delaying the dissemination of his father's presidential files. Will those be selectively destroyed to keep the public ignorant of conservative duplicity?

Jesus blessed the peacemakers. Jesus would have been targeted by the FBI just as he was targeted by the Pharisees for being a world saver (ultimate peacemaker) and in favor of giving and sharing all and all the other beautiful and perfectly liberal positions he held.

Pentagon Papers

The Pentagon Papers of 1971 also remind us that there has been a long history from administration to administration of both major US political parties of using the so-called noble lie on the people about reasons and plans to go to war. Where's the democracy?

Daniel Ellsberg was the Department of Defense worker and whistleblower who turned over the Pentagon Papers to The New York Times. Those papers revealed the secret history of US involvement in Southeast Asia and Vietnam from 1945 to 1968. The Papers reveal that the US had engaged in a number of covert military actions long before the American people were informed of any involvement in the area. Such activities included air attacks on ground targets in Laos, ground attacks on the North Vietnamese coast, and other attacks by US Marines. The Papers also show that the US government had repeatedly and deliberately lied to the American people and the world about the growing war. The White House tried legal tactics to stop the open publication of the papers but failed. The Nixon White House also had G. Gordon Liddy and E. Howard Hunt break into Daniel Ellsberg’s psychiatrist’s office in 1971 to find things to use against Ellsberg to discredit him. That action led to all charges of treason being dropped against Daniel Ellsberg.

Government of, by, and for the rich

The government runs the country as an insider’s business. Checks and balances are supposedly to keep money from supplanting democracy. It has never worked. Representational government has created an incubator for the aristocracy. The poor have no voice. Any poor person who wants to be elected to high office must sell himself or herself to the rich. That’s a false democracy. The powers that be seek to keep the commoners from coming to realize this and from realizing their inherent power. The powers that be seek to keep the people in a sleepwalk, falsely believing that what they have is a democracy where the government is of, by, and for the people when in reality it is government of, by, and for the rich. This is why the government is acting as it is. This is why the government is clamping down on declassifying information and is even reclassifying once declassified information. It isn't to protect the whole nation from so-called terrorists but rather to protect the rich from the poor and ever swelling ranks of the lower-middle class while the rich get fatter and fatter.

Is this God and country as one? No. The rich are serving themselves and not the whole people.

Regarding whistle-blowing and classified information, nothing may be rightly classified that covers up illegal activity.

What brings real national security?

The argument comes down to what is national security. How is one, how are many, truly made secure? How is lurking evil stopped?

To understand, we must look at The Bible as a history book of lessons. It is a book of books of history. The Bible can correctly be described using other terms, but the fact still remains that The Bible was intended to, among other things, be a written record of actual events. The Bible is subjected to archeological finds and interpretations. It is subjected to attempted countervailing versions of events. The various peoples of the world, nations, and their leaders down through the ages have made pronouncements with the view that simply stating those views would, it was hoped in the long run, make those views prevail. When the Assyrians campaigned against the Hebrews, the Assyrians recorded things the way they wanted things to go down in history which varies from the Biblical account. The Bible is the same thing only from the Hebrew perspective. What we see in The Bible that makes it special are a number of phenomena. The Bible is self-examining and shows admission of going astray. Much of history falls under this in a general sense. What sets The Bible apart though is the depth of soul searching that is exposed. I won't give examples, but there isn't one standout leader in The Bible who isn't shown in this light, including Jesus, and rightly so since soul searching is required for righteousness.

The Bible shows militarism and the rise and fall of empire after empire. Then, Jesus came. All the prophets before, who were leaders, some more militant, struggled over truth. The direction of understanding was though toward the revelation that bloody hands are definitely not the good. Jesus, of course, comprehended this. His reading of the scripture, his interpretation, his level of comprehension, has yet to be exceeded.

Jesus himself said that greater things would be done, but that didn't pertain to knowing and understanding God. It pertained to a certain context of achievements within this life. The correct view is that God is the master who can never be exceeded. Jesus had to leave before greater things as Jesus envisioned them could happen.
Leveling upwards

The reason no one exceeds Jesus in the kingdom of God is because Jesus's very teaching is ultimately leveling with all rising to the top in joining God in righteous knowledge and actions only. So greater leveling up will be achieved on the earth, but it will not exceed Jesus's vision. Do you see that? There is no usurping in real Christianity. There is not covetousness. There is no false pride or egoism, which are taking credit rather than always realizing that the real credit is shared credit. Who deserves the credit for Godliness other than God? Who is God in that case? This is why Jesus was man and God. This is why we may all level out going up.

So, we have the issue of national security that must be viewed in light of the fact of Jesus's higher teaching and example that proves beyond the shadow of the doubt that real security lies in pacifism, that pacifism engenders pacifism if people can hold out long enough, meaning if people can continue long enough to overcome the temptation for reprisals and the like. There are those who will fall to the dark spirit saying that pacifists will be attacked and die because they are showing the lack of strength to be evil.

We know though that this supposed strength in evil results in attacks and being attacked also by evil. Therefore, the supposed strong in evil are asked to have the courage to kill and die and the rest under evil's doctrine. How many tens of millions have died under this doctrine down through the ages? When has the doctrine of retaliation ever resulted in the end of retaliation? It hasn't. It won't. It can't.
We know it is better to die in the flesh for righteousness with the spirit overcoming the weakness of the flesh, its penchant for excess feeding into lusts of every kind, than it is to live for the sake of feeding into such addictive and ultimately insatiable lusts for awhile or to kill others or sacrifice ourselves for the sake of such misdirecting evil. The entire concept of national security is argued over these two diametrically opposed visions.

US Constitution

Under the US Constitution, powers and rights not enumerated still exist and remain the people's. The people have not given the executive or any other branch of government in the United States the right or power to classify (make secret) illegal activities by the government. The people have the power to receive any documents or information concerning illegal activities of the government regardless of whether or not the executive claims such illegal activities are for the sake of national security. Let them righteously protect national security.

The people have not given the executive or any other branch of government in the United States the right or power to use illegal means to secure them. The entire point of the US Constitution was to attempt to prevent an anything-goes executive. If national security is seen as being best forwarded via militancy and if such national security trumps every other consideration, then the executive is wide open to rule-by-decree by one person. The result of such a militant interpretation leads to one falling prey to the temptation of absolute power in absolute corruption under self-delusion and the rationalization of evil means. We saw such confusion playing out in Adolf Hitler.

We will have more to say about Hitler in supplementary writings.

So, how far does one stoop during national, military emergencies and what does one define as a national, military emergency? We see today, the US and Israel doing what for all intents and purposes amounts to goose-stepping toward unbridled militarism. We see the same techniques used: Repeating lies in the hope that saying them often enough will dupe the willing and selfish people and place the entire focus upon the one issue that will forward the militarism if that issue is able to be manipulated to exclude the truth. How dumb are the shepherds and their sheep?

The militarists deliberately manipulate the people's awareness and conscience away from the truth that is the message of Jesus Christ and toward military and empire building. We see them deliberately stirring the hornet's nest for this purpose. They ignorantly do what they can to antagonize others into striking out in ignorance. This revs up the cycle of retaliation that the empire builders believe opens the door to them to unleash the greater selfish spirit they think is on their side. It is a contest of wills where God sees all the willfulness and knows the selfishness in every heart.

Torture is illegal regardless of what any lawyer says. Dragnet, warrantless eavesdropping and surveillance is illegal in the US regardless of what any lawyer says. Secret prisons not even under Congressional oversight are mundanely illegal regardless of what any lawyer says. These things are divinely illegal regardless of Congressional oversight.

Does this mean that the US Constitution can work? No. It is fatally flawed. It was built upon taking and coercion. Even the amendment process is dependent for enforcement upon the spirit of coercion. The only real constitution is a unanimously upheld, necessarily uncoerced, new commandment.

A constitutional convention or constituent assembly is taking place right now, all the time. There is an ongoing revelation. The revelation is that real democracy is all the people sharing sovereignty. Given a real democracy, the people never fail. The only thing that has ever held back heaven has been the undemocratic oppression of free political speech. It means where the non-common people (the power elite such as now exists) have censored the truth. That is what is happening in the United States. It doesn't allow really free political speech. Money is heard over everything else. The wealthy decide who will be allowed to speak politically and be heard by the masses.

There has been a huge push recently to reclassify materials, which don't even rate classification under mundane rules, just to throw researchers off the scent. The US government isn't interested in stopping illegal activities by government. The false government is going after whistleblowers and journalists and others who reveal immoral activities by the government. The conservative majority on the Supreme Court is actually siding with this fascist practice. These actions by the government constitute a police state. There is no doubt about it. The FBI is out and about interviewing people who are not criminals and should not be taken as criminal suspects. The FBI is being used to intimidate people into silence. This selfishness will backfire. Thank God.

The FBI, under false Zionist, neocon John Negroponte and others of that ilk, wants to dig through Jack Anderson's archives. Jack Anderson was an investigative journalist, a muckraker, an independent journalist not so dependent upon corporate control news. The news was corporately controlled, but by being a syndicated writer, he wasn't beholden to just one corporation for his job.

US tilt to West Pakistan

Anderson was considered for assassination by the Nixon administration. Richard Nixon and Henry Kissinger were exposed by Anderson for Nixon's and Kissinger's lies about the infamous "tilt," the US illegal military support for West Pakistan in its 1971 genocidal war against what was East Pakistan (now Bangladesh). Some three million were killed under illegal martial law. The West Pakistanis had refused to recognize the result of a relatively free and fair election giving power to East Pakistan. Ten million refugees poured into India. The stress caused a war between West Pakistan and India.

Nixon and Kissinger didn't like India’s nonaligned status. That made India too close to the Soviets in Nixon's eyes. China was in tense relations with India, and Nixon and Kissinger were cozying up to China to further split the Soviets from the Chinese, who had more weapons aimed at each other than either had aimed toward the US. Kissinger told India that the US would back India against Chinese pressure. He then encouraged the Chinese to take action against India, which China refused to do. The US was simultaneously working on nuclear-arms reductions with the Russians. The US also didn't want China aiding North Vietnam. China was also close to Pakistan as a power balance against up and coming India. The situation was a mess, as the world under the self-centered always is.

The same kind of ridiculous so-called diplomacy and statesmanship is still going on in the US administration and all across the globe.

Still a cancer on the presidency

John Dean, Nixon's White House counsel, didn't exactly qualify as a whistleblower since he didn't come forward with information; however, he did refuse to continue a cover-up of illegal activities surrounding the Pentagon Papers, the break-in of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office, and the Watergate break-in and other things. Alexander Butterfield was working in the Nixon White House as a deputy assistant to the President. When asked, he testified that there was a secret taping system in the White House basement that recorded at least every conversation where the president was in attendance or on the phone. The combination of these two people, Dean and Butterfield, unwilling to lie under oath, exposed what John Dean correctly termed a "cancer on the presidency." It was the imperial presidency.

There has been a degree of this in every presidency; however, it is difficult to know how far back one needs to go to find any president bent upon accruing more power to himself as president, especially during a time when there is no declared war, than George W. Bush. If it were not for the likes of Jack Anderson, the reporter, and Daniel Ellsberg, the whistleblower who leaked the Pentagon Papers, and John Dean and Alexander Butterfield, the insiders whose consciences and fear of wrongdoing won't allow them to deny the truth when asked, all having braved the ire of the fascist-leaning within the US government, the US would have gone all the way fascist decades ago. The same struggle has come to the fore with George W. Bush.

No amount of obfuscation will help. No amount of trying to speak the language of environmentalism or liberal immigration will cover the fact that Bush is still pursuing world imperialism.

The core neocons want military, economic, political, cultural, and religious world domination first by the US and Israel and then ultimately by the false-Zionist Israel alone. It will never be. The false Zionists will be burned away. The Hebrew remnant will be converted Christians in earnest. The LORD has said it.
Deprogramming the youth

The militarists calculated that the youth are too brainwashed to be able to overcome the urge to be a part of the fight in the military—too brainwashed into mindless violence by their whole generation of military-promoted and created video games. The militarists have

"TomDispatch and USA Today reported that the officials from the Army's Infantry School in Fort Benning, in concert with a joint Army/USC project developed the Microsoft Xbox game 'Full Spectrum Warrior.'

"The armed forces also employ simulators to train their soldiers, which according to National Defense Magazine, can sometimes consist of modified versions of popular games. In the '80s, the tank simulation game 'Battlezone' was altered by military programmers to train Bradley Fighting Vehicle drivers. In the mid-'90s, the military modified 'Doom' for use in training Marines in squad combat. Since then, the Naval War College, in Newport, R.I., has worked with Sonalysts Inc. to create more than 500 games. Among them were three combat simulations that Sonalysts developed for commercial distribution by Electronic Arts of Redwood City, Calif., including 'Jane's Fleet Command,' '688(0),' 'Hunter/Killer' and 'Sub Command.'

"The Army has also developed its own video game, 'America's Army.' According to TomDispatch, it was developed with the assistance of such entertainment and gaming industry stalwarts as Epic Games, the THX Division of Lucasfilm Ltd., Dolby Laboratories, Lucasfilm Skywalker Sound, GameSpy Industries and others. It is a free game, available for download on their website after bypassing many ads for enlistment. By making it free, the Army opened a second front in the recruitment wars, a beachhead in the home of the American teenage male. It can be legally downloaded by those as young as 13; it has been downloaded 16 million times, and there are more counted on the technology attracting the youth. Well, what the militarists haven't figured on is that deep within that video-violence culture is a mixed signal telling the youth never to be on the losing side and never to be a mere minion. There has been an extremely strong message of militant anarchism in many if not most of the games. Whatever they are fighting in their games is seen as the evil enemy. That identification can swing around one hundred eighty degrees at the drop of a hat. The violence can swing against those in power just as easily as it can stay with those in power. When the youth realize they were lied to and held out as just materialists able to be tricked and bought off by the ultimately losing side, ultimately there will be hell to pay.

Also, many youth will come to understand the concept of an attractive nuisance. The military hardware attracts the youth into danger. That hardware, that technology, is as a rat trap with cheese for the youth. Satan loves it.

Whistleblowers

In addition to Daniel Ellsberg and John Dean and Alexander Butterfield, if journalist and author Bob Woodward is to be believed, there is also whistleblower Mark Felt of Watergate fame. According to Bob Woodward and others, Mark Felt, who was at the time the associate director of the FBI, was the whistleblower known for decades as Deep Throat. Accordingly, Mark Felt supplied then The Washington Post reporters, Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, with information concerning the Richard Nixon administration's direct involvement in the illegal break-in of the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee in the Watergate complex in Washington, DC, in 1972.

We said above, "If Bob Woodward is to be believed," because there are those who dispute strongly that Mark Felt is Deep Throat or that Deep Throat is one person. They base their ideas upon what they see as the implausibility of the details of the intrigue supplied by Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein. They claim there are all sorts of impossibilities concerning potted plants, balconies, newspapers, movie showing times, deep voices, smoking, drinking, and other aspects of Bob Woodward's and Carl Bernstein's details concerning Deep Throat's interactions with them, etc. Those critics can take those matters up with Bob Woodward and the others.

Regardless, someone or some persons supplied Woodward and Bernstein with critical information and that person or those persons blew the whistle on the illegal White House cover-up of the Watergate break-in.

Of course, the reason behind the emphasis placed upon whether or not Mark Felt is Deep Throat as he claims he is, is to distract attention away from the illegal White House activities surrounding the entire Watergate scandal and conservative president Richard M. Nixon's direct involvement. The weightier matters never matter to conservative apologists.

To clarify here, an apologist is not one who apologizes as in saying he or she is sorry for some wrong-doing. An apologist is one who argues in defense of something, such as in this case, the present-day conservatives defending the Richard Nixon administration's policies, actions, and inactions.

One must remember that Richard Nixon did not earn the moniker of Tricky Dick for nothing. Dirty political tricksterism was his forte. We don't know the degree to which he ever repented, and nevertheless, we don't judge him or condemn him.

Who will be the Ellsberg or Felt of the Iraqi Invasion scandal waiting to happen? Many people have blown whistles about Iraq. The conservatives just don't want to care. They are being played too well by the creation of fear. The mainstream Democratic politicians are too deeply in bed with the establishment to change for long either. They may make a noise to be elected, but they will instantly suck up to the money interests the moment the people stop demanding peace or what have you. Their root will whither and die.

We have Katharine Gun who was working for the British intelligence agency entitled Government Communications Headquarters (GCHQ). Katharine Gun was approached in 2003 via email by the United States National Security Agency (NSA) for help in illegally bugging six nations then sitting on the UN Security Council. Those nations (Angola, Cameroon, Chile, Guinea, Mexico, and Pakistan) were swing-votes concerning the lead-up to the invasion of Iraq. Katharine Gun was the whistleblower who leaked the email from the NSA to the Observer, a United Kingdom newspaper.

The British government began legal action against Katharine Gun, but on the first day of court the prosecution offered no evidence. Of course, the government didn't want the case to go forward due to all the publicity the governmental wrong-doing of the NSA and any UK involvement would have received. They wished to lessen as much as possible the negative fallout the governments of the US and UK would have received on account of the general population being inundated with information about the despicable activities. It would have been a show trial.

This is exactly the same thing that has happened with Abu Ghraib and then Brigadier General Janis Karpinski, who was not brought to trial. Obviously, this is a new technique of the government to suppress fire storms. Along with the conservatives buying up media and attempting to take over academe, this is another technique in manipulating what the people are allowed to hear and see, etc., about their government's illegal activities.

Probably the most egregious whistleblower situation known publicly concerns Sibel Edmonds. The Sibel Edmonds story to date is nothing short of amazing. Sibel was hired September 20, 2001, as a translator for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Sibel has clearly stated that there is positive proof available that the US had prior knowledge of the 9-11 plot. She states that she and other translators were told to slow down to allow translation work to pile up so that the FBI department could justify asking the US Congress for a budget increase. She further said in the course of her work translating and in some cases retranslating wiretaps recordings, videos, documents, and the like, she became aware of very clear cause for needed investigations into possible major crimes involving high ranking elected officials. A name that has come out in this regard is that of speaker of the United States House of Representatives Dennis Hastert.

A self-styled conservative, Republican Congressman, Mark Foley of Florida, was discovered trying to engage teenager Congressional pages for homosexual activity. Dennis Hastert, knew about it, did nothing, and kept it quiet. What was the reaction from George W. Bush? The White House down played it and gave Hastert full support. Foley resigned on September 29, 2006. What does this tell you about the trustworthiness of these people? Why were they made the leaders of the most powerful nation in the history of the planet? Why have people followed them and supported them?

Much of this information has had to come out through the investigative journalism work of David Rose. That is the case, because Sibel has a gag order placed upon her. David Rose is attempting to use what cover he may have under freedom of the press.
Sibel initially came forward internally within the FBI with various complaints. She was terminated. The US Congress had hearings. The FBI supplied some vindication of Sibel. Sibel filed suit for wrongful termination. Attorney general John Ashcroft then invoked the State Secrets Privilege. Ashcroft gagged the US Congress and gagged Sibel. The US Department of Justice's Office of Inspector General issued a vindication of Sibel. The federal court nevertheless dismissed her case and put nothing in writing. Sibel and her attorneys were not allowed to hear the administration's statements to the court. No one was allowed to hear those statements other than the three judges. The American Civil Liberties Union appealed to the US Supreme Court on Sibel's behalf. The Supreme Court refused to hear the case.

What is she to do? What would you do? What are the American people going to do? There is a cover-up. Sibel wrote the following:

It is way past time for a little bit of critical thinking. The Attorney General cites two reasons to justify the unconstitutional and panic driven assault on me and my case.

Reason one: To protect certain diplomatic relations - not named since obviously our officials are ashamed of admitting to these relations. Reason two: To protect certain U.S. foreign business relations. Let's take each one and dissect it (I have given up on our mass media to do that for us!). For reason one, since when is the Department of Justice, the FBI, in the business of protecting 'US sensitive diplomatic relations?' They appear to be acting as a mouthpiece for the Department of State. Now, that’s one entity that has strong reasons to cover up, for its own self, what will end up being a blunder of mammoth scale. Not internationally; not really; it is the American people and their outrage they must be worried about; they wouldn’t want to have a few of their widely recognized officials being held criminally liable; would they?

As for reason two, I can assure you that the U.S. foreign business relations they may be referring to are not among those that benefit the majority of the American people; a handful of MIC entities and their lobbying arms can by no means be considered that, can they? In fact, the American people, their national safety and security, and their best interests are being sacrificed for a handful of those with their foreign business interest. Also, since when are nuclear black market related underground activities considered official U.S. foreign business; one may wonder? If you want to have the answers to these questions, please approach your Congress and ask your representatives for hearings - not behind closed doors quasi hearings
- but open, public hearings where these questions can be asked and answered.

In addition to Katharine Gun, we also have Bunnatine H. Greenhouse, who was the U.S
Army Corps of Engineers' top-ranking civilian (civil servant) contracting officer until she was demoted for testifying about what she termed the worst contracting abuse she witnessed during her twenty years dealing with government contracts. She was speaking of the illegal contracts given to Halliburton and its subsidiary, Kellogg, Brown & Root. The illegal contracts cover the Balkans and Iraq. Now, it must be remembered that vice president Dick Cheney ran Halliburton immediately before becoming vice president.

Dick Cheney

Cheney flunked out of Yale twice. He did worse than Bush-43, who graduated from Yale with a C-average. This doesn't say Cheney wasn't capable of getting relatively high grades at Yale.
In fact, high grades at Yale are easier to accomplish than at many universities rated considerably lower.

Historically, there has been what is known as grade-inflation at the Ivy League schools. The wealthy give enormous sums to the schools, and they expect the schools to see to it that their children's grades reflect the gifts. There had been an understood limit to this influence amongst so-called gentlemen. A son who was obviously a total reprobate whose sins could not be concealed would just have to be accepted as a black mark upon the family name regardless of the size of the family's endowment to a given school. That was understood, because appearances used to be everything. If the lower classes caught on to the phoniness of the system, that revelation would undermine the ability of the superrich, old money, to control the world.

Keeping up appearances still matters. Standards though have fallen precipitously over the last forty years. Grade-inflation is also a ploy to make all Ivy League graduates appear brighter than the lower classes, which they are not necessarily. Grade-inflation is a built-in private advantage and privilege.

What Cheney's flunking out of Yale twice says is that Cheney knew that the formal educational system in the US is not the key to opening up the doors to US-style success. He knew that networking with the rich and powerful and filling their needs and wants was the key.

One lie for invading Iraq the first time

Cheney is such a liar and so is George H. W. Bush. They both claimed the CIA had images from space that Iraq had two hundred fifty thousand troops and one thousand five hundred tanks poised on the Saudi border before the first US invasion of Iraq. Soviet space images showed zero tanks or troops on that border at that very same time. The US never showed its supposed photos. It could have done that, just as the Kennedy administration did show real photos of Russian missiles in Cuba during what became known as the Cuban Missile Crisis.
The oligarchs of the plutocracy of the US are pathological liars. They lie the country into every war, and the sycophant conservative voters just follow along as greedy dogs behind the leaders of the pack.

Halliburton

While Cheney was the CEO of Halliburton, the company did direct business with Iran, Iraq, and Libya through shell companies such as in the Cayman Islands that were no more than mail forwarding post office boxes at local banks. Cheney has made millions of dollars, because Halliburton has been awarded billions of dollars in military contracts especially concerning Iraq. He has huge stock options in the company. He lies about that, claiming he has no financial interest in Halliburton. He lied the US into war so he could make a killing in war profiteering. His office of vice president of the US approved the no-bid contract to Halliburton for over seven billion dollars. His office shouldn't have been involved in the contracting process. They denied it, but were caught in the lie.

Cheney planned the whole self-enriching scheme. He wanted personally to cash in on the privatization of the military. Halliburton hired him to carry out the plan in the study he had ordered, since Cheney had so many contacts throughout the military-industrial complex and understood the military-procurement process so well. Under Cheney, Halliburton went from practically nothing to being a huge military contractor.
Also, hundreds of millions of dollars have been released to Halliburton over the objection of military auditors whose accounting shows that Halliburton had misharged the military.

Michael Mobbs, a special assistant to undersecretary of defense Douglas J. Feith and reportedly a political appointee (not a civil servant—the law requires that only civil servants may authorize contracts), developed a plan to give Halliburton a small contract for secretly devising how the US would handle the Iraqi oil industry after the US occupation of Iraq. Then, right before the US invasion of Iraq, Halliburton was given no-bid contracts based upon supposedly being the only contractor with the right plan-of-action. Halliburton has been given multi-billion dollar no-bid contracts as a result.

Michael Mobbs has admitted that both the White House and the office of the vice president were involved in the contract-procurement process, which they should not have been.

Halliburton subsidiary Kellogg, Brown & Root (KBR) has been outsourced literally all of the day-to-day operational support functions of the military in Iraq and in many other places as well. Much of the logistics military personnel used to do is now done by Halliburton. KBR actually operates the military bases in Iraq. How long will it be before the military itself is privatized in total at least at the lower ranks? Wouldn’t foreign soldiers from undeveloped nations be cheaper labor than American citizens allowing for even greater profits for the corporate contractors? We know that non-citizens are inducted into the US military. When will all of the US military frontline be filled with non-citizens? Are they planning that, or are they planning to just automate with robotics and bypass total privatization using human assets as they call them?

Financing

How do international financiers and bankers fit into the privatization of the international-military-industrial complex? We will have much more to say about this in supplements to this work. It is central to the issue. Money is the so-called modern focal point of all evil.

Investment banks are for raising funds (investment capital and loan proceeds; money). They also do corporate mergers and acquisitions (M&A; read this as meaning consolidation, takeover, monopoly). Investment banks put together the deals. They handle the transactions. They are the most money-minded in the deals. They work for a cut of the total so-called value of the deals they put together. It is sheer mammon.

Brokerages handle trading of stocks and bonds for a fee. Shareholders or stockholders are entities (organizations and individuals) that, or who, have purchased a percentage of ownership (equity) in the corporation. Share values can go up or down depending on how well the business does, and dividends can be issued on the shares (profits can be distributed to shareholders). Bond holders lend money to a given corporate issuer or government in exchange for potential gain in the bond's value and for potential interest earnings on the bonds. Brokerages don't necessarily do investment banking deals (mergers or acquisitions; consolidations or takeovers).

Commercial banks make loans based upon a multiplier of the funds deposited with them. They loan out ten times as much as they have on deposit or at whatever other multiplier the Federal Reserve sets, as self-regulation of the banking industry. The fox guards the chicken coop. They charge interest on the loans and pay interest on the deposits. They are a middleman, centralized operation taking a cut.

Recently, M&A has been on the upswing. It had dropped precipitously starting in March, 2002, mostly as a result of the bursting of the Internet investment related, stock-market bubble, as part of the deliberate, planned, business cycle of ups and downs, boom and bust. Other factors contributed to the drop such as 9-11 of 2001 and all the corporate scandals such as Enron Corporation and others. What's happening that M&A is on the upswing?

Capitalism is the venue for people to feed their lusts. Many become addicted. They come to the conclusion that slow growth and no growth and contraction is death.

Booms and busts

We are speaking here of the over all trend and not the business cycle. We mean that booms and busts are planned for the sake of those in control to keep control and gain. They sell high and then cause a bust and then buy low and then cause a boom. Causing the bust and then the boom is the key. It isn't luck. It isn't guessing. It isn't timing. It's insider planning in competition with others who are engaged in doing the same thing via their own networks.
The common people are left out and actually destroyed and kept down on purpose. That cycle must, and will, end. As we mentioned above, we will have much more to say about that in supplements.

Of course, they have made this determination based upon a limited realm of concepts including what constitutes death. At any rate, for those at the top of the money pyramid, growth is mandatory. The more growth the better weighted against what they perceive as their acceptable level of risk. One way to grow market share is via consolidation (M&A). This is why we have seen fifty media companies become seven or even six. This is why we have seen the same thing happen in every industry.
New industries and sub-industries spring up with many entities. The sharks fight it out with a few left circling each other forced by referees not to fight to the very last. Such referees in the US are supposed to come in the form of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the US Justice Department's anti-trust division.

The people who benefit the most are the investment bankers and corporate lawyers and certain strategically placed shareholders and executives. Because these people are the core of the system and because their motive is selfish gain, they don't take others into consideration accept from a pure dollars-and-cents standpoint.
They want to avoid deal-breaking negative criticism from the outside. Otherwise, they will go full speed ahead. The rest of society suffers as a result.

Families and small entities are driven out of markets. The environment suffers. Nutritional quality of farm products suffers. Inhumane treatment of animals increases. Worker safety in the cheapest labor markets in the world suffers or is nonexistent. Small and independent local businesses, which used to provide locally, suffer and disappear.

The privatization of the military has seen much action. People have been greedily rubbing their hands together in anticipation of all the easy start-ups (new businesses) they can create as military officers are allowed to access the revolving door at the Pentagon. Some will take a leave from the military to go into business to contract with the Pentagon. Some officers will become billionaires. It’s sick.

Now, we aren't advocating for or against these things so much as we are pointing out the conservative mindset concerning profit-making from war. Most people will argue about whether one form or another of conducting a war is better. We are saying all war is wrong. We are further saying treating war as a profit center is damnable.

Insider military contracting

Insider contracting in the military is very much as insider trading in stocks and bonds. It is every bit as unethical, actually more since it deals so directly in facilitating death and destruction for profit.
Bunnatine H. Greenhouse was demoted for bucking what she calls the "longstanding good old boys network of commanders who routinely engaged in casual and clubby contracting practices." Mrs. Greenhouse's attempt to have a hearing by the Army's Equal Employment Opportunity Office has been illegally halted by the Army. She was denied a forum within the system. So far within government, only the Senate Democratic Policy Committee's House Government Reform Committee has been willing to hear her grievances. The Democrats though, at the time of this writing, are in the minority in the US Senate and cannot force reform issues or redress her grievances over the objections of conservative Republicans. Naturally, those conservatives are part of the very "longstanding good old boys network" of which Mrs. Greenhouse spoke. They are part of the overall corruption, graft, and system of payoffs in the form of, among other methods, the revolving door between government on one hand and huge corporations, lobbying firms, and other entities on the other hand that supply and rehire appointees and staff at astronomically high compensation rates.

History is repeating itself now with Iraq. The credibility gap, as immediately after Watergate and the Pentagon Papers, is widening now even further than it did in the 1970's. The self-styled conservative Christians will never close it again though. False conservatism (hardly real conservatism) is clearly identified now with the Beast of The Bible.
War crimes

There is also the documented history of war crimes committed in Vietnam by the United States, including chemical warfare with Agent Orange (contained dioxins which cause birth defects and cancers) and other herbicides; the Tiger Force unit of the Army's 101st Airborne Division that killed hundreds of unarmed villagers during seven months in 1967; the My Lai massacre which was the killing of more than four hundred unarmed villagers, mostly women and children, in 1968; and the CIA Phoenix Program.

As for the My Lai massacre, lieutenant William Calley who was the highest ranking person at the scene served a sentence of only three years. Now we have the war crimes being committed in the Iraq War, as if any war is not a crime. However, totally innocent men, women, and children have been imprisoned, tortured, and murdered in cold blood at the hands of the US military, US spies, and US contractors. The cold-blooded killings in Haditha, Iraq, on November 19, 2005, by Kilo Company, 3rd Battalion, 1st Marine Regiment, are only the tip of the iceberg. Is it any surprise when US Marine lieutenant general James Mattis, who commanded in Afghanistan and Iraq, said, "Actually it's quite fun to fight them, you know….It's fun to shoot some people." Fun to shoot people? How can this person escape damnation? Wait until the demons are given authority to do unto him what he thought was fun to do unto others.
It has been reported by independent journalists un-embedded with the US or Iraqi military that civilian families are regularly being shot up in their cars at military checkpoints and that some four to six thousand were slaughtered in the second US assault on Fallujah. US snipers conducted a "turkey shoot" in Fallujah of unarmed, civilian men, women, and children. The military has also admitted to using incendiary weapons on people in direct contravention of the so-called allowable uses for such incendiary material. There is also the story that came out of Balad, Iraq, where an unarmed family of eleven, ranging down to only six-months old, was handcuffed and executed in their home in cold blood by US forces.\textsuperscript{90} There are many more cases that are never investigated, because there aren't enough investigative journalists to go around and the US and Iraqi military aren't going to investigate themselves without huge pressure from the media and informed peace politicians.

War desensitizes those already predisposed to being cold-blooded killers to murder unarmed and non-combatant little children and babies.

Agent Orange (dioxin)

Concerning Vietnam, the National Academy of Sciences of America issued a list of diseases \textsuperscript{90} "Haditha Massacre: Was it an Isolated Event and Did the Military Try to Cover it Up?" DemocracyNow.org May 30th, 2006.

http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=06/05/30/1332253 caused by the defoliant Agent Orange. They include at least the following:

- Chloracne
- Diabetes Type II
- Hodgkin's disease
- Multiple myeloma
- Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma
- Peripheral neuropathy
- Porphyria cutanea tarda
- Prostate cancer
- Respiratory cancers
- Soft Tissue Sarcomas
- Spina Bifida in children

The dioxin in Agent Orange is still permeating the nation of Vietnam.

Statistics on the subject vary widely, but many thousands of Vietnamese were assassinated in the CIA Phoenix Program turned over to Army Intelligence. Most were tortured before being killed. Bart Osborne was in the Phoenix Program. He testified before the US Congress in 1971 about that program as follows:

I never knew in the course of all those operations any detainee to live through his interrogation. They all died. There was never any reasonable establishment of the fact that any one of those individuals was, in fact, cooperating with the VC, but they all died and the majority were either tortured to death or things like thrown out of helicopters....It became a sterile depersonalized murder program....Equal to Nazi atrocities, the horrors of Phoenix must be studied to be believed.
Watergate

Watergate in 1972 showed the beginnings of the lengths to which people will go in creating a dictatorial presidency. It was the burglary of the Democratic National Committee headquarters by White House and CIA operatives and a subsequent cover-up by the White House and conservative president Richard Nixon.

Iran-Contra

The Iran-Contra scandal (1986) showed more duplicity, lies, and cover-ups. The Ronald Reagan-George H. W. Bush administration illegally sold arms to Iran and funneled the money to the Contra rebels fighting to overthrow the socialist revolutionary government of Nicaragua that had taken power from the US-backed brutal dictatorship of Anastasio Somoza. The Reagan administration, as with the Nixon administration, embarked upon a whitewashing and cover-up of the illegal activities. Some of the offenders were granted legal immunity for their testimony and were therefore let off without incurring any mundane legal penalty or punishment and without showing any repentance. George H. W. Bush pardoned a number of them upon his becoming president after Ronald Reagan.

CIA crack cocaine

During this Contra War, the CIA undertook an operation allowing Central American narcotics traffickers to smuggle crack cocaine into the US. The CIA raised revenue through this operation to fund the Nicaraguan Contras. Imagine the US government funding a war undertaken by former national guardsmen of a reprehensible and brutal totalitarian dictator of Nicaragua. Imagine the US government under a conservative president (Ronald Reagan) funding that war off drug money coming from addicting, poverty stricken, mostly black, inner-city youth. It happened. Think of all the young pregnant women whose babies were born addicted to crack cocaine and the CIA and White House officials and others turning a blind eye and the CIA blocking prosecutions of drug dealers. Oliver North was one such White House official who was shown to have known about the drug trafficking. Do we judge and condemn? No. We call, as always, for universal repentance.

Then you wonder why the poor blacks who suffered the brunt of the man-caused chain of events leading to hurricane Katrina have been left by the side of the road. They aren't worth anything in the eyes of those who keep them down and even kill them through neglect and targeting. God will raise up a new nation and new leader who will change all this and put things right.

This whole affair was all thoroughly researched and proven by Gary Webb in his work known as Dark Alliance. Also, a Senate subcommittee under John Kerry showed the extensive evidence the Contras ran tons of drugs into the US to fund their Contra War after US government funding via the Iran-Contra illegal weapons deal was forced to end. Oliver North's notebooks contained the fact. Think about that.
Oliver North

The unrepentant Oliver North is lauded by the conservatives and is constantly shown on Fox News and elsewhere as if he's some kind of good guy when he was in full knowledge that Reagan's dirty war against Nicaragua was continuing to be funded by drug addiction in the US. Do you still call yourself a conservative-Republican Christian when that is what it stands for?

Yellowcake Forgery

Most recently, we have the Yellowcake Forgery (2002). This was a set of forged documents used by the current conservative president, George W. Bush, in claiming justification for his 2003 invasion of Iraq. The forgeries claimed that Iraq was attempting to buy concentrated uranium oxide from the African nation of Niger. The documents had been withdrawn by the CIA as suspected forgeries from a previous presidential speech just months earlier, but the president's people claimed that they forgot about that before using the forged documents in the most important speech of Bush's presidency, his State of the Union Address in which he worked to convince the American people and the world to invade Iraq. Those forgeries were enough to push undecided Americans to support the invasion of Iraq. The forgeries were also part of secretary of state Colin Powell's presentation to the United Nations. The forgeries were upheld as indisputable evidence that Iraq was attempting to buy uranium from Niger as part of an Iraqi nuclear weapons development program.
Remember the extraordinary rendition (kidnapping) of Ibn al Shaykh al Libi (Shaykh Libi) from Pakistan to Egypt where he confessed false knowledge of the tie between al Qaeda and Iraq that was also disavowed by the intelligence community before Bush and Powell and the rest continued spreading Bush's deliberate perjury to the American people. Remember, he swore to "preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States." That means he swore not to do anything that runs contrary to the co-equal balance of power (the checks and balances system) of that constitution. To do that, it is necessary that the president's administration not lie to the other branches, one of which is the people who have expressly reserve to themselves all the powers not enumerated in the constitution and by whose consent the other branches govern. You see here the spirit of the law peeking out of the letter of the law.

White House deliberate leaks: Plame

Joseph C. Wilson was sent to Niger to investigate. He later stated that under the Bush-43 administration, "intelligence related to Iraq's nuclear program was twisted to exaggerate the Iraqi threat." In retaliation for Wilson's having revealed to the public that sin of George W. Bush and his administration and to intimidate other potential whistleblowers, Wilson's wife, Valerie Plame, was illegally exposed as a CIA operative to news reporters. Exposing the identity of a CIA operative is a felony under federal law. Syndicated columnist Robert Novak then cited two people in the Bush-43 administration as the source of the leak of Plame's identity as a CIA agent. This put Valerie Plame's contacts in danger for their lives. It also blew her cover. The whole system is corrupt. It has since been revealed by TIME magazine correspondent Matthew Cooper that one in the Bush-43 administration to leak Plame's identity to Cooper was Karl Rove. It has also been reported that Irving Lewis "Scooter" Libby, Jr., vice president Dick Cheney's chief of staff and a founding member of the neocon Project for the New American Century, leaked Valerie Plame's undercover identity to The New York Times reporter Judith Miller.

Others leaked as well. See the supplements for information as it becomes available.

When it became public that Valerie Plame's identity as a covert CIA agent had been leaked from the White House, George W. Bush said that the leaker(s) would be fired. Rove was found out, but Bush didn't fire him. Bush lied, thinking that Rove would never be outed as a leaker. Once Rove was outed though, the Bush team of liars conjured up a technicality, a loophole, for Rove. That's what they do best, seek loopholes and then sell them to the American people as ethical. They drag the people down into darkness with them. They claimed that Bush had declassified Plame's identity by authorizing the leak. It was a dirty trick. It was political retribution for Plame's husband exposing the lie Bush foisted off on the world that Iraq had been seeking yellowcake (uranium) from Niger.

---

97 Irving Lewis "Scooter" Libby, Jr. resigned after being indicted for allegedly leaking the name of Valerie Plame.
Once Rove leaked Plame's identity, he quickly tightened up his act. He had immediately realized his lapse into territory where he didn't have the cover of plausible deniability. The special prosecutor, Patrick Fitzgerald, gave Rove a pass, because Fitzgerald didn't want to buck the president's claimed power to declassify CIA agent's identities. The only people who can challenge the president's claim that he can authorize such a leak for political reasons that wouldn't be covered by national security are those in the legislature. The Republicans though control both houses of the US Congress as this entry is being made.

Much of the mainstream press though reported Fitzgerald's reluctance as Rove having been cleared. Rove wasn't cleared. He was mundanely bailed out by a corrupt president.

The vice president, Dick Cheney, is under investigation as to whether Libby learned of Valerie Plame's secret identity through Cheney. Libby testified that Libby's superiors authorized Libby to leak classified information. It is assumed that was done to counter Wilson's criticism.

It must be understood that there is a reading of the US Constitution that states the president has the power to classify and declassify anything on the fly he deems in his sole discretion is good for national security. The president can delegate that authority to the vice president and any staff in the entire administration and really the entire executive branch or anyone for that matter. At the same time, the US Congress can impeach, try, convict, and remove the president from office on whatever grounds the US Congress interprets in its sole discretion to constitute high crimes and misdemeanors.

When does the president's classifying and declassifying sufficiently offend the US Congress? Is it a tough question? It is a mundane question. When does authorizing anyone to leak information that has not been declassified in the traditionally understood manner constitute exceeding presidential authority? Where is the line concerning presidential power concerning national security? Is the president elected to be God with impunity in matters of national security for four years? Some people want it that way.

They don't understand that a president who rises to power in lust and who grabs for dictatorial power will never be satisfied with lording it over others in some limited vision of national security or constrained by term limits. National security will translate into all law making power vested in one person and term limits will be ruled as against national security. Only the Grim Reaper allowed of God will release the people from such a regime.

No check, no balance

Did Bush authorize leaks, or did he declassify information? The answer is both, depending upon one's perspective. The president can declassify information. When would it become treason? It depends upon what and whom he would be betraying. It is in the eye of the beholder. The truth is that under the US Constitution, no one can touch him without going through an amendment process to allow it or the US Congress can simply impeach him and remove him under president Gerald Ford's interpretation rendered by him when he was a US House member. At the time, Ford was advocating the impeachment of William O. Douglas.

What, then, is an impeachable offense? The only honest answer is that an impeachable offense is whatever a majority of the House of Representatives considers it to be at a given moment in history; conviction results from whatever offense or offenses two-thirds of the other body considers to be sufficiently serious to require removal of the accused from office... (Gerald Ford, April 15, 1970).

Ford was right.

Judith Miller was touting in The New York Times the Bush-43 administration's neocon premises for the Baghdad invasion such as weapons of mass destruction, etc., all during the lead-up to the US takeover of Iraq. She was getting most of her neocon propaganda (published as indisputable facts) from Irving Libby who was the prime mover within the administration for spreading the lies about Iraq and Saddam Hussein.

Karl Rove and the spirit of Machiavelli

Karl Rove is George W. Bush's top advisor. He advises Bush on every move Bush makes. Karl Rove is the latest incarnation of the Republican dirty trickster (Machiavelli). He cut his teeth on dirty political tricks (which he acknowledged) working for the Richard Nixon campaign in 1972. Richard Nixon was himself known as Tricky Dick for his campaign practices. Nixon had used Donald Segretti, who ended up serving time in prison for illegal campaign practices under Nixon. Lee Atwater also worked for Nixon and learned and used dirty tricks. Ronald Reagan and George H. W. Bush also both used Atwater extensively.

George W. Bush became closely associated with Atwater during George's father's election campaign in 1988 when the campaign assigned George W. the job of monitoring the campaign staff. George W's office was just across the hall from Atwater's. Even though Karl Rove is slightly older than Lee Atwater, Atwater had a substantial head start on Rove at the pinnacle of the Republican power structure. Rove, as with George W. Bush, learned from the examples of Nixon, Segretti, Atwater, and others. George W. Bush was a real hardball politicker. In his father's 1992 campaign, he had the nickname "Hatchet Man."

Before his death from an inoperable brain tumor, Lee Atwater repented and sent written apologies to some of the candidates he had unethically attacked. Some of Atwater's unethical tactics had been instrumental in the defeat of Michael Dukakis in 1988. George W. Bush and Karl Rove would be wise to not wait until they are pronounced with a terminal illness before they turn and repent.

Rove was the architect behind the baseless smear campaign against John McCain in his run for the Republican presidential nomination in After John McCain won the New Hampshire Republican primary, Rove pulled out the dirty tricks. His forte is getting malicious gossip spread around to undermine the opponent's strongest points as seen by the voters. He has surrogates do the dirty work. He just plants the seeds. They run with it. That way, his candidate or office holder (such as George W. Bush), and he can claim the gossip wasn't being done by the campaign. Loyalists are rewarded with favors. The whole thing is sleazy. It's prostitution all the way around.

Now, mistakes that people have made and for which they have genuinely repented will not be held against them. In fact, when others raise the past, it will be an opportunity for them to turn directly to the subject of confession to God and repentance and atonement.

Don't wait too long. Once your turn, be sure you bring forth.

Concerning the attacks of others built upon fabrication of the past, people will ask questions in reverse. "What are your agenda by raising such things? Why are you testing me? On what do you base that?"

What are you going to say about someone's history when the whole point of that person's message is repentance? Admission of sin is inherent in repentance. Will Rove say of the repentant, he or she is a sinner? It's too late. The repentant one has already said it.

Paul held the coats of those who killed Stephen (the first recorded Christian martyr). He persecuted the followers of Jesus hunting them down, arresting them, and throwing them into prison. What is the point of attacking Paul for those things when Paul is the one who informed us that he did them and then went on to say he turned to Jesus in repentance and so may you? Attacking someone for his prior wrongdoing for which he or she has repented only marks the attacker for what he or she is: An unrepentant, unforgiving, servant of Satan.

Did the attacks and malicious rumors started by the Karl Roves of the day defeat Jesus? They got Jesus murdered. What did that do? It strengthened the cause of Jesus. Satan always ends up playing into God's hands. God always has the upper hand for the edification of those who are in earnest about wanting to be good. The serpent cannot fool God by attempting to change the subject or redefine words or recast the serpent's self-centeredness as strength or a proper or needed tool. It isn't possible. It is all transparent to God. The serpent cannot hide from God.

Rove works hard to keep the signature from being traced back to his crowd; however, neither Bush nor Rove denounced the lies about John McCain when they were offered the open opportunity. They don't denounce lots of things. They can't. Imagine their denouncing all the people they trick into doing their dirty work. They can't denounce them, because then the process would fall apart. Among other things, the dupes would be confused and offended. Their process will fall apart anyway. It already has. Look at all the things that George W. Bush has remained muted and unrepentant about, and you will see Karl Rove's and Bush's signatures.
None of this is intended as an endorsement of John McCain. John McCain moves on without expecting repentance and only fruits worthy of it. Moving on that way is not Christian. Just moving on and allowing the subject to change does not serve the interest of salvation. Moving on in that manner glosses over the mistakes to such a degree that the mindset that causes such mistakes is facilitated and encouraged.

Bush and Rove are searching for leaks but only concerning their dirty tricks. Where is the house cleaning? It isn't there, because they would have to clean themselves out. It is Richard Nixon all over again. They are futilely clinging to their corrupt message and vision.

They aren't fooling everyone even some of the time anymore.

Rove has not repented of his methods. When he does in earnest and then does only that which is worthy of that repentance, he will receive more than a little mercy.

Some people repent of some things such as Ben Barnes, the former lieutenant governor of Texas who said the following:

I got a young man named George W. Bush in the National Guard when I was lieutenant governor of Texas. And I'm not necessarily proud of that. But I did it. And I got a lot of other people in the National Guard, because I thought that was what people should do when you're in office. And you helped a lot of rich people. And I walked to the Vietnam Memorial the other day. And I looked at the names of people that died in Vietnam. And I became more ashamed of myself than I’ve ever been, because it was the worst thing I did, was help a lot of wealthy supporters and a lot of people who had family names of importance get in the National Guard. And I’m very sorry of that. And I’m very ashamed. And I apologize to you as voters of Texas.

Now, that reveals that private, special advantage and privilege that existed, and still exists, for the rich and powerful. "There is equality in America, but some people are more equal than others" is the Orwellian saying. Money buys favors. People literally sell their souls for it.

The story, among many others, was pushed in the 2000 South Carolina presidential primary that John McCain had fathered an illegitimate, black daughter. Photos were included. John’s daughter is actually his adopted child. The fact that she was adopted was known to those who pushed the smear campaign. The gain in winning the state was worth the negative criticism for using such dirty tricks. It is calculated political Machiavellianism. Plenty of so-called conservative-Republican Christians helped spread the malicious gossip. They spread that gossip while claiming that morals and integrity and honor are all the reasons they were for Bush for president.
They got screwed up and remain screwed up, because they believe that the bloodline is inherently entitled to them. The only place that the bloodline entitles is where the unselfish spirit is also.

Karl Rove's approach has been to attack ceaselessly. Ethics is out. Winning is everything. Rove had been imagining that he retains plausible deniability with that tactic. It didn't work. It has caught up with him. He will get his comeuppance unless he turns.

Now they call Karl Rove a genius; however, he is as wise as a serpent, but is he as harmless as a dove? "Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves." (Matthew 10:16). He was not as harmless as a dove. Therefore, his discretion failed him. In the end, the serpent can never outwit righteousness. Righteousness is the only genius. "Evil genius" is only mundane.

The word "wise" in the quote is translated from the Greek "phronimos." In the sense in which Jesus was using it, it means, among other things, discreet. It connotes self-restraint. So if you desire to blurt things out in anger if anyone stresses you, remember the quote. Be self-restrained. It is in the best interest of everyone. What you say may be twisted and used against you for evil purposes. It has ever been so.

What is Rove thinking now that he has been ousted? He wants to change the subject of course. He wants people not to use against him what he has done to others. This is why he has begun to speak of opponents as not unpatriotic, etc., but just wrong. Where people were once traitors for speaking against the president, now they are people engaged in healthy debate. He knows the opposition is nicer than he was. He's counting on it. He wants to just set and define the issues without appearing to be mean anymore so that the opposition won't rip him to shreds. His new plan is to lull the opposition to sleep by having the administration appear more reasonable, compassionate, and concerned about civil liberties. The operative word here is "appear." Appearance can be deceiving. The wolf can don sheep's clothing. However, his results give him away. Is the administration doing nothing but bringing forth fruits only worthy of repentance? That is the only question. Rove has not repented as of this entry. Therefore, would Jesus lend him his trust? The serpent is mundanely wise but not harmless.

Rove is still calling for all the same old selfish policies. He just wants the spotlight on him for a different reason than that he is a dirty trickster.

First, security doesn't come as a result of coercive colonialism in any form. Enemies come from that stingy, greedy, violent path. George W. Bush mentions love occasionally, but he pushes fear. This harkens back to Richard Nixon again, as do all the current manifestations. Nixon once said, "People react to fear, not love. They don't teach that in Sunday school, but it's true." That's hardhearted. That's how Nixon and his kind handled the issue of Communism. They drummed up fear rather than handling the evil of capitalism by leading us out of it in patience. They removed the spotlight off themselves by casting it on others they vilified.

Activist judges

Second, proper judges are those who mete out the justice to which the mundane law claims to aspire. Any judge worth his or her salt can rule the golden rule and stand the test of scrutiny. To the conservatives of his day, Jesus was without a doubt considered an activist. Those same conservatives today still consider Christianity to be activism. To the conservative, the Christian is a troublemaker. To the conservative, the Christian says and does things that provoke questions about the way of the material and mammon hoarders. To the rich and conservative, the Christian is a dangerous extremist, a radical who must be killed.

As for federal judges, the Constitution of the United States of America is illusory. What was the original intention? The Preamble was their statement of intent.

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

If one takes all the concepts in that statement of intent and carries each out to its logical conclusion, one will arrive at the pure Christian solution that is the new commandment of Jesus that is absolutely based upon the golden rule and the two great commandments.

What they wrote as the body of the document and what they said and wrote about that body did everything but be consistent with real meaning. What they wrote yoked together irreconcilable spirits. It was ultimately based upon coercion, and the drafters did not represent the poor and dispossessed. Again, they removed the spotlight off themselves rather than repenting. They turned the spotlight on the king whom they vilified.

This is not to say that King George III was not mistaken in the way he approached the colonies. He was decidedly unchristian. It is to say that the founding fathers of America claimed intent and then rationalized it away. This is what Nixon did and Rove and Bush and all the Federalist Society members and all the neocons and all the so-called conservative Christians and their circle are still doing. In their way, of course, the false liberals are doing the same.

Many false liberals just cannot fathom thinking the way the conservatives think and many conservatives just cannot fathom thinking the way those self-styled and relative liberals think. Neither side understands that the other really believes its right. Even the conservatives and liberals who know they themselves are despicable still think they are right being despicable. It's incredible. Each side finds the other side so incredible. The despicable find the others gullible and naïve and, therefore, deserving to be fleeced. They think their own side is so right that they excuse what they do.
while ripping the other side for being hypocritical. They're both hypocritical.

Third, the nation is a house. The priorities of the house is the spirit of that house. The priorities of the house that is the nation of America are fundamentally unfair. The economy is only as good as the situation of the worst off in the house. One who manages the economy runs the estate. He or she is the chief steward and chief shepherd. How well is the worst off person in the house called America doing? That's how well our chief administrator and executive is doing. That's how well our chief economist has done also.

Federal Reserve

To preface, the Federal Reserve chairman is an antonymous executive-branch official overseeing the Federal Reserve that regulates much about the federal banks. Federal here doesn't mean US government owned or operated. They are private corporations owned by the member banks of the reserve system. Their stock is not traded directly either publicly or privately. The only way to acquire stock is to be a member bank.

Alan Greenspan was lauded as the chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve. However, he didn't come up with economic principles that fed all the poor. He didn't emphasize that. He smoothed the sailing for the have-s at the expense of the have-nots. He was lauded for being better than others might have been; however, he presided over monetary policy that caused what he termed "irrational exuberance" and that have further led to the cuts in taxes for the already rich and cuts in social assistance to the poor and underprivileged and to those attempting to obtain a higher education, etc. That's consistent with his libertarian capitalist philosophy. He is a follower of Ayn Rand and her philosophy which boils down to selfishness as the highest ideal.

Tax cuts for the wealthy with social program cuts for the poor, that's not compassion. Monetary policy and fiscal policy are for the benefit of the rich getting richer with nothing but the hope of trickle-down economics for the poor. Supply-side economics is supplying the rich. All ships are not rising equally with the tide. Now, capitalist will say that capitalism is the best system; however, it has never allowed any other system. It has never competed fairly and openly. It also has produced terrible pollution by its lust. Capitalist also point to the Soviet Union Bolshevik and other rightwing Communist economies as evidence that sharing doesn't work. Those economies they point to were never the sharing economies envisioned by Jesus Christ.

Karl Rove claims to want to debate these things. He needs to repent. Will he openly, honestly, and directly debate to the final conclusion? If he will, he will repent.

Colin Powell

All the president's men and women are duplicitous. Colin Powell had been the whitewashing military investigative officer concerning the Vietnam My Lai massacre. He was the dutiful yes-man putting the best face on the massacre. He was also involved in coordinating missile sales to Iran during the Iran-Contra illegal arms-sale scheme. Now, he has been deeply involved in the lies leading the American people to allow the invasion of Iraq leading to the death of several tens of thousands of Iraqi military and probably no fewer than fifteen to twenty thousand Iraqi civilians before the US captured Baghdad. Many more have since died. Who cares though since they are only subhuman Iraqis and the US now controls the Iraqi oil fields and has a huge forward military base of operations in the Middle East? Isn't that how the conservatives see it? Yet, people still talk of Colin Powell as potential US presidential material. It would be bizarre were it not commonplace for unrepentant, scandal-retread conservatives to show up time and again in Republican administrations and remain powerful within Republican circles.

As with Iraq and the Yellowcake Forgery, North Korea sold uranium hexafluoride to Pakistan. Pakistan sold it to Libya. The George W. Bush administration though officially reported to China, Japan, and South Korea that North Korea sold the uranium hexafluoride directly to Libya through a network leaving out Pakistan's name but naming Pakistan's nuclear father, Abdel Qadeer Khan. The US had no proof that North Korea knew Pakistan would supply Libya. Pakistan's name was shielded. Pakistan had cooperated in the anti-terrorist rhetoric of George W. Bush. That's Pakistan's military dictatorship sucking up to the US. That's the US looking the other way concerning the abuses of that dictatorship under Pervez Musharraf.

North Korea was accused directly to increase fear of North Korea. This is the US administration caught red-handed lying by deliberate, calculated omission. These conservatives cannot be trusted as far as one can throw them. They are pathological liars on the weightiest of matters. There is nothing noble in it.

Bush's insider trading

Of course, this is true to form for George W. Bush. It has been reported that he has refused to allow the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) to release its report on him concerning insider trading while he was a board member of Harken Energy Corporation (often misspelled as Harkin).

Harken had a major shareholder, Khalid bin Mahfouz, who was a principal in BCCI, the Arab money-laundering bank that handled CIA weapons deals and drug deals run by agent Barry Seal through Arkansas by the plane load for years with the knowledge of local and federal law and drug enforcement while Bill Clinton was governor.

Harken Energy ended up in serious financial trouble. George W. Bush knew it. Yet, he sold off his shares just before the news broke to the public. That's insider trading. It's illegal, unethical, and immoral. Despite George W. Bush's assertion that he has been born-again in the Holy Spirit, he has not repented. He is the most public of public figures, being the president of the United States. It is proper that he be told that he must repent for his own sake and the sake of everyone whose life he touches in his official and private capacity, which is really everyone on the planet. Bush claims that SEC investigators found no case against him. Until after the SEC ruling on Bush's insider trading, Bush's attorneys reportedly covered up a memo to Bush from Harken Energy's general counsel advising Bush not to sell so close to having received the fatal, insider financial news about Harken Energy. Any such cover-up was illegal. What has been done? Nothing has been done. Despite the warning from the general counsel, if the reports are to be believed, Bush sold soon after receiving the fatal news. Bush made close to eight hundred fifty thousand dollars profit on the sale. Within months, Harken Energy's stock value collapsed. The SEC chairman was appointed by his good friend Bush's father when George H. W. Bush was president.

Also revealing is that George W. Bush was admitted to Harvard Business School with an incredibly low 2.35 grade point average. That's a "C" average. Does one need to wonder how he got in? What's his last name, and whose son is he? Harvard University ended up assuming some twenty million dollars in Harken Energy debts so that the company's stock value could go up whereupon the senior management of Harken sold their stocks. Through all the sleight of hand with oil deals and the Texas major league baseball team (the Texas Rangers) he was a part of buying, George W. Bush apparently put up a little over one hundred thousand dollars with the rest of his six hundred six thousand dollar investment of the purchase being loans and came out of the deal with some fourteen million, nine hundred thousand dollars in about ten years. Most of the profit was the result of a deal that shafted the tax payers of Arlington, Texas, on the Ballpark at Arlington that the Rangers' owners were allowed to buy at a severely cut rate to keep the team in town.

By rights, Bush should have shared in the loss with the other investors in Harken Energy Corporation. He cheated his way to the top without yet being repentant about it even while he puffs up in self-righteousness and claims God is on his side. He's still cheating. If he repents, God will forgive and cover over (forget) his sin for all practical purposes.

Now, don't forget that it is this president who has said that corporations and their executives need to be held to account. He said this concerning the wave of corporate abuses and scandals that became so public during his administration: Enron Corporation, Halliburton, WorldCom, Global Crossing, Tyco International, HealthSouth, Arthur Anderson, and the like, all capitalist corporations.

The administrators in the George W. Bush administration are retreads of the same failed, deceitful conservatism since the beginning of time. Some members of the current administration are actual retreads from the Nixon and Reagan administrations. Some are too young for that but have been steeped in the conservative philosophy of deception and special advantage and privilege from birth. They have willingly inherited that mantel and are pushing it hard with so-called modern methods that are just extensions of the same old dark art of lying.

John Negroponte and the death squads

A prime example of a retread yes-man is John Negroponte, America’s first national intelligence director. Negroponte was ambassador to Honduras in the 1980s. He covered up the death squads operating there. Robert White was the Carter administration’s ambassador to El Salvador and said, "I know he knew about those things, because I told him myself." Negroponte supported the brutal Honduran military headed up by General Gustavo Alvarez Martinez. Alvarez also headed up the infamous Honduran Battalion 316. Hundreds of political dissenters were disappeared at the hands of the battalion. Negroponte said nothing even though the atrocities were well known to him. He turned a blind eye to the torture and assassinations going on in Honduras and by the Contras of Nicaragua operating out of Honduras with direct US support and under bribery paid to Honduras in the form of US aid. He even defended them. Negroponte is all tied in with the Reagan administration Iran-Contra Scandal and death squads in Honduras, Nicaragua, Guatemala, and El Salvador in Central America. He knew about them and lied. He set up such training. Now unrepentant, he's heading the beginnings of the consolidation of US intelligence. Carter administration ambassadors in Central America told him what was going on, yet he denies ever having known. How can people tell such bald-faced lies and get away with it unless the upper and middle classes turn a blind eye. They wink. It has ever been so. Some of the mob has always known it is being placated.

Smedley Butler

Consider what US Marine Major General Smedley Butler said as far back as 1935 as follows:

I spent thirty-three years and four months in active service in the country’s most agile military force, the Marines. I served in all ranks from second Lieutenant to Major General. And during that period I spent most of my time being a high-class muscle man for Big Business, for Wall Street and the bankers. In short, I was a racketeer, a gangster for capitalism.

Thus I helped make Mexico, and especially Tampico, safe for American oil interests in 1914. I helped make Haiti and Cuba a decent place for the National City Bank boys to collect revenue in. I helped in the raping of half-a-dozen Central American republics for the benefit of Wall Street. The record of racketeering is long. I helped purify Nicaragua for the international banking house of Brown Brothers and Co. in 1909-1912. I brought light to the Dominican Republic for the sugar interests in 1916. I helped make Honduras "right" for American fruit companies in 1903. In China in 1927 I helped see to it that Standard Oil went its way unmolested.

What happens when the US treats people so terribly? A direct consequence of the US having supported dictatorial regimes is that the people involved and their offspring suffer from post-traumatic stress disorder. They live a fight-or-flight hyper life. Either they shrink into a shell or they fight back at the drop of a hat. They are often desensitized to violence and death of the most brutal kind. They act out on others just so that they can feel any sense of control. They don't understand that in doing that, they are losing, not winning. This all comes back to haunt the US.

Of course, there is a huge streak in the conservative-Republican empire builders who want this, since it makes wars go forward increasing the capital in their control. Without stimulating violence in the people around the world, there will be no need for the costly (profit-making) security methods chosen by the capitalists.

John Negroponte is the head of US intelligence. He is a false Zionist. He is of Hebrew extraction with extremely close ties to the militant Greater Israel set—those looking forward to the day when Israel's Military Empire stretches at least throughout the Middle East and has complete dominion over all then-to-be-former Islamic nations in the area and all that polluting oil.
They plan to far out do David and Solomon in bloody conquests. They are willing to stoop much lower than David did. The plan is the appearance of democracy for Jews and open fascism toward any they define as enemy.

Negroponte and his ilk are shortsighted. He is working for the dark and devouring spirit using dark arts to convince the people to go down the wrong path. He is a false shepherd. He is part of a pack of false prophets. Their god is not God. Yet, he has unfettered access to every secret of the US government. The CIA and all military intelligence, including NSA, is completely open to him (accept those parts that are keeping themselves secret from all others even within the so-called intelligence community). He has unfettered access to all the intelligence from US allies.

Israel is not a puppet

Israel isn't going to be a US puppet. It isn't now and never has been. It isn't going to depend upon the US to protect it militarily. It will attack with or without the US.

It will be attacked. It will provoke and be provoked. This time, the US doesn't plan to sit it out whether under a Republican or Democratic administration or the US Congress. The plan is that whatever land Israel grabs, it will attempt to hold if it can spread enough of its people to maintain contiguous control at first. The US will help. The Arabs will be expelled from the West Bank. Israel will annex the whole of Palestine. The 1967 border will be a memory. The US will install puppet governments under the guise of stabilization. That's the plan.
This isn't the Israel after the Second Coming. This isn't the Israel making straight the way for the Lord. This is the Israel making ready the way for the Antichrist who will flatter and fool the militants with a false peace through military strength and control and dictatorship leading to the great tribulation and wrath.

This kind of activity by the US has not been limited to Central America, the Caribbean, and Vietnam. It isn't going to be limited to the Middle East either. The CIA has operated in every part of the world, and US military covert operations have been active all over for years now, even though they want to fool people into thinking they have only recently begun. They have all their plans in place gunning for Venezuela and everywhere else.

Venezuelan revolution

Venezuela is at the north end of South America. It had not drawn as much name recognition as Iraq and current saber rattling against Iran, North Korea, and Syria, but that has certainly changed. With comments by Pat Robertson, Venezuela's profile in the public mind of the US has gone way up. The extreme left has been watching Venezuela for many years though.

February 27, 1989, a revolution began in Venezuela. The Venezuelans say it was the beginning of the end of the Empire's domination over the continent. It was called Caracazo. In Venezuela, they had a few more years to go before they ousted their fascist leaders. Then they started a participatory democracy in 1998 to replace the representative so-called democracy. They started the grassroots democracy that is the only real democracy. They elected Hugo Chavez Frias in an open and fair election.

They are building upon the political thoughts of Bolivar, Rodriguez, and Zamora. They call it the Tree of Three Roots. It is slightly nationalistic, although Simon Bolivar was truly an internationalist. He was a revolutionary who fought the Spanish Empire much as Washington fought the British Empire. He was very important in Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, and Bolivia. Colombia (including Panama), Venezuela, and Ecuador were actually one country under Bolivar the Liberator. It was what is now called Greater Columbia. He wanted to unify the whole continent. His vision was for a Jeffersonian democracy.

This Movement [Tree of Three Roots] took its inspiration from three main sources: Simón Bolívar, Simón Rodríguez, and Ezequiel Zamora. We have already spoken about Bolívar. Simón Rodríguez was Bolívar’s teacher and friend, a fine pedagogue and social reformer who strongly defended the originality of our Latin America with its multiethnic composition and argued for the need to integrate indigenous peoples and black slaves into the continent’s future societies. He was a strong advocate for the creation of original institutions adapted to our own world, and he rejected the imitation of European solutions, convinced that, “We either invent or we err.” Ezequiel Zampora was a liberal general who fought against the conservatives during the federal war of 1850 and who encouraged a struggle to death against the oligarchy and in favor of the distribution of land to the peasants.98

Venezuela has semi-nationalized its oil and does not feel obligated to sell its oil just to the US. It is seeking back taxes from oil companies. It is seeking to have its courts handle oil-contract disputes rather than using international arbitration. It is seeking to raise taxes on oil from a low preferential rate.

Venezuela went from an extremely low tax rate of some fifteen percent on exported oil products to a new renegotiated rate of thirty-three percent, which is still lower than in Canada and other nations. Venezuela hasn’t taken over the mass media. It hasn’t banned opposition political parties. It conducts elections that are freer and fairer than those recently conducted in Florida, Ohio, and New Mexico, and probably other states in the US. The reason that conservative Republicans are calling Hugo Chavez authoritarian is because Chavez doesn’t want his people ruled over by imperial powers. He doesn’t want the economic authoritarians in the US to tell Venezuela what it can do democratically within Venezuela or with it's other neighbors in the Americas or the world. He wants Venezuela's oil revenue to benefit the common people. He wants to reduce the income and wealth disparity in Venezuela. That's a sin according to the top secret foreign policy of the US. They'll have to murder him, and he knows it.

Of course, since the neoconservative doctrine is to keep China or any other oil importer from becoming the next superpower in a bipolar or multiple-superpower world, Venezuela will have to be attacked via head on attack or covert support for anti-democratic forces of capitalism wishing to get their hands on Venezuela's huge so-called proven oil reserves—the largest in the world.

Understand that now that the price of oil is well above the cost-effective level of thirty US dollars per barrel, Venezuela can afford to use much more expensive oil extraction and refining methods. Therefore, its heavy crude oil has suddenly become much more valuable and is counted now as being the largest proven oil reserve in the world by a great deal. It may not be as large as the oil sands of Canada and oil shale in parts of the US, which sands and shale are also costly to process, but those aren't proven (the quantity of oil hasn't yet been well estimated). One can see why Bush-43 has seen to the rise in oil prices from twenty dollars per barrel to over seventy. It will fund the exploration and extraction process of previously cost-prohibitive sources largely controlled by the US oil industry, with the huge exception of Venezuela, unless the US greedy evildoers militarily occupy Venezuela or assassinate Chavez and install a puppet, fascist dictator. With that kind of commodity value in reserve able to be turned into money, Venezuela can afford to throw its money around in South and Central America, the Caribbean and elsewhere. This then makes the highest office in Venezuela an extremely powerful position that the greedy capitalists in the US desperately covet. Chavez is much more powerful than people seem to think.

He is charismatic and very populist. His supporters really admire and love him. Chavez is inspiring around the world. Of all the voices in the world right now, his and Ahmadinejad's are probably the most influential in their emotional appeal amongst the greatest numbers of anti-US Empire voices. Chavez is more pluralistic than Ahmadinejad though which gains Chavez greater favor. He isn't feared as having a hidden authoritarian streak. Also, Chavez professes Christ, but he's not going to ram Jesus down anyone's throat. Ahmadinejad would ultimately come out for compulsory, coercive Islam. That's his greatest error. Hence, Chavez will maintain greater support amongst a wider audience.

In 2001 and 2002 the National Endowment for Democracy, which is funded out of US tax dollars but is not under congressional oversight, funneled hundreds of thousands of dollars to Venezuelans for protests and a coup d'etat attempt against Hugo Chavez Frias, duly elected president of Venezuela. All together, they gave some $2.2 million to Chavez's opponents. After the coup d'etat, the US administration denied having any prior knowledge of the planned coup d'etat. However, using the Freedom of Information...
Act, Eva Golinger and Jeremy Bigwood obtained, in with some 4,000 pages of documents, a copy of a CIA senior intelligence executive brief clearly stating the planned coup d’état. The Bush-43 administration had prior, detailed information. Therefore, the administration lied. In addition, the Bush-43 administration immediately blamed the Chavez government for the violence fomented by the coup-plotters the US government had been funding.

This is what the CIA did for decades wherever US business interests wanted, just as US Marine Major General Smedley Butler said in about how business interests of ultra-rich capitalist gangsters use the US military. The spirit is the same. This endowment will give money not for democracy but for opening up resources and markets to US rich-capitalist takeover. That is the highest priority of the endowment, not democracy. Even the US libertarian Cato Institute has seen right through to the real reason for this US tax-dollar funded, anti-democratic, non-accountable, agency of the US federal government. How can an endowment for democracy be trying to overthrow a democracy? It is bald-faced hypocrisy.

In case you have not figured it out yet, capitalism is the enemy of both real democracy and real Christianity. According to the capitalists, you may have any democracy or religion you want so long as it is under global capitalism. The people of Venezuela elected their own president who has turned oil proceeds to the needs of the people of Venezuela, and the people of Venezuela retained their president in office through open elections even after the US coup d'état attempt and financed referendum aimed against him. The peasants of Venezuela want to share across-the-board the proceeds of the oil under their ground. They don't want those proceeds going into US treasuries. They want those proceeds going into their general governmental revenue to pay for services for all and not going into the pockets of rich capitalists who begrudge the poor. Nevertheless, the greedy US oil interests will do everything in their power to bring down that democracy just as they did in Iran in 1953 and in so many other places.

US overthrew democracy in 1953 Iran

Iran nationalized its oil under a democracy and its leader, Mohammed Mosaddegh, was overthrown in 1953 by the US CIA and Britain MI6 for the sake of getting control of Iran's oil. Thereafter, the CIA trained the infamous SAVAK secret police in torture methods used by the Shah of Iran to keep the people in line. This is also why the US went into Iraq with the military's bombing operation they called Shock and Awe that terrorized and killed so many for the greedy aspirations of the global revolution of capitalism against all comers including democracy.

Condoleezza Rice

Currently, the US secretary of state, Condoleezza Rice, is continually referring to Hugo Chavez Frias as an anti-democratic force. This is the same Condoleezza Rice who the month of the invasion of Iraq, March 2003, maintained and still maintains (has not repented) that al Qaeda "clearly has had links to the Iraqis." She also said the following:

And what we do not want is the day when Saddam Hussein decides that he's had enough of dealing with sanctions, enough of dealing with, quote, unquote, containment, enough of dealing with America, and it's time to end it on his terms, by transferring one of these weapons, just a little vial of something, to a terrorist for blackmail or for worse.

She was spreading the big lie the US would find irrefutable proof after the invasion that Saddam Hussein had biological weapons. She also asserted that he was pursuing nuclear weapons. She continued to defend the assertion that Iraq had been attempting to obtain yellowcake from Africa. Where's the evidence? The Yellowcake memos were forgeries. Now, Condoleezza Rice knew, and more importantly knows (for those who do not know the truth when they hear it), that all the so-called intelligence against Iraq was manufactured out of context to create a pretext for going to war with Iraq, but she has refused to repent of it. That is despite affirmations of her faith in God and Jesus.

It is telling that Condoleezza Rice is a former member of the board of directors for Chevron Corporation, now ChevronTexaco Corporation, the second largest US oil company. As has been pointed out elsewhere, both president George W. Bush and his vice president, Dick Cheney, are also oilmen.
Oil is more important to current US foreign policy than anything including potential terrorist attacks. The US has foolishly remained an oil economy and is going to be made to pay a heavy price for that short-sightedness. The US now seeks to retain Iraqi oil in the private hands of US oil companies via contracts. The US is hoping to maintain permanent military bases in Iraq partly for that purpose. If Iraq tries to nationalize its oil, the US plans to use force to stop them. It is all part of the larger push to privatize everything. Literally everything is an economic commodity to them, including people. However, it will also vastly increase global environmental pollution and damage. It is greed over sanity.

Now, here is Rice saying the following:

For 60 years, my country, the United States, pursued stability at the expense of democracy in this region, here in the Middle East, and we achieved neither…. Now, we are taking a different course. We are supporting the democratic aspirations of all people.

The hell they are. Besides, many people don't have democratic aspirations. Most people don't have a clue about democracy. Rice herself doesn't understand democracy. She's not for the grassroots. She doesn't understand democratic consensus from the roots up. None of the neocons understands democracy.

They are now pursuing capitalism, privatization, and corporatism at the expense of democracy the world over. Rice's statement is disingenuous.
It is the same game as during those sixty years, only the challenging superpower, the USSR (Union of Soviet Socialist Republics), is no longer. Therefore, the emphasis is now more directly placed upon making capitalistic market inroads under the guise of championing democracy and combating amorphous terrorism. It's a farce. It will backfire on them. People will really insist upon democracy regardless of capitalism. Their plan is working right into the hands of the prophecy, just as everything always does for those who are paying attention.

This new twist of the neoconservatives is an attempt to place their self-styled vision of capitalism under liberal democracy squarely in the middle of the two extremes as they alone decide to define those extremes. On one side, they claim there is the radically extreme right and on the other the radically extreme left. Well, the truth is that the neocons are definitely on that false spectrum.

They are nowhere on the spectrum that contains the path to the only true liberalism that Isaiah and more so Jesus conveyed to the people. The neocons are busy trying to sell what they want people to buy as the least of all evils (the middle) while Jesus's message is to buy only righteousness.

The neocons want to do a constant illusory balancing act between the system run on greed (capitalism) versus each person having an equal and informed vote (democracy). However, Jesus made abundantly clear that no one may serve both God and mammon.
Kirkpatrick Doctrine

Ms. Rice is attempting to make neoconservatism more palatable or more immune to negative criticisms by distancing her movement from the Kirkpatrick Doctrine (named after neoconservative Jeane Kirkpatrick who was Ronald Reagan's advisor and US ambassador to the United Nations). Jeane Kirkpatrick supported dictatorships for the sake of, as Ms. Rice has put it "stability at the expense of democracy" around the world. Now Ms. Rice sees an opening to remove the criticisms leveled at the neocons for their placing Empire above the just calls of the needy around the world. Now, some will say that represents real progress; however, it really is still the spiritually blind leading the blind. It is still the unrighteousness of mammon, as Jesus called it, dictating to the world. It is not peacemaking. It is actually throwing down the gauntlet in two directions rather than one. It has now declared the US the enemy of right and left while still remaining the most covetous of regimes itself. The world is not made better at all even while it certainly should not have remained silent against the evils of lust no matter under what banner they thrive: Fascist, Marxist, or otherwise.

Sooner or later, they are going to have to choose between capitalism and democracy. You can't have both.

Many will think that this is all just an unfair and unrealistic critique of Ms. Rice and the neocon agenda. Well, either Christianity, Jesus, the pacifists, the non-coercive communists, cooperation, life-long fidelity to one's mate, and unselfishness are right or conservatism, the Pharisees (rabbinists) or some other antichristian sect or religion, the militarists, the coercive capitalists, competition, loose sex, and selfishness are right.

We say the former, taken together, are right and the latter, whether taken separately or together, are wrong. Unselfishness is right. Selfishness is evil that is currently both running and ruining the world.

What say you? How do you read the Gospels? How does the Holy Spirit of truth move you?

Hugo Chavez

Contrary to Condoleezza Rice's assertions that Hugo Chavez Frias, president of Venezuela, is an anti-democratic force, Hugo Chavez Frias has won multiparty elections with wide margins. In his last election, which was a referendum against him sponsored by the US, oil interests, and corrupt unions, he won fifty eight percent of the vote. That election was certified by the Carter Center and the Organization of American States (OAS). Election results were audited, and no evidence of any fraud was found. There are conservatives in America who still claim the election was rigged. It is a big-lie tactic on their part. They figure if they say it often enough and loudly enough, the American population will be naïve enough and gullible enough to fall for it just as they turned a blind eye to the lies during the lead-up to the invasion of Iraq. The elections were monitored by experts. There were machines used in the election and all the voting had an auditable paper-ballot trail. There is universal voter-registration in Venezuela, so that was not an issue either. That's more than the US government can claim for US voters. There is no universal voter-registration in the US.

It galls neoconservative and neoliberals of capitalism that Venezuela's people are not cowed by US intimidation. The US wants control of Venezuela's oil industry and reserves, just as it wanted Iraq's. It is the greed of capitalism and not pro-democracy that is driving US foreign policy throughout the world.

Hugo Chavez Frias has emphasized many liberal reforms within Venezuela. The reforms come under the banner he calls the Bolivarian Revolution. He has instituted free healthcare for the poor, a literacy program designed around teaching the citizens their constitutional rights, land reforms to stimulate food production and redistribution of wealth, and employee ownership of once nationalized industries (called worker-state cooperatives with real democracy in the workplace), among other changes.

Cooperative agriculture is benefiting the small farmers. People now farm with everyone's welfare in mind—the whole community.

Also the coastal waters are now off limits to huge international commercial fishing fleets. Local fishing is making a come back. Families are now able to catch fresh ocean fish again to feed their families directly. That's the way it's supposed to be.
Recovered-Factory Movement

This is not just a Venezuelan phenomenon. A prime example of the Recovered-Factory Movement is FaSinPat (for Fábica Sin Patrón, Factory Without a Boss). It is a ceramics tile factory in Argentina that was abandoned by its owners. The factory was originally funded by public subsidies under a privatization scheme. The workers, rather than just become unemployed, took over the factory and have been running it ever since. They do it without bosses, per se. They boss themselves by committee they call the assembly. Everyone who works there is paid the same amount of money. Wages are higher now. Safety has been greatly improved. The factory is now a non-profit organization with all surpluses plowed back into the factory, the community, and to help the wider movement. This just goes to show that cooperation is vastly superior to neoliberal capitalism. Invariably, these worker-run businesses succeed where the capitalists failed. FaSinPat is innovative beyond anything neoliberal capitalism is producing in the US for instance. They are integrated with the community in ways that self-centered owners could never be.

There are hundreds of businesses in Argentina that have been reopened under worker-management. Venezuela also has hundreds of examples. Other nations are watching closely as greedy capitalism is shown up by egalitarianism.

Of course, the traditional neoliberal capitalists hate this and are bringing all the pressure to bear they can against this movement. They know if left alone, this movement would prove without a doubt that cooperation is vastly superior to competition. They also know that left alone, this movement would beat neoliberalism easily. They also know that would mean that the rich owners and bosses and their family members would actually have to work rather than just rely upon capital to bleed off for them their huge, unfair, selfish, and passive incomes.

Venezuelan revolution, continued

Under capitalism, over eighty percent of the population in Venezuela was relegated to poverty. That is changing now that the wealth of the nation is being more shared amongst the entire population. Under Chavez, Venezuela’s economy grew by 17.3% in 2004. Higher oil prices helped in that. Chavez Frias established Bolivarian Circles, which are local groups not governmental and not incorporated. They are grassroots groups designed to keep the locals integrally involved in the perpetuation of the reforms and to support their Constitution. It is very participatory. They are almost support groups but highly activist and with constitutional guarantees. In addition, there is a new unionist movement within Venezuela, since the older unions were corrupt by being prostituted to the international oil interests dominated by US corporations. Chavez Frias is, so far, a socialist democrat. Of that, there is no doubt.
Bolivarian Alternative for the Americas

He is pushing for the Bolivarian Alternative for the Americas (ALBA) that Chavez Frias offers as an alternative to the US pushed Free Trade Area of the Americas (FTAA). The Bolivarian Alternative for the Americas is an alternative to the neoliberal economics known as the Washington Consensus, which is laissez-faire capitalism, privatization, open markets rather than fair trade, etcetera. ALBA is an alternative to market forces, forces of greed, selfishly unconcerned with the environment or the welfare of workers, etc.

The FTAA as seen by US capitalists is modeled after the aspirations of developed nations under the World Trade Organization (WTO) and the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA).

The US wants it stacked in favor of the rich, naturally.

The Bolivarian Alternative for the Americas, among other things, looks to each country being able to feed itself before international trade. The idea is that small, indigenous farmers cannot compete with huge agribusinesses such as those in the US that have been putting US family farmers out of business for decades now.

Chavez makes though the same mistakes the capitalists make in that he supports violent revolution for the sake of his cause. However, he isn't making the suppression-of-opposition-voices mistake that the capitalist make.

For instance, when that capitalist-controlled media reports on Hugo Chavez Frias, it mentions every criticism against Hugo Chavez but barely mentions the criticisms Chavez cites, and those who agree with him who number in the hundreds of millions cite, against those capitalists. That way, the capitalist-dominated audience is completely controlled in what it is told about the issues involved. The capitalist-dominated audience remains almost completely ignorant about the criticisms against capitalism. Yet, those same capitalists will hypocritically complain that the capitalist message is being suppressed in Venezuela. However, the Venezuelan media are largely privately owned and continue to pump out anti-Chavez positions. Private broadcasting still dominates in Venezuela despite the fact that the private broadcasters had openly backed the coup d'état attempt against Chavez Frías. What authoritarian or totalitarian dictator leaves private broadcasters to continue their propaganda against him?

Until recently, five percent of the Venezuelans held some eighty percent of the country's wealth. This is changing very gradually, not so much because things are being taken away from them but rather because the price of oil has gone up so much and the poor are sharing in that increase. Yet the ultra rich in Venezuela are still complaining.

Also, a laissez-faire capitalist dictatorship ruled the day in Venezuela before Chavez. The peasants know full well what their lives were like under that neoliberalism. They hated it and rightly so.

In addition, US media continue to emphasize statements coming out of the Inter-American Dialogue, which is a conservative think tank funded at least in part by the US government through the so-called National Endowment for Democracy, which as mentioned above, paid for protests and a coup d'état attempt against Hugo Chavez Frias. Now, how independent is the Inter-American Dialogue as a source for the US mainstream press? It is the fox reporting against the chickens. A number of other anti-Chavez so-called independent commentators are often cited. It is rare that anyone who has a positive view of developments in Venezuela is cited. Of course, that is because the capitalists want competition, selfishness, and greed to win the day throughout the entire world that necessarily includes Venezuela.

He claims he is a Christian, just as many capitalists claim of themselves. Yet, contrary to those capitalists, he at least claims he is for giving and sharing commonly. We haven't heard anything yet about how he is becoming personally wealthy. Usually, the capitalists hypocritically emphasize such hypocrisy if they have any evidence. Apparently the capitalists cannot yet say that Hugo Chavez Frias is pocketing the wealth of Venezuela.

However, as laudable as giving and sharing truly is, he still falls to the same violent devices used by the hyper greedy. Hugo Chavez Frias also makes the mistake of holding up as admirable those undemocratic, one-party dictatorships ostensibly of the proletariat (industrial wage earners who under capitalism have no equal share in ownership or the enterprise) that came on the heels of violent revolutions such as in the former USSR and in China and Cuba, etc.
Naturally, he believes that those nations were forced into being violently defensive to protect the rights of the common people to share all rather than allowing the greediest to amass for self as is now happening in so many places that were once sealed off from the selfish virus that is capitalism. That one-sided lauding of those one-party dictatorships though is a great mistake.

What he is doing is befriending anyone who is anti-US Empire. He is taking a syncretic approach. This will get him only so far. People will see through it. Perhaps he hasn’t studied just how ridiculous the Stalinist and Maoist regimes were in Russia and China respectively. Fidel Castro of Cuba has been no Stalin or Mao, but why does Chavez make the serious mistake of lauding the Communist histories of either Russia or China?

Robert Mugabe

Chavez Frias has also made the mistake of lauding Robert Mugabe, the self-styled president, and actual dictator, of Zimbabwe. Mugabe just got threw having his minions bulldoze the ramshackle homes of tens of thousands of poor people opposing his dictatorship while he supplied them with no housing alternative. They were just left homeless. Now, how could anyone who would order such actions be considered worthy of being lauded?

The enemy of your enemy is not necessarily your friend.
It doesn't matter all the things one does which would also be done by those of the real Christian mentality if one is also doing things that are anathema to Christ. Mixed fruit is not right. Supporters of Mugabe and others laud selective actions that suggest real liberalism; however, real liberalism does not bulldoze any poverty-stricken people into homelessness. Real liberals devise real liberal devices concerning poor people. Real liberals see to it that the poor are treated with real fairness. There is nothing fair about what Mugabe did to those poor people. We can never condone such obviously avoidable mixed fruit. There is no excuse for such churlishness, ever.

Sometimes people are faced with choices that may be criticized unjustly. For instance, there are currently starving people in the Himalayas who are about to, as I'm entering this, go into winter without the necessities after suffering a devastating earthquake (2005 Kashmir earthquake). Now, are those who rescue them to be criticized for using fossil-fuel burning equipment in the process? It is an emergency situation.

However, the existence of emergency situations does not excuse humanity from the responsibility to be constantly and vigorously working on eliminating one-hundred percent of the pollution from fossil-fuel burning equipment. Of course, just responding to catastrophes is no solution. That is what the message of repentance is all about. Excess in the hearts of the people retards the one and only solution. It is all tied together.
Drop Marxism and Capitalism

Chavez's mistake of lauding that which is unworthy is a direct result of the incorrect message of Marx, who called for violent revolution in the first place. Marx was in the dark. Chavez and others who call for a culture of sharing should drop Marxism and take up Christianity only just as the capitalists should drop their economic philosophers and take up Christianity only. It is the only path to salvation. These nations lauded by Chavez Frias are still led by dictators. These nations are dictatorships just as the elitist nations are dictatorships where the wealthy control the capitalistic-only parties in power and place selfish barriers before any other parties (especially non-capitalist parties) working to emerge from obscurity. Just as with the capitalists, those one-party Communist dictatorships are coercive. They are attempts to force a utopia upon the people. That the greedy ones will take over if the socialists are not militaristically defensive or not coercive is not a worthy argument.

The only way to the real giving and sharing spirit of heaven is through non-coerciveness. It is a huge mistake to fall to the temptation to fight. For the socialists to fight the capitalists is for the socialists to stoop to the methods of the greedy. It is a grave mistake. God asks us to choose freely the path to heaven. We are not forced at all. It is up to us to see the consequences of our behavior—something not very apparent or appealing to the vast majority of souls so far. Nevertheless, only pacifism will ever succeed. No matter how much the pacifists seem to be afflicted by the unrepentant bullies of the world, the pacifists will inherit the entire kingdom. God will simply give it to them.

In addition, Chavez Frias has been strongly criticized for making weapons deals with Russia and other nations, making oil deals with India and China (the thing that bothers the US the most—fifteen percent of US oil has been coming from Venezuela and the US seeks to limit oil flowing to the quickly growing Chinese economic powerhouse), advocating for high oil prices in the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), trading oil for expertise in healthcare and literacy with Cuba, and generally not kowtowing to US dominance in the Western Hemisphere.

The US, without any evidence in the offing (standard American deceptive operating procedure), continues to state that Venezuela is supporting rebels against the conservative, capitalistic, pro-American Columbia and elsewhere. This unsubstantiated claim was largely pushed by Roger F. Noriega whom George W. Bush had as his assistant secretary of state for Western Hemisphere Affairs. Noriega was apparently largely responsible for pushing the US-orchestrated coup d'état against Jean-Bertrand Aristide, then president of Haiti and for the US-sponsored coup d'état attempt against Hugo Chavez.

Consider, however, that Venezuela should not have to feel threatened by the US into buying weapons. Also, consider how hypocritical it is that the US still sells weapons to Venezuela

---

99 Elizabeth Nunez. "The U.S. government ordered Venezuela to close its military purchasing office in Miami.
while it criticizes Venezuela for buying weapons from others.

In addition, America is not against Venezuelan oil deals. It is only against Venezuelan oil deals with budding superpowers, such as India and China the US sees as future competition for global dominance. An oil-based economy is not good for the environment, but for the sake of empire building, the US wants to pay low prices for oil. The US should be concentrating, however, on getting itself off oil and other polluting means of supplying energy and not on stealing economic control of oil under other countries.

Cuba

America should be interested in lifting the poor of Venezuela rather than on amassing more for the US. America wasn't helping Venezuela with healthcare or literacy, so the Venezuelans turned to Cuba, which has an excellent medical system and literacy program despite America's economic embargo of Cuba. Venezuela needs to know how to do the most with the least amount of money. Cuba knows how to do that. There is nothing wrong with that. Saying that is, of course, not an endorsement of the whole of the Cuban system. However, Cuba is home to the Latin American School of Medicine, which trains thousands of poor students from all over the world free of charge with the simple collection that they return to treat the poor and dispossessed. That compares extremely favorably with capitalist medical schools that churn out people bent upon becoming multimillionaire medical-practice owners.

This whole example of the US capitalistic, conservative or neoliberal system versus the Venezuelan socialistic system shows both directions on the same spectrum that resorts to violent coercion that is anathema to Christianity.
Both directions on this spectrum fall into selfishness in the end. Neither escapes it.

Frankly, the US will give one-party dictatorship (Communist Party) China what is called Most Favored Nation trading status while it refuses any trade with Cuba. It does that for the sake of pandering to votes of many Cuban conservatives in Florida, some of whom are remnants of the Cuban corrupt dictatorship of General Fulgencio Batista y Zaldívar, commonly known as Batista. Many of them retain the spirit of dictatorship. Other Cubans in Florida descend from upper- and middle-class former business interests in Cuba whose industries were nationalized by Fidel Castro who took power from Batista and his followers. They are still upset that their private, special advantages and privileges were taken from them and their wealth redistributed for the sake of the general welfare of all. We don't agree with such forced redistribution of wealth. It isn't any more Christian than is hoarding. What we want is for everyone to be moved by conscience.

It is telling that the literacy rate is higher in Cuba than in the US and their infant mortality rate is lower. Also, Cuba has the highest life expectancy in Latin America.

Hugo Chavez, continued

Now, every time the mainstream, US media mention Hugo they mention Fidel as being a close friend. That is because the capitalist attempt is to have all the negatives built up in the brainwashed minds of the general US public about Castro rub off on Chavez Frias.

Also, those mainstream media attempt to paint Chavez Frias as alone in his views in Latin America. He is far from alone, and that’s what frightens the capitalists. He is a major voice for anti-capitalism, which is huge around the world and actually growing despite the claims of the capitalists of having won the so-called economic war. The capitalists lose in case you have not figured that out yet. The Christians win. Those in favor of giving and sharing all win!

Chavez Frias, so far, is much more mainstream socialist than the US administration or media paint him to be. He has not done anything that rises to the label of authoritarian as that term is commonly understood today in America. In fact, Bush-43 has been much more authoritarian than has Chavez. He is not apparently for state capitalism that is a one-party state owning all the means of production. He is apparently rather for the people actually owning everything together in co-ops (cooperatives) and the like. Venezuela is a multi-party democracy with relatively strong freedom of speech and the press.
Let us hope that the US doesn’t push Venezuela into a state of national emergency necessitating in Venezuela’s mind a clamp down on such freedoms just as the US has clamped down in the US as a result of the so-called War on Terrorism.

Hugo is a constitutional president with much higher public approval ratings than George W. Bush. Chavez Frias is a negative influence throughout the region to the capitalists. What’s wrong with that?

Under the US Constitution, people are free not to be in favor of capitalism aren’t they? Real Christians are influences against capitalism. Under that same constitution, aren’t Christians guaranteed the right to believe and exercise their religion? Isn’t that true democracy?

Cuba, continued

Of course, Cuba is a kind of dictatorship. Is it benign? Is it totalitarian? It is difficult to know the level of oppression within Cuba since the US has nearly sealed off the country from the scrutiny of the general US citizenry. Castro is no social democrat. He is a Marxist-Leninist, or at least was. How much did US policy drive Castro in the direction of totalitarianism to keep out US business hyper-greed? There is a strong record of CIA-backed espionage and sabotage against Cuba. It could not have but helped push Castro to take greater security measures thereby reducing the freedom of the Cuban people.

On the US side, how much more will terrorist attacks be provoked and used to excuse the US movement toward greater degrees of centralization of power in the US presidency; stringent controls and political censorship and oppression under neoliberal, capitalist fundamentalism; and a policy of belligerent nationalism? Such are the hallmarks of the heavy-yoke sense of dictatorship and fascism.

Of course, Cuba has been very active in supporting violent revolutions around the world. Castro is no Christian; however, neither is George W. Bush. That is plain to see by all the deaths that follow him; by the increased wealth, power, and control of his friends and relatives; and by his other antichristian fruits.

We have the Helms-Burton Act against every entity in the world that trades with Cuba. Of course, it is selectively enforced. The Cuba issue is so dark. Castro is no more a monster than scores and scores of people of power right in the US and outside the US that the US lauds and is dealing with even as I write this. The reason Castro is so vilified is because the hit men haven't been able to get to him with enough plausible deniability and because the poorest Cuban people are better off than the poorest Americans. To know just how dark this whole issue is, one simply need dwell upon Richard Nixon's repeated concerns about opening "up the whole Bay of Pigs thing again."

The whole Bay of Pigs thing

This was in reference to the CIA-backed assassinations of president John F. Kennedy and his brother, senator Robert F. Kennedy.100

There is no doubt that the US government created and creates Manchurian Candidate style assassins.\(^1\)

Many truth seekers see that Sirhan Sirhan, accused of being the lone gunman in the assassination of Bobby Kennedy, fits the description of a hypnotized, drugged, tortured, brainwashed (depatterned), CIA assassin. Remember what psychiatrist (MD) Ewen Cameron did to the likes of poor Rita Zimmerman and untold others for the CIA.

Cameron electrocuted Zimmerman over and over and over. He drugged her with very high doses of the most powerful hallucinogens over and over and over as he shocked her with repeated jolts of electricity while she was bound and drugged. He tortured her. He played looped messages to her for weeks on end. He turned her into a vegetable, as they say, an artificially induced amnesiac. He did this while he planted hypnotic suggestions into her subconscious.

He did this to many people.

As for Lee Harvey Oswald, he was a US agent/assassin. He had undergone extensive training and treatment. He followed orders. He was carefully selected for his suitability to the task and considered expendable at that level.

Everyone is expendable to this crowd at some level. Jesus though lost no one who was given to him by God. No one else was expendable to Jesus. He, himself, was the sacrifice for the sake of the many. If only we could all say the same about ourselves, what a wonderful world this would be. Look at the difference in heart between Jesus and the CIA. Jesus is from above.
The CIA is from the bowels. With Jesus, the means and ends are the same. With the CIA, the ends justify the means and the ends too are darkness.

Nixon's expression, "Bay of Pigs thing," alluded to connections of which the innermost circles were aware but that were deliberately withheld from the American people at large, because the repercussions at the time would have brought down the government as we know it.

Only God knows all the connections; however, there is no doubt that much more sleaze goes on behind closed doors than goes on in the open or that leaks. The Empire builders down through the centuries have deliberately caused deaths of hundreds of millions. Are we so naïve to buy into the idea that the corporate-state Empire builders today are somehow a different spirit? The spirit is the same. Jesus proved that with his life. The same spirit has the blood of countless numbers on its hands going back to the first murder.

To explain the Kennedy assassinations and their connection with Cuba (hence the reference to the Bay of Pigs) will take a little background setup.
The Kennedy family

The Kennedys were, and are, a wealthy American family among the other wealthy American families such as the Bush family. It had, and has, its connections and friends and enemies with whom it did and does business, because such dealings are inevitable within the worldly system where the Kennedy family and all the other rich families made and maintain and grow their wealth. Such families avoid giving and sharing beyond a certain point. They live a life of wealth and private, special advantage and privilege. This doesn't mean the Kennedy clan is the worst family. The truth is though that there isn't a wealthy family that is clean. It is all relative. God knows which is worst and which is best and how all the rest line up between. The truly bountiful giving and sharing all, are best.

According to Judith Campbell Exner, she was the mistress of both president John F. Kennedy and Sam Giancana, the head of the Chicago Mafia. She said that John Kennedy's father used the famous Italian-American singer and actor Frank Sinatra for Sinatra's connection to the Mafia to fix the vote in the West Virginia primary and the Illinois general election which was just enough to put Kennedy into the White House in 1960. The US Senate Intelligence Committee did an investigation, which showed Judith had visited and telephoned the White House dozens of times. Only after that did she start explaining her story.

John Kennedy's father, Joseph, started his fortune via a stock pool. He conspired with other stock traders to bid up the price of corporate stocks and then sell out when they were high. He was also a master at insider-trading. He followed in the footsteps of Nathan Rothschild. (We will have more to say on the Rothschilds in supplements to this work.) Kennedy knew exactly when to get out of the stock market, as did all of the most core insiders.

According to those on the inside with the Mafia, he increased that fortune by smuggling whiskey into the US during Prohibition. For those too young to know or outside the US, Prohibition was a period in the US when alcoholic beverages were unconstitutional.

During Prohibition, Joseph Kennedy had a falling out with his reputed mob partner. Apparently, Joe blamed Frank Costello (who claimed he was Joe Kennedy's partner in smuggling whiskey from England and Ireland) for a truck hijacking of one of the shipments of booze. Kennedy suspected Costello because of Costello's connections with the mob bosses who ordered the hijacking. Kennedy's drivers and guards apparently shot it out with the hijackers and were killed.

Now, the mob was deeply involved in Cuba before the revolution, led by Fidel Castro, ousted them. The Mafia had a huge profit center in Cuba in all the standard vices. They were making so much money that they could easily payoff the corrupt dictatorial Cuba government to look the other way or even enjoy themselves partaking in the various vices promoted by the Mafia.
Joseph Kennedy was all set up with liquor warehouses and import contracts when Prohibition was repealed. Then he got deep into Hollywood with a movie studio and a huge chain of movie theaters. People claim he contrived events to make it appear as if another owner who wouldn't sell his chain to Kennedy had raped an innocent girl. It turned out she had quite a sordid background and hadn't repented. He rounded out his huge fortune with real estate and other ventures.

When Robert Kennedy became US attorney general under his older brother John as president, he hounded Frank Costello, having him named Public Enemy Number One on the US Justice Department's list. Robert targeted a number of the mob. He had been going after some of them while his brother John and he were both US senators. On account of all of this, many people think that it was partially mob retribution that got both of those brothers assassinated.

Remember, the Mafia wanted to be repaid for its efforts in getting a Kennedy into the White House. They also wanted to get back into Cuba again. Also understand that Florida is full of voters who fled Cuba including many Mafia members and their descendents who were heavily involved in the rackets in Cuba that had corrupted the government and the people. When Kennedy's Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba, designed to overthrow Fidel Castro, turned out to be a total failure, many mob members and Cuban's in Florida and elsewhere figured the Kennedy administration had betrayed them. People were full of vengeance.
You see, such events have nearly endless tentacles. When mainstream media and politicians put out sound bites to manage your perceptions, be aware that there is nearly endless information being held back, information which if you had, you would reach a different conclusion from the one they are claiming.

Touching on the age-old international conspiracy

Joseph Kennedy said, "Fifty men have run America, and that's a high figure."[102]

The high office of President has been used to foment a plot to

---

...destroy the American's freedom, and before I leave office I must inform the citizen of his plight.

That's what John F. Kennedy said at Columbia University just ten days before he was assassinated in Dallas, Texas.

John was upset at the Gnomes of Zurich, who were international currency-speculators tied in with the banking and clearing houses with headquarters in Switzerland, the banking capital of the world really (despite New York).

William McChesney Martin, a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, and Chairman of the Federal Reserve during the 'New Frontier' years of the Kennedy Administration, testified to the Federal Banking Committee, that the value of the dollar was being scientifically brought down each year by $3-3\frac{1}{2}\%$, in order to allow wages to go up. The reasoning behind this, was that the people were being made to think that they were getting more, when in fact they were really getting less.\footnote{David Allen Rivera. \textit{Final Warning: A History of the New World Order.} Conspiracy. February, 2004.}

There is much more to this that we will touch on in supplements. It is really the heart of the matter. It is the most pivotal aspect in identifying what is wrong with the entire planet. It is the thing people haven't known about that is going to come out and change the world, save it really, despite the tribulation that will result. It will save people's souls if they do the right thing with the knowledge.

Don't fall for their psychological tricks

Remember, the goal of the most sinister overlord is to make you think he does not exist and that his highest-tier minions, the overlords you see, are for you, looking out for your best interest. Their greatest tool is getting you to fear you are mentally disturbed if you begin to doubt their story, if you begin to see their cover-up. You are not insane if you see. You will be insane if you turn to wrath against them. The important thing to understand is the pattern of behavior of the wealthy—how those families, nations, bloodlines, came by, maintain, and increase their wealth. Name one that did it honestly, that even always tried to do it honestly. Some have compromised righteousness more than others have. Regardless, concerning those who compromised the least, tell us if selfish hoarding is honest.

Venezuelan revolution, continued

Now ask yourself how low will the rich and rich-wannabe conservative families of America stoop to undermine Hugo Chavez Frias of Venezuela? They will try to get him to take drastic steps in trying to keep the US government out of Venezuela's now democratic affairs. They will push and push rather than just let, or even help, the Venezuelans try to arrive at a fair position for all members of their society.

The conservatives don't care about the Venezuelan people, especially the poor. They just care about controlling everything for the sake of oil and other corporate profits of American capitalistic conservatives. They just use expressions such as compassionate conservatism as sheep's clothing (a ploy) to get them in the door so they may thereafter more easily enslave the whole house under the evil spirit of selfishness. They are feigning compassion. It is a ruse to get people to let down their guard against temptation. Absolutely nothing good comes of selfishness, ever.
God says, leave my budding democracies alone

I'm an American citizen, and it makes me indignant that the US government constantly claims to be so interested in worldwide democracy when what it is really interested in is worldwide capitalism. If countries such as Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Venezuela, and others want to be democracies with more socialistic (sharing) administrations arrived at through free and fair elections within multiparty political systems, how can the US government even begin to justify staging coups and other illegal activities in such countries? Countries want out from under the domination of US corporations and the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank and other oppressive economic schemes put forth by the greedy interests of laissez-faire capitalists. Let the buyer beware, and now whole nations and regions and even continents are becoming very wary. They don't want to be privatized, gobbled up by greedy interests in the US and elsewhere.

Rigged campaign system

It is so clear and plain that the US is for democracy as long as it arrives at a conservative capitalistic administration, which is not really any democracy at all. The people are not really free to vote under that system. Where are the choices? The powers that be have put nearly insurmountable obstacles in the way of any opposition. Look what happened to the Reform Party with the requirement for fifteen percent in the polls before their candidate could be heard in the presidential ostensible debates.
There are such rules put in place all the time that are obviously antidemocratic on their face. One may not be in the debates because one hasn’t been widely recognized; however, one cannot become widely recognized without being an elitists or in the debates. That's a Catch-22.

Ross Perot had gotten some nineteen percent of the vote in 1992 as a result of how well he had done in the three presidential debates. It scared the Republicans and Democrats, so they put hurdles in place for the 2000 election that were just high enough to insure no competition. You see, the powers that be are for competition just so long as they control who may compete. They calculated that no independent or third-party candidate could garner as much as fifteen percent in the polls without being in the televised debates. Therefore, the Commission on Presidential Debates, made up entirely of Democrats and Republicans, added a rule that to be allowed in the debates, a candidate must be at least at fifteen percent in public opinion polls. It's an impossible catch. One must be at fifteen percent to debate, but one may not reach fifteen percent unless one is in the debate.

The debate used to be handled by the nonpartisan League of Women Voters. However, the league pulled out when the campaigns started moving toward scripted debates. Now, under the Commission on Presidential Debates, the Democrats and Republicans don't have to worry about truly surprising questions the answers to which might reveal greater truth.
Democracy versus capitalism

To any fledgling democracy that doesn't produce, or aspire to be, a conservative (neocon or neolib) capitalistic system, the US makes itself that democracy's greatest enemy. The US is the strongest empire in the world right now and dead set against real democracy. How many times must it be said that democracy and capitalism are not synonymous? They are not the same thing.

Columbia

Right now, the US is supporting the conservative government of Columbia with billions of dollars of annual support. That support finds its way into helping death squads (paramilitary groups with abysmal human rights records) such as the Autodefensas Unidas de Colombia (AUC). The AUC has murdered thousands of civilian Colombians. It is ultra conservative and anti-democratic, and Condoleezza Rice does not speak out against them but rather seeks to isolate the democratically elected Hugo Chavez Frias of Venezuela. The AUC is very much as the Nicaraguan death squads, the Contras, were during the Reagan administration.

Now, the conservatives claim that they have gained so much military power in Colombia via US aid that the AUC doesn't even have to fight much anymore since the Columbian military is doing that for the landowners. The AUC is being allowed to put down its weapons and join the government in an amnesty deal. There is nothing wrong with forgiveness, but that's not what the deal is about. All that's happening is the consolidation of large landowner power. There are those who would remind you that Columbia was home to the cocaine cartel. We remind you that the CIA, in coordination with Oliver North's hegemonic plans, shipped cocaine into the US to make black-market money to fund reactionary causes such as the mostly fascist Contras fighting Nicaragua from Honduras.

In Columbia, new rightwing paramilitary groups are springing up, the militant left has not reduced but has been taking a wait-and-see attitude, and coca production for cocaine has actually increased under Columbian rightwing president Alvaro Uribe who was re-elected in a very low voter-turnout where many people are still intimidated by rightwing death-squad type paramilitary groups. That's who the neocons are backing against the grassroots.

Are you still equating God with America? If you are, how will you escape damnation?

Control of the Western Hemisphere

The conservatives in the US are worried about losing control of the hemisphere.

Lula's Brazil

Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva (commonly "Lula") is the president of Brazil. Lula has unionist and socialist roots. He is now a very moderate reformer, by traditional socialist standards, and for highly qualified welfare for the poor. His anti-hunger and anti-poverty policies are laudable, relative to an extreme rightwing position.

His party, as of the time of this writing, is undergoing a serious campaign-financing scandal. Some of those closest to Lula have resigned their positions. Lula has publicly apologized for his party's corruption. The scandal involves political-financing kickbacks for public contracts from the government. It is the dreaded villainy that defines false liberals who place selfishness above righteousness.

Lula is also criticized for making left-leaning campaign promises he is not keeping. He is criticized for looking too steadily in the neoliberal direction. Neoliberal privatization before Lula took office caused higher unemployment and lower wages.

Lula has nevertheless taken a neoliberal approach to the Bretton Woods institutions such as the International Monetary Fund. Brazil has not defaulted on the unethical loans but rather paid them off early. Brazil under Lula is going through a capitalist phase.

The whole world cannot withstand neoliberalism however. The planet won't stomach it.

Has Lula converted to being a neoliberal or does he see himself as being a pragmatic social democrat just getting Brazil out of the clutches of the IMF? He has continued the belt-tightening process advocated by the neoliberals. The poor must tighten their belts so the fat superrich may relax theirs even more. Social programs, land redistribution to the peasants, pensions, and the like, have been reduced while privatization has increased. Raw-commodities exports have increased. The Amazon rainforest lands are still being turned into savannah for farming. This means that Brazil's natural resources are being used by other capitalist nations rather than for the benefit of the mass of the Brazilian population. It means that the Brazilian population isn't being allowed to do value-added work on those raw materials before they are shipped to other nations. For instance, Brazilian timber could be turned into a finished wood product before export or domestic use. That process would give the Brazilian people greater earnings. In other words, the capitalist system is still expropriating the wealth of the Brazilian people while huge quantities of Brazilians live without the bare necessities of life and while their non-renewable resources are aggressively being depleted.

This is not to say that the right approach is for the Brazilians to become more selfish and nationalistic. It is to say that the superrich and rich are wrong to perpetuate the entire system of expropriation.

Laissez-faire hypocrisy

No amount of arguing that selfish-interest seeks and finds the best path forward will make that backwards philosophy correct. The invisible hand of laissez faire as practiced by the self-styled neoliberals belongs to Satan. The laissez faire of the self-styled neoliberals is pure hypocrisy. The basis is no regulation except that which will perpetuate the so-called economic laws as defined by those who have already stolen the bulk of the inheritance of all humanity. They say it is against the laws of economics that the people may take back their inheritance even simply by moving into derelict and abandoned facilities, built off their backs and with their resources to begin with, to run things in accordance with pure and direct workplace democracy to the extent all the workers choose with equal voices in the spirit of sharing all.

On balance, Lula's positions are not real liberal. Yet, the neoliberals still question his loyalties and the so-called left within the US hails him. What happened to his faith in idealism? Where is the faith in radicalism that is getting at the root cause of the problems facing the people? Did he ever have faith in the ideal solution? Was he threatened by the history of American military and CIA covert intervention in Latin America? No doubt. Did he avoid provocations from Washington? No doubt. Could he have walked the more real-liberal path and survived? The real-liberal path is survival. It is real life, even if it means giving up this life in the flesh for the sake of all the others whose lives and souls too are on the line.

Kirchner's Argentina

Néstor Carlos Kirchner (commonly Néstor Kirchner) is the progressive/populist president of Argentina. He is aware that Argentina's former extreme drive to privatization crippled the country. He is renegotiating all of Argentina's debt to the International Monetary Fund (IMF)\textsuperscript{104} and World Bank, etc. He knows that falsely labeled free-market economics has been a cover for international capitalism raping the people.

\textbf{Water is a social asset}

Recently, he moved to re-nationalize the water system of Argentina. March 21, 2006, Kirchner rescinded the contract with Suez, the largest water-utility company in the world. Suez had a forty percent some direct stake in Aguas Argentinas that was supposed to handle the Buenos Aires water and sewage system. Suez also controls a Spanish subsidiary that holds some twenty-five percent in Aguas Argentinas. Aguas Argentinas had done a terrible job in Argentina, just as Suez and Bechtel had done in Bolivia leading to massive protests there and the movement toward socialism. It was serving up contaminated water the children were warned not to drink. It had taken huge profits out of the country while leaving contaminated wells pumping and failing to build up necessary infrastructure, including for sewers for which Suez was also contractually obligated. Against the conditions of its contract, it reportedly raised rates on the poor. Argentina had to freeze water rates so that the poor would have water to drink and use. The company was pricing water out of the reach of the citizens. It was crying about not having enough money to fund repairs and build infrastructure even while it was exporting profits.

\textsuperscript{104} Argentina paid off its debt to the IMF, Tuesday, Jan. 3, 2006.
Kirchner rightly decreed that the water of Argentina is a "social asset" and not, therefore, a mere capitalist commodity. He chastised Suez for its well-documented illegal financial dealings. The company had been claiming expenses for equipment never purchased and repairs never undertaken. Is Suez repentant? Of course they are not.

You won't find this information in the mainstream American corporate and business press. You will find the details of the company's dishonest and illegal practices missing. That is a tactic to manage perception. They want you to have only the corporate privatizers' side of the story so you won't side with the poor people of Argentina against the astronomically rich and greedy and uncompassionate.

This doesn't mean that Kirchner will de-privatize or nationalize or re-nationalize the other natural, God-given resources of Argentina to keep them from being further exploited by the superrich in other nations at the direct expense of the inheritance of the Argentineans. He had though already de-privatized the postal system. It is now reportedly operating at a profit. We shall see how far he is willing to go to take back the inheritance. We shall see whether or not he will reverse himself.

When will the superrich move to place sanctions on Argentina? When will Kirchner be painted as a dangerous extremist? When will all the traditional dirty tricks start to be rolled out against him? When will the US State Department lean on his neighbors? When will the CIA start covert operations to divide Latin American nation against Latin American nation? When has it ever stopped? Who will be the next Latin American leader to be ousted in a US-led coup or assassination?

When will the boycott begin? It has already. The financial and business news industry is pumping out negative ratings for Argentina. You see, Argentina is painted as a bad risk when Argentina doesn't allow itself to be raped. Greed flows in money where the most money can be flowed back out to the greedy. The wealth of the nation, the resources, is devoured. What happens after depletion? The superrich just look elsewhere. The poor are left after the boom goes bust. It is the same in every nation. The whole capitalist system is a global bubble. It will burst.

The superrich are already spending the people's wealth readying the exploitation of the nearest bodies in outer space. When the earth runs out of what they want, they will just move on and out, they imagine. You've heard it said that necessity is the mother of invention—but of what? They also have there busy research and development efforts looking into ways of performing alchemy and cyborg and other biotechnologies on all levels from nanotechnology up.

Well, they will err. They always do. They will create what they cannot control. It will come back to haunt them and the innocent alike. Selfishness is the wrong direction. You've heard it said that empire builders sow the seeds of their own destruction. Well, its true and it applies economically as well as militarily (and sexually).

Argentina went through a wave of deregulation and privatization all under the IMF and World Bank, etc. That whole system failed Argentina that had once been solid financially, even by neoliberal standards. Argentina was being strangled. It defaulted and converted its currency that devaluated. The privatizers screamed about the situation that they, the privatizers, had created. Now many international corporations, acting where, by rights granted directly by God's truth, people's utilities ought to have been acting all along, have filed suit against Argentina in the World Bank. They are trying to hit Argentina as Argentina attempts to stand up for its people. It is evil. It is the opposite of the Good Samaritan. Where is the Good Neighbor Policy? Did it ever exist? The US was never the Good Samaritan toward Latin America.

Vázquez's Uruguay

Tabaré Ramón Vázquez Rosas (commonly Tabaré Vázquez) is the president of Uruguay. Tabaré Vázquez took office on March 1, 2005. Many conservatives in the US call him a leftist. Well, he is relative to past leaders of Uruguay. He isn't though advocating very much change in the neoliberal way of doing things so far. His administration is still looking to privatize much of the country. Uruguay managed to raise enough money issuing thirty-year bonds that it paid off its IMF debt early. It was probably able to do that by assuring bond buyers of its commitment to the neoliberal agenda. Bond buyers would see risk in a socialist-leanings Uruguay, not because social democracies cannot run solid economies but because the US would make doing that exceedingly difficult. Vázquez has indicated that he won’t completely forget the poor, so he’s no member of the Cato Institute, a US libertarian think tank. He wants to retain some compassion in his neoliberal administration.

Now, if the entire continent turns continually to the left, isn’t attacked by the US, and if Vázquez is still in office, he (and the other leaders in the area) could show more socialist leanings. The whole thing hinges on whether the US will stop using economic duress and military threats and actions and covert actions in the area but rather let the people decide in the democratic fashion
the US claims it is for.

Of course, the US isn’t for democracy. It claims that the only people who can function democratically are those steeped in it such as the US. Of course, there are many people right here in the US who know full well that real democracy doesn’t exist in the US and never has.

These South American leaders talk to each other and to Cuba. Therefore, they are denounced by conservatives in the US as potential dangers.
They are painted with a Stalinist brush, which is ridiculous. Castro is the only Communist, and he isn’t a rightwing Communist as Stalin was. If he hadn’t been deliberately provoked so much, he would have mellowed to a much more leftcommunist long ago.
Lagos's Chile, now Bachelet's

Ricardo Froilán Lagos Escobar (commonly Ricardo Lagos) was the president of Chile. Ricardo Lagos was a strong opponent of the ultraconservative dictatorship of General Augusto Pinochet who was supported by the US government. The Pinochet dictatorship was responsible for tens of thousands of tortures, murders, and other human rights violations.

On Sunday, January 15, 2006, Chileans chose Michelle Bachelet as president Lagos's successor. Lagos could not run again under term-limit laws in Chile. Bachelet has vowed to increase social spending to help reduce the obscene gap between the huge majority poor in Chile and the tiny minority that constitutes the ultra rich. The gap in Chile is one of the worst in the world. Bachelet is openly agnostic and studied militarism at several war colleges including one in the US.

105 While it pursued laissez-faire (neoliberal) capitalism allowing foreign ownership of Chile's resources. You see how democracy does not follow capitalism. President Lagos instituted many more liberal social reforms while in office. His was, however, a cautious administration.

Verónica Michelle Bachelet Jeria (commonly Michelle Bachelet) is now the president of Chile. She is for a mixed economy, a combination of market capitalism and the welfare state. Her focuses are pension reforms, education from daycare to college, entrepreneurship, and neighborhood improvements for overall quality of life.

With the exception of Hugo Chavez Frias, these other leaders in South America somewhat represent the New Labour and Democratic Leadership Council of South America. They are the Tony Blair's and Bill Clinton's of South America. They are ready and willing to rub elbows with George W. Bush and any neocon able to break back into the US presidency if the US voters can be sufficiently fooled and frightened enough to allow election fraud.

There are neocons though who don't care at all about the just cause of the poor. They are advocating all the time for attacking them. They want Pinochet-type regimes throughout the world, all puppets of US corporatism. They hate anyone who does anything for the poor. They hate all the South American leaders even though none is an Isaiah liberal, let alone a Jesus liberal.

They really want to eliminate Chavez in Venezuela, the Sandinistas in Nicaragua, and Castro in Cuba. They are also afraid of what is happening in Peru and Mexico. Alejandro Toledo in Peru, initially held up by self-styled intellectuals of the left (anyone was seen as a relief after the fascist Alberto Fujimori, and Toledo had been against Fujimori), turned out to be an economic libertarian-capitalist disaster. He has been succeeded by Alan García Pérez, who was a nightmare the first time he was president of Peru. García García's won by six hundred thousand votes; however, 1.2 million ballots were voided. The European Union and the Organization of American States monitored the election and didn't report any problems.

For many weeks before the Colombian and Peruvian elections, CIA, National Endowment for Democracy (NED), US Agency for International Development (USAID) and International Republican Institute (IRI) operatives were all over both countries setting in place the process needed to assure both their candidates won regardless of whether the majority of people wanted them.

How can Columbia, Peru, and Mexico have free and fair elections when the Republican neocons steal the elections in the US and are behind the scenes helping candidates in those Latin American states? It isn't possible.

Nowadays, attempts to rig elections have become more sophisticated, and thus our observation methodologies have evolved accordingly. We place more emphasis on pre-election activities, such as verifying voter registration rolls, eligibility standards for candidates, access to media, and any evidence of intimidation of voters. We put these under the heading of what we call the "level playing field" standard. I meet with candidates, electoral authorities, and heads of state to get their commitments to ensure a fair election and to accept the results of a free election. We also put our observers in place for a longer time.

The same is true for post-electoral observation. Carter Center staff often will stay in a country to observe final vote tabulation, announcement of results, and graceful acceptance of the results by all parties.

Former president Jimmy Carter makes clear the importance of looking at the entire process, not just focusing on election day and the counting process.

Fox's Mexico

Vicente Fox in Mexico turned out to be pretty much an economic libertarian-capitalist too. The poor in Mexico are still oppressed politically and economically and will be until the world converts to real Christianity. The 2006 election in Mexico will be covered in supplements to this work.

Nicaragua

The Sandinistas (FSLN) in Nicaragua are regaining strength on the back of failing privatization and falsely termed free-market economics (conservative, capitalist economics).
The Sandinistas were responsible for the overthrow of the US-backed brutal dictatorship of the Somoza family in Nicaragua. As mentioned above, the US, under conservative Ronald Reagan, backed a civil war against the democratically elected Sandinistas by funding the Contra fascist rebels (remnants of Somoza’s National Guard) with funds obtained through illegal arms sales to Iran and drug sales in the US. In addition to also training and arming the Contra-fascist terrorists, the US Ronald Reagan administration put into place an economic blockade that devastated the Nicaraguan economy. The Contra War also devastated the nation’s infrastructure. That was the plan if the Sandinistas’ revolution could not be reversed. It was not reverse completely. The Sandinistas ceded power through peaceful elections. Now they are making a comeback of sorts on the heels of so much long-term systemic poverty that always follows neoliberal (false liberal) economics.
Such US tactics as the funding and training of the Contras drive people into taking more and more desperate actions to stave off the attack of greedy corporate globalists and the US military, so-called intelligence community, contracted paramilitary organizations, mercenaries, and others all of whom do the beck and call of the rich corporations. Those rich corporations and their executives and shareholders then fund the political campaigns of politicians who have sold their souls for power and control. It is a filthy circle.
Falsely lumping holding all things in common in with Stalinism

The US conservatives and some neoliberals will complain about more liberal governments in the world and, for churlish reasons, will start working to undermine those governments. They will call those more liberal governments statist (centralized) versus so-called open. They do this after having created false impressions by lumping holding all things in common in with Stalinism. However, many of the governments they lump in with Stalinism under the sweeping label of statist are closer to the real liberalism of Isaiah and Jesus than is the so-called market-oriented government of the US.

It must be understood that Stalinism was all the means of production being owned and operated by the Communist Party. That party ran the government or state. Stalinism was not holding all things in common. In all things in common, each person has an equal say. Under Stalinism and Leninism and Maoism, each person does not have an equal say. Many consider the Leninist-Stalinist Communist state of the Soviet Union to have been state capitalism. More correctly, it was party capitalism in that the Communist Party acted as the supreme capitalist.

John Paul II on communism

In Marxism, say was to be spread across all the workers. Under that tenet, Marxism held more of the "kernel of truth" as pope John Paul II put it. This is Marx borrowing from Jesus and the Apostles without giving God, Jesus, or the Apostles credit. Perfection under Christianity is Conservatives are racists

The less initial success the US has the more pressure it builds up against liberal tendencies in other nations. America targets the most vulnerable, the easiest targets. It does this along racial and ethnic lines. For instance, it does not attempt to use physical coercion against the whiter-skinned Scandinavian more so social-democratic countries, whereas it will use military means, so far with a false sense of impunity, against the browner-skinned Latin American countries. Those days are going to come to an end however. For one, the US population is becoming ever browner. Those brown-skinned people will look upon other brown-skinned people with as much or more equality as the whiter-skinned Americans have always looked upon non-American whiter-skinned peoples. This is why the conservatives are attempting to buy the loyalties of more brown-skinned people, but it won't work ultimately. The argument over holding the lives of non-American lighter and darker skinned peoples as of equal value will overshadow any number of darker-skinned people being bought off by conservative capitalists. Oh, plenty of people will sell out. They just won't prevail is all. They will fall with the top-heavy Empire.
How would the tactics used against the Latin Americans be received were they to be used against the Scandinavians? All the European nations would be up in arms, literally. The US knows that. Also, the Anglo-Saxon superiority complex still ties them to the Nordic peoples whereas they care much less about the indigenous and mixed peoples of what is commonly called Latin America. The thinking of the likes of Winston Churchill is there under the surface. The Latin Americans and other less white-skinned peoples are seen as inherently inferior. They are worth less. They can be beaten down without much concern within the general population of the whiter-skinned countries. It has been disgusting. It has been, and remains, completely antichrist.

US backdoor-racist and predatory policies drive people into evil reactions. They shouldn't react that way, but neither should the US engender and precipitate such reactions. They react to the evil policy of undermining governments some of which are more democratic and egalitarian than America. US evil in the form of hyper greed, violent coercion, and decadent culture tempts others not only to greed, decadence, and violence for the sake of their own neoliberal capitalism but it tempts others into militant reactions against the US system.

This is not to excuse terrorist attacks. It does though help explain them. Fundamentalist Muslims for instance are seriously offended by what they see as degeneracy. In fact, much of what they complain against is degeneracy. The remedy prescribed by some though is also evil.
They think it is returning to a purer time, but it is not heading into the true light.

However, the more the American people come to realize the inherent evil of certain practices, certain behaviors, that are racist (including those against Muslims) the sooner things will come to a head and will end. After all, as said, the population of the browner-skinned peoples in the US is on the rise and the bullies will not be able to co-opt them all. Word is getting out. People will see through the lies, even the big lies and so-called noble lies.

Antagonizing vulnerable peoples

That tactic of antagonizing vulnerable peoples is part of the deliberate strategy of the bullying, American, conservative, empire builders. They are intimidating others into capitulating to US corporate interests or they are goading them into hardening their positions against those interests so the US will have even the thinnest of pretexts for taking overt or covert military or paramilitary actions against them or using clandestine means to overthrow them. Then they point the finger at those they have goaded. This is what Condoleezza Rice is attempting to do now concerning Venezuela and Hugo Chavez Frias. They do all of that to conjure up a pretext for duping the mass of American citizens into supporting abominable acts against others some of whom mostly want to be left alone to run their own nations for the sake of all their citizens and not just the rich.

The belligerent neocons are aggressively employing the goading technique, because the American people know that the Vietnam War was, and the Iraq War and so-called War on Terrorism are, full of obfuscation and blatant lies.

For smaller operations, they used to just send in the Marines who would slaughter wholesale. The American people wouldn't know the other side of the story but just US propaganda.

Also, racist attitudes have been tempered, because the US had to paint the Nazis as evil to get people to back and win the war and the Nazis were racists supreme. It is too late for the US to be blatantly racist as was Winston Churchill.

In addition, Americans are not as ready to accept that all-things-corporate is necessarily what America must be all about. The business of America is still business; however, the movements of the 1960's, such as environmentalism, have shown that business is not the end-all-be-all that it was once seen to be. These conditions heighten differences between the selfish and unselfish. The selfish and unselfish have always been at odds, but now the communications network is making it easier for the dissenting voices to be heard by each other and to spread the message regardless of the consolidation of mainstream media. Will this last? Will it simply facilitate the ceaseless argument that will facilitate procrastination on the part of those advocating unselfishness? We propose not. We propose action not in simply dissenting and being heard but in rather doing what we think the government ought to have been doing. We say the commons ought to be.
Therefore, we propose to bring it forth for those who will truly share ownership in the spirit of excellent stewardship for the sake of all, for the righteousness' sake. That's going to take everyone's hard work, dedication, and giving.

The fact that the US antagonizes other nation is not to say that any nations conducts itself in a Christian manner. They are not real liberal democracies in the sense of the Isaiah liberal and especially not the Jesus liberal. They are not without any vileness or villainy. Many are though trying much harder than the US to be giving and sharing within and between and among them as nation-states. Theirs is the lesser evil therefore.

Learn war no more

If they could be allowed to cooperate with each other without the negative influences of the US through such institutions as the US Army's newly renamed and misnomered Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation at Fort Benning, Georgia, they might be able to bring themselves to disarm completely. As mentioned elsewhere, that institution was called the School of the Americas. They have changed the name in an attempt to break the people's conscious associations with the US government's evil training of tens of thousands of Latin Americans, many of whom known death-squad members, which death squads were responsible for murdering many tens of thousands of civilians from all walks of life.
And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. (Isaiah 2:4).

That's it. That's what it is all about. The nations are judged. All selfish people are rebuked. Humanity is commanded to convert all weapons to peaceful means and all the military training and studying is to end. That's the law that will be in everyone's heart. Those who refuse will be cut off. They won't be in heaven as heaven and earth become one new place.

The nations of Central America in particular have been kicked around by the US. Today, there are conservatives who defend and justify the US history of creating and supporting puppet dictators. These apologists say that the conservatives were just doing the only thing that could be done to stop the political party called Communist (particularly in the forms of Stalinism and Maoism). Rather than address the fundamental unfairness in the world, the conservatives just labeled everyone a mortal enemy who was not a rabid capitalist. It didn't matter how justified anyone was in expressing grievances against the capitalist system of America, just as it doesn't matter now. Rather than fix the problems being complained about by terrorist thereby taking away the very reasons people are supporting terrorists or becoming terrorists, the US just labels all enemies who are against rabid capitalism and with any grievances against the US. It is insane.
The conservatives also say that at the time, no one had any way of knowing that what the US was doing was wrong, meaning no one could have handled global problems without resorting to torture and murder and all manner of other heinous actions. That's a lie.

Christ, Gandhi, Mandela, and King

Look at what Mahatma Gandhi accomplished in India without resorting to any of those despicable tactics of the conservatives. He may not have been perfect, but he was a far cry from the depths of selfishness in the Empire he was struggling to overcome. Look at what Nelson Mandela did with non-violence in South Africa. Look at what Martin Luther King, Jr. accomplished in the US civil-rights movement without resorting to any violence.

Again, we make no claim of perfection concerning these men. Their actions though have been closer to the kingdom than of those who caved into the temptation of wrath.

The positions of the conservatives in these matters have been, and remain, patently deceptive. Stalin's brand of government would never have been accepted by the world or Central America even if the US had done nothing. The US made matters worse. Of course, that was the plan for the war-minded. Also, if it were true that no one could have known that supporting dictators was wrong, then why were there so many people against those conservatives at the very time they were doing their dastardly deeds? It is the same argument that was put forth by conservatives immediately following the Iraq invasion, meaning the neocons said after the invasion that no one knew they wouldn't find WMD. That too is a lie. People were saying before that invasion that the intelligence showed no WMD. It is the big lie or so-called noble lie. They knew and just lied about it. They said who could have known that weapons of mass destruction would not turn up, even though there were hundreds of millions of people who said openly at the time that what the conservatives were saying was wrong, based upon lies, and would not turn out the way the neocons said it would. There were people of the more true liberal persuasion who said how things would turn out and they have. That is how it has been from the beginning of US foreign policy toward Central America as well.

Look, the neocons are always wrong on the big picture they present because that picture is just made up by them. They know it. They're just banking upon people not being able to put anything together. They're counting on people just moving on.

This is all to say that the use of the US military and intelligence for purely capitalistic, anti-democratic interests of the rich few who sit at the top of pyramids of stock shares is stealing right out of the mouths of the poor in nations molested in the name of America. It is also, on a certain level, stealing taxes to fund that military and intelligence paid in by even poor US taxpayers. The poor taxpayers need what is given to the military for the sake of increasing the plunder of the rich stolen from the inheritance of even other poor people in the world. Woe to the rich.

The non-rich taxpayers do not control the multinational corporations. They do not reap the lion's share of the evil gain of corrupt uses of their tax dollars. They do though end up putting up the brunt of the military personnel who fight, kill, are injured and maimed for life and even die in wars caused by rich business interests telling the US military and intelligence what to do. They will also bear the brunt of terrorist attacks against that system. Their children are traumatized by such attacks and are numb to violence as the method of conflict resolution. This is while they are being simultaneously confused and frustrated by adults telling them not to fight in their homes, schools, and on the streets. They know that the US went to war under faults pretenses. It is insanity.

Don't let your children be relegated to being just a consumable commodity, an inferior item in abundant supply for the rich to send to fight. Stand up to them, and say "No." Don't let them fall for the lies of the military. Don't let your children learn how to make war anymore.

ECHELON

The same so-called noble liars who have perpetrated all their conservative doings for centuries have at their disposal the invasive power of ECHELON, the NSA's (National Security Agency) worldwide communications eavesdropping network. Nothing but the most highly encrypted electronic communications in the world is beyond their eavesdropping capabilities.

Also, if you had imagined for years that the NSA does not eavesdrop on communications of Americans within the US, you were deceived. As is now common knowledge, the NSA has eavesdropped on American communications. That information was made public December 16, 2005 by The New York Times. It has been reported that the newspaper withheld the story from the public for about a year. What other stories are they sitting on?

That was not new information for the underground. Certain of the so-called alternative news-sources had been saying for many years that the NSA scans all international electronic communications regardless of the source. In several emails I sent from the US into other nations especially the former Soviet Republics going back a number of years before the New York Times revelation to the general public, before the invasion of Baghdad, before 9-11. I told recipients that my messages to them will have been scanned by the NSA. Of course they were.

They are spying on everyone

In addition, the government hasn't revealed this yet, but once anyone shows up in international communications relating anything against the current US administration, even just statements of concern that the US is becoming more fascist, that person's purely domestic communications were then, and as of this writing still are, surveilled. Anyone communicating against the neocons is a potential militant revolutionary or terrorist or dangerous extremist, etc., or at the very least rationalized as a danger to the nation's security by just weakening the neocons (of course, the reverse is true) and has to be monitored and investigated. The secret court will grant such surveillance. The administration will tell the court that in the process of foreign surveillance, the persons made statements to foreign parties against the government of the United States.
Now, these actions mostly concern people who are low on the radar screen. Even though it becomes obvious, or was obvious all along, that the parties in question were never militant threats, the surveillance continues in preparation for dirty tricks to undermine the anti-neocon movement. These things haven't changed since J. Edgar Hoover.

Also, talking heads on television are not targeted in earnest as potential terrorists so much as to find out dirt on them to use against them and to stir up internal problems within opposition groups when the time comes.

It goes beyond that. They've already started a database on every person. It doesn't matter whether or not there are national I.D. cards or biometric scanners in place. They've been building their database for years now. Computer memory is cheap and super computers are becoming so fast that they can work the database beyond human comprehension. This process is only going to continue accelerating until it blows up.

The neocons walk the tightrope. They don't want to be premature in rushing to power, because they know it will backfire. Just how good are they in creating, gauging, and reacting to the receptivity of the American people for increased presidential dictatorship? I said increased. It already exists. It’s only a matter of degree.

ECHELON is what is called SIGINT, which is short for signals intelligence. With this system, the NSA does a constant dragnet searching all electronic communications in the world if they so desire. This system is much more advanced then anything that has come out in public. It has even been used for industrial espionage against US corporate competitors. This is so, because of the military-industrial complex. Consider the military industrial complexes of Russia and China for instance. You don't imagine that the US military isn't engaged in spying upon them? You don't imagine that when the US military discovers information useful to US military corporations that they feel honor bound not to disclose such information to their corporate industrial suppliers do you? If you buy that, you have been duped into trusting unrepentant perjurers. You have swallowed the noble and big lie. You're hooked.

They already have their plan done ten and twenty years out and more

You don't imagine that the neocons aren't extremely mad and already planning their comeback after they are drummed out in the near future do you? Are you planning to take a vacation and congratulate yourself and the left after the right is out? Watch out! The cycle is just going to speed up. When they get a chance, they're going to be worse than ever. They're going to work in their holding tanks on shutting down the openness of the Internet for instance, because the freedom of information on the Internet will have been one of the main reasons they were exposed. They bought up the mainline news didn't they? They embedded the journalists in the military didn't they? They hate the news coming out of all the places where they used to be able to control the flow of stories don't they? They own the companies which can control the backbone of the Internet don't they? Aren't they already trying to replace the freer flow of information with their commercial offerings that will make finding underground sources much more difficult? They used dirty tricks to gain the majority in both houses of the US Congress and to gain the presidency and many governorships and state houses and many seats on the judicial bench didn't they? Didn't they start slowly and build and build and build? Do you think they are not going to re-double their efforts? Do you think they are going to say okay, we'll give and share all? They are about selfish interests. They are greedy at heart. They will die greedy at heart. Many will repent, atone, and convert. Many won't. Watch out!

They are farther along then the grassroots imagines

They have had people working nonstop using the most advanced software and hardware to plan their operations down to the finest detail they can imagine. They have people training to carry out the operations down to split second timing. They rehearse and rehearse and rehearse. They are under the strict control of handlers.
They are incommunicado for as long as it will take to get and keep them focused on their objective. Money is no object. They have the land and facilities to conduct their preparations. They have all the resources they need to carry out their plans. They don't need to go through any customs or passport checks anywhere in the world. They can fly somewhere and land and start doing whatever they want. They have secure global communications. No other government can listen in. They are fed special diets. They are given special drugs. They are physically trained with the latest equipment with the most science behind their training. They are programmed by psychologists. They are conditioned. They are already crossing over the bionics threshold in radical ways. The cyborg warrior will be rolling out in this generation. All the science fiction will come true. The human consciousness and lack of conscience prophesied it and is manifesting it. None of this though means that we should throw up our hands and call it all futile.

We are to do God here and now for the sake of righteousness in the face of tribulation and martyrdom.

Some of why people don't trust Bush's domestic spying

The current NSA revelations are shades of the dark Project SHAMROCK (capturing all telegrams) and dark Project MINARET (watch lists of so-called subversives) of the NSA, CIA, and FBI that spied on thousands of Americans including antiwar dissidents and demonstrators and civil-rights activists who were generally on the political enemies list of Republican conservatives. It was due to those programs that the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) was passed.

At the time of the exposure of these fascist-Republican efforts, president Gerald Ford, an ostensible moderate or centrist, had his administration fight the release of the names of the US corporations that had aided the NSA and others immorally to spy upon US citizens who were often doing nothing other than dissenting against governmental policies and practices. The names did come out of the Committee. This time with the NSA starting in 2006, the names of the corporations were leaked to the press by the movement of the Holy Spirit.

Project SHAMROCK ran from 1946 into 1975 and involved corporations such as ITT, RCA, and Western Union, not protecting the communications of citizens but rather giving the NSA the contents of every single international cablegram (telegram sent by underwater cable) and telegram send to or from any American citizen regardless of the lack of probable cause or lack of warrants. It suffered mission creep. It went from surveilling foreign embassies to spying on Vietnam War protesters.

That's what's going on right now concerning the Iraq War and the Internet and telephone calls of suspected dissenters. They have been secretly marked as threats to so-called national security, whereas many and most are simply antiwar who prove to be an embarrassment to the warmongers and war-profiteers. They sway the public against the atrocities of war and other capitalist undertakings. They have been labeled as threats to national security defined vaguely by the fascists as giving aid and comfort, a boost in American public opinion, to the enemy or potential criminal. The enemy is similarly deliberately vaguely defined as any criminal anywhere, since any crime can be used by terrorists. Also, anything that hinders false-libertarian, laissez-faire capitalism is deemed criminal or at least reason enough for suspicion to snoop. Such malleable definitions can be altered to fit anyone at the whim of the president. These definitions are kept secret under the ruse of national security. It is a circular license under the term national security. It's a Catch-22. The surveillance is rationalized as the first step in likewise rationalized preemption. What's really going on is a power grab. It all ends up covering over illegal gains for those at the top of the power elite that is the military-industrial complex.

The fascist Republicans at the very top all know this full well. It's what George W. Bush meant when he said upon gaining the presidency that now he is not accountable to anyone. He believes he can be the absolute monarch for his term in office to the extent that he can fool the people into acceding to his distortions and the distortions of the hangers-on around him. He believes the idea for the chief executive is to gain as much control over the common people as possible leading to the day when the ruler no longer has to be concerned with potential overthrow by the whole of the common people no matter how abominable, tyrannical, and depraved he becomes. He looks to the day when the presidency has darkened and hardened and lowered to the days of Caligula. Not so deep in the recesses of George W. Bush's mind, he envisions the day when the president will be so powerful by way of science and technology all over the globe that nothing and nobody, no group, will be able to stop him from doing anything he wants. He believes this is God-directed. This sounds like a contradiction since we just said the aim is Caligula-like activities. It is contradictory. That's the point. He believes that might makes right. In his mind, the reason Hitler and Napoleon and even the caesars failed was because they didn't have enough power. They didn't know how to put aside caring about others enough. It is a very warped outlook. It is the teaching of Machiavelli. The fascists are disciples of Machiavelli.

None of this is to say that George W. Bush isn't full of mixed emotions. He is. However, he has been successfully misguided into suppressing his sensibilities. He conveniently adopts the Calvinist rationalization that the superior people, by God, and naturally, have the material wealth and political and religious power. He does that even though Jesus's message is perfectly clear about the pitfalls of such personal wealth in the face of such wants as are evident in the world today. He is the prince of this world for a little season. He has had his in the here and now.

Total Information Awareness

Now of course, we still have active the Total Information Awareness program of the Pentagon's Information Awareness Office renamed to the Terrorism Information Awareness Office. Even though the US Congress specifically refused to fund the total-information and terrorism-awareness activities, the program has simply been shifted to a darker level of operations that the executive branch hasn't divulged to the US Congress sufficiently for the US Congress to perform oversight. Names of programs will continue to pop up for awhile, but the real plan is to create a new layer that goes unnamed outside. The plan is that every time a name surfaces, it will immediately be changed. This will assure zero oversight. The only way there will ever be oversight is when all funding is open.

Secrecy and barriers are against God's ultimate plan for human souls. All will be healed and set right. All will be forgiven. The physician will not be made ill by the disease he will completely cure: That's God.

Also, the executive controls the establishment of classification and security clearances. The US Congress can, and is, classified right out of certain loops. The judiciary can be, and is, classified right out of certain loops. This leaves imaginations to run wild within and without the executive branch. How does one know this? Fruit is how one knows.

Control of the entire electromagnetic spectrum

The Pentagon's Information Operations Roadmap which discusses military propaganda (psychological operations) plans to be aimed at enemy attacks including from US dissident voices on the Internet. Just as with the Total Information Awareness Office, the US military seeks "maximum control of the entire electromagnetic spectrum." That's the entire spectrum on which light sits, including cosmic-rays through radio waves. Electromagnetism also includes all electrical currents. This means the Pentagon seeks to be able to knock the whole planet back to before electricity while maintaining its own electrical capabilities. This is in addition to controlling the spectrum for nightmarish weapons use. Their vision doesn't stop there. Their vision doesn't stop short of the limits of diabolical imagination. Science and engineering turned to total control of human and all life is their goal. They want to be able to create anything they care to imagine with impunity. It is mad science for megalomania. They have already run cyber war-games along some of these lines. Of course, we've already seen the Military paying newspapers in Iraq to run fake stories written by the Pentagon. The fact that the Military contracts out any of this work does not relieve them of the primary responsibility. Hence, we say the Military paid the newspapers and wrote the stories. The notion that there is arms-reach within the military-industrial complex is itself more than reaching. Now, the military plans to shut down all dissident voices when the next pretext surfaces.

Anyone who voices disapproval of Empire building and perpetual war and the like will be label as an enemy spreading disinformation and aiding and abetting the enemy, giving comfort to the enemy, doing treasonous acts, etc., and attacked.
Don't imagine that the Military hasn't been working on computer backdoors. Don't imagine that they haven't worked on cutting deals with the major corporations for those secret backdoors. Look at what the telecommunications companies did in facilitating the government in illegal wiretapping by the NSA in the US.

What is in the selfish interest of major US families, the corporations they own, and the executives they hire who are often their own family members? Those family members often are part of the revolving door to governmental positions. They are often members of interlocking directorates. They are often members of international elitist societies where deals are brokered for corporations and nations. What are the treasures in the hearts of those owners? What compromises are those owners willing to make in fear of retaliation if they don't go along?

Semantic warfare

The US intelligence machine has started the Total Information Awareness/Terrorism Information Awareness program via Analysis, Dissemination, Visualization, Insight, and Semantic Enhancement (ADVISE). This is part of the cyber war that has already begun. The names of programs will continue to change. The motivation will remain the same. The motivation is anti-democracy under the guise of pro-democracy. It is anti-liberty under the guise of liberty.
You will notice carefully the term "Semantic" in the name of this program. This is a sign. It will disappear, so note it now. The term will disappear, but the intent will remain. There is and has been a semantical war on going since language began. This work has gone a long way in showing that. The Bible shows it. The war itself is waged on its pages. Jesus won the war, but the battles are still raging. The Dragon is mortal wounded but doesn't completely realize it (doesn't want to realize it).

Don't imagine that this isn't huge. Almost half of the one hundred largest economies in the world are US corporations and not nations. Think about that. You don't imagine that those corporations took over everywhere through fair dealings with the peoples of the planet do you?

You don't imagine that they took over without the full force of the US behind them do you? Thereafter, the policy of preemption will be applied to all enemies of the state who will include anyone who speaks out against the new order. It is Orwell's nightmare coming to life. In fact, the release of the Pentagon's plan is the first salvo in the attack. It is the seed planted in the brains of the willing dupes. The release was edited by military psychologists for effect. It preps the neocon minions and attempts to begin the plan to totally dictate the existence of all, beginning with disarming all dissidents in whom the military seek to instill a sense of being completely overwhelmed and dejected coming to the realization that resisting the Empire is futile. Woe to the arrogant unrepentant. Woe to the usurpers of God. They shall rue the day. It is no threat. It is truth. It is right warning.

Undoing protection against police state

Now, because such information is being obtained (although highly censored) through the Freedom of Information Act, the Pentagon is moving to change the Act to exempt itself. The military is also pushing for an end to whistleblower protections. In other words, the Pentagon is doing all it can to undo everything that was done in the past to protect against a police state in the US. It is coming and many are calling for it when they call for safety and security rather than for the solution to the root cause.

It isn't imagination to realize that there is a worldly and spiritual struggle for control that is not for righteousness' sake but rather human ego sake. All the mundane checks and so-called balances and coercive threats in the world and all the thinking that there is a collective trustworthiness working within every mind in the dark corners of the Pentagon and all the other secret places in the world just doesn't understand the madness and method of those bent upon infinite ego satiation. One knows. Wicked ideas come out of egos. Rationalizations and obfuscations come out of egos. It is Godless. In its disconnect from God, the ego reaches for Godlike total information awareness without being worthy. Of course, God won't share all with the unworthy. Of course, God has designed things so that the unworthy who demand such awareness will fall. The higher they reach in unworthiness, the harder and lower they will fall. It is the consequence. It is a warning. It is a sign.

Compartmentalization, continued

Understand that the NSA is a Pentagon entity created by presidential directive. It shares all its information on a so-called need-to-know basis with aspects of the DIA (Defense Intelligence Agency) and the Information Awareness Office. The reverse is also true. There is compartmentalization so that the right hand doesn't know what the left hand is up to. Unlike sunshine meetings held by some Congressional committees, the Pentagon is such that only two people in the world supposedly may dig into anything he wants and still cannot be assured that he is getting the real picture: The president and the defense secretary; George W. Bush and Donald Rumsfeld respectively at the time of this writing. One may certainly argue that Dick Cheney too would not be refused by anyone in the government.

Establishing the truth despite compartmentalization: The Old Testament said have two witnesses. Jesus said have witnesses who may attest to the fact that the wrong-doer has been confronted in private before taking the matter to the whole body. Of course, that would be situational since there are circumstances where that wouldn't be feasible. There are emergency situations where taking the time and for other reasons, one just can't confront the wrong-doer in that way. The process was intended where a certain range of interactions would fit. The context was internal to the church.

Nevertheless, where it is possible to confront in that way even outside the church, it is better on balance.

Today, depending upon the seriousness of the problem and what is at stake, different people will accept varying degrees of evidence from circumstantial up to what is termed "irrefutable" evidence. In that system, human eyewitnesses are not always called for.

So where does this fit in with knowing the truth as a result of looking at the results, the fruit? Also, why wouldn't Jesus have expected, and said that, the Holy Spirit will inform all of any wrongdoing?

The Holy Spirit will inform all of all, given enough righteousness, faith, and the spirit of mercy that is forgiven. Even though the Holy Spirit witnesses all and knows and remembers, people are not righteous enough and don't, therefore, have enough love to handle the truth and still forgive.

Where does this leave us concerning sole whistleblowers and questionable evidence and what many consider sweeping statements? Patterns of behavior are predictive even though variables are infinite, even as God is infinite. There have been disgruntled peopleed who have lied and done wicked things concerning their enemies. Bitterness choking truth. Therefore, the persons must be felt (sensed, emotionally discerned) and considered in all ways.
The Empire is not on the right path. Only one path is best. Many paths opposed to the Empire's though are worse than the Empire's. It is with that knowledge that one must consider the personalities of sources. The fact is that despite the Empire's failings, those within are currently freer in the mundane sense to speak out on a wider range of topics and issues than in any other society. This is a double edged sword. The freedom can cut through the lies of the Empire, but libertinism can also allow dishonest attacks on the Empire. The truth about the Empire is enough. Lies and unqualified speculations, even about the Empire, are harmful.

The Empire is not good enough

The relative mundane freedoms in America are exactly why people speak out against those injustices that have not been properly redressed. The path of the Empire is not good enough. The object is not to settle for best, in anything, anywhere, simply relative to what is going on in the rest of the world. The object is to be perfect. We are talking about the right fastidiousness. We are not talking about taking on the anxiety of the traditionalist perfectionist. Jesus disappointed all the traditionalists after all. We are talking about taking on the softheartedness that can sympathize and empathize with the confused, as all have sinned. This is the meaning of not stoning people. This is the meaning of the golden rule.
How to see through secrets

How does one know what they (the Empire, the beast, conspirators) are up to in secret when no corroborating witnesses have come forth or there are not things put forth as evidence that meet a high enough standard, etc.? There is a history of operations that are authorized and funded and deliberately compartmentalized and are set up to be, upon discovery, disavowed as rogue. The Nixon White House as a prime, exposed example was full of that. It is the noble lie at work. There is a history of advocacy of the noble lie, since those wishing to use it must have a sufficiently susceptible and indoctrinated and further indoctrinatable field of people from which to recruit. Without a political-socialization process that prepares people to accept the assertion that falsehoods are right, all would stand firmly against the lie that there is any such thing as a lie that can be noble.

Also, along with the ability to sympathize and empathize comes the ability to think as they do even while not succumbing. This flies in the face of the expression that it takes one to know one. Jesus saw and spoke to the demon spirits; yet, he wasn't one of them. He was a spirit, but not a demon spirit. His sensory perception was that keen. His emotional grasping was that capable, because he was that trustworthy.

So, you discern them by what you do know about them. If they are secretive for the sake of harming others, you know who they are. They aren't of the real Church.

Look, given the same level of combat, every single soldier who comes home suffering from posttraumatic stress disorder is better in a predispositional sense than all those who do not. Their sensibilities were shocked and rightly so. They had the sensory acuity to know the evil in what they and those around them were doing. Naturally, it would have been better had they had that acuity earlier to keep them from partaking. We know though that society works minds to make them willing to kill for worldly empire even though there are those who have convinced themselves that they lead people to war in unselfishness. It is confusion. Of those who come from such combat, the ones who overcome and go on to teach and exemplify the truth of the evil into which they and others had been sucked are better still. Those who never suffer even though they are causing horror are emotionally stunted and facilitate evils perpetuation. Those who thrive on combat are the opposite of Christlike. This is how you know them.

War is hell. Who is in charge in hell? Who carries out the commands of the one in charge in hell? Is caesar God? Is peacemaking sedition or treason against God? How can the peacemakers be blessed and yet be also treasonous against God and the law?

Total Information Awareness, continued

When they say total information, they mean it. Think of just the economic trail behind you by virtue of all the transactions that are captured on computer and paper that can be linked to you. Think of every time any computer or paper or video or audio or any other entry or record has been made concerning you and identifiable to you that is still in existence and which could be linked into and saved by and analyzed by an entity with a budget of unknown but enormous total size. Public and so-called private paper and computer and other records document you. Your history trail and the history of everyone and how everyone has interacted are there to be analyzed by scenario models on supercomputers. How do you live? What is your lifestyle? What have you done? What does it say about you? How can it be used to predict you and to control you? Are the powers that be trustworthy? Are they righteous? Are they bringing forth good fruits only?

They don't know about you to use that information for evil means by being given the information by God. It is Satan who sets them up to destroy with evil means. This is a struggle for your heart and mind. Don't listen to those who tell you to be evil. Salvation doesn't lie in doing evil. Evil is not purging. Evil is corrupting. Overcome. Bring forth the consciousness and conscience of peace.

Predictive software; preventing thought-crime

Computer software is being used and further developed to predict you. The goal is to know before you do what you will, or will not, feel, think, and do, given your history and the history of others, the current status or given predicted and controlled changes in the world. The goal is to conflate the computer with your reality to the nth degree to program you to trust them. This is what Jesus meant when he said the following:
For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect. (Mark 13:22).

And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them? (Luke 18:7).

At what point do feelings become crimes in order to preempt dissent against selfishness? The Red Scare was very much in the vein of emotional crime against capitalism. The excesses of a few who usurped the movement to giving and sharing were used to paint the whole thrust of anti-greed with the same color. Anything anti-greed was painted as being necessarily pro-Bolshevik and militant.

We have already seen preemption put in the forefront by the invasion of Iraq for the purpose of regime change so as to grasp the coveted oil wealth. We already have a very fuzzy mundane line about freedom of speech and press versus the right to be free from offensive language and behavior. The new commandment, of course, clears this up; but people have so far chosen not to live by that perfect example hence are yet to be saved from themselves.

Jesus believed in feeling-crimes. What I mean is that he believed that one sins in one's heart when one lusts for that which one ought not. God knows these relative sins. God is trustworthy to forgive them when the soul is earnestly working to overcome (shown to us by fruits). God/Jesus also believed, and believes, in human pacifism and ultimately all pacifism that is cosmic and heavenly peace and wholeness. Such is not the case with the worldly powers that be who are concerned with themselves rather than the whole of existence. They want to be the preemptive, coercive, thought-police without having the restrictions placed upon themselves.

Those powers that be have yet to reconcile to the point of eliminating their delusional paradoxes. Many so-called highbrows or intellectuals will argue for their cause thinking they are earnestly working on bringing forth the best possible world considering what they think they have justifiably identified as the inherent selfishness and stupidity of the species.

Now, different people follow this at different levels of religiosity or degrees of faith or belief in this new world order. Everyone working at the NSA and even more secretive installations though, for instance, shares in general greater faith in this system and its leaders than does the general public. Those who are on the receiving end of oppression and suppression, of course, as a whole contain the most members who have the strongest doubts in, and knowledge of the disingenuousness of, the motivations and intentions of those who are further constructing this fallen world. The new world order is not new at all.

New world order

The new world order (really the same old world order of the serpent) is being based upon computer databases and software sitting on the most powerful computer system in the world.
with tentacles or links or network connections being fed by an ever-increasing diet. Those databases contain growing information to one degree or another on nearly everyone in the US with the world's commercialized population constantly being absorbed. With huge US international corporations being hired to run vast portions of China's Internet connectivity and other commercial and so-called privatized aspects, the Empire has a doorway open for faith-invasion and takeover. Of course, that the whole system allows for two-way traffic and competition for hearts, minds, and souls is a constant regardless of the degree to which people have it in the forefront of their thoughts. Huge corporations have been maneuvered behind the senses into giving over information for the cause. It is all part of an understanding at the Empire level and ranging from vague to very focused (depending upon the individuals). It is all part of the military-industrial-congressional complex. Large corporations are headed up primarily by conservative capitalists who are beholden to conservative major shareholders all of whom want their worldly assets in the Empire system protected. The US military and intelligence system and to the degree to which the military, industry, and intelligence of other capitalists nations can be coerced and cajoled into agreement and corresponding action, is their alarm system, their private detective, their security guard, their dungeon and torture master, their hit man (through secret Pentagon military special forces units comprising elite Navy SEALs and Army Green Berets), and really whatever their consciousness conjures into being by the magical application of their unrighteous arts. It is the unrighteous spirit over matter and reality.

It is the inevitable outcome of the U.S. Constitution. It's the inevitable result of the lack of the global commons under universal repentance.

There has only been a little bit of congressional oversight of these operations. The operations have been viewed as the sole purview of a very powerful executive. The theory in American democracy (constantly changing as it is) is that the people will choose an executive leader they may trust not to do anything detrimental to the people. It is a faith. It is a religion, just as capitalism. The people are choosing the system and subsystems and the one and ones they agree to follow in faith. Due to all the abuses that surfaced during and after the Nixon administration along with the general history of suppression and other negatives associated with capitalism and racism, etc., some of the lust for power of the presidency was deliberately diminished to check the potential for runaway power by the executive.

For those too young to remember or who have forgotten or just weren't paying attention at the time, the president was viewed as being very much omnipotent and trustworthy prior to the downfall of Nixon. Many people before that downfall assumed that the president had the power to order people assassinated outside and within the US and could not be challenged by the congress or courts concerning such matters when it came to national defense and security. That was the conservative view that was shot down by more moderate voices. The conservatives have been secretly restoring that mentality. It is the nationalistic, imperialistic (expansionistic, empire-building) mentality. It's that simple. It has its multiple layers of intrigue. It has its layers of graft and corruption and money laundering and all manner of activities that make the Mafia look like just a little microcosmic peek that it is on the greater organized crime (evil, lusting of all kinds) that permeates everything. This is what Satan rails about not without evidence. However, there is hope for those who will not close their eyes but nevertheless refuse to partake and go further to speaking out and taking the heat that results from Satan who doesn't want any interference in the spirit of paying back lust with lust.

Meanwhile, that spirit is what God waits for souls to recognize and to overcome through real love showing mercy and, therefore, receiving it.

Remember, there is justice. That's the good news. The good news isn't gleeful in vengeance. It is gleeful in salvation. Salvation is justice. Americans get up in arms about being spied upon by the NSA; however, are they able to put themselves in the shoes of non-Americans living in other countries when those others learn that it is completely legal under the mundane international law for the NSA and others, including nations other than the US, to scour all their electronic transmissions and receptions? How invaded they feel. How offended at the US they must feel. This is not to say that they have anything necessarily immoral on their minds they wish to keep hidden. It is to say that many people just imagine all the abuses that take place with such total information awareness by Big Brother. How people must hate the brazenness of people constantly looking over their shoulders affording them zero privacy.

For many people, the only reason they want privacy is because of the on-going, grave sins of others more so than any fear of exposure of their own sins of the past for which they have repented. They know how evil people use information for evil purposes. Criminals in and out of government steal and do all sorts of other terrible things in an attempt to feed their lusts.

The US is far from the only nation engaged in such activities. The so-called intelligence agencies, being merged with domestic policing agencies around the world where they weren't already, are involved in international espionage touching upon every sector of society. The domestic side of this merger is bent upon total information awareness within the given nations.

Building omnipresent surveillance in the United Kingdom

Surveillance cameras and microphones and other sensors are being installed to the extent of becoming omnipresent on the mundane level. Even as I enter this in 2005, there are an estimated five hundred thousand closed circuit television cameras for surveillance in London and four and a quarter-plus million of such cameras throughout the United Kingdom. People can be followed, literally, all day long. When coupled with other technologies and super computers, the possibilities for horrendous abuses by a runaway, panicked government bent upon its vision of safety, security, and necessary control is very real. The idea that checks and balances can control such abuses by those whose system is built upon greed and self-centeredness is illusory.

Radio Frequency Identification Devices (RFID) are being readied to replace barcodes and are to be embedded into the products themselves, even fabrics. These RFID chips are powerless radio transmitters. When they are within range of a power receiver, they transmit their location and their identity. Their identity is linked in real time with databases containing the history of the item cross referenced to all transaction information. Of course, those data will link with the Total Information Awareness databases concerning each individual with that view to total recall as well, since the memories of these systems it is intended shall never be purged. The point is that power receivers could become omnipresent in the worldly capitalistic and control society and culture.

The worldly the proponents of this dehumanizing and dangerous invasiveness referred to under this system is being called the Ambient Intelligence Society (AmI society). In this society, computing and networking technology would be embedded in everything, even human flesh. There are people who have already opted to be embedded with the next level Mark of the Beast. After all, this vision is based upon selfishness. It is given over to the control of the selfish.

If you don't want to be embedded or tracked by the technology, you will have to live outside the tech zone. Communes that are free of that invasive technology will be a God send. Being able to produce everything the communes need free of such technology will be required.

England is constructing fascistic band aids rather than getting at the root of the problem: Selfishness. Look at the direction they are headed: An Official Secrets Act that trumps freedom of the press; cameras increasingly everywhere; limits on political speech in the name of security; the largest and fastest growing governmental DNA bank in the world holding citizen-DNA samples; and more.

Now, both the US and UK are busy, as are other nations, developing all sorts of biometric-identification technologies along with tracking and recording technologies that are being rolled out in the name of safety and security. Cell phones will all have global positioning system (GPS) devices built in that the user may not be able to turn off without turning off the phone. Cars are coming equipped with black-box recorders much like those in airplanes. These devices cannot be removed without rendering the car inoperable. GPS devices are also being added to cars and may be integrated into the cars computer software to prevent the car user from turning off the device. Phone companies have been ordered to maintain customer phone logs on all customers showing all calls to and from customer numbers. We have seen that phone companies have cooperated in secret with the US government in warrantless wiretapping of US citizens on US soil. We have seen computer printer and photo copy equipment manufacturers cooperate in secret with the US government in creating hidden markings on printouts from those machines identifying the machine and traceable to the purchaser. We have seen the US Department of Defense maintaining databases on possible political dissidents based upon anonymous so-called tips. We have seen the FBI and US Department of Energy Nuclear Emergency Support Team using religious profiling for warrantless searches. We also see the government using search-engine logs from major Internet search engines. The list goes on and on.

Of course, there are mundanely reasonable explanations for all of this; however, it is all truly based on coercion and not at all on changing people’s hearts by the power of love and truth. Is it Satan or God? It is the apostate state trying to take heaven by force while themselves being libertine where the general public cannot see them. It is stone throwing by unforgiving, unrepentant sinners. It is hypocrisy. If you are a real Christian, you know it's Satanic. You know it will be abused. You know untrustworthy people will have secret access and will misuse and abuse. You know that they will attack truly repentant people thereby attacking the only solution.

Of course, the human race gets what it deserves in the aggregate, not that the saints will pay eternally for the misplaced faith of apostates. They won't. As Jesus said, evil must come. It is coming. It is accelerating. It is coming headlong at itself.

Tony Blair has gone public with the fact that his government is eavesdropping on members of the United Kingdom Parliament. There had been a forty year ban on such spying.
Uncoerced redemption to become extinct

The problem with all of this is that people are being labeled behind the scenes and sometimes in public in ways that show the system is unforgiving. The system has lost the ambition for complete rehabilitation. People are marked and penalized for life for things they did before repenting to God. This mundane system is now obsessed with the impossibility of uncoerced redemption. They act as if the convict can never come to see the light, the covetous cannot become the generous and charitable, the violent cannot become the pacific, the sexual addict cannot become the celibate, etc. This of course is not true.

Jesus saved, and still saves, sinners. His message and life reformed tax collectors, prostitutes, adulterers, killers, thieves, cheaters, liars, and all manner of other sinners. Once they were saved, they were accepted. Paul had been a terrible self-admitted sinner who gave up all the violently coercive ways of his past. None of the disciples would have claimed he or she had never sinned.

It is true that we are never supposed to do anything that we would be ashamed to admit openly in public, but for human beings to take it upon themselves to eliminate all privacy of those being surveilled who have not voluntarily given up that privacy to them is usurping God's position.

The reason this is so important is because God forgives perfectly. God allows the individual's thought to ruminate over sins. The human system though is becoming such that the very act of working to discern where truth is divided from falsehood becomes suspect and punishable. The labeling of people is retroactive and indelible in terms of the current direction of the all-seeing state. It is a nightmare in the making.

Contrary to the way the worldly system is headed, we are not to be coercively, militantly policed from the outside. We are to police ourselves with the guidance and assistance of God. God blots out our sins. This new world order has no intention of that. This is the always-hounding inspector Javert of Victor Hugo's novel Les Misérables come to life in the form of Big Brother. The ex-convict, Jean Valjean, in Hugo's novel would never be allowed to overcome and rise under the current system.

The worldly leadership is causing the system to mark people as if a genuine (uncoerced) change of heart is not possible. The impetus for behavior that conforms to the social norms as defined by the mundane system is fear of coercive power of that artificial, self-authorized deity. It is not written in one's heart in that case.

In carrying the current system's attitude out to expose its failed logic, one can see that only those born perfect and who have never sinned are acceptable. After all, who doesn't belong on a list of sinners (past or present)? Where may one become acceptable? There are groups of people who voluntarily associate with one another. Those groups may set standards of behavior for members. Nation-states, however, are involuntary groupings. There is no place on earth that is reasonably inhabitable that is not under the jurisdiction of a nation-state. Where would the Londoner go to escape the cameras? As the direction continues and technology allows for ever-greater invasiveness, where will anyone go to have private thoughts shared only with God?

The pressure of temptation escalated via violence in so-called entertainment comes headlong against the all-seeing eye. This is a terrible mixed signal to give to the people, especially the youth. It is a terrible position in which humanity is placing itself. Mental illnesses will be compounded as a result.

People don't get into and remain in heaven because God is constantly watching them and they are afraid of doing anything wrong and being punished for it. People get into heaven and stay there because their hearts are known to God as being trustworthy regardless of whether or not anyone is watching them. They want to be good for goodness' sake. They wouldn't go wrong even if the watchful eye of human beings were gone. They are spiritual kin to God. God doesn't need human beings watching God keeping God on the straight and narrow. We are to be as God is. We are not to require a coercive eye in the sky.

The consequences of evil are real. People really learn from those consequences. When they really learn, they learn that selfishness in the heart is the problem all the way around. They learn that being an all-invasive eye with a stick in hand is not the way to heaven on earth. It is the path to hell. The stick invariably is used injudiciously with a resulting backlash in the form of violent resistance. This escalates into large scale warfare.

NSA cheating for industrial espionage

Specifically again concerning the NSA, employees have admitted that the NSA has aided US corporations with stolen information gathered from foreign entities by the NSA. The former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, James Woolsey, admitted that Airbus Industries and Thomson CSF lost billion-dollar contracts with Saudi Arabia and Brazil\(^\text{108}\) in this manner. This kind of activity is routine for most of the wealthy capitalist countries. There isn't one major nation on earth that isn't engaged in espionage and counter-espionage and without distinction between the so-called public and private sectors both foreign and domestic.

It is blatant theft. It is criminal regardless of whether or not the mundane law forbids it. It is forbidden by the commandment of God. Anyone calling himself or herself a faithful believer in God who engages in such theft is in danger of damnation. This theft is the inevitable result of the capitalist-system mentality that is based upon lust over righteousness rather than the other way around.

---

Privatized, for-profit intelligence

The NSA activity started in 1952 under Harry Truman. The Nixon administration was caught spying on Americans using the system. It is also important for people to understand that, under the GROUNDBREAKER program, NSA's hardware and software has been supplied for a number of years by private contractors.

The NSA cannot guarantee that their contractor-suppliers do not have backdoors into NSA's conclusions concerning data-stream analysis. Don't be fooled. The data are streaming through for-profit entities. That's where the NSA obtains it. It isn't all tapped into unbeknownst to the major corporations. Secret deals are made for profit and to further the Empire and consequently the oligarchy. The data run through fiber optics and over the wireless portions of the network. At some point in the overall network, the NSA filters, grabs, decrypts, analyzes, and compresses and stores communications using ever more powerful supercomputers. The privatization of large areas of the NSA has already taken place. The NSA's own computer security is supplied by private for-profit interests. This remains empire building. The people have simply moved to the ultimately more devouring private sector. This is declassified information readily available on the Internet.

This system is looking out for whom? Is this the path to doing what Jesus told us to be about doing? The NSA mission is to perpetuate private, special advantages and privileges. Is anyone ultimately trustworthy with powerful secrets who has his or her faith in such a system? No. This is what Jesus informs us. One cannot have his or her heart in both places. It hasn't worked, isn't working, and never will. It is a miserable failure compared with how things ought to be.

Impeachable

President George W. Bush formally admitted authorizing the NSA to wiretap the international communications of American citizens whom he claims were communicating from the US with known al Qaeda members or those affiliated with known terrorist organizations in other countries. He authorized such spying on US citizens without obtaining any court-issued warrants. Many hold that to be in direct violation of the US Constitutional prohibition against unreasonable searches. Others hold that it is in direct violation of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. They hold that it is an impeachable offense and grounds for removing the president from office.

The Bush-43 administration holds that the act says that another statute can override the act. The Bush-43 administration holds that the Authorization for Use of Military Force against terrorist, dated September 18, 2001, and passed by the US Congress, is such a statute.

The President is authorized to use all necessary and appropriate force against those nations, organizations, or persons he determines planned, authorized, committed, or aided the terrorist attacks that occurred on September 11, 2001, or harbored such organizations or persons, in order to prevent any future acts of international terrorism against the United States by such nations, organizations or persons.

The Bush-43 administration holds that the authorization in constituting a grant to the president of unlimited power to use force against terrorists also inherently grants the president the power to use signals intelligence against the enemy which intelligence may include at the president's sole discretion warrantless wiretaps on American soil against American citizens not previously suspected but who communicate with those the president suspects might be terrorists or terrorist affiliates. Actually, the administration believes that the president may spy on anyone he wants, anywhere, and at anytime. As with Nixon, he says one thing in public and does another in private. Every president has done this; however, every president has been wrong to do it.

In order to determine who planned, authorized, committed, or aided in the 9-11 attacks, and to prevent future attacks, the president has authorized filtering all communications. It is snooping without probable cause. Their excuse is that no human will overview the communication unless the software flags it. Do you trust them not to cheat?

The same lawyers who argue for the president also argue in favor of strict construction and original intent (legislative). What was the intent of the US Congress? The administration specifically asked for extended powers that would have allowed it to use the NSA in the manner in which it went ahead and used it anyway and was told "no" by the US Congress. The intention of the US Congress not to give the president the power to use the NSA as the president has used the NSA is clear.

The FBI has followed up on thousands of leads given it by the NSA. The FBI has been very critical of the leads as being nearly all, if not all, dead-ends. How does this reflect upon the statement that those outside the US who were the other parties in the communications were known terrorists? These terrorists were known as terrorists on the same level that the administration knew that there were massive stockpiles of weapons of mass destruction in Iraq and that Iraq was directly linked to al Qaeda and was trying to obtain yellowcake, etc.

The administration's position is just trust them that they had, and have, a reasonable basis to suspect each person outside the US in these communications. Just trust the unrepentant. Just trust Richard Nixon. Just trust Oliver North. Can you trust unrepentant Watergate burglars? Can you trust unrepentant arms brokers? Can you trust anyone who clamors for the rule of law and then goes right around that law or puts himself above that very law? Can you trust any news sources which award such behavior?

Ronald Reagan lied to the people

How could you trust Ronald Reagan? He said the following in November 1986 about the Iran-Contra Scandal:

Ronald Reagan lied to the people
We did not, repeat, did not trade weapons or anything else for hostages, nor will we. He followed up on March 4th, 1987, by saying:

A few months ago I told the American people I did not trade arms for hostages. My heart and my best intentions still tell me that's true, but the facts and the evidence tell me it is not.

I approved an arms shipment. This is saying I did it, but I didn't. It is self-denial. It is having one's fingers crossed behind one's back as he tells a lie. It is not a sincerely repentant statement. It is hedging. That's the mindset we must all overcome. Real repentance contains no hedging for ego's sake.

How can Reagan's administration be believed concerning the October Surprise? (See: Index.) What benefit of the doubt can we afford Reagan? That was his way. He was not as slow as he let on. It was a cover. He was a better actor than people understood. He allowed himself to be handled, to appear to be handled, because he understood that it was all part of the movie-making process. He was a product of the Hollywood image machine and his administration was somewhat a mirror image of the huge Hollywood studios that manufactured the movie stars of Reagan's generation. Hollywood was much better at it then.

It was a much more refined industrial process. It was a more methodical madness. Just look at the Hollywood propaganda movies of World War II. They were religious. They still reverberate attempting to drown out the sanity of the Christian message of pacifism. "Praise the Lord, and Pass the Ammunition."

Today, we see soldiers and people at home believing that incendiary rain from US helicopters is God's rain. Well, it is Satan's rain with God directing Satan to burn himself out. Don't partake. It will happen, because people are spiritually blind and deaf but don't you partake.

Reagan lies: Reagan told other lies in office that he continued repeating over and over even after having been publicly corrected. He told stories about his having been a US Army photographer at Nazi concentration camps during the liberation. It wasn't true. He also told stories about having been a wartime pilot when he had only been one in the movies. He also repeated that the trees in the world cause more pollution than the cars and factories at the time. He was saying this even before much was being done in the way of pollution control. Trees don't cause pollution. They helped clean it up. He grossly exaggerated and embellished his stories about welfare-recipient fraud and other matters, which exaggerating and embellishment is a standard ploy used by all lying presidents. It's what both Bushes did concerning their lead-ups to invading Iraq.

There are many other examples of Reagan lies and distortions. There were many things about Reagan his handlers, as he referred to them (often as an excuse to duck questions), worked hard to cover up. Reagan and his wife, Nancy, constantly consulted astrologers throughout his career. They set schedules and made decisions based upon the advice of their favored astrologer at the time. Reagan's choice of George H. W. Bush to be vice president was based upon calculations made from astrological charts. The Reagans scheduled many things down to the minute based upon astrology.

Reaganite corruption

In addition, the Reagan administration was loaded with people who were investigated, indicted, and convicted at an unprecedented rate in US history.

Racist Reagan

Reagan was against minority rights. He was a vocal opponent of the US Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965. This translates into racism. He openly expressed strong sympathy for states’ rights. Again, even though there is conflation of both centralization and decentralization within the revelation, states’ rights as advocated by conservative Republicans and at the time by Dixiecrats, translated into racism and favoring Jim Crow laws. Reagan was also against the anti-apartheid movement against South Africa's then ultra-racist regime. For those too young to remember, apartheid means apartness. The indigenous Africans in South Africa were forced to live on reservations called bantustans. Working and living conditions were terrible. Everything was segregated for the benefit of the white expropriators and exploiters who became very rich and powerful off the backs of those who were slaves for all practical purposes. Reagan was not against this system.
but was pushed by the anti-apartheid movement on the issue.

It was the issue of racism that has led to Republican ascendancy. It is the false liberal toleration (silence condoning of depravity) that has led to Republican ascendancy. At the 1948 Democratic National Convention, Hubert Humphrey stated the following:

To those who say that this civil rights program is an infringement on states' rights, I say this, that the time has arrived in America for the Democratic Party to get out of the shadows of states' rights and walk forthrightly into the bright sunshine of human rights.

This led to the Dixiecrat revolt. The Dixiecrats couldn't stand the idea of equal rights for those then called Negroes in America. The Republicans saw it as a wedge issue that they have continued to exploit right up to the present. However, the Republicans have turned away from emphasizing states' rights since they aren't willing to be out of the closet racists now that they are attempting to convert slave descendents into conservative Republicans. Now the Republicans emphasize an anti-sexual depravity message that registers with many who would otherwise be more class conscious as Jesus was decidedly class conscious. In other words, the evil of certain kinds of permissiveness has trumped the evil of material and monetary greed. The task today is to establish real righteousness that neither the Republicans nor Democrats support.
The rather moderate Republicans by today's standard, in order to win in the South, courted the segregationists of the South within the Democratic Party. Richard Nixon was conservative but today would be considered moderate. He favored, some would say co-opted, the idea for the Environmental Protection Agency. Nixon didn't argue against the goals put forth by candidate and later president John F. Kennedy for instance. He argued against the scope and type of federalism of the New Deal policies of president Franklin D. Roosevelt that were still the heart of the Kennedy wing of the Democratic Party. Today's Republicans, however, have been generally anti-environmental. That's changing now that it's too late to head off some environmental tribulation that is coming. War, famine, and plagues are coming. The earth in upheaval is coming.

The saying is that politics makes strange bedfellows. It means that people will prostitute themselves (compromise) for selfish reasons. Prostitution itself is inherently selfish. Some are driven to it, which is also the sin of those driving others to it. Despite that great sin, one is always in a position to decline even at the cost of one's life in this evil world. It is an individual's choice.

Reagan was also an extreme anti-environmentalist. Reagan actually had the new solar panels removed from the White House. The nation had just been through the OPEC oil embargo crisis of 1973 less than a decade before and the shorter lived energy crisis of 1979. Reagan's move was a slap in the face to a policy shift toward alternative, renewable, sustainable, clean energy. It was completely shortsighted and backwards thinking. Yet, the conservatives want to hold Ronald Reagan up as the epitome of great leadership. He was a great leader into greater lust and all the physical and spiritual pollution that results. The leaders of the nations still do not lead to save the planet from destruction.

The truth is that the Nixon administration and Reagan administration were two of the most corrupt administrations in US history. With Nixon, they couldn't cover for him. It was too late. With Reagan, they determined from the outset to run all about covering for him and to fabricate a benign image. They packaged him. They made the outside of the box appealing to those who wanted to be fooled while the contents grew ever more toxic.

Bill Clinton

Concerning Bill Clinton, the conservatives were bound and determined to cast him in the worst light possible. This is not to say that Bill Clinton was saintly. It is to say that the conservative power brokers and their aspiring and slavish minions were not concerned with morality but with winning. This is exactly the right criticism of Bill Clinton also. Nevertheless, sin remains relative as Jesus observed and related to us concerning Pontius Pilate.

Despite constant digging, the conservative Republicans weren't able to undermine Clinton on the basis of any malfeasance in his conduct in his official capacity as president. Therefore, they went after Clinton for personal indiscretions. In trying to entangle him in his speech, they ended up arguing semantics with him concerning what constitutes sexual relations (coitus versus fellatio). They failed in their attempt to remove him from office, but they did manage to expose his marital infidelity to the world. This was enough ammunition to use with a huge number of voters turned off by the sleaze (including the uncontrolled voyeurism of Republicans). It was especially effective with so-called conservative Christians who are more than happy to apply double standards concerning morality.

It is that double standard that brings to leadership the likes of Bill Clinton and George W. Bush. Clinton and Bush's sins are different but also all rooted in lust. That's were mine are rooted. That's were everyone's are rooted. Jesus taught us that lust will be uprooted and/or the root will be converted. Those are our only choices. We can cling to lust and allow lust to have its roots burrowed (clawed) into us, in which case we, our souls, will be uprooted with the lust when the greater whole converts our universe, or we can convert our souls displacing the root of lust in the microcosm before that greater uprooting occurs, in which case we won't be expelled along with the displaced lust.

The metaphors are mixed here on purpose just as they are mixed via Jesus's parables when those parables are viewed in their totality. This is done to show where figurative thinking becomes literal thinking and vice versa. The word is reality. We exist within the consciousness of God, and that consciousness exists within us. We are a concept of God's, and we conceptualize God in return. Don't trap yourself in paradoxical thinking here! Don't let the traditional shortcomings of the human mind and heart stymie your revelation. God is infinite and absolute.

Vengeance is lust

The Republicans were embarrassed by Nixon, created a totally false image with Reagan, and are now seeking to come out of the closet and stay out of the closet with an unrepentant, unapologetic, Republican, global, capitalist dictatorship beginning with George W. Bush. They want to rejoice over the skeletons in the closet. They want to feel victory in battle on the side of selfishness even if it means losing in the end, which it does.

The US Congress, due to the excesses by Richard Nixon, had decided that it could not just trust the president. That's why it decided that the courts and congressional oversight had to be part of the process in order to check abuse and potential abuse. That's why the US Congress passed the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. The president's ego and the egos of the rich and rich wannabes struggle mightily against that.

Many people do not just trust them. We're not talking about forgiveness here for ignorance. We're talking about trust. They do not just trust them that people calling to, or from, Afghanistan and Iraq are not making purely political or journalistic calls for instance. They do not just trust them that the administration is not, through the NSA and other governmental spy agencies, busy gathering information for dirty tricks, the administration's forte. They do not just trust them that they have not rationalized their enemy into including all who do not agree with their agenda. They do not just trust them that they do not have a political-enemies list and that they aren't spying on those enemies using the NSA and all other means, mundanely legal or illegal.

Their fruit shows that they cannot be trusted. Their fruit includes working to ruin the lives of anyone who blows the whistle, internally or externally. People are demoted, ostracized, and fired without seeming recourse in many cases due to so-called national security that the administration uses to trump the courts. The courts are open. The so-called classified information would become public, so the administration refuses to hand over evidence that supports the whistleblower's cases. This must give everyone of conscience pause before going to work within certain realms in this life and world. Satan hates whistleblowers. In the right spirit, whistleblowers bring repentance. Satan hates being told he is wrong. He will not be truly chastened by God. He will only feign at best to trick the unwatchful. This is why he always looses in the end. That's what the whistleblowers must keep in mind. Don't seek revenge. Seek public cleansing. Seek mercy.

Whistleblowers

Potential whistleblowers are afraid they will lose out. However, the more whistleblowers there are, the further down the haughty will fall (into repentance if they are wise and learn to feel) and the more those haughty ones will be replaced by those in sympathy with the whistleblowers. It is a matter of strength in numbers. More importantly, the more whistleblowers (after they have followed the dictates of Jesus concerning how to blow the whistle), the more the evil positions will be eliminated all together.

The fruit of these conservatives is environmental pollution, dislocation, disenfranchisement, oppression, death, destruction, pestilence, famine, and all the rest of the bad. How can one trust anyone who has not repented from the position that war-making is noble or can ever be just? How can one trust anyone who has not repented from the position that capitalism is a noble or just cause?

How many members of the NSA refused to obey the president’s directive? How many refused to spy on their fellow citizens in a dragnet? They need to come forward about illegalities that have taken place, so that the American people and the world may understand that the time is at hand to repent. US citizens who had a mundanely legal right to an expectation of sacred privacy from the spying of other human beings had that privacy invaded.

Imperial presidency

Failing the argument that the Authorization for Use of Military Force is sufficient cover, the Bush-43 administration has a number of fallback positions. One position is that the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act itself is an unconstitutional restriction upon the president’s power and constitutional obligation to defend the nation.
They are using all the same arguments put forth by the Nixon administration. They are being highly selective in their interpretation of the president's authority. They are not looking at his authority in light of all those laws that directly limit that authority. They are deliberately ignoring all the limits and painting his power with broad strokes under the guise of protecting the American people.

If the Bush-43 administration prevails in its arguments, then a partial state of martial law will have existed since the Authorization for Use of Military Force. The president will have been granted the mundane legal authority to spy on US citizens without first clearing the hurdle of convincing the court that there is sufficient cause (probable cause) to suspect individual citizens of terroristic activities. The president will have been granted the authority to suspend those aspects of the US Constitution including the Bill of Rights he deems appropriate and necessary to suspend. In other words, the US will have been in a declared state of partial dictatorship since the date of the Authorization for Use of Military Force just as the Roman Senate gave over dictatorial powers during declared times of emergency. It all depends upon how it turns out, and that all depends upon the hearts of the people.

Dictatorship by evil can be stemmed or it can be unimpeded on its flow to totality. It's up to the people. They will get what they collectively deserve even as individuals and groups are spiritually saved.
International law, the supreme law of the US under the US Constitution

This whole thing comes down to where the powers that be are allowed to get away with being uncooperative. World War's I and II saw the League of Nations and the United Nations respectively put forth as supranational governments outlawing wars of aggression. Only wars of defense were internationally legal and that international law was constitutionally adopted within the US as the supreme law of the world. Now comes once again the conservatives putting forth that such is not the case. They put forth the premise that wars of preemption or prevention are the natural law. They did not obtain a constitutional mandate for their position. They did not obtain this authority through democratic means. They obtained it by fiat (arbitrarily, illegally).

Twisting the Authorization for Use of Military Force

They obtain an Authorization for Use of Military Force from the US legislative branch; however, that authorization by US law is subservient to the international law prohibiting wars not authorized under the United Nations. The invasion of Iraq was not authorized under international law and was, therefore, not constitutional under the US Constitution regardless of any reading of the Authorization for Use of Military Force. That authorization can only be read as conditional.
The president was given authorization subject to his not undertaking a war of aggression, among other things. A war of aggression under the law is a war that is not in self-defense. The war in Iraq was not in self-defense even in the mundane.

Even if the legislators' intent was to undertake a war of aggression, it would still be a mundanely illegal war. Even a US Supreme ruling that such was and is not the case would not render the invasion legal. It would simply constitute a fait accompli (fact accomplished). Of course, in the divine sense, all these laws are simply fait accompli. Such is the nature of cooperation versus competition and the hearts of the people concerning whether or not they feel they may act willfully or under God's will only (the real law). At any rate, under taking any war of aggression is an impeachable offense.

Also, the Act targeted those who supposedly attacked the US. Iraq had not attacked the US, wasn't planning to, and hadn't aided al Qaeda.

They will continue taking away any rights you once thought were inviolable. Ironically, they will do this in the names of freedom and democracy and equality of opportunity.

This is the same situation the Roman Empire faced when people became determined to physically resist and even attack the Empire eventually head on and at its center. This is what war brings on. This is what unchristian behavior has wrought since the beginning. This is the infinite darkness of mundane paradox. Neither side wins in this competition of lust.
All of this can be avoided by universal repentance. Do you see that?

Martial law

Under martial law, the civil liberties of the citizens are suspended until the crisis abates if the ruler declares the crisis over when it is truly over and is willing to restore civil liberties. If there is no crisis rising to the level where the president’s position of martial law is accepted, the president does not have the authority to order spying on Americans without a warrant issued by a court of public record.

---

Sidestepping the *Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act

The Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act court is not subject to real oversight. Its records are secret. Those with dirty agenda go around even that secret court. The only reason to do that is because they know they would be told no by the court. Even the secret-court judges would not have been able to rationalize, or turn a blind eye to, spying on all communications of possible (not known) al Qaeda members and so-called terrorist affiliates with citizens in the US. What is the burden of proof of suspicion for the administration in front of the secret court? How flexible is that court? Would that court have granted the administration the right to real-time surveillance of named al Qaeda members? What would that court have required of the administration? The court would have wanted the administration to satisfy the court that the administration really was confined to listening in on such individuals and that those individuals were suspected based upon reasonable grounds and that all such communications would remain completely confidential. These are the safe guards that were put into place to protect the citizens from governmental abuses that did occur under Nixon whose attitude the current administration shares with a vengeance.

As for having to react quickly, the police can act quickly while a crime is in progress. They don't have to stop to obtain a warrant while they are in hot pursuit. If one NSA lead were to lead the FBI to something in progress or about to occur, the FBI would be able to act. If they had reasonable grounds for suspicion of clear and present danger, the courts would forgive their aggressively following up on what turns out to be a bad lead.

The Holy Spirit is exposing evil

Many people are feeling simply overwhelmed by all the revelations concerning the conservatives and what they have been up to. Even many conservatives are feeling that way. They cannot understand how all of these things are getting out, being exposed, and why. Well, the continuity from Nixon to George W. Bush is being established. Ronald Reagan's legacy is rightfully being fully reappraised as a result, since he sat between them. George H. W. Bush cannot be extricated either, far from it. The Democrats don't escape with clean hands either, of course. Much of their doctrines contributed to, and furthered, the neoliberal agenda that are still the wolf in sheep's clothing. In fact, it's stealthier than that of the neocons. It hides behind the more giving and sharing spirit as it still ultimately feeds itself in excess and at the expense of others.

The Holy Spirit is literally responding to the cries of the people. The prophecy is being unfolded before your very eyes. The high, mighty, and haughty shall be brought low. They shall be confounded. The meek shall inherit the earth. There is no turning back. The communications revolution and the huge computer storage devices are making the history of all the doings of the conservative mentality and the villainous mentality a more open record. The patterns of behavior are being explained. The selfishness behind all the evil is being made clear. They will not be able to continue hiding behind a false piety. They will not be able to continue distorting the definition of Christianity. It is happening for the sake of righteousness.

We have all fallen to the evil temptation of selfishness. We must repent and atone or else.

With the CIA using extraordinary rendition and with the NSA spying on US citizens and with the Defense Intelligence Agency maintaining databases of supposed terrorist suspects who are just regular US citizens, how many US citizens have been disappeared from the US by the secret police? Whose missing? Don't forget that under attorney general John Ashcroft, the USA Patriot Act II was drafted up giving the president the power to remove US citizens from US soil without any oversight from anyone. In effect, the Bush-43 administration had drafted up legislation legalizing presidential dictatorship. Now, with minds such as that still in place within the administration, is there any wonder that much worse things have occurred than NSA domestic, warrantless spying?

This is not knowledge in hindsight. Long before the news broke about Bush's illegal authorization, we warned people in other countries receiving emails from us sent from within the US that the NSA would be checking those messages for keywords, etc. They did, and then they continued to monitor all of our domestic communication. We know this for a fact but won't reveal our sources or methods since they won't reveal theirs.

And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority dost thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him? But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet. And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. (Matthew 21:23-27).

In addition, the Holy Spirit has also outed the FBI and US Department of Energy Nuclear Emergency Support Team in their joint practice of using religious profiling to choose which places, including private property and homes, where they have conducted warrantless searches for evidence of radiation and chemicals.

Now, the Bush-43 administration has argued that such orders are constitutional. If that interpretation prevails, the US Constitution isn't worth the paper it's written on even in the mundane sense. Of course, all true Christians know that the Constitution of the United States of America is far from the whole letter and spirit of the great commandment as identified and quoted by Jesus Christ.

Understand here that the Holy Spirit is bringing these things out in the open. It is happening so that people will have no excuses concerning whom they support and why. If they continue supporting such orders and the unrepentant people who continue to make them, they will be knowingly sinning without even a shred of covering. This is in direct fulfillment of prophecy. There is no doubt about it. It is happening to separate the sheep from the goats. It will continue right on until the end. The time of rest for the conservatives and the iniquitous is over. The converts to real liberalism will not be lulled into silence again before the Son of man returns.
US envy of UK spying

What about the US partner in the push for global Anglo-Saxon Empire, the British? The British eavesdroppers at Britain’s Government Communications Headquarters (GCHQ), in Cheltenham, Gloucestershire, England have never been restricted from spying on British citizens regardless of where they are.

Carnivore

There is also the FBI’s (Federal Bureau of Investigation) Carnivore computer spy tool that has simply been renamed rather than discontinued as they would like people to think. Carnivore allows the FBI to read every bit of non-highly encrypted data that flows in and out of every personal and business computer using the Internet in the US and possibly elsewhere, since the FBI undertakes investigations outside the US proper. With the recent consolidation of spy, federal policing, and military agencies along with the push for the Total Information Awareness project (which is really Big Brother watching everyone all the time) and with Black Budget funding of enormous proportions and a history of leadership ready and willing to use the big and so-called noble lie, what kind of world do you know is in store for humanity if humanity does not turn to godliness?
Photocopy machines and printers tracking heretofore anonymous dissident publications

Now we know through the efforts of the Electronic Frontier Foundation that color printer manufacturers have designed their machines so that heretofore secret code has been on every printout from their machines. They did this in alliance with the US Department of the Treasury so that the government and those manufacturers have been able to tell the serial number of the printer and the date and time of every printout apparently going back over a decade at least in the case of the first machine concerning which the Electronic Frontier Foundation cracked the code. Therefore, if someone has printed out something that the government or anyone else with access to the databases doesn't like, for as long as the printout and data exist, the printout may be traced at least to the original purchaser. Further investigation and coercion could yield many otherwise anonymous authors of dissenting tracks.

The ostensible reason given by the government and manufacturers is to make it easier to catch counterfeiters. That may be one of the reasons or the prime reason, but it does not preclude the government or others from abusing the system for other purposes. Now, if the government has been successful in stealthily putting this government-manufacturer program in place that had remained a secret for many years, concerning how many other industries has the government arranged to be able to know more about everything that is going on? What other tracking or other eavesdropping technologies has the government put into place? What kinds of secret doors do they have through the ubiquitous technologies that billions of people are using throughout their lives and into their otherwise private communications with each other concerning all manner of things? How may people be assured that they are speaking in confidence or private? How long will it be before they may not be assured that they are even thinking privately or sacredly praying privately?

Certain spying is sacrilegious. It violates the free exercise of real Christianity.

Cannot force heaven on earth or in heaven

How many times must it be said that we cannot force heaven to come to earth? We cannot police one another into a heavenly existence. Heaven can only be obtained through free choice to do righteousness for righteousness' sake. Convince them! This is why Jesus simply shook the dust from his feet rather than spilling blood. This is why, contrary to Mohammed's teaching that slaughter is better than oppression, Jesus taught not to do either oppressing or slaughtering.

Mohammed taught that human violence is noble to free the oppressed. Jesus taught that violence will befall the violent thereby freeing the innocent; however, rather than being the violent, be the persecuted for the sake of peace... now and forever that is the true nobility. Only one of them is right.

Which way is better, a world where everyone is threatened with slaughter if he or she doesn't conform to some double standard or a world in which there is no oppression or slaughtering or threats? I choose Jesus's way. Do you?

George's way is Mohammed's only he believes in Skull and Bones. Mohammed believed in a god, but not God.

Now, the Christian is not supposed to be doing anything against the great commandment and hence is not supposed to be doing anything concerning which he or she would be ashamed were it to become public. However, fear of exposure of wrongdoing that has not been the subject of one's repentance is not the issue here.

There should be repentance concerning all sins. The issue here is with the surreptitiousness of the whole mentality behind such coding. Is this the best way to prevent offenses? Jesus did not go about stealthily to catch people in crime. He spoke openly about the need for living non-hypocratically that is to the best of our abilities in keeping with the spirit of the great commandment (everything it implies that is the spirit behind all the law: Unselfishness).

The conservatives must change the functioning of their consciences. Their mentality and not the liberal mentality allowed for blatant slavery in America beginning in the early 1600's until the end of the American Civil War in 1865. Of course, that mentality permeated the world long before the English landed in the Americas. The black Africans captured and traded one another by the millions. The Spanish and Portuguese had a huge slave trade to the Americas. The Arabs had long been slave traders before that. Slavery is much older than the Muslims though. The real liberals, contrary to the conservatives, were more closely exemplified by the Quakers (Society of Friends) who were pacifists and abolitionists early on. This is not to say that we endorse all of the various Quaker theological positions. We don't. We differ widely from much of Quakerism.

Great Awakenings

The Second Great Awakening in the US (1820's and 30's) was made up of more than the Quakers and gave rise to the Abolitionist Movement to abolish slavery. As with the Third Great Awakening in the US (1858-1908), it was a social-gospel awakening in many parts of the US. Christian evangelicals were moved by the Holy Spirit to speak out bravely against slavery and were instrumental in its abolition. The laws and the war to bring them about was all coercive, and we don't approve of war to right a wrong. We would rather those of the Southerners who were for slavery to be brought around to just thinking, without anyone resorting to war. We understand that there will be those who will ask if that kind of peace (appeasement in their eyes) could be justified in light of the continued forced servitude of the Blacks. We believe that if words of truth and the exemplification of pacifism only are used forevermore in the face of injustice that all wrongs will be righted and that the pattern of wrong thinking will be eliminated therefore. We believe that that is the only way it will happen. The followers of William Lloyd Garrison became known as Garrisonians for instance. Garrison was a very brave pacifist who, true to real Christianity, refused to accept an office in worldly government. He initially referred to the US Constitution as a "covenant with death and an agreement with Hell." He held that position because of the arguments put forth by the states' rights types that the constitution allowed for slavery. Of course, the ambiguity of the constitution did allow for it even while it contained a spirit against it. The constitution was, and remains, a natural reflection of the irreconcilable house that is the US.

Civil War historian James M. McPherson said the following:

All people were equal in God's sight; the souls of black folks were as valuable as those of whites; for one of God's children to enslave another was a violation of the Higher Law, even if it was sanctioned by the Constitution.

Where is the awakened spirit in the US against the racism that claims all Arabs are deserving of inferior protection under the law? How can there be reconstructionists/dominionists backing racism on the part of false Zionists in Israel and elsewhere? Where are those who seek to restore and enhance the original gospel teaching and living of the earliest apostles?

Far from the Great Awakening spirit, the conservative mentality also allowed for the genocidal atrocities against the aboriginal peoples of the North American continent, the American Indians, just as aboriginal peoples throughout the world have been pushed aside by racist elitists who, far from being superior, were nothing more than selfish, greedy bullies. The treaties with the American Indians were invariably broken by the conservatives of the day. The Indians were forcibly removed from their homes even when being very peaceful. They were forcibly assimilated with devastating results. They were intentionally diseased and attacked to remove them from the land coveted by the then spirit of the same conservatives of today. The real liberals were always against the ill-treatment of the Indians and always desired to honor the treaties.

Conscience, compassion, and false conservatism

The conscience of the conservative allows for present day mercenaries, private armies, body guards, private military contractors, soldiers of fortune, and all the rest that comes of the violent mentality. There is no such thing as compassionate conservatism. Compassion is the sole property of the liberal spirit.

This includes the take of the Blue Dog Coalition (so-called moderate and conservative Democrats) within the Democratic Party. They see compassion as important, but they want to practice compassion within a fiscal discipline within the worldly system. Their pay-as-you-go policy is more egalitarian; however, pay everything into compassion is the right approach. Unfortunately, that right approach and capitalism are diametrically opposed.

This so-called compassionate conservatism believes that teaching people how to be selfish is the way. It is the wrong spirit. They want people to be able to compete. They claim that liberalism is the false liberalism that hooked people on assistance. However, real liberalism teaches cooperation. That's the only right way. It is everyone assisting, serving, everyone else. That's the Christian way. It is the only thing consistent with the real spirit of compassion.

The conservatives need to turn from the error of their ways before it is too late for them. How can anyone remain dispassionate about horrific US governmental actions? How can anyone equate any of their actions with godliness? Is it any wonder that wrath will rain down?

How often have the conservatives practiced the Christian prescription of not violently resisting (for righteousness’ sake and not expediency)? This goes beyond nonviolent resistance. Jesus made clear that each of us is to do good to those who call us enemy. Why are people not doing good to those who hate them? Do the injured not wish to be forgiven themselves? Jesus did good to those who called him enemy when he went through what he did, though the conservative hardhearted would never see it or emulate it. Many people who would have continued down the path of evil turned as a result of Jesus. He did them good. We are to return good for evil.

All the nations of the world will be judged according to their works. How often has America made amends: Settled with the adversary in the true spirit of the law (before being hauled before the court of final judgment)? How often have American administrations put morality above what they have seen as the expedient support of brutal puppet dictators? How often have American administrations actually become bellicose and gone looking for a fight as if war is an ennobling experience?

The Cold War of the Twentieth Century between America and Russia was no exception. Were it not for the mutually assured destruction of global thermonuclear war, America would have had a hot war with Russia. The war did not remain cold due to any effort to make amends with each other. Neither are economic sanctions an exception.

Economic sanctions as evil

Economic sanctions were placed upon lands and peoples not considered at the time as of sufficient militarily strategic interest to America to upset the balance of power and the containment principle. Now, destabilization is in vogue to boldly divide and conquer. It is painting a bull's eye on America's children.

The sanctions against Iraq, the Band-Aid that was the UN Oil for Food Program, and the corruption that was exposed concerning the program are all symptomatic of the same root disease that is selfishness. It caused the problem before Saddam Hussein was even born. Saddam Hussein is a product of the selfish world. He is a creation, as are we all. The world can't cure itself by reacting selfishly in any direction. Saddam was abused as a child. The world didn't work to cure him, heal him, and to stop the disease of selfishness that caused the abuse that confused his soul. The world just reacted to his symptoms with the same symptoms. There are those who say the world is better off now. Is the disease cured? No it is not. Has it been lessened? Is the treatment going to lead to a cure? It will take much of the body with it that would otherwise have been saved. All those applying the treatment will go with the disease. It's a terrible idea, but those left will, thank God, be free of the insanity.

Duping the middle class

Now America has the whole world in its sights, and much of the world is keeping more than a wary eye on America. America, the new conservatives say, has a vested interest in the entire planet. They use the term "vested interest" to avoid the connection with the concept of selfish interest. A vested interest in this context is a private, personal, special advantage for the elite: Interest in private economic holdings. America is about asserting the false right of killing others in the interest of protecting certain American's private, personal, special advantages.

America, under wannabe-aristocrat liars (those self-described of the so-called noble lie), sees itself as in the permanent war, the permanent revolution of the dictatorship not of the Marxist-Communist proletariat but of the duped American bourgeoisie (middle-class capitalists), violently overthrowing by any means necessary all other forms of government in the world including the governance of God that is Christlikeness. This conservative capitalist revolution is a spiritual dead cousin of the same violent revolution of its arch enemy: Bolshevism/Trotskyism. Rather than the proletariat (the labor class under capitalism) assuming the vanguard position in the violent (Trotskyite) worldwide revolution it is the disappearing bourgeoisie that is being duped by the most selfish at the top into providing the backbone for the permanent revolutionary war attempting to lead to elitist-capitalist global monopoly and definitely not real democracy.

The middle and lower classes have been well trained not to have any class-consciousness at all. Originally, industrial and other workers were very conscious of class distinctions. They were constantly aware of the unfair disparity between the robbers at the top and the workers below upon whose backs the economy ran, and still runs. They weren't fooled by the upper class. However, that upper class has succeeded for a long while now, persecuting the most class-conscious among the proletariat (labor) into submission and co-opting the labor movement via coercion and draconian laws limiting the people's ability to establish just and fair societies. The people became and remained too disorganized, too uncommitted, too self-centered, to sustain the movement leading to the best. Simply, they were unwilling to refuse to cooperate with fundamental unfairness regardless of the diabolical actions of the devils in charge. The people allowed those devils to usurp God's position in their hearts and minds. The people fell. They didn't take up their crosses to follow Jesus. They allowed the devils to takeover the church and to suppress the radicalism and class-consciousness that is the message of salvation.

There are two classes: The proverbial sheep and goats. Figuratively, the sheep are one fold sharing the commons. The goats are too self-absorbed to live in free-sharing peace.

Eugene V. Debs and Robert M. La Follette, Sr.

The pinnacles of egalitarianism so far in America were FDR's New Deal and LBJ's Great Society, which isn't saying much since both were still far from the grassroots commons of Christianity. Both the New Deal and Great Society have been under steadily eroding attacks by the forces of selfishness, greed, and even some forms of violence against the people that the New Deal reined in a bit. These movements toward egalitarianism didn't go far enough. They didn't go as far as Eugene V. Debs or Robert M. La Follette, Sr., wanted. Unlike FDR and LBJ, Debs and La Follette were anti-war and ultimately for workers and society as a whole having ownership of the means of production (capital) and not under a Leninist dictatorship. Debs paid huge personal sacrifices for being against the US entering World War I. The government imprisoned him and others simply for speaking out against unbridled greed and war.

Under the Republicans, the gap between the rich and poor is now greater than ever before and the prospects for the middle and lower classes is becoming bleaker and bleaker. The day of reckoning for the selfish policies of the conservatives is fast approaching. The world cannot survive selfishness. For the sake of righteousness (the spirit of salvation), the earth will vomit out those who work to destroy it.

The people must come to understand that the selfish must be separated out from the unselfish. The differences are irreconcilable. The division is coming. Only goats that turn to stay will be transformed and regenerated into sheep. Those that refuse are spiritually dead of the requisite constitution for real peace. This is why, try as Debs and La Follette and others may, the softhearted never succeed within the system of the goats. It wasn't a question of not trying hard enough. It was and is the fact of butting one's head against the rock hard, icy cold, miniscule hearts of those who reject God no matter how wonderful the invitation, reception, and events.

The coming spiritual revolution that has already begun is the only way. The current system will fail and fall completely. It is becoming more and more top-heavy and its feet of clay will be shattered just as the arrogant prince of this world has worked to shattered the lives (torture and break the souls) of so many around the planet.

What have the conservatives and libertarians stood against? They have stood against real liberal devices of Isaiah bringing forth on earth the fruits of the kingdom of God, the real bounty.
History of what conservative Americans have stood against

They were, and are still, against the poor of the world sharing the wealth of their own resources within their own nations. They were, and are still, against workers' compensation, graduated income tax, estate taxes, minimum wage, women's suffrage, abolition of slavery and child labor, racial integration, affirmative action (not a quotas system), criminal rehabilitation, public healthcare, public transportation, public highways, public education, free textbooks and school materials, school breakfast and lunch, public housing, safe and clean public parks and playgrounds, decent orphanages, environmental protection, conservation, reforestation, the forty-hour workweek, the eight-hour workday, overtime pay, sick leave, paid vacation, maternity leave, worker safety, unemployment insurance, profit sharing, employee ownership, democracy in the workplace, Social Security, farmer cooperatives, consumer cooperatives, energy cooperatives, collective bargaining, natural monopoly or utility regulation, stock market regulation (US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)), banking regulation, anti-trust, and much, much more.

They have stood against these things, because these things stand against their unbridled covetousness.

Now, it is true that in this so-called democracy, these devices are forced upon those who stand against them. However, it must also be understood that the spirit behind these efforts is unselfish relative to the spirit of those who stand opposed to Godliness. These measures won't work in a society that is comprised of both selfish and unselfish hearts. Many of the measures are designed simply to offset somewhat the selfishness that is inherent in capitalism.

The unselfish must undertake things on a voluntary, collective basis and not within the coercive system of Satan. This is the hardest lesson for the people to learn. It requires unlearning all the falsehood that is the false democratic system of Satan that seeks to keep the sheep and goats together in a divided house full of iniquity that seeks to rip up every good seed the softhearted plant. The great division (the great harvest) is coming. The weeds will be cut, bundled, and burned up.

It must be understood that the libertarian-capitalist position is the acceptance of systemic unemployment and abject poverty since they are opposed to any wholly shared (universal Christian) safety net for the people. Giving and sharing all is the exact opposite of what the libertarians are about. They are not real anarchists. The libertarians are very much in favor of military coercion to get their way, which is the freedom to steal the inheritance of all with no one being allowed to use coercion to take it back. The militant anarchists (false anarchists) claim the right to take it back by force. The real Christians say the libertarians and militant anarchists are both wrong. The real Christians say further that God's way is uncoerced government. God is not forcing evil to obey. God is freeing unselfishness out from under evil. The results is real law and order, divine law and order. That is not anarchy.
Ultimately, nothing would be freely shared under the monopoly of capitalism, not sunlight, not air. They will privatize all the freshwater delivery as soon as they can so that they may profit from each other's thirst. They will tell you that competition will improve the service. It should seem obvious that competition has spurred further enslavement under so-called conveniences that prove frustrating and complicated and are pushed under hard-sell techniques and so much deception that there is barely a human institution that can mete out fairness.

This system blinds and deafens the sons and daughters of the middle and lower classes into becoming the cannon fodder for this capitalist, monopolist, and globalist Empire. This system also turns the sons and daughters of created enemies into cannon fodder on an even greater scale for a while. People exposed to the message of Jesus to turn the other cheek and not take up the sword for any reason but who still join the military are sinning just as their commander in chief is sinning who has also read the word and has not repented.

The villainous mind continually adapts its method to devour the earth, and it does not matter how many innocent children are tempted, sin, and die. The lives and souls of the innocent are expendable for empire. That is the conscience of the false conservative.

But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. (Matthew 18:6).

Does this sound bitterly scathing? Then you think Jesus was vitriolic. However, he simply told the truth. He wasn't hostile about it. There is a multiplicity of selfish plans violently competing and cooperating in the struggle for evil supremacy. Those of that mindset misinterpret Jesus's emotional attitude toward others. He felt for all even the ones concerning whom he had to wash his hands. He forgave them even though they were dooming themselves. It is no contradiction. Reconcile them. The only agendum that will ever succeed is the unselfish agendum. That's why he shook the dust from his feet.

False Zionist former Trotskyites

All the selfishness makes them all willing prostitutes. The self-styled American conservative, televangelized Christians are now in bed with, among others, false Jewish former Trotskyites who did not renounce worldwide, violent revolution but just adopted the even more selfish line of capitalism. The so-called intellectual, ethnically Hebrew Communists went over to those they referred to as the muggers (the reality of the insatiable greed of the conservatives). These particular Hebrews thought that if they could not beat them, they ought to join them. They joined them. They could not dominate the world as Marxists (what they mistakenly thought was real liberalism), so they decided that the conservative muggers were destined to win. Therefore, they converted.
However, in their arrogantly blind ignorance, they switched from a losing team to a different losing team.

Now, there will be many who will say that this is all too simplistic and that I am doing what I negatively criticize that is lumping too many Hebrews together in thinking. They will say that there are plenty of Hebrews in the US government who were never Trotskyites and do not subscribe to much of the neoconservative agenda. I’m not talking about those people. I’m talking about the people who have shaped the neoconservative’s plans. Whether or not they realize the connections, many are philosophically and ideologically rooted in Marxism and worldwide, violent revolution. They are now imperialistic capitalists. There is no escaping it. That a disproportionate number of them are Hebrews is also simply a fact. Many neocons are also Anglo-Saxon and of other extractions as well. We are talking about the mentality that is most prevalent within the core group in power. That cannot be obfuscated by yelling anti-Semitism. Real Christians are not anti-Jew. They are pro-Jew (real Jew). They are anti-selfishness regardless of ethnic background.

On anti-Semitism

It is bizarre that Hebrews are called anti-Semitic by other Hebrews. Noam Chomsky, Norman Finkelstein, and Howard Zinn, and all those who are called the New Historians in Israel, etc., are each Hebrews and yet have been labeled anti-Semitic when they are the opposite of anti-Hebrew. They are pro-human being. They are just anti-certain policies and practices which policies and practices are obviously not synonymous with Hebrewness.

They have written, with varying degrees of frankness and with varying degrees of concern for appearances, about the implications of their findings. Some writers are very willing to write the harsh truth about their own people. I'm of English ancestry and won't shrink from saying that what the English and English-Americans did to the indigenous peoples of America and what they did to the Black Africans forced over as slaves was abominable, reprehensible, disgusting, and shameful. I don't care on their level whether my fellow English-Americans don't like it that I say this. It's their problem if they choose to want to pretend that many of the English didn't act appallingly. Well, the same goes for the Jews.

There are Jews who will tell it like it was, and is, as clearly and honestly as possible. In so doing, they are not anti-Semites any more than I'm anti-Anglo-Saxon. They are relative heroes, since they have run such a huge risk of ostracism. They make repeating or continuing horrific acts much more difficult for the perpetrators. In so doing, they spare others more pain and suffering than would otherwise be the case. They do this at the risk of attack from the cover-up and con-artists. They handle the threats and name calling and lies and distortions for the sake of greater relative truth. God sees it. God also sees though the lines across which they will not cross, such as becoming real, liberal Christians.
The current state of Israel was formed on Israeli terrorism even against fellow Jews

The current state of Israel was born of ethnic cleansing. It was born of attacking fellow Jews in Islamic states to get them to flee to Israel so that Israel could have Oriental Jews for cheap labor so the supposedly more refined and superior Ashkenazi Jews (mostly Yiddish-speaking Jews, who had come from central and northern Europe), could go about being the ruling class. It was born of poisoning Palestinian wells with bacteria to cause dysentery and other illness. Uri Mileshtin wrote about it. He is an official historian of the Israeli Defense Force.

Moshe Dayan

He wrote about how Moshe Dayan (1915-1981), Israeli defense minister (1967-1974), the famous Israeli warrior, gave orders that the Arabs were to be forcibly removed from their homes, their homes bulldozed, and their drinking wells poisoned so they would not return to the land. Dayan is quoted as having told the Israeli government that they should inform the Palestinians, "We have no solution. You shall continue to live like dogs, and whoever wishes may leave."

The false Zionists were doing what the Nazis did, ridding the land of a different ethnic group. The false Zionists were practicing realpolitiks.
David Ben Gurion and the Lavon Affair or Operation Suzannah

Naeim Giladi, an Iraqi Jew, documented the deception and bigotry of Jews against Jew and Arab, writes about how Zionists bombed fellow Jews in Iraq to throw fear into them to get them to go to Israel to provide labor and soldiers and to generally increase the population of Jews in Israel and how Zionists deliberately dismissed Arab peace offerings so that the Zionists could have more time to grab more land. The Zionists who carried out the attacks in Iraq were caught by the evidence of typewriters and traces of explosives in a suitcase belonging to one of them. They confessed to the crimes. Giladi also exposes how David Ben Gurion, Israel's first prime minister, deliberately sent saboteurs to set off terrorist bombs in Egypt to try to drive a wedge between Gamal Abdel Nasser and the Western powers even as Nasser was asking Israel for peace. A bomb went off on one of the saboteurs, so they were found out. It was called the Lavon Affair or Operation Suzannah. Ben Gurion wasn't prime minister at the time in 1954, but he was being consulted regularly by hardline false Zionists. Ben Gurion return to the prime ministership shortly thereafter.

Plan Dalet, or Plan D

We also know that the Zionists had a planned approach for the systematic expulsion of Arabs, what they called "transfer," out of every village

---

(hundreds) the Zionists occupied. We have the infamous Plan Dalet, or Plan D as it has become known, which outlined the false-Zionist's plan to force the Arabs off the lands they had lived on in some cases for many, many centuries and possibly thousands of years. They were willing to do whatever it would take to grab the land. They use psychological operations in every direction to assure the outcome. Everyone either when along with the ruse or was marginalized and silenced and even terminated (murdered).

Theodor Herzl and the birth of overt false-Zionism

I will try to condense a great deal of history into a nutshell here. Theodor Herzl was an Austrian Jew born in 1860. He was a member of a student group for German nationalism.

It must be understood that at the time, there was a mishmash of major political forces coming at odds against each other, just as is the case today. In trying to make things understandable in conjunction with the powers-that-be wishing to cover over evil roots, history has a tendency toward over simplifying, even while avoiding the clear-cut truth or summation. The same age-old struggle between the selfish and unselfish inclinations of the hearts of human kind was at work in the Germany and Austria of Herzl's time as they are now.

There were those with strong notions of the bloodline value versus others who wanted a fairer society and culture. Herzl witnessed and felt firsthand the power of those within society who lumped all Hebrews together as being undesirable. This Herzl took to be anti-Semitism. Of course, this bloodline emphasis was mingled in with religious hatreds stemming back to the murder of Jesus.

The spiritline was not taken as separable from the falsely supposed genetic lock or predisposition. Nature was everything over nurture so to speak.

Herzl came to the conclusion that Hebrews, or Jews as they were want to call themselves and still do, needed to put forth their own nationalism of a certain order. Hence, political (false) Zionism was born.

Herzl was not about The Bible. He was about practical, liberal (mundane) politics. He didn't think that Jews could ever be truly assimilated into any nation-state no matter how large or no matter how loyal to unification under liberal philosophy (secular-Enlightenment principles). One can certainly understand how he came to such conclusions given the overall shortsightedness of secular-Enlightenment principles.

Therefore, the movement began for Hebrews to re-conquer the Holy Land. Herzl envisioned a Jewish practical utopia absent emphasis on God—an impossibility. He wasn't looking to the current backbiting of Israel. He couldn't foresee for his lack of knowledge of God. Absent God, such backbiting is inevitable. That's Jesus's message. Herzl wasn't Christian. None of the founders of current Israel were Christian—far from it.
The only way anyone is ever going to live in the Promised Land in peace is for everyone there to have the peace of Christlikeness in his or her heart. That's the law of God brought by Jesus. The Jews (so-called) and Muslims must accept the law of love, peace, and truth as taught and exemplified by Jesus. It is the one and only way for them to live as next-door neighbors or in peace on the entire planet.

Anti-Semitism is a real thing. How one reacts is the measure of that Semite. If one reacts against anti-Semites using the same tools those anti-Semites use against the Semites, one is no better than an anti-Semite. The only way a Semite can be right is by using the exact opposite tools, in which case that Semite will be Christlike and a Christian necessarily.

The false-Zionist movement was ultimately usurped and spearheaded by ruthless people who used ruthless means that had been used on Jews, and by Jews, down through the ages. In other words, they still hadn't learned. Until they do, history will repeat itself, meaning Israel is going to be slapped down. It will get what it has earned. That said, it must be emphasized that many, many people were hoodwinked by those who spearheaded the movement. Many, many Jews did not approve, condone, or even tolerate, the tactics employed by the insane terrorists who ruined returning to that land and whose actions are directly and mostly responsible for the horrors still ongoing within and around Israel. Such is the truth that will save those who learn and heed.
Simeon Bar Giora, not a good omen

Now, Jesus had told the Jews that if they didn't repent, their temple and city would be leveled and their people killed and scattered. They ignored him just as they had ignored the prophets before. Simeon Bar Giora was the last defender of Jerusalem against the Romans around AD 70. The Romans were the wrath against the Jews for their rebellion not against Rome but against the divine law as spoken by Jesus, the real Messiah. Bar Giora symbolizes that last holdout rebel against repentance. Bar Giora is the name taken by the militant Jewish immigrants of 1908—not a good omen.

Cycle of hardheartedness against hardheartedness: The example of false Jews

This they did despite their socialist leanings. It just goes to show that there is the socialism of selfishness versus the real socialism that has to flow as Christianity. There were anti-Semitic pogroms on going in Russia against the socialist-leaning Jews. The selfish czarists (Russian caesarists) were set on wiping out the Jews in Russia for political reasons under the ethnic guise, which is often the case. Not all the Jews from Russia and elsewhere were able to stave off the movement to hardheartedness. They then reacted very selfishly toward the Arabs in Palestine who were ill-prepared for the aggressiveness and relentlessness and ruthlessness that had been engendered within many Jews in the cycle of hardheartedness against hardheartedness that has been the hallmark of their Biblical history—the saving lesson we are to take away from the experiences of the people chosen to be that object lesson.

Reaction is the issue. There is no doubt the Hebrews have been historically oppressed. There is no doubt that God's way that those who oppress end up suffering if they don't turn and stop and do the opposite of oppressing.

The problem is that people don't learn. There is no collective memory. The true appraisal of past events is suppressed and distorted out of selfishness. You must understand that those who do not wish to live up to the implications of reality do everything they can imagine to squirm out in this life to the utter doom of their souls and the souls of those who follow them in selfishness.

The tendency within false Zionism is to posture endlessly. This is the same case for every ethnic group or race and the whole of humanity to some degree to avoid coming to grips with its own legacy and current hypocrisy. It is the opposite of facing reality. In false Zionism, it comes in the form of expressing that any statement of history that exposes anything but the purest motives on the part of every Hebrew is anti-Semitic. It also comes in the form of rationalizing evil choices and in simply claiming that other people do it (evil) too. Of course, this would be a laughable situation were it not for the tragic results of such denial and unwillingness to face up and straighten up, which is required of us all. How far back must we go to find an ancestor who didn't stray? Forgiveness is one thing, but denial is another. Why deny? Admit, and forgive as you want to be forgiven.

Do you think that if you finally admit your sins before God that you've just doomed yourself? Actually, you've just started on the road to recovery.

Real Zionism

It must be understood further that real religious and real spiritual Zionism are Christianity and only Christianity. Jesus is the embodiment of real Zionism. That's the truth, and that's what the false Zionists have been avoiding for nearly two thousand years now. Israel will not make it without Jesus. That's prophecy, and there is no escaping that fact. So, there is the narrow way that is real Zionism and then there is everything else on the wide path to hell. Jesus taught only righteousness. If you accept his teachings, you accept him. If you reject him, you reject his teaching: Pure righteousness. In which case, what are you? You aren't saved.

Now, coming back to the Bar Giora, it was the root of the current Israeli military.

I've written enough elsewhere in this work about the British selfishness that led to the false-Zionist current state of Israel, so I won't go into that again here. (See: Index "British Mandate of Palestine")
Vladimir Jabotinsky, Betar, another bad omen.

As for the terrorists who forced Israel into existence, setting it up for more wrath, they all looked back with revisionist eyes to the rebellions against Rome primarily. In addition to deliberately choosing the name Bar Giora to symbolize their continuity with the same wrongheaded spirit that caused Israel to be leveled, Vladimir Jabotinsky chose "Betar" as the name of his revisionist Zionist youth movement for creating militant Zionists. Betar was the name of the last fort of Bar Kokba, the false Jewish messiah who led the failed Second Jewish Revolt against the Romans (AD 132-135)—another bad omen.

Menachem Begin and the terrorist group Irgun

To make a long story short, the leaders of Israel came out of this mindset. Menachem Begin had also been the leader of a terrorist group called the Irgun Zvai Leumi or just Irgun. He was chosen by the voters of Israel to be one of their prime ministers.

Yitzhak Shamir and the terrorist group Stern Gang (Lehi)

Yitzhak Shamir had been the leader of a terrorist group called the Stern Gang (Lehi). He later headed an assassination squad for Mossad (Israel's version of the CIA and KGB). He was also chosen by the voters of Israel to be one of their prime ministers.
...Yitzhak Shamir, in reference to the black African nations who voted in support of the 1975 U.N. resolution, which denounced Zionism as a form of racism. He said, "It is unacceptable that nations made up of people who have only just come down from the trees should take themselves for world leaders ... How can such primitive beings have an opinion of their own?" (Israeli newspaper Yediot Ahronot, November 14, 1975).\textsuperscript{110}

His statement proves the very point of the black African nations. That's quoting a racist, a false Zionist, an assassin, the former prime minister of Israel, Yitzhak Shamir. It is ironic that Shamir is claiming others are closer to being animals while he himself is expressing animalistic, beastly tendencies.

\textbf{SS Patria}

November 25, 1940, the SS Patria was blown up by the Haganah, which was the defense arm of the Jewish Authority. The SS Patria was sitting in the port of Haifa loaded with Jewish immigrants. The Jews blew up the Patria with a mine they smuggled on board murdering their own people to force the British to understand that the British had no way of stopping what the false Zionists wanted, short of the British killing all the Jews. The Jewish terrorists murdered two hundred seventy-six, some two hundred of them their fellow Jews.

\textsuperscript{110} Omar Hamoui. "Free speech, even when unpleasant, must be protected: Vandalism reveals some won’t allow opposing view a voice." \textit{Daily Bruin Online}. April 18, 1997.

Was it an act of desperation? How misguided was it? What were the alternatives? Were they really pushed to it? Jesus went to the cross rather than kill anyone. His murders sacrificed him to save their offices and state, and in so doing, they lost both. When will they ever learn?

King David Hotel

On July 22, 1946, Menachem Begin's Irgun blew up the King David Hotel in Jerusalem under his direct orders killing seventeen Jews, forty-one Arabs, twenty-eight Brits, and five others. The Hotel was the headquarters of the British in Jerusalem. The official Israeli response was to condemn what they had actually ordered and to do nothing to those responsible other than to eventually elevate their leader to prime minister. Now, how do you trust such people? They aren't repentant. They still claim it was right and justified. They refused to atone. They are reaping what they know their forefathers sowed that they have not disavowed. The harvest is far from over.
Deir Yassin massacre

April 9, 1948, began the Deir Yassin massacre of peaceful Arabs by Jews. Deir Yassin was an Arab village near Jerusalem. The number of deaths is disputed. Somewhere between one hundred and two hundred fifty-four people were killed. According to the Israeli historian Benny Morris, the Foreign Ministry put out a disinformation publication in 1969 entitled Background Notes on Current Themes: Deir Yassin. That publication called the Deir Yassin massacre, "part of a package of fairy tales, for export and home consumption."

Jacques de Reynier was the chief representative of the International Committee of the Red Cross in the area and visited the village before the bodies were buried. He found only three people alive. He found the Irgun people with their knives literally dripping in blood from having gone house to house to "clean up." Many Americans have heard the expression "a mop-up operation," which means after the bulk of the killing is over, there is an operation to go in to wipe out the remaining holdouts. The Irgun went through the village systematically slaughtering the inhabitants. They tried to leave no one alive. Then they made sure that the rest of the Arabs in the area knew about it so that they would be so afraid (terrorized by the Nazi-level tactics) that they would leave in a hurry—leave the land for the Jews to takeover.

Israel helping create its enemies

As an aside, certain Arabs surrounding Israel have change from peaceful people easily terrorized. The recent Israeli bombing of Lebanon (that started in July 2006 as a result of Hezbollah retaliation against Israel in the long history of tit for tat and an eye for an eye or many eyes for an eye in the case of the Israelis) where the Shiite Hezbollah in Southern Lebanon stood their ground and fought back, with missiles and especially tank-killing weapons that startled the Israeli military, is evidence of this. The Israelis have created people willing to do to the Israelis what the Israelis have done to them.

This is the meaning of the expression that what goes around, comes around. They better start sending love around instead.

Deir Yassin deniers

Now, there are Jews who deny that the Deir Yassin massacre ever happened, just as there are Germans who deny that there were ever any Nazi death camps—full-fledged Holocaust deniers. There are other Jews who excuse it and revise it. Jews are not genetically incapable of lying. In fact, many Jews are big supporters, as seen, of the falsehood called the noble lie, as are many non-Jews.

Hollering "anti-Semitism" at every point of constructive criticism just makes it all the more transparent. It won't work anymore. People are seeing right through it. We all have to take an honest look at everyone's history—especially our own. We all have to understand that we all trace back to one if we will see it. Those who refuse to see it, make of themselves of something other than the one, the unity, the host of God. That's the message of Jesus Christ, and he's right.

Holocaust survivors as confused victimizers

This is what happens when monsters do monstrous things to people. It creates monsters who spread on the savage brutality. The Irgun was acting out what the Nazis had done. They were taking indiscriminate revenge. They were victimizing. They were making themselves feel that they had some control over something, since they felt that so many Jews had been led to the slaughter by the Nazis without those Jews having put up enough of a fight—being too passive or too squeamish. This is how the sickness and contagion of abuse, bloodlust, and war is spread out as the plague that it is. It will come home again. The most savage and cunning will devour but will also be the biggest loser.

Denying Deir Yassin is akin to an American denying the My Lai massacre or the Con Son Island tiger-cage prison or even now the tortures at Abu Ghraib. It is akin to Germans denying the gassing of people in concentration camps during World War II.

The founders of the current state of Israel were violent. They were not pacifists. They were not saints. They excused their actions as expedient. They excused their actions under the lie that all's fair in war. Nothing is fair in war. War is full of lies, and only liars deny all the massacres and atrocities.
History is loaded with atrocities on all sides. Some are more eye-for-an-eye (repayment in kind), otherwise known as direct retaliation, than others are. Even though such retaliation is absolutely wrong, people need to understand that a Deir Yassin type massacre doesn't even meet the eye-for-an-eye standard.

Kufr Qasim massacre

According to Palestinians, on October 29, 1956, workers were returning to Kufr Qasim on their bikes. They were unaware that the Israelis had imposed a curfew while they were gone that day. They were greeted by machinegun fire. Reportedly, the Zionists murdered forty-nine unarmed people in cold blood.

Temple Mount Faithful

On October 8, 1990, members of the group called the Temple Mount Faithful, who want to construct a third temple where the Al Aqsa Mosque stands, had received permission to march around the Temple Mount in Jerusalem carrying Israeli flags. In response to Arab youths throwing stones, the Israeli military opened fire killing seventeen. Arabs put the death toll at twenty-three. You don't need to shoot seventeen or twenty-three people dead for throwing stones. False Zionists pardon the military.

Now the terrorist-type Zionists founders of Israel claim that they had no other choice but to use all the tactics they did. It is the same excuse being used by militant Muslims.
Turning in the right direction

Why though was Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi successful without violence? Why was Martin Luther King, Jr., successful without violence? Why did Desmond Tutu's Truth and Reconciliation Commission work in South Africa? They started turning toward the strait gate leading to the narrow way of universal repentance.

Did they turn all the way or over turn? "Few there be that find it."

We don't advocate a spirit of exposure in vengeance. We advocate the understanding that all have harmed all in some measure and manner and that all must apologize to all in that spirit. No one old enough to understand repentance and atonement is just a victim. We aren't talking about babes in arms here. We are talking about people who know they have reacted to life in selfishness, some more than others. They'll have to return to being as the little children in innocents to enter the kingdom. This is not infantile in the mundane sense. It is mature enough to realize that God is eternally old and young.

We advocate that people use this concept internally about themselves as individuals, as in soul searching to face the truth about their own selfishness. We advocate that appropriate groups, families, nations, and states do this collectively for exactly the same reason. We must get things out so we may firmly establish what is, and is not, righteousness and the path of the human family.
It is kept away from the open forum. It is kept out of the marketplace of ideas. The fearful mark themselves as being unwilling to give up something selfish for the sake of all others.

The truth is that had the Hebrews returned to Palestine not in the spirit of taking over but in the spirit of being good neighbors per Jesus’s parable of the Good Samaritan, there would not have been violence. Don’t listen to the false Zionists who will claim that unlike all the other places in the world their dispute is uniquely unable to be settled by the spirit of love, peace, and truth.

Operation Grapes of Wrath

On April 18, 1996, as part of its Operation Grapes of Wrath, Israel bombed the UN peace-keeping compound in Qana in southern Lebanon. That compound had filled up with refugees from Israel’s attacks in Lebanon. Israel was shelling and attacking forty-four towns and villages with laser-guided missiles on loan from the US. They were also hitting other parts of Lebanon. In the UN compound, one hundred two civilians died and some three hundred others were maimed, many for life, including mostly women and children. Of course, the Israeli government made the usual raft of excuses. Of course they were right that Hezbollah was being violent before hand. Hezbollah though claims that it was retaliating. This is the same old story. Everyone is always retaliating, rationalizing, holding grudges going back endlessly in some cases. When will they ever learn?
It will stop when everyone is willing to turn the other cheek even to death as Jesus did.

They even blamed Hezbollah for using the civilians as human shields, as if Hezbollah was inside the UN compound firing missiles at Israel. Butros Butros Ghali was removed as UN secretary general, because he issued a truthful UN report that blamed Israel for the Qana massacre.

Amnesty International, Human Rights Watch, and the International Committee of the Red Cross all condemned the Qana massacre and Operation Grapes of Wrath.

The Human Rights Watch’s report of September 1997, entitled ISRAEL/LEBANON, "OPERATION GRAPES OF WRATH," The Civilian Victims, states the following:

> Israeli pilots carried out 600 air raids with fixed-wing aircraft and helicopters, and artillery units fired some 25,000 shells into Lebanese territory. Some 154 civilians were killed in Lebanon, and another 351 injured. The guerrillas fired 639 Katyusha rockets into Israel. There were no Israeli civilian deaths, although three Israeli women sustained serious injuries.

The idea of proportionate response or the punishment fitting the crime really doesn’t exist. We must never forget though that where they can get away with so-called plausible deniability, they will always opt for throwing terror into people. It is the policy and practice of the power elite to make anyone pay a high price for daring to expect to be treated as an equal of the elitists. That is racism. False-Zionism is racist. Of that there can be no doubt.

Also, some four hundred Arab villages have been destroyed in Palestine leaving some seven or eight hundred thousand refugees. I discuss Qibya below and Sabra and Shatila earlier, both involving Ariel Sharon, another of Israel's prime ministers.

Many who wanted to change things toward softheartedness, giving and sharing, and the spiritline over the bloodline mentality were ordered assassinated by Jewish leader/terrorists.

Jacob de Haan assassination

In 1924, Jacob de Haan was the leader of Agudath Israel in Palestine, an orthodox group. He was negotiating for a state in which Jews and Arabs would have equal rights. The Haganah assassinated him.

Folke Bernadotte assassination

The UN mediator, count Folke Bernadotte, was assassinated by the Stern Gang (Lehi) during the 1948 War for speaking about partitioning Palestine and having Jerusalem as an international city. Despite Israel's official history to the contrary, the Zionists did not want the borders of Israel established where they were being proposed at the time.
Yitzhak Rabin assassination

On November 4, 1995, Yitzhak Rabin, then prime minister representing the Labor Party's was assassinated by one Yigal Amir, a rightwing, false-religion Zionist bent upon settlements and a third temple, etc.

Ariel Sharon deliberately set off an intifada

On September 28, 2000, Ariel Sharon ascended the Temple Mount in a clear provocation. Rather than striving to get back to the negotiating table to hammer out a peace deal with the Palestinians, Sharon did exactly what he knew would inflame the situation (upset the Muslims), set off another intifada, and result in throwing fear into the hearts of the Israeli voters who would then look for safety and security leading to Sharon's election as prime minister. It was despicable manipulation of both Arab and Jew by Ariel Sharon.

That doesn't excuse the Muslims who reacted predictably. Where is the sharing spirit. Where is the spirit of sharing the Temple Mount in the real meaning of Zion that is the peace of the real heaven?

Assault on Palestinian refugee camp, Jenin

On April 3, 2002, prime minister Ariel Sharon launched an assault on the Palestinian refugee camp at Jenin in the West Bank. As a consequence of his provoking the Palestinians with his Temple Mount visit during a time when nerves were still raw, an intifada (uprising) started that included a cycle of terrorist reprisals. Jenin was attacked as being a base of operations for Palestinian terrorists or freedom fighters, depending upon one's point of view.

When Sharon was part of the Zionist terrorist movement, he was a terrorist. He stayed a terrorist.

This incident is a turning point in some respects. Israel had previously come to the conclusion that blanket denials would no longer work and that world public opinion was crucial. At the same time, the general Palestinian population had discovered the tactics that had been used by Israel all along, namely psyops. Therefore, Israel, while being ruthless was nevertheless uncharacteristically concerned not to slaughter too many civilians, since they knew the whole world would follow up with investigations. The Palestinians, not to their credit, took the opportunity to use the media focus (the media had in the past ignored them) to inflate the casualty figures. This does not excuse the Israelis, who if they hadn't done all their false Zionists, atrocious, nationalistic, racist acts over the decades, Jenin would never have occurred. That does not excuse the Muslims whose religious founder, Mohammed, preached falsehood that Christians and consequently real Jews can never accept. This also does not mean that the Israelis have stopped using psyops or that everything a Palestinian says is a lie (psyops). There is selfishness on both sides. That's the problem. Only the unselfish are desirous of truth and wish to spread only truth. Neither false Judaism nor Islam spread only unselfishness.
Destroyed tens of thousands of houses and over a million life-giving and sustaining olive trees from God

There is more to the Jenin story than body counts. There is destruction. This is the part of the ethnic-cleansing efforts of the false Zionists. They have destroyed houses by the tens of thousands and olive trees by over a million and generally made life miserable for the Arabs so that the Arabs will move through being terrorized and demoralized, just as the Jews felt at the hands of the Nazis and other persecutors through the ages.

Only the trees which thou knowest that they be not trees for meat, thou shalt destroy and cut them down; and thou shalt build bulwarks against the city that maketh war with thee, until it be subdued. (Deuteronomy 20:20).

Destroying the houses is bad enough, but think about the destruction of all those mature olive trees. Olive trees provide food and oil for human life directly from God. Even The Bible Old Testament says the Jews are not to destroy the trees.

Caterpillar

Also, houses are not the only buildings destroyed. The military destroys governmental buildings, schools, water-treatment facilities, energy stations, media, small businesses, and the list goes on. They use US made Caterpillar militarized bulldozers to do the dirty work enriching stockholders of Caterpillar at the expense of children made homeless and to face a bleak future.

Now, some will say that this is presenting only one side of the story. Well, it is definitely true that there are Arabs and Muslims who do not hold to the highest ideals; however, they don't seem to be acting holier than thou and trying to deny that some of their own are cutting off people's heads for the video cameras to be re-shown to the world. The Israelis have worked so hard to convince Americans that they are somehow pure and innocent victims. It's the same game the US has tried to play for decades but just can't pull off, because it isn't true. Neither the US nor Israel is pure or innocent. Each is bloody and completely guilty right along with the rest of the world.

Left versus right

It should come as no surprise that the more terrorist the individual, the more illiberal the spirit. Begin and Shamir, for instance, were conservative Likud Party stalwarts. The less terrorist oriented Palmach was the defense force of the Haganah, which became mostly the leftwing parties Mapam and Mapai (which became the Labor Party).

This works within any party or ideology. There are rightwing Communist versus left-communists for instance. It is always a matter of perspective. Left-communists are for participatory democracy and less violence, if any. The rightwing Communists were the totalitarian, authoritarian, police-state variety (Stalinists) dead set against the left-communists. It is the left-communists that the capitalists don't want you to know exist. They only want you to imagine that the only brand of communism is the totalitarian, authoritarian, police-state variety.

Qibya massacre

Ariel Sharon, who has been replaced as prime minister in the wake of his massive hemorrhagic stroke, thought up the rightwing Likud Party and was responsible for, among other massacres (such as at Sabra and Shatila discussed earlier in this work), the Qibya massacre in which sixty-nine people were killed. Some forty of them were women and children. Some forty-five heavy stone houses were blown up. Residents were pinned down inside by gunfire before the houses were exploded. The attacks were terrorist attacks in that David Ben Gurion had ordered Ariel Sharon to make the Arabs pay a heavy price for killing any Jews. Ben Gurion then blamed Jewish civilians but had to retract the lie.

This is the so-called noble lie or what is called disinformation propaganda or psyops at work. It's just plain lying. It's dishonest. It's falsehood. God hates it. God hates the violence and hates the cover-up that follows. Watch what happens to the hardhearted in Israel, and know that they aren't protected by God.

Living space (lebensraum) for the Jews

Ariel Sharon and the others knew exactly what they were doing. They were getting living space (lebensraum) for the Jews of the diaspora (the Jews spread apart throughout the world; the unconflated) to return to Palestine to reconstitute the Davidic Empire through force of arms and guile.

In 1977, Ariel Sharon was the minister of agriculture. He started planning Jewish settlements in the Occupied Territories. The next year, Jews started constructing settlements in the West Bank pushing Palestinians out of the way to do it. This comes on the heels of numerous, hardhearted, Muslim and Arab airline-hijackings and other terrorist acts going back decades in protest over Hebrew nationalism in the form of the false-Zionists State of Israel. In other words, as always, the false Zionists just kept, and keep, making things worse. They do this through holding racist views concerning the Palestinians.

They have taken some care not to attack Palestinian Christians too much directly and blatantly not because they feel that those Palestinians are worthy by virtue of their Christianity but rather simply due to their begrudging nod to the power politics of the US, which would crush Israeli aspirations if Israel failed to discriminate in favor of Christians over Muslims.

Loopholes, rationalizing

Here's the deal. The guilty look for and supply themselves with what they falsely imagine are legitimate loopholes. In supplying themselves with such notions, they rationalize endlessly. They always fall back on the notion of realism versus idealism even as they claim what they do is the best that can be done (the ideal under the circumstances). It is within that mindset that they do not see or hear or speak the truth. They cannot think using Jesus's new commandment as their starting place. They cannot comprehend. It is a comprehension problem. Hence, Jesus said to forgive them for their ignorance in murdering him, even though they would and will suffer the inevitable negative consequences for having fallen to the condition that molded and created them as hardhearted. It is simple yet too complicated for them even though their rationalizations are seen as fantastically intricate and subtle webs of deceit.

See it from all sides at once. God certainly does. I'm a WASP (white, Anglo-Saxon protestant) by extraction. Hebrews are what Hebrews say and do. WASP's are what WASP's say and do. Hebrews and WASP's are a range. Neither is monolithic. The same truth applies to what is American. There are people who say other American's are anti-American. It's impossible except in the case where someone is against every last person who is an American citizen. Even then, the notion of "anti" requires qualifying if any depth of understanding is going to be gained. I'm anti-American, but I'm not anti-American. About what am I against? About what am I not against?

First principle

People are unwilling to start at the beginning or get to it. They are unwilling to state their first principles. What is your philosophy of life? What is your first principle upon which you build your entire argument? That's what matters. Start where you want, but get to the point at some point. If you refuse, talking with you becomes a total waste of time and energy. Defend your philosophy of life so that you may find out whether you are right in the end.

Jesus didn't stop being a Hebrew. He was more than a Hebrew. Chomsky, Finkelstein, and Zinn are each more than Hebrew. I'm more than Anglo-Saxon.

Look, Chomsky, Finkelstein, and Zinn are closer to being Christian than are Jerry Falwell, Pat Robertson, Benny Hinn, and Billy Graham. The reason for this is because despite the fact that they haven't yet given serious enough attention to the real implications of Jesus's teachings and life example, they nevertheless argue in favor of what is fundamentally more just and merciful than do Falwell, Robertson, Hinn, and Graham, et al. Think about it.

Chomsky is very nearly a pacifist. He believes in the people's right violently to defend themselves as a last resort, although I've heard him suggest that maybe not even then. I don't know yet about Finkelstein or Zinn in that regard. Falwell, Robertson, Hinn, and Graham aren't even nearly pacifists. One must discern souls by the degree to which they devise real liberal devices and stand by them.

Further on the concept of anti-Semitism, Jews murdered their fellow Jew, Jesus, but Jesus said salvation is by way of the Jews. The typical initial reaction is to jump to the conclusion that Jesus's thoughts were, therefore, flawed. One must give greater consideration to the matter in order to recognize that the two facts (Jews murdered Jesus but salvation is by way of the Jews) do not indicate a flaw. To jump to conclusions, to rush to judgment, to look at only one side, to listen only to half-truths, are all the same and together constitute a great failure and evil. It is why Jesus said that neither God nor he judges anyone.

Judge not

Reserving final judgment indefinitely is key. Judgment here means unconditional condemnation for eternity. It means rendering one or many as irredeemable (beyond God's mercy). Which human being is capable of saying of any other that he or she is without redeeming qualities that can be brought out and magnified to the point where that one will not ultimately fail and revert forever? Is it possible for human beings to draw the line where souls are so condemned without human hypocrisy? This is the question Jesus poses to humanity. The answer is no.

This is why Jesus chose his words so carefully. This is why he spoke in both conditional and unconditional terms. This is why his words were qualified by mercy always and forever. Jesus did not set up paradoxes and hypocrisies. He cleared them away for those who will soften their hearts to see that.

By definition, hell is a place of infinite suffering. The only thing that will suffer hell forever is that which does not repent. So long as and to the degree to which a soul is unrepentant, it will suffer. Repent enough, and the suffering eases and even ends. Blaspheme the Holy Spirit, and mark the soul as irredeemable for this age and the next. Defile the soul to that extent. Render the soul, condition the soul, transform the soul, to that which is that difficult to redeem. Who does it? Who judges? Who condemns? The sinner does. Neither God nor Jesus is guilty. All they do is warn out of love.

We go through suffering, because without it, we would not know its opposite. We would never learn or merit the real truth that real love is without error or falsehood. It's heaven. It's the ideal. It's the real.

Now, all those who have called themselves, or continue to call themselves, Jews or Christians or anything else, fit into this. That's the way it is. Everyone fits in individually and in groups to the extent that they share behaviors.

Semantic reality

God and evil are separate. This is conceptual. God created everything. There is evil. Therefore, God created evil. Wrong. But how can that be wrong? God created everything that is real. Evil created everything that is false. Isn't evil part of reality? Evil is a mundane reality. Despite connotations to the contrary, there is no such thing as divine evil. There is also metaphysical evil. But that is not synonymous with real divinity. Real divinity is pure righteousness, pure love. The spirit of Satan is the spirit of confusion where divinity is wrath. God though knows that falling to wrath is just that, falling. Don't tempt the spirits to fall.

Why does God allow the mundane reality? Why does God allow us? It is our opportunity for real love. Mundane freedom is the freedom to make... mistakes. Divine freedom is freedom from falling into mundane and metaphysical mistakes. To join the ideal is to know that divine freedom. That's God's mind. That's love.

Such terms must be placed with the whole language of the revelation of Jesus.

Evil suffers and causes suffering. The innocent suffer and don't cause it. In heaven the innocent don't suffer. To get there is to stop all sinning and to have a great gap between sinners and non-sinners across which none may travel. Only non-sinners may enter. That's Godliness. Where there is sinning, God is apart from it. It is only through this thinking that human beings can reach the complete absence of evil, vengeance, offense, selfishness, fear of abandonment by God, etc. Anything that runs contrary to this contains the seeds of destruction. It contains imperfect emotion. From that seed comes forth all the rest of evil and the falsehood that it is.

Stop thinking of God as being responsible for your evil choices. Even as Jesus taught us to pray to God to "lead us not into temptation," understand that it doesn't mean what it can be mistaken for meaning by jumping to conclusions or rushing to judgment. The path of God is the narrow way. We step off that path. This is the place where people fall into mundane and metaphysical paradoxical thinking. They cannot grasp that God is not responsible for our falling, even in the face of the fact that God warns us away from temptations to fall. They cannot grasp our freewill and real knowledge and God's omnipotence and perfect righteousness all at the same time. They cannot let go to reconcile the infinite. Stay on the narrow way that is God's path for you through your conscious, chosen, self-discipline, and you will not be led astray into temptation by other than God which other is evil and the enemy of God.

God versus Satan

This is a running debate through The Bible. Some prophets say God is the only one, the only spirit, who kills and all the rest. Others separate the spirit into a dichotomy. Others see it as two distinct spirits. The debate seesaws about. Jesus enlightened the world as to the highest standard, which standard is necessary to overcome. The prophets before Jesus did not know what Jesus revealed. Satan is mistakenly taken for God. The spirit that excuses falling is mistakenly taken for God for a fleeting convenience out of ignorance and laziness.

What Jesus has us asking for is to not lead each other astray as children of God—parts of the wholeness that is God (if we will be so). What Jesus has us asking for is to make that path a part of ourselves. He has each of us shaping the mundane reality, our very brain matter manifesting our soul here and now, to bring it closer into conformance with the divine. It is a suggestion that we suggest to ourselves that has come from that which is perfect to make us something else than selfish, to join us to the perfecting spirit that is the perfect spirit. "Lead us not into temptation" means out loud to all those who hear it not to lead each other astray, for the real spirit of man is the spirit of God. It is the false spirit, the spirit of falsehood and error that is the spirit of other than real man. The real Son of man is God. The false son of man is evil or falls to it. Vengeance is mine says the Lord, and he is never vengeful but always merciful. This is how Jesus says we are to be since we are truly out of God.

So how is it that the Lord speaking through the prophets wanted us to know that it was the Lord who punished those who went astray? That is understood within the context of all that I just related above. It is the place where man fails, even though he has been exceptionally desirous to do what is ultimately right, to be as longsuffering as God who is eternally longsuffering (patient and non-punishing). It is the place where the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak, as Jesus put it. It is the place where we don't quite overcome. Are the prophets condemned for that? They are absolutely not condemned. We have just been called by God through Jesus to recognize what was not yet revealed to those prophets as righteous as they were. Look, none of the prophets would have been terrors to live under or with. That's critical for you to understand. Each was vastly better than the average personality today. Each would have accepted and followed Jesus to that best place. That's the point of separation. Do you accept and follow that path or not?

Do you accept it as the one and only path to that perfect place? After all, how can any other means arrive at that end? Any other means is a dead end.

Jesus was a Hebrew. He discerned those amongst the Hebrews who were vipers versus those who were doves. He came to teach those who had fallen to the viperous mind to convert them back to their true natures as pacifists and all the rest of the good. Those who heard and heeded marked themselves that way for salvation. Those who did not heed marked themselves as still outside by choice.

John Bolton

Furthermore concerning the concept of anti-Semitism, John Bolton, US ambassador to the UN, gave an address on March 5, 2006, at the AIPAC (American Israel Public Affairs Committee) Annual Policy Conference. AIPAC calls itself "America’s pro-Israel lobby." AIPAC described their conference as follows:

Pro-Israel activists from around the country will gather to demand the immediate referral of Iran to the U.N. Security Council and to lobby on a far-reaching legislative package designed to stall Iran’s nuclear program.

In his address, Bolton, sticking to the focus on Iran, condemned Iranian president Mahmoud Ahmadinejad’s holocaust denial. As we stated elsewhere in this work, Ahmadinejad is mistaken to deny the evil of the Nazis. His denial, however, does not prove any intent by Iran to attempt to manufacture nuclear weapons. Bolton spoke as if the US has proven to the world that Iran is making nuclear weapons. We are to believe that, just as we were to believe all the lies about Saddam Hussein. We are to believe it simply because Bolton says so.

---

111 December 9, 2006, John Bolton’s appointed ended as US ambassador to the UN.

He also spoke of Iran as the largest state-sponsor of terrorism in the world. Of course, many people believe that US capitalism has caused more death and destruction than any other system in the history of human kind. In other words, if the US had turned to real Christianity from the outset, all the enemies that cropped up never would have because the world would have long since turned en masse to peace and love through the sheer power of those correct ideas. In addition, it is well established history that Israel itself was founded by employing terrorism. Furthermore, the US certainly uses weapons to instill terror. It is the backbone of US military policy. Be sure that the people are so terrorized that they don't dare imagine that it would be anything but futile to defy the capitalist Empire.

More importantly, however, is that the global policies of capitalism are driving people to want equalizers in the form of weapons of mass destruction they can use to threaten back. The nations of the world realize that the biggest capitalists have designs upon the entire planet. They know that capitalism carries with it much undesirable baggage.

The answer to nuclear proliferation and disarmament is removing selfish lust from every heart and not buying into the falsehood that human beings are by nature incapable of making that change.
Bolton also made clear that the US will attack Iran militarily if Iran doesn't knuckle under. The most telling part of John Bolton's address was when he chuckled immediately after expressing that the US is "not relying on the UN Security Council as the only tool in our toolbox to address this problem" of Iran. This was Bolton's coded way of saying once again that the US sees the UN as something to use when it will do what Bolton wants and to ignore when Bolton doesn't get his way within that international system that was set up to avoid the very war into which Bolton and his ilk would lead the world for the private gain of the ultra-rich who have put Bolton in his unelected position.

John Bolton doesn't speak for me. He doesn't know what is best for the world. He is no Christian—far from it. Bolton is for inflicting "tangible and painful consequences" on Iran if it defies not the world but the US that has arrogantly self-authorized as the world's sole and final arbiter.

Of course, Bolton was chuckling about the tools in the US military weapons toolbox such as nuclear-tipped bunker-busters. The prospect of incinerating people with nuclear weapons with impunity makes him laugh. The mere thought gives him sadistic pleasure. He takes joy in his notions of superiority since he sees himself as leading the charge of those who have already taken more than anyone else of the world's resources and economy, etc., by force, duress, intimidation, corruption, and all the rest of the bad.

Israel too has nuclear weapons (developed secretly). Israel is busy working on mini-nukes and micro-nukes and delivery systems. Don't be fooled. Israel has all the same tools in its toolbox, including all the disgusting psychological torture methods that the US has perfected. The only difference is that the Israeli toolbox is smaller. However, with Bolton-types in charge of US foreign policy, Israel can surely depend upon the US using its toolbox just as if it were Israel's anyway.

What Mr. Bolton is doing is pandering to a particular brand of Zionism (the selfish brand) that has absolutely nothing to do with the Zionism of Jesus Christ (the unselfish brand). He looks at only the beam in Iran's eye while completely ignoring the beam in Israel's and America's eye. He condemns Iran's president for not being the product of so-called free and fair elections while in the same breath he says things that only serve to drive Hamas further away from the table of peace even though Hamas was elected in Palestine according to standards claimed acceptable by the US government. This is the inherent double-standard of the US neocons and neolibs.

Iran is an Islamic theocracy with which we obviously disagree, since we categorically reject Islam and Mohammed as the messenger of our Father in heaven. Nevertheless, the US system designed for libertarian capitalism (an oxymoron) is also in error and has a long and sordid history of repression, as documented in this work and which repression is far from having been fully lifted. The same thing applies to Israel and the United Kingdom and all worldly governments, since none is really fully based upon what is necessary for salvation.
Mahmoud Ahmadinejad

After we wrote all that is forgoing about president Mahmoud Ahmadinejad of Iran, Ahmadinejad sent an open letter to George W. Bush dated May 8, 2006, which challenged Bush to an intellectual debate over Bush's foreign policy and more. In his letter, Ahmadinejad put forth many points to appeal emotionally; however, he avoided the subject of Jesus as the Son of God. He continually referred to monotheism, which in Islam denies the divinity of Jesus.

Monotheism is a major subject we deal with in the Supplement to the main body of this work. He denies his own Persian history that returned the Jews to Jerusalem after the Persian king overthrew the Babylonian kingdom that had wrecked Israel and exiled many of the Jews from the area known as Palestine as named by the Romans after they too wrecked Israel on account of Israel's recidivism.

One must rightly agree with Ahmadinejad's call for peace and justice; however, the particular brand of monotheism he advocates precludes the ultimate state of heaven on earth. One cannot reach the state of the new-commandment unity via Islam's monotheistic view. Their one is not the oneness of Jesus.

Also, noticeably absent from his letter is any mention of Mohammed. This is very crafty. The question to pose back to Ahmadinejad is under the Islamic state, would real Christians be allowed to state that Mohammed is not the messenger of God. The real Christian would never kill the Muslim for the Muslim's beliefs.
that the Christian knows are misguided. Also, since Ahmadinejad raises the issue of hypocrisy, every point made in this work about the hypocrisy of Islam should be posed to him. He states that it is the duty of each leader to provide security to his people; however, he doesn't understand that without pacifism, fighting will occur. That's an insecure environment. For obvious reasons though, George W. Bush is not the right person to defend the faith.

Some false Zionists have stooped to calling Mahmoud Ahmadinejad the "21st century Hitler." This is propaganda. They are reinforcing a couple of sound bites. They have shown no interest in getting to the bottom of things. They aren't interested in the full context of anything. Ahmadinejad is wrong. Rather than attack him, educate him. If he refuses, that's different.

In pandering to those false Zionists, Bolton makes clear that he holds the position that anyone who questions the selfish brand of Zionism (false Zionism) is to be held as anti-Semitic. He lies. He spreads falsehood that those against the selfish brand of Zionism are inherently anti-Hebrew. The real Christians are pro-Hebrew and against false Zionism. In fact, there is no such thing as a militant Zionist just as there is no such thing as a militant Christian.

The truth is that the entire system is nothing but hypocrites telling each other what they want to hear.
Spiritline over bloodline

Remember, it is not bloodline that counts. It is spiritline. Bloodline nationalism when it does not coincide exactly with spiritline is inherently counterproductive. There are no territorial borders concerning those who may be called and chosen to serve God. "And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen and your vinedresser." (Isaiah 61:5). It doesn't mean they will be slaves. It means the spirit finally shall have superseded nationalism. Also remember that Jesus was nonviolent, so no Christian could participate in any ethnic genocide. There is nothing any more inherently wrong with anyone just because of Hebrew extraction or any other national extraction. People of all nationalities have fallen. Genetics is real; however, selfishness versus unselfishness cuts across genetic lines. Each person regardless of bloodline is free to become Christian in full standing.

Leon Trotsky and Karl Marx

Leon Trotsky, one of the leaders of the Communist Revolution of 1917, who was of Hebrew extraction, thought he was doing the right thing to bring about the ultimate fairness that is barely eluded to by Marx, also of Hebrew extraction. It is an amorphous condition that was to come at the end of the dialectical process (historically inevitable physical conflict arising out of inherent contradictions; thesis, antithesis, synthesis) of capitalism giving way to socialism and finally supposed pure communism. Frankly, Karl Marx borrowed and distorted the message behind the Gospel so he could describe as closely as possible what will happen without having to credit God. Capitalism will give way to giving and sharing all freely but not to Marxist-socialism. That giving and sharing world will lead to the perfect state or condition but not to what Marx envisioned. His visions were flawed. This is known, because he advocated violent means. His ends cannot be heavenly, because his means are not his ends. The real end will, however, fulfill (greatly exceed really) the mundane vision of fairness seen in Marx's mind, just as Jesus fulfilled the mundane law by supplying the spirit of the law.

The fruit of the union between false Jews and ostensible Christians under this worldwide, violent, noble-lie, revolution is grotesque. To clarify for conspiratorial thinkers, whether pro- or anti-political Zionists, only some of those termed Jewish intellectuals subscribe to the current tweak in conservatism and of course more non-Hebrews than Hebrews subscribe. Of course, it must be said that subscription to the religious interpretations that rejected Jesus is a sure prescription for continued error in judgment that will have negative consequences.

What's going on? Professor John Mearsheimer of the University of Chicago and professor Stephen Walt, academic dean of the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University published an essay.\textsuperscript{112} It was a summary of a longer work. The professors were savaged in the media. Both of them are Semitic (Hebrew) and yet have been attacked as anti-Semitic. Both professors though have said how wonderful it is that there is a state of Israel.

Well, a place where people of Hebrew extraction can be assured that they are not discriminated against solely on account of their ethnicity is great; however, how the current state of Israel came about stinks. It was founded on error. Those who publicly or privately deny this, deny truth and hate Jesus and God, whether they realize it or not. They will rue the day. The Lobby ignores this to its own peril.

The Jewish Lobby

It includes the following among other groups: The American-Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC); the Jewish Institute for National Security Affairs (JINSA); the Washington Institute for Near East Policy (WINEP); the Conference of Presidents of Major Jewish Organizations; and a smattering of neocon think tanks referenced elsewhere here such as the American Enterprise Institute (AIE) and Heritage Foundation. The Lobby as a group cannot be considered Jewish or Hebrew, per se. Some groups are made up of people of Hebrew extraction more than other groups are. The Lobby is a combination of false-Jews and Hebrews and Gentiles all of whom share a false-Zionists sentiment taking one form or another. In Israel, they call it the Jewish Lobby.

By this I mean that the definition of such Zionism varies to include a minority voice of those who had an original vision of one liberal state in Palestine where Arabs and Hebrews would be treated under the egalitarian principle, where they would share. That vision is juxtaposed to nationalist Zionism. Ethnic nationalism is the antichrist spirit. It is bloodline-and-flesh based rather than righteous-spirit based irrespective of genetics.

Jesus came to give that message first to the descendents of Israel (Jacob), the scattered remnant, and to the followers of Judah who were also re-clustered in and around the region with Jerusalem as its capital. The message had to be given to the whole world too of course, since it certainly wouldn't work with only the Jews or the diaspora (the dispersed) of Israel following the divine principle. Consequently, the time of the Gentiles is a time up to the new age that is still in front of us that will usher in the egalitarian spirit that necessarily transcends the flesh. This cannot be done without those calling themselves Jews accepting the lawgiver of Shiloh, Jesus, their Messiah, whom they rejected, and to whom they must turn, per Isaiah 53.113

Now, that false Zionism, that ethnic nationalism, came in the form of Labor Zionism (socialist and Communist) and in the form of Revisionist Zionism, which on the larger ideological and mundane spectrum falls to the right of Labor. Within Revisionist Zionism you find hard-line capitalists. How do they wish to be viewed? They wish to be viewed as a people struggling for their spot in a world that wishes to compete against them to their extinction. Well, there is truth in this in that there are others who do wish to exterminate them on that level. However, there are also ethnic nationalist Zionists who themselves seek to compete people of other ethnic backgrounds out of existence. Therefore, it is right and proper to define people according to whether or not they seek, and live by, a non-competitive but cooperative giving and sharing world or seek and live by something else. This is the point put to the Hebrews by their own prophet Isaiah where he says that (and I paraphrase) the term liberal has been hijacked and that real liberals will devise justice for all humanity and stand by it. This is in line with Jesus, because adhering to the new commandment necessitates following that Isaiah-prescription.

113 Reproduced in its entirety in this work; See: Bibliography.

So you see, expelling the Palestinians from the land, even though Islam is an error, was not, and is not, the right path. It will end in ruin once again. You see, the culmination of the Adamic story is the whole human race becoming enlightened, which is living the new commandment with everyone being first and last, serving and, therefore, being ministered to, owning all together, equally under God.

God is the principle

Without God, it won't and can't happen. God is the principle. Therefore, the self-styled Jews must convert and proselytize and live accordingly, setting the example and relieving the world of the bloodline feuding inherent within the misinterpretation of the word of God.
The question the people must ask themselves is whether the Canaanites were beyond reach and if not, was slaughtering them the right approach. Frankly, in the end, enlightenment and salvation is rising above that approach. It seems as a paradox or a circle, since those who don't become so enlightened and live accordingly will be separated out and suffer the conditioning results. However, it is not paradoxical. The enlightened do not engage in the wrath.

The wrath is the loss of patience that if we all successfully overcome, we will also have overcome all the other ills that lead to separation and suffering of those who fall. This is why God will save souls before endurance is exhausted for the true believers. God is bringing us along into ever-greater righteousness that will lead to our reuniting with God in the spirit of one. That's where the proverbial and actual Adam (first male) came from—we all come from if we will see it, see the light.

The essay, "The Israel Lobby and US Foreign Policy," (Mearsheimer and Walt) concerning which the authors have been attacked as anti-Semitic, says in essence, follow the money. We add that the members of the hardline Israel Lobby are collectively very rich and very powerfully placed within US society. They have used their highly competitive spirit and highly ethnic nationalistic spirit to attain that worldly position. It is a very mundane and fleeting accomplishment and condemned in their scripture when put to unjust purposes. The fruit of their efforts is unjust. They have not contended for the sake of righteousness as Jesus did. They have not become close and remained close to their siblings and closest cousins, whom they see as the identifiable remnant of Israel, for the sake of righteousness that is justice for all. Therefore, unless they turn, they will suffer a great fall again as a people.

In the US, they fund pro-Israel political campaigns. They target weak or anti-Israel campaigns for attack. The Israel Lobby is rated by people in politics as consistently one of the top two or three lobbies in Washington, DC. The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) is the top lobby, because retired persons do two things both of which are on balance to protect retirement benefits. They vote in high percentages and they donate to political campaigns. They have more clout of a type than the Jewish Lobby, because the AARP is more than ten percent of the US population while the whole Jewish population, in the Jewish Lobby and without, is only some two percent. However, it must be kept in mind that the emphasis of the Jewish Lobby (the Israel Lobby) is US foreign relations. In addition, the groups calling themselves the Christian Coalition of America and the National Association of Evangelicals also has huge clout almost in lockstep with the Jewish-Israel Lobby on questions pertaining to the state of Israel but for vastly different reasons.

What is this all about? It is all about power. It is all about money. It is all about devouring. You have to understand and never lose sight of the fact that what is called Judaism and the secularists running Israel are anti-giving and sharing. This is what Jesus exposed and is still fighting against via calling for converts while not destroying. False-Judaism, as put forth by the Pharisees and Sadducees and the rabbis that followed them, is ethnically nationalist in the racist sense. It is a superiority complex stemming from an inferiority complex that did develop because of real abuses suffered. We all go through such real abuse in varying degrees.

False-Judaism is a wrong reaction to evil. It is a false interpretation of the law of God. They reject what is the only path: Giving and sharing. Nothing good will result from what they are doing, because what they are doing is wrong. This applies to all rejecters of the one right path.

One ethnic group representing fewer than three percent of the total US population has such clout, because they are Zealots relative to the remaining population. They have evolved/devolved into being strong competitors on the beastly level. That will kill them. It always has. They are being mundanely smart while being frantically and fanatically wrapped up in the shortsighted flesh. This is where the expression "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing" applies. They are myopic. Their foreign policy is exceedingly immature.

They have all jumped on the capitalist bandwagon backing that horse over Communism. In so doing, they joined the already selfish Jews and Gentiles. They prodded the US into greater and greater Cold War fears so that their argument that Israel was a democratic strategic ally in a sea of regimes ripe for Soviet-Communist domination would remain valuable for perception-management purposes. Never mind that in the US, the Anglo-Saxons have been expected to act exactly the opposite as the Jews act in Israel, meaning non-racist.

Anglo-Saxons, Nazis, South African apartheid, etc., and false Zionism

If the Anglo-Saxons were still doing at the same level in the US what the Hebrews are doing in Israel, the Jews and all other groups in the US would be crying just as the Palestinians in the Occupied Territories and Israel are crying. The Anglo-Saxons in the US have been expected by all, and especially the Jews, to forego all ethnic nationalistic spirit that the Jews in Israel are still exhibiting.

Now we aren't advocating that the US Anglo-Saxons go on a rampage and expel or exterminate (transfer or cleans) all non-Anglo-Saxons so that the Anglo-Saxons can have living space in the promised land. We aren't saying that it is manifest destiny of the Protestant Christian Anglo-Saxons to have the whole of the US for itself alone to dominate for its progeny first and foremost. Yet this is exactly the proposition put forth by the false Zionists concerning so-called Greater Israel. It is a double standard: Hypocritical. Why don't they do in Israel what they expect the Anglo-Saxons to do in the US?

Anglo-Saxon supremacy (white supremacy) in the US is no more evil than Hebrew supremacy in Israel.

So you would ask then whether any nation has a right to a homeland where the borders are secure. What do such borders say about neighbors? It isn't right for anyone to overrun... anyone else; however, that truth alone ought to be sufficient for people not to offend others. If Nazism was bad, so too is the extreme fascist brand of Zionism. The apartheid policies and practices of South Africa were bad. So too is the decades old ethnic segregation and political, legal, and economic discrimination against the Palestinian Arabs. It just serves to harden hearts all the way around. The false Jews are ethnic segregationists no more moral in standing then the racial and ethnic segregationists of the US or any other nation-state. Understand that segregation on account of spiritual separation to commune with God is not what they are doing. We are not saying that any human being can rightfully coerce the leaders of Israel into seeing the light. We are not saying that anyone ought to be forced to live with those with whom they do not wish to live. We are also not saying that anyone ought to be denied the right to live with whom they choose. After all, the kingdom of God is very much living with only those who are compatible and righteous.

Everyone is given the room to make mistakes even after having been warned with the truth. Both the reason for, and method of, Israel's attaining its state is illegitimate no matter how much they thought they were victimized or persecuted. This is a universal principle. It applies in the US, Germany, South Africa, Israel, and every other nation-state. Those who go against it, do so with this warning. You will suffer great wrath that you bring on yourselves.

The truth is that Israel is lagging behind. The force of history is away from that which Israel is busy building. That nation is living in denial.
Gentile neocons are right there with them figuring the ultimate showdown will see their position historically vindicated. In the end, it's an ego trip. Every time a member of the US Congress or a president wanted to make peace and do more giving and sharing, the neocons zealously attacked in the open and behind the scenes in their very destructive, competitive spirit. They helped bring down senators and congressmen and presidents and raised up others all by appealing to the dark side of the voters, all by appealing to their selfishness, all by tempting them as the serpent in the garden. When are the people going to see this and stop?

They revved up the Cold War so they could increase Israel's image as a Cold War ally of the US. The Jews did it for Israel's sake. The US did it to use the Jews as a front for their greedy agenda. The false-Zionists Hebrews really don't mind so long as they are the real policy makers, which they have been so heavily in the Bush-43 administration and through their lobby in the US Congress and their huge campaign-financing efforts.

The real policy though has already been set: The new commandment which makes everything straight and level and light.

The conservative so-called Christians were duped through the Cold War Red Scare, because of their having fallen for the bunk of Calvin's reaction to much of the bunk of Roman Catholicism. Capitalism is not Christian. The poor are not all predestined for hell and none of the frugal, thrifty, industrious, selfish Protestants are destined for heaven. You can't get to heaven by selfishness. Read The Bible.
When the Berlin Wall came down and the Cold War pretext for the so-called strategic military ally in the Middle East disappeared, the neocon schemers worked on convincing the US that the enemies of Israel, the Arabs and Persians mostly, are the enemies of the US. They turned the tables. They work and work to rev up selfishness on all sides. It is the opposite of conflation. It is the opposite of the call of the Holy Spirit. It is the movement of the satanic spirit.

The Lobby is not alone in this, of course, Communism (large-c), Nazism, fascism, Islam, false Zionism, capitalism, and everything that is not real, liberal Christianity, all are moved by the dark side. That's why "...strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." (Matthew 7:14).

Now the false Zionists and others may bristle at this, but they'll just have to bristle or overcome.

False-Zionist warmongers

The hawks during the Vietnam War saw the doves as undermining the US policy of military intervention that the false-Zionist fascists (neocons) saw as the tool of their ambitions for Israel. They hated the McGovernites, those who were for George McGovern for president in 1972. They hated the peace movement.

The Jewish and Gentile neocons are warmongers who ruin everything. Their politics are evil. They targeted everything associated with the peace movement. Peace and love and truth had to go. They couldn't stand it. God would only be tolerated to the extent that people's perceptions could be manipulated (managed in Rumsfeld's language) in the furtherance of the anti-God agenda. The neocon agenda in the US and Israel are no strategic asset. It is decidedly a global liability of vast proportions. It is decidedly fascist. It is belligerent nationalism (Israeli) and oppressive racism.

The Blacks in America see the racism with hurricane Katrina and New Orleans and elsewhere. The Latinos and other people called "of color" see it in America with the reactionary immigration policies attempting to be forwarded in the US Congress. The Palestinians see it. The indigenous peoples of Central and South America see it with the neoliberal expropriation of all the natural resources while the masses live in abject poverty in many places. The Black Africans see it in Nigeria where the oil is expropriated by foreign white people, with no benefit to the poor Nigerians, where their land and air and water are polluted, and where they actually end up importing refined fuel. The whites encourage and exploit governmental corruption and ineptitude. The Black Christians in Sudan see it where religion is the divide and the rich white nations nearly completely turn their backs. The Arabs see it in France where they are marginalized in the suburbs. Christians see it in Afghanistan where converts are threatened with death under Islam. It's all about.

It's humanities fault. Humanity brings it on itself by being selfish.
Israel is anti-Semitic

False Zionism is racism. There is no doubt about it. It is xenophobic. That is what the current state of Israel is founded upon. Herzl may have wanted to escape anti-Jewish sentiments of Europe, but the state he helped to spur on is anti-Semitic in that it is against the Semites who are the Palestinian Arabs.

Their domestic policies and practices show great signs of immaturity. The decadence of Israel is unfolding. It is the same old story of going further and further astray. The wise will read the signs of the times, convert, and come out of her in time.

More on the Jewish Lobby

Deniers will burn. Many in the US have literally screamed that the Zionist Lobby, rated by political insiders as at least the second most powerful in the US, doesn’t exist.

The essay, "The Israel Lobby and US Foreign Policy," (Mearsheimer and Walt) states the following:

Although they make up fewer than 3 per cent of the population, they make large campaign donations to candidates from both parties. The Washington Post once estimated that Democratic presidential candidates 'depend on Jewish supporters to supply as much as 60 per cent of the money'.
That's a huge influence. Think about that: Sixty percent. Many Republicans too, who used to be so anti-Jew, now suck up to the Jews for the money. That same thing applies to the US Congress and many state and local elections where Jewish voters and money are more clustered. Now, this is not to say that all Hebrews are hardline Israel-Lobby backers. Plenty of Hebrews are not. It's just that the hardliners, the neocons, are extremely active and have the deepest pockets in the world backing them (those who can secretly print all the money they want). Also, many so-called activist-liberal Jews also support false Zionism, with tweaks. They may not support Likud, but they support apartheid Israel.

Now, it is important to understand that this is a lobby in the US on behalf of a foreign government. Remember the other of the most powerful lobbies in Washington are special-interest domestic lobbies. There is a big difference. Of course, the Saudis have huge influence simply on account of money. Also, other nations such as Turkey have been duplicating the Israeli model of lobbying.

The essay, "The Israel Lobby and US Foreign Policy," overstates its case when it argues against the invasion of Iraq being for oil. Well, it was for oil, but it was for oil in the sense put forth by the false Zionist Paul Wolfowitz in his Defense Planning Guidance paper of 1992. Also, it was for oil and contracts for Iraq's reconstruction going to the military-industrial complex, much of which is networked deeply with all the same money of the Israel Lobby. It was for oil in that oil currently powers the vast... majority of the US military machine, and oil under American control is oil not under the control of India or China or the EU or Russia, etcetera, and therefore, is much more so controllable by the neocons automatically committed under the Israel Lobby.

This oil-versus-the-Lobby is an argument between the two professors who wrote the essay "The Israel Lobby and US Foreign Policy" versus the likes of Noam Chomsky, who argues that oil and not the power of the Lobby is responsible. Therefore, all three of them are half right. It is both oil and the Lobby and a multitude of other evils.

What the two Jewish professors have written points out that a core of fervently dedicated fascist US-Jews has come to dominate US policy over the objections of non-fascist Jews around the world including in Israel. What those two professors have written is that the loyalties of those neocons are really more to a Greater Israel than to the United States. They are Hebrew false Zionists first and US citizens second. So it appears. How can a false Zionist be anything else? The whole point behind Theodor Herzl's philosophy was the reconstituted Israeli state, totally nationalist, totally bloodline. Herzl didn't see what he was doing. The neocons are agents of Israel. They are Sayanim. Sayanim help the Mossad (Israel's spy agency) often directly and often in ways that undermines the US.

That's why Israel spies on the US more than any other country does. They can, because their agents have completely infiltrated the power elite throughout the military-industrial complex.
They have freely walked all the corridors of power.114

There are those who will kill and kill and kill to grow Israel, and they won't worry about expending the lives of the American lower class to do it either. The American lower class and those whom America entices into its military...

114 Larry Franklin was on the Iran desk under Douglas Feith at the Pentagon. Franklin was sentenced to thirteen years in prison for passing US national security secrets to two American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC) officials, and others, in what is called the AIPAC Espionage Scandal. Those officials, in turn, passed on the information to the Israeli secret service. This is simply a small bit of the huge false-Zionist/neocon nexus in the US military-industrial complex. Larry Franklin also worked in the Office of Special Plans at the Pentagon phonying up the cause for war leading up to the second US invasion of Iraq in March, 2003.

from other nations with promises of shortcutting the road to citizenship are, to many Israelis, just goy after all.

"Goy" is a disparaging Yiddish (northern and central European Jewish; Ashkenazi) term for "non-Hebrew." To disparage someone is to identify that one as being of lower birth. It has nothing to do with esteeming the righteous. It has only to do with notions of genetic superiority and the inherent lesser value of peoples of other descent. Hitler felt that any German was ultimately more valuable than any Hebrew regardless of behavior. Jesus sorted people by behavior on the scale of unselfishness. Which way is right?
More David Ben Gurion

Was David Ben Gurion, the first prime minister of the current state of Israel and one who practiced the policy of war and transferring (expelling) Palestinians from the land, more valuable than the Good Samaritan, who didn’t check the person’s religious or ethnic background before helping?

David Ben Gurion is reputed to have said the following:

We must use terror, assassination, intimidation, land confiscation, and the cutting of all social services to rid the Galilee of its Arab population.

…

If I were an Arab leader, I would never sign an agreement with Israel. It is normal; we have taken their country. It is true God promised it to us, but how could that interest them? Our God is not theirs. There has been Anti-Semitism, the Nazis, Hitler, Auschwitz, but was that their fault? They see but one thing: we have come and we have stolen their country. Why would they accept that?115

There is no doubt that the Good Samaritan is welcome in heaven. Is the soul of David Ben Gurion? Well, we don't wish pain and suffering on anyone wherever he is; however, based solely upon what he advocated and did in this life, he is not equally esteemed with the Good Samaritan. Otherwise, there is no right or wrong and anything goes.

Jesus an anomaly, or everyone else unreal?

Now the most valuable lesson from this is not what most people take from it. Most people simply allow a twisted definition of the term anti-Semitism and just line up on either side as pro-neocon or anti-neocon. Look, there is a sense in which usage dictates the meaning of terms. There is though a place where and when truth is absolute and the words (concepts and meanings humans must come to grasp) must be one and the same with that absolute truth. This is what Jesus was referring to when he said that his words would never die, no matter what happens to the material universe, which itself is a concept manifested by the transcendent consciousness of God.

The most valuable lesson from this is that one errs when one lumps everyone together by half-truths. People are together when they see eye-to-eye, when they have a meeting of the minds. The closer the disciples became to Jesus was the more they took on Jesus's positions and acted accordingly. The two Hebrew professors, who bravely wrote about what is referred to as the American Jewish-Israel Lobby, proved the point that lumping all Hebrews together is a mistake.
When a white supremacist such as David Duke lauds the professors, it is an error not to remember that Duke is complaining about what he sees as the superiority complex of those of the neocons who are also of Hebrew extraction. That is a sign of Duke's hypocrisy and doesn't say anything about the professors' hearts. This, of course, does not suddenly render the two professors real Christians.

There are those who would counter that Christianity thinks of itself as superior. Well, it is inescapable that righteousness is superior to evil. It is the real Christian position though that correct thinking is inextricable from real humility that is not vain. Jesus was the greatest by being the least and without doing so for any selfish, egotistical, false-gain.

This is not a contradiction. It is not the sign of a split personality. It is not a paradoxical position. Jesus was only seen as an anomaly, because the perceptions of people had been twisted through the preceding ages away from the norm that was the perception of oneness. It has been a running argument since the fall.

Satanism and the fall of humanity

The fall hasn't stopped either. There was the spiritual fall into the fleshy state for reasons that are occulted. We don't know the specifics, the details, of what we did individually or collectively before the fall to arrive at this condition.

Was it bad or good? Satan was cast down and falls further until the essence of evil is purged, if ever. Jesus came and saved and saves. Do we fall further, or do we follow Jesus in earnest, not with just lip-service but with our hearts bringing forth worthy deeds? Do we just report the news and do nothing else, or do we do what we know is the right thing to do, which is to bring forth? We bring forth or we fall further.

There is also the ongoing fall as civilization spreads through natural communities replacing egalitarianism and giving and sharing with there opposite, which is Satanism. This is the case regardless of how the perception of Satanism, per se, has been managed to exclude capitalism from being seen as under its wing.

Thomas Hobbes

Thomas Hobbes put forth the age-old proposition that humans are by nature selfish. Hobbs said human kinds life in the state of nature is "nasty, brutish, and short." In their fallen condition, they seem so, to those who define nature to accommodate Hobbs. It is a temporary self-fulfilling prophecy. Jesus says rise out of that falsehood to return to where you come from, your roots. This too is self-fulfilling but eternal. The one who wins out is the one who was right all along. However, if you are in hell, will you even see heaven to know it is there and true?

As for life being "nasty, brutish, and short" in a state of nature, it depends upon definitions of course; but, one need only look at the life of various indigenous peoples around the world.
who still are close enough to their roots to see that the spirit of egalitarianism and giving and sharing was the root. That life certainly was less nasty and brutish than is that of the decadent US for instance. If The Bible is to be believed about it, many people lived much longer before so-called civilization provided they were in the right spirit.

Is this difficult to follow or grasp? What we choose is what we'll receive. We make reality within the bounds God sets for us, which bounds God sets according to our trustworthiness that is our righteousness. Why would God allow people who are untrustworthy with seeming godly powers to retain such powers? If God were to allow that, there would never be consequences for those who are untrustworthy. That's why even the essence of evil itself will be consigned to the unquenchable, lake of fire, unquenchable because once the purging fire is out irredeemable evil will be unleashed again on the innocent. This is why vigilance in one's heart is constantly required. This is why Jesus said to constantly be watching so as not to fall into temptation or to remain fallen to such temptation but rather to repent and atone.

God also sets the time for all things. Both patience and action are required.

The brain

The brain is a dynamic receptor, processor, and transmitter. The processing is interpreting. Interpretative skills are dynamic. They are not static or unchangeable. We can sense and think our way out of the dilemma. We can sense (feel emotionally) and think, speak, and act our way out of this purgatory. We can purge the evil in our hearts through faith in repentance and atonement. We can radically transform this existence from its current condition to God's heaven through belief-deeds. We can change the root making the whole tree good. God holds that power and will do it if we merit it. Jesus transcended the static constraints. He connected with the Infinite who informed him the right way that Jesus transmitted to his fellow human beings. Let us do this together.

The right way is not what the nation-states are doing under neocon rule. The neocon philosophy and worldview is in the end unmitigated evil. Thank you, God, that not all Hebrews subscribe to the neocon view. Shame on the neocons whether they call themselves Christian or anything else. The warning is clear. Repent and atone or fail to escape the coming wrath.

Blessed are those of the Hebrews and every people who see the light of Jesus Christ and magnify the Holy Spirit within humanity. This is the place where real and false humanity are, will be, and will remain, separated for the kingdom's sake, for the sake of salvation and redemption.

The tail is wagging the dog

Now, there is an argument over whether the dog is wagging the tail or the tail is wagging the dog, whether the little power is in charge of the superpower or vice versa. This means whether Israel is influencing and controlling US foreign policy or US foreign policy is controlling Israel. The truth is that under neoconservatism, it's both and it is in a constant state of flux. The truth is that under the monied oligarchy of England and Europe, it's both. It is a contrived tug of war of selfishness. Who's winning? Who will come out on top? The Hebrews have the dubious distinction of both failing miserably and also being next of kin to Jesus. When everyone turns to the new commandment, everyone wins. That's the only way.

Noam Chomsky

Does Noam Chomsky say this? Does he mention the new commandment and what it means, what it implies? Does any other Hebrew so-called intellectual say this whether right or left, authoritarian or anarchical, socialist or capitalist, democratic or monarchical, etcetera? Does anyone say it whether Hebrew or not?

Empires dominate but are dominated. Whose philosophy is controlling at any given moment? To some degree, it is all shared guilt. That knowledge is part of becoming free. To deny guilt, culpability, or complicity in our own downfall in the here and now is wrong. Only the innocent are truly ignorant. Once you know better though, once you've been victimized and the conditioning process (cycle of temptation) has begun, thereafter, you choose to fall to temptation. This doesn't relieve the guilt of the tempter, but the tempter's guilt doesn't completely exonerate the fallen who knew better.

Israelis, stop what you are doing to the Palestinians. Americans, stop what you are doing to the Iraqis and others and threatening to do to the Iranians, Syrians, Koreans, Venezuelans, Cubans, and others. Your hawkish ways spell doom. Only the dove is worthy of peace.

I am not attempting to paint professor Chomsky. Two principles stand out with Noam Chomsky. They both stem from the same premise. One is that the will of the people should dictate. The other is that, that will, within any given place, is no body else's business. This is the libertarian coming out. These positions are why Noam often says it doesn't matter what he thinks would be best for a given people. This is why he is popular with anarchists. He believes that libertarian-socialism, anarcho-syndicalism, is best but he is loath to force it upon anyone.

Well, that shows that he is against coercion.
That's good.

It does matter what we think though would be best. That's the message of Jesus. If we think the best and do it, it will come forth. Others may not be there to see it, but it will happen.

It also explains why he would not put sanctions upon any nation-state including Israel, even though he disagrees with Israel's abuses against the Palestinians. It also helps to explain why he places so much of the blame for the world's condition at the feet of the superpower, the US, rather than giving Israel more share of the blame in Palestine and elsewhere by virtue of the US neocon world agenda.

To date, the US has been in everybody else's business, originally building an Anglo-Saxon empire to replace the fallen Anglo-Saxon empire of England. Now it's leaning more toward just a capitalist empire the Anglo-Saxon's still feel particularly well suited to dominate in the end anyway.

That US empire has been much more in everyone else's business than have the Jews, per se. Unfortunately for the Jews, behind the scenes they are working on creating Greater Israel in the dark spirit and have gotten themselves right in the thick of it in London, New York, and Washington. It's been coming on for a long time and is revving up.

Noam's position concerning Israel's abuse of the Palestinians leans in the direction of the excuse that "the devil made me do it," with the devil being the US. Well, yes and no. Jesus held out against the devil until he died. For that, Jesus held and gained life—real life. There is no excuse. Also, who is whispering in the ears of rulers of the US but none other than the false-Zionist neocons most of whom are Hebrews? They are tempters, serpents, and the brood of vipers. They have been tempted, fallen, and now tempt others who willingly participate, reinforcing the cycle. Read Jesus.

Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. (John 8:44).
Also, on a certain level, we are sure that professor Chomsky realizes that everything is everyone else's business. This is not the same thing as saying no one may have any privacy. It means that cousins harming cousins is every cousin's business. There is though also a place of resignation for the sake of weeding out the endlessly recidivistic spirit. Jesus warned the adults. Then they still fell. He did not force them to behave. This separated them and, therefore, saved the others who are now free of the fallen spirit. There is no other way to true knowledge of what is divinely right.

Therefore, not using coercion is absolutely right. However, stating the absolute right path people should take and knowing that it definitely matters is the teaching and life of Jesus. It mattered and still matters what Jesus thought. Noam's position lacks.

True radicalism

For Noam Chomsky, the political reality is that it's too late that Israel never should have been authorized by the powers to shove the Palestinians off the land. This unfortunate position facilitates the taker's mentality. It divorces realism from idealism and radicalism when what is truly real (genuine) and worthwhile is the ideal solution which comes out of true radicalism. Getting at and fixing the root is required. It is the solution.
Root problem, root cause

The root problem, root cause, is selfishness. Selfishness puts out all the wrong seed. It results in everything that is wrong. That's the divine message. Everything else is misleading and obfuscating. Selfishness makes excuses for the sycophants and high counselors.

Unselfishness does exactly the opposite. False realism leads to the Hobbesian view. Human nature is evil, and there is no righteous anomaly that can become the norm. Wrong!

Unequal, unjust application of the law with Israel: No nuclear inspections, no aid-money accounting, allowed to abuse US citizens in Israeli jails

What's going on? Why don't the US and Israel have to undergo nuclear inspections but Iran does? Why doesn't Israel have to account for how it spends aid money from the US when the US makes other nations account? Why doesn't it have to account for US citizens being mistreated in Israeli jails? In September of 2000, CNN ran a segment entitled, Americans Mistreated in Israeli Jails. CNN won't allow anyone to access that spot. Why?
My Name Is Rachel Corrie

The Israel Lobby successfully put enough heat on the New York Theatre Workshop that it postponed the production entitled My Name Is Rachel Corrie. Rachel Corrie was a US protester run over and killed by an Israeli owned, US manufactured, Caterpillar militarized bulldozer dozing up Palestinian land. The Workshop became overwhelmed. They had not anticipated the supercharged atmospherics in New York over the Palestinian nightmare. They were damned if they did and damned if they didn’t, they hastily concluded. Well, will the Israel Lobby be sure to make up the funding deficit? Would the anti-false Zionists have made up the deficit the other way, since conservative-Jewish money would have dried up for the Workshop? Should the New York Theatre Workshop have cared either way about financing? It’s a capitalistic, competitive world in New York, and the Workshop has lots of people and families depending upon the flow of income. Which horse are they backing? What was the expedient thing to do? Did they make the right choice? They think history will decide. It’s a capitalist country. Suffer for the truth or suffer for falsehood, but suffer you will until all is accomplished.

USS Liberty

What’s going on? June 8, 1967, during the Six-Day War, the Israeli air force and navy bombed, strafed, and torpedoed the USS Liberty killing and wounding a number of Americans. The Liberty was a military spy ship monitoring the Israelis. It was flying the US flag. The attack never received a thorough US Congressional investigative hearing.

The cover-up story is that the Israelis certainly wouldn't have wanted any nation, including the US, to know exactly what Israel was doing in that War. Israel's founders were still very much in charge at that time, and they didn't trust anyone. Were the Israelis really that clumsily careless or were they deliberately that careless? Regardless of whether or not it was consciously deliberate, it was nevertheless the result of the selfish spirit. Selfishness is carelessness. Also, the US got carelessly close to the action. That's obvious. It was evil all the way around. There was punishment. The Liberty was not some innocent, harmless vessel. The military mind leads to such mindless results as the USS Liberty. Everyone of that mentality is culpable.

There is no doubt that Israel appears to have received a pass from the US. It was certainly treated with unprecedented favoritism. The guilty conscience of the Nordic and Teutonic race (Germanic) of which the Anglo-Saxon's are part, can be milked by the Holocaust industry to feed evil on both sides until all have a change of heart to unselfishness.

The real story is that it was a false-flag operation under Lyndon Johnson that went sour when the Russians figured it out. We'll cover it in detail in the Supplement.

As for milking guilty feelings, five million non-Jews were exterminated by the Nazis in the death camps. Have all the groups making up those five million been shown the favoritism shown to the Jews? No they have not. Why not? They aren't keys to the Middle East, and they don't run the banks. We'll have more to say about that in the Supplement as well.

The Israel Lobby is much stronger now than it was in 1967, and it wasn't weak then. Even George W. Bush couldn't back down Ariel Sharon when Bush wanted Sharon to stop activities in the Occupied Territories. Bush insisted and lost the subsequent fight hands down. All Sharon had to do was turn to the Israel Lobby in the US, and the US Congress was successfully lobbied to shut down Bush's efforts. The combination of the Israel Lobby and the so-called Christian right, which thinks Israel's reconstitution is a Biblical sign of the beginning of the time leading up to the tribulation, which it is, was more than Bush could handle. He was elected by them and couldn't go against them. They butter some of his bread and will continue to do so once he's out of office and he knows it. Colin Powell is gone, because he challenged the Israel Lobby, even as he caved in all the time.

Now, the argument will be that all the presidents who have suffered major setbacks have done so on the merits. Of course there are nearly infinite factors that have gone into the making of events, and the Israel Lobby is one big set of factors.

The right view never wins though in the mundane world. Only when the divine enters in is a decision truly made on the merits, for only righteousness has any merit in the end. Relative goals never reach the proper end. The policy and practice of humanity have to be aimed as high as conceivable. That's our destiny.
Israel takes land by force

You don't enter the high place by force. It is a privilege won by peace. It is not a right taken by force. Israel has taken the land by force. So have many, most, nations. What has been the pattern? Force leads to downfall.

James Baker

George H. W. Bush had his secretary of state deliver a speech to the AIPAC. James Baker told them the following:

For Israel, now is the time to lay aside once and for all the unrealistic vision of Greater Israel. Israeli interests in the West Bank and Gaza, security and otherwise, can be accommodated in a settlement based on Resolution 242. Forswear annexation; stop settlement activity; allow schools to reopen, reach out to the Palestinians as neighbors who deserve political rights.

The next month, ninety-four US Senators sent a letter to James Baker informing Baker of their support not for Baker's position made in his speech but for the Israelis against Baker's speech. Needless to say, the Bush-41 administration was unsuccessful in getting the Israelis to take Baker's initiative.
George H. W. Bush background

It has to be remembered that Bush is Anglo-Saxon, not Jewish. He was an oilman with Arab connections and a long-time balance of power and containment advocate. He didn't see Israel and the US as joined at the hip. His realist vision, as he saw it, also saw Israel as being capable of being a drag on US foreign policy objectives for the new world order as Bush was raised to it. He wasn't and still isn't a neocon. He's traceable to the self-styled English Blue Blood, noblesse oblige set more so than to Jewish connections. There's much racism in his upbringing. It was the general culture in which he was raised. There is a real mixture in that world of opium money from the China trade and later robber-baron mentality mixed in with aristocratic self-indulgence. Appearances were respectability and high-mindedness while business was shielded gangsterism and shady deal-making to create and further empire and the plutocracy and oligarchy and one's own family and immediate network of families aiding the cause of the superrich and powerful—the betters. Jews were not allowed to join their clubs or even stay in their hotels unless they were of a certain caliber (very rich and fully secular). This was in America in the not too distant past. It was, and remains, a world of snobs.

Everyone in the public spotlight isn't snobbish or conceited, but behind the scenes when some feel cloistered enough, they speak contemptuously of all the other people. Those others would be surprised to find themselves being looked so far down upon. It's a culture that causes real spiritual conflicts. With that background, that's why so many people see the connections of the Bush family to racist Nazism and such.

Eugenics

His family did deal with Nazis. He did hold strong public eugenics ideas right up to the 1970's. He was a friend of William Shockley, a noted eugenicist. Bush-41 had him testify in the US Congress in 1969 about how inferior black people in the US were having too many babies lowering the average IQ of America. Of course the truth is that IQ is greatly tied to educational opportunity. The brain is determined by genetics, but it is also determined by environment so much so that the right spiritual environment can completely trump genetics. There has been to much soul breaking abuse though for most to come together enough to even see it.

The Bush family, as with many, many Anglo-Saxon families earnestly felt, and still feel, superior and threatened by the breeding of inferior stock. This was Winston Churchill's position. It was Moses's position, but Moses used criteria that would have seen Churchill, because of his personal excesses, exterminated. The Nazis actually took some of their eugenics laws and many of their ideas and arguments from the US, where racism was a very strong current through World War II. They don't teach this in the typical American elementary or secondary school. They don't cover it in the Universities much except at the highest graduate level studies.
Many non-neocon Jews fear that anti-Jewish racist feelings could increase again as a result of what the neocon false Zionists are doing. History shows the innocent that they can be tarred and feathered with the guilty just for being of the same ethnic background. If the neocons convince George W. Bush to make a mad push for all out war in the Middle East, it will turn into a disaster. The neocons and false Zionists will be blamed. The fact that neoconservatism came mostly from Jews will not be forgotten. There will be a backlash. Hitler rose to power by complaining about Jewish international bankers having undercut Germany's efforts in World War I and by pointing to the Bolsheviks as being dominated by Jews in Russia. The fact that Germany was a mix of Roman Catholics and Protestants who looked upon the Jews as the unrepentant offspring of the murderers of Jesus made his case easier.

As with all personalities, the story of George H. W. Bush and his son, George W. Bush, is infinitely complicated.

Madrid Peace Conference

Bush-41 did win against the Lobby when he made a direct appeal to the people about what he saw as the Lobby's effort to undermine his administrations initiatives. In September 1991, after the Gulf War, the administration was working on the Madrid Peace Conference. The Israelis attempted to extort ten billion dollars in US guaranteed loans over a five year period for their support. Bush asked for them to delay.
They refused and started lobbying the US Congress. Bush took it to the people. He swung public opinion. Bush won the battle but lost the war. The Lobby was against him in the next election. He lost whereas with their support, he probably would have won.

The Likud Party also lost to Yitzhak Rabin and Labor, but Rabin was assassinated by the ultra-rightwing at a critical juncture in the peace movement.

Greater Israel

The whole neocon gambit that started with the Cold War and is anti-Islam, anti-Arab, and anti-Persian is really shortsighted even though the neocons have a long-term attitude about it. Their goal of a greater Israeli Empire first stretching from the Nile to the Euphrates is a nightmare in the making.

In the same day the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates. (Genesis 15:18).

Now, everyone knows that this is what they have in mind. Their philosophy is lying, so only a fool would doubt that what is spoken in Genesis 15:18 is not the end of their current drive. It wouldn't be bad if it were in the spirit of peace, love, and truth. In that case, everyone living in the area would truly benefit by the resulting bounty. It would be a great place to live for all there and a great example for the rest of the world. Unfortunately, the spirit of the Israelites at present insures disaster and destruction on an unprecedented scale in human-on-human history. Eventually though, Israel will exist in peace. That will be when everyone lives on earth in the full spirit of peace and love as taught and lived by Jesus. That will be Greater Earth, without borders or secrets and with the waters flowing freely.

More on bloodline and spiritline

False Jews see things in terms of bloodline over spiritline. They see themselves as the chosen people, which they are. They see it that they were chosen in a very fleshly sense, in a very worldly sense, to be a master race as a superior stock. The bloodline false Jews are racists. They are anti-Gentile. They are supremacist. They are the chosen people for the world to see how to be and not to be.

The real Jew is the real spiritline Jew. The real Jew is the real Christian. The real Jew adheres to the new commandment of the rightful King of Zion (peace belonging to all the tribes of humanity).

Everyone has it all mixed up. Many Hebrews (not all) are said to be controlling. We can find that in relative terms in all groups. Well, the Hebrews have been whittled down and scattered repeatedly as a direct consequence of selfishness and misunderstanding all the way around. There are reactions in order to gain some control and there are counter-reactions and counter-counter-reactions ad nauseam. The idea is to defuse the situation, not build, stockpile, target nuclear and other weapons as Israel has done.
Such weapons are the great symbol of the failure of the human heart. They represent nothing but hardheartedness.

Evolution

Continuing on, if one puts stock in genetics and Darwin's principle of "survival of the fittest," one finds that Jewish survivors passed on traits that predisposed their offspring to, among all the things influenced by genetics, instinctual and idiosyncratic reactions. This genetic principle applies to all people and families of course. Genetics doesn't supply all the answers, however, far from it. It supplies only part of the mundane answer. The DNA code exists in nature. It is part of nature. It is manifest. Starting at the moment of conception and constantly thereafter, the rest of nature translates that code and that code is transformed (mutated). Therefore, culture, which is determined by a mix of the code to start with and the rest of the environment interacting with that code and changing it, has also to do with reactions and counter-reactions. It is training and conditioning on top of genetic predisposition.

The code, acted upon by the dynamic environment of which it is a part and which is undergirded by God, changes and further influences that environment. Human nature and human nurture are bonded together. They mold the environment. The code and the environment have manifested the human brain capable of choosing a quantum leap to a radical correction overriding the misconception that is static human nature. We do not have to suffer... the blockages of selfishness. These are mental blockages. They block the flow of righteousness. We have been lied to by those who insist that we cannot change human nature. Human nature is what we make it under God. That comes with the gift of life. We can choose to end all our problems if we stop listening to those who say we cannot. If the peacemakers are blessed by their actions, then the war makers are damning themselves by their refusal to change.

Everything is not fair in fleshly survival. The world will be fair when it is conflated with heaven in the kingdom, which is peace since God's heavenly kingdom cannot be taken by force. This is the end of human nature. We don't mean the end in the temporal sense. We mean the end results.

We don't have to be expedient and unethical doing the thing that seems to the hardhearted to give a short-term gain and then gloss over all the lies later after the dastardly deed is done. We don't need greed. We need to reject greed. To hell with greed.

Self-sacrificing for what?

Is sacrificing all unselfishness for the sake of continuing the flesh line of descendents the right thing to do? Is everything only about this life in the flesh? People are asked to give up their lives for the sake of those who may carry on this fleshly existence. Would those lives have better been given over to the proposition that giving and sharing all is better than existing in this fleshly body just for its own sake regardless of ethics? Why is the unethical or amoral worth dying for but not the ethical and moral, which is unselfish? Why die selfishly forever when one can die and live forever unselfishly for everyone’s righteous sake? If you think you live on in your children, what good is it if you hand down selfish precepts and they suffer pain and confusion as a result? Where is the faith that if we do the right things we will survive? Where is the faith in the eternal soul of the righteous?

Woe to the terrorists in Israel too

Creating and sustaining Israel through terrorism, which is how it was done and is being done, only invites back the likes of Sennacherib, Nebuchadnezzar II, Antiochus IV Epiphanes, Titus, Hadrian, and Hitler, only magnified. Watch. It will happen if you don’t repent and atone. Woe to those of Israel and every nation without repentance and who refuse to atone.

The Hebrews now have a culture much of which is living on the defensive edge. Arguments are waged and stalemated via the deluge of obfuscation—beating around the proverbial bush. Their gears are whirling. It gets revved up to a frantic pace and pitch. The hyper-vigilance is always there just under the surface ready to be unleashed. They excuse their actions as survival instincts. Why not change to a higher calling and be chosen and worthy for something better?

IQ scores

It is fairly commonly known that intelligence quotient test results show that those referred to as Ashkenazi Jews score in the aggregate higher than any other identified group for this purpose. There are a number of aspects to this subject that bear scrutiny. First, it should be said that bragging is not a good thing. It is prideful and, therefore, willful. It runs right into taking more credit than due, meaning on the flipside, not giving credit where it is required. The egoist imagines that he or she did whatever it is in which he or she is taking pride much more individually than is ever the case. In fact, in the end, God is the mover of existence. Man is a kind created by God. Man can do nothing without God whether men realize that or not. The puffed up ego is no shield. The consequence of conceit is worse than empty glory.

Furthermore, Ashkenazi are singled out of all Jews. Anyone can cherry pick a group from any nationality which group will do much better than the average on intelligence tests, especially when such tests are designed to favor what is favored by the designers. In other words, what is intelligence?

Real IQ

Real liberal Christians say intelligence is divinely synonymous with righteousness. Therefore, an intelligence-test tests for righteousness—exactly what this life does. Our real IQ, the state of our hearts, minds, and souls, is being tested by life. Also, high IQ scores are used as an indirect justification for evil acts. The ploy is put forth that since one has a higher IQ-test result, one is necessarily more so on the right path than those who score lower. This is self-deception and not a sign of intelligence. It is used to rationalization away real wisdom.

Genetically, there are people who are predisposed to scoring higher on the tests that are held out to quantify mental abilities and hence value. Of course, the tests themselves are the product of the system. The tests are a cog in the self-perpetuation of the preconceived judgments of the status quo. The self-styled victors (takers), merely temporal, design the tests for their time. They don’t test what they don’t appreciate. They don’t understand that this life is an IQ test where worldly arrogant humans are not the final arbiters.

The tests are without doubt culturally biased. Fluency is a culturally relative thing. Vocabulary is subjective understanding of connotations of terms derive from exposure, which is environmental, the product of nurturing. The tests are without doubt inescapably for the most part system-academic achievement tests and memory tests. The tools used to solve test questions are those concerning which the test taker may never have been exposed or hasn’t used in a long while and simply forgotten.

One may argue that it is self-evident that those who nurture their offspring to achieve (as quantified by the tests) are showing and proving the sign of intelligence. Well, that is mundanely true; however, Jesus would rightly challenge and silence the truly receptive to wisdom with the question or parable the answer to, or conclusion of which, is that offspring is everyone. This is where moral intelligence shows through. Why are certain people so fixed upon wishing to offer the benefits of nurturing solely to their offspring? God nurtures all, and we are to follow God's example says Jesus.

Abstract reasoning to divine logic

Those areas of the tests where the system hasn't placed value and hasn't understood how to utilize or nurture minds more predisposed to providing solutions are the very areas where the Ashkenazi Jews do not score higher in the aggregate. I speak of the spatial tests, which are inherently connected with abstract reasoning as the establishment characterizes it. It takes so-called abstract reasoning to grasp the root (radical) solution that is the new commandment. Well, it simply takes a willingness to breakthrough all the lies of those whose fruits are rotten: Death, destruction, war, greed, depravity, etc. It is simply a matter of saying those things are bad, unintelligent, and should not be advocated or done. Then the truth would not be seen as abstract but rather common. This is the divine logic that Jesus taught.

Humanity is faced with huge problems. History shows us and the current state of affairs shows us that the selfish system hasn't worked and won't. Thinking that transcends the currently established way is required for the answers.

Educational emphasis has been the mother of invention, a consequence of selfishness butting up against itself. Genetics has its parallel in culture. Genes are handed down but so is culture. When the Hebrews competed with others down through the ages, there were mundane winners and losers with mundane power flowing about also power from a heaven in turmoil, not the real kingdom of God. Different talents were developed and different mentalities were valued to survive under constraints placed upon each other, out of selfish aspirations stemming from blind dictates of the flesh over real intelligence. This is the result of the necessary search for what is best. When the Gentiles, in their selfish reaction to earlier selfishness of the Jews, in reaction to earlier selfishness of the Gentiles…, wouldn’t allow the Jews to work spatially, Jewish culture gravitated to those areas left open to them. We see the result of that reflected in the IQ scores and rewards. We see that spatial reasoning is not higher for the Ashkenazi. Certain aspects of abstract reasoning are highly correlated with spatial reasoning. Abstract reasoning is the type that allows one to think beyond false consciousness, the notion that common people have to resign themselves to the idea that the American materialistic dream is the best that life has to offer and that human nature precludes universal enlightenment.

The truth is that such abstract reasoning can be practiced and culturally improved as well as verbal and mathematical skills, etc., until what is considered abstract today would be commonplace in the future. IQ is environmental. With the right environment, anyone's IQ can be dramatically improved. Only selfishness that causes so much stress and damage and breaks people’s minds is holding this back worldwide. It's being done deliberately by the genetically selfish, meaning those who want their offspring to dominate.
It is what is going on with all the torturing and bombing, etc. The people are traumatized into being less able to think intelligently. Well, such suffering though leads directly to pleas to God who will show them the truth of all the reasons for the breaking (hardheartedness, selfishness) and the evil spirit behind it that must be totally rejected at all levels. Those ordering the abuse must be dismissed and never followed again.

The world is wasting resources on feeding into lust where it could be feeding into love, peace, truth, and hence the real knowledge and real intelligence. Humanity stifles its potential. It doesn't do what brings real freedom. It doesn't define it correctly.

Jesus was charge by God to go first to his lost, close, genetic relatives, namely the direct descendents of Jacob. Jesus said salvation comes by way of the Jews. It is all wrapped up in this IQ issue and where the Jews necessarily find themselves and the nature of their culture.

The Jews are pivotal

Far from the conception some people have, the descendents of Jacob are not some wholesale, harmful virus or bacteria or the like. It is extremely shortsighted to view them in that light. That light isn't even light. It's darkness. The Jewish people are pivotal, just as Jesus was and is pivotal.

There are those who see the Jews as a threat. Well, there are people amongst the Jews who threaten. However, what of the Jews who don't threaten or who work against such threats? Also, who among you are in the know as to which Jew is capable of turning and which is not? Who among you knows who is redeemable? Do you want souls to be cutoff prematurely? If you want to imagine that you know all about it and are capable of passing sentence than what will be your fate when you are judged by your own standard? Can you escape your own hypocrisy? Can you even see your hypocrisy?

Nurture everyone

As for people who are genetic descendents of Jacob, the wise among them will see the light. They will transcend the mundane arguments. Those who do will become those who show the real intelligence to nurture others than solely the offspring of Jacob. That is what is expected from those to whom much is given and even from those to whom nothing has been given. That nurturing means changing the conception of value.

Because of the entire thrust of history, the Jews find themselves in the center of things, where they have historically gravitated. It is the competitive, reactive spirit. However, to win with anyone being the loser is not to really win. There is no real profit at the real expense of anyone else. In the contest of the sons of light versus the sons of darkness, the sons of light win when the sons of darkness are shown the light and turn and not when they are slaughtered.

Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven. (Matthew 18:21-22).

Seeing through the argument Part of being a Jewish intellectual for many is pride in holding one's own or prevailing in an argument. Part of mundane-survival culture is argumentativeness. Now, debate is good to the extent that it leads to righteousness. When tactlessness is employed for the purpose of obfuscation, however, then argument is of Satan. This is something you will readily be able to identify on any side of any argument if you will be honest and watch for it. You will hear yelling, subject changing, refusal to answer (we don't mean simply yes or no but at all), and ignoring the premises of other sides of the infinitely multifaceted and changing world. This won't be on account of any legitimate reason but solely so the speaker may avoid being entangled in his or her own speech. This is the dark art practiced on all sides of the falsehood.
It is practiced by those with a bent to perception management rather than by those asking, seeking, and knocking. This is where combat comes from. The false spirit refuses to acknowledge refutation. In future then, that false spirit seeks to control the field to silence the truth. The common people are not allowed to hear the refutation of the high and mighty.
That is an unintelligent path. It is shortsighted and results in loss for those who partake on any side.
They imagine that might makes right and so does IQ, as only they define and measure IQ. If Satan gets a high score on the IQ test, then that must mean that whatever he does is right. Wrong. There is mundane IQ and then there is ethical IQ. Who is measuring ethical IQ? Who would deem himself or herself fit to grade Jesus? Who would deem himself or herself competent to give Jesus his doctoral degree? Who could tell him his ethics were right or wrong?

Smart is as smart does, as I learned as a little kid watching movies that were old even then. What is wisdom? The Hebrew prophets warned the Hebrew leaders and people against taking the very actions that led to tragic results. Who was the more intelligent, the leaders and people or the prophets? True, the prophets were murdered. However, they recognized the risks. In some cases they knew in advance that they would be murdered and how and by whom. Jesus is the prime example. The leaders and people went off imagining they were doing the right thing that would result in peace, safety, security, and prosperity, etcetera. We know who proved right and who proved wrong. Are we intelligent enough to see the pattern and to apply it presently?

Ethical IQ is what matters. It is not enough to be a smart as the serpent. One must be smart enough to be as harmless as the dove. That's intelligence. An IQ test is a waste if it doesn't measure behavior by good fruits as Jesus did, good fruits here being people converted to giving and sharing all for the sake of the least first and foremost.
Darkest days before the new age

Why the drive for returning to Palestine to create Israel? Was it a smart move? Israel is nationalistic. The State of Israel is bloodline prejudiced. It isn't open to other lines becoming the new majority. Is this unique among nation-states? No. Still, was it smart to move in and drive out (transfer) the Arabs? No. It is leading to the fulfillment of the prophecy. It is in line with the predicted, ordained series of mistakes that will lead to the dark day of the LORD and then to the dawning of the new age.

Do we want it to happen? We want the new age but not the dark days before it though they must come. We know that humanity must go through the dark period to get to the other side. We know that the dark days will come because of the stiff-necked who won't heed the warnings.

We know that we must warn for the sake of those who will listen and so that after the dark days, the people will know that willfulness caused it and won't repeat that mistake but will follow after righteousness as God has wanted them to.

Jewish lesson not yet to be learned

According to Abraham, he was told by God that his descendents would own and rule over the occupied land from the Nile to the Euphrates. What happened? They were starved off the land and sent into slavery in Egypt for some four hundred years. Then they were released from bondage and took by force the same land they were earlier starved off, which was Palestine. They were subsequently subjected to many wars and exiles and scatterings under primarily the Assyrians (Iraqis) and then Babylonians (also Iraqis). Allowed to return by the Persians (Iranians), they continued to ignore the truth. Therefore, the Greeks persecuted them. Finally, they rejected the greatest light the world has ever known causing Jesus to be murdered, their greatest and inevitable error. After that, they embarked along with the Romans upon persecuting and murdering the followers of Jesus. They continued persecuting the Christians even after they (the Hebrews called Jews) were themselves crushed by the Romans. The Byzantine Empire persecuted them. They were also made to leave England, Germany, France, and Spain. Much of this was vengeance for the persecution of the Christians by the Jews during the early Christian era. The Ottoman Empire and the Muslims in general were more tolerant.

In Europe, first they were not allowed to farm. Then they were not allowed to do handiwork as in crafts. Then they were not allowed to be in the business of buying and selling things. They were left with finance and the great temptation and evil of charging interest. They made huge profits financing business and wars. Finally, they were driven into labor-extermination camps with many others where the Germans kept the gas chambers and crematoriums burning.

Sure they were persecuted. They had ignored God's command to them to be fair and good. They had murdered Jesus and severely hounded and persecuted the Christians. They then were put on the receiving end again, judge by their own standard. They had turned their backs on the real God again and so God left them. They had wrong ideas about what God wants. Many of them have been stiff-necked. They had the advantage of being warned, clearly and plainly, as no other people not to stray into wanting a temporal kingdom. They were warned on top of having a history, a written record, clearly explaining not to do exactly what they went ahead and did anyway. That record made clear that their nation has been dealt with. They doubt it still, obviously. Now what will happen?

They have taken the same land yet again by force and are screaming for expanding war for their security. It is the same old expand-or-be-overridden, empire argument. Who is dull enough not to see the signs of the times? Who is so dull as to imagine that this time it is okay with God that the Hebrews take men's lives and the lives of women and the old and even innocent babies so they may occupy and possess the land and lord it over other nations? Will they ever learn?

Sure Islam is mistaken, but "woe to that man by whom the offence cometh!" (Matthew 18:7). It means woe to the nation that fights them and kills them on account of their misguided, violent religion.

The forever incorrigible among the Hebrews will forever suffer. That's true by definition. That spirit has only become worse amongst the greater population.

There will be a major separation of the Hebrews. There will be the hardhearted who didn't turn and doomed themselves. Then there will be the converts to Jesus's message who will be saved and their posterity will be the remnant.
Okay, so you don't have a homeland in the nationalistic sense, the bloodline sense. In that case, you either stay at the bottom or rise to the top or somewhere in between within the nation-state in which you find yourself. There are Hebrews in the US. If because of their culture of mercantilism and finance, they have gained mundane wealth, is that enough to condemn the whole?

Jews were not allowed to be craftsmen in feudal Europe. The self-styled Christians looked upon the Jews as the people who descended from those who murdered Jesus. Also, the Jews were those who still refused Jesus. Well, it was wrong of people professing to be Christians to deny Jews from working with their hands as craftsmen. It was also wrong of the Jews to reject Jesus. Therefore, you have at least two wrongs and nothing right.

More on bloodline and DNA

Look, I have no idea how much if any Hebrew bloodline there is in my background. With every generation back, there is a doubling of the number of ancestors. For the most part, also with each generation back the population is smaller. Could my entire family tree branch off the trunk before Jacob's branch? It is alright with me either way. Relations go further back than Jacob's generation. They go back to the beginning. Every human being is genetically related to every other human being. We are a genetic kind off the same branch. We aren't though yet a spiritual kind. We haven't made ourselves that yet.
Most importantly, Jesus said the criteria will be used in separating out the sheep and goats, and it isn't going to be a DNA scan for percentage of Jacob's DNA.

Besides, I'm more concerned about just doing the right thing. I want to do the right thing in faith and let the separation take care of itself. Jesus didn't go to the cross to win the throne. He is who he is, because he did the right things for the sake of others. That's what makes him great. That's why he's worthy to sit on the throne as the brother-servant.

Why are the Jews treating their cousins, the Palestinian Arabs, so poorly? Jesus identified the problem. He showed that an officer in the Roman Legion could have the greatest faith he had run into in Israel. He showed that a Samaritan woman could believe in him. He showed that a Canaanite woman could comprehend and be worthy. His apostles went on to gather many more into the fold first Jew and then Gentile, per Moses, Isaiah, other prophets echoing the same prophecy, and Jesus.

The false Zionists don't get this, and their antithetical conspiracy is real and a neurotic mess.

Israeli nuclear weapons

Mordechai Vanunu worked in the Israeli nuclear weapons industry. He was a whistleblower in 1986. He leaked that Israel already had some two hundred atomic weapons as far back as 1986. He has been a prisoner in Israel for eighteen years as of this entry in 2004, most of them in solitary confinement. He still speaks out. He's a professed Christian. He put truth and the interest of peace over bloodline.

Israel has never allowed any of its nuclear program to be fully inspected. Attempted inspections were always with advance notice and the inspectors were always restricted so much that they found it a waste of time. The US and Israel demand that the Iranians and Koreans and others open everything they have to inspections. This is a terrible double standard.

British complicity in Israel's nuclear weapons

Britain supplied Israel with experimental quantities of nuclear materials. Israel ended up with its own nuclear reactor at Dimona. Michael Michaels was serving at the time as Britain's representative at the International Atomic Energy Agency. His advocacy for Israel within Britain was responsible for the extremely secret program. Michael is accused of being a false Zionist with dual loyalties to both Britain and Israel. The program was so secret that Britain's technology minister, Tony Benn, wasn't informed.

Israel also has a biological-weapons facility named Nes Tziona.

These developments make Israel at present a world power in its own right.

What is really telling is that Israel still hasn't admitted to the fact that it has nuclear weapons, both atomic and hydrogen. When asked, it won't answer. It employs what is called "a policy of deliberate ambiguity." In other words, its policy is falsehood. Well, the Pharisees lied about Jesus. Is there anything off limits? No. Israel has modified US cruise missiles so that Israel can hit any city in the world via submarine-launched nuclear-tipped cruise missiles. They have armed German-supplied launch submarines in service. It should be obvious to all why the US has funded Israel with some five billion dollars a year in aid when the Israelis have refused to sign onto the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty. Jews are running much of Washington.

Now, it would be wrong to make the Jews one's mortal enemy in the sense of giving up on them. We are to love everyone's potential and not call down wrath. Therefore, the Muslims must convert to real Christianity so that they will be on the right side of God. The Muslims being true to Mohammed spirit who are calling for Israel's destruction are categorically wrong and must disavow that goal and renounce Islam for the fraud that it is.

Conspiratorial thinking

This will be a good place to further discuss conspiratorial thinking. Conspiracy is, among other things, a matter of the level of consciousness. Can one subconsciously conspire? Can one unwittingly participate in, and contribute to, a conspiracy. A conspiracy is a secret plan. Of course the government has secret plans. If they didn't plan in secret, they wouldn't think they need to classify any plans. However, they do classify their plans. They throw out the journalists and anyone else they classify as a risk. Then they make their plans that they classify as secret to varying levels depending upon their assessment. Now, is anything I've said so far conspiratorial thinking in the pejorative sense? No.

What of consciousness here? Well, different people use, and view, the term "conspiracy" from all sorts of angles. If they happen to agree with the plans of the government the true direction of which is unclear to all but God, they generally hold that there is no conspiracy.

The Nazis openly classified people into groups. The Nazis secretly planned to exterminate certain of those groups. To those who agreed, or agreed with those secret plans, the Nazis did not conspire. To the Nazis and those agreeing, the extermination was best. To them, those who secretly planned against the Nazis plan were conspirators and conspiratorial thinkers in the pejorative sense. You have to understand, Hitler really thought what he was doing was truly best and right. Of course, it was the product of rationalizing. The Nazis were fooled and fooled themselves. The degree to which they were wrong and fooled is the degree to which they diverged from the message of Jesus. The same holds for those the Nazis sent to the gas chambers. The same holds for those who then overturned the German regime. It is the measure of human kind.

Now, a stigma has been deliberately attached to seeing conspiracies, because the results of the secret plans of the Empire drive people to greater confusion and insanity.

People react to directions. If the path of humanity is taken long enough toward giving and sharing, the greedy will either come to agree or wither and die as an antibody-effect against the disease of greed. The initial reaction varies from person to person and group to group. The end though is agreeing and acting accordingly or dying.
1672

Some diseased spirits

The direction of humanity away from giving and sharing though strengthens the disease making the whole body sick and contaminating the environment with contagions. It is then that anxious and depressed minds that really would otherwise thrive can become as Legion had become in the Gospels.

And they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes. And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains: Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him. And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones. But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him, And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not. For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit. And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many. And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding. And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea. And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done. And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid. And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine. And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts. And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him. Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee. And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel. (Mark 5:1-20).

This was radical, because it was real liberalism. Jesus got to the spiritual root of the problem, which is the true meaning of radicalism.

Did the events in Mark 5:1-20 happen literally or were they metaphorical or both? The man was literally healed, and the pigs literally ran into the water and drowned.

Why pigs? Why some two thousand? Why did they instantly drown themselves? What happened to the evil after that? Why did Jesus give them leave to enter the pigs rather than sending them straight to the lake of fire? Consider what these things signify.

The answer is it was both literal and metaphorical, as is the case with everything in The Bible by virtue of the microcosmic and macrocosmic connections. This truth itself is missed by those who dismiss and fear greater pattern recognition in everything. Jesus saw the patterns that were real and are still not seen by the naysayers such as those of the psychologists who find their reality in their own consensus opinion/imagination. There are degrees of literalness simply by virtue of the degree of directness apprehended. Some people see connections where others don't know there are any. Because they can't see them, in their arrogance, they assume there aren't any. What psychologist today could have healed Legion as quickly as Jesus healed him?

This is not to say that everything every psychologist does is not helpful. It is to say though that using the methods they use today and avoiding invoking God, they can only help up to a point where only greater faith in God can carry on to complete health.

The power of belief

At any rate, the power of emotion and thought conformed creation. Jesus didn't run any studies first. He didn't do any experiments first. He didn't consult the Empire. He did though bring forth witnesses who testified. That's reality. Ask God.

What is the power of witnesses and testimony? What is the power of spreading the word? What is the power of the truths in this work that are the truths in The Bible? What is the power of people talking about and doing the giving and sharing as outlined in this work? The emotions and thoughts will conform creation. Heaven is in your heart, in your mind, your words, deeds. Heaven is the heart of God.

Who is number one? Who is one's own person? When you say you are number one, the only way it is real is when you are number infinite. The only way to be number infinite is by infinite separation and infinite connection. Do no harm, but have compassion and show mercy overcoming within and casting out without.
Wholeness

Remember, the direction of humanity away from giving and sharing strengthens the disease. The disease had thought the former condition of Legion was best and saw evil conspiracy in Jesus's plan that was secret to them because they could not grasp what was openly, plainly, and clearly manifest. Well, if the whole of humanity is a pathogen, then it is best that it be marked for eradication by the greater whole.

If, on the other hand, the disease within humanity can be overcome, the whole organism that is the whole of humanity need not be eradicated. This all, of course, applies on both the mundane and spiritual levels. The most important thing is the health of the greatest whole. What is the greatest whole and what is best for it and how do we behave accordingly?

Now back more specifically to the idea of blaming bloodlines as if that pattern cannot be overcome by the spirit. Evil is not to be laid at the doorstep of bloodlines, such as Hebrew or Anglo-Saxon. It is laid at the gates of hell that is the home of the spirit of darkness that hates Jesus.

Capitalists, the new Pharisees

To top it off, the capitalists are despitefully using both false Christians and false Jews.

The admonition to follow the money (capital) is always correct. Money changes hands, but the principle never fails. It always comes around to that kind of wealth. God created the world without money. Humans created what is commonly termed civilization and then money.
that led to easier hoarding and the further devouring of souls.

Follow the money

How often has American capitalism (faith in, and love of, money) done monstrous acts that are buried in classified archives? There are enough publicly known atrocious acts to convince anyone of the hypocrisy of the American system. Most conservatives do not care that America is hypocritical, so long as they have their selfish material possessions, worldly wealth, high self-image, comforts, elitist private privileges and advantages, and perceptions of safety and security. How could any Christian work for that by participating in any of the monstrous operations, clandestine or not? No true Christian could. Only fakes could and do. They must repent before it is too late.

No violence, no war

Real Christians do not equate America with God. They do not equate capitalism with the way of Jesus. They cannot join the military and if drafted cannot fight or facilitate fighting. Concerning existing soldiers, they asked John the Baptist.

And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages. (Luke 3:14).
Christianity is a communistic, pacifistic ("Do violence to no man") religion.

The Theban Legion or twisting Paul?

There were Roman soldiers who became Christians while serving in the military. There were such soldiers who upon receiving the revelation, refused to kill Christians and were persecuted and martyred (killed for Jesus's sake: For their beliefs) by the Roman Empire. The entire Theban Legion of 6,600 was apparently murdered in A.D. 286 by order of Maximian, who later became Roman emperor. Maximian had them killed for refusing to perform pagan sacrifices, swear an oath to Maximian, and attack a group of Christians in Gaul (France).

The conversion phenomenon among soldiers was in large measure the reason Constantine co-opted the Roman church to make it his tool for selfish gain through war: Anathema to Jesus and all real Christians.

There are conservatives today who think that refusing to go into violent combat is treason. They say that refusing blindly to follow the commands of the commander in chief of the military (to their minds, the policies of any conservative administration) constitutes giving aid and comfort to the enemy, especially in a time of war, declared or not. This of course is hypocritical, because such views on conscientious objection to combat make their supreme law of freedom of religion of no effect. It is hypocritical for any professing Christian to hold that pacifism is treason, since Christians are to serve only God and not a nation-state in opposition to the precepts of Christ.

As pointed out elsewhere in this work, it is not sufficient to point to the writings of Paul to counter this position of Jesus. Either to interpret Paul in that way is wrong or Paul himself was wrong. As we have shown, Paul has been misused by those looking for technical loopholes. The Theban Legion was not wrong to disobey the orders of Maximian. They were heroic. They died in the name of Jesus. No interpretation of Paul's writings or writings attributed to Paul can undo that truth.

Conservatives today mistakenly still subscribe to human militaristic doctrines that earlier conservatives mistakenly developed based upon various verses from the writings of Paul and Peter or attributed to them as follows:

Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. (Romans 13:1).

Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work. (Titus 3:1).

Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well. (1 Peter 2:13-14).
The human doctrines based upon these and other verses rationalize participation in wars and other evils. Those doctrines are hypocritical, because as has been stated before, no writings may be used by any Christian to negate the clear and plain teachings of Jesus to turn the other cheek and not to take up any sword except the sword that is the tongue speaking the word of truth. We are spirit. God dwells within us. The truth radiates from us despite disharmony without. We know the way of peace is the correct way always. It is the only way that the equilibrium of the peace will ever be realized throughout the whole of existence. Remember, Jesus answered Pontius Pilate as follows:

Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. (John 19:11).

According to the Tiberium dedication block found in the Roman theatre at Caesarea of Judea, Pontius Pilate was the Roman prefect of the Province of Judea. Jerusalem, the city where they murdered Jesus, lies in Judea. Of course, Pontius Pilate was placed there so that the prophecy could be fulfilled.

Of course nations exist by the grace of God.

He removeth kings, and setteth up kings. (Daniel 2:21).

And giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men. (Daniel 4:17).
Let us not forget that Jesus came with the greater message.

Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me: forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thus with them in the time of thine anger. (Jeremiah 18:23).

Here, Jeremiah prays to God not to forgive. However, Jesus taught us to pray to God to forgive. "Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." (Luke 23:34). Jesus had called them hypocrites for knowing but also to be forgiven for not knowing. He knew they knew on a mundane level but did not know on the divine level, hence they did not overcome. Those who truly know do overcome. It is the proof.

Now, does the Christian follow all the Old Testament prescriptions for war and revenge or does the Christian interpret those in light of the New Testament? Jesus did not violently resist the Jews or Romans. He did not spill blood. He evaded the Jews and Romans by making himself scarce when his time for crucifixion was not yet at hand. He obeyed the laws of the land, but is there any Christian willing to say that Jesus would have followed any human order in violation of the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it? He would not have done it.

"Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work." (Titus 3:1). It says, "good work." It does not say to be ready to do every bad work: Every command of the worldly powers to violate the spirit of the commandments. It is qualified language to be treated as such. Were it otherwise, Jesus would have had nothing more to teach us then blindly following the orders of every man who asserts himself with the sword to lead others under the sword. That would have been no different than what the Romans had been teaching all along and the Greeks and Persians and Assyrians and Babylonians and on and on before them. It is not what Jesus taught.

By keeping to the spirit, one cannot violate the law of the worldly powers, because their laws always hang on the spirit, no matter how far below. The basest man still thinks he is right and always is stuck in the logic of righteousness if he is willing to see his arguments through to their inevitable conclusion. They cannot interpret their own legal precepts in any way but hypocritically if they arrive at the conclusion that under their laws one is required to violate the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it.

As said above, real Christians do not equate America with God. They do not equate capitalism with the way of Jesus. They cannot be militaristic.

Further globalization of evil

In addition to the eroding effect of their regressive, violent interpretations of the New Testament message and the shameful history of imperialism and colonialism mentioned above, currently there are capitalist corporations globalizing at a fever pitch. They are engaged in the negative exploitation of workers many of whom are peasants with what those peasants see as little option. Those peasants have been given no clear choice but to work for sub-subsistence wages under often dangerous and harmful working conditions in environmentally degrading industries pending their admission into the delusional life of the capitalist-consumer class.

The insatiable demand of the US consumer system and the barrage of marketing to sustain and grow that system have created in the population a completely false sense of what is important. Rampant consumerism, materialism, and mammon worship is the death knell of this worldly system. It will fall of its own weight on its crumbling foundation and with its fractured walls and top-heavy roof. Yet, despite all of this and more, those calling themselves conservative Christians in America believe that America is blessed of God and not being tricked by their own satanic mentalities.

They put their faith in nearly unaccountable for-profit corporations not owned by the employees and practicing little to no democracy in their workplaces. They generate scandal after scandal of excess and deception. The list of corporate abusers is much deeper and covers much more egregious abuses then the heavily covered cases.
All the third-world abuses are usually swept under the rug.
Bhopal

Consider Dow Chemical and the Bhopal, India, disaster of 1984. Over 8,000 people were killed by a toxic release from the company's plant. The survivors and ill have not even remotely been adequately cared for. The history of corporatism is loaded with such abuses.

The governmental revolving door sees corporate employees, with their sizable wealth or connections or both, purchasing or prostituting their way into governmental power where they represent powerful corporate interests. The US being a truly representative government is an illusion. The people are marketed to and are going for show-biz political and religious glitz rather than substance.

Democracy in the workplace

If the US is now promoting democracy about the globe as is claimed by Condoleezza Rice, then why is not democracy in the workplace the cry of the US? If capital investors or stockholders may vote concerning corporate management, why can't workers who invest their labor in the output of such corporations also elect those who manage them? If democracy is good, why is it not good in business? If it is good for some forms of investors, why is it not good for all forms of investors including those who invest their labor? Why are the rich conservatives afforded so much more democracy than are the other classes? Their brand of democracy is for sale to the highest bidder. That's the way they like it. That's the way they've set it up.
In addition to all the worldly rewards being confused with godly blessings, the conservatives propound that the entire capitalist system was divinely inspired and is the salvation of the world if only the rest of the world will fall into the consumerism line. How wrong they are.

Unsustainable system

Even if sub-subsistence wages are raised to subsistence levels and even if working conditions are made much less dangerous or harmful in those other countries, the entire system would still be based upon raping the planet. It is just robbing Peter to pay Paul. The energy demands under this drive for consumer societies in third- and second-world countries will not be met in time by advances in for-profit technologies simply because the manufactured appetite for personal wealth will outweigh any altruistic (or even supposed intelligent, selfish) tendencies among the general populations of the nations now undergoing capitalistic industrial development for the first time. The brainwashing of advertising and the other methods used to tempt people to excess will have cast an irreversible spell. The entire system is simply not sustainable. The kind of breakthroughs needed to handle the coming disasters will only come out of a system that is the antithesis of capitalism and selfishness.

Trickle-down economics is too slow and not sustainable. The supposed economic law of market forces fails to take into account the hyper-greedy who gladly sacrifice posterity. Don't fall for the serpent's sales pitch. All the various so-called economic laws or theories put forth in high places in academia are devoid of knowledge of, or faith in, of the workings of the Holy Spirit. They have all their faith in the misled human device that is mammon and none in God's provisioning that was demonstrated in the feeding of the five thousand. They just have not understood it or have deliberately avoided acknowledging understanding it in order to keep their positions lording it over others.

Nothing short of completely giving and sharing all freely is ultimately sustainable for all concerned. Anything short of it will see death and destruction. Of course, the mentality that is unselfish enough to accomplish salvation will also not overpopulate the planet but will rather exercise unconstrained self-control over all appetites including, of course, those associated with procreation. Technological methods that attempt to sidestep the requisite choice of self-restraint will fall short of the level of spirituality necessary truly to overcome. Such continued attempts lead to the death of the body and spirit in hell. It is inherent within the design of God that righteousness be truly learned, appreciated, retained, and always practiced to the exclusion of selfishness. Since this is not the obvious teaching and practice of America, it is clear and plain that America most certainly is not to be confused with God and that Americanism is not to be confused with or associated with godliness. To imagine otherwise is an affront to God and contradicts God.
The supreme law is the Great Commandment

America, per se, is not acting as a nation of God. The nation of God is God's spiritual family of believers in, and doers of, righteousness. For Biblical purposes, one may come at the question of "nation" or "country" from many directions simultaneously. This goes back to the understanding of which law takes precedence and why following the higher law is always justified. Many people have great difficulty with conceptualizing this, so I will explain a little for the sake of their understanding and righteousness.

Human governments have been allowed by God for the sake of God's plan for our learning righteousness and abidance. Governments have been allowed by God to be both righteous and unrighteous. This is what we have been shown. The governments of humans are to be obeyed when one is under their jurisdictions. This includes civil disobedience. Do not refuse to obey righteous civil laws in an effort to change the government. Governments are not to be challenged or resisted violently. They are not to be challenged or resisted even passively in violating their valid laws. One is to do good to even the basest of leaders, because doing good does not facilitate evil. This is how Jesus handled it, and it is right.

Remember, all mundane laws when taken to their ultimate rationale, hang upon the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. Therefore, following the divine is never violating the mundane. The mundane is only valid when it is consistent. If it doesn't uphold the first and great commandment and the second like, it is inconsistent and, therefore, invalid. Don’t be afraid. It is why Jesus, contrary to the mundane law of Moses at the time, said that he would not stone the adulteress but told her rather to go and sin no more. He did unto her as he would have had her do unto him. He loved her (his neighbor) as himself. He treated her as being one with himself through God. Therefore, he did not violate the law but rather, in a manner of speaking, showed the law of stoning to be unconstitutional. He rightly divided the truth. He interpreted properly. He spoke and did the law.

These are definitive statements not made verbatim by Paul or Peter in the verses above. Upon close inspection, you will find that they are not inconsistent with them. Where does the United States fit in with this?

Again, Peter wrote the following:

Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well. (1 Peter 2:13-14).

However, there is the following which must also be reconciled with 1 Peter 2:13-14:

The high priest asked them, Saying, Did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us. Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree. Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins. And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him. (Acts 5:27-32).

"We ought to obey God rather than men." All the Biblical passages that say that one should be ruly must be filtered with that statement that "we ought to obey God rather than men." If men command to violate the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it (do to others what one would not have them do to oneself, leave the half-dead to fend for themselves, forget the needy, not love each other as Jesus loved his friends or run contrary to, and hypocritically against, the Holy Spirit in any other way) we must refuse to obey. We must do the exact opposite of obeying them, stand by the divine law revealed by Jesus, and suffer persecution and even death for the sake of his name. To do so is more important than the life of the flesh.
Rather than fight and die for the life of the flesh and in the end the death of the body and the soul, be less cowardly now. Live rather for the life of the spirit eternal.

There is Old Testament precedence for this, such as Daniel 3:18, which says, "But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up." Nebuchadnezzar II was a man whose ordinance was to serve and worship the golden idols he ordered set up. Daniel refused to obey the ordinance, even though Nebuchadnezzar II was sent for the punishment of evildoers. He though was an evildoer, though we cannot hypocritically judge and condemn.

Of course, the Peter of the book called First Peter, and Paul also, took their understanding from Jesus who taught, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's" (Matthew 22:21) and acknowledged that Pontius Pilate had authority over him, Jesus, as given Pilate from above. It had to be that way. The prophecy in order to be fulfilled depended upon it.

Seeing that one wishes good rulership, one must be ruly. Ruly under what law? What law are the rulers following?

How do the statements of Peter ("for the punishment of evildoers") and Paul jibe with not casting stones and not resisting evil with violence? They are highly contextual. They are contradictory, ambiguous at best, unless the full context of the Gospel is applied to them to restrain hypocrisy.
"Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake" is qualified. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man that doesn't cause you to violate the new commandment, hence the golden rule, and the two greatest commandments. In fact, do the new commandment for it is the whole, real law.

Look, the whole point is that the ordinances of man are impossibly hypocritical. This is what Jesus revealed. The first premise of Jesus here is that God is not hypocritical. Hypocrisy is evil, and God is not evil. Hypocrisy comes from Satan. The Bible, the scriptures, are full of Satan. If one is not careful, one ascribes the teachings of Satan to God and fall short. That's revealed in The Bible. Both Peter and Paul were susceptible to this, susceptible to error. We are all confronted with it. It's the trial of this life.

We can't be hypocritical and judge and condemn people for failing to see the light when the light is hidden from them, when they aren't alert enough, because we are all not alert enough at given times. This is why Jesus forgave them from the cross, for their ignorance.

Prophetic fulfillment

Not one jot of the law is to disappear until all has been fulfilled. The fulfillment is when everyone sees hypocrisy for what it is and avoids engaging in it as Jesus avoided engaging in it. That's why Jesus's path is the path to salvation. Everyone being the humble servant of everyone is the best and only way. It is the only non-hypocritical way.
We are to impart the knowledge of unselfishness and demonstrate it to all so that the whole law will be the new commandment that we all love one another as Jesus loved his friends. Then, no one will do anything that will be inconsistent with the spirit of the law. We all are to learn to have good governance within. We are to learn to exercise self-control in respect of each and all. That is the conflation under unselfishness. We are never to obey, therefore, the commands of people where those commands run contrary to the commandments of God, because all good rulership and citizenship hang upon the divine commandments. Jesus said as follows:

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets. (Matthew 22:37-40).

Notice that Jesus said "all the law." Every ordinance of man which is inconsistent with these commandments is not rooted in the highest law, the divine law, and is, therefore, hypocritical. It is unsupportable. It is falsehood. The ultimate intention (the spirit) of the human law is to ward off perceived evil (no matter how distorted the perception; even Satan thinks he is right) and to go on to magnify the good, but its letter when taken in isolation being interpreted without a view to its ultimate intention serves as a means of conservatives to block that ultimate intention. Under such spiritless interpretations, greater goodness is mundanely outlawed. This sets up humans against the divine will and results in negative consequences and wrath.

Just as with laws of municipalities, counties, states, and other subservient jurisdictions, and just as with lesser statutes even at the highest jurisdiction in the United States, all laws are subject to the test of consistency with the Constitution of the United States of America. This then is analogous. Even the US Constitution is subject to the test of consistency with the spirit of the great commandment and the second, upon which that constitution hangs.

Caesar’s domain was, after all, worldly and temporal. The government of America, the current Babylon (Rome and caesar were the Babylon when Jesus walked the earth), is, after all, a government of laws of men inconsistent with the divine law. Is this a call to unruliness? It is just the opposite. It is a call for those of the rule of law of men to bring themselves into conformity with the divine law and, thereby, stop being themselves unruly and willful. It is a call to the basest of people and all people to repent.

Jesus did not obey every ordinance of man

Jesus did not, I repeat, did not, obey every ordinance of man in letter, which is what Peter and Paul were ambiguous about. He did not stone the adulterous. He did not punish the evildoers. He removed the unclean spirits from within those of the sinners who believed and came to have enough faith. The language of Peter and Paul served up confusion on such matters. The confusing way of the Satanic spirit slipped in. "Obey every ordinance" is impossible without knowingly and willingly facilitating hypocrisy. This is no call to lawlessness or disorder. It is just the opposite. This is no judgment against, or condemnation of, Peter or Paul. It is the revelation. It is a help.

Rather than learning to be perfectly ruly by teaching and living the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it, the ostensible Christian conservatives are steeped in the worldly and temporary political-socialization process culminating in super patriotism: Super pride in country. They are so puffed-up with haughty pride and arrogance that they refused to see where their government and its laws fall woefully short of the Christian imperative. One sees signs all about saying "Proud to be an American" and similar sayings of pride in the nation-state. Jesus said as follows:

That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness. (Mark 7:20-22).

Note that deceit is listed. That proves the noble lie is defiling. It is pollution. Note each word, but note especially murders, thefts, covetousness, deceit, and pride. These apply to the whole of the nation of American conservatives for they have even openly supported all of it through the policies and actions and inactions of those officials whom they have elected, for whom they voted.

Pride is Satanic

Note that the word "pride" is listed among these defiling things. Pride (in country or otherwise) is pollution. The bigger and more numerous the US flags, the greater the pride, defilement, and pollution. They are not the flags of God. Therefore, the signs of pride, which are all about, come from people's hearts and defile them. This love of country or nation (this nationalism) when country and nation are equated with greed, violence, and depravity, makes it impossible for the prideful to also love God, who teaches us to hate those things. By virtue of the conservatives pridefully equating America with God, they fall prey to the temptation to worship the devil and gain the whole world.

Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. (Matthew 4:8-10).

Do not serve hypocrisy.
How do the conservatives read this? Do they think the voice they hear is different from the one Jesus heard tempting him? Do they imagine that that same voice is not the same one that tempted Benjamin Franklin, Teddy Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Adolph Hitler, and others?

Cannot serve both God and capitalism

Jesus did not say serve also mammon (capital). God is not the god of money. It is quite impossible to pledge one's allegiance to a worldly nation of capitalism (mammon) and also serve only God, for Satan is the prince of the worldly and of unrighteous mammon. One cannot serve both God and capitalism. "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." (Matthew 6:24; Luke 16:13).

However, millions of lip-service Christians, conservative and otherwise, claim to be able to do just that. They love capitalism (mammon owning everything). They live it. They eat only its fruit. They breathe in it spirit. They sleep under its roof. They are compelled by their country to swear oaths to America. They are compelled by their country, in which they have so much pride, to go directly against Christ's teachings. They are compelled to serve country in opposition to serving God. They take pride in this delusional duty they have set up for themselves to be irresistibly coercive.

The business of America is business. The system of America is capitalism: Self first, commerce, profit, and love of money. If one loves America as it is, one cannot possibly also love God. Jesus made this plain and clear in his Sermon on the Mount.

No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. (Matthew 6:24).

Do you spend more time on the selfish pursuit of riches for self and blood kith and kin, or do you walk in the way of godliness? Mammon is the god of riches. The only domain of this world that will ever be divine will be the one that is completely and always serving the divine law and will, and not money.

Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth. Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling. (Psalm 2:10-11).

No to oaths, no to pledging allegiance to Satan's way

Serving God precludes looking down upon people who refuse to say pledges or take oaths to America or any other country. Jesus identified hypocrisy. It is hypocritical to profess the rule of law and say one must pledge allegiance to the nation of mammon when the highest law of that land says that there shall be no law prohibiting the free exercise of religion. Freely exercising Christianity precludes saying any Pledge of Allegiance to the US or any other worldly state. It is hypocritical to have, and demand in others, pride in country and also say one believes in Christ.
The conservatives equate God and country.
With all that has been written here about the fruits of America, how can anyone equate that fruit with the fruit Jesus was calling for? Does it mean that any other nation is bringing forth the fruit Jesus called for? Some are trying more than others, and the US is not trying the hardest. In many respects, it is bringing forth the least.
Chapter 9  American Dream: Vision From God

Many of the conservatives see the American Dream as a vision from God.

Mundane education, satanic indoctrination, secular humanism

As I mentioned previously, the ideological conservatives calling themselves Christians believe all their monetary and material wealth is a blessing from God. They believe, therefore, that America is blessed by God. Many of them believe the American Dream is a vision from God. What is the American Dream? It is, among other things, the idea that by following the capitalist rules, working hard for capital, and persevering, one may achieve monetary and material wealth. It is also claimed that a high, mundane education is the key. Is that a vision from God? It is the opposite of the real Christian faith. Christian faith holds the following:

Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. (1 John 2:15-16).
But he turned, and said unto Peter,
Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.
(Matthew 16:23).

You see, the American Dream doesn't put character first. It puts selfishness first. I've heard it said that education is the key to unlocking every door in America. Well, a highly educated rogue can enter through many doors in America that many without any diplomas at all are not allowed to see let alone enter. However, would you rather have a highly educated scoundrel or a saint without a diploma living eternally in your house with you? Education is not an inherently evil thing; however, a good character is always of a higher priority than a high, mundane education, which is indoctrination in mammon worship.

This is not to say that one ought to neglect studying and learning. In fact, reading the scripture and this work and others, etc., is essential for many in developing a good character. That is not a merely mundane education however. Some people are raised from birth by those of good character and are highly predisposed to assimilating good character traits so that it is a part of them, written on their hearts, long before they can even read. Others must wait until they delve into the word long after having been through their formative years. They are predisposed also and deserve much credit for overcoming the lack of positive nurturing early on in life.
What is absolute truth is that all the mundane education in the world is worthless without developing the content of one's character consistent with the divine message of Jesus Christ. Anyone who disagrees with that is in the dark and will not take part in the resurrection of the just.

Take care not to be pride filled and of a haughty spirit concerning your own mundane educational achievements and the doors you imagine that that has opened for you. You will fall.

In addition to lusting after money and material under the American Dream, many conservatives and false liberals lust after the flesh. They do not keep holy the male and female mating bond of one flesh. They go outside the bonds of monogamous marriages. The conservatives generally exhibit a great haughtiness about it all. As John said above, it is of the world and not of God. The American Dream is of the world and not of God. Anyone who disagrees is not a Christian, plain and simple. Anyone who disagrees, disagrees with John and, most tellingly, Jesus.

Jesus did not come to save the American Dream

Yet, Jesus came to save the world; therefore, we must read the word "world" with its proper connotation discernable via context. God is the God of heaven and earth. "Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth." (Luke 10:21). That earth in that context is not the world of falsehood of which John wrote in 1 John 2:15-16 above.
Jesus did not come to save the American Dream. The world to which John was referring is the illusionary world created under the spirit of human rebellion against the harmonious way (unselfish, easy way) God gave us, which is the opposite of the American Dream of capitalist cutthroat competition. It is the world of the human spirit that has fallen to the level of ferocity. It is the world that rejects the power of God. That power of God comes when we become close to God. It comes when we believe with no doubts and, therefore, no testing. Everyone who believes in the American Dream puts his or her faith in the path of unrighteous mammon and not in God.

The American Dream is what Americans call success. It is what Americans call the pursuit of happiness. Happiness is being rich in the worldly sense John meant above. It is being rich in worldly, private, unshared property. Even the Jeffersonian word "happiness" in the expression "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" was originally the word "estate" or "property." The original came from John Locke, an English political philosopher (1632-1704). Even though the Declaration of Independence says happiness, the misconception stuck that private-property rights in the sense of personal-estate building flow from God. The selfish pursuit of life (of the first birth of water and not of the second birth of spirit), liberty (willfulness), and property (mammon in all its manifestations) was seen as enlightened.
To John Locke's credit

To John Locke's credit, however, he wrote in, On Human Work, that the so-called right to private property falls as follows:

...within the broader context of the right common to all to use the goods of the whole of creation: the right to private property is subordinated to the right to common use, to the fact that goods are meant for everyone.

Americans who came up with this hybrid scheme did not comprehend the errors of theologians from the beginning. They did not reason Jesus's correctness. They did not understand that to improve this world requires what Jesus said is, and would be, required. They did not understand that upon Jesus, all the theologies, philosophies, and ideologies hang in the sense that when all the hypocrisy is stripped away, one is left with the path of Jesus. They are all reconciled in that way, just as all the law and the prophets hang upon the first and great commandment and the second like it. It is the path to conflation.

Mislabeled Enlightenment

The movement to this hybrid scheme was of the period known as the mislabeled Enlightenment. That period saw an even greater re-Hellenization (return to selective precepts of ancient Greece) of society than was the so-called-Christian Roman Empire under Constantine. This is not to say that all Enlightenment thinkers ought to be lumped together as being completely antichristian in outlook, far from it. There are many Enlightenment-period thinkers who were though highly antichristian in outlook, and by antichristian here, I mean anti-real liberal also, since one may not be a real Christian without being a real liberal.

Hellenization

That Roman Empire under Constantine was the beginning of the solidification of the Hellenization of the church. That Hellenization also made major inroads via elitist Platonism under Origen that came just before Constantine was born and then Augustine after Constantine’s rule followed by the Aristotelianism (generally speaking, philosophical empiricism or rationalism—science) of Aquinas. The entire Hellenization of the church was a huge but inevitable mistake. It voided the Christian movement of all Christians holding all things in common, because the precept was anathema to the elitists and many empiricists who sprang from that Hellenized mentality.

God cannot be tested

As an aside, concerning empiricists, many refuse to grasp that transcendent knowledge exists even after they discover what had theretofore been beyond them but what was alluded to in the poetic language of scriptures. Discoveries continue to be made of that which was beyond (as yet unrevealed), but to many of the empiricists, existence is as if nothing exists until they have discovered it through a narrow methodology. What are they revealing if not that which was transcendent? When do they expect to run out of things to discover? Their mentality closes the door on all possibilities for them to ever receive the transcendent truth that requires no testing or experimental verification. In the final analysis, it cannot be verified via testing. One cannot test God. It is doubt.

Testing prayer
It is incredible that people conduct multi-million dollar scientific studies on whether praying by others at a distance aids heart patients. Scientists cannot ask people to pray for people for the purposes of testing prayer. Everyone must come to understand that testing is the yeast of the Pharisees. It is inherent doubt. Those who are praying for others knowing that their prayers are being tested are engaging in a terrible act. It ruins the spirit. Not only that but people get the wrong idea by the published results of such ridiculous tests. The headlines read such things as "No benefit of prayer found after surgery," "Study: Praying Won't Affect Heart Patients," "Prayer does not heal the sick," "Prayer for the ill may do more harm than good," and on and on. Faith is faith. Faith is the absence of testing. It is impossible to test faith to obtain a sign other than the resolve of the faithful not to fall to such temptation, such doubt. This lack of understanding on the part of people designing scientific studies is the scientific equivalent of some who hold to intelligent design insisting that it is scientific that it is provable under the concept of empirical falsifiability.
Faith and science are not completely mutually exclusive. Faith in the truth that unselfishness is right will yield better scientific productivity. However, the realm that is limited to material duplicability will forever remain mundane. No miracle can be done on one's own, and God will do no miracle where God is being tested. Jesus performed no signs for those who wanted convincing. It is an evil generation that needs such signs, and it is an evil generation that conducts such tests. Doing such things is just making things worse. This is a sign of the times.

The times are accelerating. It is God's plan that hearts be hardened. It's certainly happening even while others are softening in the face of so much misery requiring compassion. We will be separated. Of that, there is no doubt.

Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungered. And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread. But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple, And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. (Matthew 4:1-7).

And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. (Matthew 8:5-10).

Being tied up with all of this that is astray, the American Dream is certainly not founded upon Christian principles. It traces its roots through ancient Greece and back to Nimrod before that and even back to the original emotion of rebellion against unselfishness (against God sharing all with all and without toil or suffering for any).

Humanism

Let’s look at Antiquities of the Jews, Book I, Chapter 4, Paragraph 2, by Flavius Josephus.

Now it was Nimrod who excited them to such an affront and contempt of God. He was the grandson of Ham, the son of Noah, a bold man, and of great strength of hand.\(^\text{116}\)

This part of the paragraph will be dealt with below.

---

\(^{116}\) Flavius Josephus. Antiquities of the Jews.

He persuaded them not to ascribe it to God, as if it was through his means they were happy, but to believe that it was their own courage which procured that happiness.

Here is humanism not centered on divine humanitarianism but rather on self. It is egocentrism. It withholds credit to God for having provided the earth. It is impudence and insubordination in lacking self-restraint. It is the spirit that has led all the children astray into the unruliness of selfishness. It is the spirit of greed that ruins everything. It is the opposite of love. It is the serpent spirit in the garden telling the people that they may exercise uncontrolled lusts with impunity and having them end up toiling and suffering and dying as a result.
He also gradually changed the government into tyranny, seeing no other way of turning men from the fear of God, but to bring them into a constant dependence on his power.

It sounds like capitalism doesn't it? This is ego magnified. This is usurping God's domain. It is setting up a human being as a false god. It is the beginning of the same spirit that today is called privatization where all people are to be forced onto the path of constantly working for and paying the capitalists for everything down to the tiniest detail and completely disregarding God's provisioning that is the gift of the entire earth for all to share without having to pay another human being for anything.

He also said he would be revenged on God, if he should have a mind to drown the world again; for that he would build a tower too high for the waters to be able to reach! and that he would avenge himself on God for destroying their forefathers!

This is the spirit that does not understand that there is no such thing as a human creation that can stave off the power of cleansing the earth or universe. It is also the spirit that sides with the iniquitous and places genetic relationships above truth.
The Babylonian spirit

Nimrod was the founder of Babel (Babylon). The Babylonian spirit, encapsulated above, passed, long before Josephus's time, to the ancient Egyptians, Greeks, and others and, thereafter, through the Romans to the British and now Americans. Many Babylonian stories containing the message of that same willful and confused spirit were translated throughout the ancient world. Land after land assimilated the deified figures in those Babylonian stories. Those deities became the root pantheons of many nations under different deity names and with local versions of the stories breaking continuity with the Babylonian origin of the deities in letter but certainly not in spirit. It does not mean that the spirit of those deities was not morphed at all to suit the various ancient locales. It was morphed, but it retained the seeds of willfulness. Willfulness flowed with the stories and warped susceptible and gullible minds wherever those stories were told. That same spirit continues warping such minds today. It seeks to control minds for its sake, for its perpetuation, for the sake of its self-centered dominance.

One can see the willful lines of descendancy from this common ancestral mentality or spirit still running throughout humanity. It is arrogance. The humanistic and empirical and mundane authoritarian strains run through it, even though humanists and empiricists have historically complained of mundane authoritarian religion, rightfully so.

You see, only the non-mundane authoritarian spirit is the real Christian spirit. It is submission to the first and great commandment and the second like it that require egalitarianism and are against private, special advantage and privilege. It is also, therefore, agreeable and compliant with godliness, whereas humanists and empiricists often set themselves at loggerheads against the revealed truth. They lump Christianity in with mundane authoritarians who spew falsehood for truth. The sanctimonious authoritarians are no more agreeable or compliant with godliness then are many atheists.

The Babylonian spirit of arrogance started as what the leadership thought was right, under whatever rationale. The Nimrod story attempts to impart some understanding of this pathology. In many cases, the strong and powerful, such as Nimrod was, thought that the humanistic spirit was good for the people; however, as always with willful leaders who do not truly serve but rather are in power out of ego, the results ran, and continue to run, contrary to being for all the citizens and are leading the people into apostasy from which nothing good has ever come or ever will. That much is clearly demonstrated today by the fact that even following the capitalist rules, working hard for capital, persevering, and obtaining a so-called high, mundane education/indoctrination does not guarantee the promise of the American Dream. It is part of the inherent unrighteousness of mammon.

Those who tout the American Dream guarantee harder, longer, more selfish, and, therefore, more unethical work just trying to stay afloat in a state that itself is a sinking ship. Many people in America work hard, obey the laws, persevere, and try to afford a high, mundane education/indoctrination only to sink.

It is due to the failing lineage from America back to Nimrod's Babylon, and the defiant, ignorant spirit before it, that America is called the Babylon of today. Of course, the entire capitalistic world is the Babylon of today. It is not just confined to America.

"When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them." (Isaiah 41:17). Turn to God and not capital.

Nimrod, the American model

Nimrod was the great hunter (predator), the great builder type, the human architect, the great civilizer, the advocate of satisfying one's lust (eye and flesh), the humanist, the prideful one, the wilderness devourer, etc. Can you see the spirit of America represented in all of that? He is credited by many with having started building the Tower of Babel symbolic for the confusion of the language of humanity. It means that before the selfish spirit asserted itself, humanity had the common spirit (language) of unselfishness that runs contrary to all the characteristics of Nimrod.

Nimrod was the son of Cush who was the son of Ham. Nimrod's uncle Canaan (the fourth son of Ham and, therefore, Cush's brother) and all of Canaan's descendents were cursed forever by Noah for Ham's having apparently sodomized Noah (uncovering Noah's nakedness) while Noah was sleeping off his drunkeness. "And Ham, the father of Canaan, saw the nakedness of his father, and told his two brethren without." (Genesis 9:22). This was a simultaneous act of homosexuality and incest, not to mention that Ham bragged of it to the utter shame of his own father.

Nimrod's view of the flood, America's view

If the great flood was to cleanse the earth of existing evil, it is a wonder (other than because the prophecy must be fulfilled) how the spirit of Ham made it on board the ark. Ham was born after the flood. It is also obvious that the death penalty of Moses was not yet contemplated by Noah, for Moses would have had Ham's life for such an abomination. Nevertheless, Nimrod does not accept his ancestor's errors. He rather blames God for wiping out the iniquitous that is cleansing the earth via flooding. What are the lessons to be learned regardless of the degree to which the stories are allegorical or historically accurate?

Of course, all these acts are forbidden under the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it: The drunkenness, the sodomy, the incest, the cursing, singling out one of Ham's four sons that is only Canaan of Ham's four sons, and Nimrod's willfulness and vengefulness against God for God's design requiring the spirit of unselfishness as the rule of existence.
What makes the rich deserving of special advantages and privileges?

So, the American Dream is rooted in unwholesomeness (division) regardless of whether one takes the whole of the story of human kind as one huge prophetic story or as a series of mundane historical accounts or a combination of both. Besides, what kind of success is the promise of America? It is the acquisition of monetary and material possession for those who take unto themselves special advantages and privileges. What makes the rich deserving of special advantages and privileges? Stealing the inheritance of all others makes them deserving? It is accumulation through the system of taking and hoarding that would cause the utter failure and deprivation in the long run for the whole earth were it not for the sake of the meek that the time of covetousness will run out before the entire earth is destroyed.

What makes the rich deserving of special advantages and privileges? "Because I [the rich] can" is their answer. Perhaps you've heard them say it, "because I can." They can be willful, rebellious, arrogant, self-appointing, tricky, and filthy within.

The ideological conservatives calling themselves Christians believe all their monetary and material wealth is a blessing from God. They believe, therefore, that America is blessed by God. Many of them believe the American Dream is a vision from God rather than the vision of the serpent beguiling the fallen to fall farther.
Chapter 10  American Founding Fathers: Demigods

The American founding fathers are as demigods to the conservative Americans and particularly those calling themselves Christian conservatives, despite the obvious antipathy a number of the leading founders had toward the mainstream denominations and Christianity in general.

The founders: An antichrist state

The conservatives calling themselves Christians cite the founding fathers as upholding the Christian founding of America. They couldn't be more wrong. The founding fathers did not create a Christian nation. They were not Christlike and, therefore, they did not reflect Christlikeness in their creation. True Christian principles are not reflected in the laws enacted under the founding fathers. They did not enact pacifism. They did not enact giving and sharing all freely. They did not create a social order where each is the servant, but rather where they were served, even with slaves. What is more, the difference between real Christianity and the churches professing human precepts and traditions as God's was not lost on all the founding fathers.

There were founding fathers who hated the organized religion calling itself Christianity: The organized historical churches of the states of Europe and the Anglican Church (Episcopal Church in America), of course, since The founders were of English extraction. They did not like it that those churches (and the temporal governments those churches had often controlled and vice versa) were confused with what many of those founders thought (hazily) were the real precepts of God or teachings of Jesus. Those churches certainly had gotten it wrong as evidenced by their fruit. Even those churches that were closer to the kingdom of God, nevertheless, were not, and still are not, willing to shine the light into the world, as Jesus called upon his followers to do. "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 5:16). Today, the super patriots of America still confuse, on one hand, American temporal power and human-traditions-based churches with, on the other hand, the original unified, all-things-in-common church and real Christian precepts.

We must not forget that many of these founding fathers were landed gentry and businessmen. They were not interested in sharing. They were capitalists and men of war. They chose what they saw as best for their personal estates. They asserted themselves against the equally wrong ostensible divine right of the crown. They allowed for legalized slavery for the sake of their profits and to be catered to at their whim. They allowed for the unfair and unequal treatment of the Indians whom many of The founders regarded as an inferior race, which was never the case. Self-interest in the attainment of property that could not arbitrarily or undemocratically (without the representation of the landed gentry and commercial business owners of America) be taken by the crown was a prime motive. They did not wish to be treated as second-class citizens relative to the propertied aristocracy and budding commercial interests of England. That took them only so far in the direction of mundane freedom and nowhere near the real (divine) liberty for all that comes of being free of the domination of covetousness and other evils.

Thomas Jefferson

Thomas Jefferson wrote the following:

I have examined all the known superstitions of the word, and I do not find in our particular superstition of Christianity one redeeming feature. They are all alike founded on fables and mythology. Millions of innocent men, women and children, since the introduction of Christianity, have been burnt, tortured, fined and imprisoned. What has been the effect of this coercion? To make one half the world fools and the other half hypocrites; to support roguery and error all over the earth.

In a letter to one William Short written in 1820, Jefferson wrote the following:

There are, I acknowledge, passages [Gospel passages] not free from objection, which we may, with probability, ascribe to Jesus himself; but claiming indulgence from the circumstances under which he acted. His object [Jesus's object] was the reformation of some articles in the religion of the Jews, as taught by Moses. That sect had presented for the object of their worship, a being [God] of terrific character, cruel, vindictive, capricious and unjust.

Now, here is Thomas Jefferson, the third President of the United States and the founding father chosen by the other founders to author their Declaration of Independence, saying horrific things against God's name. He was not discerning. God is not "cruel, vindictive, capricious and unjust." That’s the Satanic spirit, not the spirit of our Father in heaven. Jefferson filtered Jesus through a Deist's lens, a secular humanist's lens that denies the power of God when not tested but believed. How can anyone imagine that America was founded upon Christianity under such circumstances?

Jefferson is nearly deified in the American culture. There is the Jefferson Memorial in the nation's capital dedicated to reverencing him. It is truly a temple building. We are encouraged by the government to feel dwarfed. We are meant to feel an unquestioning obligation to agree with Jefferson's sentiments. We are to kneel, at least internally, in awe of his genius and until the not to distant past, taken-for-granted high moral standards, etc. How can true Christians split their loyalty between Jefferson and Jesus?

Of course, Jefferson was referring to the God of Moses and the Old Testament. Regardless, Jesus himself said that the God of Abraham was Jesus's Father in heaven. Also, from the quote of Jefferson immediately above, we see Jefferson ascribed objectionable positions to Jesus.

And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High. (Daniel 7:25).

And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven. (Revelation 13:6).

What spirit was Jefferson revealing? Jefferson disbelieved in what are called the miracle acts of Jesus. He said that the disciples of Jesus who walked with Jesus and handed down the teachings and wrote of the miracles were all abject liars. Now, Jefferson was fond of his own reasoning ability; however, he imagines that people dedicated more so than any others to following the perfect teachings of righteousness as given by God our Father through Jesus Christ would be the most egregious liars in the history of the world.

No man shall be compelled to frequent or support any religious worship, place or ministry whatsoever.

Bush's Faith-based initiative

With that last quote, Jefferson was simply being as consistent as he was able with the Constitution of the United States of America in spirit and letter.
That word "support" in that last quote, in order not to be hypocritically applied, means that no tax money may be used or directed in anyway that furthers religious worship, places, or ministries. That consistent concept runs contrary to what the Bush-43 administration is doing with its tax-dollar funding of religion: Faith-based initiative. Using tax dollars that people have no choice but to pay or face fines, interest, and even imprisonment is compelled support, for without such support, those religious ministries receiving such would not be furthered as they are with such support. With those tax dollars, religions are governmentally contracted welfare-service providers. They are acting on behalf of the government and in the name of their religious faith. In such cases, welfare recipients become captive audiences for the trappings and messages of the given religion.

Citizens who do not want their tax dollars directed toward particular faiths or any of what the government is calling a faith-based organization, are, nevertheless, compelled to support the ministries of those faiths, since those faiths are, in fact, when giving such services, ministering to the recipients. It is unavoidable logic. In addition, the faiths may hire and fire solely on account of the faith of the employee. Therefore, coerced, tax-payer money is used for religious-employment discrimination.

Now, isn't this the exact same logic the so-called conservative Christians have used concerning tax-assisted abortions? The rightwing doesn't want its tax dollars to be used for abortion. They don't want to be forced to help pay for things they don't want. They take that stand on religious grounds. Well, how can they then turn around and send tax dollars to religions without being hypocritical? They can't. Other people don't want to be forced to support religions under the guise of a faith-based initiative by the government. They see it as a transfer of wealth from them to only those few religions acceptable to the government. This is why separation of church and state doesn't work.

A real Christian, who is necessarily a pacifist, doesn't want to support war-making and doesn't want to support religions that teach war and other such anti-Jesus ideas. The US has created an impossible situation. That's why it is headed for disaster.

The US, no system of genius

The founding fathers of the US did not create a system of genius. They put a bandage on a malignant cancer: Lust. They tried to create a union between and among the incompatible. You cannot unite Sodom and spiritual Zion for instance and expect such a superficial union to work and last.

We mention this to show the hypocrisy all the way around. We do not support the separation of God and state. It is falsehood. We support the unforced conflation of all. The problem has always been with the incorrect understanding of God. God is unselfishness. The knowledge of unselfishness is the knowledge of God. Doing unselfishness is doing godliness. The only system that works is unselfishness. No state can succeed by separating itself from unselfishness.
No state can succeed based upon selfishness. All states based upon selfishness will fall. Heaven is the state of unselfishness and is the only eternal state. The only constitution that will ever work is the first and great commandment and the second like it, both kept consistently down to the smallest detail people are able to grasp.

We have started out with Jefferson here. He made himself central to the founding, non-humanitarian type humanistic principles of America. He and most of the other main founders were sons of the Enlightenment and Renaissance before it. Unfortunately, that brand of humanism is ultimately rooted in a willful, selfish attitude. In the end, it wants what it wants regardless of the needs of others. This is not to say that human beings are worthless, far from it. Jesus valued human beings. He mentioned how humans are worth more than many sparrows and other birds, all of which God feeds and covers, etc. Humanism, per se, that places value upon human beings is not at odds with Jesus when that humanism is of the divine-humanitarian variety: The true liberal variety. It is where those of humanism begin to place all value on human beings and deny God that there becomes a major point of departure.

Adam Weishaupt

We are not going to say much about Adam Weishaupt and the Illuminati. The Illuminati was, among other things, Deism. It was humanism and more. It was a negative reaction to the hierarchical errors of the Jesuits who trained Weishaupt. It was influenced by, and influenced in return, the so-called Enlightenment period. We've spoken at some length about Thomas Jefferson and other Deists. We've written about the influence of humanists notions, meaning here notion absent the idea of an active, living, directly involved God-spirit. We will say though that the secret aspects and the ceremonial aspects of the Illuminati and how those things still figure into other secret societies and ceremonies, etc., with some degree of continuity with the original Illuminati, and all prior humanism for that matter, do have a direct influence upon the souls who partook and still partake on any level and that that influence, contrary to Jefferson's statements in Jefferson's letter to the reverend James Madison of January 31, 1800, concerning Weishaupt to the contrary, are decidedly antichrist even though many of the teachings of the church in power at Weishaupt's time were also decidedly in error.

Secret societies

It is a mistake for people to be members in these absolutely non-Christian secret societies, regardless of how harmless the membership imagines those societies to be. No matter how lightly members take such things, letting such things in has the impact of practicing the heart, training the heart, conditioning the soul in ways contrary to what will be needed, and is needed, to do righteousness always. That is born out by the fact that such secret societies have never, and cannot, produce the real bounty as looked for by Isaiah and Jesus.
The founding fathers had an opportunity to create something vastly superior to what has resulted. This society is, after all, the fruit of their endeavor, not God's. If it had been divinely inspired, they would have followed Jesus.

Thomas Paine

Of all the systems of religion that ever were invented, there is none more derogatory to the Almighty, more unedifying to man, more repugnant to reason, and more contradictory in itself than this thing called Christianity. Too absurd for belief, too impossible to convince, and too inconsistent for practice, it renders the heart torpid or produces only atheists or fanatics. As an engine of power, it serves the purpose of despotism, and as a means of wealth, the avarice of priests, but so far as respects the good of man in general it leads to nothing here or hereafter. -- Thomas Paine

Thomas Paine was one of the greatest stimulants for violent revolution. Power and wealth were fine to Paine provided they were not despotic as he defined despotism. He could not rightfully divide the word of truth from his position.
Jefferson and Paine: Confusing the apostate with Christianity

Thomas Jefferson and Thomas Paine were not writing of the God of Jesus but were writing of the apostate denominations without even recognizing the difference. The context in which they were writing is controlling.

The clergy converted the simple teachings of Jesus into an engine for enslaving mankind ...to filch wealth and power to themselves. [They], in fact, constitute the real Antichrist. -- Thomas Jefferson

Here it becomes obvious that Jefferson was ridiculing the teachings and actions of the church hierarchy rather than the teachings of Jesus, per se, which he did not fully understand and, in fact, by Jesus's standard, hated. This makes clear the importance of knowing the context in which something was written or spoken. It is also important to know the meanings or connotations of the words as used. This applies to the words of Jesus of course, as I have demonstrated elsewhere in this work.

...all the principles of science are of Divine origin....the evil that has resulted from the error of the schools in teaching has been that of generating in the pupils a species of atheism. -- Thomas Paine

Here it also becomes obvious, in conjunction with the first quote of Paine above, that he held in great distain the teachings and actions of the prevailing organized Christian denominations and also the resulting backlash against God. The Roman church and later denominations had made a mess of things. As correctly stated by Jefferson (quoted above), they had done all sorts of evils in the name of Christ. This brought on the movement to prevent religious control of the state (the temporal, worldly power) so that the state's coercive or physical power could not legally be used to compel adherence to the human precepts of the given Christian denomination, primarily, or any religion or sect by extension.

In the minds of many, it was timely to take it even further, to separate, in their minds and the minds of the population in general, all things church-associated (including the real truth) from the power of reasoning (rationalism) or the power of experimental duplicability (scientific empiricism). They were so fed up with the corruption and abuses of the apostate churches that they disregarded whether they were throwing out the divine truth with the false traditions of those churches. They just dismissed God when they rid themselves of the hypocritical control of apostasy over the temporal state. They traded one problem for a different variety of the same fallen condition. They summarily dispensed with the truth that is the distinction between flawed human-only precepts being passed off by apostate clergy as Christian teaching versus divine, perfectly righteous precepts that were and are the teachings of Jesus. The illogical conclusion that the acceptance of divinity necessarily led to all the historical abuses by the churches was accepted as self-evident. This then led over time to science (absent God) becoming supreme in the schools. Paine saw this, albeit hazily.

Intelligence design

He said, as quoted above, "all the principles of science are of Divine origin." This is teleological. Paine saw the self-evident design in natural phenomena. This was a common thread in the prevalent Deist thinking of the Enlightenment period. God was seen as a clockwork designer of the universe. God made the clock and wound it (the universe) up, so to speak, and let it just run without God's interaction. Reason only speaks to the Deist, claims the Deist. What a mistaken confinement of reasoning.

Deism

It is so-called reason, so-called because it fails to understand the emotions in terms of reality. The Deist cannot see the logic of the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it fulfilled in the revelation of Jesus. Yet, in this work, I have shown that very logic plainly and clearly. The Deist is confounded by that divine logic. He or she cannot grasp that all the law and prophets hang upon that spirit revealed so starkly by Jesus. One literally feels it. It is revealed through emotion as well as reason, etc. Emotion and reason become unified just as love, peace, and truth are all the same. Because the Deist's reasoning ability falls short of embracing the conflation of reason and emotion, the Deist assigns falsehood to the truth of the message of Jesus. Suddenly, Jesus lived his life based upon impossible fables. Yet, Jesus taught truisms in parables (analogies; allegories).

Either what Jesus put forth as truisms are valid or they are not. It is not simply a question of how those truisms were imparted. Either what is written in The Bible about Jesus was written by all liars or not. Why would liars die for righteousness? Whom do you trust?

Begat, begotten

The Deist cannot comprehend the sonship of one who has received the revelation. The Deist receives no such personal-relationship sense with God as a living, feeling being; therefore, to the Deist, God can have no son or sons or daughters. He or she is hung up upon the word "begat," seeing it in mere terms of sexual union and biological impregnation.

Why has the concept of this word been so narrowly confined down through the centuries? The Bible is not a mundane dictionary. The meaning of the word "begotten" concerning Jesus is understood from the entire context of The Bible and what comes to one from the Holy Spirit. It is huge. It is greater than sexual union and biological impregnation. It is not a point upon which to become hung up. It never has been. It has though been used, albeit subconsciously, as a point of major procrastination. It is a point of separation of those who will proceed on with the known work of God and those who will refuse to go any further until they comprehend all from God's perspective. It is part of the plan. It is part of the revelation. It is part of the prophecy. You see the separation process occurring concerning the Deists since they do not credit Jesus. They are leaving themselves out of the fold of sheep, acting as if the crucifixion was meaningless, without value.

The Deists become hung up when it comes time to accept miracles attributed to Jesus in The Bible. They can't accept miracles as being within reason. Some are just too irrational for them to accept they think. However, if one believes that people were miraculously cured by God because Jesus had that much faith, why would anyone become hung up upon any single miracle? We must be prepared to accept miracles while at the same time realizing that there have been, are, and will yet be, misguided and even unscrupulous people capable of altering scripture.

It is unreasonable to conclude that people would martyr themselves by the hundreds and thousands for real righteousness' sake but be liars at the same time. Where is the vaunted reasoning power of the Deists in their imagining that the disciples would stand to gain anything by making up a story that is the Gospel of Jesus? They lived in poverty giving and sharing all that came their way. Then they were killed for their efforts. Where is the selfish gain? It isn't there.

Conspiracy of the Apostles?

To imagine that every last bit of scripture is part of a vast multi-millennial conspiracy to control people by getting them to behave in righteousness is pure insanity. Without the order of righteousness, we have only hell, and hell is insane. How could those pursuing the opposite of hell be the liars? It defies reasoning.

About conspiracy

At this point it would be wise to address the concept of conspiracy. There is a predominate sense that conspiracies are invariably well-organized, well-carried out, in genius, secret plans. The truth is that people do conspire and some conspire in great and fine detail. When plans are based upon selfish motives, even plans that more closely fit the thorough-planning and execution concept are, nevertheless, confused plans. Regardless, most plans are what most people would view as disjointed with people working in disunity and often at cross-purposes. In addition, even plans that are a mix of the thorough and the disjointed can be, and most often are, carried out simultaneously in secret and in the open. For instance, the neocon agenda fit this mold. What they are up to is right in the headlines to be discerned. Did they and are they conferring in secret? Yes. However, their discussions are easily able to be reconstructed, within reason, after the fact. The results inform the discerning of what was at least generally on the minds and in the hearts of the selfish planners and executors. Quite often, even the specifics may be gathered. The more one examines the fruit in this vein, the more that is revealed. That is what investigation is all about. God though needs to undertake no such efforts. God sees all and remembers all.
The Deist confuses denominational creeds with real Christianity. He or she throws out Jesus and his message for the sake of throwing out human religious traditions being passed off as Christianity and proved false by their lack of fruit worthy of repentance and bringing forth real abundance. The Deist does not know the truth when he hears it. He or she must have proof. Yet, he or she will accept as proof of God his or her own Deist existence. What an arbitrary line.

The Deist does not see the consistency of prophecy. He or she denies the fulfillment of any prophecy. The Deist does not see that selfishness is the problem and that Jesus showed, and still shows, the way out. He or she does not connect the dots, so to speak, to see the whole picture. He cannot bring himself to trust that truth-tellers are those who are consistent.

Apparently, Thomas Paine never underwent personally transcending experiences. Despite his teleological perceptions, he was still locked in at the more mundane level.

How Science Fits In:

All the fields or schools of thought may be separated into two categories: Those that credit God and those that don't. Of the schools of thought that don't credit God, there are those that are held up in the highest esteem within certain self-styled intellectual circles. They are those precepts, principles, doctrines, traditions, and the like, taught to students at the very highest levels of academe and from which further philosophical positions branch.
Invariably, those positions that both do not credit God and also are held in the highest esteem, restate the Gospel principles most closely. They are taught as original thinking. In some cases, the thinker may have arrived at his or her principles without realizing the background message (the Gospel message) that led them to conclusions.

The importance though of giving all credit to God cannot be exaggerated. Taking the entire Gospel message and eliminating giving credit to God renders what remains unfruitful. It will always fall short. Credit is indispensable. Without the mindset that gives credit and ultimate credit, the requisite level of unselfishness will never be achieved for true enlightenment. Unselfishness is required. Crediting that principle is required. It is the closed loop of consistency admitted of by Immanuel Kant and others who fail ultimately to credit God and, therefore, ultimately fail.

To live perfectly unselfishly is to live perfectly absent hypocrisy. That is God. It is to live truth only. God is truth. This is not projecting our preconceived mundanely logical ideas onto the external. This is what we receive from that which was and is before us eternally. We are less until we join completely. We never join with the mindset that we find the way through our own will or ego: Alone. We are not acceptable with that mindset. That mindset lacks the key. That mindset leads to ruin. Just look around you. It is there plain to see. No experiment is necessary. It's being duplicated before your eyes everywhere already.
Immanuel Kant

Immanuel Kant's philosophical doctrine known as the "categorical imperative," for instance, is a prime attempt to state the golden rule while avoiding connecting it with its source: God. The truth is that Kant's categorical imperative (absolute, objective, moral imperative of law) if carried out to its logical conclusion, leads one directly to God. This is the point Jesus made with the Pharisees about their hypocrisy. They refused to see it too.

Actually, they saw it but couldn't overcome their lust for maintaining their position. That is a form of ignorance. They realized they are doing it but were blinded or controlled by their lust. It is a matter of perspective, as is the case with everything Jesus taught, while at the same time it is absolute, which Jesus also taught. This is shown by Jesus's emphatic statement that because he had told them of their hypocrisy and shown them the true way, they were sinning thereafter by continuing in their hypocritical way. He also showed it when he forgave them for their ignorance.

For Kant, everything was reducible to an either-or between mundane reason and mundane logic versus mundane science. For Kant, certain or absolute knowledge came solely via the identified physical senses. Therein lies the limitation. The connection between the physical senses and the infinite is precluded. The senses are defined to self-limit perception to below that which is transmitted outside such self-imposed boundaries. Divine revelation is precluded. Even though it is indisputable that were everyone to be Christlike all would be perfect, Jesus, for Kant, was self-deluded. Of course, this flies in the face of Kant's own categorical imperative.

Kant could never have acted in a better way than Jesus. He could not come up with a better way of being. According to Kantianism and his categorical imperative, therefore, Jesus's way is the universal law. Now, Kant knew this but rejected it. Nevertheless, he knew, was ignorant, is judged (measured against the truth), and is forgiven under mercy all at the same time.

As for where his soul is and the souls of all the others who refused to credit God and as to what those souls are undergoing or will undergo, we can only pray that God has a place and method for them yet to come to see the light eternally, as we want to do ourselves.

In addition, Jesus's message already contained Kantianism in that Jesus made clear that all we need do is look around to see the truth of things based upon the tangible fruits of people's actions and inactions. Jesus did not fail to appeal on the basis of sense perception.

Scientific observation shows Jesus is right

It would be a simple scientific observation to see that evil acts result in evil. That observable fact is duplicated endlessly in this world, unfortunately. We see it all about us. It's the very philosophy of science. It's built into Jesus's message.

Kant's position concerning means and ends is also straight out of the Gospel message but again without crediting the source. Therefore, it remains insufficient or rather stops short of arriving at the ultimate, consistent, implication of that position. It doesn't even pretend to piety while it hypocritically stakes out righteousness.

The truth is that the means to the kingdom is the kingdom. Doing real love is the kingdom. Jesus had, and has, the kingdom. He spoke it and showed it: Lived it. Kant simply restated this leaving out Jesus and God. By doing that, he left out the key of credit. He couldn’t bring himself to overcome what held him back from giving that credit. It was ego. That's what it always is. It was lust. That's what it always is. It was the conditioning of selfishness. That's what it always is. It's clinging to the wrong thing and leads others astray ultimately leaving the door of hypocrisy open for greed, violence, and other forms of depravity. It is not the way. It is godless humanism versus real humanism, which is Christian.

Kant of course is far from the only one who has done this. Also, as I've made clear elsewhere in this work, much of the misdirection is due to people's wrong reactions to those within the churches throughout history who misguided the flock of the faithful. The only right reaction to abuses wherever they occur is to remain focused with the single vision Jesus spoke of in his Sermon on the Mount. It is never to throw out God on account of misguided shepherds.

Kant is far from alone. As I write this, many more people wielding great influence over the minds of leaders and aspiring leaders give great berth to reason and empiricism absent God than there are those who conflate reason and empirical knowledge under God. The revelation of Jesus has been misinterpreted to the people. It has been twisted by the force of selfishness. These were great philosophers, you may still be saying to yourself. You may be struggling with a sense of inferiority that holds you back from seeing the truth about such philosophies. Discerning the flaws in such philosophies does not mean you lack humility. It is also not going out on a limb. There is no risk in it at all, just the opposite. Jesus didn't teach us out of his ego. He wasn't vain or affected. He was simultaneously and genuinely meek and great: The meekest and greatest; first and last.

The scientific proof is there in the fulfillment of the prophecies

Generally speaking, science in the aggregate teaches that science is the only knowledge: The only thing provable. It is taught as being unable to demonstrate the existence of God, so therefore, God cannot be taught along side science. Science in the end though is based solely upon theoretical probability based upon duplicated human experimentation. However, just as science builds upon previous experimentation so too does Christianity build upon previously fulfilled prophecy. Christianity builds upon fulfilled prophecy by virtue of its being fulfilled in ways that simply cannot be self-fulfilling by human-only effort. That demonstrates what has been and remains Prophecies

The Old Testament prophecies that point to Jesus and his teachings and deeds were fulfilled in Jesus. For example, the prophecy showed that the Messiah would even enter through the East gate and that that gate would then be shut.

Then he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward sanctuary which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. Then said the LORD unto me; This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it; because the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut. (Ezekiel 44:1-2).

Jesus entered there in a way that corresponds with that and the rest of prophecy. That gate was shut and has remained shut all this time. (Note: There are those who see Ezekiel as pointing to a future time when every detail as proscribed in Ezekiel shall be literally realized. This they see as during the millennium. There will be more on the millennium further on.)

Jesus came through that gate on the young donkey.

Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass. (Zechariah 9:9).

That he came on a young ass is beyond ironic. It speaks to truth that the greatest is the most humble in earnest and not in vain.

God sent John the Baptist to prepare the way for Jesus.

The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. (Isaiah 40:3).

Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the LORD, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in:

behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts. (Malachi 3:1).

Jesus was the shepherd of the flock of followers of God. The spirit of murder entered into the hearts of those who killed both John the Baptist and Jesus. It entered into the hearts of those who laid waste to Israel. The descendents of Jacob were further scattered throughout the world.

Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. (Zechariah 13:7).
Those are but a few of hundreds of prophetic aspects fulfilled in Jesus. They cannot be repeated. Jesus was the Messiah: The one they had been waiting for but did not recognize as it was prophesied they would not, for the prophecy was that they would murder him, as they tried to murder and did murder other prophets. There is no point in waiting for the first coming of the Messiah. The very architectural structures no longer exist (also as prophesied). Any reenactment will remain simply that: A contrivance. No one can come and be the blessing to the Gentiles from the seed of Abraham, because it has already been done by Jesus.

And the LORD said, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I do; Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him? (Genesis 18:17-18).

He was born in Bethlehem.

But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting. (Micah 5:2).

He taught in parables that remained mysterious to the ostensible wise and prudent.

I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old. (Psalm 78:2).
He was betrayed by his friend, Judas.

Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me. (Psalm 41:9).

He was betrayed for thirty pieces of silver.

And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver. (Zechariah 11:12).

Judas threw that money on the temple floor and it was used to buy Potter's Field, just what the Old Testament said, as with all the other parts of the prophecy as follows:

And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the potter: a goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD. (Zechariah 11:13).

They crucified Jesus on a wooden cross and took his body down that day as follows:

His body shall not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day; (for he that is hanged is accursed of God;) that thy land be not defiled, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance. (Deuteronomy 21:23).
They laughed at Jesus while he was hanging from the cross.

All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying, He trusted on the LORD that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him. (Psalm 22:7-8).

They gambled for his clothes.

They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture. (Psalm 22:18).

They were bitter towards him and gave him vinegar to drink.

They gave me also gall for my meat; and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink. (Psalm 69:21).

They did not break the bones of the Passover lamb; neither did they break the bones of Jesus.

In one house shall it be eaten; thou shalt not carry forth ought of the flesh abroad out of the house; neither shall ye break a bone thereof. (Exodus 12:46).

He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken. (Psalm 34:20).

Jesus came teaching that God wants mercy and not animal sacrifices or offerings. The prophets wrote about him, as these verses show. He came teaching the spirit of the law that is the will of God.
Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required. Then said I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me, I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart. (Psalm 40:6-8).

They hated him, because he told the truth. They charged him with crimes he had not committed. He redeemed them, even the rebellious yet to learn.

They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away. (Psalm 69:4).

False witnesses did rise up; they laid to my charge things that I knew not. (Psalm 35:11).

His persecutors were brought low. The Pharisees and others were brought low. Rome too was punished.

Let their habitation be desolate; and let none dwell in their tents. (Psalm 69:25).

And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate. (Daniel 9:26-27).

However, the people did not accept him then. Today, they still do not know him.

And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD. (Isaiah 11:1-2).

They say he would work miracles. He did.

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.
(Isaiah 35:5-6).

Isaiah said Jesus would be beaten, spit upon, and rejected by his own people, yet the Gentiles would believe.

I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. (Isaiah 50:6).

Jesus was buried in a rich man's tomb.

And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth. (Isaiah 53:9).

As for the remnant, one day they shall believe.

And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. (Zechariah 12:10).

And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit. (Joel 2:28–29).

Therefore, the evidence for the truth of the prophecies is not only every bit as, but even more so, dependable than the evidence of science upon which so many stake their lives and in which they put their faith. This is not to say that the findings of science are relatively incorrect. After all, science is only as good as its interpreters.

The repetitive nature of science is owed to God's creation

The repetitive nature of science owes its very repetitiveness to God's creation, as Thomas Paine rightly observed, "all the principles of science are of Divine origin." That truth is certainly going to dawn on more and more scientists as they see their theories taking on the semblance of what they had eschewed for centuries, namely what is currently relegated to the realm now called, for convenience sake or lack of mutually understood frames of reference, the metaphysical, supernatural, or mystical.
Six twenty-four hour days of creation?

It is also going to dawn on those who think that being created by God in God's image in a single day must mean a human twenty-four hour period. The people who believe in the six twenty-four hour days of creation base their belief upon the scripture; however, the very scripture explains that God's day is as a thousand years. "But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day." (2 Peter 3:8). It is an age. It is an age of ages. It is eons. God is the ancient of ancients: Eternal. No human on earth knows from God's perspective how God created human beings or how long God took to do it. Also, no matter what knowledge humans obtain, they will always be beholden to God. Is God finished? Does humanity still sin?

By definition, God is intelligent. By definition, God designed creation. That is who God is, the intelligent designer. Is DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid) coding unintelligent? Is genetics unintelligent?

Evolutionary speciation

Now, what is called speciation is heavily dismissed by some of those today known as creationists. These particular creationists believe that none of the species in existence today are the result of gene mutations. They don't doubt gene mutation. They just dismiss that such mutations can result in wholly different species branching off that become incapable of mating with other branches. They disbelieve that with sufficient mutation, natural cross-breeding would no longer be possible. They disbelieve that the different species resulted from the gene-mutation process. They base their belief upon their reading, their interpretation, of the Book of Genesis story in The Bible stating that God created the kinds of animals (species), etc. However, even under evolutionary speciation, God is still the creator of the species. The reason for that is because God designed the process of evolution. This does not undermine The Bible at all.

But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased. (Daniel 12:4).

Theistic evolution

It isn't intelligent design or evolution. It is intelligent design unfolding through the evolutionary process. Some people refer to this as theistic evolution.

Now, the truth is that the scientific method ought to be viewed from the true theological framework, theology necessarily encompassing philosophy. Even for the atheist, the scientific method remains, in the end, a philosophy.

It is an error for science to be taught as if there are scientific absolutes (immutable laws or canons of science) when science is, by its own current definition, forever a matter of probability thinking. It is the old testament of science that science has any immutable laws under the current connotation of the term "science" as used by the atheists. Now, understand here that the word meanings concerning such terms as "absolute" are oscillated here intentionally to connect the mundane with the divine.

Science is taught in a vacuum out of fear

It is a serious error for students to be introduced to the subject of science and then on to the scientific method without having etymologized the word ("to know") and been introduced to the historical development of science within the larger philosophical and theological picture to place it within concepts of logic, reason, evidence, and metaphysics, etc. The student should be educated about science in terms of the whole realm of thought, philosophical and theological. Without this, science is brought up in a vacuum and without any moral underpinnings. Consequently, horrendous things are more easily undertaken in its name.

This grounding should begin the very moment science is brought up. It is ridiculous that inquiry doesn't begin to occur until the latter part of the college-level education. Is it any wonder why the young become bored in the schools and their minds wander all about the place? Especially the teenagers require the stimulation of spirited debate in order to develop their minds, even if only to listen to others bandy about ideas and concepts. The absence of philosophy and theology in the primary and secondary schools is a huge part of the reason why there is so much disrespect and rebelliousness during the teen years for so many.
They are being raised in a culture that is reflecting back at them nothing but the questions the teens are raising on their own level.

The covetous mislead the teenagers

In order to make money off the teens, who are given money by parents caving into whining for more excess (material possessions, etc.), the forces of greed, so as to feed off the overindulged teens, work ceaselessly to feed those teens during their very vulnerable and formative years. What is being fed to the teens is defiling. Unfortunately, this takes deep root for many. The greedy continue to increase the level of defilement in order to grab the ever-shortening attention span of the wholly invented (contrived) children. The forces of greed (the insatiable hyper-forces of commercial and personal gain at the expense of anything and anyone), debase the excellence of youth while claiming that it is only what the children want and is inevitable. They plant the seeds of the insanity of wrath and debauchery. They and the larger society that supports them will reap the harvest.

False scientific creationism

Now, to counter this trend, those of the creationists who reject the scientific theory of speciation are seeking to get their sole interpretation back into the publicly funded schools. Many are willing to be devious to do it. They openly claim that intelligent design is a scientific theory within the old- and false-testament canon of atheistic scientists. This only harms the reputation of God and Jesus for the general population, sending many toward the open arms of atheists never leading to heaven for lack of understanding. Those creationists say they want prayer back in and the Ten Commandments back on the walls of the schools. However, they don't know God. God must be willingly known, and willingly in the hearts of all the people, not just some, not just the majority of voters in a divided house.

Science is faith-based

As for what is absolutely held by many who subscribe to the current-day connotation of the term "science," one such connotation is that science means that nothing rises to the level of evidence, per se, that is not duplicatable. However, science cannot duplicate yesterday, yet scientists know as certainly as they know that they are in the present moment that yesterday existed. Days come and go is why they believe this. They go by memory and record of non-tested things but rather things taken on faith alone. They also cannot duplicate their individual consciousness; yet, they have faith that they exist as individuals. You see, there is overlap of the scientific method with what the scientists would say is not scientific else the scientific method itself would not exist.

Scientists do experiments lasting over days. How do they know that no matter how many times the experiment is duplicated with statistically acceptable results to firm up hypotheses into generally accepted theories that each and every one of the experiments has not been tampered with in an identical fashion?
Exactly what level of precautions is necessary to avoid that possibility? There is a point where even beginning to take such precautions would seem absurd. Why? The answer is, because it is taken on faith and as self-evident that others just wouldn't, or couldn't, go to such extremes to pull off such tampering.

What is acceptable proof positive?

They accept on faith as self-evident the truth of the existence of yesterday. They do this without test-data to prove it, or do they? Is the record of yesterday provable under the scientific method? Yes and no. It depends upon where one draws the lines as to the meaning of the words "evidence" and "proof." What is acceptable to one person for inclusion as proof positive can remain unacceptable to another. This is the case in every field of endeavor whether it is labeled theology or science. Science is always subject to this conceptual framework. It is at this point where the wall of separation proves illusory.

This is, of course, semantical. Now, they accept that yesterday's newspaper is real, albeit its accounts to be taken with a grain or block of salt depending upon the source. They don't all accept though that the news accounts of the Gospels were once the immediate news of the unimagined reality of the day. They reject that the miracles of Jesus are certain. Yet, anyone today may reject that yesterday occurred and also be dismissed out of hand for it.
Holocaust denial

There are people today who are roundly criticized for denying what is termed the Holocaust of World War II. Yet also, one must take the record on faith or on a certain level as self-evident that the attempted extermination occurred. It all comes down to trust.

Whom are you going to trust? Do you trust people when they tell you that yesterday existed? Is it an absurd question? You believe in yesterdays, because you were a part of them as your memories tell you. However, how far back do you trust your memory? Also, how much do you trust the historical records?

Why trust any part of the Gospels? There are those who make the strongest case they are able to dissuade people from trusting any part of them. Why?

Trust the good news of Jesus

You trust the Gospel message, if you do, because you have evidence that people lie in order to gain, and hold onto, things. You know who these people are, because you can see the unmerciful results of their actions. You trust the message of Jesus, because he shows through as one who holds onto nothing for selfish reasons. You trust the message, because it is self-evident that only the most trustworthy person is capable of both delivering and living up to that message. It is impossible for someone who is not the message to deliver and exemplify it. You trust the followers who recorded it, because it is also self-evident that their hearts had to have been softened in order for them to have followed.

We are speaking here with language to bridge the gap so that unrepentant sinners may open their eyes to repent, to conflate, to bring forth heaven on earth in the only way possible. We are speaking language that separates those who want heaven from those who don't and those who will do the heavenly in time from those who won't. We speak the mundane and translate it into the divine to the best of our ability as given to us by God.

As for the conservative Republicans of the creationists, their attempt to drive a wedge into the illusory wall won't work. It won't work, because their conservatism is unmerciful. Their interpretation is unacceptable. It actually drives people to doubt.

The real creationists will lead people to the conflation that is the absolute heaven.

As with other words in the language, suddenly, "intelligent design" is being solely associated with a very narrow train of thought that is wholly inadequate in attributing creation to God. A very narrow group has lately put forth their version of intelligent design that convolutes the truth, taking things off the focus that is the single vision of Jesus. The complexity of systems is unnecessary to see the creation. Existence itself is sufficient. This attributing intelligent design to a movement spearheaded by a few will lead to the idea becoming a pejorative in short order unless sufficiently qualified. This self-styled conservative drive makes it more difficult to proselytize for the single vision that causes the spirit to come dwell within and the Holy Spirit to tell one everything he or she needs to know. On the other hand, it requires real Christians to come to the fore to rightfully divide the truth from the falsehood, thereby, restoring credibility to the faith.

Of course, the enemies of Godliness choose to focus solely against the mundane fundamentalists, literalists. It serves their purposes to lump everyone together who believes in God as creator under the mundane fundamentalist/literalist tent. We are not under their tent though.

Real Christianity is not the religion of testability. It doesn't have an agendum to see itself forced upon others. Real Christianity is a religion of free (non-coerced and non-captive) acceptance. It is inherently nonscientific in the sense that the priests of science have defined their religion.

The reason for this is that this knowledge-faith of real Christians who put it into action will be that upon which they are separated out from those who do not put God first and hence are proved untrustworthy in the end with the freedom of heaven. This applies to those who have hear the word and do not desirously go work in the vineyard in time (being unselfish, which necessarily includes crediting God, per Jesus).

The atheists won't do it. The doubters won't do it. The testers won't do it. The hypocrites won't do it. It's all a matter of spirit.

The truth is that those who are identified as the movement (false scientific creationism) leaders in this crusade to prove God by wedging God into science as science remains defined by inherent doubters (testers) is showing that they aren't listening to Jesus when he says don't test God. One cannot experiment with God. These so-called leaders would be much better serving God by doing what Jesus said giving and sharing all, feeding the lambs and sheep, and being good shepherds and vineyardists and stewards. That would win over more sinners and doubters than anything they are doing now.

In order for the teleological self-evident truth to be magnified, the scientist must be introduced to the language of the revelation that is about softheartedness and righteousness. The illusion that is the wall between science and God is not broken down by brute force that is the power of the coercive, mundane, and secular court. The illusion will drop away when the truth becomes inescapably self-evident by virtue of the amazing things that will result when people start bringing forth. Then they will know that it is God at work. It will be scientifically observed under the new-testament science.

Limiting to scientific controls retards

When people do as Jesus said for them to do, measurable things will happen. Those things will be duplicable. It won't be as the result of any testing however. The scientists will just have to be satisfied without controlling anything. They will just have to measure and record what is happening in the real world. They will then know that their control is their doubt that is there hypocrisy that has always retarded the people.
Human understanding of the workings of the intelligent design (the clockwork as the Deists conceptualized it) has increased. It is a kind of knowledge in the mundane and relative sense. Albert Einstein, for instance, did add to this type of knowledge when he correctly discerned the equation $E=MC^2$. It is true that energy = mass(speed of light)^2 in that this equation works in predicting things. That does not mean that the scientists will never be confounded by something that doesn't fit the equation where they think it ought to. They'll be running into the limits of the equation and will have to find some other proportions that predict within unknown limits for a time.

The fact that Einstein's equation works though does not in any way negate what can be learned from the Gospel message. The God who created love also made it so that $E=mc^2$. There is nothing wrong here at all. There is nothing that is not reconcilable. In fact, there is nothing that needs to be reconciled. Now, the truth is also that God transcends that very equation. God is not locked into functioning within the limits of that equation. This is where the Gospel is infinitely out in front of human physics. This also, of course, applies to biochemistry and all chemistry.

Chemistry is real within the limits of semantical understanding. It is not the ultimate. God transcends that chemistry the workings of which and the matter of which God both designed and created. It is all a matter of perspective. This is contextual. No human being on this plane

Albert Einstein

Human understanding of the workings of the intelligent design (the clockwork as the Deists conceptualized it) has increased. It is a kind of knowledge in the mundane and relative sense. Albert Einstein, for instance, did add to this type of knowledge when he correctly discerned the equation $E=MC^2$. It is true that energy = mass(speed of light)^2 in that this equation works in predicting things. That does not mean that the scientists will never be confounded by something that doesn't fit the equation where they think it ought to. They'll be running into the limits of the equation and will have to find some other proportions that predict within unknown limits for a time.

The fact that Einstein's equation works though does not in any way negate what can be learned from the Gospel message. The God who created love also made it so that $E=mc^2$. There is nothing wrong here at all. There is nothing that is not reconcilable. In fact, there is nothing that needs to be reconciled. Now, the truth is also that God transcends that very equation. God is not locked into functioning within the limits of that equation. This is where the Gospel is infinitely out in front of human physics. This also, of course, applies to biochemistry and all chemistry.

Chemistry is real within the limits of semantical understanding. It is not the ultimate. God transcends that chemistry the workings of which and the matter of which God both designed and created. It is all a matter of perspective. This is contextual. No human being on this plane knows where chemistry leaves off and spirit begins.

The false creationists also doubt the fossil record, carbon dating, and the like, as interpreted by secular scientists or as interpreted by those of the non-secular scientists who don't agree with the most mundanely literal reading of the creation story in scripture. False creationists are insistent upon a completely non-allegorical reading. Frankly, this is a nonstarter.

Jesus was the truth. How literally or symbolically is Jesus the truth? The answer is infinitely both. The spirit of Jesus is where both of these are one. It is the language of the revelation. He is absolutely the truth, and he stands completely for the truth. The very words are the reality. They are both actual and actualizing.

The issue is not natural selection or God. God designed natural selection regardless of how poorly that mechanism is understood or described and regardless of the fact that God can act outside the mundane definition of natural selection as it now stands.

Both sides in the current argument are wrong. Science arrogantly asserts that evolution as they define it can explain all biological complexities. Of course, this is nonsense. No matter what science asserts, anyone may ask the question of why. Eventually, science always arrives at the answer, "We don't know that." No matter how much science gathers and calls it scientific knowledge, science will always ultimately have to say, "We don't know that." Why does a mutation result in a change? They will give a chemical answer; however, they will not be able to supply the answer of what established that a given mutation would result in a particular change and not some other change. They don't know why. They will say there has to be a perfectly logical scientific explanation and that someday they will be better able to explain it. However, they will be faced again with why. Why is there an evolutionary process? What's it for? What's the point? They can't answer. They don't know. They will change or forever be stuck below the moving limit beyond which God already knows everything there is to know.

Is this saying that without God, everything would have remained soup? It goes much further than that. Without God there would not have been anything the scientists consider primordial and potentiated under pre-established and discoverable rules.

The scientists puff up their accomplishments as if they are forever on the verge of unlocking the mysteries of the universe. Nonsense!

To the false creationists we say, allegorical interpretations of the Book of Genesis are not a chipping away at the prophecy or the validity of the message of Jesus. It does not mean that a person (an Abel-type) did not exist and was not murdered by his brother (a Cain-type) as in The Bible. It does not mean that their names were not Abel and Cain when traced directly back through the translations. It means that the Garden of Eden story is to be understood emotionally and spiritually and not just perfunctorily and mundanely.

Where did Cain's wife come from the skeptics ask, for instance. If Adam and Eve were the only humans, Cain's wife was his full sister.
It means that the part of the creation story coming even before the garden sequence is to be understood spiritually as well. There are of course hidden meanings in the metaphors. They are not, however, intended to discount every discovery of science. The two are to be reconciled to arrive at the truth.

Science is all theory (faith in theory; faith in its ability to work within the probability it sees). Its philosophy is its religion. Its place is presumptuous. Nevertheless, whether it knows it or not, science seeks to describe the workings of God's creation. It does so up to the point of its own arrogance and imagination (read selfishness). Those who believe in God ought to avoid arrogance and imagination on their side as well.

God's force initiates existence in perpetuity

Existence didn't derive from nothing. Nothingness can start nothing. We exist. We are creatures. We are created beings. We were caused to come into existence. The something that had to be there to start it all and continues it all and that necessarily has always been is, by definition, God. There was never a time God was not, else nothing would exist. You would not be. God was, and is, the prime mover. God's force initiates existence in perpetuity.

Every biological, chemical, physical, geological, or other structure or function whether mundane or spiritual derives from God's consciousness.

As we stated above, the evidence for the truth of the prophecies is not only every bit as, but even more so, dependable than the evidence of science. Add to that evidence the logical proof of God that is one word: "Unselfishness." It is also the one word "love." It is also peace. It is truth, mercy, power, holiness, consistency, reliability, constancy, justice, life (real), and all the other attributes of righteousness. The question is, how much explaining does it take before one grasps this.

God is love by definition. Love exists; therefore, God exists. Love is inexhaustible; therefore, God is infinite. God exists and is infinite; therefore, love exists in an inexhaustible supply. Each of the attributes of God implies all the other attributes. This is way beyond the criticism of tautology (redundant and vacuous) leveled against such revelatory knowledge.

Chaos is relative only to humans

As mentioned earlier, many empiricists fail to comprehend the obvious transcendent knowledge that exists prior to its being revealed to them, within the narrowly defined confines of their human-level perception or methodology. They also fail to comprehend the manifest truth that nothing is ultimately random or chance or accidental (coincidence). Everything has meaning. The configuration of anything speaks. It is always an effect that speaks of its cause. The outcome of any event is always predicted by its cause, regardless of whether humans know enough scientifically to describe results in advance or in hindsight. Things are only defined as random or chance due to human ignorance.
Thus saith the LORD; If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, saith the LORD.
(Jeremiah 31:37).

The limits of existence are infinite and the way everything operates and is made and how to make it will not be shared with the untrustworthy (selfish). Neither will the unselfish, the elect (both of the descendents and non-descendents of Jacob), be cast off but will rather be forgiven forever through the mercy of God. The ultimate knowledge held is held by God. God can measure heaven and knows the foundations he created. This is no paradox. Human beings can never pry open the last knowledge of God. There will always remain more unknown than known by those who hate God. Also, Jesus was of the seed of Israel. Jesus will never be cast off; therefore, human beings in the mundane world will never measure heaven or search out the foundations of the earth. "Foundations" here meaning being able exhaustively to answer the question of why. "Measured" here also begs "compared to what?" Science as mundanely defined today will never handle these questions.

Speak from this basis, and the language of the revelation will not be as difficult. What could be the possible scientific explanation for one moving a mountain without any human technology but rather by having no doubt in God? How can it be successfully tested? It cannot. Testing God fails. Therefore, science is limited. It will never measure the heavens. It will always get it wrong. It will forever be able to produce no more than an estimate of the then "known" universe.

The errors of the founding fathers

Those of the founding fathers of America who had confused real Christianity with the apostate churches and wished to separate the church from the full organization of the people, opened the door wide open for those of the rationalists and empiricists who had come to the conclusion that believing that there is a higher power leads to negative results. Thus, even the pure teachings of Christ about that around which people should be organized have been both corrupted and discarded. The founding fathers’ was a kind of expedient, sacrificial pragmatism.

They sacrificed Jesus again for their expedient vision. Their vision was less principled than Jesus's. They chose the dark road for what they saw as the practical needs of their personal estates.

Publicly funded schools devoid of religious historical context

This has all led to the preclusion of teaching in public elementary and secondary schools anything about God and apostasy and left atheism free reign. It has never made sense that theology is taboo in public schools. How can a child be well-educated even in the mundane sense and not know religion? How can that child know history? How can theology not be a core element of education? The fear of what people do wrong in the name of religion has been mishandled. There have been and are mad scientists. Yet science continues to be offered. The way is not through separating off from God. The way is through enlightenment about the reality of righteousness. In the interest of some people not having their children exposed to religion, the education of children suffers. Children are compelled to science but are compelled against God. Freedom from religion is the cry of those whose tax dollars are hypocritically spent for religion even under so-called separation of church and state. That separation was due to the mistakes of apostate clerics. Now we have the mistakes of the apostate American citizens who by distancing themselves from the righteousness of God are suffering domestic attacks such as the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, the 9-11 attacks, wars such as Iraq, and greater wars to come in divers places.

George Washington

Of all the animosities which have existed among mankind, those which are caused by difference of sentiments in religion appear to be the most inveterate and distressing, and ought most to be deprecated. I was in hopes that the enlightened and liberal policy, which has marked the present age, would at least have reconciled Christians of every denomination so far that we should never again see the religious disputes carried to such a pitch as to endanger the peace of society. -- George Washington

George Washington did not understand the division caused by the rejection of the message of Jesus. He did not understand that truth does not bring instant peace to all souls. Rather, it divides selfish from unselfish. That process saves the world and thereby brings peace in the end. Neither did Washington understand that Jesus does not bless warfare. George Washington, the commander in chief of the Continental Army in the American Revolutionary War, said the following:

   It is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the Providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and to humbly implore His protection and favor.

James Madison

Madison wrote the following:

During almost fifteen centuries has the legal establishment of Christianity been on trial. What have been its fruits? More or less, in all places, pride and indolence [laziness] in the clergy; ignorance and servility [servitude] in laity; in both, superstition, bigotry, and persecution.
John Adams

"The government of the United States of America is not in any sense founded on the Christian Religion." – Treaty of Tripoli signed by John Adams. John Adams wrote as follows:

Twenty times in the course of my late reading, have I been upon the point of breaking out, 'this would be the best of all possible worlds, if there were no religion in it.'

However, Adams also said as follows:

The general principles, on which the fathers achieved independence, were the only principles in which that assembly of young gentlemen could unite.... And what were these general principles? I answer, the general principles of Christianity, in which all these sects were united....

Benjamin Franklin

Franklin wrote as follows:

...Some books against Deism fell into my hands....It happened that they wrought an effect on me quite contrary to what was intended by them; for the arguments of the Deists, which were quote to be refuted, appeared to me much stronger than the refutations, in short, I soon became a thorough Deist.
If we look back into history for the character of present sects in Christianity, we shall find few that have not in their turns been persecutors, and complainers of persecution. The primitive Christians thought persecution extremely wrong in the Pagans, but practised it on one another. The first Protestants of the Church of England, blamed persecution in the Roman church, but practised it against the Puritans: these found it wrong in the Bishops, but fell into the same practice themselves both here and in New England. Therefore, rather than becoming a deists, reject the apostate doctrines and go straight to the doctrine of Jesus, the new commandment, that will save the world.

These example statements make clear that each writer or speaker may easily be quoted out of context by simply letting an isolated quote stand on its own giving an incomplete picture of the scope of the thinking or confusion on a given subject. Such examples that may be taken out of context to support or reprove a position are replete throughout the myriad quotations available on the subject of the US founding fathers regarding Christianity as they were given to understand it. Philosophies and dogmas have been built up over millennia based upon selective, convenient memory and context.
Organizing a perfect union was not in their hearts

It is clear that the existence of a difference between religion (historically practiced in the orthodox or traditional denominations at the time of the founding of the United States) and the true teaching of Jesus was somewhat known to at least some of The founders. What needs to be made clear is since some of the founders were aware that there were true teachings, not the teachings of the dominant churches, why did they agree to institute a government on principles other than those true teachings? Why did they refer openly in their political meetings and documents to God and not seek that truth for their system of government? It was because organizing a perfect union was not in their hearts.

Here is Jefferson authoring The Virginia Act For Establishing Religious Freedom (1786). The preamble states in part as follows:

Well aware that Almighty God hath created the mind free; that all attempts to influence it by temporal punishments or burdens, or by civil incapacitations, tend only to beget habits of hypocrisy and meanness, and are a departure from the plan of the Holy Author of our religion, who being Lord both of body and mind, yet chose not to propagate it by coercions on either….

Now, the immediately above shows insight into the revelation. However, why be untrue to it in any area of human government or organization?
The implication of the truth of what Jefferson wrote demanded a different outcome from the Constitution of the United States of America and all its subordinate punishing, burdening, incapacitating, coercive laws. Here Jefferson understood the hypocrisy of coercion, yet he partook of that very hypocrisy. Why?

America: A house built on division

The truth is that the house that is America was built upon division from the start. That division is becoming starker with each passing year. It is a sign of the times. It is the founders' legacy, their fruit and their fathers'. They did not deal with the core issue of selfishness. They more than sidestepped it. They compromised the faith rather than reconciling with God. Had this nation of America been truly founded upon the teachings of Christ, there would have been no poor, hungry, or homeless persons in it thereafter. There would have been no slavery or bondservants ever. There would have been no genocide against the Indians. There would have been universal suffrage from the start. The Roman church and other churches have had nearly two thousand years to get it right. So-called American Christians have had several hundred years since landing on these shores. The founders and their descendents have had since at least the early 1800's. Where is the fruit whereby we would know them as at least attempting Christlikeness?

What the founding fathers sowed, American's reap. They did not sow Christianity. American's are not reaping the seeds of Christianity through their government. They sowed the unrighteousness, inegalitarianism of mammon under the capitalistic system, and that is what American's have been reaping.

It does not bode well that The founders knew and did otherwise. "Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth." (John 9:41). The true message of Jesus was always there for the founding fathers to read in their Bibles. Most were exceptionally literate as their writings attest.

Jesus: The highest lawgiver

Much of this confusion about the founders and what America is founded upon is due to the mixing of the Judaic law of Moses with the teachings of Jesus. There is overlap, of course; however, the areas where they are distinguished are more pronounced than would be indicated by the degree to which many mainstream denominations refer to the Old Testament law for the hardhearted as if that law is on the same level as the New Covenant, which is to soften our hearts and to love one another as Jesus loved his friends. The laws of Moses contained the traditions of men, such as capital punishment; eugenics; warfare; and ceremonial, liturgical, exterior cleaning. The law of Moses sought to take heaven by force, not that the people were ready for better. They were not. They were not much ready for even the law of Moses. Moses did what Moses was given to do. It suited the people and the times. Those people and their descendents (those of that spirit of rejection and backsliding) did not even keep to the righteousness of that lesser law. Therefore, the greatest law was made fully comprehensible by Jesus to further separate the sheep from the goats. That happened for the sake of the truly willing righteous for whose very sake there is existence.

The wrath of human law tries to take heaven by force. It practices eugenics and other offenses in order to bring heaven to earth. It is hypocrisy. It never worked. It never will. It was flawed from the start. That spirit of offending lives on in the survivors, in their handed-down human traditions. We see it in the abuse of the Palestinians by the Israelis. The wrath is the hardhearted reaction to hardheartedness. It is impatience. It is vengeance. The rule of the laws of men has sought to ignore the divine imperative and has forever been unjust. People have been attempting to usurp God. It only forestalls the return of innocence, disturbing always the peace and harming the innocent as they imagine they are doing the right thing by punishing the guilty but are rather making themselves culpable and much worse in the process. Following the divine imperative though would eliminate all killing, all disease, and even death.

What you and we sow, you and we reap here and now and hereafter until we are all finally separated not to be reunited until all the consequences of sowing selfishness have been cycled through, paid for, in self-reproach, lamentation, atonement, mercy, forgiveness, and reunion. Your heaven or hell is of your making. You hold the key to the gates of hell. You also hold the key to the gates of the Kingdom of Heaven. You control when they are unlocked.
and opened and who and what flows through them. You hold the key to forbidden fruit that is still there tempting those whom it tempts. Let only righteousness flow. Do not allow evil to traffic. Allow repentance not punishment. Allow just consequences that come from beyond human error. What you do and why will be the standard applied to you. Ignorance is an excuse. The truly ignorant will receive fewer negative consequences. Those who know better though, those who have heard the word and know better, but still turn away in selfishness will receive the greater negative consequences, because it will take much more for them to come around to overcoming. No matter how impervious they choose to be, they must finally be made to feel great remorse. Thank God for the saving power of remorfulness. If you believe in the almighty power of divine mercy and allow for the forgiveness and atonement and redemption of any soul who chooses it and act accordingly, that standard will be applied to you.

Why no eugenics or social Darwinism

Via his parables such as in Matthew 13 about the reaping of the tares and the wheat, Jesus explained natural selection, the power of nurturing, and most importantly the power of the Holy Spirit over all things long before Darwin or any other advocate of science or the liberal arts. Jesus explained that while ridding the world of the evil ones (the tares or weeds), one will deliberately or inadvertently destroy innocence (the wheat or good seed) as well. This is why we should never practice eugenics or social Darwinism. The truth is that the unselfish are the fittest on all counts, because the best results always come from unselfishness and the worst results always come from selfishness. The truth is that one may become unselfish even in the midst of the tares. "A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee." (Psalm 91:7).

Moses, Alexander III, Attila, Mohammed, Genghis Khan, Tamerlane, king George III, George Washington, Custer, Al Capone, Hitler, Stalin, every person who ever kills or orders killing has eliminated from the mundane world the presence of those killed. Most killers want to think of it as ridding or freeing the world of an undesirable presence. Even those without conscience often feel that they are rightfully removing people getting in the way of desire. When the reason is to prevent the seed from carrying on, it is part of the practice of eugenics. It is social Darwinism: Survival of and dominance by the fittest (selfish).

Eugenicists: Defective and killers

Those who are left, it is assumed will not pass on the physical traits or the teachings or the spirit seen as undesirable by the eugenicists. If this is true, then the defective gene that has predisposed people to be killers has been left to dominate. That teaching lives on and that spirit remains stalking the earth. The problem for these minds is that they fall into the inevitable hypocrisy of their position.

Violence, murder, and other selfish, coercive reactions are never the answer. It is though permissible and suggested that one approach others directly with complaints for real cause. If that doesn't work, take some witnesses. If the astray still doesn't respond properly, tell everyone in the group asking them to help to get through to the misled. If the lost still refuses to be found, leave it alone. It is then his problem. You will have done what you can in placing the truth right out there for all.

Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. (Matthew 18:15-17).

Don't be surprised though if others whom you approach for witnesses and members of the whole group reject the truth and refuse to help. Only those of the real Church will stand up for the truth.

If the transformational power of the Holy Spirit is not real, then there is no hope. However, the truth can overcome the confusion in the minds of those attempting to take heaven by force. They just must be shown the way through deeds that work. The spirit opposite murder and killing exists. It is love. It can and does overcome temptation to violently resist evil and to use coercion rather than the pure appeal of words and deeds of truth. That is the message of Jesus. It is the physically transformative power of nurturing.

Heredity and environment, predisposition and nurturance, contribute to what manifests. The truth is that the Holy Spirit has ultimate power over all things and can effect complete changes instantly. That is why Jesus could walk on water and turn water into wine, etc., instantly. So, there is a huge range in transformational processes in terms of the degree, quality, and speed of transformation. Those depend upon the cause or mover. The range in causes runs from the cleanest to the filthiest. Those two ends on that range or spectrum effect the most radical and sudden changes for better or worse. The middle of the spectrum is the most mundanely understood and accepted. However, radical transformations toward evil are more readily accepted by those of mundane understanding than are radical transformations in the opposite that is the pure direction. That is due to lack of truth. That must be overcome.

Killers do not fall to that state without having suffered abuse under the selfish spirit and reacted to it in the usual, mistaken, non-overcoming, selfish manner. The filthy spirits attacked them. How a given killer was transformed depends upon where the filthy spirit fell on the spectrum. Killers were nurtured on violence or greed or depravity or some combination of them. It was sudden to gradual depending upon the nature of the unclean spirit and hence the attack. Regardless, they were overcome by the falsehood. Filthy spirits are false. They are liars. They are devouring. They are dark. They are far from the eternal kingdom of righteousness and salvation. The killers were physically transformed by succumbing to the attack. Succumbing means they didn't overcome. They fell to temptation and caved in. They didn't have the coping skills. They came to manifest those filthy traits themselves.

Moses

Moses for instance did not have the voice of the movie actor Charlton Heston, who portrayed Moses in the movie The Ten Commandments. Moses had a speech impediment. He was a slow speaker. He thought himself so slow that his older brother Aaron had to do the speaking for him. In The Bible we see Moses moved to rescue his fellow Hebrews from slavery in Egypt, but we also see Moses's soul suffering self-doubt and a sense of unworthiness due to his impediment and former sin including murder, no doubt. "And he said, O my LORD, send, I pray thee, by the hand of him whom thou wilt send." (Exodus 4:13). He wasn't asking to be the one God sends. He was praying to God that God send someone else. He was afraid. He was conflicted, torn. On one hand, he had the selfish desire not to be ridiculed and made to feel shame again. He probably had been severely taunted and even physically tormented. On the other hand, he had great compassion and an extremely strong sense of indignation about the oppression of his fellow Hebrews.

Now the law of Moses ended up putting people to the sword for all manner of things Moses found offensive. What if that law had been extended to include all those with speech impediments or just slow speakers? Moses had also committed murder in Egypt long before. He killed a nasty person, but Jesus has taught us that such killing is nevertheless not justified under the divine law. Is this a condemnation of Moses? It certainly is not. Moses did not have the hindsight we have. He did not have the benefit of the Gospel message as we do. We have no honest choice other than to view the life and message of Moses in light of that fact. Nevertheless, do you see the hypocrisy inherent within eugenics and capital punishment? Jesus eliminated the issue by revealing the real law that does not contain the offenses of eugenics or capital punishment or any human-on-human punishments really. As shown above, Thomas Jefferson, who was not even a Christian, saw this about the negative results of coercion. Surely every Christian is able to discern in the message of Jesus what even a non-Christian, Jefferson, is able to perceive.

Wrath is, and is from, abuse

We must come to understand that the most wrathful are those who are a combination of having been severely abused physically or emotionally (in the final analysis, it is all manifested physically), having been the most predisposed to not overcoming, and having had the least loving nurturing that would otherwise be sufficient to redirect them or transform them. They were and are created by humanity. What person who never suffered abuse in the family or without and was lovingly nurtured in the family or without turns out to be a wrathful leader? Could another illness besides human selfishness, directly or indirectly, create a wrathful leader? Even a bang on the head is the result of human selfishness in the end.

There are those who will say that physical damage to the brain via what they would call an accident or by the disease of cancer or other such forces can cause such a transformation; however, the truth is that such things happen to people because of the selfishness of humanity (abuse). We must learn to see this connection.

It has always been there. It is just being dismissed by those who do not want to be held at all to account for the overall fallen condition of this world. All wrathfulness is a disease state. It is the meaning of the word "disease." It means dis-ease or not at ease. It is aggravation. Cancer is the result of things going wrong as a result of what can rightly be termed a kind of aggravation or disturbance. It is the opposite of wholesomeness or healthfulness in that sense. So-called accidents happen as a result of that same spirit. It is the result of stress and confusion. It is a manifestation of things being ill at ease from the divine perspective. In this way, all things are the result of righteousness versus evil or unselfishness versus selfishness. Selfishness causes stress. Stress causes error. It shows in the earth and in the world and in the people collectively and in each individual. The things that are going wrong are going that way due to the spirit in the aggregate going down the wrong path. Reality is reflecting that spirit coming from humans back upon humanity.

To prevent the terror of wrath, do we not have to deprogram wrath with love, understanding, and compassion throughout the whole of humanity?
Moses's laws were, though, representative or symbolic of what was to come in spirit and not just letter. Moses's law was harsh due to the hardness of the hearts of that generation. The laws of a people reflect the collective condition of their hearts. They get what they deserve collectively. This is extremely difficult for people to comprehend. People are all interdependent and will be judged as such, as humanity, nations, families, and individuals. At the same time, the sins of others are not to set our teeth on edge. It is why one person such as Jesus could make such a huge difference. He suffered for all but was, nevertheless, rewarded. Jesus was responsible and accountable.
Therefore, he did everything he could in love.

None of these excludes the other. Jesus referred to the harshness fitting the condition of the prevailing and collective heart by saying, "Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so." (Matthew 19:8).

It is so important to grasp the meaning of the words "but from the beginning it was not so." There was a time in humanity when people were not hardhearted. Remember, Jesus also said the following:

Verily, verily, I say unto you,
Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven. (John 6:32).
Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead. (John 6:49).

This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever. (John 6:58).

Jesus is the bread of eternal life: Truth, the teaching and keeping of the full spirit of the law. "For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ." (John 1:17). The letter of the law came by Moses. The full spirit of the law came by Jesus who spoke the words and they were written down becoming also the new letter that was also the real letter from the beginning, the eternal letter. Even though the Jews had thought the manna was bread from heaven, it was not the true bread from heaven.

The scribes and Pharisees asked Jesus concerning an adulteress, "Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?" (John 8:5) Jesus replied, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her." (John 8:7). Hypocrisy ("meanness" as Thomas Jefferson observed) in the letter of the law was reproved.

The spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it was used to make the law consistent. Each heart that obeys that spirit no longer feels, thinks, speaks, or does hypocritically regardless of what the letter of the law says. It was a quantum leap in revelation. It revealed the root of all that is good. It separated unselfishness (righteousness) from selfishness...
It is "rightly dividing the word of truth." (2 Timothy 2:15).

Rather than simply build a new nation based upon that teaching of the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it, the founding fathers (many of whom were variously rich, envious, and covetous) wrote their Declaration of Independence and their Constitution of the United States of America. Their Constitution was designed to handle the very specific grievances those rich founders had experienced at the hands of King George III of England. Unlike Jesus's law, their law did not handle all the grievances of humanity. The spirit of the great commandment does that however. The founders were worried about the persecutions that had occurred in the name of the Christian religion. Rather than correcting the religion by bringing it out of a state of apostasy (selfishness) and, therefore, to the original teachings of Jesus (unselfishness), they chose to declare a separation of church (apostate or not) from state via their written Constitution. They wanted no church (no religion) running the government or the government running any church. As a consequence, not only is the human-traditions-based church still in a state of apostasy, so is the government of the people. This trend is accelerating despite the gains of the political conservatives who call themselves believers.

Real Church and real state

If it has not been emphasized enough already, we are not advocating that the separation between the current political government and the current mainstream denominations be broken down. What we are advocating is that the true church is the people who follow the precepts of God and that is the only way people may be properly organized that is governed. It is the only true state. It is the only state that is not of falsehood.

And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. (Mark 12:29-31).

We are advocating the new commandment that necessarily follows, specifically: "As I have loved you, that ye also love one another." (John 13:34): as Jesus loved his friends the disciples, that we also love one another. Jesus's new commandment is perfectly consistent with the first and great commandment and the second like it and the golden rule as follows:

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets. (Matthew 7:12).
The golden rule

The golden rule is often said as, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." You will note though that the King James version says "should." The divine law is not do to others what you want them to do to you if you are masochistic or hedonistic, etc. It is do to others as they ought to do toward you. What they ought to do is no offense, no harm, what is best in the eternal sense, best for the whole, what will bring only positive ultimate-consequences.

We have been rebuked

We are glad that We have been rebuked. We stand rebuked. It is a good thing. The Gospel message rebuked us. It is right that Jesus came and said and did what he did. We would have it that when we are adrift or astray that there be those who will come find us and bring us back to heading toward being at one in the spirit. Therefore, this is what we know is right to do. It is right to find those who are lost who would rather be found. It is better that one is given the opportunity to learn and to change. It is wrong not to let others know when they are headed in the wrong direction. In fact, it is our duty to inform them. We do not judge them or punish them for going down the wrong path. The consequences of any of us going down the wrong path are established before us. We are further advocating what Jesus meant when he said as follows:

These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time...
cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father. At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God. (John 16:25-27).

It means that God hears us directly and Jesus no longer need intercede. It does not mean that we can do anything alone without Jesus however. We have become part of the family of one.

The following are consistent with the greatest commandment, as are all the true sayings and deeds of Jesus and his real followers:

And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. (Acts 4:32).

If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. (Luke 14:26-27).

Whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. (Luke 14:33).

Renounce and abandon all that you have held dear in the worldly way, because you have been taught by the forces of selfishness to cling to such false treasure. Turn your heart to the oneness. Give all to that cause. Do not put your flesh first. Be a disciple of Jesus.

Hating what is right to hate is love

These are foundational, but one may arrive at the foundation by starting with any teaching or act of Jesus and following it with a softening heart throughout the Gospel and the rest of scripture. As for the word "hate" as used above, it is to hate the fallen condition. It is to hate the lust of the eye (covetousness and envy) and flesh (sexual predatoriness) and the pride of life (the fallen, unenlightened life). It is not to hate love, peace, and truth of the Holy Spirit in ones family and friends. We are to love that true love and real peace with our all. Do you see the contexts in which we are to hate and are to love?

Fables and myths as truths

Lastly, concerning Jefferson's assertion that Christianity is "founded on fables and mythology," there is a line for recognizing imagination that is fable and myth versus truth in the form of real prophetic metaphorical utterances, in parable form and other figurative forms. Prophetic continuity shines intensely in historical fulfillment, unless one subscribes to the absurd notion that the entire Bible is fable.
and myth. Fables and mythology carry the spirit of real aspirations of people for salvation. Even the pagan hero worship of the Nietzscheans is fulfilled in Jesus just as the mundane law was fulfilled. Jesus showed the real spirit that is the divine law. He rightly taught that the mundane law hangs upon it. Well, he showed the real spirit of heroism. All the pagan-hero stories hang upon that real-hero spirit. The pagan hero saves in the imagination of pagan-hero worshipers and ancestor worshipers, but only to the extent the minds of the hero-inventors can grasp salvation. Jesus came and showed the real spirit of salvation that fulfilled and transcended the pagan heroes. He fulfilled the prophetic desires of the entire world to be saved once the entire world comes to its senses and realizes it.

How much of reality is contained in allegorical visions and dreams or parables that have been obviously often mistaken for falsehoods labeled pejoratively "fables" and "myths"? The truth in The Bible does not rise or fall by dismissing semantics. The Bible signifies. It rises on the truth it teaches whether in parable form or not. Every one of Aesop's Fables has a moral to it. Are those moral lessons less valid being in parable form?

Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands? (Isaiah 45:9).
Who is a pot? Where is the line between the literal and the figurative here? Is it less true being seen as figurative? Isn’t it literal within context? Is it a myth that anyone is a pot or a piece of pottery? It depends!

Human traditional doctrine misleads

What other confusions facilitate the doubters? Sweeping, vague, knee-jerk human doctrines in response to the questions of researchers and those claiming scholarship, such as Thomas Jefferson, are counterproductive. If left unqualified, human traditional doctrine can mislead. Certain examples include the doctrine of Biblical inerrancy, the doctrine of justification by faith alone, and the doctrine of scripture (the letter without spirit) as the sole source of truth.

Doctrine of Biblical inerrancy

The doctrine of Biblical inerrancy when left unexplained or unqualified, leaves The Bible’s reputation (credibility) open to slanderous statements and libelous writings due to even trivialities such as typographical errors and leaving zeros off numbers due to scribal imperfections. Destructive critics are left ammunition by sweeping statements of the misled. The critics simply say that if The Bible is inerrant and was divinely inspired, why does it contain obvious mistakes such as typos, etc.? Now, in defense of the Fundamentalists and others who hold to this doctrine of Biblical inerrancy, they usually qualify their position by saying that they are referring to the scripture in its original form.
Well, God inspired exactly as was needed. Such level of errors is a nonstarter issue. The inspired writers were given only what they were given. All were not given the same. All could not receive the same. Each was different. Jesus showed that some of the writings were human tradition (not able to be kept without hypocrisy, such as stoning) and, therefore, not as divinely inspired (in the sense most people think of the concept) as other writings: Not as close to the kingdom so to speak. This does not render The Bible invalid or any part of it as necessarily uninspired. It simply points out the levels of inspiration and what was imparted given the people's hearts and the circumstances. In fact, that we can make the comparisons between Jesus and earlier prophets renders The Bible the source of continuity for the unfolding prophecy and revelation.

Where is the fruit of perfectly appropriate inspiration? It is unfolding. What negative impact has the opposite force, the selfish force, had upon all the undertakings of humanity? Stress causes errors. Selfishness causes stress. Biblical scribes and inspired authors have never been free of all stress. They were waiting for complete salvation from the stressors: The selfish, tempters, and knowing evildoers (sinners). They were waiting to overcome. The truth is that the writings were a result of asking, seeking, and knocking. The writers were given what to say that undeniably kept the word alive since we still have it today and will continue to have it forever.

This Biblical-inerrancy issue also touches upon the historical accuracy of The Bible. Here again, this is a nonstarter issue. There is no way for us to know the exact meanings of every setting in The Bible. We do not know how long a "day" in creation was. We only know that it was a creation-day. We all know that the words in The Bible are also figurative. Even the Fundamentalists admit to interpreting day as year within certain contexts of prophecy. If the length of time for the first day of Book of Genesis was not a twenty-four hour period, the belief system does not fail. If "day" there must mean twenty-four hours, it cannot mean a year elsewhere. However, certain calculations of the prophecy only work using a year. The literalists know this.

We are not making a claim to knowing everything or that the Holy Spirit has revealed everything to us. The Holy Spirit tells us what we need to know. We know that all the theological, academic arguments between and among the various denominations and sects over doctrines will come to absolutely no good for any of those arguers who do not get to work feeding the lambs and sheep in their flesh bodies as well as spiritually and doing all the other things Jesus said we are to do. In fact, the selfishness inherent in endless arguing guarantees that the positions are wrong. Jesus said his peace and held his peace. We are not interested in engaging people for the sake of arguing. This work is only as good as it motivates people to perform the deeds called for by the first and great commandment and the second like it. If all it does is stimulate debate with no right action, will that say more about the book or its readers?
False fundamentalists conveniently select figures of speech to reject divine humanitarianism

In addition to more forcefully qualifying the doctrine of Biblical inerrancy, emphasizing that there is figurative (relatively non-literal) language in The Bible and emphasizing that the teachings of Jesus came in allegorical parables will defuse negative criticism. The sayings of Jesus are not based upon assumptions. They are not opinions. The truth of them is proven absolutely. They are though contained in a language form meant to separate the willfully hardhearted from the receptive or softening hearted. That language form and even the plain and clear truth remains beyond the ability of those opposed truly to knowing, because they cannot bring themselves to act upon the truth in consistency. It remains occulted to them. They remain unwilling to partake of the instructional truth. Of course, admitting to greater figurativeness for many calling themselves Fundamentalists would require them to turn from their conservatism, dropping their human-tradition view that does not allow the figurative to speak to the literalness of the truths contained within the parables. They would have to admit to divine humanitarianism and admit that such humanitarianism lies in giving and sharing all freely as is God's intention for us.

When is Jerusalem also Sodom?

And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified. (Revelation 11:8).

He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one. (Matthew 13:37-38).

Jerusalem is spiritually called Sodom and Egypt. Literally it is Jerusalem with the spirit of Sodom and Egypt. But when someone says Sodom and Egypt, it is to bring to mind Jerusalem and Jerusalem's current corruption under the proclivity to selfishness: Anti-liberalism; antichrist. We must remember that Jerusalem was not always corrupt. It was the center of teaching of peace.

Where then is the hard and fast line between figurative and literal? When does one begin and the other end? Figuratively, the faithful followers of Jesus are the good seed. Is not the good seed then literally the faithful follower? When is the word the thing itself and not just referential? When Jesus said of himself, "I am the way, the truth, and the life" (John 14:6), in what way are the terms "way," "truth," and "life" not Jesus proper? Why must people treat this as so mystical? If he had said, "I am human," no one would blink. Yet, to what does the word "human" refer? Isn't it a concept? Yet, isn't it real? Isn't Jesus really the way, truth, and life just as tangibly or literally as he was human? Why do people get hung up not doing the deeds while they bandy about trying to set up hard and fast word meanings when words more than allude to the infinite, just as numbers?
Look closely at the word "spiritually." The word was translated from the Greek into English. In the Greek, the sense of the word means "figuratively." Transliterated to the Greek from the English, the word is "pneumatikos" ("pneumatikou'p"). Its root is "pneu," which means to blow. "Pneu-" means to breathe. Elsewhere in this work, I have explained the conflation: The truth blows us together into giving and sharing all freely: God; of, by, for, as, and with (inseparable). It gives the breath of eternal life. God breathes it into us, we drink it as the living water, and we eat it as the real bread.

By the Holy Spirit of truth, one knows that Jerusalem as it is as of the time of this writing contains the spirit of both Sodom and Egypt in Sodom's and Egypt's most negative historical senses. We know this by the fruit of Jerusalem.

Its inhabitants in the aggregate do not bring forth the good fruit with patience. They bring forth the fruit of that Sodom and that Egypt. It is an allusion. Jerusalem is not named verbatim in the verse in Revelation, but that is where Jesus was crucified. Sodom and Egypt were full of sin. Jerusalem is by reference being called full of sin. Be warned before calling this blasphemy, heresy, or anything else that claims it is false.

Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. (Matthew 26:65).

Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. (Matthew 12:31).

The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. (John 10:33).

The pharisaic high priest, Joseph Caiaphas, said Jesus had blasphemed. Saying that about Jesus was the real blasphemy. However, Jesus said the high priest could be forgiven for that. Many of the confused people calling themselves Jews said Jesus had blasphemed for making himself God. Those people, spiritually blind to the path of wholeness, were in league with Caiaphas. They did not know the scriptures. Those who don't understand the scriptures now don't understand either that the current Jerusalem is still Sodom and Egypt.

The figurative interpretation all runs contrary to human traditions of many entities calling themselves Fundamentalists, conservative evangelicals, literalists, strict-constructionists, but it is not heretical in the eyes of God. The Holy Spirit is the breath of life. Jesus brought it with him in abundance, and it breathed itself into the real living law. The Constitution of the United States of America and all law is being interpreted based upon the consensus understanding of the time, even by those holding themselves out as being the most strict-constructionists. How long must it take for the consensus to reach the revelation?
Of course The Bible is not in error concerning telling the story of the unfolding history of the revelation. Only human interpretations and expectations are in error.

The giants (Nephilim)

As another example, according to the Noah account, every humanoid on the planet drowned except for those in the ark; however, the giants (Nephilim) are accounted by literalists as descendents of women and fallen angels predating the flood, yet they existed after the flood.

There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown. (Genesis 6:4).

And they ascended by the south, and came unto Hebron; where Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai, the children of Anak, were. (Now Hebron was built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)....

Nevertheless the people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled, and very great: and moreover we saw the children of Anak there...And there we saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the giants: and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight. (Numbers 13:22,28,33).

Genesis 6:4 speaks of the time before the deluge. Numbers 13:22, 28, and 33 refer to long after that great flood. The giants before the flood were killed by the flood according to the story. However, long after the flood, the Hebrews "saw the giants" who were the "sons of Anak" said to have "come of the giants."

How can the "sons of Anak" in a completely non-figurative sense "come of the giants" when all the giants and all the people other than Noah and his family were killed many, many generations before that? Therefore, unless at least elements within either or both accounts immediately above are viewed figuratively and not necessarily joined at the hip, they cannot be reconciled as interpreted under, what is called today, literalism. Among other things, there has to be more to the contexts than a mundane, genetic-only correspondence of giants to giants.

The reading is reconciled when the term "giant" is understood in the same sense in which people use the term today when referring to people as giants even when those people are physically even relatively small. For instance, Deng Xiaoping, the ruler of China from the late 1970's until the early 90's, was referred to as "the short giant." He was very powerful politically while being 4'11" or 1.5 meters tall. There are many, many references in history to so-called giants within that sense of the term. It has nothing necessarily to do with being physically large or tall. As for the "sons of Anak" being said to have "come of the giants," that is understandable when considered within the spiritual or figurative sense. This does not mean that they were not tall and large people compared with the Hebrews of the day. The sons of Anak were though of the same spirit as those whom had displeased God before the great flood.

And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. (Genesis 6:5).

The real fundamentalists

Contrary to the fundamentalism of the completely non-figurative view of the scriptures, there is the real fundamentalism of those focused with the single vision of godliness upon the fundamentals (the great commandment, second commandment, golden rule, and Jesus's new commandment, which encapsulates the others: Conflates them). Those real fundamentalists are not all fractured up with the love of worldly personal possessions and the other things that come of worldly lusts. That real fundamentalism is the true liberalism. There they are conflated.

The Bible contains the figurative

It is not possible that The Bible contains nothing figurative. The Bible is full of figurative language. The language is emblematical. Stories are indicative. They speak truisms about the human condition and what to do about it. These truisms are self-evident truths. They require no proof beyond themselves. They are not lacking in power. They are not worn out. They never die. They remain inspiring and fresh forever. It is simply the dark force of pejoration that attempts to destroy the word: To let itself off the hook; to lead others astray into that deep darkness. Those calling themselves literalists believe in the Book of Revelation, which itself uses the term "figuratively" (spiritually). They say they believe Jesus but they do not accept Jesus at his word.

These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father. (John 16:25).

"Show you plainly" means not with allegories (symbolic stories rendering truisms) or even substantive speech but rather in the flesh by demonstration (by the deeds: Crucifixion and resurrection) and, thereafter, via the Holy Spirit. By insisting upon a completely nonfigurative interpretation of The Bible the exclusionary literalists give God a bad name by leaving The Bible open to the criticisms of those who seek to destroy the power, which is the only saving grace: Unity, concord, emotional harmony; thoughts, words, and deeds in unison with righteousness.

Godliness, wholesomeness, allows us to be one, as Jesus explained. We are to be at one with one another. We are to be at peace with each other. Jesus tried to get through to the hardhearted and hardheaded that we are not to usurp. We are to share all with one another. At the same time, we are to recognize the as yet irredeemable recidivistic and let them go there way. Even one's own genetic children can be heathens: Spiritually deaf, blind, lost, and dead. Aren't all humans the creation of God, and aren't many of them heathens? We are not though to give our children serpents to eat for fish or stones for bread. Doesn't God continue to provide even for the most evil people on the planet? Our parental responsibilities remain in that way. However, if children come to think the better of it and the word becomes written upon their hearts (as demonstrated by sincere repentance), they are as the Prodigal Son returned: Spiritually found and alive, for which we may rejoice. The host (multitude) of heaven rejoices in heaven each times someone turns back to the real righteousness.

Doctrine of justification by faith alone

Martin Luther

Also, the doctrine of justification by faith alone was Martin Luther's reaction to insincere deeds being acceptable for salvation by the Roman church. However, that doctrine has had the negative result of removing the emphasis upon feeding the sheep and lambs of the fold. People now rest on expressions of faith without being real disciples of Jesus: Divine humanitarians and real liberals as Isaiah defined, taking up their crosses and bearing persecution for undertaking that feeding and the other things Jesus told his followers that they must do.

Justification by perfunctory deeds and deeds not done in the spirit of unselfishness is wrong;
however, justification without consistent deeds done in the spirit of unselfishness is also wrong. Faith alone has been interpreted by excuse seekers as condoning the latter. The proper doctrine is justification by consistent deeds done in the spirit of unselfishness which proves real faith. Under that doctrine, there is no excuse.

There are works and then there are works

Now, in his epistle to the Galatians, Paul argued for this justification by faith and not by works, but he qualified the works as obeying the laws of Moses and not the doing of good works, per se. That qualifying aspect is often lost, and works in the form of good deeds are neglected on account of the blanket reading of the doctrine. This becomes a problem with many doctrines. Hence, we are qualifying them here and not suggesting that a thorough reading of their authors would not produce qualifying language by those authors. However, it cannot be overemphasized that Jesus said that the Jews should recognize him by his works and that we are all known by, and will all be judged in the end according to, our works. Naturally, Jesus's works were consistent. We are not suggesting that someone can be knowingly and carelessly sinful only to do some good deeds and turn around to sin some and then do some more good deeds and expect to have that rather nonchalant approach be acceptable to God. One must be constantly striving to do good works only to make his or her fruit all good as Jesus said we are to do or be cut off and burned up as a bad branch.
Grace distorted by Platonism

Augustine (bishop of Hippo)

This justification by faith alone is akin to the interpretation of divine grace, which has also been used as an excuse by hundreds of millions not to do the requisite deeds, yes requisite. It is a great source of needless confusion. That interpretation of grace comes primarily out of the Neo-Platonism of Augustine (bishop of Hippo) who read the works of the philosopher Plotinus (plō-ti’nas). As interpreted, it emphasizes the meditative, ascetic, monastic, cloistered approach as the way to ecstatic reunion with God. That alone never gets one there. It is abstraction that misses the reality of deeds and that perfection really isn’t abstract.

This is why Jesus was the truth. Even the philosophical, intellectual arguments for the Trinity and the nature of Jesus’s divinity as espoused by the early Hellenized church come out of this Platonic philosophy. The divinity of Jesus is not explained by Platonism. It all but ignores the tasks Jesus assigned to his followers to feed the world spiritually and physically and to do all the other things he said must be done and that will be used as the criteria for separating out the sheep (his followers) from the goats (Satan's brood).

There is law and then there is law

The law or works in question were the rituals and ceremonies of Mosaic law that Jesus divided, showing where hypocrisy lay.
Much of this thinking results from reading things into the debate of the Apostles over whether or not to require circumcision of Gentiles. It was a debate over Mosaic law versus grace.

And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying,

Men and brethren, hearken unto me: Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name. And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down;

and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:

That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things. Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.

Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God. (Acts 15:13-19)
James was referring above to how the Holy Spirit had moved Simeon (also spelled Simon) Peter to go to particular Gentiles. The Holy Spirit descended upon them. James also referred to the prophets, among them, Amos.

In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old: That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, which are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this. (Amos 9:11-12).

Paul wrote to the Romans, "For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace." (Romans 6:14). It does not mean that the Gentiles or any follower of Jesus is not under the divine law. It does not lift the commandments of Jesus from off the people. The word "law" in the verse has a specific connotation or connection in Paul's mind. It is not all encompassing. Not only that but the mundane law is seen as selfishness having dominion over the worldly world. For Paul, a new age had dawned and was dawning. There was a new covenant that was being extended out to all the peoples of the world if they would follow. That new covenant was not the old covenant made with the Hebrews under Moses and the law Moses handed down exclusively to the tribes of Jacob. This new covenant was, and is, with the church of Jesus Christ. The church's focus was, and is, to be upon the spirit of the law that informs the letter always. It was a revelation. God isn't taking us backwards. God is enlightening us.

The people were not made extinct, because Jesus did what pleased God. God showed mercy even though the people didn't deserve it on the whole. They were spared by God's grace alone. They had broken all the covenants before even though those covenants were easier to adhere to then keeping the full spirit of the great commandment.

Augustinianism mistaken

Augustinianism holds that the fate of people is subject only to divine grace and human actions and choices have nothing to do with it. That is wrong. Free-will deeds go perfectly hand-in-hand with God's grace. Were Augustine right, Jesus would have been lying when he told the disciples (as written in Matthew 25) about what would be the criteria come final judgment. If it were true that the results of one's freely chosen deeds have nothing to do with salvation, Jesus wasted all his time telling people to choose righteousness so God would deliver them in mercy and grace. He wasted all his time teaching them anything.

Of course, Jesus did not waste his time. It is right to choose righteousness always, and doing so is the path to salvation and God's forgiveness, mercy, grace, and blessing in the end after the long narrow way: The trial or proving ground. Choosing it means bringing forth the fruit: The proof of worthiness. God does not lie. God keeps God's promises. Those who do righteousness for righteousness' sake cast their fate with God. Those who will, choose and are chosen.

This does not mean that God does not know in advance who will and won't be amongst the sheep and goats. God knows. Reconcile that with the free will God has given human beings, and you will be open to the eternal and infinite.

Jesus bought the world time, but he didn't remove the divine obligation (the law, God's more revealed commandments) we have toward each and all. He didn't demand all his followers adhere to Mosaic law in letter only. He taught us and showed us to keep to the spirit of unselfishness, which never violates the spirit behind the very reason Mosaic law ever came into being.

Connotations of grace

There is the connotation of grace that covers all living beings regardless of their deeds. It is the free gift of God that is life and all the things God provides to all such as the rain that lands on the righteous and sinners alike. There is the grace that is sanctification proven by fruits such as Jesus's. Everyone upon whom the rain has fallen has not been consecrated by God. They all have not come in the name of God.

The grace of God is the spirit of the law upon which hang all the prophets and all the letter of the law. That law has always existed but has not always been revealed to people. Their hearts have hardened too much for them to see that eternal law. It is to keep the great commandment that implies the second like unto it and the golden rule and the new commandment of Jesus and all the lesser commandments without sins (knowing violations). Keeping the highest spirit of the letter is keeping the divine precept, the divine law. That law, that grace, is fitness. It begins with generosity, mercy, liberal treatment, and reprieve. That which is freely received is freely given. Mercy, indulgence, and reprieve then become no longer necessary. Keeping the divine precept, freely sharing all, then removes all sin and, therefore, makes moot all promulgated laws of humans. The problems every promulgated law of human handiwork was designed to ameliorate are then precluded by all keeping the great commandment in its fullest spirit. No sin would occur. No temptation would exist. No promulgated code would be required. The law would be written on the heart of each and every human. At that point, toil and death would end. Corruption and corruptibility would be gone. The garden would be abundant without labor. No deed would be differentiated as good, for all would be goodness and light. The water of eternal life would be running freely for each to drink. This is the state of perfect trust deserved, earned.

Calvinism is error

The grace of God is real. However, contrary to the teachings of Calvinism, mammon success is the opposite of the evidence of God's sanctifying grace. It is the wages of selfishness and will be paid back to the penny. This work ethic turned to selfish ends, this worldly success, flies in the face of everything Jesus taught. Poverty, far from being a sign of the lack of God's grace upon the poverty stricken is more a sign of the sinful greed and stinginess of, and the theft by, those who believe that private and hoarded worldly riches are of God's grace. They have it exactly backwards. Business success is not evidence of God's grace. Sinful business people can become astronomically wealthy and be without the grace (sanctification) of God. The word "grace" has been distorted by selfish motives. It has undergone pejoration by disuse of its connotation of sanctification.

"Grace" is both a relative and absolute term. The grace bestowed upon all has resulted in the spiritual death of many. The grace bestowed upon Jesus has resulted in his spiritual unity with God, sharing all with God, the ultimate in generosity.

Grace has been used as synonymous with blessing. If it is a blessing to be temporarily tolerated by God in one's willfulness, then in that case it is a blessing. However, Jesus made clear that being temporarily tolerated by God in one's willfulness is to be getting one's reward from Satan now that will be repaid. God does make the rain to fall on all, sinners included. God's system allows (tolerates) people's free choices between good and evil while they learn or do not learn to overcome evil. God's grace allows for that time allotted to people. God did not have to allow for such an opportunity. It is through God's mercy and understanding of our growing in true spiritual enlightenment that God gives us this completely just opportunity. It is our chance to choose righteousness.

Those who have chosen, are choosing, and will yet choose righteousness are already known to God. In that sense, they are predestined. Those who have not, are not, and will not are also known. They are the damned already by their choice not to turn and stay. They are the sinners who will knowingly continue to reject the word of truth. They include those who will continue to pay lip service to faith but not do the good deeds that make them known as Jesus’s followers seeing to it that their names are written and remain in the Book of Life.

He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. (Revelation 3:5).

We are to overcome temptation, including most importantly the temptation to rationalize away the duty to feed the lambs and sheep or the temptation to procrastinate in feeding them. Neither God’s grace, as bestowed on nonbelievers, nor one’s professed faith in the absence of doing God’s will (that is what Jesus said we must do) will allow anyone to see or enter the kingdom. "Faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone." (James 2:17). It is not really faith if it is absent the deeds.

Paul has been misused

Paul wrote the same sentiment.

They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate. (Titus 1:16).
Paul has been confusing for many. He has been used to excuse failing to feed the lambs and sheep. He has been misused by Augustine, Luther, Calvin, and advocates for capital punishment and other human-on-human wrath.

You see, predestination and free will are not incongruous. One must choose to do God's will. One must be chosen to do God's will. This is no paradox. There is no argument here. Reconcile them in your heart. One must have the truly repentant heart to have the strength of faith to trust completely in God's grace (in this case, God's love, mercy, and promise) to do God's will, which is not to cloister up to stay, hiding the light, but is rather being exemplary through right words and right deeds spoken and written and done out in the open, in the center of the world, not for accolades but because it is right. It produces the good fruit.

Lip-service faith

Lip-service faith is challenged. It is the tool of rationalization and procrastination. The lives and souls of billions of people depend upon clearing away errors. The mainstream theologians have been in error by losing the real focus (the single vision or single eye). Augustine of Hippo, Thomas Aquinas, Martin Luther, John Calvin, and other theologians, as well-intentioned as they thought they were being, facilitated selfish traditions obscuring the revelation.

Their errors, well-intentioned or not, have caused God to have a bad reputation among millions of people who would otherwise believe and teach and do. They have facilitated leaving the church open to the criticisms of the Thomas Jeffersons and Thomas Paines of the world. That is not to say that Augustine was wrong that there is a city of God versus a current city of man. Of course, until both are the same, they remain separated. The message of Jesus though is, "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven." (Matthew 6:10). The cities conflate, and it is not forced.

Thy kingdom come

It was a mistake that people were led in the direction of thinking that the city of God does not exist here on earth: That it is only in the hereafter. Jesus said the kingdom is within. That is the city of God. It is received via the Holy Spirit from without and within. When it is magnified within, it shines out into this world. When two or more are gathered in the real spirit (the saving spirit of God), it is magnified synergistically (the combined effect is greater than the sum of the effects of the individuals acting alone). This is why we are to be as one, helping each other to help yet others. It greatly magnifies the light and results. Two people gathering without the spirit is still darkness and is magnified if they are hell-bent to lead each other even further astray.

When the Holy Spirit is magnified by the church (people acting in concert for righteousness to bring forth the real abundance and fruits worthy of repentance), others then see the light clearer, plainer, and brighter. If people band together to do good deeds devising liberal, communistic things, those efforts will be greatly magnified if done to shine throughout the world. It holds the promise of the resurrection of the faithful. It is in the hereafter. It is though here and now if we do it.

It will not stop the world from burning due to the unrepentant, but it will save the souls of billions and leave the right path for those to follow.

We are charged by Jesus to do God's will here and now on earth as it is done in heaven. It is not enough to dwell here in a meditative state working upon ourselves, doing only that which is self-centered or worldly centered.

Are we attempting to overthrow Daniel, Zechariah, Matthew 24, or the Book of The Revelation of John? We are absolutely not.

Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. (Matthew 24:45-46).

"Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing"

Give them food (feed the lambs and sheep). We must make it as possible as we can for each other to be found so doing. We must facilitate each other's righteous behavior toward all. We aren't to do that for the sake of our own necks, albeit they are on the line. We are to do it, because it is the manifestation of the heavenly will on earth. We are saying that it is wrong to say that the Son of man will return to bring in the kingdom so we are to do nothing righteous or holy but rather just wait. We are saying that those who do that will be found unfaithful, unwise, and unblest. They will not have help but will have done the opposite that was nothing. They may have done worse that is been churlish rather than giving and sharing, been violent rather than pacific, or been otherwise iniquitous and villainous rather than wholesome.

For clarity, one ought not to be deluded into thinking that change within the system of worldly finance is the answer. That thinking is faith in, and love of, money. It precludes faith in the restoration of the free provisioning of God and enlightenment that leads all the way to awesome power and freedom of godliness. It precludes the power of faith without doubt and without sin that causes physical transformation. It precludes what is commonly understood as supernatural healing.

Thomas Aquinas, where’s the fruit?

As for Thomas Aquinas, he expended huge effort and many words dissecting the philosophies and theologies of his day. He was of course correct that reason and revelation are not incompatible. In fact, they are the same thing. Right reason is the revelation. With right reason, all that Jesus talked about is fully open to you. The highest form of reasoning is the revelation of Jesus. The revelation of Jesus is the highest degree of sanity. This has not been expressed down through the centuries on account of human oppression stifling the spirit.
The result of Aquinas's work, as with the work of Augustine before him, is held out as an intellectual masterpiece. Where though is the clarion call to heed the enjoiner of Jesus as given to Peter three times, as if to drum it into Peter's head: "Feed my lambs...Feed my sheep...Feed my sheep"? Where is the connection made with Jesus's analogy of the sheep and goats come the day of reckoning? Where is the vision? We lose sight and become bogged down in purely semantic chess matches. We are charged by Jesus to do more than just one thing at a time for the cause.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. (Matthew 23:23).

To Thomas Aquinas's credit, before his death he came to the conclusion that his so-called greatest writing, the Summa Theologia, was so much "straw" as he put it.

More on Martin Luther

Indulgences, simony

As for Martin Luther, I have dealt elsewhere with the concept of throwing essential things out when attempting to correct or address abuses (failing to conserve the good when attempting to be rid of the bad). Luther saw the Roman church allowing abuses in the form of selling indulgences. The implication of those indulgences was that one may do wrong so long as one pays the church money for dispensation. It is called simony after Simon Magus the sorcerer who asked Peter to sell him the power to do the laying on of hands to give others the Holy Spirit (Acts 8:9-24). Also, the church accepted a few deeds as sufficient. Therefore, people could perform some perfunctory deeds or make some repetitive statements without faith and be absolved by the church. "But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking." (Matthew 6:7). This is here in reference to the repetitive rosary prayers of the Roman church. These methods and practices were, and are, misleading. They curtail the true teaching. They are akin to getting the church authorities off ones back by paying them off or doing easy deeds even though one did not believe in the message of the revelation of Jesus. It was extortion from the church. There were many other corruptions as well, but the ones I have mentioned are sufficient to make the point that Luther, in attempting to correct real abuses, swung the pendulum the other way so far that he diminished the essential deeds commanded by Jesus.

He went passed the strait gate. Luther took Romans 1:17 ("He who through faith is righteous shall live") and missed how righteousness is known: Fruits of the deeds commanded of us by God's son and messenger, Jesus. It is either that or Luther has been severely misinterpreted. Romans 1:17 is about the opposite of pride. It is about the opposite of arrogance and self-flattery. Faith does not take away the requirement for good deeds. Real faith and works without pride and arrogance are one and the same. Real faith and real works is one thing.

Even as they burn two-thirds of the planet, we must carry on with the deeds until all are fed and properly cared for in body and spirit.

"And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein." (Zechariah 13:8).

The Romans killed the Jews who stayed in Israel during the Great Jewish Revolt (A.D. 66–73). It is estimated that the population had reached about 2.5 million before the war. At that time, many Jewish Christians reportedly fled to Pella, in what is now Jordan, and to other parts, having been warned by Jesus about the signs to watch for and what to do that was flee to the mountains.

And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another, because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation. (Luke 19:44).

...the wall [surrounding Jerusalem], it was so thoroughly laid even with the ground by those that dug it up to the foundation, that there was left nothing to make those that came thither believe it
[Jerusalem] had ever been inhabited. -- Flavius Josephus

The prophetic statement of Zechariah is interpreted in many ways. Some people subscribe to the idea that it concerns only the Jews during and immediately following the revolt. Others believe it covers the Gentiles through the time of the coming Antichrist. Some see the Antichrist as having been the Roman emperor Caligula who demanded that he be worshipped as a god in all of the Roman Empire with the Jews being the sole holdouts against his image being placed in their temple. Others see the emperor Nero as having been the Antichrist. Some see both of them as having been in that spirit. They were both certainly antichrist. There are yet others who see the prophecy as being a combination of all these concepts. There is no doubt that the prophecy was about Rome and Judea. There is no doubt that the wrath of desolation came then, came between then and now, and will come again, for terrible abominations were being committed and are being committed.

That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness. (Zephaniah 1:15).

Contemplation better lead to action

There just is no impunity for any nation. Sitting on our hands in a contemplative life leading up to the coming tribulation and through that tribulation is no faith. We are to do the work of God.

The works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. (John 10:25).

Believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him. (John 10:38).

Consistent deeds justify

Jesus is showing them the justification for why they should not refuse to believe in him. How can we then not say that deeds justify? To say otherwise is to deny Jesus. Jesus's deeds were without pride or arrogance. Surely, consistency of deeds without pride or arrogance justifies one, showing his or her faith as a light to the world.

The more people who do this, the more Jesus is proved to the world as well, proving that he came from God to save the world bringing heaven and earth together in perfect righteousness. Refute them with the proof of results: Irrefutable proof of the correct direction. Let them wrangle forever with procrastinating hairsplitting. They split it so much there is no hair left to split.

To give everything one owns for the needy and then to go out into the world of ravenous wolves to do the deeds of caring for others and to teach others to care for yet others requires real faith in God's provisioning. What else would the faithful rely upon but the Holy Spirit who moves the softhearted? God moves hearts to help with the cause. Will the procrastinators and excuse makers say the devil sends his followers out into the world to feed the sheep and lambs and care for all? The devil rather sends out his followers to devour the world and trick and ensnare souls.

Luther of the dark side

Luther was for the systematic persecution and even execution of all Jews who would not convert to Christianity. His pamphlet entitled, On the Jews and Their Lies, the Old Testament wrath came flowing out from Luther. It was far from Christian in prescription. Jesus and John the Baptist, both Jews, did use strong language in warning and castigating; however, neither advocated any violence. Luther and all those who justify violence and the taking of human life are of the other spirit—the dark spirit.

It has been forwarded by a number of people that Luther's sentiments were not ethnically oriented or a matter of bloodlines. This is true up to a point.

Calvin of the dark side

As for Calvin, he took it even further. While Jesus said the meek shall inherit the earth, Calvin reproved the poor. He held that their poverty was a sign of their laziness. Financial poverty is not necessarily a sign of laziness. Plenty of people who work hard live in financial poverty.

Failure to help your fellow humans in need but rather helping yourself is a sign of poverty of the spirit of righteousness and is the root cause for all the lack in the world. It is not devising liberal things or standing by them. Lack of necessities exists, because others have forced an artificial, rebellious, industriousness upon the world. It is an affront to God's garden gift to humanity. It traces back to a root that is the essence of evil.

Contrary to Calvin's teaching that poverty is a sign of laziness, Jesus owned the clothes on his back and the sandals on his feet. He apparently carried no spare clothes and no spare shoes. He was not rich. During his short ministry before he was cut off, Jesus carried little and possibly no coins or scrip (money).

We do know that his disciples carried donations to help only further the Gospel and to relieve the suffering of the poor in the world.

Jesus carried no bed. He owned no house. He lived without material possessions and was the riches person on earth in the wealth of the Holy Spirit of truth.

Was Jesus lazy? He toiled in his Father's vineyard. Therefore, no one ought to accuse him of being lazy or of doing deeds for material or monetary gain.

Reciprocity of mammon is anathema to the actions of Jesus. He did not do things for the sake of recompense. That was never his motive. That would have been a closed loop precluding finding the lost sheep of the house of Israel or being a light to the Gentiles. Jesus's message was to spread the good deeds. Yet, people cared for Jesus, ministered to his needs, glorified him, and gave to his disciples for the sake of all; because, they loved Jesus, because he was real.
He was genuine, unpretentious, and free of falsehood and affectation. He was their guide and right ruler.

Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice. (John 18:37).

Christlikeness is required before everyone actually ends up in a state of universal reciprocity. Therefore, he did what he did that others may give and share and, therefore, receive. He was willing to forego, to the last. This is why he had nothing yet he had, and has, everything. He even knew that in the perfectly attainable perfect world one does not need the things others say one needs. God was doing a perfect job of providing before people became selfish and greedy letting their sexual lusts and other appetites carry them away even into violence and murder. That's what Jesus reminded us about.

Loving Jesus signifies

In addition, Jesus advocated no war but rather complete peace. He incited no riot. Therefore, no one could accuse him of attempting a violent overthrow. Further, Jesus even forgave them from the cross. What are you going to do with someone like that? You better love him. If you do not love that, you cause yourself to not signify. You cause your name to be blotted out of the Book of Life as being the name of an unworthy one.

More errors of Calvin

Calvin also held that no deed is untainted; however, Jesus said, "Blessed are the poor in spirit" and "Blessed are the pure in heart." The pure in spirit and in heart can do purely good deeds. Jesus did the ultimate in purely good deeds. Jesus was fully human. Humans can do untainted deeds, because Jesus proved it. Calvin emphasized the worship service and proper administration of the sacraments; however, Jesus did not emphasize worship services. He did not emphasize ritual and ceremony. He explained that those things are hollow and whitewashed and shown to be full of death (hypocrisy) when the deeds that are consistent with the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it, golden rule, and Jesus's new commandment are left undone. They have been left undone under Calvinism, Lutheranism, Thomism, and the rest. To keep the commandments, one must strive to be Christlike. Which philosopher or theologian when followed faithfully has born that fruit? None has.

Much of the backlash to the extortion and excess of the church caused people to mis-steer in their course corrections, throwing the good out with the bad. The humanist Renaissance reaction to the scholasticism of the church resulted in a public primary and secondary educational system being all but devoid of the subject of Christianity, philosophy, or theology.
They have studied history without studying the history of religion. It is absurd.

More on publicly funded schools devoid of religious historical context

Some so-called Christian leaders, such as Pat Robertson, have claimed that the fault lies with the liberal or activist Supreme Court. Such is not the case. The Supreme Court has upheld the right of public schools to teach all about religion so long as the schools don't engage in worshipping, proselytizing, and acts that establish a religion as the term "establish" is understood under the US Constitution. Therefore, reading and studying The Bible has always been lawful in US public schools. The school and its teachers are just not to instruct students in a way that crosses the line of establishing the religion of The Bible as an official religion of the state.

The lack of studying religion has led to a furthering of the willfulness of humanity with the obvious result of bad shepherding of the people and poor stewardship of the environment, God's now choking and seriously depleted garden-earth. It has led to poor leadership and fractured organization and souls.

Now, unfortunately there has been a concerted effort of late to press the public educational system at the high school and junior high school level to adopt religious studies in school as electives rather than as part of the core. The push has been for Christian bible inclusion with a decidedly conservative ideological thrust rather than upon comparative religious studies within the context of all history and philosophy, etc.
The courses offered have been geared toward the opposite of the thrust of this work. As an example, the National Council on Bible Curriculum in Public Schools (NCBCPS) furthers the premise that The Bible is the basis upon which the United States was founded, which as we have seen and will continue to show is not the case. Despite the selection by the NCBCPS of quotations from the founders to support the council’s position, the fruit of The founders demonstrates that the new commandment is most definitely not the basis upon which the US was founded.

When we say that religion, The Bible, and Christianity should be studied, we mean all the way to the complete thrust of the message of Jesus and how that compares to what we have in the current state of affairs that is the secular versus spiritual. We mean that Jesus implicitly taught that the state of the prince of this world is the old wine skin that cannot hold, is incompatible with, the new spirit summed up in the new commandment. This does not come out in the course developed by the NCBCPS.

It must also be pointed out that offering the course developed by the NCBCPS within the secular schools is elevating a single religion (under a false interpretation of the Gospel message) in direct contravention of the (albeit hypocritical) Constitution of the United States of America.

The NCBCPS is without doubt a conservative organization. It promotes the traditions of human beings rather than the precepts of God. This all ties in directly with the focus or single vision of light that Jesus called for that is lacking in mainstream theology.

Ecumenicalism

There is a new textbook being put out by the Bible Literacy Project entitled, The Bible and Its Influence. This is an attempt to avoid the type of false-liberal negative criticisms leveled against the conservative National Council on Bible Curriculum in Public Schools. The attempt though, of course, falls into the diluting stream of ecumenism-down, which we elaborate upon further on.

There is nothing wrong with real ecumenicalism that cannot be confused with syncretism.

Ecumenicalism is the promotion of harmony and unity. Jesus was being ecumenical when he promoted harmony within his followers. That's a wonderful thing. What happens though is that people start to gag themselves under the guise of tolerance and respect for the beliefs of others. Jesus though had no respect for the twisting of the Pharisees. He never gagged himself for the sake of promoting harmony and unity between his followers and theirs. He deliberately spoke out to divide people. Jesus divided the truth-hearers from the lovers of falsehood. In doing that, he promoted true unity that is the unity of the truth-lovers. He talked to the Pharisees. He answered their questions when they were willing to engage in the dialogue. He ate with Pharisees. While doing all of this, he never stopped proselytizing to, and converting, Pharisees.
False ecumenicalism

False ecumenicalism though agrees to disagree to the point of still talking with one another and eating with one another and even worshipping with one another recognizing each other’s visions to the point where proselytizing, for all intense and purposes, stops cold. The recognition of each other’s faith becomes cross-pollination. The result becomes so synchronized of mutual admiration that there is a new species altogether (syncretism). The lump is leavened. The yeast of the Pharisees has been accepted into the fold. The focus is lost. Doubt abounds. The real work goes far too undone.

Syncretism

Take note of the etymology of the term "syncretism." It means to unite against a common foe, which is what the Cretans did. To unite that way is to compromise. It is a unity of hypocrisy, which is a real contradiction. The house cannot stand, because the division remains after the common foe is gone. The unity is illusory and temporary, being based upon falsehood. It is a stretch to consider it even a relative unity since the impetus is not righteousness but rather violence to resist evil. Only in the most unenlightened sense is it unity. It is suggested this way for purposes of making contact through a commonly understood context.

Jesus had to be able to speak in the mundane language or he would never have been understood by any of his followers. He would have had no followers.

Syncretism and the ancient Cretans from which the concept derives

There is much concerning the ancient Cretans that brings to mind negatives. The ancient Minoans who inhabited Crete used to demand Greek youth for Minoan human sacrifices. They also cannibalized those youths. The Minoans were hated by the Greeks.

Paul was highly educated in the Hellenized and Pharisaic senses. He was a citizen of the Roman Empire. He had read the ancient Greeks and the scriptures and commentaries, etc. He knew about the attitude concerning the Cretans.

Paul, Epimenides, the Cretans, paradoxes, and burying God

Some people speculate as to whether there is any connection between Paul's quoting Epimenides and the "liar's paradox." At any rate, syncretism is to be avoided. Whether to bring to mind the liar's paradox was one of Paul's intentions or not, that paradox bears attention for us. Epimenides was a Cretan. He wrote, "The Cretans, always liars, evil beasts, idle bellies." If he is a Cretan and Cretans are always liars, then is he or is he not to be trusted about his observations about the Cretans or anyone else? Now, this is no paradox. It is a falsehood, not a logical fallacy in the classical, mundane sense, but a falsehood in terms of absolute truth. It contributes nothing to salvation other than to be used to show that fence-sitting (in this case using the excuse of a supposed paradox) gets one nowhere, meaning not to heaven, or other than as an illustration of how divine logic answers all paradoxes. As a proposition, per se, however, this mundane paradox does not intend to magnify righteousness and is, therefore, false. Epimenides was, however, not using his statement in that mundanely paradoxical sense only if he intended it that way at all. He was in earnest that the Cretans were in error in burying Zeus (claiming that God is dead). He was saying of his own people that they were severely misled. That, of course, meant that they were liars. Concerning the concept of burying God, Epimenides broke the mold. He refused to go further into darkness with his kin folk. He rather wrote to shed light upon their error in direction.

Syncretism is not the straight and narrow. The idea is not to morph Christianity into a new homogeneous condition where the whole consists of parts including Pharisaism. Jesus rejected Pharisaism. The current rabbinism of the Pharisees is not part of the whole. It is outside to stay. Those wishing to be a part of the whole must leave Pharisaism and enter by way of Jesus. This stands for all faiths and the faithless as well.

Twisting bigotry under false ecumenicalism

Under false ecumenicalism, false inter-faith initiatives, and false liberalism, calling for doing all of what Jesus said to do is thwarted. Error ends up through and through. Miracles do not take place. That which is defiling is tolerated under the guise of anti-bigotry. Bigotry is a loaded term.

Those who want defiling things sanctioned by others, attempt to convince them that being against the genocide of World War II is the same thing as accepting their defiling cause. It is trying to twist the emotions of sympathy and compassion that people rightly ought to have had, and still have, for those who suffered and those who were murdered at the hands of the apostasies known as Nazism and fascism. This is a disingenuous, transparent ploy, even if subconscious, on the part of the misled.

Pacifists did not undertake the attempted genocide of World War II. Yet, a pacifist can be, and many certainly are, opposed to defilement.

Against sexual desecration of the Holy temple that is the flesh vessel holding the Holy Spirit within

Many know that their bodies are the vessels of the Holy Spirit, and they are adamantly opposed to desecrating that temple including necessarily with sex out of wedlock as wedlock was defined by Jesus by virtue of his admonitions concerning divorce.

A person of the true peace of God is against defilement, which also includes acts of physical, violent war bringing death and destruction, human against human lowering themselves to beast against beast. Defilement is violence on a level that only the softhearted perceive. The spirit of defilement causes real physically manifested damage in the brain and body and is a contagion for those without the proper immunities.

Defilement, by definition, damages the soul and is reflected in the flesh. Pacifists who understand and practice these principles cannot rightly be connected with defilement, including genocide, by anyone. Those who attempt it are abusing the divine meaning of bigotry turning it into an across-the-board pejorative. God is longsuffering, but the immune system of the whole body of God will clean out the pathogens for the sake of the persevering saints. Wholeness, wholesomeness, will be restored. We have been warned.

Who was bigoted, the Pharisees or Jesus? Both were. The Pharisees were bigoted and killed Jesus. Jesus was bigoted against falsehood, was a pacifist, and was as harmless as a dove. He was not bigoted on behalf of evil. He was discriminating on behalf of righteousness. He was discerning and used judgment but did not judge in the sense of usurping God by condemning to hell any soul. He did not even ascribe that condemnation to God. He was careful not to. For the edification of all, he was careful to use the terms "judging" and "condemning" in both the mundane and divine senses.

Real, liberal Christians are of course bigoted. Of course they favor the real, the real liberalism, the real Christianity, the real Church, etc. Of course they hate the blameworthy: The greed, the violence, the depravity. This is meek and right.

The truth remains that we assign ourselves to hell by our own actions as measured against the known standard that is the life of Jesus. We are to be as he was so we do not define ourselves as those who end up suffering endlessly for wrongdoing. He suffered for righteousness. He suffered to show us the way. We choose. He had no choice while at the same time he volunteered. This is so hard for so many to grasp due to hardheartedness, selfishness. It is frightening for the doubters. The righteous have no choice but to volunteer. They can do no other and be righteous. The mundane paradoxes concerning right versus wrong are infinite points of darkness: Dead ends. This is no contradiction. It is contextual. Love is no paradox. It is the infinite light. It is eternal life. This is what Jesus taught and lived.

False toleration

As we said, what is defiling is tolerated under the guise of anti-bigotry. We don't mean tolerated as in not stamped out with physical violence. We mean tolerated as in silently acquiesced to and even stealthily condoned and even merged with (syncretized). It is at that point that the path is not to God. It is at this point that they reconcile the unreconcilable. They combine into the divided house. All sorts of deprivities then occur in the resulting house and all are defiled by it to some degree. Clean your mind and keep it that way.

Letting in division

Rather than being self-ashamed into repentance, the defiled proselytize. Their twisted meanings are accepted, and they enter the house. This does not save them. It ruins the real peace of the house. The light grows dim and goes out. All are left in the dark. What is the fate of those who continue to allow themselves to remain in such a state when the Son of man returns to take account of his house (the world) and those he left in charge and those to whom he gave the word? They will suffer Providence. The house and garden will be tended to. Those hardhearted ones who have done a lousy job will be fired and replaced by the softhearted. This is the real survival of the fittest.

The spirit that moves the soul in only the right direction is missing. The result is increasing stagnation and pollution (hypocrisy). The ostensible Christian in this setting then has at best gone full circle to becoming exactly what Jesus negated. This situation never results in doing what Jesus said to do. The focus is changed to the tug of war between competing lusts from the focus on the war between lusting and unselfishness. The focus changes to others wanting to be hypocritical while attempting to argue the hypocrisy of the righteous. They say that it is selfish of others not to let them do what is defiling without having to hear that it is defiling. This, of course, is coming from the unrighteous whose fruit is rotten, impossible to produce heaven. They try to force filth upon the host of heaven rather than becoming clean.

The root cause that is holding back the kingdom for billions is lust for self. Syncretism will never result in conflation. The unity of the Cretans was false.
More on publicly funded schools devoid of religious historical context

To make the Bible Literacy Project course and text more salable to school boards and in anticipation of legal actions by atheists and others, the word is diluted to, in turn, dilute church-state-separation criticisms against evangelizing in public schools to the captive audience that at this time includes the children of antichrists. The message is also diluted by the implicit yielding to that soul-killing falsehood that there are many paths to the kingdom of God when in truth there is but one narrow way. Contrary to giving pablum to youth who hunger for the truth, the correct way to handle religious studies in any setting is to put all religious and anti-religious views on the table in full measure and then allow the truth to sort itself out. This has always been deliberately avoided. The truth really would come out. The powers that be dread that prospect.

Human percepts and traditions in churches gave ammunition to the enemies of the divine

Augustine (Platonism and grace without deeds), and to a lesser degree Origen before him, along with Aquinas (Aristotelianism), Luther (faith alone), Calvin (worldly prosperity) and their offshoots and other such theologians have done much to create human percepts and traditions in place of illuminating the divine. The traditionalists of these human precepts have done much to give the enemies of righteousness ammunition against God's good name. By their non-emphasis upon unselfish love in action (the spirit of oneness in service and friendship), they have at best inadvertently facilitated false criticisms of Christianity, such as the criticism that Christianity is based upon fables and myths devoid of revealed truth.

Error of sola scriptura (scripture alone)

As for the doctrine of scripture (the letter without spirit) as the sole source of truth, it is the doctrine known as sola scriptura or scripture alone. It must never be forgotten that the very letter goes to great lengths to describe the spirit of the truth. The spirit remained hidden within the letter for the letter-of-the-law-minded, those who are strict-constructionists, often calling themselves Fundamentalists. It also remained, and remains, hidden from many of those who are called highly educated even though there are illiterate souls who grasp the revelation. That fact gave Jesus great joy. He openly praised God for revealing that truth.

> At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. (Matthew 11:25).

Jesus revealed the spirit. Once the spirit started to flow within his disciples, truths that were not verbatim in The Bible (but of course flowed, and flow, out of the proper emotional responses consistent with the truth in The Bible) began coming to the disciples. This is why they knew what to do once Jesus had departed. It was all new territory, but it was all the spirit since the beginning, more revealed than before.

He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. (Matthew 16:15-19).

This shows Peter's knowledge, the revealed truth, did not come out of the scripture verbatim (it is hidden from the hardhearted and implied and actually clearly expressed to those who are softhearted enough). Neither had any human being told Peter but rather, as Jesus said, Peter received it directly through the Holy Spirit.

Scripture itself says that there is more to the revelation than what is written down in the scripture we actually have.

And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. (John 21:25).

Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin--; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written. (Exodus 32:32).

Private interpretation, made public

Unfortunately with this doctrine of sola scriptura for so many of its adherents, there is no room in it for the Holy Spirit, consistent with scripture, descending upon anyone, as it descended upon Jesus or informed Peter and others. "And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?" (John 7:15). How did he know such things since he could not have learned them from them? They didn't like it, because to them, it was private interpretation by Jesus who was making it very public and winning over converts and rightly so. They didn't know what he knew after all. They obviously had not taught him what he knew, since he knew more than they did. How did Jesus come up with doctrine that was not verbatim scripture at the time? "And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him." (Mark 12:17). It was the Holy Spirit of course, completely consistent with the unfolding scripture, meaning the prophecy. Now, there are those today who take the same position as those who marveled at Jesus. They insist that no one beyond their students may know anything beyond what they know. They insist that the Holy Spirit speaks to no one privately. How mistaken they all still are.

In addition to moving people of the spirit as one, the Holy Spirit can, and most certainly does, move people individually (communicate privately with individuals). It is how the spirit dealt with Daniel for instance, telling Daniel things privately and then telling him to shut them up, meaning not to reveal the future in any greater detail than the spirit instructed him to reveal.

And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision; for it shall be for many days. (Daniel 8:26).

Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. (John 7:16-18).

Why do people argue against that and still call themselves Christians? They are confused.

Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. (2 Peter 1:20-21).

What does Peter mean here? Is it contrary to what I just wrote? It means the prophets went public with their warnings, as they were required to do by God. Peter says, "As they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

The teaching of Jesus runs contrary to the way the doctrine of sola scriptura is interpreted or understood. The doctrine of sola scriptura is put across, and taken, too narrowly. Obviously the doctrine of Jesus above is not about human tradition versus scripture alone, which is the usual argument. Jesus's teaching is about the traditional view of scripture alone versus doing God's will known through the Holy Spirit of truth, which is the real scripture. This is why the spirit of the greatest commandment, when the oneness is grasped, embodies the whole thrust of scripture (the law and the prophets).

Mark this: It is not about tradition versus scripture or which comes first, tradition or scripture. It is about human tradition and misinterpretation or under-interpretation versus doing the will of God. The way one knows that others are wrong is by looking at what they are doing. The advocates of either side of the tradition versus scripture argument have not brought forth the fruits (deeds: Feeding the lambs and sheep and doing all the rest Jesus called for) worthy of repentance (apologizing, making amends, forgiving, and moving closer to God who is at-oneness). "He that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him." There is no unrighteous interpretation coming out of him either. The degrees to which we feel, think, speak, and act correctly are exactly proportionate to how much we adhere to the full spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it and, therefore, do the will of God and glorify God in so doing. Actually, they are one and the same: Doing his will and glorifying him.

This central tenet, the doctrine of sola scriptura, of much of Protestantism claims that The Bible is the ultimate authority for all matters of religious belief and practice. On a certain level, it is eminently sensible; however, it can be used in very counterproductive ways by those who misinterpret or take things out of the entire context of the revelation. One such counterproductive use renders a very narrow and preclusive view of Jesus's rebuttal of those who sought to ensnare him in blasphemy. It is often still used as a net to ensnare people under false accusations of blasphemy.

I and my Father are one. Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which do those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken; Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. (John 10:30-37).

Here Jesus was showing the Jews how they were being hypocritical. How could they base their beliefs upon the scripture that says "Ye are gods" and also claim that the scripture cannot be broken then turn around to stone someone for saying "I'm the Son of God" when all that person was doing were good works? The LORD's house is not divided with part evil and part good. It is all good. That is why it will stand for all time and beyond time. "And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand." (Mark 3:25). All God our Father does, according to Jesus, is good works. Jesus did as his Father, and one is known by his actions (deeds and fruit). Regardless, they turned to stone him.

People then use this human doctrine to say to those now, to whom the Holy Spirit of truth has clearly spoken, that they are blaspheming by making themselves God. It is the same thing the hypocrites did to Jesus, so "Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you." (Matthew 5:12).

This clearly conservative doctrine of sola scriptura fails to take into account all that Jesus said and the rest of scripture says about the Holy Spirit of truth speaking to people beyond scripture. The written canonical Gospel itself says that the Holy Spirit of truth spoke to Peter of Jesus’s identity. Even when Jesus was a little baby in the temple, the Holy Spirit was upon Simeon who knew he would see the Messiah during his lifetime.

And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him. And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord’s Christ. And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law, Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word: For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people; A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. (Luke 2:25-32). Simeon received that privately and directly from the Holy Spirit. The reason we believe Simeon is because we believe in the Holy Spirit all of whose doings could not be contained in all the books in the world but yet is summed up in one word: Love. We believe about Simeon's experience, because the scripture has made clear enough that the word of God is bigger than mere worldly academics. Plenty of people read and study The Bible constantly and are formally ordained by self-styled churches, but they don't have the truth written on their hearts.

Sola scriptura, as put forth by so many, has had the unfortunate misleading effect that people will read the scripture purely academically and mechanically, thereby, never being led to the truth of all that is more than implied of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit properly interprets the scripture and reveals the full spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it and all the lesser commandments in consistency from the smallest detail and for the individual life to the greatest of things and for the whole of existence. The Holy Spirit is what inspired the prophets to write the scriptures after all. The academic-only approach systematically pieces together a selective justification for selfish residue rather than coming clean, rather than looking in the mirror at all one's mistakes and recognizing them as selfish mistakes and also seeing humanity's mistakes as our collective selfishness. The revelation is more than an academic reading of the scriptures. If it were not, all the academics would have understood what Jesus was saying; however, academics have been confounded. If the revelation were not more than an academic reading of scripture, there would have been nothing ever added. How could any of the prophets have ever written anything newly revealed? If sola scriptura as put forth were true, there never would have been scripture. There would never have been truth come to be written since all truth would have to have already been written. Therefore, if scripture alone is to have any meaning, it cannot mean, even in the slightest, that the Holy Spirit does not come with new but consistent things for our understanding. The New Testament is after all more than a mere rehashing of the Old Testament. It builds upon the Old Testament, of course. However, the New Testament is the most significant disclosure of previously unrevealed truth. The light of Jesus was the brightest, and he will forever illuminate the way. It is a grave injustice to attempt to discredit him. The very scripture says the following:

And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams. (Acts 2:17).

That New Testament verse is a prophetic restatement of the Old Testament Book of Joel at 2:28. (Joel 2:28). Do not those who say sola scriptura believe Joel that the prophecy is not dead? Don't they believe that there is more scripture to come? Don't they believe that the only thing that the sons and daughters will do is quote scripture verbatim? How is that the result of the Spirit being poured out upon all flesh? They will prophesy consistent with what scripture has been recording that is the unfolding revelation. Scripture is good. Scripture teaches. It teaches that the Holy Spirit is more, while also embodied in scripture. This is no contradiction. It is not a problem except for being upsetting to those who cannot bring themselves to be moved by that spirit to see more light and most importantly to do more light.

Sola scriptura adherents have used that human doctrine to keep from eating the real bread. They use it as a growling dog to keep others from eating the real bread also. They do not seem to comprehend what Jesus meant when he said that the angels of the little children always face God in heaven.

Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 18:10).

They are not yet under the unclean spirit that is bitterness. Also, they have not learned to read the scriptures. Nevertheless, do you imagine that only adults believed in Jesus when Jesus walked the earth? Do you believe that only those who could read the scripture could come by the truth? Do you believe that the Holy Spirit of love could not move the children in truth without those children having first heard the Old Testament scripture to corroborate that truth? "Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice." (John 18:37). The love of God, their Father, is in their hearts until people bring human traditions and false doctrines and the other temptations into their lives that systematically work to erase that inborn love by promoting the lust of the eye, the lust of the flesh, the pride of this life, and all the rest of the wide path to ruination. Those temptations and the child's naiveté lead to caving into those temptations. Then darkness is magnified within and works to displace the inherent faith in God's way. The child's trust is damaged and sometimes destroyed in this way. Overcoming is returning to, recovering, that childlike trust that is faith. It is to have purged away all the human tradition, false doctrine, and the promotion of, and result of, all lust, pride, and other evils so that good fruit only may come forth in abundance.

Pauline readers err by putting Paul before Jesus

Some of the strictest adherents to this sola scriptura and the other human doctrines deny that the fruit of goodness is of the root and vine. Some of these adherents believe in their infallibility concerning the interpretation of Paul even where those interpretations run contrary to the spirit of the message of Jesus. They look to their interpretations of Paul first always and often and not to Jesus. Before the Pauline readers damn this statement or call it blasphemy or claim that it is against the scripture (by that they would mean Paul's own writings), they need to remember that Paul himself took credit for correcting Peter in front of other Apostles for Peter's fear to eat with the Gentiles. It means that one may critique Paul also. What is good for the goose is good for the gander. Paul wrote as follows:

But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. (Galatians 2:11-12).

Let us not forget that Jesus said the following:

He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. (John 7:16-18).

How easy is it to fall into the snare of speaking of ourselves? What does it mean "speaketh of himself"? It means, among other things, speaking one's own will and not our Father's. It means coming up with one's own doctrines rather than teaching and following the evidently consistent and as yet always unfolding ways of God. It also means literally bragging or boasting about oneself. How easy is it to fall into seeking our own glory rather than the glory of God through that speaking?
Broken apostolic succession and the falsehood of Roman infallibility on matters of faith

Now, here is Paul writing to Peter's shame, the same Peter whom the Roman church holds as its first bishop (pope) and from whom they necessarily claim the only legitimate apostolic succession has ever flowed. They also claim that their popes are infallible on matters of faith. The truth is that apostolic succession has always flowed from everyone in whom the Holy Spirit dwells. The history of atrocities committed by the popes of Rome certainly exposed the falsehood of their version of apostolic succession and their doctrine of their popes' infallibility on matters of faith.

Peter made a mistake according to Paul. Is Paul then infallible? The Roman church holds to both Peter and Paul. Does this prove the error of the message of Jesus? It absolutely does not. It proves that we must always look to that message, Jesus's, in its purest form in order to avoid error. We are not to speak of ourselves, meaning we are not to pawn off our own thoughts for the thoughts of God. Yet, when we are in the spirit of righteousness, having none of the gall of bitterness, God gives us a mouth and words. It is undeniable. Therefore, when we speak of ourselves, when we speak from our own minds and not from the Holy Spirit, it is when we are in the unrighteous spirit, the selfish spirit, the spirit that seeks for self.

Paul chided Peter in an open letter to the entire church in Galatia for what Paul saw as Peter's slipping into selfish, anxious concerns over what the other Jerusalem apostles might see as a religious impropriety.

Jesus did not draw the salvation line with any human on account of the traditional, usual, and customary concerns. He would not let current human doctrines (twists and excuses) stop him now either. He doesn’t. He started with the Hebrews, but his message was always known to him to be also for all the nations of the world. It was completely occulted to others even though it was right under their noses. It was through imparted to Jesus through his knowledge of the scripture due to his softheartedness and the correlated movement of the Holy Spirit within him. He was there to teach and do the deeds to save regardless of the genetic background of the sinner. Jesus put this above all else, even close blood relatives.

Let us not forget that Jesus clarified the scriptural law of Moses by shining the divine truth. He removed the excuse of hypocrisy. This is why he was the Son of God. This is why and how he showed that the removal of hypocrisy is divine. The scripture is not broken with this lesson. It is fulfilled. Remember, the first and great commandment and the second like it and the conviction of Jesus’s heart and then the hearts of those who heard Jesus precluded the stoning of the adulteress.

Now, are people going to say that the Holy Spirit of truth may not come to make clearer and plainer than Paul? Paul himself advocated to Peter. Jesus clarified the law of Moses. To think that this can not be is to imagine that the Holy Spirit is dead and inactive in the world and has done its greatest works. However, Jesus said that greater things were yet to come because he, Jesus, was going back home so that the Holy Spirit could come unify us in the truth. His sacrifice and reward assured that the prophecy would live on until the end.

Genetic error of Paul's analogy

Paul spoke of being grafted as opposed to changing one's fruit (results).

For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree? (Romans 11:24).

However, Jesus said a tree is known by its fruit. An orange branch may be grafted unto a grapefruit tree's root stock and the tree will still produce oranges from that grafted branch. This grafted and wild versus natural or cultivated analogy is unfortunately misleading when people are led to believe that it is the way to conceptualize the process of being born again of the Holy Spirit or that those who are born again are somehow unnaturally or not intrinsically the children of God, which is not true and never has been, while bloodline descendents of Israel are all inherently more readily acceptable back into the fold and are, therefore, somehow inherently superior. Of course, the entire history of the Hebrews and going back to the first people, which is the same for all nations, has been one of recidivism and genetics over spirit. It is a completely immodest, arrogant, and ignorant person who does not see that in his or her background. Of course, there were standout Hebrews in the form of the prophets who came to tell their fellows hints of very things of which we are writing here now. This is not to say that there was not something about the Hebrews that rendered them predisposed to undertaking their history recorded in The Bible. This must and can be reconciled with the individual worth of each human soul and the collective value of the whole of humanity.

Some of this reasoning of Paul's flows from the fact that Jesus first came to save the lost of Israel.

But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. (Matthew 10:6).

But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. (Matthew 15:24).

Jesus was referring to the immediate focus of the mission and not its longer-term consequences. Israel was confronting the coming crisis that was the Roman invasion and destruction of the state of Israel. Jesus's mission was to make plain the sinning inclinations of their hearts. That the Gentiles were brought along was a forgone conclusion resulting from Jesus's focus upon those of the house of Israel. The house of Israel was to serve as, and does serve as, the example of both the right and the wrong of the way of human kind. It was a definite honor and a dubious distinction at the same time on account of how they handled it and failed to handle it. This does not define a natural superiority. It shows great potential and major character flaws existing in the same nation. It is a microcosm of the macrocosm that is the whole of humanity. There is great potential in the human soul, regardless of nationality, to overcome the heretofore assumed intractable character flaw of selfishness.

Jesus came and defeated elitism. He showed the elitist scribes, Sadducees, and Pharisees, of the Hebrews that their notions of their superiority were all out of their imaginations. The prince of this world of mammon believes that his bloodline is superior. He believes that he has greater special, private privilege and advantage by virtue of his bloodline. That thinking comes from those who have always maintained that they are superior because they took what they wanted even if it meant murdering the innocent to get it. Those people still imagine that they deserve what they have while the innocent, who do not grab for self, are inherently inferior. It is the false bread, while the real bread is the truth that Jesus leads all his real brothers and sisters in the spirit on the narrow way to the real bread regardless of bloodline.

Now, there are those who maintain that Jesus was a racist. Most base that notion upon the following:

And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil…. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs. (Matthew 15:22,26).

They don't understand the dynamic here at all.
They are too hardhearted to read it correctly, which is to read it in the light of the entirety of the message from the beginning and exemplification of Jesus. Jesus called the Pharisees vipers after all, which is a step down from dogs and pigs. The Pharisees were Hebrews just as Jesus was a Hebrew. Jesus was not being a racist by doing that. When Jesus handled the Canaanite woman the way he did,
he was making sure she wasn't selfish of heart.
Dogs in those days were not pets. They were either working animals or scavenging and ravenous, selfish, unclean. She justified herself.
He accepted that. He accepted the legitimacy of her faith. Her perseverance saw her through.
The condition of her heart showed. She grasped. She heard his voice and knew he spoke the truth.

Don't forget. The negative conditioning of the truly more ignorant is, and will be, lighter. Jesus did not forsake the Canaanites. All nations will be judged in the end. Who will have atoned for whom? Who will have proved Satan wrong about the potential of the Canaanites? Satan wants to sift them all to have all their souls.
Jesus wants their entire nation to turn to God our Father. It is up to the Canaanites whether or not they will all finally hear his voice. He forces no one. The truth does the sorting.
Jesus was sent to focus right then upon the Hebrews. Things were about to happen to them that required that focus. However, the impact on the whole world of that focus cannot be overstated. There is so much more going on than first meets the eye.

The real bread or fruit is of the tree of eternal life that is righteousness. Those real brothers and sisters are transformed, born again, born anew, by the Holy Spirit into spirit, as Jesus said. Anyone, flesh-and-blood descendent of Jacob or not, has the same inherited right to eat of it. No one has more right to eat of it by reason of bloodline. You are gods to whom the word of God comes.

God standeth in the congregation of the mighty; he judgeth among the gods. How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked? Selah. Defend the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and needy. Deliver the poor and needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked. They know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are out of course. I have said, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High. But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes. Arise, O God, judge the earth: for thou shalt inherit all nations. (Psalm 82).
Do you see Jesus in Psalm 82? He's right there. Only Jesus does not judge in the mundane sense, and when he defends and delivers, he uses the truth alone as his sword.

The story of the Jews is the story of coming to the fork in the road where one either overcomes genetics or not. How will those who cling to genetics escape damnation? Everything Jesus taught was against the false doctrine of genetic supremacy. Jesus taught of the transformative power of God over all genetics and all matter really. It is all God's creation, and God has constant and complete power over all of it. With sufficient faith in a necessarily sinless life, negative genetic predispositions are overcome by the power of the spirit.

This is the revelation. It is the way of it. We remain flesh, and the flesh can be weak.

However, the stronger the spirit the less the weakness of the flesh can negatively impact upon the spirit that transcends and even transforms the flesh and lives on.

God used the Jewish people to keep a record that shows examples of how elitist, bloodline thinking leads to ruin. Some people of the Old Testament (the prophets) were intimated to about the coming revelation to all the nations of the world that all individuals and nations are and always were fully entitled inheritors if they will but choose to return. Whether literal or figurative, Adam was not Hebrew after all. He was the prototypical male. All the people of the earth are his descendents. Whether literal or figurative, neither was Noah a Hebrew. His line was the only male line after the flood. All the people of the earth are his descendents, whether literally or figuratively. As far as the meaning of The Bible is concerned, you and I and everyone may trace our roots through Noah to Adam just as any Hebrew may. We are all siblings in the flesh. We all share the same ancestry from those in the proverbial Garden of Eden. All of our ancestors fell. We all have the opportunity to overcome and rise and return to God.

The Bible and history thereafter both show that elitist and bloodline thinking regardless of the nation in which they become highly manifest leads to ruination. The Holy Spirit of truth tells us that the transformation of the soul back from darkness into the light is not as a grafting. We make ourselves the very branch of the root. The revelation says that those coming back into the light are the sons and daughters of God in such a way that negates the supremacy of flesh or bloodline distinctions. It says that those who go to heaven are returning there. They were there already. It says that Jesus is our real brother who came out into the great darkness right into the center of the world with his brightest of lights in search of us his lost brothers and sisters to show us the way back home to our real family rooted in the whole of our one God. None of us is an adoptee in this family. Adoption only applies concerning the birth in the water, the first birth from our mother's womb. When God says today you are my son or daughter, God is saying today you have done those things by which I am pleased that you are known as having returned to me as my real child. None of this usurps God. None of this replaces God. All of this magnifies and glorifies God.
The naysayers want to retain the excuse for not being held to the highest, personal, divine standard since they are not really family members with God as Jesus is God's family member. They call Jesus at best only their adopted brother. However, Jesus never said of any of his spiritual family that they were lesser family. He said the opposite. That concept of some are adopted in the spirit and some are bloodline in the spirit attempts to degrade the family in spirit and will not stand. It is a house divided against itself. It sets up glass ceilings that Jesus never intended. When Jesus said he was first, he also said he was last. People have not paid enough attention to what that implies, being last. Jesus washed his disciples' feet to make this point. We ought not to overlook it. We ought to take it in and digest it. We are to be unified with none being left low. We are to raise up all. There are to be no second-class citizens in heaven. The greatest in heaven see to this most mightily. It is to be reflected here. All citizens are to be first class, and the only way to achieve that is for all citizens to be of the real righteousness, not the righteousness that has been defined by those of the divided house. It means the more equal, the greater. Jesus said those in the spirit were his real family. Jesus made clear that even flesh-and-blood nuclear family members who reject the truth of that relationship (the family in the Holy Spirit who do the deeds required by our Father) are not his real family. He will not even recognize them at the door. Their excuse will have allowed them to continue working iniquity, and that cannot be allowed in heaven. Isn't that Right? He will recognize his real brothers and sisters (his spiritual brothers and sisters) he will have separated out and gathered together after the harvest and brought inside before the doors are sealed up.

The fruit of righteousness is one. It does not come by way of any other branch or vine. All other branches or vines bring forth other than the fruit of righteousness. They bring hypocrisy. All such branches and vines will be cut away and burned up. They have mutated away from godliness and faith. Do not simply attach yourself. Make either your fruit righteous or not. Transform through-and-through back to godliness from whenst you came. If you do, then you really came from heaven. If you do not, then you were never really there in your heart and you are of the seed of the liar from the beginning. The proof is in what you do. If you become as one of the little ones who believe in Jesus, then you shall return. You were really there in the spirit. There was no falseness in you. This is not incongruous. It is not a paradox. It is reconcilable. Your faith is proved by what you do. Jesus said so. He said believe in his works.

In the beginning was the word. The spirit of the liar was known to God. God knew all. Humans fell, and fall, for the lies they tell one another. We are tested. God allows lies to test us. God does not do that for evil purposes but to teach us and to separate us out into the enlightened, his children, and unenlightened, the tester's children. We distinguish ourselves (prove ourselves worthy of freedom and power through God) according to how we react. Do we continue to believe only in the flesh and only in genetics and mundane conditioning? Do we cling to the flesh family and selfish fears against the absolute truth? Do we gain the courage to live according to the absolute truth? We keep failing or we overcome. We change, are made anew, or not. We return to the real condition or not.

Proper interpretation (seeing the real implication through the Holy Spirit) of the verbatim scripture leads one inexorably to these truthful conclusions. That interpretive capability comes through the softening of the heart. That softening comes from becoming unselfish.

More on *sola scriptura

Getting back to sola scriptura, the scriptures before Jesus did not say verbatim (mundanely), "Yahoshua would be the Messiah." However, "God Saves" says it. His name says it. The scriptures said that the Messiah would fit the criteria described in the prophecy. He would live up to his name. No one but Jesus fit. Jesus exceeded all human expectations. Peter knew that. Peter made the connection. He received, as did others, what was given him from God. It is upon that self-evident knowledge that Jesus establishes his church.

It is perceived as taking great courage to speak truth beyond quoting scripture verbatim. This is, because truth-tellers (prophets) have been beaten upon and killed for exposing the truth and, therefore, sin. The fear of such persecution is what Christians overcome.

Christians are to know that anyone who receives the truth and shares it through word and deed is the rock of the real Church. Jesus knew that Peter and the others would go on to spread the word and deeds.

Jesus described the rock in his parable. "Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock." (Matthew 7:24).

False ecumenicalism, continued

We build upon the foundation laid by Jesus. We do not go out and lay a new foundation. We do not commingle the ground of other faiths or beliefs, philosophies, or economic systems, etc. There is only one true faith: Christianity and it alone will save the world and all souls. Other faiths are offended by this. So be it. Many take offense at the truth. It is in this light that one must view ecumenicalism.

There is real ecumenicalism that is conflation in the real spirit. That real ecumenicalism does not gag itself while it also never does violence to anyone or coerce anyone. The false ecumenical movement though gags the truth. Real ecumenicalism says that if the truth results in the truth-teller and truth-doer being persecuted, then great will be that one's reward in heaven. To gag the truth though because it offends the spiritually blind is a great offense to God. It is selfish. It is cowardice. It is to lose the single vision. It leaves souls lost in the dark when we are called upon to lead into the light that is the truth of unselfishness. Jesus did not engage in a false ecumenicalism with the high priest of the temple in Jerusalem for instance. There can be no unity with that selfish spirit. There can be no self-censorship of the truth for the sake of the selfish spirit. The scripture doesn't say this verbatim, but it is how we read (interpret) scripture. It is what scripture says to us when it is placed within the context of the movement and direction of the Holy Spirit.

The scriptures described Jesus before Jesus arrived, but they did not state verbatim all the truths Jesus would reveal. The scriptures alluded to the truths consistently, but no prophet matched the level of the revelation of Jesus. How could they have? Therefore, The Bible is a record while so is the Holy Spirit the source, which informed The Bible. They go together and are inseparable, just as love and truth. Emphasizing the letter should not be such that it diminishes the spirit. The spirit illuminates the letter. It sheds light upon more proper reading. That more proper reading then allows for a better understanding of what the Holy Spirit is further saying. When one upholds the record, one must necessarily uphold the spirit and vice versa. They are not at odds. There is no argument between them. The record is the record of the very greater illumination of the truth into human souls. Conservatives though have set up The Bible as a pitfall in front of the spirit for many. What moves one to pick up The Bible if not the spirit in the first place?

As I mentioned above at the outset of addressing certain misdirecting doctrines, religious traditions have facilitated false criticisms of Christianity such as that Christianity is based upon fables and myths devoid of truth. However, even if we were to accept such criticism, why would God not be moved to mercy in the face of people pleading throughout the ages for deliverance from the cruelty of evil and for a redeemer even if such pleas came in embellished stories about actual people or stories about made-up, representative characters? Why would not those pleas be engrained within the expression of the people through their stories and verbal histories everywhere tyranny existed and still exists? Ideas to the contrary stem from an elitist mentality with something to hide.

The more vehement the criticism of God or of deeds that are the work of God as Jesus said, the more the criticizer is in denial about his or her self-centeredness and hidden shame of sin. They simply do not (consciously or subconsciously) wish to have to live up to the truth that is righteousness for righteousness’ sake. They do not want finally to admit to the full implications of the grievousness of their sins. Therefore, they paint truisms and actually history with the brush used to label dead idols.

The evil of Plato’s "noble lie"

Thomas Jefferson read Plato. Plato was the great proponent of the idea known as the noble lie. He called them pious lies. Plato felt that it was necessary to lie to the people by holding out fabrications and fables and myths as literal truths in order to convince what he claimed were the intellectually deficient (those lacking the intelligence to grasp the subtleties of philosophy) to behave properly for the good of the state. He claimed to believe that the people were too stupid to grasp philosophical subtleties or to simply accept truth at face value. Little did Plato realize that he was the one who did not grasp the truth, as is self-evident, as Jesus later demonstrated with the common people who heard his sermons and believed Jesus's doctrines which are so profound relative to Plato's that Plato, in his self-proclaimed wisdom and prudence, was not even close to the kingdom.

Leo Strauss: Platonic liar, father of neoconservatism

This far-from-the-kingdom philosophy of the noble lie is the heart and soul of the neoconservative philosophy of the present. Leo Strauss is the atheist, political-philosophical vine to the root that is Plato, the root for the current neoconservatives. Jesus is definitely not the root of neoconservatism. Jesus is the exact opposite.

Leo Strauss agreed with Plato that the public is incapable of comprehending the truth, so deliberately and knowingly lying to them for the advantage of the state is required (hence the lies about the reasons for going into Iraq). What they (the intellectually deficient and often religious common people) do not know will not hurt them, is the concept. Some will call this an oversimplification of Straussianism. In the end, however, it is correct and not an oversimplification.

However, there simply is nothing to fear in telling the people the truth. What should be feared is lying to them. A little truth is a dangerous thing. The whole truth is best even though the swine will turn on one to rip one to shreds. Only some Straussians concede that self-interest does not lead to justice and that commercial pursuits should never replace truth seeking as the highest calling. They do not, however, credit Jesus with having already made all that exceedingly clear. Strauss rejected the historicism within the revelation and prophecy. He also rejected that revelation is the highest form of reasoning (basis for action), holding that reason from Athens (Hellenization) and revelation he sees as coming from Jerusalem are completely separate ideas. He did not reconcile right reasoning with the results of revealed truth that is revelation. The truth is that he couldn't figure it out, so he fell for the Platonic rationalization. He couldn't grasp the revelation of Jesus. He did everything he could to avoid the implications.

Irving Kristol: Popularizer of the neoconservative liars

Irving Kristol is most responsible for popularizing neoconservatism. He is quoted as having said the following:

There are different kinds of truths for different kinds of people. There are truths appropriate for children; truths that are appropriate for students; truths that are appropriate for educated adults; and truths that are appropriate for highly educated adults, and the notion that there should be one set of truths available to everyone is a modern democratic fallacy. It doesn't work.
Now, are you going to believe such neoconservative (so-called new conservative) proponents when they say just trust them and that they are the so-called good guys? They are on record as agreeing that lying even concerning taking a country to war is necessary since you, if you are a member of the general public, are too stupid to comprehend when to go to war. That self-styled new (same old) conservative view is totally wrong. Concealment is the very reason wars still occur.

After the conservatives (who philosophically descend from the Athenian, Platonic school of thought) lie to you, they then lie to you again about having lied in the first place. In short, they lie and cover up and repeat the practice until caught or until people give up caring, which indicating as it is, is often the case. After having the backs of their hands mildly slapped at most and through their dark arts of flattery and deception, they worm their way back into power only to practice corruption ad nauseam with a wink from those who want the selfish gain that such lying brings them. Posterity be damned they say to each other in private. How will those who deliberately turn a blind eye escape damnation?

They are now targeting nation after nation with their cry-wolf approach. How many times does one cave into temptation before the sin of he that falls for that temptation becomes as great as he that cries wolf? This is not guilt by association. It is complicity in global crime. Conservatives are all accomplices at the very least in that they all facilitate this lusty feeding-frenzy. Peace making is the farthest thing from these neoconservatives' thoughts. Blessed are the doves, the peacemakers; therefore, woe to the unrepentant war makers, hawks.

The neocon "noble lies" against Iraq
They deliberately distorted Iraq, not to say that Iraq was blameless. They claimed unequivocally that Iraq sponsored terrorist organizations and that Iraq still had banned weapons programs up and running and a concealed arsenal of such weapons. Due to public and internal pressure, the neoconservatives acquiesced to UN weapons inspections. No evidence was turning up under those inspections, so rather than allowing them to continue, the George W. Bush administration, without UN backing, went into an unconstitutional war (an illegal war even under the mundane US law), against Iraq. Then, when no evidence was forthcoming concerning the sponsorship of terrorists or weapons programs or massive arsenals, George W. Bush simply changed the public rationale for going to war. He and his administration and supporters used classic noble-lie and big-lie tactics.

The big lie
The big lie is a lie of momentous proportions, such as a lie for going to war that is simply repeated often enough and loudly enough and with totally ignoring all evidence to the contrary that it is finally believed by the public. Hitler used this method to great and awful effect. It is easier to put over the big lie than the small lie, because it is harder to defeat a lie that instantly gets great attention (being on a momentous issue) and remains stuck in the minds of those who suck it in. Even when the lie is found out, people imagine that such a huge lie can not be put right. That is a further lie. It is self-deception. It is not even necessary that the big lie be a so-called noble lie. The noble lie is the lie that is rationalized in the liars mind as being good for the receiver.

The US invasion of Iraq and Baghdad for instance is purely about satisfying insatiable lust of the eye and pride of life through empire building. It can hardly be covered over even by the rationalization of the noble lie. The only rationalization for that war is utter selfishness. Stealing economic control of the oil is utter selfishness. The rest is pretense and self-delusion.

They made assertions in advance about the outcome of murderous invasion that could not pan out. Their false defense is that nobody knew going into the war that the allegations of the neoconservatives would not pan out and that the outcome of the invasion, in terms of Iraqi support, would not pan out as also alleged. However, that is not true at all. People were correctly saying before the invasion that the allegations would not be substantiated. They were also saying that Iraqi acceptance would be far from immediate if ever. The neoconservatives lied on both counts, and their opposition was right on both counts. They lie about what people were saying before the invasion. The neocons simply told huge lies often and loudly and ignored all opposition even seeing to it that coverage in the media about the opposition was as minimal as possible. They even planned ahead for the corporate media to be embedded in their military operations so that coverage would be more controlled from the military and neocon perspective.

They are pathological liars who trick people into imagining that this is good.

In case you have been wondering what all of this has to do with the founding fathers of the US, all of this is part of the harvest of the seeds sown by those founders. They engaged in their own form of lies as has been discussed above. They created the system that has been built up and is now so easily used by the selfish spirits who spiritually descend from those founders. The system facilitates the lies. The standard was, and remains, that low.

Concerning Iraq, the neocons manufactured extensive, unqualified intelligence. It was all what is called disinformation. They deliberately hid the fact that even the non-manufactured intelligence was highly disputed within the intelligence community. There is no plausible deniability about any of it. It is all blatant. How can anyone trust those whose doctrine it is to lie? It is insanity. Certainly no true Christian can support any such liars.

Again, one cannot pawn this off as anti-Semitism either, even though Strauss and Kristol and many other Hebrews are neocon liars. Hitler used the technique, and he was Austrian. Plato may well have invented the articulated concept, and he was Greek. Many Anglo-Saxons have used it. The two most prominent African-American members of the first term of the Bush-43 administration used it extensively. It is most certainly a cross-ethnic phenomenon. Only racists and bigots would assign it to any one ethnic group. Temptation and sin are equal-opportunity employers, as is righteousness.

When the outcome of the war turned out to be other than their faked prognostications, they said who could have known. Now, who will believe their future prognostications? The people who told the truth are those who said in advance of the invasion that what the liars were saying would be proved false. Those truth-tellers are the rightful leaders. The liars are self-appointed by Satan. God allows them to identify themselves with the satanic spirit that will be excised. Even if something shows up sometime in the future it will never clear them of their deliberate lies. Those are proven many times over already. Also, unless those liars can prove that their evidence is real, who could readily believe them since they have already knowingly supplied forgeries in support of their big lie and certainly have not repented? They have simply done what all noble liars and big liars do, ignore it. True to form they are. Ye shall know them by their fruit, and their fruit is rotten and stinks right up to heaven.

Anyone who follows their lead in attacking Iran doesn’t even have the excuse of ignorance that the neocons are pathological liars. How will they escape damnation?

Jewish neocon loyalties to the state of Israel first, not to America

The neocons are false Zionists. They are also neoliberals, meaning they are libertarian capitalists and usually monetarists. "Neoliberal" here is referring to global economics and not so-called domestic-social issues. Neocons certainly can be social false liberals. All the labels are a mess. Zionists here also come in stripes. There are the Zionists who are interested in Israel primarily as a hedge for the US in the region. There are the US Zionists who are Jewish nationalists willing to fall on the sword for Israel including being disloyal to the US if put to the test.

Intentionally muddled labels

Labels become muddled extremely quickly. This happens due to a number of effects. Things change. People qualify their positions with additional labels. Changes occur at different rates within different sets of meanings. People’s understandings lag. Others intentionally morph a term. This is why people's concept of Christianity is so muddled.

Christianity is not what all those who merely call themselves Christian do. Defining Christianity that way is creating a mundane definition. It is not the real. It is the distraction. All the distractions of this world are bundled in that mundane understanding. It is absent the single vision, the focus, of which Jesus spoke in his Sermon on the Mount. Knowing the difference between the mundane and divine is central to bringing the divine to light. Real Christianity is the mind of Christ. Jesus defined Christianity. That is the divine and only real definition. He did though make allowances for the different levels at which people are able to grasp. He will not speak to God on behalf of those who only pay him lip service. That truth is not beyond any Christian's grasp.

The term "Christian" is a label. In the mundane world, people attached qualifiers in the attempt to clarify their position and often to misappropriate and twist the message to serve their personal and selfish ambitions. "Conservative Christian" is one such example. There is such a thing as a real conservative Christian; however, that is not the same thing as what is currently intended by those using the qualifier "conservative." In fact, many use the term Christian as the qualifier, since their thrust is conservatism in the current ideological, mundane sense. It's a mess. When people use the expression conservative Christian, what they are saying is that the liberalism of Isaiah is not in line with Christ's teachings. They are absolutely wrong about that. They miss the entire point of Jesus's teaching when they do that.

Richard Nixon

Another mundane example to label qualifiers concerns Richard Nixon. Richard Nixon was a moderate Republican or centrist. Relative to the anarchists, he was an archconservative. However, there were millions of Americans with much stronger fascistic leanings in whose minds Nixon was a liberal. Nixon was extremely anti-Communist, but dialogued with Communists where so-called liberals would have refused out of fear of being labeled soft on Communism. He cut deals to reduce tensions. These actions do not render him a saint. He was a realpolitiker both internationally and domestically. It means he was coercively and deceptively expansionistic, nationalistic, and would stoop to win rationalizing it as being for national security. He was convinced he was doing the right thing. He thought he was being a realist. When he was vilified, he couldn't grasp why the American people, especially the youth, were not in lockstep with his vision. He called us bums and then when things turned against him, he came out of his shell in search of answers with the youth movement. There was a huge worldview-gap caused by the barriers that had built up over the ages. He sat in the Oval Office walled off from the youth and the youth sat outside walled off from him. To one degree or another, it has been the same with every ego that has occupied that office. They use and are used. They lead and follow.

At the time, as now, the world was a chessboard. The seat of US power, the president, is its king for a term. The head of the king changes from president to president, on purpose. Nevertheless, other nations are pawns to be knocked off the chessboard. The opposition has many heads with many horns (forms of militant power). In Nixon's time, it was considered best that the US propagandists manage the perceptions of the American public into imagining the opposition as a solid bloc: The Communist Bloc. They sold themselves on this view too. Explaining the aspirations of the Vietnamese peasant who wanted enough rice for his child would have humanized the enemy. That would have made it more difficult to enlist the American people in knocking North Vietnam off the chessboard, to treat the human beings as mere pawns in the false game of diplomacy and statesmanship. The point wasn't to save the Vietnamese people from being hungry or oppressed. It was in the end to spare the superrich of America from having to share, but the superrich in America only wanted the common American people to think about the totalitarianism of a certain brand of Communism. They didn't want them caring about the peasants who were being abused by the rich land owners in Vietnam, which rich land owners the US government backed rather then caring about the poor and oppressed. This is not to say that Stalinism or Maoism were good approaches to solving that problem either. They weren't. They were reactionary to the extreme.

Stalin, Mao, and Kissinger

For the Stalinists and Maoists, the only way to hold at bay the libertarian capitalists was through brute force. They were very much the mirror image of say Henry Kissinger who felt the US had the right to keep the uneducated (in his mind) nations from freely and democratically choosing sharing in any form. For Henry and his ilk, it was always a trick. Calls for sharing were always ostensible. It was always a cover for despotic aspirations. Stalin looked out his window and saw the same thing in reverse. It is the dictatorial mentality fearful of not physically killing the beast that is represented by the most extreme view of the competing worldview. In the meantime, the real message and answer is right there at hand only needing to be taken up.
It has been estimated that Stalin purged millions of people, but he rationalized it. The people had to be brought into line to stop the greater evil lurking that would devour the whole of the Russian nation. In his mind, he used drastic measures for drastic times. After all, life under the czars had been brutal stretching back since the beginning. The disparity in income and living standards was almost as obscene as it gets.

How far is a leader prepared to go? How much rationalizing is he prepared to do while ignoring the real solution?

All of this became extremely confusing for Richard Nixon. He was conflicted by his Quaker upbringing on one hand and mainstream US politics on the other. One would say his life was a tragedy in the sense of ancient-Greek drama.

The neocons and the libertarian capitalists never stop working to magnify and manifest their dark message. They use the dark arts (perception manipulation; obfuscation) to do it. False liberals do the same thing. They all are blind to Jesus's message.

More neocons

Who are some more of these neocons? Early identified neocons include the following people:

Abe M. Rosenthal, former editor of The New York Times who advocates bombing "to the ground" any Islamic capital that refuses to turn over documents on weapons of mass destruction and terrorism demanded by the US. (One wonders how the neocons would prove that such documents exist and what quantity and content would satisfy the threshold for not being otherwise murdered by the neocons. This proposal is insane.); Ben Wattenberg, a former Democrat pamphleteer, senior fellow at the American Enterprise Institute; Charles Krauthammer, a syndicated columnist who advocates torture in certain instances; Daniel Pipes, a columnist who has favored the Israeli takeover of all the Occupied Territories, meaning the Palestinians would be forced out or exterminated; Irving Kristol, former editor of Commentary Magazine and as mentioned elsewhere in this work, the first popularizer of neoconservatism; Midge Decter (married to Norman Podhoretz); Norman Podhoretz, former editor of Commentary Magazine, William Safire, a journalist; and the Kagans: Donald Kagan and his two sons, Robert and Frederick. Add to this list the others mentioned in this work who have worked in the George W. Bush administration, usually with an emphasis on military/foreign policy, and you start to get the picture.

There are others. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, deceased senator from New York; Eugene Rostow, deceased under secretary for Political Affairs in the Johnson administration and director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency in the Reagan administration; Henry Jackson, deceased senator from the State of Washington, Richard Perle and Elliott Abrams (Norman Podhoretz’ son-in-law) were at one time his aids; Jeane Kirkpatrick, deceased former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations; John Podhoretz (son of Norman Podhoretz and Midge Decter); Kenneth Adelman, a member of the Pentagon's Defense Policy Board; Paul Weyrich, founded the Heritage Foundation on money from Joseph Coors; Richard Viguerie exploited the power of direct-mail marketing for political fund raising; and, Walt Rostow, deceased United States national security advisor (1966–1969) and false libertarian capitalist.

All were, or are, neocons to one degree or another. Everyone identified in this work by no means represents the entire neocon core. Many in this group, in addition to supporting the basic neocon/false Zionist agenda, are considered very socially conservative and extreme deregulationists when the regulations don't serve their selfish interests. They are very much in favor of regulating though those who wish to live communistically giving and sharing all. It's hypocrisy.

The major publications of the Neocons are the following: Commentary Magazine is a publication of the American Jewish Committee. The New Republic made a shift to a blending of neolib and neocon under Martin Peretz. The Weekly Standard is a News Corporation publication. News Corporation is Rupert Murdoch's holding company. William "Bill" Kristol is the current editor. He is Irving Kristol's son and founded and chairs the infamous Project for the New American Century at the American Enterprise Institute.
The neocons are false Zionists

Background: Anti-Communism; Cold war

To the neocons, to contain the enemy one must expand. To contain the Soviet Union and China, the US had to expand militarily, economically, and culturally. The view pushed onto the American public was that the Communists had simply replaced the Axis of World War II of Germany, Italy, and Japan. The line was that the Communists wanted to take over the world making the whole planet just like Stalinist Russia or Maoist China. Communists were painted as a bloc of exactly likeminded individuals, which they weren't any more than Americans have been likeminded. The idea was that the Communists were going to take over one country after another. The West had to stop them at all cost. If supporting fascists was the only way, then the US would support fascists.

The Korean War provided a boost to the notion of Communist aggression. The document known as NSC-68 (National Security Council; 1950) sheds light on this subject. Much of it was pushed by the group called the Committee on the Present Danger. The US fought the Chinese to a standstill in Korea.

The French failure in Vietnam reinforced US president Eisenhower's domino theory that nation after nation would topple as dominos lined up and pushed over if the US didn't intervene everywhere. The US intervened in Vietnam. To win there though was not possible since the US couldn't win the ideological struggle. It was losing the people more and more.

India had turned to nationalization, central planning, obsessive regulation, and a nonaligned status (neutral concerning the US versus the USSR). Many nations in the world had been burned by the Western colonial powers. Many nations declared themselves nonaligned. They wanted out from the middle between the Soviets and US superpower struggle. India was one of the founders of that movement. In the eyes of the US foreign-policy hacks, anyone not for the US was against the US; hence, the US took on Pakistan as a close ally in the region to counter-balance India.

The Soviets too supported dictatorial regimes to counterbalance US support within given regions. Israel aligned with the US. Many of Israeli's enemies aligned with or lean toward the Soviets. It wasn't that clear cut of course—not by a long shot. Every nation had its own set of problems and views. The Communist-leaning, Soviet-leaning, or China-leaning nations had just as much diversity of interests as did those nations lining up against them.

Very close to the US border, Cuba had undergone a Communist revolution. The US attempt to overthrow the Communists in Cuba was a disaster. The people of Cuba wanted nothing to do with a return to US-backed dictatorship and Mafia rule. The fact that the Mafia was deeply involved in Cuba was not talked about in the US after the revolution, because that fact would give sympathy to the poor who overthrew the capitalist dictatorship and exiled the fascists and organized crime most of them ending up in the US particularly Florida where they are now Republicans.
To handle the Soviets, the US spent them under the table on military hardware. This they did to contain the Soviets even though Stalin's ideology was "communism in one country" rather than world revolution while Russia was not yet strong enough to assure Stalin's place as world dictator.

One could argue that the US was making the Soviets spend on military so that it couldn't build up economically to afford even more military. The Soviets though were not allowed to concentrate on producing those things which would better satisfy the needs of the people. The people became disillusioned. Had the US had not done this, both Russia and the US would have been able to spend on butter that is promoting the general welfare thereby insuring domestic tranquility rather than spending on guns providing for global belligerence.

The Russians had lost some twenty million people fighting against fascism in World War II. They wanted a buffer of land between them and the capitalist West and to keep Germany divided so it wouldn't be easy for Germany to reconstitute a huge military machine.

The Soviets couldn't take the strings attached to the US Marshall Plan for rebuilding war-torn Europe. In the end, even though they industrialized and were very strong in science, engineering, and technology, they couldn't afford to undertake the coming space-weapons race Reagan was threatening and dubbed Star Wars.
The Soviet leadership never did figure out that communism would work if they went at it exactly from the opposite direction. Lenin had started and Stalin had made exceedingly worse. They didn't trust in God. They could have gone ahead with concentrating on domestic needs and helping other nations with humanitarian aid.

Neocon Trotskyites

The Russian version of the neocons was ignored and purged by Stalin. Stalin didn't want to embark on a global, idealist revolution. The Trotskyites wanted that. Stalin liquidated them and drove them out of the country. That Trotskyite intellectualism found a home in New York and City College of New York (the poor man's Harvard or the Harvard of the Proletariat), a public college that at one point didn't charge tuition (now that was brilliant). The self-styled libertarian capitalists found their home at the University of Chicago, a private university.

When Stalin signed a mutual non-aggression pact with World War II Germany known as the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact or Hitler-Stalin Pact, Communists in the West started to become disillusioned. After all, the Reichstag fire (a fire that burned the German parliament building in 1933) had been blamed on the Communists by the Nazis. This was the German version of the Red Scare. The Communists were subsequently outlawed, and Hitler was given dictatorial powers under Germany's version of emergency martial law known as the Enabling Act. Of course, Hitler's virulent racism and anti-Hebrew stance was well known to the Jewish secular intellectual community that contained a high percentage of Communists in New York and elsewhere. Therefore, Stalin’s duplicity was a double slap, no less so since Stalin was himself a Jew.

To handle the Chinese, the US pried opened the door with diplomacy and played on Chinese envy of US materialism. Everywhere else in the world where any signs of sharing in any form popped up, the US did everything it could to reverse it. Greed is good. Sharing is bad! That was, and still is, the message. Sharing is Red—"Better dead than Red." That was the message of Nazi minister of propaganda, Joseph Goebbels, and in the US by the McCarthyists. Well, sharing doesn't have to be Red, as in large-c Communism, as we have seen.

Islam: The new "Communists"

Now to contain Islam and what they are defining as the global threat of terrorism, the US and Israel are doing the same thing they did against the so-called Communist threat. Only the policy isn't to expand while calling it containment and creating and maintaining a balance of power and gradual rollback. It's just out-and-out expansionism. They use the excuse that terrorism is borderless. Contain states and maintaining a balance of power between and among states doesn't apply anymore since the Communist threat has been eliminated by spending it to death. They use the excuse of spreading freedom and democracy, but they don't spread either. They spread subservience to hyper-capitalists.
Since those they are calling terrorists are diffuse, the US is engaging in covert military operations all over the globe. Remember though that the definition of a terrorist has been deliberately expanded to include anyone who isn't with them (the fascists). Remember that George W. Bush proclaimed that if you aren't with him, you're with terrorists. It includes all sorts of people who aren't terrorizing anyone but who are actually calling for the end of all terrorism including the terrorism sponsored by the US state. After all, the US government under operation TALON infiltrated the Quakers (a pacifist or peace church) for crying out loud under the guise of the Quakers being a threat to national security—what a farce! The Quakers aren't aiding the devil by calling for an end to all war. Only the devil himself would suspect them of that. What group then won't the government infiltrate? Whom won't they listen in on? Where won't they break in? Whom won't they imprison? Whom won't they exile? Whom won't they torture? Whom won't they murder? There seems to be no line they aren't willing to cross.

Remember that George W. Bush proclaimed that if you aren't with him, you're with terrorists. He has laws now to do anything he wants with any terrorist, meaning anyone not with him. Well, we aren't with him and we aren't with the terrorists, so he's a liar and dead of the Holy Spirit. He doesn't signify. He doesn't matter. He's irrelevant. He will remain so until he repents even if it takes eternity.
US military: Cold blooded murders

The US military has even taken to using throw-down weapons and equipment to frame those Muslims it murders in cold blood. Hashim Ibrahim Awad was murdered April 26, 2006, by the US military that then planted an AK-47 (assault rifle) and shovel at the scene to make it appear that Hashim had himself been planting roadside bombs. Eight US service personnel have been charged with murder in the incident. This is a tactic that unscrupulous police officers have been known to use in the US for decades. Police officers have been known to carry cheap Saturday night specials (cheap, lower caliber revolver type handguns) to place in the dead hand of their otherwise unarmed victim. Then they claim the murder was self-defense.

The US military has also covered up the circumstances of the deaths of numerous US service personnel in Iraq and Afghanistan. The families of the dead are told lies. Patrick McCaffrey and Andre Tyson were both killed in Iraq. The circumstances of their deaths were covered up by the military. After McCaffrey's mother kept pushing the issue and obtained the help of senator Barbara Boxer of California, the Pentagon finally admitted to the cover-up, although they wouldn't characterize it as such.

Patrick McCaffrey had been becoming more vocal about the mistaken mission in Iraq. Patrick was the target of the Iraqi civil-defense officers patrolling with him.

David, king of the Jews, fell to the tactic of deliberately putting one in a fatal position just so David could have the man's wife.
And he wrote in the letter, saying, Set ye Uriah in the forefront of the hottest battle, and retire ye from him, that he may be smitten, and die. And it came to pass, when Joab observed the city, that he assigned Uriah unto a place where he knew that valiant men were. And the men of the city went out, and fought with Joab: and there fell some of the people of the servants of David; and Uriah the Hittite died also. (2 Samuel 11:15-17).

Who will find out the truth? The Pentagon will never peacefully submit to investigations turning over every rock. It is a lawless institution. Such investigations would bring it down. Do you think Rumsfeld or any of the other militant Empire builders are purer than David was?

David made a mistake. He admitted it and was terribly sorry. He paid for it, because his child by Bathsheba, who had been Uriah's wife, died on account of David's lust, his selfishness, his covetousness, his duplicity.

Has Rumsfeld admitted his evil? Is he terribly sorry before the Lord? When will he repent and turn to do his best to atone? When will we all, as we all ought to?

The Pentagon isn't about ethics. It's about devouring. It is the greatest symbol of Satan on the planet.

There are so many incidences of murder and torture that have occurred that it won't be possible for this work to contain them all. Only updates will be able to keep some pace.

Bear false witness against Iraq, now Iran

The US military is also accusing Iran of supplying Iraqi insurgents with bomb-making materials. They don't supply any proof of this. US Army four-star general George Casey said, "We're seeing attacks and we're finding more of them. So it's coming in from, we believe, Iran." Notice the words "we believe." This isn't "we know" and here's how.

This is just more of the same "trust us" junk they used leading up to the invasion of Iraq. If they have proof, take Iran to real court. Don't pull the garbage that Colin Powell and George Tenet, with Rumsfeld's and Cheney's backing, pulled at the UN.

We don't trust you, because your fruit is rotten. Make your fruit good, your whole tree good all the way to the tips of your roots or you will forever be untrustworthy.

General George Casey is just pumping out propaganda false-seeds that the US military is planting as a further excuse to attack Iran. It is in line with the same garbage the Pentagon spewed out for its pretexts for invading Iraq to privatize all of Iraq's oil. It must be understood that even as reports claim that Iran's proven oil and gas reserves have gone up in recent years and that many now are saying at least that Iran has more fossil fuel than Iraq, Iran's oil output has been going down.

The US allegations concerning Iranian oil have two main purposes. One, it is designed to suggest that Iran in no way needs nuclear energy under its own control, and two, the US needs to control Iranian oil to keep China and Russia in check.

Of course, the US military-industrial complex, the libertarian, corporatist, capitalists, the power elite, seek to keep China, India, and other nations from having unlimited access to such sources of fuel for heavy industry and their military machines they will use to compete against the evil Empire as part of that evil Empire themselves.

Jesus knew that only God's house is not fractured.

But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth. (Luke 11:17).

For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. (Luke 12:52).

You see, we must truly be united in peace. Force and coercion are falsehoods. They don't bring anything but division, desolation, the fall. We must undergo universal repentance, atonement, and forgiveness. We must give and share.
universally in complete peace and harmony. We must all overcome all selfishness and corruption. The only way to do these things is by God. God abides in us and we in God: One God all, at once first and last, top to bottom, level, straight. The only way God will do these things is by our complete faith in doing the new commandment in all its implications.

Donald Rumsfeld's dark scientific, technological vision

Donald Rumsfeld has been changing the military to his vision. He wants the military to be composed of highly trained, high-tech equipped and outfitted, flexible teams capable of rapid response anywhere in all weather and conditions, completely computerized and networked, and completely tracked. He wants their operating areas to be totally surveilled to track everything that moves and to do real time spectroscopy of the full electromagnetic spectrum. Anything living would be identified and plotted in real time. This would include anything hiding behind or under other material, even very thick material. Nothing and nobody would be safe. After reaching that point, the plan is to replace human soldiers with remote-controlled and then autonomous robots and cyborgs made materials as indestructible as the military-industrial complex can devise.

The computers will be artificial intelligence for instant decision-making. The forces will be guided and instructed by the computers. The computers will see what the forces are seeing as well as the drones and satellites and analyze everything via supercomputer. This whole thing is already in actual use. It just hasn't been built up yet to run the entire all military operations. They are rushing to bring that about.

Aircraft and space-based beam weapons will be tied into the system. Anyone, anywhere, anytime, not extremely deep in the earth under solid rock without the need for external ventilation will be able to be vaporized. Eventually, even such rock barriers are to become incapable of providing protection.

Eventually, instructions are to be via direct brain interface, meaning the soldiers’ brains and the computer are to be directly networked. The soldier will not translate verbal or visual commands. Individual decision-making or freewill will be stripped. Eventually, the forces will be cyborgs of unimaginable lethality run via complete interface of brain matter and computer via nanotechnology and interactive brain scan and input commands. The human brain and the computer will be merged. The technology then will be able to replicate the brain chemistry actions and duplicate that ability via complete artificially created brain with zero degradation, meaning total recall and networking with all other similar nodes or brains.

Military transhumanism, technological singularity

Learning would be exponential. Environmental changes via changes in manufacturing would occur at an exponential rate. There would be one brain knowing everything known mundanely. This would be the state of military transhumanism. It is the point at which what is called the technological singularity would occur. The developments leading toward this scenario will lead to the hot World War III.

Naturally, such bad planning comes out of selfish hearts. Bad planning always has bad results. It is only a matter of time before the negative consequences show through. Bad results occur due to uncooperative attitudes and direct sabotage as well. Bad planners deliberately try to put into other people’s minds that no amount of planning could have anticipated or averted the negative consequences of selfishness. Only when the connection is immediate and too obvious to be covered up do they acknowledge their misguided approach.

War is false

Now, war is a bad plan, always. War is failure, automatically. It is rebellion against God's peace. It's one of the reasons we are in the degenerate condition of this culture. There are no winners in warfare. Any people who have ever claimed to have won a war ended up, or will end up, losing as a result of having even engaged in war let alone claimed victory.

The more selfish the planner, the worse the plan is and the greater the negative results end up. This is what the world is seeing with Donald Rumsfeld and the other neocons running the Bush-43 administration. This is what the bloodthirsty false Christians dread is true.

The failure was prophesied by the softhearted. Look at it! It's recorded history.
Screaming to bomb Iran

Now people are screaming to bomb Iran. What do they think will be the result? The results of attacking Iran will be much worse than the occupation of Iraq. The selfish have no idea what they are doing. They are rushing toward death and destruction. Attacking Iran will be an act of war. Iran will be at war with the US. All the US military in Iraq will be a target right across the border from Iran. If the US is having difficulty now controlling Iraq, what do you think it would be like with Iran fighting back with everything it has, which is much more than Iraq had. Don't you think that other nations would begin to supply Iran and the Iraqi insurgents with more weapons and ammunition and training to bring the US down a notch or two? Don't you think that other nations would trade their US treasury bonds for other currencies just to destabilize the US currency causing it to devalue and sending domestic prices through the roof putting the US into a deep recession or even an economic depression? Those pressures are already in evidence.

Unlike Iraq, Iran really does have stockpiles of weapons. Israel too will be a close-by target. Islam will view a US attack as the final proof of a religious crusade against Islam. The distinctions between Sunni and Shia will be put aside more and more in favor of hitting the US and Israel. This is flirting with global thermonuclear war. This would be threatening to suck Russia, China, and NATO into the conflict and bring nuclear war much closer.

The Bush-43 administration has suddenly turned back to multilateralism and compromise.
Along with Russia, China, Britain, France, and Germany, they are offering Iran carrots that are appearing to be so compromising with what Iran has insisted upon all along that if Iran doesn't come to some deal now, the Bush-43 government will have more credibility in the eyes of more people for going ahead with economic sanctions and then military attacks. This is also timed for the 2006 midterm elections to boost Republicanism in the US polls since the Republicans have been rebuked for backing Bush's unilateralism and deceptions leading up to the Iraq War. It is all for appearances.

Typically, the US government has attached a catch that the capitalists heavily invested in military stocks hope the Iranians will not accept. Iran must stop its move toward nuclear energy while negotiations take place. That could set them back years in becoming nuclear independent, as is their right under the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty of which Iran is a signatory.

As soon as the propagandists imagine they have enough plausible deniability built up or the fascists have closed down dissenting voices enough that the people can be deluded into naïvely following the liars again or the fascists have stolen another election, Bush and successors will go back to the old unilateral way if others won't follow. Russia and China won't go directly to war against the US over Iran and the US knows it.

We denounce the US government's plans. They are wicked plans. They are blundering plans. They are the catastrophic plans that bring the dark day of the LORD closer and closer. They will bring New Orleans-Katrina-magnitude disasters over and over until it is too late to avert all out tribulation.

Recent, historical, bad-planning parallels: Hitler

Without a doubt, in general, Franklin Roosevelt was a better man than Adolf Hitler. Of course, Franklin grew up under vastly better, more enlightened circumstances than did Adolf. Roosevelt wasn't perfect, but Hitler had his sights on militarily forcing the world into accepting his dark vision and living under it. Those facts don't relieve the US of responsibility for its heinous actions going back before FDR or for its heinous actions during FDR's presidential reign.

Carelessness led to Hitler. Thoughtlessness gave rise to his illness. It was a lack of proper planning that caused the extermination camps. It was bad planning, insensitivity, that got human kind barred from the garden. It was emotional shortsightedness, numbness, deadness of the infinitely foresighted Holy Spirit of truth that led to the ramifications of undisciplined, twisted satisfaction-seeking.

If you don't repent, you won't be resurrected. The ideology of the self-styled conservative Christians is that same shortsightedness. The world needs to follow a new plan: Unselfishness.

Trustworthiness has to be made a reality. The conservatives don't trust anyone, because they look inside and ask how anyone can trust anyone. They don't trust themselves. They can't.
They can't overcome. They won't. It's too hard they tell themselves. They only have to do so much to be accepted into heaven they think. They claim to trust God, but they don't.

The neocons are spurring this on. They will suffer their setbacks, but the drive will continue.

Conservatives who remain conservative will be continuing in sin

Despite all of this exposure of the noble lie, etc., and the purveyors, many conservatives will insist upon remaining conservative. Therefore, they will continue in sin. The only thing really being offered up is the wink of the eye at the big lie. There is nothing that they can do while remaining conservative that will completely mitigate the deception and complicity. That doesn't matter to many of them. They simply rationalize it all away by saying to themselves that human nature is inherently evil and they are human. They accept who they are. They aren't angels of light and don't intend to become so. They are fallen devils and accept it after initially bristling at reality. Some don't even bristle. They don't have any need to self deceive they imagine, even though that is exactly what they are doing.

If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin. (John 15:22).

The United States supplied the very chemical weapons that Iraq used on its own civilians. The US supplied the equipment and the training. Why does the US speak holier-than-thou, but at the same time, it is the largest seller of weapons in the world?

US malfeasance and Iraqi oil

Now, US corporatism has seized control of Iraq's oil reserves. George W. Bush's Executive Order 13303\(^{118}\) declared blanket immunity for the US oil industry concerning any wrongdoing in dealing with Iraqi oil. It legalized in advance what would otherwise have been illegal. UN Resolution 1483 ratified under international law that the US may spend Iraqi oil revenues as it alone sees fit. The International Advisory and Monitoring Board for Iraq (IAMB) found that the US has kept incomplete financial records concerning Iraqi oil.

These conservatives continue the pattern of distortion concerning Iran and others, not to say that Iran or the others are, or were ever, blameless. It is to say though that the way of going about setting things right is not through war. Once again unsubstantiated allegations are flying from the United States Administration. The allegations are simply repeated and repeated without any evidence being supplied. Once again, the opposition is simply being ignored. This is exactly what happened with Iraq. It will continue happening right around the globe if the conscience of the latent real liberals, temporarily duped into imagining themselves conservative Republicans, does not begin to eat away at them as it must or they will never see heaven.

\(^{118}\) Related Executive Orders as of the date of this writing are numbered as follows: 13315, 13350, and 13364.

Intelligence community was divided

The administration knew that it did not have any hard evidence about Iraq, yet it just repeated and repeated allegations claiming that the world must simply trust American intelligence, since Americans are the good guys. They mean not as bad as what? Only one is good and that is our Father in heaven. They are not close to the kingdom. Even that so-called intelligence community was divided nearly down the middle about the allegations. Yet, that division was deliberately kept secret from the general population. The pro-war stories were repeated over and over by media in bed with the administration. The people who were looking for vengeance to show the world that the United States can be a lion looked to Iraq to trounce in an exercise of lust. Making war on people just because you think you can get away with hiding behind a cover story that they just might undermine your worldly power is completely illegitimate and does not fly with God. Which one of these officials is going to stand before God defending these actions? Will the dead, innocent children be the prosecutors? They will certainly testify.

Hypocrisy now just as when Jesus walked the earth

The world needs peacemakers and not warmongers ministered to by sycophants. The current crop at the top is a pack of ravenous war makers. They hide behind false expressions such as "America, love it or leave it," "my country, right or wrong," "ours is not to reason why, ours is but to do or die," "honor, duty, country," "give war a chance," "freedom isn't free" (meaning falsely that people must fight and die in mundane wars for freedom), and the like. Where is the love of God in any of it? All there is in their words is hate for God. Jesus spoke against everything these people stand for. The anti-liberals at the time of Jesus hated Jesus. These conservatives today claim they would not have allowed Jesus to have been crucified and would have had him as their king. Then why do they seek to silence the voices of peace today? It is hypocrisy now just as it was hypocrisy when Jesus walked the earth.

119 Alfred Tennyson, a poem. The Charge of the Light Brigade.

The conservative middle and lower classes say that they (the governmental policy makers) are the experts; we have to trust their judgments. These and other thought-terminating statements are intended to curtail the knowledge of, or consideration of the possibility that, war is the extreme malicious act. Military might does not make right.

H. R. Haldeman: The implicit infallibility of presidents; the president can be wrong

When Daniel Ellsberg leaked the Pentagon Papers in 1971 showing the lies of successive presidential administrations of both major US political parties, Richard Nixon's White House chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman, said of the situation that "the implicit infallibility of presidents, which has been an accepted thing in America, is badly hurt by this." This is an important point.

Haldeman was right at the time that the American people had turned such a blind eye to the doings of presidents that they, the American people in general, had come to convincing themselves of "the implicit infallibility of presidents." Well, after all the media coverage of Johnson's Vietnam, Nixon's Watergate and Vietnam, Reagan's Iran-Contra, and now George W. Bush's Iraq, their just is no cover any longer for this kind of self-deception and denial. Haldeman went on to say that "it [the Pentagon Papers] shows that people do things the president wants to do even though it's wrong, and the president can be wrong." How true. It is still very much true.

Now, because the lies of presidents are generally expected and are becoming more and more accepted, the excuse is, thereby, removed for calling something ignorance versus sheer sin. Remember, Jesus made clear that the more one realizes that one ought not to be doing something, the more one is sinning when one goes ahead and does it. Again, the following:

If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin:
but now they have no cloak for their sin. (John 15:22).

This means that the conservatives are sinning more now than they were in the time of Nixon. They are still self-deluded; however, they know it much more widely now then they did thirty-five years ago. They know full well (without excuse or cover) that George W. Bush is anything but infallible. They know it concerning Iraq, and they know it concerning North Korea, Iran, Syria, Venezuela, and other nations Bush and his cadre of neocons have targeted.

Nevertheless, the mainstream, corporate media continue to state neocon propaganda as if the substantiated allegations of the neocons were indisputable facts, as if the neocons are infallible and can be trusted implicitly. The media just go on operating as if the whole world doesn’t know the conservatives lied through their teeth about, among other things, weapons of mass destruction in Iraq and Iraq having direct linkages with al Qaeda's 9-11 attacks. This is not to say that WMD are not hidden in Iraq.

Nevertheless, the Bush-43 administration showed that getting control of the oil was their primary concern.

The neocons work deception and war. The conservatives' veiled attempts to feign ignorance have been laid bare for all time. God sees those calling themselves conservative Christians who are following the lead of those who do not even profess Jesus. As explained earlier, some of the most instrumental early leaders of the neocon movement converted from atheistic, Trotskyite (violent revolution throughout the world), Bolshevik Communism. They are still atheists. They are leading America to carry out a violent, worldwide revolution but no longer ostensibly to share the ownership of the means of production, as under socialism, but rather for sheer dominance of greed that is capitalism under false liberal false democracy. These neoconservatives spiritually descend from the very people who yelled for Jesus's crucifixion. They hate Jesus. They don't hear his voice. They don't accept his truth. They hate everything Jesus stands by. They hate Jesus's Father in heaven. How can anyone calling him or herself Christian be a neocon proselyte, any kind of traditional conservative, or support the false Zionists in Israel? It isn't possible.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. (Matthew 23:15).

The neoconservatives are lost in the dark and spiritually dead. Wake up Christian!

No anti-Semitism attaching to the truths in this work

However, those of Hebrew or any other ethnic extraction who are born again are full family members in the spirit and worthy to lead, as their gifts allow, and to follow fellow Christians. Therefore, it cannot be overstated that there is no anti-Semitism attaching to any of the truths in this work. The truth is not anti-Semitic. Do not allow anyone to dissuade you from the message of Jesus concerning the hypocrisy of the Pharisees and today's rabbinists by leveling false claims of anti-Semitism toward Jesus and his Apostles.
They call the real message of Jesus anti-Semitic. They think doing that will garner sympathy and intimidate and shut up the truth. We can see through it. It is transparent. Let them accept the giving and sharing way of Christ instead of the rest of the world adopting the creed of greed.

The Apostles of Jesus were apparently Hebrews with the possible exception of Simon who is called "the Canaanite" in the King James Version. Some translators believe that that was a mistranslation and that the Greek word should have been translated as "zealous" rather than "Canaanite."

All the Apostles and disciples are our brothers and sisters more so than mere flesh-and-blood descendancy can bond, provided we do the will of our Father that is the deeds Jesus called for us to do. When our flesh-and-blood joins us, so much the better.

Those calling themselves Jews have been abused for it. The truths in this work and in the Gospels do not facilitate a return to that. They call for an end to all abuse. We are doing the opposite of facilitating abuse, just as Jesus did. The Jews did not listen to Jesus. Had they all listened to him, the evil that befell them would not have befallen them. Had he never spoken to them, the Zealots among them still would have run head long into the Roman legions and been defeated mercilessly. Had they all listened to Jesus, even though Rome would have continued for a time to discriminate against them, the Romans would have eventually succumbed to the righteousness of the message of the real God as opposed to their gods who included Mars, the god of war, the satanic spirit of the US military.

Jewish Anti-Defamation League

Even though the Jews have been abused, it is not right for anyone to use the abuse he or she has suffered as an excuse to be illiberal. This is why no one, including no Hebrew or Israeli, may rightfully hide under the cover that all constructive criticism (rebuke with cause) is motivated by hearts of invidious discrimination. Therefore, the Jewish Anti-Defamation League is wrong to label as anti-Semitic every person who constructively criticizes even rebukes with cause certain Hebrews or Israelis. For by doing that, the Jewish Anti-Defamation League is labeling all such people invidious discriminators. They are not all harboring animosity or resentment or failing to grant individual merit. Jesus said to his Hebrew people through his teachings and examples that he desired no evil to befall them, quite the contrary, and that the way to assure that, especially in view of the Roman Empire, was to turn to full righteousness. That proves a complete lack of the spirit of invidiousness or negative bigotry in Jesus. Jesus said to his rightful subjects that he wanted them to turn to God in the fullest spirit of the commandments. Those that did remained Hebrew. They simply also became known as Nazarenes and, thereafter, Christians, after the Greek translation that in this case refers to followers of the Messiah and encompasses the Gentiles.

The Bible said those followers would become known by a new name. Jesus remains though the Jewish Messiah and king even though there are many Hebrews who have never accepted him as such.

Antichrist and the Antichrist

This anti-Semite and anti-defamation combination is in response to the Christian usages of antichrist and the Antichrist. The former (antichrist) is the spirit that holds Jesus in contempt, accuses Jesus, wishes evil to befall Christ, and envies Christians and Christianity. The latter (the Antichrist) is the greatest antagonist who most epitomizes that antichrist, satanic spirit. That later Antichrist is Satan incarnate as Jesus was God incarnate. The Antichrist will be completely false hearted as Jesus was completely true. Has anyone yet manifested evil to the extent that Jesus manifested righteousness? How dark is dark in contrast to how much light Jesus brought into the world?

The synagogue of Satan

The truth is that Jesus was a Hebrew and that there are Hebrew people who believe in Jesus. Some go under the banner of "Jews for Jesus." God bless those of them who undertake only real liberal endeavors and stand by them. In fact as has been pointed out, Christianity holds that the real Jews are Christians and that all those calling themselves Jews who rejected, or reject, Jesus after having heard the word are blasphemers and of the synagogue of Satan.

I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan. (Revelation 2:9).

Consider the article written by Sever Plocker. He is a Jew reminding other Jews that some of the biggest murders in the history of human kind have been Jews. Reminding his fellow Jews of that is not inherently anti-Semitic. Of course, Stalin was a Jew by blood, but he had surrounded himself with Jews too. Genrikh Yagoda is one such Jew who was the founder and commander of the NKVD (Narodny Komissariat Vnutrennikh Del; Peoples’ Commissariat of Internal Affairs; came out of the Cheka and became the KGB) that Plocker says murdered at least ten million people. Yagoda and his Jewish deputies set up the gulags. Parallels in history are Hitler, Mao, the atrocities inflicted on indigenous peoples by the European colonial powers (including the US), the Mongol Khans, the WWII Japanese, and others.

Plocker writes as follows:

In 1934, according to published statistics, 38.5 percent of those holding the most senior posts in the Soviet security apparatuses were of Jewish origin.

---

…

The Jews active in official communist terror apparatuses (in the Soviet Union and abroad) and who at times led them, did not do this, obviously, as Jews, but rather, as Stalinists, communists, and "Soviet people." Therefore, we [Jews] find it easy to ignore their origin and "play dumb": What do we have to do with them? But let's not forget them. My own view is different. I find it unacceptable that a person will be considered a member of the Jewish people when he does great things, but not considered part of our people when he does amazingly despicable things.

Even if we deny it, we cannot escape the Jewishness of "our hangmen," who served the Red Terror with loyalty and dedication from its establishment. After all, others will always remind us of their origin.

Well, every large ethnic group has its Stalin, Hitler, Mao, Columbus, etc.

Unfortunately, the neocons are primarily Jews and they are the primary source for the war drums being beaten in the US, even though the Jews make up a tiny percentage of the American population. What's wrong here? It is an indication of illness of the soul. They are infected by unclean spirits. It's self-evident. They need to exorcise those dark spirits. They need to overcome.

As explained earlier on in this work, this is not singling out the genetic descendents of Jacob (Hebrews) who are not Christians. Anything not of God and Jesus is of the other, namely, by definition, Satan. The flesh-and-blood descendents of Jacob who are not Christians are not the only people of the world who are of that other. People can become very incensed when they are informed that they are outwardly, and, therefore, also inwardly practicing the worship of mammon and other methods of worshipping the satanic or fallen spirit. That is not a good sign for them. It indicates that they do not know or love the truth when they hear it. The appropriate reaction for those who love the truth is to be thankful for the reproof. "He that refuseth instruction despiseth his own soul: but he that heareth reproof getteth understanding." (Proverbs 15:32).

Every time any of us falls to temptation we are slipping into the satanic spirit. That's what falling means within the revelation. We are to stop and return to overcoming that is rising and is the godly spirit.

Plato's fear of the mob: The noble lie

The truth is that this anti-Semite and anti-defamation combination is often used as in the noble lie. They know they are lying, but they do it because others listen and are duped into turning a blind eye to the evil intent of many of those who use this so-called noble-lie method. It shares Plato's fear of the mob.

Socrates had spoken openly and directly and without any intent to lie. It was not noble intent that caused Plato to defend, if not invent, this noble-lie scheme. It was Plato's fear to stand up even to death for one's conviction in the truth against what he saw as the unintelligent and uneducated mob that did not, could not in Plato's mind, comprehend Socrates. The city sentenced Socrates to death.

Jesus: No fear of the mob or the elites

Jesus, unlike Plato, spoke the truth knowing it would get him murdered. Jesus died for his convictions in righteousness rather than hide behind lies. Jesus's disciples also stood up to suffer persecution and martyrdom for righteousness' sake. Fear of the mob must be overcome.

The blanket labeling of all criticism of anything Jewish as anti-Semitic is a fallacious attempt to play upon sympathies for Hebrews murdered by others who also used the noble lie and the big lie (just as the Jewish neocons now) to gain adherents to their cause. Make no mistake about it, it was utterly evil what was perpetrated by the Nazis against the Jews and the Roma (Gypsies) and others. It was utter evil also what happened in the Russian gulags under Stalin and in the Cambodian killing fields under the Khmer Rouge headed by Pol Pot. There are numerous histories of mass murder around the world going back many thousands of years. There is no doubt that the Hebrews have had the dubious distinction of being on the receiving end of numerous atrocities going back to Egypt. Having been on the receiving end still never justifies passing on the evil of persecution. It still never justifies playing off people's sympathies at the expense of the truth.

The question is how far you will go to save your temporary life of the flesh. Do you trust that there is life eternal for those who will lose that temporary flesh life for the sake of righteousness? Do you believe in God, or do you think that you just sprang up here from a chemical soup of nobody's making and following no one's rules?

Machiavellian, Nietzschean, serpentine

This noble-lie notion is Machiavellian: Expediency over morality. It is a cover for the Nietzschean thrust that is the human will to power: The beast let loose in humans. It is a throwback to the serpentine mind. It is the lie to cover sin. This oxymoronic noble lie has even twisted in attempts to explain away real Christianity. There are those who claim that the New Testament is a fabrication foisted upon the unsuspecting and stupid as a ploy to get them to behave, to be ruly, unquestioning, and the like. That is exactly backwards.

Jesus turned Plato on his head; Noble lie

The story of the New Testament is the story of a man, Jesus, who did the opposite of telling these so-called noble lies. Yes, Jesus taught the public in parables, just as Aesop's Fables relate morals. However, unlike with Aesop's clever but simple parables, the elitists were the ones who were confounded and refuted by Jesus's parables. Jesus turned the noble lie of Plato on its head. The common people of soft hearts grasped much of the esoteric message in the parables. The softhearted were not unaware that Jesus was teaching them in parable form. They knew that he was preaching new doctrines. They knew the absolute truth was showing through regardless of whether or not the events had actually taken place. They were acutely aware that Jesus's doctrines were diametrically opposed to the traditionalist, orthodox doctrines of the elitists of the day.

Jesus demonstrated Plato's fundamental error. It was not, is not, and never will be necessary to lie to the people. Rather it is absolutely necessary to level with them at all times. It does not mean they will also grasp it though.

For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty. (2 Peter 1:16).

Plato's noble lie is the cunningly devised fable. His elitist mentality has done more damage from his time down than any other notion or mentality we know of. It is upon his foundation that much of the elitist, conservative thinking has been built. It is alive today in the form of the lie that is the vanguard of the military, where American leaders flatter the rank and file of the military and tout them publicly as the best of the nation. Their spirit, which is militarism, is definitely not the best of the nation. Pacifism is the best spirit in any nation. The rank and file of the military constitutes the most seriously duped minions.

The marketing manipulation that is used to place error (so-called noble lies) in the minds of the people is so extended as to boggle the mind were it not for the utter transparency (the obvious deceitfulness, the selfishness) for which it is employed. They manufacture consent amongst the people many of whom know they are being taken but are too interested in their own greedy desires and delusional self-preservation to object.

The main method of the noble lie is very simple. Repeat the lie or false connection often enough while simultaneously feeding into what the people want, whether it be reducing their fears, real and created by marketing, or satisfying their selfish desires, also real and created. The people of hard hearts will follow as sheep to the slaughter, just as when Germans followed this exact same method when used by Hitler and when those in the State of Israel follow it now as used by their chosen leaders. Most importantly, the purveyors of these perfected techniques of lying walk the tightrope of plausible deniability.

The Calculation of Deception

Within the planning of fabrications, the selfish interest of supporters is weighed along with the plausibility (comfort-level) of the excuse that will be rendered if and when the deception is questioned. This is a dark art. Do they have the people duped and conditioned enough to pull it off? Can they risk a setback when weighed against the perceived gains they will amass for themselves? A calculation is made (felt really) anticipating the degree to which, and the frequency with which, fabrications may be deliberately employed before even supporters begin to abandon their support due to discomfort at being associated with obvious deception. The increasing fear of exposure for many will overshadow their selfish reasons for supporting the deceivers in the first place. The fear is countered by the hardening of the heart affected by the current of iniquity. The harder the heart, the less one cares: The less one is shamed or has a working conscience.

How much has iniquity, including coercive authoritarianism, been gaining? Iniquity hardens hearts of those who are insufficiently prepared to withstand additional temptations. They react in a backlash of what they feel is righteous indignation, or they cave into that against which the authoritarians rail. This reaction facilitates the acceptance of lies for either cause. Those of the backlash more willingly accept the lies of those calling for wrath. Those on the other side likewise become more willing to accept the lies of those calling for greater license on their side and even a countervailing wrathfulness. They ratchet each other up when neither of their ways is correct.

This dark art distorts and fabricates information at its root. They covet. They disseminate distortions and fabrications for effect. They swear that the information is trustworthy. People buy into it. Then, decisions are taken based upon falsehood. When the lies are exposed, those who perpetrated them claim the duped have no room to complain because they bought into it. Very few people ever summons up the courage to admit that they have been duped.

George Romney

Republican presidential candidate George Romney did it in 1967 when he said he had been "brainwashed" by American generals into supporting the Vietnam War when he had been in Southeast Asia two years earlier. That admission took courage. Rather than nominating him for president, the Republicans nominated the severely troubled Richard Nixon who became president and ended up resigning awash in corruption and disgrace.

Rather than improve on the dark art of lying, Jesus's work was to free the people from that ever downward spiral. Jesus told the truth not a so-called noble lie. He did not suggest that any parable was anything but a story that revealed truism. He exposed the dark art through his teachings and suffering. He died so you could come to see that darkness for what it is: Selfishness. It was the only way people could come to appreciate, to make the full-circle connection between their emotions, thoughts, words, and deeds and what ruins everything. It is also the only way those who do grasp and live accordingly may be free of the oppression of those who reject this truth no matter how plain and clear it is made.
Dark is contextual too

Do not become confused between and among the various meanings of the words "dark" and "darkness." Jesus spoke in "dark sayings of old" that meant he was speaking in a way that those of hardened hearts would not grasp. His parables were as riddles to the hardhearted that they could not comprehend for the darkness (hardness, coldness, smallness, and selfishness) of their hearts. When they did grasp the meanings, they rejected the truths.

If God is love, how can God allow suffering?

The confused who claim there is hypocrisy in the message of Jesus still do not really want to know the answer. If God is love, how can God allow suffering? It's inconsistent they say. It's hypocritical they say. Well, how could one ever truly be free if one were not free to have made mistakes and come to realize it through consequences? There have to be consequences for one's edification. Then and only then, will one learned to be free of the consequences and really know good from evil. Otherwise, one would be simply preprogrammed and have no real choice. There could be no redemption. The world could never be saved. There would be no valuable lessons learned. There would be no real appreciation or knowledge of righteousness.

As it is, we are being programmed through time and experience perceived. This is over and above the preprogramming that is our genetic predisposition. It is programming that is self-controllable in that one may choose, with effort, righteousness. One may choose to make oneself worthy to be chosen. It is programming that can overcome that genetic predisposition and all matter really. This is the message of Jesus.

What of the suffering of the innocent? How can God allow that and still be love? We are in this together. God put us together on this planet. We are interdependent, all born as helpless babies. We are interconnected, leading each other into the light or astray. We all fell into this corrupt world. Souls come here with apparent clean slates, but they fell to this level nevertheless, predisposed, within their particular circumstances, for the most specifically tailored reasons that are hidden from us accept that they are reflected, just as everything that Jesus said and did reflected that place from which he came and to which he returned. The consequences of evil include the suffering of the innocent as well as the guilty until we all realize and stop. Then the innocent will no longer suffer.

The innocent here though end up in good hands regardless of the suffering they are put through here due to the fallen state: The consequences of the sins of others. This would not be a lower state were it not for sin, of course. We must repent universally. All must repent or fall further. Also, those who are often seen as innocent are not in actuality always wholly innocent. Even the children within this hardened generation can be well aware of the evil they commit before committing it. However, their impressionability is taken into account in exact proportion for perfect justice. One allows for the lesser time and support in building up resistance to temptation and evil through exposure to proper interpretation of scripture and directly from the Holy Spirit of truth.

Selfishness within children is often left unidentified to them. Even when identified, they see the hypocritical actions of adults. Selfishness is actually reinforced through the entire capitalistic, competitive, hypocritical system. Little children hear people instructing them to have all sorts of virtuous qualities but then see those same instructors stepping over the proverbial half-dead body of the one the Good Samaritan stopped to save. Of course, the Good Samaritan cannot save everyone alone. That is why we are in this together. People are warned away from selfishness via all the scriptures and the great and small commandments, yet they never stop putting themselves and their immediate flesh-and-blood offspring first. That is a sin.

Contrary to what the founding fathers designed, the whole of humanity may stop suffering at anytime. We simply all need to stop being evil and start being good: Stop hurting ourselves, each other, and the other things in God's creation and start teaching and doing good deeds toward each other and the rest of creation. God will see to it that the whole of his creation responds in kind. There may be testing that would go on from time to time, but once the genuineness of our conversion is well enough fixed to withstand such testing, the testing too would diminish into nothingness.

If the suffering does not stop in the here and now, it will stop in the hereafter for those who start in earnest to follow the absolute narrow path to the best of their ability and after appropriate stripes, if any. For some, this all cannot be true, because there is no absolute truth for them. They reject it out-of-hand.

The absolute true law is exactly what Jesus said it is. Compared with all other suggestions that can possibly be put forth, it will always remain the truest possible law and, in very fact, the only real law. The traditional human law (the law for the hardhearted) hangs upon the spirit of its ultimate unexpressed but implied intention. It reaches for, but does not bring to fruition, its own intention. The traditional letter of the law remains forever insufficient due to its leaving huge holes through which hypocrisy runs rampant.

This traditional letter-of-the-law emphasis is a hallmark of political conservatism. Rule of law is their motto. This is why they emphasize the Ten Commandments in letter and Moses as the lawgiver over the spirit of the greatest commandment and the second that is like unto it and Jesus's new commandment and the Holy Spirit of truth. The implications of the new commandment and the spirit of the law are too great for the conservatives. The traditionalists today, conservatives today, are filling the shoes of the Pharisees. These conservatives sing the praises of absolute truth, but do they follow up with the deeds to match? Where is the fruit? Where is the cooperation that Jesus called for? Neither has any other religion or philosophy brought to light the truth which only Jesus brought into the world.

The founding fathers left the door open to many paths other than Christianity. They erred.
They should have fixed the problems within the church rather than creating the path of hyper selfishness that is the American system today.

Atheism

They left the door open to atheism. Atheism is not the way.

The fruit of atheism is darkness. It cannot move people to the unity of the spirit of truth to show the love Jesus showed on the cross, which is the love that is required for deliverance from evil.

We have answered herein why evil exists, why God, both benevolent and omnipotent, allows evil.

We have answered how God and science are not inherently incompatible. Only arrogant science is incompatible with divine love, not giving necessary credit where credit is due, taking selfish credit, usurping God, not trusting God, testing faith.

There is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was anything kept secret, but that it should come abroad. If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given. (Mark 4:22-24).
Confusing Jesus with the traditions of men

We have explained that people must not fall to assigning to Jesus what has been done by selfish people who co-opt his name. Evil of churches is not evil by Jesus or God. Evil is done by the spiritually blind and willful. Everything that the churches have said, their dogma, is not necessarily consistent with the words of Jesus. Their actions have not been necessarily consistent with his deeds. Judge Christ by Christ and not by apostate churches co-opted by selfish unbelievers who obviously are not his followers. Don't confuse God and Jesus with traditions of men running churches.

There is no doubt that theism can be and is extremely evil, the most evil, when the spirit that is followed is not God's but Satan's. Satan though is blindness to God. Satan really doesn't know God. That's Jesus's point. The atheist is satanic to varying degrees and by definition, blind to God and the evil spirit that possesses in denial the atheist.

Doing God's will, what God wants us to come to doing as a result of our really knowing truth, right from wrong, results in our finally being trustworthy sharing God's unlimited force and authority for perfect justice. That state is not attainable absent the full appreciation for, the full context of, the new commandment.

The atheist avoids the implications, his or her culpability, selfishness, and arrogance. He or she is not necessitated to follow the new commandment to its fullest conclusion that eliminates all evil. He or she cannot, from the position of atheism, become one with the Holy Spirit by whom existence is. His or her belief in annihilation at death, if that is the type of atheism, hopes for no accountability for the whole of this life. There are no consequences according to the atheist. Then there is no evil. Then power is licensed to make its own rules here and now.

However, watch what happens to the atheists: The same thing that happens to the one deluded into secretly worshipping Satan for the sake of obtaining the world.

We have answered that God made the rules for who is the fittest for what, where, and when. We have answered why God did that.

"With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you." We understand how evil acts done in the name of Jesus have been a source of confusion and misdirection. All have been abused and confused thereby. Overthrowing the abuser is not overthrowing God. That is not because there is no God but, rather, because God is not the abuser. God would have to eliminate all, even those who will yet turn, in order to eliminate all evil while each soul still has the freedom to make the choice out of his or her own heart rather than as some robot who didn't have to go through the human learning process, emotional process, to truly know.

We have discussed real knowledge, free will, and becoming truly trustworthy with real power and real freedom that belongs to God. God's reasons are all rational. They are the only real logic.
Buddhism

Buddhism, the Middle Way or Middle Path, is also not the real way. It lacks the focus upon the implication of the new commandment understood in light of what Jesus taught and did, unselfish service in the spirit of oneness.

Buddhism pursues the individual desire to be free from suffering, impermanence, and the ego-self-soul.

In the vast configuration of things, suffering is inevitable until one realizes that all is suffering. Existence on planes below nirvana is suffering. Nirvana is non-suffering existence, non-existence, annihilated ego. It is selfless (anatta, anatman, soulless). The ego is gone, according to Buddha. The phenomena, what the senses pick up and are accepted in science as proved, are merely momentary attachments in delusion that continue the suffering.

Jesus though came to save from suffering by calling for a samadhi-like single vision that is not nirvana, per se, not detachment but detachment from evil and attachment to, even oneness with, righteousness. It is not a blowing out but a conflating, a blowing together.

God, not selfless

God is self. God is selfness, selfhood, but not selfishness. God is the unity of selves. God is the soul, the spirit, the ghost given up by Jesus on the cross, the breath of life, the light of the body while the body has the life force.

With the Buddha, there was no God of Jesus whose will determines this process. The Buddha was one directional in this sense. It is up to the individual (individualism, individual paths). There is no calling from God. Human individuals are the result of the lack of intention, the lack of mindfulness about the all-suffering, impermanence, and non-soul of this unreality that is anything other than nirvana or the pure Buddha enlightenment.

Buddha claimed to owe no credit to any other and gave none. The other wanting credit is Mara. Mara is temptation. Mara is self-ego. To Buddha, his own enlightenment was the highest. This then becomes willfulness and rebellion, secular humanism in a sense. It is very antichrist when looked at closely (magnified) even as there is much that can overlap the message of Christ at the lower standard or more mundane levels.

It is always the differences that matter concerning discerning the right path.

God takes away the suffering

Well, Satan or Mara certainly does call forth the egotistical; however, God worked through Jesus to heal people's suffering in the here and now. How would Buddha have reacted to witnessing that firsthand himself? It would have opened his eyes. The healing of Jesus was, and is, not fleeting for those who did, and do, not turn again to go astray from God.

This is why syncretism down and ecumenicalism lead to ruination and the wide path to outer darkness.

Generally, the Buddhists allow for no creator, no created beings, and no savior. Hence they disbelieve all the Biblical prophecies that were fulfilled and also all the miracles of the Almighty done in conjunction with Jesus's certainty in our Father's promises. They disbelieve the reason for the crucifixion. How can they not see the depth of unselfish love required to remove all suffering? How can they not give credit? They cannot repent for they see no God concerning whom they have been willful and they see no God toward whom to be apologetic. They do not believe in atonement. They cannot move closer to God. They cannot be spiritually grateful for provisioning, because they don't believe that God is responsible for provisioning.

They must conclude that provisions are part and parcel of attachment, ego, desire, or will. There is though the very provision that is existence itself, including an existence that has transcended suffering. Also, suffering is a necessary part of the love it takes. They believe they owe nothing to God for the opportunity to be redeemed. In their belief system, even the ultimate heaven of Jesus remains susceptible to suffering. They don't know the ultimate heaven of Jesus.

On one hand, Buddhists claim to believe that there are gods, per se, but they say that the level of enlightenment of those gods still falls short of the Buddhist's highest level of enlightenment. These gods also are not immortal. For the Buddhists, all gods are still tainted with desire and are to some degree, therefore, still delusional concerning their own egos.

On the other hand, there are Buddhist scriptures that speak of a being, the Tathagatha, the lord Vairocana, the Bhagavat, the Samantabhadra Buddha, and other designations, far beyond the limitations ascribe to the egoist gods. These designations actually refer to a creator god.

One ought not to lump all Buddhists together.

Hinduism

As with Hinduism, Buddhism moves to remove desire for the sake of the self moving beyond suffering and generally (there are exceptions) not in being unselfish for the sake of others. Both Hinduism and Buddhism seek to break the cycle of death and rebirth or reincarnation (samsara). They see being reincarnated as a continuation of the cycle of suffering or unenlightenment.

Hinduism is too diverse to discuss in even remotely monolithic terms. Most of Hinduism admits to thousands of Hindu consecrated images representing a like number of gods. For some Hindus, these gods represent different attributes of the one God. This one god is variably considered to be among other names: Vishnu or Shiva or Devi or even Atman (soul) or Brahman.

Brahman is beyond verbal representation, but it is fair to say that there are Hindus who see Brahman as the ultimate source and eternal. Some treat Brahman as creator. Some do not. Brahman is treated as being beyond selfness. Brahman transcends existence. Some see Brahman as without attributes while at the same time, Brahman is not nothingness either. Brahman is beyond comprehension and description. Some say that Vishnu and Shiva are the manifestations of Brahman while others say that they are the supreme beings with there being no Brahman beyond or above them. Some say that there is only Vishnu while others say there is only Shiva and still others worship both. Some say that many human beings have been the manifestations of either of these deities. They are called Avatars. Some attribute to all these named-gods characteristics essentially very similar to those of Yahveh and Satan and Jesus.

Brahman, or whichever is ultimate given the denomination or individual’s preference, is also considered by many to be at one with nature. Therefore, some people say that Hinduism is nature worship. That is an oversimplification and generalizes to all Hindus, which is something one cannot rightly do. Some Hindus in this sense believe that nature is a manifestation of God just as people can be God incarnate (avatars).

God and nature

Of course, in Christianity, one is very careful not to confuse the Creator in total with just God's material creation. It is a semantical understanding or feeling where God and God's creation are the same and differentiated at the same time. God is reflected in God's creation, just as we are reflected in our fruits or what we produce through our deeds. One can see human kind in human kind’s products. However, human kind is more than human handiwork.
God is, and is not, a rock. All rocks come from and reflect God but not in total when rocks are taken in isolation. It is only when rocks are fitted in with everything else that we understand anything about them and what they say about God. It is a matter of connectedness both relative and absolute. God is the rock of ages.

Within Christianity, God maintains nature. God created nature. God can manifest in any form in nature God would choose. Humans, however, cannot make God by human handiwork.

Humans cannot fashion God. Humans can only fashion representational art forms that suggest God as more than that representation. This is what The Bible does. The words inspire us to know God as more than symbols on paper or any other medium. It communicates of God. Yet, most people understand that God is in it.

The bottleneck occurs when people say God is confined to some handiwork of humans.

Idolatry

This is where idolatry (idol worship) becomes a huge limiting and misdirecting obstacle. People cannot come to know God or become close to God or repent (return to God) if they are stuck imagining that God is limited to some handiwork of human beings. All representations must be understood in this sense. This is such an important obstacle that there are many who insist that any representation is misleading, and in fact, it is true that no human representation in fashioning materials can ever do justice to the majesty of God. As we are confident to say, Jesus did not tell us to fashion images of God. Jesus told us to worship spirit as spirit. In that way, we would not be facilitated in limiting God conceptually. Neither would we be facilitating the bottleneck for others. Only God can manifest God.

At the same time, the written word "love" on paper in The Bible is "God." This is no paradox or contradiction or inconsistency. It is both mundane and divine at the same time. This is why it is difficult for people to reconcile that that which is produced by human beings (human beings putting the inspired word on paper, etc.) is at the same time God, yet humans cannot create God. The word (the concept) was before human writing. At the same time, human writing has always been known by God. This is why scripture both informs of, and is informed by, the Holy Spirit. To reconcile this is to surrender to the infinitude of God. It is to better speak the language of the revelation. It is all context-dependent. For the revelation to make clear and plain sense to them, people must open their minds to using different and appropriate connotations of words. It is the way of it. It was done this way intentionally to separate out those who do not strive for righteousness.

As for Hinduism, it has as many conceptualizations of God as there are Hindus. This of course is the same as with all other religions. Each person knows God differently, for each soul is singularly unique even while sharing similarities or even identicalness in some contexts.
I Am that I Am

Buddhism holds that Atman (soul) is at one with Brahman as self or ego. In Christianity and Judaism, God is and will be whatever God will be: "I Am that I Am" and "I Will Be what I Will Be." For some in Buddhism, this is a form of ignorance and the root cause of all suffering. Some Buddhists sees self as an inherent willfulness but not against any being. They see will as the source of suffering. For them, belief in the self or will of anything is as believing in a figment of our imaginations and, therefore, counterproductive. It is seen as keeping ourselves attached to what continues the cycle of rebirth and, therefore, suffering.

The crux: Self-sacrifice for atonement

Other Buddhists see the Buddha-nature much the way many Christians see Christlikeness as in an at-oneness with the spirit of God. They see the essence of Buddha as the unified soul of all beings. Touching upon these matters, semantics keeps people in disunity. The question is which of all the various teachings will bear the fruit. Is self-sacrifice necessary for atonement? Jesus knew so. Is this knowledge shared by the Buddhists? Do they credit Jesus with bringing it to light?

Hindus pray to the representations or attributes of their personal choosing. These images are a distraction and misdirect people away from the single vision or focus necessary for universal repentance that can only come when all have acknowledged the one living God, the spiritual Father of Jesus. This, along with the knowledge that worshipping of the very idols themselves as if the idols are imbued with power is mere superstition, is critical to bringing those of Hinduism and Buddhism to conversion that is conflation. There are Hindus who are opposed to worshipping idols, however. Don't lump all Hindus together. As with the religion of Christianity, there are many, many denominations within Hinduism and Buddhism.

Not paths but path to God

The revelation of Jesus came after the Vedas (Hindu scriptures) were written, just as it came after the Biblical Old Testament. It is a further enlightenment. The revelation came after the Upanishads, which are commentaries on the Vedas. One of the main philosophies that further develop the Upanishads is called Vedanta. Central in this philosophy is that all religions are paths to God. This is akin to the Zen Buddhism conceptualization of one mountain with many paths to the top. Many people professing Jesus hold to this notion as well.

Well, seeking truth is the beginning. However, because of the centrality of the Biblical prophecy concerning the whole of humanity, regardless, therefore, of all nationalistic tendencies, and because of Jesus's fulfillment of those prophecies and his miraculous works of God, and because of his willingness to atone by crucifixion and his resurrection, Jesus is the only path to godliness. His is the only living example of the type and degree of love we must have to attain worldwide and universal salvation, which is liberation from suffering but even more that necessarily attends liberation.

Worshipping many different gods, even if those are conceived as attributes of the one God, keeps one from acknowledging Jesus, or properly crediting Jesus, with being the one and only human being to come in perfect fulfillment of the prophecy for all peoples, fulfilling the aspirations of all truth seekers. If one may worship any one of many thousands, or theoretically limitless, deities, one is not obliged to focus upon the message as given and lived by Jesus Christ. One misses the unifying power of the Holy Spirit who comes to dwell within informing one of all the truth one needs to understand how selfishness is the limiting factor of existence.

To truly know self is to be unselfish. It is to give and share freely and hold all things in common as gifts from God. If one is led astray into imagining that he or she may rightly worship any one of limitless deities, that one has been misdirected away from the unity of God. God is alive of God's own living spirit that is breathed into us animating our flesh but can also be breathed into us making us truly alive in spirit beyond flesh. One misses the parental nurturing aspect of God. One misses the truth that unselfishness is the path to understand one's part in the whole of godliness.

This is not to say that Hinduism and Buddhism do not grasp that there is more than meets the mundane eye. Both are ripe for conversion. Both are just a step away from recognizing Jesus for what Jesus truly was versus how Jesus has been incorrectly portrayed by both the churlish (conservative) usurpers of the faith (who worship mammon and indulge in materialism, violence, villainy, and the other iniquities) and by the false liberals (who distort liberalism as being a license to vileness).

Taking the step to the acknowledgment of Jesus is the beginning of the one path to conflation for the Hindus and Buddhists with the real Christians. It is how the spirits of all may begin to unite here and now. Having all the disparate gods retards that or makes it impossible. For thousands and thousands of years, the Hindus have had all their different gods. Look at the fractured fruit. Look at Hindu conservatism and their error of nationalism, what is called Hindutva (Hinduness, Hindu principles).

Aryan Invasion Theory

Hindu nationalism is partly a backlash against the Aryan Invasion Theory. The early languages of the Persians and the Indians were Avestan and Sanskrit respectively. They have characteristics that have suggested to linguists a common parent language. In addition, all the European languages share characteristics that strongly suggest the same lineage. Since languages are assumed not to spring up independently with such a pattern of shared characteristics, it has been assumed that a common ancestry, as in DNA, directly corresponds with the language development or evolution. It is assumed that peoples migrated taking their language roots with them and sharing and merging those with the languages of earlier or indigenous peoples. The Aryan Invasion Theory holds that peoples to the northwest of India migrated or invaded Northern India bringing with them the Vedic (Hindu) religion. Many consider the Vedic religion to be too sublime to have come from what they claim to be an inferior breed of people they identify as all the castes below the Brahman caste. These theoretical Aryans have been variously associated with the root stock of the Persians or peoples from the Caucasus or by some even farther north or west covering what is considered the territories of Germanic peoples. The notion is that these people became the Brahman class or highest caste in Indian society and the Hindu religion. It is from these theories that racists and imperialists justified their eugenics programs and ethnic-genocide campaigns. It is with this type of elitist, arrogant thinking here that the likes of Hitler and Churchill find common ground for their racist, bigoted, and eugenics tendencies.

It is notable that neither Hebrew nor Arabic is part of this language family. Using this and other notions, racists such as Hitler conjured up their conspiratorial concepts rather than just learning to discern the fruit, and therefore spirit, of each individual person.

Racists

Racists lump all offspring together as good or bad by virtue of flesh-and-blood. It is a grievous error. They believe in national genetic predispositions rendering their entire nationality inherently superior to all the individuals of other nationalities. It denies the spiritual potential of individuals regardless of race or ethnicity. Jesus, however, accepted peoples of other than his nationality for their individual spiritual faith. It is recorded in the Gospels to shine the light of truth down through the millennia.

Jewish financiers and Hitler

Hitler thought that Jewish financiers had pulled the rug out from under the Germans in World War One. Some Jewish financiers no doubt took selfish advantage of the war situation. What ethnic group is clear of such selfishness? I know of none. Hitler claimed the big lie was that the Germans had lost the war on the battlefield. Many wars are won and lost on and off the battlefield. Hitler read many works that were critical of Jews in an invidiously discriminating way. The authors did not take people one at a time: Individually. If one Jew did something wrong, all Jews had to be evil. However, that same standard was not applied by those authors to their own ethnic groups. Hitler would not have said for instance that if one German did something wrong, all Germans were evil. It is hypocrisy. It is falsehood. It is unenlightened. For Hitler and others who shared his racist beliefs, and there were millions, "the Jews have known better than any others how falsehood and calumny can be exploited." He wrote that in his book, Mein Kampf. Hitler also wrote, "Schopenhauer called the Jew "The Great Master of Lies.""

Arthur Schopenhauer and Hitler

Arthur Schopenhauer was a great fan of the Hindu scriptures. He read them before going to bed. You see, it all ties together in insane method. Schopenhauer, whom Hitler admired greatly, expounded that the will is the force behind existence. Well, it is. However, it is God's will and not the human will alone that is that force. Hitler's thinking was astray. Human will in opposition to God is mistakenly viewed as a positive thing going all the way back to the earliest apostate religions of Mesopotamia, a focal point of mystery religions. It influenced the paganism of Europe, the Germanic peoples, and Hitler.

In real Christianity and in the more enlightened interpretations of both Hinduism and Buddhism, such will or desire (lust or appetite) is a great negative. It is attachment to the ephemeral, fleshly, and devouring condition. Christians, however, see the will of God as pure and eternal righteousness.

Hitler's bigotry saw all Hebrews as being of the seed of Satan (non-Aryan). All Jews were slaves to lying for their own sake. The social Darwinism (survival of the fittest within human society) of the day also contributed greatly to the philosophical and religious errors of Hitler and the hundreds of millions who shared his beliefs to one degree or another. The concept of Manifest Destiny (it is the Aryan nation's destiny to rule the planet with all others being the servants and slaves of the Aryans) also played a negative hand as well.

Hitler saw all Hebrews as being guilty of their own superiority complex in their interpretation of their scriptures that it is their destiny to rule the planet with all others being the servants and slaves of the Hebrews. It is misinterpretation all the way around.
Hitler had much the same reaction and approach as Mohammed in coming up with a rival ideology and religion. This is all why Hitler believed that the self-styled superior caste in India had to come from the same stock as the Aryans and they had to have taken the Vedic religion with them into India. He and those who shared such beliefs were desperate to have a rival ancestry to the Jews. The Vedic religion is after all extremely ancient even predating Abraham it is believed. Also, it is why Hebrew does not share the language roots of the Indo-European languages. The Hebrews were not of that superior stock in Hitler’s mind and the minds of those who stimulated his thinking. Of course, the New Testament itself discusses the negatives of being a nonbeliever or a lip-service believer and of the same satanic spirit as those who murdered the prophets.

Hebrews and the noble lie and big lie

Now Hebrews today expound the noble lie and big lie just as Hitler did who claimed the Jews had been doing it since the beginning. Those Hebrews who hate the noble-lie and big-lie usage are made to suffer on account of those who subscribe to such usage. It pushes many Hebrews away from repentance. It is counterproductive and evil. It is antichristian. All the imperialistic corporatism, global capitalism, noble lie mentality, etc., is tied together around the world in conservatism that negatively impacts upon the entire planet. We all must overcome this disease of the soul. The greed at its base seeks any route to the supremacy of evil. It is even now hiring people of all different ethnic backgrounds and combining people of all different religions just to disassociate itself from its exposed past. It is now trying to get people of all different ethnic and religious backgrounds to adopt its greedy spirit, because it saw that its racial-purity ideas had failed and were held in ill repute. We must counter this movement by making clear that the spirit of righteousness cuts across all ethnic and racial lines (bloodlines) just as does the evil spirit of lust. This is the struggle for the souls of humanity.

Shah Bano case

Even the major issue of personal religious laws in India would be moot if all would convert. Jesus said that divorce wasn't always so. The Shah Bano case should never have arisen in India, because a husband should not feel free to walk away without the Biblical cause of infidelity. Islamic personal law allows for no cause. A Muslim just said the word "Talaq" three times in front of witnesses in 1978 and walked away divorced from his 62-year-old wife leaving her without support. The Indian Supreme Court said he must support her. The then ruling political party of India, the Indian National Congress (the Congress Party), overturned the court in parliament. The nationalistic and conservative party, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), meaning the Indian People's Party, saw that action as pandering to the Muslim vote or appeasing the Muslims. It gave rise to strong Hindu nationalistic sentiments. Those seen as pandering argued for equal protection of the law for Muslim women while they hypocritically failed to address the issue of equality for Hindu women.

Babri Mosque destruction

The Babri Mosque destruction never would have taken place either. The Babri Mosque was destroyed in 1992 by an inflamed Hindu nationalist throng of some one million. The mosque, they say, was built upon the site of an earlier Hindu temple to commemorate Rama, an avatar or incarnation of Vishnu. In this sense, Jesus would be an avatar of Yahveh. It is known for sure as of this writing that literally thousands of Hindu temples were destroyed by Muslim invaders of Hindu territory and that many mosques were built upon those cites.

True to form for the teachings of Mohammed, starting in the A.D. 700's (8th Century), many Muslim invaders smashed idols, slaughtered Hindu worshippers, sold many Hindus into slavery, forced many Hindus to convert to Islam, burned Hindu and Buddhist libraries and villages, looted the conquered territories, and imposed protection taxes, among other things. The Hindu nationalist's memory or lack of forgiveness is very long. Many Muslims are not particularly repentant about these things that happened in India, just as they are not repentant about their other military imperialistic invasions of other territories throughout the centuries. This is not to excuse the militarism of Hindus or anyone else though.

Mohammed's teachings and personal examples are the problem. His teachings and examples are the impetus behind the recent slaughter by Muslims (Janjaweed) of tens of thousands of Black African Christians and other non-Muslims in the Darfur region of far western Sudan. It is the impetus behind the continuing persecution of Hindus in Bangladesh. The list goes on. Of course, Muslims suffer persecution as well.

Look at the threat of violence on the Hindu borders. How can there be a Hindu-manned military? How can there be a Hindu nuclear weapon? Where is ahimsa or pacifism or doing no harm in that? There is something wrong with the path that has led to this impasse. Where is the feeding of all? How are there starving Hindus while there are Hindus who are getting fat? Where is heaven on this plane of existence? The world must conflate to bring about an end to war and famine, etc. It can do so only by the one true spirit. We were shown how from the cross. Why deny it?

Common ground with Hinduism and Buddhism from which to start

Are there similarities among Hinduism, Buddhism, and Christianity enough that the Hindus and Buddhists can convert by seeing that Jesus is the fulfillment? As stated above, the answer is yes. They share many virtuous aspirations. Jesus alone though did the actual work of God on earth in the flesh. He alone fulfilled the prophecy.

Gurus

The Hindus have their gurus. Gurus are teachers with disciples. Of course, this is basic.
Jesus taught and his followers learned and then went on to teach others. Hence, the Gospel (good news) is taught.

Om

Om or Aum is a sound. The Hindus hold that all existence is vibration. All is in motion relative to all other tangible matter. This is born out by mundane science. Scientific theory speculates that all is vibration as well. For the Hindus, Om or Aum is the first sound or vibration from which all vibration arises. Om is truth. Om is transcendental. It is known on the intuitive level. It is the name of God for some Hindus or the closest approximation humans are able to attain.

In Hinduism, they believe that the truth is God. They believe that God has many names but they all resolve to the truth. That is true in real Christianity as well.

For the Christian as well, God brings forth existence or creation by sounding, so to speak, things into existence. They are vibrating and existing, perceptible on this manifest level of consciousness. Of course, sound communicates. It is the basis for our language of words. It does not have to be in words, per se. We hear crying and understand. We hear screams and understand. We hear the effects of the weather and may understand.

Now, in Christianity, The Bible says, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." (John 1:1). Elsewhere in this work, we have seen that the name of God is revered beyond measure, holds all power and, therefore, the greatest of meaning. Of course, God transcends sound and all things created by God. What was that word that transcends sound and all creation? It was, and is, all that is true, life, love, peace, the way that Jesus showed the world to save it.

Also, God created by saying let there be.

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light: and there was light. (Genesis 1:1-3).

Now, we do not want to become hung up on the beginning of the Book of Genesis. Here is a prime example of words that must be taken in very open-minded, poetic connotations reflecting reality in ways that can easily pass human understanding. Consider the fullness of the words "without form, and void." This was not the formed and filled planet Earth. How does one conceptualize the "waters" and the firmament of heaven within that context? What are we to read between the lines? Is "darkness" here also the darkness that is the absence of enlightenment? Is the light both photons and truth?

Photons are said to have no mass or matter. Is the light that is photons more than representational of truth?
What is the chronology of the first three verses of Genesis? Can it be tied to any chronological measurements as those are commonly understood by humanity or does it speak of a transcendent time that no theoretical physicist has even dreamed of? We accept it as is. We are not to be arrogant about it. It is revealed to us in how it moves us and can be tied in with our other readings of the scripture. It is art. It speaks to the truth of crediting God and only God for existence.

No doubt, when all is said and done and all the words are understood in the fullest context, Genesis will be found to reflect what actually happened. The figurative and literal will meet in the truth. It truly should not be a point of contention where agreements to do the clear and plain work of God break down as so obviously they have. Where's the fruit of all the fracturing? It is all the denominations and all those things left undone which ought to have been done.

Mantras

For the Hindus, mantras are akin to prayers, but efficacy lies in the very effect of the vibrations. Mantras are sound-symbol combinations. They represent name-forms. Everything has a name that corresponds with its form. The mantra can be repetitive. That becomes chanting. The mantra can be counted, as with the Roman church's rosary beads. In addition to the Roman church's use of beads, there are Anglican prayer beads or Christian prayer beads. The Eastern Orthodox use a prayer rope for similar purposes and repeat the same Jesus Prayer over and over sometimes for hours. Now, it must be said that Jesus specifically said not to do this. "But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking." (Matthew 6:7). The effect of these Christian mantras and chants is mundane.

Dharma

Dharma is right action. It is doing one's duty. It is sort of the Hindu version of the indwelling of the Holy Spirit (the conscience) that guides one to do the divine will that is the divine law. It is leading to oneness, and, therefore, righteousness and truth. In a sense, Dharma emanates from the source that is Brahman.

In Buddhism, however, in a very general sense Dharma is simply the teaching of the Buddha.

Karma

Karma in Hinduism and Buddhism is cause and effect. It is about the consequences of behavior. If one does one's duty that is right action (dharma), one will have good karma or good spiritual results. They say all of one's deeds will determine one's circumstances in the next reincarnated life if one is not liberated from the cycle of death and rebirth. We reap what we sow, and we make our fruit either good or bad. These are nearly verbatim Christian tenets in Hinduism. In Hinduism, contrary to Buddhism, karma requires the divine being to mete out the consequences of behaviors. Judgment Day in Christianity is when all will be divided into the goats and sheep or unbelievers and iniquitous versus the believers and righteous. It will be the day of the resurrection of the just into eternal life that will, therefore, be free of future deaths.

In Christianity, the essence of truth itself is the judge. We get what we deserve, perfectly, justly, in the end.

And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind? Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. (John 9:2-3).

Jesus went on to heal him. That was the work of God that was made manifest in the blind one.

He had been blind so he could be healed right then and there by Jesus through God and before the eyes of the disciples to spread the good news (all its implications).

The disciples were raised to imagine that there is a one-to-one mundane correspondence of sin to suffering in this worldly life.

Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Exodus 20:5).

How can this be reconciled?
Overcoming the impact of the generations

There is a cycle that occurs over a span of three and four generations. The generations are born with parents as teachers who have undergone the effects of the previous generation. The impact of that teaching appears to result in a historical pattern. It is a conditioning effect that has historically taken about four generations to cycle through and appears to some to see a great upheaval every four generations or so. It is the pendulum swinging from the mundane right to left and from the mundane to the spiritual. This effect has been written about by Neil Howe and William Strauss in their book Generations and in other of their books. This incorporates the notion of the term "Generation-X."

Citing these authors should not be construed as a blanket endorsement of their work. They subscribe to the mistaken notion that the World War II generation of the United States was the greatest US generation as put forth by former NBC Nightly News anchor Tom Brokaw. That generation has been lauded for being more patriotic and self-sacrificing by most readily heeding the call to war. That is not the sign of greatness. Turning the other cheek constitutes greatness. Blessed are the peacemakers of any generation.

Moses was eighty when he went back to Egypt to free the Hebrews. He then spent forty years with them in the wilderness. All the adult males born in Egypt died during that forty-year period in the wilderness with the exception of Caleb (the son of Jephunneh of the tribe of Judah) and Joshua (the son of Nun of the tribe of Ephraim). Joshua became the leader of the nation after Moses. Moses had a greater impact upon all the descendents than did those parents who died in the wilderness. This was to prepare those descendents in a way that would not have been otherwise possible. It eliminated the naysaying parents and showed their descendents that God is their salvation.

This generational handing down of falsehood (uncleanliness; selfishness) can, therefore, be overcome.

The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin. (Deuteronomy 24:16).

But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge. (Jeremiah 31:30).

The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezekiel 18:20).

The pendulum is to stop swinging back and forth from false conservative to false liberal. The generations are to stop cycling as seasons of history (saecula). The next great tribulation is to end with real understanding that will spread over the generations and be maintained as never before. The awakening is to start before this coming crisis. Unlike in times past, the connections and patterns are to be made and seen on a wide scale before the tribulation hits hard. It is to be a quantum leap in grasping the revealed truth.

The blind man about whom the disciples asked Jesus was not blind due to his or his parents' iniquity. He was blind so that Jesus could heal him.

Human beings do not overcome iniquity and consequently it's a chain down the generations until righteousness is the backlash. It is humans doing it to themselves by choosing evil over righteousness. The evil is for us to break (break the cycle; overcome selfishness). Then healing will take place for the innocent and sinner alike.

In the case of the particular blind man, his blindness was primarily and directly so that this blind man could be given sight to bear witness to the divine light that healed him. His suffering was a blessing in disguise until Jesus shed his light into him. Then it became a blessing no longer disguised and no longer in the form of suffering. Those around him had their ignorance reduced concerning the divine. This is not to say that nothing was wrong that he was blind. He never would have been blind had there not been a need for Jesus to manifest the work of God in him. It was due to all iniquity that it was for a sign to a hardhearted generation so that that hardhearted generation would know that it sins: Have no excuse of not having been told and shown plainly and clearly in a way that they comprehend. They both did and did not comprehend, as has been shown in Jesus's teaching and elaborated upon in this work. It was so that the sheep could be clearly separated from the goats, so that they, the sheep, could be delivered from evil. It was to make the softhearted known versus the hardhearted. It worked. Those who believe are those who are softhearted enough to do so.

Therefore, the Hindu concept of karma, in view of the consequences of a sinful nature in Christianity, is not as some law of mundane science. As Christians, we are talking about the emotional reaction of God (love) to the overcoming spirit (love) in human beings.

There were present at that season some that told him of the Galilaeans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galilaeans were sinners above all the Galilaeans, because they suffered such things? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. (Luke 13:1-5).
Why did those particular people die? Was their karma worse than all others who were not so killed but lived on? Jesus says no. They did though die. They died without the Holy Spirit apparently else Jesus would not have said "ye shall all likewise perish." They had not sufficiently repented. They remained iniquitous. They were not worthy to escape that death of flesh and spirit.

Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man. (Luke 21:36).

They had not been adequately warned or they did not adequately comprehend were they properly warned.

If the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand. (Ezekiel 33:6).

No blood require at Jesus's hand

Jesus didn't deserve the crucifixion in the mundane sense, but he was rewarded with what he deserved for going through it for the divine reason he went through it. The duality is not a contradiction. He was blessed to have been the one to go through it. He was the watchman who warned loudly and clearly. They murdered the messenger of God. They killed the watchman.
for doing his duty even knowing he would be murdered for it. Jesus was blessed that he could go through with it. Now he is glorified for having glorified God by showing the way, the immense love that is required one for another and for all, in order that we should be saved. Many heeded and were spared the tribulation in the flesh and spirit.

Also in some forms of Hinduism, the grace of God can redeem those with a past of bad karma (bad deeds or iniquity). For such Hindus, it is a simple step to convert and conflate.

Bhakti

Bhakti is the love of the divine. It is seen as the path to deliverance or what the Hindus call liberation. This is close to the great commandment in real Judaism and Christianity. The only question is whether or not one is loving the one and only living God.

Moksha (liberation)

Moksha is liberation from samsara (the endless cycle of rebirth) into nirvana (blowing out, extinction, the opposite of conflation) or samadhi (oneness with God, conflation). Unlike in Christianity, the self ceases to exist. In Christianity, the self unifies with God who is alive. The Atman or Brahman for many Hindus is beyond life. This is more a matter of semantics. There are Hindus who subscribe to the breath-of-life principle. Each person has the divine spark so to speak. Some are enlightened to know it while others cannot grasp it in its divine origin.
Renunciation

Renunciation is also part of the path to moksha or liberation. Renunciation is close to the separation or division process in real Judaism and Christianity. It is as the forsaking of all worldly things and relationships Jesus said is required for anyone to be his follower. In Christianity, one is to hate the iniquity in oneself (hate oneself) and in one's relatives and in all of humanity. One is to separate oneself to God. At the same time, one is to love one's neighbors (everyone). As explained elsewhere in this work, that love is in order to show the way out of that state of iniquity we hate.

Ahimsa

Ahimsa is Hindu and Buddhist pacifism. It is the belief in doing no harm. This is the same as the teaching of Jesus to not resist evil, turn the other cheek, never pick up the sword, love those who call one enemy, return kindness for hatred, etc. However, there are Hindu gods of war. In Christianity, there are so-called avenging angels even though there is no vengeance by any Christian, only mercy and forgiveness.

Vegetarianism

Ahimsa is also connected with the vegetarianism of the Hindus. It is good that one reduce the taking of life, the devouring of life, because it is more so unselfish, leaving more for all others and simply reducing the spirit of killing in general that also reduces the inclination to kill one's fellow human beings if one is consistent. Fasting from animal life is also helpful in conditioning the mind to deny oneself. It makes the soul and spirit better prepared not to fall to temptation in general. However, it must be remembered that vegetation is living matter. We live off the shedding of life that comes from God no matter what we eat. Therefore, we must be thankful for the life that is given to sustain our own fleshy lives. We are of, in, and live off God's creation. We are of the spirit of life and live off that spirit. We are, if we accept it, being prepared to live on a higher plane. We are being made worthy.

Caste system

Hinduism also admits to the reprehensible caste system. This is elitism practiced by those of the incorrectly designated higher castes. In Hinduism, there are four castes or classes of people supposedly born into their class based upon the virtuousness of their prior life. Below the four is the casteless, or classless, group commonly known as the untouchables.

Now, in Christianity, people born into any circumstances may rise out of those circumstances by being reborn of the Holy Spirit. They are not stuck in some class for the duration of this life.

The perpetuation of this caste system was and is designed for the sake of the upper classes. It was, and is, meant to keep people down so that they, the upper classes, may remain relatively up. It is an exercise in ego that has no place in Christianity. Therefore, all those who are considered untouchable and all those of the four classes are to see through the selfishness inherent within the caste system and repent of it. Untouchables exist because other human beings have oppressed people. They do not exist because they were greater sinners in a previous life.

Jesus was born into the family of a carpenter. He rode into the center of the Jewish world, Jerusalem, on a donkey. He did not wear fancy clothes. He was not interested in having the front-row seat. His humility was genuine and not vanity. Under Hinduism, Jesus would have come into this world under his lowly circumstances due to his bad karma in his previous life. However in Christianity, anyone to whom the word of God comes is of God.

The life of Christ refutes the caste system.

This caste system or class structure is evident throughout the world. In the United States and other capitalistic societies, the classes are based upon income and accumulated worldly wealth. It is equally reprehensible as the Hindu caste system based upon bloodlines.

None of this is to say that all Hindus subscribed to the caste system. There are Hindus who are closer to the kingdom than others of course, as is the case throughout all religions and within Christianity itself. Some Hindus rightly believe castes were never justified. They believe that one's deeds determine what one is. They do not believe that one is born into a class to be stuck there regardless of one's righteous deeds. This is closer to the kingdom.

Many Hindus have instituted affirmative-action programs in an attempt to atone for the past sins of the Hindu caste system. These attempts at liberalism would not be seen as necessary were all to convert and repent. If all were given and shared freely, there would be no competition of rights. People would not argue ad nauseam about their selfish rights being impinged upon by affirmative action. Such competition is inherent hypocrisy.

This whole thing is part and parcel of the old bloodline (genetics) versus spirit argument that goes back to the beginning. It is seen throughout The Bible. It is seen throughout mythology and religion. This work has mentioned its influences throughout. It is central to the enlightenment and revelation that the bloodline notions be overcome by the spirit. It is the same as with birthrights being based upon birth order. It is the same as with gender-based birthrights. It is the same as with all the rest of the human traditions that have not come from God. They are all ungodly precepts.

Capitalism too creates a caste system

Now, many capitalists will say that they too believe that the caste system is reprehensible. However, capitalism does not hold out righteousness as the fruit but rather selfishness. Capitalism calls for acquisition, accumulation, and hoarding. These are hypocritical positions considering a view that the caste system is inherent darkness. Capitalism set up economic classes. It is crookedness. It is far from the kingdom. It is the system of the American founding fathers. They could not overcome their selfish aspirations to build aristocratic personal estates even with slaves (a caste).

All men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

Therefore, the members of the Continental Congress, the signatories (signers), attested in writing that it was the consensus of the American founders that slaves were not human beings. How unenlightened and antichrist was that? Now, it must be stated that both Thomas Paine and Thomas Jefferson were openly against the continuation of slavery. However, Jefferson continued to own other human beings throughout his life.

The Hindu religious caste system and the economic-class system that necessarily follows from capitalism are both unacceptable.

Now, with all the tenet similarities and seeming few dissimilarities, the problem here for the Christian in conflating with Hinduism or Buddhism lies in equating Yahweh with the continuity of The Bible revelation. To have some sort of ecumenical movement to accepting the gods of Hinduism or in accepting Buddhism the Christian would have to disown the truth that salvation lies through the Biblical revelation that is absent from the Vedas (the original and central sacred text of Hinduism) and other Hindu text and the Buddha's teachings. There simply are not many paths to the truth. Either the Biblical prophecy is true or it is not. Either Jesus is the one and only Messiah of the whole world, all nations, or he is not. Either God our Father, the God and Father of Jesus as Jesus taught, will be the one and only God over all the nations of the world or he will not. It is not that God is not the God of the people of Hinduism and Buddhism. He is. They just don't all know it. They just don’t all know that they must come to the one God through Jesus. They won't get there through anyone else.

The crucifixion and resurrection are both necessary, among the other truths about Jesus, in order to grasp the kind and degree of love that is necessary for holiness. All must get over nationalistic and ethnocentric conscious and subconscious inhibitions. After all, God chose Jacobs descendents to record for us both the good and the bad, and what a stark lesson it has been.

Belief in God the creator, the one and only living God (the God of Jesus) and in the incarnate Messiah will be vindicated before the eyes of the Hindus and the Buddhists and all other religions. The prophecy will be fulfilled.

One cannot cover Hinduism with any justice without discussing their original sacrament, soma, a hallucinogen. Truth be told, this is the origin of the images or idols with multiple arms, a hallucinogenic vision.

We are chemicals (but more), and chemicals effect us. Within a certain context, a certain sense, everything is chemical by virtue of interconnectedness and interdependence within that context. This is why the alchemists have always sought to control all matter and still do seek it on all levels, on the mystical level of Hermes to the Pentagon.

Jesus though said that all that direction is misdirected. Pure righteousness, which means complete faith, is the path, not the force of the Pentagon or anyone else who doesn't know the source, God.

Hallucinogens create a strong altered state of consciousness. While this can expand the consciousness, it can also lead to breakdown. It is no myth that with strong doses, people jump out of buildings to their deaths thinking that they can fly under that influence or to commit suicide because of the evil unleashed in confusion, fracturing their souls. This is why the CIA used overdoses of LSD and other hallucinogens on people and restrained them, to break them down into vegetables. Consider the satanic implications.

Today, there is a push to get people to go down the path of hallucinogens. It is a cover for ulterior motives. Not many in this push are cognizant that others clearly seek to breakdown moral barriers so they may take evil advantage of people. They want sexual and other inhibitions to be cast aside so they may unleash their harmful lust, their selfish, un-bonded, disloyal appetites for chemical stimuli over righteous deeds. It is hedonism at its heart.

Of course, the extreme in the other direction would forbid the flesh form ingesting anything even where there is insufficient faith to sustain the soul. Even Jesus drank wine and ate food.
This then is a matter of discernment. The Holy Spirit, if asked and listened to, will inform one of the lines across which not to cross and how to develop the faith necessary to overcome the limits of the flesh.

Gnosticism, some background

Gnosticism is not the way either for the simple reason that it rests upon the so-called noble lie, even if many, most, or all Gnostics were to believe otherwise. I will explain further on.

Why does Gnosticism gain any credence with people? Bear with us. We will cover much set-up material and then discuss Gnosticism directly based upon it.

Constantine I

Jesus taught pacifism. Paul spread the Gospel (good news) to Rome. Paul was a Jew and a Roman citizen. In the third century A.D., the Roman Empire was severely fractured and near collapse. It was significantly restored through numerous battles leading up to the time of Constantine I. In A.D. 324, Constantine became the sole emperor of the relatively restored Roman Empire.

Earlier, in 312, Constantine had claimed that he saw a sign. It is reported that it was the cross over the sun and with the first two Greek letters of the word Christ with them. He also reportedly saw or heard the Greek (translated into English) "By this sign shalt thou conquer" or words to that effect. Outnumbered in battle, Constantine's army took the Milvian Bridge.
over the Tiber River leading to Rome. They entered Rome as conquerors. Constantine had earlier ordered an end to the persecution of Christians in Britain and Gaul. He then did the same in the Western Roman Empire. With the "Edict of Milan" in 313, Constantine made Christianity one of the official religions of the Western Roman Empire.

In A.D. 325, the year after he took sole control of the entire empire, he convened the Council of Nicaea (conference of bishops). The council was ordered by Constantine to settle the issue of whether or not God had created Jesus (Arianism) or whether Jesus had existed from the beginning (Trinitarianism), a semantically loaded controversy that was proving a nuisance to the impatient Constantine in his Empire-building and solidifying. Out of that council came the Nicene Creed and the expression, "begotten, not made."

The terms "begotten" and "made" are only as important as they are able to move us to get on with actually doing what Jesus said, which was decidedly not building or rebuilding a military empire or empires, which was exactly what Constantine and the Roman church did in a gross distortion of the name of Jesus. They sat around debating semantics, which would have been fine had they gotten somewhere in terms of getting on with doing what Jesus said.

Now, the conservative Republicans and many liberal Democrats and others and especially the atheists will twist themselves all up in knots in semantical debates.
For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me. (Matthew 25:35-36).

That is what the nations are supposed to be doing. It is the highest priority. The American Dream is not it. The theology of some ostensible evangelicals and fundamentalists saying faith alone as they alone interpret faith is not it.

Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed. (Matthew 25:26).

Cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness. (Matthew 25:30).

Are you listening? Do you hear what he is saying? Those who do not sow or straw (do the deeds above) are cast out.

Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. (Matthew 11:29-30).

Doing what he is asking makes things better and easier than doing the American Dream and capitalism. It does that to an infinite degree. The more it is done, the better things get.
Cheat to win

Look, the only thing the capitalists can offer you is their insiders' rule that is "cheat to win." Now that may get you temporary gain provided you don't get caught cheating the wrong people, namely the conservatives; but it will land you in hell afterwards. Jesus's method doesn't do that. With real righteousness and faith, the things one needs will be added to him or her and he or she will be able to bring forth for the sake of the many and magnifying righteousness and then go on to heaven eternally. Which is better, the American Dream falsehood or the real bounty and heaven?

"Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents." (Matthew 25:28). The ones who just sit there on their faith will be out no matter how much or little they had in the way of anything. The ones who do what he said to do (physically in the world to, and for, others) will be given everything.

Redistribution

This is God saying that God is going to effect a redistribution of everything based upon deeds. This is God saying that deeds justify. This is God saying that deeds prove faith. Do you or don't you have the faith to undertake the deeds in the unity of God?

Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Psalm 2:9).

The iron rod of truth finally and eternally smashes the system of selfishness. The words of truth speak heaven into existence on earth. Those who reject the truth make of themselves the eternally lost and suffering.

What does this have to do with "begotten not made"? That's the point. Those who don't know enough to be going about doing what he said also don't know his true nature. His nature is what he did. He showed his nature. It was manifest right there in what he did. What he said was what he did. He was absolutely God, and he was the Son relative to our Father. He was fully human and fully God. He calls us to join one hundred percent.

If you want to sit around wringing your hands over the subtleties of theological terms such as modalism (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit are modes of the one God) and tritheism (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit are unified but separate to the point of being gods), you may just be sitting there doing that when the Son shows up unannounced to you the way a thief in the night catches someone unprepared.

Not only that but as soon as you join, it becomes four: Father, Son, Holy Spirit, and you. "He called them gods, unto whom the word of God came." (John 10:35). If the word of God has come to you, you are a god. Now, if that's not true, then the law was not true. If it is not true, then the writer of Psalm 82, whom most believe was David, was spreading falsehood about God. Was Jesus just making a logical defense or did Jesus subscribe to David's vision? Since Jesus goes to great lengths, as John testifies, to make known and understood the unity, it is plain and clear that Jesus subscribed. Now if you want to scream about people making themselves gods, you can have the Pharisees for your company in eternity. I'll stick with Jesus. "As the LORD liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee." (2 Kings 2:2; 2 Kings 2:4; 2 Kings 2:6; 2 Kings 4:30).

This term "gods" is contextual. Saints, angels, the host, the body, the church, the children of God, these are synonymous within context. Neither Jesus nor we mean by "gods" that there is anything other than the one God. We aren't talking about polytheism. We are talking about oneness of spirit. We are talking about abiding in God and God in us. We aren't talking about usurpation, but rather everyone being friends as Jesus said, first and last with each other, all serving all with the kind and degree of love requisite for salvation.

Think about how beautiful your whole life would have been had you been born into that: No selfishness, just everyone helping at no charge; everyone just living having what is needed without any worry over competition (anyone grabbing and depriving others); no devils.

Of course, that's not counting everyone else already there (in heaven). Jesus named a number of them (Abraham, etc.) and name groups of them, large groups (the blessed). Don't get hung up, or you won't be able to eat the real bread. Don't accept definitions by others that define you out of being able to join. Everyone is free to turn, eat, and be part of the unity who will do it. Don't get hung up on people calling this a tautology either. It's an arbitrary rule. Everything real is tautological. It's circular. If it's selfish, it's unreal, false, dead. The naysayers only imagine they understand the meaning of the language.

Just because a word is chiseled in granite by a devil doesn't mean that it rises above the level of feeling the sense-meaning for righteousness' sake. Feeling is everything. Feel God. Perceive. Apprehend. Be moved by God. Feel what the Holy Spirit moves you to do. Sort out your feelings, selfish from unselfish. Feel what are your sins to cast out by God.

The truth is that God made and created Jesus (be careful before condemning this as blasphemy for it is completely contextual) while Jesus existed since the beginning before creation. The bishops tripped all over that, because their hearts were in the wrong place. They were not focused upon the message. They were hung up on the worldly Empire. They were too busy ministering to Constantine who was no peacemaker.

Nicene Creed

Both sides of the argument at the Council of Nicaea were absolutely wrong in not seeing how to reconcile without compromise. The Nicene Creed itself says "begotten, not made" yet also says Jesus "was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man." That language has been modified in subsequent versions. He was made but not made they wrote themselves. They wrote it as a mistake, but they were actually right the first time but for the wrong reason. They didn't know how to allow for the unmade word (emotion of divine love) versus the flesh even as the flesh of Jesus was within a context (by connection) the eternal word. They didn't apply the divine logic, because they didn't have it written in their hearts. Regardless, it should be revealing to you that the point is they weren't getting on with the work. Where was the call for Constantine to turn the entire wealth of the Empire toward doing what Jesus said to be about doing? It wasn't there. They didn't do it. That is how you know who they were.

Well, the entire Empire of the United States of America ought to be turned to doing what Jesus said was what all ought to be about doing. There. It is written. Now, is Constantine going to come kill me for writing it? That's what those bishops faced. Would Constantine have killed them all to replace them with people who would have done his bidding? He wasn't faced with that, because the bishops were silent on the issue.

Now, do you credit the bishops with knowing the two or more different connotations of the word "made" in their application of the word in their Nicene Creed when they never brought forth?

Where does the creation start and stop in consideration of the different connotations of the word "made"?

Mysticism

John actually said that through Jesus, Jesus was made. This is understood by relaxing. It is understood by expanded, mind-altering word meanings. For John, the word is literally everything. Now, some call this mysticism. For those who see, John is right. John was aware. John was connected. For those who hate the implications, "mysticism" becomes a pejorative. For them, real love is something they deride.

Now, in truth, none of the current connotations of mysticism are real. They don't do justice to the true nature. The divine transcends the mundane; however, doing what Jesus asked and in full faith results in the real. It is completely perceptible to the senses in a way that the vast majority of scientist would not deny. It is not the physical sensors being unable to pickup what is happening. It is the deficiency of mind of naysayers to be truthful about what those sensors are able to pickup. It is a mental block, a spiritual block.

They keep their reality retarded so that they do not acknowledge that someone doing what Jesus said (which is faith and certainty) is doing God as immediately as anything else that any scientist does. They won't acknowledge that it is phenomena happening in their accepted natural world so it doesn't happen for them. It remains hidden from them.

The fact is that John was right. The word, the logos, the consciousness of God, manifests, and without it, there is nothing, not even so-called chaotic matter, not even an Einsteinian vacuum. Now, Jesus was fully human and fully God but not our Father while being our Father by being the word. It's not a paradox for the sufficiently softhearted. It's not a word game. It's serious. This type of thinking breaks the lock that evil has on the mind. It's all contextual. We are more than one thing at a time by being parts of the whole.
This is all where the absolute meets the relative and the infinite meets the finite everywhere and all the time and before time and before creation. It is the mind of God. It is God's perspective. It is analytical and natural and idealistic and supernatural all at once. It is means and ends as one and yet separate. It is general and specific. It is objective and subjective. It is the direct and indirect. It is light and dark (God is with you in the darkest cave if you believe it) while being pure light and nothing but. It is love and hate (hating selfishness). It is whole and parts by virtue of the harmonious relationship that is unselfishness. It is constant and forever changing. It is material and immaterial. It is not either modes or separate. It is infinitely both at once.

This is why one separates oneself unto God who is the unity of all those who so separate. It is seeing from both ends at the same time and resolved that both are true. They are self-evident. The branch and root are the one tree. The branch is tree. Separating out is joining righteousness. It is heading toward the infinite good that is the living God. Perfect unity is perfect goodness. At that point, one word literally says it all: Love. Is it cryptic and esoteric? Yes, for those asleep, hardhearted, and selfish. It is all a matter of simultaneousness.

John was not present at the Council of Nicaea. The bishops there just further confuse the issue. The logos has always been and always will be, even though historically there was a time when the word was first written down. Is this incongruous? No. Is writing a type of creation? Yes. Where were any of us before incarnation? Were we created by God? Were we forever with God before we were made incarnate? Jesus said those who go to heaven are returning.

This though is not the position of the Roman church fathers concerning the soul. They have declared that the soul begins to exist some time when incarnation begins or shortly thereafter. They are in error. Jesus said so.

When we become unified in the Holy Spirit of truth, do we join (rejoin) with God as Jesus was one with our Father? What does it mean if not that God and Jesus are in us and we in them as one spirit? Is God not then manifesting God in us his children and creatures? Where are the dematerialized souls awaiting the resurrection?

Why didn't the bishops just acknowledge that some things were over their heads? Jesus admitted that about himself when he said that he didn't know the hour of the coming destruction of the temple. The bishops couldn't admit this about themselves. There would have been nothing wrong with admitting except they feared Constantine would have had their heads until he found bishops willing to make pronouncements on things that passed their, and his, understanding. What was the fruit of their effort? The totally unchristian act of executions is how we know them.

Other issues with the *Nicene Creed

There are other issues with the Nicene Creed such as, among other things, the following: Jesus's coming again to judge, even though he said he judges no one but rather that the truth will judge (highly contextual); one baptism, since Jesus underwent more than one baptism and we are to be Christlike; where apostolic is taken as apostolic succession rather than just apostolic founding; and the resurrection of the dead (a matter of whether the word "dead" is the best term or misleading), rather than the resurrection (reincarnation or rematerialization) of those who are still very much alive in the spirit and, therefore, not dead in the divine sense and the language of the revelation.

The bishops made sweeping statements that precluded anyone from shedding light upon terms those bishops prejudged as flatly heretical and reason for excommunication and other acts. What a miscarriage of justice. They just bogged down the faith in limiting contexts. They refused to consider other sense meanings. Hence, they did not bring forth. They couldn't. Their mind-set precluded it. They were busy hunting so-called heretics rather than exemplifying in word and deed. Where's the fruit worthy of repentance?

More on Constantine I

Now, here is the real problem. Constantine's actions in empire restoration and building distorted, among other things, the central, pacifistic message of Jesus. Constantine misappropriated the faith for woeful, Hellenized, Babylonian, beastly purposes. He distorted the faith to stimulate his warriors leading them astray into being fiercer fighters than those of Constantine's rivals. The very lives of the bishops under Constantine's empire were on the line; since Constantine had supreme authority over them, won in battle, and could undermine them or worse. Coercion was a huge factor in the development of the religion. People will say that Constantine's wars brought peace, but we say that Jesus said that only peace brings peace and that that path is the only path to eternal peace. The only war to end all wars is the war going on in each person's head. Give yourself over to peace now, and be done with it.

The ecumenical councils failed

You will notice that the huge ecumenical councils didn't deal with issues such as how are we going to feed, house, clothe, nurture, visit, encourage, and help the sick, the lonely, the widowed, the orphaned, the homeless, the oppressed, and the imprisoned, etc., all over the world. Rather than do those things (giving and sharing all) that would bring forth fruit or results worthy of repentance, the bishops of those early councils dealt with what? They dealt with laying down traditions in the form of rules (canons and creeds) concerning mostly false mystical matters. They paid lip service is what they did. When will there be a real council? That is what real Christians have been waiting for since the beginning. That will be the real Church.

The church co-opted by, and which co-opted, the Roman Empire used terrible coercive measures against Christians so that Empire of greed, violence, and other iniquities continued. When the influence of the Roman Empire in the form of the Roman church reached the far flung outposts of Christianity reputedly started by apostles of Christ other than Paul and Peter,
India's Thomas Christians

A prime example concerns the Indian Christians whose churches were started by the Apostle Thomas, one of the original twelve disciples of Christ. When Portuguese Roman Catholics reached India in 1498 and found a thriving Christian culture, they sought to force the Indian Churches to accept the primacy of the Roman church and the infallibility of its pontiff. The Empire sought to turn Thomas Christians into the Empire's version of Pauline Christians. The Empire sought to force the Christians of India into accepting that Peter alone was the rock upon which the faith was founded. Of course, that meant that under the Roman doctrine of apostolic succession, Rome's pope was Peter's direct successor or heir to the throne of Christianity on earth: A terrible twisting of the revelation of Jesus. Most of those Indian churches refused to discard the truth that Thomas evangelized the Hebrews who had been scattered to India and many of the Brahmins going back as far as AD 52. Many Christians in India aligned with aspects of Eastern Orthodoxy as a buffer against the onslaught of the church of the Roman Empire. Understand that at the hands of the Roman church, many such Christians were put to the sword for so-called heresy for refusing to accept Roman domination, sheer evil.
Celtic Christians

Another example concerns the Celtic Christians of the British Isles. The Celtic Christians reputedly were proselytized by Joseph of Arimathea starting in AD 63. Joseph had been a member of the Sanhedrin and a wealthy tin trader who, it is alleged, had traveled back and forth to the British Isles to trade long before the crucifixion of Christ. He, along with Nicodemus (also a former member of the Sanhedrin), took Jesus's body down from the cross. It was Joseph's tomb where they placed Jesus's dead body. Joseph reputedly took with him on his AD 63 journey to Britain many sainted people who had known Jesus firsthand.

Pope Gregory I sent one bishop Augustine (first Roman archbishop of Canterbury) to Britain in 597 to convert the Anglo-Saxons to Roman Catholicism. Later on in this work, you will see how Gregory ordered the paganization of Rome's interpretation of Christianity. In response to Augustine's assertions concerning the primacy of the bishop of Rome, Celtic bishop Diaothus (aka Dinooth; Deiniol; Denoual; etc.; first Abbot of Bangor, Wales) responded as follows:

Be it known and declared that we all, individually and collectively, are in all humility prepared to defer to the Church of God, and to the Bishop in Rome, and to every sincere and Godly Christian, so far as to love everyone according to his degree, in perfect charity, and to assist them all by word and in deed in becoming the children of...
God. But as for any other obedience, we know of none that he, whom you term the Pope, or Bishop of Bishops, can demand. The deference we have mentioned we are ready to pay to him as to every other Christian, but in all other respects our obedience is due to the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Cærleon, who is alone under God our ruler to keep us right in the way of salvation.

Some 1200 unarmed monks of the monastery of Bangor under Saint Dinooth were slaughtered by Æthelfrith, king of Northumbria, around 613.

After centuries of pressing for dominance, the Roman church finally wore down the Celtic Christians. They were completely assimilated under the papacy and the Roman Empire that in the West had become that very Roman church. Its pope had in fact become caesar.

Against male chauvinism

Among other things that run contrary to the Roman church, the Celtic Christians have been reported as having been against male chauvinism. That is the same as with the earliest churches in and around Jerusalem. It has been put forth by Benjamin George Wilkinson in his work, Truth triumphant: The church in the wilderness,\(^\text{121}\) that the Celtic Christians refused to accept pope Gregory's papal bull (decree or edict) asserting that, as Wilkinson put it, "the first four general councils of the church were of equal inspiration with the gospels." According to Wilkinson, there were other disagreements with the Romans over forced celibacy of the clergy and which day should be observed as the Sabbath.

---

Constantine I's noble-lie, big-lie

Here is how all of this factors in with Christian Gnosticism and certain aspects of Christian Essenism as well. Anything coming out of the so-called noble-lie mentality is not only suspect but literally founded on falsehood. Jesus gave no sign to Constantine I whereby he would conquer via war. The basic premise of that lying mentality is false. Logical truth can, therefore, never be derived within that mind-set. The mind distorted by noble-lie concepts can never reach the absolute truth. The willingness to use the noble- or big lie, even thinking they are ever acceptable, precludes eternally divine righteousness. That mind-set forever falls short. It is ungodly.

In the case of the Gnostics, this presents a circular, irreconcilable problem, since Gnosticism itself is founded upon that distortion (knowingly false stories held out as true in order to excuse the inexcusable). We explain in more detail below.

The Essenes, to their credit, do not subscribe to either the noble lie or big lie. In fact, they despise such lies, as they despise all falsehood they perceive.
This noble-lie and big-lie syndrome, therefore, calls into question the degree to which the Council of Nicaea got it right with the Nicene Creed and the degree to which the translated scriptures, etc., have been deliberately or inadvertently negatively altered or misinterpreted by those in whose hands the scriptures have been handed down. You see, the reintegration of the military Roman Empire was accomplished by misappropriating the Christian religion. The power of Christ in the minds of followers was subverted for unchristian things such as warfare by the power hungry and controlling. The degree to which that twisting mind-set continued twisting is a challenge for all aspiring Christians in their efforts to sort out the truth, what is called rightfully dividing the word of truth (interpreting).

This all goes to the question of what became canonized as scripture, meaning what writings were officially endorsed by the government to be included in The Bible. This all happened within a sometimes highly charged atmosphere and always under real threat of the power of the emperor. It all goes to the question of what hidden, selfish plans and ulterior motives were afoot, whether conscious or subconscious.

How can the minds of war and worldly empire building possibly have gotten it right? Well, they did not get it all right as evidenced by the lack of bringing forth the fruit right from the beginning and by the disintegration, schisms, that followed.

The intrigue behind all of this is the reason for the current rage in Gnosticism as stimulated by such works of fiction as The da Vinci Code. Can the truth and proper interpretation and doctrine come from the willingly usurped and co-opted?
For clarity, I have not read either The da Vinci Code or any of the books written to refute The da Vinci Code. Neither do I feel compelled to do so at this time. What I know of those books is scant from what has appeared in mainstream news stories. The premise of The da Vinci Code, as stated in those news stories, based upon certain aspects of the Gnostic Gospels, occurred to me long before the book's release. The Internet already had plenty of competing websites offering up various aspects of conspiracies in and around the churches. This is not to say that there have not been dark ideas that have worked to cover over the real Christianity. Of course, selfishness has served to cover over the unselfish message of Christ. That is one of the main thrusts of this very work as can readily be seen.

Deeds, works, fruits (results), reveal, identify

As you are aware, we use the litmus test of deeds or fruit, just as Jesus instructed and used as his litmus test. If one speaks and acts consistently Christlike, one is Christlike or Christian. Otherwise, one is false in the absolute sense. The more one speaks and acts consistently Christlike the closer one is to the kingdom of heaven. The opposite, of course, is true: The less Christlike, the farther from heaven and the closer to hell. If one just talks but does not act, one is absolutely false and far from the kingdom and close to hell and Satanlike. So, we are, as Jesus was, simultaneously relativists and absolutists—these not being mutually exclusive within the revelation that is divine logic.

Therefore, while people have misconstrued over the centuries that these things are mutually exclusive, there is no reason to throw away the foundation that is Jesus or all the work of his Apostles, great and small, simply because one has been, heretofore, unable to reconcile all of what one has seen as dichotomies, paradoxes, inconsistencies, hypocrisies, etc. It simply calls for constructs consistent with Jesus's layout and designated materials. If some false structure must be removed from the perfect foundation, so be it. False tradition be damned, in other words.

So where did Constantine fall on that absolute/relative spectrum, and what did his usurpation and subversion do to further the conspiracy theorists? As soon as one knows that the faith was subverted in a huge lie such as Constantine's concerning Jesus's having sanctioned Constantine's worldly empire building that was no different from all the empire building that had preceded it and was no different from that with which Satan tried to tempt Jesus, it is certain that that was not the only lie or corruption. The door is now wide open for identifying the fruits of the spiritual (conscious or subconscious) conspiracy.

The fact of Constantine's usurpation feeds ammunition to the naysayers and Gnostics. Constantine knew that the religion of the Empire had been at one time the glue holding the masses together in subjection. He knew that Mars was used to spur them into a war frenzy when the leaders wished. That old religion was breathing its last and being displaced by Jesus's pacifism. Constantine made a conscious decision to usurp Jesus and radically to alter the faith to incorporate the widest possible acceptable messianic vision that authorized violence under the cover of righteousness. Therefore, Constantine forced the churches of the time to merge in the myths of the ancient Egyptian, Babylonian, Greek, Vedic, etc., mystery religions that cover Horus, Krishna, Mithra, etc., even Buddha, and various goddesses too.

Constantine, he thought, needed to alter the tide of Christianity to appeal to the most numbers for the sake of Constantine's army and popular appeal.

This becomes deliberately difficult for people to sort out, because Jesus in fact did fulfill at least in ultimate spirit the aspirations of those religions. It is deliberately difficult to sort out, because that sorting process is also the manner in which our own hearts are sorted out. Will we come to do the new commandment or not, despite all the baggage Constantine and his Roman Empire (church) religion attached to obfuscate the truth that is love and peace and purity?

Jesus was not known to have been born on December 25th for example. That day was the day claimed for the birth of the various messiahs of the mystery religions. Many of the aspects of those religions were exactly what Jesus came to defeat, to sort out, to separate from the hearts of his fellow human beings.
It is most important to understand that the self-styled mystery religions intentionally open the door to sexual and other depravities, caving into the uncontrolled lust of the flesh. Jesus denied himself that and called upon all of us to do likewise.

The mystery religions themselves reflect the constant battle within of the forces of light versus darkness.

The most important thing to use in gauging which religious tenets are correct is the new commandment understood in light of feeding the lambs and sheep and giving and sharing all and doing no harm, nothing to offend or mislead the little ones or anyone, sexually or otherwise.

Also, Jesus made clear that faith in God the spirit is everything we need ultimately. The created matter is not ultimately required for the soul or even good or real in the highest senses of the terms "good" and "real."

The challenge lies in cutting through all the falsehood on the various sides. This is what Jesus actually accomplished. Our job is to keep our eye on it to not be distracted. Keeping one's eye on the simple truth is the only way: How does it measure against the first and great commandment and the second like it and the new commandment of Jesus, therefore? That's it.

So, how good is the fruit that is the Nicene Creed? They argued over the nature of Jesus's divinity but what of the unrighteous mammon and what of the wars and bloodshed? Where were their priorities? They ended up killing people they labeled heretics. How could they have gotten the divinity correct? How could the exactly correct definition of Jesus's being divine be worded by those who were not inspired enough to do the very things Jesus told his followers that they must do in order to be his disciples? It couldn't be.

The entirety of the subject of subversion never ends. It is tied in with every issue. For instance concerning sexism, the ancient Greeks found the female mentality inherently deficient in matters of philosophy, which is bunk.

And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.
(Matthew 15:22-28).

She had more on the ball than the men who initially tried to dismiss her. Based upon some of Paul's writings, some people feel that Paul fell into male chauvinism and other errors to a degree. Jesus actually epitomized the opposite of male chauvinism as evidenced throughout the Gospels with all his evenhanded dealings with women. Many feel that the male-centric church altered the Gospels in an awkward attempt to downgrade female apostleship. There can be no doubt, given the track record, that gender discrimination was, and remains, very real. Antifeminism has been a strong current within philosophy and theology.

Purity of scripture

The ancient Greeks found the intellectual capacity of females inherently deficient. That viewpoint had been the prevalent view right up until those of the baby-boom generation began to latch onto the feminist viewpoint that females in general are capable of comprehending and expounding upon matters of philosophy and theology. The whole issue is tied in with many people's suspicions about the purity of scripture some of which concern the following:

- Eve being the first to fall;
- The androgyny of the angels;
- Whether or not God is of two or more genders or two or more entities each of different genders (male and female and other);

The female aspect of God that is attributed to what is called the Shekhina spirit;

The queen or goddess of heaven;

Whether Jesus was a virgin when he ascended;

Whether Jesus had been married and possibly had children;

Whether all flesh, and even all matter, is inherently evil;

Whether Jesus drank wine and ate fish or drank only pure water and was a strict vegan, even a raw fooder only;

Whether Kabbala is just a co-opting of the spirituality and mystery school, such as that of the Essenes but without acknowledging Jesus as the rightful Teacher of Righteousness discussed in the Dead Sea scrolls;

Whether Jesus was born of a virgin birth;

Whether the Son of God references were to be taken as used also of the Davidic kings (Jesus descended from the house of David);
Whether Jesus had traveled to England or India or both during the eighteen-year gap in his life in the canonical Gospels and even after his resurrection rather than ascending that he returned to India;

Whether Jesus had made mistakes in his youth (but had not sinned, because he was ignorant of the full meaning of the calling) and was the unblemished sacrificial lamb made clean by his willing and atoning heart;

Whether Jesus was the adopted Son of God, adopted upon his beginning his ministry with the symbolic water baptism by John the Baptist;

Whether Mary Magdalene wrote the Gospel of John (The Gnostic Gospels refer to her as the one Jesus loved, which is at odds with the canonized version of the Gospel of John by virtue of John 20:2 that says, "Then she [Mary] runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved." Of course, Jesus loved Mary regardless.);

And so forth.
Virgin birth

The question of whether Jesus was born of a miraculous conception is the most famous of the controversial matters mentioned above.

Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. (Isaiah 7:14).

Did Jesus's mother, Mary, conceive him asexually? Was Jesus born to Mary without Mary's ever having had sexual intercourse? Was Jesus not even the result of human sperm originating in a fully human male which seed somehow impregnated Mary's egg? If God performed the miracles of instantly healing the worst diseases of thousands of people around Jesus and if he resurrected others and Jesus from death and physically transformed Jesus and caused him to ascend, how much more miraculous is a virgin birth? Those other miracles meant complete, and often instant, physical transformation of matter beyond anything science or medicine has been able to perform. Even if people refuse to believe in resurrection or ascension, do they believe in any of the healing miracles? If one believes in even one such miracle, where does one draw the line, and why, concerning what is possible with God or has happened at God's will?

Differences matter

It is vitally important to realize that the Jews did not come up in a vacuum. They were of people intermingled with all the people of the ancient area. They heard all the religious beliefs of history and current at that given time. The religion of the known world was universal at one time. Hence, the religion of Abraham and Moses and Jesus all have things in common and in common with the other religions of the wider area. How could it be otherwise?

The differences are what matter and not what they have in common, except that those things in common are the starting place for dialogue to discover the differences and choose which is best: Jesus.

Perfect or perfecting?

Inspiration leads to perfection. The operative words here being "leads to." There is complete inspiration and then there is relative inspiration.

There is close and far from God. There is God and there is Satan. Therefore, a typo or a one-word possible mistranslation does not destroy the path to truth. If it were otherwise, the status quo would be good enough. Anyone satisfied with the state of corruption will be doomed to live in it until he or she becomes dissatisfied and turns and repents and atones and does all the good.

Those casting seeds of doubt are divisive to the real unity. Those who fall for the premise that the slightest mistake means that we are not to get back on the path set by Jesus does not know the right path and will never arrive. They are self-serving.

"One soweth, and another reapeth." (John 4:37). We are to sow and reap. We sow for others to reap, and we reap what others have sown. We are to reap what Jesus and all the prophets and all the saints have sown. We are to gather souls together. We are to work with the Holy Spirit who is God in blowing all together into real unity.

Sex

Also, sex is the lust of the flesh. It alleviates tension that builds up in the body in what many find to be an involuntary manner. The body physically produces that which causes discomfort unless released. How long does one deny oneself food or sleep or other such necessities of the flesh? The point of the virgin birth is that how could that which is pure become manifest through an act that is not denying inherently selfish sexual release. Remember that Jesus taught, "For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven." (Matthew 22:30). They don't lust after the flesh. The lustful are cast down. In the resurrection, they neither require food nor sleep. They require nothing of the flesh. They can see in the dark, and they don't even have to defy gravity since their spirit is not limited to the laws of mundane physics. This is how Jesus was lighter than water when he walked upon the water.

But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary. And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear. But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid. And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water. And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus. But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt? (Matthew 14:24-31).

They may also go through any wall or other substance.

Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. (John 20:19).

The disciples were afraid and had the doors bolted from the inside, yet Jesus entered through because he was spirit. He was also able to manifest in the flesh at will.

In the resurrection, they have overcome selfishness of the flesh (denied themselves) enough to be worthy of being transcended by the power of God.
You see how a virgin birth is certainly not inconsistent with all the miracles Jesus performed or all the miracles of the Old Testament or the general overall direction of the revelation that is overcoming the selfish appetites of the flesh.
Some people have put forth that the beginning of Matthew was tacked on later in order to put forth the asexual conception. People call the first three Gospels (which are Matthew, Mark, and Luke), the Synoptic Gospels, because they closely correspond. It has been put forth that Mark was written first and that Luke and Matthew used Mark as their basis. People think the beginning of Matthew was tacked on later possibly and probably by a different author. It contains many elements not found in any other account in The Bible. The main things not found elsewhere, other than as prophetic allusions, are, first the three kings or magi from the orient or East, second Jesus’s family’s flight to Egypt to escape murder at the hands of Herod’s agents, and third, the mass murder of "all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under."
As for the actual conception, Luke and Matthew have it this way, respectively:

And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth,
To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God. And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God. (Luke 1:26-35)

Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the LORD appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins. Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife: And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JESUS. (Matthew 1:18-25).

Paul wrote the following:

So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee. (Hebrews 5:5).

Was that in reference to the day of his baptism in water by John the Baptist and unto repentance? That baptism was right before Jesus's forty-day-and-forty-night fast in the wilderness. Then he began his highly public ministry. Was it rather the day of the impregnation of Mary? Was it the first day of the creation? Was it all three in different senses with Paul referring more particularly to one of the three? How do any of those gibe with Jesus's being the word eternal? It is all semantics not in the least irreconcilable.

Did the apostate church lie by altering the scripture under Constantine I so Jesus would be acceptable to those looking to Mithra or did Jesus actually meet the criterion being the literal fulfillment of Mithra and the others prophesied or is it both? Were Isaiah and the others, including Moses, speaking of a universal prophecy known to, and believed by, more than just the Hebrews?

Constantine's church: Inherently polluted

The prophecy of the Hebrews shared much in common with the religious assertions of the various ancient nations radiating out from Jerusalem. It was not though a one-for-one correspondence. It is true that the Roman's tacked on Mithraism to the Jesus account to twist Christianity for the worldly Empire's sake.

It matters, because the commingling causes misdirection. It dilutes the single vision and the non-hypocritical focal point of, and, therefore, the obligations under, the commandments. It allows in pollution and corruption designed to turn the people's hearts and minds toward accepting overlords rather than servants all. It is a trick, mind control, literally.
It was a very evil thing to do, because in doing so, the Empire and apostate church have muddied the waters so that people cannot completely deconstruct or reverse engineer the commingling and many consequently discard the whole Gospel as being a total ruse.

This has the same though even larger effect of turning the people's hearts and minds toward accepting selfishness rather than being servants all.

It has had the effect of so-called Christian armies. That would never be allowed by Jesus. Only the angels are authorized to harvest the tares.

Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn. (Matthew 13:30).

The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. (Matthew 13:39).

The angels are the reapers, not wrathful human beings. We are not to add to the evil or the evil consequences of evil. Everyone is to rise above the fray until there is no fray. The only way to do that is to overcome. Peace saves. War is illusory in this sense.

For many though, they adamantly refuse to view anything in the scripture in more than one sense at a time. Their refusal is very limiting for them.
It precludes grasping much. Also, for others, they adamantly refuse to consider that a sense they have been raised with may not be the sense intended by the original author of the particular part of scripture. They refuse to consider that the author's sense or senses may have been misinterpreted or mistranslated.

I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee. (Psalm 2:7).

I will be his father, and he shall be my son. If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men. (2 Samuel 7:14).

God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. (Acts 13:33).

For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son? (Hebrews 1:5).

After all the time that Paul conversed with the Apostles, especially Peter, wouldn't he have heard the doctrine of the virgin birth? If so, why would he have referred back to Psalm 2:7 and 2 Samuel 7:14 rather than Isaiah 7:14 that says, "Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel."

Acts 13:33 and Hebrews 1:5 run contrary to some interpretations of the words in the Gospels that say rather "And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." (Matthew 3:17). Mark 9:7 and Luke 9:35 say, "This is my beloved Son: hear him." The Gospels don't say, "Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee." Does the difference necessarily indicate tampering to cover over Arianism that God created Jesus or the adoption doctrine that says that Jesus was not the Son of God until Jesus turned to undertake the public ministry toiling in his Father's field unto the crucifixion, resurrection, and ascension? Can these verses be reconciled with Jesus being the word and the word being with God and being God from the beginning?

Yes. The Son of God can be manifest on Earth any time God desires while the Son can also have always existed with God in spirit. People make it difficult for themselves when they refuse to consider things from more than one perspective at a time. The issue is a nonstarter. It has always been an inoperative, semantical argument that people have used to obfuscate procrastination in doing the deeds and obfuscate the misappropriation of the faith, etc.

A person's Christianity does not rise or fall on this single point of the virgin birth. Jesus after all didn't reject those who struggled over the concept that John the Baptist as Elijah returned to make straight the way for Jesus. Even John the Baptist said he was not Elijah. Obviously context matters. Jesus was speaking in one and John was answering the question in from a different context. Spiritually, John the Baptist was Elijah just as Jesus was the Son of man and Son of God and others had been Sons of man and Sons of God. The virgin birth or directly the divine nature or substance of Jesus should never have risen to the level of the Council of Nicaea. If people were still debating the issue, they should have been allowed to continue wrestling with the ideas. The truth would have sorted things out without human hand. No one should have been executed for heresy over this or any other points of departure. Executions were unchristian and could only come as a result of apostasy and doctrinal errors of those committing such executions. Turning the other cheek, doing no violence, and giving and sharing all cannot be set aside while people argue over, and even kill over, concepts of the "substance" of Jesus and "Trinity."

It is critical that we learn to see things from multiple perspectives at the same time. After all, God sees everything from every possible perspective at the same time. It is godlier to be headed in that direction. For instance, Jesus was the only begotten Son of God. Yet he was not the only son of God. (Remember, context!)

David was the son of God during his time also, was he not? David was the anointed king of the Jews. Jesus too was the anointed king of the Jews: The rightful shepherd whose people did not recognize his voice. On another level, the sons of God have been all those anointed ones. All the kings of the Jews were anointed at least in the mundane sense. They all should have been sons of God: Should have acted accordingly that is. All the prophets to whom the word of God came were sons of God. They were all also Sons of man, as was Jesus. Jesus was the only one of his time who was the rightful shepherd of Israel, however, in all the ways one may view it. He was both the rightful king and rightful high priest of the Jews in the mundane (bloodline, genealogical sense) and more importantly, of course, in the spiritual sense, superseding David and all the other kings who ever walked the earth. He was the one and only. He was called and chosen by God, because Jesus brought forth not in self-will but in God's will that is for the good of all. He fulfilled.

Virgin, almah, parthenos, and neanis

Is the word "virgin" a mistranslation? The Hebrew word transliterated as "almah" that means "young woman" was translated in the Greek Septuagint as "parthenos." The transliterated Hebrew word is "bethulah" (often, but not always, meaning virgin) was not used. In Genesis 24:16, bethulah is though qualified with the words, "neither had any man known her." There, it obviously means a young woman also a virgin in the current sense (never having had sexual intercourse). The Greek parthenos means a young female who may or may not have engaged in sexual intercourse. Of course, there is a Greek word that does not suggest virginity as strongly as parthenos. The transliterated Greek word "neanis" means more directly young woman. Regardless of whether or not the translation meant virgin in the current sense of never having had sexual intercourse, would Jesus's teachings and deeds be any less compelling? People on each side of this issue think that their position makes heaven more accessible. In truth, the argument actually gets in the way. It is a snare.

Some who are dead set against heaven believe that the very debate proves the falsehood of the entire Old and New Testament Bible message. The truth is that the message does not rise or fall on this issue. People want to chip away at the message by knocking out a block here or there. There are those who are equally busy trying to patch away at every missing or loosened block. The people on both sides are not working for or against the real message. The naysayers or unbelievers imagine that just because there have been mistakes made by scripturalists that that proves there is no basis for any belief. Likewise, the scripturalists believe that if any aspect of the house built up over centuries by those who have not even yet brought forth the fruit should prove shaky that the whole belief system will collapse taking Jesus's words with it. Both sides are completely missing the message.

Besides, none of this addresses that the genealogies show Joseph as Jesus's father.

Regardless of this one sticking point of virginity for so many, Jesus still was who he said he was. He still did the things he did. There is no doubt, whether he was or was not born of a miraculous that God certainly has the power to do such things. This whole thing certainly has become a point of procrastination concerning doing the deeds worthy of repentance.

Some believe that the dog in the manger syndrome has caused all sorts of distortions intended to keep people from partaking of the spirit that renders them godly. They believe that all the distortions and misinterpretations have been a deliberate attempt to keep people from becoming enlightened which would make them no longer subservient to the powers that be.

A dog lay in a manger, and by his growling and snapping prevented the oxen from eating the hay which had been placed for them. 'What a selfish Dog!' said one of them to his companions; 'he cannot eat the hay himself, and yet refuses to allow those to eat who can.' – Aesop

Jesus is the real bread. We are to partake directly. The idea is that the powers that be could not and can not consciously or subconsciously overwrite all the truth. They lacked and still lack the knowledge to cover over everything. The word of truth comes through no matter their self-serving mentalities. The lack of the real fruit coming out of their deeds speaks to the inaccuracies of their interpretations and lends doubt to their translations, etc.

Feminism

Many people see conspiracy primarily on the part of the Roman church bent upon selfish plans that included and includes distorting, altering, destroying and doing all manner of other mischievous things to hide the feminism in the message of Jesus. They see this as deliberately designed to oppress females and to blame them for sin in the world. They see women being so much the object of male lust, which males have had such an obvious difficulty controlling, that therefore, women have been wrongly assigned the dubious distinction of sexual temptress. Regardless of the degree to which these views have merit, none of it is to say that many women have not used, and do not use, sex as a power or weapon. Many women have used sex as a tool for their selfish gain. It is well known. Men have as well.

Mary worship
Now, Rome will point to their Mary worship as evidence of the opposite. What it does is point out hypocrisy in that women may not lead men yet they are worthy of worship.

Jesus married?
As for Jesus having been married, it is said that the groom at a wedding was responsible for supplying the wine. Jesus turned the water into wine at the wedding.

And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage. And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece. Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it. When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew;) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom, And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now. (John 2:1-10).

From this, it has been inferred that Jesus was the bridegroom in question. From that inference, all sorts of other selectively consistent inferences have been put forth. They are selective in that they often miss something else that negates them or gives pause. Even the initial inference here is called into question by the fact that Jesus was called to the wedding. What bridegroom is described that way? What bridegroom is called in that sense to his own wedding? Is this being too literal?

Those seeing calculated, concerted conspiracies concerning the word often combine in various combinations a number of ideas such as follows:
The wedding where Jesus supplied the wine;

The male-dominated, hierarchical, historically violent, secretive, often corrupt, and unfruitful church empire;

The Nag Hammadi, primarily Gnostic codices found in the Egyptian desert in 1945, Gospel of Philip, which includes Jesus's kissing Mary Magdalene on the mouth translated by some as part of the mystery of marriage;

The fact that even the Canonical Gospels show that females were central characters in the missionary work of Jesus and were treated by Jesus in a vastly superior, more equitable if not equal way, versus the traditional treatment of women at the time and by the church thereafter;

Jesus said that it was a sin to go outside the marriage but not to be married; and,

He also made clear that for those who can be eunuchs (chaste, celibate, or castrated) for the kingdom that it is fine to be so.

These ideas are broad enough that people find similarities in other sects and religions and then jump to the conclusion that, therefore, Jesus was of those other sects or religions. It isn't what Christianity shares in common with other sects or religions that completely defines Christianity. It is also what Christianity holds apart from those others that allows Christianity to be distinct. Commonality is a starting place, but it is what is distinct and in the order of priority (the great commandment and the second like it) that must be accepted and lived for one to be truly alive in the spirit.

Doctrinal debates for the sake of procrastination

There is merit in truth seeking always, but the truth also necessitates that we be about the business that Jesus made clear that is feeding the lambs and sheep. That must be done regardless of whether Jesus was married or not or created or made or begotten or some other argued point of semantics. Of course marriage is no sin. Of course, celibacy and virginity are no sins. Is it a good thing that so many souls are arriving on this planet through sexual lust considering the dark spiritual direction in which this planet is headed and with the mounting pressures of overpopulation, the direct consequence of that selfish direction? It brings humanity closer and closer to the great tribulation and Armageddon. Are we doing souls a favor by such behavior? The sin is in not doing the work of God. Debates that serve procrastination are unrighteous. Have your debates, but feed the lambs and sheep now. Save people. Don't be in danger of damnation. Demonstrate to all how each and all should be toward each and all. In the final analysis, all debates are only as good as they lead us all to getting on with the work of giving and sharing all, taking care of those without and who are suffering, and taking care of the planet, for all of that is keeping the first and great commandment and the second like it and all the lesser commandments as well. Splitting hairs while those things go undone is not keeping the commandments at all. It is absolute unrighteousness.

Gnosticism, directly

This climate of endless debate and procrastination is that in which Gnosticism is attempting a comeback. As with any other religion, there are various sects within Gnosticism. Not all Gnostics believe the same thing. There is though a general theme. They believe that the God of the Old Testament was an evil God, not the same God as the God of the New Testament; however, this is misleading, because Jesus said the following:

And as touching the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? (Mark 12:26).

Jesus refers to his God, his Father, as the same Old Testament God, misunderstood by the hardhearted then, as now, as always. The Gnostics calling themselves Christians cannot have it both ways. Satan is the accuser of God and hates God's sons and daughters. Gnosticism originated with those who were against the God of Abraham. The Gnostics cannot believe on the name of Jesus and decry the God of Jesus at the same time. They cannot call Jesus the Christ and also hold the position that the one from whom Jesus said Jesus descended is evil. Make no mistake, the one Jesus calls Satan and the one the Gnostics call Satan are not the same. They are reversed.
The serpent in the garden according to the Gnostics was a great benefactor (eye opener as to human potential) and the real true voice. It is, however, the unbridled and arrogant humanist voice drowning out the real liberal, humanitarian. The serpent was the sexual beguiler. He (his spirit) tempted, and still tempts, people with lust. They caved, and still cave, into his temptations. It placed, and still places, doubt and shame in people's hearts. God warned us, and still instructs us, to forego such confusion.
The Gnostics cause confusion about the meaning of the word "world" as used by Jesus.
They want the word to mean all matter. Jesus used it as meaning there is the world as it is now that is full of evil and then there is the world as it will be after the evil is gone out of it. It will still be the planet and the physical universe for a time, even though God transcends that matter.
To the Gnostics, we are in a fallen condition that includes every last thing about where we are since it is all subject to the moth and rust and the like. However, the material body of Jesus was transformed and ascended. To the Gnostics though, this body cannot be made perfect. They deny Jesus was even human. They view this creation as a grotesque reflection of the perfect.
It is very Platonistic.
Based upon this distorted Platonistic thinking, they labeled the creator as an incompetent, self-deluded spirit and the creator of all that is inherently grotesque, incapable of the perfect. They just do not understand the nature of consequences within God's plan for our edification.

Well, people are still taking the bait and are being hooked all the time. Who needs God said the serpentine voice. Sin entered. Knowing selfishness entered. They were cast out of the literal and proverbial garden. They died and their offspring surely still die physically and spiritually, contrary to the serpent's assurances. They must sweat and toil for their bread when before it was not so. There was food a plenty on all the trees free for the eating, just do not become selfish. If they do not repent and see the light, overcoming the temptation of the lying serpent, they suffer the consequences. Their souls go into the proverbial bottomless pit and then the lake of fire or outer darkness forever if they never turn.

But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. (Genesis 2:17).

The Gnostics read this without understanding the language of the revelation of Jesus. In Jesus's revelation, they are the walking dead: Those dead of the spirit of God. They don't have it. This is the death suffered by the proverbial Adam and Eve the same day, the very moment, they stopped heeding God.

The Gnostics read this as proof that God is the liar and that the serpent told the truth. They combine this with all the other healing allusions to the serpent (which destroys evil with evil) as proof. Well, Jesus displaced the serpent on the cross as the healing spirit using love to heal rather than evil wrath.

All of this gets confused with Luciferianism. It goes in circles that never arrive at feeding the lambs and sheep but remains in self-centeredness. That’s how you know it’s falsehood. It doesn’t bring forth and never will.

He, Satan, wants to, and has been trying since the fall of humanity, to usurp control over the creation and the souls within it. He devours them. He leads them into temptation, into violently resisting his evil and making other errors, in the hope that they will fail the test. God, on the other hand, wants us to overcome temptation and be delivered from evil by the softening of our hearts. Samael (the Hebrew conceptual name for the god of death, Satan, the leader of the rebellion against God) is not the creator. He knows it, but is in rebellion trying to dupe souls into disbelieving Yahveh Elohim (God and godliness), as revealed by Jesus, so that they die physically and die spiritually. They cannot have what he cannot have: heaven. He holds them as proven unworthy, as he is, for the heavenly life. The Gnostics are, just as with many of mundane science, without God. They tread very dangerously to blaspheming the Holy Spirit in their confusion.
Gnostics attempt to void the great commandment

Furthermore, in taking the view they do, the oxymoronic Christian Gnostics make void the first great commandment, namely as follows:

Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. (Mark 12:29-30).

It means the following:

Hear, O Israel; YHVH our Elohim is one YHVH: And thou shalt love YHVH thy Elohim with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength.

Some Jews substitute the name Adonai for Yahveh or Elohim. The concept is that we are too gross to even utter God's name without defiling the actuality. To even speak the name is gross arrogance, attempting to elevate oneself to being considered worthy to even approach God in uttering God's name. It is fear, meaning respect in their eyes. It is not exactly a close familial relationship. In their standoffishness, they think they are avoiding the potential for trespassing where our Father does not want them. The real answer is to get to know our Father in as close a familial relationship as possible and that way there will be no offense or trespassing. The beloved child is never a trespasser. The beloved little child always has proper intentions toward our Father. The beloved child always takes reproofing to learn righteousness. The beloved child loves righteousness. There is no abuse or lack of respect in any of this at all.

Spellings differ. Some add vowels to YHVH as in Yahveh. The Hebrews left out the vowels. Humans are too unworthy to even write the name of God. The written name of God might be erased, which is a great error in their minds. In fact, we are not even truly capable of grasping the full import of God's name. Actually, God's name is (not just represents) everything God is, has done, and will do. This is beyond human comprehension except for human understanding of the infinite. At any rate, this train of thought runs along the line as to why humans ought not to profane the name of God. It lowers respect and credibility, etc. A person's good name is important. A bad name has ramifications for those who are too ignorant to see beyond the distorting efforts of evil. Making the name of God bad leads such naïve and gullible people into selfishness. They do not believe in the fundamental that is to not cave into, and to even be risen above, temptation.

In terms of attributes and consistent with Jesus's admonition to believe on his name, the above passage, Mark 12:29-30, may be partly conceptualized as follows:

Descendents of the one who wrestled with God, listen.
Kindness, love, and mercy, our creator, with all-powerful attributes, just, and sovereign over all things, is one. You must love kindness, love, and mercy as one with all your heart, soul, mind, and strength.

It says it all by inference. It says peace and truth and more. Resulting emotions are the actual meanings of the words. The words come from feelings. This is where romanticism and reason, materialism and spirit, empiricism and intuition all are conflated and answered. The words and emotions hold the power. God knows the earnestness of our hearts as shown by our deeds (in every way those deeds are manifest) and God reacts accordingly.

Furthermore, Jesus's name means that kindness, love, and mercy save and are salvation. God has a name that expresses the right emotions and loving those right emotions and trusting in the truth that those are the right emotions delivers from evil.

Jesus's name

The one and only God is the name sake of Jesus, Jesus's name transliterated from Hebrew into English is "Yahoshua." The name Yahoshua and Jesus mean "Yah saves," "Yah is salvation."
"Christ" comes from the Latin "Christus," which comes from the Greek "Khristos," which is the Greek translation of the Hebrew word transliterated as "Mashiyach," which is "Messiah" in the English now, which means the anointed.
Jesus Christ is English for Yahoshua Mashiyach (the Hebrew "משיח" transliterated into English) and means "I am the one who saves" or "I will save the anointed one" or both and more. We say it means everything through implication. It implies everything real there is to know ("real" as that term is understood within the divine language of the revelation), especially when the word "one" and the concept of Elohim (God's all powerful attributes) are conflated into one (Yah). It is God in us and we in God, because we will be and are. It means that we never do anything alone.

Now, just to spare you any embarrassment, be aware that there are variations of the spellings of the words above. Also, if you don't understand transliteration versus translation, transliterate means to spell out a word in corresponding letters of a different language. Therefore, the Hebrew characters "ר", "ש", "ד" and "ם" in English characters are represented as Mashiyach.

You will note that the number of characters from one language to another is not necessarily one-for-one. The phonetics helps with pronunciation. Translation, on the other hand, has to do with corresponding word meanings that usually preexist with the given languages. Hence, the Hebrew רשש means in English "anointed."

Now, as we've mentioned, we never do anything alone. The idea of doing things alone and taking credit for everything, giving no credit to God, is extreme humanism. This is the direction in which Gnosticism leads. It seeks to take away credit from God the creator and to build up the ego of the individual to usurp God in that individual's mind. This leads away from righteousness (unselfishness). It leads away from the absence of hypocrisy.

They pay lip-service to a god or gods, but it is the dark, selfish spirit in the end that they worship. No matter what, in the end, their ego comes first. You can tell by the thrust of their writings and words and works. They don't call for the new commandment. When any of them does, he or she will be turning from Gnosticism.

The imagination says we do things alone. It is arrogance. Contrary to arrogance, the head, the whole, of unselfish unity is always greatest. One ought never to attempt to usurp that, meaning among other things, one ought never to use violence, which destroys the unity. One shares all at best, which is best. One never takes all the credit for anything. This is how Jesus was first and last with his one Yahveh Elohim always remaining master, never exceeded, and being Father and also friend. It was, and will forever be, never more than sharing in the spirit of oneness in service, for there is nothing greater than that. Anyone who will not share the oneness leaves him or herself out in a lesser state. The less one shares, the lesser or lower that state.

This is the same for whole nation-states as well. The less the United States shares, the lower is the United States. Since the United States is based upon capitalism that is the economic system that is the opposite of sharing, how can the United States be enlightened? This is the state created by the founding fathers. It is the ego-leaning state rather than the unity-leaning state. It is the state that takes credit unto itself while being at odds with the will of God. This is the same old spirit of Babylon under Nimrod, Semiramis, and Tammuz (which not coincidentally is the tenth month of the year in the Jewish calendar.) and other like demigod pantheons. It's a trick, a dirty trick.

Jesus knew all of this, because he had been there: Heaven. It is where he has returned, literally. One is not endowed with the answer or solution to all that plagues humanity with that endowment not extending beyond the heretofore usual and customary limits of knowledge. Truths were revealed to him as to no other before.

Illogic versus divine logic

Some people credit Jesus with having known the total solution: Mercy and the rest. They then though reject it as unrealizable, being idealistic. It is then no solution, and there is no solution. They think we are locked into evil. The ideal is the solution, but it is impossible. They go on to assert that, therefore, Jesus was also wrong about all the other things. In other words, he was right, and in being so, he was wrong about everything because he was too optimistic about human souls. What these people are missing is that the total solution does not come in a vacuum.

To receive the total solution, to know the actual ideal, necessarily means one has received consistent truth. Therefore, Jesus was true in saying that the souls of people can reach the ideal state of unselfishness. The ideal is still not common knowledge or commonly exercised even after thousands of years of sitting right there in front of the faces of so many who hold themselves so smugly to being intellectually superior. It has been hidden. It has been a mystery. It has been denied, because its universal adoption would mean the death of evil.

The perfect solution comes to the most unselfish mind-set. Falsehood within renders the whole inconsistent that is hypocritical. Inconsistency precludes the total solution. The inconsistent arrive at the rationalization that the total solution is impossible to implement, because people are inherently hypocritical. It is a convenient excuse for them. The total solution is perfect. There can be no falsehood within the mind that renders the truth needed for perfection. Therefore, the only mistake is in not bringing Jesus's message to fruition. Is this a circular argument? Yes. That is the nature of consistency. If it is not circular, it is broken and not consistent. The question is whether it is wholly right (Holy) and not whether it is circular as currently used. There are arguments that spiral down into darkness. They are consistently inconsistent.

The test as to whether something is the absolute truth is whether it will bring forth the real abundance via the real liberalism. If a system will never do that, that system is not the absolute truth. It is a false path. Gnosticism does not seek, and cannot bring forth, the real abundance. Capitalism also does not seek, and cannot bring forth, the real abundance.

Is the prince of this world leading people down the false path? Is Jesus a fake or real? The path of the prince of this world and the path of Jesus are at odds. Their means and ends are at odds. Their fruits are at odds. You have a choice to make, and you cannot escape it even if you ignore it to your fleshly death.

The oxymoronic Gnostic Christians are duped by the princes and princesses of this world. They are duped under the Platonistic impossible noble-lie fables of the earliest Mesopotamian so-called civilizers. Their fables and myths egotistically elevated selfish humans as deities over other humans, claiming that the human-asserted might (to take and not to give or share) makes right. They asserted that they were the ones to whom the people must be beholden and not to God. It carried over to the Egyptians, Greeks, Persians, and others and was even original thinking in nearly all cultures not interacting with larger cultures. It is the arrogant, satanic, rebellious, selfish streak running through much of humanity. It is part of the fallen condition.

Pantheons

One could spend more than a lifetime studying all the pantheons, identifying all the similarities and the rebellious stream of consciousness running through them, rebellious against God's natural, freely sharing way. All ancients shared their stories and influenced each other to varying degrees. Also, ancient peoples had thoughts that occurred to them originally that bear striking resemblance to the original thinking of others. That phenomenon continues to occur today.

The wrong path though deviates along the road. Just because one hears some areas of overlapping language does not mean that the paths are the same. The Gospel of John uses terms similarly used by Gnostics. The emphasis upon oneness is one such similarity. However, that spirit of oneness is inherent within the two greatest commandments of Mosaic Judaism. The Gnostics though hold Judaism as being inherently evil from the start. That is because they believe those commandments came from Yahweh, and they hold Yahweh to be evil. Despite seeming overlaps of one religion with another, there is only one complete path that leads all the way to God. That is the path enlightened by Jesus.

The Zen Buddhist concept that there is one mountain with many paths to the top, and the same basic concept of many paths in Hinduism, turns into the wide path to hell for those who have heard the words of Jesus and reject him, refusing to look at the whole picture. There are many ways employed in seeking the gate at the start of the true path. There is only one gate at the start. It is straight. There is only one gate at the end that opens into the kingdom of heaven. There is only one path between those gates and it is narrow. Jesus lights the way all the way there. He, by our Father, has removed all the stumbling blocks and pitfalls and made the way level, straight, and smooth for those who will listen and not backslide at persecution that comes their way.

The Epic of Gilgamesh

Gnosticism along with Platonism's aristocratic arrogance is tied to the Nimrod mentality that rebels against God and wants to set humans up as gods to lord it over others by defeating God. They are angry with the consequences of their own actions and blame God for the restraint of consequences placed upon them. The Gnostic and Platonistic seeds show in the Epic of Gilgamesh, a Nimrod-type figure in many respects. In that story, the city is supreme. It is a place of sexual liberation, they thought. It is physically domineering and aggressive. Its spirit is able to conquer and master the wilds. Its leader, Gilgamesh, is held out as the most heroic of figures. Enkidu is the wild or untamed one. He grew up in the wilderness, pure and naive. It is revealing, however, that in the story it is Enkidu who has the power of prophetic interpretation.

Contrast the visions. This vision of Enkidu is the vision created by the mind that authorizes selfishness. Here is Enkidu portrayed as the pure, innocent, non-sinning one being sucked into the increasing encouragement of others to enter into a cycle of lust and momentary self-gratification, not affection and bonded love that is giving, but rather taking for self-satisfaction that includes raping the land of God's provisioning and the rest. Even though that is really what happened to Enkidu, the humanist way of viewing it, the way the story wishes one to view it, is that Enkidu was being rightly introduced into the pleasures of civilization (free sex, excessive drinking, and taking things by force from others) that is held out as inherently superior to Enkidu's prior and pure life in the wild.
Compare Jesus to Gilgamesh

On the other hand, there is the vision of Jesus that turns it all on its head.

And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid. (Mark 5:15).

Jesus took someone (the one with a legion of demons within) driven into living wildly and naked among the tombs and mountains. That one was full of confusion spurred on by all the excess of others that had fractured his soul. He was unrestrainable and severely abusing himself cutting himself with stones. The evil of the world had driven him to insanity. He had been severely abused and didn't know the way out. It reminds one of the current way of many youths who are incorrigible and abuse themselves with piercings and tattoos and burnings and other scarring things. Jesus took that one and removed his confusion. He helped him return to his right mind not by telling him all the self-gratifying things that were awaiting him if he would only exercise his selfishness again but this time with greater indifference. Rather than filling him with more lies (loose sex, excessive intoxication, and taking things by force from others: Greed, violence, depravity, and indifference), Jesus gave him the truth (softheartedness) and it healed him.

It doesn't work with everyone. That's the nature of the division and separation. One must separate from those who refuse the truth. One must forsake them. God forsakes souls, although for how long, only God knows. People forsake God. How long does it take to get back?

City versus the country

The concept of wilderness and country people has undergone pejoration since the earliest times. The people of the farming communities and then larger villages and finally cities developed pejorative connotations about those who are less contrived. Non-city dwellers have relatively recently been derogatorily labeled hicks, bumpkins, hayseeds, and the like. They live in the sticks or the boonies, the connotation of which suggests ignorance and backwardness. It connotes mistaken notions about the evils of lust of the material incorrectly termed good life, sexual liberation, and pride of accomplishment of the city. Of course, these things are ever invasive of the rustic places through the ubiquitous technology of self-styled civilization.

What has been called civilization and modernity started even before the development of urban centers in Mesopotamia and elsewhere. It started with the very first domestication of animals and the first cultivation of crops where someone said "mine" and not "all of ours." The debate between the right and wrong of development started with the struggle with the selfish spirit that spurred on all development. It has not stopped yet and has never shared the bounty of the earth. It still seeks to profit at the expense of others who were forced to work and pay for sustenance.

The lure of selfish profit and other selfish pursuits and gratification has always been the tempter and temptress. It has always automatically encouraged less compassion for others including animals and other life in general. What have they done now except bought up the countryside? What are they working on now except owning the whole of the wilderness, for the sake of destructive development, for their special gain and special privilege over the God-given, self-evident, rights of others to an unruined commons? Oh, the greedy want no commons. They want everyone beholden to them for everything. This cannot be overstressed. The real Christians, on the other hand, want everything as commons. Real Christians know that all are beholden, by rights, to God and not to humans for what they need for life.

This drive for what the conservatives and capitalists call civilization and modernity and away from godliness explains humanism. It encourages selfishness. It leads to bad stewardship. It demotes service to all. It encourages elitism and the concept that those who have taken deserved it and deserve even more. It fails to understand that its own Babylon-type lust and pride is the fallen condition that must be overcome. It says do what you will and not God's will. It hopes the naive and gullible will buy into the lies.

Gnosticism, as with all incorrect philosophies and religions, ultimately is a cover for the fear of responsibility and accountability for self-admitted sin. Some Gnostics excuse the harm of material and sexual excesses, because all matter is evil anyway, they claim. However, the brain tissue of Jesus was not offensive or lacking discernment. They confuse what Jesus meant when he said "the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." (Matthew 26:41). They confuse what James meant when he wrote the following:

From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? (James 4:1).

The members (parts) of our bodies are weak when the heart, mind, soul, and very brain matter is dominated by the self-replicating spirit of lust. The lust of the eye and the lust of the flesh are both associated by that spirit of lusting desire.

The spirit shapes the flesh that is matter. It receives new matter conforming to it. It displaces matter not conforming to it. When the Holy Spirit is strong within, it is not ruled by the lusts of the member parts of the body or the desire for material gain but rather rules them from head to toe (including the sexual organs) and all that emanates from the being. This is how healing beyond the mundane can occur. The opposite spirit that is lusting and prideful, being overwhelming without and then taken within, is responsible for why even mundane healing can fail. The spirit that shapes the flesh to righteousness controls the selfish appetites through deep compassion for those without enough and other such like righteous emotions. Belief heals. Belief in wholeness heals. It makes matter pure and transcendable. The lack of belief retards the whole in the aggregate.

Now, the very word "matter" undergoes contextual change as this process occurs. It quickly becomes an endless and fruitless semantical debate as to where matter leaves off and spirit begins when the things we ought to do are left undone and when we are doing those things which we ought not to be doing. There is no doubt the vessel that was Jesus's body was of completely human matter. The spirit though was over it and changed it and did with it as righteousness required.

The greatest historical proponents of rebelliousness against God had superiority complexes (overlords, not servants) to mask their sense of inferiority developed by incorrect conditioned responses to the abuses of this life. This is the genesis of the Gilgamesh vision and the brand of humanism that is devoid of seeing that God's perspective is the ultimate reality.

Gnostics spread the idea that the spiritual Father of Jesus, the God of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and Moses was the Platonic Demiurge (meaning builder or architect) who created the inherently spiritually dark and inferior material world out of which we must transcend into the realm or dimension of the perfect. They do not think that the creator and the spiritual light are one and the same. For the Gnostics, this Demiurge was the son of the Mesopotamian goddess Sophia (wisdom) known by many names depending upon the time and place of the given pantheon. The distinction between Sophia and Semiramis is blurred intentionally. Even Jesus referred to this when he said, "But wisdom is justified of all her children." (Luke 7:35). He also though made clear that the flesh is perfectible to oneness with the Holy Spirit by the very power of that spirit, God, righteousness. It is evil that corrupts flesh and spirit. The evil is willfulness that is selfishness, the spirit of lording it over rather than everyone always serving each and all out of love, never deviating into coercion. It is cooperation rather than selfishness.

The Demiurge is accordingly self-deluded, not realizing that he is not the supreme God.

The spirit of Nimrod comes out here, in that Nimrod didn't think God was the ultimate because Nimrod thought he could defeat God. We see Gilgamesh peeking out here also. We see the tie in with the idea of the Giants (Nephilim) of old too, since Gilgamesh is described as being much taller, larger, and stronger than any current human being.

For the Gnostics, the supreme God, contrary to the Demiurge, is really the ineffable (inexpressible) source that is conceptual perfection and not God.

Jesus the branch

Jesus though showed God is eminently knowable through a softening heart. Jesus expressed God.

Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Show us the Father? (John 14:9).

This is difficult for people to reconcile with Jesus also not having known everything our Father knows: The timing of the end of the age and the worldly world. Jesus is the branch of the tree and root. We see the tree and root in the branch. We branch also and bring forth fruit that is not rotten if we make of ourselves unselfish, cooperative, givers and sharers, holders of all things in common (the common inheritance of all God's children, branches), good stewards, good shepherds, servants (not just coercive overlords), and all the rest of the good.

Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? (Matthew 24:45).

But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them. But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister. (Mark 10:42-43).

We are all to be servant/rulers

This cannot be overemphasized. Where are the rulers who are the servants, the ministers, giving all what each needs in due season? We are to be those rulers.

Many Gnostics and the Platonists wish to return to that source or state of mind (the ineffable-perfect). They cannot. It is nowhere, hence their term utopia, which means nowhere, in lieu of heaven on earth. No one can go to this utopia. It isn't. Their system was designed by self-styled noble liars (an oxymoron) seeking only to be the overlords who have pulled a dirty trick on the people. Don't be fooled.

Don't be fooled by Hellenization, the so-called Renaissance, the so-called Enlightenment. The Roman Empire's church was, and is, wrong about much; but, atheism isn't right.

Jesus though came to show us the way to the kingdom of our knowable Father, God. Jesus showed God on the cross. He showed mercy and forgiveness and all the rest of God, the same God the Gnostics misunderstand as the Demiurge and confuse with Satan. One either believes Jesus's works were right and true or not.

Continuity of thinking was lost along the way and twisted by outsiders. Their were esoteric' statements against the pitfalls of human rulers such as the Nimrod types who fit the spiritual profile of the Demiurge. Later, that message was co-opted, as is the standard practice of the liar from the beginning (satanic spirit), and twisted into an interpretation against Yahveh, who, as Jesus explained, was misunderstood due to the people's hardheartedness. Moses gave them the best law they were almost able to handle.

He [Jesus] saith unto them, Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. (Matthew 19:8).
Nimrod-type rulers had set themselves up as demigod builders of the worldly way. They became carried away with their own imaginings. They extended their empire-building mentality out to giving themselves credit for creating the entire universe. "Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely" is the saying by John Acton, a British historian.

God has absolute power and is absolutely not corrupt, but in the case of weak-minded people, power can be too much for some to handle. In fact, one is hard pressed to find anyone in history who ever held power who did not act corruptly with its exercise; hence, we have the need for the world's salvation from the hands of the spirit of the unrepentant powers that be.

Jesus is the exception we must emulate. Jesus held the greatest power of any living human being ever; however, he did nothing corrupt with it.

"Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?" (Matthew 26:53).

In Christianity, matter was created by God and it is only the sinful ways in which humanity uses it that is evil. It is not matter that is evil; it is the world being controlled by the Babylonian spirit. It is development for selfishness and so-called modernity unbridled in insatiable greed and uncontrolled and unrestrained in all manner of lust that is the evil. God holds almighty power over matter which God created. God can will human flesh to be transformed, transcending even matter as we know it, becoming pure spirit.
We are born of water (matter) and we are born again of the spirit, becoming spirit remaining also flesh. In that state, we are spirit incarnate, absolutely real in both spirit and flesh, the latter beholden to the former. It always was beholden to it, only now we have come to realize it. What you see is what you get. It is a question of how much you perceive: How much light is let into your proverbial philosopher's cave.

We, our bodies, while our souls reside in them, and our souls, even after transfigured into a new incorruptible form, are the indwelling place of the Holy Spirit when we know it (believe it without doubt). We are the temple of God. We are of God made flesh when we know it: Are in the unity. When those with righteous spiritual eyes looked at Jesus, they saw and knew the actual Father (Yahveh Elohim) in both spirit and matter form, not a shadow on the wall of a dark cave. They saw the source of the light itself. Yahveh Elohim manifested in Jesus, because Jesus knew it and he had no doubt about it. That is what indwelling can do. That is what Jesus wants us to rise to.

He wants friends on his level. He wants oneness. He wants righteousness magnified. If we won't eat of this bread, righteousness will remain dim amongst many more human souls than would otherwise be the case. He wants people's souls saved even though it means others will not see (comprehend and accept and do in accordance with) the relative increase in, and the absolute, light.

He wasn't a myth. He was the real thing others have try to twist to evil advantage.
The closer to God in emotional closeness, the more this comes into clarity. It becomes plain to see. It is proportional, until it is complete in full measure as is the case with Jesus. That is how and why he was able to say that he was and is the truth.

Plato

This current state of lust of eye and flesh and pride is a fallen condition due to the imperfection of sin that has not yet been universally overcome. Being in this state, we need to overcome selfishness in order to finally appreciate and know love, truth, and peace. The mind that was Plato and the mind of Jesus are at odds on this and the very foundation of reality and existence. Jesus showed that those people whom Plato rejected as intellectually incapable were actually more capable. Jesus showed that no noble lie can be in the light that shines truth.

Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do.
He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. (John 8:44).

Jesus is speaking here of the satanic spirit.

Plato suggested that lotteries be used to determine who could reproduce and that those lotteries be secretly manipulated by the state. He advocated this manipulated lottery so that the state could practice eugenics (genetic improvement of humanity through controlled selective breeding) upon the unsuspecting population. The eugenics that Jesus practiced was openly to ask our Father to forgive those who were crucifying Jesus. Look at the contrast between the mind of Plato and the mind of Jesus. Jesus said that our Father prunes away all that does not bring forth the good fruit so that what is left will bring forth the good fruit (righteousness, sharing all). Jesus was against any human being exercising that area that ought always to be left to our Father, resulting in salvation, no overlords, everyone a servant. Jesus openly explained how each of us may change our fruit. Plato was not of that Christ-mindedness. Plato locked everyone into his caste.

Plato believed that censorship should be exercised by the mundane state so that the common people, whose minds he mistakenly felt incapable of discernment, would not be led astray from the opinions desired by the elitist powers and principalities of that worldly state. Plato thought that he above all others was the most qualified in making the determination as to what should or should not be censored. Jesus, on the other hand, advocated self-censorship from within the heart by adhering to the will of God as expressed by the spirit of truth.

This is not judging and condemning Plato. We don't stand in the way of anyone being forgiven. It is not our place. All have been confused. No one returns to heaven without being forgiven. We want only the very essence of evil itself left out. We want the death of having eaten evil to be lifted from the repentant and atoning.

Many ancient societies practiced all sorts of abominable acts. They burned their children alive in human sacrifices in insane worship of imagined deities. They engaged in orgies for that and other reasons. They ate the flesh and drank the blood of their sacrificed children also for that and other reasons. The priests earned contributions through pimping out temple prostitutes. They engaged in incestuous relations. They committed adultery and all the other acts that spring from impure thoughts and appetites. They were led astray and they led astray.

These and other confused practices will recur as hearts grow cold, hard, and small again as iniquity magnifies itself. It is for this reason, for example, that both abortion and capital punishment exist today. Both reflect faithlessness and hate of righteousness. There would be neither were everyone heeding the first and great commandment and the second like it, because righteousness can heal everyone.

Evil is transformative. One does become what one does in selfishness. Selfishness is negative. It is ultimately profitless. It is loss in the aggregate. It is a liability and no asset.

The pleasure of sin, as Paul called it, is cutting off the nose to spite the face. It is masochistic in that sense. One gains darkness by sin. One is devoured. With sin, one heads toward greater pain and suffering with no end in sight.

The spirit of lies and selfishness transforms the incarnate soul accordingly. The spirit of truth that is unselfishness also transforms the soul and flesh. The power of God is capable of transforming the brain of any addict, pedophile, homosexual, thief, liar, killer, adulterer, and any other person. God is over matter. In the final analysis, all confusion that is disease, aging, and death is psychosomatic.

The root psycho- in psychosomatic is from the Greek psukh which means spirit, soul, life. Psukhein is the verb to breathe. Breathe the breath of life or spirit of life. Somatic means affecting the body. Therefore, psychosomatic really means the spirit affecting the flesh. Why did the psychologists choose psycho- rather than spirit? Why did the medical profession choose somatic rather than affecting the flesh or body? Why didn't they simply say the spirit affecting the body? It is a spiritual disease. Were they trying to hide the connections or implications from those not educated in the Greek, the general public in most places other than Greece itself? Was it to elevate the ancient Greeks in opposition to Jesus? They will say that the psychosomatic diseases are different from those that are farther removed in the physician's ability to determine causality. The physician will say that a virus or bacteria or some structural problem exists in non-psychosomatic diseases; however, that does not answer the question of why. It does not state the root cause. Plagues are spirit borne plainly. Neither does it demonstrate that the spirit, while being able to cause disease, cannot also do the reverse given adequate faith and a lack of knowing wrongdoing (sin). The people whom Jesus healed were healed of all manner of diseases including bacterial and viral infections.
Disease of the innocent

Disease is the condition of the soul infected by the unclean spirit manifestly affecting the matter or material that is the body. This does not mean that everyone who is diseased has sinned any more so than those who are without the outward symptoms have not sinned. To show this, we previously quoted Luke 13:1-5 and John 9:2-3 (See: Bibliography). It is to say though that righteousness promotes healing. It is to say that evil spirits attack even the innocent but would not exist at all were it not for evil hearts in the world, on earth, and in the heaven before it is made anew, purged of erring spirits.

All those healed by Jesus were not egregious sinners. However, the righteousness of Jesus in conjunction with their faith is why God healed them.

The causality of ignorant selfishness and of sin, the chains of both of which stretch back to the beginning, offends the innocent as well as the guilty until the innocent or guilty or both receive the faith that heals and protects and until there is universal repentance. Without universal repentance, even the likes of Jesus, who was not the least bit guilty of the crimes alleged against him, will be made to suffer at the causal hands of selfishness. In the presence of absolute certainty that exists in the heart where there is no evil (selfishness), God is willing to transform, heal, all matter. This is how healing occurred with Jesus. Jesus had no doubt. He was doing no wrong. He was doing God's work on earth. Whatever temptation (testing) came his way, he overcame. His motives were as unselfish as they come. It is the faith of the mustard seed and to move mountains.
The mustard seed is a metaphor for great faith that can spring from tiny beginnings. The faith to have God move even literal mountains is real.

And Jesus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour. Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out? And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence unto yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. (Matthew 17:18-20).

And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth: But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it. (Mark 4:30-32).

He who brings forth only the good fruit is of God, whether on this earth or elsewhere.

You must not allow preservation and reproduction of the flesh to rule your soul. Those urges unbridled bring on plagues that befall humanity. The more we allow those urges to dominate in ourselves as individuals, the more they come to dominate the whole of society and the more hellish this world becomes. The competition between and among people escalates into a frenzy of war. The road of libertinism leads to falling further and further away from all that is good.

Base urges

We are born with built-in urges, but we are not born to let them consume us. Even Jesus's soul was troubled right before they came to arrest him to try him and murder him. That trouble was Jesus's very human self-preservation baser instinct that he prayed all night to continue overcoming or he would have run away rather then stand his ground in full faith and trust in God beyond the flesh. He did not fall to the temptation to save his flesh life. His soul was tested and passed that test paving the way for us to follow, proving the accusatory satanic spirit wrong about human kind's redeeming potential.

Why are we put here, created with these urges if they are not good? Why are we to overcome them rather then let them master us? It has been said throughout. Selfishness is the problem. To survive in the flesh, how much will you deny to others? To reproduce in the flesh, how much will you take to sustain yourself and your offspring? Denying others to survive and reproduce is the same motivation others will have if they and you do not overcome domination by appetites in all manifestations from inner-most feelings to overt actions in the world at large. The greater the frenzy of competition for survival and reproduction or sexual release, the more the world becomes hell. It creates more suffering and indifference and will lead inevitably to the great tribulation.

The uncontrolled, hyper drive for self-preservation (flesh) and reproduction/procreation makes life on earth a nightmare. Flesh preservation is not the priority. It doesn't mean that we are valueless in this fleshy form. It just means that the state or condition of our souls is the priority. Jesus did not throw his flesh life away. He gave it over at the right time and place for the right reason. Love is the priority.

Yes, Jesus used soul-preservation as a motivational tool. Yes, he appealed to people's common sense concerning losing their eternal souls rather than gaining the entire world for a season in the flesh. He did that though even while he explained the great truth of doing things without looking for any reward for self. That is the soul-enhancing way. That path brings the greatest righteousness to the eternal whole. Why else would we be here if not to learn this?

Lower brain

The urges of the flesh are lower based. They are the basic drives of those creatures that are not endowed with the cerebral cortex where higher thought occurs. The lower forms have not been gifted with the large forebrain and temporal regions where reasoned and transcendent unselfishness occur. This does not mean that all animals are devoid of unselfish reactions. However, in the lower fleshy life forms, self-sacrifice is still more rooted in the lower-based instinctual drive for self-preservation that extends to off-spring flesh-preservation. The lower-based thinking will kill, even its own kind, and die, bringing to the fore the full spirit of violence in circumstances where the outcome appears purely self-sacrificial. The human being, on the other hand, has a higher brain and a high calling and duty to transcend the lower-brain drive to violence. This is why Jesus said that if his kingdom were of this world his followers would fight for him, for that is what is done in this lower world.

This is what the revelation is. It is evolutionary. The truth has been being reintroduced, revealed, on increasingly higher levels (culminating with Jesus's resurrection and ascension) to the souls of this world over the ages. There was a time when the family of human beings did not kill each other. The basic feeling of love was greater than the selfish appetites. The preservation of others ruled and must come to rule again, but it must be the preservation of human souls rather than just flesh bodies. Humans slipped down and still have not recovered despite grandiose notions of modernity and other lofty notions of civilization, etc. We still make war on each other killing not only bodies but also souls.

Thomas Hobbes

You see, Jesus's revelation is diametrically at odds with Hobbism (Thomas Hobbes, 1588-1679) that says the life of human beings in the state of nature was nasty, brutish, and short and that human nature is selfishness. Jesus is saying that we rather fell into the Hobbesian coming out of the real natural state of human beings. We are now living in the unnatural or unreal spirit, the dead spirit, the spirit devoid of putting particularized self after the good of the complete whole. We are in the state of terrible disunity of spirit: The house divided. Jesus alluded to how things were when he said that it was not always the case that men divorced their wives without the cause of infidelity breaking the sacred bond of one flesh. During that softer-hearted time, undoubtedly there were not problems with brutality and other abuses.

Adultery, unfaithfulness

You see, failing to control ourselves in any area of life makes us more susceptible to the temptation of being unfaithful in marriage. Failing to remain faithful to ones mate makes one more temptable and more likely to fail to control oneself in all other areas of life. Unfaithfulness ruins. It wrecks. If there are children in the home where unfaithfulness destroys the bond of trust between the parents, destroys the unity of one flesh, the children are made to suffer along with the betrayed mate and the betrayer. This has a ripple effect throughout. Before the unclean spirit that is unfaithfulness that brought on divorce without the cause of adultery, we were more in the spirit. With the furthering of civilization came further temptation, more caving in, greater resignation to temptation, rationalizations concerning what is truly right or wrong, and a generalized confusion that is still increasing. Now it is our duty to return to the spirit, despite the current state of self-styled civilization. That's the point.
Study war no more, total disarmament

We are to study war no more. We are to study martial arts no more. We are to convert all weapons to peaceful purposes. We are not to bear arms against each other. We are to disarm universally. No one reserves the right to use the force of arms, for there is no such right and never has been. It has been a trick of the lusting lower mind.

Higher brain, higher obligation

This is what is meant by having been created in the image of God. Human beings are a special case in terms of the life forms on this planet. We do not hear as well as dogs. We do not smell as well as bears. We do not have wings or gills. We do not have sonar. We cannot see the magnetic fields. There are all sorts of things which limit us, but we do have our relatively huge cerebral cortex. That obligates us. To whom much is given, much is expected. God can out see the eagle. God can infinitely out do any of his creatures in any of the capabilities with which God has endowed them. God can out think us and any computer we will ever unleash. It is though through the higher brain that we are brought closer to the image of God provided we use it for that end. We are to use our brains to comprehend that which transcends the mere tissue. We are to use our brains to connect with God. "Love the Lord thy God with all thy … mind." (Matthew 22:37). Atheism, Hinduism, Buddhism, and Gnosticism are not the way. What does this have to do with the founding fathers of America and the American people treating those founders as demigods? Why have we included this discussion under such a chapter heading?

Those founders set up a government leading people astray into now imagining that all religions and denominations are equally worthy, but they are all missing the mark. None has been bringing forth. It has caused many to imagine that they do not need to turn to God. It is anathema. In the interest of their estates and the sake of the Empire they planned, they created the divided house that cannot stand and that is responsible for the loss of many souls and will be held to account and better make amends.

Islam

Neither is Islam the way. There can be no reconciling with Islam. There can be no ecumenism or syncretism other than down.

Islam is coercive

What are so-called liberal hot-buttons: Abortion, homosexuality, and religious tolerance (nothing against Islam or any other religion)? You see the false liberals and false conservatives attempting to revise Islam into what it can never be. Islam is exactly what the conservative, traditionalists, fundamentalist Muslims say it is. As strange as it may seem to your ears, they are being true to the falsehood that is Islam. It is not an incorrect interpretation of Islamic law (the Qur'an) to say that under Islam, homosexuals are criminals fit for continued punishment if they don’t renounce homosexuality and stop all homosexual activity. Moses taught capital punishment for the same offence.

Moses wouldn't be as merciful as ayatollah Sistani. Sistani is the highest ranking Shia cleric in Iraq. He is the leader of the Supreme Council for Islamic Revolution in Iraq (SCIRI). It has been alleged by homosexuals that in response to a question at a press conference apparently in October, 2005, concerning sodomy and lesbianism, Sistani issued an edict that also appeared on his website stating that concerning male and female homosexuals, "The people involved [practicing homosexuals] should be killed in the worst, most severe way of killing." However, he, unlike Moses, apparently gives homosexuals a chance to turn from their behavior. This is not an apology or excuse for Sistani, and we have no reason to disbelieve the homosexuals that Sistani made this comment or concerning the events which have followed on the heels of his statement concerning sharia (Islamic law). He is definitely wrong to be issuing such edicts, not because he is misinterpreting sharia (he isn't) but rather because sharia is not the law of God as anyone who has read the words of Jesus Christ ought to know full well. Sistani's edicts and influence goes further than this though.

He has been accused one Ali Hili, a self-professed homosexual Iraqi male living in London, of influencing or possibly directly commanding (religiously) the group known as the Badr Organization (formerly the Badr Brigade, the militia of the Supreme Council for Islamic Revolution in Iraq that returned to Iraq from Iran after the US invasion) to "kill gays, unveiled women, prostitutes, people who sell or drink alcohol, and those who listen to western music and wear western fashions."

This is still in contrast to the more drastic and actually more accurate Islamic interpretation of the likes of the ayatollah Khomeini who wrote the book Waliyat al-Faqih (Guardianship of the Religious Jurist). Khomeini and his successors in Iran are much more direct in their political influences and much less patient than the likes of Sistani. Therefore, if you think what Sistani has pronounced is evil, which it is, things can become much, much harsher under stricter adherents to Mohammed's Islam. Neither Jesus nor Mohammed believed in or advocated or practiced the quietism of the Hindus or Buddhists. Both Christianity and Islam is activist. Both are church and state combined. One is right, and everything else is wrong.

At any rate, if you fancy yourself a liberal and tolerant, you had better open your eyes concerning what is really going on. If you imagine that you can define Islam as some benign religion, you are fooling yourself and harming the opportunity for people to see the real light by contrast. Jesus isn't going to lie to you about homosexuality being confusion, but he isn't going to cut off anyone's head either. Mohammed is also going to be put off by homosexuality, but he's going to wipe it off the face of the earth by exterminating all homosexuals if necessary rather than just telling the truth and letting souls be sorted accordingly by their deeds that follow.

You know which way offers the greatest hope. It's obvious.

Exterminating all the homosexuals isn't where Mohammed's way ends its violence. In fact, the very acts of killing homosexuals for their behavior encourages killing without bounds as punishment for behavior. Where is the line to be drawn? What behavior is good enough not to merit death in this system? There is no line. It is for that reason, among others, that Jesus draws the line at no violence, no exception.

This same general direction toward Khomeini's "guardianship of the religious jurist" is showing more in Iran and in Lebanon to some degree under Hezbollah and in Palestine now under Hamas and in Egypt under the Muslim Brotherhood and really around the Muslim world. The Muslim Brotherhood's motto is the following: "Qur'an is our law. Jihad is our way. Dying in the way of Allah is our highest hope."

By jihad, they mean violent coercion against others. Hamas was founded by Ahmed Yassin as a Palestinian wing of the Muslim Brotherhood. It claims not to be Salafi, but it opens the door nevertheless.

Islam is afraid of open debate

Unlike Jesus, they are afraid to subject their faith to questions, because they fear becoming entangled in their talk, which is the inevitable outcome for Mohammed's position. He killed people rather than being open to full questioning, because he knew he would be exposed. Of course, the fact that he killed people alone defeats him. The truthful do not need to ask him any questions. His fruits speak everything one needs to know about him.

You also see Islam wanting to kill those who convert to Christianity or any other religion than Islam. That is where Islamic law leads. That is the teaching of Mohammed. No doubt, any woman practicing abortion would suffer a similar fate under Islam.

While Christianity would always support a woman's choice to put the developing life within her first and while Christianity would always maintain that homosexuality is truly a spiritual choice and anyone may change who believes it and while Christianity can never agree with the teachings of Mohammed or accept him as a messenger of God, Christianity can never do anything but stand against capital punishment and stand against all coercion.

Christianity is about freely choosing God. Islam is about coercively forcing people to believe in other than God, which is only one thing, the devil.

Even now as I write this small addition in March 2006, there is a man named Abdul Rahman who was just released after being held in Afghanistan under threat of the death penalty for violating sharia law, the Islamic law of Afghanistan, the Qur'anic law of Afghanistan, the word of Mohammed, because Abdul converted from Islam to Christianity. Islam feels threatened and attacked by a human being's free choice of Jesus the Christ over Mohammed. What does that tell you? It tells you of a coercive religion. It tells you of a religion that fears the open questioning of the teachings of Mohammed. Why?
The answer is that Mohammed knew full well that his teachings are nothing compared with the teachings of Jesus. Mohammed was afraid to have his mind go head-to-head against the Christ-mind. Mohammed could not win with truth, so he reached for the falsehood that is violence.

Abdul Rahman has vowed not to reconvert to Islam. He was released after they declared him mentally unfit to serve trial. That interpretation of Islamic law states that everyone who converts to Christianity is insane. It is their way of ducking the issue of the ungodliness of Islam's commandment for using violent and fatal coercion.

About Islam and all religions, one ought never to paint everyone professing a particular religion with one brush. Everyone in Islam hasn't been allowed to hear the real alternative that is the message of Jesus the Christ.

Those professing Islam for instance range in personality just as those professing Christianity. The same may be said of all religions. Some professors, as we know, pay more lip service than others and have in some cases no faith or knowledge but are very consciously faking for the sake of personal worldly gain. The degree of homogeneity of spirit differs from professed religion to professed religion. The object of each is to remove by certain means differences of spirit up to some point, being the mind of the founder and the object of that founder's desire.
The object of real Christianity is to remove all the differences between and among human beings and between human kind and the oneness-state-of-being of God. The idea is to become conflated by the Holy Spirit with God. The question is how. The question is also who is God really.

Christianity or Islam, not both

Real Christians know the Holy emotional state by the words and deeds of Jesus who was sent and came to impart the means and the identity as one and the same spirit, direction, condition, form, substance, and side of things. Whose side are you on? Do you stand with Jesus or Mohammed? You cannot stand with both since Mohammed chose not to align himself with Jesus. You cannot serve two masters. That house will fall. You cannot avoid the so-called tough question. Everyone will be, and already is, faced with the question of whether or not they line up with Jesus and all those who are lined up with Jesus.

The relative collective-spirit of each religion has been, and is, in a state of constant change. It is obvious that the strength of faith of individuals in the world is decreasing and increasing from moment to moment. Emotional challenges (temptations) are constant. Where tensions seem even at their lowest within this world, the mind is still subject to drifting into counter-productive feelings and thoughts indicative of the vestiges of defilement that can be, and must be, displaced by golden-rule thoughts.

Beyond the focal point that is the messenger-mind of the founder and the object of that founder's desire, of course, the personalities (spirits, minds, souls) of the sectarian leaders within the larger religious covering also matter. However, the main issue nevertheless concerns the original human founder-messenger of the greater religion. One may argue where sectarian differences become so great that a sect moves out from under the larger cover and becomes a different message from a new messenger.

Christianity is viewed in this way by many, since the sect became known by a different name; however, we know that Christianity is a continuation of the real spirit of the real-world religion that was from the beginning. We know that the Hebrews and Arabs are to come back to that as are all the nations of the earth. We know that, because of Jesus's teachings and life example and from the truth of the Holy Spirit of oneness. We know it, both pointedly and indirectly, by magnifying the implications to their ultimate conclusion to obtain the meaning and knowledge of oneness (one God). We read between the lines the infinite wisdom there.

We are concerned here in this point with the messenger-mind upon which the larger cover is held up in the minds of the general professors of the concepts and precepts related by that messenger, his or her feelings, thoughts, mind, and soul.

The comments in this work on Islam are directed at the mind of Mohammed. The analysis, such as it is, does reflect upon all professors of Islam to one degree or another who after evaluating the truth continue to profess Mohammed rather than returning to the spirit of constant nonviolence and good will toward all human beings that is the real-world religion: Christianity. However, even though this work lays out such negative and positive criticisms, we never judge or condemn or fail to forgive or fail to offer mercy and the hope of conversion and complete redemption for all. We wish it for ourselves and strive for the constant golden-rule emotional state. We never harm by proper warning.

We understand that people are wrongly offended by truth. The truth is viewed in falsehood as offense. Truth-haters are provoked by their own falsehood to human-on-human wrath and other sins, such as isolation and disinheritance and many other selfish actions and reactions. This is true whether considering two people or all of human kind. It is true in both the microcosm and macrocosm.

Jesus and nonviolence, Mohammed and violence

Nevertheless, in Jesus's book, one is never guilty of nonviolence. Nonviolence is never a sin. The idea that nonviolence is sin is a fleshy, worldly error. It is the trick of the satanic spirit-mind.

In Mohammed's book, one is guilty of nonviolence given many circumstances. Mohammed's book seeks to undo the law of Jesus. This cannot be denied. It is obvious. It is clearly expressed in writing. The whole of the good news of Jesus and the news of the Qur'an can never meet. However, the areas of agreement must be the starting place for all those of Islam to begin their new journey to Jesus Christ not as Jesus is portrayed by minds of violence but by minds of constant peace.
The question has been and remains. Whose peace will get people injured and killed? Will refusal to engage in war and violence cause people to be injured and killed or will Pax Americana (peace enforced by the Empire through threats, intimidation, coercion, and brute force) cause people to be injured and killed? Also, what is the real death?

First, is such worldly Empire building causing violent reactions? In as much as those reacting are, as with the Empire, militant, the answer is yes.

Second and most importantly, what is ultimate injury and death? If you don't believe in, or are agnostic concerning, life after life (not life after death, but life after life as in spiritual rebirth and deathlessness), you suppose that this life is, or could be, all there is or ever will be. Then, avoiding injury to, and death of, connected eternal souls cannot be of paramount importance to you. For those who believe in life after this life, the war to end all wars is the war within that is won through the spirit of love that also conquers the external war. Such external wars that are the result of wrong desires in the heart create at best the false peace. Such war won't end until there are no more war-maker hearts. Is your heart a war-maker's heart? Do you, or will you, partake in such war, or will you overcome and become a golden-rule heart? Will you allow others?

Now, there is a huge movement amongst professors of Islam calling for peace. They are claiming that Islam is a religion of peace. They are claiming that Mohammed preached and exemplified peace, but then they endlessly qualify his teaching and excuse the example of his life.

Islam is based upon the message of Mohammed. He expressly called nonviolence a sin under many circumstances. Mohammed leaves the door open to bloodlust and other lusting (monetary, material, territorial, sexual, etc.). That is contrary to the message of Jesus who teaches his followers to overcome completely not only the extreme lustful and selfish obsessions and excesses but all flesh unwholeness. Mohammed led his followers backwards to a darker, lesser standard that does not lead to real Godliness. Only selfishness and hardheartedness will keep Muslims from seeing Mohammed’s injured pride and vengeful, bitter spirit. Such is the case for all Muslims. There is no such thing as a pacifist Muslim. Islam is inherently militant just as the false version of Christianity allows for the so-called just war.

The message of Mohammed is the message of human offense against other humans as justice. It serves them right. They deserve it. Such are the rationalizations for compounding the error: Harming others. Jesus said be as harmless as a dove. You don’t see doves making war do you? If the falcon dives from on high, you don’t see the doves seeking out the falcon’s nest to take their revenge do you? Now the point is that the human condition is such that it is afforded by God the opportunity to choose to be the hunter and the vengeful or to have no prey amongst us. We are not to prey upon each other. We are not to seek vengeance. Predatory practices against one another must be removed as an option from the hearts of all human beings before evil is vanquished from the earth. We are to be conflated by and in that Holy Spirit of truth. War and violence must be removed as an option in the hearts of all the people of the world. It must be ruled out. It must be illegal in everyone's heart, mind, and soul. Then and only then will it be banished.

Will the atavistic (throwbacks) rain down wrath and upset the infinite and cosmic, planetary and heavenly spirit with the intent of relative righteousness? Yes. Is that built into the way of things, the nature of things, until that atavistic spirit has spent itself and the human spirit has evolved to know from when it came? Yes, that is God's system and plan for our edification and growth in trustworthiness. It is for this reason, among many, that Muslims ought to convert to real Christianity.

Jesus loves Arabs, but we reject Mohammed's teaching and actions as being those we should ultimately emulate. We do not judge Mohammed and damn his soul to hell. That is not our place. We do know that Mohammed was certainly far from the worst intentioned or acting person. He was not close to being the best though either. There have been far worse and far better persons than was Mohammed. We compare Mohammed to the divine standard set by Jesus. You may say that this is judging. There is judging and then there is judging, meaning there are different implications concerning the different connotations of the term. It is judging but not saying what should be done with Mohammed's soul other than asking for perfect justice that will occur. Mohammed's relatives ought to atone for each other and for the sake of all who will hear and recognize Jesus.

We do not withhold mercy and forgiveness. We just don't know Mohammed as one who knew and loved Jesus. Can Mohammed's soul be yet reached with the plain and clear message of Jesus Christ? We shall see.

One prays that all wounded and wrathful spirits may be reached through consequences and words of truth and souls to emulate. In everlasting punishment, fire, and death are there different everlasting habitations with different degrees of consequences fitting perfectly proportionally the unrepented sin in the life before? Can one learn, pay, and yet rise? Will your heart allow it?

We do not blame all Muslims for the actions of other Muslims just as we cannot be blamed for the actions of many claiming to be Christians. However, those who are the worst in Islam are simply acting out the confused message of Mohammed. Those who are the worst of those claiming Christianity are simply acting out their own confused interpretation and are ignoring the absolute pacifist message of Jesus.

Also, being anti-Muslim is religious bigotry rather than necessarily racist, because being Muslim cuts across race and ethnicity. We are against the message of Mohammed relative to Jesus's message. Mohammed's message is not good enough. It falls woefully short. His call to arms was wrong. It was not the way after Jesus. He misled people who were already misled.
These matters are as clear and obvious or as subtle as your soul will handle. Islam, as with every religion, is full of categories and subcategories which overlap, blend, and morph as extensively as there are minds leaning toward, or that fall within, the religion. There are as many forms of Islam as there are Muslims for the simple reason that no two minds within Islam are exactly alike. The matter is one of how close each Muslim is to the spirit of others.

Mohammed, being heavily influenced by Judaism and Christianity, defined Islam as an outside single influence, in his case claimed to be the archangel Gabriel communicating only with Mohammed and never to communicate again until the Second Advent (return) of Jesus. It is strange how Mohammed tells his followers to expect Jesus to return to rule the new world and new heaven when Mohammed didn't believe in the teachings of Jesus such as turning the other cheek.

Mohammed introduced competition against the spirit of Jesus for the souls of people. In this sense, there is a war over heaven, the concept of heaven and the reality of heaven, being one and the same. The term "heaven" as with the term "world" is contextual. Mohammed's way is coercive while Jesus's is a warning sign and evidence of the error of coercion that itself will be subjected to its own means.

Therefore, in Christianity, we are to let go of our will to coerce so that we will not receive coercive measures against us. We don't do that first for ourselves. We do that, because we know the beneficial effect it will have on others in the end. We know this path is the way to ending suffering and corruption and death of righteous beingness. Mohammed way holds out no hope of the Christian outcome.

There is, as you have seen and will see, more to Christianity than this by virtue of the full implication and consistency of Jesus's words and deeds, which were, in the infinite and manifest, one and the same, as needs be for perfection.

False spectrum in Islam

It must be understood that there is a spectrum within Islam as there is within the other religions. It is subject to the overlapping and so forth mentioned above, but in the mundane, it is conceptualized as running from left to right and liberal to conservative. It is a false spectrum as you hopefully have gathered by now.

Nevertheless, there are those within Islam who claim to literalism and conservatism as compared with this mundane conceptual spectrum. There are also those who claim figurativeness and liberalism. The very same tug of war is going on here mundanely as goes on within professors of Christianity and Judaism and Hinduism and Buddhism, etc. For purposes of focusing on Islam and Christianity, it comes down to connotations of the terms toleration versus condoning and the where, when, why, and how that mercy, forgiveness, and forgetting mix in.

Jesus taught us that the standard in the here and now is higher than did Mohammed. Jesus taught us to overcome excess and the domination of lust of every kind. This means that Jesus is there for the so-called conservative and the so-called liberal. Mohammed, however, is not sitting at the right hand of Jesus in heaven. Surely you can see that.

Jesus taught us not to pick up the metal sword to spill blood and destroy men's lives but rather to pick up the mental and spiritual sword of truth to cut away the falsehood of the metal sword. Jesus taught and showed patience, perseverance, and resignation concerning letting go of recalcitrant and incorrigible souls. Mohammed showed impatience, vacillation, and resistance to the teachings of God through Jesus.

Mohammed: Worldly empire builder

Despite the revisionism in Islam, the truth is that Mohammed countenanced, encouraged, and participated in rationalized and obfuscated murder, rape, theft, adultery, polygamy, slavery, ransom, sadism, and many other forms of injustice in the distortion of the name of justice or divine retribution. Both the guilty and the innocent were punished by Mohammed. Jesus never did that.

We aren't saying he wasn't clever in his way. He was always careful to couch everything he did so that he could defend in his seemingly circular method (consistent and luring approach). However, his inconsistencies give him away, just as all the hypocrites whom Jesus exposed with the word.
He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone. (John 8:7).

That's it. That's all that's needed. Mohammed cast stones and taught others to do so. He wouldn't allow himself to be convicted by his conscience. That would have gotten in the way of his worldly, lustful pursuits.

None of that is to say that there haven't been plenty of so-called Jews and Christians who haven't done these acts also and claimed they were, or are, okay with God. Mohammed decreed that those activities were countenanced by God. His followers went along for selfish reasons. They ended up fearing reprisals. They fed themselves on the pleasures of evil as Paul put it. They gained the world in mammon, material, land, and water control.

Many people who follow him now do so because they have not heard the truth or because they want to protect what they have built up for themselves on the basis of Islam.

Islamic Empire built on crimes

Mohammed started an Islamic Empire built upon lust: Death, plunder, extortion, and depravity. However, because he wrapped those activities in God, he caused great confusion since his time.

Many of the followers of Islam have heard the competing concepts of God and have also emphasized within Islam only those things which run contrary to the very acts Mohammed called upon his followers to undertake. The result has been revisionism, excuses, and deepening confusion.

The very reverse occurred in Christianity. Jesus made clear not to do the things authorized by Mohammed while the followers of Jesus fell short and many began revising the religion to countenance the very things Mohammed countenanced.

Convert

Those within Islam who want to emphasize peace and love and truth must convert to real Christianity. Those calling themselves Christians ought to either become peaceful and loving and truthful fulltime and forever or make clear that they are followers of a different path than Jesus's.

Crafty in his way

For those outside Islam, they need to understand that Islam teaches that the Qur'an is infallible and that The Bible has been radically altered in every way that it doesn't correspond with the Qur'an. Mohammed taught that the truth was revealed to him that exposed the lies in The Bible including the New Testament. He deliberately avoided the point. He was calculating, cunning, crafty, sort of like George W. Bush has been in his madness. He used religion too, and there are many people engaged in whitewashing his actions too.

The Bible is the story of the struggle for the enlightenment of humanity and that it was an unfolding. Many of the things the bloodline of Hebrews did were selfish even as the things being done around them were often even worse.
Many of them joined in. The Bible is a mea culpa (admission of guilt, a confession). It is documented mostly by the prophets. The truth shines through of what not to do and what to do despite any manipulation by the scribes.

Mohammed the throwback

Abraham was truly promised a place for his offspring to live, but that doesn't mean that he went about everything in a saintly manner on the level of Jesus, his offspring. It doesn't mean that Moses did or David either. It is vitally important that we don't fool ourselves into thinking that our ancestors, right up the line, were all saintly. Had they been, we would be living in heaven right now. Abraham was a step up from those who were sacrificing their sons all around him as animals as if that pleased God; however, that didn't set him up at Christ's level. It did set him up as in line with the unfolding improvement—headed in the right direction. The same holds for Moses. Mohammed, however, went backwards from Jesus's teachings. He was regressive. He was a throwback.

Rather than see this though, Mohammed reacted in the wrong direction. He fought the dirty tricks by simply asserting things on that same level. Rather than saying that something wasn't fundamentally fair or honest, he asserted, through the falsehood that is the sword (not of truth), that God didn't give the inheritance to Israel and Judaism but to the Arabs and Islam. Both positions are wrong.

Jesus has made clear that the inheritance belongs equally to all regardless of bloodline.
The so-called modern-day false Zionists who reject Jesus stand as the most ironic creatures. That’s the point of it too. Here they have one of their own bloodline, Jesus, who came with the one and only right answer, yet they are the most adamantly opposed, the most powerful, and subtle for most, influence in the world against the perfect message. Here were all the prophets speaking to the worldly power with those prophets usually being persecuted for advocating for the greater light. Jesus came to show the world this truth and to call people to rise to the higher more enlightened level. Mohammed fell to competing on the less enlightened, bloodline level.

Fighting for inheritance

Islam teaches that Islam is an Abrahamic religion, because the Arabs (Mohammed was an Arab) claim direct descendancy from Abraham through Ishmael, Abraham’s first son by his wife’s servant. They teach that it is through that DNA line that God’s real promise was given. This is why Mohammed claimed that the archangel Gabriel told him that Abraham and Ishmael had constructed the Kaaba in Mecca. Mohammed didn’t like it that the Israeli worldly inheritance didn’t go through his DNA line. Many people have a hard time with being disinherited. We understand that and sympathize. We know that the whole of creation and heaven is our shared inheritance, the share inheritance of those who will truly share it justly: To each as needed, from each as have means.
Mohammed wasn't moved to approach the issue from that righteous direction. He decided to pull a fast one, just as he had accused the Jews of having done, which many agree with.

The followers of Mohammed teach that Islam is the true (unrevised) religion of Abraham, Moses, and Jesus, in spirit. The Jews and Jesus descend from Isaac, Abraham's second son by his wife, Sarah.

From Isaac we have another controversial argument over worldly and spiritual inheritance in the form of Esau and Jacob. From Jacob we obtain the twelve sons of Israel and Moses and Jesus.

Jacob's dirty trick

The truth is that Esau, in his ignorance, sold his inheritance for a bowl of food. He was hungry after having been out in the field. His fraternal-twin brother, Jacob (Israel) had food prepared and suggested the trade: Food for inheritance. Esau accepted the trade, but didn't take it seriously.

Now, the further truth is that while this is symbolic of the issue of taking the inheritance of all too lightly it is also the story of a dirty trick. It is a foreshadowing of Jesus's statement that the inheritance will be taken away from those who do not love it and bring forth in righteousness (without dirty tricks). It is the story of mutual error.
Jacob wasn't then automatically given the inheritance by his father, Isaac. Jacob didn't go to his father with the story about the trade. No, Jacob listened to his mother, Rebekah, who conjured up a way to trick her husband into thinking he was giving the inheritance to his firstborn, Esau.

Esau was hairy and Isaac was nearly blind. Rebekah dressed Jacob in hairy clothes and sent him to Isaac. Isaac felt the hairiness, and Jacob flat out lied when he told his father he was Esau.

Even when Isaac learned of the evil, he didn't reverse it, or better yet, he didn't say share and share alike my sons. He actually made Esau's family the slaves of Jacob and Jacob's descendents. He didn't say that no one will be anyone's tricked and coerced slave but that all will freely serve the whole.

Now, where was God in any of this? Where was Satan? Discern!

Love would have been sharing the food and the inheritance both and to hell with a notion of firstborn birthright that doesn't put that love first. This is the greater revelation Jesus taught.

You want to be great? You want to be first? You want the inheritance? What is great? Who is first? What is the inheritance?

But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. (Luke 22:26).
For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat. (Matthew 25:35).

People though can make the mistake of reverting.

Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. (1 Peter 5:5).

What Peter is saying here is right only if the elders are adhering to the words of Jesus, "He that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger." In other words, submit yourselves to the elders who serve as if they were the younger under the old, dead law. In that case, the elder is setting the right example.

Jesus turned the status quo around, because the status quo was hypocritical and false. Humanity still hasn't come out of that status quo, and not reading Peter's words within the context of Jesus is more than dangerous. It dooms souls to falling short. It dooms them to the error of hypocrisy. It withholds the solution, the saving way.

Now, viewing Jacob's actions in light of all of what Jesus revealed, one doesn't give meat (food) to the hungry for recompense. We are to give food for righteousness' sake. One (you) will be rewarded with the inheritance after the heart (emotion) is in the right place meaning after priorities are straight: All first and last.

That's what Jesus came to teach, and that's why Jesus was, and is, greater than Jacob and all the other people and prophets and Jacob and the rest know it. That doesn't damn Jacob. This doesn't damn Esau either, since we all need mercy and a guiding light. We have all fallen to the backwards way. We all must be forgiven or be damned.

What is going on here? Well, if you read Jesus carefully, the more you do, the more you will see that he rebuked the past. He did it to light the path forward to save souls from the errors of the past.

Who can doubt that the past has been crooked? Look where we are. Look at the wars and all the rest. Look at the lies and half-truths still being told. We see all around the reaping of the fruit of bad seed: Selfishness.

Mohammed came along and disregarded the message of Jesus. He continued twisting things. He managed to convince a whole people, a huge nation, the Arabs, and then others to avoid looking directly at, seeing, understanding, and following Jesus's absolutely correct prescription: The only real prescription.

Jacob wasn't following that prescription, because it hadn't come back into the world yet. None of the prophets before Jesus were following the prescription exactly, for the same reason. Mohammed certainly didn't follow the prescription even though he had heard it from the New Testament.

This lesson can be taken correctly or twisted further. Taken correctly, one will see that scripture shows the lesson. Further twisting will be myopic about it. It will throw out the whole thing since it shows dirty tricks that were rationalized. The correct path is not to throw it out but to continue learning properly to interpret.
Mohammed: More loot

You decide if Moses and the tribes he led out of captivity in Egypt and then Jesus and his twelve disciples were really of the spirit of Mohammed and that the only reason The Bible differs from the Qur'an is because liars and cheaters changed the word. Mohammed was taking a disproportionate share of the loot. He got that share, because he took it. Joseph's two sons (Manasseh and Ephraim) on the other hand received equal full shares but not because they took it, not because they said God told them it was for them.

Mohammed was not being great in the divine sense. He was bringing death to bring the peace of the worldly prince that is no peace at all. The peace of the Islamic Empire is no more the peace of God than was Pax Romana or is Pax Americana. It could be worse, of course. That though is the devil's argument. God's argument is that it can be better and even perfect.

Anyone can start a religion

It can be a religion that moves beyond its originator or grows to having a huge following. Christianity has the greatest number of professors in the world today. With the sole exception of real Christianity (pacifistic and communistic), the religions of the world are each a matter of the degree of selfishness they put forth and practice. This is a matter of conscience and acceptance. A religion founded by someone with a conscience too defective according to the standards of the people hearing his or her precepts will not gain followers enough even to coerce many to follow. Islam is indicative of the receptivity of its followers to Mohammed's level of conscience. Such is the case for every religious founder and his or her followers. Such was and is the case concerning the apostate professors of Christianity. They follow those who misinterpret. It is all relative. It is all compared with Jesus as Jesus himself compared himself with our Father.

Anyone can undertake anything in the name of religion, old or new, and claim divine guidance and authority. Anyone can attempt to, and some have and will succeed in, gaining followers. A religion can be founded by someone who is totally disingenuous or by someone who earnestly believes he or she is divinely inspired. A religion can have as its first followers, and even all of its followers, people who are simply colluding with the founder or who are all earnest believers in the founder's, and perhaps their own, divine inspiration. Any religion though lasting long enough will be confronted due to transportation and more so communications.

The rapid changes in technologies have accelerated this process. This is one of the reasons why Muslims are being confronted about the conscience of Mohammed and their own consciences relative to that of Jesus. This is one of the reasons why the Chinese government is working so hard on censoring the Internet. They too fear the real Gospel.
Mohammed: Selfish followers let him lord it over them

Now, Mohammed started a new religion. He refused to accept the Old or New Testaments. The degree to which each of those testaments and especially the New Testament called upon him to tame his personal lust and, therefore, be more unselfish was something he rejected. Because the two testaments came out of the nationalism that rejected Ishmael, Christianity caught on more readily with non-Arab Gentiles. The Arabs were in large measure still pagan. Mohammed saw an opportunity to unite the Arabs under a central religion theme acceptable to their egos by putting forth Ishmael and by appealing to their cultural weaknesses such as greed, violence, and depravity at a certain level. He took everything that he wanted for himself, to license his own behavior, and simply couched it in messianic terms attempting to negate the two testaments. He finally found people who saw it in their most selfish interest to let him lead them.

Mohammed's sexual lust

More wives

During Mohammed's process of doing this, Mohammed convince the people largely through building a coercive capability, to accept his word as the word of God. He convinced and coerced them into allowing him to do whatever he wanted including changing his mind about previous laws of Allah that Mohammed had decreed. Some examples include when Mohammed wanted to have more wives than anyone else was allowed to have, he simply decreed it that God had changed God's mind and had decided to allow Mohammed to have more wives. The only mind that changed was Mohammed's.

Self-authorized adultery

Mohammed married his adopted son's ex-wife. According to Jesus, that constituted adultery. Mohammed also authorized himself and his army to have sexual intercourse with captive women married to other men. To get around the obviousness of such depravity, Mohammed devised a wicked device, a technicality, a dirty trick, allowing the members of his army to supposedly lawfully marry the women for a few days while they took them against their wills for sexual lust, their worldly reward for following exceedingly evil dictates masqueraded by Mohammed as God's will.

An unrehearsed child will tell you that God is against such technicalities. Otherwise, every rape could be claimed a marriage sanctioned by God. To hell with that.

Accounts differ. Some state that Mohammed kept a Christian slave, Maria al Qibtiyya, as his concubine. Others say she converted and then Mohammed married her.

Some claim that he married a nine-year-old girl, Aisha, the daughter of Abu Bakr, the first caliph of Islam, and consummated that marriage when she was still nine. Others say she was fourteen when Mohammed first ejaculated in her. He was at least in his fifties. Considering that he had several adult wives at the time, even granting cultural differences, his actions still constitute lechery. At best, he indulged himself with an impressionable adolescent even while he had plenty of other avenues for the release of any sexual tension.

Now, Mohammed died unrepentant. We must forgive him on the level that Jesus forgave his murders from the cross. This in no way states that what Mohammed did was not evil. This is paradoxical for the hardhearted. Soften your heart. It means that while we don't want the unrepentant and, therefore, unworthy spirit of Mohammed anywhere near us, neither do we want him to suffer in vain. Our hearts must be such that we would hope that whatever the soul of Mohammed must go through that in the end he will repent forever. In which case, his spirit would no longer be a devouring, ruinous spirit. In which further case, God could allow him to rise accordingly, proportionate to his ultimate worthiness. This is the golden rule extended infinitely.

Some relate that Mohammed had sex with a captured seventeen-year-old Jewish girl, Safiyya bint Huyayy, within a day of the deaths of her father, husband, and other members of her family in an attack on their home settlement of Khaybar.

Whether or not any of these accounts is true, even without them, Mohammed's teachings even if cast in the most generous light, do not constitute teachings to lead people out of the darkness and into the light of righteousness, certainly not since we have the teachings of Jesus that shine so brightly that Mohammed's teachings are utter darkness when compared directly to them.

The more one looks at Mohammed historically and sees him coming out of the Qur’an compared with Jesus coming out of the Gospels, the more one sees a man who was exceedingly lustful and who would be king whose words he insisted be taken as the law of God. We see a man who when Satan showed Mohammed "all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me," Mohammed did not say to Satan, "Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve." (Matthew 4:8-10). Rather than that, Mohammed drank in every machination of his heart.

Mohammed's followers have to make excuses

Muslims excuse his behavior. They say Mohammed's word was the law of God. They buy it, because it serves their entrenched selfish interests. They claim that such things were acceptable then, whereas Islam has changed now, etc. This is obfuscation.

Real Christianity on the other hand, hasn't changed one jot or tittle. Jesus's teachings and exemplary life are in need of zero revisions or excuses.

Here's a little more background information. Mohammed started out impressed by the monotheism in The Bible. He took it to the extreme for effect. He grasped some things, but a little knowledge is a dangerous thing, as we have seen time and again. Mohammed did not grasp how to reconcile the aspects of oneness. He saw the unity and power in the oneness-direction and took that as a sign that he was seeing things no one else could. He got carried away with himself. This is the inherent danger that results in usurping God (or more properly attempting to usurp) even if one imagines one is knowingly keeping that from happening. At first, he tried to get followers to worship toward Jerusalem, since it was the geographical focal point of The Bible. It grasped somewhat the continuity. However, when he was rebuffed by the People of the Book, as he called the Jews and Christians, he turned the focus of his attention from Jerusalem back to the pagan center that was Mecca and superimposed his new found monotheism upon the pantheon or polytheism of Mecca.

That was not meaningless or without consequences. Consider the ramifications. Consider what it says. Consider what Mohammed was rejecting. Consider the inherent rebelliousness against the flow of Melchizedek to whom Abraham tithed and from whom Abraham received the sacrament of bread and wine. Consider that it was a break from the unfolding revelation and prophecy climaxing in Jesus the Christ. Consider how by doing that, Mohammed was not in the stream of believing in his name: God saves the anointed and the anointed is the savior of the real world. Continuity is truth. Mohammed did not accept Jesus as his savior. Mohammed did not accept God as his savior. Mohammed did not teach abiding in God and God abiding within. He did not, does not, and will not lead to that necessary unity of spirit. He did not tame both the beast of persecution and the beast of slaughter.

The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD. (Isaiah 65:25).

His holy mountain is all the world and universe and is foreshadowed by the real concept of Jerusalem.

In Salem also is his tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Zion. (Psalm 76:2).

Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. (John 4:20-21).

Or Mecca.

It means that the temple would be destroyed and the understanding of humanity would begin to be moved to comprehend that the spirit of God is everywhere we shine at the same time with, and in, the light of truth revealing. This is the real sun and moon and stars and all the light in heaven all at the same time.
Black stone idol

Therefore, Mohammed attempted to co-opt and subjugate the antecedent spirit of Christianity by mundanely focusing his attention upon the geocentric stream of consciousness missing the other aspect of what for many remains a paradox. He didn't know how to have Jerusalem as the center for continuity while understanding and teaching that the spirit connected via that continuity is perceptible as being centered within every soul who accepts it. The real tabernacle and Zion are in the heart doubtless of Jesus and not in the symbolic black-draped Kaaba, imperfect cube, or in the black stone that is cracked in pieces and has to be held together by the handiwork of men. That black stone is representative of Islam.

The right symbol of Mohammed's Islam: Cracked and held together by contrivance; black, hard, cold, and fractured.

Mecca became the so-called holiest place on earth for Islam. Mecca already had many of the features of Islam such as the Kaaba, which is the semi-cubical structure around which the pagan worshippers would circle seven times. It had the black stone that is there today, which was, and is, revered and idolized as a sign the continuity of which appears to be lost on the adherents of Islam. Mohammed kissed that stone upon his triumphant return to Mecca. People still kiss this stone. It is the only idol Mohammed didn't ordered destroyed.

As I've mentioned elsewhere in this work, everything speaks. Symbols speak. Shapes, along with all other characteristics, have meaning.
Meaninglessness is a mundane reality. Meaninglessness speaks of human as yet imperceptiveness. God perceives what is meant and said by every shape and symbol. At the same time, there is imagination that is fruitless. Also though, there is doubtlessness where God gives as merited, including on the level termed miracle. That is not the fruitless stream of consciousness. Consider how Pontius Pilate wondered what Jesus's silence meant.

And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? And he answered him to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly. (Matthew 27:12-14).

Jesus spoke without saying a word. The black stone also speaks, but it isn't truth. The revelation is the unfolding to human souls of an ever greater discernment and feeling concerning that relatedness. What does the black stone relate? It speaks in the stream of consciousness of bloodlust. It and the Kaaba will be no more, forever.

Now, you can argue forever about whether Allah (the god) is Jesus's God and our Father. Allah is if one straightens out the conceptual errors of Mohammed. It is if one can take the Arabic term "the god" and disassociate Mohammed's lack of real vision and imbue Jesus's vision. This would result in making the tree good. The fruit would be good. God would be God and not Mohammed's confusion.

Is Allah God?

Mohammed did not grasp God our Father else Mohammed would never have depreciated Jesus, which he clearly did relative to the degree of appreciation Jesus himself made clear one must have for him as the word. Allah of Islam is to God what Zeus and Jupiter are to God for purposes of having a starting place for conversion to the love, peace, and truth of God (Yahveh) the Father of Jesus and all real Christians. God as Mohammed taught is definitely not my God. However, in discussing God with an Arabic-only speaker, I would accept to use his or her language to relate what the real God is about, far from what Mohammed taught and exemplified.

Mohammed against women as spiritual servants/leaders

Don't get hung up on the gender issue either, meaning don't get stuck thinking that only men can be spiritual leaders (servants). God is certainly fully in touch with the masculine, the feminine, and the asexual to the infinite degree all at the same time. God conceptualized all the kinds and genders of all living things. The "Father" is parable form. The Father was conceptually in a position to give the things that mothers were not. Jesus though did speak of the "queen of the south." (Matthew 12:42).
He did not teach anti-leadership for females. He connected with people with the words that could enlighten them starting from right where he found them. That's what God does in unfolding his plan for our edification and salvation as being one and the same thing.

Understand that the things I've related, and will relate, in this work concerning the errors of Mohammed are far from the totality of his errors. Mohammed's teachings and life have led hundreds of millions of souls away from the truth of the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ. In doing this, Mohammed has deliberately covered over the most important lesson of Jesus Christ. Jesus showed the greatest love by not offending. If he had physically fought (caved into wrath and vengeance) he would have offended (displeased God). Jesus self-sacrificed out of the love in his heart to show his friends (all who believe and act accordingly) the kind and degree of love necessary to saves souls. Mohammed did not do that or advocate it.

This truth of love and peace that Jesus demonstrated showed God to us. Either one believes this or not. Those who truly believe do not believe Mohammed and do not cave into wrath or vengeance or any of the other manifestations of a polluted heart. They control themselves. They turn themselves over to the will of God. They are those who bring forth and they are those who are true martyrs due to the hardheartedness of true heathens.
The illogic of Mohammed concerning Jesus

Mohammed claimed that he acknowledged Jesus as a true prophet yet he rejected everything that renders Jesus a true prophet. If one accepts Jesus as a true prophet, then that one must necessarily accept everything Jesus said about himself including that he was the Son of God.

O People of the Scripture! Do not exaggerate in your religion nor utter aught concerning Allah save the truth. The Messiah, Jesus son of Mary, was only a messenger of Allah, and His word which He conveyed unto Mary, and a spirit from Him. So believe in Allah and His messengers, and say not 'Three' - Cease! (it is) better for you! - Allah is only One God. Far is it removed from His Transcendent Majesty that He should have a son. His is all that is in the heavens and all that is in the earth. And Allah is sufficient as Defender. (Qur'an, Surah 4, Ayat 171; hereinafter, Qur'an citations will be in the following format: Qur'an 4:171).

Hardline Trinitarians

There are hardline Trinitarians who miss greater meaning by being overly focused upon self-limiting connotations. For instance, the concept people have of the Holy Spirit being a person can be limiting concerning their joining with the Holy Spirit.

It is so important for us to understand that the Holy Spirit is. God spoke to Moses through God's angel spirit telling Moses that Moses is to understand that God's name is "I Am." This is at once profound and simple.

As for we human beings arguing as to what constitutes separate yet together, it is infinitely semantical. One is to conceptualize both being differentiated and unified at the same time. The Holy Spirit has beingness. The Holy Spirit senses. The Holy Spirit expresses emotion. The Holy Spirit is alive. The Holy Spirit has in infinite totality of wisdom. Where Jesus leaves off and the Holy Spirit begins and vice versa is a place where people fall into the trap of mundane paradox. They even kill one another over it. That's insane.

There is our Father of whom Jesus spoke, and Jesus acknowledged that he, Jesus, was the Son of God. Why did Mohammed fuss so about it? This will become clear if it isn't already.

More on the illogic of Mohammed

Mohammed declared that Jesus was not the Son of God. Yet he also said Jesus was a real messenger. It is blatant hypocrisy. It was just plain dull to say Jesus was the messenger of God but turn around to also say that Jesus was a liar about being the Son of God.

Listen carefully people of Islam. If Jesus wasn't the Son of God, Jesus was a liar and no messenger of God. If Jesus was no liar and was a messenger of God, Jesus was the Son of God. Either way, Mohammed was blatantly wrong. Do you see that? It is the plain and clear truth. Anyone who denies it is spiritually in utter darkness.

Mohammed's was no small error. He has led all the people of Islam astray with that error. On that mistake, Mohammed built his entire house that is going to fall utterly down on account of it. Don't deny the truth. Convert, and be saved.

Mohammed hated Jesus by Jesus's standard

Some may ask whether Mohammed's words may be reconciled somehow, the way the Old Testament scriptures may be reconciled with the teachings of Jesus. No, Mohammed's teachings may not be reconciled with the teachings of Jesus. Mohammed had the benefit of Jesus's teachings that the people of the Old Testament did not. Mohammed denied that Jesus came out from God and was his son. Mohammed denied the whole of the rest of the message of Jesus. Mohammed said Jesus's message was wrong. Mohammed said Jesus handled things incorrectly. Mohammed hated Jesus. Read on.

Mohammed was too fixed upon carnal desires (physical, sexual appetites). He did not grasp the spiritual, familial relationship. He denied that God wants his children to learn to perfect spiritually, to join with God completely in spirit. This is a viewpoint that God thankfully does not share. God instructs to perfect us as all good Fathers ought.
Mohammed was too literal. God being our Father does not mean that God is solely a fleshy human being. God manifested in the flesh as a human being in the form of Jesus Christ while remaining also spirit transcending the flesh. This was proven by the miracle deeds of Jesus and especially his loving sacrifice and then resurrection.

Mohammed got hung up on semantics. He couldn't comprehend. It went over his head and more so over his heart. Mohammed was too hardhearted to grasp. That's why Mohammed couldn't understand that slaughtering people was an abomination that doesn't go unpunished. No matter how much oppression Mohammed claimed to be lifting, he still did evil and his teachings and exemplification have continued to facilitate that evil down to this time. Jesus did not do evil and has not facilitated evil. Jesus has pronounced the death knell for evil and the error upon which Islam is founded.

God is my Father, and my Father is constantly instructing me. I love my Father, and I am glad my Father loves me to instruct me.

The Messiah, son of Mary, was no other than a messenger, messengers (the like of whom) had passed away before him. And his mother was a saintly woman. And they both used to eat (earthly) food. See how We make the revelations clear for them, and see how they are turned away! (Qur'an 5:75).
That was Mohammed denying the resurrection while in the same breath he was claiming Jesus was the messenger of God. He was claiming these things even while he was completely aware that Jesus had said Jesus was, and is, the resurrection. What Mohammed's words reveal is that Mohammed was speaking from his own imagination and was not speaking anything he had heard from God.

Sonship

The following is the scripture about Jesus:

But Jesus held his peace, And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said. (Matthew 26:63-64).

"Thou hast said" means "Yes." Jesus said the following about himself:

He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. (John 3:18).

Jesus was the only one who got it. That's why he was the only begotten Son. One has to get it to be a Son of God. One has to grasp it, realize it, digest it, become one with it, etc. These things Jesus did. Jesus realized that he was connected inseparably and had been all along. Look, when he was here, he wasn't home. He was separated but realized that God was with him, in him, him, as he was with God, in God, God, all along. He went home. That's the mentality and emotional state God wants each and all of us to realize: Make real. There is no path to righteousness but to become, be, righteousness that is God.

Mohammed condemned himself with his words of disbelief. Mohammed did not believe that Jesus was what Jesus called himself that was "the only begotten Son of God." Mohammed did not understand the sonship. He did not believe in the name of Jesus. He did not believe in Yāhweh. He begrudged Jesus Jesus's relationship with God. Mohammed was jealous.

Mohammed did not have the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. He is dead. He could not bring himself to eat of the real bread. He did not know Jesus, and Jesus said he would deny to his Father those who denied Jesus. Mohammed denied Jesus. Mohammed's followers must convert or be lost and dead of the eternal spirit with Mohammed.

Will Mohammed be able to pay his way out? Will he be yet allowed to repent? Did he blaspheme the Holy Spirit? The truth will judge. We judge no man.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. (John 5:25).

And the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints which slept arose, And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many. (Matthew 27:52-53).

Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God? (John 9:35).

Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? (John 10:36).

When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby. (John 11:4).

More on the illogic of Mohammed

Yet, despite all this, Mohammed calls Jesus both true prophet and, therefore, truthful yet not the Son of God, which Jesus called himself. How can anyone believe Mohammed? It is impossible. Mohammed did not accept Jesus as a true prophet else Mohammed would have been a Christian. Everyone who truly accepts Jesus for who Jesus said he is, is a real Christian. Such people strive mightily to do as Jesus taught. Mohammed was no Christian. Mohammed did not do as Jesus taught. If Mohammed said such illogical distortions about Jesus, how can anyone believe him about his love of any of Yahweh's prophets?
Mohammed more than any single person in the history of the planet fought openly against Jesus. Mohammed was antichrist and antichristian. He did not love Jesus. Mohammed hated Jesus, and all Muslims should come to see it and convert to Christianity and away from the utter hypocrisy of Mohammed. It is prima fascia in Mohammed's teachings and deeds that Mohammed did not love or even know Yahveh, the one living God, our Father.

Jesus was against all war. Jesus was against polygamy, slavery, harems, stealing, and double standards. Mohammed attacked and robbed desert caravans. He was a polygamist. He started wars. He practiced double standards by allowing himself more wives than any other Muslim.

Of course the right of polygamy was not extended to females, which is another double standard. The women of Islam know this but are duped by the teachings that are just human tradition and not the word of God. They are simply intimidated, afraid, and brainwashed.

So-called honor killings

There are women of Islam who are highly intimidated, because among other things, they fear falling prey to misnamed honor killings. This is when a woman is killed and the claim is that she engaged in sexual activity that brought dishonor upon the family, even if she were the victim of rape.

Even though this practice is claimed to be un-Islamic by many Muslims, people are still not free to speak out against Islam. They are subjected to evil death edicts by Islamic clerics.
That's directly due to the climate of violence advocated and condoned in the Qur'an as written by Mohammed.

Any such death edicts leveled against a real Christian, who necessarily is speaking the truth of the message and life of Jesus, is as a badge of honor for that Christian. Any such death threats carried out makes that Christian a true martyr for the faith. That martyr shall have eternal life with our Father, the Holy Spirit, Jesus, and all the saints.

For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. (Matthew 16:25).

Islam: Not the real peace

Those evil death edicts are very much consistent with the unrepented, violent, covetous, adulterous, polygamous, un-servant message and example of Mohammed. Islam is not a peaceful religion, despite the revisionism of many within Islam. It is no more a religion of the real peace than was Rome responsible for real peace under the so-called Pax Romana or than is the American Empire responsible for real peace under Pax Americana or than was the undertaking known as the Holy Crusades of the Middle Ages.

The Crusades

Those Crusades were not real Christianity. The Crusaders killed so many Muslims in Jerusalem that the blood was up to the knees on their horses. It was the pope of the Roman church who called upon the Crusaders to go to Jerusalem to wipe out the Muslims. Of course, it didn't work.

Sexual slavery

Islam is founded upon theft and war, both of which Mohammed did repeatedly and obviously taught his followers to do. Mohammed went to war to steal and to possess human beings including females for, among other reasons, sexual slavery.

Women are still very nearly powerless and voiceless in much of Islam. They are as chattel. It is consistent with the teachings and example of Mohammed. Mohammed's book is fraught with inconsistencies that are loopholes for iniquity, inequality, and disunity. That is why Islam does not hold enough moral authority to satisfy the hunger and thirst for righteousness of the people of the world. Islam will never be the faith of the world, because Jesus was a teacher and exemplifier of truth and Mohammed was not.

None of the teachings or deeds of Mohammed cited here are sanctioned by Jesus. They are anathema to Jesus. Mohammed knew that full well. He did these things after hearing Jesus's teachings and rejecting them.

All the onus on women

The women of Mohammed's original brand of Islam are made repressively to stay covered head-to-toe. They must attend separate prayers or stay in the back. This is done, according to certain Islamic teachers, so that the men will not be distracted during prayers by the sexual desirability of the female form. If the women are allowed to be in front of any males, when the women and men bow down, the women's rear ends will be in the men's direct line of sight. The women are not to even speak, because according to this teaching, even their voices cause desire in males.

It is revealing that males and females of Islam are not expected to have God on their minds and only God without being in different locations. The lust of the mind is not truly expected to be overcome under such teachings. The separation is a capitulation to the lust of the flesh rather than an overcoming. Separation is a constant reminder of what is not overcome that should be overcome making such rules unthinkable. Such thoughts should not occur. "And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed." (Genesis 2:25). That is how it really is supposed to be. That is the state of overcoming. That is when lust is fully overcome.

Genesis 2:25 alluded to the fact that they had not yet sinned, been hedonistic, selfish.

Islam takes covering women to such an extreme that it is reminiscent of mid-Victorianism. Do they need to put pant legs on the legs of tables? After all, it was once thought that exposed table legs encouraged thoughts of naked human legs. Have we overcome such thoughts? The onus should not be wholly on females.
The voices of women

Jesus said that when we pray, we should pray in secret so that God will reward us openly. He gave the people a collective prayer when they asked him how they ought to pray. He gave them what is known as the Lord's Prayer. It is integral that females and males together are completely free to say the Lord's Prayer out loud. Hence, the voices of women saying the Lord's Prayer should not be illicit or heard or thought of as being licentious.

Prayer five times a day

The fact that Muslims are required to pray five times a day rather than be in the spirit all day is also revealing. It is not as Jesus would have them.

Destruction of Jerusalem

There are those of Islam who claim that Jesus failed, because Jerusalem was destroyed. However, Jesus made absolutely clear that Jerusalem would be destroyed. Why would the followers of Mohammed not want to acknowledge the true revelation of Jesus that prophesied the destruction of the nation-state of the Jews?

The false Jews did not accept Jesus and repent and were, therefore, godforsaken. The same fate awaits all who hate Jesus.

Also, just because there are self-styled clerics who claim that so-called hardliners teach a false version of Islam does not make Islam the religion of peace and morals, etc., that they claim for it. Those Islamic so-called hardliners are closer to the vision of Mohammed than are their revisionist critics within their religion. Mohammed's followers are trapped in the widening snare. This is why they are experiencing so much internal violence and other manifestations of being misled.

Hajj: Stampeding one another to death

Look at what the spirit brings them of their own making at what they claim to be their holiest sites. Under the guise of overcoming temptation, their Hajj reinforces the opposite of turning the other cheek. They ritualistically stone the devil. Of course, they should stand four-square against evil and should overcome temptation, but Mohammed's way is not the way to do that for all the reasons laid out in this work that enlarges upon the golden rule. Look at what their traditions have brought them. They are regularly stampeding one another to death by the hundreds and even thousands. The message is deficient in establishing in their hearts the necessary condition so that such events cannot occur.

They must convert en masse to what is real Christianity to be spiritually freed.

In some Islamic countries, it is against the law to defame Islam. This offense is punishable by time in prison. Muslims attack people who speak against Islam. Their scriptures teach them to do this. Their founder, Mohammed, led them to that violent behavior. He knew that his religion could not withstand an open, honest, and direct airing. He brainwashed his followers into automatically shutting their minds to the truth that Mohammed's teachings are selfish falsehood. The time for waking up to the truth has come. Look squarely at Mohammed's selfish teachings and deeds. Repent.

Islam is afraid of open debate, continued

Islam has always been afraid to debate on the merits in the open in front of all the people, male and female, who live under its repression caused by the duplicitous spirit of its founder. Its leaders know Islam would loose its physically coerced following. The truth is not on Mohammed's side. Rather than allow people to speak openly, Islamic tenets demand violence to silence those who speak to truth.

Fight in the way of Allah against those who fight against you, but begin not hostilities. Lo! Allah loveth not aggressors. And slay them wherever ye find them, and drive them out of the places whence they drove you out, for persecution is worse than slaughter. And fight not with them at the Inviolable Place of Worship until they first attack you there, but if they attack you (there) then slay them. Such is the reward of disbelievers. (Qur’an 2:190-191).

This is hypocrisy, because Mohammed began major hostilities. He was vengeful against fellow Arabs who rejected him as a messenger of God. Contrary to the teachings of unselfishness of the acknowledged prophet Jesus Christ, Mohammed raised an army to attack those who rejected him.

We are not saying that anyone should be violent toward anyone of Islam. On the contrary, we are saying that everyone should be truly peaceful. We are saying though that the real peace will never come by way of silence in the face of falsehoods that lead people astray and leave souls lost. We are saying that it is wrong to sidestep the truth concerning the basic tenets of apostate religion. The true way is not for those of Islam and others to come to imagine that the means of Islam are the real peace. The true way is for those of Islam to see the extremely stark difference between the unselfish message of Jesus and the selfish message of Mohammed and to choose Jesus.

Fighting is prescribed for you, and ye dislike it. But it is possible that ye dislike a thing which is good for you, and that ye love a thing which is bad for you. But Allah knoweth, and ye know not. They ask thee concerning fighting in the Prohibited Month. Say, 'Fighting therein is a grave (offence); but graver is it in the sight of Allah to prevent access to the path of Allah, to deny Him, to prevent access to the Sacred Mosque, and drive out its members.' Tumult and oppression are worse than slaughter. Nor will they cease fighting you until they turn you back from your faith if they can. And if any of you Turn back from their faith and die in unbelief, their works will bear no fruit in this life and in the Hereafter; they will be companions of the Fire and will abide therein. (Qur'an 2:216-217).

Fighting is not prescribed for anyone. It is a lie. Anyone who rejects fighting and turns his or her other cheek in the name of God and Jesus and teaches others to do so is not an unbeliever but rather a true believer and will not be punished by God in heaven but will rather be called a child of God in heaven. Do not be lead astray into violence by false shepherds. Do not fear the persecution of anyone professing Islam when for the sake of righteousness you refuse to fight. Yours is the kingdom of heaven. Do not call for wrath when you are persecuted or oppressed but rather pray for those who hate you.

Mohammed's error about persecution

Mohammed writes, "For persecution is worse than slaughter." Now, Jesus said as follows:

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets.
which were before you. (Matthew 5:10-12).

Mohammed though repeatedly spurs people to the evil offense that is violence by leading them astray with the following:

Let those fight in the cause of Allah Who sell the life of this world for the hereafter. To him who fighteth in the cause of Allah, whether he is slain or gets victory, soon shall We give him a reward of great (value). And why should ye not fight in the cause of Allah and of those who, being weak, are ill-treated (and oppressed), men, women, and children, whose cry is, 'Our Lord, Rescue us from this town, whose people are oppressors and raise for us from thee one who will protect and raise for us from thee one who will help? Those who believe fight in the cause of Allah, and those who reject Faith Fight in the cause of Evil. So fight ye against the friends of Satan. Feeble indeed is the cunning of Satan. (Qur’an 4:74-76).

Remember thy Lord inspired the angels (with the message), 'I am with you: give firmness to the Believers: I will instill terror into the hearts of the Unbelievers: smite ye above their necks and smite all their finger-tips off them.' (Qur’an 8:12).
And fight them until persecution is no more, and religion is all for Allah. (Qur'an 8:39).

O Prophet! rouse the Believers to the fight. If there are twenty amongst you, patient and persevering, they will vanquish two hundred: if a hundred, they will vanquish a thousand of the Unbelievers: for these are a people without understanding. (Qur'an 8:65).

But when the forbidden months are past, then fight and slay the Pagans wherever ye find them, and seize them, beleaguer them, and lie in wait for them in every stratagem (of war); but if they repent, and establish regular prayers and practice regular charity, then open the way for them: for Allah is Oft-forgiving, Most Merciful. (Qur'an 9:5).

Fight those who believe not in Allah, nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the religion of Truth, (even if they are) of the People of the Book, until they pay the Jizya with willing submission, and feel themselves subdued. (Qur'an 9:29).
Therefore, when ye meet the Unbelievers (in fight), smite at their necks; At length, when ye have thoroughly subdued them, bind a bond firmly (on them): thereafter (is the time for) either generosity or ransom: Until the war lays down its burdens. Thus (are ye commanded): but if it had been Allah’s Will, He could certainly have exacted retribution from them (Himself); but (He lets you fight) in order to test you, some with others. But those who are slain in the Way of Allah, He will never let their deeds be lost. (Qur’an 47:4).

The word "fight" as used above by Mohammed means with the sword to destroy men's lives. Seventy-nine times, Mohammed incites violence in the Qur’an! Twenty-six times, he calls in the Qur’an for jihad: Religious warfare! No matter what his followers now claim, Mohammed in fact enjoined them to kill for him.

Jesus said put up your swords, turn your other cheek, do not resist evil, love your enemy, and return kindness for evil.

Isaiah, in the spirit of real liberalism and anti-churlishness and anti-vileness and anti-villainy, taught that all swords are to be turned into plowshares and all spears are to be turned into pruning hooks.

Mohammed taught his flock contrary to Jesus and Isaiah.
Mohammed: Extortionist

Islam: Protection racket

The "People of the Book" are the Jews of the Old Testament and Christians of the New Testament. "Jizya" in Qur'an 9:29 is religiously sanctioned extortion for protection. It is forced religious taxation on non-Muslims on pain of being left unprotected from attackers until the payments are made. The Muslims paid a kind of tax as well, but it was not coerced and was at a significantly lower rate than Jizya. Also, there were times when non-Muslims were not allowed to convert to Islam, because the tax base would then have been too low. The great evil of Jizya financed Mohammed's empire building. In America, it is called racketeering (the protection racket).

In the US, gangsters would go to business establishments and tell the owners that if they did not give money to the gangsters the gangsters would not protect them. Then, when the owner would not give money, the gangsters would attack the owner's property or the owner himself until the owner started making the payments. There is no difference here between the practice of US gangsters and Islam.

People are supposed to be afraid of Islam. They are supposed to be intimidated because of the express and implicit threat of death against anyone who speaks the truth that Mohammed was a false shepherd. It is evil to issue death threats against people who do not agree with you concerning your religious or other beliefs. No Christian is sanctioned by Jesus to issue any death threats or death warrants to anyone for any reason.

Osama bin Laden

As for Osama bin Laden, of course he is a false shepherd. He is wrong to lump all Americans together, just as it would be wrong to lump all Arabs together. He is also wrong in his views that war is acceptable. It is not. He is especially wrong in targeting American children to avenge the death of Islamic children. However, he is correct in many of his criticisms of the current American administration and aspects of previous administrations, just as they are correct in many of their criticisms of him.

al Qaeda

Contrary to al Qaeda's views, just because a nation makes claims to being a democracy, such as the US, does not make all of its citizens responsible for the actions of the leaders of such a nation. It most certainly does not justify harming the innocent of such a nation. God frowns heavily upon the false doctrines of al Qaeda.

bin Laden's complained about economic sanctions against Muslims

The economic sanctions against Iraq that resulted in the deaths of many thousands of children were despicable. The whole thing was handled totally wrong.
Greed is corruption. It is foolish to imagine that the world can stimulate competition and lust for money and things it buys (capitalism) and then be surprised when vast global corruption is uncovered even within humanitarian efforts. There were kickbacks of over a billion US dollars in the UN Oil for Food Program for Iraq. All those involved contributed to the increased misery of the Iraqi people including many little children who didn't have enough to eat or other basic necessities.

bin Laden's complained about Israel and Palestine

Also, while the Hebrews did suffer horrendously at the hands of Nazi Germany, as did many millions of others, Israel's treatment of the Palestinians has been anything but fair and equitable. This is not to condone violence by the Palestinians either.

Of course, the imperialism during the heavy colonial period left the powerful countries with delusions of authority. Hence, as with many other boundaries subject to the whim of the powerful nations, Palestine's rights were severely and deliberately muddled from the start under the British efforts to win World War I.

Britain promised, or led on (if you will not accept them as promises), both the Arabs and false Zionists in order to play power politics across the Middle East region and play upon the selfish desires of both Arabs and false Zionists always for the selfish interest of Britain. A review of the history of the Hussein-McMahon Correspondence of 1915–1916, the Sykes-Picot Agreement of 1916, the Balfour Declaration of 1917, the British Mandate of Palestine, and false Zionists and Arab terrorism bears this out.

Concerning the Balfour Declaration, in 1919, lord Balfour reputedly wrote the following:

In Palestine, we do not even propose to consult the inhabitants of the country. … immediate needs and hopes for the future are much more important than the desires and prejudices of the 700,000 Arabs who presently inhabit Palestine.122

---

the boundaries of Arab independence.

One can't argue with that. It's clear and direct. The British (Winston Churchill) reneged.

Islamic errors and the founding fathers?

What does all of this have to do with the American founding fathers? The same reasons Islam and the other religions, other than real Christianity, are not the narrow-way are the same reason (selfishness) the founding fathers of the US didn't set up the nation correctly.

Unselfishness is God.

The whole of those who crossed the Atlantic, many to escape religious persecution, should have developed America in the spirit of pacifism, giving and sharing, and no human bondage or slavery.

However, personal, selfish interests ended up taking to the fore. Moral persuasion didn't rule the day, because of the hardness of men's hearts.

Jefferson belonged to that large class of southerners -- including the best of them, men like Washington and Madison -- who knew that slavery was evil, but felt they could not cut back on the evil without cutting the ground out from under them. They knew, as well, that they would lose their influence over other southerners if they went against the system off which they lived.\textsuperscript{123}

The harder-hearted men wouldn’t have the ground cut out from under them, their estates, for the sake of righteousness. Understand that Jefferson owned as chattel some eighty-three other human beings at the very moment he signed the Declaration of Independence. Contemplate the magnitude of that hypocrisy and what it has meant to the American way of doing things, to the American system. Jefferson was far from alone in such gross selfishness and utter hypocrisy.

Apparently, eight presidents owned slaves while in office. Just think about all the members of Congress and all the judges who also owned other human beings while lauding the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights and other such documents. Think about all the signatories who owned other people as they owned beasts of burden and furniture. They owned their wives and children in much the same spirit.

Everything was, and still is, based upon coercion, under the threat, and use, of violence rather than moral persuasion. That is the heart upon which the American system was founded. That is why it is still a house divided and always will be until it falls and a new house is raised up under the unifying spirit of unselfishness.

Jefferson even counted among his chattel a number of his own mulatto children. He did not free his slaves during his life. He held them under the force of arms, under the threat of severe punishment and even death for disobeying his every command. He tracked down runaways, placing ads for their capture.
and return. His estate was tyrannical even as he railed against tyranny.

The system of America is a macrocosm of that same coercive, undemocratic approach. The people still do not have democracy and will not and cannot under the hardhearted, capitalistic spirit and regardless of which end of the spectrum of capitalism one considers, from the tiny business to the major monopolies and state-capitalist nations such as was Russia under the Soviet Union and still is to a large measure.

Most, if not all, of the natives of the Americas though would have readily accepted the spirit of pacifism, giving and sharing, and no human bondage or slavery. The British, French, and Spanish would have had to succumb to the spirit. The entire world would have been better off on account of the example and positive influence. The same movement to the spirit must yet occur in the world for it to be saved. It could have started any time in the past had those in the past had it in them to do it. Rather than what The founders could have established, we have instead their legacy in the form of the policies of George W. Bush and his neocons. This current harvest is from many of the seeds planted by the founders. It is wrong to place those founders on the demigod pedestal so as to excuse people of today deliberately falling short of carrying out the divine will. It is wrong to suggest that following those founders necessarily results in proper actions. It does not.

It does the opposite, relative to the divine kingdom.

Now that the George W. Bush administration has manufactured a linkage between Osama bin Laden and Iraq as a pretext to attack Iraq to control Iraqi oil and spread the antichristian and, therefore, false gospel of American, capitalistic, corporate globalism, Osama bin Laden has all the more ammunition to convince Muslims of the evils of America.

Islam though has people in it who seek the truth, but many just have not heard the words of Jesus. They have not been allowed.

Rabia al-Adawiyya (717-801), an Islamic, Sufi, extremely ascetic woman from Basra, Iraq, rejected worship motivated by the desire for heavenly reward or the fear of punishment and insisted on the love of God as the only proper way of adoring God. It is right to do righteousness for its sake and not out of desire for reward or fear of punishment. This is consistent with the message of Jesus, when the deeper message is revealed and given to one. One may rightly wonder whether Rabia read the Gospels. It is close to the kingdom; however, it is the kind and degree of love of God that conflates. Contrary to the life of Rabia al-Adawiyya, solitary asceticism is not the way. One cannot do the unselfish deeds of love as God does them and remain in solitude.

People ask, is Allah God? Generally speaking, Allah is the name of God to those of Islam. I say generally, because there are those within Islam who take exception to this translation, because God connotes Elohim (conceptually uniplurality). The "-im" ending of Elohim connotes (suggests) plurality in Hebrew. To some traditionalist Muslims, Allah has no plurality of attributes attributable to him.

Allah, as defined by Mohammed, will never share all. The question is did Mohammed simply assign Mohammed's spirit to the name Allah?

For Islam, Allah is not Yahveh shown by Jesus as the one and only living God.

Allah is Mohammed's chief tribal-deity, the only one he left (other than the black stone) when he had all the other idols destroyed at the Kaaba. He took Allah and assigned that god a monotheistic status. He did that to unite the Arabs under him.

Allah is not God Most High, El Elyon of Melchizedek. Mohammed didn't want to try to get the Arabs to believe in God. God would have been new and foreign to them. That was a grave error.

War of religions

This war of religions is Islam against real Judaism and Christianity. It is, in fact, a blood feud between a professed son, Mohammed, of Ishmael against the sons of Jacob including mostly Jesus. The Bible says that Isaac, Jacob's father, received Abraham's blessing, whereas Mohammed in the Qur'an asserts that it was Ishmael who received the blessing. Mohammed also says it was Ishmael, and not Isaac, who was almost sacrificed. Mohammed's legacy is to have maintained the feud as a contest of wills.
That isn't where Jesus takes his followers. Jesus takes them to doing God's will, which is peace through peace.

Mohammed's family pride: Switching heirs and archangels

Mohammed's actions were those of one who was envious and personally insulted by the stories of the Jews concerning Mohammed's progenitor, Ishmael. That is why he rewrote accounts that were in The Bible concerning Abraham, Ishmael, and Isaac and the archangels Michael and Gabriel. In addition to switching Ishmael for Isaac in the account of Abraham's sacrifice of Isaac and in the blessing of Isaac by Abraham, he also switched Gabriel for Michael (the archangel of the Jews) as the archangel (attribute) closest to the perfect focal point that is the essence of God. He made Gabriel the archangel of Islam.

Heaven: Meritocracy

This blood feuding is immature, not the solution. The truth is that Jesus corrected the error of birth order and inheritances. Birth order has always been a contrivance, a false human tradition. That is why Jesus can be Lord to his entire worldly father's bloodline including King David and shares his entire inheritance with all whom will truly share it. It is in fact all ours so long as we do not disinherit ourselves through knowing iniquity that is sinning and unrepentance and includes, of course, usurping. In truth, heaven is a meritocracy of the simultaneous great and earnestly humble.
Everyone elevates everyone as deserving in heaven. It is love.

The evil of primogeniture, continued

Many of the wars in history have been exactly on account of the enmity inherent in primogeniture. As explained in the opening portions of this work, primogeniture is, by default, granting the oldest (usually the son) sole inheritance of the entire estate. This is not a lapse or omission on the part of any younger son or sibling. It is faulty reasoning handed down first son to first son.

It must be understood that many first sons hate their younger brothers right from the start. They look upon them as inherent rivals and threats. They don't look to protect them and teach them righteousness but rather they seek to break them, destroy them, and even murder them if they can get away with it. This is why many revolutions have been revolutions conducted by other sons against first sons, especially of the rich. It's a shame.

It must be understood that down through the millennia, worldly first sons have been the exact opposite of the spirit of Jesus Christ toward their younger male siblings and toward their female siblings regardless of age. It has been a very selfish and harmful trend. Jesus showed no such tendencies.

Good and loving older brother

I had occasion though as an adult to hear firsthand the story of an older teen boy who had been physically abused by his father. This boy began acting out against his mother. However, when he saw the fear in his younger brothers' eyes, he decided that he would never again act out in destruction or violence. He instantly realized that he was causing in his brothers the same terror his father had caused in him. Now that was a good and loving older brother who turned before too much further damage was done to the souls of his younger brothers. His reaction was exactly the right reaction everyone needs to feel in his or her heart. It is that reaction that will save the world. He grew in our eyes.

William, duke of Normandy

One of the ways that William, the duke of Normandy, Known as William the Bastard by many of his detractors at the time, ensured his conquest and continued dominion over England, beginning with his invasion in AD 1066, was by promising the younger sons (landless) on the European continent their own private vassalage (estate) in England if they would fight for him. England was then completely subjugated under a totally feudal constitution. The remnants of communism inherent within the freer, albeit misguided and warrior-like, tribes in England was replaced by an invasion of land and inheritance thieves. English common land was parceled out to the younger sons of Normandy. They became the landlords over the whole of England. The local people were given to them as property for all intents and purposes. The common people became bound under serfdom. Norse, Teutonic, Celtic, Gallic, Roman, and other influences were all present to one degree or another but all under medieval manorialism. The takers took over everything and locked it up. They put up their barriers and walls, established their boundaries, wrote their land titles, and with a yoke, turned a once free people of the commons into involuntary beasts of burden for the private gain of the landlords. The prince of darkness (the spirit of taking, enslaving, and devouring) put down further roots in England, as he does wherever he goes, wherever the people's hearts try to fight evil with evil.

Where the people try to fight evil with evil, they are fertile ground for the deeper roots of evil. This is the inevitable march of history until utter and fatal collapse of that system. The locals are punished for their own excesses and offenses. They don't turn their spirits in time, so they suffer at the hands of those who are further along in the hardening process of confusion. The takers don't comprehend that even though they imagine they are further civilizing the savages, they are not enlightening anyone or anything.

Communists: Of the commons

It wasn't for the takers to come into communism to take away what communism was there. It was for the people to be shown that the communism they had was being corrupted by those forces that were inconsistent with the spirit of that communism. It is for the people to become truly enlightened that war, greed, depravity, and other mean-spirited temptations and coercive behaviors hold back the greater communism that is the oneness in God. It is for the communists to show the takers the error of their ways.

Those in England before the Norman invasion were not the Canaanites of Moses’s time indulging wholesale in every perverted excess imaginable. Granted they were far from perfect, but they were certainly not worse than William himself. William staked his claim upon a faulty notion of inheritance in the first place. The people were not chattel. They were not rightly just so much furniture to be given by one monarch to another to be enslaved and abused as the land takers saw fit.

When the people take another opportunity, create another opportunity through God, to get it right, they need to remain very mindful of the true spirit of communism. It is consistent unselfishness so that everyone has plenty without doing harm.

Not Luddites, per se

Does this mean being a Luddite? A Luddite is opposed to all technological laborsaving devices that they see as taking away the jobs of the commoners. No, it doesn't mean that.

Real Christianity ultimately doesn't need any such devices or to labor, but that comes with training and practice. First things first, first building faith through doing faith, having faith in unselfishness, having so much compassion in your heart that your focus is solely on the ultimate solution relieving all the willing souls. That's God.
The error of Capitalism

It means doing things only in a way that keeps from harming the creation. It further means sharing the fruits of that laborsaving. In the 1810's in the England of the original Luddites, the new textile machines were not inherently evil. What was evil was that all the workers and all the people of England really and of the earth weren't allowed to freely and completely share both the ownership and fruits of those machines. What went into those machines and what came out should have been love. It was not. The violent, lusting, antichrist, thieving, hoarding, parasites on the backs of the commoner workers (the capitalists) owned those machines and refused to share. All they did was keep the rest of the people in a new order of serfdom. Such was, and remains, libertarian (laissez-faire) capitalism, doomed to utter failure, what the founding fathers didn't change.

The selfish spirit invariably screws it up—gets it wrong. Those of the selfish spirit put their faith in the wholly artificial system of their own devising. They don't believe what the Holy Spirit will do for the harmony of the whole.

It wasn't for the self-styled and false Christians to land in the Americas to take the land as their own private property stealing it and stripping it of its identity as the free gift of God, the common inheritance of all living entities including humanity. It is for real Christianity to say that there are things that the people are doing that are inconsistent with keeping the law of God. Such behaviors cause the loss of that law and cause the imposition of greater inconsistency. It is more rationalized and confused disordered harshness versus the greater softness and freedom that is the new commandment and is completely consistent with real communism (the commons of all).

The message of the new commandment is more than the restoration of a wrong notion of heaven. It is coming to know what heaven was in the first place and finally appreciating it enough to return and not kick ourselves out again. It is realizing what we lost. It is finding the way back home and bringing the Spirit here and now. It is upon this balance that hearts will be weighed. How much fruit of the new commandment do we bring forth?

History shows us the movement to the consolidation of power and the forces that struggle against it. All real power is consolidated in God who says he will share it completely with those who will share it completely. This is paradoxical for those who cannot reconcile the infinite truth that perfect consolidation is perfect giving and sharing. God is such perfect giving and sharing.

The so-called primitives were more so communists. The competitive spirit came though and took away more and more of that which was held in common for the common good or general welfare. That competitive spirit worked ways to accrue more and more power in the most competitive of individuals. In order to overturn those who set themselves up as gods, granting themselves the power of life and death at their mere whim and fancy twisted for their entertainment and worse, those who had earlier conspired in the dismantling of the commons pulled together to the degree necessary to temporarily stem the tide of the ruthless self-appointed demigods. Other would-be god-men rose up. Feudal lords banded together to extract power back from the monarch. Religious leaders rose up with the same intention.

The thing the so-called primitives needed was to move further away from violence by learning the real story of Jesus, not the garbage strewn the apostates.

The Western church was traditionally led by the baronage, the peerage, feudal lords all. The worldly church and state were represented as one, but it couldn't hold together, because it was not the real Church. They had represented themselves as the heavenly manifestation on earth. This was the concept of the divine right of kings and of the nobility anointed by the church leadership.

Church, state, and heaven

In truth, church and state and heaven are one. This truth is held back only through the failure of perceiving that spirit is the foundation of the corporeal. Those who fail to apprehend call everything mere superstition. They say God is irrationality and ignorance. They maintain that nothing stands over existence, which is what they mean by "superstition." Superstition though had a different connotation when used by Jesus. It meant not knowing what stands over. Jesus knew what he worshipped. He also knew that the devil depends upon followers for his existence even if to delude those followers into thinking he doesn't exist as such, as the devil.

Certainly mediaeval Europe was not the kingdom of God manifest.

The merchant and industrial classes developed under the same competitive pressures mentioned above. The common people also rose up from time to time with the same intention of wrestling power away from those worldly consolidators.

Common people (people of the commons) forget themselves

The common people themselves become confused by their own worldliness, meaning lack of connection with the real spirit of consolidation or conflation. They have always been led astray by tempters who stimulate the spirit of selfish demands and wrath and vengeance. They forget themselves. Rather than asking God and doing the right things, going beyond mere mundane-law keeping, they turn to militancy to take back what others have stolen or inherited under a fraudulent system. The people fail to overcome. They fail to do as Jesus did and would do today.

Another good and loving brother

Look at Jesus versus the spirit of taking for private gain. Look at Jesus's position relative to that of his own younger brothers and sisters who were also the offspring of Mary. Jesus put himself last. He taught his younger siblings that he, Jesus, was their servant. He was leading them to the fullness of God.
Shia versus Sunni

What does all of this have to do with Islam? Look at the argument between Islamic sects. Look at Shia versus Sunni. The Shia put stock in the bloodline descendancy of Mohammed as being those who are the rightful line to rule the religion. The Sunni put their stock in emulating the life of Mohammed as choosing the leader by consensus. Yet, to emulate Mohammed means to rob caravans to build a worldly empire under the pretext of spiritual authority from God. It is spiritual hardening, but it isn't what God wants us to do.

Mohammed and his followers would have been vastly better off to have simply spread Christianity amongst themselves and others. That was obviously not meant to be however.

Is Allah God, continued?

The question of Allah and God is discernable by looking at the issue from two different approaches. One approach is that the deities are the same but the understanding of the deity's attributes differs (with hugely significant results). The other approach is that the differences in attributes render the two names or offices as not referring to the same deity. The Gnostics render Yahveh as being completely different and even dark (devoid of the true light).

Jesus does not do that. Jesus says the hearts of the people at the time of Moses and other times were hard and that, therefore, they didn't understand.
Is Allah the same as Yahweh but simply misunderstood by the Muslims, whose hearts are linked to hardness out of Mohammed's bitterness concerning Ishmael and Isaac and other things?

They need to come to Jesus who releases us all from the error of bitterness. Could they still call upon the name of Allah without failing to hold to the consistent doctrines of Jesus?

Real Christians know Yahweh as Jesus showed rather than limited to what Moses showed. Yahweh is God. God is not what Mohammed said.

If Allah cannot become understood to be God and Yahweh, then Allah is a false god. If Allah can become understood to be one and the same as Yahweh because the hearts of those who have professed Allah have softened, then Allah is Yahweh and God.

For that to happen, Mohammed's teaching about Allah must be rejected and Jesus's teachings about God our Father would have to be accepted and understood to be applying to Allah.

Jesus's name though means Yah saves. Allah is not Yah. Calling on Allah is not calling on Yah. The spirits are different. Jesus's spirit is not Mohammed's. Surely you see that.

Jesus had to do everything perfectly to stand the test of eternity. He could not be trapped in an inconsistency, hypocrisy. His every word and deed had to be in anticipation of all criticisms that could ever come up. His ends had to be perfectly just. His means had to be perfectly just. We must ask ourselves what he did that was selfish from within the full context of all knowledge and understanding. Finding nothing, we must accept him at face value.

Mohammed: Vengeful

Jesus's way eliminates all offenses. Mohammed's does not. Mohammed's wrathful coercion is offensive. It is taking Satan into one's own hands. It is the way of vengeance. However, vengeance is God's and not human's.

Polygamy is not one flesh

Mohammed's way calls an offense right. He leaves men in the harder-hearted position of doing harm to their wives and children through polygamy. Becoming one flesh is sacred. It cannot be spread across multiple wives and remain on the same level as with one mate. Dividing that sacred bond amongst multiple wives renders a house divided. It cannot stand. Look at the familial relationship feuds within Islam. Look at the power struggle within Islam over genetic succession. The Sunni versus the Shia is the major example. No such feud can exist within real Christianity.

Jesus made all followers high priests and priestesses in his church. Genetic succession is not the thing in the real Church. This doesn't mean that the prophecy concerning the genetic descendancy didn't matter. Once it reached Jesus, he revealed that spirit is what matters.

The prophets were a succession of ever greater enlightenment. Mohammed is a throwback to long before the enlightenment of Jesus or even Isaiah before that. The Muslims have wanted to pawn off Mohammed as the Holy Spirit that Jesus said would come with the answers. However, that Holy Spirit is to remind us of everything Jesus taught, and Mohammed doesn't remind us of Jesus.

But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (John 14:26). Mohammed does not remind us that Jesus said he, Jesus, was the only begotten Son of God.

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. (John 3:16-18).

Begets and begotten

Mohammed expressly states the following of God, "He begets not, nor was He begotten." (Qur'an 112:3). Again, Mohammed called Jesus a liar. Mohammed stated the exact opposite of what Jesus said as written in the Gospel of John. It is undeniably hypocritical and hateful toward Jesus. Again, it shows that Mohammed's mind was on sexual matters rather than the spiritual meanings of the words "begets" and "begotten."

If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. (John 15:24).

Did Mohammed give away all that he had to the poor and follow Jesus? Did he teach and exemplify the message of Jesus? Jesus said that no one comes to our Father except through Jesus: Jesus's way. Did Mohammed come to God on the way Jesus blazes for us?

Mercy or wrath, not both

The Muslims cannot have it both ways: Either mercy or wrath but ultimately not both. Mohammed ignored Jesus's admonition, "It is impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come!" (Luke 17:1). As Jesus pointed out, the use of the sword is offense but mercy is never offense. Through Mohammed have come the offense of war and many other things that Jesus identified as offenses, being not in keeping with the first and great commandment and the second like it.

With Mohammed's interpretation of God, Mohammed does not have to live up to the higher standard of godliness. He lowers God so that he, Mohammed, may be excused for his transgressions. There is no comparable attempted undoing in any of the prophecy.
Jesus for all the nations

Some Muslims also have wanted to confine Jesus's ministry to the Jews of Israel and then to claim that Mohammed was sent to the whole world. They base this fallacy upon the following verse: "But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." (Matthew 15:24). However, that verse means that Jesus was sent to spend his time working directly upon the sinning Hebrews. He was to focus upon them so that they would be divided into sheep and goats so that those branches not bringing forth the good fruit would be pruned away (so that the ones who were turned away from righteousness and refused to turn back would be removed from the nation on earth). It was also so that the kingdom of God would be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. "Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof." (Matthew 21:43).

This will happen again to both the Hebrews and Gentiles this time. The only nation left will be the spiritual nation of real Christians. The verse does not mean that Jesus's ministry would not carry on after he was translated or transformed and ascended. In fact, Jesus came as the prophecy states also to be a light for the Gentiles.

A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. (Luke 24:47).

And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. (John 10:16).

The "other sheep" are those of the Gentiles who recognize the voice of truth.

As evidenced by all the call to arms and use of arms in the Qur'an, as quoted above, Mohammed obviously attempted to negate the pacifist message of Jesus. Jesus said, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her." (John 8:7). The Gospel then says as follows:

And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground. And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last. (John 8:8-9).

Now, what would Mohammed have done as one of those who came to test Jesus? Would he have been the only one not convicted by his conscience and thrown the stone without mercy? Mohammed taught the following:

You shall not kill any person - for God has made life sacred - except in the course of justice. If one is killed unjustly, then we give his heir authority to enforce justice. Thus, he shall not exceed the limits in avenging the murder, he will be helped. (Qur'an 17:33). This is an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. It completely ignores the New Testament and the Gospel message of Jesus Christ. Yet even the Old Testament teaches that God said of himself, “To me belongeth vengeance.” (Deuteronomy 32:35). Yet, Mohammed says that an heir may avenge. It is men and women who bring on even what is thought of as divine retribution. Humans do things that cause God’s system to take corrective action. It is constant intercession. Without human vengeance, lust, pride and all the rest of wrongdoing and sinning, God would not have to allow appropriately harsh lessons.

Jesus rendered justice to the adulteress. He had no one stone her and he himself did not stone her. It would have been hypocritical to stone her. Mohammed teaches otherwise. Mohammed spoke out of his imagination. He did not speak for my Father who is in heaven. He was not my Father’s messenger.

Even defensive wars constitute offenses. Jesus would have been offending, actually sinning (because he knew better), were he to have physically fought back for any reason. He would not have been trusting fully in God. If making war and fighting on the physical plane were the right things for humans to do, Jesus would have done them. It is either that or you think Jesus should have taken up the physical sword, in which case, you completely fail to know the Holy Spirit that descended upon Jesus and dwelled, and dwells, within him.
When God's system takes corrective measures, God is not fighting back. There is no contest from God's side of the equation. God is all powerful. God has the power to end everything instantly at any time. It is just human imagination that humans can actually fight back against God. From the human side, it is really fighting, but God can see the matter from every perspective at the same time. God always knows what you are truly doing better than you do. Even though God has the power to end it all at any instant that would be breaking a promise and God never lies. The things that must happen first, as God said, will happen first. The satanic spirit does all the lying and confusing, and we are to come to see that.

Rather than fighting back, when God's system takes corrective measures, God is allowing us to learn and, thereby, be saved while God does not judge us or any human. We humans simply either truly measure up under both our individual and collective standards or not. It is the growth opportunity that God gives us.

When humans try to assume the role of God in taking such corrective measures against each other, they invariably take on the satanic spirit. Humanity then leaves itself open to the continued cycle of offenses and vengeance and the like. Human beings in resorting to physical violence fight back in a contest that necessarily includes judging and condemning others. They can not live up to the very standard they set.

They fight against that which they see as falling short of their standard. They were offended by that falling short. Yet, to fight, they lower themselves to the level of offending. It is inescapable hypocrisy. Hypocrisy is what confuses us growing up and confuses our children as we attempt to raise them up.

The violent ones, the ones who imagine they are worthy enough to have been sanctioned by God to take God's corrective measures into their own hands, will be judged accordingly under their own standard. Simply adding caveats to their human standards to license themselves to use violent, offending reactions, only serves to mine them deeper in hypocrisy, which God sees right through. It is attempting to obfuscate the truth from God. It is preposterous.

If we finally learn to stop this vicious cycle of selfishness, the last corrective measure under God's system at the time will be the last corrective measure for all time. There may be further testing to insure that the lesson has been truly learned and, therefore, not forgotten, but if those tests are passed, the satanic spirit will be bound up for as long as the lesson remains learned, forever if we can do it. In that case, God will continue giving and sharing freely in the spirit of love with an enlightened humanity. Those souls hell-bent to ruin it in selfishness will be safely separated out into other places in the mansions of God's house where they will, for their sakes, undergo continued correction leading to their ultimate repentance and salvation. Otherwise, there is eternal damnation. We must trust in God and not in ourselves alone to get it right.

The truth is that all the Muslims must convert to be saved from the errors of Mohammed. They must all be called by a new name: Christian. To be saved, they must be born again.
in the Holy Spirit of truth that rejects all of Mohammed's hypocrisy.

The Gnostic explanation for their perception of the harshness in the description of Yahweh's actions in the Old Testament was that Yahweh was not actually God. Jesus explained though that it was not Yahweh who was evil but rather that the perception and description of Yahweh was filtered through the lens of hardheartedness. The hardhearted were incapable of responding to anything else. It was not always so, meaning there was a time in humanity when hardheartedness was not the rule of the day.

The current followers of Islam attempt to redeem Mohammed in this way. They attempt to say that the laws of Mohammed were handed down to the hardhearted. Nonsense!

Mohammed could have taught and exemplified Jesus's teachings in the hardhearted places just as did all of Jesus's disciples and Apostles even at the risk of their lives, which many of them sacrificed for truth. Mohammed did not have it in him to do that. Regardless, once Jesus's teachings came, the hardhearted law was shown for what it was. All the reason for those laws was made comprehensible by the spirit of the law. That being the case, just as with the laws of Moses written for the hardhearted, the laws of Mohammed must be seen for their hypocrisy. The divine standard of Jesus satisfies all the reasons for the laws of Islam and if lived up to universally, does away with all offenses. That's heaven. Nothing better is possible.

Christians do not live by the law of Moses as in stoning people to death. Therefore, the laws of Mohammed have likewise been surpassed by the divine grace and love of Jesus.

Mohammed held that Lucifer fell, because Lucifer had given himself the title of God, thereby, insinuating that Jesus was the fallen Luciferian spirit even after returning to heaven. How could that be? Jesus gave all credit to God. He gave more credit to God than Mohammed could grasp. Jesus also overcame the temptation to attempt to conquer the world by the sword, which Mohammed obviously did not overcome. Mohammed fell down and worshipped Satan so that he, Mohammed, could attempt violently to conquer the kingdoms of the world.

Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. (Matthew 4:8-10).

Mohammed further, thereby, insinuated that everyone who believes in Jesus and the indwelling of the Holy Spirit is evil and rebellious against God rather than being at one with God.
Fallen Luciferian spirit

The fallen Luciferian spirit is the one that rejects at-oneness with God. God though shared with Jesus as God is good. Sharing all the inheritance is good. Mohammed did not think so else he would have followed Jesus. A bad god is one that does not share and does not want others to join in becoming godly. The real emotional position of God is that God wants his flock to be good. God loves that. The un-sharing, bad god in people's heads comes from self-pollution. It comes of caving into temptation, such as bowing down to worship Satan to gain the world by the sword or other evil means.

Forgive Mohammed

Concerning Mohammed, how can we begrudge redemption to a fallen soul provided that soul becomes truly repentant as was the Prodigal Son? Do we begrudge everyone who has ever suffered from delusions of grandeur? Have they all done the unpardonable in this age and for the next? For Jesus, it means blasphemed the Holy Spirit. Has anyone truly known what he or she was doing when he or she blasphemed the Holy Spirit? "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." (Luke 23:34). It was mercy.

The offenses that must come, come by way of fallen souls. It also comes by way of other creatures and the elements designed to contend against human discordance that vibrates all that is around it in a negative, harmful, sinfully devouring spirit. Those who partake are tempted and cave into imagining some gain from the negativity, such as false control. In fantasizing and then speaking and acting out the evil, each step takes them lower into the dark and bottomless pit of wrathfulness and destruction. There are no human winners on that downward spiral.

In the Book of Jonah (whom Jesus referred to in proclaiming the good news of the kingdom), wrathfulness is accounted as the evil of God who had to repent upon the turning (repenting) of the whole populace of Nineveh away from their own evil, fallen spirits. They narrowly escaped reaping what they had been sowing. Only their complete repentance saw them receive merciful treatment restraining the satanic spirit that was anxious to sift them for cause, testing God.

Once human kind no longer partakes of that spirit of evil (iniquity, violent wrathfulness, and all the other selfish manifestations of evil), there will be no more wars. The wayward will have turned and been redeemed forever, welcomed back through mercy.

Will all of our ancestors then, by virtue of our repentance and atonement, be made more redeemable as well? Will the sons and daughters have sufficiently atoned through genuine godly deeds done as Jesus ransomed himself in the greatest exemplification of atoning? Or do you imagine that you have nothing to pay the devil for sin: The wages of sin? Yes, Jesus showed the way, but we must still take that path. Are we not root and vine and fruit capable of repentance, atonement, and forgiveness? By our results, our fruit, are we not known each and all? By our fruit, are we not transformed before the final harvest? Are we not washed thoroughly clean, purified, by the way Jesus showed to us? Is not our fruit the evidence, the manifestation, of our emotional state and our thoughts and the spirit by which we are possessed? If mercy is the quality Yahweh wants in us, is it not the quality we want in ourselves? How long do we retain the spirit of punishment and wrath that is that fallen and falling spirit? How long will people be known by that spirit? How many times must we go to war upon each other, subjecting each other to cruel and unfair punishments, ruining the peace of the world and earth, opening the floodgates of hell, and violently trying to coerce our way into heaven?

How long will humanity judge unjustly and accept wickedness within? Anyone named Jesus, Thomas, or Mary who goes off as the Prodigal Son went off, while away, until turned back, is possessed of the fallen spirit. When repented and humbled, he or she is still named Jesus, Thomas, or Mary but returned, found, redeemed, and of a new spirit in a new spiritual vessel, cleaned and purged and inhospitable to the demon-type spirits. Who are we to stand between a parent and his or her love for the child once lost in the spirit essence of evil but now found, having left that spirit behind and returned enhanced to the spirit essence of goodness? This is why Enoch cautioned his children not to speak irreverently of fallen children (persons about whom Enoch's children had been made comprehensible by to them by God). The lost children may return. The once high son may return, be cleaned and dressed in new clothes, blessed and rejoiced over, causing tears of joy throughout the whole house.

Enoch

They were mysteries to the children. Those mysteries had been revealed to their father (Enoch) who shared what he was given to share not spoiling the prophetic unfolding: Redemption. We are told things and also told that there is an appropriate time and place to share them. Our consciences are informed by the Holy Spirit of truth what to say and what not to say and when.

Jesus has many names: The way, the truth, the light, the vine, God with us, Yah is salvation, etc. God has many names also. The essence of evil also has names. One is "will never turn" (incorrigible; inextricably rooted to evil). The closest thing to that essence in human kind spoken of by Jesus that is recorded in the scripture is that which blasphemes the Holy Spirit.

Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. (Matthew 12:31-32).
That precludes redemption for the blasphemer of the Holy Spirit if the world to come is the final age eternally unchanging and if one must be forgiven to be redeemed. "But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation." (Mark 3:29). Notice that Jesus said "in danger of." It means guilty. It doesn't mean necessarily sentenced to. He did not say that those who are not forgiven necessarily suffer eternal damnation. Of course, there are different contexts for forgiveness.

Speaking the opposite of revering the Holy Spirit

Can there be mercy where there is no forgiveness? Is there more than one sense of forgiveness? Is there more than one level of forgiveness? Can anyone blaspheme the Holy Spirit and know what he or she is truly doing? Can one really sin in this way? Can people be driven to it in reckless or youthful rebellion and eventually be pardoned with sufficient stripes to learn not to fall into insolence against God? Where is respect for goodness? Where is the shame? It is disgraceful. Just how much do we get away with pretending we do not know or that we have forgotten? How justified can that be? God knows our hearts. That is the truth. We are to do the best we can without rationalizing.

It is the gravest error to blaspheme the Holy Spirit. It most severely defiles and marks the person who feels, thinks, speaks, or acts in that manner. Can such a defiled and imprudent spirit ever become trustworthy enough to enter the kingdom? Blaspheming the Holy Spirit is singled out for warning and condemnation to be much worst than the original forbidden fruit. It is diametrically opposed to eternal life. We dare not lessen the admonition against it.

We also say that those who make this error not compound their stripes they have brought upon themselves by mistakenly thinking that once they have done this they may as well then do all manner of other sinning since what could be worse than not being forgiven in this age or next. Be careful! Each sin is paid for. Each sin brings stripes. Think before you speak.

"Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you." (Matthew 7:6). Must any of humanity be as selfish dogs and pigs? Must any of us trample the truth and attack and tear apart the messenger?

If forgiveness of sin is confusing to you because you cannot bring yourself to imagine forgiving those who have offended you deeply, you are not seeing the falling, and fallen, soul's potential for rising and being risen. If you do not, then rising will not be applied to you. You will never be as a brightly shining star for others. It should though be your desire for their sakes: For righteousness' sake and not for the satisfaction of your selfish ego. Do not come for accolades even though they must be given. "Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." (Matthew 20:28). If you begrudge anyone redemption, you are complaining as the older brother of the Prodigal Son. In addition, you are not being as honest with yourself as those who walked away rather than stoning the adulteress to death.

Mercy, justice, and love are never evil

The older brother of the Prodigal Son claimed to have always kept his father's commandments, but was he in perfect keeping with the spirit of the great commandment at the time he was reacting with a begrudging, envious heart to his brother's return? Was he perfectly merciful? Mercy is the quality Jesus said God wants in us, being perfectly consistent with the spirit of the great commandment. Is there a point at which one may be too merciful? Can one be too just? Can one have too much love? When do mercy, justice, and love become evil? They don't.

The spirit of Satan argues against mercy and for condemnation. That is the spirit of the liar from the beginning: Hypocrisy, misleading. The satanic spirit seeks to devour the whole of the human soul, the whole soul of all humanity. To it, we all stand guilty and condemned and worthy of extinction from all existence. Only mercy forestalls it. Mercy buys you time to do the following: "Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit." (Matthew 12:33).

There can be no redemption in the eyes of Satan. The child of human kind may never return. It is the eleventh hour from the beginning and too late. Is that your spirit? Do you say you may return but not others? What standard do you hold that when applied to you in earnest will not preclude your own return to God? On the other hand, we cannot lower the standard for heaven so that we may slip in insufficiently repentant. Rather, we must rise to the standard. We must make this plain and clear and teach it and act accordingly to the extent
God gives us to do so.

Not knowing everything discredits no child of God

Once the spirit of falling is permanently displaced by the spirit of rising, that soul commits no sin. That soul throws no stones. It is perfectly just. This does not mean that that soul never sinned. It does not mean that that soul was born with a full slate of knowledge or has a full slate of knowledge. "But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father." (Mark 13:32). That's what Jesus said about the then coming destruction of the temple in Jerusalem and the end of the world.

From this one statement alone, you should see the truth that ecumenical councils have assigned to Jesus a status he denied about himself.

He said the temple would come down within the generation, but he didn't know the day or hour. Concerning the end of the world, he didn't state even the age. He didn't know at the time.

Jesus said he did not know everything.

And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father. (Matthew 20:23).

Yet, Jesus said the Father shares everything with him. How can this be? Use your heart to sort the contexts.

The Jesus of the councils is a Jesus who knew everything as God our Father. Many Trinitarians took their imaginations and turned that into tradition and dogma. They have taken the statements from the Gospel such as Peter's saying to Jesus, "Thou knowest all things." (John 21:17). They do not understand that Jesus knew everything he needed to know in truth, which was more than anyone before him. He did not though know everything as God our Father Almighty knew literally everything or else Jesus would have known the exact moment that the Herod temple would be destroyed. He would also have known who would sit where in heaven. He told all he had heard of the Father, remember. If you don't believe that, you don't believe Jesus. You can never know him. You will miss flowing with harmonizing emotion into the unity.

This does not mean that Jesus was not one in spirit with God our Father. It just helps us all to better understand that we don't have to hold out for knowing everything before we may qualify to be called the children of God. Contrary to those who attempt such tests against the unfolding prophecy and revelation, not knowing everything discredits nobody.
Blasphemy to deny the children of God

This is all about rightly dividing the word of truth. It is all about Mohammed's and other's notions concerning the concept of Lucifer. They make the same mistake the Pharisees made about Jesus when Jesus called himself the Son of God. It is the mistake still being made about Christians calling themselves the children of God. There are people professing Jesus who condemn others professing Jesus for calling themselves children of God. They condemn them for making themselves God just as the Pharisees condemned Jesus. It is blasphemy.

False Lucifer (light bearer)

Lucifer was the fallen morning star who ought not to be spoken of out of ignorance. The Luciferian spirit is symbolized by the morning star, the day star, as the once high and mighty worldly king of Babylon with his satanic spirit arrogantly raising himself up as the Nimrod spirit. "How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!" (Isaiah 14:12). He is the worldly and, therefore, false morning star, while Jesus is the heavenly and, therefore, real morning star. Nevertheless, the king of Babylon reigned by virtue of God's overall plan.

Nebuchadnezzar II

Also nevertheless, one cannot preclude a Nebuchadnezzar II-type's redemption. The admonition against speaking ill of the one by whom offenses must come comes out of the Book of Enoch, which Paul read and considered on the level of the canonical scripture. It is akin to not throwing the stone, because all have sinned. It is akin to the parable about the son who first refused and then turned and went to toil in his father's vineyard. It is akin to the Prodigal Son who returned to his father and older brother. Once the evil spirit is gone out and one returns to his righteous state, where has that evil spirit gone? When one casts out that evil spirit, isn't what remains of the person the part that is most certainly welcomed back? That spirit that was cast out is not that person. That person is the real spirit without evil. He or she is a new person, a new spirit, reborn.

Lucifer has more than one connotation (Lucifer has more than one sense meaning). Jesus does not mean the one who will fall as the essence of evil (the satanic spirit). Jesus means the real bringer of light that is the opposite of that rebellion. This is why and how people have become confused about Lucifer and have been talking at cross-purposes over it since the beginning.

Again, this is why Enoch said one must not speak irreverently about those about whom one does not understand. When one speaks against Lucifer, one may be speaking against the wrong sense meaning without intending it. That one so speaking than can be leading others astray into the unforgiving spirit and wrathfulness that is the evil-Lucifer connotation. Enoch was informed of the outcome.

Enoch knew who would be allowed back into God's graces and who would not and why. With that knowledge, Enoch knew when he heard others speaking in ways that caused harm. He cautioned others accordingly.

Make no mistake. There is a satanic, Luciferian essence of evil that will be purged away in the eternal fire of truth. Make no mistake. There is the fallen spirit that will be cleaned of that essence of evil (redeemed) and will rise and be welcomed in heaven to share all with the real morning star and light-bringer. In other words, be careful where you draw the line concerning who will be allowed in heaven and who will not for that line will be that upon which you will be judged as you have judged.

Don't misunderstand here. We are saying that Jesus was not the Lucifer spirit who led a huge rebellion against God. Jesus came to unfold the climax on the inevitable course to the end of that rebellion. The selfish spirit is the spirit of rebellion. Jesus's was, and is, however, the epitome of the unselfish spirit. The satanic spirit attempted to win him over but failed. It fails to win over anyone who truly follows Jesus into the kingdom.

What about the interconnectedness and interdependence and the tiniest of selfishness in the heart, isn't Jesus, thereby, a part of the larger he must go with? Yes and no. The context in which he will not go the way of the essence of evil is the correct one. Evil is divided off leaving the real. The real whole is not both good and bad, light and darkness.

It is about redemption for all as the standard since the standard we hold will be used to measure us. If we don't allow for the gravest of sinners to repent and be forgiven, how may we be forgiven since we are all wretched sinners relative to God?

And Enoch walked with God: and he was not; for God took him. (Genesis 5:24).

By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God. (Hebrews 11:5).

And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints. (Jude 1:14).

The Bible does not contain the Book of Enoch that Paul read and used for making his statement that Enoch was transfigured, ascended in that state, and became as an angel, as Jesus said one becomes in heaven.

As mentioned earlier, this same story of Enoch is much of the impetus for the admonitions against being disrespectful of the powers and dignitaries that be, because those are ordained of God (allowed by God as befitting the aggregated unworthy hearts of humanity at the time—the inevitable consequences of sin). It does not mean that those put into high places are necessarily godly.

God allowed Nebuchadnezzar II to rise to Nebuchadnezzar's temporary height as the most powerful human (demon, by definition and not to judge and condemn him) on earth even while Nebuchadnezzar II was rebelling against God. Reconcile this, and you will understand much more. So long as you insist that both these things cannot be simultaneously true, you will not be speaking the language of the revelation.

Terrors to good works

Human rulers can be, and often are, beastly and satanic more so than godly. Their own arrogance lifts them up, and the people allow it, following them. This is how and why God allows it. We must learn.

Paul said, "For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil." (Romans 13:3). This is not always true. Some rulers are very much terrors to good works. Paul said in the verse before that, "Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation." (Romans 13:3). Now, it is critical as to what exactly Paul means here by "resist."

Jesus, of course, did not violently resist evil. Any reasoning that the powers that be are not a terror to good works as being the reason not to resist any orders whatsoever of those powers is very different from what Jesus was teaching and doing. Also, the prophets before Jesus and Jesus's Apostles, as pointed out earlier in this work, did not obey just every command of the powers that be either, and rightfully so, for many of those commands were sheer evil.

Contrary to the words of Paul, the members of the Theban Legion did not receive to themselves damnation for refusing the order of the future caesar to slaughter their fellow Christians.

But the midwives feared God, and did not as the king of Egypt commanded them, but saved the men children alive. (Exodus 1:17).

And thou, profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high. (Ezekiel 21:25-26).

Pontius Pilate was said by Jesus to be sinning, albeit less than those who turned Jesus over to Pilate for execution, but nevertheless sinning. Jesus did not violently resist Pilate or those Jews who came earlier to take Jesus by force to have Jesus murdered. However, it is very wrong to conclude that the Jewish leadership at the time was not a terror to good works. They most certainly were. They were a terror to the good works that Jesus did. That is why they murdered him.

The leaders of Israel today are still profane wicked princes. This is said in the spirit of warning, sounding the alarm.

Hitler was a terror to good works. Look at all those the Hebrews call the "Righteous Among the Nations" who were non-Hebrews who saved Jews from the hands of the Nazis during World War II. Those Righteous Among the Nations were certainly refusing to obey terroristic orders of the Nazis.
Many rulers have been great terrors to good works. They were the princes of this world who Jesus came and exposed and defeated, though the prophecy will continue unfolding until all is fulfilled and accomplished based upon Jesus's climatic action.

You must understand that the prince of this world has been cast out of heaven.

Heaven is in your mind. The trick has been exposed, and you have cast out the false path of self first and foremost and letting others fend for themselves in this greedy, violent, depraved world.

His way has been exposed for the falsehood that it always has been. That is what Jesus did. The kingdom is within. The shepherd of that kingdom is not the prince of this current world of lust and pride. The princes of this world have no part in Jesus. They are oppositional to the message and spirit of Jesus. They are not in favor of complete cooperation. They still defy godliness. They are wrong minded. They want for themselves at the expense of others. They have already been judged by the truth. Jesus spoke the truth. Now the princes of this world are known to be sinning. All who love the truth know that this is true. Before Jesus, the wool was pulled over nearly everyone's eyes about the powers that be. Those princes fooled the people into falsely thinking that they, those princes, brought bounty and safety and security. They magnified themselves over God. Do not allow that wool to remain over your eyes. The right way is the fully cooperative way that is not at the expense of others or for the special private advantage or privilege of those who fall to the temptation of taking such evil advantages and privileges and ignoring the just pleas of others.

Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. (John 12:31).

For the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me. (John 14:30).

The prince of this world is judged. (John 16:11).

Better to lose your life in this world by refusing to do the orders of evil

Therefore, do not violently resist evil but resist the temptation to do evil no matter who commands it, for no evil commands come from God. The order of the day when Jesus walked on earth was to do all those traditions and commandments of men and not God. Jesus showed the hypocrisy in those traditions and commandments of men. He showed that all of the laws attempt at order even in confusion. They ultimately aim for the divine even though those coming up with the laws haven't seen the divine or even considered it.

At the same time, one must never forget the ignorance that is in the world concerning these things. Not everyone has read the word or had the word preached to him or her. People have righteousness and evil all tangled up. While it is being sorted out, we must understand why Jesus agreed to pay his taxes. He also explained the reason for not wiping out weeds (sinners).
Who is capable of judging who will not yet turn: Only God

He said that in attempting to remove the weeds, wheat would be lost. It means those who would otherwise turn to make their fruit good would be removed (weeded) by mistake. The same thing applies to the laws that are in place. This is why until all is fulfilled, not one dot on an "i" or one cross on a "t" must be ignored while the letter of the secular and mundane law is evolved in our understanding up to the level of the divine law that is the spirit of the great commandment. The mundane law is there because there is, and has been, so much evil in the world. Until everyone is living by The Rule, the mundane law is credited with attempting to abate evil. It is coercive, but in general it is the lesser of evils.

Some mundane laws are though so clearly prohibited that one is rationalizing to abide by them. No untangling is necessary. Sorting is unnecessary. Some laws stand off in stark relief as being evil. Ask God who are more pleasing in God's sight, those who march off blindly following the blind and spiritually dead into war for all their hypocritical reasons or those who refuse the orders of such people and are persecuted for standing by their real liberal convictions and their belief in the name of Jesus and all the peace Jesus taught and demonstrated. One either turns the other cheek or does not. There are no two ways about it.

As Jesus said, offenses must come. They come, among other ways, by way of these powers. Do not be a party to their offenses. It cannot be over-emphasized.
Enoch cautioned his offspring not to speak irreverently about that of which they did not understand. This is be a seemingly fine line that the undiscerning will call hypocritical or inconsistent. Jesus called the powers hypocrites to their faces. At the same time, he acknowledged that Pontius Pilate had his authority, because it had been given from above. However, he pronounced woe unto the Pharisees. He prophesied against evil. He spoke the truthful warning without malice.

Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. (John 19:11).

Jesus spoke the truth. Wrath purges evil, but wrath is evil. It must be overcome. Merciful thoughts displace wrath and evil in the mind. They are purgative. There can be no woe pronounced upon merciful thoughts however. One may argue that showing mercy on those who do evil leaves evil to do its dirty work; however, ultimately, where there is only the spirit consistent with mercy, there is no such dirty work. This is the essence of the revelation of reality.

The truth reconciles the spirit of Enoch with that of Jesus. The truth is that one ought not to accuse, judge, and condemn for then one is hypocritical. Walking this thin line is the only way. It is the only way of redemption. It is the only way that the prodigal may return exorcised of sinfulness and rebellion.
The prodigal: Lucifer repented

And Jesus said as follows:

A certain man had two sons: And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

[And Joseph made ready his chariot, and went up to meet Israel his father, to Goshen, and presented himself unto him; and he fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while. (Genesis 46:29).]

And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. But the father said to his servants,

Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

[And Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain about his neck (Genesis 41:42).]

And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry: For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

[And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment. (Zechariah 3:4.)

Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing. And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends: But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

[And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And
When they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house, Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? (Matthew 20:9-13).

And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine. It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found. (Luke 15:11-32).

What is the female counterpart to the wayward son other than the wayward, lost daughter? She is interested in what is unwholesome just as the lost son. She spends her time pursuing the satiation of her lusts. She and he cavort together and with others leading one another astray in that pursuit, while the work of God remains left undone. They give their bodies and souls over into the snare. Each is being led astray in the spirit that took the Prodigal Son from the righteousness of his father. They are led in the satanic spirit that is against full cooperation and is defiant of godliness. They are led astray by the princes of this world of merchandise and thieves into rebellion, the same spirit that filled the Herod temple that was flattened. If and when they return from riotous, ruinous living, they return in the spirit of Jesus. Jesus came here not to cavort but to save. He is home and jealous of no one.

Are you willing to be judged by the standard that righteous thoughts purge the mind of evil and that evil deeds do not follow from righteous thoughts? The thoughts of the Prodigal Son returned to righteousness in utter humility once he realized he had been brought low and found himself toiling in the wrong field and nearly starving from a lack of righteousness. The mind is polluted by what it receives and makes its own. The mind is restored by virtue of the same process. Receive righteous words and make them restorative of your soul. Help to magnify these words of righteousness. Help save souls. The mind of God heals. The mind of Satan continues to use indiscriminate and premature wrath to usurp the position of righteousness.

Can you see how Mohammed did not teach this or exemplify this? Do you see how, nevertheless, we are not judging or condemning Mohammed and why? All have sinned. None may throw stones. All must work to make the way straight. The standard must be to forgive, or all are lost. We cannot say that Mohammed's way was or is the narrow way. That would be leaving souls to walk the wrong way and remain lost.

We are not judging or condemning

We are not the ones who say who sits where in heaven or who gets in and who doesn't. We are not to vex those already there. People who made mistakes are in heaven; otherwise, it would be empty. People who are making mistakes now will get into heaven; otherwise, there would be no redemption and no forgiveness.

We cannot say that anyone who ever took a life is never going to be in heaven, because Jesus said that Abraham is alive in heaven and Abraham took lives, so did Moses and others. After hearing Jesus’s words and knowingly rationalizing away his admonition against stoning, it becomes a different proposition though.

It is right though for us to say that Jesus came, as he said, not to destroy men's lives but to save them. He warned those who disagreed with him, and they were wiped out and their temple was destroyed as he said they would be. We are to follow him and be as he was, which included not judging or condemning or taking any lives. This is the true Christian way, and saying so vexes no one in heaven and is far from divine heresy.

We prophesy

Mohammed claimed to be the final prophet. He was attempting to preclude posthumous loss of control. Well, we prophesy that there will be a time on earth when Mohammed will no longer have any followers and when everyone on earth will be a follower of Jesus. Prophecy is not dead. Not only was Mohammed not the last prophet, he was no real prophet at all.

Also, the neocons claiming that it is only what they are calling radical Islam that is the problem is incorrect. Those whom the neocons are calling radical Muslims are actually following Mohammed while those who claim that Islam is a peaceful religion are not following Mohammed. The neocons and others sharing their view about the so-called radical brand of Islam are just as wrong about that as most people have been wrong about what is true Christianity. True Christianity is a pacifist faith while Islam, which is falsehood, is the opposite. It is that simple.

George W. Bush misstating the mind that was Mohammed

Now, George W. Bush believes he is fighting a holy war against what he calls "a set of beliefs and goals that are evil, but not insane." George W. Bush obviously does not know that evil is insanity. He further stated the following in his speech to the National Endowment for Democracy on October 6, 2005:

Some call this evil Islamic radicalism; others, militant Jihadism; still others, Islamo-fascism. Whatever it’s called, this ideology is very different from the religion of Islam. This form of radicalism exploits Islam to serve a violent, political vision: the establishment, by terrorism and subversion and insurgency, of a totalitarian empire that denies all political and religious freedom. These extremists distort the idea of jihad into a call for terrorist murder against Christians and Jews and Hindus -- and also against Muslims from other traditions, who they regard as heretics.
Actually, Bush is describing exactly what Mohammed called for his followers to do.

Mohammed knew what he was doing. He knew that he was substituting his mind for the Christ-mind. He knew that he was appealing to the selfish interest and ego of the Arabs.

Mohammed knew that he was making war on Yahweh as Jesus showed, the one: I Am.

The world grows more crowded by untamed lust and smaller by virtue of transportation and communications. As these things happen, the divide widens. The worldly will fall.

What Bush and his people are doing is talking to those supposedly of Islam who view Islam as the result of a constant evolution in interpretation to have Islam suit the current notions of so-called modernity of the traditionally Western, false Christianity. Bush uses his flawed interpretation of the message of Jesus to inspire a false holy war against a flawed interpretation of Islam. Bush’s advisors also seek to divide the Muslims to conquer them. This is why he calls Islam a noble religion and refers to those who are the strictest Muslims, as confused as that is, as Islamists and Islamo-fascists. There are no Islamists. There are no Islamo-fascists. There are only Muslims, and then there are revisionists.

The truth is that the only way to defeat those whom Bush is calling radical Muslims is by defeating their religious tenets using the divine logic of the revelation of Jesus Christ. It is by converting Muslims to the real Christianity, which will happen in droves.
A big lie

Bush also said, "We're not facing a set of grievances that can be soothed and addressed."
Now, that is a big lie. Those Bush is calling Islamic radicals gain followers because of real grievances. Were the US and others truly aiding the rest of the world in the spirit of Christianity, the voices condemning the US would be all but ignored. They would be more than hard pressed to make their case to drum up a large following.
Bush and his cronies don't want the people to know this. It would spoil their plans of replacing the red scare of the 1950's and 60's with the new perpetual war against amorphous terrorism of so-called radical Islam.

At the same time Bush says the grievances cannot be addressed, he claims as follows:

Our future and the future of that region are linked. If the broader Middle East is left to grow in bitterness, if countries remain in misery, while radicals stir the resentments of millions, then that part of the world will be a source of endless conflict and mounting danger, and for our generation and the next.

Now, what is misery if not an absence of mercy from the wealthiest and most powerful nations of the world?

He also quotes the Qur'an, "Killing an innocent human being is like killing all humanity, and saving the life of one person is like saving all of humanity." (Qur'an 5:32). However, the question is what was an innocent life in Mohammed's view? Mohammed didn't view the lives of those he termed as noncompliant infidels as innocent lives. In fact, he clearly called for their execution as shown above in quotations from the Qur'an.

Don't fall for the so-called moderate or tolerant or peaceful interpretation of the Qur'an

It does not, nor will it ever, lead to salvation. It is not a "noble faith" contrary to George W. Bush's knowingly false assertions meant to flatter.

Bush claims to be a Christian, but he fails to speak the truth about Mohammed being a false prophet and Islam being, therefore, a dead-end path for those who have heard the word of God from Jesus Christ.

The Caliphate is dead. Attempts to resurrect it will end in utter destruction.

To all the young, do not join Islam. If you have already joined, recant and repent. Ask the Holy Spirit if peace and love are truth. Ask the Holy Spirit if blood spilling is lust and evil. Search your heart. Is your heart called to harden by Mohammed and called to soften by Jesus? Do not be led astray by the violent and lustful ones luring you into temptation.

You do need to belong. You do need a family. Join the real Jesus. Don't buy into the revisionism of Islam. That is a dead end just as the revisionism of Christ's message is a dead end. Choose the real Christian church. Be a part of bringing forth fruits worthy of repentance. If you are going to be martyred, be a martyr for peace, which is the truth. That's what will please God. Ask him directly. You don't need a cleric between God and you.

Judaism, false

Neither is Judaism the way where it is without Jesus.

And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name. (Isaiah 62:2).

And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch. (Acts 11:26).

We are using the term "real" here within the context and language of the revelation. It is being used here as Jesus used it when referring to the real bread from heaven versus the manna that fell from the sky. Always remember that within this work, the terms "Judaism," "Jew," "Jewish," and the like, may take on different connotations depending upon the greater context of the point being made. Jesus called the Pharisees Jews just as he alluded to the manna as being a kind of bread, just not real. Keep this in mind while reading about the Pharisees, Sadducees, and scribes, etc. It is the same use of the language as described concerning the figurative terms in the parables and the difference between those who are of mere human traditions versus the Holy Spirit of truth.
The term "Judaism" as applied outside the spirit of the revelation of Jesus Christ is a misnomer.
Those typically called Jews, in lieu of descendants of Jacob, are misnamed. Hebrews are not necessarily Jews. That which is incorrectly called Judaism as of this writing is the continued rejection of the kingdom and its messenger-Messiah, Jesus. It is not real Judaism.
It is Pharisaism, which was of an apostate sect.
It was not, and is not, the real Judaism. It was full of the traditions of humans and not the precepts of God. That is why those who did not repent and who were also Pharisees and their accomplices, the Sadducees and scribes, rejected Jesus and conspired against him, breaking the commandments of God. That is why the real Jews have been given a new name and many Gentiles have joined them.
They denied God, since they denied that they are gods [joining with] to whom the word of God comes. "I have said, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High." (Psalm 82:6). The term "gods" here is synonymous with "spirits" of a kind. It means spirits of enlightenment that is righteousness and not selfishness. It means capable through God, God abiding within and we abiding in God, if we will only behave worthily toward each other.

False Jews worship Satan

There are people who allege that the Jews worship Satan. This thinking is found in Gnosticism. It comes out of Satan's temptation of Christ in that Satan says Satan can give the world to the one who will fall down and worship him, Satan. It comes out of scripture saying that Satan has dominion over the earth. Well, it isn't that simple.

The truth is that people can be worshipping what they don't know. They can want to be worshipping God, but they can have come to wrong impressions of who, and what, God is. Jesus made the distinction by placing the focus upon the hardheartedness of the worshippers. God tries to get through to people while people confuse the message. God keeps talking to people even as they are misunderstanding and not comprehending. If the people misunderstand too much and fail to comprehend too much, then they won't be hearing God very much if at all. It is a two-way street. One can discuss it as God's actions or inactions and/or one can discuss it all as people's actions and inactions. Both, separately and together, are correct.

When certain Hebrews (currently often settlers in the West Bank) sneak around in the dark preying upon Palestinians, those Israelis ought to be reminded of the commandment against coveting their neighbors land. Now, those Israelis will claim that the land is really theirs. They will claim that God gave it to them. How does one then view this concept of God having given the Israelis the land?

The gift is completely subject to the condition of the Israeli's hearts. If they are hardhearted, they will interpret the gift that way. If they are softhearted, they will interpret it that way. Of course, God has asked for mercy and real bounty and love of neighbor. Consequently we know that the softhearted interpretation is the correct one. Therefore, the inheritance of the land belongs to each and all who will share it in that spirit. Anyone who refuses will be spewed out as false. Therefore, which spirit one is worshipping depends upon the conditions of one's heart. The more hardhearted one is, the more one is worshipping the hardhearted spirit who becomes more and more the satanic spirit the more one heads in that direction making oneself Satan. The reverse is also the case in making oneself God, making ones fruit all good, and none being good but the Father in heaven. The problem people run into is in making themselves satanic while imagining that that is making them righteous. The important thing to remember always is that Jesus being one with God is being one with the many who share. Satan though deludes himself into thinking that he alone is God and doesn't share but rather doles out favors at his whim and in ways that give him sadistic pleasure.

Also, we must understand that we interact with the spirits having influence upon them, since it is a two-way street. Ultimately, we are subjects of God of course; however, the spirit listens and reflects us back to ourselves. That isn't the only perspective. The other direction is also valid and even the more proper and fruitful position. It is that we listen and reflect back what we've heard if we are wise in God's eyes.

Therefore, the Israelites who take the land by force, even though the Muslims are mistaken in their own worshipping, those Israelites are acting in error. They are in that way falling down and worshipping the wrong spirit. It is in that sense that they are worshipping Satan.

Those Israelites who do not take the land or anything by force and who are listening and reflecting back the truth are going to be worshipping God. This is what Jesus showed, and he was, without doubt, correct. Those Israelites who come to that conclusion and feel, speak, and act accordingly will be real Jews. They will have returned. They will no longer be the lost and dispersed. This is what Jesus showed. They will accept Jesus as their first son, and their last.

The truth charged the false Jews

The false Jews (not all Jews; not the real Jews) blasphemed Jesus. They called him a devil to whom the word of God came, who did the works, and in whom our Father dwells and who dwells in our Father. They condoned and engaged in adulterous relationships, as Jesus rightly explained. They allowed themselves to divorce without cause. They stole the inheritance of Jesus and of all of us.

They set up a mock court to put Jesus on trial. They suborned the testimony of others within their own false court. They knowingly procured false testimony (perjury). They deliberately failed to bring in witnesses to refute the false testimony.
They bore false witness to Pontius Pilate against Jesus. They murdered Jesus. His blood is on their hands. Yet, they have not repented even after nearly two thousand years.

In doing these things, they did not ensure obedience to the commandments. In doing all these things, they dishonored their fathers and mothers. Also in doing all these things, they did not love their neighbors as themselves. They did not repent.

They condemned themselves by their words and deeds. They are dead of the eternal spirit until they repent provided they do that within the time established by God.

"If"

If they shall confess their iniquity, and the iniquity of their fathers, with their trespass which they trespassed against me, and that also they have walked contrary unto me; And that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; if then their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they then accept of the punishment of their iniquity: Then will I remember my covenant with Jacob, and also my covenant with Isaac, and also my covenant with Abraham will I remember; and I will remember the land. (Leviticus 26:40-42).

Confess to God and yourself and don't deny it to others

Whether you are a descendent of Jacob or not, confess your iniquity and the iniquity of your fathers.

Yet, all those currently of the pharisaic traditions and of other apostate sects may repent and turn to the spirit of the law and to the message of the kingdom and find salvation. They may join in the spiritual family. It is only in this way that the remnant may be a shining light to the world.

And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. (Zechariah 12:10).

The current Pharisees have always wanted people to confuse being Hebrew and Jewish with being pharisaic. It serves their obfuscating purposes. Being Hebrew definitely does not mean one must be pharisaic. Being truly Jewish definitely means one is not pharisaic. The terms "Hebrew" and "Jew" have been twisted by the hardhearted Pharisees who have always sought exactly what Jesus showed they sought, and still seek, in their present incarnation. They sought, and seek, their own hypocritical, selfish gain at the expense of others.

The current state of Israel is illegitimate

The current state of Israel is not a true democracy. In general, it is an unrepentant, nationalistic, covetous state. A true democracy is not concerned with whether or not those of a particular mundane bloodline are in the majority.

This is why the state of Israel is not synonymous with the state of Zion. The real Zion is an ideal idea. The current state of Israel is far, far short of that spirit. Real Zion is not Hebrew. It is human. When people demand of others that those others recognize the current state of Israel’s right to exist, they are asking a nonstarter question. Was it legitimate the way the current state came into being? Did they confess first? No, they didn’t confess first. Biblically, at this point, they have no business being there.

Is what the current state doing legitimate? Were, and are, the means and ends justified? The question is whether that state or any state is founded upon, and lives in accordance with, the new commandment of Jesus, which is the only real law—the summation of the real spirit and letter of the divine.

Obviously, the current state of Israel does not meet the criteria. Neither does any other state or nation-state. This is why the false and dark prince of the world rules. From the divine perspective, there is no legitimacy. From the mundane perspective, it could always be worse.
Some law and order is better than total libertinism. The point though has always been that better than worse is no solution. We are not to strive for better than worse, for it is always better than worse no matter how bad it gets. It can always get worse. No, we are to strive for the best we can fathom. We are to strive for perfect. We are actually to achieve it by joining ourselves to that which has already achieved it and has always been it: God.

The current state of Israel does not have a right to be bullying the Palestinians with the US standing their allowing Israel to do the bullying. The other nations in the area don't dare step in for fear of the bigger bully, the US, attacking all of them with near limitless high-tech ammunition.

Israel and the US have headed down the wrong path and will suffer the bitter consequences of refusing to heed the word of God to love their neighbors as themselves. Both nations are haughty and proud and will fall on account of it.

The militant voices of Islam too will fall to a similar fate.

Unfortunately, many Hebrews and others have been duped by the Pharisees. This work is meant to clear away the deception of the Pharisees to free people from that snare of falsehood. It is the same selfish snare that has caught the Hebrews and others since the beginning.
False Zionism: Racism

There are those who call Zionism "racism." Well, false Zionism is racism. It is bloodline-only. It is the notion of genetic superiority and greater worthiness by virtue of being the chosen of God. Real Zionism, however, is not racism. It is at once bloodline and spiritline. The real Zionists know that to be chosen is to not covet other people's homelands. Real Zionists know that sharing is the only path to heaven and that taking is the path to destruction. The real Zionists are the chosen of God. They are those chosen by God to lead the way out of the bloodline-only into the spiritline first. They are the real Christians. They are the ones chosen to show the way that the real bloodline is the human bloodline—the whole family—of those who will accept it and live accordingly.

Therefore, anyone of Islam who believes this is more a real Zionist than is any Hebrew who disputes it. Necessarily, that one of Islam is not really of Islam since Mohammed did not teach this but Jesus did.

Don't fall for the co-opting language of the apostate sects. They will claim they are in favor of all sorts of virtuous causes. However, they are unwilling to acknowledge what is required for the resurrection of the just. Their interpretations of the first and great commandment and the second like it fall short of love. Their concept of justice falls short. It is why they still believe in war, coercion, and offensive punishment rather than turning the other cheek. It is why they are still ardent capitalists serving mammon.
And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him. And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God. (Luke 16:14-15).

Why don't they believe?
People ask, "Why don't the Jews (mislabeled) believe in Jesus?" The answer is the same as it was for the Pharisees, Sadducees, and scribes at the time of Jesus. Read the Gospels if you want the answer. This work gives many of the reasons that are in those Gospels. Read the Gospels in light of the spirit. When you are reading them, keep in mind that the rabbinitists (those who hold to Hebrew rabbinical traditions in continuity with the Pharisees of Jesus's time) are the Pharisees as of the time of this writing. They rejected the Gospel message and instead created their Talmud, which is their interpretation of Old Testament scripture.

The rabbinitists don't believe in Jesus for the same reasons the Pharisees didn't. The rabbis are the masters of their sects. They are traditionalists, ritualists, and legalists. The degree of their strict constructionism varies. The strictest of strict constructionists of the apostate sects of the Hebrews are the fundamentalists known as Karaite versus the Rabbinic.
The Jews were chosen for what?

The Old Testament is a history of foundations, awakenings, stubborn rebellions, transformations, and relapses of humanity and the descendents of the twelve sons of Jacob. It shows the struggle between cooperation and competition, unity and fractiousness, the real prince and the false prince, and unselfishness and selfishness. The Jews kept a self-deprecating account in their scriptures, thanks to the honest appraisal of the prophets who were incomprehensible to the hardhearted and, therefore, assigned esoteric intentions and often persecuted for it. That was and is the role of the Hebrews in humanity. They were chosen for it, because they did it.

The Hebrews are a microcosmic example for the world. Their struggles (or at least the struggles of some of them) of coming into the light and slipping back into the darkness are documented with continuity so that they, and all the nations of the world, may learn from both the errors and the accuracies. When will we learn as individuals, nations, and the whole of humanity? This is why salvation is of the Jews. In speaking with the Samaritan woman at Jacob's Well, Jesus said to her, "Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews." (John 4:22). Scripture is the account of Jews coming to know God. It is the story of right and wrong paths. There was a fork in the road at the time of Jesus. Those who took the wrong turn continuing on in the same false traditions suffered desolation. Those who followed Jesus ended up the nation to whom the kingdom was given over. It is a spiritual nation. It too though must produce or suffer the loss of the kingdom opportunity.

Each person must undergo the birth of the unselfish spirit, thereby, returning to Yahveh Elohim, El Elyon (God Most High). The only path to sufficient love for the kingdom of heaven lies through the teachings and exemplification of Yahshua. It is infinite love. It is inexhaustible love. Only the hardhearted fight it. Anyone who rejects the truth of love, that birth of the spirit, and bringing forth the fruits of the kingdom, marks himself as a descendent of the spirit of the liar from the beginning: Falsehood that is selfishness. It is a choice. "Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt." (Matthew 12:33).

What does it profit people to remain rejecting the truth brought to light by Jesus's message from God? What negative, selfish things are they gaining? Are they gaining the pre-saved, pre-redeemed world: Mammon? Are they retaining their addiction to lust or building pride? Are they holding out for power and control for ego?

Abraham, Isaac, Jacob (Israel), Moses, David, and all the prophets loved and love Jesus. Their souls yearned for the answer to all of humanity's confusion. The highest expression of the spirit of their yearnings was fulfilled in Jesus, their Lord, servant, son, and friend. That love of the Messiah is the love of deeds that bear good results: The solution to all problems.

Those of false Judaism do not read the scriptures in a softhearted manner. They read them nationalistically, as bloodline, as birth order, as gender-based, with no spirit, and, therefore, selfishly. They do not recognize the prophetic aspects of their nationalistic rejection of the messenger of God. They do not connect what happened to them at the hands of the Romans and then the Germans with their murder of Jesus and all their other apostasies. They say that Jesus did not build the third temple. What do they think he did in being resurrected? What do they think it means when one is the temple since the Holy Spirit descends upon one and both God and Jesus dwell in spirit within one?

Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. (Ezekiel 37:26).

And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. (Mark 8:31).

We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. (Mark 14:58).

Of course, this is what Jesus began and is doing. The covenant of peace is a two-way street. Those flesh descendents of the twelve sons of Jacob who stop warring because they have found Christ's way of ultimate love as demonstrated on the cross will be keeping their side of the contract. When they reach this point, there will be everlasting peace.

They do not see that the spirit of Jesus is living and is still working. They still look to mere physical and temporal things such as temple buildings built by human technology, just as they still look to the daily animal sacrifices that were revealed to them as an abomination to God.

The prophecy continues

There will be the temple for the abomination. The Antichrist will sit in it but be deposed by God. Then there will be the temple for the Son of man, and God will be in it forevermore. It will be a house of peace, love, and truth. All the nations of the world will honor and glorify God with us and in every heart. It will be a great time to live. It will be the best time in the history of the planet up to that point. It is optimism. It is the absolute certainty that good will be vindicated in the mind of every human soul.

This prophecy is how Ezekiel fits both the temple Jesus built without hands and the rest of prophecy still to unfold that Jesus continued and set in inevitable motion.

The false Jews think that Jesus was not the Messiah, because they did not all come back together during his time on earth. They are gathering again in what they have always held to be the Promised Land. Where is their Messiah bringing them together? Jesus calls them to conflate in the Holy Spirit. No matter how mundanely close they are geographically, they will still be far apart spiritually until they soften their hearts as called for by their rightful spiritual Lord.

Fear not: for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west; I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth (Isaiah 43:5-6).

The false Jews are waiting for everything to be put back the way it was before the Herod temple was leveled by the Romans. They want the same religious rituals in place such as the same abominable animal sacrifices, the same hierarchical leadership structure, the same abominable legal observances such as stoning people to death, and all the other human traditions that are illiberal: Conservative falsehoods. They want the exterior temple building rather than the interior dwelling of the Holy Spirit. It is the same unclean spirit of denial. It will serve to bring tribulation and the abomination of desolation. They do not yearn to keep the new commandment, for look at how they have treated their neighbors the Palestinians, not to say that Islam has dealt fairly with the Hebrews.

He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the LORD. But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it. (Jeremiah 22:16-17).

The leadership of the Pharisees did not stem the tide of tribulation. They were not of sufficient heart to stand in the gap for the land. They were not able then, and their traditionalist descendents, the pharisaic rabbinitis, are not able now, and will not be in the future, ever. They are false shepherds leading the people falsely.

Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter. (Isaiah 56:11).

Those who gather together in the spirit of warfare, greed, or any other lust are still gathering in the spirit of division. Their efforts will not stand. It will be those who gather in the right spirit who will inherit the land. The pharisaic will not hold the land. Those identified as the blessed by Jesus in his Sermon on the Mount are those who will inherit the kingdom on earth and in heaven. How can the false Jews imagine that through war and greed they will be moved to "beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks"? (Isaiah 2:4). They still try to take heaven by force.

How can they imagine that the whole world will be under God if all the real Christians are wrong? Do they imagine that all the Christians are to renounce Jesus and convert to pharisai rabbinical Judaism that is of the spirit of the brood of vipers who murdered Jesus?

Notice that I said, "Spirit of the brood of vipers." I said "spirit," because one does not have to be a genetic descendent of Jacob to be of that spirit and there are genetic descendents of Jacob who are not of that spirit. People who hate the full implication of the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it, hate the truth that salvation is not genetically but rather spiritually determined. Genetics is spiritually determined. The spirit is before the flesh. Many false Jews want people to think that salvation is genetically determined for all genetic descendents of Jacob. As Jesus said, there are Hebrews who are dead of the spirit of salvation. They are not those whose names are written in the Book of Life. They are not those saints who take part in the resurrection of the just.

Noahide laws

They will often concede that those of what they hold to be inferior nationalities may reach heaven, or a lesser part thereof, via keeping to what they call the Noahide laws, which very in number and interpretation depending upon the particular rabbi expounding upon them.

Thou shalt not deny God; Thou shalt not blaspheme God; Thou shalt not murder; Thou shalt not engage in incestuous, adulterous, bestial, or homosexual relationships; Thou shalt not steal; Thou shalt not eat a limb torn from a living animal; and, Thou shalt set up courts to ensure obedience to these laws.

Jesus said for eternal life one must keep the following commandments, unless one knows one must do more, as Jesus explained concerning the rich young man who could not bring himself to strive for perfection:

Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. (Matthew 19:18-19).

These overlap in such a way as to encompass all the real commandments of God.

Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother. (Mark 10:19).

You read here a different group. Yet, in truly keeping them, one must keep all the commandments. This is the highest comprehension. Grasping it then results in the highest obligation. That may be a scary thing for some. It is though a beautiful thing, since it is opportunity granted by God so we may rise out of the pain and suffering of iniquity and see our brothers and sisters also rise in that spirit of salvation and redemption. It is love if we can hold it and be, therefore, held by it.
The Noahide laws though are insufficient to bring in the kingdom. They are mundanely coercive. They prescribe that humans punish humans. They were designed for a hardhearted generation. They lack the spirit of the new commandment. Jesus was addressing Jews concerning the commandments he mentioned.

Do not kill, steal, lie about others, defraud, commit adultery, disgrace your parents. Love God with your all, your fellow human beings as they ought to love you, and one another as Jesus loved his disciples. All the things Jesus said we ought to do are eternally nurturing words from God.

It was assumed that the Jews believed in, and would not deny, God. Jesus was not speaking though only to the Jews of his day to bring them along closer to God, to know God better. He was speaking across the generations and to the Gentiles. That is why he had so much else to say about the commandments. It is also why he emphasized the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it and did not fail to include "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself" in the above. As he rightly said, all the law hangs upon the golden rule that comes from God. It is the meaning of life. It is the meaning of existence. It is what we are here to learn, teach, and do eternally. He also taught our neighbor is the whole of humanity.

Spirit over genetics is not anti-Semitic

By maintaining their nationalistic mentality, they claim that anyone teaching spirit over genetics is anti-Semitic. They claim that Christian proselytizing to any genetic descendent of Jacob is anti-Semitic. They insist that only the pharisaic, rabbinical reading of scripture is not anti-Semitic. Yet, there are those of Semitic extraction who are more so in the spirit. As we have seen through the teachings of Jesus, the Pharisees had it wrong and pharisaic rabbinites still have it wrong.

The golden rule is the spirit

One finds the golden rule in many religions. Now, if one comes to understand how that pertains to the law and prophets, then one comes to understand the synthesis of real Christianity. The rule comes from the one and only living God who is the spirit of unity. The rule applies to all human beings. The prophecy is historicism. The unfolding of the prophecy is beyond human control. It is ordained. History is the record of humanity's movement toward universal acceptance of, and adherence to, the golden rule. To achieve that, those not of that spirit (who will forever reject it) will be cut off (discarded). Those left will conflate with the eternal souls of those deemed in truth to be right for that conflation. The force of the unfolding and conflation is God.

The traditionalistic, nationalistic way though doesn't see it that way. They are mundane in understanding. They think more so with the backs of their brains. They do not sense the interconnectedness and interdependency of all of humanity. They are elitists. They believe they are entitled by virtue of genetics and not spirit. They are conservatives (churlish) through and through.
They ignore the Gospel and focus on the apostate

Also, many false Jews attempt to discredit Christianity by lumping together all Christianity under the human traditions of apostate churches rather than remaining focused upon the Gospel message that runs contrary to such human doctrines. This is why in discussing other religions in this work we have said that there is not just one view within any of the religions. There are as many views as there are people holding views, each person being singularly unique.

The prophecy is in the signs of the times

Contrary to traditional doctrines, the prophecy is still being fulfilled and the prophecy was fulfilled: Set in inevitable motion. The softhearted understand this. Many call this a mystical understanding. It is esoteric in the eyes of many. It is plain and clear to the softhearted.

The spirit is felt emotionally

Kabbalists, Sufis, Pentecostals, and charismatics

The Hebrew Kabbalists have tried to capture this notion of the mystical. They just don’t understand the unselfish spirit. If and when they do, they will be real Jews, real Christians, real liberals. They are the most open to the spiritual among the Hebrews. They are akin to the Sufis in Islam and the Pentecostals and charismatics in Christianity. The hardened and closed rationalists and their counterparts the empiricists just cannot feel the spirit. They don't experience the spirit. This is why they are farther from the kingdom. At the same time, those who become completely swept up in emotion can allow their emotions to carry them away from the kingdom as well. They can easily cross the line of illicit worship. They cross over into territory that has nothing to do with the single vision of Jesus. They lose or never gain the right focus.

The emotional aspect of this direction is a good thing provided one understands that there is no sign in the Gospels of Jesus having been ecstatic in ways professed by certain people who believe they are in the spirit. Ecstasy can be no substitute for good works. If ecstasy is all that one is about, then one is a hedonist and selfish.

Intense feelings of elation need to follow intense feelings of remorse and be followed by a conviction to do the work Jesus asked of us as believers. Of course, it must also be remembered that Jesus asked us not to be flat. We are to be enthusiastic about the message. It is emotional.

Speaking in tongues

As for speaking in tongues (glossolalia), all utterances speak of the emotional state of the one making the sound. That's a given. The Holy Spirit of truth can move one emotionally. Of that there is no doubt. It is also true that there are those who would pawn off gibberish as the voice of the Holy Spirit. The fruit tells all. That is how to discern these things.
There is no sign that Jesus spoke in tongues. Such an activity would seem out of character for him as he is portrayed in the Gospels.

The message of Jesus, the living spirit of Jesus, is still at work bringing in the kingdom. No one coming after Jesus will be teaching and doing true righteousness without building upon the foundations Jesus laid down. "All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you." (John 16:15). It is what he came to do, why he went to the cross, and then had to go to our Father to make a place for all true believers so the world would be saved, which it was and will be.

Some false Jews say prophecy ended before Jesus

The nonbelievers who think themselves messianic Jews look for every excuse to avoid the implications of the message of Jesus. They claim Jesus was not a prophet, because prophecy had ended hundreds of years earlier. How did Jesus prophesy the temple destruction within the generation? How did he prophesy that the Zealots who lived by the sword would die by it? How did he prophesy that the Gentiles (as he spoke to the Samaritan women at Jacob's Well) would come to worship the one living God in the spirit? It was as with all the prophets before him. He was in the spirit. How can anyone doubt this? It is self-evident.
They argue genealogies

They are concerned with Jesus's virgin birth. They insist that the Messiah must directly descend from David on the father's side. Joseph does descend that way according to the genealogies in Matthew and Luke. The false Jews contend, however, that Mary was pregnant before Joseph had sex with her or married her; therefore, those genealogies in Matthew and Luke offer no substantiation concerning Davidic genetic origins strictly on Joseph's (the male's side). Also, they say the genealogies shown in Matthew and Luke do not match.

"Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do." (1 Timothy 1:4).

There you have Paul seemingly counseling against what is in Matthew and Luke. If the writings of Paul and those two Gospels are scripture, here we find scripture seemingly at odds with itself. Now, where is the error? The truth is that the genealogy writers gave their evidence against those who were asserting at the time that it had not been shown that Jesus fit that aspect of the prophecy (coming out of the house of Jesse) and, therefore, one ought to have at least some reservations as to whether or not Jesus was the Messiah. It is all a matter of convincing people in either direction.

Paul though was making his appeal on a different level. After all, if Jesus fit the prophecy concerning all those things about which the anti-Jesus voices cannot dispute with any credibility, why debate in one's mind whether or not he was and is the Messiah? There are things that have happened historically that can never be done by anyone else. Jesus has to be the Messiah regardless of whether people then or today can supply proof that he fit every detail of the prophecy as the naysayers interpret the prophecy. Therefore, Matthew and Luke are not wrong in supplying what they wrote and neither is Paul wrong to tell his followers to see passed the efforts of those in the dark to tear apart the message and works of Jesus the righteousness of which is obvious to all who love the truth.

As for the virgin birth, that has been discussed enough elsewhere in this work. Concerning the genealogies in Matthew and Luke not matching, they trace two different lines by which Jesus descends from David. Of course they don't match. The one in Matthew runs through David's son Solomon through Joseph's father Jacob. The one in Luke runs through David's son Nathan through Joseph's father-in-law Heli. It is Mary's paternal lineage going back directly to David if the Jerusalem Talmud (Haggigah, Book 77, 4) is to be accepted, for it says that Mary's father was that same Heli. It was also customary and legal that a son-in-law was actually a son. Joseph was the son-in-law of Heli and therefore his son.

Also, because one's father is also one's grandfather and great-grandfather and so on, it occurs in the Old Testament of The Bible that in giving accounts of genealogical descendancy that generations can be left out without committing error. For instance, David is the son of Abraham even though there were many generations or fathers between them. Therefore, the number of generations given whether abridged or not does not render the record invalid.

Furthermore, for those who hold to the virgin birth as being necessary, apparently legal succession did not have to be via genetics. If Joseph adopted Jesus as his first son, then Jesus was Joseph's legal son and heir under the law. Did Joseph legally disclaim Jesus?

Regardless, as 1 Timothy 1:4 points out, all of this is hair-splitting (by those seeking excuses from completely righteous, unselfish behavior). Jesus was of the house of David whether nonbelievers accept it or not.

If the prophecy is for a virgin birth of the Messiah and for his direct paternal descendancy from David, this doesn't match up. If "virgin" is a mistranslation of "almah," then the virgin birth, as in miraculous conception, is unnecessary, in which case the beginnings of Matthew and Luke were written or redacted to conform to the mistranslation so Jesus would more so fit the pagan gods for marketing purposes. Paul, no doubt, heard these sorts of questions, which ended up being reflected in the Gospels, and was impatient with them.

Of course, if we take the movement of the real birthday of Jesus to the pagan date of December 25th and we take the movement of the old Christian feast of All Saints' Day from May 13th to November 1st (All Hallows Day, the day after Halloween, which is All Hallows Eve) done by popes Gregory III and IV and add to that the other paganisms incorporated throughout the Roman church, we begin to see a pattern that can't be trusted concerning attempts to make Christianity into something acceptable to existing pagan religions rather than spreading the truth.

It makes thing more difficult doesn't it. That's on purpose. It tests you.

Well, think about the Empire and the Roman church. Considered the source. They didn't bother to hide their deviance from pacifism. They haven't hidden the fact that they paganized their church. They aren't hiding the fact that they consider Mary the queen of heaven. They burn incense to her. She is the Mithraic mother to them. She is the consort of the Godhead to them. This turn deviates thereby leading people to Mithraisms rather than the message of Jesus. It's why they haven't brought forth since their first ecumenical council at Nicaea in AD 325.

This is an easy turn to make. It is subtle for those who are not watching the surroundings.

The church of Rome has muddled the waters, but it hasn't filled in the lake.

It is no wonder that these issues are difficult.

God certainly could impregnate Mary with the male genetic line of David

Nevertheless, all things are possible with God. God certainly could impregnate Mary with the male genetic line of David and without the aid of any human intermediary.

The people have been yearning for a savior since the beginning. The idea that the savior must be free of the connection to the lust behind sex that cause the wars and other selfishness that ruins everything, ruins the spirit, is not difficult to understand.

Is it a necessary article of faith to believe in the virgin birth of Jesus? Let the Holy Spirit be your guide. Don't force it.

The message of Jesus speaks for itself. His message was and is the message of love, peace, and truth. His testimony is the spirit of real prophecy whether unbelievers accept it or not.

If there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder, and the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them; Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet. (Deuteronomy 13:1-4).

Wherein has Jesus said, "Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them"? What nonsense! Jesus said to do the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it, which necessitates loving Yahveh Elohim. Also he said the following:

For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. (Matthew 5:18).

And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail. (Luke 16:17).
Interpret the law

He interpreted the law differently from the Pharisees, Sadducees, and scribes. He interpreted it correctly that there is no room in it for mere human traditions that are hypocritical. He exposed the hypocrisy of the Pharisees. They hated him for it. They murdered him for it. They still hate him for it. There will be none of them left before the end. Only true believers will be left when all has been fulfilled.

Of course, the false Jews say that Jesus broke the law of the Sabbath by doing work on that day healing the infirmed. Jesus confounded them then, yet they still perpetuate the same falsehoods today about the law and the Sabbath. Jesus said to them as follows:

But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day. And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue: And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? (Matthew 12:7-11).
They could not abide his righteous teachings that showed the true spirit of the law. They still cannot. They still seek to crucify Jesus. They still persecute him with their falsehoods. They still seek to keep the good works from happening worldwide with all equally entitled to the inheritance from God our Father, everyone’s Father, even in a context, the ignorant who deny him.

It is so telling that all prophecy is the word of God coming as the Holy Spirit, yet the false Jews see everything so non-spiritually, secularly, temporarily, literally, and traditionally.

The false Jews want the Old Testament sacrificial system

Just the fact that the false Jews are waiting for the Messiah to restore the Old Testament sacrificial system is amazingly revealing.

To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats. (Isaiah 1:11).

He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog’s neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine’s blood; he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abomination. (Isaiah 66:3).

For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. (Hosea 6:6).

Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts. (Amos 5:22).

But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. (Matthew 9:13).

Many calling themselves Christians read these verses wrong also. They read "he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol" but turn around and offer oblations and burn incense to God.

The wine and bread to remember Jesus is to Old Testament sacrifices what the divine bread is to the manna.

Stop sacrificing Jesus as a way to relieve you of your own obligations to do righteousness.

Interpret Isaiah 52-53

The false Jews refuse to read scripture in the light of the real Gospel as well. They hate that Isaiah 53 is all about Jesus. They think Isaiah 52 is all about their nation alone. However Isaiah 52 refers to Jesus in leading into Isaiah 53.

Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high. As many were astonished at thee; his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men: So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider. (Isaiah 52:13-15).

How many have not heard what is written in this work? How many have never considered these things? The Holy Spirit of truth is responsible for revealing the doctrines. The Holy Spirit of truth is responsible for the interpretation. Jesus is still being revealed. They marred his face before they crucified him. His blood has fallen on the nations of the earth that have heard the word. Believers are in those nations, and the rest of the nations shall be added. All the princes of the earth cannot convince the people to reject the truth of Jesus. His way, the unselfish way, will always prove right no matter their rationalizations. They will never find a way around the truth. It is not possible. His truth is infallible.

The false Jews cannot read this. They do not understand that Isaiah meant that there would be new things. They wish to hold only to the old and not grow in the spirit. Jesus showed them things they had never seen. He told them things they had never heard. As vicious, greedy dogs and pigs, they trampled his words and deeds in the muck and turned on him and abused him savagely and finally murdered him when what he deserved was only deep, abiding thanks, respect, and adoration. They treated him as snakes treat their brood. They withheld all nurturing, just as they do concerning all the poor asking for justice.

The false Jews are not alone in these sins though.

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the LORD revealed? For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken. And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth. Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him; he hath put him to} grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities. Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. (Isaiah 53).

Reading Isaiah 53 as referring to the whole nation of Israel and not to Jesus is a reading that is beyond a stretch. Israel as a nation does not fit the chapter. Jesus does. Read the chapter substituting every pronoun with the idea of the Jews at the time. It is obvious those Jews did not fit that chapter. Then read it substituting in Jesus. He fits it perfectly.

We have dealt with the Trinity and the godliness of all believers elsewhere already, Jesus already handled them when he confounded them saying the following:

Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken;

Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? (John 10:34-36).

They equate Jesus with an idol

To this, many present day Pharisees, rabinists, say that real Christianity is a form of idolatry. They equate Jesus with an idol. They fail to understand Jesus’s revelation of the unity with God of all true believers and that no one exceeds the master. No one usurps God. One joins in godliness that is righteousness, love, peace, truth, justice, perfection…. How standoffish may one be and still truly love, and be close to, God? The rabinists license themselves not to strive for the perfection that is true righteousness. They confuse the Christian ideal with elitist Platonism. We have seen elsewhere in this work that Platonism is not that upon which Jesus based his revelation. Platonism was selfish. Real Christianity is the infinite love that is infinitely unselfish. They also complain that they cannot accept Jesus, because Jesus said that no one comes to our Father accept through Jesus. The answer is in the Gospel of John.

At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God. (John 16:26-27).

The path to God is the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. Full appreciation for, and knowledge of, those commandments comes through the message of Jesus. That is what Jesus meant, among other things.

There are other points made by rabbinitists as to why in their pharisaic way they do not profess Jesus. It is not worth dealing with all of their obfuscations however. Jesus shook the dust from his feet, and the rabbinitists heaped hot coals upon their own heads.

If they were right, why did God wipe out their nation-state with the rod of the Romans and then hit them again with the rod of the Germans? If they are not to come to Jesus, why are they being allowed back on to the land?
So-called secular Jews

What of all the secularists calling themselves Jews in Israel? How do the self-styled messianic Jews account for the presence within Israel of those secularists? How do they see them as fitting in under the so-called Messiah that those messianic Jews have been waiting for? These false Jews with their nationalistic view see the irreligious as benefiting from the salvation just as if they were as worthy as those who believe and do good works only. It is preposterous. Of course, permanently convincing recalcitrant people of this is impossible.

The spirit of Jesus versus the spirit of Judah (Judahism or Judaism)

The spirit of Jesus is the spirit that does not have to return to pull his brother from the pit where his other brothers would have left that brother, favored by their father, to die, because the spirit of Jesus would never have agreed to put his brother in the pit in the first place. Of course this means Reuben (the first born who went back to save Joseph) and Judah (the one who thought to profit by selling Joseph into slavery) and Joseph (who was put low, then lifted high, and yet in humility, saved his hardhearted brothers from famine and forgave them for their trespasses against God and Joseph).
Come now therefore, and let us slay him, and cast him into some pit, and we will say, Some evil beast hath devoured him: and we shall see what will become of his dreams. And Reuben heard it, and he delivered him out of their hands; and said, Let us not kill him. And Reuben said unto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and lay no hand upon him; that he might rid him out of their hands, to deliver him to his father again…. And Reuben returned unto the pit; and, behold, Joseph was not in the pit; and he rent his clothes. (Genesis 37:20-22,29).

The spirit of Jesus is the spirit that does not have to apologize for having sold his brother into bondage, because the spirit of Jesus never would have sold his brother in the first place.

And Judah said unto his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood? Come, and let us sell him to the Ishmeelites, and let not our hand be upon him; for he is our brother and our flesh. And his brethren were content. (Genesis 37:26-27).

The spirit of Jesus always remembers his spiritual Father's teachings and carries out that will. The Christian is the repentant brother saved by the brother rescued from the pit through the grace of God. It is within that spirit that Jesus shines vastly brighter than Judah (also spelled Judas, the name sake of Judaism and a foreshadowing of Judas Iscariot who sold-out Jesus) and brighter than Joseph (a foreshadowing of Jesus and the most blessed of Jacob) who saved and forgave his brothers.

Judas (Judah) Iscariot repented.

Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders. (Matthew 27:3).

Shiloh is peace and has come in the heart of Jesus

Judah was to rule until Shiloh comes. When will they realize Shiloh has come?

Now the sons of Reuben the firstborn of Israel, (for he was the firstborn; but forasmuch as he defiled his father’s bed, his birthright was given unto the sons of Joseph the son of Israel: and the genealogy is not to be reckoned after the birthright. For Judah prevailed above his brethren, and of him came the chief ruler; but the birthright was Joseph's.) (1 Chronicles 5:1-2).

The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Genesis 49:10).
Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion. I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Psalms 2:6-9).

He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth. They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust. The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts. Yea, all kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall serve him. (Psalm 72:8-11).

Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. (Isaiah 42:1).

He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law. (Isaiah 42:4).
And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. (Isaiah 49:6).

Ephraim and Manasseh: Not primogeniture

"The birthright was Joseph's." Joseph was the foreshadowing spirit of Jesus's message Jesus delivered, even though Jesus descended directly from Judah. It is fitting. When Shiloh comes, Judah will still have his heir. Joseph's heirs (physical and spiritual) will also reign. It is right. It ends in the spirit of sharing regardless of traditional considerations. It ends in sharing all in all in true love.

And Israel stretched out his right hand, and laid it upon Ephraim's head, who was the younger, and his left hand upon Manasseh's head, guiding his hands wittingly; for Manasseh was the firstborn. And he blessed Joseph, and said, God, before whom my fathers Abraham and Isaac did walk, the God which fed me all my life long unto this day, The Angel which redeemed me from all evil, bless the lads; and let my name be named on them, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac; and let them grow into a multitude in the midst of the earth. And when Joseph saw that his father laid his right hand upon the head of Ephraim, it displeased him: and he held up his father's hand, to remove it from Ephraim's head unto Manasseh's head. And Joseph said unto his father, Not so, my father: for this is the firstborn; put thy right hand upon his head. And his father refused, and said, I know it, my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations. (Genesis 48:14-19).

That is just one of many passages that show that the birthright is not primogeniture. Joseph was not the firstborn or the second either. He was the eleventh of his father. He was the first of his mother though.

Where is the multitude of nations?

In the ninth year of Hoshea the king of Assyria took Samaria, and carried Israel away into Assyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes. (2 Kings 17:6).

The tribes of Joseph (Ephraim and Manasseh) were in the North in the Kingdom of Israel rather then in the South in the Kingdom of Judah. The multitude of nations coming out of Ephraim were scattered by the king of Assyria. They have not returned since that time to this.

Now, as to what happened to them, is there any indisputable linguistic evidence? Meaning, is there any sure trace of Semitic language in the nations outside those speaking Hebrew, Arabic, and Amharic (spoken in Ethiopia)? There are some interesting cases made for words that sound extremely Hebrew showing in places as far off as Japan and Scotland. Also currently, no one has released any genetic (DNA) evidence showing who these nations ("multitude of nations") may be today. Naturally, those scattered by the Assyrians intermarried with others just as Joseph had taken an Egyptian wife and other Hebrews had intermarried with other nations down through the ages. Therefore, without doubt, the DNA lines of Ephraim and Manasseh are still alive in the flesh in the world today. As to how their DNA will be identified and traced back to 720 BC when Sargon II, the king of the Assyrian Empire, took 27,290 Hebrews from Samaria (the Northern kingdom; the kingdom of Israel versus the kingdom of Judah to its immediate south) remains for the geneticists to sort out.

"Behold, these shall come from far: and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim." (Isaiah 49:12). Sinim is Hebrew for China. Of course, the whole prophecy, especially as written in Ezekiel discusses how one day all the tribes will be reunited. It hasn't happened yet, and it cannot be forced.
"James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting." (James 1:1). You see, they aren't the lost tribes.

Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? (John 7:35).

You see further, the Jews knew where the dispersed were.

Peter also wrote to the dispersed.

Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia. (1 Peter 1:1).

Now, you may say Peter says he was writing to strangers. Well, the Greek word from which the King James Version comes up with "strangers" is parepidemos which means a "sojourner" or a "pilgrim" or a "foreigner." The Hebrews scattered about were foreigners in those lands. Peter was writing to the lost of the house of Israel as instructed by Jesus. Jesus told the immediate disciples he trained that they were to go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

Paul wrote about the house still existing and being two separate houses.

For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah. (Hebrews 8:8).

Paul knew that the original Apostles were commissioned directly by Jesus to go to the diaspora or the dispersed. Paul differentiated between the circumcision (the descendents of Hebrews) and the Gentiles on that basis. The original Apostles would go to the descendents of the Hebrews in dispersion and he, Paul, and his Pauline disciples would go to the Gentiles.

African tribe: The Lemba, the Cohen family

Geneticists have, in fact, undertaken some such investigation concerning the Hebrew priestly line descended from Aaron. Geneticists believe they have shown through genetic evidence that much of an African tribe known as the Lemba is genetically descended from the same male line as those of the Cohen family name (priestly tribe; Cohane meaning priest in Hebrew) in Israel of today. It is the same science that has shown that Thomas Jefferson fathered a child or children with his mulatto slave Sally Hemings. Regardless, none of this nullifies that bloodline does not trump spiritline. Both conflate in the end. That’s the message.

There can be no doubt that the Apostles other than Paul were sent to the lost of the house of Israel, which includes the so-called Ten Lost Tribes. There is no doubt that the Apostles actually wrote to them, as their epistles in The Bible attest.

Shiloh: Tranquility

Getting back now directly to Shiloh, the spirit of Jesus is Shiloh, Jesus is where the word resides. Jesus is peace. The spirit of Jesus is the rightful king and high priest of both the Hebrews and Gentiles. This is directly connected to the lost of the house of Israel and the prophecy. It is over the living spirit of Jesus that all will come together. It is why Jesus sent out his disciples to the lost. His house is to include everyone who will turn to God and righteousness in word and deed in earnestness.

Now, Jacob prophesied that Judah's descendents would retain legal control until Shiloh comes. Shiloh means tranquility. It was also the name of a city in the physical territory of Ephraim, the second son of Joseph, where the Ark of the Covenant was kept. When the birthright is restored, meaning when everyone acknowledges everyone else (as when the twelve brothers reconciled in Egypt), peace will be at hand. Then, all will share all with all, as Jesus taught.

Jacob (Israel) lived long enough to somewhat realize the error of parental facilitation of rivalry and bitterness, through relatively careless favoritism of offspring, that becomes nationalism.

Jesus taught that those in heaven who are first are he and she who are in earnest, humble enough to love and serve others, even washing their feet, regardless of genealogical descendancy, birth order, gender, or the degree to which the Holy Spirit is upon any. They are willing to be second and last. Brothers and sisters are willing to let them be first and last to glorify God. Those spiritual and genetic brothers and sisters too will assume the first, second, and last position or any between in the same spirit of service and more to the point, loving friendship, for the pure sake of righteousness and not for reward or out of fear of punishment but rather pure respect for God and godliness.

Jesus is Shiloh, the rightful heir, because Jesus shares all perfectly. That bring tranquility. Anyone against Jesus being acknowledged as the rightful one is against such sharing and potentially precludes him or herself from sharing all in heaven, which is Jesus's kingdom. Do you understand?

Fear of Christianity, truth, proselytizing, exposure

Other faiths are fearful of Christianity. They fear the proselytizing done by Christians, because they fear the truth that says that as more and more people hear the truth about Jesus, they will, in fact, convert and rightly so. Any religion that fears proselytizing by Christians shows by that fear the weakness of falsehood. The truth fears no falsehood. The truth withstands any devil's advocate. The devil fears the truth, not the other way around. Real Christianity can stand up to any doctrine and prevail, because real Christianity has a monopoly on the truth. It is perfect justice. Its founder, God, was and remains the truth. All who love the truth see it once they hear it. All who fear Christian proselytizing show their fear of exposure.

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God. (John 3:19-21).

It doesn't mean that all deeds of the past were wrought in God. It means that now the person is following the light into righteousness and his or her deeds are being wrought in God.

Know the fruit

No other path but true Christianity has tasked its followers to feed all the starving people of the world. This is but one of the tasks for the followers of Jesus. All the tasks are consistent. He said, "Feed my lambs...Feed my sheep...Feed my sheep." (John 21:15-17). He also said, "Do good to them that hate you." (Matthew 6:44). It necessarily follows that if feeding his lambs and sheep is good and one is to do good also even to those whom hate one, one is to feed everyone in both body and spirit. It also necessarily follows that we are to put forth collective effort to do all the other things consistent with that spirit. Visit, encourage, and help the sick, lonely, widowed, orphaned, homeless, oppressed, and imprisoned, etc., the world over. Devise liberal devices and stand by them. What other faith requires such godliness? Don't just warm the pews or chairs in church buildings or other places. What other faith could ever hope to bear such fruit? No syncretism of faiths or philosophies is correct, for no other way acknowledges, gives full credit to, Jesus for being what Jesus said he was and is as he demonstrated. The absence of such acknowledgement renders all the other paths incapable of the emotional unselfish wherewithal, the self-sacrificing, trusting, mentality, to carry out merit-worthy, justifying, tasks: Real liberalism. All the other religions are ultimately based upon the traditions of human beings. None has brought forth the good fruit. Only real Christianity guarantees it, because it alone answers why and how God is calling for purely altruistic deeds. Everything else is a selfish refusal: Denial of truth.

This is how to know every religion, denomination, philosophy, ideology, and economic system: By the fruit it brings forth. You may also know the real faith by those who attempt to kill it. The killers do not want the fruit coming forth for all.

The systems they have built up for self that is not God. They willingly leave others downtrodden who would want to rise in the spirit. That is the gravest of mistakes. Their rotten fruit seeks to spread into the hearts of those working to bring forth the good fruit. It will not happen. The good cannot be killed in spirit.
Can you see how all of this has to do with the American founders being viewed by the American conservatives as if those founders were demigods? Treating the founders as being tantamount to infallible causes the people to have a false sense of satisfaction with the status quo legal system that falls far short of the new commandment. They do not then aspire to the perfect union. They stay with the traditions of men rather than seeking righteousness.
The Roman church willingly left others downtrodden also for the same reason as the founding fathers: Private estates.
They sucked people into the ploy by distorting the message of Jesus, just as the founding fathers sucked people into their ploy by giving the people half-truths and filling them with false and misleading hopes.

The myths of Roman Catholicism
The founders created the myth that is the US Constitution and the church of Rome added myths to the life of Jesus that are similar to those based upon the pagan demigod Mithra.
Other such demigods and gods include Krishna, Horus, Attis, Buddha (later on), Dionysus, and others. The Christmas season, Easter, and Sunday (as the choice of the Sabbath day) are loaded with paganism. The dates, colors, trees, rabbits, eggs, and nearly all of the symbolism come directly from paganism and mythology. This of course dilutes the message. It is a disservice to Jesus and disrespectful to God. It harms the reputation of the message of Jesus. It adds to the ammunition of those who have started a stream of traditional thinking that claims that Jesus is based upon mythologies and fables.

What the early church in Rome, and other churches that also took on local pagan traditions, did by this was exactly what the Essenes so judiciously worked to avoid. It is why they, the Essenes, made so many of what they hoped were exact copies of scripture and hid them to preserve them. Now it falls to us to sort out all the paganism and explain it without condoning it. The fact that so many ancient societies had their savior and hero yearnings explains the similarities. The expediency (self-serving hast) of the Roman church and its lust to be the supreme church explains the admixing.

Christmas gifts

Even the exchanging of Christmas gifts is pagan. Christians are not to celebrate the birth of Christ by exchanging gifts with those whom they love. That is giving in recompense (with the expectation of getting something in return: Feelings). That is exactly against the teachings of Jesus. “For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?” (Matthew 5:46). We are to remember the poor, as it was once done even on the pagan date of December 25, the birth date of numerous pagan deities. We are to remember Jesus with the bread and wine as he asked.
We know from a letter from pope Gregory I to saint Mellitus in A.D. 601 that the pope instructed Mellitus to incorporate pagan practices of Anglo-Saxons in converting them to Christianity, including animal sacrifices of oxen. "He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man." (Isaiah 66:3). We know that the Yule-time traditions are primarily of Northern Germanic heathen origin. Christmas has some ancient Roman paganism also mixed in.

Easter sexual lust

Of course the Easter holiday comes from the pagan Mesopotamian/Babylonian and Assyrian goddess Ishtar (also known by many other names; Eastern Star; Venus), the goddess of fertility and sex, among other things, hence the pagan eggs and rabbit and spring, nature-regeneration overtones injected into the holiday. This same basic mother nature worshipping was evident with the ancient Druids and Celts and others. Overtones followed the spread of the Indo-European languages. It was the Proto-Indo-European religion that spread and changed with the language.

Eostre, was the Saxon goddess associated with spring, the dawn, fertility, etc. Some doubt that Ishtar or Mesopotamian influences could have influenced the Angles or Saxon roots. With many thousands of years of human travel and migration, however, it seems unlikely that the Saxons could have remained uninfluenced by the earliest religions of human kind. The question is a matter of how much interaction and not one of whether or not any. Some people are attempting to dispute that the rabbits and eggs, etc., of Easter celebrations are pagan symbolism. Of course, Jesus's resurrection is not about fleshly fertility. Just how harmful the carnal or sexual overtones (unbridled lust, greed) of rabbits and eggs can be in distracting from the higher spiritual message of Jesus depends upon how well the individual sorts these things.

The idea that the spring is a time of the earth's regeneration and that Jesus rose again as the sun does each dawn or after the winter solstice or Jesus rose again as the daystar or as the moon waxes after a new moon, etc., are associations that can enlighten or seriously mislead depending upon the goal, the heaven in heart and mind.

The problems arise when lust overtakes unselfishness that is doing no harm. Excessive, uncontrolled, unfaithful, un-bonded sex is certainly harmful. It opens the gates to greed and violence too.

The problem is that all manner of evil is done on account of the various forms of lust. If one gives in to these, unleashing appetites, selfish flesh takes over. Harm results. The opposite of love results. It's a downward cascade into iniquity and eventual great pain and suffering as the disease becomes deeply rooted gripping the very soul, choking the real life out of it.

The satanic spirit brutally punishes its followers and spills out onto the innocent as well, confusing and misleading them if they aren't aware or prepared. It happens early or later even after the death of the flesh, but it eventually happens. It catches up with one and with many.
Inhibitions

The problem is too subtle for the hardhearted. The only difficulty with all of this lies in how it ties into letting down one's inhibitions. It is good to be inhibited about certain things. Distractions that alter the focus onto fertility rites and celebrations can lead into all sorts of temptations. It can easily become the slippery slope into depravity. It may appear pleasurable (rewarding) on its surface; however, it is a short step into utter selfishness cascading into all manner of other lusts that cause nothing but harm and disease spreading out in all directions. This is not to say that crediting God for a good harvest is a bad thing. (God really wants us to be so close to God that we take God for granted. That may sound like a paradox and dangerous, but it isn't. The good parents want their children to not doubt them as parents. Think about it. Closeness is the point: Oneness.)

As for inhibitions, it is to say that one must have one's wits about one in order not to drift off into orgiastic activities. Evil masquerades as innocence to suck souls in. There is real innocence. It doesn't tempt or lure into promiscuity. At the very least, innocence insists upon monogamy and fidelity for all the manifest reasons. It is where the spirit of righteousness controls material nature.

Easter, continued

Further concerning Easter, all the gifts and candy emphasized today is promoted for profit for business. It is the secular commercialization of what should have been kept strictly holy, namely the remembrances of the birth, death, resurrection, and ascension of Jesus Christ. The word "Easter" shows up in a mistranslation in the King James Version.

And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people. (Acts 12:4).

The Greek word "πάσχα," transliterated as "pascha" could have been translated as "Passover," as it was in every other place in the King James Version. This shows, amongst other examples, that despite the King James Version Only movement's claims to the contrary, the translators were susceptible to the distractions of paganism found in other Bible versions of the day and were not God-guided in making the King James Version letter perfect.

Why does it matter that paganism (syncretism) was allowed in?

God did not want the word mingled with the views of the competition. The paganism from which Easter developed came directly out of the rebellious spirit. Accommodating such paganism for the sake of converts dilutes the message. It allows the rebellious spirit greater cover. It aids in the postponement of heaven coming to earth. It leaves people with expectations that are too low for the divine standard to become widely and deeply accepted and adhered to. That's why all the issues in this work must come to the fore putting the focus upon the reasons why the poor and oppressed are still treated unjustly, why we don't have mercy that will call the sinners to turn to godliness.

Jesus was the paschal lamb. Those who partake of Jesus's message are to be passed over by death just as were those Jews in Egypt passed over. The distortion of the paganism and heathenism of the non-Christian religions absorbed as unclean spirits into the faith by short-sighted religious proselytes of the Roman church primarily has served to remove the focus from the true message. Had they never absorbed those misdirecting traditions, people's focus would have been more clearly upon the plain meaning of the life example of Jesus. As it is, the children's minds and the minds of the adults are distracted by all the paganism now turned commercialism, anathema to the message of Jesus.

And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. (Zechariah 13:2).

Rather than this, the misguided of the church facilitated clinging to the false traditions and misdirecting the people and confusing them by virtue of the commingling of paganisms with the true faith. They did the exact wrong thing by not telling the truth of the faith and letting those who would not drop paganism remain designated heathens (outside the fold). In stead, they weakened the house setting it up for great future division as was prophesied. This is taking us toward the separation of tribulation again.

The Christ predates Horus, et al.

Now when one sees the parallels of Horus with Jesus, one may jump to the conclusion that the Horus story predates Jesus and that, therefore, Jesus is just a copy of that story. Doing that, fails to consider the right (Christian) way of viewing this. The prophecy foretelling of the actual Messiah predates the Horus god with its mythological attributes similar to Jesus's real attributes. The Christian view is that the prophecy (the foretelling) was taken and assigned to a god that the Egyptians named Horus. Horus was the hope of those who assigned Horus the prophetic qualities. He represented the spirit of wanting salvation. The same goes for all the other gods that have things in common with the actual living and historical flesh-and-blood and spirit Messiah. It is inherent in myth, legend, the occult, astrology, the zodiac, and more. All of those can be superimposed over the prophecy to show the desire of people for salvation.

Christ was and is from the beginning.

Occult, astrology, zodiac

Now, as soon as the words "occult" and "astrology" and "zodiac" are mentioned, eyes begin to roll. People jump to false conclusions. There is astrology that uses the zodiac in a manner that has absolutely nothing to do with the prophecy. That is the current secular and commercial use. The ancient use though was more as having the prophetic, messianic yearning and simultaneously finding parallels and correspondencies in the positions and aspects of celestial bodies seen and unseen. Those positions and aspects correspond with prophetic occurrences. Now, those who instantly dismiss this, they believe that the positions, etc., correspond simply because people made up the correspondence after the events.

However, the prophecy is a foretelling of human historical events that according to the ancient magi prophets was and is directly and inextricably connected with events in the heavens (space).

Well, there is a bright light before the shockwave hits from a nuclear bomb. There is a foam at the shoreline before a tsunami (wave). Some people get otherwise inexplicable feelings of unease before catastrophic events. Many identical twins have sensed when something bad was happening to a twin. Think about it. Where do the connections start and stop? Is it a matter of heightened perceptions? Yes. High enough perceptions see the future without doubt. God has unlimited perception.

Also, space as water on the mystical level. Think of the gravitational force and what subtle and not so subtle effect it can have upon the emotions.

The earth spins, and wobbles on its axis, orbits the Sun with the other planets, has its moon weaving in and out of that orbit, while the whole solar system bobs up and down in our arm of our spiral galaxy as that arm and the other arms of the galaxy are orbiting the galactic center while the whole galaxy and all the other galaxies are moving out and away from a center point in the known mundane universe.

No human on this planet knows how many more such center points exist elsewhere or if any others exist. They also don't know how everything effects our emotions and perceptions and which exactly are distortions and which are actually premonitions and which are causative.

The emotions sense and cause events. The mundane heavens are a sign of the times and times to come.

The heavens were, and are, portends and wonders. They were both a past and future record and for signs. They were in order that the people could conclude that the prophetic unfolding was, and is, beyond mundane notions of coincidences. Exactly where this correspondence starts and leaves off, what human on this plane of existence is to say?

Real Christians, moved by the Holy Spirit and who have experienced things beyond that allowed for by empiricists, do not close themselves off from the spirit's foretelling. They believe in premonition. They know it can't be tested. They know when they are told to keep it to themselves or to share it for a sign to others. They feel it.

This is all tied in with how the message is both literal and figurative. Things happen in one or the other or both ways. For those who discount everything in advance, they never see any of it.
They miss all the signs all about. They can't read them. They are too insensitive and too fearful that they might head into what they imagine could lead to insanity. They have purchased falsehood. They don't trust Jesus about the things he showed that are totally beyond where these people imagine themselves to be safe.

Wine from water and bread from certainty

They can't bring themselves to believe that Jesus really turned the water into wine or that the bread used to feed the five thousand actually increased without human hands (what people would call supernaturally). They have become completely mired down in the mundane and traditional. They are too hardhearted. For others, they can't filter out the misleading. They are lead astray into confusion. They must be pulled into reality (the real sanity) that is the single vision of Jesus, which is unselfishness.

The story of a hero-savior may certainly be told through the ancient western zodiac. It is the same process as the stories recorded on parchment and tablets and elsewhere throughout the ancient world with all the various names and attributes of that hero depending upon the locale. It is certain, however, that Jesus is the fulfillment of that aspiration of the people to be delivered from evil. He was, and is though, much more than most people bargained for. His standard is high. It is divine of necessity for true salvation.
Divination

Now, there is a place where divinations are condemned by the faith. This is contextual. Certainly, many would say that astrology, no matter how viewed, would constitute divining the stars. Well, this is true; however, Joseph and Daniel divined the meanings of dreams. Frankly, what is prophecy but divination? Jesus spoke about reading the signs of the times. It is not divination, per se, that is hated. It is false divination. It is when people hold themselves out as having heard from the Holy Spirit when they, in fact, have not. It is what comes from people who do not truly credit God in their hearts. Most false divinations give false comfort. They flatter. They dismiss coming consequences. They seek to sever the relationship between sowing and reaping. It is sleight of hand. It facilitates evil behavior telling people that what they are doing is good when it is, in fact, bad. All of that is what is hated. Prognostications are not inherently evil. They are necessary. The lookout on the wall standing watch is to read the signs of the times, the hardening of hearts, and warn people away from it on pain of death of both body and soul. It is what Jesus did. It is what all Christians are to do. We are to warn in accordance with the signs of the times. We are to speak to truth about consequences of knowing iniquity. It is our job. It is our duty. It is for love.

When we say times, as in reading the signs of the times, we do not necessarily mean consequences will occur within the moment. Consequences can be from the next moment to the next century and beyond. That is why the prophecy has been said to be for six thousand years and longer. The Holy Spirit moves people as it moves people. All evil is consequence, as is all good. Those who are emotionally unselfish and overcome iniquity, therefore, become better able to receive the Holy Spirit. They know it when they are truly in the spirit. They know when the mundane is taken out of the way making things clearer and plainer for the lack of distraction. The mind is clear to receive and then impart.

Jesus was no copy

They receive that Jesus fulfilled the Jewish Old Testament scriptures in the flesh. He met the requirements. He exceeded all expectations. He brought light and no darkness. No one, no myth, god story, hero legend, nothing, said what Jesus said before Jesus. He stated the spirit of the law and prophets as no other before him. He was no copy.

Not all the actual history of Jesus fits the myths of all the pagans in Greece, Egypt, Persia, India, Babylon, etc. Regardless, much paganism was superimposed onto Jesus by the churches looking to encourage pagans to join the church and be docile in servitude to human ambitions, especially of the Roman Empire. This was a terrible idea yet necessary so that the prophecy would unfold. The hearts of the world were insufficiently soft to allow for things to unfold in any other way. Nevertheless, we are here to tell people that the softening heart has always been the path of Jesus. We are here to show, as part of the unfolding prophecy, the stark difference between the selfish path that has been the path of so much of that which has called itself the church and the real path that is unselfishness that is the real love.

The Roman church was owned by the Roman Empire. The Empire wanted to have pagans join the Empire in droves. It wanted mammon generation out of lust. It was still furthering worldly empire and not furthering righteousness. Therefore, it is necessary to sort, within reason, the prophecy from the paganism. Just remember that Jesus fulfilled all the aspirations in spirit.

Once the Gospels had been written, the text fell into the hands of some who were first and foremost selfish. Anyone who assumes that the word of God has never been defaced by humans is naïve. There is historical proof (before and after manuscripts) showing that margin notes for instance ended up being inserted in the body of subsequent copies of the text. We have discussed some of that in more detail elsewhere in this work. Some alterations were no doubt well-intentioned. There is something important to know about this. The Holy Spirit of truth continues always to pull things back to the true focus. The spirit is a force over and above any human efforts to twist the message. The truth cannot be wiped out. The truth as to how we ought to be toward one another will always remain, so do not despair.
The self-styled conservative, Republican Christians believe in the supernatural but not the new commandment

Here we have those calling themselves conservative Christians claiming to believe in the miraculous signs of Jesus done nearly two thousand years ago and many of them believe that The Bible in only one form has been miraculously kept pristine (The King James Authorized Version), but they do not believe in Jesus's pacifist message. They will fall on their swords over infinitesimal interpretation of human doctrine but reject wholesale the gargantuan implications of the first and great commandment and the second like it that say, as plainly as anything, they have been, and are, wronging others. They believe in what they call the supernatural but not in their obligation under the message to share all and be good stewards of the earth.

Those supernatural signs were necessary for the evil generation. Those who were not evil knew the truth when they heard it without needing signs to prove Jesus was telling the truth. The real miracle from heaven is when the spirit dwells within without ever having needed such signs and leads one actively to do the deeds Jesus said by which we may know each other. Yet, the conservatives are still trying to make our Father's house (every heart) a den of thieves selfish enough to steal the global inheritance of others. How dare they attempt to turn God's water into nothing more than their economic commodity. They will pay many fold for all the times anyone goes thirsty for lack of money to pay them. They must repent from their greedy path. Water is the right of all, just as are both the air and the land. The greedy are headed for hell.

How will you know these false hearted? They will use every excuse in the book not to be responsible for their actions or inactions. They will threaten. They will vehemently tell the truth-tellers that those truth-tellers do not know anything. They will throw temper tantrums. They'll use every ungodly name and take the Lord's name in vain. If they feel insufficient ability to gain control through intimidation, they will become destructive and violent. They will throw things. They will break things. They will blow things up. They will betray the truth-tellers even if they are the closest of blood relatives. They will beat them, imprison them, and even murder them. What are the faithful to do?

We are to show the utmost patience trying to help them learn love and peace even while they, the selfish, harm themselves and others as they try to control everyone so that they may further spoil themselves and attempt to be impositions even to the saintly. Let them learn to reflect. Let them discover introspection. Let them work on their consciences. Let them learn to prefer righteousness.

Now, with all that has been pointed out in this chapter, it should be clear that conservatives are completely mistaken in imagining that America was founded upon, or ever practiced, Christianity. The American founding fathers were hardly Christians. We have spelled out the difference between Christianity and other major faiths or knowledge systems so that Christianity may be more clearly and plainly seen, among other reasons, that it was not that upon which those founding fathers based the American system.

Let those who will throw their temper tantrums on account of this truth do so; however, we ask them rather to consider and reflect.
Chapter 11  Prideful, Boastful Americans

The conservatives are prideful and boastful of being American, despite the Biblical admonitions against such pride and boasting.

Why are we not going at this gently? Why are we being so frank and blunt? Why not be artful, tactful, and solicitous? Would we not make greater headway with flattery and honey then with such talk? Being coy and syrupy has only served the cause of procrastination for thousands of years. Also, the truth is honey to the ears. It is only vinegar to those who hate the truth. It isn't mean spirited to tell people openly, honestly, and directly what they could change to not be astray. The object isn't to hurt anyone's feelings, but it isn't to avoid the truth for the sake of people's unjustified feelings that they must overcome or remain in danger of damnation. There are billions of lives and souls at stake. There are billions of people who are oppressed under the tyranny of other people's insatiable greed and violence. What is more important, to coddle the selfish or address the suffering of those oppressed by the selfish?

Being frank now is being wise as a serpent but harmless as a dove. There is only a blessing in it for those who heed what Jesus taught and exemplified. That is why it is good news, which is what the word "Gospel" means.

With boldness in the face of God, the conservatives more than anyone else plaster signs all about exclaiming their super patriotism. It is quite conspicuous on cars and trucks as bumper stickers, shade screens, and decals. It is quite conspicuous with oversized and numerous flags. It is extremely egotistical. It is no virtue. Such pridefulness is diametrically opposed to the emotional state necessary for being close to the kingdom. It is the opposite of the emotion necessary for loving God rather than serving mammon. It is the spirit of Satan.

Conservative Americans laud the military exploits of the country. They support every military endeavor under the guise of safety and security, even though those endeavors are to preserve, protect, and defend the shameful system of greed. They call for vengeance even on the innocent. Are these the things of their pride? They are desirous of wealth and reluctant to part with money or possessions, even for the sake of those of the family in spirit with the least.

Pride is sin, and they have it

The meaning of the word "pride" as a sinful thing has been eroded. Looking at the connotations of the word as now used, one sees the two different streams of consciousness at odds with each other. One is of the spirit of darkness. The other is of the spirit of light.

Pejoration

Pride is held out to be good in the connotations of the dark side and held out as evil in the connotations of the side of the light. The entire language with every synonym could be broken out into these two at-odds streams of consciousness. One would see the language reflecting the war between the children of light and the children of darkness. One would see the entire process of pejoration in which the forces of darkness have constantly sought to belittle and lessen the effects of the elevated language of the revelation. Pejoration runs through the synonyms of the entire language.

There are so many words that have undergone pejoration. Consider the word "preach," which meant "to teach." Then look at the other connotations of the word and notice the derogatory nature of the connotations. To preach is to be tedious for example. This second connotation was invented by those who do not want to hear it no matter how much truth there is in it. It is true that there are those who call themselves preachers who are full of themselves, but they are not truly teaching are they. Why run down the word "preaching" when one who is full of himself is not really preaching. I understand that this is the nature of the language as one would say there are those who teach and preach evil. However, the connotation of tediousness has nothing to do with the teacher of evil. It has to do with saying that even listening to the truth is tedious. Under this connotation, preaching is bad no matter what. It is instantly tedious. All moralizing is instantly tedious. It spoils the fun of pretending that iniquity is acceptable and unavoidable human nature. It is to turn minds away from listening to the truth. It is to lure minds away to do falsehood. It is to make minds more receptive to temptation and falling.
Of course all sermons do not need to be full of hell fire and brimstone, but there is a time and place for such analogies. The teachings of Christ covered the whole spectrum. That is good teaching, and Jesus was not tedious.

Pride in the killing machine
This conflict is being waged over the issue of the pride of America. American pride is a smug self-satisfaction and pleasure in projecting and using military power (the ability to out threaten, out maim, and out kill any other nation or combination of nations). It is pride in the killing machine. That is a negative accomplishment considering that the peacemakers are the blessed and the war makers then make themselves the opposite: The damned.

Working for Satan
It is self-satisfaction and pleasure in controlling the world’s economy, using currently some forty percent of the world’s resources for under 4.7% of the world’s people. (These figures are constantly changing, but the point is nevertheless valid). The world’s population is estimated to be 6.6 billion, and the US population is estimated to be three hundred million as of October 2006. Even as America is using less now as a percentage of the total in the world, due to increases by China and India in particular, America’s usage or resources, including polluting resources, is still going up and the total usage of the world is going up as more and more nations emulate the greed of America. Has America then led these other nations astray? Yes.
What does that mean? Is it something to gloss over quickly without absorbing the full import of what it means? America has, and still is, leading other nations woefully astray. The current neocon leaders of America are leading people away from God. Those who lead people away from God are working evil. They are working for the opposite spirit of God. They are working under the satanic spirit. That's what it means. Now, do we just shrug our shoulders and forget about it to go on with our daily mundane self-absorbed lives, or do we keep it in focus so that we are not partakers of such sinning?

American pride is self-satisfaction and pleasure in possessing the most material possessions of any nation in the world. Even if the population of America falls into second place in this regard, corporatism will have become completely globally dominant and the elite in all nations will be even more a club of fat-spirited capitalists devouring the poor of the world.

First the rich and famous and then the Americans

It is self-satisfaction and pleasure in the self perceived greater value of the life of an American over the lives of non-Americans, all things being equal. When capitalistic wealth is factored in, however, the lives of the rich and famous of other nations are really seen as being worth more than poorer and more anonymous Americans. You will notice that when a plane crashes and the passengers are killed, it is always the rich and famous (no matter how selfish they were) who receive the endless focus as if their lives were more precious. It is a factor of money. It is that interest that sells. It is the capitalists who sell people on having greater interest in the rich. It is a circle of lessening the value of the downtrodden and elevating even tyrants. You will also notice the penchant for stating the number of Americans who were on board, as if in cases where there are no Americans, the tragedy is somehow less.

It is self-satisfaction and pleasure in the internal associations of Americans with other Americans. Those not at the center of the Empire no matter how wealthy they may become individually will really remain tools and cogs of the Empire. Every one of the global capitalists will remain beholden to the Empire of capitalism with its capitals in London and New York and Washington, D.C.

Now, that view of superiority, to the prideful in America including the self-styled conservative Christians, is all justified and proper. Whereas, the Biblical view concerning the lessons of pride is that such self-satisfaction and pleasure, even elation, is undeserved, arrogant, haughty, and conceited.

Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall. (Proverbs 16:18).

For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked. For there are no bands in their death: but their strength is firm. They are not in trouble as other men; neither are they plagued like other men. Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment. Their eyes stand out with fatness: they have more than heart could wish. They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily. (Psalm 73:3-8).

Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, fulness of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. (Ezekiel 16:49).

The only difference between Sodom and the US has concerned idleness. The US has many people driven to materialism. They have been extremely industrious, but in general it has been for self, which doesn't make it a good thing but rather in furtherance of evil. It would have been better had they been lazy rather then produce the fruits of greed. Now, the US has plenty of people who are rich and idle. They live off the labors of others putting nothing in themselves. They have contributed nothing but putting to work hoarded value pent up in mammon to get them even more gain for their idle path. The US is the sister of Sodom in having great pride, being full of material and food, and in actually having weakened the hand of the poor and needy around the world and at home. Also, there is an abundance of idleness in many of her rich sons and daughters.
God is not on America's side

The conservative Americans boast that God is on their side. They boast of their mighty and expensive war machine and that none shall stand against their wealthy system and their willpower and survive.

They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches; None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him. (Psalms 49:6-7).

How long shall they utter and speak hard things? and all the workers of iniquity boast themselves? (Psalms 94:4).

The time is fast approaching if the people do not repent. Only those who trust in God, and not in money, can redeem, and atone for, others. The pride and boasting of the conservatives will be shown up for what it is. They worship in the synagogue of Satan. They wittingly worship mammon.

The greatest symbols of mammon, the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center in New York in the city's financial district, the capital of capitalism (the opposite of giving and sharing all as has been freely given by God) are gone. All the buildings of that symbol of international capitalism are gone. They were destroyed in evil wrath. It was a sign. Read the signs. Repent.

What are they doing now but building another complex with the central building called the Freedom Tower—how delusional. It is as if the Jews started rebuilding their temple within five years of its being leveled.

The dissenters have spared America

There has been no admission or confession from the powers that be in the US. Only the citizens who have dissented and prophesied, speaking truth, have spare America.

And Abraham drew near, and said,
Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?
Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein? That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right? And the LORD said, If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes. And Abraham answered and said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the LORD, which am but dust and ashes:
Peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous: wilt thou destroy all the city for lack of five? And he said, If I find there forty and five, I will not destroy it. And he spake unto him yet again, and said, Peradventure there shall be forty found there. And he said, I will not do it for forty's sake. And he said unto him, Oh let not the LORD be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there shall thirty be found there. And he said, I will not do it, if I find thirty there. And he said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the LORD: Peradventure there shall be twenty found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for twenty's sake. And he said, Oh let not the LORD be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for ten's sake. (Genesis 18:23-32).

Then the LORD rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the LORD out of heaven. (Genesis 19:24).

Are we saying that those who perished were greater sinners than the rest of the people? No.

Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. (Luke 13:4-5).

Does it mean that everyone who doesn't repent will be killed in terrorist attacks on buildings?
No. It means that the unrepentant who died in those buildings died without first becoming part of the just who will be resurrected into eternal life free of sin and evil temptation. Does it mean that everyone who died of the 9-11 attacks was unrepentant? That cannot be concluded from what Jesus said about the tower in Siloam. They were killed in a great act of sin. They were taken in their iniquity to the extent they were iniquitous in this life. Their blood will be required at the watchmen's hands.

Do you know who the watchmen where?

Blood on the watchmen’s hands

Under the excuse of not causing panic, those who knew to expect attacks on buildings via planes did not sound the alarm. They kept it under wraps. Those who knew that the US was offending people of other nations without offering those people any forum for having their grievances heard and dealt with fairly and who did not speak out about injustice will be held to account. Those who continue to lie about this to cover over their complicity will also be held to account.

Denying people an open voice concerning their grievances is a sinister ploy. Where is the forum? Look at what has happened with Bunnatine H. Greenhouse, Janis Karpinski, and Katharine Gun.
Saddam Hussein's mock trial

Look at what is even happening concerning Saddam Hussein. Hussein has been very poorly tried for what happened at al-Dujail.

He is to be tried now for gassing the Kurds, etc., in what is called the Anfal campaign/genocide, in which an estimated fifty to two-hundred thousand Kurdish separatists were killed and thousands of villages destroyed. Will the involvement of the US and other nations as accomplices (complicity) in providing the illegal weapons come out? The dissidents will see to it, are seeing to it. Will those responsible also be held to account along with Hussein and his henchmen? Satan will see to it.

Will Hussein be allowed to point to Abraham Lincoln's US Civil War against Southern separatists in the US as a defense? How many died in the US Civil War to keep the Confederate States of America from carrying out their plan to become a separate nation? Was Lincoln ruthless? Of course he was.

There are those who will say the comparison is impossible. They will point to Lincoln's emancipation goals for the slaves. Well, one need simply compare the results of the US invasion of Baghdad (hundreds of thousands dead and the country torn to pieces) with the situation before Saddam's overthrow by George W. Bush to see that Saddam has a point that he was holding the nation together that were it to have fallen apart would have resulted in worse ethnic and sectarian violence than the results of his own ruthless measures. We don't subscribe to such methods, but we acknowledge the hypocrisy of the Bush position.

One need only look at the US complicity in numerous genocides and crimes against humanity and war crimes, etc., to see that it is the height of hypocrisy for the US to be in control of the trial of Saddam Hussein. If we accept the US insanity that was the invasion of Baghdad, the least the US could have done was turn Hussein over to the International Court.

Will Hussein be allowed to point to the terror and indiscriminate and racists warfare waged by all the major powers and recently by Israel, among other things, a US proxy in the Middle East?

Will Hussein be allowed to point to the US policy of balance of power that prevailed at the time, saying that he was insuring the greater stability of the region by keeping down the separatist aspirations of the Kurds?

Will Hussein be allowed to point to Turkey's and Iran's hostilities concerning Kurdish statehood, etc.?

We don't defend Hussein, but neither do we defend George W. Bush. We don't judge or condemn them either. We seek the truth and universal repentance.

Hussein is guilty of the same things done by the major powers, but because he wasn't as militarily strong as they, he will be punished.

He may be executed before he is able to speak openly about US duplicity in the gassing of Kurds and Iranians. Saddam knows too much. The neocons would like him dead before he can speak out about George H. W. Bush's administration and even some of the current officials in the George W. Bush administration. They won't allow Hussein to have a real defense team for that reason. They've given him one commercial attorney for a war-crimes defense. That says it all. Saddam Hussein was a ruthless leader; however, justice will not be done by silencing him before the truth comes out about the greedy system of the United States.

Nevertheless, all the US foreign-policy doctrines concerning Iraq and Middle Eastern oil issued by various US presidents speak loudly and clearly of US greed and iniquity.

Inviting wrath

It must be understood that the US, by imposing and even dictating to the entire world is inviting wrath upon itself. Such endless coercion is not aimed at righteousness. Often in such wrathful circumstances, people less responsible for the incorrect direction of a nation are made to suffer. That was the case for most in the Towers and jets and for those subordinates in the Pentagon building on 9-11. It was the case for their relatives. It is the case for the military subordinates in Iraq and elsewhere who sell themselves to be pawns of the foreign-policy makers.

Prideful and antagonistic expressions such as "bring it on" made by a president only serve to exacerbate wrathfulness. The Bible is full of warnings against this attitude of American conservatism. It cannot go on with impunity.

Victor's history is in the prophecy

Why do they try to build empire when every empire in the history of the world has fallen? They want it while they can have it. They also mistakenly believe that history will record them as great conquerors. However, history is written by the victors and the current worldly Empire spirit loses. That history has already been written in the prophecy.
Chapter 12  Lauding Military Service

That the conservatives laud military service is consistent with their emphasis on closely related flesh-and-blood family and monetary and material prosperity.

The self-styled conservative Christians have a penchant for violence as the solution. This is despite the clear and plain Christian commands to the contrary. If you do not love that contrary commandment, you do not love Jesus, for Jesus said the following:

Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. (Matthew 6:38-39).

For all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. (Matthew 26:52). [directed at the Zealots]

He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone. (John 8:7).

When has America ever turned the other cheek? How many Americans have died in wars? How many people of the other nations of the world have been killed due to wars? How many more must die before they learn? How many times has America punished people to death, casting the proverbial stone? How many people has America killed beginning with the aboriginal peoples of the continent of North America?

Violence completely forbidden
You will note that when Jesus said, "Whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also," he did not qualify it with the word "sometimes" or any other qualifier. He did not say, "Unless you conclude that it would be just to go to war against him." He made a blanket statement covering every situation. Violence is completely forbidden in Christianity. It may be difficult for people to overcome their urge to fight back, but if they want to be real Christians, they have no option. All attempts to excuse violence by Christians are rationalizations and evil.

He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire. (Psalm 46:9).

And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. (Isaiah 2:4).

Can the militarists around the whole world stand corrected or are they too stiff-necked for their own good? It is great to be corrected. It is the best thing. We speak from personal experience.

But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction. (Jeremiah 17:23).

Wake up! How plain does it have to be? Even for those who cannot read, they can understand it if it is communicated to them. How long will the excuses go on? Not long. It will not be allowed.

The conservatives in America lauded Ronald Reagan for saying to Mikhail Gorbachev to tear down the Berlin Wall. Well, Mr. president George W. Bush, and all leaders to follow, beat America's weapons into plowshares and pruning hooks, do not ever lift up the sword against any other nation again, destroy all the war schools and courses, and teach all the nations of the world to do the same. Do everything consistent with these things, and you will become a true child of God and not before.

Their false peace dividend

Mr. Reagan's conservative administration's strategy of spending the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics under the table via a new arms race was hatched long before Reagan got into power. It was to provide what was called a peace dividend. Where is it? The militarists did not want one. Their stock portfolios in the war machine would have gone down. Material prosperity for their close genetic relatives and themselves is too important to them to have any peace dividend spread across the planet. Egotistical control is too important.

New boogeyman

When the USSR collapsed, these tendencies could be seen. The militarists are glad to have the new boogeyman: The amorphous terrorist. Now their war-profits are way up. They are glad for the war. They promote the war as pride in country and support for the troops. How will anyone ever know when those labeled as terrorists are no longer? The jackboot-spirited can manufacture a perceived threat in the minds of the people through the corporate media nearly indefinitely.

Oh, this saying "support the troops" is so sinister. They are asking Christians to lend moral support to war. It cannot be done. No Christian can lend moral support to military soldiers in their violent efforts. It does not make any difference what the militarists claim is their cause. Christians can only support pacifism. It is the teaching of Christ: Turn the other cheek. It takes a long time for some to learn what that means. It takes a long time for many to learn to overcome the habit of using violence to resist violence. It must be done however. That is the calling. It is the only way to peace. Peace does not come by way of war. War comes by way of war. Heaven cannot be coerced. Those who support war are against Jesus. They are not Christians.
Some conservatives with more sensible leanings talk about winning the peace; however, they always assume falsely that this must come on the heels of war. What the world must learn is to win the peace, which means no war. This can only be done through teaching and exemplifying love, peace, mercy, compassion, truth, sharing, giving, justice, and all the rest of the good. It cannot be done through war. The only thing war should ever have done is teach us never to go to it. They do not understand that war is about genetics and money. It is not to protect the spirit of light. It is not about magnifying the spirit of light. It is darkness. There is no brightness in it. How dull are people? How selfish are they to not recognize their own uncontrolled lusts even when they are told directly and in no uncertain terms?

When will they stop lying to themselves and others about war? War is never justified. Deuteronomy says, "To me belongeth vengeance." (Deuteronomy 32:35). Satan is the destroyer of worlds. Jesus came to save the world. If all vengeance is left exclusively up to God, if people do not take it upon themselves but rather repent, all will be forgiven, saved, and redeemed. It is the revelation. Why is it hidden from so many? It is so plain, so clear. Why must the hardhearted make it so that the righteous-leaning have to bear so much and persevere through so much?

So why write all of this if it is going to be that way? For souls right now to be better enabled to head in the right direction and for the souls yet to come into this world is why. So that they will see as clearly and plainly as possible and know that the prophecy truly came from God and that they may be freed, that is why. It is for the sake of the resurrection of the just, the earnestly repentant, and the little innocent ones. Take away the sins of the world. It is never futile to aid in the saving of even just one soul.

Military strength is the reward of evil

The self-styled conservative Christians hold militarism in such high esteem, because they think it guarantees them a stronghold for their flesh-and-blood and their accumulated wealth. They think it protects them from the power of evil, putting their nests out of reach. This is all consistent with their confused interpretation of the revelation of Jesus. They rationalize by insisting that their military strength is a gift of God and not the reward of evil that will devour them.

Many confuse the Constitution of the United States of America and Declaration of Independence with scripture. Many look to the Old Testament and secular history of wars as their guide rather than looking to the New Testament to shed light upon the Old. They see the wars of America as a continuation of the warring struggles of the Jews in the Old Testament. However, the New Testament makes clear that war is an apostate condition.

True, Christians are the elect of God; however, the future Jewish remnant is still earmarked of God for redemption through Jesus Christ. Again:
And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. (Zechariah 12:10).

The Second Coming shall be more of the first

Some imagine that the Son of man coming again will be Jesus with a physical sword in his hand spilling blood and destroying men's lives just as the Old Testament Jews thought the Messiah would lead a mighty violent uprising putting down the dominant Gentiles. When the wrath came upon the false Jews in A.D. 64-73, it was the evil of the Roman Empire inflicting punishment upon many Hebrews who had brought it upon themselves for having failed to heed the warnings of the prophets and having murdered the one whom the prophets had pointed to, Jesus.

The Roman Empire, in turn, was punished for its own doings. Every empire has been punished for its doings. Every empire of selfishness will continue to be punished for its selfish doings. What is best for the whole of God's kingdom will prevail, despite the unwillingness of some humans to understand.

It needs to be that the devil is allowed by God for the time that it takes for humanity to learn and be purged in flesh and spirit on earth and in the hereafter. The truth speaks and warns and yet men turn on men. "And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations." (Revelation 19:15). That sword does not come out of the mouth of the devil. The devil does not warn men not to turn on each other. The devil is hypocritical. The devil is a liar. Hypocrisy and lies insure war. Men turn on men despite the sharp consequences of rejecting the truth. The environment turns on men. These things happen to the mightiest of those who do not repent; therefore, change and be reconciled with God.

In the Book of Jonah as has been mentioned, God turns from doing "evil" to the people, because the people turned from evil in time upon hearing God's warning to them given them through Jonah (Jonah 3:10). Most people have a difficult time comprehending how God, who is love, can allow evil especially to the innocent. The Book of Jonah is scripture. It says that God was going to inflict evil. Jesus said, "Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled." (Matthew 5:18). How may one reconcile all of this?

Jesus explained that the hard laws of Moses were due to the hard hearts of that generation. So too the term "evil" in Jonah is to be recognized for those who could not yet grasp the revelation of Jesus including the prophets before him. How could they? The very revelation of Jesus means that what Jesus revealed was new on earth. The fact that something marvelous and terrible was coming and that it would mean tribulation, destruction, and salvation was written about and described, but the exact details of cutting through all the hypocrisy and arriving at perfect justice was not known. Is not that the crux of the matter? Jonah did not know how to separate God from evil doings. Jesus did though, and he did it perfectly right down to his own human, troubled soul. When will they ever learn? Repentance, which includes atonement, leads to forgiveness (God's greater mercy) and reconciliation (the opposite of apostasy). Militarism, genetics over spirit, money lust, and other evils lead into apostasy that is away from God.

Self-defense is offensive

In the teachings of Jesus, even the defensive is offensive. You must combine in understanding the concepts of turning the other cheek and that there must be offenses such as war and that grief will ultimately come to the one who goes to war even in what is commonly thought of as self-defense.

But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. (Matthew 5:39).

Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh! (Matthew 18:7).

This is the spirit of the law that results from carrying the mundane law out to its logically implied conclusion. Those who turn the other cheek do not bring the offenses. Offenses are not needed for them. They have already learned. They have already learned not to inflict offenses including in the form of so-called defense.

Now there are those who wish to stop the implication short of implicating their sin in warring. That is self-serving on their part. They cannot bring themselves to love God more than the flesh-and-blood of their own family members they seek to protect even though no matter what happens to their family members, if those family members are in the spirit, God will take care of their eternal souls and those family members would never want anyone to lose his or her soul protecting their mere and weak flesh from evil. Strange as it may seem to many, it would have been a sin to stop the crucifixion of Jesus by violence against the Pharisees and Romans. Jesus would not have wanted it. That was so we can stand at this point with a clear decision to make and the prophecy will continue unfolding.

For so many, they wish to focus solely upon the small stumbling blocks and not also on the weightier matters such as wars, starvation, and pandemics. Those are the conservatives. They are the opposite of the liberals who often want to focus on the weightier matters without also considering the consistent implications in their own smaller personal circles. For the conservatives, to focus upon the weightier matters would implicate them for not stepping out front to say, woe to the world that will not heed the great, weightiest commandment that in no uncertain terms precludes war. They cannot truly love God while hating the truth that war is a racket and hell and those who wage it are acting as the host of hell on earth. They have rationalized sinfully to fall prey to the animalistic spirit of certain lower forms—the beasts that, without sin, brutally devour each other. The nature of the lion must be tamed within to lie down with the lamb. Isaiah knew that. It came to him from God. What did not come to him was how to get there. That came with Jesus and the Holy Spirit if we all will only see it.

Difference between God and Satan

The difference between God and Satan may be understood through all of this. The difference may be understood in terms of the difference in intentions and results. Satan (evil) leads people astray from what God wants of people. Satan is the great tempter, tester. Satan tempts people into rebellion against the oneness, the wholesomeness, the healing, that lies in godliness. Satan says to put self first. Satan says put your close genetic relatives above the spirit of righteousness. Satan says have it all now through selfishness, excessive lust in all its forms: Money, physical fighting, sex, and on and on. Satan says fight for what you want. Satan says to hell with the poor; they are rifflaff. Satan epitomizes elevating self above God and to the point of believing that all power rests in self due to self alone, even though self is, and has been, dependant upon God. Satan tests whether people will fall for believing lies or not. He says you can have it all if you will worship him. Caving into this, one begins to have delusions of being God, meaning there is not God and then self in God but rather there is no other god but self as individual. The deluded begins to see him or herself as all controlling of all that is controllable and eventually responsible for all that is.

Yet, God on the other hand is merciful or wrathful (has been characterized as such, for allowing the devil's consequences that is allowing people to fall down on account of the devil's temptations) depending upon the just deserts of humans living and dead. God's way of allowing humans free choice allows rebellion or willfulness to be punished by the rebellious and willful. When we all learn to stop, it will end for all. Until then, each must endure until the end. This is not out of sadism or masochism on God's part. Attributing those illnesses (unwholenesses) to God is simply human lack of comprehension.

God is waiting for humans to comprehend the connection between the satanic (rebellion against real unity that is love and truth as one) and necessary evil consequences. The rebellion forestalls the blessings of the real liberty that comes of righteousness. God sees to it that there is cause and effect for human arrogance, carelessness, and the rest of folly. God teaches and warns and makes right. Those who heed the word in time and persevere are in the end spared, redeemed, and delivered. This is justice.
There is no better design comprehensible to human beings, because there is no better design possible. It is impossible to think of a better design than God's. Whatever is the best design is God's by definition. God is the best designer. Only humans misconceive of what God's design truly is. That is why they become confused, angry, and vengeful toward God. They misconstrue and sell God short. They lack faith in the justice in the end and the justice that is the means to that end.

The prophet

The prophet speaks justly. He teaches righteousness. He warns. He has no choice.

If the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, not cause others to fail no matter what happens to them at the hands of evil. They help prepare people to persevere through to the end under even the most horrendous evil visitations. They help make the people aware of the choice that the people may accept or reject at their own peril. The real teachers will have done what is right and true.

The prophet speaks so that more will learn to hear and heed, repent, and atone that is make amends.

Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.
(Matthew 5:2).

In other words, hear the truth of those who have just complaints. Change accordingly.
However, where complaints are false and designed to persecute, turn the other cheek.
Don't cave into denying God or Jesus.

Take up your cross. Be joyful at the lifting of oppression, but do not be wrathful. Call for mercy and forgiveness on all sides. Blessed are the peacemakers. In the final analysis, evil is solely responsible for bringing punishment. In addition to war and other evil punishments people inflict upon one another, the creation itself is turned upon those who fail to heed. The earth vomits them out. God's actions that are considered evil to the short-sighted are seen for the justice that they are in the end. One finally receives what one deserves. Evil inflicts evil until the last farthing is paid.

Leave the binding and unleashing of Satan's devouring wrath to the measuring rod of divine truth, because perfect justice and perfect instruction must be meted out by that which is perfect. Only one is good enough to mete out perfect justice and that is God who is the truth. "And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God." (Mark 10:18). Yet, God judges no man. Can you reconcile this? It is amazing!

Now, the so-called Christian conservatives in America and elsewhere are warned to heed and turn from their lust that is their current system. They are warned to turn from lauding military service and worldly monetary and material prosperity. They are warned to rather turn to lauding peace that is free and joyful giving and sharing of all with all and not just with closely related flesh-and-blood family. Woe to those who hear and yet continue to rebel.
Many conservatives have been unaware (deliberately kept in the dark) that they have been living in a state of apostasy (rebellion against God's way).

This may have come as a shock to those who have always imagined they were true believers. They may have listened to what their clergy told them. They may have listened to what their parents told them. They certainly were inundated by the barrage from the political and socialization processes of the government and commercial-marketing interests.

Tricking the people

The drumbeat has always been from the top of worldly power down to each person and back up again as an echo. The spirits of darkness, which control the world's leaders in this age, have sent constant messages that confuse that dark world with the kingdom of God. If people can be tricked into imagining that they are working for God even though they are really working in perpetuation of the current system of greed, evil will thrive as a wolf in sheep's clothing.
Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves. (Matthew 7:15).

For Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works. (2 Corinthians 11:14-15).

These verses (2 Corinthians 11:14-15) from Paul may shed some light upon Paul's better inclinations over and above his verses (Romans 13:1-5) that were quoted by US Supreme Court justice Antonin Scalia as justification for the death penalty.

Now, Satan is transformed on the outside but not inwardly. He is described by his followers as having great charisma. He is, however, beguiling to those who do not know how to discern evil results or have chosen not to care. His fruit is corrupt and gives him away to real Christians. The kingdom of God is not within him. God and Jesus do not dwell within him. He is not that spirit incarnate. He will not lead people in remembrance of the real Jesus. He will twist the message of Jesus into greed, violence, and depravity.

Even Paul, upon whom so many stake the doctrine of faith alone (without works), says, "according to their works." You see how people are tricked. You see how people twist faith into lessening the call to do the works called for by Jesus.
Satan is no angel of light on the inside, and one may always know him by his fruit and temptations to do evil that is to lust in selfishness.

Deny yourself said Jesus. "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." (Matthew 16:24). Satan will never do that. Satan's devils will never do that. They will not deny themselves, teach what Jesus taught, and strive to manifest the deeds Jesus called for from his followers.

Soul searching

Our hearts are reflected in our actions. It is time for self-examination: Soul searching, just as the Apostles did when Jesus said one of them was a devil.

And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I? (Matthew 26:22).

Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the LORD. (Lamentations 3:40).

Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother. (Mark 10:19).

Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression; the same is the

But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition. (Matthew 15:5-6).

The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. (Mark 12:29-31).

A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another. (John 13:34-35).

Where is the love in not sharing and giving freely? God gives and shares freely—from each according to each one’s abilities and to each according to each one’s needs. Jesus had the ability through God, and the five thousand were completely satisfied without any toiling because they had no doubt. As mentioned earlier, this is New Testament teaching. (See: Bibliography: Acts 2:45). This means works also and not just possessions. It means the gift of special skills even for special needs.

Soul searching, continued

Each person must search his soul examining his ways as to whether they are in keeping with the testimony of Jesus. Do you act in greedy, violent, or depraved ways? Are you an adulterer? Are you married and engage in sexual activities with other than your spouse, or if you are not married, do you engage in sex with anyone who is married? Are you a fornicator? Do you have sexual relations out of Holy wedlock? Are you a killer? Does your country kill? Are you a thief? Do you take things that do not belong to you? Does your country take things that do not belong to it? Do you or your country covet? Do you or your country desire what others have: Envy them? Do you or your country, or anyone acting in the name of your nation, do things that are appalling, savage, or cause harm or destruction or are immoral, perverse, brutal, or inhumane? Do you or your country practice deception? Do you or those who represent you mislead? Do you have an inordinate interest in sex? Are you sexually addicted or sexually confused? Do you or your country wish evil on others? Do you blaspheme God? Do you refer to God irreverently or disrespectfully? Are you or your country prideful? Do you or your country lack the sense, perception, understanding, and sound judgment to grasp the truth sent through the Holy Spirit? Do you dishonor your parents? Do you curse, judge, condemn, or defraud your parents? Do you expose their sins to the world or not forgive them? Do you hold a grudge against them? Are you a discredit to them? Do you sully their names? Do you fail to help your parents when they need help while claiming that everything you have is going to God or elsewhere? Do you call it a gift when you help your parents? Do you or your country accumulate wealth and possessions you or it consider precious or valuable in the face of starvation anywhere in the world? Do you or your country fail to love the one God with your all, your neighbors as yourself or selves, your enemies, and your spiritual kin as Jesus loved his neighbors, disciples, and friends? Do you do to others what you do not want done to you? Do you want evil done to you? Do you want not to be corrected?

Do you do any of those, or other evils, in your heart, in your fantasies, in your imagination?

That is not an exhaustive inventory where the Christian is concerned, because Jesus taught more than what I’ve just mentioned. Nevertheless, it all boils down to being unselfish. That is what the first and great commandment and the second like it mean. If you have not been living that, you have been living in a state of apostasy. If you have been taught to be selfish, you have been led astray.

Honoring parents

Concerning honoring parents, there are so many people who have had difficult or strained relations with parents. Some people have had terrors as flesh parents. Those parents were, or are, highly damaged.

The Christian way to approach flesh parents is in the knowledge that they too have been subjected to all sorts of temptations in life. They have caved in to some degree, just as you have and just as we all have. If you are trying to understand why things are wrong in this world and you approach your parents, or your memory of them if they are no longer living in the flesh, it is proper to approach your parents from the standpoint of wishing to learn with them the lessons of the past to use those lessons in correcting relationships now and in the future. If you are sincere and are, therefore, prepared to undergo mutual repentance and forgiveness through God, your parents are obligated to meet you in that spirit. If you explain yourself from the heart and not in a spirit of bitterness, vengeance, judgment, or condemnation but rather universal repentance and are met with hostility or bitterness or indifference, there is nothing that you can do other than to remain open and not hostile or bitter in response. Get into and stay in the spirit of truth for the sake of righteousness, enlightenment, and growth in the spirit and not to hold up to ridicule or shame. There is always shame though in the contrite heart. More to the point, stay in the spirit of correcting the root cause of all errors that is selfishness. Even still, you are to forgive your parents for not knowing what they did, or may still be doing, just as Jesus forgave those who crucified him and just as you want to be forgiven.
That is part of the lesson of the passion of Jesus, the demonstration of the kind and degree of love it takes to ransom sinners from evil. He paid a price we must all be willing to pay for the salvation of as many as possible. Magnify the light by bearing your cross.

It is not suppose to be painful to be a parent

You may have heard the saying that it is not suppose to be painful to be a child. It means that it is not suppose to be painful to be nurtured. Well, it is not suppose to be painful to be a parent either. It works two ways. If a parent is trying to nurture a child without inflicting pain on the child but the child is responding by giving pain to the parent, it is not the parent's fault. That's Biblical, and even though it is Old Testament, it applies in the New Testament very significantly.

> The soul that sinneth, it shall die.
> The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezekiel 18:20).

This is why Jesus separates flesh-and-blood families. This is why the Son of man returns to separate the sheep from the goats even in the same immediate flesh-and-blood households.
Abusive situations

As for staying in an abusive situation or leaving others in that situation, you are not under obligation to do that. It is situational. There is a time and place to stand and take it from the apostate. The softhearted will see and understand. That's what Jesus did. The Holy Spirit is one's guide in these matters.

It would be wrong to resort to violence, but it is right to get out and to get others out if the perpetrator will not turn. The perpetrator has an obligation to change or else. Getting out is not failing to resist evil. The perpetrator needs to stop. He or she needs to understand.

Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. (Matthew 5:25).

In the perpetrator's mind, even if only on the subconscious level, the perpetrator put the victim into the role of adversary in the sense of the verse above. It is not necessarily the victim's direct fault. That is not meant to say that that victim has never sinned. It just means that the victim may not have done anything directly to the perpetrator or done any sin necessarily of which the perpetrator is aware. Regardless, the perpetrator has no right to victimize anyone.
Abuse versus rebuke

Understand that abuse is not the same thing as undergoing righteous rebuking. Where anyone is rebuked without violence and for cause, he or she has an obligation to straighten up rather than run away or claim abuse. If you are wrong and being told so and are not being subjected to physical or sexual abuse, it is not emotional abuse unless you have repented and are being severely browbeaten. There is a line you have to discern.

Whose failure precipitated the problem? Who was the instigator? Who goaded? Who antagonized? Who gloats concerning the abuse? In whose heart is the peace? Is the rebuke appropriate and proportionate to the offense, the frequency of the offense, and the offender?

Would claiming abuse just be a means to escape righteous behavior?

Also, is it abusive to live with someone who is in constant need of rebuking or who is constantly claiming abuse when it is righteous rebuking? Yes.

What are a parent’s obligations to a child who is abusive in this or other ways? It is situational. It depends. Where is the line between the child who will turn and the one who will not? The truth is that children, regardless of age, either respond to the truth of the real Gospel or they don't. The ones who do are the lambs whose deeds will measure up. The ones who don't are the goat kids whose deeds will not measure up.

If you have turned and stay that way and they don't ever, they won't be in heaven with you and there is nothing you can do about it. It won't be your fault provided you told them the real truth and showed them how to do deeds worthy of repentance.

Parents' emulation of Christ is not sufficient for turning some children. There were children who hated Jesus just as their parents did. There were children who hated Jesus even though their parents loved Jesus and did their best to be Christlike. It is still that way today.

To the willful child

If you as a child have been exceedingly willful concerning your otherwise patient and righteously motivated parent or parents that you know you have been responsible occasionally, or often, for pushing, or attempting to push, beyond limits of patience, you owe apologies and are obligated to change, atone (make amends), and not backslide. Turn to God.

If you have experienced malicious pleasure or feelings of self-satisfaction about pushing your parents to wrath, you will remain in danger of damnation if you do not get your conscience working fulltime. Such feelings are sadistic and sick. No one should want to lower his or her parent or parents. It is an evil motivation. You have been listening to the dark voice or voices within. Turn to God to have them removed never to return. See the light.

Obtaining assistance

As for obtaining assistance in getting out of abusive situations, it is not retaliatory, per se, to seek help so that anyone being physically, sexually, or emotionally abused may be removed immediately and safely from real danger of continued harm and so that the perpetrator(s) may obtain the spiritual/mental help desperately needed.

If you have asked the perpetrator to stop in the name of God and Jesus, if you have taken witnesses with you when you have confronted the perpetrator in the name of God and Jesus, if you have taken your situation to the whole group of people who know the perpetrator and in the presents of the perpetrator again asked the perpetrator to stop in the name of God and Jesus and still the perpetrator will not heed, the perpetrator is as a heathen (an unbeliever) and a publican (a tax collector). You will have to resign yourself to that and leave things up to God. You will have done what you can that is proper for the proper separation of goats and sheep (selfish from unselfish). Let the Holy Spirit guide you. In any case, advocate nonviolence. Do not seek vengeance or punishment but only help for all, including the perpetrator whose soul is sick. Pray in secret for those who hate you.

And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force. (Matthew 11:12).

Criminals having free rein would be hell on earth just as there is hellishness on earth now on account of those who violate the divine law; however, we are challenged by Jesus not to be violently, coercively, or punitively reactive but to let the whole thing be sorted out after the span of our entire lifetimes on earth in the flesh before the second resurrection that of the damned. Again, if you have not been living that, you have been living in a state of apostasy. If you have been taught to be selfish, you have been led astray.

Beating a dead horse: Continuing to offer the peace or pearls to swine

Jesus taught, and either a person grasped and adhered or did not. Jesus offered the peace. People either shared it or they doomed themselves. We are obligated to spread the word, but how long do we have to attempt to work on the unreceptive? When does it become an exercise in ego or a contest of wills or beating a dead horse to continue offering the peace or pearls to swine? The Holy Spirit must be one's guide in this. It certainly can be counterproductive not to move on from those who are forever backsliding or bound and determined to be stiff-necked.

We need law and order, but it must be divine law and divine order. We must teach our children the difference and live accordingly even while the situation becomes worse before it gets better and then perfect.

Remove all violence

We must remove all violence from our children's nurturing environment. We must censor ourselves so that they may grow up without being inundated with the constant message of violence and other lusts that they receive from the general culture now.

Censorship
Contrary to those who gasp at the notion of censorship, there is nothing sacred about something just because it has been written or produced. Of course, it would be a bad thing to have a bonfire to burn all The Bibles for instance. However, things that are the fruit of an iniquitous environment are the opposite of sacred. It is not a crime to get rid of them. This runs contrary to the opinion of those who say that getting rid of anything opens the door to getting rid of everything. They question whose judgment will make the decision as to where to draw the line. The answer is that the Holy Spirit gives that discernment constantly. One may get rid of what one owns. He or she may remove it as temptation. It is not violence to others to do this. It is not resisting evil. It is not failing to turn the other cheek. It is not fear of persecution. It means though that one may not destroy the property of others over which one does not have divinely legitimate control.

Violent games
Children do not need violent games. They do not need hyper-competitive, violence-based so-called sports. Children do not need exposure to the depraved view of human sexuality. They do not need to be stimulated to want to become materialists. Children do not need all the fantasies of darkness. They don’t need what they will repeat that will defile them. "That which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man."
(Matthew 15:11) So when children repeat what they have heard in their apostate games and the mainstream media, they are defiled. They don't need what they will magnify and spread as a contagion to others. They need exactly the opposite. They need peaceful, cooperative examples. They need the message of peace, love, giving, and sharing.

Culture: Decadent conditioning

All the people have needed exactly the opposite of the recent doubling of sex scenes on television. According to a study by the Kaiser Family Foundation, sex scenes on TV almost doubled from 1998 to 2005. We have gone from the 1950's when saying "sex," "damn," and "hell" were not heard on TV to the shows teenagers are watching depicting intercourse and oral sex. The impetus is to stimulate selfishness. It is an evil motive on the part of the purveyors. It is a message to decrease the viewers' ability to control appetites. In those who have not overcome, it stimulates exactly what has led to all the deprivation in the world. It is the devouring spirit that leads to nothing good.

This doesn't mean that everything was perfect in the 1950's, far from it. It is true though that within that portion of society that was attempting to keep depravity out of their houses, they are now confronted with the major shift in the message the general population is being fed. It is leading the people astray. Things that were inconceivable to the mainstream population in terms of what is considered mentally healthy have been slowly more tolerated (gone unchallenged; not spoken out against) and acquiesced to until US society has dramatically swung in the direction of utter decadence.

The way things were handled in the 1950's was by sweeping many things under the rug. There should have been a place where sex was discussed in terms of self-control and denying oneself. The words "damn," and "hell," of course, were frowned upon when used in a way to diminish their Biblical significance. Used as swearwords, the real meaning of warning was pejorated. Unfortunately, the message of unselfishness was drowned out by the message of capitalism.

It is no wonder that the US has swung to greater generalized decadence than at any time in its history. The lowest common denominator is all pervasive. During earlier times, people could just avoid running in decadent circles. Now, the message of decadence is all but impossible to avoid without being completely shut off from the general public.

Depravity in sheep's clothing

Depravity sneaked in under other banners. It sneaked in under the banner of human rights and civil rights. However, we are less free of all the problems caused by such depravity. Teenagers and others are not being educated to discern the subtle nature of how unwholesomeness slips in on the coattails of laudable sentiments. It is the slippery slope into the bottomless pit of utter darkness.
Parents are undercut by society

The greedy executives and shareholders of the companies that churn out depravity excuse themselves by saying that parents can simply turn it off. Well, parents cannot simply turn it off without strife entering their homes. Children rebel. A parent cannot simply turn off for his or her child the temptations of a whole culture. The greedy lead the children into temptation against which parents must struggle constantly. They battle against the sinful nature of the greedy. The executives, shareholders, and those who work for them producing temptation are directly responsible for the difficulty parents have in trying to protect their children's minds from the unwholesomeness of the society of greed. The hearts of these people are hard. Their greed leads them to produce that which is harmful to others. They don't work for God. Anyone not working for God is working for God's opposite.

Even the military undertakes studies and perfects methods of convincing children to disobey the Christian message of their parents. Christian parents teach pacifism. The military designs its message to get around the parents' message to subvert the children. The military is the satanic spirit.

Of course, this applies to radio, the Internet, magazines, movies, music, music videos, billboards, window dressing, and every other medium of communication capable of sending tempting messages to lead others astray for the messenger's selfish gain, including just talking to people to offer up temptation with defiling words.
Dungeons & Dragons

All the people have needed exactly the opposite of Dungeons & Dragons that was originally based upon war games and still has the overtones. Even as these types of games are not as strictly war-game oriented as they once were, they are still very much rooted in violence. Everything comes back around to fighting, killing, destruction, and dark powers used to control and gain selfish advantage. It has a conditioning effect, as do all games. That conditioning effect is the opposite of the message of love, truth, and peace of godliness. It is full of false powers, because they are not attributable to God. It is misleading and misdirecting for the soul. Impressionable children and apostate older persons become easily confused about whether the powers truly exist or not. In many such games and fantasies, the powers are actually attributed to demons and held out to be positive.

Grand Theft Auto

Violent video games

They also don't need "Grand Theft Auto" either. It is a video game where the player takes on the role of a criminal in a decadent, urban, criminal underworld. This and other such games are heading ever more so toward 3-dimensional virtual-reality technology. If the trend continues, it will not be long before players will be hard pressed to distinguish games from non-game reality. Many already more than blur the line spiritually in their minds. The fantasy takes on reality. This observation is loaded with semantics since fantasy is both within and without reality depending.

The player in this insane best-selling video game progresses in the game by completing illegal activities. This game is a step down from the already misleading violent so-called hero video games. Not only does it teach that violence is the solution, but it teaches that heaping additional evil upon the world for selfish reasons is acceptable and even desirable. Obviously in this game, unselfish behavior (peace, love, and truth) are the antithesis of what is being propounded. This game reinforces caving into the tempting stimulation of stealing, killing, pimping, and many other literally insane, sick activities.

If you are a violent video game player, how many people have you killed in your fantasies, in your heart, while playing such games?

If you are a violent video game producer or work within that industry, how many people have you helped to kill in their hearts? How many have you help to tempt who then fell to attacking, maiming, and even murdering people in the flesh because inhibitions against violence were overwitten by the repetitious violence of your games? How much blood money have you earned?

With any video or other games, how much have you reinforced your brain circuits of selfishness playing them? How much have you reinforced the wrong method for interacting with others? How much have you aided in creating in yourself knee-jerk, inappropriate, escalating, negative reactions?

Now, at least one version of the game's ("Grand Theft Auto") computer disk has been shown to contain explicit sexual pornographic content. That content was accessible by downloading on the Internet readily available, free unlocking computer-code written by a gaming enthusiast. This game is a pied piper leading children and others miserably astray. It is a terrible influence for evil. There is no doubt about it. The makers and purveyors of this game and many others need to look in the mirror to find their consciences. They are called to denounce what they have been doing and turn forever from leading children and others into temptation. Their lives and the lives of others will be hell otherwise.

The discovery of hidden pornography on disks sold to children is revealing as the Abu Ghraib of depraved games. It shows the putrefaction at the core of the mentality of those producing the violent games just as Abu Ghraib exposed to the world the putrefaction at the core of the mentality of those building the Empire at any expense. They come from the same emotion: Lust for the unrighteous.

This is only one of many, many games that contain conditioning messages that undermine the message of Jesus Christ.
"Eternal Forces" reconstructionist/dominionist video game

Now there's the game "Eternal Forces" produced by Left Behind Games, named after the falsehood bound up in the Left Behind Series of reconstructionists/dominionists novels by Tim LaHaye and Jerry Jenkins. This is an extremely violent video game put out by reconstructionists/dominionists. This game teaches little children, teens, and others to kill anyone who doesn't profess the reconstructionist line for an Old Testament theocracy. They started marketing this antichrist insanity through mega-churches in the US and elsewhere. This is a direct attempt to desensitize people paying lip service as Christians. This is also the crassest kind of capitalism. It is sheer temptation concerning which everyone is warned not to partake. It is training in fascism just as with military sponsored video games. These false Christians literally call the violence and weapons in the movie "cool" and "fun." This is the same old den of thieves in the temple of God. This is the same old huckster-turned-preacher scenario. This is church as mammon profit-center. It's fake. It's a phony. It's being pushed by the same people who emphasize feel-good motivational speaking as sermons. If getting families to role play as so-called Christian militants isn't bad enough, the game is designed to make extra profits from anti-Christians by allowing players to reverse roles to play as demons drinking the blood of Christians.
The games’ producers are very spiritually ill.\textsuperscript{126} These games teach the opposite of the new commandment. They destroy souls. These games are played incessantly by many impressionable children. They cannot help but distort the minds of those children and the older ones who play them.

Mark my words, society will reap what it is sowing via these games and all the rest of the warped message of selfishness in general. It is prophecy.

The time to repent is now. The time is at hand to turn away from all of the twisted messages.

\textbf{Conditions, desensitizes}

It is all role playing. It is just as anyone fantasizing about anything, just as Jesus warned against fantasizing about adultery. They do it in their hearts and are rewarded with the stimulation of temptation and caving in, which conditions, desensitizes, even numbs, and definitely facilitates war and other deprivations. Even those who fancy themselves antiwar who also partake of violent games are deluding themselves. They are practicing caving in. They will be tested in the ultimate test and will fail if they do not turn from the culture of violence to the culture of peace where no such games exist. There are no such games in heaven. The minds that dwell within these fantasies do not comprehend how they are making the world conducive to violence, greed, and decadence.

We have seen parents seriously neglect their children, their own health, their households, and other responsibilities while they play video games all day long. It's called video-game addiction. They become controlled by the spirit of it.

They become obsessed with these games. They become great defenders of their addiction too. They ignore the obvious connections. They are even ignoring mundane scientific research demonstrating this Christian truth.128

These games consume huge quantities of the time, energy, and resources of the millions obsessively living within twisted realms. It is escapism into unrighteousness. They are far from the kingdom. They are close to the principality of hell.

What is more, most of these games are for profit. The greed of their creators spurred on 128 For example, Bruce Bartholow at the University of Missouri-Columbia, Brad Bushman at the University of Michigan, and Marc Sestir at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill have conducted studies demonstrating the direct connection between violent media (including games) and the resulting violent inclination and behavior of those who partake.

the now industry. For the sake of mammon, people have been leading and been led astray. All of this has made war more generally acceptable to the younger generation than it had been for the previous anti-Vietnam War generation. At the very least, they retreat into these games rather then being out front in keeping the world from cascading into war.

When the invasion of Baghdad was on, there were soldiers saying openly that the actual war seemed to them as a video game. How cheap were the lives of the computer simulated characters in those video games? How much easier did killing all those characters make it for those soldiers to turn to killing real people?

Now, the federal courts in the US have consistently overturned every state’s attempt to outlaw selling and renting violent videos to minors. We all know that violent messages stimulate violence. It has always been known. It is in the message of Jesus that what we fantasize about, what is in our hearts, makes it that much easier to fall to the temptation to carry out those fantasies in the flesh. However, the courts are not deciding that way. They don't know the truth when they hear it.

At any rate, Christians are not about using coercion and all mundane courts are coercive in the end.

Mundane courts

The courts fall back upon the power of the police physically and violently if they feel to enforce the court’s decisions. Real Christians are not about such enforcement. Also, the mundane courts are about competition. Their system is the adversarial system. They pit people against one another. The judges are not particularly probative or exploratory. They do not ask sufficient or proper questions to get to the heart of matters. They afford themselves the right to jump to conclusions based upon insufficient information. Their system is really still one of trial by combat. They still do not understand the following:

And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? And he answered him to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

(Matthew 27:12-14).

You see, Pontius Pilate couldn't understand why Jesus didn't defend himself. That same mentality is deeply engrained in the mundane court system of today. The whole system tempts one to fall into recriminations (countercharges). It is an awful system. It is not conducive to developing softheartedness and cooperation. It rather engenders a malicious, petty spirit. It seeks winners and losers.

In actuality, their winners are losers and many of their losers remain losers. Jesus won his trial without defending himself. It is profound. There is nothing superficial in it. He did not justify himself, therefore he was justified. He lost in the eyes of the dark, mundane world, but he is alive and next to God right now.
Christians are about speaking the truth of peace and letting that truth and their actions consistent with those true words have their consequences for righteousness’ sake. We must do our best to exhaust other options than the mundane system. This is definitely a judgment call. Which direction is the straight and narrow? Which action fits the entirety of the message of Jesus Christ? What does the Holy Spirit tell one to do? We must be awake or we will be sucked into temptation. "Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." (Matthew 26:41).

Jesus was not of the mundane world, but he went into the center of it to deliver the word. We cannot completely disengage from the mundane world else we will never be a light. We must also be willing to self-sacrifice for the word of God that is to love one another as Jesus loved his friends, which can include simply walking away a loser in the eyes of this blind world.

They will say and write terrible distortions about you just as they did, and do, concerning Jesus.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you. (Matthew 5:12).

It is not to be a source of pride or boasting, but it is a badge of honor (real honor). It glorifies God our Father.

It is all a balancing act of sorts. The more upright we are though, the less imbalanced we will be. The best fruit is the straightest. Be sure you mix metaphors to understand the word.
The truth is that the only way to really shut down the depraved segment of the gaming industry is not through coercive legislation or court action. It is rather to give them the word of God to move their hearts to soften for the sake of all. It is also to cut off the mammon flowing to them that is their false and misleading reward killing their souls. The only way to stop that conditioning in falsehood is for parents and adults to not spend any money for such games. Channel that money rather into helping the real Church help the poor and needy in the most sustainable way.
Parents must monitor the games their children are buying and playing. They must monitor the games the children are being given and are sharing and are even playing online. Parents and adults must purge their homes of violence. They must do it intelligently to avoid provoking wrath in addicted children. They must saturate their homes with the message of peace and love to displace all the violent message of the greedy industries of violence. They must practice what they preach. They must live the golden rule for the sake of the children and everyone really. The culture of violence, greed, and depravity must be displaced making no room for those sentiments in the hearts, minds, and souls of all the people. It is the only way. The mundane law will never be up to the task. Only the divine law written upon everyone's heart will ever set things right.
Where is the student movement?

Where are most of the students today? Where were the students when the people knew they had to end the Vietnam War? Most now are beyond indifferent or apathetic. They have gone over to the other side. They have been raised by generations that did not hold to peace. They have been listening to the same old, tired voices spewing war. They have been listening to the hawks of old (children of the hawks are raising hawks). The same worn out rationales that were used in favor of the Vietnam War are being trotted out over Iraq.

Lies to go to Iraq

Iraq was supposed to be supporting terrorists. It was supposed to have nuclear, chemical, and biological programs up and running. It was supposed to have vast stockpiles of weapons materials. It was supposed to have been involved in the 9-11 attacks. Those were lies, so now the war and occupation is supposed to be about democracy in Iraq.

Constitution of Iraq

However, the proposed Constitution of Iraq up for a public vote October 15, 2005, is loaded with irreconcilable terminology. It is a hodgepodge.

129 Fraud has been alleged concerning the October 15, 2005 referendum. Ballot boxes may have been stuffed by those favoring the proposed constitution. The claim is that in some areas there were more ballots in boxes than there were eligible voters. There were additional fraudulent activities alleged.
of neoliberalism and Islamic theocratic language. The courts of Iraq will never be able to sort out sharia law from the conservative American legal structure in that proposed constitution.

Oil

Why did the US go to war in Iraq? Oil! It did not go for democracy. The proposed constitution has been designed by the US to attempt to assure US-oil corporations and others rights in Iraq. The constitution is designed to guarantee the international privatization of services in Iraq.

This is the same struggle the Bolivian people are under. Remember the Cochabamba protests of 2000 concerning Bechtel and water privatization.

How do we know that the US has forced covetous measures on what the US falsely calls the new democracy of Iraq? We know it, because the June 2005 draft of the Constitution of Iraq that the Iraqis came up with was nearly a socialist document. It was leaning very much in the direction of sharing the God-given inheritance of all at least amongst the Iraqis.

It was very much the same mentality demonstrated under Hugo Chavez Frias and the relatively social-democratic constitution of Venezuela that US conservatives so despise. Sharing the inheritance of all is, of course, anathema to the covetous and grasping capitalists and especially the neocons.
The more real-liberal leaning June draft was summarily rejected by the US occupiers under neoconservative Zalmay Khalilzad, a member of the megalomaniac Project for the New American Century, former US ambassador to Afghanistan, and current US ambassador to Iraq. It was rejected even though George W. Bush stated repeatedly that the oil of Iraq belongs to the Iraqi people. Bush lied, as usual. The June draft would have made that sentiment, that the oil of Iraq belongs to the Iraqi people, the law of Iraq.

Profits from the oil under Iraq would have been used for the general revenue of Iraq to pay for services for all Iraqis free of charge. They worded their draft in a way that made clear that they intended to use their oil in much the way Norway uses its oil. For all intents and purposes, the Iraqis planned for their oil resources to remain nationalized. That's what the US conservatives hated the most about that June draft. That's what they went to Iraq to end. They murdered tens of thousands to get their greedy hands on the oil under Iraq. So far, they are unrepentant murderers.

The neocons want the Iraqis to share but only with US oil corporations and other corporations also favored by the Bush-43 administration. Those corporations are headed up by ultra-rich conservative executives back by ultra-rich conservative shareholders. They are all eagerly rubbing their hands together at the prospect of furthering huge gains in their personal, private, special advantages and privileges. Those self-authorized privileges result directly from the abomination that is their new, perpetual, laissez-faire, capitalist, global, anti-democratic, antichristian, revolutionary war.

No such thing as a liberal-democratic capitalist

Be assured that there is no such thing as a so-called liberal-democratic capitalist. Don't fall for that oxymoron. Capitalism cannot stand under real democracy or freedom. It only stands where the system is wickedly rigged in its favor. That's what's going on in Iraq and elsewhere in the world. The capitalists are violently rigging the system in their favor under the guise of democracy and freedom. They are twisting the meanings of the terms "democracy" and "freedom" to gain greater control, power, and personal (unshared) wealth at the direct expense of others and the health of the overall planet.

Oh, they may disagree internally (the conservative business people versus the neoconservative political types), but still do not be deceived. The politicos are pushing capitalism under a cover that the business types have not yet seen for what it truly is. The business people really still think that the neocons are putting so-called liberal democracy idealistically over the power of money. It isn't so. At heart, those neocons worship mammon and all the Empire it will buy them. It may slip into the realm of subconscious activity as they nearly robotically pursue their self-styled heaven on earth, but worldly Empire is still what they lust after.

Therefore, the US as occupiers, contrary to public assertions, coerced and marginalized Iraqis until nearly all the social-democratic provisions were stripped from the draft constitution and neoconservative, neoliberal provisions that even far exceed those of the US proper were added by Paul Bremer, former managing director at Kissinger and Associates and chairman and CEO of Marsh Crisis Consulting with office at the World Trade Center Twin Towers. The replacement document enshrines (albeit ambiguously) laissez-faire capitalism as the highest law of the land of Iraq. This is exactly the same thing that we covered concerning the Hutterites and anti-communist property laws that the greedy corporations (publicly traded or not) are pushing hard on a global basis.

There are no moral ends for the false conservatives or false liberals. Coercion is not idealism. The conservative direction of today is to beat and torture everyone into a predefined, inflexible, US-conservative-brand so-called democracy. It is so-called, because real democracy starts only with unanimous consensus. There is no self-determination, joining the spirit freely, with the new conservative ideology.

Twisting liberty and freedom

George W. Bush says all people universally want liberty and freedom; however, he fights against liberty and freedom. He fights against all the movements in the world toward real fundamental fairness. He claims that because he fought against a repressive regime such as Saddam Hussein's that, therefore, he, George W. Bush, is defined as a proponent of liberty and freedom and democracy; however, the powers that Bush established in Iraq to replace Saddam Hussein are not allowed to put into place fundamentally fair anything. The people were allowed to vote, but they were not allowed to vote on the details of the constitution that Bush claims is now legitimate under democracy, which it is not. The individual provisions of the constitution did not come up from the people. They were forced upon those people without debate and for the benefit of the forces of global capitalism.

Constitution of Iraq, continued

You must come to recognize the insidiousness of the plan. The conservatives would not allow the Iraqis to retain oil profits to be used across the board in Iraq. They insisted that the Iraqi constitution be written to guarantee US oil corporations great profits off Iraqi oil. The constitution drafted under implicit threats leans toward privatizing every last service to the people. Healthcare was to be nationalized. Now it is opened up to insurance privatization, meaning of course that the rich will have great care while the poorest of the poor may have little to none. Water may be privatized. Employment was to be guaranteed. Now work is a right, but the state is not required to employ people when the private sector does not. The conservatives are hoping that employment under Iraqi law will be subject to the lie that is the so-called modern notion of necessary and systemic unemployment. Also now, conservative states' rights have been put into place to allow the US to better manipulate weaker local authorities throughout Iraq. The new draft also weakens the spirit of welfare subsidies for food and other necessities for the poor. It puts in their place the absolutely unchristian idea that aid will be given only if affordable for the government. Now how could a country with huge oil reserves not be able to afford to feed its people? When huge profits from that oil are going to the American Empire is how.

If US oil companies are expatriating oil profits and the government is modeled on greedy capitalism, then it may claim that it can't afford to eliminate poverty or can't afford egalitarianism just as the government of the US claims in America, the wealthiest nation on earth at the time of this writing. Who will decide when the government of Iraq (the Iraqi people collectively) can or cannot afford to provide for every one of its citizens? The antichrist Bretton Woods organizations such as the World Bank, International Monetary Fund, and others are the mouthpieces for the capitalists who set that standard.

Orders of Paul Bremer

The orders of Paul Bremer who headed the Coalition Provisional Authority changed a number of Iraqi laws. He decreed via Order 37 and Order 49 that the top tax rate be changed from forty-five percent (45%) to fifteen percent (15%). Via Order 54, he abolished all import duties with the exception of a five percent (5%) reconstruction levy. Via Order 39, he decreed that one hundred percent (100%) of Iraqi companies may be foreign owned except in oil, gas, and banking.
He ordered many other things that are anathemas. Order 81 made it illegal for Iraqi farmers to save seed (heirloom seeds) to replant. Think about the utter evil behind that law. He was playing directly to those who want to end the ability of the people of the world to grow their own food without having to buy seed every year from monsters in the United States.

Of course, the invasion was illegal (based upon contrived pretexts) so Bremer's orders were and are illegal and do not have to be followed.

If these decrees are left in place by the Iraqi government, in conjunction with US presidential orders, it will constitute stealing Iraq's entire economy and much of its oil industry. It will allow for one hundred percent privatization under foreign-owned corporations of everything in Iraq except crude oil and gas.

The only ownership Iraqis would have would be through stocks in foreign corporations.

Democracy is only false democracy when the economy is openly closed to all but those who will go along with private, special advantage and privilege. All profits from the privatized corporations may be expatriated at the sole discretion of the corporations.

It turns out that the changes were illegal under international law, which requires occupying powers to respect existing laws in the occupied country "unless absolutely prevented."

Also, with all the instability, the US has had to underwrite all the investments that any corporation makes in privatized infrastructure, etc.
Apparently, there was full employment under Hussein. Now there is widespread unemployment.

Sharia cannot be separate from state under Islam

How will the Iraqis ever reconcile sharia (the antichrist Qur'anic law of Mohammed) with federal and republican democracy; freedom of religion; equal political rights for women ("to participate in public matters and enjoy political rights, including the right to vote and run as candidates"); and laissez-faire capitalism? It won't.

It can't be done, ever. The Constitution of Iraq is a ridiculous, shortsighted, selfish effort forced upon Iraq by the US neocons.

Furthermore, the revised draft was not even disseminated to the voters until just a few days before the vote of October 15, 2005. Many voters in Iraq were never able to see a copy of the document before the vote. The people were not allowed to read what it was they were voting upon. How democratic and free is that under the mundane law? It isn't either democratic or free. It's the act of untrustworthy minds up to no good.

Children of the hawks

The children of the hawks, the new, young hawks, have joined the military. They tout greed. Most are materialists. They are the status quo, consummate conformists to the Babylonian spirit. Their members proselytize for violence and depravity. Some even echo "give war a chance" as if war hasn't been dominant since time immemorial. It is peace that brings heaven. War brings hell. Such people work for the devil. They play the devil's games.

They have all been highly distracted from the message of love, truth, and peace, which is hardly heard coming from the mouths of the children today. It is a foreign language to them. They don't hear it from the older people. It is foreign to their ears. The words and their power have been deliberately suppressed by the greedy and violent and lusting for the sake of mammon and worldly power and control over the minds of mesmerized and conditioned children and millions of ostensible adults. It is all extremely antichrist. Anyone who claims otherwise is in denial at best and many are plain liars.

Evil games to seduce the children

Look what capitalism has wrought. Rather than teaching and exemplifying the message of truth about God, their games capture their players into dwelling upon wizards, sorcerers, elves, warriors, thieves, vampires, spells, and pagan gods, etc. Recently, these games have brought back demons and devils into their mix. They claim cover by voluntarily adhering to labeling schemes concerning some games as being themes for mature audiences only or some other rating.

Mature audiences only

There is though nothing mature about such themes. Maturity is not partaking of lust-inciting so-called themes. Maturity is not imagined immunity against such things as one deliberately immerses oneself in them. Maturity is self-censorship for the sake of righteousness, unselfishness, and denying oneself (denying lust, greed, violence, and sexual depravity). Nothing good comes from such games, despite the apologists who claim such games stimulate the imagination and creativity. Creating what? Imagining what? It is magnifying darkness.

What of stories with a mix of the elements above along with ostensible morals? Well, again, if credit is not to God, the story is false. It is misleading. Ultimately, the so-called moral lessons within such stories are grounded in immorality that is denying the relationship of creatures with the one and only, living, conscious creator of all. Unless a story leads to God, it leads to damnation. God and only God is salvation. All not saved are damned. Souls who by other labels come to God are then known as Christians and not also by earlier religions or ideological labels that run contrary to the message of Jesus. They drop their ideas that are incompatible with the ideas of Jesus. Christianity isn't to be changed by their ideas.

There are not devils or witches in Christ for instance. Every story is only as good as it leads to God who is righteousness.

Violent video games, continued

Violence is evil. Violent games are evil. Fantasizing in violence is darkness. It is the opposite of repentance and having a single eye upon the love of God and one's fellow human beings. Violent games bow down to Satan. They promote the love of falsehood. They are a snare.
The adherents of these games fall back upon the falsehood that they have no difficulty differentiating between reality and the games they are playing. What is the reality as to why they play them? Why do they immerse themselves in the messages of these games that are diametrically opposed to the messages of peace, love, and truth of God and Jesus? Where are their hearts if not in the messages of these games? They have allowed themselves to become addicted to them as evidenced by their obsessively playing them: Their neediness concerning them. They are not after all dwelling upon feeding the lambs and sheep while they are glued to such games that stimulate their lust for violence and other forms of iniquity. When they are called to choose and are unpracticed in denying themselves, they will have defined themselves as unworthy when measured against the sacrifice of Christ.

The children and adults all need the opposite. They need to be inundated with the message of peace and love and the love of truth. They need to be inundated with the message of consideration for others. They need to be inundated with the message of understanding how self-centeredness harms others. We must teach even manners and politeness within that understanding of consideration for others: Sympathy, empathy, compassion, and mercy. It is the divine law. It is the divine law that we not lead one another into temptation but rather out of temptation.
Censorship, continued

We do not owe it to the capitalists to continue consuming everything they pump out into the marketplace. We owe our children not to continue consuming such fruitless products, such counterproductive products. We do not have any obligation to stack our shelves with all the pornography produced just because we also believe that we cannot force people to stop being addicted to such depravity. Each person must start with him or herself and then with his or her home. If all the people do this, there will be no market for any of it and it will no longer be produced. Humanity will be free of it as it ought to be.

Remember, the capitalist message of consume, consume, consume leads people into apostasy. This truth is not often spoken in many churches. It is because the ministers do not wish to alienate capitalist contributors. Many ministers work to attract rich capitalists not to lead them out of a life of sin but rather to encourage capitalistic endeavors and to drink from that cup themselves.

Self-censorship: Deny yourself

Sinning includes everything that is selfish. Therefore, take care not to turn for coercive reasons when involving mundane authorities. Also, know that violent and depraved games and fantasizing is not conducive to peace and love but rather violence and depravity. Therefore, self-censorship is proper and required. It is one’s duty to deny oneself. It is not coercion to exercise self-censorship and control in purging one’s house. Free inquiry must be exercised within the confines of self-censorship over emotions, thoughts, words, and deeds or one will suffer the consequences of lust and pride. Do not be led astray into apostasy by those who advocate against these principles.

Christians believe God will rescue all who persevere. All would be right, and will be right, if, and when, everyone turns to the Holy Spirit that would obviate enforcement by doing away with all offenses: All crime. It is the only path to deliverance from evil.

Physical coercion: Not the path

It may condition people to fear engaging in criminal activity, but it leaves most willing to re-engage if and when they think they can get away with it, meaning not be caught by the mundane authorities. That leaves their minds in a position of being ready to facilitate evil rather than withstanding it or overcoming it. It leaves them more willing to fall into temptation and to cave into that evil. It leaves them less prepared to teach others why righteousness should be chosen for its own unselfish sake rather than just out of fear of punishment or for the sake of the end rewards of righteousness, even though those are true outcomes. It leaves them with less than the divine understanding of the first and great commandment and the second like it. It roots them in the mundane rather than leading them to focus solely upon God. Due to all this, it leaves the evil spirit in existence rather then sending it into the lake of fire never to return.
What we want instead is for all, without having been physically coerced, to do righteousness and only righteousness. That way, each will have freely chosen and will not need monitoring to keep them from going astray. They will monitor themselves by virtue of having developed a strong working conscience. We must place the emphasis upon that truth even as people continue to enforce mundane laws. We can tell the world that it ought to allow evil free rein to burn itself out, but the history of human reaction has been unbelief in the ultimate salvation of the soul even after this life in the flesh. Only those who know the truth of that salvation can understand not using violence against fellow humans even to save the flesh life. It is very difficult for people to grasp. They cannot bring themselves to understand how it could possibly be right not to take a life to save an innocent life. It all hinges upon one's spiritual convictions and the strength of those convictions. It all hinges upon one's trust in God and the pacifist message of Jesus. It all hinges upon one's grasping the revelation that transcends the mundane flesh. As stated above, we are challenged by Jesus not to be violently, coercively, or punitively reactive but to let the whole thing be sorted out after the span of our entire lifetimes on earth in the flesh.

Jesus did not resort to the false sword to save the flesh lives of the little children

Jesus was after all innocent and his followers were not to resist the evil that came to murder him. He made Peter put up his sword. Jesus chastised Peter for resorting to the sword. Jesus did not resort to the sword to save the souls of the little children others offended. He did though save them. That sword is what he came to defeat, and he did for those who are willing to see it.

We must remember that when the persecutors came to take away the early Christians, many of those early Christians did in accordance with what Jesus had taught. "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it." (Matthew 16:25). So they did not fight back.

They did not believe in the Roman gods. They did not believe that the Roman emperor was a god. They did not believe in the way of war, which was the way in which Rome had built its Empire. For these beliefs, seen by most Romans as treasonous, sacrilegious, and anti-social, many Christians were given over to hungry lions.

Others were thrown to the dogs. They were crucified, killed by gladiators, burned alive, turned into human torches to light the night and the gardens of the emperor, and generally treated as inhumanely as possible. Even still, they did not fight back. They did not kill those leading their children away to their deaths. That is because they believed that they were dying for the message of Jesus, and they were. It is part of the reason we have that message still today. Had they killed others, the message would not have been nearly as powerful. It would not have been magnified by them. We would not have them as examples of the highest order of courage and love, which was that of Jesus who also went to the cross for the sake of the message. They were killed and their children were killed, but they only died in the flesh and their souls live. That is because they overcame the evil temptation of this world to fall into the lust of self-preservation and the continuation of their flesh line through offspring. They saw that all evil is pure self-centeredness. It leads to all that is wrong with this world. Its opposite leads to all that is right. Therefore, with that righteous conviction, they did not fight back. They defeated evil. They defeated that same Empire, after all, that with equal barbarism had wiped out the unrepentant of Israel.

The real Christians defeated the Romans who had run out of trees in Israel upon which to crucify people, plundered the entire nation, and had even sliced open the living wombs of the pregnant just to fish for the swallowed coins of the exceedingly desperate, powerless, and forsaken. Yet, evil is still with us and will be until all has been fulfilled. This same spirit of evil lives on in Abu Ghraib prison tortures carried out by the latest incarnation of the Empire.

This is why where mundane physical enforcement and restraint is still carried out it ought to be accomplished with the least harm to the perpetrator. This is still though trying to bring heaven by force (enforcement and restraint) and not by free choice. The Christian, on the other hand, must come to being willing for the sake of righteousness to exemplify the path of peace to give up his or her life in the flesh. In doing so, he or she will not lose his or her soul.
Enforcement

Enforcement is a relative sin within the context of the absolute truth which has no sin. This is no paradox. It is what Jesus said about Pontius Pilate having done the lesser sin, because those Pharisees who turned Jesus over to Pontius Pilate had the greater sin. The Jews who had no part in turning Jesus over to the authorities shared in none of that direct sin. They were not allowed by Jesus to resist the authorities. That way, we are able to see now that the authorities must behave differently from how they behaved toward Jesus.

Jesus was not a perpetrator, and there was never even probable cause to have suspected him. Even if one is a perpetrator, the divine standard is to save that one's soul, not do to him what we do not want done to ourselves. This is the least of what you would hope from the authorities.

We are all supposed to be the authorities after all. That is the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. When will we all grasp this?

Rules of existence

Warnings of the real consequences of the rules of existence are not threats. It is not human coercion. It is not advocating external enforcement but rather internal enforcement. We advocate that all hearts turn to righteousness for its own sake and let those fruits be the reward.
Turning over the tables is not coercion

Protecting the innocent and saving the souls of the sinners

Calling the mundane authorities

If your heart was right whenever you resorted to the mundane authorities, you will have been motivated out of the sense of protecting the innocent and saving the souls of the sinners. Don't beat yourself up over the consequences of unclean spirits. Jesus didn't. However, Jesus didn't teach us the use of coercion unless one thinks cleansing the temple by turning over the tables of the money changers, etc., was an act of coercion. We liken it to the watchman's rousing warning rather than forcing belief. He only spoke to truth. He only acted that way also. When one learns to be a real Christian, one finally learns that it is truly better not to resist evil. It is better to overcome the temptation to call in the mundane authorities. Overcoming is not easy else many people would have found their way to the kingdom.

Do what you are given to do, but understand that it is perfect to call on no one but God. We do not want to mislead anyone here. Do not resist persecution you may suffer as a result of faith and good deeds to glorify God. Do as Jesus. Ask them why they persecute, but do not stop them. We are advocating no use of mundane coercion and the least use of outside intervention. It is always best for people to settle things amicably between and amongst themselves, as Jesus made clear. Of course, it is best that they not get into such disagreements to begin with. Disagreements that require settlements are always due to a prior lack of clear communication and willingness to see the truth.

Why can resorting to authorities be a failure to turn the other cheek? Just think of Jesus calling upon legions of angels to extricate him from the hands of the Roman soldiers. If you are in a similar position of being persecuted for Jesus's sake, extrication by your calling for the authorities would be as Jesus refusing to go to the cross. It depends upon the other people involved and other factors. If the use of authorities can be confined to teaching heathens about real, and not artificial, consequences of evil (selfish behavior) before huge damage is done and short of escalating violence, it is as a warning or sign to the receptive mind. In that case, it is more as Jesus cleansing the temple of the thieves selling animals for sacrifices. Be sure it is a truthful warning rather than punishment or vengeance. Be sure of your motives and intentions. Be sure of the condition of your heart regarding the wrongdoer.

The one being criminal and selfish and who is violating the first and great commandment and the second like it must turn not out of mundane fear but out of finding love and peace in unselfishness. If you are a Christian and you tell the sinner that you are a Christian and cannot fight back and the perpetrator ignores you and even kills you in secret, God will know what happened. Those who truly know you and love you will also know in their hearts. All will be manifest in the end. You will have died for your faith just as if the whole world had been watching. God is. Your conscience must guide you in your decisions. Go with what the Holy Spirit moves you to do.

This whole aspect of how to deal with perpetrators is absolutely central to the message of salvation. We have on the one hand, Jesus telling us to turn the other cheek and to not resist evil that is not to go along with it but not to use coercion or punishment or wrath or offense to attempt to instruct the offenders. On the other hand, we have all the human traditions literally begging us to use coercion, punishment, wrath, and offense to seemingly protect the innocent. If one does exactly what Jesus has instructed, then one allows others to run over the top of yet others. For many people, it is one thing to turn the other cheek and it is another thing to watch perpetrators hitting others or doing worse.

Mundane laws forcing parental rebellion against God’s way

Therefore, there are mundane laws that actually require one to resort to the authorities or face being accused of negligence. For instance, the mundane law says that one is obligated to attempt to reign in ones children or face criminal sanctions on account of bad behavior of those children. The mundane law has not been put on the line to answer whether one's religious beliefs against resisting evil take precedence over any perceived mundane legal obligation to apply coercion concerning one's children. Sometimes parents find themselves in the position of appearing to be damned if they do and damned if they don't. Parents cannot be damned by the mundane. Caesar can damn no one. Caesar has temporal authority only and has punished the innocent with the guilty and still does.

The mundane requirement though is a way of attempting to force heaven on earth. The only way around it is for the children to be taught to learn without coercion. It ought to be instilled in them right from the beginning, but it is better late than never. Children and adults not raised on this principle must yet learn why to live the new commandment. They must be taught to see the big picture. They must be receptive though. Those who refuse to be receptive condemn themselves.

In the interim, "Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled." (Matthew 5:18). The mundane law against negligence is the human attempt to keep things from slipping into greater violence or offense. When it was implemented, it was the human attempt to curtail people from not taking care. The direction in terms of the spirit (intention) of that law is toward better circumstances for all concerned. When all is fulfilled, all will be abiding by the new commandment and such mundane, specific laws will be seen as falling short for their reliance upon coercion rather than upon people's love of truth. Therefore, teach the children and all others the love of the real truth so that the mundane use of coercive laws and authorities will be moot (rendered irrelevant) in the eyes of all. Work to bring to fruition the salvation of the world through universal adherence to the new commandment.
New commandment: Negligence free

The means to teach the new commandment is not through the use of coercion or resorting to worldly authorities. That way lies conditioning that falls short of the revelation of love and peace. It is not the means to the end that is heaven. The actual means is the actual end that is the new commandment itself. That must be made clear to those who have yet to learn. Is this advocacy for breaking the mundane law against perceived negligence? In truth, keeping to the new commandment is negligence free. In the final analysis, it is the only thing that is. What actually causes offense is the non-use of the new commandment.

So, the mundane law against negligence that requires the use of coercion and the calling in of authorities, while not seen as a terror to good works is, nevertheless, a falling short and cannot substitute for teaching the new commandment and exemplifying it. It must not be rationalized. It has taken a long time to learn this. It must now be put into the widest practice possible.

And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some an hundred. (Mark 4:20).

It is crucial to understand that the direction in which any use of force or resistance pulls is selfish regardless of mundane intention. We cannot overcome evil with evil means.

Right now, there are very few people in the world who grasp this. This is why it is so difficult to forego falling back on the use of force to protect the innocent or to attempt to force others to be thoughtful of yet others. There are very few people who lend moral support to nonviolence. There are very few who respond without being themselves forced. They avoid doing certain wrong things solely out of fear of mundane punishment and not solely because it is the right thing to do. This makes it exceedingly difficult for the few who wish to respond solely because it is the right thing as opposed to fearing mundane punishment. The darker it is, the more credit one deserves and earns by speaking and doing truth.

The apostate churches do not grasp this. They lead people astray down the path of militarism (ultimate coercive force), which is part and parcel of all the forms of lust.

People cannot see passed the flesh to the spirit to understand how the flesh is not yet one and the same with the spirit. Everything that is implied by what is manifest doesn't communicate to them by extension those things that are unseen but no less real and are in fact so absolutely all encompassing that error on that level of awareness is nonexistent. This lack of awareness causes them to doubt the truth. It causes them to doubt that love and peace can work. They put their trust in money and force rather than in love and mercy.

Now, Jesus could see to heaven. That's why he just told it as it is and left it at that. One either gravitated toward the truth or one did not. He didn't use mundane force. He didn't fight back or react with offenses. He didn't call in the authorities for the sake of the innocent or to coerce others to be thoughtful, considerate, caring, giving, and sharing. His approach results in the real separation of those who will forever reject the truth or be perpetually backsliding from those who are of the spirit that forever gravitates toward the truth and deserve to be separated from those who cannot bring themselves to stop being selfish.

Those who reject the truth cannot comprehend how punishing those who offend the innocent is a selfish act. They cannot see how it ultimately perpetuates offenses by never rising completely above. They insist that offending is necessary as the lesser of evils. They insist that one must offend that is one must defend the innocent through violence and punish those who offend the innocent. They cannot overcome the short-term view to see the eternal path to a really good, moral, virtuous existence. They have bought into the militant viewpoint as being virtuous. They have been sold a bill of goods by the selfish spirit. It seeks to retard the spirit of unselfishness that overcomes flesh attachments. The message is that there will be that separation and that the here and now will become the complete domain of the non-offensive. Before entering heaven, the punishers who have been told the word of God by Jesus will have to pay the last farthing for repentance for having sinned that was caving into the temptation to offend.

So, is this contradicting allowing someone to call the authorities to protect the innocent or to stop willful destruction of other people's property or for reasons of thoughtfulness concerning the peace and tranquility of one's neighbors? It is to explain that one must do what one is given to do: Capable of doing at the time. How far along in the revelation is one? It is just as with the rich young man who was doing the basic commandments as understood on the mundane level who asked what more he could do but couldn't bring himself to go that far once he found out what more he could do. His sin was relative. His stripes (punishment in the end) will be in direct proportion to his shortcomings in light of what he grasped. He hadn't been a terror. He could not though turn any further toward godliness. He asked. He was called. He was not chosen though. He turned away. Did he go away and think the better of it and return and do what he could not bring himself to do earlier? It truly is better late than never. Jesus taught this.

This is just as with Paul telling the people that they would not be sinning if they continued to marry, but that they could serve better if they didn't. It is as with Jesus explaining that just as before the flood, people would remain indifferent and oblivious and would continue marrying and selfishly carrying on just as if the tribulation they were bringing upon themselves would never happen since it had been awhile since such purgation.

Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only. But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. (Matthew 24:35-39).

Feeling antagonized is selfish

Lead me not into temptation means, among other things, keep me from reacting. Lead me not into resisting evil with evil (violence, among other things). Lead me to pray for those who think of me as foe. Lead me to accept that evil must come. If this becomes habit, one is no longer temptable. If one is no longer temptable, one no longer caves into temptation to do evil.

One learns that feeling antagonized is a selfish reaction. Jesus turned the other cheek. He was not antagonized. He forgave them from the cross. He did not call down the wrath.

If we expect to be forgiven by God for all of our sins, we must repent and forgive all those who have trespassed, and may still trespass, against us. If our efforts remain rejected, it is not our fault. We get credit in the sight of God for having tried, because that is just.

Honor your father and mother

The law of God to honor one's parents is, therefore, with the understanding that the parents strive to be honorable that is righteous. The spirit of that law obligates parents and children. It is always reciprocal. That, however, does not negate the duty to show mercy regardless of the one-way attitude of many who take exceedingly blatant advantage, to their ultimate peril, of the patience and forgiving hearts.

Also, since God is the ultimate parent of all human parents, whether they choose to honor and respect God or not, honoring one's human parents and the parents of others is always subject to the weightier obligation that we never honor in them that which is anti-God or disgraces God, sullies God's name, lowers God's reputation, etc. We must do our best to honor God and temporal parents at the same time but never fail to keep God first and foremost, for it is in that spirit that we will do what is ultimately right and best for all including temporal, fleshly parents. This is why Jesus could say the following:

And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life. (Matthew 19:29).

If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. (Luke 14:26).

If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. (John 15:24).

He could say these things and not be hypocritical even as he said, " Honour thy father and mother." (Mark 10:19). It is because honoring is being righteous. That is how to be a credit to your name going all the way back to God who begot you if you will accept it. Otherwise, you disgrace your name, and you harm the reputation of God among the many.

If you will remember from a previous portion of this work and The Bible, the Nazarite was not allowed to be around the dead, because the Nazarite was in the process of communing with God who is eternal life. It was a foreshadowing of the teaching that came through Jesus who said, "Let the dead bury their dead." This alludes to the spiritually unwilling being spiritually relatively dead and to the truth that the willing souls are the real living and not buried so to speak. Jesus said, "Let the dead bury their dead" to a person who wanted to procrastinate, was distracted, and had not yet grasped the revelation.

And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead. (Matthew 8:21-22).

It is a difficult proposition to choose between doing the work of God and going to bury one's flesh-and-blood father. Sometimes they can both be done at the same time. Sometimes they cannot. Anyone who does not believe this does not believe Jesus.

Now it is not so readily available that one separate out in the wilderness to undergo that complete sense of detachment from human confusion and to reconnect, or reinforce the connection, with God. One must do the best one is able given the present circumstances with humanities rush to develop, pollute, and over populate the entire planet. So many areas have been set off limits by our fellow human beings. It is an unmitigated disaster. Nevertheless, it is possible to reconnect with God even in the direst circumstances. Often, it is the recognition of the dire circumstances seen by many as mundane reality that precipitates the move to reconnect, thank God. 9-11, the Iraq War, all the saber rattling throughout the world, and the environmental consequences of insatiable greed should cause many to seek to reconnect with godliness.

Caduceus idolatry: Misdirection

Hezekiah, king of Judea, exemplified keeping God first and foremost when he did the following:

He removed the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the brasen serpent that Moses had made: for unto those days the children of Israel did burn incense to it: and he called it Nehushtan. (2 Kings 18:4).
"Nehushtan" means a thing of brass. It was the brazen serpent Moses had set up on a pole so that whenever the children of Israel were bitten by fiery serpents (viperous snakes) in the desert (also a metaphor for sin) they could look upon the serpent on the pole and be healed. It is a foreshadowing of Jesus being raised up as the serpent by being crucified on the tree (wooden cross). "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up." (John 3:14). Those who look upon Jesus (not the crucifix but the spirit of Jesus) and believe will be healed by the power of God. We are not to worship human made images of Jesus on the cross confusing those images with the real power of Almighty God that is unconfined. Hezekiah understood it when the people began to worship the thing rather than the spirit that it was meant simply to remind them about and to foreshadow the Messiah.

Hezekiah's father was the king before Hezekiah, and he had encouraged the people to worship idolatrously. They were worshipping the serpent image losing sight of the healing power of God that is the only real healing power. They were worshipping other images as well and practicing superstition, which is ignorance about God. It ignores and rejects God. Superstition does not know the source of power. Power via superstition is not attributable, whereas all power, righteousness, comes from God.

It was a common religious practice throughout the ancient world to worship the serpent image as healing, hence the medical symbol of today named after the staff (caduceus) of Asklepios (also spelled Asclepius; Hermes; the herald or messenger of God) that is the staff of the Greek god of medicine with serpents coiled around the staff. It is the image used today in medicine.

Aesklepios in Greek mythology or figurative prophecy, depending upon your viewpoint, had the power to raise people from the dead. This is a Greek foreshadowing of Messiahship. That foreshadowing was throughout the ancient world. There are many stories or prophecies if you will, concerning the resurrection of the dead. The stories overlap and multiple figures are assigned various messianic qualities. Therefore, it lacks the continuity of the Biblical prophets who point to one who was revealed as of the house of David. However, they all speak to the yearning for salvation regardless of how confused some of the cultic aspects were or became. This is the spirit of the revelation. This is the spirit of coming to understand the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it.

You see though here where people become confused about the serpent and Jesus. They think Jesus is the serpent rather than being raised up to displace that darkness with light.

It is important to understand that Moses was raising up the bronze staff with the serpent (caduceus) to heal the people by the power of their belief. This was though idolatry, which Moses preached against. The people never needed an idol to give them the power of belief. Jesus is raised up to spirit and we need only the power of belief in God the Father to be made whole even from death.
Ancient Greeks and Romans: Premonitions

Many people believe that the Greeks could not receive from the spirit. They believe that no one other than a Hebrew ever received premonitions from the spirit. Concerning Jesus, Pontius Pilate's wife of Rome sent Pilate a message.

When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him. (Matthew 27:19).

If a Roman prefect's wife could receive foreboding dreams telling her that Jesus was just and that it would be woe to anyone who harmed him, why could not the Greeks and other ancients also have received prophetic dreams concerning the coming Messiah? Believing this certainly does not attribute such dreams to having come from other than the one real and living God, regardless of how poorly the people understood God and falsely attributed to God all sorts of human failings. It is understandable, however, as the revelation is an unfolding. How could it be an unfolding if every nation is expected to have grasped it before Jesus came to illuminate?

Also, the Jews don't go back before Judah, the immediate son of Jacob (Israel). Some would say back to Jacob. There was prophecy though before Jacob. Enoch, Noah, and Abraham received prophecy. Noah is held out to be the forefather of everyone; therefore, everyone has a known prophesying ancestor. Noah is held out to be the direct descendent of Enoch who was also a prophet if the Essene scriptures and Paul and the Epistle of Jude are to be believed.

And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints. (Jude 1:14).

That means everyone has two known prophesying ancestors. The point though is that prophecy was not the exclusive domain of the Jews.

Book of Enoch

Understand that there is a line between apocryphal (false) writings and writings unbelievers cast into doubt. The Book of Enoch was found in the Essene cave number four at Qumran. It was found in the Aramaic language as part of what is popularly known as the Dead Sea scrolls. Does the Book of Enoch speak to truth? It speaks to a parallel between heaven and earth which parallel may be crossed. Is that for our edification or confusion? Is it literal or figurative or both? It speaks of archangels sent to overcome angels turned to selfishness under Satan (Shemyazaz; Samyaza; Samael). Jesus came for the same. Is the Book of Enoch a foretelling or not? Did the post-Nicene fathers at the Council of Laodicea err in leaving out the Book of Enoch from The Bible while retaining Jude that references the Book of Enoch? Were they misled, because they could not reconcile the Book of Enoch with the message of Jesus? So, are we all fallen spirits needing to repent that is return forever to God? That's what Jesus told us in essence. What's the moral of the story? Is it truth or falsehood? The answer is a matter of semantics. If one will not accept the Book of Enoch as other than a fable or parable, is one nevertheless willing to accept the truisms it contains?

The symbolic serpent on the staff (mentioned above in the Greek version of the prophecy about Asklepios) was no more the real healing power than was the manna that fell out of the sky the real bread from heaven. Therefore, Hezekiah may appear to some to have dishonored his own temporal father by destroying all the idolatrous things his father had gloriﬁed and loved; however, Hezekiah was in fact honoring God's wishes. His earthly father had strayed from the narrow way.

Hezekiah made the proper call regardless of any criticism to which he might have been subjected for having undone his temporal father's handiwork. He did not undo that work to dishonor his father. In fact, the spirit of his father ought to be glad at what Hezekiah did, just as the prophets before Jesus all love Jesus, even though Jesus set straight much of what they had said and done.

Hezekiah "removed the high places" (places of illicit worship), "cut down the groves" (places where one would supposedly receive oracles or prophecies not attributable to God) and did the other things to remove idolatry all out of a deep and abiding respect for God. Hezekiah's father had gone astray just as Ahab had gone astray in building temples to Baal (a nature god) and groves to Astarte (a fertility goddess). When Ahab tried to take Ramoth in Gilead (Ramoth meaning high place or heights) even after having been warned by the prophet Micaiah, Ahab was killed in that battle for the high place.

And a certain man drew a bow at a venture, and smote the king of Israel between the joints of the harness: therefore he said to his chariot man, Turn thine hand, that thou mayest carry me out of the host; for I am wounded. And the battle increased that day: howbeit the king of Israel stayed himself up in his chariot against the Syrians until the even: and about the time of the sun going down he died. (2 Chronicles 18:33-34).

He tried to force his way up. He tried to exalt and magnify himself up rather than honoring God. Those who try to raise themselves up end up making fools of themselves. They are cut down. The connected meanings are obvious. Self-magnification (self-authorization, delusions) accompanies illicit worship and is followed by downfall. That is the message for all would-be empires and empire builders. It is the message for all those who have been led astray by false prophets. You see, Ahab listened to his false prophets telling him what he wanted to hear rather than listening to the one to who the word of God was not sealed up but rather interpretable.

And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot; for it is sealed: And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned. Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men: Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid. Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us? (Isaiah 29: 11-15).

Ahab had attempted to hide by disguising himself in the battle. "And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, I will disguise myself, and I will go to the battle." (2 Chronicles 18:29). It didn't work of course. Neither are the secrets of the current powers that be (who have appointed themselves emperors of the world) hidden from God or his prophets. They too will be brought low off their self-exalted heights.

Hezekiah was a foreshadowing of Jesus, just as all the real prophets and real anointed ones (not self-appointed) in one way or another. However, even the sum of all of them did not measure up to the greatness of Jesus. This fact about Hezekiah is why the Isaiah prophecy that points to Hezekiah also points to Jesus. The Bible prophecy compounds upon itself. This is why you may look to the return of the Son of man with only consistent attributes. In that way, you will not be taken in by the son of perdition. Though he may appear to some as an angel of light, it will be only sheep's clothing. His deeds will always give him away. The son of perdition, the Antichrist, will not come shining the light of truth (that is the love of deliverance) from one end of the sky to the other as bright as lightening.

Again, each person must search his or her soul examining his or her ways as to whether those are in keeping with the testimony of Jesus. Each person must examine whether he or she has been taught correctly. Has enough been asked of you? Have the expectations of unselfishness been and remained high enough?

Fantasy lust

If you covet riches, you have committed greed in your heart. If you indulge in fantasizing about having an adulterous affair, you have committed adultery in your heart. If you indulge in fantasizing about violence or any other evil act, you have committed that violence or evil in your heart and polluted yourself in the process. If you speak falsehood in defense or to justify your actions or fantasies of lust of the eye or lust of the flesh or pride of this life, you have defiled yourself and harmed those who have followed you. You have reduced your immunity and the immunity of those who have followed you. You have increased susceptibility to temptation. You have facilitated the magnification of selfish desires in the world. You have desensitized. For the sake of your own gratification of lusting appetites, you have made yourself conducive to leading others astray, especially the innocent, unaware, and unsuspecting: Those who would trust you to look out for them, to lead them only on the path of righteousness.

For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness. (Mark 7:21-22).

For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. (Matthew 6:21).

Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ. (2 Corinthians 10:5).

It has never taken scientific research to prove the harm to the mind dwelling on, fantasizing about, and becoming addicted to thoughts contrary to the peace of God. Those who indulge such thoughts identify with the roles of depravity. They partake of the wrong message. They are what they eat and they gorge on lustful, prideful, rebellious, and willful thoughts and images, and powers attributable only to the dark side. How can they then see the whole light of peace, love, and truth? They are vicariously rewarded with what Paul called the pleasures of sin. "Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season." (Hebrews 11:25).

Actually, sin is no pleasure. It is sickening. Hedonism is simply shortsighted. Once the consequences are understood on the eternal level, sin is repulsive from then on. The peace of the Lord heals and protects.

Your treasures: Your heart

What do your material possessions and pastimes say about the condition of your heart in terms of greed, violence, depravity, and the dark side? Your possessions are your treasures. They are where your heart is. Why are they of value? Why do thoughts of ridding yourself of them cause you anxiety? Are you ensnared? Are you better off with them? Are they contributing to the peace?

It is time for each person to search his soul to see whether he has been deceived and is deceiving himself (rationalizing). Have any led you astray into apostasy (away from God)? Who are they who have encouraged you to do evil in your heart and do evil in the world? What are they gaining or avoiding? Who are they who have told you to focus upon selfish interests? What is the result of their teaching and doing: War, greed, decadence? They are false shepherds. What can you do to save them from their fate if they do not turn?
False Christs

Everything Jesus taught and did was the opposite of selfish interest. Who are they who have told you to consume and consume the fat of the land until the lands are depleted and there is not enough for all? Who are they who have taught you to want and want the worldly possessions? Who are they who have worked and worked at making you feel inferior if you do not have what they tell you that you must covet? Who are they who have told you and told you to pollute the world and plunder the resources out from under others? They are evil stewards. What can you do to save them from their fate if they do not turn?

What is the result of their teaching and doing: Toxic waste, squandered natural resources, slave wages? They are the disciples of mammon. They are polluting mind, soul, body, and spirit and sapping the strength of the people to withstand temptation and overcome evils. Who are they who have convinced you that your soul is safe if you do everything the leaders of your country command of you no matter how much those commands violate the commandments of God? They are false prophets. They use the hard, fast sell. They try to hook you before you know what you have purchased with your soul. What can you do to save them from their fate if they do not turn?

Who are they who have told you to lust after the flesh? What is the result of their teaching and doing: Disease? They are the deceived. They are the deceivers.
Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? (Matthew 7:16).

For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns. (Jeremiah 4:3).

But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. (Matthew 13:23).

Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. (Hosea 10:12).

Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit. (Matthew 12:33).

I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies. (Psalm 119:59).

Living in apostasy
Many conservatives have been unaware (deliberately kept in the dark) that they have been living in a state of apostasy (rebellion against God's way). Now they have no excuses. Repent. Be contrite and transformed. Be humbled. Soften your heart. Turn again to God's will, for righteousness' sake. Be a good tree. Bring forth good fruit with patience. "Repent ye, and believe the gospel." (Mark 1:15). Be forgiven. Be atoned for (reconciled). Appreciate the grace of God who has shown mercy upon you. Forgive, and take up your cross.

Don't listen to the drumbeat of those who are telling you that you have been doing the will of God when you have not. Search your soul to see whether or not you have been sinning or supporting sin.

Do not abuse others, but also know that being rebuked for cause (your real selfishness) is not abuse. Accept proper correction no matter what your age.

Don't beat yourself up over those things others do who refuse to turn to God despite your clear warnings.

Practice self-censorship. Deny yourself. Remove everything from your home and what is under your proper, God-given control that promotes violence, greed, or decadence. Understand that fantasizing is doing it in your heart. It conditions one for falling.

Don't imagine that doing these things is enough to bring peace and to ward off evil. Evil will come, but the real peace will endure.

When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation. (Matthew 12:43-45).

Don't fight your own persecution. Show them that fighting is not the way. Don't call in others to be coercive. Pray not to be led into temptation, reacting, or resisting. Ask to be forgiven when you fall. Forgive others who apologize, and forgive their ignorance when they don't ask. Understand that all members of humanity are our flesh-and-blood family members.

Never honor that which dishonors God. Know that superstition is ignorance about God. Don't follow those who self-magnify or authorize themselves. They worship illicitly and will fall.

Work to unseal the vision. Listen to the Holy Spirit speaking to you. Follow what the spirit tells you to do. It is always consistent with the words of Jesus.

Ask yourself whether enough has been asked of you? Have the expectations of unselfishness been and remained high enough? Those who told you to focus upon selfish interests are false shepherds, stewards, and prophets. They don't have the spirit. They are living in a state of apostasy.
These are but a few of the things we must do.
Chapter 14  How and Why the Elite Subvert the Faith

As mentioned above, many of the conservatives have been unaware (deliberately kept in the dark) that they have been living in a state of apostasy (rebellion against God's way). The reason for such ignorance by many professing to be Christians is multifaceted but always comes around to the co-opting and revisionism of real Christianity by those who have subverted, and continue to subvert, the faith for their personal gain, wittingly and unwittingly, at the expense of others including the innocent.

Haves and the have-nots

Do not doubt though that most of them know who they are. George W. Bush said to the rich attendants of a dinner, "This is an impressive crowd, the haves and the have-mores. Some people call you the elite. I call you my base." That's right. That is his base of support, and those are the people for whom he is working. Those are the people whose hearts he owns. They are not the same people whose hearts belong to God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit.

"The liberal soul shall be made fat." (Proverbs 11:25). Those who give joyfully shall be rewarded by God, not made uncollectively wealthy in worldly riches by coercive means. They shall pass on that wealth to all.

Coercive Empire the churl

The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right, But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand. (Isaiah 32:7-8).

The real liberal deviseth righteous devices to foster the poor with words of truth. The conservative churl, acquires, accumulates, and hoards worldly wealth. That churl takes special and private privileges and advantages and is the exact opposite of the real liberal. The conservative devises ways that promote his or her own worldly riches while the poor are made worse off, further enslaved and oppressed, and even murdered. The conservative co-opts and revises the faith so he may be rich, powerful, controlling, famous, puffed up, and all the rest. He is not about being last, ever.

He Deviseth Wicked Devices:

He deviseth wicked devices to reduce the burden upon the wealthy, putting more of the burden upon people with less or nothing;

He deviseth wicked devices to have the distribution of shared revenue placed in the hands of his friends, flatterers, and those whom he has bribed for their allegiance, all so that he may increase his profits even while making the lives of those with less needlessly more expensive, complicated, and frustrating;

He deviseth wicked devices to have the treasury increase its debt by trillions\textsuperscript{130} so that his friends and he may lend to the treasury at interest while their and his taxes go down relative to those who are less well-off;

He deviseth wicked devices to have a budget deficit so that, even while he is making claims of the greatest of compassion, his followers and he may have a pretext for cutting needed social programs even for the destitute and while his followers and he cut the taxes of the obscenely wealthy and increases spending going to his choice corporations supplying the military and the profits of which corporations return mostly to those same obscenely wealthy;

\textsuperscript{130} In five years, George W. Bush’s handling of the US economy has resulted in a $1.5 trillion increase in the national debt. He did it on purpose to further enrich the obscenely wealthy and to keep the other classes down, all reasons cited in this work.
He deviseth wicked devices to have the laws of men changed to allow him to make greater profits at the expense of the environment, upon which the poorest of this world depend so directly, being closer to the land and waters;

He deviseth wicked devices to push for more development of fossil fuels (that increase greenhouse gases) even in wilderness protected areas rather then pushing only for renewable and non-polluting energy sources;

He deviseth wicked devices to have the services of those in need reduced or eliminated;

He deviseth wicked devices so that services to those in need that are paid for from general governmental taxation come through entities amicable to the furtherance of the system that enhances his personal gain and dominance;

He deviseth wicked devices to divert funds placed with the government under a covenant with the people for their old-age and other support into the hands of private for-profit entities, which his friends control and from which he and his friends may make even greater unshared profit, and to have the proceeds of those funds then become inheritable as private monies no longer pooled for old-age support of the needy;

He deviseth wicked devices that even where privatized monies increase, it is intended to make those invested fear they are locked into his selfish system so they will support his other evil endeavors or perhaps lose their benefits falsely perceived as being built upon those endeavors;

He deviseth wicked devices to make taxes even more regressive;

He deviseth wicked devices to subsidize expensive private school tuitions for the wealthy, thereby, refunding to the wealthy that amount of their taxes that would otherwise go to the benefit of all and the needy in equitable, as-needed shares;

He deviseth wicked devices to reduce financial support for education for the poorest who will be unable to afford the additional costs above vouchers of attending wealthy, elitist private schools;

He deviseth wicked devices to further boost the profits of his supporters who are the capitalists, the mammon worshippers, running and owning the corporate, for-profit, private educational industry that will be most benefited by such privatization vouchers;

He deviseth wicked devices to convince all that servitude to the system of the worldly, churlish rich is good for them and their souls;

He deviseth wicked devices to suck people into the pit of debt and interest payments from which he will increase his worldly gain burdening people further, making them obligated and beholden under his yoke of greed;

He deviseth wicked devices to convince people to have their hearts set on worldly treasures by encouraging them to spend and accumulate for themselves rather than helping others help yet others and then letting God take care of their old-age needs through all giving and sharing all with all;

He deviseth wicked devices to destabilize and divide the world to make it ripe for his seizing the first fruits of the earth for himself and his cronies;

He deviseth wicked devices to lessen ethical standards so his cronies and he will be held to lesser account;
He deviseth wicked devices to seal up the embarrassing historical documents of his predecessor conservatives that would otherwise have been opened to the general population;

He deviseth wicked devices to lessen only the appearance of bigotry (changing the targets) by employing churlish and sell-out ethnics in high places who are servile to his unrepentant system of greed and wish to further their personal gain even at the expense of the needy of their own ethnic groups while turning a deliberate blind eye to the breed of unrepentant bigots who severely oppressed and discriminated against those ethnic groups;

He deviseth wicked devices so his friends may further dominate whatever industry they already largely control;

He deviseth wicked devices so his friends may further dominate the people's main sources of information;

He deviseth wicked devices to pay for news flattering to himself that is portrayed as independent;

He deviseth wicked devices to down play or eliminate news of tens of millions of opposing voices calling for fairness;

He deviseth wicked devices to spread lies about his opposition;

He deviseth wicked devices to lessen the people's ability to recoup losses for pain and suffering from, and at the hands of, his financial contributors;

He deviseth wicked devices to cover over or downplay the scandalous behavior of unrepentant corporations;

He deviseth wicked devices to have unaccountable corporations run the planet;

He deviseth wicked devices to have the economic decisions of the world made and kept behind closed doors;

He deviseth wicked devices to gain imperial power in the name of safety, security, and worldly and ungodly prosperity of the already richest;

He deviseth wicked devices to place sanctions on nations (rather than settling differences), thereby, causing the deaths of hundreds of thousands of innocent adults and children;
He deviseth wicked devices to create false pretexts for war-profiteering;

He deviseth wicked devices by supplying horrific weapons, equipment, and training to those about whom he later premeditatedly bears false, unsubstantiated, unsupportable witness all because he covets their resources;

He deviseth wicked devices to shift the burden of proof onto all those whom he accuses (guilty until one proves one's innocence; Napoleonic law) expecting others to prove a negative (what is for them not provable): To prove they do not have something or are not doing something or he will go to war with them even though he will never be satisfied with any proof rendered;

He deviseth wicked devices greatly to reduce the threshold for justification for waging wars, rendering them wars of aggression as the instigator of belligerence while claiming they are preemptive or preventative attacks for national defense;

He deviseth wicked devices to privatize military and paramilitary operations so that the undertakings of secret commando- and interrogation-groups will not be under any oversight of possible opponents;

He deviseth wicked devices to move the authority for such operations to under the direction of those who are even more prone to violence as a solution and greater laxity in protecting the rights of people then are the citizens of his country;

He deviseth wicked devices for the public toleration and encouragement of the torture of prisoners;

He deviseth wicked devices when torture is made public to the world to redefine cruel punishment to extract information (torture) as non-torture then claim torture is not an option;

He deviseth wicked devices to imprison indefinitely those who have not been shown to be guilty and without any burden of proof upon him;

He deviseth wicked devices to use the big lie;

He deviseth wicked devices repeatedly to employ the use of the so-called noble lie that claims good intentions but does not conceal that his policy is to lie to the people;

He deviseth wicked devices to know as much about everything and everybody as possible, and when exposed, he simply puts those efforts behind closed doors rather than abandoning them;

He deviseth wicked devices to again legalize the secret infiltration of religious groups that are not even suspected of committing or planning to commit any crime;

He deviseth wicked devices to again spy on people for no other reason than that they disagree with his positions;

He deviseth wicked devices to both slowly and incrementally whittle away and even severely chop away at due process from the already low standards of the mundane law;

He deviseth wicked devices to replace the Cold War with a brave, new, secret and potentially perpetual war that he need never prove is over and that is not even legally declared under the very law he has sworn to uphold;

He deviseth wicked devices to control the leadership of other nations through bribes and deals and secret training and operations that have included documented sanctioned torture (much worse than that made public), murder, and all manner of atrocities upon those opposed to his dominance and opposed to the placement in charge of his political puppets and those he has successfully intimidated;

He deviseth wicked devices to continue to appoint, support, and laud his henchman in all these and other wicked devices;

He deviseth wicked devices for his place in secular history rather than in the Book of Life (eternal life in the righteous kingdom of God known by the heaven within);

He deviseth wicked devices to flatter those who abuse people both within and without his nation;

He deviseth wicked devices to change the meaning of words, to pejorate, to euphemize, to obfuscate his evil thoughts, words, and deeds: His insatiable greed and blood-lusting and all his other appetites;

He deviseth wicked devices in all of these ways and more; and
He deviseth wicked devices to gain the whole world.

The tongue deviseth mischiefs; like a sharp razor, working deceitfully. (Psalm 52:2).

The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves. (Isaiah 3:9).

Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us? (Isaiah 29:15).

Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin. (Isaiah 30:1).

As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich. They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. (Jeremiah 5:27-28).
Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass. (Psalm 37:7).

Sold their souls: Buy it back

They gain the world. "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Mark 8:36). They really do sell their souls for mammon and other manifestations of the devil. They love money and the temporary gratification of their insatiable lusts more than they love God, more than they want to be good.

They need to turn to making the tree good, to atone, to reclaim their souls from the essence of evil.

Blame America: First or second, still a crooked and perverse nation: Blameworthy

The conservatives in America will complain that all of this is simply blaming America first. That misses the point. Who started it? Who is to blame first? How far back do you want to go? Go back to the beginning to find out. Two wrongs do not make a right. Are you going to reject that truism just because it has been said so many times before? Are you satisfied to be blamed second? Either way, you are not blameless.
That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world. (Philippians 2:15).

You say America cannot take all the offenses? You have stood all you can stand. You will partake of wrathfulness. Think rather of how God feels. How much has God put up with because of your sins? God understands how to sort out the real offenses from selfish reactions. Do you? Have patience.

Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more. (Luke 12:48).

This means what has been given spiritually, but it also means what has been allowed materially and the like.

America lauds its mundane law as the best shining example to the world. America was founded on an undeveloped continent with fertile lands and huge natural resources put there by God. Much was given. Way too much has been taken though not in the spirit of sharing, including from other continents. Now everything is expected.

Are you, if you are a conservative, saying that you do not know any better than to be doing what you are doing? If you are truly ignorant of right from wrong, you will be forgiven with little correction. However, if you really have been given to know better, then your correction will necessarily be greater. "He that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes." (Luke 12:48). You are fighting and killing those whom you claim are ignorant. Now do you want the devil to whip you in your ignorance? Are you not just knowingly turning a blind eye?

Whatever wrongs you do, you say they (your enemy) did evil first. Of course recriminations fly back and forth. Why does it not stop with you? You teach your children that the way to settle is to fight even to the death. Then, you take them to church school where they hear that they are to turn the other cheek. You conflict them. Are you not then a hypocrite? Are you not then raising hypocrites? Do you have to confuse your children with rationalized qualifications saying that there are circumstances though where one cannot follow Jesus's teachings and example? The exception does not make the rule.

You say your enemy does the evil you do also. That is your excuse? That way of thinking ends at the bottom of the bottomless pit. You are what you do. If they are what you called them because of what they have done, then you are also what you called them for doing what they have done. They retaliated. You retaliate. They killed. You kill. They tortured. You torture. You make yourselves killers and torturers and anything else you do whether those calling you enemy have done it or not. You condemn yourselves. In the meantime, those whom you have made your enemy insist that you started it. It is a never ending downward spiral for all who partake.
The problems do not start or stop with those at the bottom. The entire system of selfishness creates all the abuses from top to bottom.

The rulers are liars

Higher-ups are covering up for themselves. They are liars. The leaders screen and choose underlings for their weakness of mind to succumb to temptation and commit evil. People move up through this system. It corrupts. Do not eat of it. It is the bread of death. Do not advocate it. Doing so defiles you.

Hard evidence

Under normal circumstances, one would have to substantiate such statements with the hardest of evidence; however, evidence that would be taken as hard enough by many of the hardhearted is held by them as top-secret classified information. Even with the top-secret classified information in hand, they rationalize it away as just documenting necessary expedience. They excuse all manner of sin under their lowest of standards.

If you are outside government guilty or not they may take all your records. If you are a crooked government, what is there to be done but for the citizens to have a change of heart as happened with the Richard Nixon administration? Of course, all the dirty secrets God knows all about were not exposed. Many were destroyed by the guilty to protect the guilty from the mundane law and human record. God though has God's law and God's record that no human can tamper with. Jesus though is not about vindictiveness. Jesus is about changing hearts and pure justice that is pure truth. It still though means woe to the unrepentant.

Spiritually dead

Even if it were all declassified, there would be those who would find it all justified. That is because they are spiritually dead. No amount of truth gets through to them, because they hate truth and love their lust and feeding it more than anything.

If they have nothing to fear about how they have been handling the public trust, let the daylight in.

They fear exposure of their misdeeds they call national security. They are evil hearted and believe that the security of the nation depends upon misdeeds that should not see the light of day. It would ruin their false supremacy.

Jesus believed the opposite that is there should be no misdeeds, period. National security really depends upon constant adherence to the spirit of the great commandment. However, those who hate the truth fear it just as they feared the Pentagon Papers of 1971, which proved that the governments of both major US political parties lied egregiously about even the most critical of issues: War.

It still goes on. The devil within deviseth evil devices to allow for the mundane law to sanction imprisonment without due process, to allow abuse and torture of the gravest kind, and to allow even murder, which for some of the innocent undergoing torture is a release from the grip of sheer evil. The devil within deviseth evil devices to rationalize murdering people just because someone labels them as a possible threat or just to send fear through the hearts of people. Beware. Satan is loosed to claim those belonging to him. There is no mercy in him for his unmerciful brood striving to gain the world of falsehood by falling down to worship him. He is the deceiver. He deceives his own kind. God though will gather the souls of the truly repentant.

Who follows after the great deisher of evil? The military officers, executive officers, stockholders, and legislators of the military-industrial complex have made themselves fat spirits feeding off war. Their wealth in mammon suddenly skyrocketed as a result of war, sometimes many fold. They were already paying themselves in some cases hundreds of times as much as the regular workers earn.

Our present emergency and a common sense of decency make it imperative that no new group of war millionaires shall come into being in this nation as a result of the struggles abroad. The American people will not relish the idea of any American citizen growing rich and fat in an emergency of blood and slaughter and human suffering. – US president Franklin D. Roosevelt (May, 1940).
Military-industrial complex

In the councils of government, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist.

We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense with our peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together. – US president Dwight David Eisenhower (January, 1961).

I do not quote any president to suggest that he was above crass politics. There is no doubt that every person who has risen to the level of president of the United States has engaged in crass politics to one degree or another. This is also not to say that any was, or is, beyond redemption.

The Power Elite

C. Wright Mills wrote the following:
In the slum countries of the world today, what are they saying? The rich Americans, they pay attention only to violence — and to money. You don't care what they say, Americans? Good for you. Still, they may insist: things are no longer under the old control; you're not getting it straight, American: your country — it would seem — may well become the target of a world hatred the like of which the easy-going Americans have never dreamed.\textsuperscript{131}

Why do they hate America? Mills had it right. People have had it right about why the peoples of the world have always hated the empire builders. It hasn't changed. It won't end until there are no more such imperialist devils.

In 1956, he wrote the following in The Power Elite:

In so far as the power elite has come to wide public attention, it has done so in terms of the 'military clique.' The power elite does, in fact, take its current shape from the decisive entrance into it of the military. Their presence and their ideology are its major legitimations, whenever the power elite feels the need to provide any.

But what is called the 'Washington military clique' is not composed merely of military men, and it does not prevail merely in Washington. Its members exist all over the country, and it is a coalition of generals in the roles of corporation executives, of politicians masquerading as admirals, of corporation executives acting like politicians, of civil servants who become majors, of vice admirals who are also the assistants to a cabinet officer, who is himself, by the way, really a member of the managerial elite.

…All the structural coincidence of their interests as well as the intricate, psychological facts of their origins and their education, their careers and their associations make possible the psychological affinities that prevail among them, affinities that make it possible for them to say of one another: He is, of course, one of us. And all this points to the basic, psychological meaning of class consciousness. Nowhere in America is there as great a 'class consciousness' as among the elite; nowhere is it organized as effectively as among the power elite. For by class consciousness, as a psychological fact, one means that the individual member of a 'class' accepts only those accepted by his circle as among those who are significant to his own image of self.

This is the description of the military-industrial complex before it was called the "military-industrial complex." Did president Eisenhower read Mills?

Of course, it is also the description of the Roman Triumvirate: Money, military control, and political guile.

To signify to them, you must be "one of us," meaning one of them. They have taken what does not belong to them, which means they have stolen it. They are thieves. They made up the rules which say that such stealing is the only acceptable path. If one refuses to join them, to become one of them, that one will have no share in anything of which the takers have taken control.

Convert

There is the old saying, "If you can't beat them, join them." The only thing anyone of conscience can do is not join them. The conscience wins. It means displace their motives within you with unselfishness, and come together with likeminded souls: Conflate. They've already lost.

Now we have a president who gleefully rubs his hands together over the profits of war even while he condemns the likes of Franklin Roosevelt for the Yalta Agreement and other agreements referred to collectively as the Western betrayal.
Total War: PNAC

Apparently, George W. Bush would have rather continued World War II until either the US or USSR was declared complete dominator over the whole of Europe. This is consistent with the current neoconservative doctrine coming out of the Project for the New American Century (PNAC). They are adamantly against the use of policies such as balance of power and containment. They were against not going into Baghdad under George H. W. Bush. They want total war now to decide, they think, once and for all which system will run the entire planet.

PNAC is a think tank advocating total global domination by the United States by whatever means necessary and as rapidly as possible. They are even calling for the US to be the only nation allowed to weaponize outer space. These birds of prey and vultures see outer space as a territory where they can gain and maintain exclusive control if they act quickly and decisively enough. For them, America is to be the new Roman Empire extending its reach out without boundary. It will suffer the same fate. The world should declare outer space permanently weapons free and then turn to demilitarize and disarm the earth. That will happen when the Son of man and rightful King comes to rule all the nations in righteousness.

Truth-seekers imprisoned

The faces of the greedy give them away. The looks on their faces and in their eyes when the truth confronts them belies their hoped for outward appearance. They insulate themselves from the probing questions of the people. They hire willing mouthpieces practiced in the dark art of obfuscating the subject matter of inquiry. They buy and control the questioners. They set up rules that prevent embarrassing and exposing questions. People who ask revealing, tough questions are hauled away, arrested, and imprisoned.

They will deliberately have short-attention spans on subjects. They will deliberately evade or change the subject. They will want to get off the subject of what we are all supposed to be doing cooperatively. They will want to get off it before committing. If pressed, they will acknowledge that we are all, including them, supposed to be doing the deeds Jesus said and all in the spirit of full cooperation. Then they will offer up excuses of insufficient time or of competing selfish interests. If pressed further, they will even judge and condemn themselves (often in sarcastic tones) if only the subject can then change back to what will make them comfortable. The whole truth-seeking experience is very unpleasant for those who hate it.

We aren't talking here about just keeping order so that there will be fairness. We're talking about covering up the truth by controlling the questions and skirting the issues. This is why so many people take to attention getting tactics such as shouting and demonstrating until they are hauled away. They want to draw attention to the fact that they cannot be heard otherwise. They want to draw attention to the fact that the mainstream media doesn't ask the questions and doesn't cover the non-answers as non-answers and doesn't cover the full implications of the whole cover-up. They want to get to the common people. They call it civil disobedience, which can be carried to such an extreme that all hell can break loose. Jesus was civilly disobedient, but in a different context. His fora were for open discussion. (We’ve covered the issue of cleansing the temple elsewhere.) Today, the fora are being made to disappear more and more by the powers that be. Therefore, people must increase the talk on these matters in their homes and elsewhere that is not controlled.

Blame the messenger

Rather than simply change and be forgiven for their self-acknowledged sins confessed to God in private, as needs to be, and as seen on the outside in any repentant heart, they will blame the messenger who leads them to that purging process.

He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. (Isaiah 53:3).

They attack the messenger as they attacked and murdered Jesus. They will attack on every level: Feelings, thoughts, words, and deeds. They will plot against the messenger. They will seek to marginalize and ostracize the messenger.

The time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. (John 16:2).
People must speak out privately and publicly

The beam and the mote

Every person on the planet who comprehends has sinned. If only those who have been perfect may speak out, no one may speak out. If every sin a person has committed is going to preclude his or her repenting, being purged, overcoming, and speaking out against what is retarding further redemption and the redemption of others, then there is no point in doing anything in righteousness. Everyone must overcome the fear that others will dredge up the sins of the past. Concerning those who insist that old mud clings and is not washed away by the forgiveness of God, let them be exposed for their sinister efforts to undercut the message of righteousness, forgiveness, and God's mercy. Sins cling to those who are still of the spirit that sinned. Past sins, once the person has been born anew, baptized in the fire of the Holy Spirit that burns away the sins of the world, do not disqualify that person from shining the light of that new spirit. No one else has the right to hold that person back or to try to destroy the message of the very process he or she underwent and may still be undergoing in coming to that change of spirit from darkness to light. It is a sin for anyone to try to keep dirty that which God has cleansed or is cleaning. No matter what you have done, do not let those who would expose your past dissuade you from repentance and speaking out for universal repentance thereafter.
Is this speaking out reconcilable with Jesus's admonition?

Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye. (Luke 6:42).

Work on yourself as you speak out.

The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master. (Luke 6:40).

Jesus spoke out, but he practiced what he preached. This is the meaning of the beam and the mote. Call people on twisting it to hide behind it. If they refuse to hear you and cast you out, shake the dust from your feet.

The unrepentant have their backs to God. They want to destroy repentance. The more people turn to God and do not let the unrepentant tear them down for past confessed, forgiven, sins, atoned for and being atoned for, the more others will be able to come out from under the intimidation that is the fear of shame. All have done shameful things. All have the right to overcome them: To live them down. Do not let it be ruined by those with selfishness in their hearts. We shall forgive each other our sins just as God forgives us. In that way, when the wicked hold up any to ridicule for past sins it will have the opposite effect of what they expect. This approach leads to salvation. "Forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us." (Luke 11:4). It means forgive everyone who otherwise would continue to owe amends for wrongdoing.

Did Paul remove the beam?

Paul admitted that before his conversion he severely persecuted Christians. He held the coats of those who stoned Stephen (the first recorded Christian martyr) to death. He called himself a wretched man. Now, what conservative is going to say that Paul was beyond forgiveness? Which one will say that on account of Paul’s earlier indiscretions Paul had no right to spread the message of Jesus? If Paul was beyond forgiveness and had no right to spread the message, no one may be forgiven or has the right to spread the message.

Sure, this still leaves room for Paul to improve. It leaves room for all of us to improve. We reprove each other to warn one another while we each strive to be as our one Father, Lord, Master, and all-sharing friend in heaven: Perfect.

 Alone with God

The messenger is alone with God until other messengers of God come to stand by one another, being no longer intimidated by the threatened wrath and persecution of evil.
Fear what?

The persecution and wrath of evil cannot touch the soul that has real faith in God. They can stone the body or spike it to a cross until the flesh expires, but the soul in the body is not its captive. It is released into the hands of the spirit in which it came to live.

After these things the word of the LORD came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward. (Genesis 15:1).

Fear a lack of faith in God, in righteousness, in mercy, in God's saving power. That lack is what delivers one into the hands of the devil who can destroy the soul in hell in the hereafter.

And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. (Matthew 10:28).

The unrepentant though will fear the wrong thing. They will become terrified at being found out. They will lash out in anger. They hold their meetings in top-secret fashion imagining that nobody could possibly know what they are up to; however, they are known to the people by their fruits in ways that they do not even imagine. Nothing is hidden. All is manifest. Their falsehoods about bounty and prosperity are shown by the exploitation, neglect, and abuse they have heaped upon the world for their gain. They back each other up in their transparent obfuscations so that they imagine they may continue in their evil practices under cover and with impunity. However, nothing shall remain hidden that is not hidden from God, and nothing is hidden from God. There are no secrets.

The term "fear" here is infinitely contextual. There are many connotations and each runs a spectrum. Don't get hung up.

Everyone's life is a stream which God knows from end-to-end as if each moment were current. God knows the whole of the stream of existence in this manner. God knows exactly what happened leading up to, during, and after the crucifixion. God can see it from every perspective simultaneously. No aspect of it has faded. There are not even words adequate to describe the degree to which God knows. God's knowledge of every moment everywhere that has ever occurred or will occur and that ever existed or will ever is infinite. Get used to it, as they say. It is a good thing. Trust in it.

Think about that before moving on. You are being asked to trust in that which is infinitely aware. You are being asked to trust in that which is ultimate. You are asked to trust in that which is perfectly trustworthy. Why is it not easy? Is it because you do not receive instant gratification? Well, have we made ourselves ready or worthy?

Don't let the secular state take the place of God for you or you will remain lost. The secular state is the state of non-perfected man who cannot bring himself alone to giving and sharing all in love and peace, doing no harm, unselfish, true. The state of man can kill the flesh but can do nothing thereafter. The state of man cannot save you from the devils of hell hereafter who can torment your soul and break you and break you. God though has the power to save all everywhere who will truly hear him.

God is merciful. The devils are not. God will forgive and forget. The devils will never let you live down anything even though they won't hold themselves to account.

Forgetting/forgiving sin versus amnesia of righteousness

Now, there is a context for forgetting about the sins of the past. The word "forgetting" here has a particular connotation. It means "forgiving." It means that it will not be dwelled upon. It means one is allowed to grow through understanding and appreciation, without punishment. It does not mean forget how to reject temptation or how to not be tempted in the first place. It means becoming sure. It means following Jesus out of temptation. One overcomes the habit of reacting to offenses with offenses. One becomes unified. To fall away from that unity would be to forget the sins on a different level and to forget the truth, to fall prey all over again. Forgetting here is not the development of amnesia of righteousness.

The lesson is in how to become oneself with God, eternally. It becomes the indestructible bond.

It will be at that point when God removes all sin forever that all souls will be free to live as if there had never been any sin. There will be no temptation. There will be no caving in or falling. What was sin? It was unrighteousness. How could that have been? It was before we were enlightened by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more. (Isaiah 54:4).

Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them. (Jeremiah 1:17).

Fear and shame

Now, why is this important? The powers that be control the Empire by definition. They are conservatives and false liberals currently in the form of self-styled neoconservatives and neoliberals. They have misused and distorted the message of Christianity in order to build up that Empire and to rise to the top within it. They have devised wicked devices to get the people to imagine themselves beholden to the Empire of human tradition rather than God. They have brainwashed the people into believing the Empire and the message of Jesus are synonymous. They placate the people with false bounty so that the people agree and go along with doing unto others as they would not have those others do unto them. They stir up fears among the people about the people losing safety and security leading the people to believe that such fears and concerns are consistent with the message of Jesus, which they are most certainly not. They work to convince the people that the only way to be safe is to see to it that those at the top of the Empire control the entire planet and even all of outer space (letting no other nation gain a military foothold in space).

When people come along to speak the truth about those and other abuses of the message of Jesus, those conservatives and some neoliberals attack them by seeking to discredit them or to shame them for their past indiscretions. Now, shame is real and a good thing up to a point. It is part of a properly working conscience that can lead one to avoid repeating mistakes. Understand that those who underwent shame were confounded. They were confused or they would not have done anything shameful.

The conservatives undertake more than ever bald-faced attacks by attempting to re-elicit shame to resurrect feelings of confusion in the messengers. They do this so that people will turn their backs on the truth as they turn their backs on those messengers. This is why Jeremiah wrote, as quoted just a bit above, "gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them." You see, the attackers have a haughty spirit. They are inherently arrogant. They are becoming evermore boisterous, obnoxiously so. To prevail for them is to not listen. It is to talk over others.
It is not to interject but rather to interrupt and cut off what would expose the current state of their hearts and what they don't want others to learn that might enlighten them.

Rather than attacking the truth-telling messengers, however, those attackers should look in the mirror. They should now be rightly shamed concerning those things which they have done and are still doing for which they have not repented. After all, that is the sole reason any messenger has to speak out. It is so people will repent, stop the evil (selfish) deeds, and start loving as Jesus loved his disciples. That way, the remnant will exist and be saved.

Therefore, it is necessary for truth-tellers to forget the shame of their youth or their past and be not dismayed at the faces of the powers that be. It means don't be intimidated into re-visiting your past feelings of shame in the manner the attackers wish. It means don't be afraid that they will dredge up your past for which you have already been contrite and humbled. It means don't be afraid that they will make up stories about you. It is too important to wrest away Christianity from those co-opters, revisionists, and subverters to put your own fears in the way of that process.

It doesn't mean that you have to have amnesia about having done wrong or having gone through the process of overcoming, whatever that entailed or entails for you. It means rather that you let go of the feelings that were useful for their purpose at the time. You were rightly humbled. Now you are not to become arrogant. You are to become unafraid, removing doubt. You are to do that for the sake of the downdrodden, oppressed, and others. It is the message of Jesus that we rise and stand upright for real liberal devices under the Holy Spirit of truth. Woe to those who try to keep this down. Woe to those who try to have the high places through the exercise of their own will not God's will. God's will is mercy.

The truth eliminates secrets and barriers through forgiveness. The only thing that prevents the truth is fear. Fear is selfishness. It must be overcome. Unselfishness is the courage of love. Courage and selfishness are not reconcilable. Selfishness is cowardly and unloving. It fears more than it loves helping others.

Notice that the approach to the term "fear" here is different from above. Nevertheless, it all comes down to one thing.

Their attempts to crucify those who have already confessed to God, who are being forgiven and purged and made new, will no longer work to intimidate.

People will become more aware that there are certain things important enough for which to give up their lives. Those things are not a system of greed but rather giving and sharing. Those things are not material safety and security but rather the assurance of eternal safety and security in a righteous spiritual eternity that is to come to the here and now. Heaven and earth are to conflate, become one, anew in the spirit.

Jesus came to save the real world from the false one that surrounds us at the time of this writing. "And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world." (John 12:47).
The workers of righteousness have repented, been forgiven, and are being purge. They are given new garments, white and clean, washed clean by the blood of Jesus, the fruit of the vine rooted in godliness. Attacks on them will only further serve the demise of the unholy estate of the worldly prince and his vassals and willing bond servants.

Attacking the righteous brings on wrath. Leaving the righteous to do their work will only serve to magnify righteousness. Either way, the prince of darkness loses.

Usury versus restoring the people

The princes of darkness have grown spiritually fat eating the inheritance of the starving. They do not judge correctly. They charge interest (usury) and do all manner of other sins.

Nehemiah

And there was a great cry of the people and of their wives against their brethren the Jews. For there were that said, We, our sons, and our daughters, are many: therefore we take up corn for them, that we may eat, and live. Some also there were that said, We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses, that we might buy corn, because of the dearth. There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the king's tribute, and that upon our lands and vineyards. Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children: and, lo, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought unto bondage already: neither is it in our power to redeem them; for other men have our lands and vineyards. And I was very angry when I heard their cry and these words. Then I consulted with myself, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, Ye exact usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great assembly against them. And I said unto them, We after our ability have redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen; and will ye even sell your brethren? or shall they be sold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found nothing to answer. Also I said, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies? I likewise, and my brethren, and my servants, might exact of them money and corn: I pray you, let us leave off this usury. Restore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their lands, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye exact of them. Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise. Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labour, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise. (Nehemiah 5:1-13).

You will notice that there was nothing asked in return by those who restored their brethren. There was no deal for a deal, a la Paul Wolfowitz and the World Bank. There was no excuse rendered that those who had fallen into debt had simply mismanaged their estates and that it would reward them for their mismanagement were they to have their estates restored to them. There was no demand for privatizing the commons between or among them. There was no demand that the restored use whatever was restored to them in ways desired by those who restored them (a backdoor method of recompense through becoming capitalist consumers) a la Gordon Brown, the British chancellor of the exchequer.

It is from all of this that you ought to see that the current conditions of the hearts of people are harder than at the hardhearted time of Nehemiah. You will also note that there is no leader in the world who is remotely as righteous as was Nehemiah, and Nehemiah was not the most righteous man of all time although he was very righteous. The truth of Nehemiah and those who restored their brethren is a standard against which the rich now will be judged for not completely restoring without any strings attached (limiting conditions) and "even this day" all the poor (not their rich rulers) of the world. Those rich rulers must restore the poor under them also. The commandment applies to all rich individuals and not just rich nations.

Nehemiah was right. The lesson is still valid at the time of this writing. The rich are rebuked by Nehemiah then and now. Only now, people are to do even better since we have received Christ's message that is better than even Nehemiah's. Nehemiah heard the truth in the just pleas of the people. He was open to the spirit of Christ else he would not have been as good as he was, which is still better than the common standard today by a great measure. How far have we come in this so-called modernity and civilization? Not as far as those Jews who heeded Nehemiah.

If you are a capitalist rich by world standards, do people in this world owe money to you or to entities in which you are invested or to your government or to the system of your government? Yes. Do any of those people pick through even garbage just to survive? Yes. Have they sold or borrowed against everything they can to survive? Yes. Have they put even their little children to work so the family may eat?
Yes. If so, have you grown spiritually fat with worldly riches at the expense of these poor and destitute? Yes. Has this connection between your wealth and the unscrupulous oppression, neglect, and cruelty of the poor been downplayed to you by those who lead your nation? Yes. Therefore, you have been led astray, knowingly or unknowingly (knowingly from here on if you continue).

All astray have been led astray and lead astray. Even from the beginning, the very essence of evil was the tempter who led and leads astray, telling people they may have whatever they want without suffering death. It was not true. People suffer death of the flesh and death of the soul if they follow such temptations.

Impossible for capitalists to escape

If you are a capitalist rich by world standards or want to be in your heart, you are culpable. It is impossible for wealthy capitalists not to have accumulated that which by rights should be spread out amongst the many. It is impossible for them not to be responsible for starvation and other offenses of depravation.

Those who are knowingly astray, or do not believe in God, subvert the faith, because they know that by co-opting and revising the message, they can increase their worldly possessions by their chosen, churlish means. They promote war with twisted religious overtones. Why they do these things to subvert the faith is all intertwined. It is not just the lust of riches that leads into violence.
From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? (James 4:1).

Rein in each forms of lust for evil

Not reining in each form of lust, whether for material, land, money, food, sex, drugs, power, etc., reinforces the general condition of the heart that is conducive to habitual violence, depravity, and greed. Repentance leads to, among other things, greater self-control concerning all the appetites, except the appetite for truth in all its manifestations such as love, peace, and purity.

Do not fall for the stories of those who co-opt and revise seeking to destroy real Christianity for their personal gain that is always at the expense of others and their own souls. Repent. The powers that be co-opt, revise, and subvert the message of Christianity in order to build the Empire and to rise to the top taking the heights as Ahab tried. They devise wicked devices to trick people into imagining they are beholden to the Empire rather than God. They perpetuate the lie that the message of Empire and Jesus are the same. They placate the people with false bounty to negate the new commandment. They stir up fears that are the opposite of the message of Jesus. They lie that safety is allowing those at the top of the Empire to control the planet and even outer space. They attack the messengers of truth for past indiscretions for shame and to intimidate them so the people will turn from listening to and following the truth. They raise up lies to steal the light from the minds of the people.
They are trying to force the overthrow of the real heaven, the new heaven before it is born with the new earth, and they are calling upon the power of hell to do it. They are bringing hell to earth. They are trying to gain hell's power over eternal souls in the here and now. This has been going on since the garden.

Dénouement

We are living in the dénouement. Jesus's death on the cross was the climax. That climax had before it other climaxes.

And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt. (Matthew 26:39).

When he didn't flee after that was a climatic point. Before that was the climax in the wilderness when he was tempted and didn't succumb. Before that was the climax of which we are not told the details but which moved him to finally undertake his public ministry.

Now we are facing climaxes in our lives also and in the life of the world and heaven. Nevertheless the prophecy is established, and shall be continually fulfilled to eternity.

The messengers do not have to be intimidated. They must conflate. The truth will eliminate all perceived needs for secrets or barriers. All will be forgiven. There will be an end to all shame and all fear of shame. All have sinned and none may throw stones. Wake up! Devise real liberal things (no conditions), and stand by them. Nehemiah showed how to restore the people without expectations of recompense. They did it then. We can do it now. They did it on a local scale. We can do it on a global scale. All they had to do was agree and follow through. Now, we too can all just agree and do it.

Those who disagree and refuse to help are those who wish to maintain the status-quo subversion of the faith at the direct expense of all others. They have been led astray and lead others astray. Rather, help us help each other to help yet others until all who will be saved have been saved.
Chapter 15  A Liberal: Not a Villain

It is plainly obvious that I am not a politically ideological liberal in the commonly understood sense of the term "liberal." However, many are new to this type of terminology and thinking; therefore, I will cover this more directly. Redundancy is required with each of us. We must have the Holy Spirit remind us and repeat things we've already learned. It helps to keep us from going astray. We don't have to be redundant toward God, but we must do toward one another as the Holy Spirit does for us as individuals. It is Christlike: Godly.

Repetitive on purpose

Jesus asked Peter three times whether Peter loved Jesus and told Peter three times to feed his sheep and lambs (once to feed the lambs, twice to feed the sheep).

So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep. (John 21:15-17).

Of course, Peter had denied Jesus three times previously. That he did even after Jesus had warned the disciples that he, Jesus, would deny anyone to God who denied him, Jesus. Yet, Jesus returned to Peter showing mercy upon Peter, obviously. Are we any better than Peter or any of the other disciples in this? We all need mercy shown to us; therefore, we must all be merciful to one another. We all need an opportunity to learn and grow. We all need things explained and oft repeated. It is one of the reasons we speak to God from our hearts (pray).

Therefore, I am being repetitive on purpose. Some may see it as talking down. However, it is elevating or raising up. I need it also. That is what Jesus was doing with Peter wasn't he? We aid each other in this way. We remind one another so that we don't slip, or if we have slipped, so that we get up again onto the right path.

Now concerning the notion of ideology, we have covered it before. However, within each chapter, we have tried to introduce new or expounded material by mixing it in with what has already gone before. For those who see it as a virtue of the best writing style never to repeat anything, they will hate this approach. That view though is arbitrary. It is a traditional method of claiming superiority that is baseless. There are people who just latch onto some traditional view and make it their own. They refuse from then on to even consider that their traditional view could be nothing but arbitrary imagination. They repeat it drumming it into their heads and the heads of others. In other words, repetition works in certain circumstances and detracts in others. It depends upon what is being forwarded.

When it comes to gaining a single eye (singular focus) upon righteousness, being always mindful is required. Being reminded helps. Proper repetition helps. We must be diligent in our total love of God. It means we must also be mindful of others.

Strict

We are to be attentive, compassionate, considerate, empathic, helpful, kindhearted, nurturant, sympathetic, tender, and thoughtful. We are not to be unkind, mean, inconsiderate, or thoughtless. However, we must understand that severe, harsh, or strict treatment is often in the mind of the receiver. The divine standard is the highest principle. Strict adherence is the greatest thing. We must be desirous of being reproached (sternly when needs be) in order to learn and grow. We must be receptive to be correctable. Jesus was strict and loving at the same time. He didn't beat anyone, but he put the fear (respect) of God in many. It was real liberalism contrary to the current idea of liberalism that disdains strict righteousness (the straight and narrow). "Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life." (Matthew 7:14). The straight and narrow is the real liberalism. It is the real freedom. It helps to be reminded of that. It helps to counteract the falsehoods that have been put forth about liberalism.

However, one must recognize the heathen (unbeliever) man or woman as one who will not turn. For such souls, repetition bears no or fleeting good results. Often, it results in violence and destruction. The swine turns to attack the messenger. Here, repetition is not conducive to the separation of goats from sheep for heaven's sake. The lesson for the proverbial swine (glutton) will have to come from suffering under the satanic spirit while divided away from those in heaven. Otherwise, there would be no justice. There would be no peace for those who made themselves fertile soil for the seed of righteousness. The saints deserve peace.

When the wicked cometh, then cometh also contempt, and with ignominy reproach. (Proverbs 18:3).

Cast out the scorners, and contention shall go out; yea, strife and reproach shall cease. (Proverbs 22:10).

He, that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy. (Proverbs 29:1).

Cannot force people

We can become obsessed with saving those who do not want to be saved. We are not to force people, dragging them endlessly kicking and screaming. At some point, we must leave it to God to deal with them without us. At some point, they have to receive the message alone. That's how it is for everyone. No one can do it for anyone else. We can only help by showing the way. Those of their own free choice who refuse to walk the path would ruin heaven anyway. They drag hell with them wherever they go. This is why Jesus said that after doing what one can, even within the church, one must finally treat the unwilling as outsiders. They are the spiritually dead, and nothing can be done for them. So concerning the heathen (unbeliever) and the publican (tax collector) who has rejected the first and great commandment and the second like it, after one has tried in all earnestness to reach him or her, one stops proselytizing while still continuing to exemplify. That is the best one can do. Then, the truth will separate the goats from the sheep. This seems severe, harsh, or strict, but it is just, which is love of truth and peace.

Now, having dealt sufficiently with the acceptability and even desirability, within given circumstances, of redundancy, let us turn again to the concept of ideology and false versus real liberalism and which of those we seek to fit.
False liberal ideology

When I say that I am not an ideological liberal here, I am using the terms "ideological" and "political" in broad terms. Most people commonly speak of politics as if it is something that can be split off from social, cultural, religious, economic, and other considerations. All of these terms are vague and only impart a general sense of the angle from which one approaches the totality of organization. I'm not going to defend the statement that they are vague terms here or go into exhaustive detail in explaining, because it is not necessary for the purposes of this work right now to do that. Suffice it to say that what I am not is what is meant by a "political liberal" as that term is used broadly and commonly within the current, generalized media. That meaning is the false meaning. Therefore, I am saying that I am not a false liberal. I am not pro-choice (for abortion). I am not pro-homosexuality. At the same time, I am not pro-coercion.

Secularism and separation of God (love) from the nation-state (the peoples' ordering)

The current ideology (system) most commonly understood as liberal today in America is secularism (state separated out from the real Church), while the true liberal and Christian position is that God (not false religions) can not be separated from any of the affairs of people. To have any place that is separated out from God is to fail to keep the great commandment to love God with our all. To separate any aspect of human organization from God is to have that aspect in a state of apostasy (far from God versus close). It invites disaster after disaster. If the whole government is derived by the consent of the people and the people accede to each other in a separation of their most collective organizational efforts (their central government) from God, then the central focal point of the organization of the people is a state in utter apostasy and denial that God is necessary to the proper organization of the people. Any such state will come to utter ruin, because God is the real spirit of unity and, therefore, the only way that will stand. The only organizational structure that will work is that structure that is summed up by virtue of the first and great commandment and the second like it. All things not of loving each other as Jesus loved his disciples will fall. This means that the way of both the conservative and false liberal will come to ruin. "That which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider." (Isaiah 52:15).

This has always been overlooked by those who are supposedly Christian and yet adamant advocates of the separation of church and state. They miss that what is needed is separation of selfishness from everything that is unselfish. The real Church is the real nation, the real state: Unselfish. Everything else is mired in falsehood. See this and think about it in silence until you get it. It is consistent with the first and great commandment and the second like it.

Of course this state of affairs (apostasy: separation of church and state) was given rise by the usurpation of righteousness by the unscrupulous who corrupted the church. That should not have given rise to burning the whole field, killing the real Church because of the weeds. It should have given rise to the reformation of the institutions of people properly to conform to the real Church that is grounded in the unassailable first and great commandment and the second like it. That still remains to be done. It is the prophecy, and the prophecy must and will be fulfilled. It is the real liberal end.

That real liberal end will come through real liberal means. There has to be separation of the unjust from the just. This is why the world is headed for tribulation. It is as a showdown. That which is illiberal will be purged. All must agree, but there are those who refuse and will continue to refuse. They will be purged leaving only those who agree.

False ecumenicalism, continued

The kingdom will not come via false liberals ending Christian evangelizing and proselytizing for the sake of ecumenicalism with non-believers. In that push for what they think is getting along or peace, they water down the message that is necessary to save souls. It all ends up in a false sense of peace that falls short. It is the opposite of the separation message of Jesus. They are trying to promote a togetherness of those things that cannot stand together. Jesus did not do that. He preached the opposite. Jesus did not preach ecumenicalism. He preached peace and salvation and deliverance through division of the unjust spirit from the just spirit. He raised the standard rather than lowering it for the sake of expediency or accommodation. He called upon us to be real liberals no matter the persecution we may be made to suffer for it. He called upon us to make real peace that does not come by flattering those not of the spirit but rather by calling all to the spirit.

The false liberal’s concept sees the path to heaven as lying in everyone just acting as if everyone else’s path is equally valid. It says to leave all others alone to believe whatever they believe no matter how astray, no matter how damaging or damning. This false liberal concept says do not spread the word of truth but rather respect all belief as equally worthy. Their concept leaves people lost. They do this, because they themselves are astray and lost, hence this work.

They overstepped in their reaction to the corruptions of the church or Rome and state. They should have stopped at no coercion. They should have stopped short of gagging real Christianity.

The kingdom will not come via false liberals ending Christian evangelizing and proselytizing. Neither will the kingdom come via humans exterminating humans. Those doing the purging themselves are offensive. They are trying to take heaven by force. Their conservative concept is mired in falsehood as is the false liberals’. God will put the real Church and state together as one unified body.

The only way the kingdom will come to individual and national souls is for people to pray for deliverance while at the same time being faithful.

And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them? I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth? (Luke 18:7-8).

Avenge: Not retaliation

It is important to know that "avenge" here means render justice unto, vindicate, save, and the like. The motive is not retaliation. That is the wrong connotation of what Jesus was saying. It is a major source of confusion in Christianity. The wrong connotation leads people astray into thinking that if God retaliates and we are to be godlike, then why not be retaliatory here and now as in why not make war. It is also important to know to have enough faith not to be violent, not to take vengeance into human hands. We must remember that people escape the plagues and tribulations by being worthy that is non-offensive that includes nonviolent. Turn the other cheek always and forever. Remember also that only the perfect can mete out the perfect including justice. Are you perfect enough to mete out perfect justice, which is the only real justice? We are to have faith in God's promise to come and do that: Render perfect justice. If we try to do it ourselves now, we will invariably err. We will harvest prematurely and not gather up the right souls.

Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to
The tribulations are not against the righteous. They are not to purge the righteous.

And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory. (Revelation 16:9).

Only persecution by humans against the righteous is the plague upon the righteous. God allows it for those who will endure, showing their faith. They will be saved on account of it.

Wrong reaction
In their reaction to the corruption of the church of Rome and the states under its control, the false liberals missed all of this. It went over their heads. The iniquities within the church gave rise to hardening of hearts in reaction. To ward off the excesses of the misguided church, the false liberals developed the hardhearted tradition called individual liberties that run head-long into the admonitions of God against depravity and willfulness. It harkened back to the willfulness and hardheartedness of Babylon and even Sodom. It is humanism heading in the direction of atheism and hell.
Real humanism

It is the failure to see that the softhearted message of Jesus is the fulfillment of humanism necessarily absent willfulness against God. That humanism of Jesus says that human beings by becoming one with God are valuable and are given capabilities through God and are worthy to have greater freedom out from under evil's oppression. That humanism of Jesus is the divine humanitarianism. It is right, because it gives all credit to God and then gives credit to human beings for coming to God.

Magnified libertinism

The false liberals sought to do away with what they saw as the obsessive control (coercion) of the church via its instrument the state. In doing so, they lost sight, if they ever had it, of the correct teaching that all must exercise self-control that is unselfishness. Stop perpetuating evil. Stop passing on evil. Have it stop with you. Be considerate of others as you would have them be considerate of you. Put yourself in their shoes. Rather than magnifying that truth, the false liberals magnified themselves. They sought to end the control of the church over them, and in so doing, they magnified their own brand of control over others by demanding coercive enforcement of their falsely perceived freedoms that are only their falling into the greatest of snares.

They haven't seen it that way. They have not seen that the least controlling person ever was Jesus. Jesus was the least willful is why. He asked us to control ourselves by giving ourselves over to God. It is no contradiction. Becoming one with God grants the greatest self-control. It is easy to see. "For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." (Matthew 11:30).

This touches heavily upon the ideological notions also of the conservatives, libertarians, and others. As stated elsewhere in this work, liberty does not mean license to iniquity, contrary to public perception even in ostensible churches. What is seen by so many as liberties cause direct harm to others. They set a false example that leads others astray. It is the spiritually blind leading the spiritually blind. Knowingly or negligently causing harm is not a state of true liberty or divine liberty.

Many emphasize false liberty through tolerance that is failure to speak to truth concerning what it takes for true justice and all the other faces of truths. Many emphasize multiculturalism that has taken on the recent meaning of enforced silence concerning the truth that human precepts and traditions run contrary to, seek to negate, the absolute truth of the first and great commandment and the second like it. They have developed their concept of political correctness that is headed in the direction of outlawing Christian evangelizing and proselytizing as being tantamount to hate speech or anti-cultural or somehow otherwise offensive to the ears of others and therefore to be rendered illegal. They even emphasize what they term "alternative sexual lifestyles" that negate the healing power.

He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. (John 12:40).

In their overreaction, they have left the misleading view that depravity that pollutes the body, mind, and soul is sanctioned. They fail to see the simultaneous admonitions not to throw stones (physically) but also to warn one’s fellow humans away from temptation and evil. Not throwing stones while at the same time warning (both of which Jesus did), negate authoritarianism and separation of God from how and why we organize ourselves collectively.

Protestant Reich Church

In 1933, Adolf Hitler formed the Protestant Reich Church. This supposed church was formed by merging twenty-nine regional churches together and further merging in Nazi ideology, including adoration of Hitler. Many Nazis saw themselves as the vanguard in the struggle against the forces of evil. The Protestants and Roman Catholics were also going to be merged as part of the unification process that Hitler saw as required for national and global salvation. It was all coerced of course.

Nazi ideology was not to love and only love our fellow human kind and hate only falsehood and bad fruit (evil deeds).

We can hate what people do, which they are, while we love them that is show them how all ought to be. We do this, because people can change. We can still hate the things that someone did, but we can accept someone back into the fold. We can accept them as changed from what they were when they did what we loathe. If not for this, none would be forgiven: Neither you nor I. We can hate the things people do and we can hate them while they are capable of doing them even while we still love them and even while they are not acceptable into the fold. We do this, because we are not the final arbiters of who will change and who will never change. We can love people even while we pray that they will be separated if they are going to remain unwilling to turn before the patience of the saints is exceeded. We can simultaneously pray that they will turn. We do this, because we pray for peace and we would always want a way home.

Theological Declaration of Barmen

In opposition to this merging human Nazi ideology with Christianity, Karl Barth wrote the Theological Declaration of Barmen 1934. Point number 5 of that declaration ends with the following:

We reject the false doctrine, as though the State, over and beyond its special commission, should and could become the single and totalitarian order of human life, thus fulfilling the Church's vocation as well.

We reject the false doctrine, as though the Church, over and beyond its special commission, should and could appropriate the characteristics, the tasks, and the dignity of the State, thus itself becoming an organ of the State.

Now, this is a reaction against Nazi usurpation of Christianity, but it is also a repudiation of walking with God fulltime in every aspect of life that necessarily includes every way in which we interact or organize. Rather than stating the error that is the quoted position above, it is correct to say that Nazi ideology is not in accord with walking fulltime with God and Jesus in the Holy Spirit and take it from there. It is an error to say that the state and church are not one and the same in heaven. They are. The wrong state and the wrong church can never be one. The right state and the right church already are one in heaven that is within. It must and will be made manifest without through the first and great commandment and the second like it to love only righteousness.

Compartmentalizing Christianity

Along with those who seek coercive control of everything fulltime from within their necessarily corrupt vision of the church and along with those who have sought to keep that false church’s vision from having the reins of the coercive power of the apostate state, there are those who twist the faith yet another way in that they dwell upon iniquity not from the standpoint of being rid of it but from the standpoint of wallowing in it, partaking of it. They think about their religion in isolation. Their doctrines are confused allowing for this. They then have God separated out from the non-religious portions of their lives. They engage in ungodly activities imagining that that is fine to do. They imagine that Christianity allows this. It does not. They are not in the spirit. They don’t believe that one is to strive to be in the spirit fulltime.

They fantasize and engage in unholy things ad nauseam seemingly without a clue as to the harm they are doing. When the iniquitous connections are pointed out to them, many claim liberty in Christ. They claim that they have been freed from the law and freed to do the things they are doing. They are confused about the interpretation of the writings attributed to Paul on this matter concerning grace and faith versus law.

Have they been freed from the first and great commandment and the second like it? No. Those are laws. Have they been freed not to take into account the harm their selfishness is doing to others? Do they really think that Jesus was wrong when Jesus said not to even think evil, lusting, selfish thoughts? "Whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart." (Matthew 5:28). Do they think that such admonitions were to apply to the spiritually inferior and that they are the spiritually superior? This most ignore.

Acknowledging the truth concerning Jesus's teachings on the subject implies that they would have to stop what they have been feeling, thinking, saying, and doing. They would have to change. They don’t want that however. It would spoil their false pleasure in sinful stimulation, etc. They just move on claiming that Christ has atoned for them and made them impervious to the effects of dwelling in iniquity for their personal pleasure. Well, why then did Jesus warn us all against dwelling in iniquity? It just brings them back to the same impasse.

Do they really believe that Jesus was wrong that iniquitous emotions such as violence, greed, sexual depravity, or pride coming from the heart negatively affect, defile, the very soul? Do they believe that Jesus did not pray not to fall into temptation? The Lord's Prayer is his. In it, he asked his Father not to lead into temptation. Why did Jesus stay up all night praying before they came to murder him?

We have all seen the results of wrong emotions and thoughts. We have seen the results in fighting and worse. The connections have always been there. It is inescapable. We cannot play in hell and live in heaven. We are to see hell leave the earth. It must leave each heart to do so. We cannot cling to any part of it; otherwise, that is where our hearts are: Hell. We treasure that which we cannot give up. What do you treasure? What can't you give up?

Antinomianism

Don't fall for "antinomianism," which is the term used for this error concerning liberty in Christ. Antinomianism is the extremely dangerous concept of liberty in Christ that some hold has freed them from all moral obligations. It is pure wickedness. They claim that they are saved through their faith in God and saved by the grace of God and Jesus's atonement regardless of any sins they knowingly and willfully commit even after being supposedly saved. It is false license and not real liberty. It stands as complete ignorance of the new commandment and the entire message of Jesus. There is no salvation in it. It leads to damnation. The law remains until all is fulfilled. When all is fulfilled is when the law is written on everyone's heart. When the law is written on everyone's heart, everyone will be acting in holiness. The law is the new commandment which forbids the sin of adultery for instance. Yet, antinomians will say they have liberty in Christ and, therefore, do not have to be Christlike that is holy. It is utter error.
The antinomians are to liberalism what the capitalist reconstructionists/dominionists are to conservatism. The former are villainous, the latter are churlish, and their villainy and churlishness actually meet. Both see themselves as the epitome of the church of Jesus. Both are the most dangerous of the apostates for their zeal in error.
Antinomianism is the result of taking sola gratia without works or deeds. It is to totally ignore Jesus's teaching to look at the results of the deeds to discern whether or not it is of the devil and the reason to reject sola gratia, sola fide, and sola scriptura.
They are impossible divisions of the house of God. Those solas come out of the minds and hearts of people who did not call for bringing forth the real abundance in common.
This is not to say that anyone can do perfunctory deeds and be, therefore, saved. Absolutely no one will do the new commandment without simultaneously having the faith and God's grace. Also, having the new commandment in one's heart will make the mouth speak from God to the extent of God's grace falling on that one and the simultaneous faith and deeds of that one. These are inseparable. They have never come alone and never will.

Paul, himself, backpedalled on sola fide.

Yes, everything is by God's grace. Our deeds and our faith are by God's grace.

Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. (John 12:39-40).

Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed. (Isaiah 6:10).

Understand that how one can tell if anyone is thusly fat or with heavy ears or shut eyes or not converted and not healed or not to be healed or saved is by the persons results. This is what Jesus taught. Where there are no worthy fruits there is no grace. Make grace by doing God's will. Make the tree good via good deeds from a softening heart. God will love it. This is no paradox. This is the way.

Soli Deo gloria and solus Christus though are correct. Jesus made that perfectly clear.
Emotions create mundane reality

Help deliver the children from evil by removing temptations. Do not tell children that they may indulge any emotions or engage in any thoughts, words, or deeds just so long as they will remember the difference between those on one hand and reality on the other. Emotions, thoughts, words, and deeds create mundane reality that can, and does, lead people astray or into the divine, the perfect that is not astray. They always have. Jesus taught that strong enough belief makes all things possible through God. He also taught that evil comes out of the hearts of people. Don't partake of, and don't dispense on any level in any form, anything that is not consistent with the single vision of godliness. Don't rationalize your involvement in dark behavior. If we all teach the children to dwell upon love and peace and that will be the harvest. Take care not to sow vengeance, materialism, seduction, or conceit into children's minds or their fruit will become evil and they may even turn on you. Teach them correctly. Exemplify.

People have to be brought to this knowledge. We are to be thoughtful of the impressionability of minds. We are to teach each other to do good always. We are to set a good example always. People who engaged in iniquity on any level did not retard heaven for Jesus. That is not the case for everyone else. Jesus had overcome. The rest of us are to learn that, teach it, and exemplify it.

Now people can go to great lengths to avoid giving up dark habits. Don't fall for misusing the Gospel message as if it condones doing anything wrong. It excuses real ignorance even though it will correct it, but it never condones wrongdoing. It never condones anything that will lead children or anyone else astray. Soften your heart so that you will not have to be anxious about your vigilance. The soft heart will have the new commandment written on it and will lead others to that. It will handle letting go of iniquitous habits more readily. It will not twist scripture to avoid giving up unwholesome, selfish habits and pastimes that prep minds to bend the knee to Satan.

As an example, imagine Jesus telling someone to stop leading children and others astray into habit-forming thoughts of violence and other iniquity only to have that person ask Jesus whether it is a stumbling block for Jesus and saying that if so, then he will stop. It is clinging to iniquitous behavior using misinterpreted scripture for justification. They have not brought, or cannot bring, themselves to stop, so they rationalize and contort the message.

Other people do it: The excuse

Again, there is nothing sacrosanct about cultures or lifestyles that run contrary to righteousness. People use what people do as justification for doing evil. Just because people do evil does not make it alright to do it. We should definitely not be engaged in conjuring up self-satisfying but incorrect reasons to continue in unproductive behavior (unproductive of the fruit of repentance). Just because people have had cultures of eating their children does not entitle them to such activities. They could of course rationalize cannibalism. Oh, they had the free will to eat their children; however, doing so was caving into utter depravity. It is allowing free will to slide into complete enslavement to sin. Just because people are led into the temptation to do something does not entitle them to such activities. It is the confusion of many adolescents. Many ostensible adults never outgrow such rationalizing. It is false entitlement. It is to apply the wrong connotation of freedom or liberty to the term "free will." One is free to fall, but that is enslavement to sin. The only real freedom is the freedom of righteousness that is still a light yoke of sorts. Righteousness is the work God has set out for us to do.

Doing evil just because they can

They say they do evil things because they can. They seek not to be controlled. However, they can do evil, because they cannot ward off temptation. They are controlled by the force of temptation. People can murder millions of others by blowing off huge nuclear bombs. Should they just because they can? Of course they shouldn't. They should not even have fallen to the temptation to make nuclear bombs. Mundane free choice must never be confused with what is necessarily right to do. It is sheer folly.

The occult

Much of this confusion comes out of what is called the occult. The current usage is a pejoration of the word "occult." Truly, everything Jesus knew that others did not know was occulted to them or hidden from them. That was, because they did not open up their eyes, ears, hearts (emotions), minds (reasoning), or souls to his message. There truly is truth right in front of everyone's face that most don't see at all and some see only partially at best but all will see completely provided they continue toward God through Christ.

Of course, few are chosen. Of course, most give up.

Willpower of self against God

However, the pejorated occult has developed as a foil to the scriptures. Those who have done the most to promote and complicate this movement have done so to avoid the implications of the scriptures for perfecting the soul to unselfishness. The main theme of the movement is "Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law." This is an expression from François Rabelais and used as a motto by the Satanist, Aleister Crowley. It runs contrary to the action of Jesus going to the cross. Jesus went as the will of God to atone, to among other things, prove the redeemability of, and loving capacity within, human kind. Crowley's notion is self-willed that is diametrically opposed to the kind and degree of love that is necessary for salvation.

Crowley's second commandment was "Love is the law, love under will." There are heavy overtones of Nietzsche here, as in Nietzsche's the Will to Power. Also, Crowley was interested in feeding his lusts, so love was for him very carnal. This theme of the willpower of self is seen throughout numerous philosophies and religions. It is humanism that is the connotation not to be confused with divine humanitarianism. There are overtones of it in Gnosticism which influenced Crowley. It is self-licensing. It is the distorted notion of liberty. It just cannot abide denying appetites. It is the devouring spirit.

Now it must be understood that Crowley was a rebellious spirit from the beginning and that he died a heroin addict. His parents were professed Christians. His father was a preacher. Crowley searched far and wide for religious and mystical literature, etc., all to build a hodgepodge of all that was not directly Christian. To accept Christianity would have implied that Aleister would have to turn from self-centeredness and become unselfish. He did not bring himself to the spirit of freely giving and sharing all through spiritual love and union with God.

Much of the movement that is referred to as occult fails to attribute or credit God. Many of the adherents of this movement just leave all power hanging in a void. This of course is a gross mistake. It leads nowhere. It beats all around the bush. It never arrives at the complete understanding of the first and great commandment and the second like it and the law and the prophets. It is all a distraction. It seeks to occult the truth of the message of Jesus.

Now, a mistaken, hardhearted, conservative reaction to this distortion of the notion of what is occulted is to seek mundane, punitive laws against it. However, only the law in each person's heart not to engage in evil activity, starting with emotions and thoughts, will work to enter the kingdom of heaven. That is the revelation. That will be when all are in the state of heaven. That will be when there is not separation from God at any time. The mistaken false liberal notion is to seek mundane, punitive laws against speaking out against the false occult. They would have such truth-telling be outlawed under hate speech for speaking against anything that does not actually support Crowley's very laws quoted above. It in effect is to outlaw Christianity and soul-saving speech. Again, "That which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider." (Isaiah 52:15).

The conservative methods mentioned above that seek coercive power for the church, the false liberal method above that seeks to separate God from state, the group that seeks to compartmentalize religion in their lives from the rest of their lives lived in iniquity, and the twisted notion of the occult all cannot see the full implications of the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. They are under mundane punishments and rewards that condition humans as lacking reasoning abilities.

Animals

Animals weren't endowed by God with our large cerebral cortex. Their conditioning is more immediate in time and space. It is necessarily more direct.
However, animals too teach each other new behaviors. They do exemplify what they discover as practical means to their survival ends. They also have emotions. They feel or sense threats and react more so instinctively. They feel love. They nurture. They grieve. They are also susceptible to mental disorders. They do not though step back to look at history. They do not stop the immediate conditioning process by overcoming temptations in light of the lessons of all history.

Conditioning

Humans, however, can choose different paths depending upon the patterns throughout history they see and even those they surmise or are given (revealed) from prehistory that is before the written record began. Humans may learn vicariously separated by thousands, even millions, of years. We can learn to see operant conditioning on the infinite scale. We can move beyond the immediate self-first motivation of rewards of mundane pleasures and punishments of mundane displeasures. We can overcome such conditioning by seeing and feeling vicariously through history and prehistory the truth that we are not first flesh and blood. We can deny ourselves. We can choose not to feed our fleshy appetites to excess that causes the utter destruction of our souls and does so much harm to everything on this plane of existence.

The time from A.D. 70 when the Herod temple was leveled until now is seen as a long time. That event was prophesied. That is why it stands out as an event that should be connected with its cause: Apostasy. The magnitude of the destruction of the whole country, also prophesied, and the fact that The Bible has such continuity add to why Jesus's prophetic statements stand out in history as critical conditioning lessons against selfishness. The destruction of the temple and nation of Israel is to be taken as conditioning events for us now. Many people discount Jesus's prophecy about the temple, etc., as a fluke or fake. If Jesus said it would happen, it was a lucky guess. Otherwise, it is a made up story that Jesus prophesied anything. Others think that even if he did truly prophesy it and that it was no lucky guess, God has been gone so long that God will not be back. Therefore, they imagine, they can be about doing whatever they choose.

However, all the wars and tribulations between A.D. 70 and now have also been conditioning events. They have all been warned against to one degree or another. They have all been punishing. However, for many, the negative gain of evil (war profits, etc.) that feeds into and temporarily satisfies lust outweighs the negatives of punishment. This reinforces that punishment is a proper method of conflict resolution, which it is not. It brings false profits. It is weak. It is shortsighted. Love is what is strong. It is the longest view. Love of truth leads to peace. Punishment leads to more punishment.

We must make the mental and spiritual connection between events and what we are supposed to be doing no matter how long ago those events were said to be direct consequences. All the evil events of the present are still consequences whether or not they were predicted. Most of the large evil events have been predicted. Many things are being predicted even now. Many warnings are rightly being phrased as if-then statements. Those who correctly predicted past events should be the ones being listened to now. We are not to ignore the warnings. We cannot approach events mindlessly and expect to be stimulated to righteousness. We must make conscious decisions to take the longest view possible right up to and including the infinite. We must choose God who asks us not to base our actions solely upon immediate rewards or punishments (as the animals do) but in patience and overcoming evil conditioning for wholly unselfish reasons.

Rather than focus upon the big picture, most humans focus upon the bits and pieces that are closest to them in time and space. They are conditioned by the immediate. It is so immediate that they don't make longer-term connections between their actions and cascading consequences. They do not recognize their lusts for what they are: Selfishness. If they do recognize it, many still don't make the longer-term connection with damnation.

Short-attention span: Short-term, false gain

Rather than focus upon the big picture, they feed their lusts. They obtain their selfish reward whether it is gaining what they have arbitrarily defined as pleasure or reducing what they have arbitrarily defined as displeasure. Many people do not allow themselves very often to have enough attention span to consider more than the next few moments in this regard. Others, when they consider a longer term do it still with short-term and instant gratification in mind. They seek longer term to set themselves up so they may obtain more short-term personal, selfish gratification. It is all attention deficit disorder. The whole of humanity is and has been suffering from attention deficit or a short-attention span.

Think about all that you have worked for or are working for or toward. Has it been and is it for your personal, selfish gratification? Will you say that it has been for your family? Who's your family? Is it the family in the Holy Spirit? If it has been for the sake of all others, you are a rare and wise individual indeed. Very few look beyond to what is truly best.

The big picture: The infinite

Those who do look beyond to what is truly best, look at the longest term (the infinite). They are seeking the truth of what is best and can become free of enslavement to the immediate. They can be freed from arbitrary, pejorated definitions of pleasure and displeasure. They can learn that real pleasure comes from righteousness: Unselfishness all the way around. It is not what satisfies selfish temptations or base lusts running rampant. They can overcome the vicious cycle of evil by seeing the light. We can rise above being laboratory mice. We can choose righteousness without waiting to experience firsthand all the negative consequences of falling into the snare of selfishness. We can choose to respond to the rational appeal of the message of Jesus. We can be reasoned with. Jesus gave us the reasons for choosing righteousness. We do not need to wallow in the mire. Meaning we don't have to be as pigs trapped in a sty. We can be cleaned of all the filth and remain clean. We do not need to be as dogs returning to their vomit. Meaning, once we are purged, we can stay free of the emotions of evil if we will but believe it.

But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire. (2 Peter 2:22).

We don't need to stare at all our past iniquities once we have repented. It doesn't mean ignore our past sins before we have apologized. It means letting go after we have apologized and have made amends or begun to make amends that turn into doing the new commandment from then on. We can learn to see the big picture and the long-term.

If we remain stuck with short-attention spans and are, therefore, stuck being conditioned only by the immediate, we will fail to see God's longer-term actions.

I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry like a travailing woman; I will destroy and devour at once. (Isaiah 42:14).
After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. (Matthew 25:19).

Then began he to speak to the people this parable; A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time. (Luke 20:9).

We can be taught with words and by seeing the eternal good from the short-term and counterproductive in what people are doing; we can be taught the hard way through personal, first-hand experience only; or we can fail to learn or choose righteousness at all, which is eternal damnation.

Divine logic

The longest and largest view is required. It is from that basis that the shortest and smallest may be seen in true consistency. Starting only from the other end (specifics) takes one down numerous false, inconsistent paths. This is why the greatest commandments inform us of all the lesser but equally true commandments, whereas there are many false lesser commandments of the traditionalists that obviously do not lead one to the greatest commandments except for how Jesus exposed the hypocrisy of the traditionalists' intensions. They were misled and misleading others. He exposed their double standards.

We discussed abstract reasoning earlier in the work. Use that thinking here, because what evil thinks is abstract is of course real.
One must go from specifics to the general and back to the specifics, from the particulars to the whole and back to the particulars, to see whether one has the full circle of consistency in understanding. When one approaches everything from both perspectives at the same time and arrives at consistency, one is close to the infinite, close to the kingdom. Then, remaining focused upon the greatest rule informs us of the best behavior moment-to-moment and forever. This is the divine logic.

The real-liberal plan is the meaning of life: Love

Now, the verses above about God holding his peace for a long time shows us that causal events can span a long time in human terms. The cause of all started in the beginning. If we open our hearts, we can move beyond. In the final analysis, one either sees this and adheres to righteousness or one does not. That is the meaning of life. It is the point of existence. One must be close, devoted, and carry out the good and liberal plan without deviation. One must have a very long-term, even infinite, view. The path of Jesus requires that we grasp this. This requirement separates out the hardhearted from the softhearted. Salvation lies in this requirement. Deliverance from evil lies in this requirement. Souls will be, and are, ranked on this standard. Those who can endure will be freed of those who are eternally evil or eternally recidivistic (backsliders).

It is a good thing that God's house has many mansions so that the repentant that will revert (disbelieve after believing) will never enter the heaven of those who will not revert.

In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. (John 14:2).

Heaven is a place where the worthy have merited not being subjected to those who revert back to sin. One way in which the worthy are identifiable is by their not needing constant, immediate conditioning of behavior but rather by their having gotten the point and not then backsliding for lack of constant reminding. They are retentive. It does not mean that they never need reminding, although that would be perfect. They then practice denying themselves so that they may rise above temptation. They are no longer as lesser animals. They actually treat those animals better.

Overcoming operant conditioning of sin

B. F. Skinner

This is not to say that one should not utilize the observations of B. F. Skinner (1904-1990) who described operant conditioning. For those unfamiliar with the concept, one may think of training an animal by rewarding desired behaviors and withholding rewards for undesirable behaviors.

The spirit though transcends nature, nurture, genetics, and environment in terms of the limited scientific definitions of those terms. In other words, humans who receive the spirit can overcome the operant conditioning that Paul called the "pleasures of sin." The short- and long-term consequences of sin are seen. The desire for unselfish results is heightened above the desire for short-term selfish pleasures or relief. In other words, the Holy Spirit of truth reveals the short- and long-term snares of evil.

It fortifies the soul to resist temptation to do anything offensive in God's eyes.

Henry David Thoreau

It must be said that Skinner, to his credit, was against punishment and coercion. Following Henry David Thoreau (1817-1862) of Walden Pond fame, Skinner was for cooperation versus competition and for controlling consumption. These tenets are original Christian tenets and tenets that were slowly revealed to the prophets to whom the word of God came. Skinner though did not credit the Holy Spirit or Jesus for having revealed them to the world. That does not go to Skinner's credit.

There is much semantical narrowness in the language of Skinner's radical behaviorism and in the ardent negative criticisms of it. Skinner discounted the spirit. His was exclusively a material existence. The terminology on both sides is not universally understood. The complete meaning of terms within the fullest context of Skinner and his critics is not comprehended on either side. They were speaking at cross-purposes. Neither Skinner nor his major critics spoke or speak from the revelation. They speak from one side or the other of each perceived dichotomy. They do not realize how to see the spirit answering the questions inherent within such false dichotomous language.

False determinism: Mundane, matter only

A prime example of this concerns determinism. This position is that everything is a consequence that cannot be controlled by human will. On the mundane level, this is true. However, there is that which transcends the mundane. The will of God can change consequences, such as even death. The mundane consequences are designed into the system of existence, but we can choose to receive the spirit that is beyond boundaries. We can be transformed on a higher level. Now, at the same time, that newly known higher level then becomes part of the understood environment. That is how the revelation informs the language. Then, when one speaks of environment, which level is one speaking on, the mundane or the divine? This is how heaven moves in to displace hell on earth. This is how heaven undoes the pejoration of hell on earth. This is how the language is elevated and minds, hearts, and souls with it. One thinks of the environment of heaven.

The boundaries of the mundane expand, or the spirit comes into the mundane. Both are correct. However, what is generally held as mundane as of this writing is not of the spirit. Humanity has not yet reached conflation. Heaven and earth are still separate. Earth is still under the active stewardship of devils by definition. Their spirit is manifest in them, as shown through their selfish, limiting actions. Those devils are still in competition against the cooperative spirit of real angels of light.

This approach (transcendency) clears up so many things seen as dichotomies and paradoxes. It allows for real common ground among once seemingly disparate views, as shown above for example by its fulfillment of humanist aspirations but with God. It is inherent within the law and the prophets as hanging upon the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. It reconciles everything in the end. It is part of the means to overcoming. We do not need to defend turf (intellectual, academic, or otherwise) for instance, since the transcendent spirit informs us that all is the commons. All is the inheritance of all who will share it and not abuse it that is not use it selfishly.

We must do what is right no matter what, no matter the seeming immediate consequences. The immediate consequence of Jesus's willingly going to the cross was his death, yet he overcame even death through that which transcends all: God. Was this predetermined? Did Jesus have a choice? It is semantical. The answers are both yes and no depending upon the connotations of the words being used, depending upon the language that is being spoken (mundane or divine as of this writing), as has been shown elsewhere in this work.

Now, as we've said, heaven and earth conflate. Earth is transformed or born again in the spirit. Death is vanquished. The elect are everyone at the time. There is no separation. All are one. Unity reigns.
Real Church and real state, continued

Earlier, we explained that because the church of Rome was taken over by the Roman Empire, that church never brought forth. It went way down the wrong path of coercion. It became an instrument for terror and iniquity. The reaction was not to put the church and state as one on the straight and narrow. It was to conclude that religion was dangerous and could not be allowed to govern the people.

Not Pandora's Box

For many though, a lack of separation of God and state would open Pandora's Box. Alarm bells go off due to the negative association people have between strong belief and cruel and unusual punishments. It was not always so.

Wrong, not strong, belief led to cruel punishments. Right belief, real Christianity, real liberalism, leads away from punishment and sin. The negative connotations of theocracy spring to mind for those raised under the political-socialization process of America's false liberalism, also called the Enlightenment.

Free inquiry

Since the Enlightenment is seen as a period of free inquiry, we must state categorically that we are not saying that free inquiry should be curtailed, per se. In fact, in the final analysis, the result of real free inquiry is the truth that heaven cannot be forced upon those who reject it. We cannot force censorship upon others. It is a matter of each household. In whose household are you dwelling? One cannot live in God's household while partaking of what is in Satan's. What things pose temptation or pollute the mind simply by inquiring into them? There are such things.

Taboo

We can censor in our own houses for our children's sake. If they love the truth, they won't rebel. It isn't easy with all the temptations surrounding them in the general culture. What is known as taboo to them becomes that much tempting to them. What must happen, therefore, is for the spirit of the entire worldwide culture to change away from posing temptations. As most people are aware, children don't rebel until the serpent of temptation comes their way and they fall to it. Censorship is to keep the serpent, that temptation, away so the children will not fall and go astray becoming lost souls. They become spiritually dead dragging hell with them into the house. The house where the parents are wishing for the peace of heaven is divided and will not stand with both divergent and incompatible spirits within.

Cannot mundanely legislate morality

We cannot, however, mundanely legislate morality for the whole of society, because force is offense. Once evil is in the heart, the only way to exorcize it is through freely chosen, unforced faith. Therefore, we can only appeal to people's consciences. Humanity must be unanimous and stay that way for heaven completely to come to earth.
Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican.

(Matthew 18:15-17).

That is as much as one may do. It is to appeal. It is not to force. The trespasser is mundanely free to choose right or wrong. He or she may choose to repent and stay or reject and be an outsider (not a real member of the house). What else can be done with one who will not turn under such circumstances? We can't punish or force him. Where is the justification for doing that in Christianity? How can it be justified in light of the first and great commandment and the second like it, upon which all the laws hang? It can't. The unbeliever (the unrepentant trespasser) is simply not a member of the church. That person has not joined or has removed him or herself from the community of believers. No one did it or does it to him or her. Membership in the house of real peace (truth) is not seen by the tempted as being of sufficient value to induce him or her to turn from facilitating iniquity. He or she is lost and is unwilling to be found. There is nothing that can be done for that soul beyond what Jesus said.
Of course Jesus said to pray for the sinners. Nevertheless, we are to love and do good unto him or her. We are not to throw people out into the cold, naked and starving. We give them no stones for bread or serpents for fish. For the sake of the peace of the house, however, hellions leave when of age to be welcomed back when repentant. We are to trust that as more and more people exemplify, more and more people will turn and repent returning to the fold. That is what so many before us gave their lives to maintain and promote. It is why we still have the lessons.

Family microcosm of the whole; Whole macrocosm of the family

If no one within your house is willing to bear witness to that house when you speak the truth unto universal repentance, they are not of the house of the God of Jesus Christ. They lack the love necessary to overcome their selfish reasons not to bear witness for the sake of righteousness: To save the souls within the house. The peace of the Lord is not within. They don’t really love God or Jesus or you and have forsaken all in fear. They have missed the different connotations of love, hate, and forgiveness within the revelation. They have not understood that it is better to love chastisement from the Lord than the comfort of selfishness for a season. They are not your spiritual family and will not be until they turn. They have made of themselves the family of heathens. How may they escape damnation? They must, as must we all, repent or pay the last farthing in the hereafter or both.
Root cause

Let's look at this. Every one of the particulars may not apply to you, but bear with this to see what may be gained. For better or worse, each person is born into unique circumstances. Things go wrong in every life. Things can go horrendously wrong. Also, things go horrendously wrong at the various levels of society and the world at large. We have seen this historically. We have seen it recently with imperialism, exploitation, oppression, covert wars, threats, violent rebellions, tortures, secret imprisonments, invasions, famines, earthquakes, hurricanes, plagues, and all manner of evils. We see it as coveting and conniving for inheritances, physical abuse, adultery, incest, rape, and all manner of sexual abuse, and property destruction, etc. Delving into the root cause for all of this negativity, one is lead to the conclusion that selfishness is that root.

Now turning back to the immediate family, one sees all the causes of selfishness handed down generation to generation. The causes are the results. The results cause more of the same. Without overwhelming countervailing messages and actions, selfishness engenders selfishness. It breeds more of itself. One sees this within oneself, within one's immediate and extended genetic family, within all the various levels of society, and within the whole mundane universe of human existence. One realizes that one's own selfishness has contributed to this overall counter-productive causal chain. This realization leads to feelings of remorse, etc., in the naturally goodhearted.
One wishes to share this knowledge with all starting with those with whom one has lived most closely. However, for it to have the beneficial, healing, and saving result it ought to have, others must be open to the truth of it all. They must be receptive. They must be willing to look at their hand in contributing to the overall counter-productivity of selfishness. They must come to see the causal chain operating within each soul, each family, each nation, all the levels of society, and in the world as a whole. That process will reverse the flow of cause and effect from negative to positive.

Baulking at universal repentance ruins

The problem arises when anyone baulks. This is when one has a selfish reaction. That reaction stops the reversal. It is shortsighted. It is not overcoming. It is the continuation or facilitation of the flow of the negative (radical evil; the essence of evil). It is remaining dead of the spirit of the positive (real goodness).

Families divide into new families

It is at this point that genetic family members have no choice but to go separate ways. This is why Jesus said one must forsake all such family members and even hate one's own life (one's history of selfishness). It is up to those family members and town members, etc., to turn. This line divides the saved from the damned.

The saved become understood as being one family in the Holy Spirit of unselfishness. They are the living, the found, the enlightened, the elect, and the like. The damned is the other family in the spirit of selfishness. They are dead of the Holy Spirit, lost, blind, and forsaken. They have done that to themselves. They have made their free choice to baulk. It remains a kind of ignorance, but without excuse.

Real family, real Church, real nation, real state

You see, the real family and the real Church are one and the same. The real nation and the real Church are one and the same. As said, the real Church and real state are one. They always have been and always will be. Everything else is of the satanic mind.

Real free inquiry leads to self-censorship. Nobody is forced under the real Church but has the choice to be a member in the living spirit of truth or remain dead of that spirit. There is no Pandora's Box concerning the conflation of God and state, heaven and earth. It is not connected with but stands against the thoroughly disdainful totalitarianism of the conservative, fascist, capitalist, and Bolshevik, Communist police states, the infamous inquisitions, and the persecutions by the false church, among other evils. These connections must be purged by the truth of God's kingdom. Belief in God did not bring fascism, Bolshevism, inquisitions, or any persecutions. All of those things came from the liar and not from God.

Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. (John 8:44).

It must be extremely clear now that, despite the fact that I have said that there is no such thing as an ideological conservative Christian, I am not a "politically ideological liberal" in the commonly understood sense of the term.

Real liberal, real liberty

The ancient meaning of the word "liberal" means freely generous, merciful, and non-licentious. Real liberty means God frees us (saves us) from the domination of lust and pride that otherwise control our lives and souls.

Liberty does not mean that we are free to indulge lust just because Jesus takes away all sins. Liberty seen as the freedom to indulge is confused with free choice. Liberty and free choice here are not the same thing. The real liberty is the divine meaning, which is the meaning in The Bible. The other liberty that has been so often confused with it, or assigned to it, is the mundane or heathen liberty. This is where real liberalism and false liberalism are divided. This is where unselfishness and selfishness are divided. The idea that it is liberalism that people can defile themselves and then claim that they were given liberty to do so through Jesus is heading in the direction of those Gnostics who saw it as their duty to defile the gross flesh with disgusting sexual perversions, etc. Jesus never meant anything of the kind.
Everything Jesus taught was that what one does in the flesh affects one's soul and determines one's spirit of choice. The kingdom is within. The soul is manifest as spirit in the vessel that is the flesh body. The soul is more than the vessel, but the soul is corrupted by the uncontrolled lust of the flesh and eye and pride of this life. Jesus did not give out blank licenses for his followers to feel free to cavort in iniquity. He made it very clear that we are not to do that. We are not to even think about it and rightly so. We are in a very real sense what we fantasize about. Is your mind on God and heavenly things or the devil and hellish things? Which are you? Which gate is open to you, and which gate do you keep locked? Which way are righteousness and evil flowing concerning your soul?

No mundanely legislated, coercive, morality police

Priesthood and sovereignty of all believers (universal, royal priesthood) forever

With all of this in mind, there then is no need for any mundanely legislated morality police. In true Christianity, there are no human, flesh-and-blood morality police who inflict punishment upon sinners. No one throws stones. No one crucifies anyone. All warn and rebuke for righteousness' sake until all is fulfilled when the law is written on every heart. All then adhere. Also remember, in true Christianity, there is the priesthood and sovereignty of all believers (universal, royal priesthood) forever.
And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel. (Exodus 19:6).

For thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God: the LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth. (Deuteronomy 7:6).

But ye shall be named the Priests of the LORD: men shall call you the Ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast [change] yourselves. (Isaiah 61:6).

And I will also take of them for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD. (Isaiah 66:21).

It spread to the Gentiles, as the prophecy said it would, and to all believers in the spirit, as Jesus said it would.

Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (1 Peter 2:5).

But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. (1 Peter 2:9).

And I will also take of them for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD. (Isaiah 66:21).

And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. (Revelation 1:6).

It means that upon whom the Holy Spirit descends, there is a direct, personal relationship with God our Father. The Holy Spirit speaks to that person, and that person’s prayers are heard and answered, although it is not confined to what the common person of today would consider overwhelming miraculous results. The way that the Holy Spirit communicates varies. It comes as conviction of conscience. It comes as small and large signs even when they are not asked for but come nevertheless in reassuring and terrifying ways. It comes as the wind, as Jesus said, moving people to take this or that action for the sake of righteousness. It comes as the light both literally and figuratively.

This universal, royal priesthood is no mere traditional doctrine of man. This is a precept of Almighty God. Via this monarchy of the righteous and peaceful and the priesthood of all those true believers (universal, royal priesthood), each strives with every bit of him or herself to live up to the divine standard exemplified by our spiritual teacher (master), father, brother, son, beloved friend, and servant, Jesus. It is through this awakening that mundane coercive morality policing is seen as counterproductive and offensive.
Coming out of nowhere mystifying the powers that be

To clarify, the universality of the royal priesthood within the real Church is not to say that there are not better witnesses than others in speaking or doing works, or both, or that those people who do, are not to be perceived as such in our eyes. It is to say that there is no hierarchical human authority that can preclude anyone from being one of the rising witnesses. This is how Jesus to the Pharisees seemingly came out of nowhere. He was not raised up through their traditional hierarchical process at all. That fact should be enough for anyone to realize that only the Holy Spirit moving people determines such things. Humans ought to perceive it. They ought not to seek to repress it, as the scribes, Pharisees, and Sadducees tried to do concerning Jesus, our prime example. Jesus was not ordained by the temple priests to be the high priest and king. Jesus was both of those nevertheless. We know it by the prophecy of earlier scripture and his words and deeds that matched. It is for these reasons that those who emphasize hierarchical, traditional, orthodox authority over the movement of the Holy Spirit don't see the light. They are in the dark.

Raising the bottom

We are to lift up those whom the Holy Spirit moves no matter who they are or what their station in life. As those on the bottom come up in this way, all benefit. It is a win-win path without being a deal for a deal (without recompense as any part of the motivation). This is the real liberal way. The traditional way is the conservative and false liberal way.

Haves and the have-nots, continued

This is one of the general tenets of this work. We are to feed the lambs and sheep, because, among other reasons, raising those at the bottom raises all. The haves freely giving to, and sharing with, the have-nots until there are no have-nots, helps to purge selfishness. Even in the US today, there are tens of millions of souls living in poverty while there are so many billionaires. How can they sleep at night?

Raising the bottom is not to be done to the exclusion of helping any in need on any level. There are very rich people who are completely suffering, lost, and needing to be reached with real meaning. Of course, calling upon the rich to help people help yet others is a sure way to save the rich if they will heed the call. It is also not to be done to the exclusion of what is right for the health of the planet. With the exception of miracles such as the feeding of the five thousand, it is through the usual food supplied from the planet that God feeds the body. At this point, if we let bodies die before reaching souls, what good is it. Therefore, the planet must be made whole at the same time we are feeding lambs and sheep in both body and soul. These things are what this whole message is about. It is reaching out doing what is right and will save all and the world. It is the real liberal message of confidence and trust.
Traditional hierarchy

Those who are now at the traditional hierarchical top who seek to retain power even though it means working to suppress the Holy Spirit obviously harm themselves and others in the process. They do not facilitate the great and sweeping movement of the Holy Spirit of truth through humanity. They rather facilitate the falsehoods that are human traditions that have not been overcome since the Pharisees even in the greatest self-styled churches today.

It does not mean that every traditionally ordained member of the clergy is evil. Every such clergy member must simply compare the fruits of Jesus against the fruits of that clergy member’s church. The ordained clergy member of the traditional, ostensible churches who holds to false traditions that have stood in the way of bringing forth the fruits, just as did so many of the scribes and Pharisees, will go the way of those scribes and Pharisees. How else can it be and still be just?

Real ordination

Clearly, the universal, royal priesthood is not of the traditional hierarchical institutions. Plainly, the priests and priestesses of the church of the universal, royal priesthood forever are ordained by the Holy Spirit. No human hierarchical institution is authorized by God to withhold that ordination. Such traditional hierarchical institutions have come to authorizing themselves through their imaginations. The members of the one and only real Church know whether an ordination is real or not by virtue of the person's words and deeds. The words and deeds coming out of the human-traditions based institutions have not brought forth giving and sharing all. They do not strive for it. Hence, they are not on the narrow way, for being one necessitates such sharing and being one is the commandment of Jesus.

Does it mean that the members of the real Church cannot choose whom to follow? No. It simply means that the words and deeds to match that work to bring forth the teaching and feeding of the lambs and sheep in body and soul through giving and sharing all is how the members are known to one another. Those who speak and do the most effectively to bring forth are the ones the members will of course choose to follow. It means that those within the traditional hierarchical churches who have not been bringing forth through giving and sharing all should not be followed and should not be claiming that they are the ones to be choosing the shepherds of the flock.

On the order of Melchizedek

The universal, royal priesthood is both temporal and eternal. It is on the order of Melchizedek, who was the temporal high priest and king of Salem. He was also the high priest and king of Salem forever (beyond temporal): A Christ-type. In this way God and state, priest and king, from first to last (all encompassing), now and hereafter is all to be one: Never in a state of separation. It is to be the actual state here while also being the transcendent, spiritual state. All conflates in righteousness that is unselfishness. It becomes one. All else is separated out and kept away forever.
Salem was the name of Jerusalem at the time of Melchizedek. Salem means peace. Jerusalem means teaching peace. It is often Zion. It is both a physical place and a spiritual or higher figurative place. His name, Melchizedek, means my king is just or righteous. His king is the LORD, Yahveh Elohim, El Elyon (God Most High). El connotes or suggests the Almighty. Melchizedek is a king and high priest of peace forever. His God was El Elyon, as was Abraham's. He is still a high priest and king of peace, because he has eternal life in the spirit with Jesus. As with Simeon who knew he would behold the Messiah before he, Simeon, would pass from the earth, the Holy Spirit was upon Melchizedek. He was spirit incarnate. The Dead Sea Scroll 11Q13, known as The Coming of Melchizedek, speaks of Melchizedek as God as Jesus is spoken of as God on earth. They are souls manifest in the same spirit. Melchizedek is a foreshadowing and yet more. His was an office. His name was his office and was in praise of God who sent him: King of Righteousness. It is the same for Jesus: God Saves. Within the revelation, it all points to the unity of love that is sharing all in all. Jesus too was, and still is, and always will be, the high priest and king of peace and righteousness. Does it mean that Melchizedek and Jesus are one and the same? They are to the extent that they share all through God our Father, the Father of both and all. That is how it is for every one of us. That's the message of Jesus. That is the nature of the unity of real love. It does not mean that Melchizedek and Jesus are not able to be known as the individual souls that they were and are. This is no paradox. Reconcile it, and you will be closer to the kingdom.
Archangel Michael

How does the archangel Michael fit into this? Michael is Melchizedek in the Dead Sea Scrolls. There are those who insist that Jesus and Michael cannot be one and the same. However, the same truths apply to all of God's living beings. There are those who take great pains to cite scripture to deny the prophetic connection between Michael and Jesus, but in truth, none of their interpretations withstand the divine meanings of the passages under the revelation of Jesus Christ. These traditionalists are struggling to withhold the figurative but no less absolute truths. They are focused upon that which retards the interconnectedness (unity) of which Jesus taught and exemplified and for which he suffered and died. They are not softhearted enough and are withholding the spirit of sharing all for selfish reasons (subconsciously but now consciously). "Michael" means "who is like God." It can be taken as both a question and a statement. Now, this does not mean that Jesus was not and is not before Michael. Jesus is the Messiah even though he will share absolutely all with us. Again, reconcile it.

Believe in the meaning of his name

The name Jesus is the English for the Greek transliterated as Iesous or Jesus, there being no "J" in Greek. Iesus is Yesu in Aramaic or Yeshua in the current Hebrew (variant transliterated Hebrew spellings thereof being Yehoshua or Yahoshua). As mentioned earlier in this work, Jesus's name means Yeh or Yab saves or is salvation. Yeh or Yab is a contraction of the idea expressed in the name which God used for himself when addressing Moses at the burning bush in Moses's tongue for his comprehension and enlightenment, transliterated as \textit{Ehyeh Asher Ehyeh} and translated into English as "I Am that I Am" or "I Will Be what I Will Be" or "I Am who I Will Be" connoting God's manifestations as God wills. This is both practical and mystical at the same time. There are those who argue one way or the other but not both. Their understanding is limited. They miss the lesson of emotional connectedness handed down in all the shapes of the letter characters and the stories behind them and how they are combined and represent and are the very sounds and concepts and actions and emanations much of which have been lost in their original context but nevertheless are edifying via emotional appreciation, which brings it alive again not going backwards but into the greater revelation taking us home as corrected to stay. "Hallowed be thy name" means understanding the sacred power of the living being who is before all things: First and last and always, changing and unchanging, and indwelling and out dwelling. It means that, that living being and greatest spirit alone holds the power of salvation. It means all that is implied in what Jesus did and said, because all of that was consistent with the power and the glory. God will manifest God in whomever or however God decides. Who is to argue with that? It is also consistent with the concept that we may become one with God as Jesus beckons us to be one. This is also inherent in the Nazarite vow since it means one says of oneself "I will" separate myself from human certain handiwork, distractions, contrivances, and weaknesses of the flesh particularly death so I may become close to God in thought, word, and deed, etc.

The child within

Now, there are those who are too standoffish about this. They approach God as men and women. However, we are to approach God as little children. Do you imagine that God pushes little children away? Jesus said that the angels of little children always face God in heaven. They do not have to be ashamed. We as the forgiven and humbled, the repenting and atoning, are allowed to reestablish that relationship with God as our child within. We must leave behind any notions of superior intellect and the like and enter God’s presence as little children approaching our Father from whom we sprang. We are to be reunited. We are to be as one family sharing the one spirit. This is what the traditional, hierarchical, self-authorized seek to keep from the people. It would ruin their positions.

The Hebrews capitalized the name of God as YHV/H. They did this out of fear that is respect. They deliberately left out the vowels, because the name of God was, and still is, understood as ineffable or incapable of being expressed by humans without being profaned. It means that to the ancient Hebrews, human beings were not worthy to speak the name of God. The tradition is that the comprehension of human kind and the gross, sinning nature of humanity render humanity that far beneath God. It was a kind of arrogance of mind to presume to speak the. name of God. In fact, there is Jewish tradition that the entire Torah, the first five books of The Bible, is one word without spaces and that the whole thing constitutes the name of God, since the understanding of God's nature can only begin to be gained by comprehending the entirety of the books of Moses at once. The name, the word, more than alludes to all the majesty of God. The power of God is actually contained within the name or word in this way of thinking.

Not speaking the name of God is also a precautionary measure for those who would make the grave error of attempting to usurp God's place. This is, because speaking the name has power and the name is "I Am that I Am." One could become confused into thinking that one is God, the only God and that there is no other God but oneself un-united with any other. Under this thinking, Jesus would not have been God, the Holy Spirit would not have been God, and God our Father would not have been God our Father. Under this thinking, one who is not of the inclusive spirit put forth by Jesus comes to imagine himself, alone, as God. It is the ultimate attempt at usurpation. It is the height of egotism, arrogance, confusion, and selfishness. It is the opposite of repentance and atonement (at-one-ment; to be reconciled with God, harmonized with God and together by making amends, changing one's doings to Godly). Therefore, one is forewarned against falling into such delusional notions. The Antichrist will fall for this temptation and, of course, ultimately fail.
The point here is that there is standoffishness that is seen as reverence versus humility and returning that is not standoffish but still reverential. It is that latter way that is right. It is as the Prodigal Son returning home. He comes home humbled and contrite, but his father doesn't want him to walk around with his chin down once he has been joyously welcomed back. He wants to lift his son up in the spirit. It is as Joseph and Jacob weeping on each other's necks.

Now, there is a place for each of us to say "I Will Be what I Will Be" that is we will be at one with God. This is a good thing. It is not usurping. It is expressing the desire to become as close to God as possible. It is more than lip service when it is understood within the context of Jesus's full teaching especially his words concerning unity and being at one in the Gospel of John through self-sacrificial love. We will be what we will be in this sense when we adhere to the first and great commandment and the second like it. There is a place for each of us to say, "I Am what I Am" that is "I am my results." We come closer to God and God's kingdom as we make our fruit good. It is also to say that those who cannot eat of the real bread will not deny us eating it ourselves. It is overcoming the lies of the hypocrites.

If they won't turn

The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. (Matthew 13:41-43).

Well, if they won't turn and God knows it.... The righteous who will then "shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father" are those who will have made their fruit good. They are those who will have taught and done the feeding of the lambs and sheep.

That we say we are known by our fruit, as God is known by God's, is a way of removing the distinction between God and ourselves once we start bringing forth good fruit as God does. We are and will be our fruit. If our fruit becomes only good because we do what will cause God to prune away all the evil spirit within that has brought forth evil fruit, we will become one with God just as Jesus said. "Every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit." (John 15:2). So, as we bring forth good fruit in earnest and stay at it, God will continually improve us (clean us) so that we may bring forth even more good fruit. We won't retain the bounty to ourselves. We will share it. That's the nature of good works. This is the nature of being truly bountiful. It is the opposite of selfish hoarding. It is why Jesus could fill five thousand men plus women and children on five loaves and two fishes while carrying nothing with him and having no house or even bed. That's how good he was. How does that compare in your mind with the multi-billionaire capitalists?

If we confuse going home with arrogance and are, therefore, too standoffish to do it, we won't do it. If we don't understand that the name of God is what God does and who God is as Jesus showed us, we won't get it. We will miss what true righteousness is.

People appreciate Jesus's name on what is called a mystical level. At the same time, one may comprehend it logically. These are not mutually exclusive. Jesus is the word. The word is truth and light and love and peace and the rest. We are to believe his name, the meaning of his name, the power behind the meaning of his name, the actualization of his name, etc. He is the tangible manifestation of his name and the word. The word came into this plane of existence, this plane of consciousness, to be physically sensed by all even if all couldn't make the connection concerning the transcendent nature of what they were sensing. The mind must just open up to receive it. The mind must become compassionate enough, unselfish enough, to receive it. In this way, the word "love" is the same thing as the five books of Moses. The story is a story of love. It is an act of love that God removes the bad branches of the iniquitous who have been told in no uncertain terms to turn and do turn. It is mercy shown to those who chose the direction of righteous. Add to it the rest of the prophetic unfolding right up to the present, and one has the whole meaning of the word "love" as shown to us by God to date. Consequently, the spirit of the great commandment also is the word or name of God. The whole revelation speaks of itself, while the evil feel its power but cannot speak its language. They can only quote it without having it written in their hearts, which is required for fluent communication.

It is justice that evil, hating truth, destroys itself. Its own corruption (rottenness) renders it withered and dead and fit for the proverbial fire. It is not evil to slash and burn disease. It is evil not to leave it to God though when it concerns human souls, because humans are not capable of knowing when an individual soul is beyond purification, won't ever turn.

Avenging angels

Christians in the here and now are not the destroying, purging angels of justice (avenging, vindicating, redeeming angels). Christians speak and do and deliverance comes. Christians are self-sacrificing for the sake of the whole body while knowing that the sacrifice is not spiritually terminating. They are certain in the resurrection of the just. The delivering spirits remove the disease of sin from the body.

Mark of sin

The antibodies in the body work to rid the body of contamination (that which is unclean). That contamination is known by its markers. Sin in humanity is known by its markers also. It is known by the path it leaves in rotten results. Humans do not have to kill off evil-doing brethren in order to be saved and made healthy, just the opposite. They are to salvage brethren only. The battle is for each individual soul.
Within the individual, evil must be cast out. Humanity is to work for that end. Whether or not any whole individual human soul is removed from the greater body is to be left to the higher power that has the knowledge, the truth, not to do it in error.

In fact, those humans who continue to act as a kind of cannibalistic antibody in the whole body that is humanity are infected by evil and must cast out their erring ways. If not, they are in danger of being removed by those who come and actually harvest, separate, and burn all the tares.

Railing against this is the same as railing against each drop of the flood water that removed the iniquitous and claiming that the rain drops were sinning. The sins or infection just became too great for the body. The sins were washed away, just as fever comes to burn away illness. It is better to cast out sins from within oneself and to help others to do likewise before the time for rejecting souls wholesale is upon us.

And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force. (Matthew 11:12).

Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world. When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone. (John 6:14-15).

Neocons: Their angels are Satan’s

Neocons claim they have the right to kill the innocent with the guilty. They are not angels of God. They kill those who would turn. Just as with the Zealots at the time of Jesus, those of the so-called noble lie, the neoconservatives of the time of this writing, believe they can destroy through the evil of bloodshed what in their sick souls they imagine as greater evil than their own. They believe that such warfare is just. They believe it is noble. They take pride in it. They believe they can force their way into the kingdom of heaven. They believe they can force others to live in a violently created kingdom of heaven by forcing laws and their leadership upon them. Many false liberals believe some of these neocon errors as well. They cannot accomplish bringing heaven through coercion, because they do not know, and will never know, which souls are beyond purification. Only the infallible can know that. They kill the innocent with the guilty just as the Pharisees through the Romans murdered Jesus with the transgressors. This is why the real liberal is a pacifist.

Dispensationalism

Before we introduce the next subject matter, we will give a very rudimentary explanation of some terms. Dispensationalists believe that The Bible shows different covenants (promises or contracts). It means that during different times (ages), different promises were made by God to the chosen people. Some of those promises were made contingent upon what God expected in return from the people. If the people did not keep their end of the bargain, the deal was off. The people breached those contingent contracts. They did not breach the contracts in minor ways. They broke them to degrees that proved them unworthy without first having to go through the negative consequences of not listening to God. Had they listened and heeded, they would have been saved or spared the negative consequences.

Two covenant peoples

The dispensationalists further believe that there are two separate covenant people now so to speak in the form of the Jews and the Christians.

I will add what I don't hear as the focus from the dispensationalists. Selfish behavior reaps bad consequences. God has been trying to get that through our heads since the fall. Human beings continually muddle, bungle, and even pervert the message. God is in the process of allowing us to sort ourselves out to become worthy. Also, the various periods that are called dispensations really reflect the hardness of the hearts of the people at the time and not in a changing God, changing truth. God's truths have always been constant. The evil of selfishness has always been there to see. It hasn't been hidden. It is inherent in the non-overcome flesh. It has been visible all along as competition for flesh survival.
Covenant theologians

One covenant people

According to some dispensationalists, opposed to them are covenant theologians who often view The Bible more figuratively. They believe that the covenant with the Jews transferred to the Christians. They also believe that works or deeds are akin to keeping the letter of the law. They believe that all the good deeds in the world mean nothing and that only grace (the acceptance of Jesus as substitute) will see one in heaven.

We have two central observations about these views. First, Jesus said the following about the Jews:

Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes? Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder. And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. (Matthew 21:42-45).
Now, this means that anyone who continues to reject Jesus will not be found in heaven. Only if the false Jew repents, atones, and converts, thereby becoming real and alive in the spirit, will he or she be saved.

Second, we have already stated the case thoroughly that all will be judged on deeds done. Deeds and faith are inextricable. Anyone holding otherwise is speaking from his or her imagination and making excuses for his or her continued selfishness.

This is an extremely simplistic view of covenant theology. However, for the sake of pointing out the areas keeping denominations apart or nonconflated due to shortsightedness, it is a workable distinction. Lutherans and Calvinists hold largely to this Covenantalism.

Both the dispensationalists and covenant theologians in general are right and wrong. There were different covenant periods, some covenants being contingent; however, the new covenant was with the Christians. That later aspect is stated in Revelation. "I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan." (Revelation 2:9).

It means that the real Jews are Christians. They grew in the spirit. They accepted the Messiah, Jesus. Those who did not are on the wrong path that is evil.

Two covenants which are one covenant

At the same time, there is still a standing covenant with the rabinists and others that if they will accept Christ, they will be welcomed back into the fold. This may sound like the same covenant that transferred to the Christians. It is. That is why many dispensationalists and covenant theologians disagree when there really is no disagreement on this issue. They talk passed each other. They don't back up far enough to see the whole picture.

Oh, there may be dispensationalists who believe incorrectly that those calling themselves Jews will be saved wholesale without their ever having to come to truly believe in Jesus as that messiah they were always waiting for, but those particular dispensationalists are completely confused. What scripture are they reading? What Holy Spirit is guiding them?

False Jews

This all may upset people today who call anti-Semitic every statement concerning non-Christian, false Jews. Well, it upset their forbearers enough to murder Jesus for it. What's new?

The unreal Jews are just in denial about scripture. Don't they read about all the times they were in apostasy? Don't they read the prophets warning them not to get into bed with various powers and that doing so would be their demise? What do they think is happening now with the American Empire? Those same unreal Jews are doing everything they can to get under the protective wing of the United States. Why do they imagine that this time they, the unreal Jews, have guessed correctly that is that they have gotten into bed this time with the eventual winner? Don't they believe in the Babylonian-empire-spirit syndrome? Don't they know that every such empire ends up in the dustbin?

Amillennialism, premillennialism, and postmillennialism

Amillennialism, premillennialism, and postmillennialism have to do with the following:

And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years, And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season. And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years. But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years. And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison. (Revelation 20:2-7).

Very briefly concerning this eschatological (end times) terminology, the terms are really rather vague.

Premillennialism

Premillennialism is fairly literal. It is what the earliest church believed. Generally, it holds that Jesus will return to save the world from great turmoil (tribulation) and establish the millennial period in history with his physical reign after the Antichrist is removed. Jesus comes before the thousand years: Hence the prefix "pre" in premillennialism meaning before. Most see Jesus as ruling with a rod of iron. The rod of iron is misinterpreted as Jesus being of a highly coercive, physically punishing nature. At the end of that period, Satan will be loosed. Jesus will then defeat Satan so that Satan never rises again. This view is the most apocalyptic of the three views. It is strongest among self-styled evangelical denominations. It has more of what are called supernatural overtones. The martyred dead will be resurrected and reign with Jesus. They will not die the second time that will be with the Last Judgment at the end of the thousand years.
Postmillennialism

Generally, postmillennialism holds that Jesus is reigning of sorts through the current ostensible churches. Christian ideals will continue to take root in the world, and after the thousand years that is not necessarily a literal one thousand years, Jesus will return and reign physically in history defeating Satan so that Satan never rises again. Many postmillennialists see Jesus in the highly coercive sense shared by the premillennialists.

Amillennialism

Generally, amillennialism holds that the one thousand years (millennium) in the above verses is strictly figurative. It is otherworldly or in heaven and not mundane. It is in the heart.

There are variants on all three that I won't go into here. Many denominational sub-sects have arisen over the differences in these three positions.

Three are right and wrong

Now, as with the dispensationalists and covenant theologians being both right and wrong, amillennialists, premillennialists, and postmillennialists are also in general each both right and wrong.

The amillennialists are right in saying that the kingdom is now and within, Jesus is here now and within, and Jesus is now also in heaven.

The postmillennialists are right that we are to continue spreading the ideals (teaching and exemplifying) and that those ideals will continue to take root in the world bringing in the kingdom one heart at a time, saving each soul. They are also right that the mundane (science and technology) has a direct hand in both the evil that must be overcome and the good that will overcome it.

The premillennialists are right that things are going to become much worse (tribulation) before they become all better. They are also right that there is more at work in all of the prophecy than the mundane. They are right that what people consider miracles or supernatural have happened and are going to happen again in an unmistakable manner, even though it will be rationalized away by the unbelievers who will not then believe their very eyes or ears, etc.

As for the rod of iron, this rod is the power of truth. That truth is also the flaming sword that burns the conscience. Jesus baptizes with fire. His words are powerful and cut and burn away falsehood. They cut away ungoverned, incorrigible lust. They burn away government by, of, and for evil. They overcome hardheartedness. They leave only those who will respond softheartedly. The fire is both metaphorical and literal. The literal fire will actually do all these things. The figurative and the literal are one and the same. Reconcile them.

Once the world has gone through everything that has been prophesied, those left will be the ones found worthy, the one's who measured up. Those souls will be easily shepherd (governed) by words of truth. They will not be whipped physically. Their consciences will keep them from temptation and going astray. They will hear the voice continually. They will walk on the narrow way.

The tribulation came and is coming again

The period of tribulation is seven years. The period of the Hebrew revolt against Rome was seven years. Jesus said that all would be fulfilled within the current generation. He also said that the things pertaining to him have an end. We also know that the testimony concerning Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. The prophecy did unfold and all that Jesus was referring to that would be fulfilled within that generation was fulfilled within that generation. He referred though to more that has yet to happen, obviously. It is consistent with that which went before. The struggle between good and evil follows the same pattern, because the same spirits are still at odds. As if World Wars I and II were not signs enough, Satan will be loosed for a little season yet. The Son of man is coming again. The Antichrist is coming again. Tribulation is coming again. Humans have not yet turned all swords and spears into plowshares and pruning hooks. People still kill fellow human beings. People have not learned to stop mixing human doctrines and traditions with godly precepts. That military sword will be crushed as never before. Then, the deserts will bloom as gardens. The blessed shall be truly delivered. They will be freed from the liars.

This is a very cursory overview of the theological positions mentioned. Is there anything in any of them precluding getting on with the job of Christians feeding the lambs and sheep?

Pretribulation, midtribulation, posttribulation, and partial rapture

In addition within primarily premillennialism, there are the pretribulation, midtribulation, posttribulation, and partial rapture doctrines.

Pretribulation rapture
The pretribulationists believe that Jesus will come in secret and transfigure the true believers and cause them to ascend with him before the tribulation. He will come again at the end of the tribulation to defeat the Antichrist.

Midtribulationists rapture
Midtribulationists believe he will come mid way through the seven year tribulation or three years and six months into the tribulation.

Posttribulationists rapture
Posttribulationists believe all people will suffer through the whole tribulation.

Partial rapture
Partial rapturists believe that the most devout will be raptured (transfigured and ascended) at the beginning and the less devout will be raptured mid or post tribulation.
Rapture

Now, the rapture is based upon 1 Thessalonians 4:17 as follows:

Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

Where did Paul get that? The Essenes taught this. Also, earlier prophets had been taken up, such as Enoch and Elijah. Jesus was taken up or ascended. Also, the Second Advent has the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven. Jesus said it. It is also in Daniel.

I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. (Daniel 7:13).

Jesus said that those worthy to escape the tribulation will. Those who are not worthy to escape it must persevere. No human being alive on the earth knows the exact extent to which the language concerning all of this is literal versus figurative. For those who believe it is entirely figurative, they will be shocked by the degree to which it is literal. For those who believe that there is nothing figurative in it, they will be shocked by how much figurativeness it contains. To those literalists I say remember John the Baptist who said he was not Elijah while also remembering that Jesus said John was Elijah for those who will but believe it. That is the spirit in which to interpret all of these various positions.

None of these positions holds a monopoly on the truth, because none of its mass of adherents has brought forth the fruit worthy of repentance. They argue from selfish positions. They gain the exercise of their egos rather than the feeding of the lambs and sheep and all the other deeds Jesus told us to be about doing. They have served the cause of endless procrastination. In so doing, they have facilitated the magnification of evil in the world.

Now, don't chastise yourself for not being able to keep all this straight or for forgetting the terms and what they mean without refreshing yourself on the subject matter. This is especially true if the terms are new to you.

People delve into this in such an academic way as to become myopically entrenched to the exclusion of keeping the spirit that ought to be written on the hearts and in the foreheads (forebrains) of every human being. I have included these theological matters here in order to continue making the point about real liberalism versus the current-day conservatism, whether dispensational or covenant theology, and to make the point that such academic arguments become all too easily excuses for not doing the work that must be done. They become sidetracking.

It is important though to know why Christians are not supposed to be about building the American Empire or being capitalists. The Biblical understanding of how the empire spirit is the spirit of Babylon and why that's rebellious against God and doomed to failure takes one into the scriptures upon which these various theological views are claimed by their adherents to be based.

We say that it is not necessary to resort to arguments in favor of dispensationalism against covenant theology to show that Christians are to stand together against taking over the world by force. Jesus's admonitions against violence are as clear as can be. Also, clear is that Jesus never forced anyone to believe. Dispensationalists need to see that it is hypocritical to attack covenant theology as being conducive to, more so directly responsible for, worldly empire building by the false use of God's and Jesus's names unless those dispensationalists are prepared to convert to complete pacifism. After all, the only reason it is not right for Christians to take over the world by means of violence and punishment to quell other evils is because pacifism and non-coercive conversion is clearly Jesus's message. If any human violence, threat, enforcement, or punishment is alright under Christianity, then the criticisms by dispensationalists of covenant theology's facilitation of Babylonian worldly empire building would be incorrect. Are all the dispensationalists pacifists who are arguing against American military and economic world-empire building or are they obviously inconsistent that is hypocritical?

Bringing in the kingdom by war: Impossible

There are dispensationalists who are for empire building and covenant theologians who are not.
As you may have surmised, there are dispensationalists who claim that the position of the covenant theologians facilitates the error of empire building due to the covenant theologians' position that human beings are working even now to bring in the kingdom. Of course, everything that real Christians do facilitates bringing in the kingdom (the kingdom being the indwelling place of God and Jesus and the Holy Spirit that is then outwardly manifest in good fruit). The mistake is in anyone trying to do that via coercive means. It is true that there are those who subscribe to covenant theology who are firm believers in bringing in the kingdom by war. That, of course, is an extremely arrogant thing for them to imagine they can do without doing great offense by harming and killing the redeemable. It is usurping God's position as God has said, "Vengeance is mine." Put another way, it means only God can mete out justice. As has been stated, what humans mete out is not just. It always falls short. We should all concentrate on living the new commandment rather than on attempting to punish.

Supersessionism (one covenant people)

Now, covenant theologians include those who subscribe to supersessionism, which means that the Christians have replaced the Old Testament Jews as the elect. On this, Jesus did say, "Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof." (Matthew 21:43).
Salvation by way of the Jews revealed

There is the following verse with which Jesus's teaching is to be reconciled:

    Thus saith the LORD; If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, saith the LORD. (Jeremiah 31:37).

It means that there are those who are of the seed of Israel who will turn to bring forth the fruits of the kingdom of God. They shall be those who will turn to Jesus. It cannot be overstated.

And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. (Zechariah 12:10).

In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have beaten the sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge. But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD: But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people. And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (Jeremiah 31:29-34).

So, when the law is in their inward parts and written in their hearts, they shall be one with the new nation bringing forth the fruits of heaven.

But ye shall be named the Priests of the LORD: men shall call you the Ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast [change] yourselves. (Isaiah 61:6).

Think about that verse in light of the real, liberal Christian Church. Think about the real meaning of the terms. It expresses the nation of priests, all. It expresses the servant-hood of all. It expresses the real bounty, the riches, also covered by Isaiah earlier. It expresses the real glory (of those who are real Christians brought to God by the new commandment that summates the two greatest commandments) changing (transforming, birthing again in the spirit) the descendants of Jacob. Think about the descendants of Jacob who convert to Christianity that is real Judaism. Think about those of the tribes of Israel bringing forth the kingdom of God on earth with their brothers and sisters (in the Holy Spirit) from other tribes. All the scriptures make sense then.

We are not going to engage endlessly in this work on issues of millennialism or rapture theories. People reading the scriptures with open emotions, without preconceived human traditions getting in their way, and with the Holy Spirit guiding them, will be better moved in their reading than otherwise.

The tribulation came and is coming again, continued

We have seen Christianity struggling through the last nearly two thousand years now. We have not seen a literal millennium or a figurative period that could do poetic justice to the term "millennium" where real Christianity has reigned over human history. Tribulations run the full spectrum from the small abuse of the single person to the horrendous punishment by wrath of what will be billions of people. We have not seen that latter tribulation yet.
Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven. But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake. (Luke 21:10-12).

And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death. (Luke 21:16).

Patience saves

You may be betrayed, persecuted, thrown into prison, and put to death, but not a hair on your head shall perish because through patience you will retain your soul which is your real living self. That is escaping. Patience in the right spirit makes one worthy.

And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto their God. (Luke 18:1).
him, though he bear long with them? I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth? (Luke 18:7-8).

And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh. Then let them which are in Judaea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto. For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled. (Luke 21:20-22).

Avenge versus vengeance

Without closer inspection, avenge and vengeance here may appear to be identical. Look more closely. The Roman's attacking Israel was a consequence of Israelite failure. Christians fled and escaped the seven-year tribulation. The hearts of the Romans were hardened against the Jews who had turned away from God. The Romans were later punished for it.

The Jews wouldn't turn

The difference lies in that the Jews wouldn't turn. They were told in no uncertain terms by Jesus to take up pacifism. Had they, they would not have been crushed. Instead of taking up pacifism, they persecuted and murdered the peacemakers. The consequences for this misguided behavior vindicated the teachings of Jesus, but the Romans took vengeance on the Jews for the Jewish revolt against the Romans and not against God. The Romans were the unwitting instruments of consequences for the Jews turning their back on God. The Romans also did not sort everyone out according to his or her works. They slaughtered indiscriminately. That is not how the Son of man with all his angels will handle it. Only those who refused to turn when not turning proved them beyond staying in the spirit will be gathered with the tares and burned up, so to speak. Every soul will be measured according to his or her results (works).

Jerusalem was surrounded by the armies of Rome and it was laid to waste in vengeance, which may be translated as justice or divine retribution that came at the hands of the punishers and destroyers, the wrathful who themselves met with woe (deep grief). It happened so "that all things which are written may be fulfilled." That does not mean that all is finished unfolding. Therein is the covenant theologian's shortfall as seen by the dispensationalists. The fact that Rome crushed Jerusalem does not mean that history will not repeat itself to some greater degree. It does not mean that ages referred to in The Bible do not refer to aspects of more than one age at a time. Some aspects are particular to a given age. Some aspects cut across the ages and plague and exacerbate to the end of each age. Such is the nature of evil until it is over.
The spirit of the greater commandments is that upon which all the law and the prophets (including Jesus) hang. Jesus embodied that spirit. He was, and is, that spirit. The testimony of the life (the teaching and deeds) of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. Prophecy is not dead.

And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh. (Luke 21:24-28).

The Romans did what Jesus said they would. Were there signs in the sun, moon, and stars? Were the nations distressed and perplexed with "the sea and the waves roaring"? Did the Son of man come "in a cloud with power and great glory"? Are those things yet to come? Did they happen then and are to happen again? "Verily I say unto you, 'This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.' (Luke 21:32).

Fulfilled means also set on an inevitable course that has lasted up to now and will continue on through final judgment. It was all fulfilled during that generation, and what remains bears a striking resemblance to what happened during that generation. This dual, or multiple, way of looking at the prophecies is consistent with Jesus's use of parables and metaphors in mixed contexts. They were redeemed, and those in the then future were yet to be redeemed.

Jesus also said, "For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth." (Luke 21:35). This has, and has not, happened. The whole earth has been ensnared in evil. Jesus though is referring to events not only yet to happen when he spoke of them but yet to happen as I am writing here. We know this, because it isn't all over. The whole world is not living under the divine law written in the hearts of everyone, and the essence of evil has not been totally purged from the souls of all living humans. When that is the case, then all will have happened. Until then, the prophecy will still be unfolding.

The Gospel has not really been preached in every nation yet either, which is a requirement, among many others yet to take place, before the fulfillment of the whole prophecy. This is why Jesus sent them only to the cities of Israel, since the tribulation at the hands of the Romans then soon to come was for Israel only. The global tribulation to come though will be for all the nations of the earth that fail to heed.
Let's take care of the weightier matters, shall we

Why is it necessary that we pin down such things and insist upon comprehending from God's perspective when we have left the other matters unattended? Why do we argue over these matters when we are not yet taking care of those things which if they are left undone, we will not see the kingdom regardless? Jesus broke up many squabbles by pointing to higher priorities. The disciples squabbled over which one of them was the greatest and who would sit where in heaven. Jesus made clear that such squabbling was missing the point of the kingdom. He also made very clear that we are not to know the hour of the tribulation well out in advance, including by attempting to calculate it from Daniel or other scripture, but learn how to read the signs of the times, not to be consumed with this life, and to watch and pray, among other things.

The whole prophecy in the scriptures speaks to more than just what Jesus was talking about for the time frame of that cohort. The prophecy speaks from the beginning through the time when evil is finally and totally removed from the world. The whole of prophecy is not yet fulfilled even though the outcome has been made inevitable (fulfilled) from the beginning and through the Messiahship of Jesus. We are moving inevitably through time and history toward that end. You can see the two contexts of the word "fulfilled" this way.

Part of what is unfolding is the same mistake that the Zealots made. That is people trying to bring in the kingdom by violence. We are to outgrow that in the spirit.
People bringing in the kingdom by force is great apostasy. People bringing in the kingdom by love, truth, and peace will engender the wrath of those bringing it in by force and of those who don't want it at all. It is prophetic that as greed continues to outstrip the earth even as the righteous work to care for the people and the whole world, the basic necessities of life will continue to be made scarce for many. The required sharing spirit will be tested to the limits of endurance. The planet will be greatly polluted. Hearts will wax cold (harden). The worst, most momentous war will come. The creation will react with violence. Tribulation will be at hand. That is the prophecy. In this, many see hopeless pessimism. Yet those same people believe that death waits for all.

Their is not the mentality we want loose on earth or loosed in heaven. "Whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." (Matthew 16:19). We must not choose to follow them with our hearts or in our minds or souls or with our bodies or give them any of our strength. We must not choose them to reign on earth. We must suffer them and persevere to the end for righteousness' sake rather than fall in with them. Their is the morality police. Their is Pandora's Box. Their is the theocracy of authoritarianism hiding behind a divided house with part shunning God and the other running after the wrong one.
Real versus false theocracy

The real theocracy (God rules) or theonomy (God’s laws rule) has never been a totalitarian hierarchy of inquisitors gauging right from wrong by human precepts and traditions. It most certainly is not the current Christian, Calvinist Reconstructionism some are attempting in the United States.

Their unholy vision: Calvinist, reconstructionists, dominionists, postmillennialists, coercive Covenant theocracy lording it over the world

That movement seeks to have the Old Testament laws of Moses (even the death penalties) govern the whole of the world. Jesus showed that those laws were hypocritical. These ostensible Christians are basing their movement upon a doctrine of postmillennialism and bringing in the kingdom by force while they completely fail in their reading of the Gospel. Some claim they are against using force; however, that shows that they do not understand that sanctions under the laws of Moses are force. They fail to see that Jesus did not stone anyone. They fail to hear and understand what turning the other cheek means vis-à-vis punishments under Mosaic law. Their position is the exact opposite of what Jesus has in mind for the kingdom on earth. If Jesus had wanted us to apply the sanctions of Moses and the Old Testament, he would have thrown the stone at the adulterous rather than cause all her accusers to stand convicted by their own consciences. He would have picked up the sword and raised an army to fight the Roman occupiers.

Reconstructionists have been for the most part postmillennialists. In the postmillennialists' view, Jesus returns after the thousand years. Christians are to make the way straight, which for some means by any means including war and the death penalty, per Moses. It's insane. It isn't Christianity—not even close. If the way of Moses was not to be transcended, Jesus never would have shown up. Jesus came with a new and better message: Peace, no coercion, loving one's enemies, etc. Anyone who doesn't believe that is no Christian. The reconstructionists seek to take over the world (so-called Christian dominionism) by building empire using all the traditional evil means. They are really disciples of a twisted version of Moses message and are not disciples of Jesus even remotely. They want to live in Greater Israel that they see as the Davidic kingdom at its height only they want to call the religion Christian and live under Mosaic law verbatim as they see it out of the Old Testament. They reject the message of Jesus. They are not our brothers and sisters in Christ.

Are we attempting to create a new orthodoxy to replace the old? Understanding the full implications of the new commandment and implementing them because they are right (righteousness) is not creating some arbitrary human tradition. It is revealed truth. It is absolute truth. It is what is best. It is the most practical. While most people are busy pulling left and right, we are interested in lifting.
Calvinism is error, continued

The so-called conservative, Republican Christian right gets into bed with neocons who are mostly led by Jews who have been mundanely leftists domestically but decidedly fascistically nationalistic when it comes to Israel. The saying that "politics makes strange bedfellows" is apt. They are acting as each others chess pieces on what they see as a global chessboard.

The so-called conservative Christians of the Southern fundamentalist, evangelical mold will cut off the heads of the Jewish neocons when the time comes. They believe that their hands, the hands of the conservative Christians, are authorized and even commanded to do that in the end. They see themselves as acting in the capacity of the avenging angels of the Apocalypse. God's wrath will be poured out on the earth, and the conservative Christians will be his instruments. This comes as a result of the apostasy of Calvin.

Rousas John Rushdoony

Calvin was a fascist and therefore false Christian. He was a throwback to before the New Testament. The same can be said of Mohammed. The same necessarily is true of all followers of the likes of Rousas John Rushdoony, who founded the Chalcedon Foundation and the ideologies of self-styled Christian dominionists and reconstructionists. They aren't going to construct what Jesus had in mind. They think they're going to reconstruct the society and culture that they think Moses had in mind and somewhat what the medievalists were doing. They don't understand though what Moses had in mind. They want the law that Jesus said was for the hardhearted: The Book of Leviticus, the law of slaughtering and militarily dominating the entire earth. They don't understand that it was a hellish mistake for the state to compel people, coerce people, into Christianity, to kill people for not professing belief or for violating religious edicts. They don't understand that it will be a dreadful error to force women to be as obedient children to their masterful husbands and to force people to pay tithes to the church-state. All that is Christianity must be chosen freely or it isn't Christian.

Theocracy lording it over the people: Contradicting Jesus

They don't understand that in trying to take over the government of the US and all the individual states and local governments to set up what they imagine would be a Christian theocracy lording it over the people is exactly contrary to the word of God.

But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them. But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister: And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. (Mark 10:42-45).

You see, the so-called conservative Christians seek to exercise lordship and authority and not to minister and serve the flock. They seek to command Satan's Empire on earth, calling it God's, rather than to bring the kingdom of God to earth. It is a tragic error in the making. It is not in the slightest Christian.

It is here that we would like to state that the US Federal Bureau of Investigation is surveilling dissidents ostensibly to determine the intentions of those dissidents in terms of their potential for violently overthrowing the government. Also, the FBI stretches its role into protecting the US Constitution in such a way as to preclude a radical transformation of the hearts of the citizenry from greed to giving. Now, one wonders whether or not the FBI is surveilling with equal or greater concern the militant so-called Christians who are highly armed and secretly discussing amongst them a violent revolution to institute a theocracy under Mosaic and medieval law? Some of the speeches and writings of such people are clear calls for the death penalty for anyone they would pronounce a heretic, one who chooses not to accept their violent and greedy dogma.

We do not advocate violence against such violent people. We don't raise this point to call the FBI to engender the further hardening of hearts.
Coming persecution

We raise it simply to point out the hypocrisy that will unfold when real Christians, peace-loving, giving Christians, are persecuted for supposed sedition even though the US Constitution expressly states that we have the right to believe against violence, war, greed, capitalism, and sexual depravity as interpreted and to practice our religion of holding all things in common without being discriminated against and persecuted.

There is nothing treasonous or seditious about preaching the new wineskin of the whole of humanity to contain the full outpouring of the Holy Spirit of truth. The US government was established upon the right of the people to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. When the hypocrisy of the government is removed, those terms hang upon the new commandment, as we have shown in this work, and upon the following:

…whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.—US Declaration of Independence
Our peaceful declaration

Therefore, we declare that we seek the peaceful abolition of the hypocritical and, necessarily, the institution of faith in the power of unselfish love and the institution of the new commandment, per Jesus, in all that it implies, as the supreme law of humanity.

We advocate that the people write the new commandment (necessarily as lived and exemplified by Jesus Christ), upon their hearts, to be governed by that highest law known to human kind, that, that law be their constitution.

Reject the government of the liars

We advocate that the people reject all governance under so-called noble lies and pious frauds, which are nothing more than the devil in sheep's clothing.

Of course, under Plato, Machiavelli, Strauss, Kristol, and the neocons, the government denies it all. It's the big lie, the noble lie, the pious fraud, and the false Christians buy it hook, line, and sinker. That's the philosophy guiding the US super patriots, nationalists, and fanatical flag-wavers. The neocons philosophy is satanic. It is that liars are the strong and born rulers and the righteous are the weak and born to serve the ruthless and secretive. That's what Satan whispers in each person's ear who will listen and not tell that spirit where to go as Jesus told it where to go: Hell.
Roundheads: Violent and fell short

These reconstructionists/dominionists in the US are the current version of certain of the Roundheads, the Calvinist, Puritan, army of the English Civil War (a series of religious wars from 1642-1651) that fought the tendency of the then king of England to favor the church of Rome, the bishops, apostolic succession, the divine right of kings, the infallibility of the pope, and more. It was a mix of those who favored the "Good Old Cause" of republicanism with those who favored a military, theocratic, dictatorship of the Calvinists. The dictatorship won out until the monarchy was reinstated. Now it must be understood that these Calvinists asserted rights but only so far as to give them the right violently to withhold rights from those with whom they did not agree who wanted communism. Such is the case with the current US Constitution. Such is what Jesus advocated against most perfectly.

The militant reconstructionists/dominionists think about another violent US revolution/civil war to bring in the kingdom as they see it. They run exactly contrary to Jesus's teachings that one cannot take heaven by force. The spirit of war does not usher in the kingdom. The spirit of peace is the kingdom. This is why Jesus was not militant and never said or suggested he would be back to destroy men's lives. The inevitable end of iniquity is the taking of lives. Jesus very clearly pronounced the truth that those who attempt to force the kingdom, beating or killing or doing other evil things against their fellow servants, would themselves suffer iniquitous consequences from the likewise hardhearted.
This is the truth the militant Calvinists/reconstructionists/dominionists refuse.

They see themselves taking over in the US, commanding its military and weaponry, and forcing the spread of their false kingdom onto the world. That's their vision. They will force their false church, their antichrist vision, onto the world. The way will be made straight for the millennial return of the Messiah. They seek to force the Messiah to show up to do battle with the Antichrist that will also show up on account of their militancy. It is a very warped vision to take over the world for very unchristian purposes.

It's just capitalist imperialism hardly clothed in sheepskin. Is it part of the prophecy? Yes it is. It is the dark part.

As for pre- or postmillennialism, we know that it will be woe to those who are not found doing the work of the good shepherd, who are found beating their fellow servants, when the time arrives and throughout the wrath to come. The way must be made straight for the Lord, but straight is non-violent.

In Moses's time, his followers had to have that hardhearted law, because without it, they were worshipping the idols and gods the followers of which were tempting the people with every depravity more evil than the hardhearted laws. Moses's followers had to have that hardhearted law, because they weren't yet capable of grasping the higher law. It was all they could do to attempt to handle the laws Moses gave to them. The militant reconstructionists and dominionists today calling themselves Christians, by advocating militancy are making of themselves the very heart, mind, strength, and soul of those Jesus said were too hardhearted.

Jesus does not call souls backward into the darkness of greater hardheartedness. Isn't that truth written in your heart? The Holy Spirit calls those who hear to overcome both depravity and hardhearted reactions. We are to practice mercy!

There is no coercion in Christ's message. Militarism is out of the question. We are not to fall prey to bloodline discrimination, rejecting souls in whom the Holy Spirit dwells. We are not to fall prey to that interpretation of the letter over the Holy Spirit.

The real blood and letter are spirit, seen (manifest) and unseen. There is a dichotomy of spirit however. There is a diametric opposition between the two different and never compatible intentions and the actions that necessarily follow from each. Only when intent and action are fully unselfish will blood, letter, and spirit all be of God.

The spirit of selfishness is the spirit of Satan. There is no real light or real life in it. Selfishness is imperfection. The degree to which one is selfish is the degree to which one is imperfect. Any selfishness is infinitely removed from Godliness.

Not all conservatives see it the way the militant dominionists do. Some think God's wrath will be poured out metaphysically into the physical realm where they personally will not have to lift a finger while the angel of death (not human beings) takes all who have not mouthed that they believe in Jesus and accept him as their lord and savior. They think that simply mouthing that will spare them. They think that living the capitalist, greedy, exploitative, expropriatory lie will not matter. It's that evil, antinomianism. Fortunately for many, the real truth is beginning to dawn on them.

Some are waking up. They are turning to stewardship of the earth (calling it "creation care") not for selfish reasons alone but because they are beginning to make the Biblical connections concerning what is true righteousness. It is too bad that everyone won't catch on in time. It is too bad that they don't understand that all will be manifest.

The capitalists

Neither group (Christian right or Jewish neocon) is controlling capitalism. The capitalist puts his personal business interests above everything else. He will commit suicide at the loss of his estate. He will sacrifice his children before giving up his personal estate. Other religions and ideologies are secondary. Hence he is in the US and China and will end up in North Korea, whose leader has been shown around China to make him green with envy and to show him that there is always the choice of dictatorial, one-party, capitalism as the Chinese Communist Party is practicing it.

He lives to devour via capital (money in all its forms and the means to acquire and maintain it). Money buys the capitalist everything he wants. If money can't buy it, he doesn't value it. He buys love, such as he defines love. He will use any religion and any ideology and any sentiment all as tools for gaining for himself. His life is short, so long-term only matters in terms of his ego. History and posterity are then part of his planning—first things first however. The quarterly returns and even the daily returns and even the moment to moment decisions to buy, hold, and sell everything is the focus. What is valued is what others value and can be made to value. That's how he keeps score.

Both the top Christian conservatives and the top neocon Jews are means-controllers. They aren't interested in giving and sharing. In that way, they are easily the tools of the capitalists. They offer them deals they imagine that they can't refuse.

Being God is being the new commandment

Here we see the terms of right and left as confused. Right is right and left is liberal and liberal is right (correct) but something other than what either right or left claims. It is confusing until the shifting contexts are clear and the changing connotations of the terms "right," "left," and "liberal" are followed right on through the sentence. Real liberals conserve the truth, which is not traditional until one gets all the way to the real meaning of Godliness, which is the new commandment. Being God is being the new commandment. If one doesn't get this, grasp this, one doesn't understand the revelation of Jesus Christ. It's the most radical view. In reality, it is the only radical view. Nothing else gets to the root cause of everything that is wrong. Nothing else provides the solution for everything that is wrong. Only through real unselfishness will human souls ever be saved. This is reductionism. You see, it isn't complicated in the end. People become confused, because they see complexity that is never placed under a unified law. Well, the new commandment is the unified law. It is love. Love is what makes the world go around. Take away God's love, and there is nothing.

Doves don't kill hawks

In real unity is salvation. A particular kind of diversity is death. It is a cancerous mutation that will kill the whole body. Health is the spirit healing and transforming the willful in peace. Unity cannot be achieved by coercive measures against the harmful type of diversity. The diverse turn at the word or they die without having been harmed by the united. To harm is disunity. Doves never kill hawks.

Real Christians don't vote for, or hold, secular, coercive offices

Where do these ostensible Christians get their ideas? It is all wrapped up in human selfishness. It is all wrapped up in human worldly way and not the real politics of the eternal Holy Spirit of truth. The real theocracy or theonomy has never been for Christians to force themselves into positions over other people through being elected, or by voting their kind, into secular, coercive office. Christianity is about choosing Christianity freely, because one gains a softening condition of the heart.
George W. Bush duped false-Christians

George W. Bush used the false-Christian evangelicals to gain power. They used him as well. It has been a marriage of convenience. Bush has many marriages of convenience as do the false-Christian evangelicals.

Bush is a close confederate of the Saudis and other Arab-oil interests, because his family has made, and is continuing to make, a huge fortune off oil and because the house of Saud reinvests the US petrodollars back into the US by buying the great evil of US treasury bonds. They have been helping to finance the Bush-43 planned federal-budget deficit. When it came time to track the funding of al Qaeda all the way to within Saudi Arabia and the bin Laden family, Bush stopped that investigation.

Deficit scheme to ruin social welfare

Many in Saudi Arabia privately finance Bushes deficit scheme to ruin the US social-welfare state to replace it with a privatized state. All the poor will be much more at the mercy of tyrannical owners.

Bush hates the Iranians for among other reasons, because they have threatened to invest their oil earnings in Euros (European currency) rather than US dollars. That would lower the value of the dollar causing more currency speculators around the world to swap US dollars for other more stable currencies. Russia, Venezuela, and others have also openly discussed a change from US petrodollars.
Bush-43’s fragile political coalition: His juggling act

Bush has a fragile political coalition built in his head. He cozies up to the Israelis, the Saudis, and the Reconstructions/dominionists all at the same time. He’s been extremely elusive to those who close their eyes to see only what they want to see. He’s really beginning to fail though to keep all the balls in the air he’s been trying to juggle.

He is burning the candle at both ends. He is appearing to be on the side of any interest that will further his agenda that are hidden from them. He works to appear a different way to various groups. He doesn’t want those different ways compared and contrasted. He has really duped the common false-Christian evangelicals the most. The elitists amongst the false-

Christian evangelicals thought they knew what he and they were up to together. Many though have made clear that they feel they been somewhat taken in. They were. It’s the common person in the pews and seats and in front of the televisions (watching the false preachers who line their pocket rather than bringing forth) who has been most duped though. That person was not only duped by Bush but was duped by his or her preacher.

Bush-43’s many-hats

Bush works to appear differently to the Israel Lobby from the neocons and the oligarchic Arabs, the libertarian capitalists, the educational community, the veterans, the general business community, the social-welfare interests, and the environmental community. He switches hats just as quickly as he can. He puts up a false front with each group. He gives false assurances to each.

Common false-Christian evangelicals are uniformed: Tricked by their leaders

The common false-Christian evangelicals are swayed by hucksters in politics, in pulpits, behind lecterns, and on TV. The devil is a trickster first and foremost. They aren't taken in because they are necessarily stupid. It is because they are uninformed. The truth has been hidden from many. Some are unquestioning-traditionalists raised in the tradition from day one. Others are just very trusting souls about authority figures such as their preachers and imagine they have found the answer to what would otherwise plague them. Now they are becoming better educated but in what way and by whom?

They are attending so-called Christian schools, Bible colleges, so-called Christian universities, and fascist seminaries that are run by men who aren't telling them what those men are up to and what the Gospel really means. They are being programmed in the way of fascist mammonism under the cover of Christianity. They are being subverted from the kingdom. The men who are programming them are in it for the money, exactly the one's their ancestors didn't trust and for good reason. You see, it is one of the tenets (principles) of Platonism to make up and twist religion to suit the ruler's agenda. This doesn't mean that there isn't a real God. There is. It just means that those at the top of the temporal hierarchy are there for themselves. They aren't there for you. You are at best just a cog in the machine they are building. Everyone whom they allow to rise within their hierarchy is beholden to that machine. That machine is not the real heaven, but you must be made selfish-hearted enough to ignore that even though that truth is right in front of you. It's hypnosis.

They put you under and tell you that when you count from one to ten you will just skip right over seven and not even notice. Sure enough when you are supposedly awake from the trance (you aren't; you're still under the spell of the sorcerer), when you try to count from one to ten it's one, two, three, four, five, six, eight, nine, ten, and you don't even notice you've left out seven. Well, the truth is seven. The truth is that your religious beliefs have been manipulated for decades and centuries by liars.

They are always working up to getting you to do sheer evil for them. Jesus came to wake you up, but you have to filter out all the lies to hear his real voice. It's still there inside you. You just have to shut off Bush-43 and all his kind to hear the pure voice of God's love and peace and caring for all human kind and our home the earth and our solar system, etc., which the forces of evil are working up to further despoil.

Bush-43 and the Jewish Lobby

Bush appears to the Israeli Lobby as the great defender of Israel. Well, the Israelis, when they slow down from hyper drive long enough can really see that Bush would sacrifice them if it came to that. The neocons really have a hidden Israeli agendum, so they are in the same boat as the Israeli Lobby. However, those of the neocons who are of Hebrew extraction are well aware that they are being used every bit as much as they are using. They will wait till the end to have the runoff between the last two powers standing. The oligarchic Arabs are along for the ride for as long as the oil holds out. They hope to be heavily invested in other economies when that happens.

Bush-43 and oil prices

George W. Bush has manipulated oil prices sending them through the roof to benefit the oil industry and his family thereby and then easing off for elections.

Bush-43 and the libertarian capitalists

The libertarian capitalists are in it for intellectual pride. It is a philosophical chess game.

Homosexual proselytizing

The Bush types are appealing to the educational community in a ways to cover the dismantling of the public, free-educational system. That's because free, public education is socialist.

Right now, it's secular and false-tolerant to the point of condoning mental and spiritual ill health. Those calling themselves conservative Christians see the secular, public-school teachers as instructors in sodomy. They wonder when the sex-education classes will start showing graphic homosexual videos as part of the birds and the bees, if they haven't already.
False liberals will say that such notions are ridiculous. They are not ridiculous. Homosexuality is a lifestyle that seeks to promote itself. Many homosexuals are actively engaged in proselytizing for their cause. They seek for the rest of society to agree with them that homosexuality is a completely acceptable alternative lifestyle. This starts at an extremely early age for many people. It has been going on since the beginning of the temptation to sexual deviance. Even as early as age six and seven, homosexual proselytizing begins, and it can come directly from the youngest converts.

When I was in the second grade (age seven) there was a nest of homosexual boys at my school. They had their "Woman Haters Club." That was incomprehensible to me. I liked girls. Those boys though also had their secret code language. One expression was "Thursdays are mo days." The "mo" was short for homo, and they would meet after school in different home basements to engage in strange dog-mimicking behaviors. Now how would prepubescent seven and eight-year-old boys back in the late 1950's and early 1960's in the US have known about homosexuality unless they had been introduced to it by adolescents or adults or both? Such exposure was abuse. It came out of confusion and promoted selfishness. At the same time, there was a different group being titillated in a boy's basement by his father's collection of stag films.

Needless to say, it was confusing. I thought it was all just really odd play. When I finally learned what homosexuality was, well it wasn't for me. The "mo" boys worked on lowering natural inhibitions a little at a time. In looking back at it, it is amazing just how artful they were about it in trying to lure other boys into sexual experimentation. All through life, there was always a percentage of homosexuals around, testing, throwing confusion into the mix, proselytizing.

Then the homosexual movement started, and it really just was their way of introducing as much temptation into the world as possible. They very cleverly couched it in terms of a civil rights issue, and homosexual psychologists and others worked overtime framing the language to lower the natural defenses and natural revulsion of the general population.

The boys would meet in a group of thirty or more and the ringleaders would progressively engage in more and more sexually oriented behavior designed subconsciously to lessen the natural aversion to homosexuality. The connection wasn't obvious to the uninitiated. It certainly was confused and confusing. Where are young children to draw sexual lines when they don't even know sexual mechanics and the purpose of sex? These things were happening before the average father gave "the talk" to his son. Most fathers waited until their sons were close to the onset of puberty before explaining sexual mechanics. Today however, children learn through the media that stimulates learning at an even earlier age on the streets. Nevertheless, the children today are certainly emotionally ill prepared for the information given to them via such lustful avenues.

When I was in my mid-teens and homosexuality was beginning to come out of the closet so to speak, I had occasion to come into contact with two male adults who were running a home for boys. These boys were runaways or otherwise troubled. I soon discovered that the two men were proselytizing to the boys. The men would begin by introducing the boys to pornography of a heterosexual nature and under the guise of sexual education. Gradually, the material would change to homosexual.

Then there were the group-sleeping places some far out in the desert where activities would be much less likely to be discovered by disapproving (intolerant), protective adults.

There were compromising photographs left around as part of the further, gradual, indoctrination process. I turned out to be a bad candidate.

It wasn't that I was full of hell fire and brimstone. I wasn't. I had just discovered through all the various exposure I had had that I wanted none of it. Now, this is not to say that before I came to understand the selfish nature of sexual lust that I wasn't still confused by the social movements relaxing the prohibitions against such unchecked lust. It was a debate with me as to whether or not society should shutdown deviance, since it was couched as a freedom issue. At the time, the lines were not brightly lit. The way was confusingly wider. No one ever told me that freedom is really freedom from evil, freedom from temptation. I learned that directly from God and not all that long ago.

Now, the connection of selfishness in all behavioral decisions is extremely clear. Caving into the lusting of the flesh is a self-centered act.
The flesh is weak. It is temptation. The more one caves into feeding into it, the farther one becomes removed from the righteous spirit of unselfishness. The farther one becomes removed from the state or condition of being uncorrupted exists. We have been placed in this situation to overcome it, to become trustworthy for being in charge. Does this mean deprive the flesh body of material nutrition? No, it doesn't mean that. It means though that real nourishment is not caving into artificially stimulated, unfair consumption. Doing so always leads to degradation both physically and spiritually. At the time of this writing, this flesh body ages as part of God's design and plan, but that doesn't mean the soul has to be degenerated through spiritual malnutrition.

Spiritual nutrition

There is spiritual nutrition in the real meanings of the words love, peace, truth, giving, sharing, and purity. These are the words "that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." We live by them even more than we live by the bread for the flesh.

Material possessions, fleshly bodies, materialism, matter

Our lives do not consist of our material possessions including our fleshly bodies that are only vessels for the soul on this plane of existence. We are not bound to materialism or matter, ultimately. Don't be a materialist, including about your flesh. John the Baptist wasn't exaggerating when he said, "God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham." (Matthew 3:9).

Overcoming the weakness of the flesh

The opposite words of spiritual nutrition are words that promote libertinism and antinomianism. The homosexual cultural agendum is anti-divine law. It is anti-Christ. It is against God's name: Love (real love). It is a greater fallen condition. It is not more wholesome. It is not healthier. It is temptation that needs to be overcome. The weakness of the flesh must be overcome by the strength of the Holy Spirit. The heart of the individual must become enlightened to the network of selfishness that contains the diseased state of Sodom and Gomorrah. Whatever we have done as individuals in any state of confusion to facilitate the furtherance of going astray down the wide path to hell, we must renounce, reject, and disown. We must not even allow our fleshly familial connections to preclude separation and division. We must not allow genetic or congenital imperfections to preclude rising in faith. We are born with such corruptions (including what is called natural aging mechanisms), even Jesus. All flesh is correctable through sufficient faith, resulting from acting in faith, as Jesus showed.

If your relative is homosexual or otherwise sexually confused

"Suppose ye that I come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay: but rather division." (Luke 12:51). The sheep and goats must be divided else the sheep will never be delivered from evil.
If a man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. (Luke 14:26).

You must hate iniquity and the incorrigibly iniquitous even while doing nothing coercive against them, even while forgiving them for their ignorance as we ask to be forgiven our ignorance, even while not violently resisting them, even while always holding out the salvation of real love to them as we want it never withdrawn from us, even while doing good toward them as they mislead the world and we speak plainly, clearly, openly, honestly, and directly against sin.

Homosexuality is hardhearted

Now, because those who are the most fervently outspoken against homosexuality are also fervently outspoken against softheartedness, the homosexuals and false liberals smear all real Christians as being hardhearted. That tactic is itself hardhearted. Homosexuality is hardhearted. It is hardhearted to advocate for redefining homosexuality as unsullied and moral, which it is neither.

It is sinful deviation of the flesh caused by unclean spirits within that can be driven out never to return, thereby altering the flesh accordingly through faith.

Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! (Isaiah 5:20).

For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practice hypocrisy, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. (Isaiah 32:6).

Beware antinomianism whether it comes from the false Christian, Calvinist-Lutheran Covenantalists (covenant theologians), or whether it comes from the false liberals, whether secular or religious.

Bush has used this to promote privatizing the educational system so his cronies will make private profits off the taxpayers via the voucher program. It’s a transfer of wealth program from the lower and middle classes to the rich.

We were discussing how George W. Bush duped the false Christians. He appealed to them on a number of fronts, but the educational front and the concern about homosexuality was a big factor. Of course, Bush is surrounded by homosexuals who pay lip service to so-called traditional family-values while they live otherwise in many cases. We aren’t saying the traditional family-values of the so-called conservative, Republican Christians are right. They aren’t. They aren’t the spiritual family over the mundane bloodline, immediate family. Homosexuality isn’t the spiritual family either.
Homosexuals deny the imperfection of the flesh

Homosexuals deny the error, the imperfection, of their flesh. If they are right, then there is no line concerning anything. The greedy, selfish brain is not imperfect. The violent brain is not imperfect. No behavior is off limits. This of course is wrong thinking on their part. Our flesh isn't perfect. We state that the line is drawn at perfection. Anything less is error. Through faith, through deeds done in faith worthy of repentance and atonement, God will correct all the errors.

In addition to manipulating the educational system, Bush puts social-welfare interests in the same boat with the educational interests. They are told that the plan is not to completely dismantle Social Security and Medicare, etc.

That's a lie. Wall Street wants all the money in Social Security to be in their hands so they can make billions in commissions. Huge corporations also want the money invested in their stocks as interest-free capital to them that doesn't have to be paid back. The mainstream doctors, most of whom contribute huge sums to the Republicans because the Republicans for against punitive-damage awards and awards for pain and suffering for doctor's malpractice, also want the higher compensation that comes from expensive private insurance over Medicare. The huge insurance companies want the premium dollars pumped into their companies rather than being handled by the federal government. All of this spells a huge redistribution of wealth from Social Security revenue to the already excessive rich. It's a scam to undo the New Deal.
Military veterans are constantly suckered

Those in the lower ranks of the military along with the military veterans are really suckered. Many of the older ones were drafted, but they still fall on their pride. They just can't bring themselves to admit that they were bought and paid for by the power elite to fight their battles for market gain and not freedom and democracy. The government has never kept it promises to the rank and file veteran. Once you are used up, they hardly care.

General business community

Much of the general business community (not the top) is just too busy with their heads buried in the sand to know what's really going on. They are the blindest of the blind. Mammon worship has them by the short hairs. They are the most addicted. They get their news from the major corporations.

Ethanol evil

The environmental community is being conned into big-business agriculture (ethanol as a gas additive) and nuclear energy (for hydrogen fuel). It is a co-opting and twisting of ecology into more of the devouring spirit.
Cheat, cheat, cheat

Self-styled conservative-Republican Christians and Republican election-fraud

Bush has used Machiavellianism, dirty tricks, to be president. He had Karl Rove cheat during the 2000 primaries especially against John McCain, who has unfortunately become even more a political animal himself as a result. He knows that the Republicans cheated some twenty thousand African-Americans out of their votes in Florida in the 2000 election. Al Gore won Florida and the presidency. Bush knows that the same dirty tricks were used especially in Ohio and New Mexico in 2004 and that John Kerry won Ohio and New Mexico and the presidency. There were some three million, six hundred thousand ballots, across the country, which were discarded on dubious grounds at best. The vast majority were people of color. The conservatives will do the same dirty tricks only worse in 2006 and again in 2008. They cheated in Texas with redistricting. They have cheated in all their elections on all levels, and the so-call conservative Christians don't care. They turn a blind eye to the electoral fraud just as they turned a blind eye to all the sex scandals against conservative Republicans but went after Bill Clinton for his sexual indiscretions. It is hypocrisy. God sees it, remembers it, and there will be consequences.

---

The higher-ups in the conservative Christian movement turn a blind eye, because they don't believe in democracy anyway. They believe in a coercive theocracy. What do they care whether the votes of non-conservatives weren't properly registered and counted. They don't care what mundanely illegal means were used to thwart the Democrats from taking the offices they won. The conservative Christians just want the power they falsely claim is divinely ordained even though they are a small minority. They just want to take over the courts so that the US Constitution will be interpreted theocratically and primarily Calvinistically. If election fraud gets them in, their all for it.

October Surprise

The October Surprise concerns the Reagan campaign against incumbent president Jimmy Carter in 1980. It has been alleged that Reagan's campaign negotiated with the Iranians to continue holding the fifty-two American hostages at the US Embassy in Tehran, Iran. Reagan, it is alleged, cut a deal with Iran that Israel would sell or funnel weapons to Iran in exchange for Iran holding the hostages until after the election of Reagan and then releasing them immediately or soon thereafter. The hostages were actually released on Reagan's inauguration, January 20, 1981.

Documents from the Reagan campaign show they were worried that the hostages would be released before Election Day giving Jimmy Carter a boost at the polls enough to win the election.

Carter's popularity had suffered greatly, because the hostage crisis had dragged on so long and rescue attempts failed. Carter had also to cope with the huge financial impact of the OPEC oil embargo and from the country's psychological depression over the Vietnam War, the Watergate, and other issues exacerbated, and caused, by the Republicans. The Carter administration had frozen Iranian funds and was negotiating with the Iranians to release those funds and supply Iran with weapons for their then recently started war with the US ally at the time, Saddam Hussein of Iraq, in exchange for the hostages. The Iranians had been negotiating but suddenly stopped.

Had they gotten a better, secret deal from the fascist Reaganites who would go the Carter administration better by paying the Iranians handsome bribes and by doing the illegal Iran-Contra deal down the line?

Ernest Backes worked in the backroom of Cedel, now Clearstream Banking S.A., an international transaction (stocks, bonds, commercial paper, etcetera) clearinghouse. Banks run their international transfers through clearinghouses. Four days before Reagan's inauguration, Backes said the following happened:

Cedel got an urgent joint instruction from the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of England to transfer $7 million in bearer bonds, $5 million from an account of Chase Manhattan Bank and $2 million from an account of Citibank, both in offshore secrecy havens. The money was to go to the National Bank of Algeria, and from there to an Iranian bank in Teheran.

He was told it was concerning the fate of the US hostages.\textsuperscript{133} 134 Reagan and Bush-41 always denied the transfers occurred. It's okay to lie your way into the highest office in the world according to conservatives. "All's fair in love and war" is the old saying, and politics is war. Well, it's a lie. Those who follow such falsehoods will find themselves lost in suffering.

They are Straussian, Machiavellian, and Platonic. Just as with the Iran-Contra lies, they claim in their inner circles that their public lies are noble things. The common people can never be trusted to decide matters such as who should be their president. The common people are too stupid to decide such things. They are a mindless herd incapable of seeing the truth that man makes his own destiny and that there is no God. This fallacy goes straight back to the liar from the beginning as cited in The Bible. Jesus proved it was a lie. Not only that but those at the top know they are just rationalizing. They know that the people would choose better. They just do their best to trick the people by withholding all the known facts from them. They do that solely out of their own extreme conceit and self-centeredness. It's sheer evil, and God hates it. Ask him if you don't believe me. You'll get your answer if you are sincere and watch for it.

Global second set of accounting books

Clearstream, the clearinghouse that handle the October Surprise bribes from the Republicans to Iran, cheating in the US election, went through a huge scandal in Europe over a second set of books it keeps (it still keeps them), just like all organized crime. One set, the official set, the set for the government to see if it comes looking, shows the accounts and transactions of the big players that those players don't care to hide. The second set of books contains the unpublished accounts. All the biggest businesses and banks in the world operate this way. They are all crooked. The prince of darkness runs this world. The higher one goes in it, the closer one gets to him.

They all use offshore, shell corporations in tax havens and places with banking secrecy laws so they can move trillions of dollars around for themselves and their client's illegal operations, such as embezzled government funds, black-market weapons, bribes, kickbacks, drugs, slavery, prostitution, body parts, stolen art and artifacts, endangered species, counterfeit goods, terrorism, assassination payments, and any other activity requiring money laundering, covering illegal gains, and in some cases making them completely untraceable in the mundane sense. There is more profit in this kind of business than in so-called legitimate transactions. The reason for that is that they can charge such high commissions or fees for dark services.

The October Surprise is very similar to Kissinger and Nixon concerning the Paris Peace Talks and what they did to president Johnson and presidential candidate, vice president Hubert Humphrey concerning the Vietnam War. It is cheating to win the election.

Stealing the 2000 presidential election

It is just as George W. Bush did with the direct help of his brother, Jeb Bush, as governor of Florida and his cousin, John Ellis, a consultant who called the election at Fox News in direct contradiction to the exit-polling data, which had never been that far off before in the history of US exit polling.

Jeb Bush

Jeb Bush had the voter roles scrubbed of some ninety-four thousand voters based upon the voters being felons. The vast majority were not felons. It was a cooked-up list supplied by a private, fascist contractor. Fifty-four percent of those purged were blacks. The vast majority of those purged were Democrats. The margin of Bush's false victory in Florida was less than six hundred votes and falling to under two hundred as the recount continued until it was unconstitutionally stopped by five conservative US Supreme Court justices.

John Ellis (the cousin at Fox) made phone calls to both George W. and Jeb Bush the night he called Florida for his cousin George.

Vice president Al Gore won the election in 2000.

When CNN called Florida for Gore, the corporate leader forced CNN to reverse it based on nothing but his say so.

When CBS Corporation announced that Florida had gone to Gore based upon exit-polling results, justice Sandra Day O'Connor blurted out, "That's just terrible." However, she didn't recuse herself when it came time to hand the presidency to Bush. She was too prejudice to make an impartial decision. Justice Antonin Scalia wrote to his fellow justices that if the recount were to be allowed to continue leading to Al Gore being declared the winner, it would "do irreparable harm to petitioner [George W. Bush]."

After the US Supreme Court's conservative justices teamed up to stop the Florida recount that was headed in Al Gore's favor, thereby given the election to George W. Bush, Bush appointed justice Scalia's son and chief justice Rehnquist's daughter to positions in his administration. Now if the fruits of these people showed that they were above crass compensation for decisions rendered, it wouldn't be a problem; but, that's not the case. Their fruit is rotten.

The law firm that represented Bush in Florida had also hired Scalia's son. They call such deals "scratching each other's backs."

Nearly silent mainstream media

Media don't report it, because media make money not reporting it. They also won't allow dissenters to buy airtime or advertising time. Now not allowing them to buy time sounds counter-intuitive. They don't want to antagonize bigger advertisers who complain when dissenting ads run and threaten to pull their advertising dollars. Also, dissenters often dissent against the very things in which the advertising medium is engaging.

They work for reducing regulations on themselves while increasing regulations against even peaceful and Christian alternatives to capitalism. This process they call deregulation. Of course, it's a farce. Then they consolidate power at the top of whatever industry is hot at the time. In the media that controls what the people are allowed to learn as news about events with a direct impact upon the people's ability to make informed decisions, they started with the radio medium, then they moved to newspapers, then it was on to broadcast television, then cable, and now they want to monopolize the Internet. They call their right to buy up everything competition when it ends up being just the opposite.
Commissioner, Michael J. Copps, of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) succinctly said the following:

Today the FCC empowers America's media elite with unacceptable levels of influence over the ideas and information upon which our society and democracy depend.

I see centralization, not localism. I see uniformity, not diversity. I see monopoly and oligopoly, not competition.135

It goes deeper than that. The FCC was set up to see to it that federal laws on communications laws be upheld. However, the FCC, under Republican chairmanship, has refused to look into the matter of illegal NSA surveillance of such communications claiming they can't look into classified matters. They didn't even try, because they don't want the abuse to stop. National security is the great new/old tool for the Republicans.

Attempting dictatorship by the Republican Party

Furthermore, on May 5, 2006, George W. Bush gave the DNI (director of National Intelligence), John Negroponte, the authority to waive liability for any corporation or other entity following the orders of any of the sixteen agencies under the DNI. That's authoritarianism. In other words, Negroponte can decree illegality by anyone following such orders. You must understand that liability can't be waived where there is none. Corporations are supposed to abide by the mundane law. Bush-43 though is using national security classification to hide anything he wants. He's already assured everyone who is doing illegal things that he will pardon them of their crimes so long as those crimes are to further the dictatorship of the Republican Party. All he has to say is trust him even though we've already seen so many of his lies. It's impossible to trust them.

What's the difference between the dictatorship of the Republican Party and the dictatorship of the Communist Party in China? There is increasingly little difference. The Communist Party in China actually seems more concerned with the environment and the abject poor than does the Republican Party in the US. Of course, concern isn't enough to avoid being a dictator. The so-called benevolent dictator still requires people to do the wrong thing.

Then the conservatives at the top pay themselves more and more while lying to the middle and lower classes that trickle-down economics will take care of them when in reality those classes are working longer hours for less money and must have every adult in the house working full time just to scrape by in uncertainty. Tax cuts for the rich means the rich get richer and not that the other classes do better.

Republican election-fraud

The exit polls had called the election correctly in Florida in 2000. Many voters, most of them black, didn’t know at the time that the voting machines had switches that could be flipped on or off to reject ballots with errors and that their machines had their switches switched to off. The machines in predominately white and Republican areas had their switches switched on, so ballots with errors were spit back. The white Republicans were given new ballots to correct their errors. The blacks simply had their ballots thrown out later after it was too late to correct their errors. That was the result of a racist conservative Republican criminal conspiracy to steal the presidential election. The cheats will now just alter the numbers via computer. There will be no audit trail. The owners of the company supplying the computer voting machines are Republicans.

The system should not be privatized. Is the US mint privatized yet? Yes. It has been since December 22, 1913, just a couple of years before the US national debt started to go through the roof as a percentage of gross national product as a direct and deliberate result of the conspiracy by the international financier-war-profiteers. [Read much more about it in our Supplement to this work.]
Where's the news that Al Gore won?

The National Opinion Research Center checked some one hundred seventy-five thousand ballots in Florida that were not counted in 2000. They confirmed that Al Gore had won Florida and the presidency. The mainstream media not only did not care, they definitely didn't want the perpetrators of this huge anti-democracy conspiracy to be held to account since they were willing parties themselves. They moved on rubbing their hands together at all the money they would be paying themselves while offering the voters uniformity masked behind hundreds of different channel numbers all controlled by five or six transnational media corporations acting as a cartel. It doesn't matter that individual reporters may wish to be real liberals. They work for, and are told what may be aired by, anti-real liberal, antichristian, violent, stingy, dangerous corporatists. Also, most of those at the top in news reporting are rich themselves and heavily invested in Wall Street. They don't want to report news that will send their own stock holdings down in mammon value.

Diebold

Walden O'Dell, chief executive of Diebold, Inc., the company that was selected by Republicans to supply computerized voting machines in Ohio for the 2004 elections sent a letter to those Republican officials that stated he was "committed to helping Ohio deliver its electoral votes to the president next year." Bush-43 was the president at the time. Ohio ended up in 2004 having the worst voting fraud by authorities, along with New Mexico, in the country giving the presidency once again to George W. Bush.

Bruce Funk

We have Bruce Funk who was ousted from his position as county clerk, Emery County, Utah, for having Diebold voting machines independently tested by Black Box Voting\textsuperscript{136} for vote security, to assure that the machines were up to the job. The results of the independent testing were that the machines were highly vulnerable to tampering by even unsophisticated hackers. With insufficient backup memory and no paper backup for a recount, the machines are extremely flawed on purpose. They are cheap, poorly designed, and deliberately easy to hack by Republicans instructed on how to do it for vote stealing purposes.

People at the top of governmental departments around the country at state and local levels where machine-purchase decisions were made were fully aware of security concerns in voting before the purchases. After all, the prevention of voting fraud has been very high on the list of election-commissioner duties and responsibilities for many decades. The top decision-makers knowingly and deliberately looked the other way concerning huge security holes in the Diebold system.

\textsuperscript{136} http://www.blackboxvoting.org
Stephen Heller

We also have the case of Stephen Heller, a whistleblower, who exposed Diebold's illegal activities concerning California voting machines and who was subsequently charged with three felonies for his role in exposing Diebold's crimes against the people knowingly giving the people illegal, uncertified software. This is the typical conservative Republican method of attempting to crucify the messenger, the whistleblower. Jesus was a whistleblower after all. He exposed the evils of the system. He blew the foul-whistle against the selfishness (the Satanism) that ruins everything.

These people are far from the only people to come forward only to be fired by Republicans for it. Many coming forward were actually Republicans themselves.

Measures have been taken in a number of states to have a paper-backup trail.\textsuperscript{137} There is federal legislation pending that also requires a paper trail but apparently with weak audit procedures. None of that will fix the heart of the problem, as all real Christians will know. People can cheat with paper too. There just isn't enough top-to-bottom and bottom-to-top spirit of honesty and integrity.

The oxymoronic noble liars are just making it easier by turning to corrupting computer memory that is so easy to overwrite with fascist results leaving no trail, no mundane, tangible evidence other than the fascist takeover itself, which is proof-positive of lying and hardened hearts.

\textsuperscript{137} \url{http://www.verifiedvoting.org}
You can't beat them violently, and you can't join them. You aren't going to beat them at their evil game. You have to stop playing. Jesus did. Join the Real Liberal Christian Church. Help to built something that will bring forth the real bounty. Let us use the land as the True Levellers intended, but let us obtain the land in ways concerning which the powers that be cannot rightfully object. Let's not fight and kill to obtain the land. Let's give to obtain the commons for those who will share it with respect for God's desire. Let's spread the real word.

Well, even though we do that, we must remember that the evil in this world will lead to the great tribulation that will be absolutely awful but will end with the dawning of a new day ushering in God on earth. We must make straight the way, and that means not partaking of any of the abominations advocated by the reconstructionists/dominionists who are nothing if not violently coercive.

Reconstructionists/dominionists bring hell on earth

How will the so-called conservative-Republican Christians, the militant reconstructionists and dominionists, keep from being separated out with the goats? They have voted in hell on earth. They work for the fallen angel of death. They worship in the synagogue of Satan.

This false-Christian dominionism that seeks to dominate all of society by coercion, and its more ardent and unwitting militant sub-sect, Christian reconstructionism, are anathema to Christ. They do not love Christ. They do not know Christ.

False-Christian dominionists/reconstructionists lead to fascism

These false-Christian dominionists and reconstructionists have pulled the entire Christian-conservative movement much farther toward fascism. Hence we see the current George W. Bush administration and the neoconservatives and false Zionists deeply in bed with each other throughout government and the corporate and think-tank universe being used by, and using, the so-called conservative-Christian voting-bloc to spread the American Empire (present-day Biblical Babylon in spirit) around the whole world, causing wars, raping the land, torturing and falsely and secretly imprisoning peoples, polluting the water and air, and generally ruining everything they touch with their greed, violence, and villainy, all tied to fleshly lusts and depravity. They do this claiming Biblical justification from the verses saying that God gave dominion over the earth to mankind. However, they forget that Jesus said the following about dominion:

Whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant.

(Matthew 20:26-27).

No human group can undo Jesus's enhancement of the law to its divine standard by devolving Christianity back to the law for the hardhearted that was Moses law for that hard generation. No human group can undo Jesus's enhancement of the law to its divine standard by devolving Christianity back to the law for the hardhearted that was the Inquisition.

William G. Boykin

Stephen A. Cambone

Concerning dominionists, lieutenant general William G. Boykin is a prime example. He serves as the Pentagon’s deputy undersecretary of defense for intelligence under civilian Stephen A. Cambone, who is the Pentagon’s under-secretary of defense for intelligence.\(^\text{138}\) A little background on Cambone will shed light on why Boykin was chosen and allowed to remain in his position. Cambone answers directly to Donald Rumsfeld and is in charge of all the Pentagon's intelligence aspects including the NSA. He is the Pentagon's intelligence czar. He sets policy and controls the flow of funding.

Cambone sent major general Geoffrey Miller to Iraq from being in charge of Camp X-Ray in Cuba to being in charge of Abu Ghraib where intelligence was placed over military police, which was thoroughly documented by major general Antonio Taguba before the US Senate Armed Services Committee in May of 2004.

You will notice how the Bush-43 administration is keen to make the distinction between war and policing so that the conservatives may play off people’s notions that there is more that is fair in war than in policing. Of course, fairness is an absolute under the new commandment of Jesus Christ. There are those of course who wish to erode the standards in policing as well, but they find the going more difficult since it is closer to home in the emotions of the US citizenry. Cambone and Miller and the attorneys at the US Justice Department, such as Alberto Gonzales and earlier John Yoo and others, all agreed to increase the darkest of arts that is torture of human beings for all the effects torture has upon individuals and societies. They sanitize the concept by emphasizing the importance of obtaining actionable intelligence to protect and grow the worldly Empire system. They are the conservative's chief Empire rationalizers.

\(^{138}\) He has since resigned.

Now, Cambone selected lieutenant general William G. Boykin as his undersecretary. Boykin professes Jesus Christ. His interpretation is that turning the other cheek is not the law of God but rather that through violence and other means Christians are to take over the world and rule with a violent rod of iron. This is in the stream of consciousness of the reconstructionists who advocate that, that rod of iron will include stoning people to death once again, which is of course diametrically opposed to the teachings and actual example of the founder of Christianity who is Jesus.

Now, Boykin is half right and this is where everyone always gets into trouble. He is right that the enemy is the evil spirit who goes by the name Satan, among other names or words which we have assigned that spirit to conjure up the concept, fire the neurons, etc. The problem is with how each of us is to deal with that spirit.
Violence is not the solution, not the answer, not the means. Violence is the evil spirit. Boykin makes his mistake by not seeing that the God of Jesus is the God of perfect peace in heaven and here. He and so many others do not understand that The Bible is the revelation of an increasing unfolding vision of unselfishness, and that it contains the story of the arguments of people inspired to find the truth and to relate it to others. He and so many others are stuck with an interpretation of God over a thousand years before Jesus shed more light into the world. It also comes down to whether or not the conservatives are going to level with the Muslims on the same basis. Ultimately, pacifism here and now (within the full context of the peace of the lord and all that that implies) is the difference between Islam and Christianity.

On one hand, you have these reconstructionists and dominionists, such as the New Life Church in Colorado Springs, Colorado, US, who hate what they see as the decay of the traditional fabric, which fabric they credit with positives much more than its due and fail to see its negatives nearly altogether. New Life Church is the most politically powerful single voice of the false-Christian reconstructionist-dominionist movement. These people are dead set against Jesus's teachings. They are dead set against turning the other cheek. They are highly weaponized to a degree that makes the Branch Davidians of Waco, Texas, under David Koresh, seem absolutely unthreatening. They are networked with some forty-five thousand nearly likeminded churches with some thirty million believers through the powerful lobbying group the National Association of Evangelicals. George W. Bush speaks with their leader, Ted Haggard, regularly.

To his credit, Ted Haggard signed onto the call to end all torture immediately. The document is entitled, Torture is a Moral Issue. It was put out by the National Religious Campaign Against Torture. The document was signed by twenty-seven so-called religious leaders. Of course, the problem with the Bush-43 administration comes down to the definition of torture. Bush claims they don't torture. They define torture as causing fatal internal organ damage or something to that end. Therefore, the things they did at Abu Ghraib were not torture in their minds except when someone died from organ failure as a result of physical beatings or the like.

This comes at the same time that the American Medical Association issued a statement saying, among other things, "Physicians in all circumstances must never be involved in activities that are physically or mentally coercive. If physicians engage in such activities, the whole profession is tainted."

---

139 Haggard has since been removed for adultery, homosexual activity, and illicit drug use.
National Religious Broadcasters Association

There is also the National Religious Broadcasters Association. It is an association of some one thousand six hundred self-styled Christian broadcasters with some two hundred million listeners and viewers on radio and TV around the world. Many of the broadcasters are highly militant.

You have them against abortion and homosexuality, because those things come out of confusion; yet, you have them resorting to measures that Jesus stood firmly against such as human violence and the death penalty. Those are hypocritical positions to take for sinners imagining themselves to be born again and saved. They haven't been born again in the Holy Spirit. They aren't saved yet. They are not consistently pro-life and without coercion but in faith. They kill souls.

These people preach capitalism for the sake of those at the top. They spin out propaganda to mesmerize and entrap the common folk back into that brainwashed mentality that says accept the domination of mammon. The superrich use them, and they join the superrich while pretending it is the blessings of Americanism. For these people, the American flag is as sacred as God's word: Truth. They are half-truth infotainers. They disingenuously put on lightshows and use fog machines in worship. They do this from the perspective that their churchgoers are firstly capitalist customers attracted by being served up only the flavor of Christianity that builds their self-esteem despite their ignoring Christ's admonitions. The preachers know what the congregant-capitalist-consumers want to be served up, because they have taken polls to find out. The congregants want to be made to feel good about their mundane, hoarded prosperity. They are dead set against the giving-and-sharing-all direction to the kingdom. Some make fun of giving and sharing all as sensitive and necessarily effeminate.

Since when is sensitivity not masculine? A male should not have cold eyes to be masculine. That's a Nazi mentality. Cold eyes are just the dead spirit looking out.

Jesus was strong in God and softhearted in God too

Do you thing Jesus was effeminate? Do you think everyone in the temple would have fled from a solitary, effeminate man with some cords in his hand? Do you think they would have run away leaving all their money there? Jesus was tough. How many US Marines fast in the wilderness alone, unarmed, for forty days and nights where lions roam? How many of the US Special Forces will willingly walk in the center of Jerusalem unarmed knowing they will be taken and crucified? How many of them could be so severely beaten and ridiculed without becoming angry and fighting back? Jesus was also soft at the same time and wasn't ashamed of it at all. That's a miracle.
The militant, conservative, false Christians want to bring in a military and capitalist religion wrapped in the sheep’s clothing of Christianity. They appear to the gullible as angels of light while on the inside they are way off the narrow way and far, far from the kingdom. They are leading souls astray into the devouring spirit of a different facet of the same selfish spirit that they claim to be fighting.

They're planning to murder anyone who is for real Christianity. They want the hierarchy from the top down. They are training minds to hate the leveling message of Christ, which is the true word of God, which is the word of raising up the bottom to everyone sharing ownership. They don't want everyone sharing. They want more for themselves. It is a selfish message they preach. It is a violent message. Within it is also a hidden message of excessive sexual lust that doesn't remain hidden if you look and see. It's right there in their fruits.

They aren't particularly bothered by torture and the like. They see it as pardonable, or even called for, by God against the enemies of free-market consumerism and amassing private, personal wealth. This comes out of the lie that is the doctrine of predestination: To hell with the poor. That false doctrine came from Calvin. These are antichrist militarists.

Bloodlust fever

They want to get back at everything. They want to kill. They have bloodlust, and their fever is rising. They are the spirit of antichrist. They don't know Jesus, and he doesn't know them.
They are ready to burn people at the stake. They are ready to crucify Christ again and again. They want the death penalty for heresy as only they define what is to be believed. They want to kill people for adultery, which is exactly what Jesus stopped the Jews from doing. The same fate awaits these militant reconstructionists and dominionists as awaited the Zealots of Jesus's time. They were wiped out.

James Dobson: Focus on the Family

There is also James Dobson whose group Focus on the Family has some seven million American listeners and two hundred million globally. They are a medium empire covering radio, periodicals, books, films, videos, and the Internet. Their 2004 revenue was just under one hundred thirty-seven million US dollars. Just how militant Dobson is remains behind the scenes. He has one thousand three hundred plus employees in Colorado Springs where New Life Church is also headquartered.

The militants are coming out of their closets. They are more and more asking people to choose up sides openly about whether or not they, the individuals, stand for a civil war if necessary to takeover the United States to install a fascist government under the cover of a twisted and corrupted version of Christianity so mangled that it cannot rightfully be called Christian at all. Many people are afraid to speak out openly against these people for fear of being subjected to them in the future. Real Christians, however, have no choice but to speak the truth that Jesus's message is mercy, peace, love, turning the other cheek, and freely choosing God. That is not what the conservatives are preaching. They are preaching falsehood. They give Christianity a bad name. They twist its meaning.\textsuperscript{140} We must straighten the definition in people's minds and hearts.

Rod Parsley: World Harvest Church

People such as Rod Parsley of World Harvest Church, outside Columbus, Ohio, and others calling themselves patriot pastors are reconstructionist preachers from the dark side. They'd nail Jesus to the cross if they got a chance. Their spirit already did it once.

\textsuperscript{140} "Ohio – 'A battle between the forces of righteousness and the hordes of hell.'"

Jesus would stand before them telling them that they sin by hoping for the death penalty for the following:

- Adultery
- Blasphemy
- Child unruliness
- Heresy
- Homosexuality
- Idolatry
- Murder
- Rape
Working on the sabbath. They better repent.

The other end of the false spectrum with the reconstructionists

On the other hand, you have the churches, such as some in the United Church of Christ:

reformed (Calvinist, and to a lesser extent Lutheran);

congregationalist (autonomous, democratic, confederated congregations);

and evangelical (as they see it, Biblical inerrancy, salvation by faith and grace alone, spiritual regeneration, and proselytizing, etcetera)

and some in the Episcopal Church (apostolic succession, meaning bishops as the princes of the church chosen by fellow princes) which self-styled liberals preach a connotation of toleration that goes way beyond the other edge of the narrow way.

The narrow way is not being violent or coercive or holding hypocritical views. These extremists heading in the opposite direction on the false spectrum of the reconstructionists/dominionists above, while deploring the violence, hypocrisy, sanctimony, and false piety of those reconstructionists/dominionists, actually embrace the misdirection of the other end of the whole false, selfish, hardhearted spectrum. They end up condoning and, therefore, proselytizing on the spectrum of confusion that leads to abortion-on-demand, no-fault divorce, and homosexuality and violence. These are all unbridled lusts. They are all in line with greed, with the dark, devouring spirit: All guided in a spirit of selfishness. Neither end of, nor any place on, this spectrum is on the path to the kingdom.

Jesus was the strictest Finding the way passed this, overcoming it, is not going back to Moses. Finding the way is not seeing such license in Jesus. Moses was strict, but Jesus was the strictest. Jesus's discipline calls for the ultimate in self-discipline in unselfishness that sees the infinitesimal harm (wrong path) as violating the greatest commandments and, therefore, missing perfection that is heaven and God.

Moses in the wilderness wasn't heaven yet Keeping Moses's law in the wilderness wasn't heaven yet. It was better than child sacrifice, cannibalism, bestiality, and sodomy, but it wasn't the perfect spirit. It was as much as could be expected of those people at that time.

Keeping Jesus's law keeps one from doing any of the things Moses held out to be disgusting while going further to keeping one from doing those things that additionally Jesus held out to be disgusting, such as war and taking from other people what they don't willingly and joyfully give and share in the right spirit: A much more rigorous discipline; a higher calling and leading closer and closer to that perfection that is God in heaven. However, by being so strict, he spares adherents from the pain of sin in both the short and long run.

Sin won't be gone until all people stop sinning, so there will be pain even for the innocent. Sinners will become angry and retaliate against those who so turn, but there is the promise of salvation and redemption for those who will persevere.

It is true that Jesus didn't turn any sinners away. He did though tell them and expect them to stop sinning. If they didn't heed, he didn't continue working with them or on them. Only the genuinely willing, those who were not out to justify their misguided path, were fertile soil. Jesus did not judge or condemn those who were spiritually blind and deaf to these truths. They marked themselves.

Jesus: Neither homosexual nor militant

It is not a sin to be an ethnic minority. One does not have to overcome anything but the spirit that divides. Homosexuality and bisexuality, however, are inherently of the dividing and devouring, selfish, spirits just as the evil wrath that seeks to purge those spirits via the wrong method. Neither path is healthful. Neither is wholesome. It is not healthy to be homosexual, and it is not healthy to be a militant against homosexuality. Jesus was neither homosexual nor militant.

Are you listening? Are you looking? Do you hear and see and understand and know?

Real theocracy: No dictatorship

The real theocracy or theonomy has never been heaven by force. It has simply taught and shown that the dead are dead of the Holy Spirit of truth. They end up on the proverbial fire of their own choosing and making. That is the way of it, and it is just. This is God's rule of existence. A world of Christ-like people is no worldly police state. When they were coming to take Jesus by force to make him their king, he disappeared alone into the mountains. Does that sound like a would-be dictator to you?

God will rule over all hearts when all hearts are unanimous. The new heaven and earth will not fall into the temptation of indignation and wrath. There will be no hearts testing the limits of forbearance. No one will storm the new kingdom by force or crowd in. The means to the end that is heaven and earth conflated are the same as the end. The kingdom is come when God's will is done on earth. If you want heaven, do it. Have the faith to do it. Pray for the faith to do it.

Because of the exigencies (actions seen as requiring urgent attention) of those labeled dominionists, there is a backlash within certain portions of Protestant Christian evangelicalism. It is proper to speak the truth about governments and ostensible churches that are not of the peace: Dominionist-minded. Unless the truth is spoken, souls will be left in the dark. Many people tongue-lash governments and ostensible churches. It is admonishing. "And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you." (1 Thessalonians 5:12). So long as they are servants, last, chosen to be followed by the people, it is right. Governments and congregations have been admonished by righteous prophets for thousands of years. Those prophets spoke the truth to governments and congregations. The prophets were laboring in the vineyard. They were over kings and high priests in the Holy Spirit of truth. Wise kings and priests heeded. Foolhardy leaders went ahead and transgressed. Such admonishing, however, is not all that is required.

And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh. Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecclesiastes 12:12-14).
We must act

We are admonished not to procrastinate wearing ourselves down with writing and studying books ("much study is a weariness of the flesh") when all righteousness written of in books and sought through books is summarized as keeping the new commandment. We must do more than writing books and studying the written word and admonishing governments, congregations, and others astray. Keeping the first and great commandment and the second like it is more than just these things.

Make no mistake, it is completely right to correct the apostate as real prophets have always done. It is wrong simply to praise them. To only praise those astray is disingenuous. It is always done for selfish reasons. It is as the mind-set of the super patriots who say "My country right or wrong." Ultimately, therefore, they see no wrong. Nothing good ever comes of that. It is the practice of false prophets. "He that rebuketh a man afterwards shall find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue." (Proverbs 28:23). Of course, always give specific credit where specific credit is due. There are governments, congregations, and other entities closer to the kingdom than others.

We are told to bring forth the fruit with patience. We are not to wait for mundane governments. Neither are we to be so impatient that we give up ever. We are not to just wait for the kingdom to come as so many confused false preachers claim. Neither though are we to attempt to bring in the kingdom via violent insurrection or revolt of any kind. We are to explain to mundane governments how they are astray, in their belligerence, etc.; we are to do the good deeds that all ought to be doing; and we are to be forever pacifistic.

Don't just berate, do the good deeds

Berating mundane governments and congregations than asking for money to start or further entities (churches or what have you) just to further spread that berating message while not doing the deeds called for by Jesus but rather just sitting on one's hands is not Christian. It is not Christian to believe that one is not supposed to do as God does: To emulate God's righteousness that is freely giving and sharing. It is not Christian to believe that one is not to do anything to bring in the kingdom. It is not Christian to believe that one is just supposed to wait it out. Bringing forth the fulfillment of the prophecy requires real Christians to step forward to do the deeds called for by Jesus and to suffer any resulting persecutions for the sake of righteousness.

As long as we are doing the new commandment that necessarily includes feeding the lambs and sheep, giving and sharing all to that end, we can rightly write and read and tell governments and others where they are astray.

We must tell them that it is all leading to the separation of good and evil: Sifting. The LORD does it.

His lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire. And his breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to err. (Isaiah 30:27-28).

Their hearts will harden on account of the implications of the truth. They will refuse to let go of their worthless conceit and pride. They will refuse to give God glory.

Satan sifts also. "And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat." (Luke 22:31). Satan is premature in his judgments. God is not.
What is this sifting action? Every time we are confronted by temptation to do an offense we are being tested. Given enough testing and tempting, one may break that is pass endurance. One's patience is exhausted and one then offends. What's the point? It is to weed out those who are not yet worthy for heaven. The patient (the enduring) overcome the trials of this life. They stop offending to the extent that they will be found worthy to stand before the Son of man. Peter wasn't prepared yet.

God versus Satan, continued

This difference between God and Satan or godliness and Satanism needs clarifying. God created everything. God, therefore, created the opportunity for good and evil. As explained elsewhere in this work, God created this situation so we may learn the difference and freely choose the good. That way, we may truly appreciate and understand, etc. There is much more to this than can be written here. It is infinite. At the same time, it is all summed up in the new commandment (plainly and clearly implied). It takes a softening heart to begin grasping it.

If God never allowed for temptation, we would all be preprogrammed so to speak. We would never have to go through the trials of temptations to overcome them in free-will. We would never be allowed to arrive at worthy knowledge: The earned, merit-worthy, tried and tested, and accepted knowledge. God wants us separated into those who obtain that knowledge, and therefore act accordingly, and those who do not. It is the meaning of existence.
Now, there is the spiritual spectrum from godliness to Satanism. Before Jesus, the faith taught that the location on that spectrum where God leaves off and Satan begins is farther down the spectrum toward absolute evil (quicker to sift; quicker to wrath). They didn't know God as well as Jesus knows God. What they wanted was nevertheless much more righteous than what was generally going on during their time. It was the best the conditions of their hearts could muster. Therefore, they were allowed to access the power of the spirit for the righteousness they were able to bring forth. That level is no longer acceptable. The power of the spirit can no longer be summoned for such a lower calling. The bar has been raised. It was as high as they were ready.

It had to be that Jesus came and taught us the higher revelatory truth that the place where godliness leaves off and Satanism begins is infinitely farther up toward our grasp of absolute righteousness that is vastly more merciful than had been previously merited or, therefore, known. What was not widely understood as sin before Jesus became inexcusable after Jesus, at least for those who have heard the word, grasped it on the so-called intellectual level, and rejected it as evidence by their deeds running contrary to the revelation.

For instance, where war was not necessarily seen as sin before, it became obvious sin afterwards. The wars of the Old Testament became no longer acceptable, because God had revealed more of God’s righteousness through Jesus who came out from God. That is why the Israelis lost their struggle with the Romans. No matter how much they might have observed all the rest of the message, had they still gone to war, they would have lost. "The acceptable year of the LORD" (Luke 4:19) was, and will still be, followed by "the day of vengeance of our God." (Isaiah 61:2).

The old message was superseded by the new and better message. That is the nature of the unfolding revelation. Were it otherwise, there would never have been any revelation from the beginning.

So, while we wish to be delivered from evil here and now, we must be patient for the sakes of those who have not yet had a full, knowing opportunity to choose to overcome. If God were to come now in wrath, who would measure up to being worthy of salvation? Even those calling for the purging that occurs as a result of wrath would not necessarily make it through the tribulation. The standard they are keeping can be too low. It can be too impatient for sufficient mercy.

There are two competing ways of gaining. One is true the other is false. One is by peace that is the way of Jesus and God. The other is by war that is the way of Satan. It is taking the vengeance of God into one's own hands. It is distorting God's vengeance by twisting it into getting back. It is arrogance. It is usurping. One is eternal. The other is temporary. Which way is your nation headed?

God, of course, understands all of this better than any of us can express. We are forever learning that we are ultimately to overcome selfishness in every form.
Apostate governments overthrow each other. They do not have the patience of being close to God to convince one another of peace. Such apostate governments reflect the hearts of the citizenry. They mark themselves for sifting out. They must repent of their conceit and pride to be made whole.

Impatience of the neocons

You see the impatience of the neocons. It isn't godly at all, as you may readily hear and see.

For the individual soul, there is the internal government of the conscience. Each person within the royal priesthood forever is a sovereign entity among sovereign entities. Those sovereign entities include the whole sovereignty of God. God says everyone is to be Christlike; therefore, how can any government violently overthrow other governments and expect not to be dissolved from above? Christlikeness is rising. It's opposite is lowering into the pit of darkness.

The truth spoken even by a single person comes from God and has the power of God in it. People's bad, selfish reaction to the truth brings out the worst in them. They fall to the temptation of wrathfulness even calling it righteous indignation. They then upbraid with the sword in hand rather than the sword in mouth. They bring it out in themselves. They turn their hearts to violence rather than turning to peace. That is what leads to the abomination of desolation.

One brings in the kingdom via peace only. Those who are not bringing in the kingdom by peace are of the devouring, destructive spirit that never gets to heaven.

The range of human emotion and human confusion over what is offending versus what is purging is reflected in the human view of God. This is why we see humans saying that God sifts and Satan sifts and that God is wrathful and Satan is wrathful, etc. This is why we hear Jesus saying that "I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?" (Luke 18:8). God will see to it that justice is meted out to those who cry for it, but are those who are crying for it themselves faithful? You see, Jesus said Satan desired to sift Peter. Jesus is also saying that the Son of man will come with his angels to separate the faithless from the faithful. Where is the line between Satan's wanting to sift and the Son of man's sifting? It lies in patience and more.

Satan is reckless, wiping out the good with the bad

God is long enduring. God gives ample time for people to turn. God makes the rain to fall on the believers and nonbelievers alike. Satan on the other hand is the spirit of rash anger. Satan is reckless. He will wipe out the good with the bad. That is why Jesus told his disciples to visit all the cities of Israel with the message before the tribulation. They were not to tarry. They were not to salute people along the way. They had a job to do. All had to hear so they could accept or reject. Jesus was patient but not procrastinating. He called upon those who followed him to be likewise.
The perfect cannot stand with what is divided against it. The incorruptible can have nothing in it that is corruptible. God is absolutely perfect and incorruptible. Everything relatively less than perfect on this spectrum is in the direction of the satanic spirit dividing itself off from the incorruptible making itself corruptible, unjust, and, thereby, subject to death. Perfect patience is absolute godliness. Perfect justice is absolute godliness. Fairness dictates patience before the great tribulations so that souls may be given the word. Each soul is afforded the opportunity to measure up or not. The premature will want the harvest before that has happened. That spirit is in the direction of the satanic. Satan says why wait?

And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.

(Daniel 7:25).

God says let those who will receive the truth and be faithful hear the word before any sifting. This is why patience, perseverance, and long-suffering in self-sacrifice are proper. It is why Jesus was a man of many sorrows.

If the Son of man were to come right now for the harvest of souls, who would measure up? Have you repented? Have you toiled in the vineyard long enough? Have you carried your cross far enough? Have all had a clear enough opportunity to repent? Have all heard fairly enough? Where is justice when one violates an unknown law and is punished for it? The law must be known. That's what Jesus did. He made us know where sin lies. It remains for all nations to hear it enough that each will have had the opportunity to accept it and adhere or reject it. We are to spread it in patience (which Biblically means while we endure or persevere) but not in procrastination.

We are not being conditioned as beings without higher brain matter. We are being reasoned with. Let us do what is truly reasonable and rational.

From all of this, it is plainly obvious that I am not a political ideological liberal in the commonly understood sense of the term "liberal." Let us all endeavor to be real liberals, real Jews, real Christians, real people. Let us all together bring forth the fruit worthy of repentance and in perseverance. Let us all be further purged for the sake of further righteousness.
Chapter 16  False Dichotomy

The currently espoused dichotomy between politically conservative and liberal is false.

The conservative of today is a traditionalist: Preservative and protective of his human traditions. His traditions are not God's. The commandments of God as given by Jesus are the traditions of God. The fruits of the conservatives are the antithesis of the fruits of keeping the commandments of God. Keeping the divine law (the spirit of the commandments) results in people giving and sharing all. It results in no oppression or neediness for lack of compassion. Yet, we see much oppression and starvation on the planet, and we find that traditionalists dominate, and have dominated, the planet throughout recorded history. There have been very few possible exceptions to the domination of traditionalist anywhere at any time in recorded history.

The current age goes back to A.D. 73. It is also a part of an even longer age going back to the first rulers in selfishness and willfulness. They began the tradition that is still supported today by the elitists who are the conservatives and especially the new brood, the neoconservatives. They believe they deserve more, because they have more, regardless of how they came by what they have. They believe that by virtue of their willingness to take what they want, they prove themselves entitled.
The first of their breed, the first rulers, lost sight of the connection with the divine origin of everything that makes clear and plain that all things are given for the benefit of all and not just those who are greedy enough to strip it away from the smaller or weaker. They stopped being thankful for the gifts of God and started praising themselves as the suppliers of the people's requirements. They lauded themselves. They set themselves up by usurping God's dominion. They took control by being more self-centered. From that point on, right up to the present, willfulness has ruled the world. Many of the current rulers are the heirs of those very first willful bullies who took the food out of the mouths of others leaving them in need. It is the lower spirit, the selfish spirit.

The conservatives and self-styled neoliberals will say that the lack of their economic system is the root cause of starvation and other evils. Well, before their system there was plenty. Their system spoiled it for everyone. We could have had a fully giving and sharing planet except for that greedy spirit. Those traditionalists seek to preserve and protect the wrong things. They just call for more of the same evil ruination.

Thou, even thou, art LORD alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee. (Nehemiah 9:6).
Real conservatives
It is in this sense of preserving the planet by being good stewards of earth that humans may be true preservationists and protectionists and in keeping with the traditions of God.

Traditions of men and not God
The tradition of the false conservative today is to rape the planet for monetary and material gain at the greater expense of the whole of the planet and every living thing. Meanwhile, others who are starving ought to be fully sharing in the fat of the land which should be allowed to rest naturally as needed to recover and tended with respect for the gift that it is from God. Nevertheless, the conservatives will defend their system and even call all of their ill-gotten spoils a blessing of God.

They will defend their system with prideful boasting. "In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wise shall preserve them." (Proverbs 14:3). Their pride blinds them to the truth about their traditions.

For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders. And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brased vessels, and of tables. Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashed hands? He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do. And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. (Mark 7:3-9).

Lest anyone be confused, Jesus was referring to ceremonial cleaning. That kind of washing was meant to purify in a perfunctory sense. Jesus was not preaching against washing, per se. He said the following:

But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face; That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. (Matthew 6:17-18).

If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another's feet.
(John 13:14).

The ceremonial cleaning of pots, etc., did not actually cause a spiritual cleansing. Keeping the new commandment causes cleansing. Jesus washing his disciples feet represented the new commandment. It represented humility, being least, serving that made Jesus great and first. He was telling them that they all ought to be so humble and great in earnest and not in a contrived or conceited way. He told Peter that Peter had to come to understand that he had to receive Jesus's humility for the sake of righteousness.

The conservatives certainly do keep their traditions regardless of their hypocrisy.

Wherefore the Lord said,
Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men:
Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.
(Isaiah 29:13-14).

Jesus was a marvelous gift from God. He confuted everything the false conservatives and false liberals said. Even today, the Holy Spirit comes to us and confutes all their positions. Their positions are indefensible. They are hypocritical positions. Honor, respect, and reverence for God are not shown by following the traditions of men but rather the divine law of God. God wants us to be reconciled to God and merciful, compassionate, kind, and tender especially to those in need. All the public and private rituals and ceremonies in the world are worse than in vain when the commandment of God for mercy is not kept. Church worship, per se, will account for a debit (drawback, detriment) for the unmerciful. Woe to the churches of the unmerciful.

It is traditional for people, even in ostensible churches, to be unmerciful, not to give and share all. Therefore, through greed, theft, hoarding, neglect, and abuse, people go without. It is traditional for conservatives and many self-styled liberals to put themselves and then their immediate family members first. Despite professing Christ, conservatives hoard against the family in spirit while heaping expensive gifts upon their closest flesh-and-blood. This is confusion.

The Real Meaning of Words:
The real meaning of words lies in the truth. The truth of a word traces back to God. Reality lies in God. The real traditionalists uphold the truth of God's sharing and merciful spirit. The real liberals are the upholders. They are preservationists of God's footstool that is earth. They are the spirit of, the embodiment of, beneficence for the sake of righteousness and not personal return in any form, including notoriety.
Everything that is good and proper in real conservationism and liberalism meet in godliness. They are of the same spirit. They are not dichotomous. The notion of there being a dichotomy between real conservatism (conservationism) and real liberalism is a result of the fracturing of the language, the truth, by the agents of falsehood. A confused language makes the people more fractious. That fracturing of the language has been compounding up to the present.

All the major arguments between what are seen as philosophical and theological schools of thought may be boiled down to false dichotomies and false paradoxes. This includes the philosophy of science as well, even pure mathematics. God is the solution to all of those arguments seen as dichotomous or paradoxical.

There is complete conflation via the Holy Spirit of truth (giving true meanings) of all those ideas seen as dichotomous or paradoxical. Selfishness has corrupted the language for affect. All answers lie in unselfishness. The Holy Spirit of truth will tell one everything one needs to know.

You need to know that God is proven by definition, by manifestations of prophecy, and by our very existence. God is proven by the truth that following the commandments as Jesus said would result in heaven and earth conflating. How could it be otherwise? Does anyone believe that were all to be Christlike the result would be hell on earth rather than heaven? By extension, since these things are true, the other things Jesus taught are true as well, for truth hangs upon consistency. There will be the resurrection and salvation of all worthy souls as measured against the righteousness they grasped and either turned from or toward in feelings, thoughts, words, and deeds.

The ideal
You need to know that the ideal is the most rational. Idealism and rationalism are not at odds. They are not dichotomous. The ideal is the sanest by definition. It is the ultimate standard. How can the sanest be irrational? The sanest thing to do is seek the ideal. That is what Jesus did. He exemplified, showed, and embodied God. He was at one with God. He was God with us.

The ideal is first felt. The ideal is burned into the soul through the overwhelming emotion of repentance. It is translated into words and deeds. Those words and deeds then, in turn, enlighten.

Error of John Duns Scotus and Søren Kierkegaard
There is no dichotomy between faith and reasoning. There is no leap accept from fear to truth. All true doctrines are based upon consistency. Contrary to the teachings of John Duns Scotus, the failure of reasoned consistency within faith lies in humanity and not in the revelation. Also, Søren Kierkegaard was mistaken that the revelation contains anything irrational. On the contrary, the revelation is the most rational thinking there is. Jesus was perfectly rational. There is faith in reasoning. There is faith in science. There is reasoning and science in faith. These are not mutually exclusive. In fact, they are inextricable.

Faith is confidence. It is confidence in the logic of the self-evidence of God. God does not require proving. God is that apparent. This does not mean that God is not provable. As has been said elsewhere, the prophecies that have unfolded have provided ample proof.

Whenever anyone attempted to tempt Jesus or to justify himself to Jesus, Jesus invariably silenced him with perfect thinking. He used empirical evidence in his parables to teach the revealed truth. People knew the truth of what he spoke from their own observations. Once they realized he was cutting through the obfuscations of his detractors and revealing truths people had never understood before, many realized they could trust him in all matters. He didn't fail them. None of this is contradictory. Jesus taught people based upon the experiences of those people. He gave them examples and asked them what they concluded based upon their experiences in life.

Also, when were any of Jesus's detractors ever correct? They were not. One doesn't need to make a leap to this. One needs simply to pull the wool from off ones eyes placed there by the traditional thinking and indoctrination and socialization of lusting, prideful, fearful, and iniquitous people who themselves were earlier led astray by those same spirits.

Pulling the wool from off ones eyes means finding the divine via the real free inquiry. One finds that the only proper hierarchy is the result of the uncoerced choice to follow the lead of teachers and exemplifiers and not the result of any threat or violence. One finds other things as well.

The harmony of the whole and the least part together is the only proper balance. The intent of the secular laws hangs upon the spirit of the divine law that is the real and natural law. The human made law of both the self-styled conservatives and self-styled liberals that runs contrary to the divine law is the contrivance or unnatural and unreal law. It is out of balance. There can be no ultimate harmony in keeping only to those secular laws, because those laws fall short of their own intention. They are inherently hypocritical. Their letter always falls short of the spirit. Keeping to the spirit that is the new commandment is the only way not to violate the non-hypocritical law. The secular laws are not the real law any more than the manna was the real bread. They are better than being even further from the kingdom; therefore, we are not to advocate revolt. Nevertheless, those laws by human beings are not close enough to the kingdom. Just as Jesus said that people must exceed the Pharisees in righteousness to enter the kingdom of heaven, we also need to exceed the secular laws in righteousness. The ceremonial, liturgical, traditional are as lip service. We must do the deeds, the works, by which we shall all be measured.

For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven. Ye have heard that it was said of them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire. (Matthew 5:20-22).

Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath already in his heart. (Matthew 5:27-28).

It hath been said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery. Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne: Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black. But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil. Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. (Matthew 5:31-39).

Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 5:43-45).

You should read in those verses that the law was enhanced and hypocrisy removed. Now, how can we call for wrath rather than love? How were the first Christians knowingly taken to die in the arenas without fighting back? They were patient and did no offense. They lost their temporary flesh but held their souls and gained their real life for not having fallen into the temptation of selfish flesh.
All contrivance is unreal, disharmonious, and fractured. All such laws are demands of those who cannot otherwise convince the people to be unselfish. Many such laws are deliberate schemes or corruptions of the spirit of intent to lessen the impact on selfishness. Those include the laws of the unrighteousness of mammon. They are laws actually of, by, and for the most selfish. The laws of humanity are only as valid as they are consistent with the spirit of the divine. There is no real law that is hypocritical. That is the meaning of real.

The secular laws and the other aspects of the status quo as of the time of this writing are built upon hypocrisy that is selfishness. For instance, both power and wealth have been arbitrarily taken by force against the known teachings of righteousness. People live in sinful excess while others go without because of it. This is true of both the so-called conservatives and so-called liberals: The false conservationists and the false liberals. The adherents of both of these so-called modern ideologies have colluded with each other in creating the current woeful state of the earth.

The detractors and misinterpreters of the faith have failed to see the rationality even in the new commandment. They certainly will have trouble with the following.

Irrational disbelief

By logical extension that is consistency, it is the height of rationality to believe the truth of God's power over all matter. It is perfect sense to believe Jesus concerning that power of God, because Jesus and the prophets before him prophesied correctly and taught in a way that unfolded or revealed the same God and because Jesus performed miracle after miracle through that power of God. Such power would not run through someone who used it only for good only for us to find out that he was false. That would render everything beyond belief. In what could anyone trust? Could one have faith in anything?

No signs before the right time
No signs beyond the mundane are necessary to come to this understanding that God has power over all matter. Signs beyond the mundane are given though to those who ask for answers but are not necessarily looking for what others would call supernatural signs, wonders, or portends. Those asking in earnest for unselfish reasons are given such signs. They know it when it happens to them. It happens all the time in the world, but people do not speak of it openly because others call them irrational.

Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you. (Matthew 7:6).

This is why Jesus did not transfigure in front of the whole city of Jerusalem. He took only three of his disciples with him when he transfigured. In doing this, he made it a matter of trust for the rest so they could be separated into the believers who were the fertile soil and those who were not fertile soil for the seeds of truth and the resurrection of the just. The rest could either see or not that his transfiguration as reported by the three was completely consistent with everything else that they knew firsthand since Jesus was performing miracles all about that even the Pharisees were not disputing.

The people who ask and receive are able to make the logical connections between the occurrences and the expressions of God over-and-above what is the commonplace of the selfish non-seekers of truth. They come to realize that knowledge of God is the highest knowledge. There is no real knowledge or intellect absent God. All that is called knowledge and intellect that rejects God is falsehood. It contains inherent hypocrisy.

If you need proof

Do the following:

When you are alone, soften your heart, feel for all those who are suffering in the world including yourself, and ask God and Jesus, in earnest, whether what I am telling you here is the truth. You will receive the answer. Evil may tempt you to disbelieve the very answer you receive. Look that square on. It is your opportunity to overcome temptation. You will then see the stark contrast between good and evil that is unselfishness versus selfishness, and, therefore, God and Satan. Do not turn away. Do not backslide. It will be the beginning of your awakening. You will then go on to magnify the good. The skeletons in your closet will be removed, turned to dust, and discarded being permanently displaced by love so as never to return. There will be no room for them in the Holy Temple of God within you. You will repent and be forgiven. You will realize why Jesus went to the cross for you and for many: So that you might see and hear and walk on the path of righteousness and do the work of God; so that you might know how much of what kind of love atones.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. (Matthew 7:7-8).

Divine language
Those who ask and receive come to understand as you’ve been shown time and again about the importance of context to understanding the language of the revelation. To better understand Jesus is simultaneously to comprehend both the common (pharisaic) language and the real divine language (meanings). Jesus spoke, depending upon the listener, both the divine and the standard in the parables, his sermons, and his conversations with his disciples. The spiritually deaf, the hardhearted, heard only the standard language. The softhearted, the unselfish, heard the divine and understood that the hardhearted were still hearing only the old hardhearted meanings of the words or were dreading the implications of the divine truth.

The meanings new to the first-time hearers allowed them to realize that Jesus was continually making reference to earlier analogies as did the prophets before him. The terms are many, such as: Yeast, sword, and truth, light, life, and treasure, bottle, blood, and wine, bread, branch, and vine, water, sheep, and so on. He spoke in figurative terms with absolute meanings concerning absolute truth. The clear meanings conflated in him. He could see through to the spirit, the very essence, of the commandments and the way that words manifested in reality as they do.

He could teach the divine language to those whom the Pharisees felt were too ceremonially unclean to receive even the Pharisee's profane traditions.

Because of the implications of all the absolute truths Jesus taught in his parables, the Pharisees murdered him just as their spiritual and traditionalist forbearers had murdered prophets before him.

Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation. And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.
And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death. (John 11:47-53).

They admitted Jesus's miracles and realized that if they left Jesus alone, everyone would believe Jesus.

Blood libel on the evil spirit

Jesus had said to the scribes and Pharisees as follows:

That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar. (Matthew 23:35).
False spectrum

Now rather than believing that the Pharisees knew the miracles were real and that everyone should come to believe in the message of Jesus, the so-called conservatives and liberals bicker and backbite over a false spectrum. The spectrum of the so-called conservatives and liberals does not contain complete unselfishness on either so-called end. Their spectrum is devoid of absolute trust in the real God of the new commandment. They don't know God else they would advocate as Jesus did to do what God does that is give and share all freely.

➤ What do these ideologies believe and what is the Christian position?

They pay lip service to equality, free markets and trade, governmental transparency, human dignity, individual civil liberties, limited government, self-determination, popular government, privacy, private property, the rule of law, development, prosperity, and universal human rights. They qualify all of these endlessly in a futile attempt to cover over the hypocrisy in their positions.

There is a huge disparity between the rich and the poor. There is nothing free about the markets or trade when the rich dictate all the terms for their benefit. The rich nations were built upon trade barriers and protectionism. They still have high tariffs against imports from the poorest nations. They still have high subsidies that make much of the commodities of the poorest nations to costly within the riches nations. Free trade is a lie, and even if it were not, it would still not be fair trade. Even fair trade is not the Christian way in as much as so-called fair trade looks to recompense. Otherwise, fairness is of course Christian. The riches governments are highly secretive. Only those who are wealthy and purchase cover (secrecy and barriers) are afforded dignity. Individual liberty is taken as license. The secular governments of the wealthiest nations are the least limited. The poor nations are not afforded any right of self-determination by the riches nations. There is not universal voter-registration. So-called privacy is constantly eroding. Private property is subject to eminent domain for the rich to take from the poorer people. The laws of man prevail. Their development is environmentally unsound that is bad stewardship. Their prosperity is robbing the poor to pay the rich. Universal human rights are always second place to commercial selfish interests of the rich.

The real Christian, the real liberal, the real conservationist, believes about these things that the greatest are those who are both servants and friends. Markets and trade ought to be truly free that is without tax and without charge. We all should work for each other completely (the whole of humanity) so that each will have what he or she needs and each will contribute to the effort what he or she is truly able without concern. All things ought to be completely transparent, for no one should have anything to hide because no one should be about misusing any information for selfish reasons. Human dignity comes from being worthy by virtue of being righteous. Individual liberty is freedom from evil. Limited government is an oxymoron.
The conscience under God governs all. People cooperate in righteousness. National self-determination is a right of course, under free will; however, each nation should be determined to cooperate internally for righteousness and to cooperate externally, between and among all other nations also determined to do likewise in righteousness. They should all become one nation in the spirit of unselfishness. Popular government means each heart is free to follow his or her chosen shepherd but that each heart wants to follow the good shepherd only leading him or her to likewise follow the full spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. Privacy is modesty to avoid temptation and is not for furthering evil. Unselfishness checks the temptation to lust. Private property is a curse. It runs contrary to unselfishness. It runs contrary to freely giving and sharing all for the sake of all. It is as with capitalism: Damnable. It is private, special advantage and privilege. There is nothing good, fair, or decent about it. It is the scheme of devils. Privatization is the devil's way of taking over, bringing hell to earth. The only rule of law is that which is consistent with the spirit. True development is ecological. Prosperity is true bounty and beneficence. It is never at the expense of the poor. It starts with giving and sharing all for the sake of the poor. Universal human rights are the right to be free from evil that is selfishness. It cannot be coerced.

Abuse of shame
The iniquitous brought on privacy by misusing the openness, honesty, directness, and innocence of others. The serpent tempted the innocent who after falling hid in shame.

The iniquitous truly hurt people (not offering salvation) with the knowledge the iniquitous gain and misuse. This includes using other people's sense of shame as a weapon against them and for the users to gain cover for themselves. In defense, the injured cover themselves and are intimidated. Now, the iniquitous hide under that same cover demanded by the shamed and intimidated. It is a ploy of the predators. It is a vicious circle. They say, "It is none of your business." Jesus though said, "For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad." (Mark 4:22). God knows everything!

Abuse of privacy rights

Privacy is abused when it is used to facilitate iniquity. We are all affected. Everything ultimately becomes one's business due to interconnectedness. We are all interconnected via God. However, there is good reason for privacy where there is no bad fruit manifested or where there is earnest repentance. The softhearted are moved by the Holy Spirit properly to exercise the commandments under such circumstances. They feel their way to be as wise as the serpent but as harmless as the dove.

In fact, the current concept of totally minding one's own business is diametrically opposed to the message of Jesus. Did Jesus mind his own business in the common, current sense notion of the expression? He absolutely did not. He minded his business though. He came to save the lost sheep of Israel and to be a light to the entire world, which was and is his business. It is the current distorted notion of what is one's business that has served the forces of darkness. It becomes no one else's business that someone is abusing someone else. This works on both sides of the abuse. The abuser takes this position about perceived outsiders, and perceived outsiders who don't wish to be bothered concur or at least acquiesce. The truth then is suppressed. Evil is allowed to imagine that it has a free hand. Evil is thereby facilitated in its future dealings. People are, therefore, left unprepared to refuse to bend a knee to the prince of darkness, the prince of selfishness. People are lead astray and lead others astray. Hearts are hardened. Minding one's own business in the mundane sense was not Jesus's position. It is, therefore, not the real Christian position.

This does not mean that everyone is to be a busybody and nosy. Where there has been difficulty and it is obviously being handled by the capable, it is unseemly to want to know the circumstances without the proper motive that is to be of genuine, unselfish assistance. The sense of appropriateness is nearly a lost art in the current generation.

Is a world war anyone's business? How far down in numbers of people hugely affected does one need to consider before evil becomes none of one's business? Jesus said the following:

How think ye? if a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray? And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray. (Matthew 18:12-13).

Each individual soul is one's business. One cannot force oneself upon others, but others are not justified in expecting silence in the face of injustice. Christians are obligated not to give them that silence. That runs contrary to the self-styled liberals who call for tolerance of injustice inherent in faiths that mislead souls away from the strait gate and narrow way. It leaves the lost sheep lost. That is not the right thing to do.

All the world's starving is everyone's business. Why they have not been fed is everyone's business. Feeding them is everyone's business. Everything that is retarding universal repentance and righteousness is everyone's business. We just may not coerce. We are duty bound to speak out and to do good deeds. What minor child tells his or her earnest parent that nothing about that child is the parent's business and yet will grow up to say the same to his or her own minor child? It is absurd. No one does anything in a vacuum. It all ripples out. People rub off on each other. What others do is, therefore, everyone's business. It is only a matter of what engagement is most appropriate.
Scorners

It is a matter of when one stops proselytizing to an individual. If the word is rejected, you can't force acceptance. A scorners heareth not rebuke.

If someone is being difficult to handle, being uncooperative with righteousness, that person's actions can bring out stress in others. It adds to the dark rather than light. Those who are thus stressed are less enabled to help others who are in need. They can become indignant over unworthy behavior, thereby, giving off harder (stressed) signals through tone of voice, facial expressions, body language, and all signaling aspects. They may see someone who needs help and think they are too upset to be of any good to those in need right then.

Therefore, everything is everyone's business when these things work to ruin the peace and love and harmony and helpful spirit of the world. Everyone has an obligation to teach this and to work to overcome it in everyone to save souls that are lost to the dark, hardhearted spirit.

Because they do not have everything in their lives perfectly ordered, others put forth that the affairs of others are none of their business. They also say that no one who does not have a perfect household may speak the words and do the good deeds showing him or her worthy.

"One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity." (1 Timothy 3:4). When they have two children, do they say to the one, "I cannot instruct you, because your brother refuses to listen to me"? It is absurd. Does God stop informing us of the truth just because there are human beings who reject the truth? Do we tell God that God is not to do anything about any of us until all of the family of humanity is in order? Do we say that because the whole of humanity is not trustworthy that God is not the right one to be the head? No. We say that God's true family members are those who turn to God. It is the same for each and every member of the real Church regardless of his or her children or other close genetic relations.

Now having one's children in subjection is a good thing. It is tempered by Paul's other admonition. "Fathers, provoke not your children to wrath." (Ephesians 6:4). Some have cast doubt the Paul wrote Ephesians. Nevertheless, the admonition against provoking one's children to wrath is good.

Now, there is privacy for perceived good versus privacy for evil. Even Jesus had to keep things from others. If we are to forgive others as we wish to be forgiven, what difference does it make what any of us has done wrong so long as we truly repent, atone, and do not backslide? Is there anything any of us has done that any of us can not forgive? What then have we done that cannot be forgiven? If there is nothing, why do we need to keep secret our misdeeds?

It is only due to the damage the iniquitous will do with the knowledge. They will not forgive nor will they expose their own misdeeds. They will only hold up the repentant to shame and ridicule. To overcome though is for the repentant to become impervious through God's forgiveness to the undermining attacks by the iniquitous and unrepentant. Human beings, especially the iniquitous, do not have the power to take away the forgiveness and mercy of God. What about what God keeps private from all of us? What is hidden from us by God is simply what we are incapable of knowing. We are to grow into it as we become trustworthy of it.

Secrets and barriers of the iniquitous

The secrets and barriers of the iniquitous, however, are completely without merit. They will be exposed. They will be shamed as they have worked to test and shame the repentant.

What are our obligations concerning the privacy of those who seek to repent? We are to cover past indiscretions until all have repented. Then, it won’t matter. There will be no one left who will hold anyone else up to shame and ridicule.

We each will have received enough stripes by our own consciences. There will be nothing to gain by merciless feelings of guilt. We will all know that each of us has sinned. We will all though have become trustworthy. Therefore, there will be nothing to fear from each other. There will only be love between each and among all.

Where there is not iniquity, there is no perceived need for privacy. That is the state of heaven.

From the twisting of privacy and all the other twisting concerning those things which the conservatives and false liberals espouse and all the distortion of the language and obfuscation and hypocrisy, it should be completely apparent that the current so-called dichotomy between politically conservative and liberal is false as those terms ("conservative" and "liberal") are generally understood within the current mainstream in the United States. The spectrum upon which both of those ideologies rest is all the spectrum of hypocrisy and, therefore, selfishness to one degree or another. It is all falsehood. It is unreal. It all leads to spiritual darkness and death. None of that entire spectrum is on the narrow way. The ultimate intent of both is satisfied by the first and great commandment and the second like it. The members of both ideologies must repent and, therefore, convert to real Christianity.

These two, conservative and liberal, as they are commonly now understood are both practicing lust. Only the areas of their lust are emphasized differently. Often, they are completely in bed with each other. They are both attempting to bring in the kingdom by mundane force or not at all. Neither is Christian. Only the more giving and sharing tendencies of the mundane liberals brings them closer to the kingdom. Their reticence to speak out against all iniquity and deny themselves, however, is their continuing downfall.
Chapter 17  Exposing Falsehood Does Not Cause Good People to Fall Away

Exposing falsehood within the churches does not cause ostensibly good people to find it harder to be Christians and, therefore, fall further away from God.

And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables. (John 2:15).

If exposing falsehood causes good people to fall away from God, then Jesus drove more people away from God then anyone. This notion that the truth drives good people away comes out of the house divided. If falsehood comes from Satan, how can exposing falsehood so people can move away from Satan make it harder for people to be Christians and, therefore, cause them to fall away from God?

And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. (Matthew 12:25).
If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub. (Luke 11:18).

Satan is not torn between right and wrong, good and evil. If a person falls away from God upon learning of falsehood within the churches (or within nations, cities, or families), then that person blamed God for the falsehoods of Satan. Rather than being glad that more truth of God has been revealed, he or she quits in disillusionment or slides back into complacency or a noncommittal false comfort zone. Doing that is lack of perseverance that is required of all Christians. It is, among other things, that which separates the sheep from the goats, the wheat from the tares.

Jesus came to divide the current world in order to save the sheep from the goats, thereby saving the world. The sheep will be divided from the goats, even when the sheep and goats currently attend the same church or live in the same country, city, or are members of the same flesh-and-blood family and even live under the same roof. The kingdom of sheep and the kingdom of goats are two different kingdoms and cannot remain standing in the same world. That kingdom shall be brought to desolation. It is irreparable, and the sheep will be raised up as the one kingdom.

Those who truly hear the truth know this and know that exposing falsehood only helps those who love the truth and wish to be closer to God. It is unsettling, just as Jesus unsettled the den of thieves in the temple building, which could not, and did not, stand. It is necessary that falsehood be exposed on this public level.
The truth will penetrate all barriers and all secrets. No government will keep out the light and survive. All governments that try will be torn down and will not be rebuilt ever again. The truth warns. It warned earlier. It is too late for the current system. It was too late before it started. People convert.

False comfort

Hating falsehood at the national level is Christian. Hating falsehood at the level of the individual human being is also Christian. Taking pity upon the demon emotions that possess nations and individual people is to be tricked by evil. Do not take pity upon spirits such as cause people who profess Jesus to break his commandments and rather follow the commandments of men into greed, war, and other lusts. Have compassion on the ones possessed but not upon the evil that possesses them. The essence of evil deserves no mercy. It was never, is not, and never will be redeemable. Drive it out to stay by filling your heart with love. To take pity on unclean spirits is to open the gate of heaven to those unclean spirits to ruin everything. The real Christian will not baulk at this. They will understand that it is part of the separation of the goats from the sheep. Real Christians don't need comfortable lies in order to stay the path to God. Real Christians don't supply such false comfort to other ostensible Christians.
Discretion is not a barrier

Explaining about the very essence of evil presents no pitfall. This is not to say that discretion is ill-advised. Jesus was exactly as discreet as he had to be so that the prophecy would be fulfilled.

Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. (Matthew 10:16).

But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. (Mark 13:11-13).

Therefore, no matter how wise or prudent you imagine yourself to have been, be now prepared for martyrdom and what otherwise would prove disappointing in your relatives and others were it not for what is told you by the Holy Spirit that explains why things are the way they are, have been, and will be. Also be prepared with understanding of liberty and the true liberalism to not confuse them with villainy, else then you really will present falsehood and pitfalls leading the gullible away from godliness.

For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. (Isaiah 32:6).

As has been discussed earlier, much of the confusion stems from a false interpretation about that to which Paul was referring when he wrote about liberty. It all must be kept within the whole context of the Gospel. Liberty is freedom from the domination of evil. It is also freedom from the bondage to human-only traditions (religious and otherwise) that run contrary to the precepts of God and cause or allow procrastination. The ritualistic, ceremonial cleaning does not remove demons. It was always symbolic of the contagious disease of selfishness and doubt.

Jesus didn’t avoid speaking this truth. No doubt there were those who thought that by speaking such truths Jesus was causing people to fall away from God. Of course, they were wrong.

Real liberty

The real liberty is being free from superstitions. Food sacrificed to idols does not really do anything to the food substance. Idols have no power over the food. It only does something to the mind of those who partake of the superstition. Those who deliver it up to idols are deluded into thinking that such food is altered in some way, unless they covertly do some physical thing to the food. A believer cannot help even once in sacrificing to idols knowing that it has no effect upon the food without doing wrong. At the very least, such things facilitate the idol worshipping of others. It is misleading. Above all, God wants us to come to God, for that is goodness.

So when Paul wrote about being at liberty, he was not suggesting for a moment that all those who profess Jesus are given a license to do just anything they want just so long as those weaker in the perceived faith are not presented with a stumbling block as a result. He would never say that they can commit adultery for instance.
Also, even concerning those things which have no power over adults in the faith, there is, after all, always the impressionability of children to consider. Many adults also remain impressionable by evil suggestions. This is evidenced by the hardening of hearts as iniquity rises. Therefore, it is better to do righteousness and explain it clearly rather than leave people in a tenuous position. Make it plain to the children and to those adults who need it so they will not be ill prepared.

Paul had heard from the disciples the teachings of Christ. He had also read Isaiah and the other scriptures. He was studious and picked up on much subtlety and nuance. He was not Jesus however. None of the disciples were Jesus. Paul was repentant though and asking, seeking, and knocking at the door of righteousness. Take care not to read into his words, for the sake of your own selfish desires, a license for leading others down a path other than righteousness.

Negative fantasizing: Practicing to fall

Righteousness is freedom from the bondage of evil. This includes all addictions and excess feeding of the appetites. This covers money, material possessions, power, control, violence, sex, drugs, food, laziness (not being the opposite of the industriousness of greed), entertainment, games: All appetites. It includes all these and fantasizing about them, for what one fantasizes, one does in one's heart.

Fantasizing about the lust of the eye, the lust of the flesh, and the pride of life prepares the soul for caving in to temptation. It means that when one is directly presented with temptations or circumstances to do those things about which one has fantasized, one has been conditioned, made readier to cave in. One is well practiced in one's heart, just as with anything one has practiced over and over. One is rehearsed in one's mind. It has been printed and reinforced over and over in one's brain circuitry. Selfish desire and selfish reward then physically transforms the brain, increasing the selfish regions and decreasing the unselfish regions, conditioning (programming) one for selfish responses, making one vastly more amenable to evil than one who practices denying oneself, decreasing the appetites, fasting from them in full awareness of practicing unselfishness.

Just as Jesus didn't avoid speaking truths even though there were those who thought that by speaking such truths Jesus was causing people to fall away from God, neither should there be any sacred cows among the human doctrines that have taken over the churches leading them down the false paths. The churches need to convert to denying themselves.

Denying oneself is the practice of self-restraint. Denying oneself in one's deeds, words, thoughts, and lustful emotions helps lead one out of temptation and makes one less susceptible to caving into temptation when it does present itself. Lustful and pride-filled fantasizing is temptation already caved into in one's heart.

This is why the US military and many capitalists, especially the young ones, love the greedy, empire building, violent, video games. Many also love the magical (un-attributed supernatural power) and iniquitous video games. So many men, women, and children are now addicted to them. It is a self-perpetuating system. Selfishness has created the entire matrix and is in a frenzy to reinforce it. People are making millions off creating and reinforcing confusion in each other's minds. This is also why the military and so many capitalists love all sorts of competitive endeavors over cooperation without competition. Well, there is only one real competition afoot, and that is the competition of selfishness versus cooperation. The competitive are duping each other, rationalizing the insatiable feeding into their lusts and pride.

Here's a blunt reminder.

But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. (Matthew 18:6).

And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. (Matthew 5:29-30).

The tempted pedophile, for instance, at this point, would be better off castrated than to act out his lust. He must overcome and transform from such sexual cravings through fasting and prayer and striving mightily to comprehend the revelation. If unsuccessful and before he acts out, he must self-sacrifice by obtaining the surgeon’s assistance.

Pedophilia and other confusions are forms of selfishness aided in part by falling into fantasizing and acting out such fantasies. That falling must be overcome or the danger of damnation will remain.

For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother’s womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it. (Matthew 19:12).
Of course, this saying of Jesus was not aimed at one sin. Whatever the sin, if the absence of even a physical body part would render one incapable of the sin, pluck it out, cut it off, throw it away.
The word "eunuch" for the kingdom of heaven's sake also connotes "celibacy" and "singleness." The very subject of eunuchs in the scripture came up within the context of a discussion about marriage and divorce. It does not necessarily mean nor preclude physical castration.
There are those who would attempt to sugarcoat the message here. They find the concept shocking. This would be one of those subjects that some would advocate not be discussed for fear of losing ostensibly good people. It has to be remembered though that Jesus transcended the flesh. He was beaten mercilessly, far worse than undergoing humanely performed castration. After his resurrection though, Jesus could take on the real flesh and transform beyond the flesh upon the will of God. From this perspective, what is humanely performed castration when it is for the sake of no longer falling into sin? This subject matter does not shock the real Christian.
The Christian focuses upon saving the sinner's soul and keeping the innocent from being offended. The Christian doesn't focus upon worrying about what is fit for so-called polite society at the expense of truth.
Horrible errors of the First Council of Nicaea

Now, you should be aware that Canon 1 of the First Council of Nicaea (from whence came the Nicene Creed) states that anyone who self-castrates, meaning under goes castration as an elective procedure, may not be a member of the clergy. This runs diametrically opposed to what Jesus said and clearly meant. They couldn't bring themselves to stop their own pedophilic acts by sacrificing their own testicles for the sake of righteousness, for the sakes’ of the children on whom they should have shown compassion and mercy, so they devilishly outlawed the law of Jesus.

[I]f anyone in sound health has castrated himself, it behooves that such a one, if enrolled among the clergy, should cease [from his ministry], and that from henceforth no such person should be promoted…\textsuperscript{142}

Down the path of error they went right through their history up to the present, as we have seen with their recently revealed epidemic of pedophilia and their massive attempts at long-term cover-up and facilitation.

They were also in error concerning the nature of Jesus. He was both from the beginning and created in as much as he was fully sharing with our Father and was also fully human. Contrary to how they approached the matter, it was not an either-or proposition.

\textsuperscript{142} http://www.catholic.com/library/Contraception_and_Sterilization.asp (last accessed: Monday, January 08, 2007).

Fathers of the church of Rome fell to Pharisaism

They were being just as the Pharisees were about washing hands and not working on the Sabbath and all the other things they fuzzed over while not taking care to do the weightier things.

We don’t raise these things to judge and condemn but rather to say to the people that we cannot continue on in that darkness.

New Christian commons

That's why we are getting all of this out of the way, because we are going to move on to standing in the gap for the land and on to feeding the lambs and the sheep through the new Christian commons.

The problem with the findings of the council is that they didn't see their way passed the seeming paradoxes in the language that they set up for themselves by loosing focus on the message. They became hung up on tradition; power; punishment; bureaucratic policies and procedures; caving into temporal, violent, greedy, and otherwise lustful leadership; and, arrogant, semantical hairsplitting. They lost it. It is why they never brought forth. They did not do what Jesus said to do. This is not a judgment or condemnation. Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. They were misled and they, in turn, misled. We can change though. We can see it and change course. We can be organized while we also do what Jesus said to do.

God made all substance. God can take us out of any form or level of substance and put us back at his will.

For this reason, the Holy Spirit is strong enough to heal any sinner provided the sinner has enough faith to repent and leave sin behind turning to God for forgiveness and transformation. Nevertheless, to offend one of the little ones who believes in Jesus is so egregious that self-sacrificing part of one's own flesh to avoid such sheer evil is acceptable to the LORD. The rest of humanity must accept that.

Denying oneself goes much further than this though. When we look at the connections between denying oneself (fasting from lust) and all the positive health consequences, we see the benefit of unselfishness. However, the health gains are a consequence and should not be the direct selfish motive as in to gain recompense; otherwise, it destroys greater healing.

Fasting

Denying oneself leaves more of the fat of the land for all to share. Fasting from all appetites while the mind is set upon repentance and unselfishness transforms the body, mind, and soul into a spirit that is less stressful upon the earth and more willing constantly to give and share. This is the plan. It is the opposite of the devouring, consumerist spirit that drives the engine of capitalism: Greed. This truth is consistent with what holding all things in common is all about. This is why self-sacrifice is atoning. This, among all the other things, is what Jesus demonstrated. This is what loving one's spiritual family is all about.

Which churches are spreading this message? Very few churches understand fasting. They don't place it in the big-picture context. They don't really know why they fast. They know it is denying oneself, but they don't understand and, therefore, have not been able to teach how denying oneself fits into the whole revelation.

Look at it this way, when one fasts for one day he or she leaves a day's worth of the produce of the earth for someone else. If one fasts one day a week, that's fifty-two day's worth of food for others. If everyone does that, those without food will have food. If everyone who has plenty cuts back on everything he or she consumes including beyond food and drink, there will be that much more for those who have nothing or not enough. If everyone cuts back on all lusts particularly having so many children, then the whole planet will have a chance to catch up on the rest it needs to heal and be in the position to bring forth abundantly.

Also, the appetite in general is decreased and self-control is enhanced. So when one eats, one tends not to eat as much, especially during the first few weeks coming off a fairly deep fast.

Look at what Jesus did when he fasted for forty days and nights. In one fast, he denied himself thereby leaving forty day's worth of food for others. From another perspective, consider that by virtue of his fast, the planet was not forced to yield forty days of provisioning. Consider that in contrast with those who selfishly consume and reproduce to excess to the detriment of the planet and by extension all other life that must share what the earth yields.

That is only the mundane or common aspect of what would happen. Add to it that the more people there are who deny themselves across-the-board, the more that God will make things happen above and beyond what is common.

Consider Jesus's fast again. Cut back the size of each meal. Working down to one meal a day. Go without food a whole day. Then contemplate continuing building up to forty days. There is more to it than this. Learn about fasting from the real Christian perspective.

Check the index so you read everything about it first.

Getting up slowly can be important to avoid lightheadedness due to sudden changes in blood pressure in the brain. Fasting during cold weather can add to cold extremities (hands, feet, knees, nose, etc.). Ramping up with choices of foods (fiber) will reduce difficult evacuations is wise. Likewise, very gradually reintroducing foods is wise. Just one piece of fruit the day of breaking a fast may be plenty, then two pieces the next day, and three the next. Vary physical activity with the depth of the fast. Feel your way.

Fruit-juice fasts are very easy. Water-only fasts are magnitudes of order more purgative. It isn't pain free though.

Liquid intake is something you gauge by the humidity, temperature, your body temperature, etc. If your mouth is moist as it always is and your eyes are moist and you have no sensation of thirst, you be the judge. You may find yourself forgetting about food and water for much longer than you thought possible. Use your sense.

Depending upon the length of your fast, perishables won't keep. They won't wait for you to break your fast, so plan ahead. If you're going to leave a freezer running during your fast, have some fruit and juice there. You may feel too feint to shop for food before you've had something to eat. Unopened fruit and vegetable juice in bottles or cans may allow you to turn off your refrigerator/freezer while you fast, depending upon whether or not you've gradually eaten everything first. You'll save energy and temporarily eliminate the noise. Having little to no food around helps prolong the fast. Forget about counting the days too. Just let the earth spin.

Add to your fasting, staying away from all things technological. Watch no TV. Don't use the telephone. Don't read any books. Eliminate as much of the handiwork of humans as possible. Also fast from sex. Add to that not talking to anyone. If possible, spend the entire day and night completely alone outside away from all so-called civilization. Get away from road- and air-traffic noises.

Fasting is still beneficial even if you cannot escape all of these things. Do what you are able without drawing undo attention to yourself. Fasting is not for recompense. It is not so people will be impressed or so you will feel an improvement in your self-esteem. It is really about the emotion of repentance. Focus upon the plight of others. That will move you in the right direction closer to God and away from self-centeredness. Your sense of self worth will actually go down if all is right.

Crying about your lost innocence and the harm your selfishness has done to others is a natural outcome of this direction. Being profoundly sorry to God beyond anything you ever imagined is a natural outcome if your heart is softening. You'll gain many insights into your emotions and the emotions of others through the experience. You'll come to what is important.

The unselfish regions of your brain will be the most active ever if you are able to separate yourself to God.

Human interaction will be a distraction, since other humans will not be where you are emotionally. This will show you the love-hate relationship in stark contrast. It will show you the sheep and the goats much more clearly.

During your fast, pray for answers. Watch what happens. Look at, listen to, see, hear, perceive, and understand what happens. Knowing that God wants us to give and share all, consider God's view of the act of denying oneself for a full forty days in a row. Consider how that helps to make up for past selfishness. It is making amends. It is atoning. It is bringing one closer to being at one with God's purpose. Consider also how it prepares one to deny temptations in general. With these thoughts in mind, now consider Jesus's teaching.
But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face; That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. (Matthew 6:17-18).

Why would God reward someone for fasting? First, God doesn't reward those who fast in vanity that is to show off or in deliberately conspicuous self-styled piety for the sake of gaining the recognition of others. That's vainglory. Still, why would God reward someone for fasting even in secret? Fasting has to be good to merit reward. Fasting is good for the reasons I've stated. The whole concept of denying oneself that is being unselfish is the whole point.

Now, none of this fits in with the churches that needlessly capitulate to capitalism. If this is not apparent to you, you are just in denial. You are refusing, because you are afraid of the faith. You have your faith in money (capitalism) and not in the way of God. You can't bring yourself to believe that God will take care of those who will give and share all with those who will do likewise, spreading that out until the whole of the earth is enveloped only in love.

Freedom to be Christian

We wrote, "Needlessly capitulate to capitalism," because the global neoliberal capitalists claim that people have the democratic right to decide to live communistically with all things in common. They also claim to uphold freedom of religious exercise, and the religion of Christianity calls for exercising freely giving and sharing all. Therefore, going ahead with being a real Christian is not failing to obey their mundane law. It certainly isn't violently resisting. Neither is it a call to revolt against the law, since the highest mundane law guarantees the freedom to be Christian.

Will your church, group, or mundane family hear and share?

Ask them. It's what needs to happen. Will they admit to the truth of it or will they spout things that are inconsistent with the words and deeds of Jesus? Have they been bringing forth the real fruit? Since they have not, are they willing to begin? If not, what will you do?

If telling such truths results in ostensibly good people to turn from God and Jesus, so be it. It is the separation. It will leave the clear believers. It is why we have used the word "ostensible." It means they wish to appear Christian, but their real motive is still selfish.

The less one uses and procreates, the more that is left for others to share. The more one depends upon the natural provisioning of God, the less one sets up a system headed for failure due to that system's inherent over consumption that is rebellious and willful. That rebellious and willful mentality claims that we know better than God and we deserve the credit and not God.
Meat industry

Consider the meat industry in America alone that uses enough grain to feed more people than currently live on the planet. There are some ninety-six million head of cattle in the US as of this writing. There are another sixty million pigs. There are also chickens, turkeys, lambs, and other livestock for meat all requiring huge quantities of feed, water, land, and energy, etc. The rush to profits from raising animal meat causes people to become short-sighted.

That same animal meat is proving, even under mundane science, to be less healthy for the human body, especially considering the hormones and antibiotics pumped into cattle and the unnatural fertilizers and herbicides and pesticides sprayed on the grains that they eat that ends up in the people who then eat the meat.

Huge tracts of God’s once forested areas have been denuded, often just burned off, to create cattle grazing areas. It all also greatly adds to the general pollution of the planet with methane and other gases. There are the increases in transportation and refrigeration that are both polluting. There is the problem of toxic fertilizers and pesticides that run off into the water supply. Also, the overgrazing of lands causes the pollution of the water holes and the destruction of the grasses and root systems. The hooves of the cattle pulverize the soil into dust and compact it at the same time. This all leads to soil erosion and desertification (the increasing of deserts). Humans are increasing the deserts of the earth in addition to all the other environmental catastrophes in the name of greed.

Vegetarianism

We must remember that fasting from every form of lust is controlling the appetites of the devouring spirit that consumes for the short-sighted fleshy self. We must remember that the flesh is not the soul but simply its temporary vessel manifestation. Eating other creatures that have already consumed huge quantities is feeding into that spirit of selfishness. It is the extreme opposite of fasting. Now, vegetarianism is healthier and is in line with that unselfish spirit in fasting to control the appetites for the sake of leaving more for others and the whole planet.

Raw vegans (vegetarians who do not eat cooked foods or any dairy products or eggs) have strong bones (even though they are of a lower density than omnivorous humans), high vitamin D levels, and low C-reactive protein and IGF-1 (insulin-like growth factor) levels, among other health benefits. The scientist say C-reactive protein may be implicated in heart disease, diabetes, and other diseases and IGF-1 may be implicated in breast and prostate cancer.

Even if the scientists re-qualify their findings, which they are wont to do, we will continually see the whole mentality of less for self is consistently better throughout all of existence. It puts less strain on everything, uses less energy, allows for more and greater healing, and leaves more for everyone else. It is the right way for the whole of humanity to head immediately.
Everything else is just selfish rationalization and inexcusable.

Good stewardship of one's body

There are those who are hyper vigilant about dietary habits. To the degree to which it contributes to righteousness, more power to them. However, if it becomes the focus over the spirit it is then ultimately counterproductive and excessive: Selfish. One is then overly concerned about the flesh at the expense of the spirit. To that degree, we say mellow out and reprioritize setting your motivations in the proper order. It is right to be a good steward over one's body. Don't use your body to magnify selfish lusts, but don't confuse the current state of your body with the eternal soul. You will be wholly transformed: Made anew and not confined to the state of your old current body. The wear and tear will be gone and the new body will be incorruptible, provided you do those things worthy of repentance here and now that you have heard in the word: Interpreted the Gospel in truth to the best of your ability.

To become overly fixated upon dietary habits is akin to denying Mary anointing Jesus's feet with the expensive spikenard. Of course we should not be wasteful of resources that may be converted to the cause of the poor. At the same time, this world was designed by God not to be ascetic but rather abundant. That abundance will come when the selfish spirit is overcome, when our motives have been set straight. In the meantime, it is still alright to drink and eat and be joyful for the right reasons. It is just not alright to be that way to the exclusion of hearing and properly reacting to the just cries of the poor and others. Jesus denied himself. He also ate fish (albeit unpolluted by industrialization and toxic farming methods) and other food, drank the fermented fruit of the vine, and was ministered to, even though he didn't come for those reasons.

None of this is to say that there is not a level of spiritual commitment and faith where such toxics can do no harm to even a fleshly vessel of the soul. All of what is being discussed immediately here is a starting place on the mundane level. It is not offered here in a way that should be construed as precluding complete spirit over flesh here and now. What is being offered is on the level of feeding the body to keep it alive and mundanely healthy while the soul has an opportunity to learn about the spirit that can be completely over the flesh.

Remember the "feeding of the five thousand" within this context to see whether you grasp the revelation on this level. Again, Jesus said to his disciples the following:

When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven. And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand? (Mark 8:19-21).
Forced cannibalism within herbivore species: Mad cow disease

Getting back to the mundane, we also see the greed in the animals-as-food industry that caused forced cannibalism within herbivore species. It is incredible that they did not know that such a violation of God's creatures would not result in disease that would backfire upon the perpetrators in the form of mad cow disease {Bovine spongiform encephalopathy (BSE)}. There are swine flu and bird flu and all other diseases being brought on out of selfishness.

The animal-meat industry is so entrenched and those in it are so fearful of losing their livelihoods that the problems associated with it are never connected to ungodliness. This truth is never spread to all the people so they will know they are making choices between Satanism and godliness. This is inherent within their decisions whether or not to perpetuate the excessive production of cattle and other animals for food, just as it is concerning all the other environmentally destructive activities of human kind.

The vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. (Isaiah 32:6).

It means that one practicing the opposite of self-denial or self-restraint will confuse the word of God into false liberty to make selfish choices thereby giving answers (to those who hunger and thirst after righteousness) that do not satisfy on myriad subjects such as liberty, addiction, lusting in the heart, etc. Fortunately, those who persevere in that hunger and thirst will have their prayers answered. Also fortunately, those who think the better of it and see the light to love the truth will repent and stop practicing such deceptions. They will stop lying as their livelihood, being paid to place doubt about God's way in the minds of those who would otherwise believe.

So what is one to do if one is in the cattle business or one of the other businesses built up around unhealthful practices? The answer is that they ought to change. The cattle people for instance can stop using all the toxic chemicals, hormones, and antibiotics and they can insist that the feed be chemical free as well. They can not increase the size of their herds but rather reduce them while going into other endeavors that are not stressful on the planet. They can wean themselves from the system or immediately and completely withdraw from the addictive industry if that has been placed upon their hearts.

But people will complain that they or their parents or forbears put so much work into building up the business that they just cannot let go of any of it. Well, that speaks volumes about where their hearts are. They will rather continue on in a way that is detrimental to the greater whole and individuals within it than change for the sake of righteousness. What can be done in that case?

When they see the light, they will not be angry at the messenger. They will love the messenger with all their hearts. They will change in faith, convert, be baptized in the spirit that is the fire of truth that burns away iniquity making them the new receptacle, glorious, as the temple of God.

Jesus paid the ransom with the supreme self-sacrifice so that, among other things, we could see how much we are to love our spiritual family. How much self-sacrificing is it to curb or eliminate appetites for the sake of all those whom we love in the spirit?

Facing the truth of one’s own sin is painful. There is suffering involved. One pays. Genuine repentance can occur by facing it no matter how ugly it is or has been. Through that process of being truly sorrowful, because deep down in the core of your being you realize how you have worked evil that has harmed both others and yourself and has also hurt God’s feelings, who only wants to love you, you will be forgiven and remade for working goodness. You will then bear good fruit. Then you will be pruned (purged) so that you will produce even more good fruit. You will become a new wineskin for the new wine. You will be transformed to hold the spirit of righteousness. Evil will be displaced. Your past will be just that. From then on, you will help others to help yet others. You will teach it and you will practice what you preach.

These are things by which those in apostasy do not live. They would find it difficult or impossible to give up the errors of their way. Some will fall away from their apostate churches without joining the real Church. So be it. It is the separation. No one can force them. Force, as you have seen, is against the teachings of Jesus.

Exposing falsehood within the world and within the churches is good, because it leads the sheep to repentance. Without the truth, who would know why or how to repent? Who would know just how far from God one has been? Many will not repent, but those who truly do will make the difference.
Chapter 18  State the Truth For Righteousness' Sake

In order for people to be upright, they need to know what that is. If some are saying join the military to go kill for the country, people need to know whether that is upright.

The right thing is what is best for the whole and the parts, for all of the souls of humanity and for each individual soul. It is wrong when part of the whole is constantly about grabbing more for itself at the expense of the good of the whole and the other parts. It divides the proverbial house so that it cannot stand. The greedy, violent, and depraved members are as a cancer to the whole and are removed or they will cause the death of the whole body.

The takers

Part of the grabbing process includes killing or devouring that which stands in the way of the personal worldly gain of the most aggressive takers or grabbers who are the most pernicious cancers. Those who violently resist the takers are doing to those takers what they would not have the takers do unto them. It is a vicious and insidious cycle of darkness.

The golden rule

"Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them:
for this is the law and the prophets." (Matthew 7:12). It is the golden rule. You should want people to do what is right and best toward you. Do what is right and best toward others. You ought not to want people to grab your fair share from you. Do not grab from people their fair share. You ought not to want people to make violence on you. Do not make violence on others. You ought not to want people to lust after you for their selfish sexual reasons. Do not lust after others for selfish sexual reasons. You ought to want people to let you know when you are running astray of the golden rule. Let other people know. If everyone follows the golden rule, everything will be put right.

The devil also quotes the scripture

The mote and beam, continued

As for letting others know when they are astray, many will immediately quote Jesus saying, "And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?" (Matthew 7:3). They will quote all manner of scripture in order to change the subject. However, a careful reading of the verse shows that Jesus is saying to consider (recognize) your own problems first and clear those up (work on them). Jesus is talking about the spirit in which one approaches his brother about his brother's erring way. A careful reading of the other scriptures concerning such interactions of brethren as well and keeping all in consistent context will reveal that there is no justification for not carefully considering warnings in the helpful spirit in which those warnings are given. Other verses cited already in this work make it infinitely clear that it is requisite of brethren to go to each other about such erring. It is part of teaching. It is loving. It is soul saving and sparing. It is magnifying righteousness when done in the proper spirit of course. Jesus is not saying never tell your brother he is going astray. He is not saying wait until you are perfect before you warn others of the spiritual pitfalls you see before them. He is saying that you ought not to be telling your brother he is going astray when you have not analyzed your self for hypocrisy. He is also saying that one must certainly not be doing the very thing about which he is rebuking his brother. Lastly, those who twist Jesus's words to avoid acknowledging their erring ways were already obliged to have identified the beam they insinuate is in their brother's eye. It is an evil mind that abuses the scripture attempting to dodge the truth.

What is improper is for it to digress into back and forth recriminations and attacks. That is where wars come from. It is though proper and even expected that your brother, anyone actually, and you be constantly and mutually watching out for each other. That's the spirit of love.

If we remain silent, their blood will be on our hands. If we warn them clearly, their continued, knowing, missteps are their own mistakes and not on our heads.

Of course, this is not the highest attitude for our motivation for warning others. We are to warn them, because we love them and not to save our own necks. That is something Jesus made clear. Therefore, whenever someone in the spirit warns you, don't fall to the temptation to quote Jesus about the mote and beam. Rather, hear the truth of the warning. Do not rationalize away evil. Expel the demons from within. Send them into the pit and not on to others. Be glad someone loves you enough to let you know before you fall into that pit.

Don't scorn

Reprove not a scorners, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee. (Proverbs 9:8).

A scorners loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise. (Proverbs 15:12).

Don't scorn righteous warnings. To use the knee-jerk reaction of quoting about the mote and beam is derisive. It is mocking. Don't use any scripture to excuse that which is not holy. Abusing the scripture is satanic. "According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love." (Ephesians 1:4).

Warning is the extent of what we should do. Leave aside judging, condemning, and punishing. Show mercy, as God makes the rain fall on the good and evil.
Selfish interpretation of The Bible

Taking scripture out of context: Not seeing either the large or small commandments

Do not fall for the selfish interpretation of The Bible. It is not upright. Anything can be justified via a selfish interpretation of scripture. Scripture can always be taken out of context and twisted. That is what Satan did when he tempted Jesus.

Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple, And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. (Matthew 4:5-7).

Satan can quote scripture to tempt or test people to fall into selfishness. Satan was quoting from Psalm 91.

For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. (Psalm 91:11-12).

What Satan left out, Jesus stated. One is not to test God. Had Jesus done what Satan asked, Jesus would have been testing God. There was no reason to jump off the temple other than to test God to prove God. Jesus never did that. Jesus always had complete certainty about God and never used the power of God when it was not in perfect furtherance of the prophecy he came to fulfill. Don't be tripped up by those who twist scripture. They have selfish ends in mind always.

Figurative and literal

Don't be hindered by the figurative versus the literal. Those who insist on one to the exclusion of the other are closed to the revelation. They will not be upright. The words of Christ are both figurative and literal to describe the theretofore mysteries of the kingdom of heaven. He opened the scripture to us so that the softhearted who would understand readily could be separated out from the hard- small- and cold-hearted. Jesus taught with the following parable:

> And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out. But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut. (Matthew 25:8-10).

What are the lamps? What is the oil? Who sells the oil? How does one buy it? Does one have to purchase it oneself? Can one truly just give some oil over to those who do not know enough not to forget? Are they selfish here who did not give over some of their oil? What is at risk? Who is the bridegroom? Who is getting married to whom? What is the door? What does it mean that it shut? Are any of these metaphors the most important word in the parable? Do any of them stand for just one thing, or are they standing for many things that all resolve to one thing? Can a little child comprehend the story's meaning without knowing what every metaphor stands for? Were the foolish here upright?

Jesus also spoke about the sword in figurative terms. The sword is the tongue that speaks the truth as follows:

And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God. (Revelation 19:15).

There is no admonition against mixing metaphors in scripture. In fact, it is done intentionally so that all the places where those metaphors have been used will be brought to mind in one consistent context. The sword, the rod of iron, and the winepress are together. Humans are as grapes. Human blood is as grape juice. Both are much water. Water is as the life blood of the earth. The rivers and streams are as the veins of the body. Look at what humanity is doing.

Jesus set the standard. Now, all who know and continue doing iniquity are knowingly sinning. Their flesh and souls will be cut away. His standard is that against which they will be measured, determining whether they shall be separated out. What value are the iniquitous who do not buy their oil in time? They are not ready for the wedding. They are not allowed in.

Jesus told his disciples to go out without purse, scrip, or shoes; yet, they were fine. He then told them that the times were about to change, for he would be taken and murdered, and that they had better give their all to be made ready in the spirit of truth. Therefore, he told them to sell all they had and to purchase swords (spiritual swords of truth and not physical weapons made of metal to spill the blood of others) as follows:

And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing?

And they said, Nothing. Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one. For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end. (Luke 22:35-37).

Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. (Isaiah 53:12).

The sword that Jesus told his disciples to buy is the oil of the lamps of the wise. It is the truth. Some of his disciples thought he meant metal swords to spill blood and take flesh lives. That's not upright. It is falsehood. It is the way of Satan. It would have been reckless. Jesus told them "enough." He told them to stop talking. They hadn't caught on yet. It was not easy to bring them along. We have all been slow on the uptake. Now is our chance to change that.

Kill for God and country?

Divide truth from lies

Why are we told to kill for God and country? Who can ask this in light of our knowledge that Satan tempted Jesus to take over the whole world by following Satan's reckless, soul-destroying way? Why are we told to consume and consume and consume: To be greedy; lustful? Why are we encouraged to compete rather than to always work together? Is killing, greed, and competition righteous teaching? If we do them, are we being upright? Why are we given mixed messages to be honorable yet greedy? It is because the house is divided. The house exists on the false spectrum of incorrectly term "conservatives" and "liberals." The whole house is not on the narrow way toward God. It will fall.

Jesus came to divide. He came to make the division stark. He came so that the willing could be identified from the willful. He came to teach us how to make the flesh strong enough so that the soul would no longer be corrupted by falling to selfishness that is temptation.

Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. (Matthew 10:34-35).

What divides families? Selfishness exposed divides them. Some love the truth and repent of selfishness. Others fear the truth and hate the messenger. People serving themselves cause the house to be fractured and finally collapse. However, the greater division comes when some in the house wish to eat at the trough of eternal life that is the real knowledge while others are as dogs in the manger who can not or will not eat the straw but will not allow the oxen near it to eat either.

But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. (Matthew 23:13).
They have their worldly system of personal gain all set up, and it feeds them excessively. All are required to eat within that system or starve. Otherwise, a new system, an unselfish system, will take root and flourish, denying the greedy the power of their lust and their pride in their worldly accomplishments.

The truth is tedious, upsetting, unpleasant, uncomfortable to devils

When some in the house wish to be upright that is true liberals (freely giving and sharing, holding all in common, universally repentant, loving, peaceful, beneficent, merciful, open, honest, and direct without any vileness but to exorcise evil so the healing takes place), others in that house hate hearing it. They find it tedious, upsetting, unpleasant, uncomfortable, and the like. They scorn.

Don't scorn, continued

Don't be a devil

Jesus said implicitly that Satan is the father of those who scorn and, therefore, hate the truth. He said implicitly that Satan is the father of the vile and the greedy hoarders. They are Satan's children and they do not want to be divided from their chosen spiritual father. They are conditioned to like their gain even though it is temporary and negative (ultimately beyond futile to soul polluting). Their time is short while they take what they want because they can.
God is the king of kings, the real liberal of real liberals. Satan is the false conservative of false conservatives, churl of churl's, the villain of villains. Whenever the satanic spirit appropriates or assimilates (co-opts) liberal devices, it seeks to neutralize their real intent and to turn them to private, special advantage and privilege. Therefore, all real liberal devices must be devised with the express caveat that they are never to be turned to the private, special advantage and privilege of anyone but remain always only under the spirit of giving equally according to need. This caveat always goes hand-in-hand with the understanding that consistency demands that people's hearts reciprocate with giving based upon the gifts they receive from God. This is all done in the spirit of unselfishness and not for recompense.

After these truths are spoken throughout the world, after the real good news is published and preached and exemplified in every nation that we need not remain spiritually in bondage to the system of evil, then the dividing line will be plain and clear enough for all to see. Then the excuse of ignorance will be gone. Redemption will not be far off.

Uprightness will be clearly and plainly known and understood as unselfishness. Selfishness will be on one side, where the vile, greedy, violent ones will take their stand. Unselfishness will be on the other side, where the beneficent, patient, and pacifistic ones will take their stand with Jesus. The latter will have heard the voice of truth coming from the mouth of Jesus and persevered to the end. They will have given credit where credit is due, to Jesus for having made the ultimate sacrifice, in utter faith and knowledge, for the sake of our knowing where true righteousness lies. Those who deny Jesus have ultimately to search their hearts for the selfish reason.

In order for people to be upright, they need to know what that is. Real liberalism is upright. Mercy is upright. Self-styled conservatism and false liberalism are not upright. Violence, war, greed, and sexual decadence are not upright. They are of the satanic spirit. Those of that spirit sift recklessly and, therefore, unjustly. Patience is upright. Warning is upright. Heeding is upright.
Chapter 19  Truth From Under Oppression

One wants those who accept the truth to be redeemed and, therefore, out from under the oppression caused by non-believers.

When does one give up on reaching others so that their souls may be saved, so that they may be born again, anew, in the spirit, so that they will be new wineskins for the new wine? We do not give up. We see the truth that the word is being accepted or it is not.

And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city. (Mark 6:11).

We cast the seeds. They fall upon different ground. The ground is identifiable by the resulting growth and what it bears.

Rules of existence, continued

Jesus said as follows:

Behold, a sower went forth to sow; And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up: Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth: And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them: But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. (Matthew 13:3-9).

We speak the truth far and wide even to every nation. The people either accept it or they do not. The people are then known by what they teach and do. Let us be fertile soil bringing forth.

Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (Matthew 5:19).

Those who teach and do this consistently are fertile ground. They teach and do far and wide. Every nation is reached. Many listen to them and really hear what they are saying. Those many turn and overcome. Those many then teach and do likewise showing themselves also to be fertile ground. They are doing great things in the eyes of God in heaven. One desires that all people be of this quality; however, all people will not turn in this way in this age.

Not interested, too busy, it's boring

There are those who simply are completely infertile. "Some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up." They just do not even listen or look. They are not interested. They are too busy. It is boring. They are too consumed with selfish interests. They are too bonded to the current worldly empire of greed, violence, and depravity to recognize the truth about the evils of this age. They see the signs of the times as random chance. Are these the souls one wants in heaven? Could it be heaven with them in it? If the gates of heaven were opened to these, there would be no heaven.

What of those who are of the quality of ground that produces somewhat? Are they rejected also? God's house has many mansions, but the perpetual backslider is not going to be rewarded on the same level as the forever faithful.

Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth: And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. (Matthew 13:5-6).

These are the rules of existence on this plane. We pay (atone) to the last farthing for our own good and the good of all. The huge atoning of some makes up for the deficiencies in others, (Jesus paid the ransom for many) as we are all interconnected and interdependent even though we will be also judged solely and separately according to our own standards as measured against the divine standard as shown by Jesus. Atonement offers opportunity for others. Without it, all would shut down. It is doing good works. It is bringing forth only fruits worthy of repentance. It is self-sacrificing for the sake of others. It is love. It pleases God and displeases Satan.

No human being can do it alone

We are all interconnected and interdependent up to the point where goodness and evil ultimately separate. No human being can do it all alone. No person acting alone can recycle everything in the world. No person alone can go through all the landfills and toxic sites in the world to recycle and clean up all the problems. No person alone can change the world to allow people to get off burning fossil fuels and other climate disturbing fuels and doing all the other shortsighted and selfish things. No person alone can disarm the world. No person alone can end the pride of nationalism throughout the world. No person alone can rid the world of worshipping human made things (graven images, idols). No person alone can shut off all the temptations to evil in the world. This is why we are all interconnected and interdependent and the spirit of unity is so important. It is also why universal repentance is the right thing.
It is our fault, always

We need everyone to be in his or her right mind to get on with the things that must be done so that God will not have his back to us or more so ours to him, for it is our fault, always. We need to be out from under the oppressive hearts to do this. We cannot be good stewards of the earth while we are under oppressive hearts that thwart every liberal device. This is why those who destroy the earth shall themselves be destroyed.

Mansions of God

Since there is justice and since human beings cannot affect after the fact where they will go immediately after passing on from this life, those who destroy the earth will be sent somewhere other than heaven. They need to hear this. They need to come to understand that there are many mansions in heaven and hell. A manifest kind may become extinct in a mansion (realm or dimension). Human souls may rise only to fall until they finally learn to be unselfish. Those who fall and do not repent in time, fall to below those whom they oppressed until they pay and learn, pray God. If we become worthy enough, we may move from one mansion to another not bound by the laws defined in imperceptiveness only.

Jesus was that worthy. He moved from heaven to this world and back to heaven. He came back here to speak directly with his disciples. Then he went back to heaven again. In fact, heaven went with him wherever he went. This is no paradox.
Jesus came to explain that God is greater than anything any human had conceptualized. One must accept the infinite. That is the grasping of it. This world is simply a microcosm of the infinite existence of God's domain (his infinite mansions).

Those who oppress here are dreaming that they will not be sent to a place where they will pay to be corrected. They are dreaming that their lives won't be suddenly destroyed beyond any remedy of their own devising. Everything about this life to those who pay enough attention speaks to this truth. Worldly empires rise and fall. None has stayed up, because none has done righteousness making it worthy to stand.

Just and faithful deserve

The just and faithful have suffered and been persecuted at the hands of the oppressors. They've been beaten and murdered by the dark-hearted. Jesus's great, innocent suffering and death for their sake, the sake of his spiritual family, made them realize just how selfish their former lives were and just how much love is necessary. These souls deserve to be out from under evil. They deserve to be delivered. Those not of this spirit cannot be with them, for those others would pollute and ruin the unity of love. This is not mean or unfair. It is the opposite. It is kind to the kind and fair to the fair. None of these people wants anyone to suffer. Those who will suffer will have brought it upon themselves. The kind and fair only pray that those to suffer will learn quickly and lastingly.
It is better for them to learn here and now than suffer greater hell. They need to follow in the footsteps of those made in the here and now to feel extremely sorry for all the selfish things they ever said or did. They asked and if they are still living in this world, they still ask to be forgiven. They are forgiven, because of the sincerity of their hearts that God knows better than they know themselves. From that point on, they live for God and not for self. The mundanely dead are alive in this spirit. They live for their spiritual family through God. They are the children of God, the siblings and friends of Jesus. God and Jesus dwell within them. They are as lights illuminating the way for others.

But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

These are of this soil.

One wants the saints to have their reward

If you persevere to the end, you will be released forever from the yoke of oppression of living in a world of sin. You, and others who do this, will have paid the last farthing ("Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing." Matthew 5:26) and been delivered into the light of lights. "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:10). One feels for those who do not see the light, but one wants the saints to have their reward in a heaven free from evil. One wants the world to be saved.

What will become of the souls who are the evil ground? They will receive exactly what will be best for them, because truth is perfect justice. They will learn what they did by experiencing on the receiving end and paying to the last farthing during the next age or even the one after or they will remain willful and fallen and fall further and further into darkness forever. This is truth.
Chapter 20  Christianity Is the Entire Way

Christianity is an entire way of life, now and to come. It touches upon everything. In the final analysis, it really is everything.

Christianity Is an Entire Way of Life:
Real Christianity is not about going to a church building for traditional, liturgical reasons (rituals and ceremonies) only to leave the building and then violate the commandments. Real Christianity is to teach and do the commandments, bringing forth the good fruit, constantly. It is an entire way of life. It cannot be separated out in any way or to any degree.
God would rather have one poor, contrite, and respectful person giving and sharing all in confidence in God than every church building full of people going through worship services but who are rich, prideful, cocksure, and miserly.
God wants people who want abundance for the sake of giving and sharing not for the recompense of being loved but to ease the suffering of this world. He wants that to be the fulltime spirit of his people rather than their being on their knees and faces only to turn around to be selfish in any way.

Christianity Touches Upon Everything:
All things are connected through God. God created all things. Nothing exists without God.
Everyone and everything owes all to God. God has the power over death. God is the eternal breath of life and can breathe it into whatever God wants. God can resurrect whomever God wishes to resurrect. Even Satan, the spirit essence of all evil, is completely dependant upon God and God's temporary indulgence for Satan's existence on this level (for the sake of our knowing separation and redemption). Satan won't admit it though. In addition, God can be anywhere. This is why God can make his voice heard even in hell (surrounded by evil). Though evil may surround, heaven can extinguish hell but not the other way around. Satan has no power over God, but God can lock up Satan forever. The all-encompassing aspect of God carries over into every aspect of existence.

This is why Jesus said it is important that none of the commandments be violated. Each lesser commandment hangs upon the greatest commandments. Keeping the greatest is keeping the least. Keeping the least in the true spirit is keeping also the greatest. All are within the same spirit of love. This is the state of heaven. It is the opposite of hell.

Hell is consistently full of sin that is knowingly breaking the commandments. When God's voice is heard there, the heavenly breaks through displacing hell at that time for those who hear him. That's what happens in this world when the spirit of God is really felt by anyone.

In the Final Analysis, Christianity Really Is Everything:
Even though God allows humans to make mistakes and sin, God is not corruptible by human sinning. Each thing affects the whole through affecting even its parts, but God is infinitely and absolutely perfect. This is why the highest heaven is completely shut to iniquity. That heaven and earth are separated. Evil from earth cannot invade it. Evil from this life can and does though carry forward for those who carry it with them into death of the flesh. This is why there are levels or mansions that befit the souls that are sent there.

The highest heaven would not be heaven with evil parts. That heaven is wholly righteous. It is the meaning of wholeness. It is the meaning of perfect health. There is no disease of selfishness or, therefore, death in the perfect. That is the goal set before each and all. It is the most real.

Relative to it, everything else is darkness and falsehood. Anything turned in the direction of darkness is heading into unreality and will perish. Real Christianity is always turned in the direction of the goal of godliness. The narrow way is the path to that goal. This is why Christianity within this context is everything. All else is falsehood.

The "Real": Contextual language

The "real," as the word is meant within the revelation of Jesus, will survive eternally as the light. The false will die into darkness having consumed itself to death. Truth is real. Falsehood is unreal. This fleshy world is real to itself, but relative to heaven, it is unreal. It is weak. It is corruptible. It is falsehood in holding itself out as all there is to itself. In that state, it is devoid of the Holy Spirit. Once born into that spirit though, this flesh can be subject to all its power even unto incorruptibility. It is never testing, however, for that is unbelief. Therefore, the meaning of reality is dependent upon the realm of existence to which one is referring. It is dependent upon the direction in which one is heading: Darkness or light.

This is contextual language. This is the divine language. Do not confuse it with the standard human way of thinking about the meanings of the words. Manna (food) really did fall from the sky as ordered from heaven. It was a real miracle, but it was not simultaneously the real bread from heaven. Miracles and signs are real but the real message is in the good works done by Jesus. The manna was a foreshadowing. You see, God was providing food free of toil to those he had chosen to use in given his lesson. Walk in God's way and be worthy. Don't' walk in God's way, and be left more so on your own with less revealing from God: Suffer. Without a single miracle or sign, we should still believe that unselfishness is the only way to go.

Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed. (John 20:29).

Language corrupted

The human language has been severely limited and corrupted through the ages. It is in a state of confusion. It is fractured. It is divided against itself due to having two antithetical streams of consciousness running through it. One is the divine truth and real Christianity. The other is its antithesis seeking to license iniquity and deny Christ. It seeks to avoid the implications of the truth of how we all ought to be and how it is in paradise.

Biblical meanings not archaic

The deliberate confusion is plainly there as seen by the ambiguity between the various connotations and synonyms of words. The words have had their meanings warped (pejorated) over time by those who have belittled and trodden down unselfish emotions. They have arrogantly elevated their reasoning above God, which arrogance has led to all manner of abominable corruptions. They have relegated the divine meanings of many words to what they call archaic, meaning they are saying that the Biblical meanings of words are no longer applicable.

If you try to apply traditional human standards, distorted connotations of words, in understanding the purely divine language, you will be forever confused about reality versus imagination. The false is the imagined in this context. Sin is imagined in this sense. The sinner is only imagining that he or she is not seen fulltime. Sin is a lie. It lies about what is good. It lies that war is right. This usage of the term "imagination" is said to be archaic that is no longer applicable. The mentality that has slowly lost the continuity of the meaning is the mentality that has sought to excuse itself from the spirit of the law of God. The claim is that it is out of fashion to understand that what is imagined is what is not real in the divine sense. It denies the perfection that is God relative to the absoluteness of which all things are mere human notions.

However, the word "imagination" as used in The Bible is forever applicable. Without it, all are lost in terms of understanding the revelation and being saved. "He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their heart." (Luke 1:51). That's what Mary, the mother of Jesus, said about God to her cousin Elisabeth, the mother of John the Baptist. Of course, this does not mean that one does not imagine in the mundane sense. There are different connotations of the word "imagine." It is to say though that the words of truth from the Holy Spirit are never imagined. The real truth comes exclusively from God through the Holy Spirit. Everything that truly matters comes that way. If it isn't from the Holy Spirit, it is from vain imaginings. It won't last. It will be destroyed. It isn't worth building upon. It comes from human pride, which is an affront to God.

Very revealing about the confusion of the language in order to obfuscate evil and to lower people's resistance to evil temptation is using the name of God loosely or as a profanity. Doing this is the spirit that is attempting to distract hearts, minds, and souls from the consistent, fulltime, application of the first and great commandment and the second like it. It is not showing love for God. It is not loving love. It is hateful of all that is good. It comes out of the satanic spirit that seeks people to mock God. It is a grotesque imitation of people calling on the name of God in reverence. It is Satanism.

Oxymoron "free enterprise"

Another example concerns the concept of freedom. Real freedom is the liberty from evil that comes of doing God's will. The mundane current connotations of the words "free," "freedom," and "liberty" and how those connotations are prefixed to other words run contrary to the divine. Consider the oxymorons "free enterprise" and "free love." The current enterprises of the capitalistic economy create and operate in anything but divine (real) freedom. It is not divine fairness. Even on the most mundane level, the inherent unfairness is self-evident.

Wal-Mart

There are obstacles to the right of the people to use collective bargaining, which would not be necessary in the fully real Christian world and is not necessary in heaven. The huge Wal-Mart Company's anti-worker's rights efforts in Quebec, Canada, even as I write are a prime example. Also, the chief executive officer of Wal-Mart said about factories in Bangladesh that their wages (which are slave wages) are better than less. His compassion and conscience failed him in that statement, because under true justice, no one has less. It is always wrong to settle for the falsehood of the lesser of evils of fairer when completely fair is attainable. Allowing collective bargaining and paying higher than slave wages is not enough therefore, and no one should be placated with minimalist ends.
They are false ends and no ultimate means. We must strive for the real: Perfection.

Even as Wal-Mart exploits people around the world, it pays its people in its retail stores less by virtue of its poor benefits. It also has been leaked that the company has planned a policy against retaining workers, because as those workers age, they cost the company more the company thinks. Everything is about profits for executives and shareholders. Those profits come by undercutting the competition. The way to undercut the competition is by, among other unethical means, underpaying labor, shortchanging workers on safety and other programs, not allowing them to unionize, and by buying from manufacturers and suppliers who are using anti-environmental methods and exploiting their workers also even including using child and slave labor. Sweatshops are not a thing of the past.

The conscience of the conservative is dog-eat-dog (ruthlessly acquisitive and competitive). It is not, never has been, and never will be compassionate for compassion is never ruthlessly acquisitive and competitive. Compassion is real liberalism. The currently self-styled conservatism has no part in it.

Eminent domain

False liberalism falls into this same pit. Concerning the issue of eminent domain, in the US Supreme Court case Kelo v. City of New London, justice Sandra Day O'Connor wrote in her dissenting opinion, "nothing is to prevent the state from replacing any Motel 6 with a Ritz-Carlton, any home with a shopping mall, or any farm with a factory." In this court case, the self-styled liberals were in the majority and decided to sanction at their level for the first time that the power of eminent domain may now be used to transfer private real estate to private commercial developers just because the government deems the developer's plan as being a higher and better use of the land. In times past, eminent domain was exclusively used ostensibly for public development such as roads and bridges and other publicly owned purposes. This goes to show that the false liberals are not about protecting the poorer and less powerful against rich developers getting richer at the expense of others. It is facilitating covetousness. Regardless of the relative wealth of those in this case who had their land taken, this case sets the Supreme Court precedent to push the poor around for the sake of increasing the real estate values of the rich and to generate tax revenue for the local governments from increased business within their tax domain. Usually the big real estate developers are granted tax breaks for creating the development in the area. Greed drives the system.

Of course, the entire system is riddled with hypocrisy. Those from whom the land was confiscated were not holding it in common in the furtherance of the new commandment. The self-styled liberals think they have done the greater good in that they believe that more people will benefit by the redevelopment than would otherwise be the case.

The truth is that neither position of the so-called conservatives or liberals is the correct position. Both are antichristian.
Oxymoron "free love"

Also concerning the example of the corruption of the word "free" is the oxymoronic "free love." Divine love is anything but a license to promiscuity: Libertinism. For those who marry, greater freedom lies in the truth of becoming one flesh and the sacredness of monogamous fidelity that if violated causes grave consequences.

Christianity truly is an entire way of life. It touches upon everything. Real Christianity is not about lip-service or just about worship services but rather bringing forth the good fruit, constantly. Everyone and everything owes all to God, fulltime in every aspect of existence. Don't be fooled into imagining that there are not different places awaiting souls. There are different levels so to speak (different mansions) waiting.

There are only two ways to go: Darkness or godliness. The real way to go is toward God. The other direction is false and will fail you.

Don't miss the true meanings of words in the revelation. Don't allow the deliberately distorted connotations of words to keep you from finding and keeping to the narrow way. Don't allow the divine meanings to be relegated to the notion of archaic or being no longer applicable. That misuse of the concept of archaic is darkness. Don't allow the satanic mentality to dominate. Don't let it trick you into mocking God by misusing God's name. It is a ploy to weaken you into being more susceptible to falling to temptation. Don't fall for the euphemisms of the culture of greed, violence, and other spirits of decay. There is nothing free about so-called free enterprise or free love.

Every aspect of life for the Christian is to be guided by the Holy Spirit of truth. In the final analysis, Christianity is everything that is real. It is true while everything else is false: Based upon a lie started by the original liar. That liar shuns the truth of the revelation. This is part of the very meaning of the revelation.
Chapter 21  Spread the Word

Ordinarily, the subject matter of this chapter would be relegated to the Preface or other front matter. However, this and the next chapter are central to this ministry.

The world must receive the Gospel in every nation. Everyone must hear the true Gospel. Bibles are being produced and distributed in record numbers and in every language and in varying versions. The Internet is also spreading around the world. In addition, along with those Bibles is going out a multitude of human doctrines and interpretations of scripture that do not speak the truth about the false church and its collusion in worldly affairs. It does not speak the truth about the American Empire and the global oligarchy that controls it. It does not speak the truth about American conservatism and like philosophies and ideologies around the world.

It is vitally important that falsehoods coming out of churches, ministries, and governments and about ideologies be exposed so the people will have a clear and plain spiritual choice. On one hand, there are the priesthood and monarchy of all believers (universal, royal priesthood) forever, both temporal and eternal; all things in common; cooperation; and teaching and doing the spirit of the commandments. On the other hand are the coercive, hierarchical (dog in the manger), undemocratic churches; the capitalistic system of insatiable competition, greed, violence, and decadence; other selfish religions and governmental systems; and, teaching (paying lip-service) but not doing the commandments.

We call upon you to give editions of this work to whom you know and to strangers alike. You will be helping to further this ministry's efforts to bring forth the fruit. You will be aiding in our ability to release revised, updated, professionally edited, editions and translations of material even more readable in addition to being accessible to a larger international audience.

Professional editing, translating, and indexing, etc., is extremely expensive. Until this ministry is no longer a fledgling, it will not be able to afford such services.

We see editors, translators, indexers, and others volunteering their services over the years. Regardless, your efforts in spreading this work will be aiding in doing many, if not all, of the things discussed so far and in the remaining chapters, all consistent with the message of the Gospel. The time to start is now.

With your aid and assistance, the good news message of the kingdom can be gotten out to the entire world in every language. The false traditions can be exposed for the methods of procrastination that they are and be overcome. This, in turn, will facilitate, despite the coming tribulation no matter how far off, a worldwide movement bringing to fruition communities around the planet conducive to living in truth, love, and peace and spreading all of that further through teaching and doing the commandments (giving and sharing).

All this of course will be subjected to the greedy, violent, and depraved attempting to devour us before the end of the time of the devouring spirit comes. That is part of what is supposed to happen. It will be part of the separation process that has to happen in order for heaven to come to earth and the spirit of evil to be removed. Don't allow that spirit to put you off.

The prophecy: One-third remnant

The prophecy, according to many, though is for fully one-third of the human population of the planet to survive the next huge tribulation.

And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. (Zechariah 13:8).

Now, it is for your consideration that as this is being written, about one-third of the population of the world professes Jesus. Also, about one-third of the population of the world professes to be for giving and sharing all were it not for the naysayers. Now, those two groups are not the same one-third. Some of the professors of Christ pay lip service only. Some of those who claim to be for giving and sharing have ulterior lustful reasons for claiming their position.

Was that prophecy already fulfilled? Was it referring to all the land of Israel only? Could that be a foreshadowing of the macrocosmic tribulation? How do you read the number allusions in The Bible?

The real Christians job is to get the truth out that after the tribulation those left will only be those professing in earnest both Jesus and giving and sharing all, since both of those positions are the same.

Fulfill the prophecy of salvation together

To fulfill the prophecy of salvation, followers of Jesus must not run away from doing the work of God in the here and now in spirit and in bringing forth the tangible fruits to feed the sheep and lambs. Doing so will point the right way into the future.

None of us can do it alone.

Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. (John 5:19).

I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me. (John 5:30).

Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself;
but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things. (John 8:28).

And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you. (John 16:23).

We must help each other as Jesus helped us and as God helped Jesus and will help us. It is God's will.
Chapter 22  Proceeds to Teach and Do

Proceeds from this work and all other church efforts and from offerings, tithes and better, and other donations will be used to further teach and do in accordance with Jesus's teachings and doings to the best of our God-given abilities.

Rest assured, we will treat proceeds as entrusted to us by God to be used in the furtherance of the mission laid out in the Gospel as interpreted in this work and as the Holy Spirit further directs, since we are growing and learning. We wish to be and to remain good shepherds and stewards.

To head off inevitable negative criticism and misunderstanding concerning the Gospel message and before we elaborate upon how proceeds will be used, we declare upfront and openly here that we will be living off proceeds but decidedly not to become rich in mammon. We will not hoard or build up for personal, private monetary or material gain. A worker though truly does deserve his wage. We would expect nothing less for anyone else. Just as the Apostles, we will pay bills and debts associated with meeting the necessities of the body so we may work in furtherance of the spirit.

As with the ministry of Jesus while he walked this earth, this ministry, his ministry, will grow with the help of direct financial support from people such as you. We are raising funds through this work. Most importantly as word of this work spreads and people are moved to read it, many ought to be moved by the Holy Spirit of truth to tithe (to give one-tenth of annual income), or better, to this effort. Many will make additional offerings. Every bit that flows in will further the mission.

Practice what we preach

We are not writing just to write. We are not to teach just to teach. We are not to pay lip service. It is a sin. We must support our stated emotional convictions with actions that match to bring forth results that match. To work at anything less is obviously irrefutably dead of the Holy Spirit. We must put into practice as efficaciously as possible all we have written. We must do this thoughtfully and carefully. We must not waste the opportunity. We are to practice what we preach. We are to save, strengthen, and vitalize. We must enlighten and not deaden.

This work is about bringing forth. It is about results worthy of repentance and conflation. Therefore, all help in the form of monetary contributions, proceeds from this work, any other endeavors, property, etc., will be known as, entrusted to us by God.

Buying back the commons

Now, here is the central thrust of this work. Everything entrusted will be entrusted for the cause of developing fertile ground, real liberal, real Christian, nonprofit [mundane sense], charitable, all things in common, communes for member-workers to serve each other and be dependant upon each other and supporters all through the message of Jesus in God to spread the church community through the use of commune surpluses (bounty) to establish additional communes to feed in body and spirit all the lambs and sheep of the world. This is to be done always mindful of God's power and willingness in his mercy to provide for a faithful and worthy world without toil.

Money is not the means

Money is not the means to be rid of itself. Love is the means to convert what money will buy from gaining more selfish profit to giving and sharing all with all: The commons. We shall buy back the commons. "He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver." (Job 27:17). Do you understand?

When we say nonprofit, we mean in the capitalistic sense. We will most certainly be profitable in the sense that our efforts will be beneficial. It won't be for the benefit of capitalist investors at the expense of others. Contrary to the motivation of capitalists, it will not be for recompense. It will be profitable in the sense of bringing forth the real bounty in the Isaiah and Christian sense as opposed to the churlish sense. The capitalistic way, the selfish way, is not the way. This will be born out before all is done. The time to begin is now.

The intention is to be recognized by the various temporal authorities in the world as a nonprofit endeavor in the sense described above. Subsequent editions of this work or new books and other materials and sources will contain updated information on this subject. From the outset, we are already covered in the United States. When we go to form communities in other nations, the Holy Spirit will move experts in the field of nonprofit law within their given country to set things up and handle them for the cause.

Taxes

We cannot chisel things in granite concerning taxes. Tax codes are constantly under revision, and the tax code in the US, for instance, has been made very complicated due to all the competing interests. Also, there is much case law (court decisions) that both complicates and clarifies tax-code interpretation. This has forced many organizations to appeal US Internal Revenue Service (IRS) decisions in court in order to obtain tax-exempt status. We are confident going forward that God will make everything possible.

It is critical that we not compromise what we have put forth in this work for the sake of obtaining temporal approval in countries with different hurdles from those of the US. At the same time, we hold the view that Jesus had vis-à-vis the publicans (tax collectors). The powers coerce monies for often dubious works. While we would rather that all monies given to us be tax deductible for the giver and while we would rather all our efforts to house and feed, etc., the poor of the world through the efforts of our members be tax exempt, we will go forward regardless. We will face different requirements in different jurisdictions. We are confident that our work will ultimately be acknowledged as completely religious, which it is and will remain. It has been determined that our communities will most likely be 501(c)(3) entities.

There will be the church and communes under the secular law. All commune members will be church members, just as with a number of other recognized religious organizations. For tax purposes within the US, we will be viewed as two different entities operating under one tax-exempt umbrella.

Denominated churches do not have to apply to the IRS to be qualified organizations for accepting tax-deductible contributions. We are inherently denominated under the secular law, whether or not we consider ourselves in the same way the traditional denominations view themselves.

As an example, the Roman church, despite recent ecumenical moves, still considers itself to be the one and only universal church. They still consider all other denominations to be astray. They have seen it that way by virtue of their self-proclaimed apostolic succession. They believe that Peter was the highest of the Apostles and that Peter was the first bishop of Rome. They have believed that once the church in Jerusalem was scattered and the Roman Empire proclaimed Christianity (as conceived by Constantine) as the official state religion, they (the Romans) became the apostolic heirs of Christianity. It is a very worldly view. Nevertheless, for tax purposes they are considered a denomination by the IRS.
Many denominations consider each other true Christians. They do not know where heathenism versus Christianity starts and stops. Jesus was both an absolutist and a relativist, so we have no problem with this. We simply seek to have the single eye of light.

The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness. (Luke 11:34).

We are our fruit. We say, as you have been told, real Christians are to bring forth only that which is worthy of repentance: Fruits of the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. Christians are what they do. Those who do not overcome procrastination are Christians in name only. It is death, darkness, falsehood, hypocrisy. It is the wide path to hell.

Denominated: Real Liberal Christian Church

We consider ourselves as real Christians, being clear of those human traditions (ungodly precepts) that have built up over centuries in apostate churches in which such traditions have caused fracturing or denominating and obvious obfuscation and procrastination. Therefore, we are relegated to having our names "Christian" and "the church" qualified and officially assumed by the US taxing authority to be denominated as the Real Liberal Christian Church.
For so-called official purposes of that taxing authority, their forms require declarations that are not applicable to the Real Church. They have required a date when the church began. They have required the declaration of a leader. Theirs are assumptive and arbitrary questions, because the secular powers are not guided by the Holy Spirit. They are devoid of understanding.

This is not a new church. It is the oldest church. It is the original church. It is as old as the spirit in which we are to conflate. Its leader is that spirit: The spirit of God in Christ in all.

Language divided divine from mundane

Not to offend the authorities at the time, Jesus had Peter pay Peter's and Jesus's tax. We will sign their forms and so forth. However, we say emphatically here that "blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord." (Matthew 21:9). We are not coming in our own names. Truly, Jesus founded our congregation. We will treat the language as divided between the divine and the mundane. The tax authorities think and speak and act in the mundane sense, obviously. Please be sure to keep that in mind when considering our dealings with them.

The meaning of the name: Real Liberal Christian Church

The name, Real Liberal Christian Church, though speaks best to the thrust of this work. Once each term in the name is grasped within the language of the revelation, the whole name reminds one of the one path of ultimate righteousness: Love, peace, truth, and all the rest of the good taught and exemplified by Jesus. Each of the four words within the name repeats and clarifies that spirit of oneness and narrow way.

According to the IRS publication entitled, Tax Guide for Churches and Religious Organizations (Publication 1828, Revised 09-2003), the following are the basics concerning whether or not our IRS-denominated church may receive your US tax-deductible contributions:

Churches and religious organizations, like many other charitable organizations, qualify for exemption from federal income tax under IRC section 501(c)(3) and are generally eligible to receive tax-deductible contributions.

To qualify for tax-exempt status, such an organization must meet the following requirements (covered in greater detail throughout this publication):

- the organization must be organized and operated exclusively for religious, educational, scientific, or other charitable purposes,

[We are and will remain exclusively religious and educational under the aegis of the church.]
- net earnings may not inure to the benefit of any private individual or shareholder,

[Per the rules, there will be no private benefit that will trigger the "substantial" prohibition.]

- no substantial part of its activity may be attempting to influence legislation,

[It is not anticipated that we would ever be lobbying the government in any substantial way, if at all.]

- the organization may not intervene in political campaigns

We will not campaign for or against candidates for secular political positions anticipated under the tax code. As stated in this work, we are not endeavoring to change the system from within the system. We are looking to the day when there will be a new wineskin for the new wine. We are, therefore, officially always nonpartisan. We will have more to say on this matter below., and

- the organization's purposes and activities may not be illegal or violate fundamental public policy.

We are not engaged, nor will we engage in, illegal activities. Of course, it must be understood that keeping the first and great commandment and the second like it is inherently never illegal or in violation of the ultimate spirit of fundamental public policy (secular or not). We certainly will never be terrors to good works, quite the contrary. We are though against all wars regardless of whether or not the IRS or any other institution under the secular authorities seeks to economically coerce us into being silent on this or any other issue. We do not meet tax-exempt status by agreeing to be gagged. As we have stated elsewhere in this work, Christianity touches upon everything including every law and every policy.]

The church will not engage in the following:

…payment of dividends, the payment of unreasonable compensation to insiders, and transferring property to insiders for less than fair market value.

The following will also pertain to the church:

…beneficiaries of … [the] organization's activities must be [will be] recognized objects of charity (such as the poor or the distressed).

The quoted matter is from that same IRS publication cited above.
Secular political campaigns

Concerning the prohibition against engaging in secular political campaigns, we believe that freedom of religion includes freedom of speech. This includes freedom of political speech. Anything else is hypocritical. People collectively as a religious body ought to be able to announce the shepherds and stewards they choose for following. There certainly should be no wall past which they may not tread concerning their corporate views. As this work has made abundantly clear, there is no separation of church and state in heaven. God wants no such separation.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this. (Isaiah 9:6-7).

The secular finally gives way.

The real Church is the real state. It is religious freedom to be able to state this openly. Also, this work has made abundantly clear that environmentalism is sacred, that capitalism and the current ideology of conservatism are wrong, and that anything called liberalism that includes vileness or villainy is false. There are elected politicians who are against the real Church and real state, who are against environmentalism, who are rabid capitalists, and who license vileness and villainy. Because we are devising real liberal devices and will stand by them, teaching and exemplifying the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it upon which all the law and the prophets hang, are we, our members, our donors, to be taxed while others calling themselves churches are not?

That tax code is designed to cause a direct disconnect between the message of Jesus and the condition of the state. It is our religion to speak out against hypocrisy and injustice. That is the spirit of prophecy. If a public official or someone running against him or her fits the bill, they have been so identified by those who see it that way.

Jesus didn’t name names but rather referred to the prince of this world. Jesus would have failed by being executed for violating the law of Rome against treason and sedition in the form of speaking publicly against paying tribute or taxes to caesar or those whom caesar authorized. This is why those false-hearted Jews who sought to murder Jesus attempted to trap Jesus into saying that people do not have to pay taxes or tribute. They failed to trap Jesus. They failed to obtain that justification (or any justification) for having Jesus executed. We will not either be trapped.
No tax evasion

We are telling no one to stop paying his or her taxes with secular money of the global oligarchy's privatized banks (such as the Federal Reserve) even though, just as in the time of Jesus, such taxes are used to produce and use weapons of war that are murderous implements.

We agree with Jesus, of course, that the powers that be have been given authority from above. They are allowed for a time. Those in leadership positions perpetuate the collusion to be self-appointing: To gain and hold power and control through coercion. We know, as did Jesus, that often the basest of men are put in high places and that their hearts are hardened for wrath against willful and iniquitous people, even though that truth remains lost on so many. Evil is unleashed to destroy the destroyers and be itself destroyed. Evil is called up to usurp the usurpers. It is a dark spirited people who always have to experience this first-hand before turning from evil.

And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet. (Matthew 21:45-46).

You can see how the system is not conducive to thy kingdom come. The mundane law of the worldly system at least within the US Empire is that either the church keeps its mouth shut about those seeking election to run the state, or the state will tax the church. Is that the free exercise of religion? Regardless, as we have said, we are not about reforming an old wineskin that cannot hold the new spirit. Otherwise, that old wineskin will burst and that new spirit will be spilled and wasted.

Now, what is their fear and why should that fear override the free exercise of religion? Some will say that if the church is allowed to state the truth during candidacies, every taxed group wishing to express an up or down opinion about a politician's campaign for elected office within the Empire system would seek to be a tax-exempt church. It is prophetic. The real Church has no part in this current state that is in apostasy. That state has no part in the real Church. The current state is still that state run by the princes of this world doomed for failure.

This current state comes from those who were unable to differentiate the real Church of peace from the usurped, apostate church that used the coercive force of elitists of the also apostate state. That state controlled, and still controls, the military. It was used to further that false church's agenda. The real Church never sought, or seeks, such use of any military. The false church has been living a lie from its inception. It is still living a lie with all of its support for militarism as has been clearly pointed out in this work.

The Real Liberal Christian Church is never campaigning to have any particular candidate win or loose any election to run the secular, necessarily apostate, government. Neither are we ever seeking humans to undertake the violent, wrathful, overthrow of the worldly system. We seek peace always. We advocate pacifism always. We don't seek insurrection. We don't seek people to revolt or disobey the secular laws where those laws don't violate the first and great commandment and the second like it. This is not a problem, because the secular laws cannot be sustained when found to be against the first and great commandment and the second like it. We advocate doing the first and great commandment and the second like it. We are seeking the undivided house. That house cannot be built upon the tenets of the current worldly US Empire and other worldly states. Those tenets are inherently divisive. They are inherently unjust, because they promote selfishness. However, that undivided house can be built to displace the divided house without violating the highest secular law as interpreted in the true spirit. That is what Jesus taught us. He taught the proper interpretation, and he showed us that there are those who will corrupt the lesser, secular laws for selfish ends. We must be willing to withstand the persecution of those who subvert the law. We must follow the commands of God and not human beings, because God is the law.

As stated, we are seeking the undivided house. That house cannot be built upon the tenets of the current worldly US Empire and other worldly states. Those tenets are built from the top down and bottom up, and when they are held to the standard of consistency, they fail the test. There is a mental disconnection in people between the lesser secular laws and the spirit to which the highest secular laws suggest to be aspiring. This is because that spirit is unselfishness while the lesser laws are riddled with the spirit of selfishness. These are incompatible.
We are seeking the undivided house that is necessarily built upon the tenet of unselfishness from top to bottom to top again in complete consistency. It is necessarily non-coercive that is non-offensive. This is a wholly different house and system from the current worldly US Empire and other worldly states. No matter how many of a certain kind of people are elected to office within the current Empire system, whatever would be created thereby would come out of force and would, therefore, be based upon falsehood. Willing, uncoerced hearts are the only hearts that will enter heaven. Those who force don't know where heaven is. They can't get there themselves let alone force others. Therefore, the Church will never say vote for this one or don't vote for that one for secular office. Neither will the Church be the vehicle for what is commonly understood as partisan, secular politics. The Church will though say what is closer to the kingdom, and people will draw their conclusions.

Cesar's system will fall way

Also therefore, the Real Liberal Christian Church will never be in violation of the US Empire's current prohibition and, therefore, its taxation. Whenever we speak about the current state of affairs and those who are the false shepherds and those seeking to be false shepherds, we will never be speaking for or against their election within their system. It is cesar's system, and it will go the way of the Roman Empire and all empires back to Babylon and before. We have no part in it, and it has no part in us. It will fall away, and its power will be given over to those bringing forth the real fruit that is the real abundance and real prosperity as prophesied in scripture.

We are always proselytizing to people. We are always seeking souls to turn from that system of selfishness and to repent. We are teaching and are exemplifying the way of coming out of that system and into the universal, royal priesthood forever that is the way of unselfish love in action that is the way of the spirit of oneness in service and friendship. We are calling upon people to join the movement to bring forth the fruits worthy of repentance in patience but never procrastination.

It is inescapable that in every church whenever the following is read: "Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God (Matthew 5:9)," an indirect and direct statement about a candidate, and all candidates, is being made. Any candidate not a fulltime peacemaker (activist pacifist) is by extension not approved under that statement of Jesus. Where does the worldly system seek to draw the line? Their line, no matter where drawn, is inherent hypocrisy. Such is the nature of the spirit of the divided, fractured system.

Let's move away now from the issue of the secular authorities using taxes as a method of financial coercion to silence Christianity and back to other tax matters.
Other tax matters

Unrelated Business Income Tax

Concerning Unrelated Business Income Tax (UBIT), all regular trade carried on by the Church will be "substantially related to the organization's exempt purpose." Also, it will be "conducted by the organization primarily for the convenience of its members." Therefore, any trade income will not be subject to Unrelated Business Income Tax.

Also, the income of the association or communes will not be substantially from members earning from outside the work of the communes.

Social Security and Medicare Taxes

As for Social Security and Medicare Taxes {Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA)}, these taxes are required to be paid by the Church concerning all employees who are not ministers or members of the communes. They can be paid for ministers and order-members as well at the election of the church. If they are not paid, ministers and commune members must still pay these taxes unless they receive an exemption via filing Form 4361, Application for Exemption From Self-Employment Tax for Use by Ministers, Members of Religious Orders and Christian Science Practitioners.
Unemployment Tax
As for Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA), "Churches and religious organizations are not liable for FUTA tax."

Tax Withholding
In addition, the Church does not have to withhold taxes on minister's salaries. Ministers are treated by the IRS as self-employed in this sense. The IRS uses the term "ministers" generically. It can be "priests" or "priestesses" or any other term a given organization wishes to use.

Parsonages, rectories, housing allowances
Parsonages or rectories so to speak may be furnished or the ministers may be granted housing allowances until there are communes established in which ministers may live.

A minister's housing allowance, sometimes called a parsonage allowance or a rental allowance, is excludable from gross income for income tax purposes, but not for self-employment tax purposes.143

It covers the real and reasonable costs of furnishings, utilities, rent, mortgage interest, repairs, and other expenses directly relating to providing a home.\footnote{Topic 417 - Earnings for Clergy. IRS. \url{http://www.irs.gov/taxtopics/tc417.html}. (accessed: Wednesday, October 25, 2006).}

Duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister

Of course, we want communes as soon as reasonably possible. During interim periods, exactly how the concept of minister under the tax law jibes with our belief in the priesthood of all believers remains to be seen. The IRS uses the words "duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister." Truly, every member is ordained of the Holy Spirit. As for what the secular authorities will initially grasp, remains to be seen as of this writing. As we mentioned elsewhere, people follow shepherds. We are all to be shepherds. This does not leave us in an ambiguous position. It will be confusing to those who don't grasp the revelation, but that cannot be helped. All will minister. That is the whole point of Christianity. We cannot run counter to this truth for the sake of fitting a preexisting mold of other ostensible churches around which tax code was developed. It is for tax code to evolve rather than for a religion of righteousness that predates that code to be forced to compromise central beliefs.

Just because we will certainly not be hierarchical in the traditional sense but rather purely democratic, meaning the congregations of minister/members will choose directly or elect their shepherds, does not mean that those congregants will be relegated to non-ordained status. To be ordained in the Real Liberal Christian Church is to believe, teach, and do its tenets. It is to keep the first and great commandment and the second like it and lesser commandments shown by bringing forth that is feeding the lambs and sheep and doing the other things Jesus called upon his flock to do. It is not merely to have passed academic courses and received a document.

Qualifications for leadership within the Real Church

The duly ordained as contemplated under the IRS rules are in the case of our Church those chosen by the Church membership to be their leader or leaders (shepherd or shepherds). Concerning those to be ordained, the attributed Pauline Epistle states as follows:

A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach; Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous; One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity; (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?) Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil. Likewise must the deacons be grave, not double tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless. Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things. Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well. (1 Timothy 3:2-12).

In addition to the above where those do not conflict with the following, the following are some of the qualifications for bishop, priest, minister, or deacon within the Real Liberal Christian Church:

Male or female; married or single; repentant; pacifistic and freely giving and sharing of all things, therefore, directly involved in feeding all the lambs and sheep of the fold of Jesus and teaching and exemplifying the new commandment in all that it implies; self denying and controlled concerning all appetites; being of unselfish love in action (the spirit of oneness in service and friendship); believing in the meaning of the name of Jesus that God is salvation; warning; not resorting to punishment or coercion; forsaking genetic family if needed for the sake of the spiritual family; forsaking all human traditions for godly precepts (the social Gospel without the worldly state); overcoming; long-suffering persecution; atoning; willing to be martyred in the name of Jesus; merciful; being of the universal royal priesthood forever; believing that through God all things are possible; having God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit of truth indwelling and, therefore, even if relatively recently converted, definitely no novice.

This is consistent with Jesus telling people to forsake the spiritually dead even if those dead are within one's immediate or nuclear family. It runs contrary, however, to the First Epistle to Timothy, partially quoted above, that says that one to be chosen to lead (ordained) must have a ruly wife and ruly children. Now, the Epistles to Timothy are debated amongst scholars concerning their authenticity that is whether or not they were really authored by Paul.

Regardless, we find that certain of the criteria for selecting church officers are out of sync with the message of Jesus concerning the individual merit of each soul. We don't say that the qualities looked for in Timothy are not good qualities. We say though that they would preclude leadership by converts whose family members rejected the Holy Spirit. Jesus would not do that. Either these epistles were authored by other than Paul or Paul precluded potentially merit-worthy officers.

Therefore, the real Christian church never precludes from office a convert who is in the spirit regardless of the spiritual state of his immediate family members. Those family members either accept the truth or they don't. The convert's teeth shall not be set on edge due to the sins of his or her unbelieving family members. The church will not hold the sins of family members against converts.

The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin. (Deuteronomy 24:16).

But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge. (Jeremiah 31:30).

The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezekiel 18:20).

It means spiritual death.
communist (small-c) living

The focus will be on communist living where all will share all equally. This parsonage, rectory, housing-allowance aspect should never become much more than a stop-gap measure for housing Real Church member-ministers.

Moving on now, we will supply contributors with proper substantiation (in accordance with IRS rules) for contributions so that contributors may properly declare such contributions for deduction purposes.

Worldwide common Church treasury

Now, since we are a denomination in the eyes of the US federal taxing authority, we want to say from the outset that those who start house churches, cell churches, or other entities under the denominational name of Real Liberal Christian Church or as abbreviated forms Real Liberal, Real Christian, or Real Church, are expected to do so solely for purposes completely consistent with the tenor of this work. It is anticipated that all house churches or other entities established under the Church's name or pursuant to this work or both will gladly contribute to the established worldwide common treasury. The reason for that is so that we may maximize the results of our effort to create and perfect a model bountiful commune to start. It is also so we may create subsequent bountiful communes based upon what we learn during that process of perfecting the first commune and based upon what we learn from each of those subsequent communes. To clarify here since we are on the subject, older communes will be retrofitted when sensible with what we learn along the way. We will avoid neglecting any commune.

Can you see any other way to be true to the message that we are to do the deed of feeding all the lambs and sheep unless we all come together in the spirit to unselfishly pool all resources in a common treasury to create havens where people will not be slaves under an ungodly system of selfishness?

Jesus told us to be one. It's what the first Church in Jerusalem did. We know they were right to do it. We know it was in line with the message they learned from Jesus. We know that aspect of what they were doing was real Christianity, unlike what is being passed off as Christianity today that is not giving and sharing all with the lambs and the sheep.

House churches

To clarify for those who are unfamiliar with the term "house church," house churches are when two or more gather in the name of Jesus in someone's house rather than necessarily having a separate non-home building in which to gather. House churches were common in the early church. It is being revived to help break the traditional hierarchical stranglehold on the faith. Cell churches are similar but don't necessarily meet in homes.

Incoming commune members are required to give over all their worldly wealth to the body of Christ. Of course, this is exactly what the original Apostles did in the church, upon which spirit we are all to conflate. Those who cannot bring themselves to do this even after communes are up and running may nevertheless contribute to the effort.

Since committing to the Holy Spirit of truth is to be a lifelong and eternal endeavor, "Each member, upon joining, completely surrenders to the organization all property, which he or she owns" is what Jesus had in mind as the parable of the rich young man clearly states. It is required to be perfect and to follow Christ all the way.

But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God. And Ananias hearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things. And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him. And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. And Peter answered unto her, Tell me... whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much. Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out. Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband. And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things. (Acts 5:1-11).

Why join and try to cheat? They shouldn't have joined.

Other groups, having experienced difficulties with new members, have set up visitation and trial periods. We will have visitors who do not join.

We are not contemplating a revolving door however. Complete commitment to the message of Jesus is expected. Membership is the most serious of undertakings, as Acts 5:1-11 makes clear. It is an eternal commitment with one's soul on the line. We want every soul that can hear the voice to respond. Those who back out never heard that real voice and were never really in the spirit. You must choose. No one can do it for you.
No one will ever be justified though in slandering or libeling the cause by claiming later that he or she did not know what he or she was getting into before moving into a commune and giving over everything to the cause of real Christianity. It is all right here in this work. It is all right in The Bible and the Gospel message.

We don't wish to set people up for failure. There are many people in the world who have lived successful communist lives all their lives. Anyone truly moved by the spirit will be able to do it and will actually want to do it for all the right reasons. We don't want anyone to fail, but we cannot force people to succeed.

Obviously, in a poor setting where people are deeply moved by the message of Jesus, such visitation or trial periods would not be advantageous. People moving into one of the communes under such circumstances would not be bringing in with them much in the way of wealth or worldly possessions. If they were to leave, they would certainly have no selfish flashbacks or twinges about having given all away.

Common treasury: Not Congregationalist loose affiliation

Concerning another preliminary that some people will find valuable upfront even while others will think it very premature, if we follow a purely Congregationalist structure, the emphasis will not be upon mission communes that will grow into full-fledge communes the surpluses of which will aid in starting additional missions. For those who are unfamiliar, the Congregationalist approach is a loose affiliation of autonomous churches. The common treasury will require more than a loose affiliation.

Without the focus upon spreading the community, without the focus upon people helping people to help yet others, there will be a tendency to complacency and procrastination. People will not be moved to convert. Unjust wealth will not then continue to be freed up as the inheritance of all. That is what has been wrong all along.

Governance

Other main traditional organizational structures are governance by bishops or elders (presbyters). We will not be using those, per se. Jesus chose his disciples as they were drawn to him by the Holy Spirit. The flock heard his voice and knew he was telling them the truth and followed.

Positions will be decided as functions are required as determined by the members. There will be sufficient harmonization across all the communes so that growth will be fruitful and not in vain. Each commune though will have particular requirements depending upon all the given environment/circumstances surrounding it.

Real democracy of the Holy Spirit

We want the free, real, pure, direct democratic movement of the Holy Spirit to guide us. We want all to be leaders and followers. Open, honest, direct discussions will be of great assistance in this. We want everyone to have an equal say and stake. We want though that those within, as full members, to be under the heartfelt godly precepts of all things in common; each getting what each needs; each giving what each has; and raising the poor and others out of dire straits, degradation, and starvation. We want the law to be the full spirit. We cannot rest once we are worked into a given part of the church or a given commune within the whole community of communes. We must rather continue working to spread both word and deed.

How unselfish can each of us be for the sake of doing this work? Is it a vow of poverty? It is a separation from the worldly selfish endeavors as the Nazarites, Carmelites, Essenes, and others were separated from time to time and to varying degrees. It is striving for that perfection of which Jesus spoke concerning unity with God and through God: The Holy Spirit. However, we will not be as hermits. We are to shine the light around the world. We will not be gender-based. Males, females, married, single, families, all are welcome. Also, could any of us be in poverty if we each own the whole? Do we think of Jesus as being poverty stricken, or do we think of him as being the riches person who ever lived because of his abundance of the Holy Spirit? We share in it all, just as Jesus told us that he shares all and that we are all to be at one. The whole is our inheritance. If it is poverty, it is poverty in the mundane sense only. Even still, none will be deprived. That is riches, in and of itself.

Overcoming being dominated by selfish wants will be what sets us apart. All the necessary things will be added to us if we don't worry or obsess about them and we have the single eye of light that Jesus stated in his Sermon on the Mount. This should be joyous work. It will be.

Worship services

Also preliminarily, since we are a church, some will wish to know about worship services, per se. We do not want to place the emphasis upon ritualistic, ceremonial worship. We want the love of God to be constant throughout the day, everyday. However, gathering to remember Jesus through the bread and wine and with his, the Lord's Prayer, is be a perfect way to reinforce in us the things Jesus said. He said we ought to remember him with bread and wine. It reminds us of his flesh and blood and all the rest that the bread and wine implies, which we may help one another learn through scripture and the movement of the Holy Spirit within us. Also, he taught us his prayer that he told to those gathered together.

Common meals

Of course, having common meals is something the earliest Apostles did and we should also for the same reasons. All should feel free openly to discuss anything, following, of course, all of Jesus's wise admonitions, for example the steps to take if one is speaking to rebuke. It is how we all may learn from each other. Of course, there will have to be organizational meetings. Helpful guidelines concerning those may be worked out as we all gain greater experience.
Sacraments

Baptism

Infant baptism

As for what other churches call sacraments and as we have seen, traditions can be highly disuniting, even baptism, per se, can present a problem. John the Baptist baptized in water unto repentance. He said Jesus came to baptize with fire. That fire is the truth of the Holy Spirit. Anyone who has received that truth has been baptized. What then are we to do? Can we add to it or detract from it. It is sufficient for its purpose. It is huge. Jesus was baptized by John the Baptist in water. Jesus had his disciples baptize using water. It is not wrong. The question is usually one of infant baptism. The question is how can an infant repent? This is a major issue of the Anabaptists who believe that infant baptism is of no avail. More importantly is the second baptism and subsequent baptism. "But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!" (Luke 12:50). Those were the words of Jesus many months after he was baptized in water by John the Baptist. It was also after he had been baptized in the Holy Spirit of truth that descended upon him. Jesus was referring to his trial, persecution, crucifixion, and death. He withstood the proverbial fire. He overcame and was resurrected and ascended. He had to be as righteous as possible in order to fulfill the prophecy. Are we willing? "And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me." (Matthew 10:38).
Matrimony

Matrimony is a major life event. A particular traditional human ritual is not necessary for marriage in the eyes of God. We are not opposed to marriage ceremonies though. We just don’t have a prescribed or arbitrary tradition in mind to which to hold our community of believers. As you know, secular law, however, can require certain formalities. When a man and woman come together in sexual union, let them first be married exclusively to one another. Let that marriage be for the duration of the life of the flesh body. Let that marriage mean that they will keep only unto each other, meaning they will engage in no sexual activities with any other person. Let everyone respect the marriage bond between a married man and woman, one flesh.

Let no others look upon either with lust in his or her heart.

Divorce

Remarriage

As for divorce and remarriage, it is written that Jesus said the following:

But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery. (Matthew 5:32).
It is obvious that adultery is no light matter. Even if one divorces due to abuse, where there was no infidelity, the possibility of adultery still looms. One is not to marry where it would constitute adultery, meaning where the person was not released by virtue of that one's previous mate having broken the marriage by unfaithfulness. Adultery reaches the level where God will forgive us for divorce. All other sins within the marriage ought to be corrected. Violence, greed, depravity are to be replaced by love, truth, and peace. Repent. Where there has been no infidelity and where other sins have not been corrected, sex with others is apparent adultery regardless of any writ or pronouncement of divorce. Let them not divorce except for the cause of infidelity. This does not mean they cannot be separated. It means that they are not released or freed to marry others or have sex with others. It is alright for instance to be physically gone from one's spouse and children without divorce for the sake of teaching and doing righteousness. The Apostles did it.

Ignorance

Now, it matters whether this is all new to one or not. Those who didn't know, didn't sin. They erred but didn't sin. We have explained earlier that this is the teaching of Jesus. True ignorance is partially excusatory. It doesn't mean that one walks away without incurring any negative consequences of erring. It just means that ignorance mitigates (reduces) those consequences. The point is that the act itself of adultery is extremely harmful. That can't be escaped just on account of ignorance.
If one has already committed adultery or even remarried, the most important thing is to never be unfaithful again! As Jesus said, "Go, and sin no more." (John 8:11). Repent and atone directly if possible and generally regardless. As for any other steps one must take, the Holy Spirit will have to be one's guide. Do what the spirit tells you to do to have innocent people pay as little as possible and preferably not at all for your past mistakes.

In the eyes of God, you did not have a right to divorce. You should still be married. You erred regardless of sin. How can you feel that you are sanctioned by God to remarry? Would doing so diminish the importance of marriage? Would you be getting married again for selfish reasons? Would you be putting your lusting desires above the best statement about your new found belief in the holiness of marriage and sex? Your conscience should move you. Becoming one flesh in sexual union is that significant. It has been severely diminished in importance under so-called modernity. Now there are those who even advocate polyamory, which is having multiple sex partners. Only bad can come of it.

Adultery and sex out of wedlock

God loves righteous loyalty. That is why this is so important. The bond of Holy matrimony is a microcosm of the bond of souls and whole nations (and the whole of humanity one day) to God and Godliness. Breaking that loving bond with God is adultery against God. It is breaking the bond of one flesh (the real flesh). It is to become a prostitute, prostituting the soul with false gods for false profit. It is error and spirals souls down into hell. It causes harm. It hurts where there should be no pain. God doesn't want to see that, but it is human kind that broke the marriage.

Marriage to another human being is a small commandment for faithfulness that if violated translates into violating the great commandment for faithfulness. It is hypocritical to claim to keep one and not the other.

God has forgiven his children for all manner of erring and sinning while they have remained loyal. God has declared covenants broken when his children have breach the covenants such as by lusting after false gods. God loves it when his children are raised in faithful households. It teaches them how to deny themselves the lust of going outside the marriage and by extension how to deny themselves in all other manner of selfishness. God loves it when parents love their children and their children love their parents just as God loves God's children and wants to be loved in return. This is the spiritual love that goes far beyond the selfish love of mere genetic bonds. God wants all his children to love all the rest of his children on that spiritual level. However, so many cannot even appreciate that we are all related genetically. How can they grasp being related on the spiritual level? It is as if one would expect someone who is unfaithful in the mammon of unrighteousness being, however, trustworthy with the real riches. One who steals money cannot be trusted leading others to righteousness.

He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. (Luke 16:10).

One who does not consider other human beings as one's genetic relatives cannot be trusted to lead anyone spiritually. One who knowingly sins by being unfaithful in his or her marriage and especially one who remains unrepentant about it afterwards cannot be trusted to lead the flock in any matters. His or her judgment is impaired and dangerous to follow. His or her moral compass is broken.

In truth, there should be no offenses, adultery or abuse or otherwise, in marriage, and, therefore, there should be no divorce.

As stated above, even if one divorces due to abuse, where there was no infidelity, the possibility of adultery still looms. As for what appears to be untenable abuse, let the Holy Spirit move you. You may save your spouse's soul by helping him or her out of that downward spiral of violence or depravity. God sincerely changes hearts everyday. If you ask the indwelling spirit in earnest in the names of God and Jesus to tell you the right thing to do, you will be told. You will be guided. You will not be led into adultery but you will be led out of your problem one way or another. Go with it. Never second guess the Holy Spirit. You will regret it if you do. Do not cave into being pulled thereafter in a different direction by human beings, including your own imagination or rationalizations. If you stick to what the Holy Spirit informed you to do, you will not be going wrong no matter what it may look like to others. Always be sure you are asking the right spirit. The right spirit is the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it that moves one to keep all the lesser commandments. The right one is the one of the new commandment and wants you to love others as that spirit loves its friends. The right one shakes the dust from its feet at the right time, right place, and for the right reason. The right one forsakes the unrepentant heathens for the lost to be found.

Tell people what they need to know. Tell them to turn. Pray God that they turn by learning to connect the negative consequences with their erring ways.

Scorners, continued

Pray God that if they are not going to turn, to delivery from their evil ways. Remember the following:

> Cast out the scorners, and contentions shall go out; yea, strife and reproach shall cease. (Proverbs 22:10).

The scorners reject God in your house. The scorners ridicule your belief in Jesus. The scorners mocks the Holy Spirit. He demands his selfish way. He will not abide by minimum standards required for relatively reasonable peaceful coexistence. He rejects the truth that bad behavior does not deserve respect. There is only one-sided abuse. She is full of demons she refuses to exorcise. She causes great and needless discord. She is constantly presenting temptation leading others astray. The scorners bring the words and spirit of greed, violence, and depravity into your house. The scorners is a negative influence. He will not modify any behavior to any lasting degree. He doesn't change or is quick to revert. He is a blatant liar. One always finds the scorners undependable. Her word is worthless. She brings the opposite of the peace of the Lord into the house.

Having a scorners there with you when there is no light in sight, when there is no working conscience in the offering, brings reproach upon the house. It brings disgrace and shame. It sullies the name and reputation. In truth, God tells you to be willing to forsake all scorners for all of the rest of God's truth. You are thereby tested as to whether you will overcome the selfishness of the flesh. You are punished and suffer reproach for wasting God's investment in you upon any who perpetually refuse to hear the truth. That one is a lost cause until he or she finally hears the call and abides. If he or she must hit bottom before that happens, so be it. Better than never, which is the eternal fall into the bottomless pit of darkness, torment, weeping, wailing, and the gnashing of teeth.

You are not to spend God's righteous investment in you in unproductive ways, which includes on the gluttonous swine who will turn and rent you, trampling on the pearls of the truth of the power of the Holy Spirit of God, and on the selfish dogs who cannot eat the real food and won't let anyone else eat it either. Jesus did not spend his time endlessly trying to convince the willful. He let the words of truth do the sorting. Those who heard him separated themselves out from those who did not listen and heed. His disciples heard him repeatedly, but the others wanted to hear him too. They were thirsting after righteousness, and Jesus quenched their thirst for truth.

Prodigal Son had to hit bottom

The Prodigal Son's father in the parable let the son go. The son was lost and dead of the Holy Spirit of truth. That son had to hit bottom to wake up. All that his father was telling him while they were together was lost on that son at the moment. It wasn't until after the son hit bottom that the son realized all that his father had taught him was right and true. Then that son was found and came back to life. The light came into his heart. He found humility, repentance, forgiveness, love, redemption, and the peace of the Lord. He remembered his father and his father's teaching, the seeds of truth his father had planted in his heart. He wasn't going to turn in his father's house. He had to go astray before he realized what he had lost. While he was lost, it was not his father's fault.

Don't second guess God

If you have warned and warned and warned and the scorners still cannot see the cause and effect that you've laid out bare, then let go of the scorners, the heathen. He or she is bound and determined to be the prodigal and to learn the hard way. There is nothing you can do about it. God has hardened that one and is not turning him or her. It is for God's greater purpose.
Don't second guess God about such things. It never pays. The Holy Spirit knows best.

Don't imagine that God has obligated you to live with thorn bushes attempting to choke the spirit out of you. If you truly believe and are genuinely trying to bring forth, God will not allow you to be pushed beyond your level of endurance. God will take mercy on you. God will purge you so that you may bring forth more. God actually wants to see whether you are willing to deny yourself for righteousness' sake by forsaking all the brood of vipers, including even your closest genetic relations who are intransigently miring themselves in iniquity. Unlike the wise, they hate righteous reproving. Unlike the spirit-filled, they are dangerous to those around them.

It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, than with a brawling woman in a wide house. (Proverbs 21:9).

Let the scorn go live amongst her fellow scorning spirits until she sees the error of her ways when she remembers what she heard about God and is finally done trading her soul for twisted, selfish pleasure that always leads to greater suffering. If she refuses to ever see it, she alone is ultimately to blame. You told her plainly and clearly and you showed her. She and all her kind will die the second death, and there is nothing you can do about it. It is in God's hands. Trust God that God does what is right and just.

What is more important, flesh or spirit? Those of the flesh and the world of unrepentant iniquity are also part of God's creation but are not of God's spirit after all, and God's plan is to forsake them all for righteousness' sake and for just as long as it takes. Jesus said he will do the same, as he does what he sees our Father doing. We are to do likewise, as we are to be Christlike.

Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. (John 5:19).

Jesus does not argue with our Father concerning his fellow human beings no matter who they are.

Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (John 15:2).

This is how it must be for every person concerning his or her every relation. There are no exceptions.

Can two walk together, except they be agreed? (Amos 3:3).

Holidays (holy days)

Concerning holidays (holy days), they have become so secularized and commercialized. We are offended by all the distracting pagan, human traditions embedded within so many traditional holidays that are ostensibly Christian.
Celebrating God and Jesus and the Holy Spirit are wonderful. They ought never to have been commingled with paganisms that are truly forms of illicit worship. It has been misleading. It has facilitated all the commercialization. It has led away from the message that is the direct opposite of commercialization.

Many non-believers celebrate these holidays since the holidays have been watered down endlessly by the forces of greed (mammon, the adversary). They are so distorted that Jesus never even need enter into the celebrations or festivities. How many people celebrate with all the pagan and commercial traditions and never even contemplate the teachings and exemplification of Jesus as a result?

Just within my lifetime, Christian holidays have been so diluted that the secular law has come to calling the holiday to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ a secular holiday. Christmas vacation has become semester break and Easter vacation has become spring break in the schools. It just keeps getting further and further away into the wrong direction started by the pope.

Thanksgiving Day is not about giving thanks to God but rather a day to just stuff oneself with food and drink with the immediate family and a few others. It was bad enough when Christmas and Easter were already more then merely associated with paganism. Now God and Jesus and the Holy Spirit are being stripped out completely in the name of secularism, commercialism, and false ecumenicalism. This is why we must have the Real Church and real commons engaged in the world.
The law is to remain until all is fulfilled. All has been set in inevitable motion. Within a certain context or from a certain perspective, all has not yet been manifested or come to fruition. Therefore, the holy days are to be kept. Yet, everyday is to be holy. The holy days are to be remembered for the sake of keeping the connection alive in our minds and hearts between Jesus's teaching and the Old Testament prophecy and what is yet to unfold (the continuing spirit of prophecy).

Remember the Sabbath

We shall remember the Sabbath every seventh day as the day of rest always within Jesus's teachings concerning healing and saving on the Sabbath. Everyday is the Lord’s, but people and animals need rest. We will remember for continuity's sake. We will do that to be connected to the unveiling stream of awareness. We will do that, because it is connected to the wisdom and sensing of the Ancient of ancients concerning the rhythm of human life in the flesh and spirit.

We will not do it for ritual or ceremony sake. Jesus neither needed nor asked for a litany or edifice. He only gave his Lord's Prayer upon being asked how to pray.

Now, the inevitable question occurs whether it falls on Saturday or Sunday. There can be no doubt that the Sabbath as the day of rest and set aside to focus upon remembrance was changed from Saturday to Sunday for the sake of attracting heathens to the faith who were accustomed to nature worship and its relation to the Sun. We know that Jesus exceeds that heathen concept. Jesus answers that spirit, fulfilling its logical conclusion (aspiration). Jesus separates out the confusion about the light.

Love is the real light that brought electromagnetic radiation, just as love brought the fruit on the trees for us to eat into being. However, by changing from the seventh to the first day to accommodate Sun and nature worship, the leadership of that church brought that church into conformance with the lesser light and relative darkness therefore of paganism rather than expecting the pagans to convert to completely grasp the reality of God as love indwelling transcending sunlight and fruit that freely grows as food on trees even as those things are conflated by virtue of God's creative consciousness and living being. Everything exists in God's consciousness and love. Without God's will sustaining creation, it would cease. It is a matter of greater and greatest light or truth. Once the words have been put before you, there is no other perfect light or real light.

Jesus fulfilled all days. Therefore, we will remember Jesus on Saturday and Sunday and everyday. Jesus is greater than the Moon as reflected light and greater than the Sun as the direct source of light. Jesus is the light. He is not just God's light reflected in him, Jesus. Jesus is the light coming out from God the source.

We will understand and remember that the idea is to bring people into that light rather than stop short. This is not to say that, that real light is not manifested in electromagnetic radiation. It is if you can grasp it. God's love is in the bread you eat for your flesh life. Without God's love, there would be no bread of any kind. There would be no bread from the grain growing in the fields.
There would be no manna bread falling from the sky. There would be no real bread from heaven.

The change from Saturday to Sunday was made for worldly reasons. It was a bad reason for changing. It weakened the faith. It weakened the message. It caved into Azazel.

At the same time, it is clear that the worship of the ancient Israelites was loaded with mysticism just as the paganism of Europe was loaded with mysticism. It is clear the entire planet was loaded with mysticism. There is nothing wrong with that. In truth, it's required for being born again to become spirit apparent to the physical senses, which it is as manifest. The only thing that matters is which spirit guides and directs and not whether or not a spirit guides and directs. The spirit of spiritual blindness leads the spiritually blind while they are completely ignorant of that fact.

You may think, what's done is done—the pope changed from Saturday to Sunday. Why worry about it? Well, that kind of thinking facilitates myriad such compromises which when taken in total add up to a complete undermining of the message. There would be no end in sight to the compromises. The argument of what's done is done is used to justify doing nothing about any of the unrighteousness of humanity. That's exactly what the adversary wants. It is to break the connections, break the continuity with God, with the admonitions against the iniquity of the pedophilic church that wants to elevate the worshipping of the queen of heaven (Semiramis) above the father and the son, because they hate the father. That's what sowing spiritual thorn bushes is all about. We are supposed to repent. We are supposed to turn to God. How can accepting evil, worldly empire building, heathen-facilitating motives constitute taking any such action? It cannot. Failing to correct such a wrong constitutes remaining in a state of illicit worship at best. Rome should never have change the Sabbath to Sunday to facilitate converting heathens and pagans. It wasn’t expecting full conversion. It was dilution just as all the other paganisms accepted by Rome were dilution. Eventually, one ends up with something of a completely different character. This is why Jesus preached to people to be zesty, to be salty, and flavorful. This is why the Book of Revelation chastises the lukewarm Laodiceans. I trust you see that.

It showed a lack of faith in the pure and unadulterated message to attract converts from pagan traditions. Sunday was the day of the so-called invincible sun-god after all, which was not God our Father Almighty, the Father of Jesus Christ. It did though show a people hoping for salvation but looking in the wrong, lesser and truly non-existent place. It is for this reason that the Sabbath, per se, is not Sunday. The Sun is to the real light even less than the manna is to the real bread.

Which added Sabbaths and High Holy Days in addition to the weekly seventh-day Sabbath should we observe or remember? We should remember the following not with rabbinical-ceremonial trappings but rather for continuity of unfolding:
1. Passover (Pesach)

Passover begins at sundown on the 15th day of the lunar month of Nisan (the Jewish months always begin with the first sliver of the waxing, growing, moon). We'll remember with the bread and wine.

Passover is when Jesus self-sacrificed for his friends. We are his friends if we love him and do as he did, as God does.

It has come to be replaced by false Christians with Easter that brought with it paganizing influences such as rabbits, eggs, and chocolate that subtly and not so subtly turn the attention to fertility, procreation, and sexual lust. This is a point of paradox for many.

Sex is the natural state of creation; however, it can become so greedy so quickly and sexual infidelity and excess hurts others just as violence and hoarding and other forms of caving in to lust and excess hurts. It can turn into subconscious and conscious, negligent sadism. There is a lack of sufficient sensitivity to see the damage being done below the surface or beyond the immediate self-gratification.
The full implication of Jesus's teaching reveals the order of priorities from top to bottom and from bottom back up to top and the duty to take care not to be remiss or slack.

The heavy pagan overtones heaped onto the Passover have been deliberately left unqualified so as to dilute the message of, the continuity of, the Passover in Egypt and the blood of the lamb there and the Passover of Christians in Israel due to Jesus's blood of innocent and spotless self-sacrifice shed out of his great sensitivity about priorities, duty, and care for others.

The rabbits and eggs are only as righteous as they are knowingly used to draw the heart to resurrection and renewal and regeneration in a conflationary sense. They have served as a distraction. They have been detrimental. They have lent themselves to gross commercial-ization and greed.

This is a huge area that is directly connected with Jesus's speaking of wisdom as female which alluded to the whole Demiurge confusion and the Shekhina spirit, the feminine, as the Holy Spirit.
The real bread teaches not to fall prey to selfish desires and attempted satiation, male or female. It teaches to overcome the temptations of the flesh to fall into what harms others. This truth can be faint or unseen by some and for others it can shine as a light so bright it burns away iniquity.

Passover is, of course, foreshadowing of the resurrection of Jesus and of the just.

2. Seven Days of Unleavened Bread

The Seven Days of Unleavened Bread immediately follow Passover. The festival of Matzahs (unleavened, un-risen bread) is the first day of the seven days and is an original Jewish High Holy Day (1 of 3 pilgrimage days to the Temple in Jerusalem). Jesus observed this with his parents.

"And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it." (Luke 2:43).

After degrees of salvation, it is still necessary to avoid slipping back into the old ways, into doubt and testing, which are represented by the yeast used to raise the bread, to mundanely inflate what is there but not really transform it.

One must be satisfied with less while one waits to receive the further knowledge of righteousness that is the real law. The Jews had to eat unleavened bread upon the Exodus from slavery to evil, because there wasn't time to have the bread rise. It was a choice. Have your reward now under the bondage of evil or wait for the promise land. We can have our reward here and now in the form of trying to fill greedy desires, or we can wait on God and heaven.

This is just a glimmer into what is much more than mere symbolism in the story of this feast.

3. First Fruits (Yom ha Bikkurim)

For many calling themselves Christians, First Fruits is the first Sunday (starting sundown Saturday) after Passover. That was the day of Jesus's resurrection that solar year. "In the end of the sabbath [the day of rest], as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre." (Matthew 28:1).
Passover is based on the moon (lunar calendar) though, not the solar calendar. Therefore, the first Sunday after Passover each solar year will not emphasize the three days in the belly of death. It becomes a choice between emphasizing the Sabbath or the three days. It becomes a choice of emphasizing the moon cycles and the sowing and reaping or the sun cycle and the brighter light. It is wise to keep both in mind. Far too often people make choices that corner them in paradoxes in their own minds.

The day of the resurrection though was not Easter, which holiday already existed in non-Jewish religions. Easter attempts to tie-in but loses continuity with the Old Testament acts of God and their prescient meaning for the remainder of all history.

First Fruits is not an added Jewish Sabbath or a Jewish High Holy Day. It is a mighty important day to remember for real Christians though.

Jesus was the real seed sown for the harvest of the first fruits, the Apostles and first disciples and real converts.

The resurrection of the just is also the first fruit.
The first fruits offered to God and chosen by God are the best of the harvest. The quality of repentance is what matters. Give your best effort. Give your best for the sake of the many.

We are to give, and be, first fruits. We are to be seed and fertile soil and root, vine, and branch. We are to be the water and the light. We are to be the fire and the bread: Real bread.

4. Pentecost (related to Shavu’ot)

Shavu’ot is an original Jewish High Holy Day, which is fifty days after Passover (not Easter). For rabbinists, it is the sixth day of the Hebrew month of Sivan. It was celebrated by the Jews as the wheat harvest. It is the day Moses gave the people the decalogue (the ten commandments).

Pentecost is the day the Holy Spirit descended upon the first Apostles of Christ. According to some, it was fifty days after the resurrection of Jesus and not fifty days, to the day, after Passover. Why they start their count from the resurrection rather than Passover, we don't know. The Gospel simply says Pentecost without mentioning counting from the resurrection, unless we've missed somethings.
The number of days (fifty) is the point. Also the point is fifty days from what? For the Jews, it was fifty days from the Passover, which allowed Israel to leave Egypt to receive the law of Moses for their hardened hearts. For the real Christians, it was fifty days from the resurrection, which allowed Jesus and all his followers to leave death and hell to receive more of the revelation of the law of Jesus for the softening hearts: Mercy and not mere ritual.

It is called "a new meat [grain] offering" as "firstfruits" in Leviticus 23:15-17. It is also called the "Feast of Weeks" (תִּירָכָה), Hag ha-Shavuot (Exodus 34:22; Deuteronomy 16:10); "Festival of Reaping" (רְאֵמוֹת), Hag ha-Katsir (Exodus 23:16); and, "Day of the First Fruits" (יַחַד אֶחָד), Yom ha-Bikkurim (Numbers 28:26).

You should see the continuity with the revelation of Moses and the enhancement of Moses's revelation through Jesus Christ, which enhancement straitens souls unto perfection: The real.

The Apostles were the real wheat (the last grain harvested), a freewill offering to God, offering their flesh lives and souls for God's cause. It is all about sowing and reaping and the real ingathering that is the conflation of heaven and earth, God and human, the holy convocation.

The exact date of the Christian Pentecost is a similar situation as with First Fruits. It is a choice of using either the moon or sun calendars or both. The point is to not lose the continuity of the enhancement of the law, the unfolding of the full spirit of the law, the real law of the real, new heaven, where Moses will be with the real Christians.

5. Feast of Trumpets (Rosh ha Shannah)

Feast of Trumpets (Rosh ha Shannah) is the beginning of a Jewish new year (one of four) that starts with the waxing Moon. It is the first day of the month of Tishrei and an added Jewish Sabbath. It is to remind us that in the end, righteousness prevails over evil. God binds Satan forever.

The trumpets are as the trumps in the Revelation of John leading to the final Day of Judgment, the dark day of the LORD. It is a moonless night and day.
Trumpets warn and announce history shaping events. They give off a primordial sound.

6. Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur)

The Day of Atonement is an added Jewish Sabbath. Jesus was chosen as the sacrifice (a sin offering) and Satan was led out into the wilderness to be lost and to not bother the people any longer. This is not the day of the crucifixion however.

7. Seven days of the Feast of Tabernacles (Sukk’ot, Feast of Booths; Harvest Festival)

Seven days of the Feast of Tabernacles are to remind us that God (not the Satanic spirit that devours) provided shade for the Hebrews in the wilderness and provides everything. It's first day is an original Jewish High Holy Day.

"And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles." (Zechariah 14:16).

Jesus observed it.
"Now the Jew's feast of tabernacles was at hand. His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judaea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou dost. For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world. For neither did his brethren believe in him. Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready. The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil. Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast: for my time is not yet full come. When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee. But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret."

(John 7: 2-10).

8. Last Great Day (Shemini Atzeret)

The Last Great Day is an added Jewish Sabbath. It is the eighth day or the day after the seven days of the Feast of Tabernacles. It is to remind us of the last judgment so that we remember to do the new commandment physically and spiritually, in word and deed, feeding the lambs and sheep.

Some people may jump to the false conclusion that we adhere to the teachings of Herbert W. Armstrong who promoted observance of Jewish feast days and seventh-day Adventism in Christianity. We are not followers of Armstrong. There are some overlapping beliefs, but there are seemingly overlapping beliefs with all sorts of religions and denominations and sects.

Neither Hanukkah nor Purim are in the canon. Hanukkah celebrates the Maccabees victory (under Judas Maccabeus) over Antiochus IV Epiphanes, the Greek-Syrian tyrant. Purim celebrates Esther's intercession with her husband, the king of Persia, to allow the Jews there to fight against military plotters who were planning to wipe out the Jewish community in Persia. The king acceded, and the Jews won the fight.

As for when and how to remember the numbered days above, we will strive to use correct dates (not the Talmudic, Pharisaic dating, per se). We will also open the deeper scriptural and spiritual meanings. We will avoid tacked-on traditions that dilute the message and interconnection between and among the Old Testament prophecies, Jesus, the new covenant, and Christianity's continuing unfolding.

Anything done in observance of these days must be about helping us gain and maintain the single vision that is the true message of God. We are not present-day Pharisees. Our spiritual line traces directly to Jesus and, therefore, must remain true to his revelation.
The days identified above correspond to days observed by others professing Christ. That correspondence should not be taken as our necessary endorsement of other positions espoused by those others. There are racists who profess Jesus. We will not be marked as racists just because we too profess Jesus.

Music, dancing, and art

Now, people may wonder about celebrating holy days and the Sabbath with music and or dancing. People may also wonder about where art fits in. They may wonder about these things, because there are denominations that are so into austerity that they don't allow any of them. While we are not inclined to extravagance or frivolity, there is a place where one may have music, dancing, art, and other things without there being any guile involved. In that case, it is healthy. "Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing." (Luke 15:25). You don't suppose that Jesus would speak so about music and dancing in one of his parables and hold that such activities were unclean do you? Clean fun and rejoicing is just that. Uplifting the spirit through art and activities is a good thing. It is enthusiasm. It facilitates the flavor in the salt of the earth: The elect. Exalting God in these forms is wonderful. However, we should never allow such things to become devouring. That's when they are turned to the dark side. Also, we don't want to suggest that everything in Jesus's parables should be taken this literally in the mundane sense.
Art in all its forms must remain representational or symbolic in the people's minds. It must never cross the line where it, in and of itself, is worshipped. It must never be offered up as something to be worshipped. The people have worshipped at altars. They were never to worship the altars themselves. Right Christian art is to remind people about God who is not limited to any human creation. It is to channel the people to righteousness. If art remains true to this, it will not cross the line becoming the object of idolatry. Nothing in creation is God proper.

Wrong art is selfish art: Misleading

We should never allow such things to lead us to forget our primary responsibility to save the lost and feed the lambs and sheep. That is part of what is wrong with the spiritually dead entertainment obsession of today. It has become pure hedonism for the vast majority. It is non-stop escapism. It is the immersion into unreality. The people are made contrived and false. They are unreal. It is the intentional avoidance of reflecting. It is the avoidance of seeking out the answer as to what is wrong, why, and what must we do about it.

Bible versions

Septuagint

Concerning what version of The Bible we will study, there is much to say. The Septuagint is also known as the LXX. The tradition (based upon the disputed Letter of Aristeas) is that the Greek King of Egypt, Ptolemy II Philadelphus (309–246 BC), set 72 Jewish, Hellenist scribes from Jerusalem to work translating the Torah (Pentateuch; five books of Moses) from Hebrew into Koine (koi-νέ) Greek (also called Alexandrian Greek, after Alexander the Great), which was the lingua franca (international language) of its day used throughout the Hellenic Empire (Greek Empire) and the following Hellenized Roman Empire. Some scholars suggest the translating began in the third century BC. The translation is said to have been included in the Library of Alexandria, the then capital of Egypt, and used by the Koine-Greek using Hebrews in Egypt and elsewhere.

Letter of Aristeas

The Letter of Aristeas mentioned above is disputed, because Demetrius Phalereus, mentioned in the letter as having undertaken the project, it is claimed was exiled upon Ptolemy II’s rise to the throne. In which case, Demetrius Phalereus could not have been sent by Ptolemy II to Jerusalem to bring back with him the seventy-two translators. This is but one of many negative criticisms of the letter. These criticisms do not, however, throw the authenticity of the Septuagint itself into question.

It must never be missed that within secular historical accounts, there have always been inaccuracies. The accounts upon which the very criticisms of the Letter of Aristeas rest may themselves be in error. That is not to say that the Letter of Aristeas is historically accurate. I raise all of this, because the value of the Septuagint is called into question for reasons such as its language is not courtly but rather common. Who is to say that the king did not order a common-language translation for the sake of all those within the entire reach of the Hellenistic Empire?

Secular history accounts that there have been various rulers who have attempted to erase previous rulers from history to leave no trace of those previous rulers. There have been total erasures such that rulers appear to have ruled back to back whereas there were really rulers between. People were deliberately erased from history in ancient times. Can this be proven? Based upon the attempts that are known to have been made and based upon the fruits we see of history, yes if you will believe it. History has been doctored in religious and secular texts.

People trying to cast down Jesus try to do it by appearing to have a preponderance of evidence when what they really have is conjecture. They don't want to live up to the standard, so they try to poke holes in his message and anything associated with it in their minds in any way. Jesus does not rise or fall though on the Septuagint versus the Masoretic text.

Masoretic text

The Old Testament in the King James Version comes from Masoretic text.

Briefly, the Hebrew alphabet contains no vowels. Earlier pronunciation of words can easily be lost unless carefully handed down orally. Among other things, in order to insure no further loss in traditionally understood pronunciations, Hebrew scholars, called the Masoretes ("traditionalists"), developed a system of markings for pronunciation, intonation, and cantillation, etc. They also include traditional commentaries or scriptural interpretations and notes on spelling primarily as margin notes in the Hebrew Bible. Their work spans primarily from the AD 600's to 1425. Some of their practices include showing different schools of thought by using different spellings and character shapes, etc., for the different schools. Redactions and so-called emendations inevitably were handed down in text even before the Masoretes began their work. The Aleppo Codex developed under Aaron ben Moses ben Asher is consider the highest achievement of the Masoretes.

Karaites

Ben Asher may have been a Karaite, meaning non-rabbinic. Karaites reject the oral traditions of the Pharisees as binding. They view the binding text as consisting only of the Tanakh, what Christians generally consider the Old Testament less the deuterocanonical books. The rabbis add to the Tanakh (protomasmotic) their Mishnah, Tosefta, Talmuds (Babylonian and Jerusalem), and Midrash. This then is a matter of different canons (what is or is not accepted as binding).

Debate within the New Testament

To be clear, these texts are full of openly admitted arguments over what is correct and what should be traditionally followed. In this way, it differs greatly from the traditional view of the New Testament by those professing Christianity. To clarify even further, those traditionalist Christians seek to avoid any appearance, or suggestion of, argument within the New Testament because they fear that such disclosure would call into question the inspiration of the various writers and writings. Of course, there is debate within the New Testament, which is inspired and inspiring debate. This is where the relative meets the absolute and where the revelation is shown to have continued. It still is in terms of our understanding. That's the nature of it. When we are absolutely perfect, the revelation will end.

Book of Daniel

There are criticisms of the Book of Daniel, because that book doesn’t purport with current secular history. However, earlier criticisms were found to be in error once archeological evidence was discovered supporting statements made in the Book of Daniel. There are also all the language arguments against the dating of the various books of The Bible. These arguments suggest that because the language in the text, such as Daniel, is similar to the language of text trusted by the critics to have been written at a later date that it necessarily means that the given book, Daniel in this case, was composed at the same time as that trusted text. Of course, that method of dating completely ignores that the text in question (Daniel) could simply be a version based upon the then current language usage.
much as The Bible is translated into current usage today. Even the King James Version being cited in this work is not the King James as spelled in the original. Daniel most certainly could have been written by Daniel during, or shortly after, the captivity and his writing later copied while undergoing spelling and usage updates so the text would continue to be understandable. Some of the quibbles can easily be explained as minor copyist errors over the centuries and even millennia. Not one of the critics is capable of rendering a perfect work of the same length let alone copying it over and over from each subsequent copy without error creeping in. Add to that the need to keep the text in an understandable language, and the minor complaints are completely handled.

This doesn't prove Daniel was written during the exile. It just shows that there is no proof it wasn't.

Dead Sea scrolls

Look at how close the King James Version is to the Dead Sea scrolls, yet between those times there was no printing press to better assure consistent reproduction. It seems obvious on its face that any differences certainly aren't grounds to allege fraud perpetrated out of whole cloth. The message of Jesus is there. The golden rule as he practiced it is understood as the inescapable law of God.

Now we have been given to understand that, in general, the Dead Sea scrolls and the Septuagint have more in common with each other than either has with the current Masoretic text (Hebrew Old Testament used by rabbis today).

Remember that the Essenes were fanatical about preserving the scripture. They saw those controlling the Temple as being all wrapped up in the corruption of lusts on every front. They didn't trust the Pharisees and others with preserving the real prophecy spelling out the very doom of those Pharisees, Sadducees, Temple scribes, and others corrupting God's house. They heard the misinterpretations of scripture. They heard the hypocritical traditions. They also knew the prophecy meant that the Temple was going to be coming down soon. The scripture versions of these groups were in competition. The Essenes knew that the powers that be would want to wipe out all Essenic interpretations and to change the scriptures to suit Pharisaic appetites. That's why they made so many copies of the scriptures and hid them in the caves. We see the same phenomenon today over which version is truer to the faith, hence this discussion now in this work concerning which version or versions to go by.

Understand also that both groups, the Pharisees and the Essenes, claim to have used hidden stories handed down generation to generation in their respective versions and interpretations. The Pharisees, for example, base much of their religion upon the claimed that God told Moses many things that were not committed to text but were rather handed down orally to keep the word hidden and protected. The Pharisees claim to be directly in line with that traditional knowledge whereas the Essenes claimed that the Temple Priests (the Pharisees) had corrupted the true faith. As we can see from Jesus’s words, he held that the Pharisees were severely misguided in their traditional interpretations and in the resulting culture that they produced.

Beyond flesh

One hundred forty-four thousand male virgins in the Revelation of John constitute the Qumran Essenic view and many of the same influences that gave rise to some forms of Gnosticism.

And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth. These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb. And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God. (Revelation 14:3-5).

The theme of the evils to which uncontrolled, undisciplined, yearnings of the flesh can lead, gave rise to taking that concept out to its seemingly logical conclusion that sexual intercourse and procreation are a further fall from the original fall of being conceived into this flesh and also cast into the worldly world in the first place. It runs parallel for a while to Plato's vision that includes the concept that this life is an imperfect manifestation of perfect concepts. It does the same concerning whether the creator of matter was imperfect and self-deluded (the Gnostic view). It does the same concerning women in that women are a temptation to men and inferior intellectually due to their predilection for emotion over logic as some men see it. It does the same concerning the virgin birth of Jesus in that God had to by pass the fallen act of sexual lust in order to bring forth a truly unblemished lamb sufficient for the ransom of humanity. Where one is to draw the line concerning this line is where the Holy Spirit moves one. There is nothing wrong with virginity if it is held for the right reason, not for vanity sake. If it is for the right reason, it is admirable.

The question here arises as to whether or not one's soul lives on only through flesh offspring. Well, if one came out from the spirit, then why would the soul be locked into flesh offspring from that point on? What is the drive for fleshly procreation and fleshly self-preservation other than the temptation of selfishness, which is the opposite of real love. Isn't that drive the source of all harm. Jesus called upon people who marry and who therefore are one flesh to have offspring in the spirit of unselfishness. That's the law he came to give on this fleshly plane of existence and consciousness, to pull the law here up to the highest standard (divine) that remains as yet transcendent—will remain transcendent until the revelation and prophecy are finished unfolding. Then the new heaven and earth will be realized bringing forth no iniquity and its associated pain and suffering and desolation, etc.

Much of what Jesus said is consistent with the issues raised two paragraphs above. Of course overlap means there are parts of the vision that are not shared views. There are parts that don't overlap. We are speaking here of Gnostic views versus Jesus's whole message. Jesus did not say that freely given sexual intercourse between a married male and female was an act of sin. He only alluded to chastity and celibacy for the kingdom as being closer to the kingdom for those who could choose abstinence or eunuchism including castration rather than damnation due to fleshy lust.

If one can forego the temptation of sexual lust, generally one will certainly be better equipped to avoid excess and the pain and suffering that follow it.

Jesus though never precluded married people and parents from heaven. He didn't exclude people with any private property from heaven either. It is a matter of degree, intention, deeds, and faith. It was a matter of grasping that which is relative ignorance—more pardonable. It is a matter of relative enlightenment and level of rising. Will the celibate who lives in chosen relative poverty necessarily be higher in heaven than the married person with more personal possessions? Not if that celibate in poverty was less merciful, he or she won't. The remainder of the condition of the heart still weighs in. The whole heart is looked at, at once in the light of the whole truth. Does this mean that it is proper to take sex and private property as being fine? It just means that those who can't grasp their absence aren't necessarily going to receive huge negative consequences. God will know who was ignorant in earnest versus those who feigned their ignorance.

The correct direction is greater and greater spirituality that is beyond the perceived needs and yearnings of the doubting flesh. It is a test, and the way to pass or overcome is by heading toward the greatest degree of unselfishness. The person who takes a vow of celibacy or poverty or both can take such a vow for the wrong reason. He or she can do that for very selfish reasons. Such a vow is very much akin to oaths as well, which are precluded by Jesus as coming from evil.

Jesus taught people to understand what is truly in their best interest. He did appeal to them on that level; however, as I have stated clearly and plainly in this work, what is truly expeditious and righteous as Jesus magnified is putting the needs of others first for its own sake and not first for the sake of recompense for oneself. Reward will come of being last, serving and ministering for the glory of oneness that is God by definition, for having been wretched—a worm and no man. It is not false humility. It is a true admission of guilt and a request for forgiveness. It is not for ego.

No perfectly verbatim script left

We must make clear now though that Jesus's words show that there is no one text today that perfectly fits his quotations of Old Testament scripture, and that includes the King James Version. In some cases the LXX fits best. In other cases it’s the Hebrew Bible or the Targum (Aramaic).

Nevertheless, there is enough left to see the original direction. That’s what matters!

The most important gauge to use in determining the general validity of either side concerns their fruits and lusts. The Pharisees were the most powerful and wealthiest of the sects. They were the hoarders who allowed the gross and crass commercialization of the Herod temple. They prostituted themselves to the Roman Empire for the sake of retaining their personal power and wealth. The Essenes were the exact opposite. They shared all and aided the neglected and downtrodden all they could.

Which group was closer to the kingdom? Which ones would do a more honest and trustworthy job of relaying the scripture? Which group would receive the word from the Holy Spirit? Which group would be more moved by the spirit?

The Septuagint varies from place to place in terms of how much it conforms to Hebrew grammatical and idiomatic structure and usage. It is probably partly for that reason that Jerome of the Roman church was persuaded by Pharisees (rabbinists) at the time (AD 390 to 405) to use Hebrew text in developing the Old Testament portion of the Latin Vulgate (common-language Latin) version of The Bible, although Jerome did edit the Vulgate against the Septuagint for accuracy. The Vulgate has gone through a number of revisions purportedly to clean up some of the problems caused by the original Hebrew text.
What is canon? What is the law of God?

Now, the Septuagint contains many books that are not included under Protestant canon within most Protestant denominations. Protestants within those denominations refer to these books as Old Testament apocryphal (hidden things) or pseudepigraphical (false text). Protestants and others who accept some or all of those books refer to them as deuterocanonical, meaning "second canon." The first canon books in this sense are referred to as protocanonical.

Broad canon

The Roman church includes as canonical the following books:

- Tobit (follows Nehemiah);
- Judith;
- 1 Maccabees (follows Malachi);
- 2 Maccabees;
- Wisdom of Solomon (follows Song of Solomon);
- Sirach (The Wisdom of Yeshua Ben Sira; Ecclesiasticus);
- Baruch (follows Lamentations) with the Epistle of Jeremiah (Baruch 6);
- additions to Daniel (The Prayer of Azariah [Abednego] and Song of the Three Holy Children coming between Daniel 3:23 and 3:24; The History of Susanna as Daniel 13 that came earlier in Daniel in the earliest versions; and, Bel and the Dragon as Daniel 14);

The Rest of Esther (6 chapters worth; the material was originally interspersed in the body of the text with some coming also at the end);

and sometimes 2 Esdras (Ezra Apocalypse; referred to as 4 Esdras by Jerome, who called Ezra and Nehemiah "1 Esdras" and "2 Esdras" respectively).

Narrow canon

Now, for those narrow-canon Protestants who accept exactly what they count to be sixty-six (66) books, Paul refers to the history cited in 2 Maccabees.

Others were tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection. (Hebrews 11:35).

The king, being in a rage, commanded pans and caldrons to be made hot: Which forthwith being heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and to cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. Now when he was thus maimed in all his members, he commanded him being yet alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the pan. (2 Maccabees 7:3-5).

It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God to be raised up again by him. (2 Maccabees 7:14).

But the mother was marvellous above all, and worthy of honourable memory: for when she saw her seven sons slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord. (2 Maccabees 7:20)

But thou, O godless man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted up without a cause, nor puffed up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy hand against the servants of God. (2 Maccabees 7:34)

The scriptural numerologist would call into question the sixty-six books being the correct number since six is the most imperfect of numbers. Here they have double that. From a numerological standpoint, splitting and reducing the books of The Bible to sixty-six would indicate the work of the devil.

Broader canon

The Orthodox denominations often also include the following:

Psalm 151 (follows Psalm 150);
Psalms of Solomon;

Odes (including The Prayer of Manasseh; see: 2 Chronicles 33:10-17);

1 Esdras (follows 2 Chronicles);

3 Maccabees;

and, sometimes 4 Maccabees (criticized for verging on pagan philosophy, namely Stoicism).

The Ethiopian Orthodox Church also includes in its canon (there is an even broader canon) the following:

1 Enoch; and,

the Book of Jubilees.

The Ethiopian version of Maccabees is considerably different.

Broatest canon

The Dead Sea scrolls contain fragments that also correspond with Sirach, Jubilees (which expands upon Genesis and Exodus); 1 Enoch; Psalms 151, 154, and 155 (Psalms 151-155 were in the Syriac translation before the Qumran, Dead Sea discoveries); and the Testament of Joseph. It is for these reasons and others that people include the text from the Dead Sea scrolls and the deuterocanonical and other books included under the Ethiopian canon in their study of scripture.

The Dead Sea scrolls say that David wrote some four thousand, fifty (4,050) psalms. Therefore, there may be much lost sacred scripture that we would have otherwise read and studied. Before anyone balks at this, consider that the narrow canon of the Protestants refers to many books that are lost to us as of now. I say "as of now," because discoveries are made. They are cited as follows:

- Book of the Wars of the LORD
  (Numbers 21:14)

- Book of Jashar (Joshua 10:13)

- Book of Jehu (2 Chronicles 20:34)

- Story of the Book of the Kings (2 Chronicles 24:27), which may be the Story of the Prophet Iddo (2 Chronicles 13:22)

- Chronicles (of the Persian Empire; king Ahasuerus; Xerxes I) (Esther 2:23)

- Book of Records of the Chronicles
  (Esther 6:1)

- Acts of Solomon (1 Kings 11:41)

- Sayings of the Seers (2 Chronicles 33:19)

- Account of the Chronicles of King David
  (1 Chronicles 27:24)

- Book of Samuel the Seer (1 Chronicles 29:29)

- Book of Nathan the Prophet (1 Chronicles 29:29)
Book of Gad the Seer (1 Chronicles 29:29)

Book (of the Manner of the Kingdom) (1 Samuel 10:25)

Prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite (2 Chronicles 9:29)

Visions of Iddo the Seer (against Jeroboam the Son of Nebat)
(which may be the Story of the Prophet Iddo referred to at 2 Chronicles 13:22) (2 Chronicles 9:29)

There may be additional overlapping of these works beyond the possibilities we’ve mentioned in parentheses above. We also changed the capitalization of the works so they would conform to the current usage of title case.

Canonical supporting documents

Zeus? God? Yahveh?

Now as for quoting other works, we have Paul (in the New Testament) quoting the works of the Greek poets Epimenides and Aratus.

In his poem entitled, Cretica, Epimenides writes as follows:

They fashioned a tomb for thee, O holy and high one

The Cretans, always liars, evil beasts, idle bellies
But thou art not dead: thou livest and abidest forever

For in thee we live and move and have our being

In his work entitled, Phaenomena, Aratus writes as follows:

Let us begin with Zeus, whom we mortals never leave unspoken

For every street, every marketplace is full of Zeus

Even the sea and the harbour are full of this deity

Everywhere everyone is indebted to Zeus

For we are indeed his offspring

Paul wrote as follows:

One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, the Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies. (Titus 1:12).

For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. (Acts 17:28).

This is finding common language to communicate truth. It is the law so to do. Jesus opened up the language of the scripture, and the common people grasped it. The richest of the rich hated it, and still do, because their hearts were, and are, hard, cold, and small.
In addition to showing that Paul read more than Hebrew scripture, what’s going on here? Is Paul saying that our Father is the pagan god Zeus? To answer this, one must be able to view it from both ends at the same time to avoid the paradox trap that really doesn’t exist otherwise. The answer is both no and yes. What God is not is the idol Zeus. What God is, is the fulfillment of, and exceeding of, the very highest concept of righteousness that any Greek ever attributed to the divine under the name "Zeus" or any Roman the same under the name "Jupiter" or any Hindu under "Brahman," etc. What God is not is everything tacked on by human imagination that has nothing to do with what God wants us to do. Paul used the quotes to make contextual connections with those to whom he was preaching. Such devices are required in such verbal appeals.

God is the God of Jacob, because the God of Jacob actually answers. The God of Jacob is the real God Most High going back to the beginning and is the God that many others modeled their god or gods upon. Zeus, while conceptually having much in common with the real living God, just doesn’t reach that point. He was a place to start, a highest common denominator so to speak, a context, a concept of supreme deity understood by the Greeks where Paul could begin to relate the message of Jesus as he preached it.

So, Jesus isn’t Mithra or Krishna even though the stories concerning them point to one who will save doing all sorts of miracles, healing and such. The prophecy began long before Jacob and his direct descendents came along. The word of prophecy got around in the ancient world long before Jacob. People traveled. The stories of Mithra or Krishna simply show the signs of shared story telling. This is why Zeus as described by some sounds similar to God. All of this though is exactly why Jesus will conflate the world.

The world will come to see that he is the one and only living human to whom the most ancient of ancient prophecy pointed all along. It is the reason why he said that salvation lies in the Jews, because of the continuity with the entire message.

Christianity: Proto-religion

Real Christianity didn't borrow anything from any other religion. All religions simply contain the shared original prophecy of the proto-religion that in the end is Christianity. That difference lies in the actual manifestation of God as opposed to the non-living deities of those other religions. God really did manifest as Jesus as spoken by the prophets of The Bible. God didn't manifest as Mithra or Krishna. Mithra and Krishna and the others remained wishful thinking. Jesus though ought to satisfy anyone who had been looking to Mithra or Krishna or any other entity of imagination.

Jesus lived the words, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."\(^{145}\) He lived the words, "Love thy neighbour as thyself."\(^{146}\) He lived the words,

---

\(^{145}\) John 15:13
\(^{146}\) Mark 12:31
"Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." He told us to "love one another" as he loved his friends, his disciples. He told us how to love our neighbors also in telling us to, "Sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me." He told us also how to love our neighbors by feeding the hungry, giving drink to the thirsty, taking in the stranger, clothing the naked, visiting the sick, and going to the imprisoned. Do all this and more in full consistency and in full faith in God. Nowhere else do we receive the living word.

So, while anyone spreading the word has to use concepts and devices that are understandable to others to connect them with the saving message of Jesus, there is a place where the use of such concepts and devices stick or are wrongly assimilated into the message. They become excessive, distracting, and misleading. They cause people within the movement to veer off to lose sight to the point of being counter-productive. Such is the case now with the gross commercialization of the celebration of the birth of the Savior, which did not even occur in December.

147 Mark 12:30
148 John 13:34
149 Matthew 19:21
150 Matthew 25:35-36
No tax, continue

The message of Jesus is anti-commercialization. The human system just isn't supposed to be such that we charge one another. It is why Jesus made the point that he should not have been taxed. All should be cooperatively giving and sharing all. Those who don't believe this don't believe in Jesus.

It doesn't mean living on top of each other. It doesn't mean no private time or place, quite the contrary. Everyone owns everything. The whole thing is each person's private property. The whole thing is everyone's public property.

When one takes that to its logical conclusion, considering that we are all the children of God, no one is suppose to tax anyone else. We are all just supposed to cooperate. As for the lazy ones, the idea is to convince them to help rather than force them or starve them. The way to convince people is through love. The way to show them love (teach them) is through giving and sharing. This is the message that the wealthy lovers of shameful gain just want to keep hidden from the world.

Which came first, the lazy or the greedy? What was laziness when all was freely given in the garden? The first problem came with lust (selfishness) that caused less. Then, just eating from the trees and such became more and more difficult. Agriculture and animal husbandry became the way. One thing led to another, and now we have wastefulness and the raping and squandering of the planet and nuclear weapons and haven't seen the end yet. We must turn back to unselfishness going forward.
Paul and Zeus, John and the Logos, and Jesus and the goddess Wisdom

Anyway, if you take exception to using contextual devises to bring people to the understanding of what we must do to merit having learned to end suffering and yet you still consider yourself a Christian, you must do so by not being Pauline. Paul used such devices. Where will you turn? Will you turn to John who said Jesus was and is the very logos conceived by the Greek philosophers? If you discard the Johnnine and Pauline, will you be left with Jesus who also referred to what purists consider pagan? As I have quoted elsewhere in this work to explain that the end result and means both justify us, Jesus said, "Wisdom is justified of her children." (Matthew 11:19). What, you may ask, does that have to do with paganism.

The Gnostic and Platonic texts: Not God’s law, but Jesus knew their teachings

Jesus personified Wisdom as a female and also a mother of whom he is an offspring. That use of Wisdom would not have escaped the people of the time as referring to Sophia the goddess of wisdom of the Gnostics and tracing back to the earliest pantheon of Mesopotamia, the cradle of civilization as it's called. If you don't like this, take it up with Jesus. Are we saying here that Jesus claimed to be the offspring of the Gnostic goddess Sophia? No. If you take it that way, you are missing the big picture.

People want to open up to such things without realizing what comes rushing in with it. You don't want to go down all the paths of Gnosticism. The serpent is their god. It is the poisonous snake in the grass that strikes out at the innocent.

To understand personified Wisdom, one must come to understand that God draws us into conflation not through a vacuum but starting from right where we are. In doing this, God makes connections with us on the level we understand. This is exactly how Jesus and Paul and John went about it and how everyone who will be successful goes, and will go, about it.

At the same time, Jesus and his real followers do not cave into the misdirecting baggage (conceptualization that falls short of God's living nature) associated with the concepts they use to reach others. They rather direct those others to the one and only straight and narrow.

This may seem paradoxical to you since you may be asking where the line is drawn between Zeus and God. The divine standard is as high as you are able to conceive. It lies within the infinitely good. Jesus, by alluding to a goddess of Mesopotamia was redirecting those who were in a sinful state to come out of that state of being. He was teaching that lip-service is dead of the Holy Spirit. It is spiritually blind. He was teaching that hypocrisy is death. He was stating the observable truth that wisdom is as wisdom turns out, vindicated. He was also saying that misconceptions of wisdom result in misguided offspring, bad results, evil, false results. One person's wisdom is another's foolishness. Jesus was saying to Satan that God was not wrong or unwise to have created human kind, since human kind is capable of true enlightenment. The Sophia-goddess story of the Gnostics holds out that the creation of the flesh was a bad idea, because it ends up with offspring with delusions of ultimate godly powers, whereas, the flesh is imperfect and unreal. Another Gnostic spin is that Satan was right to tempt the children to fall into doing evil, disobeying, because that knowledge would set them free from God. Is that knowledge though? Is that the freeing knowledge? No.

Jesus was saying that that which is imperfect can learn to overcome and rise to understand its connection with the real and that the so-called common people can grasp this with softened hearts. It is the age old argument best seen in contrasting Plato and Jesus.

The right philosophy, the right religion will result in the best. No one knows of a better way than Jesus's; therefore, do we all agree and do accordingly or do we go on as things are: Selfishly stupid?

Now, Jesus communicates to the Gnostics saying one does not come to the pneuma (breath of life; Holy Spirit of life) via gnosis (intuitive spiritual knowledge) as the Gnostics conceive of knowledge. Jesus says that truly to know is truly to do love. In this sense, the logos-minded Zeno and his Stoic followers were closer to the kingdom than were the later Platonists (followers of Plato, an elitist aristocrat and pretender who caved into the satanic temptation to love the big and so-called noble lie). It is the absence of doing (bringing forth) that gets everyone into trouble. It is the upside-down elitism of Plato that doesn't understand that the elect are not liars.
Justification by deeds

It is what has gotten, and is still getting, the self-styled conservative-Republican Christians into trouble with God. They argue for faith without the justification that is the exact fruit Jesus called for. True wisdom is true faith. God says, therefore, that faith is justified of her fruit (children, offspring, and their works or deeds).

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 7:21).

Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? (Matthew 7:22).

Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us. (Matthew 25:11).

And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? (Luke 6:46).

When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are. (Luke 13:25).
Okay, so people say that they have prophesied in the name of God. They say they have cast out devils. They say that in the name of God, they have done many wonderful things. Are their prophecies really the testimony of Jesus? When they go through the motions of casting out devils, have they really identified what is devilish to be cast out? When they build and spread and teach what they claim is wonderful, is it really what Jesus called for?

"Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" Let us do the things which he said. Only in so doing can we be rightly called Christians. If we profess but don't do, we will be out. He won't have known us, because we won't have known him, for to know him is to do what he said. Can we all finally start doing the things he said and, therefore, really know one another?

The absence of doing is what gets self-styled liberals in trouble when they bring forth or try to bring forth half-hearted righteousness (sharing but with a blind eye to depravity).

You see, at first glance, without deeper insight, many positions look similar to the point of being exactly the same. It is only when one looks at the fruit that one sees truth. Don't forget that the Gnostics flipped God and Satan around. The knowledge-giver in the garden, the serpent, is the savior of the Gnostics. He didn't give the real knowledge though. He gave the willfulness of lusting to excess which has brought death and destruction and suffering and depravation and injustice and all the rest of what results from that selfish spirit.
Jesus had to be lifted up as the serpent. Does that make him the savior-serpent of the Gnostics? No. It can become a contextual minefield for those who will not develop the sufficient softheartedness to forgive ignorance including our own. Jesus was showing us that to not be judged and condemned, we must be crucified in our hearts and feel forgiveness as he showed from the cross.

One cannot be truly consistent without appearing continually mundanely inconsistent. The prophecy has been so tangled up with mundane dead ends. Jesus showed that Jesus was not the Demiurge. The Demiurge in reality is every tyrant. Jesus’s yoke is the lightest possible and really is no yoke at all in the final analysis. In the end, it is pure freedom that is the state of perfect self-restraint by the conscience. Love turns that condition into no burden at all but rather great joy in helping others to help yet others ad infinitum until all are in God. The tyrant’s yoke on the other hand is unbearable for billions. So raise Jesus up as the Son of wisdom. He is not the Demiurge tyrant no matter how people have wanted to twist the truth. The Demiurge is on earth now coercing people with terrible treatment because he is selfish and lusting for power, etc. Jesus was on earth and explained and showed the right way and warned us for our sakes that we must learn and do the same or mark ourselves unfit to be out from under.

Jesus was lifted up physically as the brazen serpent, the caduceus, the symbol of the physician, was lifted up physically so that Jesus could be lifted up in our hearts and minds to be understood as the real healing power through the real power of God. The brazen serpent lifted up in the desert by Moses was not the real healing power just as the manna falling from the sky was not the real bread. The brazen serpent and the manna were symbolic foreshadowing of the real in Jesus from God.

The serpent is symbolic of the devouring spirit. That spirit will devour itself: Ouroboros. By lifting Jesus up, we are to see the infinite aspect that the good allows the devouring spirit to devour itself after the good has given good and proper warnings that are unmistakable and clear warnings without harmful coercion and that are warnings of real and impending doom unless there is radical change toward righteousness.

Peacefully, lovingly, harmlessly eradicate the disease of falsehood, error, unreality, selfishness.

The ultimate question

Can evil be shrunken down to irremovable extinction, thereby, permanently freeing everything in its grip?

The ask is the golden rule. We ought to want people to tell us when we are headed into evil. We ought not to want people to beat us or maim us or torture us. Jesus's way takes both of these and all of the variables into infinite consideration and all simultaneously and in perfect measure for any given circumstance.

What remains after the good allows evil to devour itself is only good. The good doesn't use evil to eradicate evil. Evil uses evil and brings on its own eradication. God's way chastises all those who engage in eradication rather than warning and turning from the devouring spirit.
The warning and turning of some while others slip further into the devouring spirit actually brings on the eradication. This in no way lays the blame at the feet of those doing the right warning.

This is where evil and good separate. This is where selfishness and unselfishness are divided. This is for the sake of righteousness. We are to understand that we are to be infinitely good.

That Jesus was lifted up as the serpent is symbolic and real at the same time. It is to bring to mind the entire message to connect us so we may begin to do what is meek and right.

That Jesus was lifted up in this manner to suffer is extremely cautionary on the order of Enoch concerning judging and condemning in the spirit of haughtiness. It is to aid us in understanding that judging and condemning is the opposite of the golden rule. The golden rule when applied by all in the complete sense Jesus lived it, results in heaven. Wishing for others to suffer, understood within the context of the golden rule, is applying a standard to others that we ourselves cannot withstand for all have sinned. The message of Jesus, this message, is not the message the serpent gave in the garden. That should be clear and plain to see for anyone.

It still confounds the haughty who want to limit the real bread to only the haughty. Jesus knew himself as God. The Gnostics and many other religions say that to know oneself is to know God. Fine; however, God is what God does. To be God is to do God as Jesus said and did. It is to bring forth as Jesus showed by his miracles of real-liberal abundance.
Gnostic Valentinius

The so-called Christian Gnostics, epitomized by Valentinius, a Gnostic bishop born some one hundred five or six years after Jesus, claim that Jesus was the male half of a pair with Sophia being the female half. It's the mother and son Oedipus complex of Semiramis and Tammuz. It is sexual perversion. It comes out of the spiritual line of Nimrod, and Ham who "knew" in the Biblical sense his father's drunken nakedness.

The Gnostics claim fifteen such pairs of archons in the heavens of which Jesus is a part of the lowest of those pairs. This is hardly the vision of Jesus's place in heaven with God given by John. It is also inconsistent with Jesus's statement used as the truism above that Wisdom is justified of her children.

This defeats the Gnostics. They claim that Wisdom accidentally gave birth to the evil Demiurge the Gnostics say is the sole creator of everything material (earth and not heaven). They claim Jesus is not that Demiurge. They claim Jesus is the male half of the lowest of the thirty aeons comprising the fifteen pairs in heaven. However, Jesus said Wisdom is justified of her children. Wisdom could never be justified by that Demiurge of the Gnostic imagination. Wisdom is justified by Jesus. Wise is as wise does. Jesus's way will be vindicated. It alone will be left standing.

Jesus has made clear that the prime mover in the creation of the material world was not, is not, and never will be such an evil one. Jesus made clear that the evil one is the usurper who lies to twist the creation to selfish ends. The evil one makes up stories as so-called noble lies. The evil one says all flesh is inherently evil. The Gnostics deny that Jesus was flesh and bone and blood as we are and that his flesh and bone and blood was raised from death, ascended, and transformed. The Gnostics deny Jesus's own words.

Jesus's material and spiritual flesh and blood was shed. In the infinite sense, they were one and the same. This was so we could understand that the path of righteousness is obtainable in the flesh. It is so we may move on to actually doing the deeds.

The Gnostic philosophy allows for souls to contemplate their way to heaven without doing the deeds of the flesh called for by Jesus. They have it wrong as all should readily see. Their philosophy twists away from obligation and accountability. It props up elitism. The Gnostic can remain aloof and is not called to warn. The real Christian is not just contemplative and aloof but must also warn and do in the world (the material creation twisted by selfishness).

This Gnostic inconsistency is every bit as flagrant as Mohammed's.

Jesus brought a new revelation. He did not come as a disciple of Gnosticism to spread Gnosticism. He was fully aware of Gnosticism and the other religions. He came to answer Gnosticism and the others. He came to save sinners, conflating them in the Holy Spirit of truth and all the rest of the good and real peace, which could not have come from Plato, with Plato's elitist and so-called noble-lie beliefs and his lifestyle.
The Gnostics say that the creation in material was the work of the Demiurge, hence its imperfection. However, John says that everything was made through the word and Jesus is the word and the word is love. Now, everything has been messed up in this material world by the satanic spirit of selfish lust, whom Jesus calls the liar from the beginning.

This is the revelation of Jesus Christ. This all ties into the issue of what ought to be considered canon (law). It all ties into the issue of the relative and the absolute (how close compared with being there). Was it wrong for Jesus to allude to the female personification of wisdom to make his point? Was it wrong of Paul to use Greek poetry to conjure up in the minds of the Greeks their concept of Zeus as the divine, over all things, and the parent of all humanity in order to make a connection with them to lead them to the good news as best he could? Was it wrong of John to connect with the Greeks and others via the use of the philosophical concept of the logos and even go so far as to say that Jesus is the logos? Is it wrong to read Zeno to see what that connection was about? Is it wrong to look into the other religions and all the philosophies and science and the rest to see where connection may be made to bring people into the light of true conflation that is pure unselfishness in heart, thought, word, and deed?

Moses was what is called learned. He was raised in pharaoh's house, taught as a prince by the best educator's the powerful Egypt had to offer. They had their great libraries. They had their history. They had their insights into the religions that were considered ancient to them even back then. They were master builders and engineers, hence the pyramids and other buildings. They had a complete medical system. They performed surgeries and made drugs the combination of many herbs and materials. They studied the heavens and people came to Egypt from far and wide, including Mesopotamia and Greece and Persia and India and Ethiopia, etc.

Where was Genesis before Moses? It was oral history and likely recorded Israelite story-versions to some degree. After all, Joseph wasn't illiterate when he arrived in Egypt. Wouldn't his families story have been recorded by that family that became so powerful in Egypt until the rulers turn hardhearted toward them?

What is the inspired word of God that is law? Where does real (that is divine) inspiration start and stop? We must view this simultaneously in relative and absolutely infinite terms. "Wisdom is justified of all her children" is an inspired and inspirational statement. Is it law? Are they words to live and to carry one through? Yes.

Now, the Epistle to the Hebrews, which is considered protocanonical, refers to prophets having been "sawn asunder." The only writing known today that fits that is called the Martyrdom of Isaiah a.k.a. Ascension of Isaiah.

And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment: They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented. (Hebrews 11:36-37).

He sent and seized Isaiah. And he sawed him asunder with a wood-saw. And when Isaiah was being sawn in sunder Balchlr stood up, accusing him, and all the false prophets stood up, laughing and rejoicing because of Isaiah. (Martyrdom of Isaiah a.k.a. Ascension of Isaiah 4:12; 5:1-3).

The Martyrdom of Isaiah a.k.a. Ascension of Isaiah is not included in the canon in the minds of very many. However, if the author of the Epistle to the Hebrews quoted from the Martyrdom of Isaiah as a worthy enough source, why shouldn't we read and consider it? It helps us to understand the gravity of Jesus's words concerning the persecution of the prophets. It helps us, along with the horrendous story of torture and murder of Eleazer and the mother and her seven sons in 2 Maccabees, to understand a number of dynamics on going simultaneously with God concerning all such events. People are atoning while the emotions are building for cleansing via wrath. The offending of righteous sensibilities continues to mound up pressure. While people turn to God in earnest faith and softhearted deeds in the face of the revelations of abominations, the day of release of that pressure comes ever nearer.

One may put forth that perhaps Paul was quoting some other sources. Perhaps, Perhaps though the Martyrdom of Isaiah is much as Melchizedek is revealed in the Dead Sea scrolls.
After all, Melchizedek is barely mentioned in The Bible, but in the Dead Sea scrolls, he is hugely significant, the Lord, Michael the archangel incarnate, Jesus Christ for his time. Isaiah’s full account certainly isn’t contained in The Bible. Let us not forget that John said that the works of Jesus if written would fill the earth, meaning they are certainly not all recorded in The Bible. Therefore, why should we be limited to those writings chosen by the very sellouts to the pagan Constantine I?

1 Corinthians 15:33 says the same thing that Menander had already written in his play, Thais. "Evil communications corrupt good manners." Jesus said, "That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man." (Mark 7:20). One hasn't partaken of evil unless evil comes out of that one.

What else should not be precluded from our reading and consideration? There are scholars who conclude that the additional psalms of the Dead Sea scrolls must be pseudepigraphical (falsely attributed to David); however, we must never forget that from the time of David to the possible time of committing or copying the words to the Qumran scrolls may well span a thousand years. The language would have changed and translations and interpretation would have been necessary, just as today. The Dead Sea scrolls, in fact, contain interpretive commentary itself now considered scripture. Modern English readers on average don’t read Koine Greek or Aramaic. Hence translations and interpretation to clarify the changes in word meanings, etc.
These factors alone could easily account for psalms that may not seem consistent in style with other of David's psalms. Also, people's written styles fluctuate and change over time. It appears that very often, scholars unnecessarily jump to conclusions based simply on style changes or modernized translations. This is why they have to backtrack so often.

This doesn't prove the psalms are original. It does though say that they cannot be ruled out on the flimsy say-so of those who have not put forth other possibilities. In addition, many so-called scholars have a hidden agenda of keeping control for their pay masters. The Essenes must be discredited, because they were highly unselfish and egalitarian. It wouldn't do for the rich to have those concepts catch on around the entire world. It's going to though. They can't stop it.

As a clarification, none of the above broadest canon is Gnostic, per se.

How will the Real Liberal Christian Church handle these works? There is nothing to fear from studying these works, provided. When one understands where wrong and right lie (selfishness versus unselfishness), one knows that it is wrong and selfish not to credit Jesus. One also knows that Jesus spoke the truth and, therefore, was not lying when he said he came from our Father and returned our God. With that always in mind, what is inconsistent with it is seen for what it is. It is in that light that the Holy Spirit protects one from temptation when reading the works of even the foe.
But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat. (Matthew 13:25).

The enemy that sowed them is the devil. (Matthew 13:39).

Reading widely without being corrupted

Jesus was exposed to false doctrine and pagan writings. It didn't come out of his mouth though. He hadn't partaken of them. He had rejected them. At the same time, Jesus didn't wallow in the mire of depravity. The license to read is not a license to immerse oneself in the utterly depraved. Jesus went into the center of the world of the dark prince of this world and didn't wallow. He went in clean and came out clean.

"While men slept, his enemy came." "Sleeping" here is analogous to the absence of vigilance. Therefore, when you read anything, maintain the presence of mind to discern the degree to which it moves you to do the things which he said versus attempting to mislead you or distract you or redirect you away from actually doing them. When you read things or listen or watch, discern the subtle and not so subtle ways indiscriminating people will be led down the wrong path. This is what Jesus did.

Relative inspiration: Close and closer to the kingdom

The more the work calls you and moves you to do the things he said, the more inspired of God is that work. Some works are more inspired and inspiring than others. Some are closer to the kingdom than others. Jesus made this relativity very clear. He used relativity. He used it in conjunction with comparing all with the absolute at all times. He never failed to have the presence of mind to see both perspectives simultaneously. This is why he is the one through whom we will all be conflated. It is why he is the answer and fulfillment.

4 Maccabees (criticized for verging on pagan philosophy, namely Stoicism), nevertheless fits reason into belief. It calls for overcoming. It is an appeal to the faithless to obtain faith. It is an appeal to the faithful to remain so. It ties divine law and divine justice to divine reason. It bridges the philosophical to the religious. It teaches that there is more than fleeting pleasure. It certainly leans heavily toward the use of the traditional Greek method of philosophical argument, but it does so in order to gain converts secondarily to upholding the faith in God and the eternal promise for those who overcome. It gives credit to individuals for exercising self-control, but it credits religious upbringing for that. It credits God for that religion. Is it Christian? To what degree is any of the Old Testament Christian, per se? There are things it shares in common with Christianity. Is it the law? It is to the extent that Christians are to likewise be willing to suffer and die for the word that God saves. Is it a historical transcript or verbatim dialogue of each person characterized in the writing? It does not pretend to it. Is it based upon historical events? Doubtless it is. The corruption of power that results in horrendous tortures intended to coerce obedience to the will of that human power is something we have seen recently under the current Empire. Of course such activities were undertaken under the leader Antiochus IV Epiphanes who desolated Jerusalem.

4 Maccabees follows the historical events cited in 2 Maccabees (2 Maccabees 6:18-7:42) concerning the martyrdom of Eleazer and of the mother and her seven sons, all of whom are the focus of 4 Maccabees.

As for the Stoic overtones of 4 Maccabees, let us not forget that Jesus believed in the individual mind and in reasoning as those fit perfectly within the whole of God's plan. Jesus used the term "mind" in reminding people of the great commandment to love God with all their mind (among things, their thinking, reasoning) in addition to with all their heart (emotion, etc.). He also used perfect reasoning or divine logic in answering all the traps set by the Sadducees, Pharisees, and scribes, etc.

Credentials from God

Certainly, Jesus did not fail to see the desire for righteousness showing in the various philosophies and religions even though those philosophies and religions mislead and fall short, the point in bringing the light into the world. He did though look to people being drawn to the whole truth that means consistency and taking things out to their ultimate conclusions and implications, all of which can only be found through his message and example. This whole-truth appeals on all levels; as, in the end, all appeals arrive as one (unity). Logic, reasoning, rationality, evidence, and emotion conflate in the revelation of Jesus giving him the ultimate justification or credentials from God.

He was sent from God as the one spoken of in the law and by the prophets. He is the one of whom they prophesied. There is no other.

Stoicism

He convinces Stoics. The heart of each Stoic is further moveable or not. Once the Stoic hears the word, he or she finally comes to it and does the deeds or not. Therein lies the justification of the individual. Considering their philosophical affinity, what with their emphasis upon brotherly love and other tenets shared with Christianity, undoubtedly, many Stoics became Christians.

Both John and Paul appealed to the Greeks and Hellenized world by connecting with them on the level were they could begin to make the further connections with Jesus as the one. Of course, it is well known that Paul traveled the centers of the Hellenized world. At the time though, John made his Gospel a more general, apostolic epistle to the whole world, then, now, and for the future. Paul's work is even better understood from within that context.

Jesus is to be seen as the answer to all the hopes and prayers and questions of every philosophy and religion but never in a way that lessens the prophets who were given by God to prepare the way. Without that central connection, the strait gate and narrow way to the eternal life in pure righteousness is impossible. Crediting God who directly inspired the prophets and as God was shown by Jesus is inextricable from the Holy Spirit. Jesus was the word (the logos of Stoicism) incarnate. He, and only he, lived it.

Where nature leaves off and God and spirit begins

Concerning the Stoics and others, the invariable question comes up of where nature leaves off and God and spirit begins. We have touched on that elsewhere in this work. What can nature tell us versus what must be learned directly from God acting outside the ordinary dictates of seemingly repetitive and cycling nature as people apprehend it? That question obviously presupposes or defines nature (God's nature, as in his creation) as being locked into human scientific dictates that what is true is only that which is testable, measurable, and thereafter predictive. Can that nature inform us of God? This is a question that will forever remain for science on a certain level. It is a question of what evidence satisfies. It is a question of how "evidence" is defined. It is a matter of semantics.

General and special revelation conflate

Obvious scientific pragmatism of the golden rule

This is where general and special revelation conflate. There are those who say that what is generally revealed is that which is learnable from scientific nature. They go on to say that special revelation is that which is revealed outside that nature, hence directly from God. The truth is that the pragmatism of the golden rule is obvious in scientific nature if we will open our eyes rather than keeping them deliberately shut so we may go on pretending that what we are doing is acceptable. Also, the truth was made manifest in scientific nature in Jesus.

Jesus: Pragmatist

There is no doubt that Jesus was a pragmatist, hence the ends justifying the means in the sense that one is one's fruit and only good results will come from good means. The truth is that the distinction between the general and the special disappeared with Jesus while still remaining depending upon the perspective or context. This is the nature of the conflation.

Jesus: Fully human

God revealed God in the flesh, in nature, materially as tangibly as can be in this world. Jesus was fully human. He ate, drank, slept, sweat, bled, defecated, urinated, suffered, died in the flesh, etc., in reality just as much as the rest of us while being God (doing God, which only God can do).

Evil cannot bring forth good means or ends. Any seemingly good means will be shown to have been evil means in the hands of evil for the ends of evil. This is the nature of the wolf in sheep's clothing.

With God, the lamb is and remains in his own clothes.

Just how special can special revelation be? Obviously, Jesus's revelation was so special that we cannot point to one other human being who has lived up to its fullest potential. His revelation is also general in that it is meant for all who may grasp it. This is why Jesus shared it. What was revealed to him included that we are required to share how important truth is no matter how much painful-healing truth brings: Truth always being about purging evil and doing away with its hidden home in unrepentant, unwarning hearts.

Special revelation is only as good as how opened it is. Hiding it nullifies it. It really never exists unless it is shown, shined into the world if you will. It comes to one, but it does not remain private else it never rises to the level of truth and reality the standard of which was set by Jesus's life. This was his teaching. This was, and is, his nature. Yet, at the same time, there is prudence and discretion involved while the revelation is unfolded and shared even though one must not fear persecution and the death of the body.

Within the context of God, who can and has, and still does, move in nature in ways that seemingly defy the current rules as some have laid them down, nature is totally consistent with spirit. It is only when the antithetical spirit works its nature in nature that we suffer.

Fruition is God

The proper context though will bring heaven to fruition. That will be the vindication. That and that alone, will justify. Only God can bring heaven to conflate with earth. When heaven and earth have conflated, there will be none who will point to the entity who brought it about to say "you are not God." Fruition is God.

That God is fruition is an axiom, a maxim, a self-evident truth of real Christianity. God is a verb and a noun at the same time. God is the beginning, means, and end. God is the word, the truth, the logos; and the word is "love." Love in action bringing forth is giving and sharing to feed all. Anything contradictory is the path of falsehood. Anyone professing Christianity who doesn't agree with this is not a Christian. Anyone who thinks Christianity is to incorporate positions that run contrary to this is not being a Christian, is not being godly (divine), and is leading others into apostasy who follow them.

4 Maccabees: Limit of the broadest canon

Now, 4 Maccabees is the most controversial of the so-call deuterocanonical books cited above. Therefore, there is no reason to fear the others. While 4 Maccabees is not a New Testament message, per se, there is much to be learned from the actions of those undergoing excruciating suffering for the sake of righteousness and their fellow faithful. They helped atone for their people (substitutionary atonement) and all people of true faith really even down to the very present. Their sacrifice was that large. It apparently went underappreciated by the Masoretes who did not include the history in their canon.

None of this is to say that in reading the narrow canon of the current day mainstream Protestants that rejects all of what is called the second canon and comparing that very narrow canon with 4 Maccabees and other writings, one cannot discern the relative weight of the various writings. The gauge is how much is one moved toward the kingdom and conversely, how much one may be moved away from it.

Doing the new commandment is God

We are not quarreling with others over what they include for themselves as canon (law). We know the law is the new commandment to the nth degree. That's the focus. God is that word. Doing the new commandment perfectly is God. That's what good is in the absolute. "There is none good but one, that is, God." (Matthew 19:17). The more you do the new commandment, the closer you get to God. Do it perfectly, and you join God completely. Is it possible? Jesus said it is. God does God's new commandment perfectly in heaven, and all things are possible for human souls with God.

Thus saith the LORD of hosts; If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. (Zechariah 8:6).

And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. (Luke 18:27).

These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates: And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD. (Zechariah 8:16-17).

About paganism, this would be a good place to help clarify the real Christian position, since 4 Maccabees raises the issue of the Stoic philosophy that came from Zeno of Citium (now Larnaca) in Cyprus. Paganism, heathenism, libertinism, and the like are matters of discussion, debate, and often heated dispute in religious and other circles. On many sides, such disputes often turn into arguments for argument's sake. On the ostensibly Christian side in such situations, focus is lost. The focal point is God in relation to what we ought to be doing versus what we are doing.

"Pagan" is a term that can be used to obfuscate. The logos was, and is, the one divine force—Yes, force: The active power of God.

Logos

1. Philosophy.

a. In pre-Socratic philosophy, the principle governing the cosmos, the source of this principle, or human reasoning about the cosmos.

b. Among the Sophists, the topics of rational argument or the arguments themselves.
c. In Stoicism, the active, material, rational principle of the cosmos; nous. Identified with God, it is the source of all activity and generation and is the power of reason residing in the human soul.

2. Judaism.

a. In biblical Judaism, the word of God, which itself has creative power and is God's medium of communication with the human race.

b. In Hellenistic Judaism, a hypostasis associated with divine wisdom. [we stand below (are hypostatized; materially exist below) divine wisdom]

3. Theology. In Saint John's Gospel, especially in the prologue (1:1-14), the creative word of God, which is itself God and incarnate in Jesus. In this sense, also called Word.151

To speak, to gather, to choose, to pluck. The law. To depute, commission, charge. Calling, anointing and anointed.

Each of these connotation is correct.

It is not a question of whether or not we ought to be doing the new commandment. It is a question of how best to be doing it. Here, paganism, heathenism, hedonism, and the rest, are seen both absolutely and relatively (by comparison) as lacking that focus. For all the reasons their adherents give, they reject continuity with Jesus necessary to have enough focus upon the new commandment to bring it to fruition. They are distracted from it at the least.

The ostensible Christian side also becomes distracted by either being ecumenical or by arguing without understanding (without the focus or single vision of fruits).

It come down to doing

Now, here is where the real liberal, Real Christian, diligently seeks to retain the focus. The misguided of the ecumenicists, the apostate, and those who historically deliberately allowed paganism into the churches to grow their flock, in so being and doing, allowed for an increase in distractions from the focus on doing the commandment. Also, those who vehemently argue against paganisms often verge on, and even cross the line of, militancy. Of course, Jesus was against all things militant else he would never have taught pacifism. Also, those with a lust for heated debate have lost sight of, or never realized, that such heated debate is an exercise in ego. Engaging in such exchanges is the opposite of overcoming.

Therefore, the real liberal and real Christian, being one and the same, seeks to return to the continuity of the message of Jesus. Jesus was never distracted from his new commandment. He was never distracted from his message subsuming everything that pointed to him in scripture. We therefore, backup to before the distractions were incorporated into the churches. This then re-enhances the continuity Jesus had with all that pointed to him, namely the law and the prophets. It puts the focus back upon the commandment for us to bring forth. Minds that opened the gate to distractions did not have the mindset or spirit to bring forth or lead others to do so. This is why The Bible is full of stories about leaders cleaning house. It is what Jesus set in motion.

If those coming from other beliefs wish to accept Jesus Christ as coming out from God and returning to God as the one pointed to by the law and the prophets, let them leave behind beliefs and traditions incompatible with the entire message of Jesus. Let those things of their old belief that do not shed the light of truth and do not result in leading people to bring forth through God in giving and sharing become the relics of a superseded belief system that was in opposition to the movement of the Holy Spirit. Then there will be no excuse of distraction.

Their old belief system may have been fulfilled by Jesus, but that system didn't bring forth nor can it ever. Osiris, Mithra, and the rest may show a yearning in the people for something better than their human rulers. They may point to death and resurrection or light against evil, and such. They may have been called Christus or Chrestus. However, when the real thing was manifested in Jesus, the real prophecy, as told by those prophets pointing directly to Jesus (genetically and spiritually), superseded everything in the accounts of Osiris, Mithra, and the rest, that diverge from that real prophecy.
If outside and false traditions are allowed in or to mound up, the focus on the continuity is diminished. Rather than looking at Isaiah to make the connection between Jesus's message and the real liberalism prophesied by Isaiah, people are distracted by traditions. Their traditions don't cause them to focus in on the revelation calling for them to act. This is exactly what has happened with Christmas, which on balance is much more the celebration of mammon than it is the message of Jesus.

God hates that Christmas and will end it.

No matter how many characteristics the descriptions of Mithra share with the real Jesus, it is the differences that show who was real versus imagination. Therefore, those who had worshipped Osiris or Mithra who then came to call Jesus the "Christ" (truly anointed of God) could say Jesus fulfilled and exceeded all the object of their desires as expressed in all their previously held notions and imaginings. From that point forward, they are to retain the single vision seeing behind them (their true past), seeing the present (what they are really doing, physically and spiritually, in terms of bringing forth here and now), and seeing the future (what will happen; the prophecy).

Remember that there are no paradoxes for God. There is a context in which Jesus is the one for every nation. Jesus is the real spirit. He is the answer to all the myths. The Old Covenant didn't explain the seeming paradoxes.
Mammon: Idolatry

The Old Covenant was a phase. That's why people in the Old Testament smashed gods of stone. Jesus though turned over the tables of the money changers and God brought down the temple. He wants us to understand that our society and culture worships the god of money and that God hates it as the idolatry and evil it is. God hates the commercial, idolatrous distractions of Christmas for instance. It is far from doing what Jesus said for us to do.

The commercial interests point to all of what they claim as the benefits of their faith in mammon. These benefits pose a paradox for those who cannot see that those so-called benefits are snares of the false path from the beginning. The real system has to be from the ground up. Really good things cannot come with consistency out of the false system that is private, special advantage and privilege.

Consider that there would be no translating the Gospel message into the various languages absent association of concepts with which the reader or listener is already familiar. Therefore, there comes a place where attempting to eliminate all things that could conjure up distracting thoughts itself becomes a distraction (a point of procrastination) from getting on with the work. Where the line is drawn is for the Holy Spirit to inform each of us. This is how the paradox is removed. To communicate in a way that absolutely no connection can be made to the pagan would be to remain silent. The point is to be able to speak to make contextual connections not to be syncretizing but rather converting. Syncretism loses the focus. Converting magnifies the truth.

Beyond this, we will remind everyone that we seek to use no coercion other than the power of the word of truth to effectuate the necessary change of heart.

Those without effort don't pick our law, our canon

It is for all these reasons that we will observe the Holy Days in continuity. We will clear away the distractions. When we study and discuss, we will increase our ability to see the focal point, per Jesus. We will not take as Gospel those things presented to us that are the result of distractions from that message. Therefore, we will not submit to the dictates of others concerning canon where those others themselves diverge from the focus, as demonstrated by their lack of effort to bringing the message to fruition. Fruition justifies individually and in the aggregate. "Wisdom is justified of her children."

Trinity

Concerning the Trinity, we say that the at-oneness with God extends beyond the hard and fast, arrogant, view of the Trinity as championed by the hierarchical, false apostolic-succession tradition. We believe God is one. We believe that the Son is and is not our Father (understood contextually—see the word "contextual" in the Index or do a search on the word) and shares all with our Father through worthiness. We believe our Father and brother, Jesus, are one. We know that none of this is paradoxical for the softhearted who speak the revelation, knowing the different contextual connotations of the words. We know that endless arguments about such issues are a snare. It is disuniting.

In what sense is Jesus our Father? In what sense is Jesus not our Father? Jesus gave those senses in his own words about his relationship with our Father. That is what we go on. It is semantical. There is no doubt about it.

We don't go on dogma that limits the definitions to less than that of the infinitude of the revelation. It is simply the way of it.

God and Son are whole and differentiated at the same time depending upon the contextual perspective. There is nothing wrong or mysterious about it. We believe that this relationship is extended to all those who will join in it in the same spirit in which Jesus is joined to, and one with, God and is God.

We know that all who fight against this, fight against the Holy Spirit coming to dwell within people, conflating them. We know that this is due to the very reasons Jesus explained about there being those unable to partake of it and wishing for extremely selfish reasons to keep others from partaking also. They do not want to have to live up to the divine standard. They do not want to lose their relative positions gained within the hierarchy. It is the same fear that the high priest, Joseph Caiaphas, had concerning the Romans coming to take away their power if the Pharisees and others did not murder Jesus to keep the people from all coming to believe in him. They do not want people to have the closest possible familial relationship with their own Father in heaven even though that is exactly what Jesus wants for all those who will partake. They want to remain the falsely perceived intermediaries (in worldly control). It is ego and selfishness.

One cannot become as close to God as possible without becoming worthy that means living up to the divine, righteous, real liberal standard all the way. We are to go in that direction only and forever.

No vows, just action

We posed the question earlier as to whether or not this is a vow of poverty. We mentioned that it is a separation from the selfish path. We don't have to make external, traditional, formalized vows. We have to be committed in our hearts. It is understood that we are not pursuing material or monetary wealth. We don't look upon this as poverty. We believe everyone ought to be satisfied with enough. We don't plan on anyone being deprived of necessities. The manufactured desire for excess is what is mundanely and spiritually killing the planet and the souls of people. Reducing that disease will allow for all to have enough. It is more than mundanely pragmatic. Although real love truly does result in what is the most practical. Doing that is part of saving lives, souls, and the world. It is the opposite of the devouring spirit of death. It is justice.

As for vows of celibacy or chastity, as stated above, we hold that sex out of wedlock profanes the sacredness of matrimony. That profanity sends harm throughout. One cannot diminish marriage and also be keeping to the unselfish spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. This is understood. Again, we don't have to make external, traditional, formalized vows. If we believe the real message and adhere, it is of God.

It is wise to continue teaching and emphasizing such things, of course, as with covering everything about being a church member. Those who are able to remain celibate or chaste even in marriage by mutual agreement may then be better able to focus upon doing the work of God. We do not hold, however, that it is requisite within marriage. Neither are we seeking to diminish real affection in marriage. Pure, unselfish affection within marriage is proper. We all though have an obligation to train to control our appetites for everything that when all is said and done takes away in the aggregate (the whole). That means not helping in further exploding the population. Abstinence, to the degree one is able, is the best method to that end. War, starvation, and pestilence is not. It is the best method for denying oneself. It is the best conditioning method. It will help one when it comes time not to bend ones knee to any false god. It will help one get off one's knees before selfishness.

Birth control, other than abstinence

Of course, this flies in the face of the current promotion of contrived methods side stepping denying oneself. There are those who advocate substituting birth control pills, etc., for abstinence. Just bear in mind that the use of birth control pills and other such contrived methods especially by the unmarried weakens people spiritually. It makes people overall more susceptible to falling to temptation and then caving in and not just of the sexual type but of all types of temptation that is all types of selfishness. It may seem to be a stretch from birth control to violence, greed, or other manifestations of lust, but it is definitely spiritually connected more so for some than for others. Denying oneself in one area helps one deny oneself in others. Succumbing in one area makes succumbing in others likelier.

In conjunction with birth control methods, the greedy come up with all sorts of ways to stimulate the libido. They are pushing things to increase the sexual appetite and desire. They are pushing aphrodisiacs. They are pushing Viagra. They push clothing and make up and perfume, all so they can make money at the expense of people's temptation to selfish lust. It is all contrivance. It is fake. It is phony.

Medical care

Concerning medical care, we believe in the healing power of God. We do not wish to do anything to diminish faith in God. All healing comes from God. When a little child scrapes his knee, God heals the wound. We believe though that God can heal way beyond what happens in the way of what is thought of as commonplace. We believe that the healing miracles of Jesus were real. We believe that where and when God chooses with enough of the right kind of faith and in the absence of sin, such healing will happen. We believe that those who are destroying the planet are making it sick. We believe that the selfishness within the hearts of humanity is the reason for the plagues and famines people are experiencing.

The opposite of destroying the planet contains the spirit that is considered living a healthy lifestyle with organic foods and clean work and play. It goes a long way in the commonplace sense and helps put us on the road to the greater spiritual healing. We are not to defile God's dwelling place that is the temple in the soul of the believer temporarily housed within the pre-transformed body.

We are not against alternative or traditional medical help, per se. We are not in favor though of what is currently called traditional medicine being relied upon as the frontline measure.

Stronger faith in God makes all things work better, even that traditional medicine. Lifestyle follows naturally. It is faith in the lifestyle God tells us to lead. Certain of what are called alternative and natural remedies are consistent with faith and lifestyle priorities.

The traditional medicine of the last generation and somewhat of the laggards of the current generation is a last resort in many respects, because so much of it comes out of a mentality nearly devoid of faith in God and unselfish motivations. Nevertheless, helping people unselfishly is just that. If a more traditional medical practitioner can bring him or herself to practice from a completely unselfish, un-territorial, un-proprietary mentality and spirit, we are confident that good works can flow from that.
Support this cause, this movement of the Holy Spirit

The foregoing gave you a solid foundation concerning what we want to do with contributions and the proceeds from this work. We are called to be thorough yet non-procrastinating and well organized yet not inflexible. Have confidence that the Holy Spirit has moved us this far, because we are supposed to do this work.

As we've said, we are raising funds from this work to bring forth the good fruit. Be an angel. Support this cause of bringing forth. Do what you are able. It will help us immensely, especially in our initial efforts, if you will donate copies of this work to people you know and to groups and strangers alike. This will be the single biggest help to begin with. It will raise funds and spread the word at the same time. It will allow us to obtain the basic necessities to continue the work of growing this groundswell, permanent movement.

No one can do things all alone. Jesus needed God after all. The disciples needed Jesus. Without Jesus, they could do nothing. We all need God and Jesus who show us the way back to real love. We are required to help one another in coming to this realization. Therefore, we need each other also to fulfill the spirit of that real love. That is why Jesus focused upon the spirit of unity and oneness so much with his disciples and why they imparted it in the written Gospels. We are all interconnected and interdependent through the spirit. That's godliness.
Therefore, if we are to work at this fulltime, you'll have to help make that possible. Without others, we will be able to do nothing. God draws people. People must heed the call in order that they might be chosen. If God comes and finds none willing to stand in the gap, there will be none upon which any other may depend. No one will be dependable. The whole earth will be destroyed with no following conflation of heaven and earth. That cannot be. The prophecy must be fulfilled as Jesus said. It is the saving grace.

Don't turn your back on this cause. Don't fail to be a part in its success. You cannot go wrong helping with this movement. Helping people to move out of the system of greed, violence, and depravity and into giving and sharing, pacifist, sexually wholesome and upright (straight) communities is the right thing to do. Helping those people to help yet others to do the same is the right thing to do. Once you've heard it, you cannot go right without helping.

We all must reconcile, how the mundane factors in while the divine is unfolding. We all must be sure not to cross the line of being dishonest in dealing with the unrighteous mammon. Jesus taught and walked the narrow way to show us. Convert it, transform it, into what will be sustainable, giving and sharing Church commons.

Giving must be sustained for the flesh life of the giver. We must continue helping while the Church cycles through commune development. In the first phase, there will be initial expenditures simply to prepare for obtaining donations. In the next phase, once sufficient organizational creation has taken place and there are funds to create an operational commune, we will still require on-going support. Communes will not necessarily be instantly self-sufficient in the mundane sense. With enough faith in God though, they will become truly bountiful places.

People giving to this effort must understand from the outset that this project is for the long-haul. It is really eternal. It is giving for the real unity (God). Our souls must never stop proceeding into that ever-greater righteousness.

People must come to understand that Jesus was not a false conservative but the truest of liberals: Beneficent, humanitarian, pacifistic, and without villainy. It needs to be spread, and deeds consistent with it must be done. Hypocrisy must be made further discernable. Without the proceeds from this work, continuing contributions, and spreading the word, we will not be able to accomplish this project. So, please help. It's your calling. You're being called. Will you be chosen? We have to build a never-ending groundswell for peace and love. We need to feed the lambs and sheep. We need universal repentance.

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance. (Luke 15:7).

Break the spell

We cannot stand idly by while millions starve and die and others are oppressed and misled by the rich getting richer marketing greed, violence, or depravity. The rich are hypnotizing the suggestible with ever-present marketing messages founded upon falsehood exposed by Jesus with his own blood. If you are rich, repent and make heaven joyous by forwarding this work. Your riches are part of your ransom. "The ransom of a man's life are his riches." (Proverbs 13:8).

We have managed to get this most controversial subject matter from the spirit formulated, written, and published; however, we cannot spread the word alone. We must have your help. The message remained the main focus in writing this on full faith that there are many people of soft hearts or latently soft hearts who will be even further softened or drawn out by this appeal to live out the Gospel message to the best of all our abilities.

The only way a book will be successful, unless it is coming from an already famous author or out of a huge traditional publishing house, is via readers. This cause has to be central to the readership. The Real Christian movement has to burn within them in order for the written word to spread.

Copyright
You may cite portions of this work for so-called Fair-Use purposes. Please do not reproduce this work or any parts of it for any other purposes. It would be robbing the effort, and we so need to keep the proceeds going directly to and only to the cause. We do not want the message to become diluted or for efforts to stray from the narrow way. We don't want this work to be about arguing religious, philosophical, or ideological points but rather about getting on with the work.

Acquiring proper expanses of land

To develop the first model, fertile-ground, organic commune, the church has to acquire for member-workers a proper expanse of land for cultivation, sustainable woodlands, ponds, pastures, etcetera. If it is already organic, so much the better. If it is not surrounded by other farms using toxic chemicals, better still. We will require the wherewithal to operate the farm and have housing for those member-workers (owners). The fields will come first. "Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyself in the field; and afterwards build thine house." (Proverbs 24:27). Therefore, we will use temporary shelters or pre-existing buildings for housing until we have the fields prepared. Later, we will be able to handle reasonably transitionary land. Transitionary land is land in the process of being transitioned from non-organic chemical farming to organic. It has to be freed of pollution residues. We will definitely undertake such efforts as our capabilities for land restoration and toxic cleanup increase. If we cannot come by organic land, that won't stop us. We will tackle the process of transitioning land. The Holy Spirit will guide us and provide if we are righteous and have faith. We need funds for buildings, materials, and equipment to operate communes capable of exceeding the needs of commune member-workers. That way, what would otherwise be retained profits of the communes when combined with contributions to the church will be plowed into creating more and more such communes to meet the needs of the poor, dispossessed, and unemployed.

In other words, rather than have rich owners or stockholders or other financial investors become richer skimming the profits off the work of others just because they, the rich, had hoarded money to invest first and foremost for their benefit, all Church monies will go to the cause of liberating all from the tyranny of mammon. Again, if you are rich, repent by forwarding our work.

Starting small

While funds are being gathered for the model commune and subsequent communes, people ought to form Real Liberal Christian study and discussion groups, house churches, cell churches, and intentional household communities or commons. Then they will be positioned for the Real Liberal Christian Church Communes. Commune members will have the opportunity of doing missionary work starting subsequent ecological, agricultural Real Liberal Christian Church Communes continuing on until all the poor are properly housed, fed, and facilitated and enabled to contribute caring for one another.

The timing of establishing new communes and how much to reinvest into existing communes would be handled democratically as the spirit would move members to be unselfish for the sake of the entire movement. Obviously, people who would want to plow everything back into existing communes so that they might live in the lap of luxury should repent of that mentality. That mentality would not be move to join this movement in the first place. We deliberately want to avoid excess. The lap of luxury is the opposite of denying oneself. We aren’t looking to create self-flagellating environments either. Austerity is not the point. People just don’t need anywhere near as much as they’ve been taught to imagine they need in the rich nations. We want what will be most conducive to getting the job done.

We will look to the successes of others in communist living. We hope to convert some who are already highly expert in the management of communist living and will be also highly motivated by the message. We want a strong zesty flavor in the salt of the earth. We should not have to reinvent the wheel. There will of course be things completely unique to our approach. What we are proposing and the basis on which we propose it has never been expressed before. It is new even though it is firmly based upon the foundation of Jesus and must stay true to that.

Mutual servant, not merely bosses

We are not looking for self-aggrandizing bosses. We are looking for servant-shepherds ordained by the Holy Spirit of unselfishness. True motivation will always show through. We are looking for the spirit of cooperation and not competition, ego, or pride. We want people to have the spirit of facilitating one another (raising each other up through accepting the revealed word and deed of unselfishness) for the sake of others. We want people who don't show special respect for the self-aggrandized.

Whether or not you have been self-aggrandizing and bossy in your life, if you have come to know that the world has misled itself into promoting the confused spirit of arrogant bossiness, here and now via this movement of the Holy Spirit is your opportunity to help shine the light to the world that the opposite of that dark spirit is the right path (the narrow way). Remember as follows:

Whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant.
(Matthew 20: 26-27).

This doesn't mean weakness. Good facilitators will standup for real liberal devices. It is strength to do this. He or she though will convince rather than coerce.

We don't rule out selling

It is not our intention to make God's house a house of commerce. There are those who will say though that we ought not to sell anything, even nonprofit for this worthiest of causes. They are mistaken. Jesus said to sell everything to give to the poor. Anyone saying that selling is inherently wrong is wrong. Yes, it does matter the reason for selling. Jesus said to do it for the poor. We will be doing just that. We look to the day when everything will be freely given and shared. We will do what we can peacefully to displace the world of selfish commerce with unselfish sharing. We will bring forth in that patience. It is a transformative process. We do not have to rule out selling. We have to rule out selfish gain.

We may have farmer's market type sales so that people may help subsidize our efforts to move past the capitalist economy. We may supply retailers if they will become of a mind to help us. We may sell over the Internet or by mail order. However, we will attempt to be local to minimize the environmental impact of shipping, unless we may deliver over longer distances using environmentally sound methods such as sailing vessels and solar-powered transportation, etc. We will also make basic and truly helpful things that people will buy to contribute support for our efforts.

Farms, depending upon the type, can be expensive to start up and certain types of farm produce have tight margins due to large quantities of inferior produce on the market and since giant and subsidized agricultural corporations are still competing to drive small farmers out of business. Our approach will counter that.

No matter what we do, we will do our best to balance the urgent need of starving people with the need to be environmentally conscientious all the while understanding the need for patience without procrastination. We must balance getting people fed and safely into ecological communes, sooner than later becoming completely non-polluting and moving on to undoing the ravages of past pollution. We do not want to facilitate a worsening of the situation, but we can see how we can be instrumental in a wholesale shift, a paradigm shift, transitioning from the polluting for-profit way of feeding into people's insatiable greed to a non-polluting, nonprofit way of meeting everyone's basic needs. Pollution-free, violence-free, competition-free, villainy-free throughout the entire cycle is one of our goals.

As said above, we will not have to reinvent the wheel to get started. There will of course be things completely unique to our approach. Once we begin to move into new territory in terms of what has never been done before, we will invent as the Holy Spirit moves us and make whole new modes to handle things in order to reach the goal. We can do it. We can encourage people to turn from doing things to feed into their lusts to doing things for the sake of all. Where appropriate, we will use older methods people used before everything turned into what are called power tools. We will also use non-polluting, renewable, energy sources. None of the current sustainable-energy and environmentally helpful and thoughtful methods will be ruled out. Also, we will need to become expert in water management. This is why we will need real Christians with a multitude of backgrounds so that we may bring all of this to fruition.

Allodial title for Church commons

When we look for places for communes, we will need to be thorough. We must have land title in common as the Church with allodial title (full outright ownership; unconditional). We ought to avoid where and when possible being left in the mundanely legal position of having lands taken under rezoning or annexation or so-called eminent domain, etc. Usually, governments are loathe to confiscate property being used for such apostolic reasons; however, with the move to fascism in various places around the world and with the Real Liberal Christians speaking out for freely giving and sharing, evil governments could use coercion to ruin the Real Christian unfolding as they have so often in the past.

We ought to avoid where and when possible engaging in those things that would define us as other than an enclave not subject to property taxes or eminent domain or zoning infringements, etc. This is not to say that building codes are necessarily evil. Much of what is contained in building codes is proper in helping people to avoid the mistakes of past poor construction. We should avail ourselves of such knowledge. What we don't want is to be kept from employing new and old techniques that are environmentally beneficial and compatible.

In most states, church property for worship has allodial title—not precarious. Our agrarian and other egalitarianism is asserted clearly as indispensable to our system of worship. Without it, we would be no different from any other group. We would not be the Real Liberal Christian Church. Infringement of land use would be infringement on the free exercise of religion. This is the basis upon which we begin.
We will need to keep the full future needs of the communes in mind. Proper land won't be cheap, but we will expect that sellers will not wish to attempt to gouge such a worthy cause. Some people with good hearts and good land will wish to donate land to the cause.

Proceeds, offerings, tithes, etc., will be going to starting up eco-communes of Real Christians; organizational structure to meet the requirements of the various governmental entities throughout the world; Internet presence, to the extent people find that an easy and helpful way of staying networked; and missionary work, etc.

The Internet

Concerning the Internet, we will be relying upon an Internet presence as soon as possible, since we won't have a physical location that will serve beyond the merest start-up requirements. Once we have raised sufficient funds, we will obtain space that will allow for greater growth in the administrative and organizational aspects of the church and commune planning and follow-through. We need your help and understanding to come to fruition in this eternal cause of righteousness. We will always remember that we are dependant upon God. We will never be dependant upon the Internet. When the Internet shuts down, we will continue to bring forth from God's bounty communes.
Flexibility

The exact way in which all of what is advocated in the Gospel as interpreted in this work will unfold is not important to have completely planned out with every specific. In fact, trying to do that would prove counterproductive: A waste of time. Planning is important, but planning to remain flexible, without compromising the Gospel, is part of the plan. Specifically, we will have to remain flexible in devising the best liberal devices to relieve the suffering of the people of the world. We must be movable by the Holy Spirit. Jesus said the following:

The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. (John 3:8).

Creating and growing communes will be the highest priority. We will though always be called upon to be charitable even while we plan and execute the creation and growth of the communes. We have to take care of the mundane-to-divine solution without ignoring or neglecting the current needs of the poor and others.

Why not just duplicate the traditional method of collecting food to give it away?

Since the apostate governments of the world will never step up to the problem in the full spirit of the message of Jesus, if we focus upon spending all donations on food produced by the capitalistic system, we will never have communes. If we focus upon establishing communes, then we will be able to move the poor with the repentant into communes where they will then work and cooperate rather than compete. They will help yet others. They will not then be left requiring permanent assistance or as slaves at the mercy of the unforgiving capitalists system.

Of course, many poor people are just too weak to help with much right away. They must be allowed to regain their strength before helping with the work of converting to such communist living. Also, the hungry must be fed even if they reject the Gospel message. The more fruit the message brings forth, however, the more people will be able to see that it is the right path, God’s path.

We raise this flexibility aspect now so that no one later holds us to something we did not say was certain. We want to do the best we can going forward, and we do not want our hands unnecessarily tied since events change. We will need to remain flexible in order to take advantage of what will work best under changing circumstances.

More, practical, mundane evidence that Christian ecologically sound, agriculturally grounded communes will work

How do we know that eco-communes of real Christian member-workers will be best? You may still want more evidence that this is the cause you should be helping. In addition to the Hutterites and other communist groups cited earlier in this work and in addition to the fact that the Apostles lived holding all things in common, there is evidence right within the capitalistic world.

Employee ownership; Open-book finances; Democracy in the workplace

Converting to employee-ownership has proven able to turn around failing businesses. We are not talking here about just an employee-benefit plan with a little stock option for a select few. We are talking about those businesses closer to what we envision that is equal and universal member-worker ownership (spiritual) with completely open-book financial information for those members and pure and direct democracy in the workplace. We are not talking about ownership by outside investors (stockholders) seeking their money to earn them more money without those investors having to do the work of the communes. The success of truly employee-owned businesses within the world of capitalistic competition is undeniable.

There are those who seek to hoard for self and hence do not have their hearts in all things held in common. Their negative attitude serves to undermine and drag down the overall spirit. This causes the organization not to do as well as it would otherwise were the culture of the organization steeped in the spirit of giving and sharing. Shared motive has everything to do with the rate of success.
Of course, success in the capitalistic sphere is not the real success we envision for the world. We only cite the capitalistic more fully employee-owned businesses compared with the traditional stock corporations as a way to show those within capitalism that cooperation and shared ownership is vastly superior.

When all the members hold the organization in common and as a clearly understood cooperative team and when democracy in the workplace is fully functional and all information is open within that organization, organizations do relatively very well compared with those where ownership is not shared or shared only a little by those doing the actual work. Now, if that same sharing mentality is spread out to the greater world as a whole, think of what humanity could accomplish in righteousness versus the present situation of the dominance of the selfish spirit.

This is no Stalinist vision

This is not socialism in one country

Some people will still want to insist that this is all just like a Communist Party dictatorship; however, any such comparison fails miserably. The workers of the Communist dictatorship of the proletariat within the Soviet Union, for instance, did not have democracy in their workplaces. All orders came down from the top, centralized leadership with a supreme dictator sitting at the very pinnacle. All bosses were chosen from above. All decisions were made on five-year plans with little to no flexibility.
state owned everything while the people owned none of it since they did not run the state. It was state capitalism. The state owned the means of production. The workers did not. Also, it was not even holding itself out as having been moved by the Holy Spirit, obviously since it was atheistic. Those are the reasons it failed. All of that is the exact opposite of what is envisioned by the Gospel and this work.

The only centralized rules for the communes would be in keeping with the spirit of the new commandment of Jesus Christ that necessitates keeping all of God’s real commandments. That would be the guiding principle. That would always keep the focus upon those with the least and outside. It would keep the focus upon raising those up. The people would choose their shepherds. The higher-ups would not force local leaders upon the people. All the communes though would be owned by all the communes. All the communes together would be one huge truly democratic community of real Christians, real liberals. The churlish and villainous would not fit in as they do not fit in heaven now. It would be up to the communes to decide the lines to draw. All the members collectively would hold the keys.

How far does holding things in common go?

How far do people have to go in holding all things in common? What is the rule? What do the first and great commandment and the second like it require of us? Things are given to people to use with the understanding that they remember always that all things come from God for us to all share. God is completely ready always to give to all equally according to need. God is ready for perfect fairness. Only people have upset the balance.

How wide is the commons (land used by the community as a whole) to be? It is to be as wide as all the communes. Of course, the commons is supposed to be everything now. It was always supposed to be everything. Only the greedy spoiled that. They rebelled. They became willful. They took for self and would not give or share. We see the day when the whole of the earth is within the community of commons being again one common for the whole of humanity with each member owning all (that is sharing all from God) and respecting all in perfect harmony for the first time again.

When people begin to think about how far all things in common can go, they think often about clothing and hygiene implements such as toothbrushes and such. There is nothing to suggest that the clothing of the individual Apostles did not remain their own. However, we know that Jesus would give a person the shirt off his back.

And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also. (Matthew 5:40).

John the Baptist taught likewise.

He answereth and saith unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise. (Luke 3:11).

Of course, no one should ask for the shirt off anyone’s back, leaving his brother naked. That is the spirit in which we would approach clothing. There is no sense in becoming attached or valuing an article of clothing above the welfare of anyone else. That would be extremely self-centered. We would expect that an individual would control clothes designated to his or her use. Everything is really God’s, and God is letting you use it and has given it to you. With that in mind, it is always easier to share.

Don’t begrudge basic possessions

Jesus had his garment. He did not begrudge his disciples their few personal belongings. He did not really begrudge anyone any possession. He just wanted them to see the light about the folly of materialism, money lust, hedonism, and the rest of the misguided life that leads to destruction and oblivion.

Hi-tech equipment

What about so-called hi-tech equipment? Can people keep their TV’s, stereos, computers, cell phones, and other newfangled things the beast comes up with? These things can present problems depending upon the spirit of those operating them. They are manufactured not in the most environmentally sound stream of consciousness, high-energy users, and not easily recycled. The content streaming over the cables and out of artificial satellites can be extremely dark and fat spirited as well. The messages coming out of much of it is completely astray. They can also be major time wasters and, therefore, major spiritual distractions. All of those aspects must be taken into consideration.

At the same time, one is advised to know those who call one foe, just so long as one knows when to turn it off. Jesus after all went into the center of the world but came back out.

What is the limit before one becomes tempted by the selfish drumbeat of the capitalists for instance trying to sell their short-term fix for the lusting addict? When may one allow one's children to be exposed, since their minds have not learned to overcome that which they have not learned is falsehood. When is it risking their souls since it is all temptation?

They must be prepared and still never intentionally introduced. They must be protected. How will we do that?

How does one have people born into heaven and warn them of evil without their being tempted simply by virtue of the warning?

On an age-appropriate basis, children need to be fortified against temptation even while temptations are kept as far away as possible. The children must be raised simultaneously to be as wise as serpents and as harmless as doves. That is our challenge. In the old days, children were sheltered. Evil was kept as far away as possible. Now it is invading every home with what is called high technology.
It is all on account of the purveyors for profit. There are lines they cross all the time. They do not care what they are doing to young and old minds alike. It is insanity that people produce what is defiling. It is all a lowering. It is all a darkening. Where is the uplifting? Where is the enlightening? That's what we need. Instead, they make this world a prison and an insane asylum.

So, there are provisos concerning having and using all the technological devices. The primary use is to gauge the signs of the times for the prophecy's sake. It is to know what the selfish are up to so as to be able to help those who wish to live unselfishly. One must overcome lusting. Exposure to lusting is temptation until completely overcome. Salvation is no more exposure. The members of the communes will have the right to decide to keep their children sheltered from such exposure. Remember that in his parable, Jesus said that from heaven Abraham said the following to the once rich man who fell into hell after his death:

> Between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. (Luke 16:26).

The member-workers will have the right to create and maintain a gulf between the communes and the iniquitous society at large while still engaging the world so as not to hide the light but rather magnify their good works for the glory of God.
Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 5:16).

In the case where the members decide to keep from their children what they deem temptation, those who disagree will be free to leave and rightly required to leave if they pose such temptations. It would not be coercion. Those who want temptation for even the little ones would be as heathens. Tempting, testing others, is sheer evil. It is to lead others astray so they will fall down with the tempter.

Disturbing the natural peace of the house

There are considerations that run beyond just temptations to lusting. There are temptations or tests that try the patience and distract from living in the spirit.

Noise, light, odor, and pollution

There are people who just do not comprehend the concept of invasiveness. They do not understand what constitutes noise, light, odor, and other pollution. They think, incorrectly, that they have a right over those to whom they would be subjecting the noise or light or what have you. Anything that disturbs the natural state of things, the natural peace of the house, is no right. It is always secondary to the right of those who do not wish to be put upon by the inappropriate, selfish, use of equipment and other sources of such stimuli. Of course, there are pieces of legitimate work-equipment that cause sound, vibration, light, odor, etc. Even with those, users must be considerate. The peaceful house will understand and work out priorities and appropriate times for stimuli.

Loving and living the right priorities
During times for sleeping, contemplating, meditating, studying, writing, and the like, the less pollution the better. Certain stimuli are not conducive to the spirit. Certain activities are always of a higher priority than entertainment. However, there must be reasonable times set for housework and maintenance or other essential activities of running a household. It is a balance, and all is situational. After all, the whole household celebrated the return of the Prodigal Son. The question is always, what is the house accommodating? Is the spirit of light or dark the thrust? If light, then that is the priority always. Light is unselfishness. Unselfishness is ultimately for the sake of others in need. Who will assert his or her misperceived right to upset the work of that unselfish spirit? What preacher’s child knowingly sits beneath the window hollering while a righteous sermon is being prepared within to aid in finding and turning lost souls? Such a child has no sense of unselfish priorities. Does the child willfully refuse to move from below the window or stop yelling? If so, that child remains a curse to its own soul until true repentance.
Anyone granted time in, or around, the house for lesser priorities is required to remain appreciative, reciprocal, and definitely not abusive of the subservient and granted privilege.

Rule of considerateness

This rule of considerateness of course extends to one's neighbors. Peace in the broadest sense of the revelation always takes precedence.

To clarify, environmentally conscious construction sounds while people build shelters for the homeless though is music to God's ears. Where noise leaves off and sound begins is both an absolute and relative thing. It ranges from the noisy throat of Satan (noise pollution) to beautiful and joyful sounds made unto and coming from God. It ranges from the voice of temptation to the voice calling those who are astray to be found. Noise-and-temptation abatement is a good thing.

Noise is often used by the aggressive deliberately to tempt and upset the harmonious frequencies or vibrations of the peaceful and loving spirit. It is worse than a callous thing in that case. It is a greater sin than thoughtlessness.

No matter how that testing is shrouded in false meekness and a passive exterior, it is temptation and testing attempting to get others to fall and sin that is offend back or retaliate and not just rightfully rebuke. It is often meant to be annoying enough so one may take false offense at being rebuked. It is the spirit of the wolf in sheep's clothing. Often, there is no attempt at sheep's clothing but rather an open desire to provoke a fight.
The mundane harm and unhealthiness of noise

Even mundane science has identified that noise increases the frequency of cardiovascular disease in the general population. Noise does that even when a person mistakenly believes that the noise is not annoying. This is not to say that God cannot, or will not, heal cardiovascular disease. This goes to show the evil of the US torture masters who subject prisoners to deliberate and extreme noise pollution.

Basic manners and politeness

All of this is part of training in basic manners and politeness. Manners and politeness are good things as long as the truth is not sacrificed, as long as they are not mere human traditions but are inline with the percepts of God: The first and great commandment and the second like it. Manners and politeness are part of the truth when kept in the unselfish spirit. When they are done to forward the darkness, however, they become falsehood, solely in the spirit of human traditions, and evil, contrived tools. Therefore, even though there are those who would insist that Jesus was rude or impolite, etc., toward the Pharisees and others, he was not. In actuality, it was the other way around. They lacked the mercy. What are real manners and politeness if not merciful?

Different buildings and areas, therefore, will be set aside for different levels of activity so that there will always be buildings and places where near absolute natural peace and quiet may be obtained. Someone may need to sleep undisturbed during the day, because he or she was up all night doing some task that rightfully could not keep. We must remember, for instance, that Jesus stayed up all night praying that fateful night and he prompted his disciples to do likewise that night that they not fall into temptation.

There are those within a spiritual community who will want to study scripture in deep thought. There are those who will want to walk off to be in isolation to commune with God out of earshot of working noises and even children playing. This is Biblical. Separation to commune with God is required. These things must be respected and cherished by all members of the community. They need to be revered. Those who cannot grasp this are definitely not in the spirit and should not subject the community to their presence. Young ones and older converts must be taught to respect and revere these things that are conducive to righteousness.

What about vehicles?

Can people keep their gasoline and diesel powered vehicles? Such vehicles will be used until phased out. The less energy efficient and more polluting vehicles will be phased out first. We may work toward retrofitting them with less- or non-polluting equipment. We will work toward alternative, clean modes of transportation. Bicycles, horses, and other draft animals, and the like, will help. Hydrogen fuel-cell technology from natural gas where greenhouse gases are captured during the manufacturing process holds promise, although it is not pollution free. Photovoltaics also holds promise, although it too is not pollution free, especially in its manufacturing phase. Cost-benefit analysis will be done with the whole message of Jesus in mind. We could split hairs indefinitely concerning such matters. It is true that trucks, automobiles, buses, and the like, as of the time of this writing are extremely poorly thought out. They have been made after all first and foremost for the personal gain of corporate shareholders. We must not buy unjustifiably expensive or polluting modes of transportation. We must do better. It will take time, but we will balance patience with a determination not to procrastinate.

We should be ready, willing, and able to give and share all. We are to be ready to exceed the expectations of the selfish. The idea is that no one will be selfish about anything, for that's where all the troubles have come from. If someone asks for our coat, we give them our cloak also, return good for evil. Why though would anyone take our coat? There's the point of it all. For in truth, no one should take our coat. It is as striking one's cheek, and giving our shirt also is as turning the other cheek. We are not talking here about taking a gift from us in the giving and sharing spirit. We are talking about the forced taking that is really stealing. If someone's motive is to take from us in the spirit of greed or to hurt us, they have sinned, for they really do know better. No one should want to leave his fellow human beings naked against the elements. That's the point of the new commandment.

Why are we leaving our siblings naked against the elements? Why are they homeless? Why are they hungry or thirsty or sick? Why are the rest of us either stealing from them or refusing to give to them or share with them (that really is after all a form of stealing since God has given all for all if we will but have soft enough hearts to perceive it)? Will we be as selfish and false as to say that they brought it all upon themselves? Many of the poorest of the poor have sinned no more than anyone else. Some have sinned little. Some are little children who have not sinned at all. They are there so that the rest of us will do all the Christlike things toward them.

The incentive is righteousness

It is not the sabotaged welfare state

As for questions of incentives, inducements, motivations, and the like, under the mentality where everyone is given what he or she needs, there are those conservatives who will never stop insisting that this is the old tried and failed welfare-state idea. It is not that welfare state that was sabotaged by the false conservatives. Also, people can be even more motivated under the unselfish, righteous spirit than under capitalism if given the real freedom. They just need to be told the truth. They need to be told over the voices of the greedy who always try to drown out righteousness.
That welfare state has never had the people all owning in common and doing the work together in the spirit of real Christianity. That welfare state was not a real welfare state. In many cases, it was simply warehousing people: Dehumanizing them. The state owned the public housing in which the people lived, while the rich retained all the private, special advantages and privileges. The people who were warehoused were not the one’s employed to build the buildings. They did not obtain fully shared common ownership of them. They were not the ones who operated and maintain their properties. These welfare housing projects were not democratized. The people living there were not allowed to elect their managers and staff, including providing for their own safety and security. They were not given a say in the design of the projects. They were not given any land, materials, equipment, seed, or water to grow their food or do all the other things they were capable of doing as a community had the whole of society really helped make it possible. There are still dozens of such shortsighted, warehousing projects within America.

Incentive to break homes

Much of society was extremely begrudging about the whole endeavor. Once the projects were established, the sooner people could be warehoused and forgotten the better in the minds of most conservatives. Most had really wanted the poor left in the existing slums. The poor were all still expected to work for sub-wages without any shared ownership in the enterprises that employed them. The enterprises remained owned and operated by the privileged classes. The schools their children attended were severely inferior to those of the privileged classes. That false welfare state actually paid parents for breaking up. They gave more aid to single mothers with dependent children than they gave to families where the parents stayed together with the father working or unable to find work. It was an incentive to cause broken homes.

Progressive Era

Initially, during the Progressive Era, many projects were inhabited by working-class white families. Eventually, however, most of the people who ended up in the projects by the 1960's were descended from black slaves. They were left in a lurch, still staggering from the devastating aftereffects of slavery just as the poorest nations of the world were left in a lurch and are still staggering from the devastating effects of the colonial period, which ended in name only. They were all just used, abused, and discarded when all they needed was to be treated rightfully.

In the end, public-housing projects and the people in them were severely neglected. Maintenance was allowed to slip until the projects were so rundown that they were dangerous places. The people were caught with little if any way out. Many teenage boys with no righteous father-figure role models turned into rogues. They learned from the escalating lessons one from another to become increasingly unprincipled, vicious, sensualistic, materialistic, and worse. Gangs developed around greed, abject violence, drug addiction, sexual depravity, and male chauvinism, among other wholly undesirable traits.

Before anyone jumps to false conclusions, the problems these children faced and still face is definitely not due to inherent inferiority of their race or ethnic group. The problems were and are all largely due to the racism of others and the way these children and their families were abused by the system and legacy of slavery in America. Had all the boys been as white as snow, the same problems would have escalated given the same pressures. It is a known theme throughout the world.

Positive role models

All children of every ethnic background are much better off with people serving as models of good behavior the children may emulate. Children have a much better opportunity to thrive under positive role models. The more positive role models there are the better. To clarify, positive role models are unselfish people.

Selfish people are negative role models. Also, the selfishness of the slave traders and owners are what set off the downward spiral in this instance. The traders and owners in the US were white.

Understand that the US government and state and local governments under racist and oppressive leaders turned the CIA, FBI, and the Pentagon, and other entities against dissidents, the poor, and ethnic minorities and especially the black people. The CIA actually deliberately addicted countless tens of thousands of inner-city, poor blacks to crack cocaine and heroin coming out of areas of intensive CIA activities such as Laos and Vietnam both during the Vietnam War and both in what is called the Golden Triangle and Afghanistan out of the Golden Crescent and also out of Columbia. The CIA, with Pentagon assistance, was flying heroin from Vietnam to the US inside the dead bodies of US soldiers. Think of the filthiness of the minds that would even conceive such a thing. These are people possessed by unleashed unclean spirits. They were simultaneously making money for covert operations and their private bank accounts and to further oppress and punish the poor on the evil grounds of racial inferiority.

Black Panther Party

The FBI turned its ruthless and despicable COINTELPRO (counter-intelligence project) against the Black Panther Party and others deliberately causing internecine conflicts (divide and conquer). The FBI spread vicious rumors to turn the black community against itself. The FBI also used the mainstream media to pump out disinformation propaganda about the Panthers to the American people and the world, to make the general population fear the Panthers. They assassinated Fred Hampton of the Black Panthers. They did that, because the Panthers were socialists and working toward providing basic and needed social services in black communities that are traditionally and deliberately neglected by the power elite and because the Panthers were saying they would fight back physically against the abuses of law enforcement agencies that traditionally and deliberately harass the black community and even had participated in, and in many cases conducted, thousands of lynchings predominantly in the Southern, former-Confederate states.

Racism is the inability to see the value of character regardless of mundane bloodline. Ku Klux Klan members are racists and were in charge of law enforcement throughout the South and had FBI members. J. Edgar Hoover was a racist and sympathized with the KKK.

The Panthers were defensive, not aggressive. Unlike the CIA, they were not a terrorist organization. We don't agree with violent defense. The FBI though was aggressive. It was belligerent, very violent, murderous. Therefore, the FBI had the greater sin. It used despicable tactics. Martin Luther King was non-violent, and the FBI still targeted him.

This doesn't relieve the black Africans' responsibility for having sold their brothers and sisters into slavery, delivering them into the hands of transporters many of whom were English shippers mostly from Liverpool and Bristol seaports who transported many hundreds of thousands of slaves to the Americas to sell them to plantation owners.

The responsibility for this slave-trade mentality goes back to the heart of selfishness. It still exists very much today. Billions of people live in a form of slavery, some under more obvious slavery than others, with sexual slavery and with forced child labor that is far from healthy and age-appropriate childhood cores inculcating an unselfish spirit of helping out.

Older male role models

It is interesting that in Africa there have been groups of rogue, teenaged elephants that have rampaged around and have indiscriminately killed hundreds of rhinoceroses. However, when an older adult male elephant, raised amongst older male role models himself, is introduced into this group of rogue teenagers, the teenagers settle down and stop killing rhinos. That is the point of what has happened with the current youth of America.
There are many teenaged boys raised in a culture that was developed without those raised amongst older male role models who learned before the breakup of the two-parent household, broken up by the deliberate policies of the false-conservative, capitalistic society.

Misogyny

Those boys go about speaking to females in disgusting and rouguish ways. They do not know how to speak to girls or women without calling them "bitches" or "whores," which they pronounce as "ho." It is misogynistic (hatred of women). It is degrading to females. It makes them less important in the minds of the boys and young men who are to grow up to be full-grown men.

Unfortunately, many females have become acceptant of this treatment in many respects. Some have taken to being likewise belligerent and disrespectful across-the-board. Such words are conducive to the further defilement and degradation of the whole of society.

Reversing the message from greed, violence, and depravity to peace, love, and truth

Nearly the entire youth culture in the US today has been conditioned into a state of relative heartlessness. There is little to no talk of love and peace. They don't recognize this, because they have nothing for comparison. They have not experienced any earlier time that was softer hearted. They imagine that they cannot function out amongst peers in a softhearted mode. They quit before they begin. They are intimidated into hardheartedness by peer pressure. They cannot even be softhearted within the walls of their own homes on account of the degree to which the negative forces, the dark forces, have permeated their souls. This is tragic. There is a near complete void in truth-telling. There is little to no interest in anything meaningful. Much is for the sake of instant gratification. Love is only thought of in sexual terms. Peace is not valued, because the ravages of war are so distant. The real scenes are kept out of public view. War is sanitized and glorified in movies and in fantasy games and comic books, etc. Where is the antiwar message? Where is the message of pacifism? Where is the love and compassion? They have had the sense of their immense power to change the world for the better conditioned out of them. Where is the cause? Where are the youth leaders? Where is the student movement? Apathy has been programmed in and has to be overcome. Impassiveness will lead to further wars in which many of the young will die around the planet.

But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. (Matthew 13:25)

This is speaking of the youth culture in general. There are some youths who care about such things and are trying to voice their concerns to make them heard and understood so as to be a positive influence. They need the support that will come from conflating via the Holy Spirit. They need to hear more and more like-voices.
Profanity

There are those who defend all of the slang and profanity as a harmless trait of the period. They are wrong. Much of the slang is a mask for profanity. What comes out of the mouths of youths defiles them and those who are susceptible to the negative words. It is unacceptable. Now the pejorated notion of tolerance of many forms of bad behavior has been added so sex has been cheapened more than ever.

Violence

Besides the words and deeds that is hatred of women, there is all the direct talk and deeds of violence. The youth have violent themes pounded into them by the whole culture, not just the youth culture. The cycle of violence spins downward and downward. Violence is magnified. It is encouraged. It is promoted. It is ugly and ignorant.

Warped slang

The slang is so warped that the youth have even taken to misusing the word "peace." They say peace in a derogatory manner. They will say "peace bitch" in the same breath. They mean "goodbye" by the word "peace." They mean it in a sarcastic manner when coupled with derogatory and misogynistic terms such as "bitch." Now, when the word "peace" is used in this manner, it is a deliberate attempt to distract minds from the implications of the real meaning. The minds that twist the meaning of peace do not want other minds being reminded of the real meaning. That is, because the more people have real peace on their minds, the less those who misuse the word will have a free hand in being the opposite of peaceful. They want a freer hand in being greedy, violent, and decadent.

Real peace

People of real peace must not allow the word to be abused in this manner. They must not allow such twisted connotations to take root detracting from or diminishing the real meaning of peace. Real peace is the most important thing there is. It is synonymous with both love and truth. It is the state of purity. It is perfect godliness. There is nothing more sacred or edifying.

When people of low, dark, and spiritually dead minds seek to ruin real meanings of holy precepts, the youth and others of the world must reject such attempts instantly. Such defiling attempts must not be promoted. They must not be picked up by people as being fashionable or otherwise. Such pejoration must be reversed through the re-emphasis of the real meanings of such critical words.

Those who warp "peace" and other holy terms need to exorcise (cast out) their demons. They need to come to understand that in warping indispensable meanings, they are promoting evil. They are working in the furtherance of the satanic spirit. Now that they have been told, if they continue, they knowingly sin. They need to cast out their unclean spirits of aggression, antagonism, strife, and pandemonium. They need also to stop all their deliberately harmful and spiteful rumors and gossip.

Materialism

Along with misogyny and violence, there is the drumbeat of materialism. When all three of these dominant themes are combined, the culture they represent is extremely shallow. It does not take others into consideration. It just passes on the hatred, violence, and hedonism. It does not have the love, presence of mind, or strength to stop for the sake of others. It is a culture of death. It is the culture of those who say, "I'm never going to be righteous. I don't have to be." It is the culture of those who call righteousness a "stupid opinion." The truth is never an opinion. They condemn themselves with their own words and deeds to match. It is the culture of those who expect a show of respect for iniquity. One cannot rightfully respect that which has freely and knowingly chosen that which is unworthy.

No self-esteem for the fallen condition

Incorrect political-correctness

In the false-liberal mentality, none of what I've just said should have been expressed. It is offensive they imagine. The truth is to be voided for the sake of self-esteem of what? Why should one be left imagining that there is any reason for esteeming oneself when one has been and continues to be utterly self-centered? Rather then esteeming that, each person is to prostrate him or herself in a flood of tears over all the selfish things he or she has done. That one will esteem God and be saved from his or her own selfishness.

The notion of extreme political correctness attempts to illicit self-censorship of truth for the sake of avoiding causing others to question traditional beliefs. Under this political correctness, this false liberalism, people are to be careful not to offend in the mundane sense those who are offensive in the divine sense.

The older males and females need to set a new tone. That tone must be the message of Jesus. Under his message, no damaging slang and other defiling talk would occur. Do not take this lightly. From such talk comes greater facilitation of sin. From such beginnings one arrives at wholesale iniquity in its worst incarnations.

So that was and is the welfare state criticized by the false conservatives who sabotaged it on purpose to keep the people down. What is to be done? We need the real welfare state that does not make any of those mistakes, because it comes totally from the proper condition of the heart that has no ulterior, selfish motives or hidden agenda. We need the communes outlined in this work.

Heaven: Closed to the unrepentant selfish

Would these communes be coercive or unfair to the churlish or villainous, because to enter one must be truly repentant? No. It would be justice for those on the inside to not be subjected to such churlishness and villainy. The unrepentant churlish and villainous will not wish to be members anyway. Those on the inside would have to live up to their own standard though. They would have to do unto the churlish and villainous on the outside as they would have others do unto them, but they would still treat them as heathens. They would not be brothers and sisters in the spirit. They would not be of the same house. This is no paradox. Reconcile it.

It will be a narrow path to walk. Everyone will have to have his or her spiritual eyes wide open in order not to fall prey to hypocrisy and to assist others in not falling and in getting back up. This would be the only way for all things in common to be held consistently. It must be universal within the ministry. It is not envisioned or anticipated that any groups will split off into denominations of any kind, ever.

The idea would be to move more and more to the idyllic or heaven on earth as the Lord's Prayer advocates.

Adding right development

Won't communes mean more development, and wouldn't that be going against the grain of the revelation? As explained elsewhere, Jesus was not against buildings, per se, or roads and such. In being consistent with the revelation though, we must understand that good stewardship expects careful management of the gifts God has bestowed on us all to use and share freely. Humanity can overdevelop. In fact, that has already occurred.

What we will be doing is not adding to bad development in the aggregate. We will be moving people out of the capitalistic non-environmental, militaristic, sphere with a heavier footprint on the earth into a much less negatively impactful lifestyle. We will help keep many in what the capitalists misname the developing world from moving into that capitalistic system. That will reduce the growth of detrimental industries. We will also reclaim land. That is critical. The mark of all of this will take some time to see. The population of the planet is still growing exponentially after all.

Get off the single cash-crop economy

We need to afford as many people as possible to get off the cycle of the single cash-crop economy, never feed the land or let it rest, etc. The land people live on needs to feed them. It must be used the way it was used thousands of years ago: To give them all their needs in a more than sustainable way. It can be done. We need people to be able to use appropriate technologies many of which are pre-industrial.

"Development" is a word the meaning of which and the correctness of which depends upon the contexts and the intention and understanding of the user. God has allowed human beings to build. However, human beings seem to be never satisfied with those things with which they ought to be satisfied and they are too easily satisfied with those things with which they ought not to be satisfied.

The development of infrastructure for greedy purposes is extremely overbuilt. In fact, any such development is too much of that kind as there ought to be none. On the other hand, there has never been enough development for the opposite cause for real cities of peace throughout the world. The lack of development of the type of fully wholesome communes envisioned in this work that are consistent with the Gospel message is that with which the people should be dissatisfied.

Development based upon peace and love and giving and sharing all is real. It is not hypocritical. It is not divided against itself. It will rise and stand forever. Buildings may become old, but the spirit will not die. That is where the real development lies. It lies within and is then manifested in the world by those with that spirit.

As the world changes from bad development to the giving and sharing way under the full spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it, humanity will arrive at harmony with God. That is the whole point. We are not saying that the whole world will arrive in time to escape tribulations. We are saying that the more we do for the sake of righteousness, the better it will be for all concerned. We are to help turn as many souls as possible by doing as much in the way of good works in whatever time remains. If that were not true, there would be no sense in doing anything for righteousness' sake.

But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled. (1 Peter 3:14).

Technology

Technology is headed toward total control of the material building blocks of forms and kinds.
It will not reach that goal and survive under the selfish spirit. In fact, that's the spiritual war that has been going on for longer than we can remember. It is the war between God and Satan.

The ancient civilizations saw that the rate of human learning would reach the point where humans would rival their own concepts of godly powers. The predictions have been divided between two spiritual camps: God's and Satan's. Each camp has been variously defined by those claiming membership.

If people turn to God (peace, love, truth, faith in God to bring forth, compassion, mercy, forgiveness, justice, giving and sharing all, good stewardship, etc.), God will allow and aid people in becoming more powerful through God than anything imagined by anyone. All the pollution of the past could be rectified. Every disease could be cured. No one would want for anything. No one would age. No one would suffer. No one would have to toil. Everyone would be young forever. Nothing would ever wear out.

If people don't turn to God but continue rather following Satan (the selfish spirit of death), the war will continue and deepen and humanity will fail and fall, despite and on account of technology.

Terror and Terrorists

This is a good place to discuss terror in conjunction with the idea of proper development and a number of other concepts that we have introduced in this work. The reason for this is because the War on Terrorism is the new world order's new perpetual excuse that must be combatted. Then we will come back to other specific things we will promote and do.

George W. Bush calls Osama bin Laden a terrorist. Many people have discussed and written about the definition of terrorism and concluded that all wars and actions of physical aggression constitute some form of terrorism. Many draw the distinction between the aggressor and one who is defending. People raise the issue of who started it. Who instigated. Was the instigator the aggressor or was the aggressor provoked? There is non-physical terrorism. Of course, emotional terrorism has its physical effects. There is also the terrorism of threats. Where does physical and non-physical start and stop? How do people harm one another, inflicting terror into one another's hearts and minds and souls? George calls Osama a terrorist. So he is. Others call George a hypocrite based upon George's instigations, provocations, threats, and aggressive acts leading to the deaths of hundreds of thousands of innocents. So he is.

Islam: Terrorism

We see in Islam the requirement violently to eliminate secularism and coercively to dominate all other religions. In Islam, Islam is the state. In the state of Islam, nothing other than Islam is allowed under pain of death, since other religions truly cannot bend to Islam as Islam would have them bend.
In Christianity, Christianity is the state. In the state of Christianity, nothing other than Christianity is allowed (with the term "allowed" being on a different level than as conceived by Mohammed) and also under pain of death (where death is brought on not by human coercion or acts of aggression).

We see that Jesus taught pacifism while not in the least condoning secularism or other erroneous conditions. Here we see the clear lines of demarcation. We see that Jesus taught that with enough of the right kind of love, the barriers that limit human spiritual control over the mundanely perceived materiality of the world is overcome. In Islam, however, we see the denial of any such possibility.

We see the Qur’an stating that human slaughter (which terrorizes) is good and that Mohammed was only a man with no what is termed "supernatural" powers coming from God, even while Islamic traditions teach that Mohammed performed all sorts of what would be described as supernatural miracles. This all renders the hypocrisy completely transparent.

We also see the secularists completely stuck in their self-made paradox where they claim freedom of religion on the mundane level while Islam is a religion that seeks to wipe out the secularists.

We see the false Christians going back to Constantine I who fell into the paradox trap of using terror to subjugate under Christianity (in name only). This is all an impasse.

With the world becoming smaller as they say due to greater and faster transportation and communications, the pressures to come to the conclusion will continue to mount until the conclusion is reached. Of course, the real Christians know the outcome.

Ex nihilo is a matter of semantics, connotations

We see that the power of language is infinitely underestimated. We see that the place where the emotions, sounds, words, shapes, characters, ideas, reality, power of material creation ex nihilo (out of nothing) are blurred by disbelief. Yet we see the wizards of science showing material creation ex nihilo. Yet ex nihilo is a matter too of semantics. God is not ex nihilo. It is all a matter of the transformational power of God as constantly shown all about us in God's creation: What people call nature. We see natural, seemingly unaided healing. That too is God's healing. We see the medicinal properties of plants. That is God's healing. We have heard about Jesus's healing power. That is God's healing. It is all a matter of worthiness and opportunity.

Confusion of paradoxical thinking

We see the confusion of paradoxical thinking where it is not comprehensible that Jesus was, and is, all of the following: Liberal, conservative, collectivist, separatist, isolationist, protectionist, communist, anarchist, centralist, decentralist, totalitarian, authoritarian, libertarian, parochialist, universalist, zealot, fanatic, rationalist, and on and on. All those terms are mundane concepts until only certain of their connotations are understood to work all together in heaven.

Where do the connotations of the terms "capitalist," "mercantilist," and "commercialist" run into trouble? Each of them can be used in a righteous sense as shown in the parables of Jesus; however, each is loaded with the unrighteous senses that dominate the world today. They run into trouble with connotations that cannot be reconciled with the pure unselfishness of Jesus's message. This is why Jesus was glad for the relative progress of people in seeing and grasping his revelation (giving half of all they had for instance) while he also maintained that there is yet the greater thing about which to be elated and that is the absolute perfect condition of the heart that is attainable in realizing, living, God's perfection that is giving all to share all with all in righteousness. That is the most operative sense: Love, peace, truth, and righteousness. That is where worthiness, freedom, rights, etc., are reconciled and conflate.

Heaven reconciles into perfection, conflates

What Jesus is, is the non-hypocritical spiritual solution to all the righteous ends inherently expressed in the emotions of each of those terms where each of those terms meets with the other in peace. The state of heaven reconciles, conflates, all into the best possible world. This world is the best possible world in the sense that God is allowing us separately and together to receive the consequences of the chosen and merited conditions of our hearts. This world can lead to the best if, and only if, we choose and merit the best. This is how the best thinking here and now in this presently less than best world leads to the best (heaven). The state of this world in terms of following the lead of those who dominate by hardheartedness will never lead to the best collectively for the posterity of human procreation. It will also lead to worse for souls in the hereafter.

False conservatives claim to protect real-liberal works while undermining them

We see the conservatives confused about their own historical continuum. They claim that the US is great, because the US allows dissent. However, it was not the conservatives who pushed for the right to dissent that is point out what they see as injustices and to ask for their grievances to be redressed. The historical conservative continuum is one of always putting down dissent and always being behind in hearing grievances and always behind in redressing. In other words, the conservatives say that the US is great because of the actions of those who were not, and are not, in their own stream of consciousness. This is confusion. The conservatives forward this idea in sound-bite propaganda so that the gullible and uninformed will fall into the selfish line and the voices of truth will not be heard or listened to. In doing this, the conservatives then enable themselves to equate bad ideas with the notion of being good ideas.

For instance, Bush is trying to appear to be moving toward the center, to salvage the Republican Party, to take away long-standing criticisms of his administration by the opposition. He's talking environmentalism. He's finally admitted to global warming. He's admitted to oil addiction. He's admitted that fuel economy standards are too low.

Archer Daniels Midland Company's government-subsidized ethanol scheme

However, he's pushing Archer Daniels Midland Company's drive to government-subsidized ethanol. Archer Daniels Midland has decidedly monopolistic desires and was found guilty in a huge price fixing scandal. They aren't truly repentant.

General Electric's new generation of private nuclear power plants scheme

He's pushing General Electric (GE) and others on their drive for a whole new generation of nuclear plants for among other things, hydrogen fuel. GE is a huge nuclear weapons maker. It is one of the largest financial services corporations in the world and is one of the top three media corporations (NBC Universal). It uses its media arm to manipulate perceptions about nuclear and other matters.

These are huge, conservative corporations bent upon profit and cornering markets as much as the people will tolerate.
Pandering to Latin Americans

Bush is also pandering to the Latin-American vote by telling conservatives that deporting all illegal immigrants isn't going to work. He knows Latinos will vote Democratic more so now since their Latino relatives have been kicked around by Republicans.

Ethanol and biodiesel: Bad ideas from hell

The conservatives put forth ethanol as a good idea in terms of combating environmental pollution whereas it is a bad idea as they are forwarding it. They know they have lost enough ground to environmentalists having been heard despite the media's suppression and the denigration by ignorant or willful conservatives.

They know that the handwriting is now on the wall for all to see that the conservatives were completely foolish all those decades when they were claiming that environmentalism was stupid. Pollution is ruining the planet, and for the good of the whole, God's system will destroy without sin those who destroy the earth. The conservatives know that they cannot any longer ignore environmentalism, but they know their time is short to feed into their lusts. They, therefore, conjure up what they imagine will be ideas that will fool the still gullible and uninformed. They put forth ethanol as a good place to sink relatively huge time and effort and material, etc., to reduce pollution that they can no longer lie about or cover up. However, ethanol crops will use up huge quantities of arable land that ought to be used exclusively to feed the people. That alone is sufficient reason to exclude ethanol as a place where major effort should be expended. Those companies poised to raise the most ethanol crops are the same companies that already degrade the planet with toxic farming chemicals. The problem with the conservative mind-set is that it is never able or desirous properly to set priorities. In 2006, ethanol is already eating up twenty percent of the corn produced in the US. It will probably double in just a couple of years. That's terrible! The situation for using soybeans for biodiesel isn't good either.

These will end up being the sole cash crop in some poor areas too if nations aren't careful. The land will be further polluted with toxic chemicals and there will be less food produced locally making everyone more dependent upon food imports. When the droughts and floods come, there won't be money to pay for those imports and the worldly world will turn its selfish way.

What we promote: Where the flesh and spirit are a continuum

Now, coming back again to other specific things we will promote and do, we will promote clean, healthy living: Good nutrition and all the rest. Smoking, illicit-drug use, unrestrained alcohol consumption, wanton sex, and other manifestations of uncontrolled appetites will be viewed for what they are: Antithetical to the body being the temporal vessel of the soul and the temple of God as the kingdom is within and the dwelling place of the Holy Spirit. The body we know, by the power of the Almighty, is capable of being transfigured, but that is not a license to selfishness and libertinism. Such treatment shows a lack of being able to care for the small things so that one may not be able to care for the greater or the many. There is nothing good that comes of defilement. Don’t partake.

We are not to test God. God’s protection comes out of righteousness, not carelessness.

This is not to deny that there is a place where the flesh, by virtue of ultimate faith in God, can withstand anything. It is not something to test however. It is to be used only when it is truly needed that is when it is consistent with, and therefore conducive to, the prophecy. Denying oneself runs contrary to testing God. Let us remain consistent. Jesus was transfigured and resurrected. He did not though cave into the temptations to test God as advocated by Satan.

Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. (Matthew 4:7).

Ye shall not tempt the LORD your God. (Deuteronomy 6:16).

And the people thirsted there for water; and the people murmured against Moses, and said, Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst? And Moses cried unto the LORD, saying, What shall I do unto this people? they be almost ready to stone me. And the LORD said unto Moses, Go on before the people, and take with thee of the... elders of Israel; and thy rod, wherewith thou smitest the river, take in thine hand, and go. Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Horeb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight of the elders of Israel. And he called the name of the place Massah, and Meribah, because of the chiding of the children of Israel, and because they tempted the LORD, saying, Is the LORD among us, or not? (Exodus 17:3-7).

Never doubt that God will take care of you in the end if you are righteous. No matter what happens to your body or your life in the flesh, God will see to your soul. It certainly isn't worth living an unrighteous life just to live the fleshly life.

Concerning the pastoral and wilderness aspects of the communes to the extent that will be possible, nothing written here should preclude in anyone's mind the distinct probability that we would create vast orchards and vineyards and plant whole forests. Therefore, we will be most interested in freshwater supplies and containment such as cisterns and rain barrels other ecologically sound means of water stewardship. We look to the day when the deserts are reclaimed with forests of properly mixed trees and with unpolluted lakes and streams flowing with clean, healthy freely running waters.
Freely running waters

Nature does not have to be the enemy

Freely running waters are so much more important than the vast majority of people think. The damming and controlling of water is being overdone. It is done with too many massive, single projects rather than with less invasive, smaller, more integrated and thoughtful projects. The long-term ramifications are all but ignored for the sake of short-term, fleeting gains. It is working against God's natural way rather than with it. It treats nature as the enemy. It treats water as the enemy. It has caused problems most are yet to connect with the humanist mentality. Such efforts are always selfish.

The people who undertake the massive projects do not feel the land. They do not become in tune with the rhythms of nature as God planned them. They cannot sense what is the healthy cycling of all the elements that sustain the life of the flesh as the temporary vessel of the eternal soul. They are out of sync with God's plan and design. They are choking the life of the planet and will themselves be spewed out.

Humans are to work unselfishly with God's natural design and not against it. That is the message. Balance and harmony will not be achieved via treating nature as the enemy. We make ourselves the enemy that way, and we cannot prevail through rebellion against God's nature. It will always have the upper hand, even when humans finally imagine that they have power over everything through selfishly motivated technology. Dominion comes to those who serve. That too is the message.

Beaver dams

Beavers, for instance, work with nature. They build their dams as part of the ecosystem. Only selfish, thoughtless, shortsighted dams are inherently evil. They are rebellious. In the true-wild, beaver dams are not the least bit rebellious. Can you see that?

This is not to say that we advocate taking all our cues from zoology or that we advocate theozooology (coercive eugenics). We don't. Humanity is to lead into the higher spiritual realm. It can't do that by being an animal on the level of the mundane beaver. We just shouldn't fight nature. We should do righteousness to soothe nature.

Contribute

We need many tributaries of support to channel into bringing forth the fruit, the real bounty going out. As Jesus said, one must not start to build without the funds to see it through; else everyone will laugh when the project stops for lack of money. It will take offerings and tithes and better to do that.

Of course, when the cause is Real Christianity, those who reject giving, thereby serve to thwart the cause of righteousness. That speaks volumes about them and their risking damnation rather than speaking negatively about the cause. They murdered Jesus after all, and his cause was just.
As more people join the church and as more funds come in at the same time, we will be able to get ready without running into blockages to progress.

Spread the word

Encourage people to download the book from our site.

Give the word to those in authority on the federal, state, county, and other local levels. Give it to those elected and appointed. Give it to people on all levels in business. Give it to international leaders and those in authority in other nations. Help see to it that the word gets out. Let people know that right and wrong truly are divided along the line that separates unselfishness from selfishness. Inform them that taking a position of neutrality or being indecisive is being part of the problem.

US Library of Congress discriminates against start-up publishing companies

This is important, because the US Library of Congress discriminates against start-up publishing companies.

In order to be eligible for registration in the Library of Congress's Cataloging-in-Publication Data, according to the Library of Congress, "publishers who have published the works of fewer than three different authors are ineligible." Of course, the Real Liberal Christian Church Press, as of the first edition of There is No Such Thing as a Conservative-Republican Christian: Jesus is a small-c communist, has not published the works of three or more different authors. Why does this matter? The Library of Congress's Cataloging-in-Publication Data is used by libraries for card cataloging books. Without this registration, each library must manually create the data for its cataloging system. Bibliographical information entered into the Cataloging-in-Publication Data by the Library of Congress may be downloaded by libraries saving those libraries much manual data entry and allowing them immediately to shelve books per the Dewey decimal classification number or Library of Congress Classification system letter-numbers pre-assigned by the Library of Congress. Without being in that database, a book will have different bibliographical data entered at each library and may be shunned by libraries due to the little bit of extra work entailed in manually cataloging the book. As library patrons, those interested in furthering this work may ask various libraries to carry this work. If they are at first unwilling, find out why. You may be able to overcome their objections. The more people who request a given library to carry a particular book, the more likely it will be that that library will obtain some copies or take donated copies from patrons.

It is a shame that the Library of Congress discriminates this way. Even a best-selling author deciding to self-publish would be ineligible. Regardless of what else it does, this discriminatory policy serves to protect large, traditional publishing houses. Of course, there are readymade excuses waiting for any who raise the subject with the Library of Congress. Insufficient funding is one such excuse. Of course, the publishing houses have a selfish, vested interest in using their lobbying and political-campaign-donation power and their current power over what is published via major publishing houses to bring to bear. This maintains the current policy to lower the exposure of dissident voices including the voice of truth-tellers who would otherwise be found more frequently in school, public, and other libraries. Now, the large publishing houses and those they support in the US Congress and those who support the policy in the Library of Congress will take offense at this when they ought to simply stand corrected. Such is the nature of the selfish spirit.

See to it that the news media are aware of the Real Church. Talk about it with them. It is a grassroots movement. Spread the word to all the political-party organizations and managers and their staffs. Encourage organizations and members to visit the site and to download and read this work. Spread the word to churches, synagogues, mosques, temples, ashrams, shrines, and any and all other ostensible spiritual places. Write about it. Write of it in your weblog (blog).

Add links to the Church's website or if you cannot create a hypertext link where you are writing, still write the website address or at least its domain (RealLiberalChristianChurch.org).

Write poems and songs. Do whatever you are able to shine the light.

To spread the word about self-published books, businesses within the publishing industry ask self-publishers and small publishers to sign expensive contracts. Rich, traditional churches can afford that. The Real Liberal Christian Church while in its start-up phase will be operating on a shoestring and will not be able to afford such contracts. It must depend upon the zeal of those moved by the spirit to spread the word so that the work to feed the lambs and sheep can be finally put where it belongs in the order of priority for the real Christian: First and foremost along with all the rest of the good. So please help with all your soul, mind, and strength to spread the word and to raise funds for this worthiest of all causes.

Print out, bind, and give copies to the following:

- Associations
- Bible colleges
- Bible-study groups
- Communes and other communist-living groups
- Educational institutions

College philosophy, political science, and religious studies/theology departments and instructors (of course, this work touches upon all things academic)

Seminaries

Foundations

Libraries: public and private; school libraries; churches and other religious organizations

Magazines

Newspapers and others in the news media

Political clubs and other organizations

Radio stations, networks, and calling-in shows

Television stations and networks
Elected and appointed officials Governments on all levels (federal, state, county, and local) International leaders Political party organizations, managers, and staff
Religious organizations: churches, synagogues, mosques, temples, ashrams, shrines, and any and all other ostensible spiritual places

The list could go on and on. There really is no limit. Everyone may be approached. It is all evangelizing and proselytizing. The object is to turn people. It is to convert people. It is to spread the word and to get on with the work that has been left undone since the earliest churches. We don't want to be found not doing the work. It is the very least we can do.

And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants. (Luke 12:38).

When ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do. (Luke 17:10).
Above and beyond the traditional call of duty

To be truly adding, bountiful, and profitable, we must go above and beyond the call of duty. We must be the spirit of the commandments.

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (John 15:15).

Remember also though that in raising funds, we don't want to be rich in the worldly sense. We seek always to remember the words of the prophet Micah as follows:

The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us. (Micah 3:11).

This is the way it still is today in the false churches.

Plan, execute, and follow up

Coordinate your efforts with others. Organize yourselves. Plan, execute, and follow up. Stay in the spirit in whatever you do.
Shy: Abused, sinful, needing rescuing

If you are shy in groups as so many of us are, you were abused into it and you became more selfish and sinful as a result.

The causal chain of shyness goes back to the beginning. The loving and abusive environment actually directed evolution. It manifested the defense mechanisms, some of which were themselves abusive, selfish, sinful reactions, which for many bring fear and shame and shyness. The flesh has been brought forth attempting to adapt in spiritual blindness but affording us the opportunity to reach enlightenment that is universal unselfishness within the whole house.

It may appear to be a paradox, but as we have seen, there are no real paradoxes but rather only ignorance of the infinite and absolute.

Unselfishness that is magnified by an ever-enlarging group breaks the causal chain of shyness, anxiety, depression, violence, and depravity, etc. It frees souls to go down the new path, to take the new/old narrow way.

It requires realizing one's own sins and the sins of the fathers, and mothers, and stopping that sinful behavior. It requires souls realizing that human beings are particularly blessed and cursed with the human brain matter (form and function) manifest by the spirit(s).

It requires realizing what constitutes selfishness that is iniquity, immediately and ultimately harmful. Is one, are we, better off, best off, with or without a given behavior? Where does a given behavior lead? What does it bring forth? What are its fruits? Does it promote the healing faith or destroy it? Which spirit is it? Which spirit is which?

Jesus came to enlighten the world about this. He was not wrathful. He was not coercive. He knew though that iniquity must be cut away and burned up: Purged.

The point is that there would be no cutting away or burning up were there no iniquity, bringing forth in selfishness. Iniquity is the cause for the need for rescuing the righteous and faithful. Love rescues, but the real love is turning from iniquity in the first place or before the soul has to go into the worst of the hellfire, which exists as utter falsehood and torment, so much so that no soul ought possibly imagine that the consequences of apostasy are not the hellfire of one’s own mistaken choosing. Will they ever turn?

Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord. (Matthew 21:9).

As for shyness, remember, Moses had to have his brother do his public speaking for him early on. We will allow our confidence to grow in the spirit. It serves the purposes of those who wish to continue taking unfair advantage of people that people remain intimidated. The Lord said that the spirit will give you a mouth and the words to speak. Would Jesus lie? Jesus also taught us that there are times to be silent.
Buy the truth

If you are speaking to truth and people do not like you, it is their fault and not yours. If they reject you, they are rejecting Jesus and our Father. You do not have to measure up to their false, contrived standards. That is how they make themselves feel superior, by making others feel inadequate. That is their constant marketing message that unless you buy into everything they say, you are no good. They are completely wrong and, therefore, selling what you do not need. Don’t buy it. Jesus said buy into the truth.

Be yourself, and strive with all your strength for the spirit of wholesomeness that is healthy in every way: Heart, emotion, mind, reason, body, and soul. You are truly loved only through the spirit. All those who truly love God will know you if you too truly love God with your all. That's what will see you through.

Be real and not a contrivance of commercial marketing and other rebelliousness and confusion.

Nevertheless, watch and see when you begin to help with support and work and to speak about it. You will be amazed at the way people you would have thought would love to help will shun you and work to undermine your efforts. Fortunately, if you persevere, you will find people who will be the opposite. When our numbers swell, it will become easier.

Moved by the Holy Spirit to self-start

People will have to be self-starters moved by the spirit. You will have to take the initiative to engage in the cause. The spirit is alive. How it will be manifested exactly through this movement is not known to any human being on earth. We must take a wait and see attitude as we go forward taking actual steps. No one should expect all the red tape to be worked out in advance. Much of what will happen will be crossing bridges when we come to them. This is how it was even for Jesus. He went with the flow of the Holy Spirit within.

As this movement gathers momentum, there will be those who will seek to thwart it. The greater the momentum, the more concerted will be the effort to derail the movement. If people join with the view of never stopping ever again on the path of real liberalism that is real Christianity, no matter the terrible things people will say against us together and as individuals, there will be no stopping this cause. That is the prophecy. This movement wins. It is a forgone conclusion.

People with great wherewithal will be moved to give much so that we may obtain what we will need. They will change their beneficiaries to include our Real Liberal Christian Church. They will convert assets to help. When things are ready, some who have given generously will become member-workers and missionaries helping to set up additional communes.

Not for the faint at heart

This next point is narrow. I mentioned early on the story of Jesus watching the poor widow throwing into the treasury her whole living. (Mark 12:44). Now, that poor widow was alright after that. She had faith (no doubt) and was not looking for recompense. Now what if some threw in all and were not alright afterward? Were they scammed or did they lack faith? The point is that we don't want people to throw in all if they are not going to be alright afterward. If they doubt, they will be testing and will fail. For those who are unsure, be as the rich ones Jesus watched contributing. They, unlike the poor widow, threw in a percentage of what they had.

Putting one's full faith in God by giving everything is not for the faint at heart, especially during these unfortunately hardhearted times when there are not already places such as the real-liberal communes we are devising to which people may turn for both the spiritual food and the food for the body and to help still others help yet others. Monks in monasteries who take vows of poverty, for instance, have built in support mechanisms in the monastic organization. When we have created communes and have openings, then people giving everything will have such support.

Is telling people not to give all if they will not be alright afterward or is creating communes promoting doubt in God's provisioning? No. God can lift people out of destitution solely on their faith. We though are charged to feed the lambs and sheep in body and soul through faith in God translated into deeds that go beyond duty to friendship and real love. It is a good thing. It shines the light rather than promotes doubt. It magnifies.

Backsliders will give all while worrying about recompense. They will not have done it absent all doubt. They will not have sought first righteousness and then had everything added to them as an after effect and not as any upfront consideration or motivation.

Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Matthew 6:31-33).

And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's, But he shall receive an hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life. (Mark 10:29-30).

Backsliders

They will have set themselves up for failure. They will have missed the message and will blame the message and messengers. They will not have understood how one may give up all and gain a hundred fold here and now, be mistreated, and then have eternal life.

Those who have faith to give all to build the communes will gain all the family in spirit who will live in those communes and then eternally in the world to come. There will be hundreds of hundreds. There will be many, many houses. There will be much land. It will be everyone's. They will be ridiculed, and some worse, for helping in the name of Jesus. They will though have shown themselves worthy of eternal life free of evil if they do it all in earnest. It is beyond the duty of the Old Testament law. It is what Jesus said one must do to become perfect. The point is that we need to create such places where people may turn. We must create places hospitable to the peace of the Lord. Let us work to grow such places so that they will spread out until the whole of the earth is in that spirit, which it will be one day.

In the time of Jesus, his Apostles could depend upon the generosity and hospitality of their fellow Jews and others. It was the custom of the time. It is a fairly lost spirit today. This is why it takes great faith today. This is an evil generation. It is a guarded, distrustful, generation. That is, because, among other reasons, there have been and are so many false shepherds. People just do not know the truth when they hear it. They think everyone has to be selfish. It isn't so. In Jesus's time, the people understood that those teaching the message of Jesus were genuine. The people today must come to be able to hear and trust the truth again. Due to all the negativism and selfishness that has built up via rabid capitalism, we know that people need places to go when they give all to the cause. It is doing what God does. It is what God wants us to do.

Donating farms

People may consider that if they have a fertile farm free and clear but no family left to run it, they could turn it into a commune. People could be of immense help in converting old family farms into Real Liberal Christian Church Communes.

Organic

There are many people who were raised in agriculture who could easily learn organic and vegetarian methods, not that we will prohibit members who eat meat. We just believe that the more vegetarianism, the further the food will go.

It is also easier on the land as we have explained. It is healthier for the body also.

Monsanto Corporation, continued

Why organic? In addition to the reasons cited concerning the animal-meat industry and all the toxic chemicals associated with that industry and all the synthetic fertilizer runoff problems with non-organic agricultural practices, almost half of the corn in 2006 America approved for human consumption by the US Department of Agriculture has been genetically modified. It has been reported that Monsanto Corporation conducted research that showed rats fed genetically modified corn developed smaller than normal kidneys. They also had abnormal blood. Rats fed on normal corn were completely healthy. Monsanto Corporation has refused to reveal the complete research findings claiming that it contains proprietary information that commercial competitors could use.

Now why would genetically modified corn cause smaller kidneys and abnormal blood? There are other products besides corn that have been stealthily modified and put out on the market that nearly everyone in America eats, some more than others. The reason this is a problem is because those who develop that corn and other genetically modified food have as their highest priority the financial gain of the corporations for which they work and in which many of them are invested. Their prime motive is not what is ultimately best for all the people. Whenever what is truly best is not the highest motive, the negative consequences of selfishness creep into the results. Hence, there will be problems with genetically modified corn and other foods, the result of this misplaced emphasis. This is no guess. It is a fail-proof pattern for recognizing the dark spirit and its fruits. Selfishness begets ill health. That's the way of it.

Ocean dead zone

Organic farming, sustainable agriculture, and the rest constitute good stewardship. It does not for instance cause algae blooms in the oceans that create dead zones thousands of miles large such as happens currently in the Gulf of Mexico from the runoff from the Mississippi River for instance. Such dead zones are showing up around the world largely as a result of nitrogen fertilizers. Human greed and carelessness is killing portions of God's oceans. The non-organic advocates hate organic farming, because they hate not being able to make a profit from their synthetic concoctions that invariably cause problems because they come out of selfish hearts. No good comes of a selfish heart.

Composting

The use of compost to rebuild the soil is inherent in organic farming. Composting is an art. It is human effort in tune with God’s nature. It is a science. People have studied exactly what should and should not be composted along with when and how, etc. Our commune members will become expert in this and the other fields associated with organic farming.

There is also something known as no-till organic farming. The Fukuoka method helps keep the soil in a stable condition. It also takes only about twenty percent of the labor of more mechanized methods. It produces enough grain for human consumption but not enough to feed herds. It is just one of the no-till methods available. In addition to being less hard-labor intensive, no-till farming does not promote soil erosion. This and other techniques are all worth considering, working with, and further using where sensible.

Greenhouses and hothouses

Since we will want our communes to feed their members, we will definitely not be single-crop farmers. Also, since the weather will vary from place to place and other conditions will vary, we will want to investigate the use of greenhouses and hothouses.
Cuban farming

Does sustainable, organic farming work? Cuba was cut off from most petrochemicals with the down fall of the Soviet Union. Cuba is now apparently the most organic farming country in the world. They grow most of their food on small worker-owned cooperatives. They use earthworms for composting; crop rotation and companioning crop methods; pest-controlling plants, fungi, beneficial insects; draft animals; and more.

Skills and gifts needed

We will need people covering many skills: All the trades and crafts, teachers, and healthcare practitioners with emphasis upon natural forms of healing.

The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest. (Luke 10:2).

As alluded to above, we would rather practice preventative medicine by living healthfully. We do not want simply to be masking symptoms after diseases have manifested, causing additional diseases, as so many so-call healthcare practitioners do. In no way will our preventative approach be construed to mean that we do not believe in the power of the spirit to heal. All healing is of God.
Faith in God or faith in Satan

We must create a world in which criminal-background checks, capitalist insurance and bonding, violent and coercive policing, and the like become irrelevant. This is possible only if we the people come to understand the truth of free choice to rise out of all the evil that we have allowed through our ignorance and selfishness to control us. It is possible if we come to believe the truth that God will do the right thing in protecting the worthy.

God will do the background checks. God will be the insurance. Our workers, volunteers, and clergy (every member of the Church) will rise above the feelings, thoughts, words, and deeds that devour and ruin. We will be united in strict, fulltime observance of the divine law of unselfishness. We will love and treat each other as Jesus taught and did. We will be moved by the Holy Spirit, conflated, to feel the right, ultimately unselfish, decisions. The people must understand the truth.

But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. (Matthew 18:6).

Those words are the truth. Those who are tempted knowingly to violate the law are not sufficiently educated to fear the divine law. The law of love is also the law of just consequences. The spirit will mete that out here and now and there and later. It will be meted out for everyone's edification. Learn here and now before the consequences are much worse. Don't heap up punishment by falling to temptation and especially by tempting, ruining, and violating others. Don't fall for the lie that one can do whatever one wants in this life and then there is annihilation as in no conscious experience of suffering consequences for evil, selfish choices made in the here and now.

Let all who think to join the Church think twice.
In the end, there is zero toleration for what evil minds want tolerated. We do not esteem all that is endured even though we recognize the rightful authority from on high. There is forgiveness but zero toleration. We shall sow mercy always, but we will not respect, esteem, or honor selfishness though selfishness punishes selfishness. It also punishes and ruins unselfishness. Therein is where Satan's road of departure from God begins. We do not resist with violence. We do not retaliate. All such would be leading away from the narrow way.
We will not coerce, but heathens are not parts of the whole, the Church. We will consider in grace the plight of all, but when the time comes,
the sheep will be separated from the goats.

Ananias and his wife Sapphira both lied to God, tempting the Spirit of the Lord. Each instantly dropped dead when each was confronted and discovered by Peter. (Acts 5:1-11). The more spirit-filled the situation and circumstances, the more plainly recognizable, the more clearly undeniable, the consequences are for going astray. They are directly connected. They are more than coincidence, always. Those who doubt this doubt God and will suffer the consequences. It is love and justice together as they must be. Don't fall to temptation or ruination. Let us be corrected. Only therein lies real gain, real profit.

We will teach real Christianity. In so doing, it will be necessary to compare and contrast. We will learn and teach the history of religion. We will teach science, but we will teach overcoming that is arriving at no doubts without testing or tempting God, as Jesus taught Peter and others. We will teach crediting God.

Natural buildings

We will build natural buildings (maybe cob or bale or some other method) and furniture and cabinetry, etc.

Cross-training

Hardly any skill or trade in the mundane world will not translate into an unselfish gift one may contribute to the whole. Everyone will have an opportunity to move about, cross-training in a wide variety of skills. It will keep things interesting and better prepare the people to meet adversity.

The knowledge of older, less polluting-energy-intensive and more manual-labor-intensive styles of doing things will be good to know and use where applicable. These methods employ more people rather than employing more power equipment and literal robotic machines to replace skilled people. They are also almost always more environmentally sound.
Spending with a social conscience

Since much of what will be made will be for the communes, the point will not be on being price competitive in the capitalistic marketplace. There are people who will rather have something made in one of our communes just because that will further the effort rather than having something just because of a lower price. There are people who spend their money with a social conscience.

On taking money from those who gained it by selfish means

Money represents a system of agreement to selfishness that has led to competition at the expense of the better way of cooperation. It is a system of withholding even the basic necessities of life from the poor where there is not the prospect of recompense and private gain for the expropriators.

There are two ways of viewing the motivation behind that event. The first is that selfishness first came into the heart of the person who began agriculture. The second is that selfishness first came into the heart of a different person who expropriated the product of the agricultural effort. In the first instance, the reaction was resistance on the part of the one toiling in the field for the sake of the common good. In other words, the produce was shared fairly. In the second instance, the reaction could have been either of two reactions to the agricultural output. The first could have been someone unwilling to share fairly or someone taking by force all for self for the sake of controlling others. The second could have been from the perspective that all things coming forth from the earth regardless of any toil remain in the commons. That is a negative view toward the concept of expected recompense even of a particular kind constituting coerced labor or labor under nutritional duress.

In any case, there is an argument concerning human nature in the state of nature (uncivilized) and coming out of that state into what has been termed civilization. There are two basic competing human natures. The first nature is helping, giving, and sharing all without holding out for recompense. The second nature is selfish brutishness. Now, Christ knows that both natures, which are spirits, exist. The first is Godly and the second is satanic. He knows that the first is superior and will triumph.

Christ is an idealist. Satan, being inherently, by his chosen nature or spirit, and it is ultimately chosen since all people have the capacity to overcome, (being inherently) selfish, rejects perfecting humanity and demands that the only thing to do is to violently coerce a semblance of discipline over the selfish, brutish nature, spirit.

Capitalism rejects perfectible human nature

The current dominant economic system (the system of ordering the house that is the world) is capitalism. It is based upon the satanic spirit that rejects the perfectibility of human behavior and the path to that perfectibility that is freely chosen. In the case of some souls where the satanic spirit is intermingled with the pull of the godly, there can be at least the rejection of the rapid perfectibility of human behavior. In other words, capitalism is inherently disbelieving in the changeability of souls, is inherently pessimistic, and is gradualists at best while Christianity is inherently optimistic and idealistic and subscribes to the potential for the sudden quantum leap in spiritual change to enlightenment, from capitalism to post-capitalism.

Capitalism presupposes that people ought not share in what comes forth from the earth (the free gift of God for the continuation of the flesh vessel of the soul while it learns the higher knowledge of real life), unless they conform to the entire capitalistic system that is underpinned by false the premise and was begun without the consent of the governed. It is inherent appropriation (taking selfish, private title) of the commons, the inheritance of all.

So what does all that have to do with accepting money from those who gained it by selfish means? Well, what money is gained by selfish means other than money obtained by a free gift without the giver holding out for recompense (repayment, reward, interest, or anything but rather only for righteousness' sake) and that is stewarded for the sake of righteousness?

People have split personalities to the extent that they struggle between righteousness and evil. Amassing for selfish reasons is an evil. Having a real flash of conscience and releasing what is amassed for the sake of righteousness is a godly act. What are the otherwise beneficiaries of that act to do in such a case, return the money? If so, what money could have gone into the common treasury of the Apostles? Were the rich turned away from giving their relatively little percentages? No they were not. The Apostles took the funds without making any record and asking any questions about the source of the funds, since they knew that all unconverted money represents the fallen condition.

Look here. The system of money is not of the giving and sharing spirit. However, what is pent up in money can be released for the giving and sharing system. The money may have been obtained by evil means, but the holder can have a change of heart and seek to atone by freeing that money from selfishness and into unselfish purposes. That money than becomes dedicated to service. It is then consecrated and then converted. Consider the following:

Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor! Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold? And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is guilty. Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift? (Matthew 23:16-19).

Jesus's point is simply to show the hypocrisy of the scribes and Pharisees so that people would know better than to follow them. However, the point that the temple and altar sanctify is valid for our point. The purpose to which something is put is what determines the relative good or evil that is going on. Therefore, money from repenting, atoning people that is turned to creating the Real Christian commons is a good thing.

It isn't money that brings forth

Also, it isn't the money that brings forth. It is the righteous desire to repent and atone in the human heart, which desire is the movement of God within, that brings forth. That is why we don't have faith in the money (mammon) or in the system that created it. We have faith in the movement of the Holy Spirit to correct consciences.

What we will do is translate the common treasury into the common land and property where money will not be needed within the ever-widening community and network of communities. There will be absolutely no evil in this act.

We will accept the apologetic brother or sister as Christ accepts his repentant brother seventy times seven times and beyond that as shown by his loving and forgiving his murders, guilty of the mundane law and ignorant of the divine law. We will also not recompense any giver in that we will not treat the rich or poor any differently and will persevere and support one another in showing love in the face of hate. All are welcome to turn to God. We will give love regardless of whether it coincides with gifts. We will not be confined to like-kind reciprocation.
Christ is not confined to such reciprocation. He is not motivated out of a sense of such reciprocation. He continues to pay love for hate.

Turning money: Turning swords into plowshares

Turning the money in this way is the same as turning swords into plowshares.

Skills and gifts needed, continued

We will need people who understand self-sufficient, God-dependent, ecological living. That's no contradiction. We will need vegetarian and vegan cooks, people who know how to put up food for storage, people who know how to sew and knit and even spin yarn or make textiles from green cotton.

We will need others who understand solar and other power generation and all manner of environmentally sound methods including, but not limited to, biomass, geothermal, hydro, and wind. This includes methane energy from agriculture manure and human waste and from coal beds and landfills, etc. What we want is zero harmful-emissions energy.

If you don't want to be embedded or tracked by things such as Radio Frequency Identification Devices (RFID) or other technology, you will have to live outside the tech zone that will require such devices. As mentioned previously, communes that are free of that invasive technology will be a God send.

Being able to produce everything the communes need free of certain technologies will be required for living outside the evil zone. The evil zone will deliberately refuse to deal with those who won't accept the evil all the way. It will be all or nothing at all. Which side will inherit the new earth and new heaven?

Of course, the capitalists seek to soon be able to track everyone regardless of such devices. If they don't blow themselves up first, it's just a matter of time. Again, it really depends upon motive and trustworthiness.

Being outside their zone will also apply to all the polluting energy sources such as coal and nuclear being promoted for the production of hydrogen as a power storage (transfer) mode. We won't want to be stuck being dependent upon their energy grid, because they will attach unacceptable compromises.

Wind and solar and other far less polluting methods are vastly safer in every respect.

Self-sufficiency of communes in terms of safe and non-polluting energy production and distribution is a great idea heading into the future when fossil fuels will start winding down.

Oil sands and oil shale

Even if oil sands in Canada and the hundreds of billions of barrels of oil shale in Colorado, Utah, and Wyoming in the US are developed, they will still pose environmental dangers for furthering global warming beyond human toleration.
Hydrogen

The problem with the planned hydrogen economy as foreseen by the capitalists is that they plan to develop a whole new generation of private nuclear energy plants for the electricity to split water molecules to free up the hydrogen in the water for fuel. The reason they want that system is so that they can own it and charge everyone for the electricity and hydrogen so that they, the nuclear energy plant owners, can enrich themselves over and above all others and maintain control and power over everyone. A further problem with it is that the entire circle of nuclear energy from mining and leaching to nuclear waste storage is plagued by toxic dangers being denied and obfuscated by the nuclear industry. The whole process is designed to further enrich the rich at the expense of all.

They are lying when they say that there is no alternative to nuclear. It is a lie that alternative energy is incapable of meeting all the needs of the world. It isn't a matter of capability. It is a matter of cooperation and willingness.

With the amount of money that Bush-43 has spent on the Iraq War, just think of the public solar projects that could have been constructed to give all Americans energy. Think of the ripple effect, since money being spent on nonrenewables would than be freed up for productive pursuits.

Public works

Don't say public works don't work either, since the entire US super-highway system was a public-works project spearheaded by a relatively conservative Republican. Of course, now they are stupidly privatizing that system.

A much better plan than nuclear energy for hydrogen is collectively to use the sun and other free and non-polluting energy for electricity.

Who has calculated a project for converting the sun's energy for instance into enough electricity to completely replace all fossil fuels, nuclear energy, and all other toxic systems?

What stops public works?

What is to stop humanity from developing such a collective solar project? What is to stop humanity from developing such a project from the common purse, from general revenue, so that the output would be given freely and equally just as the sun shines freely? That way, no one would have to pay for electricity. What is to stop all projects from being undertaken in this way? The answer is that the only thing stopping it is those who have stolen everything. They have appropriated power and control under the guise of the consent of the governed.

The world has never democratically chosen capitalism

The people never consented to any such thing. When did the people have a choice? They certainly didn't have it at the founding of the United States. There was never any choice put to the people in any open, honest, direct, and thorough (uncensored) debate that included all the governed: Every woman, slave, Indian, bondservant, landless person, etc. The whole capitalist system was already in place and has been perpetuated into the sad state of affairs in which the world finds itself going to hell.

Put it to the vote

Put it to the global vote after an open, honest, direct debate. Capitalism would lose under a landslide. The so-called ideologues of democracy, the so-called idealists calling themselves neocons who claim to seek to free the world for democracy lie through their teeth. They would never let all the people vote on the people's measures.

Build environmentally and ecologically

We want to build environmentally and ecologically consciously and we want to live that way as well throughout all the communes. It is a major aspect to the Gospel message. We want to be the opposite of the destroyers of the earth.

Scientific environmental knowledge

Just because we are saying that the current mainstream notion of modernity is misguided does not mean that we are disinterested in scientific environmental knowledge. We are in favor of such knowledge. It is unselfish knowledge. It is not moving away from God into human arrogance but just the opposite if we really head in the direction of the spirit of environmentalism.
Not nature worship but the thoughtful concern for others

It is not nature worship. It is glorifying the creator by respecting God's creation-gift that so many humans have heretofore disrespected. We are to do our best with what we have been given. We are not to make matters worse. When put into practice for righteousness' sake and without the motivation of personal recompense, environmentalism will nevertheless benefit all here and now. Jesus is not against it. It is not an affront to God. It is respectful more than anything. Righteousness is its own recompense or reward. In the end, it is the only right thing to do.

We are not saying in this that any damage humanity does cannot be cleaned up by God. God has that power and will do it in the end.

The fact though that we are not going to live at cross-purposes to God's design is what is important. Why should we mess things up that God should have to clean up after us anyway? What kind of respect is that? How does that show concern for one's fellow human beings or fellow Christians?

People are just mistaken that they can profess Jesus and then sit back realizing that God will clean it all up and that, therefore, they would only be getting in the way or upsetting the prophecy by pitching in. Jesus made clear that we are most certainly to pitch in with our all on all fronts. God will clean up through God's creation and God's power. We are part of God's creation. We are to be God's tools on earth.

Of course there are priorities. Preventing deaths from the lack of giving and sharing is highest.
We want people to be alive to save their souls here. The whole fits together. A clean environment saves lives. A clean environment is consistent with a clean heart. We are not talking about being clean on the outside and defiled on the inside. We are talking about being pure, which means through and through, so that the good things inside become manifest outside for the good sake of all. Let us prioritize together and execute.

The superrich let tens of thousands die in pain and suffering each day on purpose
Let’s not have people saying not so fast as if we are stealing. We will not be reckless or unreasonably impatient, but we are not to procrastinate. We have allowed tens of thousands of our relatives to die everyday from neglect. It is an indictment against the human race. It gives the accuser Satan cause to complain about us. Humanity is properly rebuked for this appalling situation. Let us correct it.

Not lazy, but mindful
This does not mean that there will never be time for anything but being careful and troubled about many things while leaving the good part not chosen.

Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her. (Luke 10:38-42).

"Martha was cumbered about much serving." She was a good person whom Jesus loved.

Martha aimed to please, but she was so wound up that she was missing what Mary was gaining. Mary was taking the time that was truly available. Nothing was really urgent that Martha was about doing. Jesus would not always be there to listen to. Mary grasped that and consequently more. There would always be time for fussing about making everything just-so for guests. However, if one spends all one's time on that, one never really spends the time getting to know anyone. Jesus was also easily satisfied. He said he did not come to be ministered to. It was right and proper that Martha wanted to see to his needs, but she was doing that to the exclusion of something else she needed to be careful to absorb. We need to be mindful of that always. Otherwise, we will work ourselves into a futile frenzy. Therefore, when we do all our work, we must be constantly in the spirit of that "good part" of which Jesus spoke. Then we will do right.

This by no means excuses people being lazy. Jesus said, "Thou art careful and troubled about many things: But one thing is needful." He said, "One thing is needful." She was to do what she was doing plus something. He wasn't saying she should stop serving. This is consistent with Jesus's admonitions to the Pharisees who tithed but neglected the weightier matters. Jesus was looking for an addition from Martha. Therefore, one should never use Martha as an excuse for laziness.

Jesus is more than our houseguest. His spirit is within. We are to do both things. We are to serve and absorb. Both things take time. We are to make time for both. The time for work is at hand even while we continue to absorb. It was not that Mary was being lazy. She was in the spirit that is enthusiastically willing to do the deeds Jesus has asked us to do. Mary would not have appreciated Jesus as she did and then later refuse to help with the work of feeding the lambs and sheep. It would be impossible for Mary to have grasped the revelation and then refuse. We are to feed the lambs and sheep together as soon as possible. We cannot do that and be entertaining ourselves all day or working for profit that sees only our selfish uses. There is no service in selfish entertainment and self-centered work.

Knowing the priorities

This is to know the priorities and balance them. It was a priority at the time for Mary to focus upon drinking in every thing Jesus had to offer.
while he was still with his friends in the flesh. After he left in the flesh, he expected his followers to continue to grow in the spirit and become better able, therefore, to bring forth. Where's the fruit? Do you want the Son of man to return to find that the people have done little to nothing and that you are doing nothing to change that? "When the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?" (Luke 18:8).

The Apostles began the work, but then the focus was lost after they were gone, most as martyrs to the cause of that very work that was allowed to stop: Remembering the needy. The vision shifted to never having the real kingdom come to earth; the needy did not have to be remembered. The princes of human kingdoms and not God's kingdom were allowed to usurp the message for the cause of their own willful lust for power.

Remembering the needy, however, is how the kingdom will come. If no one does the work, it is sinning. There will be no one worthy of salvation. The word is that willful dullness is no excuse. That is what the whole revelation is all about, even though it contains the simultaneous message of the mercy of God. God is merciful, but let us give God what God wants from us: The meritorious deeds (above the old duty we have been taught) are worthy of salvation.

To start with, this mission can use what Jesus and the Apostles and other disciples had. It must have a treasury funded to further spread the word of truth that means doing the deeds. We must be able to forward the work in a godly way. The followers of Jesus must show that they revere his instructions. If they withhold, they give the message a bad image among those yet to decide.

Hearts are even harder now due to brainwashing commercialism

Hearts are even harder now than in Jesus's time. People are extremely guarded, suspicious, skeptical, and steeped in the notions of self-preservation and reproduction. The techniques they use to discredit the purging and redemptive power of repentance, atonement, and forgiveness have been perfected over thousands of years. Their marketing system is a self-deluding, self-feeding, entropic (unsustainable) mechanism. It turns science and technology and statistical probability and other arts to the pursuit of darkness. They change people's minds creating doubt about trusting in God's way. This must be overturned. They work to create trust in people's minds about money and all the contrivances of mind that precede and follow. This is the stimulation of greed and competition over sharing and cooperation. It is doomed, and the people must come to realize it.

The hardhearted have been largely responsible for the vast majority of people forgetting how to raise food or live on the land without raping it. We must learn how to bring forth the fruits in ways only beneficial to the planet so that the spirits of many may follow who otherwise would be lost.

If we create a haven that becomes a light, we will be doing truth. If we spread havens far and wide, we will be spreading truth far and wide and reaching souls. When the havens encompass the world, the world will have come into the fruition of heaven on earth. It will be one.

Contextual revelatory language

Collectively, we are humanity or human kind. We are a kind, a form. We reflect our roots. That is what is meant by that we were created in God's image. That is what Jesus meant when he said some are of the serpent. They have been made over in the spirit of falling to temptation and sinning. So how can humans be both in the image of God and of the serpent? It is contextual. It concerns the absolute and the relative and whether one will ever return making one's fruit only good. We can do it.

God created all of us. People fall away. If we return all the way, we are completely God's children again. If we do not return, we never were God's children. This is not contradictory. It is contextual. All God's real children return. Those who never return fell away into another spirit forever and are, therefore, by definition, not the children of God and never were. They are and were always of that other spirit, the enemy who sowed those who bring forth evil and rotten fruit. They doom themselves as the forever spiritually blind falling into the ever-increasing temptation of selfishness: Rebellion against the real righteousness.

Justice: Finally proportionate and equal Turning and proceeding back to God is a journey. If the journey is deficient, entry is inaccessible. Not all those who do not make it through will have sinned equally. God is just. The payment is relative to the sin. Justice is finally proportionate that is how it is equal.

Evil emotions defile, but good emotions purify

The final disposition of our hearts known by our actions, speak of that spirit from which we derive and not our creator. Our words and deeds speak of the spirit in which we are rooted. Our words and deeds are though transformational always. Those who doubt it doubt Jesus when he said that evil words spoken by us defile us. The reverse is also true. Righteous words spoken by us consistent with righteous deeds reform us, remake us, and make our fruit good. This is why Jesus said make our fruit either good or bad. Make it good, or it is bad. We are not stuck here and now. We may change before it becomes too late, but we will be stuck outside until all is paid if we wait too long.

Even then, Jesus makes clear that there is a way out after paying the last farthing. Why continue to increase the debt? Why not buy into truth and, thereby, decrease the debt?

That is why we need these havens. We need places where the spirit abounds, where people may live, eat, breathe, and sleep in the spirit, where they may work in the spirit and study in the spirit, where they can shine like the brightest stars as lights to illuminate the world.
Sons of man?

Within this concept of making our fruit good and returning to our roots as the children of God and siblings and friends of Jesus, one must understand that the Son of man covers the spectrum of those who were given that designation in The Bible. There are sons of man (human kind) who are extremely wrathful, and there are sons of man who are not. Loosing patience lets loose extreme wrath. That is why we are to learn complete self-control of all the appetites, including the appetite for revenge. It must be replaced with the appetite for peace. Evil people are killed, but at what expense? What is profited, but what is lost?

Jesus, per se, was not every Son of man in The Bible. Each Son of man heard different things from the spirit. Each interpreted based upon his own nature and nurturing. None who came before Jesus had Jesus for hindsight. Jesus showed how we are not to be wrathful. Jesus never called down destruction. He left it for the consequences of truth to take care of all things. It is perfect. Truth removes those souls who would destroy everything were they left to their selfish devices.

Cleansing the temple

Jesus went into the temple with the cords in his hand and frightened everyone out and drove out the animals and freed the birds and turned over the tables and scattered all the money all over the place. He did it not in a fit of rage. He was not punishing. He was not avenging. He did not have blood in his eyes. It was a foreshadowing. It was a wake-up call. It was the loving warning cry of the prophet to the people to clean the temple: Their hearts. The Bible does not say that Jesus whipped the people. The cords were frightening and intimidating no doubt. He had to move all sorts of animals, both small and large (bull oxen even), the thieves had in the temple. They were selling sacrifices. It was a money-making scheme that was doing the people no good at all. God did not want sacrifices. God wants mercy. That's what the self-sacrifice of Jesus was: Mercy.

God also wants us to overturn the current economic system. No one can buy the way into heaven with mere mammon, and no one can sell real heaven for mammon. The only way in is through the heart.

Jesus was warning the people about themselves. He was warning them about humanity. He was warning them about the limited patience of the Roman Empire for one. The Romans were sons of man after all. They too were human kind. Jesus told the people that if they took up the sword, the Romans would wipe them out, which happened. Jesus was warning people about their own natures made so by the spirit they had chosen to follow. The Roman Empire was the instrument of purging in anger but at what cost? Where was the profit? Who gained what? There was profit but at what expense? How many faithful were there who were saved? The cries for justice were heard. It was all avoidable yet it wasn't. It is the same now leading up to the next huge tribulation that will be for the world rather than the one that was for Israel. It was a foreshadowing for the whole world. The world will be cleansed.
What the children need

We need havens to teach peace rather than war just as Jesus did. We need them to raise children in the ways of peace and not to be dissuaded into war. They must not fear to tell the world but overcome it. We need places without any weapons and without any stimuli to violence. The children need to be able to grow up not in the spirit of dog-eat-dog and cutthroat competition but in the spirit of cooperation, peace, love, and the truth of those good spirits in unity. We need places where the lust of the flesh is always under control and not stimulated by contrived false beauty: Really ugliness. The brighter the light of truth, the better we may see true inner beauty.

We are not to be as the Romans were. We are not to make killing a sport. It is not fun but sick to kill people or watch. We are not to be sadistic but rather compassionate. Neither are we to be masochistic as with self-mutilation and other violence that is craved in twisted emotion and thought. We are not to be deluded into being the instrument of the unprofitable purging of human life. That is the vicious downward spiral. That instrumentality furthers the loss of souls. There is the living proof of shepherds who are ravening wolves in sheep’s clothing pretending to be God’s workers or otherwise harmless. They are the current thieves in the temple. They are so deceptive they work at self-deception. They hide the truth of their selfish motivation in the dark recesses of their minds so that they may have the exterior appearance of angels to themselves and others. Their deeds though, their lack of the real fruit, reflect their true, inner, selfish being.

People have been burned and are afraid of fire. They are afraid of being misled again. The feeling of disillusionment is painful, and people work hard to avoid experiencing it again. People become anxious and even panicky about missing something that might tell them whom not to aid. Remember the Sermon on the Mount. "And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain." (Matthew 5:41).

It means go beyond traditional duty. It means don't strike back at evil. It means take advantage of the situation to do good to others and to proselytize to them with the soft sell that they will either love or hate. It doesn't mean do evil or walk with evil in one's heart.

Remember also the Parable of the Good Samaritan.

A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. (Luke 10:30).

Rich in the spirit and not in mammon

We say that we all are to be as wise as the serpent. We are not to fall in among thieves and thorn bushes where the seed sprouts but is choked out. We do not want to aid or facilitate any in the magnification of evil. Therefore, rest assured that this ministry will not divert funds making anyone rich in the worldly sense. Such worldly riches come from the seed of deceitfulness. Our member-workers will not starve or go homeless or naked for lack of concern by other members, but they will not be in it for the money or for selfish reasons. They will not love money or put their trust in money. We do not want to be individually rich in the worldly sense. All will share all and without harming the earth but rather saving the world. We want to be rich in the spiritual sense. We must therefore construct with foresight.

Help us by sharing the proceeds of capitalism that you have, and come by, to turn those to this most righteous cause. It will be ironic. It will be poetic justice. It will be in fulfillment of the scripture.

He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver. (Job 27:17).

The wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just. (Proverbs 13:22).

There are people today giving tens and hundreds of thousands, even millions, and sometimes billions of US dollars to causes that are not close to the kingdom. Much of that giving simply facilitates the same old traditional procrastinating and world-worsening institutions. Those institutions don't get at the root cause. As well intentioned as many appear on the surface, they are short-sighted and work on masking symptoms at best rather than curing the disease of selfishness. Consciously or unwittingly, they further obfuscation.
It is each soul's obligation to discern the difference between those calling for and working toward the healing versus merely masking symptoms and ultimately worsening the overall disease. Facilitate and magnify those calling for bringing forth the fruit. Become a part of the movement. Give to bring Jesus's message to fruition: Heaven on earth.

No abandoning those already doing the work
This is not a call to abandon those unselfish souls truly serving the needs of the people. There are people who are not looking for recompense while they feed the famished and nurse the plague stricken. They care for the poor sick and rich sick without distinction. They provide shelters for the homeless and make homes for the orphaned. They provide clothes for the naked and deprived. They visit the lonely and call mightily for justice for the oppressed. They also save the souls of the imprisoned. All that work and more must continue and increase. All real Christians believe in all those deeds.

The crux of the calling
This is a call though to devise liberal devices to afford the charity itself to become more and more the donor rather than just an intermediary between capitalism and the needy. The Real Liberal Christian Church calls for the liberal device of using monetary donations to set up the means for the poor and saintly to grow the food and make the clothes, etc., rather than using donations to purchase food and clothes from the selfish worldly system, facilitating, magnifying, and perpetuating that system. The call is to wean the world from the selfish system. The call is to devise liberal devices so that the charity itself becomes both donor and recipient. The call is for all hearts to become members of the church, therefore both giving and receiving between and amongst all members being the remnant.

The call is to turn from supporting those of the fat spirit who build egotistical edifices that never feed the people's bodies or their spirits. God does not want to be glorified by opulence for the few or to suggest that those within are higher, opulence seen as the replacement for the whole burnt offering sacrifice. God wants mercy. It is wrong to look for excuses in the scriptures for excessive luxury. Had Jesus been for such living, he would have lived the constantly luxurious life and ignored the poor and spiritually lost. He would have taken whatever he wanted. He would have been a worldly empire builder. Today, he would be a capitalist and the riches person in filthy lucre in the world.

False ministers: Liars, thieves, and hypocrites

Your funds should not be going to people who hoard those funds for themselves or to people who promote or support war. No minister should be rich in the worldly sense, plain and simple. No minister should preach or condone war, plain and simple. No minister should support anyone in his or her decision to be militant. All ministers who are rich or support war or lend spiritual support to the militant mentality are liars, thieves, and hypocrites. All real workers are worth their wage. We would not begrudge any person a roof, clothes, or food, etc. However, no real minister needs what is not held in common for the common good of all. That is what your money should go to setting up. Those are standards with which we can face our maker. It must be said even if we ourselves are not perfect.

The world will not be a place conducive to all turning and repenting if these things are not said in the honest spirit of warning. They are. They are not said to gloat or to make one feel superior. They are said in the sincere desire that we all will do what is right together making it easier for all of us to do so.

Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord

When all the nations say, "blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord" (Matthew 21:9) and know who the Lord is, then we will have arrived. Do not buy into the doctrine that says there is nothing to be done here and now. The prophecy will unfold as we do the right, unselshy things. Doing good in the world can never be against the prophecy. Do not let anyone lead you to believe that doing good is the devil's work. They lie. In whatever the devil is involved, the primary motive is selfish. The devil is never altruistic. There is always selfishness in everything the devil does. The devil always wants to gain and devour regardless of the ultimate cost. The devil never truly self-sacrifices.
Support this effort. Do not be intimidated by the barking dogs that will try to dissuade you but cannot themselves eat of the real bread.

Now, this work obviously has been published in direct contradiction of current marketing wisdom that says that marketable books are centered on mundane feel-good writing. The book is full of feel-good language however. It is full of the good news that there is salvation and there is a narrow way to it that is unselfishness. This work is also full of the King James Version (public domain). It will be criticized as pompous and arcane, but it gives the proofs to those who put stock in that version. Turning many of those people will have a huge positive impact, since many of them have been the strongest supporters of human traditions over godly precepts.

King James Version Only Movement

We are not adhering to the King James Version Only Movement. It stinks of pride in Scottish and Anglo-Saxon origin. Least you think that is a bigoted thing to say, I am of Anglo-Saxon and Scottish descent.

King James: Homosexual

King James, after all, had been mightily offended by certain Puritan beliefs one of which was that homosexuality was anathema to God’s way—King James having been a practicing homosexual. James wanted to reinforce his so-called divine right as king. He wanted to reinforce those who most assured that view, the elitist bishops of the Church of England, the Anglo-catholic high church with all of its pomposity the Puritans distained. His was not a movement in favor of the priesthood of all believers. He saw the priesthood of all believers as a threat to his royal domination over the church.

It is ironic yet predictable that some of the strongest supporters of the separation of church and state are also the strongest supporters of the King James Version that was written to swing things back to royalist, dynastic control over both church and state in their most mundane senses.

Geneva Bible

The king disliked very much the popular Geneva Bible, which was heavily annotated with Protestant (Calvinistic, Puritan, Presbyterian) views not conducive to king James' authority in general and over the church specifically. The Puritans were not for pomp. They were simple, as Jesus was simple. They didn't want the hierarchy but rather a more congregationalist and presbyterian arrangement that is not episcopate (bishop centric).

They saw that episcopate regime as having brought forth the monetary sale of indulgences, among other corruptions, in the Roman church. Rome had been selling salvation for mammon paid over to the Roman church and sometimes pocketed by greedy clerics. They even sold indulgences representing full pardon for all sins not yet committed. It was insanity. It led directly to the Protestant Reformation.
King James Version, Textus Receptus, Desiderius Erasmus, Comma Johanneum or Johannine comma

Also, as a result of the selfish motivation, there are a few issues with the King James Version being based upon the Textus Receptus, Latin for "Received Text." Those issues should be discussed here in the interest of openness. That text was compiled by Desiderius Erasmus. The third edition includes what is called the Comma Johanneum or Johannine comma. It is the inclusion of words in 1 John 5:7-8 that were not in the original text. The words have not been found in any Greek manuscripts dating back before the 1500's. The words were apparently margin notes that ultimately found their way into the King James Version.

1 John 5:7 (KJV) For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.

1 John 5:8 (KJV) And there are three that bear witness in earth, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

By contrast, the following are the verses without the insertion:

1 John 5:7 (without Comma Johanneum) For there are three that bear witness:
1 John 5:8 (without Comma Johanneum) the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

The obvious reason for the inclusion was to give scriptural authority to the doctrine of the Trinity. This inclusion is found in other Greek texts as well, but apparently the oldest Greek texts do not have it. One is reminded here of the Essenes who so despised tampering with scripture. To the Essenes, there is never any justification for such emendations. In fact, the Essenes would hold that there can be no emendations. No changes of the scriptures could be seen as improvement. This idea runs contrary to some in the King James Version Only Movement who hold that the KJV is actually a continuation of divine inspiration. However, the insertion actually detracts from the focus upon the oneness of the spirit, water, and blood. That oneness is so revealing when focused upon within the context of the terms as used throughout the Gospel message.

Also, the Textus Receptus is reported to be based upon something on the order of two dozen total manuscripts with six of those being the core manuscripts, which date back to around a thousand years ago. Since the time of the Textus Receptus, many manuscripts have become available going back to the third century and before. In comparing those with the Textus Receptus, differences have been noted. This subject, however, is for an in-depth analysis and beyond the scope of this work due to size limitations for one. The Textus Receptus is also known variously as the Anthiochian text, Syrian text, or Byzantine text from the fourth century of that area. It is suggested that the Byzantine is heavy on paraphrasing.

Erasmus: Revelation 22:16-21

Also, it is reported that that Erasmus did not have Revelation 22:16-21 in the primary Greek text he was using, so it is said that he translated the Latin version into the Greek and then the Greek into the English.

Lastly, it is reputed that the version of Revelation he had was a copy with notes copied inline with the text as if those notes were original scripture. The copyist who made Erasmus's copy from the original did not always differentiate between commentary notes and the actual scripture. Consequently, supposedly some of the commentary found its way into the King James Version as scripture.

Nevertheless, at the very least, with the few issues pointed out, Erasmus's work is not so different from the earliest manuscripts that it renders the King James Version invalid by any stretch of the imagination. In fact, the King James Version and older texts agree nearly completely. Also, where they disagree is over areas where the subtleties are often lost on all but the most in-depth scholars.

Even still, current scholars do not have the benefit of having spoken in the tongue at the time of the writings. Full connotations of words become lost over time. Also, no two people ever have the exact same meaning of words in mind even if they live contemporaneously and speak the same language fluently.
This is not to discount the fact that word meanings and feelings are central to grasping the revelation and should be handled with the utmost care. When translating from one language to another and trying to capture full sense meanings, this is no light undertaking. Very often, words connote culturally dependent concepts. If a translated version doesn't explain such cultural meanings and their significance, the intention of the author will be lost on an unaware reader of the translated version.

Publishing mainstream suppresses moralizing and dire warnings

In addition for being criticized for using the King James Version, even though it is in the public domain and not a bad translation, this work will be labeled as excessively moralizing. Most publishers want nothing to do with that except under the cover of fiction. Moral emphasis is scoffed at and twisted in much of popular fiction. In the fantasy world, it is rendered easily dismissible. The major publishing houses want moralizing hidden within entertainment at most. Most publishers believe that an earnest emphasis upon morals will not be well enough received by readers. If not in deliberate works of fiction, morals must at least be hidden within so-called motivational writing. It cannot contain dire warnings. Dire warnings don't leave the reader feeling safe, secure, and good about him or herself. Christ's message is to be smothered in honey. There is to be no mention of wailing or gnashing of teeth with the words of deliverance.
Well, we would be lying if we didn't warn of dire consequences facing those who want to go blithely along their imagined self-secure, false national security, way. Let them rejoice rather about receiving the truth.

The statistical analyses of the major publishing houses do not support the assertion that people want substance and not plumb. With fiction, there is the appearance of plausible deniability: The cover of artistic license. When one stands up, however, to speak to truth that the system of the powers of this world is diametrically opposed to what is right then that person is relegated to oblivion. That person is labeled strange, eccentric, crazy, a religious fanatic, or even a dangerous extremist rather than just plain right.

That happens, because the major publishing houses are the corporate. They are mainstream. They won't shoot themselves in the capitalist foot by publishing the truth.

We do not believe that people do not want substance. We believe that people have been led to feel-good writing by forces that seek consciously and subconsciously to obfuscate the huge dark side of the current worldly system. We do not believe that the people have voted with their pocket books so much as the powers that be have steered the people away from the weightier matters leaving the fox free reign in the chicken coop. The powers that be have both created and then fed into the people's fears and capitalized on the people's desires for blind pleasantries and creature comforts over the stark reality that is famine, war, plague, depravity, oppression, theft, and all the rest of the manifestations of that worldly spirit dominating by its own arrogantly asserted authority.

No selling souls to sell manuscripts

Rather than compromising (selling out) and cajoling, it is better to be open, honest, and direct. This work is not about fitting in with the status quo: Conformity. It is about changing from the status quo to heaven. It is not about selling out for profit for mammon. It is not a labor of love of mammon. The entire sell-yourself-and-your-manuscript process just runs contrary to the entire spirit of this work. There is a line that is marketing manipulation across which we dare not tread. We do not wish to use hypnotic suggestion to sell books or put over the ministry. We have not written to entertain. If this work becomes just a distraction from mundane life, it will be an utter failure. We are not writing to become a celebrity or personality as they call them. We are not interested in a movement based upon charismatic salesmanship for success. It must succeed due to the powerful love all the people have for truth. It cannot rise or fall on whether people look good on camera or have a professional broadcaster’s voice. It must succeed without the usual book-signing tours, flashiness, expensive clothes, makeup, or hyper-controlled presentations. In other words, it must be real: Not artificial or superficial.

If we work with for-profit entities though to forward this work about giving and sharing all, let no one be judgmental. Just because one is working, or will work awhile yet, within the system of self-centeredness does not mean that he or she will not be glad to work him or herself out of that job. One would hope that all doctors and all police officers would love to be out of their jobs due to the end of illness and crime. We want this work to be available. This is how many people obtain their Bibles. Someday, we will make sure that books are free. Even the serpent plants the seeds of its own destruction when it helps create the methods of disseminating the news of its demise. This is prophetic.

Internet and websites

The church and communes will be supported in developing and maintaining websites. There will be the usual affiliate links to online book retailers. Supporters using those ministry links will be further helping the church, because the church will receive affiliate commissions on sales of its own books.

The book industry has been the vehicle by which the scriptures have been made widely available in the vernacular. Now there are computers and the Internet. These are also the present day roads, sea-lanes, and trade routes of the Empire. Jesus and the Apostles used the routes of the Romans and the ancients before the Romans. Jesus walked the dusty roads and the roads paved under the Roman Empire. That does not mean that those roads were inherently good. The disciples had their treasury with the coins of caesar that they used to buy food for themselves and the poor and to pay for their lodgings. That does not mean that the system of the coins was inherently good. The current methods simply must be used now but not for the profit of the worldly but rather to facilitate the real work of God just as Jesus walked the roads, crossed the bridges, took the ships, rode on the carts, etc. It is to change the use of the means from the original intention of those who created those means. The Romans never intended the likes of Jesus to turn the use of their roads and coins to exposing the sins of their Empire.

Now there are those who will attempt to use this logic to defend the typical televangelism of the multi-millionaire, self-styled preachers. It won't wash. Jesus's feet touched the ground on most of those roads. He was not constantly chauffeured in a stretch limousine or what was comparable at the time. He was put up in some fine houses, but he didn't stay for the sake of his own luxurious experience but rather to reach the owners for the sake of their souls and the sake of the poor whom the repentant rich could, and did, benefit so much. Jesus reached out to the rich and poor alike. He called both rich and poor sinners to repentance to save them.

The worldly rich and powerful need it desperately. They are lost, as are we all until the message becomes meaningful enough to us. Saving just one will show the way for the many. Their associates and underlings need it also. The world needs it in every nation and every language.

Not everyone can read. There are many places where people must be told by mouth. It must be read and explained even as people are taught to read it. We mean the message. We mean the Gospel. We mean The Bible. We don't just mean this work. This work though is explanatory. We know people will benefit from the explanations and plan. For those who have not read even any of The Bible, this work ought to whet their appetites for receiving more truth. It should help move more to continue learning.

One might imagine that this work is just for people living in the centers of the Empire. It is true that everyone in the world will not understand without help. Much of this work requires an understanding of things peculiar to the US. If people though are given the general explanations it will go far to start. Therefore, just because there is much about the internal Empire in this work does not mean that these explanations will not aid those outside the US. It will help them in being more knowledgeable about the Empire from the outside and inside. It will help them understand the direction in which to turn, which is not selfishness and hence not neoliberalism or faith in capitalism.

Help the cause by giving so that we may get the real message preached and exemplified everywhere. Don't leave the world to the churlish and villainous. The truth about the churlish and villainous and the conservative and liberal is plain and clear in the scripture. It must be put before the whole world. Jesus returned to heaven and sent the spirit of truth to continue showing where right and wrong lie.

Even Jesus used marketing metaphors

As the fame of Jesus's message spread, the ranks of his supporters grew. Word of mouth was the marketing of the day. Jesus even used marketing metaphors such as buy oil (of truth) for your lamp and buy a sword (of truth). The rich and powerful exchanged letters, of course. Today, the world is very much different, even as it has stayed the same. People also thought themselves too busy then, as they still do now; however, who could argue that the level of distraction today is not greater? Who could argue that attention spans have not gone down? Therefore, we won't rely solely upon word of mouth. We will penetrate through all the noise and distraction of the so-called modern consumer-society. This is why it is written. This is why it must be forwarded. It must be placed before the people.

Not to be intimidated and ignorable

There are many people though who sit quietly reading the lessons of Jesus and discussing and practicing them within their small circles. Some of them, no doubt, have known in their hearts all along just how hypocritical the worldly system has been and is even more so now.
Keeping it within their circles has not caused the real word to spread. People have held it within due to fear and intimidation. People have been fearful of reprisals and made to feel even ashamed about being enthusiastic about bringing forth the fruit. They have been bullied.
The veritable light is under the bushel. In order to shine brightly enough to get the attention of the powers that be and all the people, it must shine as the sun across the heavens into every corner of the earth. Otherwise, it will be ignorable. We must stop letting it be ignorable. When we build the communes, it will not be ignorable. The more such communes we bring into being and support and maintain, the less it all will be ignorable.

Money won't be necessary

Those communes will prove that money is not the best system. Jesus sent out his disciples without anything but the clothes on their backs, because where they went, the people of good hearts saw to their needs. It was a demonstration of how wrong those were who insisted that giving and sharing is against human nature. It was to show what true hospitality is. Those towns, houses, families, and people that refused to help the disciples with all that they needed to further spread the good news showed themselves hardhearted and unworthy. They marked themselves and did not repent. They suffered the consequences, as will those of the current age and Empire who likewise reject the truth and refuse to repent. The others though contributed in the ways they were able. They opened their homes in peace to the disciples who brought greater peace into their homes. They fed the disciples and let them wash and probably had their clothes cleaned and replaced them when they wore out, if they wore out. They gave them good places to sleep and to rest and to contemplate. They listened to the message with delight about Jesus and the movement and others of hospitality just like them who showed the Apostles all the hospitality anyone could ask for. All of it was conducive to the healing power of peace and love in the Lord.
The disciples were specifically tasked by Jesus to demonstrate that money in this world will not be necessary for any, when all are of the spirit of generosity and peace.

And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give. Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses, Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meat. And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence. And when ye come into an house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet. (Matthew 10:7-14).

And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing. (Luke 22:35).

These were Jewish towns they went to. They were full of descendents of Jacob many of whom welcomed the disciples, mostly their fellow Jews. They were welcomed as was the custom. They brought the news. Hospitality was the duty. However, many people had a vested (selfish) interest in the status quo and did not love the truth of the New Testament. Those people met with woe.

Times are different now. That is not to diminish the extraordinary reception that the disciples received. It is to say that hearts are even harder now. They just work harder to mask it. They work harder to bluff, beguile, outmaneuver, and wear out those with softhearted tendencies.

And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time. (Daniel 7:25).

There are people of peace though. Well, please welcome this work into your house. Peace be upon your whole house. If not, the peace shall return.

Even though the disciples didn't need money, the original Apostles collected contributions for the general, common treasury that Judas carried during Jesus's time on the earth. Those contributions were for the group and to help the poor, etc. However, by accepting coins and scrip (paper money), Jesus and his disciples did not place their faith in money or in the system that produced it. Neither will we place our faith in money or the system that produces it.
Never required money

The truth is that the ultimate natural provisioning of God never did require money. That was the point of Jesus’s demonstration in having the disciples go out in faith. People of love rose to the occasion and gave the disciples what they needed along their journeys. The spirit moved the people to help. It burst the bubble of the imaginations of those who had it in mind that money is mandatory for life.

Coins and scrip represent accumulation. People trade in money. It is the hoarding and the love of it and all the associated evils that pollute the minds and hearts and souls of people. It distracts from the truth of cooperation. It gives credit to a false system of greed that brings untold evil results compared to how things would be without selfishness.

The concept of trade (commerce) in and of itself runs contrary to freely giving and sharing what would be freely received (were it not for money) without hope of recompense. Jesus showed that. The system of money is a lie. It is though the system imposed by the hardhearted. That system can be displaced by your love.

The communes without the worldly system

Think about the communes where there would be no unemployment, ever. There would be no layoffs. There would be no such artificial uncertainty. There would be no mortgage payments to meet alone. There would be no debt payments to meet alone. It would be pay-as-we-go until money disappears. There would be no paychecks. There would be no taxes.
As written elsewhere herein, the members would be taxed on their equal dividend of the taxable income of the commune. Taxable income is net business profit. All surpluses will go into commune missions. It is unlikely that there will be such dividends. We shall see when we get there.

Unfortunately, as evidenced by the fruit of America and its vast hoarding, the love of money runs deeper in America than anywhere. America is the number one hoarding country in history. Therefore, the system mires one in financial transactions and procedures that are oppressively complex, extremely time consuming, and designed to be self-perpetuating. It was not always so nor will it continue forever.

One should be ever-mindful that Jesus showed that the other way, the uncomplicated and quick, can exist by deliberately spreading it to include more and more people. This is the struggle between the forces of light and the forces of darkness. The forces of darkness will fight against the light to keep the people enslaved to the system that keeps those of the greatest darkness and most ironic ignorance (hypocrisy) on top. The forces of light will continue to raise the people on the bottom out from under those on top oppressing them. That is our calling.

Taxes: Evil

Yes, Jesus walked the roads paved by the Roman Empire. His disciples and he had the coins of caesar. Jesus even paid taxes, though he should not have been expected. Taxes are totally arbitrary just as money is an arbitrary invention. They have actually served as a major hindrance. Taxes are no better than usury or the love of money.

In addition to using the roads and coins to spread the word by mouth, the word was written. Jesus showed that despite the worldly system with its tentacles now attempting to control all the freshwater in the world and that will claim ownership rights of the very air we breathe and all of outer space, all the planets and all the stars, etc., we do not rationalize about the publishing industry, just as the prophets would not have rationalized about the source of their papyrus scrolls upon which they wrote the scriptures. Let those have their say who will negatively criticize this ministry's method of starting out by publishing a free book on the Internet. The word must go out so that we may know to act in unison. A book, just as with The Bible itself, is not an improper vehicle.

None of this is to say that all things could not be brought to fruition without anything other than believing in God's almighty power.

And when he saw a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away. And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!
Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done. (Matthew 21:19-21).

When the time is right, it will come to that. Such faith will be necessary and demonstrated.

And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the LORD caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. (Exodus 14:21-22).

And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea returned to his strength when the morning appeared; and the Egyptians fled against it; and the LORD overthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea. And the waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horsemen, and all the host of Pharaoh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as one of them. (Exodus 14:27-28).
The hardhearted will die in false riches

Money was within the nations where Jesus and his followers did the work of God, but Jesus showed that money was not their master. They used money given them, but they did not have their faith or love in it and neither do we, or will we. Using money was and is only a way to release pent-up wealth to the masses in the solution that is unselfishness. Remember, "The ransom of a man's life are his riches." (Proverbs 13:8). Also, remember the other verses that explain how the hoarded wealth will be for the just. It means that all the so-called assets are supposed to be used now to relieve suffering and starvation, etc. It means that it is to be given over for that purpose. The softhearted will do it. The hardhearted will die rich killing their souls in the process.

This message was spread during Jesus's time. Since the powers that be feared it, they murdered Jesus as Jesus knew had to be so we could learn the truth of such sin. How else could we learn and know to stand up now to do what must be done? Someone had to blaze the trail of the narrow way. They also martyred the disciples, which Jesus also knew had to happen for the same reason Jesus was murdered. It served to spread the word farther, wider, deeper, and quicker.

The harder the hardhearted tried to suppress the truth and attack the messengers, the more the truth about the core reasons for that suppression and attack became obvious. It is still the case. The more this message is suppressed or the messengers attacked, the clearer and plainer the selfish motives of the suppressors and attackers.

Beware the rich

Beware the rich who side step, change the subject, or attempt to co-opt the message. Beware those who agree but do nothing. Behind the scenes, many cause the most significant suppression and persecution. Beware the disingenuous placers. Do not settle for minor concessions. Do not be appeased by less than what is truly needed. Do not compromise with Satan. Most of the rich will not admit they have done wrong or apologize or atone and not backslide. To them, universal repentance is something to snicker about. They will only point to the failures of people made before those people had received the truth.

Redistribution of wealth

We must release the world from the stranglehold of mammon. Mammon transactions will be further and further removed from the daily functioning of the communes and then the surrounding societies and then their nations and then the world. We must willingly and not coercively redistribute the wealth of the world in accordance with scripture as quoted, cited, and truthfully interpreted in this work. The bounty of the commons will not require mammon in return. Mammon will have been shed as master. The kingdom will envelop the planet. All the people will be honest. Each will be given and take only what he or she requires. All will be cooperation. Each will sit under his or her own fig tree, because all will be held in common. All the fig trees on earth will be shared alike. Each will work for all. Each will get from the all: All in all. Eventually, even work as we know it will no longer be required.

What would it profit a person to have all the money in the world after all the others in the world had already overcome and turned to giving and sharing all freely? Where will the value lie once all understand that accumulation and hoarding for self and close flesh-and-blood is ungodly, that God gives freely and, therefore, so should we?

Were it not for the need to assure people that spreading the word in this work will not go to line the pockets of the rich and were it not for the need to encourage enthusiasm in the teaching and doing of the work of God, we would not even have mentioned proceeds.

Proceeds will go for...

For all the reasons given, and more, all proceeds and donations will go to spreading the word of the priesthood and monarchy of all believers (universal, royal priesthood) forever, both temporal and eternal. It will go to deeds. It will go toward speaking out for the oppressed and deprived, to council against war, to warn of the signs of the times, to telling the truth no matter how uncomfortable that makes those who do not want to hear it, to being good stewards of the planet, to finding the lost sheep in every nation, and not to make anyone rich in the worldly sense.

There are those who wonder where the miracles are. They don't want to give without signs that God is there. They think that if there were ever any such miracles there would be such now and that those would be captured on film, etc. It is an evil generation that needs signs in order to believe in the truth of mercy and the rest of the good. It is an evil generation that imagines itself necessarily worthy to receive such miracles. Signs and miracles will come as trustworthiness and evil both greatly increase. Seek first righteousness, and look with sadness upon the dark day of the LORD. People will be delivered, but that time will also portend that doom is close at hand for the unfaithful.

We must do all that Jesus said we must do. We must lift up the healing spirit of love and truth in peace.

And the gospel must first be published among all nations. (Mark 13:10).

[Jesus did not come just for Israel.]

And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. (Mark 16:15).

[Peace is not to be just for human beings. It is to spread to the whole of creation.]

Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (John 15:2).

[The more one brings forth, the more God will purge that one of evil that holds back bringing forth.]
The more one brings forth, the more God will spread bounty from that one.]

Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him; Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins. (James 5:19-20).

[Convincing people to be unselfish will help to spare them and others from negative consequences.]

Honour the LORD with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase: So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine. (Proverbs 3:9-10).

[Use the bounty from God first and foremost in mercy. Spread the message. Do the deeds. Then, God will see to it that you will have an endless supply to give and share.]

Before you take more for yourself, give. If you can, give all and follow. Let us make things so that first fruits go to those who will feed the lambs and sheep. The first fruits should go to those bringing forth, so that those giving and sharing will be purged to bring forth even more. It is a multiplying effect. That will honor God first, for that is what God wants.
Pruning

Fruit trees that overproduce yield small fruit and don't grow as large or live as long. Their strength is sapped trying to support too many apples or peaches or what have you. Thinning the tree of its fruit early in the season helps the tree put more energy into tree growth and strength and helps in the long-run produce larger fruit for a longer life cycle. This is why we will concentrate upon growing the communes without overextending them. Also, fruit trees properly pruned each year will give a higher yield and live longer. Therefore, anyone who begins to bring forth, especially will have any dead, diseased, and broken branches pruned away. They will be pruned to obtain the best spreading shape.

What happens to the unselfish, non-testing giver?

The liberal soul shall be made fat: and he that watereth shall be watered also himself. (Proverbs 11:25).

He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor. (Proverbs 22:9).

He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse. (Proverbs 28:27).

The liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand. (Isaiah 32:8).
Stand for beneficence, divine humanitarianism, and egalitarianism while giving all credit to God. Do not stand for greed, violence, war, oppression, or any vile thing. Taking this stand shall see to it that you are standing honorably before the Son of man in heaven. To stand for here means to advocate, support, and do the work.

Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 6:1).

Do not give so that people will pat you on the back and laud you. They will do it, and it will feel good. However, those are aftereffects and not to be your motive. Give, because it is the right thing to do whether any other human knows about it or not. God will know.

Pharisees proselytize

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. (Matthew 23:15).

The hypocrites work hard to convert people. If we do not work with great zeal, more souls will be woefully misled.
And all that believed were together, and had all things common; And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need. (Acts 2:44-45).

And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. (Acts 4:32).

Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need. (Acts 4:34-35).

Despite the naysayers, there is only one right way to read those verses immediately above. They mean the opposite of capitalistic and private ownership. Those who cannot bring themselves to read clearly and plainly these verses are unable to bring themselves to be of the spirit of freely giving and sharing. It is that simple. It is communism. The spirit of the naysayers is the unclean spirit that forestalls heaven on earth. That unclean spirit is not the spirit of Christ or, therefore, of Christianity.

We must permanently turn in the direction of giving and oneness: Harmony. All may help the ministry in planting the seeds: Finding the good, fruitful soil and magnifying the spirit billions fold.

Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers; Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well: Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles. (3 John 1:5-7).

It is faithfulness when one helps the real Christian mission. The real mission really depends upon the liberalism of Christians. Help send out real missionaries and not false shepherds who lead people astray. Help them go with what they need to do and teach: Evangelize, minister, serve, by setting up and maintaining Real Liberal Christian Church Communes.

Whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant: Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. (Matthew 20:26-28).

If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another's feet. (John 13:14).

Do not work to magnify those who spread the message of the hierarchical (dog in the manger) churches, the capitalistic system of insatiable greed, violence, and decadence. They teach but do the opposite of the commandments. Help magnify what will bring forth the fruit worthy of repentance and with patience (well organized). It is the least we can do.

What God has done

Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. (Matthew 11:28-30).

Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul. (Psalm 66:16).

He has given me the meaning of life, which is love which is truth which is peace and all the rest of the good.

He has shown me where righteousness and evil separate, which is where unselfishness and selfishness part.

He has shown me that we are part of the solution or part of the problem.

He has shown me that there is only one person who came into this world and showed all how much love is necessary in order to live in perfect harmony for eternity: Jesus.

He has shown me that I must not hide, afraid to speak or act for righteousness and mercy sake.

He has shown me the error of my ways and the strait gate and narrow way.

He has shown me that it is only too late for those who will never turn, overcome, and persevere.

He has shown me that giving and sharing are the only right way.

He has shown me that violence leads to the death of the soul.

He has shown me that there is no level of depravity that is too deep that one may not be cleansed and made whole through turning, overcoming, and persevering.

He has made me feel for the plight of every soul who goes without when others have so much in excess.

He has shown me that those who hate him do so because they fear facing up to the truth of their sins.

He has shown me that willfulness and rebelliousness against righteousness will not survive.

He has shown me that overcoming things affords one the opportunity to see clearly yet other things one must overcome.

He has told me that doubt is downfall.

He has told me that righteousness and intelligence is synonymous.

He has told me that real logic and real wisdom lie in the revelation of Jesus.

He has taught me to toil in his field, because I would rather have the fruit of his garden then all worldly riches.
Repentant sinners speak out

The fact that one has sinned does not preclude one from speaking out. The truth is that everyone has a duty to repent and then speak out. Also, that there are people who have sinned who do speak out should never be construed to mean that anyone gets away pain free with sinning. Pain will come until repentance. Those who repent though go through pain and sorrow but then understand the real joy that awaits deliverance. The unrepentant though never understand or perceive.

Don't let anyone deny you from turning to God no matter how awful you think you've been. Don't ever give up. The longer you hang in there and the more you bring forth the fruit, the more God will move you to stop backsliding that causes you to be tempted to give up. If you have not understood why everything just doesn't fall into place for you when you really think you've sought righteousness, it is because you must learn patience and are being taught that. It is, because you backslide into doubt. Stop doubting, and start waiting on God.

Personal testimony about being abused

I need to boost my personal testimony about being abused, led astray, and fallen into wrong reactions. I also need to boost my personal testimony about how asking, seeking, and knocking slowed and reversed the process and continues to save me from a worse fate.

As mentioned elsewhere in this work, I was abused, as were you, and as were all of us to one degree or another. I finally lashed out under the mundane principles of survival instinct and self-defense. The hardening process had begun, as it begins for all. It stole my unselfish innocence at the tenderest age. The disease of lust spread into me devouring more and more of the light that had been reaching my soul. My soul was sick. My body manifested the illness in various ways. My brain and mind were made polluted. I fell to the disease of lust that had previously inflicted my abusers in a chain reaction beginning with the first fugitive from the law of unselfishness.

At varying times in my life and to varying degrees, through hardness of heart, I fell to the worldly created tempters who are each and all of us until we wake up. I fell to some degree to the worldly temptations of lying, cheating, stealing, bullying, fighting, using tobacco, abusing drugs and alcohol, cursing, fornicating, and being sexually addicted and wanton of mind. All those things came from what was preexisting in the world. All those things had previously infected those who then tempted me. I was not immune, hence I became infected and a contagion. The constant mixed-signals of the world added to frustration and confusion. I was adrift in the dark and surrounded by cacophony. In my blindness, I lent my voice and actions to the discordancy. This was a downward spiral into bewildering anxiety, sorrow, and despair. It led to social phobia, shame, and frequent panic. My own willpower failed me miserably. The world trained me backwards.

Who is to blame for your failure, my failure, and anyone’s failure? Where does responsibility and accountability start and stop? Look to the exemplary life of Jesus to see someone who is not to blame for the failure of others to turn to God.

Everlasting fire and punishment

Yet we cannot say that Jesus eternally gave up on any soul even those souls in the towns where he had his disciples shake the dust from their feet as they left rejected by the townspeople even those souls who will go "into everlasting fire" and "everlasting punishment."

Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels. (Matthew 25:41).

And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal. (Matthew 25:46).

The experience of everlasting fire and punishment lasts until selfishness is completely burned out. If the selfishness reappears, the everlasting fire is still there for the conditioning consequence. How long does it take to pay to learn indelibly? Infinity is God's patience.

To give up eternally is to stop forgiving. It is to cease mercy. It is to be in a state of everlasting negative consequences for perpetual selfishness. We have seen that Jesus continued forgiving from the cross even those who murdered him. Forgiving them retains the connection. Compassion admits of responsibility on a certain level. The context where blame and responsibility share meaning does not necessitate that one who retains a sense of responsibility eternally suffers the consequence of blame as blameworthy. Jesus was not blameworthy yet he was required by his own righteousness to self-sacrifice for the blameworthy to light the way out of the abyss that is otherwise everlasting suffering.

How do you square everlasting punishment with forgiveness? We are all in everlasting punishment until we turn. How guilty we remain, how much we deserve punishment, is directly proportional with how repentant we become. God reaches down and plucks us out of everlasting punishment when we turn to godliness. Don't turn this into a mundane paradox. Develop the softness of heart sufficient to grasp it. It is on this level that we are to understand blame and responsibility concerning each other's suffering.

Why can't we just snap our fingers and instantly be good enough to be an irresistible light for all? God could just hand it to us, but we would never appreciate heaven. We would not know God. It isn't there just for instant gratification that can disappear just as rapidly as it appears. We have to go through the baptism with fire. "He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire." (Matthew 3:11). It is the only cleansing path. Evil feelings have to be cut away and burned up. Otherwise, we will not fit down the narrow way. Selfish feelings impede progress.
Break the chain reaction of evil

Lesser blame though does not reduce responsibility for helping others to help yet others give and share so that all together in godliness, which is the only existence capable, we may break the chain reaction of evil. This is the only path to both lasting and universal repentance, and that repentance is the only way to have nothing but heaven on earth.

Evil begets evil

I cannot overemphasize that evil begets evil until it stops and is sufficiently reversed with each individual. This means you. This means me. This means that the selfishness is to stop with every person. This means that unselfishness only must rule.

This is another point at which many fall into the infinite darkness of mundane paradox. They just cannot get passed imagining that every motive in the end has to be selfish. They don't ever seem to be able to grasp the whole that is infinite love that is infinite unselfishness. Someday though, everyone on earth will have arrived at that point. Righteousness wins.

What are people doing when they try to run from accepting their hand in the cycle of evil or when they are aloof and indifferent or when they go on the attack against the repentant rather than joining the right side? They are retaining the home for evil to continue existing in the world. By refusing and rejecting this absolute truth, those people are further to blame. They only make matters worse.
This truth-telling and doing and the wrong reactions of people have to be though until the truth comes out enough and stands out enough in contrast so that people choose righteousness and the chains of evil are finally broken. The lovers of God must not be lulled by those who beg for complacency. This is where mercy must not be turned into a paradox. The truth is painful to those who hate it. It is mercy to those who love it. In fact, it hurts the haters of truth that they ought to be merciful. They run from, ignore, or fight against being truly merciful. They refuse to accept the implications for their lifestyles. Their ignorant self-centeredness prevents them. Mine prevented me. Yours prevents, or prevented, you.

I must openly credit God and Jesus, as my father and brother, for bringing me so far out of the darkness of selfish feelings and reactions. They are still working in me. I'm still asking, seeking, and knocking to hear, see, and feel the way. I am part of number one only when I am unselfish.

Naming private names publicly or only within the Church if they belong

I need to testify without inappropriately identifying individuals. Where is the line of appropriateness? I finally went to people privately with specifics about the disease of selfishness and about my desire to overcome it together through unselfishness. In my effort to impress this upon continuing naysayers, I widened the circle as wide as possible within the bounds set by Jesus Christ. "If he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican." (Matthew 18:17). The term "church" depends upon context. For instance, the church of professors and believers is not synonymous with the church of those upon whom the Holy Spirit has descended. It is certain that the whole church (group) of professors does not necessarily, at the time of this writing, include the whole world. By contrast, the church of the public actions of the president of the United States does though include the whole world. The church of one's immediate and mundane family members might only be that immediate family, depending.

One must be sensitive within the particular circumstances as to where to stop widening the circle of those to whom one pleads with specific details of sin. Involving others inappropriately causes the harm of the serpent. It leads to hardening of hearts and increased temptation. It turns from warning to inflicting. Besides, no one is hidden anyway. The discerning can readily see the condition of people's hearts. Everyone is known by that in which he or she is involved. The idea is to reach and save everyone who will hear before any punishment occurs by way of the unfaithful.

This is what Jesus did by turning over the money-changer's tables in the Temple. He did not cause the harm of the serpent. Everyone who admitted and stuck with the full implications of the truth that turning the Temple into a mammon profit-center, a den of thieves, was evil had no problem with what Jesus did and in fact was helped saved by his actions. At the same time, we do not see in Jesus someone who went completely public with the specifics of every sin he knew each person was committing. I trust you can see the difference and the line that depends upon feeling the variables and the particular personalities (spirits and souls) involved.

Where, when, and how to deal with hypocrisy is something one must feel by way of the movement of the Holy Spirit within. Plead for truth always even as you are working toward perfection, because the more people turn the easier it will be to turn and stay turned.

Those things above are but a few of the things he has done for my soul and taught me.

Jesus's doubt?

Why did Jesus asked God from the cross why God had forsaken him? It makes no sense. God would not forsake anyone who is only doing good. Forsaking means to abandon that is to have no intention of rescuing, but then the church says Jesus was rescued (resurrected). Isn't it hypocritical? Wasn't it doubt in Jesus's mind? It would seem so, until one is led to the full story.

Why are there so many rich people in the churches and yet there were so many poor people and others in need of help and love?

Pessimism of Christianity?

What about the overwhelming sense of pessimism (eternal hell for souls) that seems to pour out of what is portrayed as Christianity? Eternal hell means to punish eternally no matter how much the soul feels remorse and compassion and forgiveness and wants to turn from the evil of hell to the righteousness of heaven.

And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? (Matthew 27:46).

I believed in God, but how did Jesus fit in? It wasn't explained to my satisfaction. I had gaps in my education without being aware of it. I had relied upon the mainstream church, assuming that if there were more convincing information, they certainly would have put that out front.

Most of my life was spent being distracted by all the mixed messages of the world.

Based upon what was presented by the church, Jesus seemed well-intentioned but confused.

Then when I was seeking answers in every direction for why things were heading in the obviously wrong direction what with 9-11 and the US lead up to the invasion of Baghdad, I was funneled back to The Bible. I was finally led from Matthew 27:46 directly to Psalm 22, which the mainstream, traditional, self-styled church had never cross-referenced for me.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? O my God, I cry in the day time, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent. But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel.
Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them. They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.
But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people. All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,
He trusted on the LORD that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him.
But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou didst make me hope when I was upon my mother's breasts. I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly. Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help.
Many bulls have compassed me:
strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round. They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion. I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels. My strength is dried up like a potsherd; and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws; and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.
For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet. I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me. They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture. But be not thou far from me, O LORD: O my strength, haste thee to help me. Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog. Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns. I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee. Ye that fear the LORD, praise him; all ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him; and fear him, all ye the seed of Israel. For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard. My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him. The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the LORD that seek him: your heart shall live for ever. All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the LORD: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee. For the kingdom is the LORD's: and he is the governor among the nations. All they that be fat upon earth shall eat and worship: all they that go down to the dust shall bow before him: and none can keep alive his own soul. A seed shall serve him; it shall be accounted to the Lord for a generation. They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done this. (Psalms 22).

It was a light coming on to illuminate the dark places. It was answering my questions. It was the door opening that I might go in to learn. Answers have cascaded in from that moment every time I've sought them.

Prophecy

Jesus was, and is, the fulfillment of prophecy stated in the Old Testament. The entire Old Testament points to him on a certain level. That level is apparent when one views the Old Testament in its entirety (the big picture rather than disjointed bits and pieces). It is the story of the unfolding of the revelation that is continuing even now and will continue until every last bit of it has been manifested just as certainly as you are taking this in. It will be as tangible as anything can be.

Prophecy had been downplayed in my mainstream denomination. It was what is referred to as supernatural after all. The trend in many denominations has been to make the mistake of thinking that since it has been so long since the overt miracles wrought by Jesus's certainty in his Father that perhaps those miracles were, as Jefferson and others have stated, myths and fables. Therefore, why teach the children in the congregations to consider the miracles? Why emphasize them? What a mistake that has been.

It has diminished the healing, transformative power by increasing doubt, diminishing faith, increasing testing that is self-styled science, founded on error, a false-hearted, illusory reality, controlled by the selfish spirit.

Yuppiesm: The me-generation

Before the light was shined into my mind, I had been looking for the real reason, the root cause, of all that is wrong. America was headed back into war with Iraq. I had thought that America was all done with wars at the conclusion of the Vietnam War and the Watergate scandal, both of which was sufficient evidence for any honest person to conclude that the conservative, hawkish heart works offenses. Little did I know back then that the me-generation would take over and yuppiesm would reign supreme in people's hearts that turned away from all that was good in the peace movement just because they didn't understand that all they needed to do was move away from drug addiction and other manifestations of lust. They either went all out into drug violence, pornography, or other problems or they just turned away to other forms of selfishness. Did anyone choose the right path? Where's the fruit?

It is there in selfish materialism and all the pain and suffering inflicted upon the poor people of the world who have been trampled down for that materialism? It is no sign of blessing from God. It is the sign of the evil gift of Satan.
whose contract with the unrepentant will not be denied.

9-11 stood out as a great sign that the evil spirit was hitting itself and the innocent to dupe the masses. The evil is unfathomable to all but God.

On 9-11, who was saying, who was reporting to the masses, who was repeating and spreading that unfaithful souls cannot escape damnation, that human standards are all inherently hypocritical, that evil cannot be overcome by evil means, and that only love and peace and things consistent therewith are the truth?

Truth is coming out

It is going to be placed in front of all the nations and souls such that the choice of iniquity will be clearly and plainly shown as the choice of selfishness. There will be no excuses. Those who choose selfishness, competition, greed, hoarding, violence, and sexual confusion over sexual cleanliness and wholesomeness (straightness), unselfishness, cooperation, peace, giving and sharing the inheritance of all God's children where there will be nothing but the commons, crediting the one living God, our Father, as the prime-mover of existence and the Holy Spirit, will choose the wide path to death of the soul in pain and suffering under their own hypocritical standard. Every soul will be given this clear and plain choice. Those who choose iniquity will be the proverbial goats and tares. Those who choose only righteousness will be the sheep and the good grain.

There is no human coercion that will bring the peace of the God.
There were those who knew but to what depth? They knew on the mundane level, but were they bringing forth in the world shining the light for all to see in no uncertain terms? That's what has been lacking. Bringing forth the divine is what has been lacking.

Selfishness

The real reason for 9-11 showed through with the real reason for the total invasion of Iraq: Selfishness on all sides. Selfishness was not confined to these however. Selfishness turned out to be the root of every problem on every level. There are no exceptions. Every last thing that is wrong is rooted in selfishness. Eliminate selfishness, and no problems exist. This goes for the seen and unseen worlds. It goes for all of existence. The selfish spirit ruins. If it is wrong, it is selfish. If it is selfish, it is wrong. This answer conflates everything. Perfection is perfectly unselfish. God is perfectly unselfish. This is completely reconcilable with God's cutting off those branches that do not bring forth only good fruit. This is completely reconcilable with God's tearing out whole trees by their roots. God eliminates the selfish for the sake of the unselfish. It is love. God is the only being capable of doing this exactly right. The more one overcomes one's desire to take such matters into one's own hands, the closer to God one becomes. This is what Jesus taught. This is what he lived. God created every soul. God knows exactly what to do with every soul. We must trust in God's judgment concerning this. His wisdom will remain beyond our understanding until he decides to bring us up to his level of understanding. That will never happen while we are committing known offenses against one another. It will never happen while we are under the impression that we are capable without God.

Jesus's spirit of God within is everywhere if we will see the light

Also, the church never explained that Jesus could be in more than one place at a time. Jesus was spirit and flesh. As the spirit he was, his kind of spirit, he was in paradise the day he died and he was also dead in the flesh. For three days, Satan tried to have him to keep him in hell. He left. He left just as he left here after his resurrection. It means that being stuck in hell is not inevitable. Souls can rise out of hell by turning to the light to be healed, to be made whole, just as they can do that here on this level. Love can do that. Love can do anything. Nothing is impossible with God, and God is love. It means that no matter how far down you fall, if you turn to God, God can lift you out. God wants mercy.

Disillusioning church

In addition to never having had the connection of Psalm 22 shown me, there were disillusioning things that happened surrounding the church. Even when I was very little, I found the church hypocritical. It was before I even knew the word "hypocrisy." I just saw them doing the opposite of what they were saying, and not just my church but all churches and the government. Also, my denomination didn't emphasize The Bible and especially not the Old Testament, so the continuity was not there. Also, the miracles were downplayed. It emphasized the Book of Common Prayer and the liturgy. Forms of worship and repetition were elevated without passing on understanding.

Oh, I don't say that I received nothing from attending church. I don't say that I didn't have overwhelming feelings about Jesus suffering on the cross.

I am not given to the tell-all mentality, so I will not go into graphic detail about the sins in life that profoundly affected me. Saving souls covers a multitude of sins. There are other people's souls at stake. Everyone deserves the opportunity to live down things without being unnecessarily subjected to yet others trying to hold them down in shame. They ought to have been shamed enough when lifting up their teary eyes to God as humbled little children in repentance, which includes atonement. The cause and effect of evil must be acknowledged as going back to the beginning, but once that is done, it is unforgiving that anyone be held down for the sins of the past. Let the guilty conscience complete its rectifying work.

Physical, sexual, and emotional abuse

I was abused physically, sexually, and emotionally. It was traumatic. Incessant physical torment did the most overt damage, hardening me (conditioning my reactions), which is consistent with what we have seen in the discussion of posttraumatic stress disorder.
Survival of the fittest

The design of the flesh has built into it mechanisms on a most profound level and scale well beyond the simple first-blush assessment of Charles Darwin. Survival of the fittest spirit though is certainly true.

Fear of conditioned discomfort

What constitutes "fittest"? If one is abused and kept down by the selfishness of others or by his or her own selfishness in the form of fear, in the form of pain avoidance, then the spirit goes by the wayside. If I am more concerned about my immediate avoidance of the discomfort of potential ridicule, shame, and attack of all kinds, then I have incorrectly defined true welfare. I have falsely concluded that what is best is shortsighted selfishness. This is the opposite of the faith in both ultraism and altruism Jesus employed in his exemplary life.

If on the other hand, as victims of life's abuses, which we all together have caused and will otherwise perpetuate, each of us puts aside our misperceived emotional comfort for the sake of ending the entire system of falsehood, then each of us who does that is not lacking the spirit for eternal life in righteousness.

Universal servitude

The selfish and competitive on the side of selfishness is ultimately lacking. It is missing the understanding that the right and power to govern or judge lies in universal servitude.
The sexual abuse caused the most conscious confusion. The improper use and deception was more apparent than with the abuse with more immediate pain, because there was more time to reflect and the harm did not work so aggressively to terminate thought. This is my personal experience. For others, sexual abuse can be more constant and overwhelming and directly associated with immediate and intense pain rather than emotional confusion and pain. No trauma is identical. No two people experience exactly the same thing. All trauma is singularly unique; however, it all shares unselfishness in common. It is all harmful to the soul.

I'm talking about things and acts that ran contrary to the natural order of things. What I mean by natural order is that which is best, healthiest, and fittest: The Eternal. That is the thing that nearly the entire human race runs from rather than embraces wholeheartedly.

What are people going to say? Are they going to deny that they have been diseased by abuse, offense, sin, evil? Are they going to deny that selfishness is hell and that unselfishness is salvation, in which case they show lacking? Can it be made plainer?

These memories were ever-present with me. I never forgot them. I never suppressed them. I didn't have to recover them. The physical abuse wasn't suppressed probably because it wasn't so egregious per episode so much as it was constant. I was tormented with a near constant drubbing.
I was poisoned, whipped, stabbed, had guns held on me a number of times, was shot at a couple of times, and was shot. These things were done by a number of people whose identities I won't disclose. I would ask anyone I've confided in not to disclose the identities outside the applicable group of people. This is the application of Matthew 18:15-17.

As for the sexual abuse, it can't be classified as sadistic. Unless pain was associated with sexual abuse before my permanent memories formed, I was never subjected to physical pain in conjunction with inappropriate sexual activities and satanic, deceptive practices. I say satanic, because the deception used mocked Jesus Christ. Of course, the perpetrator had been abused and was still very much confused. The abused often act out on others. That should be common knowledge. All perpetrators have been abused.

Real love is when the abuse stops with the abused.

Expose the evil spirit

I expose the evil spirit so that those infected can cast it out, literally become free of their own buried, and not so buried, putrefaction that will otherwise be with them forever. It is for the sake of repentance and salvation. We must wake up to face the evil. We cannot allow each other to stay asleep to what is going on.
Everyone doesn't know his or her mistakes

People say that each person knows the mistakes he or she has made. It isn't true. If that were true, Jesus would never have said the blind lead the blind. People often know only in a twilight zone. They keep themselves in a comfortable but eternally fatal stupor.

Don't drop it for false pleasantness

Others will say, well once it has been said, let it drop for the sake of pleasantness. It isn't pleasant in hell, and that's the result of not warning or being warned and heeding. Yes, there is a time and place where nothing more ought to be said. There are those who will choose the willful self over the whole self who is God. Shouting from the proverbial and literal roof tops is not wrong however. It is right so long as the right warning is being issued.

Physical discipline is failing

Now, many people wonder what if anything the child did wrong as in whether or not physical discipline is being mistaken for abuse. While I don't subscribe to the concept that physical discipline is not abusive, I can make the distinction concerning whether or not others would conclude that there was misbehavior on a child's part. I will tell you that it is extremely wrong and damaging to use physical discipline without the child knowing exactly what he or she has done. It is also very wrong not to have instructed the child and warned the child.
Regardless, physical discipline is a sign of failing to reach the child on the higher level of love. The worst of it was feeling unloved and unprotected, completely vulnerable. Even now, I wonder about what I did, if anything, in my previous existence to merit being thrown into such circumstances. I have wondered if I reaped what I sowed in an earlier life or whether I was simply put into such circumstances to do what I'm working on. After all, Jesus said that the blind man was not blind because his parents or he had sinned but rather so that Jesus could heal him right then and there in front of his disciples. Of course, there would be no blindness where there is no evil. I know Jesus wasn't speaking otherwise. It is just that evil does not have a one-for-one correspondence that the mundane mind can readily grasp. The evil of humans in the world and of the evil spirit that lasts beyond the grave does really go lurking around for innocent and guilty victims both.

Nightmares, waking and sleeping

I had recurrent nightmares of being suffocated in the pitch-black. I heard a voice in my head that always started out as deep and calm but steadily increased in speed and went up in pitch. The voice browbeat me in vocabulary I did not understand. It was not a voice I recognized. There were times when I saw wild animals attacking me that after they were gone, I knew had not been there. At the time though, I was fighting for my life. At times, I felt a presence (invisible) attacking me physically. I would run from room to room in a panic trying to stay out in front of it. If I stopped for long, it would overcome my entire body as if pins were being driven into me everywhere simultaneously.

These things didn't stop me from functioning. I went to school regularly and slowly developed into what people would call a good student. I wasn't constantly morose either. In fact, even though I had a depressed side, most people thought I was a happy, healthy child. That's what I wanted to be, so I bounced back quickly after mistreatment you might say. The cumulative effect was mounding up and taking its toll beyond my child's brain to comprehend.

Also, I was raised on the principles of willpower, never admitting a mistake, never saying I'm sorry, never seeking help outside the family because it is a sign of weakness and leaves a trail to exposure bringing scandal, and many similar notions. I believe they are old, misguided British principles. I believe George W. Bush was raised under such notions too.

Now though, the news cannot be sensationalized, because so many people are dulled and numbed by marketing. What ought to be scandalous is not. Moral sensibilities are not outraged, because the consciences of so many Americans aren't functioning. They have been systematically reduced by the New Testament brood of vipers. This is not code. We mean exactly the false Zionist, neocons, led by misguided descendants of Jacob, who call themselves Jews. Oh, there are plenty of people aiding and abetting them from all nationalities. However, the false Zionists are particularly pernicious. That's because they don't believe in the real Jesus, who was a real Jew and whose spirit lives to say the rejection of the new commandment and the rejection of the lessons of the good Samaritan show the evil and false treasure in the hearts of these so-called Jews who are not. It is so heartening to hear and see so many descendants of Jacob who agree with this.

Damage control without repentance

Bush is admitting a few carefully selected mistakes such as his statement "bring it on" and "wanted dead or alive," what he calls now "tough talk." He's also mentioned that Abu Ghraib was a mistake. These are the glaring errors. His handlers had focus groups find out that it would help his ratings if he were to throw the dog a bone or two by admitting at least the most obvious mistakes. It is damage control without repentance. It would take away the issue from Bush's opposition. It would make him seem more human and capable of growth, etcetera.

I had to will everything off, or I wasn't a man or tough enough even at five-years-old. I had to win whenever or wherever my honor or pride, etc., were supposedly impugned. I had to grit my teeth and tough everything out. This made me as tight as a drum, needless to say. I was taught that real men don't cry, that they don't have anything but the most steely emotions—completely insensitive. Well, all of that went hand-in-hand with fighting back obviously. So I did, often. I was a scrapper. I wasn't afraid to speak back to anyone about anything.

Sometimes it seemed good on a mundane level such as when I spoke out and fought for the oppressed and abused. In my confusion though,
I could turn right around and be unfair without realizing it. It wasn't good such as when I spoke out to cover when I should have been conditioned to either not do the thing to begin with or at least say I was mistaken and sorry and atone afterwards.

This shows the inherent error of self-will that is false humanism, arrogance, and self-authorization.

Sensitivities were all messed up. I took offense at the smallest things. My ego was easily bruised even while I falsely imagined I was too strong for that. Overreaction came from the idea of teaching others the lesson that hurting my pride would have negative consequences for others. It was attempting to gain respect with my fists. It was my training that I know now was backwards. It was the American way too. I was very popular so to speak while I was at my most aggressive—no doubt hated by some for the right reasons.

I was born on the heels of World War II and the Korean War, and all red-blooded American boys were supposed to fight and win. It was glory. It was patriotic—"Better dead than Red" and all that. Meaning it would be better to die fighting Communism than to give in ever. We were supposed to be indoctrinated into fighting, not to question orders, and I probably watched every World War II movie ever made and plenty of them multiple times. I watched them more often then the people they were first made for. 1950's US TV showed them over and over and over during school hours. I was big on watching movies on TV. That's how I spent much of my time while my older siblings were off to school.
The "manly" propaganda was extremely indoctrinating.

The Reds in real time though were morphed into the new enemy who had to be hated with all the passion that we were taught to want to exterminate the Krauts and Japs, as we were taught to call the Germans and Japanese.

Now it is supposed to be the Arabs and Persians but with the twist that it only means the militant Muslims.

It is ironic now that those we were to see as enemies then, the Nazis and Fascists, the police-state crowd, are coming to power more and more in the US, UK, Canada, Australia, and EU.

As for my being diagnosed with schizophrenia, that never happened. In fact, I was never seen as a child by anyone who could make a formal diagnosis. It was schizophrenia though. That's obvious. It was induced from the outside by abuse.

On schizophrenia

There is a movement to phase out the term "schizophrenia." A whole host of reasons have been given. What will be put in its place? All selfishness inflicts disease causing affects if the target doesn't overcome through God.

On schizophrenia, it has certainly been caused most often by trauma (abuse), especially during childhood. Psychiatrists and psychologists were largely unaware of this until just recently. Of course, there has always been an undercurrent within humanity that was fully aware of the direct connection between evil and its symptoms. Certainly Jesus was aware that Legion, for instance, had been severely abused. (See: Mark 5:1-20).

Legion was terribly shattered by his treatment in life at the hands of the very selfish (demons). No doubt, he had been severely abused physically, sexually, and emotionally. Jesus's compassion on him and the truth Jesus revealed to him healed him, set him free. Jesus did the exact opposite of abuse. He loved him into a state of wholeness, health, wellness. It's a beautiful story. It shows how far lost and down a soul may be and yet be reached by God.

I mentioned Ebenezer Scrooge earlier on. Scrooge had been severely neglected by his father. This hardened his heart. Later in life, he suffered terrible prophetic nightmares. This was a touch of schizophrenia depicted by Charles Dickens.

At any rate, it is a good thing that the psychiatrists and psychologists are beginning to see the light concerning schizophrenia. It will help a great deal in changing the overall culture of humanity away from selfishness that is interchangeable with abuse and neglect.

For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

\[153\] Charles Dickens. A Christmas Carol.
(Matthew 13:15).

If the psychiatrists, psychologists, and others can come to understand that all healing comes from God, if they can bring themselves to give God the credit, they will be able to help people as never before. The Holy Spirit has moved many of them to begin to see. The Holy Spirit has deliberately exposed the terrible things that others have been doing in the name of greed and other unchecked lusts. Righteousness shall prevail—has prevailed.

The Holy Spirit is marvelous. The Holy Spirit is revealing the truth in digestible fashion to set us free, to lead us further and further into the light. As we have stated elsewhere in this work, everyone has been a victim of abuse to one degree and type or another. Selfishness is abuse. Everyone has been on the receiving end of selfishness. It introduces a lesser state, a darker condition.

Fight-or-flight

The reaction to the more extreme threats and degrees of selfishness is overt fight-or-flight. Jesus fled not in mundane fear but because it was before the perfect time to stand and take the abuse so it would be the object lesson for the ages that it has been for those who see it. Selfishness is stressful. Jesus was greatly stressed by the selfishness of humanity, but he was resigned to the salvation plan of God and rightly so.
Selfishness is in line with that great evil: Torture. The selfish spirit is a torment. It is pain and suffering. Jesus's suffering on the cross was the selfishness of others. The blind hypocrisy of the Pharisees was the pain.

Pharisees: Backwards

The Pharisees saw Jesus as the annoyance, the agitator upsetting the status quo. They had it backwards. They were the rebellious ones, the willful ones ruining the lives of the people. It was the Pharisees and Sadducees and scribes and publicans who were following after the Gentile rulers who were not the servants of the people but saw the people rather as their pawns in the great game of worldly and temporal domination. It is the same now with the worldly powers that be. Yes, it was ordained from on high. "Jesus answered, Thou couldst have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above." (John 19:11). It was also ordained from on high that Jesus show the better, the best way. "The works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me." (John 5:36). This is self-evident truth seen by virtue of the good fruit that results from one's deeds. Caesar could not be caesar were it not for God allowing it from heaven as part of God's plan. Jesus though received the better things.

How can people be made to see this clearly and plainly so that they will choose righteousness that is the serving, unselfish spirit rather than the status quo that is the spirit of the Empire of mammon (capitalism)?
The long causal chain of selfishness is marked by great degrees in relative evil. It is at first seen as a very subtle connection. The abused turned abuser or turn into a mere shell is actually so stressed out that he or she can't gather thoughts sufficient to see and head off the conditioned pattern of reactivity. The specific stressors become so generalized that reaction becomes indiscriminative. Everyone becomes a target for vengeance or is viewed as a threat to be beaten down first or to be avoided. This is known and used by the militarists. They despitefully use the gullible enlistees and draftees.

It is also why militarism promotes sexual depravity.

One can point this out and warn of its consequences. That's all. It can only be repeated and its opposite exemplified as Jesus did. "For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you." (John 13:15). The rest is up to the individual as to whether or not he or she will change and grow in the right direction.

Take personal responsibility but not to the exclusion of blaming the causal chain

Much of what are termed personality disorders list blaming others as a symptom. Therein lies the great failure of humanity. The thing the mental healthcare professionals have wanted to put across is taking greater personal responsibility. This is akin to false libertarianism. The problem is that they don't take this out to its ultimate conclusion to eliminate the inherent hypocrisy. It is right that we not use the chain of perpetration as an excuse for continuing our own irresponsible behavior; however, it is a grave error not to blame the chain back to its roots in the first place. Acknowledge personal, individual responsibility and accountability but emphasize the radiating effect.

In other words, simply being insensitive enough to function in the so-called modern competitive society ostensibly symptom free is far from the kingdom. The idea is not to become impervious to the plight of the sheep and lambs and to just get on with one's selfish goals.

The idea is to shed the real truth and light into the world to eliminate the stressors in the first place, to eliminate satanic selfishness through dovishness (real peace), love, truth, giving, and sharing all, which are the only ways to do it.

This is the heart and soul of universal repentance.

If we focus only upon those who are victims who through their greater sensitivity, show greater signs or results of the evil of selfishness, then we provide a false cover for the selfish perpetuators and facilitators. We allow for the rationalization that is the just war and that torture is good and all the rest of the evil lies being spewed out by the self-centered, diseased, rulers.

The real king

Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them. But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister. And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. (Mark 10:42-44).

The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors. But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. (Luke 22:25-26).

This is so central that everyone should dwell upon it until he or she gets it. This is the narrow way to salvation. The Empire is imperial power. Its president is its king for a term, its lord, whom the people are told to consider beneficial, profitable, and advantageous for them. Yet, by Jesus's standard, it is rotten fruit because that worldly prince teaches the death that is selfishness.

Our God: Our servant whom we serve

In the kingdom of God, authority is granted to the harmless. In the kingdom, the lion will lie down with the lamb. The lion's beastly spirit will be pacified by the truth that will end the vicious and insane cycle of war. The real great one serves and only serves.

Jesus turned the so-called civilized world on its head. Christianity is the real civilization and the Roman Empire and all such worldly empires are clearly known as the domain of the devouring spirit, the house of Satan, by definition.

If you don't read scripture this way, you are hereby warned that you are not a Christian. If you don't see this as the ultimate in mental health, you are unenlightened.

Unless and until humanity realizes that individually and collectively we are to blame for our own and each other's failures, humanity will not be freed of disease. We are one, interconnected and interdependent, except for those who don't realize it. We cannot force peace; therefore, those who will endlessly refuse to sever themselves from selfishness and harmful competitiveness will find themselves separated by "a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence." (Luke 16:26). That will be to protect the saved from the tormentors. That will be to retain the kingdom of God as the truly peaceful dominion. This is your choice. You have no choice but to go one way or the other. Refusing the kingdom is to choose hell.

Everyone reacts to abuse and trauma, to being victimized and tested by selfishness and competitiveness. Selfishness and competitiveness are the lower, undesirable, inferior, and ultimately unwelcome states of consciousness. Ask for and seek righteousness, and the door will be opened to you. Ask for and seek personal gain at the expense of others, and find the door locked and unanswered. Find yourself outside where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
Don't be hardened by the sins of others. Don't let their sins set your teeth on edge. Remain sensitive and compassionate. Become even more so. Know the truth though.

Be resolved to the separation, the division, of the tares from the wheat, the blood of the serpent from the blood of the lamb, of the mere manna from the real bread, words of the false prophets of the Empire from the real words from God. The wrathful consequences must come, but we are to save as many from them as possible.

We are to spread the words and deeds without coercion and without calling down the wrath. "For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." (Luke 9:56).

Spread the word. All perpetrators and abusers were themselves victims and abused. The illusion of competition exists on the unenlightened-flesh plane of existence. The human being is called (if he or she will listen, hear, and comprehend), to convert from predation.

The Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives

Only Satan is the spirit that devours lives. Again, "The Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives." (Luke 9:56). Read it all you who call yourselves reconstructionists and dominionists and who claim your just war. You lie. Woe to the false shepherds!
The evil Empire consciously preys upon the weak nations, the poor people, and the giving and sharing, cooperative economies. Therefore, the Empire is of the satanic spirit. It is of the beastly, unconverted, antichrist spirit. It comes from the cumulative error of being victimized and reacting with ever greater levels of counter-predation. All the while, it is blinded by its own lusts. It fails to see through the blood in its eyes that there is a perfect way that will eliminate the evil cycle. It fails to rise, to be enlightened, to turn to the real peace. It fails to heed the word of God given through God's messenger, his most obedient son, Jesus Christ. It continues reacting with the back and lower parts of its brain, reptilian brain. It is dull and dim.

The guilty: First victims

The Holy Spirit is revealing through the social sciences the extremely high statistical significance showing that the guilty in the prisons were first victims. Now, Jesus knew this of course. All softhearted people knew this before the statisticians began declaring a scientific, positive correlation.

The same is being held forth concerning schizophrenia. Brain damage that causes schizophrenia can come from a number of directions, but they all ultimately resolve to the root cause that is the selfish spirit. Genetic damage is the result of the selfish spirit. So-called accidents that cause physical injury result from the causal chain of the selfish spirit.
Psychiatry: Convert

The medical doctors specializing in psychiatry (spiritual dis-ease of the soul or mind, even though many psychiatrists still don't see the light of the metaphysical) are finally being shown some light by the Holy Spirit. They are finally softening enough, becoming sensitive enough, and compassionate enough, to see the positive correlation between the trauma of abuse and the resulting damage, the breaking of the soul or mind that is the fractured, the schizophrenic. They are finally standing up to the sickness that is militarism and covert and overt interrogation and punishing torture and state-sponsored terrorism that is inherently US foreign and economic policy shared by so many of the rest of the world's capitalists that creates so many broken souls through deliberate trauma.

The brain damage, ill-ease, anxiety and depression, and contagious symptoms, consequences, or behaviors, come from the root cause. All the ills of the world are traceable back to that one root. Look at the battle fields. Look at the mental hospitals. Look at the prisons. Look at the squalid slums. Look at the polluting factories and farms. Look at the weapons. Look at starvation. Look at global warming. Look at the plagues. They all trace back to the root emotion that is selfishness. Convert from that emotion to its opposite emotion, and the entire causal chain will end. All the symptoms and diseases will clear up more and more over time.
The Holy Spirit is taking away the excuse

There is a clear and plain choice of how each person continues on in life once the truth has been told to him or her. Once, each of us was ignorant enough that we had a partially mitigating excuse. However, thank God that the Holy Spirit is taking away that excuse.

Some will say that they wish the Holy Spirit would just leave us all in ignorance so that we could continue on without such challenges to turn and change our deeply conditioned patterns of emotions, thoughts, verbal reactions, and other treatment toward others. However, if the Holy Spirit were to leave us all in that ignorance, that darkness, then pain and suffering would continue for the innocent without the prospect for their salvation from the clutches of the iniquitous. Also, the guilty would have no opportunity to be rehabilitated. They would be forever punished in their ignorance. What the Holy Spirit is doing is eminently just, fair, and right. It is wonderful!

Life here in the flesh is a test of consequences and conditioning and overcoming to separate the trustworthy from the untrustworthy. The trustworthy will be as harmless as a dove no matter how much power and authority they are given. They will remain servants of the souls of the unity that is God. They give their lives in the flesh for the unity of God. They do that in the absolute certainty in life eternal that is God's promise of salvation conflating flesh and eternal spirit unto incorruptness. God saves us. God purifies us.
The eternal warning is placed before all. It is mandatory. There will be the separation of the tares from the wheat. The tares are unwellcome in the kingdom of God. The tares reject the truth about the vicious cycle of trauma and damage and their direct hand in it. The wheat is the good fruit. It represents the truth that brings real freedom from evil, which evil is that vicious, selfish cycle of trauma and abuse and greed that the tares deny in themselves.

I was not professionally diagnosed, but that doesn't matter. Everyone is certifiable until he or she turns to the real truth and lives accordingly. We all must forgive or face the standard we use in failing to forgive the shortcomings of others. We are to forgive those who are separated out. We are not to pray for any ill to befall any soul. We are to pray for just the opposite. We are to pray for those who think of us as, or call us, or treat us as, their enemy.

I was analyzed in the fifth grade, aged ten. The school wanted to figure out why I wasn't doing better in a few areas since I seemed bright enough alright. I can tell you that the subject of any kind of abuse never came up.

Hallucinations

So how did I get over the symptoms of visual and auditory hallucinations? The visual hallucinations stopped when I realized they weren't real when I was probably five. The auditory hallucinations stopped when I was probably eight or nine at the latest. I actually told the voice to shut up. Every time I heard it,
I literally said in my mind "shut up." I was very forceful about it. I told the voice I am not going to listen. It finally went away and never came back.

As for hearing the word of God, I don't hear the words as what people would equate with auditory hallucinations. The Holy Spirit speaks to me through my own thoughts and feelings, moving me. I don't discount the reality of spirits though, far from it. In fact, the visions of wild animals threatening to rip me to shreds and devour me were evil, unclean, spirits manifest in my brain matter literally just as evil spirits led others and me to be abused and to abuse yet others. I don't have a problem of thinking of it that way and clinically at the same time. I also do not discount that strong enough thoughts and emotions make things happen beyond anything science yet understands, or ever will, since God withholds the knowledge of full power from all who learn only via testing and not via faith, for what should be obvious reasons to anyone who doesn't trust the untrustworthy.

Also, when I ask specific questions, answers are provided. It's my conscience networking with God.

Some will ask how the words of anyone who says all this now can be trusted. Anyone who saw things that were admittedly not there could have imagined all the abuse too and could be just imagining God and Jesus. No. Abused children see and hear things because their minds have been damaged by the attack that is abuse. First comes abuse. Then come symptoms. The contagious disease of abuse and selfishness presents symptoms, results, fruits.
People know this. They just don't want it to be true, because they don't want to live up to the implications that they must change what they are feeling, thinking, saying, and doing. That is selfish. They must give and share freely, which is the opposite of abuse and the opposite of the contagious disease of selfishness.

Don't diseases cause hallucinations? They aren't the only cause, but yes. My problems were clearly linked to disease-causing abuse and the negligence of those who should have stopped it from stepping up to do it. There really is no disease that isn't linked to evil. Disease is the fruit of evil, even if not always the evil of the one suffering. It is also the fruit of ignorance, since we are ignorant of how to have no doubts in the healing power of God. Doubt has been conditioned into us by the enemy of real righteousness. Wherever there is disease, there is evil. The root cause of all evil is selfishness. There is so much ambient selfishness that only God our Father can trace all the effects back link by link.

Suicidal thoughts at four

I often had thoughts of suicide jumping from high places even before I started school fulltime. I would visualize my family looking down on my dead body and finally crying having compassion about my tormented soul.

This whole beginning of my life set me up. It conditioned me to the fight-or-flight reaction. At first, I fled. I took to hiding in the most implausible place never suspected and never discovered by virtue of the ingenuity it took for me to access it without leaving a trace.

Then I started fighting back. I fought back so hard that I sent people running away in fear for their lives. I became a hair trigger. The weight of a single hair would set me off. I fought daily for what seemed to be an eternity.

Finally, I decided I had had enough. I was going to end the abuse one way or another. It was the survival instinct. I was still very young, but I put a stop to incessant antagonism and other abuses by making a very credible life or death threat. I demonstrated that I could bring all the pain to an end with or without the cooperation of others and without any harm to myself that I could understand at the time at any rate. I made the threat rather than just carrying out the actions, because I truly didn't want to hurt anyone even while I felt I was completely up against it. It worked, but it didn't remove the open wounds in my soul. The terrible hardhearted lesson had been passed on and imprinted. I didn't know that then, but it is clear to see now.

It was detrimental conditioning that stuck with me so that I constantly battled the urge to use threats and wrath (what I sometimes thought was righteous indignation and even divine retribution depending upon the circumstances) to solve every problem. I now realize that I sometimes suffered from acting out the bullying mentality that was used on me. That is one of my greatest regrets. It was ignorant of me, not that I wasn't aware on a certain level of the wrongdoing. It was just ignorant to fall to the temptation. Thanks to God it didn't become an engrained pattern.

I repent

I forgive everyone who ever wronged me just as I want to be forgiven by all I have wronged. I am sorry for the wrongs I've done, the selfish, shortsighted acts. I apologize, and I hope people have, and will, forgive me.

Wicked temper

With the exception of the Hippy era and the profound effects of the concept of peace and flower power at the time, throughout much of my life, I was on edge, ready to fight at the drop of a hat. I had a wicked temper and very short fuse most of my life. It took a huge toll on me every time I convinced myself to not lash out or lash back at everything I saw as a challenge and potential threat to my ego (self). The only time I ever stopped being aggressive was when I was siding with the underdog, which I did constantly to the ire of the powers that be, and I as I said during the peace-and-love Hippy movement.

I really loved those aspects of that movement. Those two words "peace and love" were as music to soothe the savage beast. My heart was truly softened for a time, until the hardheartedness of selfishness stole the whole movement away leading into the insane UK and US politics of Margaret Thatcher and Ronald Reagan. Much of the rest of the world traded one form of tyranny for another.
The seeds of fragmentation set back the peace and love movement

As explained elsewhere, the movement to peace and love was allowed to become confused and lost to the corruption of lust and greed that followed drug money, certain aspects of the music industry, and sexual libertinism or free love, which was not the same kind of love meant in the expression "peace and love." The message of togetherness was coupled with a message of dissolution. This is the lesson that must be learned.

The music stars were the pied pipers. They sang one thing and did another. They grew rich. Rather than turning their money to good ends, they either hoarded it or burned it up on hedonistic pursuits. They were capitalist without a clue about investing in the good cause.

Jesus Freaks

Calvinism and other wrongheaded so-called Christian notions also helped to fragment the movement. Turning to Jesus was a great idea, but most of the youth turned to misguided shepherds who led backwards toward coercion and fascism.

Free love

Dissolution (fragmentation) is death of the soul. Coming together in such a way that leaves no room in the heart for promiscuity does not cause such fragmentation of the soul. That part of the movement, the free love aspect, was always wrongheaded. That part of the movement was an evil trick. That's how the devil crept in and ruined everything that was good.

Huge errors are still being made worldwide with the insane rush to US-style capitalism.

Soft drugs, alcohol, and agoraphobia

All the history of abuse had confused me. It threw me off balance. It led to substance abuse of what are called soft drugs in the mid-1960's and into alcohol (both forms of self-abuse). Then it led into social phobia (agoraphobia), and extreme panic attacks.

It was a jumble of emotions. I felt judged and unworthy even while I was trying everything I knew at the time to raise my self-esteem. It didn't work. I was so wound up that my emotional skin was as thin as could be. The least little thing would offend me. Yet, it was critical for me for people to see me in a positive light. My life was contradiction. I was so confused that I just couldn't speak to more than one person at a time with any level of comfort and only then if I felt I wasn't being judged. Crowds just repelled me. I wanted to run away yelling. I held myself in two extremes at the same time: Not measuring up and yet somehow being better. It made no sense. I was so revved up that I never slowed down enough to see it.

The root cause

There came a time though when I had to begin really to learn what the root cause was and what to do about it. I did, and that's what this work is all about.
Now, I am not interested in ruining other people's lives. I am not interested in vindictiveness. In fact, my feelings are now running in exactly the opposite direction. I know that the only reason anyone ever acted inappropriately toward me was because he or she had been acted inappropriately toward by someone else before that, maybe in not quite the same way, but nevertheless, evil actions beget evil actions unless overcome by someone. Someone has to be the last link for the chain to end. I know that where every single soul ever acted inappropriately toward anyone else such action did not come out of a vacuum. People learn misbehavior from myriad sources. They don't all learn it at home. It is in the culture. It is in the media and so-called entertainment that aren't counter-acted by voices that put such so-called entertainment into its proper perspective that is insanity.

I know that every time I fell into that whole quagmire of inappropriate reaction that I was wrong to do so, but I understand that I didn't have a clear enough voice leading me away from the problem before I fell. I received mixed signals. No one told me the real word of God and full meaning of the new commandment. No one I knew, knew it. I never saw it in print. I never heard or saw it in the media. The televangelists were obvious fakes.

Jesus spoke clearly enough, and he was certainly a strong enough voice. However, his words were always filtered by a misleading environment. He wasn't allowed to be in his context. He wasn't read properly. He wasn't comprehended.
Don't suppose that I imagine my life to be relatively unique in terms of experiencing abuse, far from it. I know I've made clear in this work that everyone has suffered abuse. It is a matter of all the variables of abuse and not whether or not any abuse has occurred. There would not be a selfish action where there had not first been some level of abuse or offense or error that harmed the heart and mind and soul.

Are we going to end all war? Are we going to completely disarm? Are we going to feed everyone? Are we going to help restore the planet's health? Are we going to end abuse everywhere and forever? Will the leaders serve?

Come in off the dead limb

Our desire is not abuse and ruin but to call all to universal repentance for everyone's sake. It is much easier to repent when others have repented and are repenting. Don't be afraid to go out on the limb afraid of it breaking or someone sawing it off so you'll fall. You really aren't going out on a limb. It's an illusion. You're really out on a dead limb while you remain unrepentant. Becoming repentant by openly admitting you've been a wretched and miserable sinner every time you've done a selfish thing is coming in off the limb. Don't let shame stand in the way of testimony that can save the souls of others. Be guided by the Holy Spirit.

The worldly world is a very hospitable place to darkness. Our fear of shame being exposed allows for that hospitable environment. Every house has its darkness. Every house has its skeletons in the closet. The whole world is such a house. We simply must overcome the fear of shame, since we are all shameful and guilty but worthy of forgiveness if we will create a world that is conducive to goodness only through love.

Will this work? It already has in microcosm. It can be translated to the larger world.

More importantly, right now we see all the fruit of the wrongheaded culture. We have seen all the torturing being divulged to the shock of the military and intelligence people who imagined they would be able to keep it out of the view of the mainstream and be able to lie it away with ridiculous statements such as torture was only done by the nightshift at one facility. How can you trust anyone in a position to know who unrepentantly has told such despicable distortion? I can't.

You see, wherever abuse is allowed the cover of total silence, the perpetuation of the entire evil system is facilitated. Therefore, each of us has a Christian duty to overcome our personal fear of being exposed for our mistakes, our falling. We must love one another enough to overcome our shame for the sakes of others. It doesn't mean don't feel ashamed for having done wrong. It means feel ashamed but have the courage of love to say, to all, that we, all, must stop all the behavior, everywhere, forever, that causes all the falling in the first place.

Is it idealistic? Yes. Is it possible? Yes.
The prophecy of the third

Many prophesy that there will come a time when fully one-third of the people will accept that the real spectrum is selfish versus unselfish and will accept to be on the side of unselfishness that is the non-coercive heart of Christianity. It isn't nihilistic (where the self disappears). Jesus is still Jesus. It is where the self becomes pure righteousness and is, therefore, one with that self and all in that self. The Holy Spirit is the selfsame.

The name of the repentant

The fact that all are forgivable, even though the particular sin of blaspheming the Holy Spirit is not forgivable in ages, is not to say that reputations do not count. One's name or reputation after repentance is an aid for spreading the good news. Of course, there is nothing to be done about those who seek to damage one's name after repentance other than being truly blameless. Consistency is everything. Therefore, always endeavor not to backslide. Also, always give credit to those who do not backslide. Let the spiritually dead speak their evil about you. They will twist everything for the sake of evil ends. They will tell only what they select and only from evil's perspective. It is inherent in evil that devils do this. Don't despair. Persevere.

Only living a new life in truth, getting better and better, demonstrates the change whereby no one else has the right to hold up the past as proof of continuing failure. Even the dirtiest garment is washed clean in mercy, forgiveness, and atonement. However, so many people fail to comprehend this early in their examination of religions. With those people, a smear campaign of dredging up the past, disproved by the new life in the light of the truth, is assumed to be very effective. The fact though is that it has the opposite effect. Those who dredge up the past of people who have returned to God are just heaping hot coals on their own heads. They are persecuting the repentant.

Don't let those who refuse to join you turn you around

Many souls remain lost, because they buy into the effectiveness of such smear tactics against redeemed believers. Therefore, it is important to protect those who have not had the time to prepare to take the heat of such smears concerning past indiscretions. After all, people convert each day. Indiscretions can be just moments old. Also, people learn what indiscretions are over time. The Apostles didn't learn everything instantly. Jesus brought them along over many months. Those Apostles continued learning even after Jesus went on ahead to make a place for them. Therefore, don't be afraid of the smears. Don't be shamed into not asking for forgiveness. Ask to be forgiven. Do it. It is right. Don't be afraid to look at yourself in terms of how you've been part of the problem of selfishness. It is cleansing. Feel with all your heart all the pain and sorrow you've furthered in short-sightedness. Don't let those who refuse to join you turn you around from doing what is right.
One of the ways to help protect others from such smears is through numbers. Those who are less prepared to take the heat of evil smears will find comfort and support in numbers. The more people who convert to real Christianity, the more support there will be. That will give people time to become better prepared to withstand evil smears.

Reading diagonally

To further clarify, I read The Bible diagonally, meaning I read by cross-reference. I follow words for context. I have never read The Bible linearly (straight through cover-to-cover). This does not disqualify me from writing this work. The Holy Spirit doesn't wait until one has read The Bible straight through before it moves one to take action. Also, I do not know The Bible chapter and verse. My fleshly father once told me that the devil can quote scripture. He was right. After all, Satan quoted scripture to Jesus. Being able to recite the entire Bible is not a bad thing mind you, but it is not necessarily an indication of holiness. Knowing scripture is much more than having it memorized word-for-word. It is really a matter of interpretation. Jesus made that clear when he asked people how they read the scripture, meaning how they interpret it. "He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?" (Luke 10:26). "How readest thou" is the same as asking "how do you interpret it." None of this is to say that I will never read The Bible straight through. By the time you've read this, I may have done just that. It isn't chronologically laid out, unless one deliberately obtains a chronological version.
One may consult a chronological list to read any bible chronologically, to the extent the list makers get that right. Chronological here means the chronology of events written about and not the chronology of the date of writing as dated by so-called Protestant higher critics.

Knowing everything

Just as I have not read everything, I do not know everything. No human does.

Adequately prioritize based upon seeking righteousness and doing it. This is why many people capable of focusing have found it so difficult to work with others who lack the desire for the single vision. "When thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light." (Luke 11:34).

With the superfluous, important information is not burned into the mind. Clear the mind of that which doesn't matter so as to retain focus upon the new commandment. There in lies salvation. From it all good things will flow. If it isn't in line with that commandment, it isn't true. It is darkness. It is misleading. It leads to death of the soul.

No, I do not know everything in the mundane sense. I do know though that the Holy Spirit comes and tells us everything we need to know to proceed in the right direction, provided we ask, seek, and knock for righteousness. There is a difference between knowing many things and knowing what matters. The latter is the true knowledge.
Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. (Isaiah 42:1).

The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me; because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. (Isaiah 61:1).

We are to do what we can to live up to that spirit. That's what Jesus did.

Communes under other denominations

Also, as you've probably gathered, I am not living in a commune at the time of writing this work. There are many communes in the world which are based upon what those living in those communes espouse to be Christianity. No doubt in many cases, they are relatively closer to the kingdom than most in the world. However, I have not found any which share the tenets of this work stripping away all the human traditions that have been built up as if they are the precepts of God.

Condoning sexual confusion

Other communes exist that make no claim to Christianity. They don't lean toward giving beyond their borders. Some of these communes condone sexual confusion undermining the sacred bond in one inviolable flesh of two people in lifelong wedlock who, through their physical union, may bring forth new souls into this world. If the bond is real as opposed to being selfish lust, it is the one instance where the flesh and spirit unite in true affection. Condoning sex in other than such a bond diminishes the sacred and drives the entire soul further from God. All sorts of selfish temptations may enter more readily.

Also, many communes still have at their heart a for-profit mentality.

None of this is to say that all non-Christian communes fit this portrait exactly. It is a generalization, and there are communist livers who do wish the whole world were living in peace and with all things in common and not for profit in the worldly sense.

Devising real communist places necessarily based upon real liberalism

It is for all the reasons above that we are proposing devising real communist places necessarily based upon real liberalism. We are proposing that these communist places be temporal way stations from which enlightenment may radiate and good works flow into the world. These communes will be aimed at becoming more than self-sufficient (because God is the provider) and deliberately not cut off from the world or else they will not shine light back into the world. They will be nonprofit places in the capitalistic sense. Ownership will be vested in the whole community of Real Liberal Christian Commune members with each member spiritually owning all. We say "spiritually" here, because the mundane state doesn't comprehend what real ownership is. No one will strip away any part from the whole. They will be communistically owned and operated ministry communities, with real democracy in the workplace.

We are not proposing heavy-handed authoritarianism, as that would be contrary to how Jesus handled even his own disciples. We ought not to be heavy handed or uncooperative. With the proper spirit of cooperation, questions of heavy handedness are rendered irrelevant.

Commune foundation

What we are proposing, among all the righteous things too numerous to enumerate, is to base the communes on the following and advocating the same universally:

- Holding sex as a sacred inviolable bond for life, creating of one couple one flesh, as also in offspring;
- Not taking the libertine way of free sex, which diminishes that sacred bond and causes so many problems;
Hold all possessions in common, freely given according to ability and freely shared according to need;

Being good stewards of all that has been freely given by God for our common use, which is everything;

Being pacifistic and non-punishing: Non-coercive (this does not mean an absence of righteous chastisement or an absence of treating heathens as heathens);

Letting go of all human traditions that conflict with the spirit (what Jesus taught and did); and,

Shining the light of these and other truths openly rather than keeping that light shut away from the world.

Dress codes, uniforms, vestments

Dress codes and uniforms seem to fall into certain mainstream mentalities if they are put into place at all. Dress codes today are often centered on conformity and sexual propriety. Concerning sexual propriety, often the dress codes or standards are aimed more so at females. In the more rigid atmospheres, as well-intentioned as they may think they are being, females often must wear head coverings or are encouraged to do so and wear long dresses that are so loose fitting as to hide the contours of the female form. Our view is that females should not dress sluttishly; however, females should not have to be overly concerned with their clothing in as much as it is also a responsibility of males to take, and keep, their minds off sexual lust by having their thoughts grounded in unselfishness. When it comes to the human form, dress is not to be the determinant concerning lusting emotions. We are to be on an emotional level that precludes such temptation. If we insist that females be shapeless by virtue of the pure contrivance that is potato-sack shaped clothing, we have capitulated to lust or accepted a weakness of character rather than having overcome temptations by having our minds elevated above selfishness. Therefore, a balance that is needed where clothing choices become effortless and unnoticeable, meaning that females should dress in ways not designed to arouse and that males should accept the female form for what it is and rise above untrustworthiness so that females do not have to fear the sexual encroachment of males. This approach puts no onus on either gender but rather removes selfishness from all things sexual.

Dress codes

As for dress codes for the purpose of conformity, it is a contrived mentality. If the mind is on the first and great commandment and the second like it and, therefore, truth, love, peace, and all the rest of the good, dress will follow naturally and without anxiety, planning, or calculation. After all, Jesus told us not to concern ourselves with clothing but with the kingdom of God and righteousness.

What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? saith the Lord GOD of hosts. Moreover the LORD saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet: Therefore the LORD will smite with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will discover their secret parts. (Isaiah 3:15-17).

Outward appearance and inward appearance are the same in the honest soul. The real person is not a wolf in sheep's clothing.

Uniforms

Uniforms are usually meant to take away economic and other class distinctions in community or educational settings. The military is a different matter. There it is for reasons of blind obedience to violent commands for the sake of the selfishness of those at the top of society. It is not necessary to use uniforms to remove economic-class distinctions. Uniforms are also used to increase the mindset of collectivization; however, Christianity is not about contrived likeness. Christianity is about spiritual likeness. It is about likeness that comes of being likewise righteous. Sheep's clothing hides nothing. Being a real lamb though shows through to the outside.

Jesus did not dress as those in the high courts, because his spirit was not of that ethos or sphere. It was natural that he would not look the part of a puffed up, arrogant, elitist, hypocrite.

Vestments

Vestments, as they are thought of today, fall very much into all of this. They are designed to have a psychological effect to set apart and higher. Remember, the psyche is the soul. Vestments are to affect souls. Jesus wore no such human, traditional vestments. He didn't wear ritual robes. He didn't wear anything to indicate his office over and above anyone else who was free to wear a plain, white garment as well. It was not necessary. We are all to be vested (clothed) in the spirit. We need nothing on the outside to indicate: To boast. It is to be our words and deeds that indicate. We need no contrivance.

The higher they go, the fancier their vestments. The flipside is also vanity. Some people wear things to signal their poverty. They wear things as a badge of their smug sense of superiority in poverty. They do this for the feelings engendered in the gullible. They do this so that their egos may be built up as a result of the reactions of others. It is negative gain. Neither approach comes from the Holy Spirit. Jesus didn't even have to strike a balance. He was on a completely different plane.

Why fake yourself, being all made up on the outside? We are to be real. Let us not be affected. Jesus taught against affectation. He likened it to doing it for recompense, getting one's reward here and now via the opinions of human beings and not God. This is why he taught to give and pray in secret and to wash when fasting. Let us bring forth deeds worthy of repentance. Then we shall see what real looks like.

Skin color

When it comes to the different colors of people's skin, we are rightly to discern people by virtue of their character. We are not to conclude from skin color whether or not a person is virtuous, because skin color is not a determinant.

Creeds

As for creeds, we have no itemized, numbered creed in the usual sense. We have the Gospel message as the Holy Spirit truly moves us to comprehend. It is infinite. We have the summation that is the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it as rendered by Jesus. We have the Lord's Prayer, the Sermon on the Mount and Jesus' other preaching, the golden rule, and Jesus's new commandment that we love one another as he loved his friends. Whatever is inconsistent with these is against our creed. Does it mean that no one may write what he or she considers a customary creed suitable for the Real Liberal Christian Church? No. We have no such prohibition. Interpretation is individualized. Only the Holy Spirit can inform one of how close any interpretation is to the kingdom. Jesus's interpretation is the kingdom. How do we read him?

What we aren't
We aren't Roman Catholic or Reformed/Calvinist or Lutherans. We aren't Anabaptists, per se. We aren't Anglicans or Orthodox or Ebionites. We aren't Pauline. We don't say that everything those calling themselves these things are wrong. We say that we diverge with certain interpretations of their founders and where those lead.

Ante-Nicene Creed
We are ante-Nicene Creed. We believe in the Holy Spirit and the healing power of faith without disbelieving in mundane remedies. We believe that the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. We believe that speaking in tongues is the Holy Spirit speaking fluently through disciples in the wholly intelligible native languages of nations to empower the disciples to spread the word. The gifts from God have not been shut off. The scriptures have not been sealed up. Only the hearts of mankind have been hardened. The revelation has not ended. God is not dead in the hearts of people. The people have just been spiritually anesthetized. They have become desensitized to evil.

We believe that soundness lies in trusting in the Holy Spirit.
We believe the thousand-year reign of Christ has not yet begun.

Nazarenes

The original Essenes and Nazarenes were very close to the kingdom. Many people believe that the Nazarenes were a sub-sector of the Essenes. The earliest Christians were called Nazarenes. In this sense we are Nazarenes. This does not mean that the interpretations of all those now staking a claim to being Nazarene are correct anymore than are all the doctrines and interpretations of all those sects mentioned a few paragraphs above.

Bible-inspired

The Bible is inspired. The Bible reveals the search for the true nature of God. It reveals the different views at different times humans have held concerning the nature of God. The Bible reveals that the Holy Spirit speaks to people beyond the text but consistent with it. The Holy Spirit reveals that.

God is one

God is one. The Elohim are one. The multitude of the real heaven are one in spirit. All may join who follow the Holy Spirit.
Virgin birth

The virgin birth is belief. It is akin to the birth of Isaac to Sarah by way of her half-brother Abraham when she was ninety.

Then Abimelech called Abraham, and said unto him, What hast thou done unto us? and what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom a great sin? thou hast done deeds unto me that ought not to be done. And Abimelech said unto Abraham, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing? And Abraham said, Because I thought, Surely the fear of God is not in this place; and they will slay me for my wife's sake. And yet indeed she is my sister; she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother; and she became my wife. (Genesis 20:9-12).

If Sarah could have a baby at ninety by a one-hundred-year-old man (Abraham) and without human, scientific intervention, then what is to stop Mary from giving birth to Jesus while still being a virgin and without artificial insemination? Why can't God, who is all-powerful, do this?

Jesus perfect

He was testy with his mother about water into wine. He insulted the Sadducees, Pharisees, and others. He threw the fear of God into the people in the temple. He was condescending toward his disciples, especially Peter. Some people would call those things sins. They don't understand the fuller contexts. Jesus' reactions were perfect. The others were wrong. His emotions were instructional concerning the degree to which the others were wrong. This is the same thing concerning God's plan for us, to teach us. The reaction of the cosmos to humanity and individual humans is instructional about our faults.

Miracles through God

Jesus did perform miracles through God. He could do nothing alone.

His sacrifice proved Satan wrong

His death did prove the potential worthiness of human kind. It did teach us the kind and degree of love for, and behavior toward, each other we too must strive to exemplify for redemption to the highest heaven. One is what one does. Lip service is spiritual darkness and leads to the death of the soul. It is lying. The souls of unrepentant lairs die.

Jesus did come back to this life in his flesh body. He did then physically ascend to the materially transcendent realm of existence. He has been alive ever since.

Second coming

He manifests in this realm of existence now in the form of the spirit within each true believer.
He will manifest again as a particularly anointed individual Son of man and God, one with God in spirit, who will be completely consistent with his first manifested self. He got it right the first time. The revelation of the true nature of God was fulfilled at that time. He has been coming again in the form of the Holy Spirit indwelling since he ascended.

The story of the Christ has more than one climax. The same kind of power and glory that he showed before will be shown again only more so. There won't be as much convincing to do.

There is a transformation that occurs when one learns and accepts the truth. It is not the end of the process of being reborn, however. The resurrection into eternal life of righteousness is the culmination of the entire gestation of the soul that turns to the real unifying message of salvation. It is as the germination of the seed that in fertile soil becomes the great tree of eternal life.

The Holy Spirit keeps one from falling to the temptation to destroy men's lives, to fail to fully share the inheritance (the gift of God to all), to engage in those sexual acts that worsen the condition of human kind in the flesh and spirit, and to do all the other wrong things that are consistent with these stated evils.

New commandment is God

The new commandment is the unity. It is known now. There is nothing to wait for. It is a matter of doing it here and now and always. The new commandment is heaven. It is God. Jesus made this plain and clear.

The false state is hell bound

The current state (political state) as of the time of this writing is not heaven bound. It is hell bound. God and the current state are not one. The current state is working at cross-purposes with the message of Jesus.

Real family values are reflected in the spirit of the Good Samaritan.

Doubt is the enemy

We are not anti-science, per se. We are anti-selfishness. We are anti-doubt. Where there is no doubt, anything science would wish to accomplish is already available under God. It just needs to be righteous. Doubt is the enemy.

We know Jesus was a liberal in the Isaiah-sense. He is not a conservative in the Republican-neoconservative sense—not even close.

Taken together, these positions are without the misdirecting preoccupation with contrived conformity of outward appearance. They are without the confusion of seeing the current state, whether in any current so-called theocracy or any secular state, as being of the Holy Spirit.

Peace church

We are a peace church, a pacifist church. All peace churches are closer to the kingdom than those which are not peace churches. Any church which is not a pacifist church is not Christian.
Communists, environmentalists (faithful in the small things)

We are a new commandment church. We are small-c communists. We are environmentalists. We believe the letter is only as valid as the spirit that moved it to be written. We believe that the new commandment is the beginning and end. Things are consistent. These things are Christ. This is our church. This is our community.

If you want motivational speaking that is designed to make you just feel all warm and fuzzy about the current mainstream American materialistic life, you won't find it here. If you are looking for help with your particular issues, all issues are helped by the message of Jesus.

You don't have to dress up. Jesus didn't. If you're looking for pomp and ostentation, you also won't find it here. We aren't High-Church. We'd rather all talk and act synergistically all day, everyday. We're more interested in what will get us all to do the work of God all the time than we are in liturgy (prescribed form of worship).

When taking the communal meal or doing Holy Communion (Eucharist) or saying the Lord's Prayer together, just don't do what runs counter to Jesus's words.

On pornography, we know it is pure temptation into addictive lusting. Just as with breaking any addiction, it can be done. We have said that one is entitled to self censor. In truth, it is one's duty. At the same time, one cannot lean in the direction of physical violence (including the threat of violence) that is coercion in order to gain one's way. That is, because as we have made clear throughout, it is God's will that people come freely and willing and not by force from other people. It is the only way to eliminate offense and to attain the perfection of unselfishness.

On suicide, euthanasia, and self-sacrificing, these three run into each other in the mundane flesh. When is pain too much? When does self-sacrificing constitute suicide, euthanasia, or both? As with all conceptual matters, it is a semantical issue on the mundane order and subject to paradoxical snares for the hardhearted. Due unto others as you ought to want them to do righteously onto you and counsel accordingly. Have limitless faith in God. The Holy Spirit is the guide in every case. Persevere, and give up the ghost when the Holy Spirit truly comes for your soul. Artificial life-support systems are flesh-life support systems.

Eating is also a flesh-life support system from God. Eating the real bread from heaven is spirit-life support. Doing ones best in the here and now is not synonymous with clinging to the flesh life. Clinging can quickly become excessive and tantamount to lust and not divine perseverance. Jesus let go of the flesh on a certain level, came back in both flesh and spirit, and left again in flesh and spirit conflated. There is a place where our faith overcomes and transcends the strictures of fear that ultimately are selfishness. Think of others. Counsel all others to think of others and the impact upon guiding those others to think yet of others until all think of all. This is what Jesus balanced to utmost beauty and utmost horror that was, and is, the cross.
On euthanasia, this is as abortion. The Holy Spirit must guide souls. There are proper requests that can be made to God that remove the human hand from such situations. It is a matter of conviction though. Doubters prolong indecision. Jesus did not put anyone out of his or her misery by sending anyone to death of the flesh. Can one send one to heaven if one cannot heal that one?

On stem-cell research, there is the better way of universal repentance and the elimination of doubt. For those who doubt that, there is also that about the dead human fetus that is as any other dead human body. It is true that flesh, once the soul has left, is not more than dust, no longer the vessel. However, there is a spiritual danger in treating human flesh dead or alive as a commodity. It is a slippery slope into the bottomless pit of darkness.

On public-school prayer, you can't force people. It doesn't work. It is hypocritical. That hypocrisy will permeate, and the youth will see it and rebel against God. That will be the fault of those who forced prayer. Prayer is a choice all people ought to make and must make, in truth, if they will overcome and be saved. Prayer though is asking and consulting. It is emotion. It is about eliminating doubt.

Now I raise these issues not because each of these issues will directly confront the communes. There will be schools, but for instance, they will neither be public or private in the worldly sense but rather real Christian. It must be understood that the communes will be states and collectively the state.
On homosexuality, scripture says the following:

But before they lay down, the men of the city, even the men of Sodom, compassed the house round, both old and young, all the people from every quarter: And they called unto Lot, and said unto him, Where are the men which came in to thee this night? bring them out unto us, that we may know them. (Genesis 19:4-5).

Before they had gone to bed, all the men from every part of the city of Sodom—both young and old—surrounded the house. They called to Lot, "Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us so that we can have sex with them." {Genesis 19:4-5 (New International Version)}.

Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination. (Leviticus 18:22).

Now as they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, certain sons of Belial, beset the house round about, and beat at the door, and spake to the master of the house, the old man, saying, Bring forth the man that came into thine house, that we may know him. And the man, the master of the house, went out unto them, and said unto them, Nay, my brethren, nay, I pray you, do not so wickedly; seeing that this man is come into mine house, do not this folly. Behold, here is my daughter a maiden, and his concubine; them I will bring out now, and humble ye them, and do with them what seemeth good unto you: but unto this man do not so vile a thing. But the men would not hearken to him: so the man took his concubine, and brought her forth unto them; and they knew her, and abused her all the night until the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her go. Then came the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell down at the door of the man's house where her lord was, till it was light. And her lord rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went out to go his way: and, behold, the woman his concubine was fallen down at the door of the house, and her hands were upon the threshold. And he said unto her, Up, and let us be going. But none answered. Then the man took her up upon an ass, and the man rose up, and gat him unto his place. And when he was come into his house, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, and divided her, together with her bones, into twelve pieces, and sent her into all the coasts of Israel. And it was so, that all that saw it said, There was no such deed done nor seen from the day that the children of Israel came up out of the land of Egypt unto this day: consider of it, take advice, and speak your minds. (Judges 19:22-30).

Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. (1 Corinthians 6:9-10).

The Geneva Bible is more direct:

Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantons\(^\text{154}\), nor buggerers\(^\text{155,156}\) Nor thieves, nor \(^{154}\) Sexually preoccupied and unruly—difficult or impossible to discipline, control, or rule.

\(^{155}\) Buggers; sodomites; particularly male homosexuals who engage in anal intercourse.

\(^{156}\) Referring to Paul at this point, the Geneva Bible notes the following: Now he prepareth himself to pass over to the fourth treatise of this Epistle, which concerneth matters indifferent, debating this matter first, how men may well covetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shall inherit the kingdom of God. (1 Corinthians 6:9-10).

use woman or not, which question hath three branches;
fornication, matrimony, and a single life. As for fornication, he utterly condemneth it. And marriage he commandeth to some, as a good and necessary remedy for them, to others he leaveth it free, and other some he dissuadeth from it, not as unlawful, but as discommodious, and that not without exception. As for singleness of life (under which also I comprehend virginity) he enjoineth it to no man; yet he persuadeth men unto it, but not for itself, but for another respect, neither all men nor without exception. And being about to speak against fornication, he beginneth with a general reprehension of those vices, wherewith that rich and riotous city most abounded, warning and teaching them earnestly, that repentance is inseparably joined with forgiveness of sins, and sanctification with justification.

The Geneva Bible comes right out with the word
"buggerers," today spelled "buggers," which means homosexuals, whereas the King James Version obscures the concept phrasing it,
"abusers of themselves with mankind." It must always be remembered that James I, king of Great Britain had a young male for a sexual partner.

The hot issue in current times is whether one can change from being homosexual. Those who think not, discredit God. They also ought to doubt then that people can kick heroin, alcohol, pornography, greed, violence, or whatever other habits or predilections they have. They deny God's awesome abilities that brought the entirety of existence. The Holy Spirit can change anything. People can change by God from being fornicators, idolaters, adulterers, sexual addicts, prostitutes, thieves, killers, coveters, alcoholics, revilers (excessively scolding, abusively so), extortionists, and any other kind of sinner. So why can't they change from being homosexual? They can.

The notion that it is evil that someone struggle against the temptation to homosexuality is an argument that excuses someone struggling against any temptation. All forms of sin are tempting until overcome. All souls must struggle to resist the temptation of sin until rejection of temptation becomes one's automatic reflects response, where sinning isn't even considered. The idea that we are to be guided by what feels good is shortsighted and damaging when we have not been sufficiently enlightened as to what is ultimately good. Deluded people feel great, they imagine, doing things that are the height of selfish and destructive and evil.

The person who doesn't want to be homosexual must repent and atone. If it takes a lifetime, so be it. Focus on what is best for others.

It must be understood clearly and plainly that a real liberal is not an excuser of sons of Belial or sodomites. The real bounty does not come forth from such confusion. Real liberals want to give and share the real bounty.

Death penalty by human hands

The thing is that while the self-styled conservative-Republican Christians are correct in saying that people can change by God, they ignore the implications. They only take on the part that selfishly allows them to continue on in their own iniquity. They claim people can change, but they are set to inflict the death penalty upon those who violate Moses’s law. Jesus allowed the adulteress to live and change and gain entrance to the kingdom if she did change. Today’s most conservative-Republican Christians would stone her to death right before Jesus’s eyes and also stone Jesus for not agreeing with them. They are really under cover for capitalism, for mammon. Follow the money is right.

On homosexuality, continued

What is a penis for? Did penises manifest for the sake of sodomy—anal intercourse? The reason for the design of the penis is procreation. Sexual stimulation and gratification are designed to encourage and result in procreation. If it weren’t for that, there would be no penises.

What are the rectum and anus for? The rectum is for holding fecal matter prior to voiding through the anus. Are they for sodomy?

Sodomy is an error, an inappropriate, counter-productive use of the penis and rectum. It is diverting the naturally intended use of the nerves for purposes that result in counter-productivity—ill health on all levels. The behavior facilitates falling to the other ways of manifesting selfish behavior, detrimental behavior: Greed, violence, contrivance, materialism, apostasy.

Society is being misled into a half-truth hedonism. We have all been subjected to the indoctrination processes of society that deliberately cut off consideration of the fullest context conceivable. Homosexuals want only certain things considered. Militant anti-homosexuals (those with a strong, latent fear) want only certain things considered. The new commandment requires us to consider everything to the Nth degree, together and for each other to be becoming free of hypocrisy.

People are paying for that hedonism with their health. It is the soul fallen to what Paul called the pleasures of sin, twisted pleasure. Whereas, with the spirit of health, sinful temptation affects one's feelings with displeasure, repugnancy. It is a part of right-mindedness to find homosexuality unpleasant to the point of repugnant, disgusting. It is twisted, selfish behavior. Nothing good comes of it. This is whole-truth hedonism, consistent with the whole truth about pleasure and pleasantness.

All the reasons given in tolerating (agreeing that the lifestyle is consistent with divine love), condoning, and proselytizing on behalf of homosexuality are incorrect reasons. They are devices to serve first and foremost individual, selfish satisfaction. They are not in the furtherance of the new commandment. We do not support their reasoning. It is of false benefit to the lost to support homosexuality. Those who support the error are as a result also lost souls and spiritually blinded. They are headed away from the kingdom, away from God.

Their protestations are selfishly motivated. They refuse to turn for the health of the whole, for the oneness of God that rightly requires repentance of us all. It is a condition for knowledge and freedom. We must become and remain trustworthy. We must not continue erring that is abusing of any kind to any degree. We must stop furthering selfishness.
Proselytizing in favor of the highest priority of peace, love, truth, the golden rule, all as understood in the pure light of the new commandment, necessitates that we openly warn that it is always simultaneously truthful (consistent) that human homosexuality is an error and human violence is an error. Overcoming both is part of the narrow way.

Procreation is between one male and one female faithfully bonded for life as one flesh. To use the penis for satisfying lustful urges turns into excess and addiction and feeds the entire mentality of getting more and more of whatever, including goods and services. This heads in the direction of forced expropriation at the direct expense of the needy and innocent under military, economic, or other arm-twisting. It leaves the hypocritical door open, thereby, facilitating these things. It also heads in the direction of enslaving non-elite worker's to minister to owners. This is true whether or not the enslavement is openly acknowledged or occurs under the cover of economic entrapment that is part of the wicked system of capitalism. It contributes to the slothfulness of the elite who do not ever have to do anything by the sweat of their own brows their entire lives; therefore, they never appreciate labor or ever come emotionally to relate to laborers. This is where fatness of spirit comes from. This is where contrivance of spirit comes from. It is the devouring spirit.

Remember, Jesus could directly relate to hard work for he was raised working with his body and hands as a builder and carpenter. He labored first with his hands and body before he undertook his public ministry to build a new and real temple. He was born and raised amongst the common people.

Sign of great misdirection

The culture that teaches that homosexuality is a healthy alternative lifestyle is self-excusing of its excessive contrivances and will fall. The culture that teaches that homosexuality is fit for children, is heading for utter destruction not simply on account of that one error but on account of the fact that that one error cannot exist in the absence of many, many errors. It is a sign, symptom, of a great misdirection.

Neither are violence and the taking of lives by fellow human beings the solution. The only solution is the free choice of individuals to turn to God after hearing the freely given word of truth. It is the warning that does not call down the wrath but senses the pressures building to the breaking point, the caving in point, if the people don’t turn. It is the warning that not only will the people break into wrath but the rest of creation will, without sinning, rebel against dominion by human kind of evil.

Is homosexuality one’s free choice? One has the freewill to err in ways fatal to the soul to the extent that no one else has the right to use violence or coercion to attempt to turn that one. One may exclude another but not with the intent to coerce but solely with the intent to be separated from that which is offensive (harmful). Using violence on the incorrigible only makes them worse anyway.
What is it to me that homosexuals or others engage in sin? Well, why would one not care about the wayward? The waywardness of one can be a tempting path for the, young, naïve, and gullible. Also, one wants, or ought to want, to be informed of heading in the direction fatal to the soul. Warning is following the golden rule. Those who are silent about such matters have insufficient love in their hearts to warn; therefore, they face the risk of not being saved themselves.

The great paradox here for people is why God allows evil things to happen to innocent people. That question is why God allows the devil. That question is why God allows anyone who falls. When your child attempts to walk for the first time, do you kill it the first time it falls down? If that had been the standard, you would not exist.

You would have had no parents. There would have been no human beings. God does not say fall down. God says stand and walk. God is not the one who takes away legs or makes them not to work. God is not the one who punishes the innocent for the sins of others. Do you want to ask why God didn't create human kind so that everyone is born already walking?

Of, by, and for righteousness and real unity is the opposite direction of disunity and self-deceiving, false unity. God and Satan are opposite directions. What lies at the end of each direction? Perfection, completeness, flawlessness, blamelessness, and the like are the opposite of utter corruption, depravity, disorderliness, violence, confusion, gluttony, robbery, and the like. Which direction is which relative to the other? Which emotion at a given moment and given circumstance takes one closer to which end? Can caving into corruption, depravity, disorderliness, violence, confusion, gluttony, robbery, and the like ever lead to perfection, completeness, flawlessness, blamelessness, and the like? Yet, this is what Satan asks you to believe. The spirit of the wrong direction asks you to suspend the truth. That spirit asks you to trust in the wrong direction. That spirit asks you to trust that the wrong direction is the right tool to fight the wrong direction. That spirit asks you not to look too closely and not to step back to look more fully.

Homosexual camp and pedophilia: Where's the line?

Isn't the homosexual camp itself divided ranging from the monogamous to the orgiastic? Isn't it divided ranging from advocating pedophilia to age minimums as high as twenty-one. These are issues of relative libertinism. What ought the heart to license? What lies down the road? Where does flaw begin when moving from the absolute perfection that is Godliness? Satan creates flaws in the innocent. Do the innocent-flawed (a state into which all God's children on earth have fallen) deserve punishment? Do they all deserve condonation of acts in the furtherance of flawed traits? Are we not here to overcome flaws to the best of our abilities and in every aspect: Heart, mind, body, and soul all as one? Where are lines to be drawn? Regardless of which side of which line you stand, are you trying to force your house to be too large?

Your faith in a constitution should be only as strong as your faith in the souls in the house governed under that constitution. That constitution should be viewed as a reflection of the condition of the hearts of those souls. Is your constitution to coerce under threat of penalty, incarceration, and ultimate violence and even death and to gag others as to what they see as flaw and wrong direction? Go and sin no more even though you have been flawed. Love the spirit of perfect love so much that that spirit will change you spiritually and physically. Jesus was born a male who punished no one and warned all for righteousness' sake. He did not believe that those in Sodom had not sinned in confusion. They didn't heed and reform.

Transformation from homosexuality

Understand that we are all born flawed to one degree or another and fall further before turning, if ever. We don't have to remain the way we were born in the flesh. In fact, we are to be born again as spirit with the faith that with enough faith the spirit can transform anything.

Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done. (Matthew 21:21).
And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you. (Luke 17:6).

Now, you can believe Jesus or you can believe the psychologists, but you can't have it both ways. The psychologists would have testified at Jesus's trial that he needs to be committed.

There is no limit to the degree of perfection we may attain. We are free to pursue it if we will believe it. That is how God created us. That is why Jesus existed. The flesh is weak without the strength of the spirit. The spirit of God manifested to show the way of conflation. All defects, congenital and otherwise, are curable via the spirit if we will not doubt. Our doubt is inversely proportional to our growth in faith. We grow in faith by doing more and more in faith. Doubt in the house ruins the spirit's healing power. The lack of the strength of conviction cannot be rewarded or conditioned with health to rule eternally. That would be rewarding that which is counter-productive to that very health. Repent and call for universal repentance. When it arrives, you will be there. If you don't, you won't. The unhealthy in spirit will be not with the healthy. Remember, the beggar Lazarus was afflicted right up to his death. He though went to heaven. He hadn't been sinning even though he hadn't yet been made whole. On the other hand, the rich man had not suffered as Lazarus had, but the rich man had sinned in neglecting Lazarus and he, the rich man, went to hell.
So, we don't say it is fine to be homosexual or bisexual or transsexual even while we don't harm but warn in calling for the confused to be changed through the power of the Holy Spirit of truth-orientation. The beggar Lazarus was not free from impurity even though he had apparently done nothing to deserve the affliction. Lazarus though knew he was afflicted. The rich man was also afflicted, but he didn't know that is, he refused the truth of his sin-affliction. Sort the consequences into eternity. What is correctly mundanely criminal when the law is coercive versus what is divinely criminal when sin will be sorted out by sin? The creation will burn out sin.

Since the so-called major mental-healthcare-professional organizations have pronounced that they do not believe that homosexuality is an orientation that may be changed, what are they going to do in heading down that road? How long will it be before orgies are simply sexual orientation that one ought not to attempt to change for fear of being maladjusted (relative to what)? When will pedophilia become a pejorative? When "God-fearing" becomes a pejorative is the answer, and that's happening. Regardless of all the right things a couple is doing, anal sex is sinning against God (for the stimulation of going against the purpose for which God created something) even when a man performs it on his willing, adult, female wife.

The sex-education books that say otherwise are leading into falling to temptation, into confusion. The authors may have a long list of credentials and awards, etc., but that doesn't give wisdom. Those credentials are from hell. Their authority is from hell. If you've falling to their error, get back up and stand upright, straight, and proceed down the narrow way only.

It has to be said though that sin is relative. It also must be said again and again that it is not right to lump everyone together as if all sin is of equal weight. This truth applies to those on all sides of each issue. Just because someone is opposed to homosexuality does not mean that that person is necessarily in sync on every other issue with everyone else who is also opposed to homosexuality. Neither does it mean that all people agree on the right approach to the issue. The so-called Christian reconstructionists would stone to death all homosexuals and adulterers while Jesus said don't be hypocrites, don't sin, and leave that truth to do its work on your consciences. Which is the greater sin, marital infidelity or stoning someone to death? Jesus showed that in keeping the higher law, no one stones and no one is unfaithful in marriage.

Stoning would preclude conversion of the homosexual. Stoning is hypocritical. Homosexuality is also. We come always to people using the lesser of evils as the excuse for not striving for the perfection of righteousness.

The reconstructionists/dominionists shout that the amoral and immoral are corrupting the youth. They want to be rid of the immorality. Yet, they will encourage the youth to desensitize to the great abomination of desolation: The mass taking of people's lives, which Jesus said he did not come to do. That desensitization actually leads to the very sexual perversion they claim to abhor. Why do you think the Greek and Roman armies practiced homosexuality? There are those who will take exception to my saying that the abomination of desolation refers to mass killing. They will say that it refers to a particular ruler, namely the Antichrist. They are half right as usual. That ruler epitomizes, actually is, desolation, which is the inevitable end result of his policies and practices that includes mass murder, land and facilities destruction, and all the rest of the miserable conditions left in the wake of warfare.

Their position is utter hypocrisy. They will introduce huge trauma into the hearts and minds and souls of their adherents. You cannot take heaven by force.

Unholy spectrum
Sliding the center back and forth from one end of the unholy spectrum to the other has gotten humanity nowhere.

Error of modernity
The souls that revile the hardheartedness of taking human lives don't see the hardheartedness of the caving into other forms of lusts. Such is the error of so-called modernity. There's nothing modern about it.

Just how modern do you feel knowing that the US is no more enlightened than those in Plato's time some two thousand, four hundred years ago? The political elite know this. We don't mean all the politicians. We mean some philosophers, historians, and policy makers of government who are often out of the daily limelight.

Sodom

It's not new. Licensing sodomy isn't new. Sodom was an ancient city. Jerusalem is an ancient city. There was no sodomy in the city of peace at the time of Sodom. There was no war either. Sodom was hell. The depraved of Sodom were destroyed.

Was it by human hand acting in the capacity of avenging angels? Was it actually by supernatural means and all humans who likewise engage in such purging are just acting consistently with the spirit of purging corruptions? Was it actually by supernatural means but all humans who attempt to act likewise are simply failing to understand their limited ability to take care not to harm the innocent? Where did Jesus draw the line? He called down no wrath, neither did he engage in any. He just spoke the truth that it would come at the hour appointed by God alone.

Bloodline confusion

Sodom was an ancient Canaanite city, after Canaan from Ham, Shem's cursed younger brother. Jerusalem was Shemite (spelled today Semite) after Shem. Hence we see today the confusion concerning bloodline versus spiritline. Abraham from Ur in Mesopotamia is promised all of Canaan. After the exodus from Egypt, Joshua took the land of the Canaanites from the accursed Canaanites, genetically cursed by Noah for being abominable in their behavior, buggers, etc.
More reconstructionists/dominionists error

Now we have the Arab Muslims on the land, descendants of Ishmael they claim, no doubt Canaanites as well, and the reconstructionists/dominionists saying that the efforts of Joshua must be reconstructed.

However, Jesus says not that way. He says the false Zionists are not in the right spirit. They aren't right with God. Only the family that is right in the spirit will inherit the land.

The reconstructionists lean way over to the bloodline side and away from Jesus's spiritline message. They ache to take up the sword of the avenging angel to destroy men's lives and spill blood. They seek a bloodbath. They can't grasp the new commandment. They reject Jesus standing in their midst preaching to them to give the violent their other cheek. They are falling for the same darkness that cast its spell over the Pharisees who were afraid that the people following after Jesus would lead to the down fall of the Pharisees. That is the way the reconstructionists will preach to their following, not to listen to the message of peace from Jesus's own lips.

They will not eat with others. They will not treat women as equally capable of being infused with the Holy Spirit. They will not go into the center of the city as Jesus did.

Jesus didn't live in the city center, but he ventured into the center of the world (the heart of Jerusalem) not afraid of the lost to drive them out but to find them out of love for them to save them from their own selfishness and resulting iniquity.

They will beat people in their churches (synagogues) who preach the truth of the message of Jesus. They will ignore the half-dead. They confuse the worldly world, the den of commerce, the den of thieves profiting off siblings, with the kingdom of God on earth. They will do pretty much every hypocritical thing Jesus pointed out and prophesied against them for the sake of righteousness.

At the other end of this whole misguided spectrum we have those Jesus said would go into the kingdom before the hypocritical Pharisees. We have the sexually depraved. However, Jesus made clear that those who fell to such depravity had first to turn from it to enter heaven. He did not say to them that if they continued in their libertine ways that they would be welcomed, quite the contrary. The repentant former prostitute and homosexual will be welcomed. The unrepentant will not. One must be sorry for one’s selfishness, carelessness, etc.

There is a notion that because someone is misdirected about something, he or she cannot repeat a truth. Because a false conservative is wrong about war, he or she cannot repeat any truth about sex. Because a false liberal is wrong about sex, he or she cannot repeat any truth about war. Well, this is wrong, and it is why we refer to half-truths.

There are people who love war and claim to hate loose sex, but they are of the same root. There are people who claim to hate war and love loose sex, but again, they are of the same root. Both sides are half right. It is wholly right to hate both war and corrupted sex. It is right to be as consistent as possible with those positions throughout one's behavior and emotions, one's core-being and existence. Just because conservatives have been wrong about race and greed and war doesn't mean that someone who is opposed to homosexuality is a racist, greedy, warmonger.

We have made clear that we believe all people are transformable by God. The Holy Spirit of truth descends upon people. There are degrees in the strength of faith. No one need remain sexually lustful after those of the same gender. It truly is confusion, and caving into it facilitates falling in general.

The Holy Spirit of truth tells us that men are not meant to have sex with men nor women with women. Ask the Holy Spirit of truth. Sex exists for procreation. The lust of sex for one of the other gender is enough to control. Being tempted to homosexuality and then caving into it is that much more so astray. Godliness is not that state of confusion. Homosexuality serves to diminish the general thinking of humanity that bonding of one male and one female for life as one flesh is sacred. It adds to the confusion of children concerning parents and their relations to them. It adds to disorder, away from the narrow way and out the strait gate. In varying degrees depending upon the practices of the particular homosexual, it adds to the climate of unruliness, rebelliousness, willfulness, and contrivance. It is astray and leads astray. It is the open door to inconsistency. It is selfish. If one permits oneself to engage in homosexuality (does not deny oneself such a purely sexual, unproductive appetite), where then is the limit?
What then are the rules set down by nature's God? It is more than the camel's nose being under the tent. The direction of condoning such confusion leads into greater darkness. Nothing good can come of it. It is false liberalism to condone homosexuality.

Jesus did not condoned homosexuality

For those who imagine that Jesus condoned homosexuality, that position is wholly inconsistent with his teachings concerning sex in general. He was opposed to adultery and fornication. Why would he condone homosexuality in that case? He was for denying oneself, why would he allow for caving into the temptation of sex with someone of the same gender? As already mentioned, he upheld the sacred bond of marriage as it was understood at the time, which was exclusively between male and female forming one flesh. How could he uphold the marriage between male and female and also condone that which runs contrary to that becoming one flesh in which he believed? Also, he said that had the Sodomites witnessed his miracles and heard his teachings they would have repented and been spared.

And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. (Matthew 11:23).
Homosexuals down to animals rather than animals being able to look to humans

There are several points concerning the defense made by homosexuals and others in advocating for unqualified acceptance of homosexuals in the church if they so desire it. One argument is that homosexual behavior exists in nature among various species of animals. Various species also eat their young and mates. This is no argument for human beings stooping to that defilement.

We are to overcome the different kind-tendencies within humanity. We are not reptiles or lions or sheep or doves or hawks or chimpanzees or dolphins, per se. We are man. We have the calling as man. We are not defined by lions although many people act with a lion spirit rather than a human Holy Spirit. The lion spirit is not to subsume humankind. The real human spirit is to light the world and tame the lion literally and figuratively with love. We cannot use the behavior of other creatures exclusively to define ourselves. It has been a major mistake down through the ages that some have always known was misguided from the beginning.

Born imperfect

Another argument is that people are born with varying hormonal levels. This is true. People are born with all sorts of various less than perfectly healthy aspects. In fact, everyone living today has been born less than perfect. This is no argument for resigning oneself to a condition less than completely wholesome. We are to change the condition of our hearts to the point where God changes our manifest state to reflect our hearts. Change the emotions and the thoughts and speech and actions and the body will change accordingly. The changes will occur quickly or slowly depending upon infinite variables all boiling down to the strength of conviction or belief that is the degree of absence of doubt in the transformational, regenerative power of the divine. Some benefit from the intervention of science on the mundane level. How stubborn are the unclean spirits? How strong is one's belief? Souls must persevere and be accepted based upon their desire to come clean and based upon their fruits accordingly.

Homophobia

It must be understood that homosexuality is a current in the stream of falsehood in need of healing just as everyone is in need of healing from falsehood. The oneness in eternity is genderless. It is not obtained on the path of confusion. You see homosexual sex is not designed for anything but self. Restrained, unselfish sex between bonded, monogamous, male-female couples produces natural, uncontrived offspring. The more loaded from within or without with the spirit of confusion that is selfishness (even consciously unrecognized), the more confusion will result. This is no advocacy for some forced eugenics or for persecuting anyone. It is just the opposite although people don't slow down long enough and step back far enough to see the whole picture and comprehend. We are not to coerce. We are to warn with the truth. People react to that truth with sound bite responses and thought-terminating terms such as homophobia and the like.

The lack of condoning homosexuality ranges widely in approach. Aversions are relative, and all are not bad. Many aversions are far from irrational. These things are not properly gauged by the norm. Righteousness is not discovered in mediocrity. The average person is not the most righteous. What is normal is far below the divine standard. Aversions are perfectly rational up to a point. What that means is that there is a point at which there is nothing to fear, because all temptation to sin has been overcome. However, that also means that the result of overcoming is complete separation.

Affectation creates the negative

Homosexuality is contrivance and often clearly manifest in extreme affectation. This is the spirit of rebellion against God inherent in artificiality.

This is why they go in for what is called camp or the campy. They like dramatics. They like the costumes. They like being something fake, not themselves, to play roles, to be unreal, etc. The vulgar appeals to them especially. It is about rebellion. It's a cover, a mask. It lets them speak in coded terms to plant subliminal seeds in the minds of the unsuspecting, innocent, naïve, and gullible.

It is about individuality and eccentricity. It is about nonconformity with the real. It is about selfish fussiness. It is about solipsism, meaning only the self (not through God) matters. It is about humanism. In other words, God is someone that the homosexuals refuse to obey.

God is not a word-game player. God's wit is real, not hiding behind artificiality.

What it all indicates is fractured souls with the door open to the cascade of all forms of iniquity.

A defense is, "I may be bad, but at least I don't do...." That excuses the bad that one is doing, which one needs to stop doing. Another defense is, "There isn't anything wrong with...."

These defenses are the attempts to finish bringing the skeleton out of the closet not to destroy it but to celebrate it. They don't want to be stuck with code anymore. Many don't want to be stuck with camp and diva worship.

They are moving well beyond this stage before the mainstream has even caught on to it. The homosexuals want to be mainstream. Where's the line? Is it at orgies? Is it sadomasochism, gladiatorial games to the death, child sacrifice, cannibalism? Do what thou wilt, but why want to do what opens the flood gates of hell?

Hormonal changes: Result of falling to proselytization

Most homosexuals are created after birth, not born, meaning that not in all cases are hormonal differences genetic or congenital but rather induced by the influence of proselytization both stealthy and overt. The individual can become what he or she dwells in, depending upon severity of the influence and predisposition. Dwell on God within.
They are created by the selfish lust of others just as the serpent worked at the fall of Adam and tempted Jesus but failed and just as the spirit of depravity works now to aid in the fall of further souls. Many people simply fall prey to the predatory tactics of lusting homosexuals. How many heterosexuals have been subjected to the unwanted advances of homosexuals?

Oh, there are so-called monogamous homosexuals in the zoological sense. However, their condition is still lust and not spiritually analogous to the faithful, married, heterosexual, and monogamous human couple.

Homosexuals must dwell upon the miracle transformational power of God as written about Jesus in the Gospels. We all must dwell upon that. Always love the potential within each homosexual to be transformed by the power of God. It is the golden rule.

Artificial makeover, primping and preening, vanity, pride

The serpent wanted company for a myriad host of evil reasons. This disposition is wholly self-centered. It is the opposite of the message of Jesus. There is nothing wrong with a certain amount of grooming and hygiene; however, this turn to self-centeredness brings with it an obsession with artificial makeover. This takes the mentality far away from the focus on the Gospel. One cannot be so self-absorbed and even remotely begin to do what Jesus said to do. Can you imagine Jesus spending all the time on primping and preening? Such vanity and pride rooted in lust and an inferiority complex could never have accompanied his message.
Narcissism has no part in the kingdom.
Encouraging such things to make money off them (feeding off leading others astray) is abominable and doomed.

Homosexuality to pederasty to pedophilia

We can already see the line continually being pushed by this spirit. They are demanding the door be opened to homosexuality under the banner of equal rights. Now we see the line being moved further in an attempt to legitimize pederasty, which is adult sex with adolescents (those between the onset of puberty and adulthood). This will follow the advocacy for recognition and rights for pedophiles (sex with preadolescent children). The idea is to push back the definitions of disease to license libertinism.

Pederasts are now very openly proselytizing. Many are busily planting seeds throughout increasingly permissive, condoning cultures designed to further lower natural, moral aversions and inhibitions particularly in the youth. They were victimized. Now they spread the selfish contagion. The flesh has been weak. Will they be made straight by God, or will they continue in crookedness? Do they have the faith, or do they doubt God? Will they ignore the warnings? Will they ignore the connections between all the forms of selfishness?

Jesus was made straight and narrow to show, among other ways of viewing his life, the redeemability, the transformability, of human kind from corruptible, self-centered, flesh to incorruptible, unified, eternal spirit. He was sent to show the way of real love, not eroticism, not fleshly hedonism. "I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished?" (Luke 12:50). Do you think that he could have overcome the corruption of death while being homosexual? Jesus overcame all sexual lusting even in his heart. He hungered and thirsted after the welfare of souls. There was no lecherousness in him. He knew that erotic lust was the selfishness of the fallen flesh that he was called to deny and to overcome. He responded to that call, and God gave it to him to overcome even death. That shines the light into this world that we all are to overcome selfishness: Evil.

Remember, evil is relative and absolute at the same time. There is "more selfish" and there is "most selfish." The same holds for righteousness. Perfect unselfishness is perfect godliness. This is why monogamous marriage for life between a male and female who bond in the spirit of oneness is not viewed as sin. At the same time, denying oneself such marriage is also a spiritual calling given by God. Such denial ends the cycle of mere faith in the obvious material universe. It is faith in the spirit that transcends the material. Of course, once given this faith in earnest, one never falls to pedophilia.

Queen worship: The same code of the church of Rome

We see the church of Rome riddled with such error. Of course, it is consistent with that church's rotten fruits down through the ages. It has never attempted as a whole church to live the new commandment. Hence, its claim to be the "universal" church (the meaning of the word "catholic") is false. The church of Rome was co-opted by the worldly power. It made a contract with Satan's Empire. The church of Rome is far from unique in this regard.

Also, there are many within false churches who would love to eat the real food if they could see past the obstructionist clergy and selfish congregants.

Where's the straitening straightening?

Jesus was made strait. The new commandment is straitening and straightening. Is the Roman Catholic church straitening? Is the Episcopal Church straitening? Are the reconstructionist, fundamentalist churches straitening? Are any of them living the new commandment in all its implications as evidenced by the words and deeds of Jesus. Do the results of their deeds show forth the kingdom of God on earth? They ignore the prophetic truth.

Do you think it is mere coincidence that the homosexuals say one is either straight (heterosexual) or homosexual? It is mocking God.

Are we to listen to Jesus, or are we to agree with those who say it is too difficult to overcome temptation? Did Legion listen to Jesus or to the unclean spirits that had been abusing and tormenting him? He listened to Jesus. He heard the real truth for the first time, turned to it, believed, and was healed.
If faith in God's power cannot transform the homosexual, faith in God's power can do nothing at all

Homosexual bishops

Are you to listen to bishops telling you that there is nothing immoral about caving into that which does not feed the lambs and sheep of God, physically and spiritually? Those bishops cannot eat the real food, and they mislead and throw up obstacles before the congregations claiming that there is no faith in God's power that can transform the homosexual. Such bishops are spreading falsehood through the churches. If faith in God's power cannot transform the homosexual, faith in God's power can do nothing at all, which isn't true. Faith in God has turned around many souls from many forms of sin every bit as mundanely intractable as homosexuality. Faith in God has turned around even death.

Such bishops teach that which denies the power that caused the resurrection and ascension. Why do the people listen to them rather than to Jesus? How can they lead the people to really live the new commandment that will see them raised up by Jesus in the last days, when those bishops deny the power of faith in God to make straight the homosexual or even the need for it? The flock knows the voice of its shepherd. Do they love truth, or do they look for ways to feign ignorance?

These bishops aren't Christians. They are apostates. They teach hypocrisy. They fail to warn. They are not real liberals. They don't teach and live giving and sharing all in accordance with the teaching and life of Jesus Christ.

Condoning homosexuality is heading in the wrong direction. The divine law forbids it. It is error. Homosexuality is falsehood. It is either that or whatever happens is right. That is exactly where Jesus and Satan differ. What separates them in the eyes of human beings is both infinitesimal and infinite.

Satan says you are a god if you will just takeover and lord it over others. Feel the power. Doesn't it feel good? Doesn't it bring you pleasure? Jesus though says you are one with God if you will serve solely for the welfare of others, the opposite of lording over. That is the feeling you ought to want. It is the feeling of compassion. It is the feeling of real love. Satan says that whatever the powerful does is right. Jesus says the real power serves and that satanic power is self-delusional.

Now see where the confusion that is homosexuality conjoins with the idea that if it feels good, do it. See how that feeling is fleeting. See how it is shortsighted, feeding into lust and selfishness in general.

Now they want the open power of the military. Soon they will want the top positions openly: The presidency. They've already had it secretly.

This is all we can do. We can only warn. We cannot slaughter. Satan's fallen ones do that. They preclude. They render premature final judgment. That standard will be used on them. That is the measuring rod of truth. That is why all the houses built up on Satan's deceptions always fall. It is why the Egyptians fell. It is why the Mesopotamians fell. It is why the Israelites fell and the Persians, Greeks, Romans, Muslim Caliphates, Chinese, Mongol khans, Incans, Mayans, Aztecs, Spanish, French, Indians, Turks, Austrians, Germans, Japanese, British, Russians, etc., fell and why the Americans (US) will fall.

Pederasts

Be forewarned, pederasts are looking for more and more acceptance of the contrived and affected personality. It is vanity. It is the opposite of Jesus. It is in line with all the selfishness that is corrupting everything. It goes against the natural, healthy way. Nothing good ever comes of it.

They approach their proselytizing both overtly and in ways they hope are extremely subtle that will not be countered into silence. They commingle sexual predation with concepts of beneficial love. They teach others how to lure prey with gifts. They tempt the naïve, gullible, ill-prepared youth with selfishness. They magnify it. This is the tactic of the liar from the beginning. It is the Serpent ruining the spirit of the garden. Can you hear him? "Oh, come on. It won't hurt you. It feels good. Try it. It won't kill you. Nothings going to happen other than you'll feel good." Where has that kind of talk ever led but down?

Do we hate the homosexuals, and do we love them at the same time? We hate iniquity, and the iniquitous are what they are doing. We believe in the power of transformation however.
We love the lost sheep. We want them found. We call out to them to come home. Those who love the truth know it when they hear it. They will be drawn by God. They will serve and not look back.

Sign of the coming fall

The open homosexual and pedophilic proselytizing going on is indicative of the onset of a huge decline into abject decadence, the precursor of the fall of the Empire. It is a sign of the times.

There are those who say that these same concerns have been present in America for decades. This argument does not take into account that things once by-and-large held in abeyance from the mainstream culture are now being done more and more out in the open legitimizing them. There was underlying division that is only being magnified now at an accelerating rate due largely to technologies and misplaced faith.

This is no advocacy though for returning to a time such as 1950’s America. That wasn’t heaven either.

No one can be coerced into becoming a real Christian. No one can be rightly coerced into changing. If people choose homosexuality, they cannot be rightly punished by other human beings for it. If a homosexual wants to grant someone of the same gender all the same rights toward himself or herself that heterosexual married people grant each other, the real Christian cannot pass mundane laws against it. The real Christian can only speak the truth to warn. That is all a real Christian is allowed to do. The tares are left until the harvest. If that is not the case, then all human-on-human wrath is sanctioned. Hypocrisy opens the door all the way.

Homophobic and anti-Semitic: Abused terms

Concerning the prohibition against homosexuality, as soon as the spiritual prohibition is mentioned these days, the terms "homophobia" and "homophobic" are hurled at the one or ones upholding the prohibition. Those terms are thrown as loosely as is "anti-Semitic." A phobia is an irrational fear. That notion must be taken concerning its two aspects. First, it must be questioned as to whether or not the prohibition is irrational.

Second, it must be questioned as to what exactly is meant by fear.

Personal prohibition is rational

First, the prohibition is not irrational. The desire for males to sodomize one another is irrational. It isn't the result of sound judgment. Nothing good ever comes of it. It has spread disease far and wide. It causes serious colorectal disorders. It is an obvious deviation from what is intended by the flesh.

Lesbianism is also on the slippery slope to authorizing all the negatives that come of male homosexuality. It is of the same confused condition that is to be overcome by taking into one's self the Holy Spirit.
Why particular souls are burdened from early childhood with that particular form of deviation from perfection, which deviation they are to overcome by spiritual transformation, only God knows. They were put in that environment, that error, to test them.

Don't use difficulty as an excuse. God knows your limitations, your endurance levels. Transformation is full of pain and sorrow. It leads to full recovery of the soul. Hedonism, however, spells a continuing downward spiral.

Phobic: Right to fear falling into evil

Second, the term "fear" has a number of connotations and each is subject to intensity. The person who has overcome, such as Jesus, cannot fall to the temptation of homosexuality.

In fact, that person feels no such temptation, quite the contrary. That person is genuinely repulsed. Nevertheless, there is a very rational fear of the world falling in general to the libertinism of homosexuality and all the rest of the unbridled lusts. They all do damage. They all ruin the world. They all withhold heaven from becoming the general way of the world. That is the proper sense of fearing evil.

The argument is that people are born homosexual. They are born predisposed as proved by their hormone levels and other factors, such as a smaller hippocampus. Those males born with a preponderance of female hormones gravitate to transsexualism. Those born headed toward a large dose of male hormones are not inclined toward transsexualism but are sexually attracted to males.

Well, there are people born as conjoined twins. There are people born with all sorts of disorders or defects. The truth is that everyone is born with a certain degree of fleshly imperfection. People are born blind or deaf or unable to walk, without limbs or with too many limbs, etc. That is the nature of the flesh.

If we were to practice eugenics to eliminate all those who are imperfect, we would really have to commit species suicide.

They are born that way as a sign of the weakness of the flesh where the Holy Spirit has been rejected by the mass of the people. That's why the flesh dies. The unclean spirits seek out and attack the flesh even the seed and egg, the very DNA and below.

God can create the cosmos: God can transform the homosexual

No matter how bad the problem, enough faith, the absence of doubt, and a repentant, atoning body (whole), and righteous heart can move God to do anything. If God can resurrect the dead, if God can create the cosmos, can't God heal any sickness, injury, or defect?

As we have seen, there are relative degrees of sin. The Jewish high priest was the greater sinner in the murder of Jesus than was the Roman prefect.
He that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. (John 19:11).

How much of a sin is it to lack absolute faith, to have a complete absence of doubt to stand and walk as a paraplegic when compared with engaging in homosexual or bisexual behavior and other sexual depravities? Even Peter started sinking into the water because of his absence of complete faith.

But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying,
Lord, save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and cought him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt? (Matthew 14:30-31).

Jesus straitened: A good process for us

There are those who will quickly say that Jesus was perfect. Well, here we run into the term "perfect" with many senses, many connotations, depending upon the context. Jesus was spiritually bound for transcendence. He was perfectly lined up for it. He was straitened for it.
He said so himself. Who are we to discard the very senses in which Jesus was speaking? How can one be straitened (a process) if one is already? Perfectly straight is a condition at which straighter is not possible. If he had been perfect before, he would never have said he was being made straight. This is good, because it allows us to realize that we too can become straight.
If you don't like this, if it gives you so much trouble that you want to start attacking us for writing it, you better get straight instead. Many will see endless paradoxes in this. How could he be God and on and on? They need to go back to re-read the entries on paradoxes.

Now, Jesus didn't preclude the beggar Lazarus from attaining heaven. That particular Lazarus was riddled with disease. His flesh was corrupt, but his heart wasn't. He persevered through a hard life in the flesh without becoming embittered. According to Jesus, Lazarus was allowed into the bosom of Abraham, meaning his love.

At the same time and by faith in God, Jesus healed people of their physical infirmities. It was for a sign. Many worshipped him, but they had doubts. Many believed in him, but he didn't though commit to all of them. They weren't all going to maintain their belief. Many were going to be as the infertile soil where the root withers and dies in the first heat of adversity, the slightest discomfort, the slightest unpleasantness, the slightest exposure of hypocrisy, etcetera.

What Jesus taught was that we are to overcome to our utmost. Therefore, homosexuality is something to be overcome just as many other confusions of the flesh.

If we fall prey to the teaching that the flesh cannot be overcome, how can we possibly transcend corruption that is death itself? What about the beggar Lazarus? He didn't overcome his fleshly ailments in this life. Lazarus though lived before Jesus's public message was fully preached. He was before now when we are to understand that we are all interconnected and interdependent through and on God even when there is a great gulf between us. We are all a kind. We are all family. Our iniquities bring on problems for the yet unborn. We bring on the plagues. Evil desires cause evil to be manifested. Evil consciousness creates evil forms in matter and energy then it uses godless means to fight against the consequences it brought upon itself by lacking the love of real righteousness. If we all become straight, we will live in heaven. It is after this life, and it will be in this life also. What comes out of our mouths, our words, cause the corruption of the flesh. They defile us. They defile others who fall prey. It is as an overflowing cesspool contaminating the entire planet.

Now, I'm speaking of Lazarus as if he had been an actual person. He may have been, but it isn't necessary for the moral of the story of Lazarus. Don't get hung up on it. There are billions of Lazaruses, meaning there are billions who need the lovingkindness of those to whom much has been given.

The idea is that one is to let go of the temptation of immoral behavior. This does remake the flesh to a degree. All the things we do change us, change our brains instantly. Overcome the temptation long enough, and you can quit tobacco, heroin, the strongest methamphetamine, and anything else that the body craves. Sexual behaviors are the same. Just because it is a struggle doesn't mean it is the wrong direction. The psychologist who says that it is healthier to just be a homosexual is really doing a great deal of spiritual disservice. With God, anything is possible. Don't get hung up on the term "anything" either. It is contextual. Everything is.

If homosexuality is genetically and hormonally determined from conception and the womb, why are identical twins not always both either homosexual or heterosexual? Where one is homosexual, the other is only homosexual too about half the time. Also, why does The Bible state that all the males of Sodom demanded to rape the male visitors? Those Sodomites were the genetic products of male-female sex. Why would an entire city's male population be bisexual rapists? Were they all so inbred that the genetic trait was spread completely throughout the city? Sodom's percentage of bi-sexual rapists was a nearly unique occurrence in history. It wasn't all genetically or hormonally explainable, as such arguments are being put forth today. Environment was the factor. Proselytizing was the factor. The culture molded the outcome. It was iniquitous and was put down.

Shortsightedness leads to more homosexuality. Even now, more and more organizations are dropping the concept that there is anything mentally or spiritually wrong with homosexuality. Even the courts are saying that homosexuality is insufficient grounds for rejecting adults as foster parents or adoptive parents. It is guaranteed that foster care and adoption opened up to homosexual couples will result in a proportionate increase in the population engaging in the unhealthy behavior of homosexuality and other unhealthy behaviors. It will facilitate an overall increase in feeding into lusts. The people will be that much less able to deny themselves.

On same-sex marriage, it is against the divine law. However, we are not to coerce. If we kill people or otherwise punish them for engaging in same-sex marriage, where do we draw the line on killing and punishing? What have we ourselves done to merit death and punishment? All have sinned.

On hermaphrodisim, there are those who are born not clearly male or female. They are not rejected on that basis. The spirit line is determinant. The strength of faith ultimately determines all things. Enough faith in God can transform the hermaphrodite just as it can transform or regenerate anyone. Hermaphrodites need take no offense at this. Everyone born is born into a world concerning which one must overcome. We must each overcome the flesh. Hermaphrodites are no different in that regard. Hermaphrodites may certainly be members in full in the church.

On abortion, love that is unselfishness should control all decisions. It is the only real form of love. Of course, abortion should never arise as a consideration. There should never be any selfishness resulting in what anyone would consider an unwanted pregnancy. Once conception has occurred, what does the Holy Spirit move the pregnant female to do? Can anyone of the spirit have an abortion? Today, it is emotionally too easy, which still takes its toll in many unconsidered ways. The impact ripples through society in waves of negativity. The life of other is cheap. It isn't the new commandment.
Many women and girls have not been, and are not being, steeped in the practice of self-denial. They are in fact encouraged to cave into lustful urges for self-gratification. This is consistent with the use by the unwed and even wed of various forms of contraception. From this mind-set, it becomes easier to destroy a developing human being in the womb. That living and developing one is not the self after all, they incorrectly conclude. Theirs is exactly the opposite emotion that Jesus sought to engender when he emphasized the one flesh of marriage. That living and developing one is actually part of the self in the greater context of the unity under God. God cares no less for that one than God cares for the pregnant female.

Abortion is not practicing the new commandment. What little child would wish to have been aborted provided he or she is born into a house of the new commandment? No child would wish it. Why abort when you would not wish to have been aborted and would wish otherwise to have been born into a world of the new commandment applied everywhere and always?

Rape

Many find themselves in a hardhearted world where bad things happen. Rape casts a pall over a pregnancy for those who cannot overcome. Many women and girls who are raped are no greater sinners than those who are untouched. There have been countless women who have raised children in love, which children were the product of rape.
Incest

Incest casts a pall. If it is not a product of rape, the female has sinned wherever she knew better. Inbreeding in humans often results in health problems within even the first generation. Science corroborates the instinctive guilt or shame of incestuous relationships by demonstrating that the higher the development of the cerebral cortex the more distantly related mates need to be in order to avoid physical complications from inbreeding. The higher the brain, the more self-denial and overcoming lust is expected. This rule is designed into our very flesh. The higher we go, the more unselfishness is expected. Those souls which do not overcome are kept from going even higher. They are purged. However, what can great faith not overcome? Is abortion merciful, or is it just adding sin to the mountain?

Child impregnation

What if it is a young child who is impregnated? This compounds the problem. It requires even greater magnified love to overcome. It is a great evil when a young child is subjected to incestuous sexual intercourse. It takes a greater degree of love to overcome that evil. The result must be an outpouring of compassion rather than a hardhearted reaction. That is the message of Jesus, and it is right.

Health and life of the mother

There is also the issue of the health of the pregnant one who may also be a woman with children who still need her. How gut wrenching is the decision? Can the children and father comprehend a thoroughly unselfish act? Can each consider if he or she were the developing one? Each may wish he or she were that one in order to be able to self-sacrifice for the sake of the mother and the rest of the family. However, that's not the issue. How much faith is there? It is all testing how much unselfishness there is all the way around. Each must do what the Holy Spirit tells each to do.

We cannot force anyone. We cannot coerce in such matters. There is no human, collective, mundane legislation that can find an infallible spot for all simply because it would be coercion that is in itself an offense. What does the great commandment move each to desire? Each must think of all others. The love of God heals. How much love is there? Is there enough? That is the focus. Why do all these situations arise if not for the overall selfishness of humanity that is the insufficiency of love?

Right now, there are many who insist upon no abortions but completely abandon parents and children even before birth. It is hypocritical. Yet, we cannot judge or condemn any.

Vicious circle of iniquity

The less marriage and reproduction are held as sacred, the cheaper souls become for the many. The more people give over to feeding their lusts, the more ruined the world becomes. Ostensible free and easy sex opens the door to war and starvation. Easy war and easy starvation open the door to loose sex.
There are those who tend to feed their lusts in some areas more so than in others: Material, money, power, control, violence, sex, and the like. However, the looseness of any person in any of these contributes to overall looseness. The sooner everyone comes to understand this, the better.

The most important thing about abortion is that one must do everything in one's power through God to avoid falling into situations that give rise to pregnancy. Then abortion will be much more a hypothetical than it is today. Fortunately, someday it won't exist and without any coercion by anyone.

Abortion, capital punishment, and war

Abortion is akin to capital punishment and war. War is aborting people and so is capital punishment. The argument is put forth that war and capital punishment are about aborting known evil. That isn't the case with those who were put to death who were later proven to be innocent. It isn't the case with so-called collateral damage that includes innocent casualties of war, the innocent negligently and intentionally murdered by the warriors. In addition, all human beings have fallen to temptation, so therefore, abortion may as well apply to everyone. Humanity may as well commit mass suicide. Of course, on a certain level, that is exactly what it does in war and in neglecting the starving and in bringing on the plagues and pestilence and the rest of the wrath from creation. It is a death wish.

Abortion though includes the innocent (before Satan has tempted them to fall to evil). Life is cheap. Humans are matter only. There is no spirit or soul to be concerned with. Might makes right. Do what you want. Take what you want, just be stronger than anyone else. Have more backup.

This though is confusing for people. They see in it both liberal and conservative elements. The conservatives are against abortion but for war. The liberals are for abortion but antiwar. No. Those are both false conservatives and false liberals. The real conservative will seek to conserve the real. The real liberal will seek to bring forth the real. The real is the new heaven and new earth where there is no abortion or war.

On contraception, the point has already been made. It is best to have no or few children given the problems overpopulation brings on. There are those who for selfish, greedy, capitalists reasons promote sexual lust. It goes hand-in-hand with all the other selfish appetites. Contraception is designed to allow people to be self-indulgent. It is a big money-maker too. The use of contraception does not promote the practice of self-denial. All temptations are, therefore, not diminished. Contraception promotes the mentality of looking for contrived ways to continue feeding into lusts without consequences. Where those contrived ways are unavailable, the ones unpracticed in self-denial are much less likely to deny themselves. The consequences are seen in starvation, war, plagues, and other negative manifestations of people failing to deny themselves for the sake of others and all (God). Rather, as said repeatedly, self-denial that is not feeding into selfish desires is the path to salvation. It is headed in the direction of no longer suffering from, or causing others to suffer due to, caving into selfishness: Evil.

On the death penalty or capital punishment, obviously we are against it. Human beings are not to be about taking human lives. It is that simple.

This world is a womb

The death penalty is a form of abortion. Those who are not for abortion but who are for the death penalty fail to understand that all human beings in the here and now, at the time of this writing, are in a gestation period every bit as much as those in their mother's wombs. Jesus made clear that we are seeds that must die into the spiritual soil to become as he is now, transcending this womb. He taught about the seed in parable form as analogous to human beings in the flesh relative to the coming spiritual, higher incarnation. He talked about the birth pangs that are the sorrows leading up to the great tribulation. "All these are the beginning of sorrows." (Matthew 24:8). He talked about the good news of the rebirth of souls (resurrection) proved worthy by their lives in the new commandment. Those who take human lives preclude souls that by the grace of God would turn. No human being has the level of knowledge to justify precluding other souls from the opportunity given by God to turn. The teachings of Jesus are fully consistent with this truth. His teachings and his exemplary life are this truth. He didn't judge or condemn. He only warned and showed the way passed the pits.

On smoking, we know it is unhealthy. It is a waste all the way around. Therefore, we want our church and communes to be non-smoking.

On drinking alcohol, we have mentioned wine at the Last Supper. We believe in sobriety that is moderation. It is not good to get drunk. It is even worse to be frequently or always drunk. One must be sober enough to watch, to see and read the signs of the times, and to make and be ready. Those who drink wine will only be as righteous as the things they do.

The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children. (Matthew 11:19).

"Wisdom is justified of her children" means that one's deeds justify one's way. The fruit of one's deeds shows whether or not drinking wine is evil. All the lip service faith in the world justifies nothing. Of course, denying oneself through periodic fasting and abstinence from wine and feeding into other appetites is a good thing provided it is done in the spirit of increasing the emotional basis of unselfishness and to become closer to understanding that God provides and not human beings.
On procreation (having children), we have touched on this already. If you already have more than one child or two children, do not despair for having contributed to overpopulation. It is just very important for people to stop having three and more children anymore. Those who can have just one or none will be helping to offset those who continue to have too many children. I am a fourth child, so I am not saying that a third or fourth child and so on need feel that he or she should not have been born. Everyone born was meant to be. God has put all here. That fact has gone by already. It will not be reversed. What matters now is what we do from here onward with what we have been given to know. Absolutely, it would be wrong to make any child (regardless of the number of immediate siblings and no matter how far out in the future) feel that he or she is not every bit as much the child of God as anyone else provided that child is and remains in the spirit. It isn't the child, it's the parents.

Masturbation

As for releasing sexual tension through masturbation, one can learn to forego sexual release. It comes from overcoming more and more sexual buildup. It comes from reducing and eliminating the emotions and thoughts that contribute to that buildup. Even introducing the subject can become a problem. The mere subject of sex can increase the temptation and hence the build up of that very tension until overcome through practiced self-denial of all appetites. The issues of lust must be dealt with. The very subjects cannot be completely avoided for the sake of avoiding temptation, because people must first be told the word concerning about what to deny themselves and why. Temptation will not disappear of its own accord. Without the knowledge to turn, the only way temptation would disappear would be via the entirety of humanity being wiped from the earth due to there being none faithful. At the same time, one must draw the line so as not to dwell on the subject or be feeding into prurient interests. Enough is enough.

This is the dilemma. If one never mentions evil to a child even if to prepare or teach that child, that child will not be thus tempted. However, if one never prepares a child against temptation through stating what constitutes temptation, the serpent can come and tempt the unprepared. The fall can be great for the unsuspecting. The only way is not around this but straight through it. The only way is to teach love, peace, and truth and to live them in example to such a degree that the lessons against temptation are inculcated while love is made strong enough and the heart is grown large enough and soft enough in the child to withstand all the temptations of the serpent.

We can only say that in the communes when the children are growing up, it would be proper that they not even be exposed to certain concepts. However, it must also be understood that those children will be steeped in the culture of unselfishness—its teaching and exemplification. The positive of unselfishness will be emphasized. The older they become, the more self-denial will be practiced across-the-board. Greed and violence will be foreign to their make up. Giving and sharing all will be their spirit.
Harming others will be anathema to them. In that environment, unnatural (promoted) sexual desires will be a non-issue. Sexual tensions will be at a minimum.

After all, it is the constant barrage of sexual promotion to sell things for greedy profit that stimulates the tension. Without the barrage, there would not be hyper tension and temptation. Thoughts do not naturally gravitate to the subject even slightly as often as they are forced upon people via advertising and so-called entertainment and other cultural mistakes. The culture of today has simply exacerbated temptation.

Eating

Eating is a selfish act on a certain level. It is of the devouring spirit for the continuation of self in the flesh. It can get out of hand very easily. Many people eat to excess. Sex is the same. All things associated with self-preservation, of which procreation is an aspect, can be done to excess crossing well over the line of selfishness that is unrighteousness. Jesus said the following:

> For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it. (Matthew 19:12).

Therefore, if one can abstain from all things sexual, let him or her do it. For those who cannot, be sure not to commit adultery or fornication or any other sexual excess. Be sure not to fantasize in your heart about anyone else, or you will have already committed adultery or fornication in your heart, just as with fantasizing about worldly wealth and power and just as with fantasizing about violence. Steer clear in your emotions, thoughts, words, and deeds. Do not place such temptations before others. Rather seek to diminish temptations, and where there are temptations, seek to diminish caving into those.

The deeper you are, the longer the climb. This is not to say that God cannot or will not reach down to bring you out instantly. It is simply to say that if you find yourself struggling, do not give up. Fill yourself with the Holy Spirit of unselfish love. There will be no room for the unclean spirits. We are to bring forth in patience. We are to persevere. We are to have no doubts. What you may want that appears to you to be an unselfish desire or something deserved (especially relative to those you see around you practicing great greed and other evils) may not be conducive to the prophecy unfolding. It may not be what is best for you. Don't want things to happen before you have been made ready. Seek first after righteousness.

On technology in general, it is amorphous, but generally we are talking about the way of science to engineer things and those things which are produced. The way of science and engineering is only as righteous as their products are the result of the spirit of unselfishness. There is no doubt that technology has accelerated the demise of the entire planet's ability to give us a healthy existence in the flesh. There is no doubt that that demise negatively impacts the souls of humanity. It hardens hearts. Technology is being abused. At best, it has been used in the selfish, therefore futile, spirit attempting to out race the very problems abuses of technology cause. The impetus of selfish gain won't ever work to really improve the overall quality of human life or to out race the problems created by the aggregate demise of that quality of life. The real answer though lies in removing all selfish motivation from all human efforts regardless of the kind or degree of so-called development. What will result will not be using selfishness to try to out race the results of earlier selfishness. Then the vicious cycle will be broken. Humanity will then be able to correct things, because by virtue of the newfound collective unselfish spirit, we will have the time granted to turn the entire ship of human works before evil results force the whole of humanity over the proverbial edge in a fall with utter finality.

On addictions, the more we do certain things, the more temptation there is to do them again. The person who never starts smoking never craves and never struggles with quitting. The same holds for all unwholesome habits. Don't start if you haven't already. If you have started, stop. If you stumble, stop again until you stop for good. Turn to God. Don't stop working on overcoming. Don't whip yourself either. Punishment is not a solution. Repentance and mercy are the solution. Think unselfishly. You will have mercy on others and mercy will be shown you if you persevere. That is the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. We all struggle. We are to be lights to each other. We are to raise each other up. We are to give strength to one another.

Write first: Commune second

On another question, some will ask why we didn't start such a commune first and then write this work. There was not funding enough to start a commune. Even if we had had the funds to do that, it would have been difficult to get the word out thereafter had we used all the funds that way. We would have had a place but no members. What funds were available went into covering all expenses, including living expenses, while writing this work and to pay for the first digital and paper publication and the expense to found the Real Church. The Holy Spirit was the guide in writing these words now rather than waiting until a small commune could be made to glimmer faintly in the distant future. The timing of things is with a greater sense of urgency than that! People are starving to death every day. Souls are being lost everyday. We cannot reach the whole world instantly, but we are not allowed to sit on our hands, now that the light is clearly there for us to shine. That's the truth. Things can't wait until we can individually earn and save enough (without offerings and tithes and better from people) to start the Church in addition to a commune. All those who can benefit now out of the generosity of the hearts of those who have the wherewithal would have to wait or die before they could be reached and saved.

We must be ever-mindful that there are tens of thousands of people (our kind, our relatives, our brothers and sisters) dying in the world each day of sheer neglect. They are trapped by the worldly system of greed that has ruined things and has attempted to bottle up everything so that the only place to turn is to that system. It is that system that we must counter with the only right alternative that is the way that Jesus Christ taught and showed the world. He showed us God and the way of God. God gives us everything. We are to be like that.

Parasites

Again, no person can do anything alone. No rich person for instance can make money alone despite any mistaken egotistical notions to the contrary. Therefore, let no one call any other a parasite when that other gives what he or she is truly able. The true parasite takes without giving back as much or more than he has taken when he or she is perfectly capable of contributing much more. That is the definition of those who accumulate for self and their immediate circle starving the rest of the world. Those who cannot contribute as much or more than they need to live are still doing all that ought to be expected of them when they are contributing what they are able by virtue of their individual gifts or skills given them by God. It is the duty of others to see to the needs of those and all fellow humans.

Communes: Cities of real light

Are the communes to be seen as the end all and be all? After the next great tribulation when the entire planet lives according to the spirit which is proposed, greater things will remain in store.
It is necessary though that a third of the human race reach this level of the spirit before that great tribulation. What is proposed is that people find and do not find their eternal lives in these places. This is no contradiction. It is a dual context which concept should be sufficiently familiar to the reader by now. We hope people find that eternal life in the Holy Spirit that exists within whether they are in one of the communes or in the middle of the most decadent city or sitting on the mountain top alone with God. The communes need to be places conducive to that truth. The communes are to be on the path to the end all and be all which is the infinitude of God's love. They are to be cities of real light.

Let us hope to build these communities of the commons as cities of peace on the true path to spiritual enlightenment leading to eternal life in righteousness. As such, they will be places of harmony to the extent that worldly greed from outside can be displaced by love within. Given enough of such places acting as shining examples of how things ought to be, that darkness of greed will be greatly displaced throughout the world until the end of evil. It will help lead to the salvation of many souls through teaching and showing real unselfishness, the unselfishness Jesus showed. That is the point.

Give your firstfruits

As you are moved by the Holy Spirit to do so, put as much of your firstfruits as you are able into the cause of doing that which Jesus called for and said glorifies God in heaven: Feeding the lambs and sheep and doing the other good works of which Jesus spoke; showing mercy. Be sure to start your giving by giving your first fruits (the first results of any of your undertakings, work, etc.). "The firstfruit also of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the first of the fleece of thy sheep, shalt thou give him." (Deuteronomy 18:4).

Now, some may ask how giving firstfruits to this effort is giving firstfruits to God. This effort is the effort to re-channel resources toward the have-nots and the others God has instructed us to look after in order to gain them. Jesus said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." (Matthew 25:40). You see, God gives to you, and God is appalled by what you amass for yourself. God is appalled by how much you invest for yourself and how much your investments pay off for you and yours to the exclusion of the least of God's brethren. God is pleased by what you do for the least of those his brethren and all his brethren really. Doing for them, ministering to their needs, being of service to them, and finding them and leading them back into the fold is the yield on God's investment in you that God is pleased with. Doing that for pure righteousness' sake and not in an attempt to buy your way into heaven is the spirit that pleases God to no end. Helping this effort is your way of investing in that yield with others who are likeminded. Do you see that?

Giving your firstfruits means giving to this, God's, cause before you literally give to anything else (especially toward yourself for your personal upkeep or pleasure or the upkeep or pleasure of those who love you). Jesus explained. "For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?" (Matthew 5:46).

The publicans were tax collectors who took their cut from what they forcibly collected for the sake of the greedy Empire that didn’t take care of the poor. What reward for that behavior could those unrepentant tax collectors expect from God?

Your firstfruits belong to God. Really, all your fruits are God's if you can grasp it. It means your first obligation is to give and share not for recompense. It means, as we have shown elsewhere in this work, one is to give in a way that is conducive to everyone learning to give and share all first and foremost with those with the least. Rewards that are not conducive to giving and sharing all first and foremost with those with the least reinforce the pattern of giving for the sake of getting. That reinforces the pattern of behavior of giving to those with the means to give directly back or for the sake of the ego being massaged by the people to whom one gives. It is the vain reinforcement of being lauded by fellow humans as a humanitarian or philanthropist. Those are not the reasons God gives us life and provisioning. They are not Christlike motives. Also, where are such friends once the money has run out?

Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. (Matthew 6:2).

It perpetuates wrong motives and results that fall miserably short of what it takes to solve the problem of the poor. Giving to those who already love us does not show the way to them that it is better to give than to receive. It is better that they too give all and share all for the sake of the poor and wanting in body and spirit. That is the solution: The right spirit.

This teaching is completely consistent with Jesus's way of spreading that purest and most abundant spirit of love he showed in going to the cross.

Now, none of this is to say that in the case where one gives all to the poor, who cannot repay the giver in kind, and people give to that giver and say good things about that giver, it is an ungodly reward. The original intention was not designed for selfish reward. In addition, anyone who gives discreetly to the poor will continue to give in that discreet manner from what is entrusted to him or her by others who learn of such good deeds that glorify God. This is how the Apostles were.

Teach this and do this and you will be keeping Jesus's commandment as he said, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 5:16). You see the difference. One form of giving is vain and egotistical. The other gives all credit to God. The first is utter failure. The latter is the solution since all are all together in God. The first remains self-centered. The first gives to gain for self. The latter is unselfish. The latter gives completely for the sake of others. The results of such teaching and giving and sharing will be the light to the people. Such results are literally the results of God. It is the work of God.

Really, as Jesus made clear by implication with his statement about being perfect by giving your all for the poor, all your fruits belong to God. Do with less yourself, meaning deny yourself, so that you may give and share. God will reward you openly for your earnestly having put others first in secret. It is Christlike so to do.

The good news (the Gospel) is that even though there are those who will not do this before the tribulation, those who do (you also if you will) will be saved for having turned. They will be saved, because those who will remain (be the remnant) will live only with others of that same spirit. Think about how heavenly that will be. Think about how much being that way now brings heaven to the here and now to lead others into that spirit. Doing this is the very meaning of existence. It is the very reason for your current life in your body.

As we said at the outset of this chapter, proceeds will be used to further teach and do in accordance with Jesus's teachings and doings. All monies that come into the church will be used in the furtherance of the message. Even funds used as Jesus and his first disciples used them will be to keep body and soul together in the mundane sense for the sole purpose of being able to continue in the cause of bringing forth the real abundance. We have told you many things for, among other reasons, the preliminary purpose of putting your mind at ease concerning whether or not you would be furthering the good works called for by Jesus by your joining and helping this, his cause.
Chapter 23  Separate Christianity from Denominations

Separate out the cause and movement of Christianity from the hoarding denominations.

We understand that the concept of the real bread versus the manna from the sky and the real Church versus the less-than zealous is a high hurdle in the minds of many. The Laodiceans were of that less-than zealous mold.

And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God; I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth. Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked: I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see. As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. (Revelation 3:14-19).

If they were to become unanimously afire for the cause and moved to action rather than remain self-satisfied with the unjust condition of the world, they would have received their chastening. They would have been ridded of excess. They would have become refined and purified, just as gold is purified of dross in a hot furnace.

If you are in a church and that church is unanimous in joining itself to the effort to bring forth the real fruit worthy of repentance and with patience, it is good. Do it. The spirit will give your spiritual siblings the new wineskin. If you are in a church that does not wish to join because the truth is not palatable to them, then the spirit will move you to leave them, alone if necessary.

It is just as with leaving your genetic family as Jesus said his disciples are called to do when that genetic family is not also of the spiritual family.

If your church is not of the real spirit, if it is of the dark spirit shown by its lack of desire to bring forth in complete unselfishness, then you must separate yourself from that spirit and join yourself to the spirit that will bring forth.

Remember, you cannot drag others to the real spirit. You cannot use coercion. Of course, speak out in truth to see who will hear your voice. It is the same with your close genetic family. Speak to them about universal repentance of your whole family, spiritual and genetic. Shake the dust from your feet if need be. They make of themselves as unbelievers and tax collectors, heathens and publicans, if they reject the truth of the real liberalism. It will be up to them to turn. You will have done what is required. They are always free to be as the son who when his father asked him to go work in his father's vineyard "answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went." It is not too late for them until it is too late.

They are not your problem. They choose to remain spiritually dead in the face of truth. Rejecting the truth is their problem. Your door will remain open to them until God shuts it in God's time. It is out of your hands.

No compromising the truth

Remember the parable of the ten virgins and the oil for the lamps before the wedding. Individual souls must obtain the light before it is too late. You cannot let your light go out to have them with you or for you to be with them. You cannot allow righteousness to be lessened in that way, because in that case neither they nor you will enter the kingdom of heaven. Keeping the light burning is not selfish, because the more souls who enter the kingdom the better. If yours is one, that is good. If you allow others to attempt to ride in on your back, you will be attempting to allow their hellishness into heaven, in which case heaven will not exist for them or you. You will be astray and you will be a lesser example for others. Let those without the light gain the light rather than putting yours out so you may have them with you. Real compassion does not lie in compromising the truth. Real compassion lies in encouraging others to rise in time. "Buy the truth, and sell it not; also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding." (Proverbs 23:23).

Before we go further, we categorically state that we are not condemning or judging any group calling itself a Christian church. We know full well that there are people within groups calling themselves Christian churches who are truly desirous of being always on the right path and who have worked, and will work even more so yet, to be there and stay there. We want that with great enthusiasm. We want those things which detract to be completely diminished in hearts so as to vanish into nothingness on all the planes of existence where God sends messengers to preach and live the full spirit of the Gospel message: Righteousness. Do not take what we say as suggesting that no one has been putting forth any effort at all. We are though calling for that greater saltiness that Jesus wants of all of us. We don't want a house divided. We want all who will choose it to be conflated by the Holy Spirit of truth.

Each person who saves (leads another to God) is of that spirit. Each person of that one spirit is a child of Yah.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. (Matthew 5:9).

Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the

Be a peacemaker, but don't let your light be dimmed by associating yourself with the dark hearted. It does not mean do not communicate with them. We are charged (commissioned by God through Jesus) to communicate the word to sinners. It means rather, do not let the thorn bushes spring up around you to choke out the light from within you. It means be fertile soil where the seeds of the thorn bushes cannot take root.

Be a child of God. When one sees the child, one sees more than Yah's reflection. The real Church is a manifestation of Yah. Each person says, I will and then does. Each person then says I am a part of the family also. It is not to be confused by the limiting notions with which we have been misled to assume on account of human traditional thinking about the definition of family.

Bring forth
Consider the following:

Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. (Luke 3:8).

Reflect upon the full implication of the few words "fruits worthy of repentance." Your fruits make you worthy to be called, to be, children of God. How important is mundane blood or genetic lineage in this? The word of God came to John the Baptist who said that God can turn stones into the children of Abraham. God can turn anything into anything. Genetic lineage does not make one worthy nor does it preclude. That is important. It does not preclude. You are not precluded from being a full, actual child of God. The spirit overrides everything you've been misled into believing that has limited you. Remember, "Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection." (Luke 20:36). We are as much God as any child of God can be if we will but believe the entirety of the revelation. We will be equal to the angels.

We must do the deeds worthy of repentance. Don't listen to those who tell you not to do the deeds. Those are misguided voices. Trust what Jesus has said. It is in black and white: Unmistakable. Only those who will not break free of their selfishness are those who deny what Jesus has said in clear and plain language. We are the children of God, the children of the resurrection, because we will bring forth the fruit. Read it. It is right there. There is no other interpretation. All other interpretations have left the work undone all these centuries. Let us begin together now.

Let no person stand in the way. Let no one in your house hold you back. Woe to those who stand in the way of the work of the LORD. Do not stay with those who seek to block the way. They are not your spiritual family regardless of their flesh and blood or regardless of how long you have been going to church where they have been going also. You owe them the word and to be generous, peaceful, and pure as an example. After that, they make of themselves what they choose to treasure.

But he turned, and said unto Peter,
Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.
(Matthew 16:23).

Now Jesus chastised Peter, but Peter changed. Therefore, God still drew Peter to Jesus. Had Peter ignored the words of Jesus and refused to follow (turn and be changed), Jesus would have left Peter behind. That's the way of it. No one gets to follow Jesus into heaven without turning and being changed. That's a good thing. It is fair, just, and right.

How do you know that Jesus is right?

What other person has put it all together? If we were all Christlike, can anyone doubt that this would be heaven? There would be no offenses. There would be no temptations. There would be no evil. There would be no disease. There would be no death. There would be no pain or suffering or lust. There would be purity only in everything.

Of course it is idealistic. What's wrong with that? Jesus showed it in practice, in action. He showed that it is not against human nature. He was fully human. The practical consequence of doing the first and great commandment and the second like it is heaven on earth. What's wrong with that? How can anyone be against it except for on account of his or her confusion and selfishness?
You shall know them (the self-styled churches) by their results. You shall know their means and their ends by their results. They are what they cause. Where is the real Church? Where are the results that are consistent with Jesus's teachings and deeds? Where is the feeding of spirit and body of all the lambs and sheep of the fold? It is not, because the real Church has been in hiding. Its light has been barely glowing. It must be kindled. The real Church is built upon the tangible results worthy of repentance. Where are they? Why have they not been made manifest? Why have hearts been too weak to bring forth? It is, because humans have been savoring the fruits of selfishness. As Jesus is quoted above, "Thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men." Do not belong to, or remain in, the congregation that savors the things of the dark prince of this world. Join and build up the congregation that savors the giving and sharing spirit of the Kingdom of God.

"Church"

Jesus said he was building a church. The word "church" in the New Testament of the King James Version of The Bible is, of course, a translation of the Greek. It is transliterated into English from the Greek as "ekklesiad" meaning essentially "assembly." The connotations of the noun "church" include: Multitude, company, assembly, gathering (togetherness), congregation (organization), convocation, community, and the like. The English transliteration of the word church from the Hebrew is "qabal" ("קַבָּל"), which connotes all the above depending upon the context in which it is used. Church also connotes the sense of the Greek "kurikon," meaning "the Lord's house."

Wherever two or more are gathered in the understanding of the meaning of the name of Jesus, in the Holy Spirit, there is the real Church. It is conflation. It can be indoors or out. It retards no one from receiving the spirit and going on to be a great doer. Once the Holy Spirit has descended upon one, that person receives truth directly. Any organizational aspects are purely facilitating. The real Church gives instant credit where credit is due. Praise God. The real Church is all good shepherds and good stewards.

Do not blame real Christianity for what false churches and organizations, including governments, do in its name. It is not Christianity's fault that false churches, organizations, and governments have deviated from the true message. The real Church has never done anything unrighteous. It cannot. Only where hypocrisy enters in can unrighteousness appear. It is where evil has filled the vacuum left by a lack of real love. The acts of those astray cannot be laid at the gates of the kingdom of God. The misdeeds of those who have called themselves the church down through the ages are acts of those who did not follow God's rules. Jesus is not responsible for errors. People fail when they harden. They listen to their own imaginations. They formulate their own precepts and traditions leading to sorrow and darkness. Blameworthiness goes to those who lead others into temptation. The real Church and Jesus never did that.
Those organizations calling themselves Christian churches that are not doing the commandments are at best confused about Christian governance. At worst, they are working deliberately and knowingly for the opposite cause of Christianity. Those organizations often become greedy, violent, punitive, and countenance other depravities. Jesus, however, simply shook the dust from his feet. He did that, because talking to those who are not looking for the truth can be as talking to the wall. One can lead people to the water of eternal life but cannot force them to drink. Jesus was not allowed to force anyone to believe. Self-styled churches seeking to impose their will upon others have no part in Jesus. Consider all the congregations in the US led by those seeking to impose their will through worldly coercive, violent governmental power. How far from the kingdom are they? Are you with them? If so, you cannot be with Jesus. You are with the prince of this world, for he runs that government and is the real leader of the false church.

False churches and worldly politics

False churches often become deeply involved in worldly politics trying to either remake the world from within the worldly, corrupt, divided system or trying simply to rule over it. The worldliness sucks them in. They buy it and own it and are owned by it. Rather than doing the commandments on all occasions and allowing example to work upon the condition of the hearts of this world, they do ungodly precepts.
The scriptures warn against such groups professing to be churches under God. They have oppressed the people; suppressed, hidden, and distorted the word; and persecuted and killed (martyred) saints. They have been mastered by worldly powers and have taken the worldly princes for their own right up to the present. This makes the job of the real Church harder. It gives the real Church and God bad reputations amongst the people. Even the little children see the hypocrisy. Then they emulate the adults paying lip service.

It damages the ability of real Christianity to reach people. People point to all the atrocious behavior done in the name of the church down through the ages and equate all of that with Jesus and God and real Christians. They think that the fruit of those who committed atrocities in the name of God are the fruits of the teachings and doings of Jesus. Nothing could be further from the truth. It will take great zeal amongst the real believers to overcome this. Jesus taught and did just the opposite of all those atrocities and abominations. It is up to real Christians to set things straight, to unlink the false associations.

The Real Church: The new nation

Do not be fooled. Historically, the false churches of worldly empire have, within their mixed signals they have always sent out, claimed to be interested in the anointing of worldly kings who have beneficent instincts. None though brought forth enough fruit that their kingdoms were not severely diminished or destroyed and power given over to some other nation. Can you see the pattern that Jesus explained? All greedy and powerful nations collapse. It is God's way. The greedy and powerful nations today will collapse. Their power will be given over to a new nation that will bring forth. The Real Church will be that nation. Do you see that?

Eventually, the king of the whole world will indeed be spiritually anointed. That will be when the priesthood and monarchy of all believers (universal, royal priesthood) forever, both temporal and eternal, extends to every human being on the planet under the one living Father who is God. Each person will be sovereign and priest within the sovereignty and holiness of God within each. That will be after the great turmoil caused by the falling of the divided house that is the current human condition.

Princes of the false world

Until then, the princes of this world will be exactly that, princes of this false world that lies in systemic bondage to mammon that further facilitates and exacerbates bondage under all manner of wrong thinking. Those princes have no compunction about being members of secret societies the rituals of which are antichrist. They blend all manner of religions and paganism together in a state of dark confusion. Only bad comes of it. Some outsiders see it as harmless fun. They do not take it seriously. The damage is done. They literally worship the evil one who attempted to turn Jesus in the wilderness but failed. They bow to evil to gain the world at the expense of their souls. It is satanic. It mocks God. They must wake up and repent before it is too late.
Eventually though, every person will be sovereign and priest, because Jesus shares all with his Father who is in heaven.

And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them. (John 17:10).

All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you. (John 16:15).

John the Baptist knew and said, "The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand." (John 3:35).

One

Jesus and the Holy Spirit are one with our Father. He wants his followers to also be one with them, thereby sharing all as he, Jesus, does.

"That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us." (John 17:21). This is the basis for holding all things in common and for the priesthood and monarchy of all (on the order of Melchizedek — a universal, royal priesthood) forever. These godly precepts frighten apostate ostensible Christian churches and governments.

Communicating directly with God

What will happen when so many in the world come to realize the light that is of Jesus and God that is being shown that each may hear directly from, and speak directly to, the Holy Spirit of truth?

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (John 15:15).

Jesus shared all he heard. He made it known. There are no intercessors necessary once Jesus is accepted as the way. He said so. The Holy Spirit is right there for us, in us. There is egalitarianism in the spirit (sharing freely all with all). First and last are made one in God. Reconcile this. God is where relatives and absolutes converge and make eminent sense.

Collapse

What will happen when so many in the world come to realize the light? The entire worldly traditional system of religious hierarchy that has suppressed this truth at the expense of the needy will collapse. The current powers and principalities will collapse. They will be replaced by a new nation bringing forth the fruit: A spiritual nation of all human kind.

This obvious implication is why the pharisaic religious leaders of the time manipulated the Gentile super power (Rome) into murdering Jesus and had the greater part in the sin for it. Of course, even though they killed his flesh, it was only temporary. That is all evil can do, be temporary and not eternal. Jesus said, "Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away." (Mark 13:31).
This is why the powers that be continue to suppress and distort the real word. They have worked and still work with great zeal at obscuring the truth, keeping it from the people to extend their temporary reign: Their trick.

Will power is God's

What will happen when so many realize that alone, no one can do anything? Will power is God's. Those with pride claim that the will of others will not stand against their will. They say that through their own will and determination, they will prevail. Yet Jesus said the following:

> I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me. (John 5:30).

What will happen when so many realize what Jesus meant when he said, "For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son"? (John 5:22).

What will happen when so many realize what Jesus meant by the following?

> I judge no man. And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. (John 8:16).

The Father judges no man, and Jesus judges no man.

He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that
The standard of judgment: Your own

Jesus is the word, the word will judge them, and Jesus judges no man. This is not paradoxical. It means we are not to judge or punish but rather show mercy always. Those were his words. We will measure ourselves against that standard. Our standard will be applied against us.

Even human law points to it in spirit. We cannot escape it. We know it regardless of how much we claim to be ignorant. Humans punishing humans does not lead out of temptation. It leads into vengeance and destruction.

The full context of everything Jesus said and did is the key. There is a divine standard. It is pure righteousness. The truth is pure righteousness. It is love. It is peace. If we follow it, we will not go wrong. We will arrive at perfection which lies at the end of the path of perseverance. Jesus came and took away the excuse of ignorance so that there would be end to oppression.

The conservatives tell us after having been shown their hypocrisy by Jesus, that the letter of their human law is the highest and not the spirit of the law. They will be judged in perfect conformity. They are judged already by their own words and deeds. Their excuses are laid bare. Their sin begets sin against them of their own making. They whip their own backs imagining someone else is doing it.

They are aware and yet ignorant, else they could not continue doing what they are doing. They know of, but do not grasp and buy, the divine standard making it their own and being owned by it. They reject it. Their excuse for sinful deeds is gone. Yet, pray mercy on them for their ignorance in rejecting truth. Pray that sin will not be visited upon them even though they visit it upon others. Pray they see the light.

If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth. (John 9:41).

If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin. (John 15:22).

If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. (John 15:24).

Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. (Luke 23:34).

Many know and reject

It is against this that the current denominations in both Christianity and Judaism shall be judged, for they know these words but choose to de-emphasize them or otherwise excuse their failure to teach them properly and live accordingly following the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it. Also, many others in other religions and atheists are fully aware and understand but choose to ignore it and also excuse themselves.

This is completely objective and pure justice. Neither God nor Jesus is guilty. Those unwilling to bring forth fruit with patience and worthy of repentance, will be sifted by sin until they have paid the last farthing: Until they have repented in earnest, even if it takes ages. Why? Until one knows the trouble he has caused for the whole, how can that one be allowed into the body where only harmony resides? How otherwise could the sins of the world ever be taken away if none knows what are those sins? How could the oppressed ever be relieved? How could all the hungry and thirsty in spirit and in flesh ever be satisfied in true knowledge?

No to lukewarm

Jesus spoke the words to separate out those unwilling to share all the blessings of God's provisioning, especially including those in wealthy, worldly ostensible churches. He would rather those lukewarm in the ostensible churches be cold. Then they would be out of the churches and not polluting them ruining them for those within them who are in earnest. He would rather much more that they be hot so as to be bright, guiding lights within their churches and for the whole community of churches and most importantly to shine the light to draw in the sinful unto repentance. Therefore, do not remain in a church that is lukewarm at best.

They make a false-comfortable stop on the way to salvation. Then people never get up to continue the journey. They blur the distinction, the stark contrast, between good and evil, so the people cannot see their continuing error from within those churches. They leave the work undone.

Conflate: Come together

All are to conflate in the spirit. The more unified, the more the spirit of oneness, the greater the adhesion, the more faith, the more healing. The perfection lies in being at one where being a differentiated part of the whole offers absolutely no problem for the whole body and, therefore, no other member.

No barriers or secrets within

All that is corruptible is elsewhere from the unified body of God, Christ, and their shared Holy Spirit. The wholeness that is that body is not infected. Pure godliness is pure wholesomeness, pure health, not divided, not fractured, not walled off from itself, having no barriers or secrets within, and without excuses or lies. Those who are selfish, unrepentant, backsliding are not of that body.

Worthiness for healing

How can this be reconciled with affliction? Suffering is part of the purging process. If you don't feel the pain of your selfishness, you will not understand how much love it takes to rise out of selfishness to do the good deeds. Jesus suffered on the cross, because the satanic spirit wanted to keep the illusion of control. The satanic spirit hates you. It has nothing but enmity toward you. It suffers when you rise. It tries to pull you back down. That way, it may continue imagining that it is superior. This tug of war over your soul hurts until you learn to overcome the tug of evil. We have a difficult time, because we want to put the healing before the worthiness.

We see that Jesus healed those of his day instantly and even from afar. Now, we are able to be healed that way but are required to go forward in righteousness even without such overabundance of signs. The time will come though when those who waited patiently, perseveringly, on God will be completely released.

The effects of selfishness are greatly magnified, more clearly seen now. Many will repent only when they realize that Jesus voluntarily suffered (self-sacrificed) for the very reason that they may learn the ultimate causes of suffering (selfishness in the world; the opposite of oneness in spirit) and just how much love is required that they may be found and no longer lost and that they may be divided away from evil's selfish domination and bring others out of the darkness and into the light. Jesus did this in full faith of the promise and he is unscathed for it. He drank the cup of poison, and it did not hurt him: His soul. Jesus exposed the falsely perceived power of even death. We too must be able to drink from that cup knowing that we, our true selves, our souls, cannot be touched no matter what they do to our flesh.

God's power transcends all other power including the power of Satan to whom this world has been given over for a season including Satan's power of death and all corruption of the flesh. That is why Jesus had the power to heal just by thinking about it in full faith that God would do it. God instantly healed those Jesus just knew for certain that God instantly healed. There was no doubt. God can raise children up from rocks. God can instantly clean lepers of the bacteria (Mycobacterium leprae) causing their disease and restore all their damaged tissue to perfect health.

There are those who say that today's leprosy is not the same leprosy of the time of Jesus. It doesn't matter anyway in terms of God's healing power. God can heal anything.

It hasn't been happening as readily, because we have all together been so far from the kingdom. We must bring in the spirit. We must magnify the spirit together.

Jesus voluntarily suffered to show us this. How can one truly know suffering unless one hears the word and connects it to ones own emotions, thoughts, words, and actions and those of others and, therefore, truly knows how we are all in the end interdependent and interconnected through God? How else may we reprove and be reproved (as constructive criticism) within the spirit of love and warning and not as judgment and condemnation?

Obligation here and now

All of this is not completely contrary doctrine to the huge, highly organized, wealthy denominations. However, those denominations don't emphasize what they hold in common with the real-church view. They do not focus upon doing the good works whereby faith is not dead. They emphasize the world to come in a way that negates the obligation of Christians in the here and now. What Christians do in the here and now is that upon which they will be found to have been either good and faithful servants or wicked and slothful servants. This is what separates the congregations in the here and now. Which church do you choose? Do you choose to stay in the false, hoarding church or do you choose to help build the real Church to bring forth the real bounty?

Don't be afraid to act in faith. Just because you have been burned before is no reason to hold back. Jesus promises the following:

An hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life.
(Mark 10:30).

With persecutions

Focus on that. He said, "With persecutions." Are you willing to undergo persecution for the sake of righteousness that is for the sake of finding and saving sinning souls to God? Will you understand that hardship caused by the system of greed is a form of persecution? Do you understand that the system of greed, violence, and depravity harasses and oppresses you when you work to get others to give and share? Do you understand that the greedy system strives constantly to get you to fall for its temptations? Are you expecting complete and instantaneous relief from all attempted harassment and oppression by the present-day Babylon? Do you imagine that Jesus was never troubled? He was troubled! He was harassed. The powers that be worked mightily to oppress him and all who would follow him. They murdered him, after all.

Torture and torturers: Woe

All have been persecuted, oppressed, abused wronged, offended, maltreated, and afflicted to one degree or another. The assault of the selfishness of others begins early in life even before our mundane-level and higher-conscious memories are beginning to become fixed. It begins before we are born really. On a certain level, it begins before we are conceived. The foundation for persecution was laid before our conception in the flesh. It definitely begins before reasoning has developed. If it continues in an extremely selfish environment, the result is usually a person who is ill prepared (without right-reasoning) to cope that is to choose the right emotional reactions. That person will not have been taught the reason for the existence of abuse nor the method to deal with it. These assaults come in all degrees from the slightest of selfishness to the most traumatizing. They can be incessant annoyances up to the most disturbing and shocking imaginable assaults. Some people are traumatized under the most incessantly shocking and damaging abuse that they go into a numb and even comatose state to avoid the assault on their consciousness.

This is what has happened with most who have been tortured at the hands of the ruthless of the US (and other entities) falsely imagining themselves the vanguard of God's elite. People who do such things to others are in no way working for God. They are working for Satan and his angels and will pay for that distinction. Woe to him by whom offenses come.

Abuse

Abuse is physical, sexual, emotional, and neglectful. All abuse manifests physically. All abuse is emotional. All abuse is neglecting to nurture. All abuse is tied to lust in that it is selfishness manifested in behavior. All selfishness is a form of lust. All lust is akin to sexual lust, self-preservation and self-replication (procreation, reproduction).
Posttraumatic stress disorder

Everyone suffers from posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD) in varying degrees until healed, not just masked over. Some are experiencing traumatic stress as this is being written. Some are just attempting to gather themselves together after the fracturing that is the trauma suffered under abuse or selfishness.

Autonomic nervous system response: Fight-or-flight damage

Abusive events stimulate what is called the autonomic nervous system response. Contrary to the opinion of psychologists, this system remains involuntary only until unselfish conditioning is instilled in the individual. Until such training or healing has sufficiently taken place replacing the old habituation with a new pattern of reactive behavior, abusive events trigger fight-or-flight reaction hormonal cascades rushing throughout the body and brain doing much damage. This is how selfishness causes disease and kills. This is the mechanism by which selfishness destroys the self or soul.

Hormone triggers: Cortisol and adrenaline

As an automatic reaction to abuse and traumatizing events, the brain triggers the adrenal cortex around the adrenal gland to produce and secrete into the blood stream cortisol (hydrocortisone) and the medulla within the adrenal gland to produce adrenaline (epinephrine). These hormones instruct the body parts to rush into self-preservation mode of either fighting or fleeing the perceived potential injury to the flesh (and soul if one lets it). They are very damaging to the body and the soul.

Hippocampus degradation

From a selfishness flesh-oriented standpoint, they are at best a short-term, expedient trade off. Initially, that is unless abuse has been overcome or the victim is numbed, the heart pounds, eyes dilate, veins constrict, blood pressure rises, blood sugar rises, acidity increases, and memory imprinting goes into a hyper-status mode with hugely negative results of hippocampus degradation.

Epilepsy is associated with hippocampus damage. Damage can be due to the head being banged, brain tumors, alcohol withdrawal, brain infections, and stress of abuse or emotional trauma. In the end, all these causes are effects of selfishness to one degree or another. This truth will become more and more apparent even to science as researchers hone in on what has been known since the beginning.

Brain waves

The brain wave frequencies elongate to the more aggressive, selfish end of the spectrum: The Theta waves of 4 to 7 cycles per second that are associated with the comatose condition, epileptic seizures, carnivore awareness in predatory animals, infant human conscious waking state, rapid eye movement (REM) sleep, memory encoding during sleep, and more. Brain waves can waver from shortened back to elongated to form the manic-depressive or bipolar condition. Shorter frequencies are associated with higher anxiety levels. The harmonious frequencies are bypassed as the mind is imbalanced swinging out of control.

During hormonal surges there is a higher activation of the hippocampus. It is thought that the senses send information to the entorhinal cortex, thalamic neurons, and the amygdala. The entorhinal cortex and amygdala send the information to the hippocampus for further processing. This system regulates fear and memory. The hippocampus sends information on to other parts of the limbic system and neocortex.

The hippocampus is a gatekeeper-part of the limbic system associated with fight-or-flight reaction adrenaline and cortisol releases. In severe trauma, the hippocampus imprints the response pattern in the brain and then is caused to shrink with part actually dying away being killed by the infectious, debilitating, polluting, disease of selfishness (one’s own and that of others) sometimes dramatically, thereby, making a different, correcting imprinting more difficult.

It is not impossible though to overcome this situation. That is what the transformational power of God’s love is all about.

Exercise and work for unselfishness to treat trauma

The hippocampus is responsible for navigation and memory of locations, among other things. So if you have found yourself not able to remember how you navigated somewhere as readily as others remember or if you find that you cannot as readily remember where a certain place is, it may be that you have suffered severe trauma. One of the best ways to repair this damage is through unselfish physical work. Exercising the body helps to increase the size of the hippocampus. One must do reasonably well concerning one's body in order to be of benefit in helping others. It makes perfect sense. This is one of the reasons that working on a commune is good all the way around.

Imprinting

During the next REM (rapid eye movement) sleep cycle after the abusive triggering event, there is a spike in the brain wave frequency up to 200 cycles per second. At that time, the neurological circuitry imprint of the abusive and traumatizing event may be reinforced (retraced over and over as if the traumatizing event occurred numerous times) along with the reaction response that was either fight-or-flight reaction or both. The reaction is then nearly impossible to be deviated from upon the next perceived threat, real or not, to the flesh of the body or brain. The victim's vigilance against potential abuse is hyper. If you suffer from this imprinting as a result of abuse, you have a hair-trigger. It was caused by selfish external abuse and your flesh's selfish desire not to be damaged or killed out of this fleshy existence. It was taught to you from the beginning by those who were all around you as you were developing. Now it comes in from all the technological sources that are difficult for parents to screen out for their children's sake. The message is constant and all pervasive until the new message is received and displaces the old, corrupt message of selfishness.

Exercising the unselfish lobes: Do unselfishness

The place in the brain where the hippocampus triggers this imprinting is in the rear and lower regions responsible for selfish reactions. One is hyper programmed for selfish reactions to perceived threats. That is what you will have to overcome with the help of God. The frontal and temporal lobes of the cerebral cortex are most highly activated during unselfishness. These areas must be exercised to strengthen them to overcome the imprinting of trauma, the disease of selfishness inflicted upon one thereby afflicting one (hardening one's heart). The frontal lobes are the area of the brain just behind the forehead and eyes. The temporal lobes are just behind the bone of the skull at the areas of one's temples. Very well developed frontal lobes are associated with complex thinking and planning. It takes a type of unforced complex thinking and planning to bring forth. Jesus was the unprecedented master of perfectly compassionate and just, complex thinking and planning. That is why what he set in motion is what will see humanity overcome evil.

Are there those who would find unselfish thinking disconnected from ostensible complex thinking and planning? We do not. What would be their agenda? They want selfishness to dominate the thoughts of people. They want the selfish region to dominate to confuse the unselfish region where the most complex thinking and planning take place. This is dividing the brain against the good. It leads to the death of the soul.

Dopamine regulation

When the frontal and temporal regions are highly activated in unselfish that are undivided thoughts (not conflicted between God and mammon or other lusts), the two hemispheres of the brain harmonize and dopamine levels rise. Improper dopamine regulation is suspected in many problems such as addiction, schizophrenia, Parkinson's disease, obesity, autism, narcolepsy, Huntington's chorea, smoking, and more.

Predatory, selfish, beastly mind

The frontal and temporal lobes are the area of the brain least associated with the lower more predatory beasts. The area of the cerebral cortex most closely associated with predatory practices is the posterior region at the back of the head. That is the area of the cortex most highly activated during selfish thought. Do you understand the connection? Predatory animals do not have the higher brain development to overcome their killer devouring lower-based, unenlightened existence. Neither do they have the responsibility that goes with the large neocortex of human beings. They aren't responsible for overcoming, but they aren't capable of ruining everything either. They will live in equilibrium if left without the discordancy of unrepentant human beings.
The initial reaction in abuse for the little child is flight. The pathway for fighting back is not necessarily shut down. The predisposition of the individual weighted against the severity and type of abuse determines much of the reaction. Some people are more predisposed to fighting back.

Christlike paradigm repairs

This imprinting must be overcome with other responses that come with the frontal and temporal lobes of the cerebral cortex being deliberately put through a transformative cycle restructuring everything around a new Christlike paradigm. It is to return to the pre-damaged condition and continue right on passed that to the higher state that is conditioned unselfishness that will literally save the world and the souls in it and more.

Intense repentance activates unselfish lobes and repairs

These frontal and temporal lobes are highly activated during intense repentance and then in prayer thereafter. Intense repentance is so deeply apologetic that it cannot be expressed in words. Of course, regardless of whether one suffered abuse as a little child or as one who was ill-prepared as even an adult, when one is repenting, one is apologizing to God for falling to the temptation of selfishness. We are sorry for having caved in and most importantly for having continued to cave in. This is not to excuse those who tempted us. They too are to be deeply apologetic. None of us is excused from the requirement for repentance. It does not excuse the serpent. It's a universal requirement. That's a good thing.
We come to realize and actually feel the emotions of Jesus (share in the profound sadness, love, and joy) when he did not react by either fighting or fleeing but rather underwent the torture to death to show us how much of what kind of love is required for righteousness and liberation.

No matter how young we were, if we have conscious memories of abuse, we know we were not supposed to be selfish. We know we were not to hurt back or take it out on others. We realize that there will be those who say this is impossible for a little child, but they are wrong. With rare exceptions, children are born with a natural, instinctual abhorrence of selfishness. That is why abhorrent things cause negative emotional reactions in little children. Little children know when things are manifestly wrong. It is only over time (as a result of continual temptation caused by the perpetual confused message of those older) that children become confused. This is why the sight of blood is so disturbing to the youngest and why only confused older people lust after blood in the hunt and in wars. Don't do what is abhorrent and don't be desensitized concerning what is abhorrent. In keeping to that, we will be aiding in keeping selfish emotions to a minimum.

The communes for raising up unselfish people and children

We have never started early enough conditioning completely with love and unselfishness that is with the complete absence of greed, violence, and depravity. Naturally, it does not fall to all the little children of the world to lead the world out of this problem. The older among us are to do a much better job of raising up the young right from their first days to have completely unselfish motives and reactions. All the older people must be remade while not allowing the young ones to slip into selfishness.

False churches doubt it

All these physiological manifestations of selfishness versus unselfishness and their direct spiritual correspondence lends in the understanding of how Jesus was both human and God and how his body transformed, etc. However, many denominations wish to avoid the implications. They give the impression that any people pursuing Christlikeness are arrogant. They keep Jesus out of reach. They consequently keep themselves as intermediaries. This is what separates those denominations from the real Church.

To be remade, intense remorse over all our selfish deeds over our lifetimes leads to an equally intense sense of unification with the wholeness of spirit beyond the immediate self. The boundaries of perceived interconnectedness are pushed out infinitely. The thalamus controls the brain waves to bring them into proper balance. During this sense of unification, the selfish regions of the brain are greatly reduced in activity. The abusive, traumatic imprinting is being diminished. A new unselfish imprinting is being written and reinforced. The mind is coming to realize how to overcome reacting to the short-term conditioning stimuli of the past. Temptation is being overcome.
Reactive patterns

So, which are your reactive patterns? Do you fight, flee, freeze, become comatose, forget, panic, become otherwise ill, have seizures, convulse, have spasms, have a heart attack, or suffer a stroke. Do you become racked with shame, guilt, or pain upon being victimized or associating your past victimization or victimizing with current stimuli? Do you become fatigued or intimidated? Do you rationalize, obfuscate, accept, tolerate, even respect that which is hypocritical? Does your conscience work to bring you into the unselfish emotional state to do the right things to react properly?

Jesus overcame

If you will analyze Jesus's response, you will see that he neither fought nor fled. It was fight-or-flight versus the coping skill of the pacifist reaction of no fighting, fleeing, or resisting of evil on Jesus's terms, his timing, God's timing, per the prophecy. He showed the ability to overcome not only the symptoms but the very disease and to understand the true source.

Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour; but for this cause came I unto this hour. (John 12:27).
Anxiety for love

They [the wicked] are not in trouble as other men; neither are they plagued like other men. Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment. (Psalm 73:5-6).

Jesus was not prideful or violent.

How troubled was Jesus? He was troubled enough that he sweat blood from his forehead.

And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. (Luke 22:44).

If you rid yourself of anxiety by becoming indifferent or by joining in with those who abuse or are selfish, you have gone about things in the wrong way. Jesus dealt with his troubled soul from the exact opposite approach of indifference or abuse or selfishness. He loved.

It does not mean that Jesus did not shake the dust from his feet from where he was met with resistance to the peace. Shaking the dust from one's feet as a testimony is not the same thing as indifference. It is the recognition and acceptance of the divine plan for salvation and redemption. It is accepting the point of separation of the selfish from the unselfish. It is acknowledging the markers of the disease that will be wiped out by the immune system of God so to speak.
Anxiety is intended to be a warning mechanism concerning threats. It is a flesh-preservation mechanism. So, if it is built in, why aren't we supposed to take Jesus's anxiety as a sign that he should have heeded? There would be no anxiety where there were no threats. That's heaven. Anxiety arises, because of the perceived threats of this world. It becomes conditioned into us as a result of offenses over time. The offenses make this place more hellish.

Jesus worked to take away the sins of the world, to remove offenses, to save the world from hellishness, and to bring heavenliness to this level, enlightening it and raising it up therefore. He worked to show us that flesh life is not the end all and be all and that the flesh-preservation mechanism, which is rooted in all the lusts which cause all the problems, must be controlled and even overcome. Also, anxiety warns about threats to our souls. What drags down the flesh drags down the soul also. If the flesh dies in sin, so too does the soul. Hence, we are to welcome the anxiety of the conscience. This is why we experience shame and guilt. They are to warn us away from repeating the mistakes that damage or destroy our very souls.

Don't take your cues from the flesh but the spirit of unselfishness

Sometimes though, anxiety over threats to the flesh works to the detriment of what will actually save our souls. That anxiety is the anxiety that must be corrected and overcome. That anxiety is the anxiety Jesus overcame about going to the cross. It showed his soul worthy. In other words, all anxiety over threats to the flesh ought not to be taken as inherently correct just because they appear on first examination to be instinctual. If you save your life by letting others lose their souls when your faith in God could have shown them the light, you will have lost your soul to save your temporal flesh life. "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it." (Matthew 16:25).

In viewing anxious reactions, we don't go back far enough in the chain of causation. We stop short of considering natural reactions (reactions not the result of conditioning and training at the hands of others). We don't take enough into account the impact of selfish training. Anxiety over pure flesh survival is placed above righteousness and, therefore, survival of the soul. The drive for survival of the flesh comes at the expense of the very thing that makes existence of the soul better and even perfect that is unselfishness. Therefore, as Jesus showed us, we are to overcome having our anxiety work at cross purposes to the ultimate detriment of our souls and consequently the souls of others with whom we interact and upon whom we rub off.

God has feelings: All yours and mine, everyone's

So one may ask, how can Jesus be God, as Jesus said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father" (John 14:9), and yet experience a troubled soul? By virtue of the results (fruits) of Jesus, one sees God more than merely reflected in Jesus. God is what God does (I am what I am, I will be what I will be), and Jesus did what God does. That is how Jesus showed God. Jesus was fully human; therefore, his soul could be troubled. He experienced human anxiety. He experienced it so that he could show us that it can be, and ought to be, overcome when it is selfishly about the flesh versus unselfishly about the souls of the willing. Also, he showed that God has feelings. God is not indifferent.

Anyone who does not then truly know these things, still has "neither heard his [God's] voice at any time, nor seen his [God's] shape." (John 5:37). "Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father." (John 6:46). Therefore, once you know that Jesus did as our Father and, therefore, that you see that he was of God, you too have seen our Father and are, therefore, also of God. You also then do as our Father, else you still do not see. Do you see that? It is so simple; yet, it implies everything that matters. It leads to perfect peace. God is the panacea: The cure-all.

The current state of affairs in the world is stressful. It promotes both depression and anxiety. The opposite of depression is ascendancy. The opposite of anxiety is fearlessness, patience, and confidence in God.

How may one be rightly enthusiastic and calm in the face of so much evil without also lacking compassion? This is asking how one may be Christlike. Total confidence in the integrity of God is the answer. Love of God is the answer. Jesus experienced stress, but he overcame doubt.

And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying,
O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt. (Matthew 26:39).

He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done. (Matthew 26:42).

He acted in full faith without testing or need of signs. He did that for us. We had to be given the message, and he knew it. He knew the message came from God for the sake of the people, to teach us, to show us the way out of the hell of our own making.

With persecutions, continued

Every time we drink from the communal cup, we are to remember that the cup is the baptism Jesus underwent. "Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized." (Mark 10:39).

We are to remember that he told us to likewise take up our crosses. "Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." (Mark 8:34). We too are to stand in the gap for the land, as Jesus did.

And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them? I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth? (Luke 18:7-9).

The reading of this must be done with the utmost care. This passage is used as an excuse by the hardhearted, the violent, to kill people. Justice is finally understood. We are judged by our hypocritical standards. The real elect don't cry for vengeance or revenge in the mundane sense. The real cry for salvation and deliverance from evil for the innocent, the righteous, the repentant, the lost of the fold. They pray that all be found. The day of the Lord is darkness. "Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darkness, and not light." (Amos 5:18).

Those who cry out for blood in anger are felt by God, but will they themselves measure up to their own standards? Where is the faith in God among people calling for God to take men's lives? "For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." (Luke 9:56).

Nurturing begins long before conception: Generations

Behavioral patterns, anxieties, are ingrained before people conceive and have children. Children are born into a world full of the negativity that is selfishness putting stress upon everything. It has continued to the date of this writing to ravage all of humanity. Environmental pollution and all the other manifestations of selfish abuses work disease upon people before they ever conceive. Selfishness affects the health of spermatozoa and eggs before conception. It affects the health of wombs and the entirety that is the environment into which offspring are introduced. If the selfishness continues, the negative affects will continue to be passed on. Through this knowledge and awareness, it is correct to say that nurturing begins before conception. It is correct to say that nurturing of one's grandchildren begins before the conception of one's children. This is mundane knowledge. It is common sense. Putting that knowledge into practice across the board though requires a soft heart. Softness adequate to the task comes through divine awareness. Anyone ultimately denying that divinity will never be up to the task.

Acts of God

Some will say that life is an endless series of stressful events and that some such events are not brought on by human actions but are rather acts of God independent of human actions. This one-sided view leaves the wrong understanding. It suggests that even if humanity in total were to be righteous at all times, we would still suffer what we call now natural disasters. The Christian belief, the truth, is that the stressors referred to as acts of God are truly the consequences of human selfishness. What humans call acts of God are reflections of human selfishness. Christianity holds that if humanity were completely unselfish, there would be not only no disasters or stressors of evil but there would be only blessings, the blessings of righteousness. That is the state of heaven.

End times

Real Christianity holds that God can end all of what are now called natural disasters and will yet do so. If the whole of humanity doesn't turn, many will suffer the next great tribulation. It won't turn. The remnant of humanity, the meek, will live an age leading up to the final push of evil. Evil then will be vanquish completely from the earth as a direct result of the climax that was Jesus's exemplary life upon which all souls in heaven and earth will, thereafter, be modeled in earnest. Then disasters will be taken away forever. The earth will have been healed, made anew conflated with heaven. This does not mean that the earth will last forever in its present state. It means that even the so-called cataclysmic end of the earth as perceived mundanely will not be a fatal disaster for the souls of the remnant. Earth will be in a different context.

No human being knows everything about it, just as Jesus didn't know the hour of the temple's destruction before it happened. It is as clear and yet as vague as it is. One grasps what one is given to grasp. The doings of it all are beyond our comprehension, because the full perspective of God is seen through God's full eyes. Yet, we share all with God proportionate to our worthiness. That is why Jesus shares all now with God in heaven. However, much of humanity at this juncture is manifold arrogance. It doesn't share in much, and that is its own failure.
We know Jesus believed, and God healed people. We don't know how God effectuated it except that God willed it so and it was carried out instantly and completely. God has total power over all. The only way such things can happen is just as God was vis-à-vis Jesus. God responded to Jesus, because Jesus proved perfectly suited. We must grow into it in the humility of little children. For that is what we are relative to God.

Don't hold out for signs

Am I claiming to have been healed of everything with this view? I have seen changes or transformations in my body that can only be attributed to this healing process. It does not mean that I am without afflictions. I will tell you though that I took for years a full dosage of pain relievers that I don't use at all anymore. Stopping the perceived need for those pain relievers and the timing of the end of that pain without those pain relievers coincided exactly with the beginning of the unfolding of the revelation concerning all of what we have touched upon in this work. It does not mean that God does not also work through what many consider to be the mundane. The Holy Spirit can move one toward what is considered mundane help for smaller rewards not the result of one's seeking recompense. Everything is telling me that the healing process will, in God's due time, go all the way. The only limitation upon healing is belief. That belief is the entirety of the condition of one's heart manifested in word and deed. God wants deeds now. This is not to dissuade anyone from believing that he or she may be healed completely and instantly.
In fact, I am certain that that is possible. I am speaking about myself when I say that God wants deeds now. That also applies to others. God has done for them. Until they do more of what they ought, they will not be granted what people would consider miraculous healing on the level of what happened at Jesus's certainty in his relationship with God. It is right that deeds should come first for most, because it is the way for people to learn truth. Healing and righteous behavior come together where healing is not primarily for a sign. We are not to hold out for such signs. We are to go forward in righteousness based upon what we have already been told and shown. The existence of that requirement is for the sake of separating out the worthy from the unworthy, the wheat from the chaff, the sheep from the goats. Those who go forward based upon the truth told via the Gospels and without having to experience firsthand the level of signs recorded in the Gospels are those who are more conducive now to heaven. Signs though will come when God pours out his spirit upon all flesh.

Elsewhere in this work, we've discussed affliction in conjunction with signs, worthiness, and never giving up. If we seek first righteousness and bring forth, whatever we merit will be given in due time. Affliction is no sign precluding anyone from beginning to bring forth. The suffering of Jesus was after all affliction. Persevering through suffering is required. Therefore, do not wait to be perfect before starting on the journey to perfection. Jesus was made strait before his baptism that was his crucifixion and his death that ended with his resurrection and was followed by his ascension. If you wait until you are perfectly righteous before you begin being righteous, you will wait forever.

Do and teach at your appointed time

This of course also speaks against waiting to teach. The Apostles and other disciples did not wait to begin teaching and exemplifying. In fact, Jesus instructs us to begin spreading the word right away. That's teaching.

> Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. (Matthew 5:19).

Jesus did not say wait. He did not say unless you are not yet perfect. The implication is that perfection will never come to one who does not both do and teach. Jesus did not say unless your nuclear genetic familial relationships do not meet the requirements in 1 Timothy 3. Jesus said forsake the close genetic family for the sake of the spiritual family. What prevents one from beginning? It is selfishness. Among many reasons, it is fear of failure. It is fear of ridicule. It is also fear of success, because then much will be required of one.

> For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more. (Luke 12:48).

It is the desire to have the easy, fleshly life. It is to rationalize away the work. It is caving into the temptation of the satanic spirit.

And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? (Matthew 21:23).

We are not supposed to be speaking to each other as the chief priests and elders spoke to Jesus. The authority comes from the Holy Spirit and none other.

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Matthew 28:19).

Now, Jesus spoke the words of the Gospel to those he sent out. We too have the Gospel message. We too have the truth to the extent God gives it to us and we receive it, just as those disciples then.

How long did Jesus spend teaching those disciples before he sent them out to do and teach? It was not decades. For some, it was very short. They got it quickly. How long do we need to be moved by the spirit?
Diplomas?

Did Jesus hand out diplomas? Did he carry his résumé? Did he send out his disciples with letters of introduction? Did he reject anyone who followed him? What is required?

But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (John 14:26).

God will save you by given you the Holy Spirit. You will do and teach accordingly.

Jesus obviously had magnified belief that was necessarily completely rounded. He had no gaps. The words and deeds of his ministry were wholly consistent and all on the divine level. His certainty in God was absolute. Yet, Jesus insists that we too can get there. He encourages us. Just because we have afflictions, there is no reason to disbelieve him or not to continue heading in that direction toward his voice. He said we would suffer persecutions. He said that there are people with afflictions that were not due to their having sinned or their parent's having sinned. He said if we turn to him we will be healed. He also said we need to be patient. All these things must be taken into account at the same time. Don't beat yourself up over the afflictions you suffer. Jesus said not to allow offenses to turn us away. Don't give up on righteousness. Don't give in to sin.
For righteousness' sake

This healing is not an incentive to continue doing the work of God accept that being healed as a result of doing that work means that one has done righteousness. Will you suffer for righteousness' sake? That's what really matters. It is just that being healed and doing righteousness go together. It makes perfect sense. The kind of healing that Jesus did was a sign, and rightly so. It was real, but we aren't to hold out against righteous deeds a need for such instant-miracle signs. We aren't to be an evil generation needing signs to be convinced to believe and do only good works. That generation is dead. We have them as the historical example of how not to be. Their faith had been lost. Jesus came to restore the lost to belief. He wanted it to be understood as inseparable from good works. It is.

Altruism and Lincoln's error

Now, there are those who will say that, nevertheless, no one ever did anything that was truly unselfish, including Jesus. They will say this to deflate the spirit of unselfishness. They will say this to try to put selfishness back in the driver's seat. Of course, it has long been known that altruism results in a pleasure reward. Abraham Lincoln was riding in a carriage with his secretary of state, William Seward, who was debating against Lincoln on the side of altruism. Reports differ, but one holds that Lincoln got out to help a stuck pig. When he got back into the carriage, William Seward said that he, Lincoln, had just done an altruistic thing.
Lincoln said, "On the contrary. If I had ignored the pig, I would have suffered the rest of my life hearing him in my dreams."

Now, this observation of Lincoln's was correct for him; however, it does not answer the truth of the first altruistic act of a person done before any cognizance of reward or bothered conscience is felt or imprinted in the brain. Before such imprinting, it is pure love. After such imprinting, so long as it is not for the reward, including the reward of an unbothered conscience, it remains pure love. If it is not done for the sake of receiving recompense, it is still pure love. That is the position of Jesus, and Jesus is right. Jesus is greater than Lincoln.

Epilepsy

As mentioned, the brain is impacted by anxiety-provoking events and memories and Jesus felt anxiety also, being human. Also as mentioned, Epilepsy is associated with hippocampus damage. Now there are scientists who are suggesting that those with temporal lobe epilepsy are more likely to have religious visions and that, therefore, belief in God is a form of brain disorder. What narrow thinking! Epilepsy can result in different mental states ranging from seeing God and having a great sense of connectedness with all of creation through God to being a sociopath which is the opposite. One cannot use Epilepsy to explain away righteousness. Besides, those epileptics who have truly Christian religious visions and a deep sense of connectedness with God are closer to what it would take for them to be transformed out of the condition where they suffer epileptic seizures than the scientists and medical doctors realize. Their faith can cure them without losing their faith. It will happen for all to see.

We are chemical beings on the flesh level

Of course, we are chemical beings. Of course, evolution will select for righteousness and consequently our large frontal and temporal lobes where unselfishness and visions of God occur. It’s in the design of God. Of course there are afflictions that are involved in the manifestation of visions, etc. However, that is not all there is to it. Therein lies the shortcoming of those only of science. God transcends both chemical and evolutionary explanations. God created both and supports both together and more as has been explained earlier in this work.

It must be said that most people who come to have devote belief are extremely sensitive types by nature. They are deeply compassionate people. Being by nature highly sensitive, many have been subjected to greater degrees of trauma. Their sensibilities were more greatly shocked being more shockable often at a tender, ill-equipped age, being predisposed to shock but not yet aware of the power of the spirit to overcome. Their brains developed thereafter consistent with the pattern imprinted.

Just because people who are suffering most or who have suffered at the hands of selfishness happen to have, or come to have, the strong conviction about the evil that is selfishness (the antichrist mentality) is no evidence that such belief is a disorder, quite the contrary. They are living proof of the evil that was inflicted and the need to stop all such selfishness. Belief in God is the exact opposite of brain disorder. Lack of belief is the disease of selfishness that plagues the planet and has caused every last problem we face.

Sociopathy

Look at the sociopath. His brain is most active in the selfish regions and least active in the unselfish regions. There is a direct association between selfishness and sociopathy. The direction leading one into temptation and caving into selfish desires is the direction toward sociopathy. There is no association between unselfishness, the belief in God, and a diseased brain. Selfishness is closer to sociopathy than is unselfishness, plain and simple. Unselfishness leads in the exact opposite direction away from all the maladaptive qualities of sociopathy that is the lack of a functioning conscience, sensitivity, compassion, mercy, and a lack of all the qualities Jesus demonstrated in such great abundance and clarity. Jesus even showed that the severely mentally hurt and damaged could be transformed immediately.

How to change

If one is a sociopath, one can still change. One can become righteous. Learn to activate the frontal and temporal regions of your brain. Exercise them. It is as muscle. Remove the control of your behavior from the selfish regions of your brain. Change your heart and your brain tissue will be manifested accordingly. It happens simultaneously. Practice considerateness and thoughtfulness. Feel how people feel better when others show they care. This is not about building ego. It is about building mercy. You are what you do. You will become what you practice. That is a gift of God's grace. It is God's generosity and mercy.

Gaining faith

If you want more faith, do it. Do more things in faith, and your faith will increase. Jesus said so. Help others help yet even others to do this. It is the narrow way.

Sociopaths have a great sense of entitlement and superiority. It takes a great deal to move them emotionally, and they do not experience feelings of compassion. They are predators who find their prey to dish out murder, great torture, and all manner of abuse in order to feel just slightly. They believe that other people are theirs to do with as they please. How far from pacifism is this? Their consciences are broken but can be fixed.

Sad is the fact that even after being made aware of their disease and what they can do about it, there are those who refuse to see it. Even with the perfect proof of righteousness, they refuse and reject. It will take a great deal to move them. That is why hell can have so much fury. There are those who don't feel or make the connection between their negative actions and hellish outcomes unless and until things are so extreme so as to be beyond the most unrestrained nightmares of the less numb. How bad does it have to get before the most selfish people, who feel with the backs of their brains, come to feel that selfishness is not the right way? We can only pray that they turn early, quickly, and completely for their sakes and the sakes of their victims.

There are other people who share much of the same requirement for stimulation but rather then being slightly moved emotionally, they feel great stimulation. Their brains have been damaged just as have the brains of the sociopaths but in a different way. They aren't numb to their own feelings. The feelings of these others can range through all the wrong feelings from the most sadistic to the most masochistic. The lusts are more easily stimulated but no less addicting.

The result with all the people who feed into their lusts is all negative whether they feel little or great stimulation. The individuals and groups directly targeted by predators diseased with selfishness suffer greatly, and the whole that is humanity also suffers as a consequence.

Warriors

This is where the warriors come from. They build their broken egos at the expense of others. "What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor?" (Isaiah 3:15).

Now the conservatives, and especially the new breed known as neoconservatives, share much in common with this general direction of predatoriness. They have a sense of special entitlement. They believe that they have what they have because they think they did the right thing by going out and taking it. They believe that having done so and continuing to do so is a demonstration of their superiority. They believe that other people are theirs to do with as they please. Hence, we had, and still have, slavery in this world.

Sociopathic denominations

Many of the huge, highly organized, wealthy denominations share in this mentality of the predator. For instance, some rail against what they call the feminization of America. They say real men don't do this or they do that. Real men don't cry or eat quiche. The truth is that real men don't worry about what others think about them concerning such things. Real men definitely cry and some eat quiche. What kind of minds come up with such arbitrary standards? Real men go in for war, they imagine. They think that the bombing and invasion of Baghdad was as a sports event better than a Super Bowl (top American professional football game). This mentality is not far off and sometimes right on that of the sociopath. How can these same people claim to be Christians? What is the new commandment other than the ultimate call for sensitivity? What do those self-styled Christians think Jesus was, a weak and ineffective coward? Jesus was the harmony of sensitivity and strength. That's real virtue. It is over such issues that the current huge, highly organized, wealthy denominations are separated from the real Church.
The Bible Belt: Duped but correctable

You will notice that there is a great generalized confusion in what is called the Deep South in the United States concerning Christianity that is tied directly to this entire diseased condition. The South made up the slave states, yet they have been called the Bible Belt. They were traditionally, and still are, the most conservative states. They are the most militaristic states. They are the most punishment-oriented states. Many of their backrooms are loaded with depravity masked over on the surface by a façade of cordiality. Of all the states, they stress flesh-and-blood relationships (over spiritual-family relationships), genetic-family honor and pride, genetic-family values, nationalism, patriotism, racial and ethnic superiority, and violence and coercion to get their way.

Flags

Many of them still fly the Confederate battle flag, which is the symbol of the antichrist causes of slavery and racism, on a par with Nazism. The Nazi flag has every bit as much business being flown in the same pride, haughtiness, and arrogance. Of course, the American flag doesn't symbolize the freedom and liberty it purports either. It symbolizes the immoral history of the United States right into the Iraq War.

Every aspect of those traditions is headed in the exact opposite direction of the message of Jesus. They have co-opted Christianity turning it into a tool for their own ends. This certainly points out the greatest degree of blatant hypocrisy.

---

However, there is great hope, because they are the most likely to consult their bibles directly to check the reading or interpretation. Many will listen to the voices of those who say don't do that and that it is a trick, but many will check for themselves and come to see the truth and be saved even though persecuted by the naysayers.

Of course, we are not saying that everyone in the US South shares in this general pattern of human tradition. Neither are we saying that people in other states do not share in this pattern. There are plenty of people in the former Confederate States of America who are disinclined to hold to any of these militaristic traditions just as there are plenty of people outside those states who do hold to them with a passion and vengeance.

The point is that these people, for one cause or another, are and have been emphasizing the wrong emotions. The wrong parts of their brains are allowed to dominate. Everyone must start feeling with the front portion of his or her brain. It is that part of the human being that makes us most human. If we use it rather than allowing the baser brain to dominate our capabilities, we will rise out of the pit. It is chemistry, but it goes beyond that.

We must stop emphasizing certain Old Testament values. An eye for and eye is wrong. To the victor belongs the spoils is wrong. War is wrong. "He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes." (Proverbs 13:24). That verse needs to be highly qualified, or it can be used to justify pure cruelty becoming totally counter-productive. There are so many lower form values in the Old Testament it would fill a book just to elaborate upon them slightly. Instead, we must emphasize the New Testament enhancement.

But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. (Matthew 18:6).

Now, Jesus's description of the punishment for offending one of the little ones who believes in him is worse than being beaten with a physical rod by one's temporal father; however, Jesus didn't take up the sword. He verbally chastised the unrighteous and shook the dust from his feet concerning all who would not heed the word. There's the higher standard. There has to be a way of applying it to raising one's children in righteousness. We have been taught to be too swift with violence and not wise enough with emotions and corresponding words. That must change.

Old Testament understanding: Not enough

If certain Old Testament values were good enough, there would have been no New Testament. An eye for an eye would be good enough. Stoning people to death would be good enough. War would be good enough. Mundane, bloodline nationalism would be good enough. Birth-order inheritance would be good enough.
Bloodline inheritance would be good enough. Gender-based inheritance would be good enough. The list goes on and on. Not only are they not good enough, they are not good at all. Solomon is credited with having written, among other things, Proverbs. Jesus was greater than Solomon. Jesus was the real liberal. Solomon was not. Solomon taught beating one's son. He fell into huge acquisitiveness, idolatry, and vast sexual addiction. His kingdom collapsed. Jesus taught speaking the truth and leaving the punishment of damnation to that truth. Jesus overcame all temptation. His kingdom shall stand forever. Does this mean that Solomon's proverbs were and are worthless? Is this a condemnation of Solomon? Neither. Solomon's Proverbs are as righteous as one may gather in light of the greater message of Jesus. Solomon was not the one. Also, as we have said time and time again, we neither judge nor condemn anyone. The truth will decide.

It means that beating a child is not the right way to raise a child. It isn't necessary. In fact, it is counterproductive. The older male elephants don't teach the rogues by continually running into them with their larger tusks. They know that that would only turn the young ones into mean adults. They teach by example. Are humans not as able as elephants? The rod need only be corrective words. Once enough people are using only that method in lovingkindness, a generation will be raised up not in the hard-edged lusting culture that is the culture of today. We will have broken the continuity of evil selfishness.
Without those who tempt the children, the children would never be mistaken as being in need of physical punishment. The spirit of temptation is not broken with violence. The appeal must be on a higher level than that. Slipping into violence is going into darkness. It is falling.

Scientists: Many conscienceless

The scientists have a hand in the perpetuation of that falling. The scientists who try to make out that Jesus was mentally diseased are headed in the exact wrong direction. They try to make selfishness a good thing for their own satisfaction and justification. It will prove completely wrong even to science in the not too distant future. Mark my words. Yet they tell their children not to be selfish. It is hypocrisy.

It is the mentality of the selfish scientists who work for top-secret military and espionage organizations for purposes of developing mind-control weapons. They are brainwashed themselves by their desire to make personal financial gain and to vindicate their selfishness, so they do a stealthy job trying to undermine the salvation of the planet.

After all, if people believe in God and do what God wants, the rich and powerful who are raping the planet won't be able to continue. They won't have the foot soldiers or laborers to do the dirty work. This is good versus evil. Those who call God a virus are themselves in league with the polluters of mind, body, and soul. They pollute humanity and the planet. The earth will be saved from the likes of those selfish takers who work to make things worse and not better.

Yes, all have been abused. Temptation and sin visit every soul on earth. We either selfishly continue the pattern or the abuse stops with us. We either realize that we did not deserve the sins against us in our innocents or we feel shame and anxiety forever at the possible exposure of the offenses. We either realize or we fear exposure of the cascade of our own offenses against others that were as self-inflicted punishment thinking we deserved the initial visitation of evil. We either admit to the need for universal repentance and forgiveness and that all have suffered and caused suffering, or those who are unwilling will suffer further consequences of their own making and further innocence will be lost rather than protected.

Human cause and effect

We humans made our past by what we did. We made our present the same way. We have made the future and will still be making the future by our current choices and our choices to come.

Let us turn together. Let us all sow good seeds now so all may reap only righteousness later. Let us all become the fertile soil so that the seeds of righteousness will take deep and eternal root in us. The future will be an eternal blessing for those who do. It is promised.

And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself. And he said, Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat? (Genesis 3:10-11).

Human kind became fearful of exposure. We don't like feelings of shame. We lose face. We don't want to face others, because we are ashamed of ourselves. This can be due to our falling to temptation and being embarrassed and it can be due to being abused and confused in terms of whether or not we deserved it. Both ways, we experience the emotions of shame and embarrassment.

Regaining face

Of course, due to their predisposition and their individual and community upbringing or lack thereof, not all people react in these ways. For those who do feel such emotions, the pattern of reaction can be deeply engrained. It becomes difficult to regain face that is to no longer be ashamed to the extent that we lack the confidence to face others. This is one of the places where the community of fellow true believers comes into play. Those who wish to be forgiven don't make it difficult for others who are, and have been, ashamed of themselves and also wish to repent and be forgiven. They raise them up rather than glare them down. They support them emotionally against those who would try to hold them down by re-stimulating feelings of shame.

Understand that these feelings are good when they can be channeled into repentance and action. They are the feelings of sensitivity that is required to love enough in the right way for salvation for the many. They are the makings of compassionate feelings. They must be turned to understanding that others go through the same feelings. They must be turned to compelling us all to see them in terms of the new commandment. These emotions are the roots of the conscience. If they have been misdirected into selfish hiding to avoid the feelings, then they need to be redirected to implementing the solution to what caused the feelings in the first place. That’s what feeding the lambs and sheep can do for all. Selfishness caused the shame and guilt. Unselfishness is the solution to ending the entire cycle of sin. It is the path to restoration and beyond.

Adam represents individual human kind. Individuals realize transgressions against God’s natural law of unselfishness and the integral aspect of anti-depravity within that all encompassing law of unselfishness. Adam (the prototypical person) developed a conscience that shamed him that human kind has struggled with ever since.

The serpent on the other hand does not have that conscience. He has rationalized it away. He has buried it under his pathology deep within the recesses of his mind so he may, he imagines, escape it. He carries his unrepentance with him leaving him susceptible to temptation and sin and leading others into error in feelings, thoughts, words, and deeds.

If I covered my transgressions as Adam, by hiding mine iniquity in my bosom: Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of... families terrify me, that I kept silence, and went not out of the door? (Job 31:33-34).

Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD. (Jeremiah 3:13).

And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers. (Nehemiah 9:2).

O LORD, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us. (Daniel 9:16).

Our fathers have sinned, and are not; and we have borne their iniquities. (Lamentations 5:7).

Thou shewest lovingkindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the Great, the Mighty God, the LORD of hosts, is his name. (Jeremiah 32:18).
Blameworthiness

One says we all must repent. Others say they have done nothing and are not sinners and have no evil in them. They tell the one calling for universal repentance to stop blaming others for his or her mistakes. However, each was once an innocent child born into this world currently full of temptation and sin. Each such child undergoes a first-time experience of being tempted or offended and led by a sinner or sinners to sin. Blame the serpent. Blame the liar from the beginning. Each person old enough to be reading this has already been through that temptation and that falling and that offense. Those thus led (we all) who are told clearly and plainly the evil of it all and then do not finally overcome the further temptation remain worthy of blame. How can it be otherwise? They lead others astray in one way or another. This blameworthy condition shouts out for the need for universal repentance and an end to all selfish denial and any further recriminations. Blameworthiness shouts out for the need to do the universal deeds of repentance.

Selfish denial keeps the one who is denying from atoning. It keeps him or her in a weakened condition more susceptible to caving in, in the future, more likely to bow down to worship the false one. It keeps him or her from being of the heart that is unselfish enough, loving enough, to overcome fear of shame for the sake of the healing of others and the salvation of the world.
Resurrection of the just

Do not end up in the bottomless pit during the thousand-year reign. Do not end up in the lake of fire forever that comes after a little season after the thousand years. That lake of fire is the second death that has no part in the first resurrection that comes before the thousand-year reign. It has no part in the resurrection of the just with their names written in the Book of Life. They are judged among the just because of their good works in the here and now. The lake of fire does have part in those of the second resurrection who do not have their names written in the Book of Life. They are judged among the unworthy and unjust, because of their selfish works in the here and now.

Now, don't be confused by the fact that there were saints resurrected before what is called the first resurrection.

    And the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints which slept arose, And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many. (Matthew 27:52-53).

Jesus brought people back to life and Jesus was brought back to life to show us God's power so we might believe all the resurrections and all of the prophecy and the message of salvation that is keeping the full spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it that means being in the spirit of oneness in service and friendship (unselfish love in action). Believe and do.

You cannot blame others for your mistakes: Says the serpent

Concerning the selfish works that see the unrepentant falling into the bottomless pit and being cast into the lake of fire to be burned up never to return to torment the just (the permanently repentant), again, many people say, "You cannot blame others for your mistakes."

That statement can be incomplete and misdirecting. One who points out what ought to be rebuked and what led one astray is doing the right thing if it is not in the spirit of vengeance but rather for the sake of diminishing the future facilitation of evil and to promote honesty and healing and the rest of the good. Those who share in blame are obfuscating when they point to platitudes that are not in that full context. They toss out the platitudes as thought-terminating statements. There is a context in which one is wrong to blame others for one's mistakes. The platitude does not negate the sin of the tempter or temptress of the wholly innocent or the fallen. Adam could not lay all blame upon the serpent, because Adam had been warned. However, the serpent was not, thereby, guilt free. Had Adam not known, had not been warned, all blame would be the serpents. Even still, had the serpent not tempted Adam and Eve, neither would have fallen. The serpent had the greater and first sin.

We are all blameworthy for leading others astray and for not leading them into the light of faith and good works by our own words and deeds.
That's the truth. We must make ourselves as blame free as we are given to know how. We must keep learning how to be evermore blameless.

Evil stream

The expression "You cannot blame others for your mistakes" must never be used in a way that covers over the tempter's sin. We must all overcome temptation, but we must all stop tempting others. It is falling to temptation to fall to tempting others. Evil spreads as the contaminant that it is. It spreads from tempter to tempted who fall and then become tempters. We must not lose sight of this. The wicked want us to lose sight of this. They want no blame coming back upon them. They want no one grasping that they are the source or part of the evil stream. They don't want that evil stream to be dried up for lack of converts or prey to trip up, to cause to fall, to join them in selfishness.

To deny this is to facilitate the perpetuation of evil. Confess to our God your hand in the chain of evil.

Do not shrink or lash out

Even knowing that the tempter or temptress is blameworthy and no matter how evil the actions of others may seem, we are not to turn to selfish acts in reaction. Doing that dims the light. We must not shrink inwardly, and we must not lash out vengefully.

It was the Roman Empire that felled the people by the edge of the sword, led the people away captive into all nations, and that trodden down Jerusalem. It was vengeance but not by Jesus Christ. It was wrath, but not wrath from the one who called upon God to forgive them for they knew not what they were doing when they crucified Jesus. God allowed the Romans to do it, however. The spirit of Satan was unleashed via the Roman legions. It was the cutting away and burning up of those who did not bring forth the good fruit. It will happen again and again, but there will be an end. "For the things concerning me have an end." (Luke 22:37).

There comes a point when one must understand and adhere that one may not excuse one's or anyone else's wrath even if one suffered long tormenting treatment at the hands of extremely self-centered, heartless, sadistic, gloating, fiendish persons full of lying invectives who love the demonic spirit dead of the truth. Jesus showed us how much torment one must withstand without becoming wrathful. He did not fall to the temptation to become wrathful. He did not lead any astray into wrath. He was persecuted, whipped, and crucified to death though innocent, and still did not lash out even though he could have called down the wrath. Even now, he still does not accuse though the prophecy of separation must occur for righteousness' sake. The truth is the measuring rod. He spoke the truth. He was and is the truth. He need not accuse.

Unfortunately, the current huge, wealthy denominations do not teach this. They give place in a condoning sense to human wrath upon humans. That of course is contrary to the teachings of Jesus. Jesus counseled against all human wrathfulness. He made no exceptions for anyone. He made it clear that human wrath is an offense. There is divine retribution for sin, but humans are not to attempt to mete it out. Were humans supposed to mete it out, Jesus would have shown us that. He would have called people to arms or he would have told his disciples to call down a rain of fire or he would have called down the heavenly host of angels. He showed us the opposite. Divine retribution for sin is to experience sin. Wrath is sin. It is evil. The unrepentant sinners shall experience the wrath. God has set it up that way. It is the way of things. Human wrath invariably gets it wrong. Human wrath kills the innocent with the guilty. That is why the human wrathful will themselves experience woe. There is only one way out: No human wrath.

When the critical mass of those seeking universal repentance with enough conviction is reached and they are praying for deliverance from evil and are themselves not wrathful, etc., then the shameless, mulish, tormentors will be separated away to a place where they cannot torment the innocent and those who were penitent and became permanently reconciled with God by bringing forth fruits worthy of repentance.

Denial, obfuscation, and heaping recriminating thoughts and statements upon those calling for this universal repentance and an end to human wrath on fellow humans are furtherance of sin themselves, serving not to end evil but leaving evil loose, machinating about looking to further victimize.
If we all repent, the world will be inhospitable to temptation and evil. If we love enough, we will stop fearing for our own exposure. We will overcome the selfish manifestation of shame and will rather all repent as we ought. We will not hide our faces from the bold faced in high places.

Unfortunately, many of those calling themselves Christians are the strongest holdouts against this revealed truth. They have convinced themselves that they cannot be the sinners even though they ask to be forgiven for their trespasses. They fear the shame of introspection. They will not search their souls. They believe that mouthing the words in church buildings is sparing them. It isn't.

Usurpation that is Marxism

They don't go out the doors to work feeding the lambs and sheep via all things in common. They rather call those calling for such deeds such things as Marxists and other distortions. They call the godly, those closer to the kingdom, Communists as in the atheistic (Godless) political party. These self-styled Christians practice the greatest obfuscation. They re-crucify Jesus every time with such distortions. True Christians are communistic in the sense that predates Marx. Do not let the conservatives use the usurpation that is Marxism to ruin holding all things in common as advocated by Jesus and his immediate Apostles.

The messengers must not let the attacks cause them to slip and give up. Every non-overcoming reaction is a selfish reaction, whether it is slipping into wrath, depression, anxiety, or any other reaction, and giving up, running away or fighting back. The mentality in any non-overcoming direction is rooted in the fleshly weakness and habit of self-centeredness. The overcoming reaction, however, comes out of the knowledge above about the vicious cycle of temptation and sin and how that cycle is perpetuated by selfish reactions (including denial of the very cycle itself or its importance). Remember, this doesn’t remove feeling and should not move one to become indifferent. It is rather a call to turn emotion to the proper cause.

Indifference is evil

Learning to become indifferent lessens compassion. It heads in the direction of cold-blooded torture and murder. It is not the solution. It is a band aid on a problem that will never heal. The soul is left still ill prepared for dealing with evil when it comes magnified to destroy. It is ill practiced at truly overcoming. It is practiced at masking.

Jesus shook the dust from his feet, but he felt for those who would experience the wrath and tribulation.

Learn to trust again: Be trustworthy

Being victimized, as everyone has been, especially since it is often by those whom we trusted to look out for us, is a disillusioning experience at the very least. Can one ever really trust again? Yes. We can learn to trust God. Unselfish thoughts and deeds heighten unselfish regions of the brain. Unselfish reactions look out for all. Number one is everyone. It is no paradox. It's God. Join and trust.

Therefore, persevere in the face of persecution. Overcome the temptation to fall into recriminations and bitterness. Do not let the unpeaceful steal your light to put it out. Separate yourself if need be. You will find souls you may trust and that will trust you.

Jesus did this. He overcame fear through confidence in God. He knew others would fall to their fears, but he didn't let that crush his own faith in our Father. He demonstrated it through the most dauntless action anyone ever undertook and carried out in the existence of human kind. Jesus ransomed the many from damnation through his being at one with God. How large is the ransom for every soul? We have a great deal of making amends to do. We follow Jesus's lead. It's the only way.

Scientists fail interpretation

As mentioned above, there are scientists who, through allusions to epilepsy, etc., try to make out that Jesus was mentally diseased. They are in denial of the findings of their own methods. The transformative power of unselfishness is born out by science, but mainstream scientists have yet to dare to interpret their own work properly in the light of the Gospel truth. They are afraid of making statements that will later be proved incorrect by virtue of a causality they did not foresee. It is wrong to wait. They can qualify the small things with disclaimers, but the big picture is real. The truth of it has always been there. They are just seeing it in front of them and yet disbelieving. It will hit the mainstream yet, through us.

Stop repeating the sins of the fathers

With this knowledge, each person may be free of the sins of the fathers. Jesus came to set us free from the downward spiral. He came to sever us from the evil chain by showing us how to stop the cause and effect of sin. He came to teach us how to live a life where we stand against sin and temptation and do not allow it to pass on through us to others. We transmit goodness and not evil temptations or deeds. Evil stops before us.

In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge. But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge. (Jeremiah 31:29-30).

The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin. (Deuteronomy 24:16).

The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezekiel 18:20).

Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Isaiah 3:10-11).

For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Matthew 16:27).

Who will render to every man according to his deeds: To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life: But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath, Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Romans 2:6-9).

The death is spiritual death.

To end the cycle of the sins of the fathers, you must first understand that you reap what you sow. Sow only that which we wish to reap. You must bring forth. You must cooperate. You must break the cycle of human-based traditional training handed down through the ages. That training is the perpetuation of the sins of the fathers. All the selfishness inherent within that training must be overcome and its teaching reversed. Don't let genetic family pride stand in the way. You are not judging and condemning the fathers any more than you wish to be judged and condemned. You are discerning the path to improvement. You are not asking for the condition of the souls of those fathers to be worsened. You are still maintaining that forgiveness, which is mercy, is the right path. You just aren't taking it into your own hands to decided when and where the great gulf is to be spanned. Remember the parable of the beggar Lazarus and the rich man where Abraham in heaven said the following to the rich man who was in hell:

Between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. (Luke 16:26).

Jesus came to end the curse of selfishness and all the curses handed down from fathers to sons. He came to end the inheritance of birth order and all the other traditions of men. Curses are all wrong. The Biblical curses came of dwelling incorrectly on flesh-and-blood, sibling-type rivalries and not on the spiritual family. It chiseled in granite perceived traits that were assumed unchangeable. This is not to say that DNA's role in temperament is nonexistent or that traits cannot be mundanely predictive even of whole nations of offspring. It is not to negate prophecy about whole nations. It is to say that there are stronger forces than genetics that can subject the flesh to changes wholly metamorphosing even from cursed to blessed.
It is the power of repentance with worthy words and deeds. Do not forget that Jesus went from full human being to, as he said, becoming as an angel of light, equal to the angels.

Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection. (Luke 20:36).

For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven. (Matthew 22:30).

Our faith effects the past and future

Genetic descent is subservient to spiritual enlightenment in importance in the eyes of God. Earthly fathers are most often shielded from honest appraisals by their offspring. Real honesty though appraises only for the sake of ending evil behavior in its time and for the future. It evaluates the past in a way that makes that past result in righteousness in the future and present. This is a part of retrocausality, which goes much further.

The power of God can change the past. God makes reality whatever God wants it to be.
There are infinite pasts and futures. People get what they deserve by virtue of what they choose to believe and the degree of faith they have in it.
This is highly contextual thinking.
Suffice it to say for now that mundane evaluations of the past result in mundane realities in the past and that affects the future going forward.

Genetic descent is subservient

Look at genetic descent in light of the following. Jesus was the Lord of David who was Jesus's direct ancestor. "The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool." (Psalm 110:1). In the transliterated Hebrew, sacred-names version, it would read, "Yahveh Elohim said unto my Adon [or Adonai]." This is interpreted by many, and understandably so, as meaning that El Elyon (the Almighty Most High) was speaking to the Lord of lords and master of David. David was the monarch of the Jewish nation. Yet David was referring to his Lord being addressed by the highest divinity and told to sit at the right hand (symbolic of favor) of the God of Melchizedek who blessed Abraham and who removed the wholly iniquitous cities of Sodom and Gomorrah.

False-Zionists ignore prophecy

Now who is that Lord of David in heaven who then also descends from David? It is the Christ, the Messiah. It is Jesus, the humble servant of God and his fellows, who fulfilled the prophecy, including that he would be rejected and cut off for a while. Most now who call themselves Jews ignore those parts of the prophecy.
Those parts don't serve the false-Zionists' ambitions. Those calling themselves Messianic Jews who accept that Jesus was the one spoken of in the scripture are much closer to the kingdom.

Everyone born of the spirit, no matter from what flesh-and-blood (genetic) background, is released through the power of real repentance. The question is who will have truly repented in the end before it becomes too late: Before they are marked for eternity as unworthy (untrustworthy). Neither does birth order have anything rightly to do with inheriting the kingdom on earth or in heaven. "And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all." (Mark 9:35). It does not mean just that those who assert themselves placing themselves higher in their minds than others for obvious selfish reasons will end up in hell serving everyone as the lowliest of the lowly. It does not mean that simply being desirous of second position is acceptable. It means that being close to God is willing to be last and willing to serve others as true friends ought and not for accolades, for show, the reward of admiration, or any other reason of vanity. Glorification is though the necessary aftereffect given by guileless others. It is in that spirit that Jesus is both first and last (Alpha and Omega in transliterated Greek and Aleph and Tav in transliterated Hebrew) and glorified. It is as we are all supposed to be.
Teach of the spiritual family

The huge, wealthy denominations do not teach this about genetics versus the family in spirit. They pretty much steer clear of the whole subject. They don't really emphasize that the New Testament is more illuminating than the Old. The New builds on the Old but turns up the light to eliminate dark corners in the Old. Both Old and New are necessary to comprehend the unfolding of the revelation. Most of the huge, wealthy denominations either completely ignore the Old Testament or emphasize it to the extent that they give the impression that none of the symbolic traditions contained in the Old have been laid bare in light of the teachings of the Messiah.

Self-examination: Soul searching

It is time.

And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. (Matthew 16:19).

This is the awesome responsibility of controlling the gates of heaven, being sure to teach and do always only in accordance with the spirit of the first and great commandment and the second like it, golden rule, and Jesus's new commandment, all of which are consistent one with the other and all of which requires one to do all the small commandments.
This cannot be done without knowing that the Old Testament is genetics and prophecy and the New Testament is spirit and prophecy. This does not mean that spirit and prophecy do not work through genetics. Of course they have. It is simply that the prophecy and the revelation are designed to shed the light that the end result is overcoming the flesh that in the mind or consciousness is seen as being genetics-bound. Jesus, who was genetically preordained, was ordained to overturn the limits of the flesh. It would appear to be ironic; however, upon closer examination, there is nothing ironic about it. He was identified genealogically to come to tell us that genetics is not the determinant but that rather the spirit determines. We must search our hearts to understand where what we have been doing and what we are continuing to do fit with this revelation.

Those calling themselves churches that do not understand the at-oneness of all members in the whole spirit that is God (that means each member is an individual part, child, of the divine) struggle with endless, deviant hair-splitting doctrines and dogma while all the work that proves the tree, all the results that constitutes the fruit, sits waiting for thousands of years to be done. Where's the fruit? Bring forth the fruit with patience and worthy of repentance, and be proved. Where is the elimination of starvation? Where is the spirit of giving and cooperation until all have enough and none has excess (all being first and last)? It has not happened, nor are the large religious organizations and their members dedicating all their assets to this task assigned to the followers of Jesus, those who hold the keys. They let the kingdom be overridden with hypocrisy.
Synagogue of Satan

Many are busy blessing the abomination of desolation: The spirit of warfare and all the rest of the evil. Are they then Jesus's church or the synagogue of Satan? Are they then God's religion? Are they then righteous? Can anyone claim that Christ's teaching is responsible for these failures to obey his commandments?

People will try to tear down what we build up as fast as we build it. You try to prepare the soil and plant the seeds and they will come and rip up your good work. Why? You want the earth to be more heavenly, and yet they are against you. They are on the other side working for what? If they don't want the world heavenly, they want it hellish. Why? They grant themselves license to hellishness that is selfishness even for a short while not caring about having to pay so much more later. They are spiritually blind.

Once they hear you and begin to understand the implications, they will insist that your motives are selfish even when they clearly are not. Even when you are being as thoughtful and considerate as possible, some will begrudge you the least acknowledgement, for to give you anything will be to accede to righteousness. It would be agreement. It would be an admission of mutual obligation. They would have to commit in their minds. They fight against that. They rail against that. They cannot admit that you are doing the right thing, because it would be an admission that they too ought to be that way. That would spoil their libertine path (sensualism, hedonism, animalism, materialism, pride, power, control, wealth, and militarism).

Scoffer at repentance

When we say universal repentance, some scoff. They chuckle and belittle. They claim no need for it. Many of these people, mind you, profess Jesus. Yet, they think it is beneath them and undignified to sit in sackcloth and ashes. Do we literally have to sit in sackcloth and ashes? Don't do it for show. Don't do it in vanity that is in conceit. People really have done it in true humility before God. It was to destroy pride. If you sit in sackcloth and ashes secretly within, God will see you and reward you openly. Then you will be better able to help others help yet others.

Scorners turn "prude" and "puritan" into pejoratives only

The scorners, including those who profess Jesus yet still scorn, will call our position prudish or puritanical. However, there is no arrogance or smugness in the revelation, and it is never for appearances sake.

Also, we are not saying that there is no place for pleasure or luxury. Jesus "was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow." You will notice that Jesus was asleep on a pillow and not on the bare wood of the ship. He was cushioned. What's wrong with that? There is nothing wrong with that. All God's children can benefit from cushioning. Why begrudge anyone a pillow or cushion to sleep or rest on? There is no reason.
We are saying that it is wrong for people to indulge themselves in excessive pleasure or luxury to the exclusion, or at the expense, of others who have less than they need. There are people who indulge themselves nonstop. All they think about is their next pleasure. They don't ever deny themselves. They don't, or rarely, stop to consider the needy. They don't care enough to do that. How will they escape damnation?

The good prude

In addition, the words "prude" and "Puritan" both underwent radical pejoration. The meaning of "prude" was twisted to the dark side. Initially, it was wholly virtuous. It still is, provided the term is used in its original sense. One is right to have qualms about behavior. Temptations to evil should make one's scruples come to the fore. We are to welcome, and be glad for, the sting of conscience if it is needed, for it is what will lead us out of temptation and deliver us from evil.

False puritans

As for Puritanism, we are not advocating a method of worship other than to do as Jesus said as related in the Gospels. Also, as has been made clear elsewhere in this work, we are not disciples of Calvin or offshoots of Calvinism. We understand that many calling themselves Puritans gave themselves a bad reputation. We understand that this reputation came due to the coercion that Huldrych Zwingli and John Calvin applied societally wide to enforce their doctrines.
We know that Calvin fell into the trap of mundane paradox applied to spiritual infinitude. He glommed onto certain conclusions without comprehending the hypocrisy in his doctrines, not seeing the infinite balance and harmonics of love necessitating pacifism as integral to the real narrow way. I covered some of the tenets of Calvin in this light earlier sufficiently for anyone to be able to discern his spiritual errors.

One can trace these errors to the condition of heart that allowed for the horrific persecutions of the Anabaptists (pacifists); the Puritan dictatorship of the English Commonwealth under Oliver Cromwell; and even the Salem witch trials in the American colony of Massachusetts in 1692; along with many other examples too numerous to mention here.

Zwingli

These observations are not to say that the Puritan tenet of the priesthood of all believers is incorrect. It is correct. It is not to say that God's covenant is not a two-way path as Zwingli put forth contrary to Martin Luther's doctrine. It is. Lip service and going through the motions of water baptism are not a covenantal seal. Change of heart that brings forth only fruits worthy of repentance that is unselfish fruit is the seal. The right doctrines of Zwingli though do not guarantee righteousness throughout Zwinglianism as his militancy shows clearly. The same is the case concerning all the traditional body of doctrines put forth by the theologians going back to the Apostles. This is a difficulty for many.
One perfect theology
To help, let me stress that there is only one theology that is perfectly right. That's Jesus's. You cannot exceed the master. You can only join him.

No coercive bishops
This kind of thinking leads one to understand then that having bishops and having democracy of the believers are not mutually exclusive positions. Having democracy is not a check on bishops. It is though a balance. We follow our chosen leaders. We follow Jesus. We vote for him. If someone chosen leads us astray or delegates to others who lead us astray, we then are free to choose not to follow. We cannot be rightly forced by humans to follow. It has to be an un-imposed decision of the heart based upon what God's way shows one and all. One becomes a complete and willing slave to divine righteousness in order to become absolutely free.

There was, and still is, a divine right of kings; however, there was and still is a divine obligation of kings. Jesus by rights was the king of kings because he was the servant of servants. Grasp that, and you will grasp the revelation and see.

Baptism, continued
This is the place where infant baptism and believer's baptism (water) and the baptism with fire may all conflate. "He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire." (Matthew 3:11).
The infant is baptized as in welcomed and to be nurtured but not as necessarily remaining worthy, since souls fall away in an insufficient environment. The initiate believer is baptized in water as one beginning to see the light. The real believer is baptized by God through the purgative process (fire) that is the continuation of seeing the light into infinity.

Lukewarmness

We are saying that the conservative denominations and the false liberal denominations have been lukewarm at best. They are content with the injustices of this world. They are uninspiring on account of it. Their lukewarmness turns people away from Christianity. It gives the wrong impression. It gives God and Jesus a bad image to the people.

It leaves the work undone. We are also saying that those denominations that seek to use coercion are spreading falsehood. They are spreading a message antithetical to the message of Jesus. We are saying that the lukewarm denominations often pursue worldly political solutions not knowing that that system is the old wineskin that cannot hold the new wine of freely giving and sharing all according to need and ability. That worldly system has built in coerciveness. It is inherently oppressive. It has always resorted to violence, from which Jesus told us to turn. They try, judge, sentence, condemn, and punish. It is Old Testament. It is not rehabilitating. Affliction remains due to this evil hold upon the world.

All have been or will be abused under that system. We need universal repentance to overcome. We must do the deeds to be healed and saved. We must not fight. We must not flee religious persecution. We must shake the dust from our feet. We must know for certain that the direction of the conservatives and false liberals is wrong.

Therefore, separate out the cause and movement of Christianity from the huge, highly organized, wealthy denominations calling themselves Christianity. For there should be no denominations with any wealth that is not shared across all its membership and with the goal of bringing the entire world to love, peace, and truth and the healing of the severely abused and scarred planet. In which case, it would eliminate all the divisions and hence all denominations for it alone would be the one, true, church of Jesus Christ, God our Father Almighty, and the Holy Spirit. That is the Real Church.
Chapter 24  Christianity: How to Organize Humanity

How humanity organizes has everything to do with Christianity.

Everything is organized or ordered. What people think of as the messiest is organized or ordered as such. Its organization is confused. It speaks confusion. It tells of the mind behind it. May one say it is disorganized and mean the same thing? Yes. However, the notion of chaos is mistaken when it is the connotation meaning that no intelligent mind can make sense of it. God can make sense of what humans call unintelligible or chaotic. God knows exactly what the mess says. God knows the mind behind it perfectly. Nothing is hidden. There is nothing without meaning from God’s perspective.

Lack of faith and worthy deeds along with not overcoming sins impedes human beings from becoming close to the kingdom in interpretive skills. Most humans fail to see the difference between the confusion behind an obsession for mundane perfection versus the order and peace behind the most rational intention that is divine. The divine is the real perfection. One may attempt outward appearances of law and order and yet have utter confusion and hostility behind it. That is the fruit of the Empire in its attempts to bring forth its "more perfect union." The ultimate fruits show whether a path is mundane or divine. The fruits of the Empire are not the fruits Jesus called for. The Empire is hostile. It has brought forth many wars.

Setting priorities

The organization that speaks to sanity has its priorities straight. This work is intended to correct the order of humanities priorities by putting the needy first. It is most righteous to do that. It is the most rational intention. It is the least confused. There is no hostility in it. It is the best foundation for organizing.

There is pattern in everything including the asymmetrical. There is no chance. There is no randomness. There is only lack of greater perspective. All things speak of their causes. All things speak in advance of their outcomes. God is consistent. There is only the insufficiency of the human mind to recognize or the human heart to feel.

"Chaos" used in terms of something being beyond formation or pattern recognition is akin to the human perception of the boundary between matter and the metaphysical. Where does one truly leave off and the other begin? Is God confined to traditional human definitions? No. Is God confined to the boundaries God sets for humans? No. Can the human mind comprehend nothingness on the plane of consciousness of the one who created both nothingness and existence? Is this some semantical trap? No. It is to say that our words fail us when we become mired down in that which is less than infinite.
Everything speaks

All things which exist are connected and yet separate at the same time. Everything speaks in the sense of imparting meaning to those who can discern. Lights, colors, sounds, smells, shapes, textures, numbers, words, timings, distances, emotions all speak. The language of God is infinite. We are infants. God is both out of time and space and in time and space in the way God desires.

God is not limited to obeying human physics. God can violate any law of physics humans ever come up with. It is just human arrogance to assume that humans have been privy to seeing even a whole drop in the ocean of existence. God can make anything still and the rest of existence to revolve around it. God can make things move in more than one direction at a time. God can make things be in more than one place at a time. God is everywhere God wants to be simultaneously. God holds all things at once and each thing separately and in all possible combinations as God sees fit to God's purpose. God is beyond dimension.

The ethics of God

In all of these things and more, God is consistently always just. Anyone who thinks God is unjust is just not thinking right. Is God though ethically bound? In the common way of thinking about such things, God always keeps God's promises. However, God allows for what humans believe is unethical but for ethical reasons. This is no paradox.
Nonstarter questions: Paradoxes

When someone asks whether God can make a rock so large he cannot move it, that someone is asking a nonstarter question. It is the same with all notions that have been paradoxical to the self-limiting human mind. Can God break God's promise? Could Jesus choose not to go to the cross? God has free choice. God though is also free of evil. God could, would never, hence cannot. This is not a paradoxical. This is the infinitude of the word or words. That's why God is perfect.

God is any office God chooses simultaneously. God may make a rock that God's lesser office finds immovable. Yet, this does not negate the oneness of God. It defines it. This is understood in Jesus's statement that he, Jesus, could do nothing without his Father. Through his Father, he could move anything. Don't get hung up upon seeming paradoxes.

There is more than one language being spoken here at the same time. One language is the mundanely limited language of the physics of the not too distant past. The other language is the transcendent. We say "not too distant past," because the theoretical physicists have bumped up against the metaphysical and transcendent already. They just aren't able to communicate it very well to the masses due to the lack of a shared-language base. Often they don't make wise choices of words to describe what they are dealing with.

God is beyond matter, time, space, and the rest of our limited comprehension. God is also within those things to the extent that none of them would exist or ever have existed or would continue without God's sustaining them. Also, no other entity shares in that power. God alone has it. Jesus could do nothing without our Father, but Jesus shares that power at the same time. Hence Jesus is fully God while he was a self-admitted limited human being in that he did not know everything that our Father knew. It is not paradoxical or illogical at all.

Did God create Satan?

God created everything. Satan exists. Therefore, God created Satan. However, Satan is the author of all evil. How can this be? Satan fell. Did God push Satan that is to say, did God make Satan fall?

There is freewill even while there is fate. It is a duality that is not mutually exclusive. Our emotional state creates the reality we perceive. Our fate is whatever happens to us. Our emotional state determines. We are free to change our feelings and, therefore, our fate. It is circular and mundanely illogical, but mundane logic is divinely illogical because it, mundane logic, cannot handle what it calls paradoxes whereas divine logic can and does by knowing that paradoxes don't exist. All is reconciled in God.

What is illogical is for any human being to imagine him or herself capable of grasping everything from God's perspective before becoming worthy to share everything with God. We are works in progress even though our outcome is certainly known in full by God. We must let go of our hang-ups and intellectual egos. We are all babies no matter how old we are or how much we have studied, etc. We have to approach God in all humility. There is stumbling due to the arrogance of mundane knowledge. Jesus didn't do that. He showed us how to avoid getting stuck thinking we know it all. We don't. When we do, we will be God even as we already are God as God shares now with us. It's good. Without it, we could never do anything to bring forth.

In general, how well has humanity organized itself? Is it a mess? Is there more confusion than not? What methods has humanity used to date in history to handle human interactions that have not led to this very state of confusion?

Organization is reflected in results. When all hearts are governed by divine love, then they will automatically be perfectly organized and perfectly free. The result will be the spirit of oneness. Souls will be unified. There will be harmony. It will be peaceful. The truth will reign. All the rest of the good will follow automatically. It is a free choice that God gives us to escape the bonds of evil.

Humanity, the shepherds, and the stewards: A mess

Currently, humanity is organized in such a way that it is self-evident that what governs is far from love. There is not a humanity-wide spirit of oneness. There is not unity, harmony, or peace; therefore, falsehood prevails, and it is self-evident that the wrong govern. Unity, harmony, and peace are good government. Disunity, discord, violence, and war among the other evils are bad government. Humanity is a mess; therefore, the top shepherds and stewards are a mess. They don't serve. They aren't last.

No violent overthrow

Do we say violently overthrow them? No. Christians do not do violence. Christians speak the truth and things happen. What we call for is repentance by all the shepherds and stewards. If they will not, they will not be followed and will fall.

Jesus set the example of proper shepherding and stewardship. The spirit of oneness that is sufficient to achieve all the good becomes known only through the appreciation of the depth of love Jesus showed in dying for all the reasons he did. Jesus died for unselfishness. There was no selfishness in his words or deeds no matter how harsh people take them today or took them then. They don't understand, and they didn't then. Even when others tried to pin selfishness upon him, the real selfishness was hiding in the hearts of his accusers. All accusers of Christ have ulterior, selfish motives. An example is as follows:

> Then took Mary a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him, Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor? This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein. Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this. For the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always. (John 12:3-8).

Jesus did not set up provisioning for himself. He did not come to be ministered unto even though angels, men, and women did minister to his needs. He had no house. He owned no bed. God provided everything directly and through the good hearts of others. People gave and shared with him, as they ought with each and all. That's what he showed. It was not only possible but right and will yet happen with the whole of humanity. Those who loved Jesus (loved the truth) showed their love without any ulterior motives. Did they feel good about helping him? Yes. How could they not? That though was the aftereffect and not the impetus for their helping. They did not do it to feel good. They felt good, because they did it. This is a conditioning from God. It is not bad to feel good after helping people. Righteousness for righteousness' sake is the prime thing that ought to move one. Feeling right and clean afterwards is God's way of reinforcing that right action. Feeling right and clean is not feeling accolades from others. One feels right and clean regardless of whether anyone else knows of one's deeds or not. It is enough that God knows.

The bag (treasury) that Judas carried had money in it, because money was furnished by those who loved Jesus and wanted to further his mission. They wanted the truth told. They wanted to learn more. They wanted to do what was right and to know how to keep the commandments by knowing what the commandments truly meant. "Whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well." (3 John 1:6).

Circular, love without end

It means that it is right to help those who are doing the work of God spreading the faith and good deeds, not leaving them to want for things for their bodies and not leaving them with nothing to help the poor. Let your love be magnified through helping people to help people to help yet even more people, ad infinitum, finally to radiate out to all and back from all, never to burn out: Infinite love.

Because the disciples loved the truth, they remembered the poor and infirmed and all the rest and were supported in that effort by others who also loved the truth. Paul wrote as follows:

And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision. Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do. (Galatians 2:9-10).
Therefore, let us also always remember the poor and be forwarded and organized in that real Christian spirit. The perfect way for humanity to be organized and ordered is that real Christian way. That unselfish way of putting the last first is salvation.
Chapter 25  Know Them By Their Fruit: Do and Teach

Jesus said that you will know them by their fruit (their results). He also gave us certain commandments to do and teach.

We have written much now, and we will be negatively criticized for rambling and being redundant among other things. That should make some feel justified in claiming that we should never have spoken out. They are wrong. They have not produced the fruit worthy of repentance else we would see their evidence in the real common abundance for all. It is not in evidence. So while they may negatively criticize this writing and attempt, thereby, to turn people from the message based upon their negative criticisms, they will appear transparent and shallow in their selfish designs. Not only can the devil quote scripture, but he can write following all the arbitrary traditional so-called rules. The truth though is in the motive and the deeds worked. All the scripture quoting and writing in the world, no matter the style, won't be anything more than dead if the deeds worthy of repentance are left undone.

We are to magnify the real Church throughout the world everywhere we are able. That church must be founded upon precepts that cannot be realized (made manifest) without the members having all things in common as did the original church members. The impetus for this shall transcend the underlying self-centeredness of some socialists. The impetus for this shall be in the furtherance of all the divine precepts discussed in this work and the more that are revealed in the Gospel and that come from the Holy Spirit. The impetus shall be completely unselfish and not in condoning or violently resisting the selfishness of others.

Socialism

To explain about socialism, per se, versus Christianity, the vast majority of those who join socialism, while often not without compassion, join with the primary selfish motivation of becoming one of the haves by equally sharing the ownership of the means of production. They do not want to remain without that share. To them, it is better than being a wage or salary slave with the value of their labor being skimmed off the top by even passive investors. Those passive investors are capitalists who do not have to work to produce but, nevertheless, take profits. They do that simply because they and not the workers were positioned with accumulated money. They accumulated that money through inheritance and other means used for investment, further entrenching their economic dominance and the dependency of alienated workers. The workers feel valued less under capitalist circumstances.

Christians, however, will share out of no such self-focused impetus. People don't become Christians so that they may get a share. They become Christians among other reasons so that all others may have their fair and equal share based upon needs and abilities and not private, special advantage and privilege simply taken at the expense of others and the planet and the whole universe if the greedy were to get their way. Motivation is all the difference.

The family in spirit under God becomes beyond sufficient. They bring forth the fruit. They become truly bountiful working not against God but for God in service to all really if you see it. This is the task. It is our job everywhere. The Lord's Prayer says, "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven." (Matthew 6:10).

Jesus gives us the keys to the kingdom of heaven. Whatever we bind on earth shall be bound in heaven. Whatever we let loose on earth shall be let loose in heaven. (Matthew 16:19) Our standard will be the one to which we will be subjected. What we say we ought to do, what we forgive, what we hold up as the standard, the standard we live up to, whoever we say is our master, will be the same in the kingdom of heaven. The converse is true. Anything that comes out of us that is evil makes us impure. We open the gates of hell on earth.

Anything that comes out of us that is good makes us better. Heaven flows. Anything that comes out of us that is bad makes us worse. Hell flows. Evil is toxic. Even every evil word (selfish word) that issues from one's mouth is auto-toxic (self-poisoning). It is also contagious. It is literally a contagious disease that the non-immunized catch and spread. These things are manifest here on earth and within us. Let us have only good things issue forth from our hearts, minds, and souls. Let us do that with all our being and strength. This is the real sense of the expression "As above, so below." It is also as below, so above, per Jesus Christ. The keys to the kingdom means that the spirit, emotion, heart, mind, soul, brain, thought, word, deed, all are necessarily reflected in the fruit, result, effect, manifestation.

What has humanity manifested? Is this world your idea of heaven? No. Yet, we cannot fall into imagining that we can do anything about it alone without God. What we can do is not magic, wizardry, conjuration, sorcery, witchcraft, or anything of the dark spirit that does not use the transformative power of God for righteousness, unselfishness, and in full and exclusive credit for all power emanating from God alone as the sole and ultimate source.

Harry Potter: Faith breaker

What about the Harry Potter series of book and movies, etc., then? Well, Harry Potter's power is not credited to God. Yet, the stories have strong ethical overtones. They are, thereby, misdirecting. Harry is a warlock, the counterpart of the females in the stories who are witches: A faith breaker, a liar about the faith, a deceiver, one who spreads falsehood. The books call him a wizard, but his bloodline is that of a warlock.

The Bible is loaded with prohibitions concerning magic and the like; however, Jesus practiced thaumaturgy, which is the working of miracles—supernatural feats many people would say were magic. The difference is attribution. Jesus never took credit and made it clear that all the power he showed was God's working.
All things not on the narrow way are of the wide path to hell. Harry is not on the narrow way.

Does this means someone cannot read the Harry Potter books or see the movies, etc., or read or see anything that isn't directing one on the narrow way, per se? What is temptation?

The authoress says she's a Christian. Where is Christ in the books? Where is the credit to God and Jesus and the Holy Spirit for the new commandment and all that it means as the meaning of life? Is it there in the books? No. Can someone read the books to see that it is not there and come out the other end untainted? What is temptation?

Temptation is not all the same to everyone. Children are impressionable (as are adults), and caution is often lacking with adults who don't explain how Harry Potter, if followed, will lead away from heaven.

Will Joanne Rowling (J. K. Rowling) have Harry find Jesus? Is Harry of the lost fold? Is he a fallen angel who may be saved?

This position does not put us in league with the false Christians who attack Joanne Rowling. Those false Christians complain about Harry Potter but then turn around and support the war. We have no part in them nor they in us.

Fundraising

Many will criticize that Jesus did not do fundraising, per se; however, the disciples had their treasury. Jesus said it is on the path of perfection to start by giving all for the poor. Earmark everything for the cause. It all belongs to God. People put their proceeds into the common treasury of the disciples.

Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need. And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet. (Acts 4:34-37).

The Gospel makes clear that the group (Jesus and the disciples) had money for the poor. The disciples clearly speculated that Jesus had sent Judas Iscariot out to give money to the poor.

For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor. (John 13:29).

They used the money to pay for their needs such as dinner and they gave to the poor as Jesus directed them. The Apostles took their living from those proceeds, as every worker deserves his wages. Jesus said as follows:
The workman is worthy of his meat. (Matthew 10:10).

The labourer is worthy of his hire. (Luke 10:7).

Paul echoed as follows:

> Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel. (1 Corinthians 9:14).

> Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine. For the scripture saith, thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treading out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his reward. (1 Timothy 5:18-19).

When the ox is working for you, do not make it so he cannot eat. Without what the worker needs for the effort, he will not reach those whom he would otherwise reach. Withholding makes one culpable, in some measure, for souls not found therefore.

The new liberal device

Rather than parting everything immediately upon receipt of contributions, contributions will be used in the manner describe in this work for, among other things, farms, vineyards, orchards, forests, streams, lakes, and the like for places for the poor and to use surpluses and further contributions to create more such places until all is distributed freely to all in the world.

All that is necessary for people to live and share all while working the farms and vineyards and orchards and the rest will come from the communes and contributions, of which we will also consider proceeds from this work and all other endeavors that follow.

Buildings: Ecological

There will be all sorts of structures one would expect where people live and work: Outbuildings, houses, cottages, or cabins, class rooms, libraries, study halls, offices, kitchens, dining halls, etc. We will strive to build more and more ecologically as we learn more and grow more.

Water usage and sanitation

We will be sure to continually improve our water usage as we receive the assistance and resources to make that happen. We will employ what is called ecological sanitation (eco-san). Urine-diverting, dry composting toilets are not approved everywhere. The local health department, building code, zoning laws, etc., must be consulted. Any contract for the purchase of land must include a statement that the RLCC will purchase subject to approval of composting toilets and other enumerated ecological and environmentally friendly processes (renewable energy, etc.).
Humanure

We will have to study the proper use of humanure (human manure). If the diet is strictly organic, there should be less concern over heavy metals in the remains. There are established techniques for composting to ensure that pathogens in the remains have died.

There are better uses of freshwater than flush-toilets and their accompanying greywater plumbing systems often leading to extremely inadequate sewage-treatment plants.

Greywater

As soon as possible, with the alms and mental and physical assistance of the compassionate, whatever gifts they can bring to all the tasks before us, we will use environmentally sustainable and even beneficial organic products when producing greywater that comes from showering, bathing, laundering, and dishwashing, etcetera. That way, topsoil, groundwater, and beneficial flora and fauna will not be damaged by industrial pollutants found in many commercial cleaning products. To direct freshwater to highest and best uses, we will also move to less water-intensive cleaning equipment, processes, and techniques.

Peak water

It must be understood that the world is past peak freshwater, given the current bad-stewardship spirit of the world's coercive leaders and followers. Groundwater is being tapped out. Wells have been drilled deeper and deeper, and at accessible depths, the ground is running out of water. A different source of freshwater will be required and soon to water the world's crops for food to feed the billions. Otherwise, mass starvation on an unprecedented scale is on the way. How can the world obtain enough sustainable, safe and usable energy to desalinate enough ocean water to replace the use of fresh groundwater and even to recharge the ground with freshwater? After all, extracting all the oil and water from the ground will leave it dry and subject to the resulting pressures. The ground cracks and sinks just as dehydrated skin, which it is. Add to that pressure the pressure of global warming and melting ice caps and rising sea levels and the conditions for global selfish-human-caused catastrophes will all be in place. Water and energy wars will ensue that will increase the temptation for spiritual wrath.

Peak water was reached some time ago. As the water table lowers year after year, water quality becomes lower and lower as well. It becomes very briny with many different minerals some of which are highly toxic with unhealthful levels of arsenic, chromium, lead, manganese, nickel, uranium, and other elements. The lower water tables also allow for the infiltration of saline water.

Food pressures are causing more and more river and stream water to be diverted to irrigation of crop lands. This is robbing the natural water systems of the earth. Trees and other vegetation that once depended upon freely flowing freshwater are deprived and die. This causes desertification that further promotes global warming. It is a vicious cycle all caused by humanity's unbridled selfish lusts.
Everyone will help freely and joyously. All in the service of God shall own. All as friends and in the unity of spirit shall own. The members will decide. Their collective consciences moved by the Holy Spirit will dictate.

About happiness, with so much misery in the world, how can we be joyous? Happiness the scientists are telling us breeds success and success breeds happiness. What form of happiness are they talking about? How do they define happiness? Unfortunately, they define it from selfishness. Success is having one's rewards here and now despite the plight of others is what they are teaching.

Jesus though taught us to be joyful and zealous concerning what? Unselfishness is the answer. If you are saddened by all the greed in this world, you are right. That though does not preclude joy at doing God's work that is bringing forth real success (the opposite of that greed). There is rejoicing in heaven when people turn from greed to giving and sharing in continuity with God.

With tribulation and persecution coming, how may we be glad? The good news is that there will be deliverance. It will be dark, and we should take no pleasure in the pain and suffering of others. We are right to be glad though that a new day will dawn after the darkness lifts. Jesus takes no pleasure in the wailing and gnashing of teeth. He takes great pleasure in the finding and saving of lost souls. This is how we are all supposed to feel. It is not something over which to feel guilt.
No sprawling, no joining

We will not sprawl out, but at the same time, we will not join house to house or field to field but will leave uncultivated and unmolested space for people and all other living things. We must do this even in the face of the need for food for the hungry from cultivated lands. It is a long-term vision, but it will also be of immediate benefit in ways not seen or perceived except from the divine perspective.

Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth! (Isaiah 5:8).

Natural space

We need natural space in our daily lives. Even science is beginning to appreciate this, albeit without placing it into the big picture. We need the daily connection to the uncontrived. We need our periods to separate ourselves unto the LORD.

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When either man or woman shall separate themselves to vow a vow of a Nazarite, to separate themselves unto the LORD. (Numbers 6:2).
Trees

I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water. I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, and the pine, and the box tree together. (Isaiah 41:18-19).

The shittah tree (also shittim) is the acacia tree, and the oil tree is the olive tree. This all is required for the future. Atone for the damage to the planet. Do all the really liberal things so that the real bounty will come. Stop the rape and destruction of the inheritance. Shine this light into the whole world.

Confidentiality of contributions

Contributions shall remain confidential accept as required under the mundane law. Also, people should not go about bragging that they are helping. When asked, they simply ought to tell the truth. If you are evangelizing and telling people to give to the cause, people may ask about your own giving. Don't worry about it. You won't be telling them for the sake of being rewarded with accolades from them. If they glorify your efforts, the credit will go to God.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 5:16).
Planning and organization will remain in the forefront without undo procrastination. There are people dying, lost every day. Jesus said as follows:

For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. Or what king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace. So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. (Luke 14:28-33).

This lesson must not be lost on us. It points out that Jesus counted planning ahead as plain common sense: Having foresight concerning completion of a project. Of course, one must also act on faith. Before one begins working for God, one must deny oneself including in all worldly possessions and flesh-and-blood familial ties if those restrain the work of God. It means do not let close genetic family members dissuade you from doing the work of God. Obviously, this sentiment was clear to the disciples who after Jesus went to our Father, held all in common in the church with none claiming individual possessions for self or flesh-and-blood family members. Many of them were married and had children yet followed Jesus. To undertake being Jesus's fulltime follower, it will cost each everything he or she has for completion and success. Jesus cannot use fulltime, and build his church upon, those who cannot grasp this or follow through.

Zacchaeus: Relatively good, but not perfect

It is better than not that people do as Zacchaeus did who said to Jesus, "half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold." (Luke 19:8). However, those upon whom Jesus founded his church had to be even more righteous than Zacchaeus became. They had to give all. They had to, and still have to, serve completely. Zacchaeus kept back half of whatever was left after making fourfold amends, which was certainly laudable else it would not have been written into the Gospel as a good example of turning and repenting. Zacchaeus was not though drawn to Jesus by God to be one of Jesus's fulltime disciples forsaking all else for the sake of righteousness.

Jesus admonished the Pharisees as follows:

> Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. (Matthew 23:23).

This means, one is not to forego obligations but rather do both. Some close flesh-and-blood family members may make that exceedingly difficult, but perseverance is the watchword. This was also made clear in his admonishment concerning the traditions of the Pharisees having hypocritically nullified the commandments. We are to keep the spirit in all things.

Tithing is not unacceptable. One does what one is given to do. One should understand though that it is not going to lead to that perfection of which Jesus spoke.

And Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. And, behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich. And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature. And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zacchaeus, make haste, and come down; for to day I must abide at thy house.
And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner. And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord: Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forso much as he also is a son of Abraham. (Luke 19:1-9).

This teaches that one need not necessarily give everything to the poor to be saved and that one is right to make amends (atone) directly to those one has harmed. Therefore, those who are given by God to give half or even just tithe are at least headed in the right direction, which is salvation when done in the right spirit. Despite what some people say, there is real relativism in sin and good deeds. Every bit helps. Perfection, of course, starts in giving all.

The beginning of perfection

And he looked up, and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury. And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites. And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all: For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God:
but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had. (Luke The lesson here is not that giving a little is acceptable. It is a lesson in proportionality. Give what you are able, what God moves you to give.
Expect no recompense (to be repaid). Do not do it with that motive. If you are worried about what you will live on, do what your conscience tells you. No one wants anyone left in a lurch.

Don't devour widows' houses

Jesus taught the people the following:

Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the marketplaces,

And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts: Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation. (Mark 12:38-40).

We certainly do not wish to do anything akin to "devour[ing] widows' houses." We want to do just the opposite. We want to help by devising liberal devices to ensure that each gets according to his or her needs. We want to be sure that no orphan or widow, etc., goes without the necessities and real love.
False-prosperity preachers

There are those who gave away everything based upon the promises of prosperity preachers only to discover that they received nothing of that kind from God in reward. Those who are rewarded at giving to the prosperity preachers are receiving their reward now.

Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. (Matthew 6:2).

The prosperity preachers will laud your gifts to them and your rewards now so that they may entice others to also give in the greedy hope of recompense in the here and now. It is a sham and a shame. At the same time, it would be wrong to dampen the spirit of someone moved to give all but not to the prosperity preachers of recompense. There are those who have given all to the right cause and been satisfied with their poverty in money because they have wealth in the spirit. Be sure you do not fit the following:

Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth: And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. (Matthew 13:5-6).
But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it; Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended. (Matthew 13:20-21).

Spirit of offering

With this in mind, offerings are in order and no offer is too small. Offer what you are able. Just be prepared to endure to the end and be prepared to be a self-starter until we have places to put people up. It is best that we be organized and not be premature. Jesus was not premature. He kept to his time. We should all learn from that. Let us obtain land for the right reason and let us move onto it as the needs of the land and people both dictate. We must be patient without procrastinating. There is much organizational help that can be done from afar also. Let us work to be coordinated.

Concerning the point as to why Jesus's observations concerning planning are important to this endeavor, in order to build a church such as Jesus planned, Jesus made clear that the sufficient resources to accomplish that were chosen. That is why he chose those who were prepared to let go of all they had for the sake of righteousness; otherwise, he would have ended with a foundation and nothing built upon it. The word would have died out. It did not, despite the apostasy of those calling themselves church. The word has survived the very gates of hell. The remnant of the real Church (the real teaching) has survived. It is the foundation upon which to build. It is not dead.

Therefore, planning and organization will, of course, be utilized. All who will be Christians (communists in the global sense of all things in common worldwide) will be gladly willing eventually to let go of all worldly possessions and even flesh-and-blood family ties with those who refuse the spirit. They will do this for the sake of righteousness and to help build that which will finally do the commandments of Jesus. It will be in the spirit of oneness in service and friendship.

All those who will not live and work on the communes for some time, will help, as those who helped Jesus, with distributing this work and financial support in the form of tithes (tenths) or fifths or halves or more and other offerings.

Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. (Mark 9:23).

Believe that ye receive them

For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.

Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them. (Mark 11:23-24).

Ask for unselfishness to conflate by the Holy Spirit with all those of the spirit. Help bring forth. Overcome temptation and doubt. Let no one's sin set your teeth on edge. Be glad. Give. Believe that we will do these things by God.

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. (Matthew 6:9-13).

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. Give us day by day our daily bread. And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil. (Luke 11:2-4).

I was raised on the following version:

Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

God, change our souls to be as you are. Change us so that in righteousness only we feed one and all both in body and spirit.

To learn more, become involved, and contribute online, please begin by visiting our denominational website at http://www.RealLiberalChristianChurch.org
Peace be unto you.
Bibliography: Text-Body

King James Version (less Apocrypha)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reference</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 Chronicles 27:24</td>
<td>2687</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Chronicles 29:29</td>
<td>2687, 2688</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Chronicles 5:1-2</td>
<td>2185</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 10:24</td>
<td>461</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 11:14</td>
<td>1277</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 11:5</td>
<td>1290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 11:14</td>
<td>1276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 14:34-35</td>
<td>1289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 15:33</td>
<td>2707</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 5:6</td>
<td>1188</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 6:9-10</td>
<td>2933, 2934</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 7:25</td>
<td>1277</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 7:40</td>
<td>1278</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Corinthians 9:14</td>
<td>3097</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 John 2:15-16</td>
<td>1701</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 John 3:17</td>
<td>453</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 John 5:7 (KJV)</td>
<td>2834</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 John 5:7 (without Comma Johanneum)</td>
<td>2834</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 John 5:7-8</td>
<td>2834</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 John 5:8 (KJV)</td>
<td>2834</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 John 5:8 (without Comma Johanneum)</td>
<td>2835</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Kings 11:41</td>
<td>2687</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Kings 18:40</td>
<td>1081</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Kings 22:8</td>
<td>1145</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Peter 1:1</td>
<td>2190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Peter 2:13-14, 1342, 1679, 1688</td>
<td>2407</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Peter 2:5</td>
<td>2408</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Peter 3:14</td>
<td>2772</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Peter 5:5</td>
<td>2053</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Peter 5:8</td>
<td>1354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Samuel 10:25</td>
<td>2688</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Samuel 25:3</td>
<td>91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Samuel 4</td>
<td>489</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Thessalonians 4:17</td>
<td>2434</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Thessalonians 5:12</td>
<td>2504</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 1:4</td>
<td>2170, 2172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 2:11-12</td>
<td>1290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 3</td>
<td>3037</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 3:2-12</td>
<td>2632</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 3:4</td>
<td>2539</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 5:18-19</td>
<td>3097</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 5:8</td>
<td>1244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 6:10</td>
<td>1022</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1 Timothy 6:17-18</td>
<td>452</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Chronicles</td>
<td>2686</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Chronicles 13:22</td>
<td>2687</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Chronicles 18:29</td>
<td>2308</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Chronicles 18:33-34</td>
<td>2307</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Chronicles 20:34</td>
<td>2687</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 Chronicles 24:21</td>
<td>1075</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
2 Chronicles 33:10-17........2686
2 Chronicles 33:19........2687
2 Chronicles 9:29........2688
2 Corinthians 10:5........2310
2 Corinthians 11:14-15...1266, 2246
2 Chronicles 9:7........50
2 Kings 17:24........74
2 Kings 18:4........2301
2 Kings 2:2........1956
2 Kings 2:4........1956
2 Kings 2:6........1956
2 Kings 22:12-14........1295
2 Kings 4:30........1956
2 Maccabees 6:18-7:42....2711
2 Maccabees 7:14........2685
2 Maccabees 7:20........2685
2 Maccabees 7:34........2685
2 Maccabees 7:3-5........2685
2 Peter 1:16........1904
2 Peter 2:22........2391
2 Peter 3:8........1746
2 Timothy 2:15........1780
3 John 1:5-7........2859
3 John 1:6........3089
Acts 1:13........417
Acts 11:26........2146
Acts 12:4........2201
Acts 15:13-19........1800
Acts 17:26........134, 222, 225
Acts 17:28........2689
Acts 18:3........60
Acts 2:17........1840
Acts 2:45........434
Acts 20:35........1258
Acts 21:23-24........1283
Acts 21:26........1283
Acts 21:9........1295
Acts 22:3-4........1281
Acts 4:32........461, 1783, 2858
Acts 4:34-35........2858
Acts 4:34-37........3096
Acts 4:36-37........59
Acts 5:1-11........2638, 2804
Acts 5:27-32........1689
Acts 7:58........1299
Acts 8:14-16........81
Acts 8:3........1247, 1298
Acts 8:9-24........80, 306, 1812
Acts 9:1-2........1298
Amos 3:3........2653
Amos 5:18........1050, 3032
Amos 5:22........2177
Book of Daniel........2675
Book of Genesis........1290, 1291, 1292, 1747, 1758, 1788, 1934
Book of Job........4
Book of Jonah........2118, 2236
Daniel 12:4........1747
Daniel 2:21........1680
Daniel 3:18........1690
Daniel 4:17........1680
Daniel 7:25........2513, 2846
Daniel 8:24-25........1076
Daniel 8:25........1235
Daniel 8:26........1834
Daniel 9:16........3055
Daniel 9:26-27........1743
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reference</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 13:1-4</td>
<td>2174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 15:3</td>
<td>414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 16:10</td>
<td>2665</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 18:4</td>
<td>2987</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 20:20</td>
<td>1599</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 21:23</td>
<td>1740</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 24:16</td>
<td>1939, 2634, 3065</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 29:14-15</td>
<td>133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 29:18-19</td>
<td>134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 29:4</td>
<td>133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 30:14</td>
<td>134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 30:17-18</td>
<td>134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 32:1-43</td>
<td>201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 32:22</td>
<td>1210</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 32:35</td>
<td>2112, 2233</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 32:16-28</td>
<td>2782</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 7:1-2</td>
<td>420</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deuteronomy 7:6</td>
<td>2407</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ecclesiastes 12:12-14</td>
<td>2504</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ephesians 1:4</td>
<td>2574</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ephesians 5:22</td>
<td>1290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ephesians 6:4</td>
<td>2540</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Epistle to the Hebrews</td>
<td>2705</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Epistles to Timothy</td>
<td>2633</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ezekiel 31:6</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ezekiel 33:6</td>
<td>1942, 2241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ezekiel 34:2</td>
<td>984</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ezekiel 37:26</td>
<td>2159</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ezekiel 44:1-2</td>
<td>1737</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>First Epistle to Timothy</td>
<td>2633</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Galatians</td>
<td>1798</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Galatians 2:11-12</td>
<td>1843</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Galatians 2:9-10</td>
<td>3089</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Galatians 3:28</td>
<td>1294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis</td>
<td>2705</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 1:3</td>
<td>1934</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 1:28</td>
<td>1198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 5:1</td>
<td>2346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 15:1</td>
<td>1651</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 18:17-18</td>
<td>1739</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 18:23-32</td>
<td>2222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 19:24</td>
<td>2222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 19:4-5</td>
<td>2931</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 2:17</td>
<td>1998</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 2:25</td>
<td>2077</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Genesis 20:9-12</td>
<td>2924</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Luke 13:3.................................1212
Luke 13:4-5...............................2222
Luke 13:9..................................11
Luke 14:12-14............................452
Luke 14:26-1242, 1783, 2299, 2471
Luke 14:28-33.............................3104
Luke 14:33..................................1784
Luke 15:11-32............................2139
Luke 15:25..................................2670
Luke 15:7.................................2732
Luke 16:10-721, 842, 1300, 2648
Luke 16:11..................................1300
Luke 16:13.............................235, 976, 1696
Luke 16:14-15............................2156
Luke 16:17.................................2174
Luke 16:19-31.............................1055
Luke 16:21..................................149
Luke 16:26-2750, 2895, 3067
Luke 17:1.................................2109
Luke 17:10.................................2790
Luke 17:21.................................1061
Luke 17:6.................................2943
Luke 18:27.................................2717
Luke 18:7-8..................191, 2370, 2442
Luke 18:7-9...............................3032
Luke 18:8.................................2512, 2820
Luke 19:1-9...............................3107
Luke 19:26...............................704, 1312
Luke 19:27.................................421
Luke 19:41-43.............................469
Luke 19:44.................................1813
Luke 19:8.................................3032
Luke 19:9.................................3105
Luke 2:1.................................1301
Luke 2:25-32..............................1838
Luke 2:32.................................2110
Luke 2:36-38..............................1296
Luke 2:43.................................2661
Luke 20:36-3997, 2998, 3068
Luke 20:9.................................2392
Luke 21:10-12..............................2441
Luke 21:16.................................2441
Luke 21:18-19.............................2441
Luke 21:24-28.............................2444
Luke 21:32.................................2445
Luke 21:35.................................2445
Luke 21:36.................................1942, 2371
Luke 22:25-26............................2894
Luke 22:26.................................2052
Luke 22:31.................................325, 693, 2507
Luke 22:35.................................2578, 2845
Luke 22:37.................................972, 3060
Luke 22:44.................................3027
Luke 22:46.................................983
Luke 23:34-451, 1681, 2117, 3010
Luke 23:43.................................1060
Luke 24:47.................................222, 2111
Luke 3:11.................................2748
Luke 3:14.................................1677
Luke 3:8...................................2997
Luke 4:19.................................2510
Luke 4:41.................................86
Luke 5:36.................................469, 1012
Luke 6:34.................................414
Luke 6:40.................................2344
Luke 6:42.................................2344
Matthew 10:38..................2643
Matthew 10:39..................1302, 1307
Matthew 10:6..................1847
Matthew 10:7-14..............2845
Matthew 11:12..............300, 2256, 2422
Matthew 11:19...............2978
Matthew 11:25...............1831
Matthew 11:27...............686
Matthew 11:28-30.............2860
Matthew 11:29-30............1953
Matthew 11:30................2373
Matthew 12:25...............2543
Matthew 12:31...............1792, 2120
Matthew 12:31-32...........722
Matthew 12:33, 2123, 2158, 2313
Matthew 12:34-35...........95
Matthew 12:4..................1279
Matthew 12:43-45...........23, 2315
Matthew 12:46-50............1240
Matthew 12:50................414
Matthew 12:7-11.............2175
Matthew 13:15...............2890
Matthew 13:16...............975
Matthew 13:20-21.............3110
Matthew 13:23...............11, 2313
Matthew 13:25...............2769, 2765
Matthew 13:37-38...........1790
Matthew 13:39...............2709
Matthew 13:3-9...............2586
Matthew 13:41...............992, 2419
Matthew 13:49...............721
Matthew 13:5-6...............2587, 3109
Matthew 14:30-31............2967
Matthew 15:11...............435, 2259
Matthew 15:14...............1000
Matthew 15:18...............1352
Matthew 15:22-28............1974
Matthew 15:24...............1847, 2110
Matthew 15:30...............1039
Matthew 15:5-6...............2248
Matthew 16:15-19...........1832
Matthew 16:19................410, 2447, 3071, 3093
Matthew 16:23...............1700, 2999
Matthew 16:2-3...............305, 813
Matthew 16:24...............341, 2247
Matthew 16:25...............419, 1302, 2075, 2287, 3029
Matthew 16:26...............975
Matthew 16:27...............3066
Matthew 16:3...............1352
Matthew 17:18-20...........2025
Matthew 17:24-27...........1301
Matthew 18:10...............1841
Matthew 18:12-13...........2538
Matthew 18:15-17...........1773, 2400
Matthew 18:16-17............1033
Matthew 18:21-22...........1662
Matthew 18:6...............1575, 2551, 2803, 3049
Matthew 18:7...............305, 510, 972, 1266, 1666, 2238
Matthew 19:12...............2552, 2981
Matthew 19:16-23...........52
Matthew 19:18-19...........52, 2164
Matthew 19:21...............82, 256, 351, 892
Matthew 19:21 (as footnote)....2692
Matthew 19:24...............46
Matthew 19:29...............2299
Matthew 27:12-14.................2269
Matthew 27:19...................2304
Matthew 27:3.....................2185
Matthew 27:46....................2871
Matthew 27:52-53.............2073, 3057
Matthew 28:1....................2662
Matthew 28:19...................3038
Matthew 3:11.....61, 67, 1000, 2866, 3077
Matthew 3:17...................1987
Matthew 3:7.....................997
Matthew 3:9........1030, 2470
Matthew 4:10..................2060
Matthew 4:1-7...................1707
Matthew 4:5-7...................2575
Matthew 4:7....................2782
Matthew 4:8-10.....163, 974, 1695, 2116
Matthew 5:10........2083, 2591
Matthew 5:10-12..............2083
Matthew 5:12........1051, 1837
Matthew 5:13...................1014
Matthew 5:15...................249
Matthew 5:16.....1013, 1716, 2751, 2989, 3103
Matthew 5:18........2174, 2236, 2293
Matthew 5:19........842, 2586, 3037
Matthew 5:2.....................2242
Matthew 5:20...................369, 987
Matthew 5:20-22..............2525
Matthew 5:21-22...............57
Matthew 5:25.....58, 469, 847, 1063, 2253
Matthew 5:26...................2591
Matthew 5:27-28..............2525
Matthew 5:28...................2377
Matthew 5:29-30..............2551
Matthew 5:3-11...................46
Matthew 5:31-39...............2526
Matthew 5:32...................2644
Matthew 5:39..................1265, 2237
Matthew 5:40...................2747
Matthew 5:41...................2827
Matthew 5:43-45..............2526
Matthew 5:46..................2197, 2988
Matthew 5:9...................2627, 2996
Matthew 6:1...............256, 2857
Matthew 6:10.....1013, 1202, 1808, 3093
Matthew 6:17-18..............2518, 2560
Matthew 6:2..................2989, 3109
Matthew 6:21...................2310
Matthew 6:22-23..............1022
Matthew 6:24..235, 976, 1696, 1697
Matthew 6:28...................1023
Matthew 6:31-33..............2797
Matthew 6:38-39..............2229
Matthew 6:44........1241, 2194
Matthew 6:7........1812, 1936
Matthew 6:9-13....................3112
Matthew 7:12...................1781, 2572
Matthew 7:14..13, 687, 1091, 1627, 2364
Matthew 7:15...................2246
Matthew 7:16...................2313
Matthew 7:21...................2697
Matthew 7:22...................2697
Matthew 7:23...................1000
Matthew 7:24...................1856
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reference</th>
<th>Chapters</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 7:3</td>
<td>972, 2572</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 7:6</td>
<td>2122, 2528</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 7:7-8</td>
<td>2530</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 8:21-22</td>
<td>2300</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 8:29</td>
<td>86</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 8:5-10</td>
<td>1707</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 9:13</td>
<td>1284, 2177</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matthew 9:17</td>
<td>1011</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Micah 3:11</td>
<td>2791</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Micah 5:2</td>
<td>1739</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nehemiah 5:1-13</td>
<td>2355</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nehemiah 9:2</td>
<td>3055</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nehemiah 9:6</td>
<td>2516</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Numbers 13:22, 28, 33</td>
<td>1794</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Numbers 21:14</td>
<td>2687</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Numbers 28:26</td>
<td>2665</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Numbers 6:1-21</td>
<td>432</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Numbers 6:2</td>
<td>3102</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Obadiah 1:15</td>
<td>1228</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philippians 2:15</td>
<td>2331</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 1:25-28</td>
<td>139</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 11:25</td>
<td>86, 2317, 2856</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 13:22</td>
<td>2828</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 13:24</td>
<td>3048</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 13:8</td>
<td>892, 2733, 2851</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 14:3</td>
<td>2517</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 15:12</td>
<td>2574</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 15:32</td>
<td>1901</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 16:18</td>
<td>477, 2218</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 18:3</td>
<td>2364</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 19:9</td>
<td>2652</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 21:9</td>
<td>2652</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 22:10</td>
<td>2364, 2649</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 22:9</td>
<td>452, 2856</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 23:23</td>
<td>2936</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 24:27</td>
<td>2734</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 25:8</td>
<td>1063</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 28:23</td>
<td>2505</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 28:24</td>
<td>2505</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 28:27</td>
<td>2856</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 28:8</td>
<td>48</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 29:1</td>
<td>2365</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 29:3</td>
<td>2136</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 3:9-10</td>
<td>2855</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proverbs 9:8</td>
<td>2574</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 110:1</td>
<td>3069</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 119:59</td>
<td>2313</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 2:10-11</td>
<td>1697</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 2:6-9</td>
<td>2186</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 2:7</td>
<td>1986</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 2:9</td>
<td>1954</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 22</td>
<td>1741, 2871, 2874, 2878</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 22:18</td>
<td>1741</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 22:7-8</td>
<td>1741</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 34:20</td>
<td>1741</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 35:11</td>
<td>1742</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 37:24</td>
<td>24</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 37:7</td>
<td>2330</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 40:6-8</td>
<td>1742</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 41:9</td>
<td>1740</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 46:9</td>
<td>2230</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 49:6-7</td>
<td>892, 2220</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 52:2</td>
<td>2329</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 66:16</td>
<td>2860</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 69:21</td>
<td>1741</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 69:25</td>
<td>1742</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 69:4</td>
<td>1742</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 69:9</td>
<td>334</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psalm 72:8-11</td>
<td>2186</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Book (of the Manner of the Kingdom)...............................2688
Book of Common Prayer.........................2879
Book of Enoch1266, 2127, 2129, 2305
Book of Gad the Seer.................................2688
Book of Jashar........................................2687
Book of Jehu..........................................2687
Book of Jubilees.................................2686
Book of Leviticus .................2451
Book of Life...... 505, 511, 1806, 1819, 2163, 2328, 3057
Book of Nathan the Prophet..........2687
Book of Records of the Chronicles.....2687
Book of Samuel the Seer.................2687
Book of the Wars of the LORD...2687
Books of Moses .................................4
Catch 22.............................................536
Central American Free Trade Agreement ........................................1155, 1158
Chemical Weapons Convention.......374
Chronicles (of the Persian Empire; king Ahasuerus; Xerxes I).........2687
Civil Rights Act of 1964..............1543
Clause IV of the Labour Party... 119
Commentary Magazine........... 1871, 1872
Communal Property Act of Alberta 416
Communications Opportunity, Promotion and Enhancement Act...........908 Contribution Treaty 292
Confessions of an Economic Hit Man202
Conspiracy of Silence......................601
Constitution of Iraq: 2272, 2277, 2280
Constitution of Iraq, June 2005 draft of the...........................................2273
Constitution of the United States: 1419
Constitution of the United States of America 660, 676, 835, 932, 1025, 1026, 1273, 1431, 1558, 1693, 1719, 1768, 1780, 1792, 1821, 2234
Cretica...............................................2688
Crime Sollicitationis.........................600
Dark Alliance..................................1417
Dead Sea scrolls... 1975, 2305, 2414, 2676, 2686, 2706
Declaration of Independence 799, 1257, 1260, 1702
Defense Planning Guidance 278, 284, 285, 286, 1630
DemocracyNow.org.... 740, 1414, 3138, 3140, 3141, 3142, 3143, 3144, 3145, 3146
Detainee Treatment Act of 2005.... 790
Die Tageszeitung.....................592
Dr. Strangelove.................................536
Eight-Action Memo...........619
Enabling Act.........................813, 1876
Epic of Gilgamesh.............2009
Epistle of Jeremiah.....................2683
European Convention on Human Rights ...........................................832
Ezra Apocalypse.........................2684
Fallujah: The Hidden Massacre 381
Forbes......................................255, 1163
Foreign Corrupt Practices Act........734
Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act 575, 954, 1510, 1538, 1548, 1550, 1554
Forrest Gump............................... 536
Fortune................................... 1163
Fourteenth Amendment of the US Constitution.......................... 107
Freedom of Information Act... 622, 875, 930, 968, 1448, 1517, 3145
From Here to Eternity.............. 535, 536
From PSYOP to MindWar: The Psychology of Victory............... 660
G.I. Jane.................................. 535 Generations............................ 1938
Geneva Bible..................... 2833, 2933, 2934
Geneva Conventions... 796, 799, 831, 832, 927, 928, 929, 973
Gospel of Philip............... 1994
Great Books of the Western World...... 4
Guardianship of the Religious Jurist 2033
Gulf of Tonkin Resolution...... 494, 638, 724, 953
Hamdan v. Rumsfeld ................ 831
Harry Potter.......................... 3094
Heartbreak Ridge..................... 536
Hebrew Bible.......................... 2682
Helms-Burton Act...................... 1469
Human Resource Exploitation Training Manual.......................... 1339
Hussein-McMahon
Correspondence........... 789, 2088
Illustrated Sunday Herald........ 1319
Information Operations Roadmap... 1513
Interpreter’s Bible.................. 4
Iraqi Weapons Report....... 729, 735, 741 ISRAEL/LEBANON,
"OPERATION GRAPES OF WRATH,“ The Civilian Victims
...................................... 1595
Jerusalem Talmud (Haggigah, Book 77, 4).................. 2171
Joe Pyne Show......................... 949
Journal Editorial Report........ 532
Judith.................................... 2683
Justification for US Military Intervention in Cuba.................... 875
Kelo v. City of New London........ 2600
KUB-IRK Counterintelligence Interrogation Manual...................... 1339
Labor-Management Relations Act... 418
Leadership Failure: Firsthand Accounts of Torture of Iraqi Detainees by the U.S. Army’s 82nd Airborne Division........................................ 924
Left Behind Series........... 1181, 2265
Les Misérables........................ 1534
Letter of Aristeas...................... 2671
Library of Congress’s Cataloging-in-Publication Data...................... 2786
Life magazine........................ 625
Lord’s Prayer 2078, 2378, 2642, 2655, 2770, 2921, 2928, 3093
LXX........................................ 2671, 2681
Magna Carta............................. 932
Martyrdom of Isaiah a.k.a. Ascension of Isaiah...................... 2705, 2706
Martyrdom of Isaiah a.k.a. Ascension of Isaiah 4:12; 5:1-3.............. 2706
Masoretic text......................... 2673, 2677
McCall’s.............................. 1183, 3142
McCollum Memo........ 619, 620, 621
Meet the Press......................... 899, 3142
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Sgt. Bilko (The Wisdom of Yeshua Ben Sir; Ecclesiasticus)</td>
<td>2683</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sirach (The Wisdom of Yeshua Ben Sir; Ecclesiasticus)</td>
<td>2683</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith Act</td>
<td>1380</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spider's Web: The Secret History Of How The White House Illegally</td>
<td>591</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Armed Iraq</td>
<td>591</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Star Wars</td>
<td>661</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>State Secrets Act</td>
<td>123</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Story of the Book of the Kings</td>
<td>2687</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stripes</td>
<td>535</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summa Theologica</td>
<td>1811</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supplement</td>
<td>389, 493, 1614, 1645, 2485</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sykes-Picot Agreement</td>
<td>2088</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Syntopicon</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taft-Hartley Act</td>
<td>319, 418, 1380</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Talmud</td>
<td>2156, 2171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Talmuds</td>
<td>2674</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tanakh</td>
<td>2674</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Targum</td>
<td>2682</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terrorism Act of 2000</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Testament of Joseph</td>
<td>2686</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Bible...cxviii, cxix, 3, 15, 16, 17, 19, 34, 35, 38, 40, 42, 55, 60, 74, 75, 81, 91, 92, 93, 145, 206, 250, 350, 396, 417, 485, 489, 674, 706, 713, 725, 728, 751, 766, 767, 785, 799, 810, 858, 862, 993, 1037, 1080, 1088, 1094, 1144, 1223, 1228, 1250, 1252, 1286, 1297, 1366, 1387, 1388, 1412, 1516, 1581, 1599, 1608, 1626, 1637, 1674, 1675, 1691, 1728, 1729, 1747, 1758, 1775, 1785, 1786, 1787, 1789, 1793, 1795, 1796, 1820, 1821, 1822, 1831, 1836, 1839, 1847, 1852, 1857, 1897, 1920, 1921, 1933, 1947, 1948, 1968, 2048, 2055, 2060, 2095, 2096, 2129, 2171, 2192, 2210, 2226, 2300, 2305, 2309, 2388, 2405, 2417, 2423, 2425, 2443, 2479, 2493, 2575, 2598, 2639, 2671, 2675, 2682, 2685, 2691, 2721, 2824, 2825, 2842, 2849, 2871, 2878, 2912, 2923, 2970, 3000, 3094</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Bible and Its Influence..1966</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Church in the Wilderness..1966</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Coming of Melchizedek..2413</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The da Vinci Code..1968, 1969</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Grand Chessboard..878</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Grapes of Wrath..237</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Great Santini..535</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Green Berets..535</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The History of Susanna..2683</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Hunt for Red October..535</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Israel Lobby and US Foreign Policy..1621, 1629, 1630, 1631, 3142</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Jackal..535</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Jerusalem Post..484, 3141</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Late, Great Planet Earth..1180</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The National Security Strategy of the United States of America..300</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The New Media Monopoly..243</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
<td>--------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The New York Times...</td>
<td>514, 571, 575, 683, 1385, 1420, 1423, 1505, 1870</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Plutonium Files: America’s Secret Medical Experiments in the Cold War</td>
<td>1377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Power Elite</td>
<td>2337</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Prayer of Azariah and Song of the Three Holy Children</td>
<td>2683</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Prayer of Manasseh</td>
<td>2686</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Preamble (US Constitution)</td>
<td>1431</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Prince</td>
<td>466, 468</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism</td>
<td>513</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Rest of Esther</td>
<td>2684</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Right Stuff</td>
<td>536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Sun</td>
<td>1091, 1093, 1094</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Ten Commandments (the movie)</td>
<td>1775</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Tuskegee Airmen</td>
<td>536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Virginia Act For Establishing Religious Freedom</td>
<td>1767</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The War of the Worlds</td>
<td>624</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Washington Times</td>
<td>634, 1182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Weekly Standard</td>
<td>1872</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The World Crisis and the Aftermath</td>
<td>1323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The World’s Last Night</td>
<td>996</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Theological Declaration of Barmen</td>
<td>2375</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thirteen Days</td>
<td>536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TIME: magazine</td>
<td>1420</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Timeline of CIA Atrocities</td>
<td>1374</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Timor Gap Treaty</td>
<td>282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tobit</td>
<td>2683</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Top Gun</td>
<td>535, 536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Torah</td>
<td>2417, 2672</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Torture is a Moral Issue</td>
<td>2494</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tosefta</td>
<td>2674</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo</td>
<td>1330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Triumph of the Will</td>
<td>666</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tucker Carlson: Unfiltered</td>
<td>532</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UN Resolution 1483</td>
<td>1890</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UN Resolution 242</td>
<td>789, 1647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universal Declaration of Human Rights</td>
<td>831</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universal Soldier</td>
<td>548</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>US Army Field Manual on Interrogation</td>
<td>927</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>US Constitution</td>
<td>396, 497, 504, 533, 586, 796, 805, 926, 933, 934, 935, 945, 947, 961, 1026, 1156, 1254, 1255, 1261, 1262, 1270, 1271, 1390, 1392, 1421, 1422, 1468, 1551, 1552, 1558, 1564, 1693, 1820, 2452, 2453, 2455, 2476</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Visions of Iddo the Seer (which may be the Story of the Prophet Iddo)</td>
<td>2688</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vital Interdiction of Criminal Terrorist Organizations Act of 2003</td>
<td>803</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voices of Iraq</td>
<td>535</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voting Rights Act of 1965</td>
<td>1543</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vulgate</td>
<td>1034, 2682</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waliyat al-Faqih</td>
<td>2033</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington Post</td>
<td>591, 3139</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Will to Power</td>
<td>2384</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference</td>
<td>Page</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-----------------------------------------------</td>
<td>------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wisdom of Solomon</td>
<td>2683</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Worldwide Attack Matrix</td>
<td>464, 621</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yalta Agreement</td>
<td>2339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tax</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA)</td>
<td>2628</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA)</td>
<td>2629</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Form 4361, Application for Exemption</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>From Self-Employment Tax for Use</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>by Ministers, Members of Religious Orders</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and Christian Science Practitioners</td>
<td>2628</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tax Guide for Churches and Religious</td>
<td>2618</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Organizations (Publication 1828, Revised 09-2003)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Bibliography: Footnotes

688(), a video game.
America’s Army, a video game.

Battlezone, a video game.
blackboxvoting.org
http://www.blackboxvoting.org Cameron, Carl. Fox News.

http://www.afsa.org/fsj/fcb01/carter01.cfm

COINTELPRO: The FBI's War on Black America, a video.

Colson, Nicole. "Five years of Bush-43 administration tax cuts help...The super-rich get super richer." Socialist Worker. April 21, 2006. Page 4 of the article.

(accessed: Saturday, October 14, 2006).

de la Peña, Nonny. Unconstitutional - The War On Our Civil Liberties, a video. Robert Greenwald, producer. In conjunction with the ACLU.
http://informationclearinghouse.info/article13176.htm

http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=06/05/17/158253

ibid. "FCC Hands Telecoms Victory on Cable Franchising."

Headlines for December 21, 2006.

http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=06/05/30/1332253

http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=05/04/14/1349256&tid=25

http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=06/12/19/1433237 (last accessed: Friday, December 22, 2006).

http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=06/06/14/1424239

http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=06/12/19/1433237 (last accessed: Friday, December 22, 2006).

Ban on Feeding Homeless Ruled Illegal." November 22, 2006.
http://www.acftv.com/archive/article.asp?archive_id=1 (See the video:
http://www.alternet.org/wiretap/35759/.
http://www.lef.org/magazine/mag2006/mar2006_awsi_01.htm Fas.org.
http://www.fas.org/man/congress/2000/hr4205.htm
Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).
http://www.monthlyreview.org/0606jbf.htm
FRONTLINE. "Is it true?"

http://www.opendemocracy.net/democracyfukuyama/revisited_3496.jsp

Full Spectrum Warrior. Microsoft Xbox game.

Hamoui, Omar. "Free speech, even when unpleasant, must be protected: Vandalism reveals some won't allow opposing view a voice." Daily Bruin Online. April 18, 1997.

Hunter/Killer, a video game.
http://www.ibiblio.org/pha/polICY/1941/411027a.html

http://www.guardian.co.uk/g2/story/0,849122,00.html

http://news.independent.co.uk/world/americas/article327379.ece

IRS. "Frequently Asked Tax Questions And Answers: Keyword: Housing Allowance."

Ibid. "Topic 417 - Earnings for Clergy." http://www.irs.gov/taxtopics/tp

http://www.talk2action.org/story/2006/6/1/82458/92817

Komisar, Lucy. "Explosive Revelation$! In These Times.

March 15, 2002.
http://www.inthesetimes.com/site/main/article/explosive_revelation/ (For specific information on the connection between Clearstream and the October Surprise, see:
http://www.inthesetimes.com/issue/26/10/feature1_side1.shtml)

http://www.inthesetimes.com/site/main/article/explosive_revelation_part_2/ibid. "Machiavelli On Our War: Some advice for our leaders."

Meet the Press. NBC. September 8, 2002.

Moore, Martha T. "ACLU to sue after community rejects unmarried pair." USA TODAY. 5/17/2006.

National Defense Magazine.

OregonLive.com. "Safeway ditches artificial hormone in milk." The Plocker, Sever. "Stalin's Jews: We mustn't forget that some of the greatest murderers of modern times were Jewish." Ynetnews. December 21, 2006. http://www.ynetnews.com/article...

Source code.freespeech.org.
http://sourcecode.freespeech.org/sc210dielection ibid.

http://www.takeoverworld.info/vid/god_is_on_your_side.ram
(last accessed: Sunday, January 07, 2007).

Tennyson, Alfred. The Charge of the Light Brigade, a poem.
The American Civil Liberties Union sued for disclosure. Under the US Freedom of Information Act, the federal court ordered the release of the materials, September, 2005.

theocracywatch.org, "Ohio – 'A battle between the forces of righteousness and the hordes of hell.'" thecocracywatch.org/ohio.htm.
(last accessed: Sunday, January 07, 2007).

ThinkExist.com, "David Ben-Gurion quotes." ThinkExist.com Quotations:
(last accessed: Sunday, December 24, 2006).

Thompson, Linda. WACO: The Big Lie, a video.
http://video.google.com/videoplay?docid=5369116450757675658
(last accessed: Monday, January 15, 2007).

TomDispatch.

truthout.org.

USA Today.

verifiedvoting.org.

(last accessed: Sunday, January 07, 2007).

Sub Command, a video game.
takeoverworld.info, "Brzezinski and the history of Al-Qaeda."
(last accessed: Sunday, January 07, 2007).

Tennyson, Alfred. The Charge of the Light Brigade, a poem.
The American Civil Liberties Union sued for disclosure. Under the US Freedom of Information Act, the federal court ordered the release of the materials, September, 2005.

Tennyson, Alfred. The Charge of the Light Brigade, a poem.
The American Civil Liberties Union sued for disclosure. Under the US Freedom of Information Act, the federal court ordered the release of the materials, September, 2005.

theocracywatch.org, "Ohio – 'A battle between the forces of righteousness and the hordes of hell.'"
thecocracywatch.org/ohio.htm.
(last accessed: Sunday, January 07, 2007).

ThinkExist.com, "David Ben-Gurion quotes." ThinkExist.com Quotations:
http://en.thinkexist.com/quotations/we_must_use_terror-assassination-intimidation/346611.html
(last accessed: Sunday, December 24, 2006).

Thompson, Linda. WACO: The Big Lie, a video.
http://video.google.com/videoplay?docid=5369116450757675658
(last accessed: Monday, January 15, 2007).

TomDispatch.

truthout.org.

USA Today.

verifiedvoting.org.

(last accessed: Sunday, January 07, 2007).

Sub Command, a video game.
takeoverworld.info, "Brzezinski and the history of Al-Qaeda."

Index

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>&quot;allowed&quot;</td>
<td>2775</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;American&quot;</td>
<td>919</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;anything&quot;</td>
<td>2970</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;avenge&quot;</td>
<td>2370</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;begat&quot;</td>
<td>1728</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;begets&quot;</td>
<td>2109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;begotten not made&quot;</td>
<td>1955</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;begotten&quot;</td>
<td>1728, 1952, 2109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;bountiful&quot;</td>
<td>84, 92, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;bounty&quot;</td>
<td>38, 897</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;capitalist&quot;</td>
<td>2777</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Chaotic&quot;</td>
<td>3082</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Christ&quot;</td>
<td>2002, 2722</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Christian&quot;</td>
<td>1028, 1867, 2616</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Christianity&quot;</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;church&quot;</td>
<td>2869, 3000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;churl&quot;</td>
<td>84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;climate change&quot;</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;commandment&quot;</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;commercialist&quot;</td>
<td>2777</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;communist&quot;</td>
<td>32, 978</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;communism&quot;</td>
<td>978</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;condemning&quot;</td>
<td>1827</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;confide&quot;</td>
<td>1058</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Conservative Christian&quot;</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;conservative&quot;</td>
<td>17, 135, 1005, 2542</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;conservatives&quot;</td>
<td>2579</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;conspiracy&quot;</td>
<td>1671</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;cool&quot;</td>
<td>899, 2265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;covering&quot;</td>
<td>104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;covetousness&quot;</td>
<td>286</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;creature&quot;</td>
<td>1205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;damn&quot;</td>
<td>2260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;dark&quot;</td>
<td>1908</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;darkness&quot;</td>
<td>1908, 1934</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;day&quot;</td>
<td>1788</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;dead&quot;</td>
<td>1962</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;death tax&quot;</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;defile&quot;</td>
<td>435</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;democracy&quot;</td>
<td>2275</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Development&quot;</td>
<td>2771</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;disease&quot;</td>
<td>1777</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;enterprise&quot;</td>
<td>764</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;establish&quot;</td>
<td>1820</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Eternal Forces&quot;</td>
<td>2265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;evidence&quot;</td>
<td>1751, 2713</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;evil&quot;</td>
<td>15, 2236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Fair and Balanced&quot;</td>
<td>821</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;fat&quot;</td>
<td>38, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Father&quot;</td>
<td>cxiv, 2065</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;fear&quot;</td>
<td>2347, 2965</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;fight&quot;</td>
<td>2085</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;figuratively&quot;</td>
<td>1796</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;fittest&quot;</td>
<td>2880</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;φονεῖν&quot; (kill, slay, murder, avenge) with death)</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;foreign&quot;</td>
<td>226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Term</td>
<td>Frequency</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---------------------------------------</td>
<td>-----------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;perfect&quot;</td>
<td>2967</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;phone&quot; (kill, slay, murder, avenge)</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>with death</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Physical&quot;</td>
<td>1039</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;pilgrim&quot;</td>
<td>2190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;political conservative&quot;</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;preach&quot;</td>
<td>2215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;preaching&quot;</td>
<td>2215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;pride&quot;</td>
<td>1695</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;private&quot;</td>
<td>173</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;proof&quot;</td>
<td>1751</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;psych&quot;</td>
<td>1032</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;psychic&quot;</td>
<td>1032</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;psychology&quot;</td>
<td>1032</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;ratsach&quot; (kill)</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;real&quot;</td>
<td>42, 1119, 1972, 2003, 2146, 2595</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Republic&quot;</td>
<td>745</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;resist&quot;</td>
<td>2130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;respect&quot;</td>
<td>1263</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;right&quot;</td>
<td>2459</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;satanic&quot;</td>
<td>628</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;science&quot;</td>
<td>1750</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;slay&quot;</td>
<td>53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Sleeping&quot;</td>
<td>2709</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;sojourner&quot;</td>
<td>2190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;soul&quot;</td>
<td>1032</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;spirit&quot;</td>
<td>2163</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;spiritually&quot;</td>
<td>1791</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;state&quot;</td>
<td>416</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;strangers&quot;</td>
<td>2190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;substance&quot;</td>
<td>1988</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;suitable&quot;</td>
<td>515, 519</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;supernatural&quot;</td>
<td>2775</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;superstition&quot;</td>
<td>2103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;support&quot;</td>
<td>548</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;terrorist&quot;</td>
<td>1327</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;the church&quot;</td>
<td>2616</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;the talk&quot;</td>
<td>2467</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;toleration&quot;</td>
<td>86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Trinity&quot;</td>
<td>1988</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;truth&quot;</td>
<td>1043, 1790</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Un-American&quot;</td>
<td>130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;vested interest&quot;</td>
<td>1568</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;vile&quot;</td>
<td>84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;virgin&quot;</td>
<td>1989</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;war&quot;</td>
<td>952</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;watered&quot;</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;watereth&quot;</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;waters&quot;</td>
<td>1934</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;way&quot;</td>
<td>1790</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;world&quot;</td>
<td>434, 998, 1701, 1997, 2044</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;יַרֵד&quot; (kill)</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;zealous&quot;</td>
<td>1896</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Zeus&quot;</td>
<td>2690</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;יִשְׂרָאֵל&quot; (Jesus Christ)</td>
<td>2002</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1200 baud rate</td>
<td>649</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18+ Movies</td>
<td>673</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1930's</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1940's</td>
<td>616, 616</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1948 War</td>
<td>1596</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1950's</td>
<td>1596</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1950's.648, 1379, 2144, 2259, 2260, 2466, 2887, 2963</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1960's.113, 114, 260, 400, 663, 949, 1499, 2466, 2759, 2906</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1967 border</td>
<td>1442</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1967 War</td>
<td>789</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1970's</td>
<td>789</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1970's.282, 581, 604, 648, 1376, 1379, 1412, 1649, 1794</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Term</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-----------------------------------------</td>
<td>--------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1980's</td>
<td>260, 277, 606, 649, 730</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>200 cycles per second (brain wave spike)</td>
<td>3020</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2006 midterm elections</td>
<td>1887</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>21st century Hitler</td>
<td>1615</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-11</td>
<td>567</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>401K plans</td>
<td>183</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>700 Club</td>
<td>839, 843</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a little knowledge is a dangerous thing</td>
<td>1623, 2060</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aaron (the older brother of Moses)</td>
<td>1775</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abaddon</td>
<td>88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abandoned facilities</td>
<td>1484</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ABC News</td>
<td>1339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abednego</td>
<td>2683</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abel, 21, 510, 631, 1075, 1758, 2532</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>able poverty</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>able poverty</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>able poverty</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abolition Movement</td>
<td>1563</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abolitionists</td>
<td>1563</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abomination</td>
<td>524, 551, 784, 808, 1003, 1223, 1273, 1275, 1401, 1409, 1763, 1894, 2223, 2226, 2272, 2301, 2871, 2877</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortion</td>
<td>1341, 1564, 2230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortion</td>
<td>1200, 1720, 2022, 2035, 2366, 2495, 2930, 2971, 2973, 2975, 2977</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abortion</td>
<td>2031, 2972, 2975</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortion-on-demand</td>
<td>2501</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortions</td>
<td>207, 1720, 2974</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortions-on-demand</td>
<td>207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abramoff, Jack</td>
<td>845, 1219, 1221, 1224, 1226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abramoff-Reed Indian Gambling Scandal</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abrams, Elliott</td>
<td>1871</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>absentee ballots</td>
<td>579</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortion</td>
<td>1341, 1564, 2230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortion</td>
<td>1200, 1720, 2022, 2035, 2366, 2495, 2930, 2971, 2973, 2975, 2977</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abortion</td>
<td>2031, 2972, 2975</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortion-on-demand</td>
<td>2501</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortions</td>
<td>207, 1720, 2974</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abortions-on-demand</td>
<td>207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abramoff, Jack</td>
<td>845, 1219, 1221, 1224, 1226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abramoff-Reed Indian Gambling Scandal</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abrams, Elliott</td>
<td>1871</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>absentee ballots</td>
<td>579</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
according to their works 1111, 1266, 1566, 2246 accountability. 391, 462, 1200, 1914, 2012, 2703, 2864, 2893 accountable 342, 552, 888, 895, 960, 1448, 1511, 1778 accumulation 47, 84, 173, 450, 1006, 1163, 1714, 1947, 2847, 2853 achievement tests ........................ 1657 acid rain ........................................ 355 acknowledge ...... cxxv, 65, 373, 582, 932, 1055, 1210, 1662, 1717, 1764, 1885, 1959, 1961, 2078, 2084, 2155, 2341, 3055 acknowledgements .......... cxxv acquisition 83, 84, 1006, 1714, 1947 acquisitions ......................... 242 actionable intelligence .......... 2492
Active Denial Technology weapon
.............................................. 1371 activism ...................................... 1431 activist ...................... 1431, 1457, 2627
Acton, John ................. 2018
actor ........................................... 1541, 1775
Adam 487, 1851, 2129, 3054, 3058
Adamic ........................................ 1620
Adams, John ................................. 1765 addict 540, 1092, 1533, 2023, 2385, 2749 addicted to oil ............................. 1194 addiction .............. 117, 263, 1175, 2158, 2267, 2567, 2759, 2875, 2928, 3022, 3050 addiction, video-game ........ 2267 addictions .............. 118, 345, 1260, 2549, 2983 addictive 268, 346, 1173, 1390, 2567, 2928
Addington, David .......... 812
Adelman, Kenneth ....... 1871
Adjournment in Contemplation of Dismissal .......... 329 Administrative subpoena powers
.............................................. 126 adolescent .............................. 2057, 2059 adolescents .... 601, 2383, 2466, 2957
Adolph Coors Foundation ...... 1167
Adon ........................................... 3069
Adonai ........................................ 2000, 3069 adopteec ................................. 1852 adoptive doctrine ................. 1987 adoptive parents ............... 2970 adulterers .... 1533, 2933, 2934, 2945
adulteress ....... 502, 1264, 1688, 1779, 1845, 2112, 2123, 2936
Adultery ......................... 2499
adults ...... 309, 318, 602, 606, 647, 679, 1504, 1642, 1841, 1860, 1910, 2202, 2271, 2281, 2283, 2293, 2324, 2383, 2466, 2468, 2548, 3003, 3024, 3050 adversarial system .......... 333, 2269
advertisers ................. 664
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Pages</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>advertising</td>
<td>252, 548, 576, 709, 712, 752, 975, 983, 1095, 1345, 1685, 2981</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Advisory Committee on Human Radiation Experiments (ACHRE)</td>
<td>1376</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aco</td>
<td>2702</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aesop</td>
<td>1991</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Æthelfrith, king of Northumbria</td>
<td>1966</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affectation</td>
<td>1818, 2921</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affiliate commissions</td>
<td>2840</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affiliate links</td>
<td>2840</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affirmative action</td>
<td>1572, 1947</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affliction</td>
<td>2311, 2873, 3012, 3036</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Afghanistan</td>
<td>245, 282, 284, 497, 518, 562, 564, 567, 571, 575, 729, 837, 839, 873, 878, 923, 924, 941, 963, 966, 1087, 1153, 1339, 1413, 1548, 1628, 1879, 2035, 2761</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Africa</td>
<td>370, 464, 648, 1450, 1543, 2763</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African</td>
<td>1332, 1418</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African oil</td>
<td>262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African slaves</td>
<td>953</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African Union</td>
<td>865</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African-American</td>
<td>1864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Africans</td>
<td>1341, 1543</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aftereffects</td>
<td>2759, 2857</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ag Processing, Inc</td>
<td>1167</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Agent Orange</td>
<td>1104, 1413, 1415</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>agents provocateur</td>
<td>793</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aggregate</td>
<td>104, 126, 154, 348, 401, 561, 1149, 1349, 1532, 1656, 1658, 1736, 1777, 1791, 2022, 2724, 2727, 2770, 2983</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aggregate feelings</td>
<td>747</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aggression</td>
<td>509, 836, 895, 940, 1358, 1367, 1553, 1876, 2767, 2774, 2775</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>aggressive</td>
<td>236, 564, 618, 662, 718, 1176, 1193, 1350, 1358, 2009</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2571, 2753, 2774, 2887, 2904, 3018</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>agitator</td>
<td>2891</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Agiza, Ahmad</td>
<td>943</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>agnostic</td>
<td>979, 1490, 2040</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>agoraphobia</td>
<td>2906</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>agribusinesses</td>
<td>1098, 1105, 1106, 1458</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>agriculture</td>
<td>308, 441, 1099, 1147, 1209, 1602, 2474, 2799, 2806, 3144</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Agro</td>
<td>2693</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aguas Argentinas</td>
<td>1485</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Agudath Israel</td>
<td>1596</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ahab</td>
<td>1081, 1135, 2306, 2307, 2308, 2358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ahimsa</td>
<td>1932</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ahimsa</td>
<td>1944</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ahmad, Mahmoud</td>
<td>393</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ahmadinejad</td>
<td>710, 1447</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ahmadinejad, Mahmoud</td>
<td>785, 814, 815, 816, 817, 819, 820, 831, 832, 1610, 1614</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> aid and comfort (to the enemy) 380, 1511, 1678 aiding and abetting the enemy 1514
AIPAC 463, 1610, 1618, 1632, 1647, 3143
AIPAC (American Israel Public Affairs Committee) 1610
AIPAC Espionage Scandal 1632
Air America 650
Air Force bases 401
Air Traffic Controllers 319
Airbus Industries 1536
aircraft carriers 401, 536
Aisha 2058
ἀϊνίγ (leather wine bag) 1011
AK-47 (assault rifle) 1879
Al Aqsa Mosque 475, 476, 1592
al Hajj, Sami 1087
Al Jazeera 376, 564, 567, 1086, 1087, 1089
Al Jazeera, bombing of 565, 1087
al Qaeda 299, 387, 390, 393, 394, 422, 464, 499, 518, 522, 535, 552, 562, 563, 564, 567, 570, 571, 572, 615, 618, 638, 668, 697, 737, 871, 877, 878, 899, 900, 903, 938, 1089, 1419, 1450, 1538, 1540, 1553, 1554, 1894, 2087, 2461
Al Qaeda 422
al Qaeda links 570
al Qibtiyya, Maria 2058
al Zahry, Muhammad 943 Alabama 580, 809, 1325
al-Adawiyya, Rabia 2094
Alamo 288
alarm company 129
alarm system 1526
Alaska 1184
Albania 1153
Alberta 437
alchemists 1949
alchemy 1487
alcohol (consumption) 2978
alcohol consumption, unrestrained 2781
Alcoholic beverages 339
alcoholics 2935
Alcolac International 2935
Al-Dujail 2224
Aleph and Tav 3070
Alexander (the Great) 629
Alexander the Great 1075, 1081, 1772, 2672
Alexandrian Greek 2672
algae blooms 2800
Alito, Samuel 812, 959
Allah 379, 901, 1183, 2034, 2057, 2064, 2065, 2067, 2080, 2081, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2094, 2105
Allan Memorial Institute 1343 allegorical 1713, 1757, 1785, 1789 allegories 1728, 1796
allegory 539
allegory of the cave 916
Allende, Salvador 205, 206, 215, 230
All-India Widows and Destitute Women's Movement 1099
allodial title 2739, 2740
Allouni, Taysir ............................ 567
All's fair in love and war ............. 2478
all's fair in war .......................... 790, 964 all-seeing human eye ................. 122 all-suffering ......................... 1916 allegation .......................... 1210, 1791 allusions, number ..................... 2608 all-volunteer military ................. 574 almah (young woman) .................. 1989
aloof .................................. 1002, 1316, 2703
Alpha and Omega ..................... 156, 1016, 3070 altered state of consciousness ....... 1950 alternative lifestyle .................... 703, 2466, 2939 alternative media ...................... 902 alternative sexual lifestyles ......... 2373 altruism ............................ 2880, 3040 altruistic ................................ 254, 260, 413, 1685, 2195, 2831, 3040, 3041 aluminum tubes ........................ 514, 515, 519, 571, 669
Alvarez Martínez, Gustavo .......... 1439
Amazon rainforest .................... 412, 1176, 1483 ambassador to the United Nations .......................... 568 Ambient Intelligence Society ........ 1530 ambient noise, artificial .............. 680
ambiguities .......................... 539 ambiguity ........................... 504, 1293, 2597 ambiguous ........................... 339, 926, 1690, 2630
ameliorating ........................ 314, 456 American Association of Retired
Persons (AARP) ....................... 1622
American buffalo ..................... 412
American Civil Liberties Union .... 692, 930, 968, 1402, 3145
American colonists .................... 1257
American Conservative Union
Foundation ........................... 804, 807
American culture ..................... 701, 1718
American Cyanamid ................... 1167
American Dream ...................... 9, 651, 696, 760, 1311, 1699, 1700, 1701, 1702, 1707, 1711, 1714, 1953, 1954
American Enterprise Institute ...... 464, 465, 471, 554, 1166, 1618, 1871, 1872
American exceptionalism .......... 573, 1328
American Exceptionalism ........... 874
American flag ........................ 2495, 3047
American Indians .................... 292
American Israel Public Affairs Committee .......................... 491, 1610, 1632
American Jewish Committee ....... 1872
American Liberty League .......... 185
American lifestyle .................... 351, 370
American Medical Association .... 580, 2494
American Petroleum Institute .. 267
American taxpayers ................... 186
American Type Culture Collection .......................... 594
American voters ..................... 186, 519
Americanism ........................ 603, 918, 919, 1686, 2495
Americanization .................... 320, 363, 651
anti-Christ ..................................2470
Antichrist...482, 483, 652, 654, 744,
808, 1088, 1229, 1373, 1443, 1725, 1814, 1898, 2160, 2309, 2417, 2429, 2432, 2433, 2456, 2946 antichrists..........347, 674, 813, 1830
anticommunism...........1065 anti-Communist.........181, 1867 anti-democracy art ......544 anti-democratic arts ...544 anti-democratic...........389, 390 anti-divine law.........2470 anti-doubt......................2927 anti-Empire.....................292, 804 anti-English...............311 anti-environmentalism...950, 1189 anti-environmentalist....94, 1545 anti-establishment 538, 539, 540, 542 anti-fascists ..............695, 792 antifeminism...............1296
Antifeminism ..............1974
anti-Gentile...................1652 anti-God.......................1628, 2299
anti-Hebrew...............1615 anti-Israel....................108, 656 anti-Islam...............654, 1651 anti-Jesus...............656, 1721, 2170 anti-Jewish ............311, 1629, 1650 anti-liberty...............1515 anti-missile missiles ....362 anti-Mohammed............2043
anti-Muslim...............2043
anti-neocon...............1634
antinomianism...........505, 2378, 2458, 2470, 2472
Antinomianism...........2378, 2379
antinomians..............2378, 2379
Antiochus IV Epiphanes.785, 1075, 1655, 2669, 2711
Antipas, Herod...........333, 1263
anti-real liberal.........1154, 2486 anti-Roman..................945 anti-Satan.....................655 anti-satanic...............655 anti-science................2927 anti-selfishness...........2927 anti-Semitism.............1319, 1582, 1898, 1901
anti-Semitism...............1577, 1582
anti-Semites........588, 861, 913, 914, 1576, 1584, 1615, 1618, 1621,
1629, 1896, 1897, 1902, 2165, 2427, 2964
anti-Semitism.............486, 912, 914, 917, 918, 1576, 1581, 1590, 1604,
1610, 1634, 1864, 1895
Anti-Semitism..............1582 anti-social...........121, 123, 2287
Anti-Social Behavior Order...120 appearances...... 110, 590, 928, 1312, 1335, 1405, 1577, 1887, 3074, 3081 appeasement.............. 1317, 1563 appeasing..................... 1317, 1930 appetites...... 85, 117, 278, 983, 1017, 1172, 1199, 1354, 1686, 1818, 1981, 2013, 2022, 2026, 2028, 2069, 2199, 2259, 2310, 2328, 2358, 2385, 2387, 2549, 2555, 2563, 2568, 2632, 2677, 2727, 2781, 2824, 2842, 2976, 2978, 2979 appliances............................ 356, 1197 appreciation1040, 1174, 1908, 1913, 2065, 2182, 2348, 2415, 3087 appreciative.......................... 2753 apprehend.... 1040, 1208, 2103, 2713 apprehended............. 1040, 1674, 2201 appropriate technologies........... 2771 appropriation.......................... 2808
Aquinas, Thomas.1704, 1807, 1810, 1811, 1830
Aquino, Michael 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 666, 668, 671, 674, 675, 676, 884, 901
Arab 497, 669, 768, 803, 1579, 1589, 1592, 1596, 1597, 1602, 1648, 2050, 2057, 2089, 2090, 2461
Arab (descent)................... 791
Arabic........ 1926, 2064, 2065, 2189
Arabs. 202, 264, 422, 484, 635, 669, 776, 790, 791, 815, 829, 847, 854, 899, 914, 916, 1318, 1442, 1564, 1578, 1579, 1583, 1588, 1589, 1592, 1596, 1599, 1600, 1601, 1619, 1627, 1628, 1664, 2038, 2042, 2049, 2050, 2054, 2057, 2080, 2088, 2089, 2143, 2462, 2465, 2888
Aramaic........ 2305, 2682, 2707
Arar, Maher...................... 938
Aratus................................. 2688, 2689
Arbenz [Jacobo Arbenz Guzmán ("Arbenz")]}...................... 737 arch nemesis...................... 675 archaic.......................... 1070, 2597, 2602 archangel....................... 2096, 2414 archbishop of Canterbury........ 1965 archconservative............. 527, 1867 archeological................... 1387, 2675 Archer Daniels Midland Company
........................................ 1167, 2779 architect................... 1424, 1712, 2014 Arctic National Wildlife Refuge
(ANWR)................................. 1184
Argentina170, 316, 464, 1108, 1226, 1456, 1478, 1484, 1485, 1486, 1487, 1488
Argentineans..................... 1486 argumentativeness................... 1662 arianism...................... 1952, 1987
Aristide, Jean-Bertrand..... 864, 1464 aristocracy........................ 1717 aristocrat wannabes........... 1256 aristocrats........ 338, 1117, 1121, 1256, 1316
Aristotelianism.............. 1704, 1830
Arizona.............................. 393
Ark of the Covenant: 489, 2192
Arkansas: 584, 1436
Arlington: 1438
Armageddon: 472, 1995
Armed Services Committee, US Senate: 2491
Arminianism: 505
Arminianism: 506
Armitage, Richard: 500
Arms Control and Disarmament Agency: 1871 arms of the galaxy: 2205
army corps of engineers: 1404
Army Corps of Engineers: 1426
Army's Infantry School: 1396
Art: 2670
Art form: 1249
Arthur Anderson: 1438
ARTICHOKE: 1373
article of faith: 2174
Artificial intelligence: 124, 1883
Artificial life-support systems: 2929
Artistic license: 2838
As above, so below: 3093
Asbo: 120
Ascend: 1977, 2433, 2925
Ascendancy: 383, 948, 1544, 3030
Asceitic: 428, 1799, 2094, 2564
Asceticism: 1013, 2094
Asclepius: 2302
Ashcroft, John: 796, 803, 1384, 1402, 1556
Ashkenazi: 847, 1578, 1632, 1656, 1658, 1659
Ashkenazi Jews: 1578
Asia: 464, 490, 2190
Asia Tigers: 1130
Asklepios: 2303
Aske (leather wine bag): 1011
Asquith, Herbert Henry: 1320
Assassin: 1470, 1587
Assassinate: 236, 839, 841, 903, 1263
Assassinated: 522, 591, 966, 1415, 1527 Assassination: 839, 840, 841, 842, 1221 assassination of president John F. Kennedy.................................1469 assassinations.........464, 650, 809, 962, 1439 assassins...............605, 634, 841
Assemblies of God......................850 asset acquisition ......................1006 assimilated........1565, 1581, 1710, 1966, 2692
assistant secretary of state for Western Hemisphere Affairs .................................1464 associate director of the FBI..................1398
Assyria........................2188, 2189
Assyrian .........................2189, 2198
Assyrian Empire...............2189
Assyrians....157, 1388, 1665, 1682, 2189
Astarte.................................2306 asteroid impacts ..............1208 astray .......64, 97, 103, 117, 162, 206, 224, 274, 501, 541, 560, 840, 885, 1007, 1092, 1093, 1220, 1227, 1231, 1242, 1284, 1292, 1310, 1365, 1367, 1377, 1388, 1608, 1609, 1629, 1707, 1708, 1735, 1773, 1782, 1796, 1808, 1909, 1924, 1928, 1962, 2021, 2022, 2031, 2069, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2104, 2127, 2139, 2145, 2179, 2206, 2213, 2216, 2217, 2239, 2250, 2257, 2259, 2261, 2264, 2268, 2285, 2286, 2295, 2306, 2307, 2310, 2311, 2357, 2360, 2361, 2369, 2370, 2373, 2382, 2399, 2431, 2470, 2497, 2505, 2506, 2523, 2537, 2572, 2615, 2650, 2749, 2751, 2753, 2804, 2859, 2863, 2950, 2957, 2995, 3001, 3056, 3058, 3060, 3077 astrologer .................1543 astrologers ................1542 astrological charts .............1543 astrology ......................2203, 2207 asylum (insane) .................643 asymmetrical warfare...........299
AT&T............683, 909
atavistic..................2042
atheism........144, 317, 359, 1725, 1762, 1912, 1913, 2017, 2371
Atheism............1912, 2030
atheist........445, 549, 979, 1747, 1859, 1913 atheistic........1041, 1042, 1749, 1894, 2746, 3062 atheistic scientists.........1042
atheists687, 1040, 1711, 1724, 1748, 1750, 1754, 1830, 1894, 1952, 3010
Athenian ...............1861
Athens.....................1860
Atlanta..........................730
Atlantic (Ocean).................2090
Aman..............1918, 1922, 1943 atomic weapons.............1324
atone....206, 210, 228, 380, 550, 557, 631, 816, 1063, 1088, 1508, 1588, 1637, 1638, 1655, 1923, 1947, 2042, 2220, 2242, 2255, 2384, 2540, 2587, 2646, 2716, 2852, 2887, 2935, 3107
atoned..........72, 219, 341, 1063, 1849, 2118, 2314, 2344, 2377
at-one-ment......................2417
Atonement......................2588
aton ing..................410, 788, 1064, 1089, 1165, 1317, 1344, 1976, 2118, 2416, 2556, 2559, 2588, 2633, 2706, 2966, 3056 atrocities......189, 211, 214, 375, 382, 384, 385, 459, 626, 758, 971, 1374, 1375, 1415, 1439, 1511, 1564, 1591, 1592, 1844, 1903, 2328, 3003 Arta, Mohamed...393, 876, 877, 899 attention deficit disorder.......2390 attention span, short.........2390
Attila the Hun...................1772
Attis.........................2196
attorney general of the US.....929 attractive nuisance............1397 attributes........1760, 1918, 1922, 1924, 2001, 2003, 2095, 2105, 2203, 2206, 2309
Arwater, Lee...............1424
AUC..............................1480 audio...........634, 793, 911, 1087, 1370, 1522 auditory hallucinations.....2900, 2901
Augustine......424, 1704, 1799, 1807, 1808, 1811, 1830
Augustinianism...............1802 Auschwitz...............658, 1344
austerity.......................2670
Australia...............282, 283, 1319
Australian Defence Force (ADF).............283
Austria...............1316, 1580
Austrian......................859
Austrian (School of economic thought).....169, 1115, 1142, 1143
Austrian Jew.............1580
Austrian-Chicago........1146
Austrians......................2962 authenticity..............62, 2633, 2672 author sin...............505 authoritarian........1844, 2096, 2374, 2447, 2484, 2916
Authorized Version........cxiii
Autodefensas Unidas de Colombia (AUC).....1480 natural reflects response.....2935 automobiles..............................2756 autonomous.........................65, 1125, 1126, 1883, 2500, 2640 autonomy...............................276, 1125 auto-toxic..............................3093
avatar....................................1931
Avatars..................................1919
avenger 53, 54, 190, 201, 1246, 1248, 1524, 1709, 2087, 2112, 2369, 2370, 2441, 2512
avenging angel.......................396, 2948
avenging angels..........1944, 2421, 2450, 2947
Avestan.................................1925 avoiding the debate...............862
Awad, Hashim Ibrahim..............1879
Axel Electronics, Inc..............594
axiom..................................2716
Axis of Evil...........................738
Azazel (Satan).........................2657
Aztecs.................................2962
Baal..........................1080, 1081, 2306
Babel..................................1710
Babri Mosque..........................1931 baby killers............................550
Babylonian..................73, 74, 158, 489, 1614, 1710, 1711, 1962, 1971, 2018, 2198, 2280, 2428, 2436, 2674
Babylonian diaspora...............158
Babylonian exile....................73
Babylonian Jews.....................74
Babylonian-empire-spirit syndrome
................................2428
Babylonians.........................1682
Bachelet, Michelle...............1490
backdoors................................1537 Backes, Ernest.........................2477 backfiring.............................917 backlash..................113, 137, 188, 192, 366, 397, 538, 540, 620, 622, 745, 1535, 1650, 1726, 1819, 1906, 1925, 2504 backslide..................8, 24, 2008, 2255, 2530, 2540, 2852, 2863, 2910
backsliders.........................274, 2393
Backsliders.........................2796, 2797
backsliding........22, 24, 1208, 1769, 2257, 2296, 2394, 2863, 3012 backward revolution.............397, 400 bacteria696, 1578, 1660, 2023, 3013 bacterial resistance..............1104 bad manners..........................1368 bad plan................................1885 bad planning.........................1885, 1888 badge of honor......................2075, 2270
Badr Brigade.........................2033
Badr Organization.................2032
Bagdikian, Ben.....................243, 3136
Baghdad..................373, 462, 472, 571, 588, 589, 711, 754, 779, 829, 839, 841, 868, 906, 920, 938, 1213, 1423, 1863, 2340
Baghdad International Airport..230
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bagram Airbase</td>
<td>575</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baha'i Faith</td>
<td>328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bahamas</td>
<td>648</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bahauallah</td>
<td>327</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bailout (economic)</td>
<td>1137</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bailouts (economic)</td>
<td>1130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bait</td>
<td>535, 619, 784, 832, 1998</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bait and switch</td>
<td>784</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baiting</td>
<td>535</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baker, James</td>
<td>1647</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bakker, Jim</td>
<td>850</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bakr, Abu</td>
<td>2058</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Balad, Iraq</td>
<td>1414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>balance</td>
<td>89, 175, 1027, 1077, 1173, 1206, 1369, 2524, 2738, 2747, 2752, 2756, 2819, 2918, 3025</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>balance of power</td>
<td>776, 1077, 1567, 1648, 1877, 2225, 2340</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Balkans</td>
<td>1404</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ballpark at Arlington</td>
<td>1438</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Banca Nazionale del Lavoro (BNL)</td>
<td>730</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>band aids</td>
<td>1531</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bangladesh</td>
<td>1393, 1932, 2599</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bank for International Settlements</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bank of England</td>
<td>2477</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bankers</td>
<td>1440</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bankers (international)</td>
<td>1408</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bankers, investment</td>
<td>1410</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bankers, Jewish international</td>
<td>1650</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>banking hub</td>
<td>1139</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>banking regulation</td>
<td>1572</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>banking secrecy</td>
<td>2479</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bankruptcy</td>
<td>110, 1098, 1101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bankruptcy reorganization</td>
<td>183</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bantustans</td>
<td>1543</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baptism with fire</td>
<td>1000, 2866, 3077</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baptism, believer's</td>
<td>3077</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baptism, infant</td>
<td>2643, 3077</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baptism, second</td>
<td>2643</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baptize 61, 62, 67, 1000, 2643, 2866, 3077</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3165</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bar Giora (militant Jewish immigrants)</td>
<td>1583, 1585, 1586</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bar Giora, Simeon</td>
<td>1583</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bar Kokba</td>
<td>328, 1586</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>barbaric</td>
<td>175, 922, 938</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>barbarism</td>
<td>127, 973, 2288</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>barcodes</td>
<td>1530</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bar nadab</td>
<td>59, 3089, 3096</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barnes, Ben</td>
<td>1427</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>barometer</td>
<td>305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>baronage</td>
<td>2103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>barriers</td>
<td>776, 872, 1463, 1513, 1868, 1884, 2099, 2352, 2359, 2533, 2541, 2545, 2775, 3011, 3012</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barter</td>
<td>1231</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barth, Karl</td>
<td>2375</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bartholow, Bruce</td>
<td>2267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>basket case</td>
<td>283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Basra, Iraq</td>
<td>2094</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bathing</td>
<td>3099</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
BGH ............................................. 1103
Bhagavat ....................................... 1917
Bhakti ............................................ 1943
Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) (Indian People's Party) ...................... 1930
Bhopal, India (disaster) ............ 1684
Bible Belt ............................. 1214, 3047
Bible colleges .................. 2463, 2789
Bible Literacy Project .......... 1822
Biblical .... 3, 75, 93, 100, 475, 1094, 1787, 1917, 1923, 1930, 1948,
2303, 2435, 2490, 2755
Biblical inerrancy .... 1786, 1789, 2500
BIC Corporation ..................... 1191
Bicycles..................................... 2755
Big Brother 124, 407, 408, 409, 622, 662, 691, 805, 1130, 1528, 1534, 1559, 3144
Big business ...... 347, 728, 950, 1196
Big government ...................... 347 big lie ...... 32, 391, 472, 576, 588, 713, 829, 929, 1377, 1450, 1454,
1498, 1503, 1507, 1559, 1862,
1865, 1889, 1902, 1927, 1929,
1967, 1968, 2144, 2326, 2454, 2696 big picture ...... 26, 33, 93, 353, 1503, 2293, 2389, 2391, 2694, 2874, 3064, 3102
big stick ................................. 1332 big-box retailers .............. 1132
big-business .... 388, 633, 1154, 2474 biggest crime in history ......... 387 bigotry ...... 1316, 1325, 1327, 1764, 1827, 1897, 1928, 2323
Bigotry ...................................... 1826
bigotry, religious .......... 100, 2043
Bigwood, Jeremy .................. 1448
Bilderberg Group .................. 1168 bilk ....................................... 1222 billboards ....................... 2261 billionaires .................. 255, 2410 bin Laden family ............. 2461
bin Laden, Osama ...... 378, 567, 571, 572, 729, 801, 903, 1086, 1089, 1327, 2087, 2094, 2095
bin Mahfouz, Khalid .... 1436
bint Huyayy, Safiya .......... 2059 biochemistry .................. 1756 biodiesel ......................... 2781 biodiversity ..................... 914 biological warfare ......... 1323
biological weapons .......... 571
biological-weapons ........ 1669
biologists ....................... 1041 biology ..................... 546, 1043 biomarkers ................... 1232 biomass ......................... 2811 biometric scanners ........ 1506
biometric-identification technologies .................. 1531
biometrics ..................... 1232 bionics ....................... 1509 biosphere ...... 276, 681, 1186, 1190 biotechnologies ........ 1487 biotechnology .............. 1103 birds of prey ................... 2340
Birmingham ..................... 1325 birth control .................. 2727 birth defects ............... 368, 746, 1413 birth marks .................. 1232 birth order .... 178, 1947, 2096, 2158, 2193, 3067, 3070 birth pangs ....................... 2977
birthright .... 152, 158, 2052, 2185, 2187, 2188, 2192 biscuits ............................ 665, 674
Behavioral Science Consultation Teams (BSCT) ............... 665, 674 bisexual ................. 153, 2944, 2967 bi-sexual rapists .......... 2970
bisexuality ......................... 2502 bishop .. 1036, 1240, 1844, 1965, 2615, 2631, 2632, 2702, 2833 bishop of Hippo ............... 425 Bismarck, Otto von ........... 385 bitch .......................... 2766 bitches .......................... 2764
Black African .................. 1577
Black African Christians .. 1932
black Africans .................. 2763
Black Africans ............... 1325, 1628
Black Box Voting ............. 2487
Black Budget .... 461, 462, 640, 693, 1559 black communities .......... 2762
black everyday, wearing nothing but ........................................ 1354
Black Jack (Missouri) ........ 416
black listing ....................... 527, 1378
black magic ....................... 658
black market .... 336, 576, 1130, 1403
Black Panther Party ......... 2761
black people ............. 1319, 1649, 2760 black shirts ....................... 443 black sites .... 127, 500, 682, 697, 717, 902 black stone, the .......... 2063, 2064
Black-African ................... 807 black-box recorders ......... 1531 blackjacks ......................... 937
blacklisting ........................ 725 blackmail .... 601, 633, 634, 734, 860, 1339, 1450
black-market ................. 640, 2480
blacks .... 580, 746, 812, 1325, 1417, 2480, 2485, 2760
Blacks .......................... 1628
Blackwater Security Consulting 377
Blair government .... 119, 120, 124, 590, 779, 782, 832, 834
Blair, Tony .... 119, 122, 125, 289, 572, 779, 780, 781, 783, 831, 936, 956, 1086, 1090, 1941, 1951, 1952, 2115, 2116, 2126, 2127, 2310, 2426 blameworthy ........................ 2866, 3056, 3058, 3059 blaming America first ........ 2330 blaming others ............... 2892, 3056 blaspheming ........ 685, 1182, 1837, 1999, 2910
blasphemy ........ 130, 132, 439, 440, 473, 675, 853, 1030, 1046, 1694, 1719, 1791, 1792, 1836, 1842, 1899, 1957, 2120, 2126, 2310, 2426
Blasphemy....................................2499
blatant 298, 495, 517, 728, 743, 829, 841, 928, 1215, 1311, 1377, 1499, 1536, 1562, 1864, 2068, 2299, 2650, 3048 bleeding hearts .........................180 blessed ....8, 14, 39, 45, 46, 349, 452, 975, 1003, 1020, 1069, 1237, 1258, 1311, 1385, 1522, 1654, 1683, 1699, 1714, 1739, 1838, 1942, 1956, 1982, 2119, 2162, 2177, 2185, 2187, 2216, 2432, 2596, 2617, 2790, 2792, 2856, 3068, 3069 blessing homosexual relationships ..................................................1222 blind eye ....................................897
Blix, Hans ..............................593, 594
Blogs ........................................298 blood in his eyes ......................2824
blood money ............................596, 2263 blood ritual ..............................647 blood, spilling .........................1354
bloodbath ..............................813, 822, 2948 bloodlust 488, 960, 973, 1065, 2041, 2064, 2497
bloodthirsty ............................1357 bloody hands .........................509, 1388
Blowback ....................................718
Blue Blood ..................................1648
Blue Dog Coalition ....................1565 BLUEBIRD ............................1373 blur ..........................34, 54, 2262, 3011
Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve ..............................1433 boardrooms ..........................389, 1131, 1133, 1157 boast ....860, 892, 2220, 2407, 2439, 2920 boasting ..........................9, 1843, 2213, 2220, 2270, 2517
Bob Jones University ...............845 body bags ...............................543 body counts ............................973 body language ........................1351, 2539 body parts, illicit trade in executed-prisoner's ..........................359 body piercing ............................1351 body piercings ........................1017, 1018, 1232, 1353, 1354
Boeing ....................................245 Boer War .................................127 boisterous ..........................2350, 2967
Bolivarian Alternative for the Americas (ALBA) ................1458
Bolivarian Circles ..................1457
Bolivarian Revolution .................1455
Bolivia ..........................567, 626, 1097, 1098, 1105, 1106, 1107, 1108, 1109, 1113, 1116, 1153, 1158, 1163, 1485
Bolivian......1097, 1098, 1107, 1108, 1109, 2273
Bolivian Indians..........................1105
Bolshevik.....977, 1434, 1524, 1894, 2404
Bolsheviks.142, 143, 442, 977, 1650
Bolshevism.................................1569, 2404
Bolton, John......298, 370, 371, 568, 569, 780, 1610, 1611, 1612, 1613, 1615 bombing .......210, 376, 384, 565, 567, 626, 635, 669, 754, 783, 833, 837, 841, 882, 953, 1087, 1089, 1449, 1589, 1660, 1870, 3046 bondservitude...............................953 bonding..................1093, 2803, 2950
bondservants.....................1768, 2353 boogeyman.................................1768 boogiemen, new.........................971 book-signing tours......................2839
boom and bust ......1102, 1131, 1409 booms............................389, 1409 boonies.................................2011 borders......400, 501, 776, 864, 1366, 1596, 1616, 1624, 1652, 1932, 2914 borders, secure..........................399
born again........81, 470, 1011, 1057, 1058, 1223, 1239, 1846, 1850, 1895, 2019, 2114, 2397, 2495, 2585, 2657, 2942
born-again...............861, 1436
Bosnia.................................1153 bosses.307, 308, 310, 320, 343, 544, 1135, 1142, 1456, 1457, 1473, 2736, 2745
bottlenecks.........................181 bottom trawling.........................1179 botulism.................................571 botulism toxin.........................734 bourgeoisie.......................204, 1568
bovine growth hormone,
recombinant ........................1103
Bovine spongiform encephalopathy
........................................2566
Boxer, Barbara........................1879 boycott.................................1093, 1487
Boykin, William G.................2491
Boys Town.......599, 601, 602, 604
Bradley Foundation..............1167
Brahman ....1918, 1919, 1922, 1926, 1936, 1943, 2690
Brahman class......................1926 brain damage.........................2898 brain matter.642, 1028, 1029, 1230, 1355, 1608, 1884, 2013, 2792, 2901 brains1369, 1516, 1884, 2030, 2166, 2969, 3042, 3045, 3048 brainwash.............................695, 824 brainwashed248, 440, 524, 543, 561, 603, 634, 671, 731, 827, 900, 1024, 1396, 1467, 1470, 1907, 2074, 2079, 2349, 2495, 3051
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>busybody</td>
<td>2537</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Butler, Smedley</td>
<td>1440, 1448</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Butterfield, Alexander</td>
<td>1394, 1395, 1397</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>buying impulse</td>
<td>709</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Byzantine Empire</td>
<td>1665</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Byzantine text</td>
<td>2836</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cabinetry</td>
<td>2805</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cable</td>
<td>529, 907, 908, 909, 910, 1091, 1093, 1510, 2482</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cacophony</td>
<td>2864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>caesar.</td>
<td>178, 396, 558, 682, 889, 900, 893, 931, 945, 958, 966, 1301, 1522, 1693, 1966, 2131, 2622, 2840, 2848, 2891</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caesar, Julius</td>
<td>396, 629, 808, 934, 966</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caesar area</td>
<td>1680</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caesarism</td>
<td>671</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>caesars</td>
<td>971, 1274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caiaffas</td>
<td>1000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caiaffas, Joseph</td>
<td>130, 131, 333, 1046, 1047, 1263, 1792, 2532, 2725</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cain</td>
<td>1758</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caleb</td>
<td>91, 1938</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>California</td>
<td>1224, 1225, 1226, 1879, 2488</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>California consumers</td>
<td>1224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caligula</td>
<td>1512, 1814</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calio, Nicholas</td>
<td>521</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caliph</td>
<td>2058</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caliphate</td>
<td>2145</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>call-boy operation</td>
<td>634</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calley, William</td>
<td>1413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>calluses</td>
<td>347</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>calm</td>
<td>2884, 3030</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calvin, John</td>
<td>156, 350, 504, 1807, 1816, 1817, 1819, 1830, 2450, 2497, 3075</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calvinism</td>
<td>157, 165, 350, 351, 506, 511, 1804, 1819, 2450, 2905, 3075</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cavalier</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calvinist</td>
<td>154, 157, 349, 1512, 2448, 2455, 2472, 2500, 2922</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calvinistic</td>
<td>2833</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calvinists</td>
<td>153, 154, 351, 513, 534, 2426, 2455, 2456</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cambodia</td>
<td>210, 211, 1153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cambodia, secret bombing of</td>
<td>210</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cambodian</td>
<td>1902</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cambone, Stephen A</td>
<td>2491</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camel Jockeys</td>
<td>898</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cameron, Carlo</td>
<td>463</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cameron, D. Ewen</td>
<td>708</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cameron, Ewen</td>
<td>1343, 1470</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cameroon</td>
<td>1400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camp As Saylijah</td>
<td>755</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camp Bucca (Iraq)</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camp Cropper (Iraq)</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camp Delta</td>
<td>1087</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Camp X-Ray</td>
<td>667, 676, 790, 901, 903, 921, 1087, 1339, 2491, 3146</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>campaign financing</td>
<td>348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>campaign promises</td>
<td>1110, 1482</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>campy</td>
<td>2954</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Term</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------------------</td>
<td>------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Catholic</td>
<td>2832, 2959</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cato Institute</td>
<td>1160, 1448, 1489</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cattle</td>
<td>2562, 2566, 2567, 2782</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caucasus</td>
<td>1926</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Causal chain</td>
<td>2402, 2403, 2792, 2892, 2897, 2898</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Causality</td>
<td>1211, 2023, 2024, 3064</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Causation</td>
<td>1209, 3029</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cause and effect</td>
<td>122, 354, 475, 637, 651, 769, 770, 973, 1292, 2240, 2403, 2651, 2879, 3065</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cause and effect</td>
<td>644</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cautionary</td>
<td>2701</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cave of the Patriarchs massacre</td>
<td>854</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caves into</td>
<td>2298, 2469</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caving into</td>
<td>2240, 2468</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cayman Islands</td>
<td>1406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CBN</td>
<td>857</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CBS Islands</td>
<td>243, 527, 528, 2481</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CBS Evening News</td>
<td>525, 528</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CCA</td>
<td>844</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cedars of Lebanon</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cedel</td>
<td>2477</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Celibacy</td>
<td>1926</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Celibate</td>
<td>1533, 1994, 2680, 2727</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cell churches</td>
<td>2635, 2735</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cell phones</td>
<td>2748</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cell phones</td>
<td>1531</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Celtic</td>
<td>1965, 1966, 2098</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Celtic Christians</td>
<td>1965, 1966</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Celts</td>
<td>2198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Censor</td>
<td>151, 239, 738, 974, 1087, 2257, 2399, 2928</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Censored</td>
<td>124, 185, 202, 311, 329, 357, 573, 583, 592, 598, 623, 740, 910, 917, 1085, 1087, 1093, 1392, 1517, 2021</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Censoring</td>
<td>327, 375, 763, 2056</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Censorship</td>
<td>98, 100, 310, 331, 527, 536, 912, 1091, 1093, 1112, 1120, 1351, 1469, 1857, 2021, 2258, 2282, 2284, 2314, 2398, 2404, 2769</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Censorship</td>
<td>331, 2399</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Censure</td>
<td>496</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CENTCOM</td>
<td>754</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Center of the world</td>
<td>436, 457, 843, 998, 1807, 1852, 2709, 2749, 2948</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Center-left regimes</td>
<td>2205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central America</td>
<td>612, 925, 1116, 1374, 1439, 1443, 1447, 1501, 1503, 1628</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central American</td>
<td>697, 1154, 1158, 1315, 1416, 1440</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central bank</td>
<td>167, 1131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central banking</td>
<td>1130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central banks</td>
<td>388</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central dictatorship</td>
<td>1133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central Intelligence Agency</td>
<td>463, 491, 514, 572, 835, 939, 1169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central planning</td>
<td>1147, 1874</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Centralist</td>
<td>2776</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
3180

Checks and balances ...... 1027, 1386
Cheka................................. 1899
Cheltenham, England......... 1559 chemical weapons...... 373, 571, 575, 591, 836, 1889 chemistry...... 1043, 1756, 1884, 3048
Cheney, Dick...... 290, 387, 390, 391, 496, 517, 661, 714, 744, 886, 899, 925, 943, 944, 1072, 1225, 1404, 1405, 1420, 1421, 1450, 1518, 1881
Chernobyl............................. 1194 Chertoff, Michael........ 790, 803, 812 chess...... 284, 553, 1811, 2450, 2465 chessboard........ 445, 560, 682, 1868, 2450 ChevronTexaco.................... 1450
chic........................................ 1071
Chicago...... 105, 215, 266, 326, 471, 633, 1144, 1146, 1472, 3145
Chicago (School of economic thought) ... 169, 1115, 1142, 1143
Chicago School of economic thought........ 215, 266, 326
chicken coop.............. 1046, 2838
chief of staff of the United States General Services Administration
 .............................................. 1220 child abuse...... 640, 641, 645, 647, 667
child labor.................. 2763
Child labor............... 318
child pornography.............. 647 child sacrifice.............. 2501, 2955
Child unrraliness.............. 2499 childhood cores............... 2763 child labor protection........ 105
Chile...... 205, 215, 230, 232, 592, 730, 864, 1132, 1153, 1334, 1336, 1400, 1478, 1490
Chilean elections.............. 142
Chileans.......................... 1490
China's Internet connectivity..... 1526
Chinese Communist Party 309, 320, 2458
Chinks...................................... 899 chlorofluorocarbons........... 1190
CIA agent, covert..........................1420
CIA analysts..................................557
CIA coup........................................210,650,737
CIA senior intelligence executive brief..................................1448
Ciba-Geigy.....................................1167 cigarette companies..........................346
Cigna.............................................1167
Cincinnati.........................................517 circumcision1800,1843,2191,3089 circumstantial.................568,617,809 circumstantial evidence........517,1519 cisterns..............................................2783
Citibank..........................................2478
Citium..............................................2718 citizenship (instant citizenship applications to foreign mercenaries).................574
City College of New York...........1876 city slickers....................................545 city-dwellers......................................358 civil disobedience........329,533,534,  963,1267,1321,1358,1359,  1687,2342 civil liberties..101,438,1336,1554,  2533 civil rights.........100,115,1544,2260
Civil Rights Commission........579 civil unrest........................................189 civil war........737,1494,2455,2498
Civil War, American.............1562 civilian authority...............393,940 Civilian Conservation Corps.....238 civilization...35,94,100,832,1676,  2009,2011,2012,2028,2029,  2356,2558,2694,2807 civilizer.................................1712 civilizing.................................2099 civil-rights abuses...............527 civil-rights activists..............1509 civil-rights movement........114,400,  1502
Clarke, Richard............390,563,885
Clarke, Richard A........562,563,588,  885 class conscious.................1544
class consciousness..............2338 class distinctions..............1569,2919
class separation..................907 class struggle.........................232 class warfare.........................337
class-consciousness.............1569 classes, economic...........1947 classification........711,1392,2484,2787 classification (secret)........1513 classified........592, 599, 680, 681, 885, 1421, 1513, 1549, 1671, 1677, 2333, 3142
classifying..............................1422 classless.........................978, 1945 classless society.................977
Claude R. Lambe Charitable
Foundation.............................1167
Clause IV of the Labour Party......119
Clean fun..............................2670 cleaning house......................2721
cleaning products.................3099 cleansed the temple..............1267
cleansing the temple...........18, 428, 1305, 2290, 2291, 2342 clear and present danger........1555 clear-cut.......................1179, 1186, 1580 Clearstream Banking S.A...........2477 clergy...459, 1034, 1725, 1726, 1764, 2245, 2411 cliché.....................................1071 climatologists......................1208 climax..........................27, 28, 324, 774, 1082, 2128, 2359, 2926, 3034
climaxes.................................2359
Clinton administration........543, 699
Clinton, Bill 189, 233, 500, 532, 597, 598, 614, 731, 759, 852, 868, 1376, 1436, 1491, 1546, 1547, 2475
Cloaking.................................681 clockwork designer...............1727 closed bidding......................887 closed circuit television cameras
.........................................1529 closed loop..........................1732, 1817 closed shops.........................319 closet-fascist lawyers.............803 clothes, fancy.......................509, 1946 clothing selection...............1351 cluster bombs......................377, 730
CNN..........................528, 565, 1643, 2481
coa...266, 355, 365, 367, 1186, 1187, 1194 cost of energy......................2812
costello.................................775 Commercial banks........................1409 commercialism......................752, 2202, 2654
commercialization2200, 2654, 2682, 2692
commercialized......................2653
commercialization........752, 2202, 2654
commercialization2200, 2654, 2682, 2692
commercialized......................2653
Commission on the Intelligence Capabilities of the United States
Regarding Weapons of Mass Destruction..............................495 Commission on Presidential Debates...................................1479 Committee on the Present Danger
...........................................1873
Commodity Supplemental Food Program..................................164 common meal..........................2642 common people.143, 151, 418, 435, 462, 623, 910, 1033, 1039, 1110,
1112, 1120, 1121, 1135, 1136,
1142, 1233, 1247, 1461, 1511,
1659, 1859, 1904, 2021, 2098,
2104, 2478, 2696, 2939
common prosperity (Communist Chinese).................................315 common situs picketing..............319 common treasury.....................51, 1058, 2635, 2636, 2639, 2640, 2809, 2810, 2846, 3096
commons. 204, 438, 439, 893, 1133, 1165, 1570, 2012, 2735, 2747,
2810
Commonwealth of England..........152 communal...............................449 communal cup..........................3031 commune.......................253, 449, 2613, 2615, 2628, 2640, 2641, 2731, 2732,
2734, 2735, 2741, 2755, 2799, 2801, 2914, 2984, 3020
commune with God135, 1625, 2755
common............427, 440, 448, 2612, 2615, 2628, 2629, 2635, 2639,
2640, 2641, 2734, 2735, 2738,
2739, 2741, 2742, 2743, 2744,
2746, 2747, 2750, 2769, 2770,
2772, 2783, 2795, 2796, 2798,
2801, 2806, 2815, 2840, 2844,
2914, 2915, 2916, 2978, 2980, 2985, 3098
communications (revolution).....311
Communism142, 143, 232, 416, 423,
437, 441, 977, 980, 981, 1154,
1300, 1601, 1616, 1876, 2098,
2099, 2100, 2102, 2455, 2858
Communism..............1627, 1894, 2887
communism in one country..........1875 Communism, evangelical, congregational, small-c............155
Communism, large-c. 180, 214, 215, 227, 236, 296, 297, 323, 405,
525, 527, 962, 1379, 1430, 1623, 1867, 1869, 1877
Communism, large-c, Marxist... 106, 1326

Communism, small-c... 180, 236, 418, 732, 1320

Communist... 143, 154, 206, 320, 417, 424, 426, 427, 429, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 447, 448, 449, 761, 976, 977, 978, 980, 1160, 1363, 2276, 2635, 2639, 2736, 2743, 2744, 2776, 2789, 2915

Communist... 321, 978, 1501

Communist aggression... 1873

Communist Bloc... 1868

Communist China... 646

Communist dictatorship... 313, 317, 1333

Communist dictatorships... 1463

Communist Party... 310, 357, 447, 977, 978, 1495, 2484

Communist Party dictatorship... 2745

Communist revolution... 1874

Communist Revolution of 1917... 445, 1616

Communist Soviet Union... 809

Communist threat... 1877

Communist, large-c... 266, 297, 979

Communist, Leninist-Stalinist... 1495

Communist, Marxist... 115, 835, 1568 communist, small-c... 31, 798, 979, 2786

comunistic... 1808

communists 144, 418, 423, 438, 440, 445, 1600, 2100, 2102, 3111

Communists... 173, 211, 215, 525, 526, 977, 1380, 1381, 1575, 1867, 1873, 1874, 1876, 3062

Communists, large-c... 325 communists, small-c... 157, 2928

company store, the... 309

companionship... 703 compartments 703, 713, 715, 727, 1518

companiment... 641, 711, 999, 2386

compartmentalized... 640, 680, 716, 1521 compassion... 50, 69, 138, 175, 246, 270, 452, 466, 643, 657, 667, 770, 802, 811, 1080, 1148, 1150, 1166, 1199, 1229, 1247, 1434, 1477, 1489, 1565, 1566, 1674, 1675, 1706, 1775, 1778, 1826, 2012, 2013, 2137, 2233, 2283, 2319, 2515, 2545, 2599, 2600, 2765, 2889, 2902, 2961, 2973, 2996, 3030, 3043, 3044, 3063, 3092 compassionate... 72, 122, 138, 370, 738, 802, 1002, 1110, 1147, 1430, 1477, 1565, 1566, 2363, 2420, 2520, 2600, 2826, 2896, 2898, 3021, 3042, 3054, 3099 compassionate conservatism... 112, 138, 1477, 1565, 1566 compatible... 148, 352, 511, 1625, 2457, 2740 competitive bidding..........................185

competitive bidding..........185 complacency..................117, 537, 1007, 2544, 2640, 2868 complicit.................................548, 745, 746 complicity.............................334, 342, 394, 592, 636, 739, 746, 803, 1639, 1861, 1889, 2223, 2224, 2225
compost.................................1203, 2801
Composting..............................2801 composting toilets..............3098 comprehend.............................19, 81, 121, 239, 507, 509, 572, 994, 1144, 1206, 1259, 1356, 1603, 1668, 1703, 1728, 1760, 1778, 1841, 1861, 1902, 1908, 1941, 1942, 2019, 2030, 2062, 2070, 2099, 2148, 2240, 2267, 2296, 2343, 2420, 2530, 2551, 2577, 2751, 2896, 2911, 2921, 2934, 2954, 2974, 3071, 3082 comprehensioncxiv, 421, 772, 932, 1043, 1388, 1603, 1918, 2001, 2164, 2240, 2415, 2416, 3034, 3084 compromise.........................967, 1006, 1008, 1957, 2614, 2630, 2852 compromisers.........................1256 compromises.........................1008, 1154, 1515, 2657 compromising....................634, 967, 1012, 2742, 2839, 2996 compromising photographs....2468 compulsory sterilization........1325 computer (revolution)............311 computer backdoors...............1515 computers................271, 1345, 2748, 2840 con game..............................1222
Con Son Island.........................1591
ConAgra Foods.........................1167 conceit.................................1017, 2381, 2507, 2511, 3074 conceited..............................328, 1020, 2218, 2519 concentration camps.127, 695, 801, 816, 897, 902, 962, 1021, 1038, 1147, 1331, 1591 concentration of ownership....... 824 conception...... 396, 643, 1290, 1653, 1660, 1661, 2971, 3015, 3033 conceptual.. 1606, 1751, 1999, 2015, 2045, 2064, 2929 conceptualization. 1044, 1243, 1923, 2695
conceptualize....... 1250, 1547, 1846, 1934, 2068 condemning.... 724, 783, 1022, 1243, 1827, 1957, 2021, 2113, 2140, 2141, 2144, 2574, 2701, 2996, 3067 condescending ....................... 2925
conditional statement............. 1262 conditioned.. 30, 56, 665, 727, 1118, 1173, 1262, 1347, 1906, 2014, 2281, 2389, 2391, 2514, 2549, 2581, 2764, 2887, 2902, 2943, 3023, 3028
conditioning...... 207, 645, 706, 748, 994, 1356, 1621, 1639, 1653, 1735, 1849, 1855, 1938, 1945, 2262, 2264, 2271, 2294, 2386, 2387, 2388, 2389, 2394, 2549, 2727, 2865, 2879, 2899, 2903, 3017, 3024, 3025, 3029, 3088
condoned. 99, 898, 929, 1828, 2150, 2951 condoning 88, 121, 574, 1251, 1544, 1798, 2045, 2197, 2465, 2501, 2775, 2937, 2951, 2954, 2957, 3060, 3092
Confederate battle flag.............. 3047
Confederate slave-states ............ 846
Confederate States of America2224, 3048 Conference of Presidents of Major Jewish Organizations............. 1618 confidence.... 50, 176, 193, 346, 397, 519, 634, 1561, 2410, 2523, 2593, 2730, 2793, 3030, 3053, 3064 confidence man.......................... 519
conflate...... 7, 8, 509, 540, 688, 747, 978, 1042, 1057, 1058, 1059, 1066, 1067, 1069, 1105, 1171, 1189, 1207, 1229, 1255, 1523, 1735, 1753, 1808, 1932, 1943, 2160, 2166, 2191, 2352, 2359, 2397, 2617, 2636, 2691, 2711, 2713, 2715, 2777, 3011, 3077, 3112
Conflate..................................... 2339 conflated..... 258, 750, 753, 863, 894, 1067, 1237, 1243, 1602, 1654, 1795, 2002, 2003, 2037, 2042, 2503, 2531, 2656, 2710, 2715, 2803, 2929, 2996, 3034
conflates 230, 751, 1058, 2094, 2412, 2777, 2877
conflating.... 441, 1948, 2521, 2703, 2725, 2765, 2899
conflation7, 447, 458, 459, 689, 700, 752, 956, 1040, 1057, 1058, 1067, 1084, 1136, 1224, 1229, 1251, 1543, 1627, 1692, 1703, 1721, 1727, 1753, 1791, 1829, 1856, 1923, 1925, 1943, 2014, 2166, 2396, 2404, 2521, 2612, 2666, 2695, 2704, 2714, 2731, 2943, 3001
Conflation.................................688 conflationary...........1035, 1321, 2660 confront.................1055, 1341, 1518 congenital imperfections.......2470
congregationalist...........2500, 2833
Congregationalist..............2639
Congress for Cultural Freedom (CCF)..........................544
Congress, the US192, 245, 276, 287, 392, 395, 397, 405, 496, 504, 520, 555, 568, 572, 573, 627, 640, 789, 791, 792, 803, 871, 910, 927, 944, 953, 954, 1184, 1226, 1233, 1342, 1401, 1402, 1415, 1421, 1422, 1442, 1508, 1513, 1538, 1539, 1540, 1548, 1626, 1628, 1630, 1646, 1649, 1651, 2788 congressional oversight......405, 491, 790, 949, 954, 1447, 1527, 1548
Congressional oversight....402, 684, 1391
conjoined twins...............2966 conjuration.................................3094 conjurer171, 172, 231, 392, 675, 683, 1032, 1213, 1233, 1365, 1498, 2492, 2704, 2723, 2780 conjured..................157, 227, 312, 563, 688, 834, 1420, 1926 conjuring..............521, 560, 688, 2382 conman..........................519 connotatively.................639 Consarc..........................595 conscience......163, 204, 234, 359, 368, 446, 560, 605, 664, 771, 787, conservative-Republican Christians conservative Christians conservative, the considerate considerateness consistency consistent consolidate consolidates consolidating consolidation conspiracies conservative, the Conservative Conservative Christian Conservative Christianity
Conservative government (British) Conservative Judaism Conservative Political Action Conference
3194

2907, 2912, 2967, 2972, 2986, 3000, 3008, 3034, 3058 contexts...........27, 32, 43, 59, 240, 501, 1080, 1240, 1784, 1788, 1794, 1921, 1962, 2445, 2446, 2459, 2771 contextually.....................43, 639, 979
Continental Army.......................1764
Continental Congress.................1948 contingent contracts...............2424 continuity..............37, 150, 172, 379, 392, 428, 462, 523, 935, 1012, 1032, 1037, 1071, 1120, 1555, 1586, 1710, 1723, 1784, 1787, 1948, 2017, 2061, 2063, 2156, 2157, 2303, 2388, 2597, 2655, 2657, 2658, 2660, 2663, 2665, 2666,

2691, 2720, 2722, 2724, 2879, 3050, 3051, 3101
continuum..............................40, 2778
Contra drug running...............650
Contra War.............1416, 1417, 1494 contraception............1200, 1201, 2972, 2976 contraction.........................1409, 2414 Contracts for employment (in China)..........................318 contradiction..1, 13, 17, 44, 59, 321, 478, 1045, 1271, 1373, 1512, 1575, 1635, 1823, 1828, 1841, 1921, 1942, 2373, 2480, 2811, 2832, 2906, 2986 contradictory639, 1512, 1724, 2523, 2716, 2822
Contras........887, 1182, 1417, 1439, 1480, 1481, 1494 contrast.....302, 543, 654, 984, 1134, 1361, 1898, 2021, 2033, 2529, 2557, 2805, 2834, 2868, 2869 contribute online..........................3113 contrivance........90, 348, 950, 1277, 1279, 1739, 2096, 2524, 2527, 2728, 2794, 2918, 2920, 2938, 2950, 2954
contrivances.432, 1357, 1367, 2416, 2821 contrived 24, 78, 111, 247, 345, 561, 897, 975, 1017, 1019, 1091, 1140, 1357, 1373, 1474, 1749, 2011, 2519, 2671, 2727, 2754, 2794, 2826, 2918, 2920, 2927, 2962, 2976 control the message.........534, 920 control you.............................1523 control, negative......................1368 controversial........cxxiii, 7, 742, 816, 1977, 2051, 2716, 2733 convents..........................................978
correspondence...1794, 1937, 2204, 2205, 3025
Corrie, Rachel..........................1644 corrupt practices ..... 532, 685, 1215
Cosmetics.....................................1017 cosmos.....226, 313, 340, 703, 2718, 2925, 2966 cost of living............. 354, 355
Costa Rica.................................648
cost-benefit analysis .......... 1382
Cost-Benefit analysis ..........2756
cost-effective ..........1204, 1205 Costello, Frank.........1473, 1474 costumes .........................2954 council communism ...............142
Council for National Policy.....1181
Council of Laodicea.................2305
Council of Nicaea.................1957, 1960
Council of Nicaea (first)1952, 1968, 1988
Council of Nicaea, Canon 1 of the First..........................2553 Council on Foreign Relations...244, 1168, 1475 counsel of God................. 63, 82, 83 countercharges .................2269
counterculture....538, 539, 540, 541, 543, 663 counterculture movement ....663 counter-espionage ...............1536
counterfeiter ..........360, 388, 2480
counter-predation ............2897
Counter-Terrorism Fellowship Program..........................403 country club.....................233 coup d'état..............................1333
coup d'état...... 576, 866, 962, 1330, 1447, 1449, 1459, 1464 coup d'États ..................392, 650, 882 course correction.................311 courteous..............................100 cousin..611, 1569, 1642, 1667, 2480, 2481, 2598 cousins..................1150, 1240, 1622, 1642, 1668 covenant....133, 420, 1651, 1738, 1743, 1801, 2151, 2159, 2191, 2320, 2424, 2426, 2430, 2435, 2436, 2437, 2439, 2443, 3076
covenant theologians.......2425, 2427, 2437, 2472
covenant theology2426, 2435, 2436, 2437
covenantal seal..................3076
Covenantalism.......................2426
Covenantalists.....................2472 covenants...1802, 2423, 2426, 2647
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>crucifixion</td>
<td>21, 510, 631, 2176, 2288, 2352, 2488, 2498, 3062</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>crucify</td>
<td>21, 510, 631, 2176, 2288, 2352, 2488, 2498, 3062</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>crucifying</td>
<td>1145, 2021</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>crude oil</td>
<td>1208, 2279</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cruel, inhuman, and degrading</td>
<td>575, 923</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crusade</td>
<td>1184, 1754, 1886</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crusades</td>
<td>2075</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cuba</td>
<td>292, 522, 626, 668, 784, 830, 875, 901, 903, 921, 941, 1087, 1152, 1153, 1330, 1331, 1333, 1336, 1339, 1405, 1440, 1460, 1461, 1464, 1465, 1466, 1468, 1469, 1471, 1473, 1474, 1489, 1491, 1874, 2491, 2802, 3146</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cuban Missle Crisis</td>
<td>830, 1405</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cubans</td>
<td>875, 1466, 1640</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cultural dominance</td>
<td>541, 545</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cultural hegemony</td>
<td>946</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>curse</td>
<td>133, 134, 135, 160, 985, 1020, 1145, 1341, 2249, 2526, 2535, 2752, 2856, 3067</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cursed</td>
<td>160, 1338, 1712, 2792, 2865, 2947, 3068</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curtis, Clint</td>
<td>577</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cush</td>
<td>1712</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Custer, George</td>
<td>1772</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cutthroat</td>
<td>180, 227, 1702, 2826</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cyber war</td>
<td>1514, 1515</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cyborg</td>
<td>1487</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cyborg warrior</td>
<td>1509</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cyborgs</td>
<td>1883, 1884</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cyprus</td>
<td>59, 2718, 3096</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>czar</td>
<td>442, 562</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>czarists</td>
<td>1583</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>czars</td>
<td>1870</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Czech Republic</td>
<td>899</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Czechoslovakia</td>
<td>1316</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>da Silva, Luiz Inacio Lula</td>
<td>1481</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dachau</td>
<td>1344</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dagos</td>
<td>898</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dallas</td>
<td>1475</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Damascus</td>
<td>697, 1298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dancing</td>
<td>132, 346, 2138, 2670</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> dangerous extremist.407, 945, 1336, 1431, 1486, 1506, 2838
Daniel 274, 1072, 1076, 1680, 1743, 1809, 1834, 2207, 2446, 2513, 2676, 3055
Darby, Joseph .............................. 923
Darfur ........................................... 1932
Dark Ages................................. 931 dark art .......................... 1439, 1662, 1906, 1907, 2341
dark arts.......................... 576, 613, 658, 1442, 1861, 1870 dark day of the LORD.. 1664, 1888, 2666, 2854 dark operations.......................... 1513 Dark Prison ................................ 1339 dark side .... 217, 272, 388, 793, 822, 1017, 1627, 1816, 2499, 2838 dark side, the .... 217, 218, 915, 1326, 1349, 1626, 2214, 2311, 2670, 3075 dark sites .................................... 650 darkest before the dawn ............ 770
Darwin, Charles..... 1653, 1771, 2880
Darwinism............................... 1356 Darwinism, economic ............... 1129
data brokers ............................... 683 data bases .............. 288, 684, 1525, 1530, 1532, 1556, 1560 data mining ......................... 683, 691 data stream analysis ............... 1537
Davidic .... 1602, 1975, 2170, 2449
Davidic Empire .................... 1602
Davis, Gray ......................... 1225
Davis-Benz nuclear power plant ........................................ 1194
Day of Atonement ................. 2667
Day of Judgment ................... 2666
Day of the First Fruits ............ 2665
day star ................................... 2126
Dayan, Moshe......................... 1578 daycare ..................................... 649, 657
daystar ..................................... 2199
de Haan, Jacob ......................... 1596 de Reynier, Jacques ................. 1589 deacon ...................................... 2631, 2632 dead bodies 382, 575, 923, 973, 1789 dead end ............................. 1150, 1609, 2145 Dean, John .... 1394, 1395, 1397, See Dearlove, Richard death (everlasting) .................... 2043 death camps ......................... 787, 1590 death penalty .... 848, 853, 855, 1245, 1246, 1247, 1253, 1254, 1263, 1264, 1272, 1273, 1274, 1275, 1276, 1297, 1302, 1713, 2035, 2246, 2449, 2452, 2495, 2498, 2936, 2977 death squads .... 697, 841, 1336, 1439, 1480, 1500 death threats ......................... 937, 2087 death wish ......................... 389, 2976 dearthlessness ....................... 2040 death-squad .... 570, 864, 1481, 1500
Deaver, Michael.............. 543, 949
Deborah (the prophetess) ....... 1294
Debs, Eugene V.................. 1570 debt payments................... 2847 decadence..... 83, 84, 101, 104, 1351, 1497, 2260, 2267, 2311, 2314, 2583, 2606, 2860, 2963
decalogue.......................... 2664 December 25th............... 1971 decentralist..................... 2776
decentralization...... 140, 1114, 1543 declaration of dictatorship..... 300 declaration of war............. 190, 210, 476, 795 declassified... 381, 1420, 1422, 1537, 2334 declassify...................... 1421, 1422 declassifying................... 1387, 1422 deciding population........... 982 Decter, Midge .................. 1871 deed.... 75, 96, 507, 810, 1049, 1259, 1654, 1804, 1819, 1855, 1962, 1965, 2192, 2416, 2636, 2641, 2669, 2704, 2737, 2933, 3035, 3094
Department of Energy.........519, 730, 1376, 1532, 1558
Department of Energy's (DOE) Office of Human Radiation Experiments ..................... 1376 Department of Housing and Urban Development........................................... 543 depatterned............................ 1470
dependable............................. 1745, 1759, 2731
dependable.............. 326, 1190, 1483, 1820, 2312
depleted uranium.............. 372, 377 depletion.................. 1109, 1132, 1199, 1487 depravity.................... 84, 926, 1091, 1249, 1828, 2266, 2967, 3002 depression................ 117, 237, 512, 891, 1118, 1150, 1349, 2477, 2792, 2898, 3030, 3063 depression (spiritual)........... 359 dep-privatize......................... 1486 depot secretary of defense........ 463 depot undersecretary of defense for intelligence.............. 2491 depot undersecretary of defense in charge of Near East and South Asia affairs........ 490 deregulation......................... 641, 642 deregulates.......................... 1116
deregulation.................. 139, 184, 347, 890, 1097, 1120, 1142, 1147, 1166, 1488, 2482
deregulationists.................. 1872 deregulators.......................... 140
dereliction of duty............... 1484
dereliction of duty........................ 292
Des Moines, Iowa.................. 678, 863 desalinate............................. 3100 descendants of Jacob........ 2440, 2885 desecration............................ 1200 desensitization............. 287, 1368, 2945 desensitize...................... 542, 665, 1397, 2265, 2945 desensitized........... 648, 1441, 2310, 2922, 3024 desensitizes..................... 1414, 2266 desertification............ 1191, 1209, 2562, 3100 design.................. 24, 256, 380, 396, 505, 612, 642, 674, 1105, 1225, 1250, 1291, 1292, 1365, 1657, 1686, 1713, 1727, 1747, 1753, 2241, 2469, 2758, 2784, 2816, 2880, 3042
Desposyni......................... 1240 despotism
destroying people's lives destructive destroying people's lives director of the Central Intelligence Agency............................492, 1536 director of the CIA.... 557, 604, 635, 1342 director of the NSA .................683 director of the US Federal Bureau of Investigation .............1379 dirty bombs.........................372 dirty bomb............................1420, 2051, 2058 dirty trick.............1420, 2051, 2058 dirty tricks........180, 397, 492, 577, 580, 735, 952, 953, 960, 1217, 1224, 1226, 1266, 1424, 1425, 1427, 1428, 1486, 1506, 1508, 1549, 2049, 2475
dirty trickster..........1423, 1430
dirty-trick artist...............390
dirty-trickster.................845 disarm...292, 662, 1500, 2030, 2340, 2588, 2908 disarmament......114, 115, 250, 375, 1611
disarmament.................299 disarmament movement......114
disassociate.............665, 1930, 2064 disaster fatigue...............1213 disavowed......................939, 1521 discern...87, 113, 305, 530, 544, 640, 813, 830, 1260, 1352, 1534, 1604, 1776, 1926, 2168, 2246, 2254, 2260, 2709, 2717, 2829, 2921, 3076, 3083
discomfort......475, 763, 1371, 1906, 1979, 2880, 2968 discardt...........2864, 3022 discredit685, 765, 1379, 1386, 1840, 2167, 2250, 2350, 2821, 2934 discrect..77, 1290, 1370, 1429, 2546, 2989
discern..............931, 2546 disease.....85, 253, 410, 1008, 1029, 1190, 1205, 1206, 1207, 1354, 1415, 1770, 1777, 1929, 2023, 2421, 2547, 2563, 2566, 2595, 2726, 2754, 2828, 2829, 2999, 3013, 3017, 3019, 3021, 3022, 3026, 3027, 3032, 3043, 3044, 3093 disenfranchisement........627, 1550 disgrace....56, 563, 1217, 1907, 2165, 2300, 2650 disgracing.....................510, 685 disgruntled.........................1519 dishonor133, 292, 2074, 2249, 2306
dishonorining....................56, 685 dishwashing.........................3099 disillusionmment........2544, 2827 disinformation...147, 231, 385, 490, 530, 571, 616, 622, 623, 630, 638, 718, 883, 1514, 1589, 1601, 1864, 2761 disinheritance.....................2039
Disney.............................................850
Disney (as The Walt Disney Company) .....................243 disparity56, 182, 183, 185, 190, 280, 281, 367, 1023, 1446, 1569, 1870, 2533
DNA, 856, 1232, 1263, 1531, 1653, 1668, 1746, 1925, 2050, 2189, 3067
DNA bank ........................................ 1531
DNI .................................................. 391, 1107, 2484 do and teach ................................ 18, 19, 2586, 2859, 3037, 3038, 3039, 3091
Dobbs, Michael .............................. 591, 3139
Dobson, James ................................. 848
dobson, James C ............................... 3037, 3038, 3039, 3091
Dobson, James C............................... 2498
doctors ............................................. 860, 2840, 3042 Dodd, William ................................. 187 dog in the manger 1990, 2605, 2860 dog-eat-dog ................................ 227, 679, 2600, 2826
dogma ........................................... 154, 424, 1913, 2125, 2452, 2725, 3072 dogs in the manger ........................ 75, 1045, 2580
Doha .............................................. 755, 1086, 1089
Dolby Laboratories ......................... 1396
Dole family ...................................... 1330 Dome of the Rock ............................ 475, 476 domestic conversations .................. 694 domestic tranquility ....................... 1875 Dominican Republic .......................... 864, 1153, 1333, 1440 dominionism .................................... 2449, 2489 dominionist ................................. 180, 2493, 2504 dominionist/reconstructionist ......... 776
dominionists ................................. 180, 349, 350, 447, 484, 853, 2265, 2379, 2450, 2455, 2456, 2457, 2462, 2489, 2490, 2491, 2493, 2498, 2501, 2504, 2896, 2945, 2948
Dominionists ................................. 471
dominionists/reconstructionists ....... 847 dominion theory ............................. 115, 1873 Donovan, William ............................ 613 dopamine ....................................... 3022 doctoritories .................................. 309 dossiers ......................................... 1373 double jeopardy ............................. 120 double standard ............................ 211, 487, 926, 1091, 1129, 1547, 1562, 1624, 1669, 2074 double standards ......................... 685, 1547, 2074, 2392
double-standard ............................ 1613
doubt ............................................ 9, 63, 65, 71, 125, 214, 248, 257, 276, 312, 313, 351, 381, 384, 394, 434, 475, 492, 508, 512, 544, 616, 618, 623, 640, 771, 781, 814, 815, 816, 880, 895, 914, 1030, 1036, 1049, 1073, 1090, 1113, 1176, 1189, 1216, 1279, 1290, 1306, 1309, 1313, 1345, 1376, 1389, 1393, 1397, 1431, 1457, 1471, 1484, 1558, 1584, 1629, 1634, 1645, 1651, 1657, 1666, 1705, 1746, 1753, 1755, 1757, 1761, 1775, doubters ......................... 1754, 1786 doubts .......... 257, 518, 661, 815, 1525, 1702, 2805, 2902, 2968, 2982 Douglas, William O. ............. 1423 dove ........ 217, 331, 694, 1263, 1429, 1640, 1663, 1827, 2041, 2213, 2536, 2899
doves ...... 273, 334, 872, 1429, 1609, 1627, 1862, 2041, 2546, 2749, 2952
Doves .............................. 2460
dovishness ..................... 2893
Dow Chemical .................... 1684
DowElanco .......................... 1167 downgrading ...................... 747 Downing Street Memo ...... 570, 589, 590, 779, 831, 833, 835 downtrodden 810, 1256, 2195, 2196, 2218, 2682 downward spiral ...... 118, 657, 1190, 1349, 1907, 2118, 2332, 2648, 2760, 2826, 2864, 2965, 3065 draconian ......................... 1569 draft animals .......... 1138, 2755, 2802 draftees ......................... 2892 dragnet .............. 128, 693, 1507, 1550
dragon ......................... 501, 2428
Dragon .......................... 1516 dramatics ....................... 2954
dress codes ................. 2917, 2918
dress for success .......... 1357 dress up .............. 663, 802, 2928 droughts ....................... 1207 drug abuse .................... 541 drug costs, raise .......... 551 drug courier ................... 634 drug kingpins ............. 652 drug money ................... 1417, 2905 drug use, illicit .......... 2781 drug-induced comas ....... 1343 drugs ......................... 2705
Druads .......................... 2198
Du Pont family ............... 186 duality ................. 638, 639, 1942, 3085 due process 126, 130, 137, 289, 318, 333, 503, 628, 790, 791, 802, 897, 903, 930, 931, 937, 943, 1375, 1378, 2327, 2334
Due process ............... 333
Duffy, Trent ............... 861
Duke, David ................. 846, 1635 dungeon and torture master 1526 dungeon masters .......... 668 dungeons.................................697
dungeons & dragons...............2262
dupes.................................760, 1426, 1516 duplicatable..........................1750 dupress. 176, 251, 262, 763, 864, 940, 941, 1085, 1254, 1612 dust storms..........................1207 duty.... 101, 233, 339, 587, 899, 921, 965, 979, 981, 1007, 1267, 1306, 1328, 1351, 1361, 1362, 1615, 1696, 1764, 1782, 1806, 1892, 1943, 2028, 2029, 2207, 2284, 2299, 2405, 2504, 2538, 2660, 2790, 2791, 2796, 2798, 2820, 2846, 2863, 2928, 2985
duvalier, “baby doc” jean-claude
.........................................1336
duvalier, “papa doc” francois
............................................1336 dynastic..............................744, 2833 dynasty...............................744, 1075
e=m^2.........................................1756 earhart foundation...............1167 earley, mark..........................856 earby warning systems...........287 earmarks..............................601, 954 earthly fathers....................3068 earth-penetrating..................590
earthquakes...........357, 422, 991, 2402, 2441
earthquakes.......................271, 1207
earthworms..........................1100, 2802 east asia..............................279 east gate..............................1737 east pakistan......................1393 east timor..............................211, 216, 282, 283 easter2196, 2198, 2199, 2200, 2201, 2654, 2659, 2663, 2664
easter vacation.....................2654 ecological..........................3098
ecology..............................1105, 2474 economic bubble...................301 economic depression.............1146, 1886 economic duress...............176, 1489 economic gurus.....................1118 economic laws 140, 344, 1483, 1685 economic meltdowns..............1128 economic miracle.................1132 economic sanctions.............389 economic-shock therapy.........1132 economist, chief..................1433 economists.........................301, 1033, 1173
Egyptians........ 914, 937, 1710, 2007, 2203, 2850, 2962
El Elyon................................. 2095, 2123, 2138
Eli Elyon........ 2095, 2158, 2413, 3069
El Elyon........ 2095, 2158, 2413, 3069
Eleazar....................... 2706, 2711
Elect, the......................... 391
Electorate....................... 778
Electoral College.................. 627
Electrical resistance............. 1370
Electromagnetic pulse.............. 362
Electromagnetic radiation......... 2656
Electromagnetic spectrum......... 661, 1514, 1883
Electronic Associates............ 595
Electronic Frontier Foundation... 1560
Electroshock....................... 1343
Elephants....................... 1343
Eleventh hour........... 2763, 3050
Elijah......................... 274, 432, 709, 1080, 1081, 2434
Elisabeth (the cousin of Mary the mother of Jesus)..... 2598
Elisha................................. 709
Elites..................... 9, 367, 1568, 2217, 2317
Elitism......................... 1848, 1945, 2012, 2703
Elitesiveness............. 745, 762, 869, 1121, 1135, 1463, 1515, 1569, 1677, 1704, 1848, 1851, 1852, 1858, 1904, 1926, 2021, 2182, 2321, 2696, 2703, 2832, 2920
Elites wannabe.............. 762
Elites........... 281, 1015, 1121, 1122, 1126, 1565, 1596, 1704, 1904, 2166, 2462, 2515, 2624
Elizabeth I (queen of England).... 336
Ellis, John...................... 2480, 2481
Ellsberg, Daniel............ 556, 1385, 1386, 1394, 1395, 1397, 1399, 1892
Elves.............................. 2281
Emanate....................... 483, 1352
Emanates..................... 1352, 1936, 2013
Emancipate the slaves............ 811
Embargo of Japan.............. 617
Embargoing..................... 617
Embassy basements............. 697
Embezzled government funds..... 2479
Embezzlement.................. 461
Embezzler...................... 461
Embezzled..................... 2968
Emendations.................. 2835 episcopacy .................................................. 153 Episcopal .................................................. 4
Episcopal Church 1222, 1716, 2500, 2959
Episcopalian .............................................. 776 episcopate .................................................. 2833 equal dividend ........................................... 2848 Equal Employment Opportunity Office (US Army) .......... 1412 equal justice .................................................. 193 equal time for opposing views ...................... 244, 821, 823, 824
Equal time for opposing views .................. 821 equality of opportunity ............................... 1006 equalizers (weapons) .................................... 1611 equal-rights movement .................................. 114 equitable distribution ..................................... 743 equity speculation ......................................... 185 eradicate ....................................................... 2700 eradicated ................................................... 1676 eradication ................................................... 2700 Erasmus, Desiderius .................................. 1297, 2834, 2836 erotic .......................................................... 2958 eroticism ..................................................... 2958 erroneous perceptions .................................. 241
Esau .......................................................... 1228, 2051 escape damnation ......................................... 149, 520, 806 escapism ...................................................... 2267, 2671 eschatological (end times) ......................... 2429 espionage ......................................................... 1379, 1468, 1536, 3051 essence of evil .............................................. 508, 546, 1140, 1360, 1635, 1637, 1817, 2021, 2119, 2120, 2127, 2128, 2330, 2357, 2403, 2445, 2545, 2546
Essenes 427, 429, 434, 1070, 2197, 2677, 2682, 2708, 2835, 2923
Essenic ...................................................... 2305, 2677, 2678 Essenism ..................................................... 1967 establishment, the ........................................ 823 Estabrooks, Dr. George ............................ 708 estate builders .............................................. 1256 estate tax ..................................................... 171, 1572
Estate tax .................................................... 670 esteeming ..................................................... 2768
Esther .......................................................... 2669
Esther A. & Joseph Klingensteins Fund ............... 1167 eternal .......................................................... 20, 28, 43, 51, 52, 55, 58, 60, 66, 68, 71, 77, 81, 206, 228, 506, 511, 631, 643, 732, 875, 998, 1000, 1001, 1011, 1047, 1048, 1126, 1141, 1202, 1264, 1292, 1302, 1306, 1355, 1636, 1655, 1690, 1722, 1775, 1779, 1782, facial expressions.................2539 facilitate........132, 380, 460, 508, 870, 1229, 1311, 1351, 1522, 1677,
1687, 1786, 1809, 1861, 1896,
2070, 2285, 2411, 2470, 2536,
2548, 2606, 2658, 2739, 2827, 2841, 2970
facilitated........213, 215, 1227, 1427, 1807, 1808, 1831, 1857, 1921,
2070, 2202, 2310, 2435, 2537, 2654, 2735, 2909
facilitating........213, 342, 792, 1254, 1397, 1515, 1896, 1921, 2400, 2601, 2658, 2737, 2829, 2938, 3001 facilitation.........702, 724, 885, 1115, 1383, 2192, 2403, 2436, 2769, 3058 facilitators..........2737, 2893 fact-checking..........528 failed state.........283, 1255 fail-proof pattern.....2800 faint at heart.........2796 fair and balanced........533 fair trade...............1458, 2533
Fair Use.................2733 fairer.....................2599
fairness doctrine.......821, 824 fait accompli (fact accomplished) 1553 faith alone 2, 193, 1830, 1953, 2246 faith breaker..........3094 faith-based..........400, 1033, 1720
faith-based initiative..1721
Faith-based initiative..1720 fake news..............515, 522, 524 faking..................2036 fallacy........241, 1824, 1860, 2110, 2479
fallen angels..........505, 1274
fallen condition 77, 100, 1223, 1636, 1726, 1777, 1784, 1997, 2007, 2012, 2020, 2470, 2809 fallibility...............854 falling to the temptation..793
Fallujah.........376, 377, 381, 382, 1087, 1414 false anarchists........1573 false arrests...........330 false battery...........256, 388, 2349, 2358 false capitalism.......585 false Christian 668, 848, 1180, 2450, 2472
False Christian...........488
false Christianity...13, 490, 506, 622, 2143
false Christians...151, 350, 471, 503, 696, 778, 847, 853, 984, 1064,
1066, 1676, 1885, 2101, 2265,
2454, 2497, 2775
false churches 992, 2959, 3001, 3003 false communists.......445 false confessions........937 false consciousness.....1234, 1659 false conservative......2949 false conservatives .687, 1224, 2031, 2276, 2519, 2757, 2769, 2976
false democracy 106, 204, 229, 1120, 1386, 2279
false dichotomy.........546
false ecumenicalism....1823, 1825
Fox (Fox Broadcasting Company) ........................................ 1090, 1093, 1094 fox is guarding the chicken coop ..................................... 245
Fox News... 463, 523, 532, 533, 622, 660, 666, 668, 673, 714, 804, 821, 1182, 1418, 2480
Fox, Vicente ......................................................... 1493 fragmented. 504, 636, 642, 701, 716, 1352
France 270, 289, 446, 544, 549, 732, 831, 943, 1628, 1665, 1678, 1887
Franco, Francisco ...... 405, 444, 447
Franklin case...... 606, 638, 659, 678
Franklin Community Federal Credit Union pedophile case ... 598, 632
Franklin cover-up...... 605, 632, 633, 650, 678, 712, 882
Franklin, Benjamin1073, 1696, 1765
Franklin, Larry .......... 491, 1632
Franks, Tommy ............ 395, 564 fraternal-twin .................. 2051 fraud ....... 174, 461, 895, 1219, 1454, 2676 fraudulent police reports ...... 330 free and fair elections ...... 577, 1478, 1613
free choice ...... 66, 889, 1561, 2035, 2240, 2288, 2365, 2383, 2404, 2405, 2803, 3084, 3086 free daycare ....................... 1135
free enterprise204, 1098, 2599, 2603
free enterprises ................... 1129
free exercise of religion.1254, 1697, 2623, 2624, 2740 free expression ..................... 97, 1087
free inquiry ... 763, 1085, 1381, 2398, 2404, 2523
free love ..................... 117, 2603, 2905
free market ...... 140, 323, 731, 763, 1120, 1148
free markets ....................... 2533 free political speech ........... 1392 free press ................. 248, 1097 free school material ........ 1572 free speech ............. 102, 1381 free textbooks ............. 1572
free trade ..................... 113, 1098
Free trade ....................... 2533
Free Trade Area of the Americas (FTAA) .................... 1458
free will ...... 56, 993, 994, 1083, 1165, 1803, 1807, 1914, 2383, 2535 free-and-open markets .... 246
Freedom of Information Request ................................... 622 freedom of religion .... 101, 586, 966, 1678, 2280, 2621, 2775 freedom of religious exercise ... 2560 freedom of speech 1085, 1467, 2621
freedom of the press ...... 1087, 1531
Freedom of the press ........ 331
freedom of thought ........... 342, 695
Freedom to peaceably assemble 627
Freedom Tower ............... 2220
free-enterprise ............... 415
free-fire zone.................................377
free-market.139, 174, 344, 362, 488,
504, 824, 1129, 1148, 1485, 1494, 2497
freeways........................................181, 182
freewill..........................1234, 1250, 1358, 1607, 1884, 2665, 2939, 3085
freewill offering..............................2665
Friedman, Milton...........................315
French..............................................289, 535, 732, 899, 1106, 1873, 2093, 2962
French Revolution...........................732 frequencies.....................................701, 1348, 1353, 1367, 1369, 1370, 2753, 3018 freshwater...1106, 1209, 1574, 2783, 2849, 3099, 3100
Friedman, Alan..........................164, 204, 205, 215, 232
Frogs..............................................899 frontal lobes............169, 993, 3021 fruit trees.................................2856 fruit......32, 47, 49, 887, 996, 1237, 1911, 2006, 2293, 2606, 2655,
2715, 2716, 2720, 2724, 2739,
2741, 2822, 2829, 2849
Fruition....................2715, 2716, 2724
fuel oil.................................265
Fujimori, Alberto...............1491
Fukuoka method.....................2801
Fukuyama, Francis............1141, 3140 full employment............1147, 2280
full retaliatory response........287 fundamental fairness344, 729, 1381, 1382, 2276
fundamental unfairness...320, 1501, 1569 fundamentalism.........36, 1469, 1795 fundamentalist....6, 7, 455, 785, 855, 2031, 2959
Fundamentalist Muslims....1497 fundamentalists.........1795, 1953, 2156
Fundamentalists......xxiii, 479, 483, 1214, 1786, 1788, 1789, 1792, 1831
fungi.............................................2802
Funk, Bruce............................2487 funny money...............................388 furniture.................................2805 fussiness.................................2954
Gabriel, the archangel....2044, 2050, 2096
Gadafi, Muammar.............394, 841 gag order..............................1401 gag rule.............................126 gagged.....................................2620 galactic center.................2205
Galata.........................................1844 galaxies..............................893, 1200 galaxy.....................................1200 Gallic.......................................2098
gamble.................................100, 1119 gambling.........................368, 1221
GameSpy Industries............1396
Gandhi, Mahatma...............1502
Gandhi, Mohandas Karamchand
........................................1503
Gandy, Helen W.............1385
Godliness......239, 1243, 1389, 1607, 1796, 2041, 2457, 2459, 2941, 2950 godly powers..........................2773 gods...........................................1956
God's natural way........................2784
God's perspective 1250, 1728, 1746, 1960, 2014, 2446, 3081, 3085
God's presence..........................2416
Goebbels, Joseph.......................826, 1877 gold mining...............................856, 857
Goldberg, Jonah.......................838, 873
Golden Crescent........................2761 golden rule...86, 144, 148, 320, 324, 343, 381, 383, 487, 547, 555, 559, 569, 676, 679, 807, 899, 916, 994, 1137, 1145, 1149, 1254, 1262, 1263, 1280, 1431, 1432, 1520, 1691, 1733, 1781, 1782, 1795, 1803, 1819, 2059, 2079, 2165, 2166, 2271, 2272, 2676, 2700, 2701, 2714, 2921, 2938, 2940, 2956, 3071
golden rule, false version of the .............................................1010
Golden Triangle........................2761 golden-rule emotional state...........2039
golden-rule heart........................2040 golden-rule thoughts...................2037
Goldsmith, Peter........................956
Goldstein, Baruch......................854
Goliath......................................422
Golinger, Eva.............................1448
Gomorrah.................................200, 2470, 3069
Gonzales, Alberto...........502, 796, 812, 928, 952, 958, 2492
Gonzalez, Henry B.....................730 good faith.................................942 good government.......................793, 3086 good guys.................................809, 1861, 1891
Good Neighbor Policy.................1488 good neighbors.........................788, 1594
Good Old Cause.........................2455
good Samaritan..........................2886
Good Samaritan......68, 72, 74, 195, 220, 221, 225, 414, 525, 534, 568, 582, 588, 692, 817, 976, 1488, 1594, 1633, 1910, 2827, 2927
Good Samaritan nations.........220, 221, 225, 568
Good Samaritanism.....................169 good shepherd.........................40, 44, 324, 451, 1015, 2456, 2535 good stewards...17, 415, 2210, 2517, 2589, 2853, 2917, 3001
Goodman, Amy.........................740
Google.................................912, 917, 920, 1112
Gook...........................................898
Gorbachev, Mikhail...................2231
Gore, Al 190, 579, 2475, 2481, 2486
Gosch, Johnny.........................677
Gospel....1, 4, 19, 51, 54, 59, 93, 97, 169, 170, 213, 278, 479, 844, 992, 1007, 1035, 1038, 1039, 1205, 1248, 1276, 1295, 1305, 1306, 1309, 1335, 1362, 1617, 1717, 1729, 1732, 1734, 1752, 1756, 1776, 1782, 1784, 1817, Greeks ... 1665, 1682, 1710, 1824, 1973, 1974, 2007, 2023, 2304, 2690, 2704, 2712, 2962
Greek-Syrian ... 2669 green cotton ... 2811
green light ... 917
Green parties ... 1383
Green Party ... 1007, 1119
greenhouse gas ... 270
greenhouse gases 268, 365, 366, 367, 1179, 1196, 2320, 2755
Greenhouse, Bunnatine H ... 1404, 1412, 2223
greenhouse-gas ... 365, 366, 372
greenhouses ... 2801
Greenspan, Alan ... 1433
Gregory I, pope ... 1965, 2198
Grenada ... 292, 626, 837, 1153, 1334
greywater ... 3099
grievances ... 104, 246, 323, 330, 627, 902, 1412, 1501, 1780, 2144, 2223, 2778
grim reaper ... 890
Grim Reaper ... 1422
grit my teeth ... 2886
groom for lust ... 1357
grooming ... 2956
Gross Domestic Product ... 1119
Gross Domestic Product (GDP) ... 369
Grotesque ... 644, 1617, 1997, 1998, 2599
Grotesque imitation (Satanism) ... 2599 ground zero, 9-11 ... 880
GROUNDBREAKER ... 1537
groundwater ... 3099, 3100
Groundwater ... 3099 growth curve ... 1198
gruel ... 309
Guam ... 1400
Guatemala ... 737, 1153, 1333, 1439 Guatemalan ... 737
guerilla warrior ... 1327
Guggenheim Foundation ... 545 guilt ... 30, 551, 627, 884, 1193, 1272, 1281, 1639, 1861, 2541, 2681, 2973, 3026, 3028, 3054, 3058, 3101
guilt by association ... 234, 627, 1861
guilt by association ... 234, 627, 1861
guilt by conscience ... 637 guilty until proven innocent ... 796 Guinea ... 1400
guinea pigs ... 580, 674
gulags ... 127, 1131, 1902
Gulf Coast ... 1212
Gulf of Mexico ... 2800
Gulf of Tonkin ... 288, 494, 626, 638, 667, 724, 953
Gulf War ... 835, 837, 1650 gullible ... 338, 638, 740, 819, 885, 1432, 1454, 1710, 2001, 2012, 2497, 2547, 2778, 2780, 2892, 2920, 2940, 2954, 2962
Gun, Katharine ........ 1399, 1400, 1404 2223 gunboat diplomacy........ 610, 1315
gurus ..................................... 1932
Gypsies .................................. 1902
H. J. Heinz Company .......... 1167 habeas corpus........ 790, 937, 1155, 1156 habilitation .................. 700
hack ..................................... 683, 2487
Haditha ........ 1413, 1414, 3138
Hadley, Stephen ............. 521
Hadrian .................................. 1655
Haganah .................. 859, 1579, 1587, 1596, 1600, 3140
Haggard, Ted .................. 484, 485, 848, 2494
Haifa ..................................... 1587 hailstorms ....................... 1207 hair pulling (obsessive) ...... 1351
hair treatment .................. 1351
hair trigger ...................... 2903 haircuts, frequent ............ 1357
hairetas (chosen or to choose) .... 63
Haiti 567, 576, 864, 865, 1108, 1153, 1333, 1334, 1336, 1440, 1464
Hajj ........................................ 2079
Hajji ....................................... 898 halakha .................................. 853 Haldeman, H. R. ........... 964, 1892, 1893 half-truths ......... 151, 157, 219, 573, 702, 807, 848, 2495
half-truths ........ 85, 87, 123, 168, 237, 301, 328, 350, 439, 527, 562,
                           570, 573, 576, 721, 732, 754,
                           784, 830, 850, 856, 1249, 1297, 1634, 2945
Halliburton .......... 245, 387, 530, 886, 1404, 1406, 1407, 1438
Halloween .................. 624
hallucinations .......... 2900, 2902 hallucinogen .................... 1949 hallucinogenic vision ....... 1949
hallucinogens ................. 1470
Hallucinogens .............. 1950
Ham .... 914, 1708, 1712, 1713, 2702
Hamas .................... 1613, 2034
Hamilton, New York .......... 708
Hamites ............................. 160, 914
Hampton, Fred ............. 2761 hand measurements ........... 1232 handout ............................ 1137
Hanoi ................................. 525 Hanukkah ..................... 2669 happiness ...................... 1702, 1708, 3101
Happiness .................... 1702, 1948, 3101
hard labor ...................... 812 hard-drug culture ............ 4 hardheaded 9, 18, 77, 127, 149, 150, 158, 180, 221, 291, 304, 338,
                           351, 397, 422, 428, 468, 688,
                           728, 806, 809, 832, 833, 834,
                           853, 854, 932, 980, 1020, 1062,
                           1081, 1205, 1211, 1285, 1366,
                           1430, 1566, 1602, 1603, 1654,
                           1666, 1769, 1770, 1778, 1789,
                           1796, 1829, 1832, 1849, 1908,
                           1911, 1940, 1960, 1996, 2059,
                           2070, 2115, 2148, 2152, 2157,
                           2158, 2165, 2200, 2206, 2233,
Hate crimes ........................................ 474, 475
Hatebiniquity .................................. 2471
Hatebspeech...............102, 2373, 2386
Haughty ..............477, 1020, 1022, 1039, 1549, 1556, 1694, 1701, 2218, 2350, 2701
Havana..........................................1331 have-not......................... 569, 1433, 2410, 2987
Haves,bthe.10, 179, 205, 1433, 2317,
2410, 3092
Hawaii...........................................1330
Hawaiians.....................................1330
Hawk................................. 471, 858
Hawkish............... 833, 1640, 2875
Hawks.391, 515, 524, 526, 620, 973, 1627, 1862, 2272, 2280, 2460, 2952
Haven,bhighest.......149, 1248, 1364, 2595, 2925
Haven,bretaking................. 1251
heavy crude oil.................. 1446
Heavy industry.................. 1882
Hebrew..cxiii, 21, 54, 73, 88, 157, 379, 483, 486, 487, 807, 1037,
1388, 1395, 1441, 1575, 1576,
1584, 1602, 1604, 1609, 1616,
1618, 1624, 1631, 1632, 1634,
1639, 1663, 1667, 1676, 1849,
1851, 1876, 1895, 1897, 1898,
2003, 2095, 2152, 2153, 2155,
2156, 2167, 2189, 2191, 2304,
2414, 2432, 2465, 2664, 2672,
2673, 2677, 2682, 2690, 3000,
3069, 3070
Hebrew alphabet.................. 2673
Hebrew extraction.................. 486, 487, 1441, 1616, 1618, 1635, 2465
Hebrewness...................... 1577
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>hippy generation</td>
<td>750</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hippy movement</td>
<td>4, 2904</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hire gun</td>
<td>1261</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hiroshima</td>
<td>525</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hispanics</td>
<td>807</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>historical context</td>
<td>955</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>historicism</td>
<td>971, 972, 1860, 2166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>historicist</td>
<td>979</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>history repeats itself</td>
<td>305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hit man</td>
<td>1526</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hi-tech</td>
<td>356, 1090, 2748</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hi-tech equipment</td>
<td>2748</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hitler</td>
<td>1899</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hitler, Adolf</td>
<td>102, 241, 328, 608, 629, 806, 808, 813, 854, 890, 1274, 1316, 1317, 1327, 1391, 1512, 1650, 1655, 1671, 1696, 1772, 1862, 1864, 1876, 1888, 1905, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 2131, 2374</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hoarding</td>
<td>46, 92, 94, 234, 252, 255, 312, 351, 449, 458, 513, 825, 863, 959, 983, 1186, 1306, 1307, 1512, 1636, 1466, 1477, 1677, 1714, 1947, 2101, 2419, 2520, 2659, 2847, 2848, 2853, 2876, 2993, 3014</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hobbes, Thomas</td>
<td>312, 1636, 2028</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hobbesian</td>
<td>1643, 2028</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hobnobs</td>
<td>233</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hold until cleared</td>
<td>796</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holding company</td>
<td>668, 893, 1872</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holidays</td>
<td>308, 1135, 2653, 2654</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holier than thou</td>
<td>337, 1600</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hollywood</td>
<td>524, 527, 534, 536, 537, 541, 725, 1474, 1541</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hollywood image machine</td>
<td>1541</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hollywood studios</td>
<td>1541</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holocaust</td>
<td>815, 1752</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holocaust denial</td>
<td>1610</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holocaust deniers</td>
<td>1590</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holocaust industry</td>
<td>1645</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holy Communion</td>
<td>1285, 2928</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holy convocation</td>
<td>2666</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holy Crusades</td>
<td>2075</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holy days</td>
<td>2653, 2655</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holy emotional state</td>
<td>2037</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holy Land</td>
<td>1581</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holy lives</td>
<td>194, 509</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
1784, 1788, 1791, 1792, 1796, 1801, 1808, 1812, 1815, 1817,
1826, 1832, 1833, 1834, 1835,
1837, 1838, 1839, 1840, 1841,
1844, 1845, 1846, 1850, 1852,
1853, 1855, 1857, 1888, 1910,
1911, 1921, 1924, 1936, 1942,
1945, 1955, 1961, 1979, 1999,
2013, 2019, 2037, 2038, 2042,
2067, 2068, 2072, 2075, 2101,
2108, 2112, 2115, 2116, 2117,
2120, 2121, 2145, 2147, 2159,
2160, 2161, 2168, 2176, 2178,
2193, 2205, 2207, 2208, 2209,
2239, 2249, 2256, 2257, 2258,
2270, 2285, 2292, 2315, 2317,
2343, 2352, 2361, 2376, 2390,
2395, 2403, 2408, 2409, 2411,
2413, 2417, 2427, 2437, 2440,
2453, 2457, 2460, 2495, 2503, 2504, 2519, 2521, 2536, 2546,
2555, 2596, 2598, 2603, 2611,
2612, 2614, 2617, 2630, 2633,
2634, 2637, 2640, 2641, 2642,
2643, 2646, 2648, 2649, 2651,
2652, 2654, 2664, 2679, 2682,
2695, 2696, 2703, 2708, 2713,
2721, 2723, 2725, 2730, 2734,
2736, 2737, 2739, 2742, 2746,
2765, 2781, 2795, 2803, 2869,
2870, 2890, 2901, 2908, 2910,
2912, 2913, 2920, 2921, 2922,
2923, 2926, 2927, 2929, 2930,
2934, 2944, 2948, 2950, 2952,
2964, 2971, 2974, 2982, 2984,
2986, 2996, 3001, 3005, 3006,
3011, 3035, 3038, 3039, 3079, 3092, 3101, 3112
home front.............................. 827 home secretary of the UK........... 1320 homeless.......................... 585, 692, 1461, 1600, 1768, 1963, 2195, 2753, 2756, 2828, 2829
homesickness.......................... 537
homeworld.......................... 1133, 1134 homicidal tendencies ............... 1223 homing devices...................... 1233 hominids............................ 707 homogeneity......................... 2036
homophobia......................... 2954, 2964
homosexual......................... 2023, 2032, 2163, 2465, 2466, 2468, 2470, 2503, 2832, 2934, 2941,
2944, 2949, 2950, 2952, 2953,
2956, 2958, 2959, 2960, 2963, 2965, 2967, 2969
homosexual bishop............... 1222 homosexual boys............... 2466 homosexual movement.............. 2467
Homosexual proselytizing......... 2465
homosexual psychologists........ 2467
homosexual tendencies.......... 1277 homosexual videos............... 2465
homosexuality.................. 207, 636, 685, 703, 705, 777, 1217, 1223, 1713,
2031, 2033, 2035, 2466, 2467, 2471, 2472, 2495, 2501, 2503,
2832, 2931, 2935, 2937, 2938,
2939, 2944, 2945, 2950, 2951,
Howard, John.................................282
Howe, Neil.................................1938
HR 4437........................................586
Huaxi Village..................................358 hucksters.....................................2463
huckster-turned-preacher...............2265
Hudson Institute..............................1166
Hughes, Karen...............................521
Hugo, Victor..................................1534 Huldah (the prophetess).................1295 human manure................................3099 human nature.......................8, 208, 560, 1128, 1653, 1654, 1659, 1889, 2028, 2215, 2807, 2844, 2999
human rights.................115, 382, 791, 936, 1143, 1336, 1480, 1490, 1544,
2260, 2533, 2534, 2535
Human Rights Watch...........924, 1339, 1595 human sacrifices...............726, 1824, 2022 human warehouses..................309 humanism..........................657, 1169, 1708, 1722, 1735, 2012, 2014, 2371, 2372, 2385, 2955
Humanism.................................1722 humanist..................1712, 1819, 1997, 2009, 2397, 2784
humanistic......................1169, 1710 humanitarianism.............72, 1044, 1708, 1789, 2372, 2385, 2857
human-machine tools.............320
humanure.............................3099 humiliation..........................814 humility..........................207, 333, 380, 772, 1250, 1635, 1736, 1946, 1965, 2140,
2418, 2519, 2651, 2681, 3035,
3074, 3086
Humphrey, Hubert..............1544, 2480
hung up..................1728, 1729, 1790, 1934, 1956, 1957, 2070, 2554, 3084
hunt club.............................233
Hunt, E. Howard.........................1386 hurricane Katrina.............422, 558, 576, 577, 790, 857, 1212, 1214, 1227, 1325, 1417, 1628
hurricanes...................968, 1207, 1213, 2402
Hussein, Saddam............373, 390, 500, 515, 520, 535, 552, 558, 561, 562,
570, 571, 572, 589, 591, 608,
626, 638, 710, 729, 735, 737,
739, 757, 758, 775, 779, 781, 782, 783, 835, 836, 841, 867,
868, 1336, 1423, 1450, 1567,
1611, 2224, 2225, 2226, 2276,
2277, 2477
Hutterite..............................416, 418, 427
Hutterites.................170, 316, 416, 419, 423, 427, 428, 437, 438, 440, 447,
2276, 2744
Hybrid crops.........................1099 hybrid seed..........................1099 hydroelectricity...............265, 1209
hydrogen..................264, 2474, 2755, 2779, 2812, 2813
hygiene..........................2747, 2956
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Pages</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>hyperurgency</td>
<td>383, 409</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hyper-Calvinism</td>
<td>505, 506</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hyperinflation</td>
<td>1134, 1146, 1150</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hypnosis</td>
<td>709, 2464</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hypnotic</td>
<td>630, 655, 706, 708, 749, 983, 2839</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hypnotic suggestion</td>
<td>2839</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hypnotic suggestions</td>
<td>749, 1470</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hypnotic-suggestion trigger</td>
<td>630</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hypnotized</td>
<td>709</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hypocrisy</td>
<td>51, 1779, 2114, 2123, 2236, 2732, 2964</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>hypocrites</td>
<td>12, 20, 78, 194, 195, 240, 305, 583, 664, 800, 813, 817, 985, 1013, 1014, 1157, 1228, 1272, 1281, 1615, 1681, 1717, 1754, 1811, 1837, 1895, 2135, 2332, 2418, 2518, 2580, 2831, 2857, 2945, 2988, 3105, 3109</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
IMF259, 260, 283, 1482, 1485, 1488
Immaturity ................................. 207
Immigration .................................. 586, 791
Immigration and Naturalization Service .................................. 791
Immoral.......................................................... 128, 176, 203, 278, 404, 641, 697, 794, 913, 1120, 1139, 1145, 1392, 1436, 1528, 2249, 2945, 2969
Immorality .............................................. 209, 763, 1218, 1325, 2282, 2945
Immortal.................................................. 71, 472, 1917
Immutable laws.............................................. 1747
Impassiveness............................................. 2765
Impatience.................................................. 328, 1770, 2046, 2511
Impedimenta................................................. 28, 29
Imperial.................... 109, 111, 202, 284, 372, 387, 496, 498, 581, 744, 781, 874, 930, 952, 954, 963, 1006, 1078, 1315, 1327, 1331, 1332, 1336, 1385, 1395, 1445, 2324, 2894
Imperceptible.............................................. 874
Imperial dictatorship.......................... 220
Imperial nations ........................................ 109, 110, 114, 176, 255, 309, 796, 803, 822, 897, 1139, 1341, 1395, 1682, 2088, 2402, 2456
Implication.................................................. 26, 41, 54, 78, 668, 1735, 1768, 1812, 1855, 2003, 2045, 2163, 2238, 2660, 2990, 2997, 3006, 3037
Implications.. .................................. 13, 163, 209, 437, 523, 659, 703, 793, 862, 978, 1005, 1032, 1050, 1052, 1118, 1212, 1235, 1261, 1284, 1313, 1352, 1359, 1369, 1577, 1584, 1604, 1858, 1860, 1911, 1937, 1959, 2023, 2038, 2042, 2169, 2210, 2238, 2384, 2386, 2449, 2507, 2531, 2597, 2711, 2766, 2868, 2869, 2902, 2935, 3025, 3073
Implicatively.............................................. 639
Impound............................................. 13, 25, 54, 275, 426, 863, 935, 1832, 1839, 1911, 2238, 2295, 2385, 2415, 2508
Impolite................................................... 2754
Impoliteness.............................................. 1368
Impressing........................................... 1035, 2226
Impregnable............................................ 683
Impressionable...... 536, 1350, 1364, 1397, 2059, 2266, 2548, 3095
Impulse, buying........................................... 709 Impunity............................................. 166, 365, 380, 511, 596, 606, 641, 678, 682, 733, 790, indigenous peoples...............1577 indignation..................494, 1775, 1906, 2503, 2506, 2511, 3066 indiscriminating...............2709 individualism..................1916 individualist....................979 Indochina..................210, 650 indoctrinate....................472 indoctrinating..................649 indoctrination.................315, 763, 920, 962, 1700, 2468, 2523, 2936
Indo-European...............2198
Indonesia216, 217, 282, 1153, 1336, 1337
Indonesian..................211, 216 inducements......................2757
indulgences....................1812, 2833 industrial espionage.............1507
Industrial Revolution.141, 308, 310, 1139
Industrial Workers of the World
........................................105, 1382 industrialization.255, 262, 269, 302, 311, 315, 361, 365, 442, 2565 industrializing nations........167, 365 inegalitarian....................390 inequality.............140, 185, 1296, 2076
inextricable............193, 481, 687, 1635, 2426, 2523, 2713 infallibility...........153, 964, 1842, 1892, 1893 infallibility of presidents.....964, 1893 infallible...........1288, 1844, 1894, 2178, 2196, 2423, 2974 infected..................2024, 2422, 2864, 3011 inferiority complex........217, 1623, 2956 infertile soil..................2968 infidelity..........1930, 2029, 2645, 2648, 2659 infiltration...............794, 2327, 3100 infiltrators....................794 insane asylum

insanity

insatiable

insatiable greed insensitive

Insider contracting insider trading insiders

insomnia

Inspiration

inspired inspirable inspiring inspiration

inspirational instant gratification instant recall instigator, the instigators insurance insurgency

insurrectionists

Integrierte Gemeinde (Integrated Community)

integrity intellectual intellectual design intellectual designer intelligence community intelligence evaluation intelligence failure intelligence analysis intelligent design intelligent designer intentional community intentional household

Inter-American Dialogue

Intercollegiate Studies Institute interconnected interconnectedness interdependence

interdependent interest rates ...... 110, 141, 166, 167, 1101, 1130, 1142
Interior Department................. 1177 interlocking directorates........... 244, 245, 1515
Internal Revenue Service. 267, 2614
International Advisory and Monitoring Board for Iraq. 1890
International Atomic Energy Agency............................ 519, 1669 International Bank for Reconstruction and Development............... 259 International Committee of the Red Cross.......................... 1589, 1595
International Computer Systems International Criminal Court .... 1089 International Development Association.............................. 261 international espionage.............. 1529 international financier............. 2485 international financier{s}.......... 1408 international law 592, 596, 788, 831, 832, 836, 942, 956, 1528, 1552, 1890, 2279 international lawless zone........... 1155 International Monetary Fund........ 259, 260, 413, 1478, 1482, 1485, 2278 international relations 207, 208, 218, 228 international relations, repetitive error of........................... 293 International Republican Institute........................................ 1492 internecine warfare.................... 572
Internet..... 129, 243, 295, 298, 381, 418, 500, 601, 622, 630, 649, 683, 690, 693, 761, 907, 908, 910, 912, 917, 920, 1112, 1409, 1508, 1510, 1514, 1526, 1532, 1537, 1559, 1969, 2056, 2261, 2264, 2482, 2498, 2605, 2738, 2741, 2840
Internet backbone...................... 908 Internet neutrality................... 908, 910
Internet pipeline....................... 683 Internet pipelines..................... 1112 internment camps..................... 801 interpersonal relations............. 220 interrogation..... 456, 722, 901, 921, 924, 927, 930, 937, 1340, 1415, 2326, 2898 interrupt........................................ 2351
Inter-Service Intelligence (ISI) 393, 394 Interstate Highway System ....... 265 intimidation........ 330, 606, 734, 1026, 1455, 1612, 2040, 2211, 2344, 2843
intolerance.............................. 87 Intrepid.............................. 613 intrigue........ 215, 1398, 1528, 1968 introspection 432, 509, 641, 2211, 3062 introspective 1122 intuition 2002
invasion of Baghdad 783, 835, 903, 925, 2268, 2871, 3046 invasion of Grenada 837 invasion of Iraq 136, 462, 492, 495, 868, 873, 1317, 1400, 1407, 1418, 1435, 1449, 1454, 1863, 2877 invasion of Panama 837 invasions 262, 372, 1931, 2402 invasiveness 2751
investigative journalist 1393 investigative journalists 185, 1414 Investment banks 1408
investors 106, 110, 1155, 1438, 1684, 2613, 2735, 2744, 3092 invidious discrimination 1302, 1328, 1897 invisible hand 205, 263, 1144, 1172, 1173, 1483 inward appearance 2919
Iowa 678, 863
IQ 1649, 1656, 1659, 1660, 1663
IQ test 1656, 1663
Iran 177, 288, 290, 291, 292, 491, 517, 518, 520, 543, 562, 590, 591, 626, 650, 666, 676, 724, 730, 736, 738, 739, 756, 757, 758, 775, 782, 783, 784, 785, 818, 820, 830, 831, 832, 833, 836, 887, 895, 953, 969, 1153, 1323, 1336, 1406, 1416, 1417, 1435, 1439, 1443, 1449, 1454, 1610, 1611, 1612, 1613, 1614, 1632, 1643, 1865, 1881, 1886, 1887, 1890, 1893, 1894, 2033, 2034, 2225, 2476, 2477, 2478, 3137, 3141
Iran-Contra 626, 650, 724, 757, 836, 887, 953, 969, 1416, 1435, 1439, 1540, 1893, 2477, 2478
Iranian 262, 287, 517, 736, 739, 785, 814, 820, 833, 1129, 1610, 1882, 2477, 2478
Iranian hostage crisis 1129
Iranian oil 262
Iranian 288, 591, 608, 736, 739, 775, 783, 832, 833, 1640, 1665, 1669, 1887, 2225, 2461, 2476, 2477, 3139
Iran-Iraq War 730, 756
Iran's proven oil and gas reserves 1881
Iraq War......291, 543, 777, 887, 939, 953, 1225, 1413, 1499, 1510, 1887, 2301, 2813, 3047, 3137
Iraq Weapons Declaration.........592
Iraqgate........650, 717, 730, 738, 740
Iraqi.....177, 262, 285, 384, 518, 522, 523, 554, 564, 571, 591, 593, 676, 729, 735, 738, 741, 757, 797, 899, 924, 1086, 1212, 1317, 1399, 1407, 1414, 1418, 1419, 1435, 1451, 1579, 1863, 1879, 1881, 1886, 1890, 2088, 2094, 2274, 2277, 2278, 2279
Iraqi farmers....................................2279
Iraqi insurgents..................1886
Iraqi Jew.......................................1579 Iraqi National Congress..........554
Iraqi oil...177, 262, 285, 1212, 1317, 1407, 1435, 1451, 1890, 2094, 2277
Iraqi police....................384
Iraq-Iran War.........................730
Iraqis...377, 384, 572, 626, 758, 822, 898, 903, 1317, 1435, 1450, 1640, 1665, 2273, 2274, 2275, 2277, 2279, 2280
Ireland.................................1473
Irgun....859, 1586, 1588, 1589, 1591
Irgun Zvai Leumi...................1586
irres...........................................1232
Irish...........................................387
Irish Republican Army............708
Irishman.................................587
Iron Curtain.........................648 ironic.......44, 759, 1259, 1587, 1738, 2050, 2828, 2833, 2848, 2888, 3072 irrational...148, 226, 709, 732, 1131, 1434, 1729, 2522, 2528, 2954, 2964 irrational exuberance.............1434 irreconcilable.........598, 660, 687, 688, 805, 1251, 1432, 1564, 1571, 1967, 1984, 2272 irreconcilable differences......688 irredeemable..............72, 1605, 1796 irresponsible behavior..........2893 irreverence.....................1200 irrigation........................429, 3100
Isaac 12, 161, 785, 1083, 1228, 1996,
2014, 2051, 2095, 2096, 2106, 2158, 2924
Isaiah..............................90, 92, 93, 95, 96, 104, 112, 116, 138, 403, 411, 451, 455,
457, 763, 982, 1037, 1313, 1452,
1495, 1500, 1571, 1620, 1744,
1797, 1867, 2085, 2108, 2178,
2239, 2309, 2548, 2613
Isaiah liberal......................1491
Ishmael 297, 785, 2050, 2057, 2095, 2096, 2106
Ishtar.........................................2198
ISI 1393
Islam...266, 296, 328, 332, 379, 547, 628, 655, 819, 902, 1074, 1089,
1152, 1322, 1375, 1377, 1447,
1598, 1613, 1614, 1615, 1620,
1627, 1628, 1666, 1670, 1877,
1886, 1931, 2031, 2033, 2035,
2036, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041,
2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047,
2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2055,
2058, 2060, 2063, 2065, 2068,
2069, 2070, 2074, 2075, 2076,
2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081,
2082, 2086, 2094, 2095, 2096,
2105, 2107, 2115, 2141, 2142,
2143, 2144, 2145, 2154, 2155,
2161, 2167, 2493, 2774
Islamabad....................................393
Islamic 296, 395, 465, 475, 497, 565, 738, 788, 818, 1044, 1087, 1089,
1152, 1441, 1578, 1613, 1614,
1870, 1930, 2031, 2032, 2033,
2035, 2036, 2047, 2055, 2074,
2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2087,
2094, 2105, 2142, 2144, 2273, 2775
Islamic Empire......................2047, 2055
Islamic law....................2031, 2032, 2035
Islamic personal law..............1930
Islam (ancient state of).......306, 996, 1614, 2288, 2442, 2537, 2665
Israel (ancient state of).......135, 170,
316, 390, 437, 472, 473, 477,
478, 479, 484, 487, 490, 788,
817, 854, 857, 985, 1074, 1395,
1442, 1576, 1578, 1585, 1598,
1629, 1633, 1886, 1905, 2088,
2153, 2154, 2183
Islam (current state of)...........1591
Islamic (current state of)......306, 996, 1614, 2288, 2442, 2537, 2665
Islamic Empire......................2047, 2055
Islamic law....................2031, 2032, 2035
Islamic personal law..............1930
Islamic radicalism...............2142
Islamic Revolution..............738
Islamic revolutions............297
Islamists.........................2143
Islam-fascism....................2142
Islam-fascists....................2143
Islamists.............................1171 isolation (torture).................814 isolationist......................1336, 2776
isolationists......................620, 1381
ISP (Internet Service Provider)...129 Israel (ancient and current nation-state of).................................293
Israel (ancient state of).........306, 996,
1614, 2288, 2442, 2537, 2665
Israel (current state of)........135, 170,
316, 390, 437, 472, 473, 477,
478, 479, 484, 487, 490, 788,
817, 854, 857, 985, 1074, 1395,
1442, 1576, 1578, 1585, 1598,
1629, 1633, 1886, 1905, 2088,
2153, 2154, 2183
Islam (current state of)...........1591
Israel (the people)......................... 486
Israel Defense Force....................... 859
Israel Lobby..............................669, 776, 862, 1617, 1621, 1622, 1629, 1630, 1631, 1634, 1644, 1646, 2462, 3142
Israel, current state of 465, 669, 747, 847, 916, 1051, 1335, 1564
Israel, the current state of............776
Israel. 437, 463, 472, 473, 490, 833, 1897
Israel Defense Force.................1578
Israel defense minister............... 858
Israeli Empire.......................... 1651
Israeli espionage..........................463
Israel Lobby................................2464
Israel spies .................................463
Israelis 102, 486, 487, 489, 787, 788, 789, 858, 1371, 1590, 1592, 1596, 1598, 1600, 1632, 1639, 1644, 1645, 1647, 1650, 1668, 1670, 1770, 1897, 2148, 2462, 2464, 2510
Israelite................................. 2442
Israelites......158, 161, 162, 422, 727, 785, 832, 1652, 2149, 2150, 2657, 2962
Italian.................................. 89, 1261
Italy......106, 446, 592, 876, 937, 1873
Itchoa I, king of Tyre..............1081
ITT........................................... 1510
Ivy League............................... 1404, 1405
J.M. Foundation......................  1167
J.P. Morgan Chase & Co.............  1167
Jacobinsky, Vladimir...............  1586
Jackson, Andrew......................  963
Jackson, C. D.......................  624, 625
Jackson, Henry.......................  1871
Jacob (remnant of)...............135
Jacob's Well.............73, 2157, 2169
James I, king of Great Britain cxix, 153, 2934
James the Just..................  12, 1240
James, the brother of Jesus...... 12, 433, 977, 1240, 1283, 1285, 1801, 1843, 2013, 3089
Janjaweed............................ 1932
Japan..526, 549, 611, 614, 615, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 648, 870, 1315, 1330, 1435, 1873, 2189
Japanese....512, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 618, 619, 620, 708, 801, 1899, 2888, 2962
Japanese Americans..............801
Japs......................................... 2888
jargon................................... 1098
Javert (inspector)...............1534
Jefferson, Thomas.189, 1717, 1719, 1722, 1725, 1726, 1767, 1768, 1776, 1779, 1784, 1786, 1858, 1948, 2191, 2874
Jeffersonian.............................1702
Jefferts Schori, Katharine.........1222
Jehoshaphat..................................2308
Jenin................................1597, 1598, 1599
Jenks, Jerry..............................2265
Jeremiah..................................451, 1681
Jerome........................................2682, 2684
Jesse (king David's father)......1743, 2170
Jesuit...........................................646
Jesuits...........................................1722
Jesus Liberal........................1491, 1500
Jesus Prayer..............................1935
Jet skis.......................................1785
Jewelry...........................................1017
Jewelry, precious.....................509
Jewish Nationalists..................1866
Jewish Anti-Defamation League......1897
Jewish Authority......................1587
Jewish Defense League.............854
Jewish financiers.....................1927
Jewish homeland......................816
Jewish Institute for National Security Affairs (JINSA).....1618
Jewish intellectual..................1662
Jewish Lobby..............................1622
Jewish revolt.............................2443
Jews for Jesus................483, 484, 1898, 3141
Jews, unreal (false Jews)........2427
Jezebel................................1080, 1081
Jiangsu Province.......................358
Jihad.........................................2034, 2085, 2142
Jihadist........................................572
Jilin Petrochemical Corporation 364
Jim Crow Laws...........................1543
Jintao, Hu.................................310, 317
Jinxed..........................................273
Jizya scheme..........................1221, 2084, 2086
Joad family....................................237
Joad, Tom.................................237
Job Control Language..................649
Joel........................................858, 1295, 1840
Johannine comma.....................1297, 2834
John........................79, 81, 82, 433, 977, 1083, 1362, 1701, 1702, 1955, 1958, 1976, 2008, 2109, 2182, 2418, 2702, 2704, 2707, 2712, 3089
John F. Kennedy Airport............938
John M. Olin Foundation, Inc. 1167
John Paul II, pope 1034, 1035, 1495
Jews for Jesus...483, 484, 1898, 3141
Jews, unreal (false Jews)........2427
Jezebel.................................1080, 1081
Jiangsu Province......................358
Jihad.................................2034, 2085, 2142
Jihadist.................................572
Jilin Petrochemical Corporation 364
Jim Crow laws..........................1543
Jintao, Hu.................................310, 317
Jinxed..........................................273
Jizya scheme..........................1221, 2084, 2086
Joad family....................................237
Joad, Tom.................................237
Job Control Language..................649
Joel........................................858, 1295, 1840
Johannine comma.....................1297, 2834
John........................79, 81, 82, 433, 977, 1083, 1362, 1701, 1702, 1955, 1958, 1976, 2008, 2109, 2182, 2418, 2702, 2704, 2707, 2712, 3089
John F. Kennedy Airport............938
John M. Olin Foundation, Inc. 1167
John Paul II, pope 1034, 1035, 1495
justification by faith alone, 11, 1786, 1797, 1799 justify God .................................. 29
Kaaba .................. 2050, 2063, 2064
Kabbala .................. 1975
Kabbalists ................. 2167
Kabul .......................... 564, 575, 1087, 1339
Kagan, Donald .............. 1871
Kagan, Frederick ........... 1871
Kagan, Robert .............. 1871
Kaltane, Meir .............. 834
Kaiser Family Foundation ... 2259
kangaroo court ........... 136, 946, 1046
Kangas, Steve .............. 1374
Kant, Immanuel ... 1732, 1733, 1734, 1735
Kantianism ................... 1734
Karaite ...................... 2156, 2674
Karimov, Islam .......... 296
karma, 1936, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1946
Karma ......................... 1936
Karpinski, Janis 905, 920, 921, 1400, 2223
Kashmir .......................... 1213
Kellogg, Brown & Root ... 245, 1404, 1407
Kennan, George F. ........ 280, 3141
Kennedy administration, 1405, 1474
Kennedy assassination, John F. 1471
Kennedy wing .................. 1545
Kennedy, Bobby ... 1469, 1470, 3143
Kennedy, Edward ............ 719
Kennedy, John ............. 189, 626, 938, 1333, 1472, 1545
Kennedy, John F. ........... 492, 830
Kennedy, Joseph ............ 1475
Kennedy, Robert ............ 1474
Kennedy, Robert F. .......... 1469
Kennedyesque ............... 758
Kennedys .................... 1472
Kenney School of Government ......... 1617
Kent State University ....... 822
Kern, Cyril .................... 859
Kerry, John 190, 382, 579, 742, 777, 1417, 2475
Keynes, John Maynard .... 1140
Keynesianism .............. 1140
keyword searches .......... 683, 691
KGB .................................. 545, 1586
Khalilzad, Zalmay ........... 2274
Khan, Abdel Qadeer .......... 1435
Khan, Genghis .................. 1772
Khaybar ....................... 2059
Khmer Rouge ............... 211, 1902
Khomeini, ayatollah Ruhollah ... 738, 2033
Khristos ....................... 2002 kibbutz ....................... 437 kibbutzim .... 170, 316, 437, 438, 439, 1160 kickbacks ...... 336, 1482, 2088, 2480
kidnapping ... 645, 646, 647, 648, 677, 840
kidnappings ............. 650, 717 kidneys (damaged by genetically modified corn) .... 2799
Kierkegaard, Soren .......... 2522
Kikes ......................... 899 killers...989, 1126, 1414, 1533, 1772, 1775, 2195, 2332, 2935 killing fields....................21, 1190
Kilo Company, 3rd Battalion, 1st
  Marine Regiment...............1413
Kimmel, Husband Edward.......618 kinder and gentler...............112
King David Hotel...............1588
King James Version Only......cxciv, 2201, 2832, 2835
king of kings....................3077
King of kings....................148
king of the jungle..............1356
King, Jr., Martin Luther. 1502, 1593
King, Lawrence E. ....601, 604, 608, 633, 634
King, Lawrence E. "Larry".......599
King, Martin Luther............2763 kingdom of God...42, 46, 49, 54, 63, 66, 67, 79, 82, 103, 121, 134, 147, 258, 459, 470, 506, 855, 990, 1057, 1058, 1061, 1111, 1122, 1125, 1136, 1206, 1260, 1389, 1571, 1625, 1659, 1716, 1830, 2025, 2104, 2110, 2245, 2246, 2328, 2425, 2437, 2438, 2452, 2797, 2894, 2895, 2900, 2919, 2933, 2949, 2959, 3001
Kingdom of Hawaii...............1330
Kingdom of Heavenly Peace.....327
Kipling, Rudyard...............1316
Kirchner, Néstor Carlos......1484
Kirkpatrick Doctrine...........1453
Kirkpatrick, Jeanne...........1453, 1871
Kissinger and Associates......2276
Kissinger, Henry 142, 206, 207, 208, 210, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 227, 228, 232, 626, 1393, 1394, 1869, 2480
Kissingeresque..................142
Klein, Mark......................683 knee-jerk819, 900, 1786, 2264, 2574
kneit........................................2811 knuckle under........784, 1612, 1964
Koch Family Foundations.....1167
Koine Greek......................2672, 2707 kooks.......................................875
Korea......288, 648, 1153, 1435, 1443, 1873
Korean.....................833, 1167, 1182
Korean War......................1873, 2887
Koreans.......................1640, 1669
Koresh, David.................699, 2494
Kraft Foundation..............1167
Krauthammer, Charles........1871
Krauts..........................898, 2888 kriegsraison geht vor kriegsmanier (the necessities of war take precedence over the rules of war)..........................790
Krishna........1971, 2196, 2690, 2691
Kristol, Irving 471, 473, 1860, 1864,
  1871, 1872, 2454
Kristol, William...............1872
Ku Klux Klan.............487, 846, 2762
KUBARK manual...............1340
Kuchma, Leonid.................295
Kufr Qasim massacre...........1592
kulaks.....................................441
Kurdish.................................571, 739
Kurdish separatists.............2224
Kurdish statehood.................2225
Kurds .... 591, 739, 2224, 2225, 3139
kurikou (the Lord's house).....3001
Kuwait.....................626, 757, 835, 1153
Kuwaiti............................................626
Kyl, John...............................393
Kyoto Protocol....................366, 367
Kyrgyzstan.............................296
La Follette, Sr., Robert M.....1570 labor .... 24, 105, 106, 110, 139, 260, 351, 354, 357, 1025, 1158, 1320, 1327, 1341, 1407, 1684, 1804, 2600, 2801, 2805, 2839, 3092 labor class.................252, 1569 labor movement...............1569 labor movements...............183
Labor Party (Israel).............1600
Labor Zionism.......................1619 laboratories..................681, 730, 738 laborers .... 104, 105, 108, 109, 253, 975, 2938, 3051 laborsaving devices ..........2100 Labour government (British).... 217 lack of government............1916 lack of mindfulness..........1916
Laden, Osama bin ..............879
Ladybugs..............................1101
Laffer Curve......................164, 165
Lagos Escobar, Ricardo Froilan
........................................1490
LaHaye, Tim....................1181, 2265
lairs.............................................2925
laissez-faire ... 297, 323, 343, 731, 795, 1483
laissez-faire ... 105, 108, 165, 204, 205, 297, 302, 319, 343, 531, 910, 920, 1105, 1172, 1176, 1189, 1478, 1490, 1511, 2101, 2275, 2276, 2280
laissez-faire capitalisms .....205, 297, 1458
laissez-faire capitalisms ... 108
lake of fire .... 1111, 1140, 1340, 1637, 1998, 2285, 3057, 3058 lamb...... 430, 431, 1284, 1741, 1976, 2062, 2176, 2180, 2239, 2660, 2679, 2714, 2894, 2896, 2920 Land barons.................1256 land grabbing.................323, 356 land reform..............737, 1109, 1384
land restoration............2734 landfills..........1192, 1197, 2588, 2811 landlords .............146, 149, 2098
Langley...............................649 language of the revelation 96, 350, 1032, 1243, 1260, 1607, 1755, 1998
Lansky, Meyer.................1152
Laodiceanism.................1065
Laodiceans......................2993
Laos ...............882, 1153, 1386, 2761 larceny.........................797 Las Vegas.........................692 laser beam weapons..........1370
Last Great Day.................2668
Last Judgment...................2429 legal precedent.................1254 legal vanguard....................812 Legion............................1672, 1676, 2959 legislation......................113, 1376, 1385, 2619, 2974 legislative oversight...........123 legitimacy......................142, 145, 1849, 2153
legitimate.................1294, 1317, 1844, 2153, 2258, 2752 legitimate (state).............1247
Lehi..............................1586, 1596
Lemba..............................2191
Lend-Lease..........................613
Lenin, Vladimir Ilyich142, 143, 313, 440, 442, 443, 445, 447, 1133, 1381, 1876
Leninism.............................1495
Leninist............................1495, 1570
Leopold and Loeb...............657
Lesbianism...........................2964 lesser of evils. 100, 260, 1151, 1249, 1299, 2134, 2296, 2599, 2945
lesser-of-evils...............472 letter of the law...........534, 942, 1419, 1779, 1803, 1911, 2425 levees..................586
leveling..................144, 151, 999, 1389, 1895, 2497
Levellers.......................150, 151
Lewinsky, Monica.............596
Lewis, C. S.....................996, 997
Leybold Vacuum Systems........595
Lil (church, among other connotations)................3000 liar from the beginning....505, 2962
liar from the beginning, the......501, 538, 547, 1273, 1854, 2017, 2123, 2158, 2479, 2704, 3056 liars54, 227, 281, 387, 443, 507, 515, 593, 623, 638, 715, 797, 873, 954, 1406, 1420, 1436, 1533, 1591, 1719, 1728, 1729, 1730, 1775, 1824, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1887, 2055, 2281, 2333, 2432, 2454, 2464, 2688, 2689, 2830, 2831
liar's paradox..................1824
Libby, Jr., Irving Lewis “Scooter”..........................521, 1219, 1420
Libby, Scooter...................387 libel........................................630 libeling..............................2639 liberal democracy.1140, 1452, 2275 liberal democrat..................143 liberal devices...258, 261, 446, 800, 892, 1011, 1035, 1119, 1128, 1571, 1604, 2195, 2582, 2742, 2829, 3108 liberalism.........................2379 liberalism of Isaiah...............1867 liberalism, classical economic......508 liberalization....................178, 251 liberation theology............865, 1035 liberators......................522, 572, 900
Liberia.................................857, 1153
Liberian..............................857 Limbaugh, Rush............................456 limited government....................2533 limited nuclear war....................287 limited-government conservatives
..........................................804 limousine..................................2841
Lincoln Financial Group
Foundation..................................1167
Lincoln, Abraham1167, 2224, 3040, 3041
Lindsey, Hal.................................1180 line-item veto..................................961 lingua franca..................................2672 links (Internet)..............................2788 lion.........................................174, 254, 395, 488, 825, 1143, 1195, 1213, 1341, 1354, 1356,
1504, 1891, 2062, 2239, 2872, 2894, 2952
lip service371, 482, 966, 1308, 1806, 1867, 1963, 2036, 2265, 2418,
2472, 2533, 2607, 2612, 2978,
3003
Lip service..................................2925, 3076
lip-service.13, 105, 195, 1061, 1636, 1696, 1929, 2602, 2606, 2695
listen to half-truths..............1605 litany..........................181, 1258, 2655 literal cxxiii, 8, 35, 36, 308, 423, 668, 1038, 1210, 1292, 1547, 1757,
1789, 1790, 1851, 1852, 1858,
1935, 1993, 1998, 2025, 2070,
2205, 2305, 2429, 2430, 2431, 2434, 2440, 2576, 2805, 2883
literally 248, 370, 376, 400, 529, 530, 535, 536, 628, 888, 1000, 1028,
1106, 1150, 1173, 1209, 1291,
1330, 1407, 1428, 1497, 1529, 1556, 1589, 1629, 1674, 1727,
1737, 1757, 1790, 1843, 1931,
1958, 1960, 1967, 2005, 2125,
2176, 2263, 2265, 2292, 2408,
2670, 2882, 2901, 2952, 2987,
2990, 3004, 3023, 3074, 3093
litigious society..................630 litmus test...............................392, 1969 liturgical.......................1047, 1048, 1769, 2524, 2593 liturgy..............................153, 2879, 2928
Liverpool, England.............2763 livestock........................................2562
living conditions...........1543
Living conditions.................308 living on the land............358, 1138 living space....................1601, 1624 living within one's means......1134 loan-restructurings, rapid......1130 lobbying........245, 348, 543, 574, 576, 787, 944, 1221, 1222, 1403,
1412, 1651, 2494, 2619, 2788
lobbyists.................................1219
Locke, John.....................1702, 1703
Lockheed Martin...............245 logic....77, 327, 583, 957, 987, 1118, 1261, 1359, 1369, 1534, 1658,
1682, 1720, 1727, 1733, 1748, 2523, 2679, 2841, 2862, 3085
logical39, 60, 77, 140, 583, 667, 763, 933, 934, 1077, 1120, 1122, lower class...184, 188, 310, 357, 443, 582, 733, 1569, 1632, 2484 lower-class capitalist..................441 lower-yield nuclear weapons......288 lowest common denominator...917, 2260 lowest hell.........................199, 1210, 1338
loyal opposition..........................680, 731 loyalist.............................................728 loyalty........................728, 1718, 2646
LSD 581, 680, 718, 719, 1342, 1343, 1346, 1950
L-tryptophan..................................512
Lucasfilm Ltd..............................1396
Lucasfilm Skywalker Sound......1396
Lucifer.....................2116, 2126, 2128
Luciferian spirit......2116, 2117, 2126
Luciferianism.................................1999
Luddite..........................................2100
Ludlow Massacre..............105, 1380
Lukashenko, Alexander.... 293, 294, 295, 3143
Lukewarm............412, 460, 2658, 2993, 3011, 3078
Lula (Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva) ..........................................................1481, 1482, 1484 lunar calendar.........................2663 lure...472, 535, 542, 1002, 2011, 2200, 2215, 2962 lured..............................318, 535, 544, 899 lust, disease of.........................2864
lusts...85, 117, 137, 210, 383, 456, 488, 989, 1065, 1091, 1145, 1173, 1200, 1390, 1409, 1524, 1529, 1708, 1795, 1818, 1829, 2013, 2020, 2139, 2200, 2233, 2258, 2330, 2358, 2385, 2389, 2390, 2404, 2490, 2501, 2545, 2550, 2556, 2564, 2677, 2682, 2739, 2780, 2946, 2965, 2974, 2975, 2976, 3022, 3028, 3045
Maoists......................... 440, 1869
Mapai.................................. 1600
Mapam.................................. 1600
Mara...................................... 1916
Marcos, Ferdinand................. 1336
Marines........... 610, 1330, 1386, 1396, 1440, 1499, 2496
marital infidelity.................... 1547
Mark of the Beast. 1230, 1231, 1530 market domination.................... 399 market economy........ 295, 638, 1172 market forces........... 1120, 1142, 1144, 1685 market share...... 167, 824, 911, 918, 1410 market socialism....... 169, 317, 1114 marketing...... 252, 437, 457, 535, 676, 897, 975, 983, 984, 1345, 1683, 1872, 1905, 2172, 2245, 2265, 2733, 2794, 2821, 2832, 2839, 2842, 2843, 2885 marketing message........ 2794 marketplace of ideas........ 1594 marriage........ cxiv, 1092, 1094, 1979, 1992, 1994, 1995, 2029, 2058, 2298, 2461, 2552, 2576, 2644, 2645, 2646, 2647, 2648, 2727, 2934, 2945, 2951, 2958, 2971, 2972, 2974, 3068
Mars................................. 1897, 1970
Mars (planet).......................... 624
Marsh Crisis Consulting.......... 2276 marshal law......................... 397
Marshall Plan........... 265, 1875
Marshall, John...................... 963 martial arts......................... 542, 877, 2030
martial law...... 126, 393, 395, 795, 802, 1393, 1551, 1554, 1876
Martin Luther King.............. 822
Martin, William McChesney...... 1475 martyr.................. 1729, 2075, 2145 martyr for capitalism........... 1364 martyr for real Christianity.... 1364 martyrdom........ 61, 818, 1083, 1509, 1902, 2546, 2711
martyrs.................. 2066, 2820
Marx, Karl... 313, 321, 434, 445, 447, 546, 977, 980, 981, 1133, 1364, 1381, 1463, 1495, 1616, 1617, 3062
Marxism214, 359, 1034, 1381, 1463, 1495, 1576, 3062
Marxism-Leninism............... 1147
Marxist 978, 1336, 1453, 1468, 1617
Marxist-Leninist............... 1468
Marxists........ 977, 980, 1575, 3062
Mary (the mother of Jesus)...... 1977, 1984, 1992, 2104, 2170, 2171, 2598, 2924
Mary (the sister of Martha and Lazarus)....... 2818, 2819
Mary (who anointed the feet of Jesus)..... 1019, 1242, 2564 masculine.................. 2065, 2496 Mashiyach.......................... 2002 masking symptoms........ 1008, 2802, 2828
masochism.................. 1368, 2240
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>masochistic</td>
<td>3272, 968, 1782, 2022, 2826, 3045</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Masoretes</td>
<td>2674, 2716</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mass communication</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mass deportations</td>
<td>183</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mass graves</td>
<td>837</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mass killing</td>
<td>2946</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mass media</td>
<td>1445</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Massachusetts</td>
<td>3076</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>master race</td>
<td>1652</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>masturbation</td>
<td>2979</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Matalin, Mary</td>
<td>521</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>material possessions</td>
<td>75, 509, 1305, 1677, 1749, 1817, 2217, 2311, 2469, 2549</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>materialism</td>
<td>250, 359, 488, 544, 710, 752, 760, 762, 899, 965, 983, 1114, 1119, 1143, 1169, 1218, 1683, 1877, 1925, 2002, 2219, 2381, 2469, 2748, 2768, 2875, 3074</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>materialist</td>
<td>982, 1217</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>materialistic</td>
<td>655, 760, 2469</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>materialists</td>
<td>252, 359, 777, 1005, 1659, 2759</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>math and science education</td>
<td>955</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>matrimony</td>
<td>2646, 2727, 2934</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>matrimony</td>
<td>2644</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>matter</td>
<td>2469</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mattis, James</td>
<td>1413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mature audiences only</td>
<td>2281</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>maxim</td>
<td>2716</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maximian</td>
<td>1678, 1679</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maximum Achievable Control</td>
<td>1186, 1187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McMinn</td>
<td>1627</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNamara, Robert</td>
<td>875</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>meaning of existence</td>
<td>2165, 2508, 2990</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>meaning of life</td>
<td>31, 683, 756, 760, 1201, 1349, 1352, 2165, 2393, 2860</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>means (to an end)</td>
<td>2841</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>means of production</td>
<td>441, 1116, 1148, 1467, 1495, 1570, 1894, 2746, 3092</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Mearsheimer, John........... 1617, 1621, 1629, 3142
meat industry.................. 2562
Mecca....................... 2050, 2061, 2063 mechanized.................. 1178, 2801
Media.................. 243, 906, 925, 2266, 2482, 3136, 3141
media elite.................... 2483
media-elite.......................... 599
mediaeval Europe............ 2104
medical care................... 2728
Medicare.................. 164, 2473, 2628 medicine............. 1039, 1057, 1186, 1977, 2303 medicine, preventative...... 2802 medicine, traditional...... 2729
medieval.................. 943, 1042, 1256, 2099, 2452 medievalists.................. 2451
medioctiy.................. 196, 2954
Mediterranean............... 60 medium empire.............. 2498
Meese, Edwin.................. 543 megachurch.................. 951
megachurches.................. 1305
mega-churches.................. 2265
megalomania.............. 464, 974, 1514
Megalomania.................. 974
megalomanics.................. 744 megalopolises.............. 359 me-generation.................. 253, 760, 951, 2875
Melchizedek.................. 423, 480, 2061, 2095, 2412, 2413, 2414, 2706, 3005, 3069
Mellitus, saint............. 2198 member-workers............ 2613, 2734, 2735, 2743, 2750, 2795, 2828
memory tests .................. 1657 Menander.................... 1081, 2707 mendicants................... 1321
Mengele, Josef............... 658, 1344
Mensheviks.................. 442 mental blockages............ 1654 mental health................ 2898 mental healthcare professionals............................................. 2892 mental hospitals............. 2898 mental illness............. 344, 463, 651, 1032, 1193, 1346
mental-healthcare professional organizations.................. 2944 mentors........................ 218 mercantilism.................. 1667 militant democratic revolutionary
.................................................... 980 militant Jihadism......................... 2142
militant Muslims ......................... 2888 militant revolutionary........ 980, 1506
militarily........ 261, 1075, 1315, 1567
militarism... 509, 544, 547, 551, 610, 657, 672, 848, 1006, 1075, 1217, 1279, 1318, 1388, 1391, 1490, 1905, 1931, 2234, 2295, 2624, 2898, 3074
Militarism... 1065, 1340, 2237, 2457
militaristic....... 327, 695, 1155, 1340, 1679, 1682, 2771, 3047 militarists... 250, 523, 526, 544, 547, 661, 664, 1279, 1391, 1396, 1454, 2230, 2231, 2232, 2497, 2892 1863, 1871, 1875, 1878, 1879, 1881, 1883, 1884, 1886, 1887, 1897, 1904, 1931, 1932, 1952, 1968, 2214, 2216, 2226, 2229, 2232, 2234, 2243, 2265, 2280, 2319, 2325, 2335, 2336, 2337, 2339, 2350, 2432, 2436, 2455, 2456, 2474, 2491, 2497, 2550, 2571, 2624, 2909, 2919, 2938, 3051
Military........................................1315, 1892 military contracts.........................245, 576 military machines..........................1882 military mind..................................662, 1645 military privatization......................886 military recruiters..........................544 military strikes.............................395 military threats.............................788, 1489 military treaties...........................242 military tribunal...........................795
military-industrial complex...............115, 119, 212, 242, 244, 372, 387, 405, 464, 512, 525, 528, 541, 542, 576, 618, 621, 630, 682, 786, 800, 889, 1112, 1153, 1357, 1406, 1408, 1507, 1511, 1514, 1630, 1631, 1632, 1882, 1883, 2335, 2336, 2339 military-industrial-congressional complex........................................1526 militia.........................................2033 millennia.14, 207, 1186, 1766, 1927, 2097, 2676
millennium..................425, 998, 999, 1136, 1737, 2430, 2440
Millennium..................................371
Millennium Development Goals, United Nation............................371
Miller, Geoffrey............................2491
Miller, Geoffrey D.........................667, 921
Miller, Judith...............................514, 1420
Mills, C. Wright.........................2336, 2337, 3142
Milvian Bridge..............................1951 MINARET....................................1509 mind control ................................635, 674, 710, 1342, 1373 mind over matter.........................1044 mind reading...............................1234, 1372 mind-altering...............................1958
mind-control...............................606, 607, 629, 708, 717, 1345, 1369, 1371, 3051 mind-control tests........................581 mindset......................................263, 271, 275, 278, 941, 978, 1226, 1373, 1411, 1575, 1732, 2721, 2919
MindWar..........................661, 662, 674, 884 minimalist....................................2599
minimum wage.166, 168, 1109, 1572 mining industry.............................355 mini-nukes.................................590, 1612 mishon 348, 551, 1461, 1516, 1546, 1905 minister...4, 119, 282, 484, 684, 736, 783, 837, 857, 859, 877, 1028, 1246, 1265, 1310, 1311, 1316, 1318, 1320, 1579, 1588, 1597, 1601, 1602, 1633, 1669, 1877, 2122, 2170, 2266, 2451, 2452, 3278

Ministry of Defense ..................... 697 Minoans ....................................... 1824 miracle..41, b1706, b1719, b1729, b1977, b2064, b2070, b2210, b2422, b2496, b2528, b2596, b2956, b3040 miraculous conception... 1977, 1990 misappropriated........148, 1962
misdirecting......145, 610, 688, 1390, 1857, 1920, 2202, 2262, 2695, 2927, 3058, 3094
Mises, Ludwig von..........164, 1133 misogynistic .........................2764, 2766
misogyny....................................2764, 2768
missiles. 287, 548, 1405, 1594, 1595, 1670 missionaries .......... 1330, 2795, 2859
Mississippi River.............. 2800
Missouri................................. 416, 2267
Mirra.........1971, 1984, 2196, 2690, 2691, 2721, 2722
Mithraic mother.................. 2173
Mithraism................................. 1984 mithraisms.......................... 2173
mix metaphors.................... 2271
mixed economies.............. 1127 mixed economy........ 141, 1150
mixed signals.....278, 384, 775, 2907, 3003 mixed trees...................... 2783 mixing metaphors............... 2577
MK 77................................. 373
MKDELTA................................. 1373
MKNAOMI................................. 1373
MKSEARCH......................... 718, 1373
MKULTRA..629, 717, 718, 719, 1342, 1373, 1385 mob........289, 377, 443, 1152, 1274, 1440, 1473, 1474, 1902
Mobbs, Michael................. 1407 mobile biological weapons labs. 669 mobile homes......................... 584 mobile weapons labs.. 522, 571, 638
Mobuto, Sese Seko.............. 1336 mocks (mocking).................. 2649
modalism.............................. 1955 model bountiful commune...... 2635 model village.................... 358, 359 moderate Republican........... 1867 moderates....................... 180 modern.....227, 253, 307, 543, 1141, 1256, 1439, 1860, 2050, 2277, 2527, 2843, 2946 modernity...22, 23, 825, 1071, 1098, 1292, 2011, 2012, 2018, 2028, 2143, 2356, 2646, 2815, 2946 modernized...................... 759
Mogadishu.......................... 378
Mohammed 328, 379, 468, 629, 654, 736, 785, 808, 833, 1183, 1221, 1321, 1449, 1561, 1598, 1613, 1614, 1670, 1772, 1929, 1931, mop-up operation............................1589 moral compass............................2648 Moral Majority...............................845, 848, 849, 851, 1181 moral of the story.........................2306, 2969
moral persuasion..........................2092
Moral persuasion...........................2090
Morales, Evo................................1097, 1107, 1113 morality police..............................104, 2406, 2447 morale..........................................2837
morally ambivalent.........................639 more perfect union........................3081
Morgan, J. P..................................186
Morgenthau, Henry, Jr......................611 morning star...................................2126, 2128 morph...........................................1825, 1866, 2044 morphed........................................398, 1710
Morris, Benny.................................1589 mortgage payments..........................2847
Mosaddegh, Mohammed.....................736, 1449
Mosaic Judaism...............................2008
Mosaic law....................................21, 855, 1280, 1282, 1799, 1800, 1803, 2448, 2449
Mosaic laws.................................1280
Mosaic rituals...............................1280
Moscow..........................................648, 1324
Moses's law................................1778, 2936 moshav.........................................437 moshavim......................................437
Mossad 877, 1579, 1586, 1631, 3140
Most Favored Nation......................1466 Motel 6.........................................2600 mother nature...............................2198 motivation.................................370, 442, 919, 1020, 1308, 1515, 2026, 2255, 2387, 2409, 2573, 2613, 2736, 2797, 2806, 2816, 2826, 2834, 2983, 3092 motivational speaking....................1305, 2265, 2928 motivational speaking and writing
..............................................1305 motivational writing......................2837
motivations.................................2564, 2729, 2757
motorcycles.................................1178 motto............................................533, 918, 988, 1053, 1231, 1911 Moussaoui, Zacarius......................877 mouthing....................................62, 2458, 3062
move on....................................390, 630, 757, 819, 854, 873, 1487, 2257, 2377, 2703
Move on......................................760
movie stars.................................1541 movie-making process.....................1541 movies........................................524, 1326, 1350, 2261, 2765 moving bon........631, 715, 1427, 1503, 2347, 2738
Moyers, Bill.................. 529
Moynihan, Daniel Patrick 216, 1871
MSNBC........................... 532 muckraker................... 1393 muckrakers............... 185, 527, 906
Mudd, Roger.................. 528
Mugabe, Robert.......... 1461, 1462
mugging........................ 764
Muhammad, Khalid Shaykh... 939
Muhammad, Wallace Fard.... 327
Mujahideen................... 168 mulatto.......................... 2092, 2191
multibillionaires............. 168 multiculturalism............... 2373 multilateralism............... 1886 multiple sex partners........ 726, 2646
multiplicity.................. 1575 Myanmar (Burma)........................ 784 myopia........................................ 1251 myopic................................. 132, 763, 765, 1148, 1623, 2054 mystery religions... 1928, 1971, 1972 mystical................. 1292, 1745, 1790, 1963, 2167, 2385, 2420 mystically............................ 428
mysticism...... 997, 1958, 1959, 2657
mythology.. 1717, 1784, 1947, 2196, 2303 myths1785, 1831, 1857, 1858, 2007, 2208, 2874
Nabal................................. 91, 92
NAFTA............................. 1099, 1154, 1458 nail biting (obsessive) ....... 1351
naive... 338, 638, 691, 693, 720, 721, 799, 1338, 1432, 1454, 1471, 2209, 2940, 2954, 2962
name names.......................... 2622 name-forms............... 1935 nanotech......................... 1233 nanotechnology .... 1345, 1487, 1884
Nanotechnology troops........... 681 napalm.............................. 211, 374, 375
Napoleon (Bonaparte) ...... 629, 1512
Napoleonic law............. 120, 796, 2325
Narcissism........................... 2957 narrow way..... 30, 82, 154, 157, 190, 208, 219, 321, 425, 508, 610, 687, 689, 793, 815, 1015, 1026, 1052, 1119, 1136, 1243, 1299, 1585, 1593, 1607, 1802, 1830, 1848, 2140, 2306, 2412, 2497, 2500, 2538, 2542, 2580, 2595, 2602, 2618, 2712, 2731, 2734, 2737, 2804, 2832, 2851, 2861, 2866, 2894, 3044, 3076
Nasser, Gamal Abdel.......... 1579 nasty, brutish, and short... 312, 1636, 2028
Nathan (king David's son).... 2171
Nation of Islam................. 327
National Academy of Sciences of America............. 1414
National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA)........ 269
National Agricultural Chemical Association............... 1168
National Association of Evangelicals485, 848, 1622, 2494
National Bank of Algeria...... 2478
national banks......................... 1130
National Center for Public Policy Research................ 1219 National Council on Bible Curriculum in Public schools (US)................. 1821 national debt............. 760, 2319, 2485
National Endowment for Democracy..... 1447, 1460, 1491, 2142 national forest............. 1177, 1185 national forests..................... 893 national franchises............. 909
National Guard105, 822, 869, 1427, 1494 national I.D. cards......... 1506 national intelligence director...1439
National Opinion Research Center ..................................................2486 national parks .................................................................2486
National Parks......................................................1178, 1179, 3144
National Platform..............................................1178, 1179, 3144
National Public Radio.................................531, 2495
National Religious Broadcasters Association.........................2495
National Religious Campaign Against Torture............................2494
National Religious Campaign Nationalism.................................1065, 3049 nationalism..........................................................130, 227, 479, 484, 750, 817, 1006, 1469, 1580, 1602, 1616, 1619, 1628, 1695, 1925, 2057, 2192, 2588, 3047
Nationalism...........................................190, 490, 564, 962, 1873
National Security Agency...573, 956, 1399, 1504
National Security Council...190, 490, 564, 962, 1873
National Security Decision Directive..................................591, 3142
National Security Letters ........126, 127, 798 nationalist nationalism..............1619 nationalistic nationalism............1619 nationalist Zionism..................1897, 2923 nationalist state.........................2153
nationalists..................................................2454 Nationalists (Spain)..........................1446 nationalization........................................177, 205, 260, 398, 737, 1108, 1451, 1485, 1486 nationalized..............................177, 205, 260, 738, 1097, 1107, 1108, 1158, 1445, 1449, 1455, 1466, 2274, 2277
nationalizing hydrocarbons........1113 NATO..........................................................1213, 1886 natural law........................................1256, 1552, 2524, 3054 natural monopoly regulation........1572 natural resources.........................176, 991, 1109, 1335, 1483, 2312, 2331 natural selection..........................1757, 1771 nature worship..................................1066, 1919, 2655, 2816 nature, rhythms of......................2784
Navy Day speech..................................612
Navy SEALs....................................1526 naysayers............................................1045, 1853, 1990, 2171, 2858
Nazarenes..............................1897, 2923
Nehushtan nemesis neocolonialists neocon neocons...
neocons...
Neoliberalism 113, 1116, 1154

nerds..........................681
Nero..............................874, 1814 Neo Tziona (biological-weapons facility)..............................1669 nest of homosexuals............702, 705
net neutrality......................910
net worth.........................265, 531, 584, 1307
neurotheology.....................1370 neutral point-of-view.............912 neutrality..........................2786
Nevada..............................590 never admitting a mistake.....2885 never saying I’m sorry.........2885 never seeking help outside the family...............................2885
New Center........................139
new commandment...72, 82, 88, 99, 118, 121, 122, 140, 144, 145,
155, 163, 169, 202, 209, 225,
228, 229, 241, 275, 301, 305,
311, 317, 324, 332, 333, 341,
344, 350, 355, 357, 409, 447,
469, 504, 507, 541, 637, 676,
679, 686, 709, 721, 722, 732,
793, 799, 805, 806, 808, 817,
831, 853, 854, 855, 888, 894,
926, 932, 933, 935, 995, 1032, 1041, 1042, 1074, 1118, 1119,
1122, 1127, 1140, 1141, 1143,
1144, 1146, 1149, 1150, 1157,
1169, 1237, 1254, 1261, 1271,
1272, 1280, 1281, 1282, 1286,
1287, 1338, 1359, 1360, 1362,
1392, 1432, 1524, 1603, 1620, 1626, 1639, 1652, 1658, 1692,
1781, 1795, 1804, 1819, 1821,
1883, 1911, 1913, 1915, 1972,
2102, 2153, 2161, 2165, 2190,
2248, 2266, 2293, 2294, 2358,
2379, 2382, 2391, 2437, 2440,
2449, 2453, 2454, 2459, 2492,
2505, 2506, 2508, 2519, 2524,
2527, 2533, 2601, 2632, 2649,
2717, 2719, 2720, 2746, 2756,
2907, 2913, 2921, 2929, 2928, 2937, 2938, 2948, 2959, 2960, new covenant........1801, 2426, 2439, 2669
New Deal ..................183, 186, 241, 319, 531, 1154, 1545, 1570, 2473
New Dealers.........................209 new earth...........258, 425, 990, 998, 1307, 2359, 2812, 2976 new establishment........747, 748
New Frontier.........................1475
New Hampshire..............868, 1425
New Hampshire primary........868
new heaven...........425, 990, 998, 1307, 2044, 2359, 2503, 2679, 2812, 2976
New Historians (Zionism)......1576
New Labour..................113, 137, 922
New Labourites...............137
New Life Church...........484, 848, 2493, 2498
New Mexico...........578, 1445, 2475, 2486
new moon.................2199
New Orleans.............577, 580, 582, 586, 812, 1325, 1628, 1888 new religion...............480, 1278, 2057
new temple .......................481
New Testament...........53, 54, 60, 81, 476, 480, 1036, 1198, 1297, 1681, 1682, 1840, 1903, 1929, 1990, 1996, 2048, 2057, 2086, 2112, 2234, 2249, 2252, 2450, 2675, 2688, 2716, 2846, 2885, 3000, 3049, 3071, 3072
new way.........................469, 1012
New Way.........................139
new wine...........130, 747, 775, 1011, 1044, 1360, 2568, 2585, 2619, 2855, 3078
new wineskin...........182, 189, 425, 775, 1044, 1136, 1300, 2453, 2568, 2619, 2994
new world order...........244, 612, 638, 1525, 1534, 1648, 2774
New York...........329, 544, 666, 718, 802, 938, 1141, 1475, 1505, 1644, 1871, 1876, 1877, 2218, 2220, 3140
New York City.................329
New York Police Department....329
New York Theatre Workshop.....1644
News Corporation...........243, 804, 1872 newspapers...........243, 515, 522, 1086, 1091, 1092, 1331, 1398, 1514, 2482 news-slewing..................831 new-testament science........1755
NGO's.............................................297
Nicaragua.....................1153, 1182, 1333, 1334, 1336, 1416, 1417, 1418, 1439, 1440, 1481, 1491, 1493, 1494
Nicaraguan Contras...............1416
Nicodemus..............................1965
Nietzsche, Friedrich...........657, 674, 1169, 2384
Nietzschean......................679, 1903
Nietzscheans.....................1785
Niger..............................668, 1418, 1419, 1420
Oedipus complex.................2702 offerings......2611, 2612, 2741, 2785, 2984, 3110, 3111
Office of Inspector General,
Department of Justice.........1402
Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI)
....................................................620
Office of Special Plans ...... 387, 462, 489, 490, 492, 495, 496, 514, 553, 555, 556, 557, 570, 572, 1632
Office of Strategic Services.....1344
offshore (banking).....................2479
Ohio......517, 577, 578, 1194, 1445, 2475, 2486, 2499
oil addiction.................................2779 oil corporations.................270, 276, 2274, 2277 oil economy......263, 266, 365, 1451
Oil for Food Program, UN.....1567, 2088
oil industry267, 276, 387, 738, 1185, 1187, 1191, 1194, 1446, 1455, 1890, 2279, 2465 oil prices......1446, 1457, 1464, 2465 oil profits...............1225, 2277, 2278 oil reserves..................1446 oil sands..............266, 1446, 2812 oil shale......................1446, 2812 oil spills......................1191 oilman..............................869
Oklahoma.........................263, 266, 1197, 1450
Old Covenant.......................2722 old growth redwoods.............1179 old money.......................1405 Old South............................846 old testament of science........1747 old way..........................105, 469 Old West.........................615 old wineskin......130, 144, 652, 747, 831, 1035, 1118, 1156, 1359, 1360, 2624, 3078 older brother.............1474, 1775, 2097, 2098, 2104, 2122, 2123, 2127
oligarchical .......................... 388, 1117 oligarchical families ............... 1117 oligarchs .......................... 389, 825, 826, 888, 1406 oligarchy .......................... 698, 700, 825, 1648 oligarchy, global.................... 2605 olive branch .......................... 617 olive trees ............................ 1599
Oliver Discourse..................... 1237
Olson, Frank ......................... 1346
Omar Aum ............................. 1933
Omaha .................................... 599, 604, 630
Oman ..................................... 1153
Omar, Abu ................................ 937 omen ..................................... 890, 1218, 1583, 1586 omnipotence ............................ 1607 one blood ............................ 134, 152, 222, 224, 225 one flesh ............................ 1093, 1701, 2029, 2107, 2602, 2644, 2646, 2679, 2916,
2938, 2950, 2951, 2972
One hundred forty-four thousand male virgins .......................... 2678 one mountain with many paths to the top .............................. 1923, 2008
O’Neill, Paul ........................... 563 oneness .............................. 144, 228, 507, 508, 629, 657, 668, 752, 977, 1045, 1089,
1236, 1294, 1635, 1784, 1831,
1835, 1915, 1922, 1936, 2004,
2008, 2019, 2037, 2038, 2061,
2099, 2117, 2239, 2618, 2627,
2632, 2681, 2724, 2730, 2835,
2859, 2953, 3011, 3057, 3072, 3084, 3086, 3087, 3111
one-party dictatorship ............ 321, 443, 1127, 1466
one-person-one-vote ............... 889, 1148 ongoing fall ............................ 1636 only begotten Son 1061, 1988, 2071, 2072, 2108
OPEC (Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries)
......................................... 1464
OPEC oil embargo .................... 2477
OPEC oil embargo crisis of 1973
......................................... 1545
OPEC oil embargos ................... 1129
Open Door Policy ..................... 1331
open market ......................... 178, 1098, 1370
open markets ....................... 176, 286, 362, 404, 405, 589, 1131, 1458
Open Society Institute ............. 297 open, honest, and direct .. 205, 1121, 1122, 1309, 2079, 2581, 2839
open-book financial information
........................................ 2744
open-government movement ...... 114
open-market ......................... 362
open-market economy .............. 204 operant conditioning .............. 2387, 2394, 2395
Operation Ajax ....................... 736 Operation Blessing ................. 856
Operation Condor ................. 215
Operation Grapes of Wrath ....... 1594, 1595
Operation Midnight Climax ...... 718
Operation Northwoods .......... 875
Operation PBSUCCESS .......... 737
Operation Suzannah .............. 1579
Palestine ..... 437, 484, 567, 648, 670, 785, 816, 819, 914, 917, 920, 1074, 1319, 1442, 1583, 1594, 1596, 1602, 1613, 1614, 1619, 1640, 1664, 2034, 2088, 2089
Palestine Royal Commission ..... 1319
Palestinian ..... 463, 486, 487, 786, 788, 797, 858, 1571, 1578, 1597, 1598, 1602, 1625, 1629, 1644, 1668, 2034
Palestinian Arabs ..... 1625, 1629, 1668
Palestinian Christians ..... 1602
Palestinian/Israeli conflict ..... 463
Palestinians 162, 486, 487, 747, 785, 788, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 861, 1319, 1578, 1592, 1597, 1598, 1602, 1620, 1624, 1628, 1633, 1639, 1640, 1641, 1642, 1647, 1770, 1871, 2088, 2148, 2154, 2161
Palmach ..... 1600
Palmer Raids ..... 105, 319, 1380, 1382, 1384
Panacca ..... 3030
Panama ..... 292, 610, 612, 626, 700, 837, 1153, 1332, 1333, 1334, 1336, 1444
Panama Canal Zone ..... 1332
Pandemics ..... 1207, 2238
Pandering ..... 862, 1466, 1613, 1615, 1930, 2780
Pandora’s box ..... 357
Pandora’s Box ..... 2398, 2404, 2447
panic ..... 117, 2223, 2864, 3026 panic attacks ..... 2906 pantheon ..... 2014, 2061, 2694
Panthers ..... 2762
papal bull ..... 1967
papal infallibility ..... 153, 1844, 1964, 2455 PAPERCLIP ..... 1344
papyrus ..... 2849
parable ..... 73, 74, 414, 704, 1012, 1051, 1249, 1259, 1594, 1657, 1739, 1784, 1785, 1856, 1904, 1907, 2065, 2127, 2306, 2392, 2576, 2577, 2637, 2651, 2750, 2977, 2995, 3067 paradox ..... 122, 127, 229, 506, 546, 639, 808, 810, 934, 1016, 1029, 1035, 1073, 1171, 1202, 1247, 1248, 1251, 1281, 1553, 1621, 1761, 1807, 1824, 1825, 1834, 1921, 1959, 2063, 2068, 2200, 2289, 2380, 2413, 2589, 2659, 2690, 2723, 2770, 2775, 2792, 2866, 2867, 2868, 2940, 3064, 3076, 3083 paradoaxes ..... 32, 240, 379, 539, 1019, 1252, 1281, 1287, 1525, 1605, 1824, 1825, 1828, 1970, 2397 permanent enemy................. 800 permanent revolution............ 1568 permanent war........ 695, 800, 945, 1568
pernicious..................... 2571, 2885
Perot, Ross.................. 494, 1479 perpetrator........ 104, 2253, 2256, 2288, 2289, 2291
perpetrators...... 678, 683, 718, 925, 1355, 1577, 2292, 2486, 2566, 2882, 2896 perpetual war........ 244, 964, 1514, 2144, 2327 perpetuators............... 774, 2893
Perrin, Yaacov................. 854
Perry, (commodore) Matthew C. ........................................ 1330 persecutes...................... 509 persecution........ 28, 31, 342, 420, 427, 474, 510, 923, 945, 1028, 1050, 1052, 1172, 1377, 1665, 1689, 1764, 1766, 1797, 1816, 1855, 1902, 1903, 1932, 1952, 2008, 2062, 2080, 2082, 2084, 2090, 2258, 2290, 2315, 2345, 2346, 2369, 2371, 2625, 2633, 2643, 2706, 2715, 2852, 3015, 3064, 3079, 3101, 3110 persecutions.................... 3015 persevere...................... 15, 16, 170, 324, 727, 1084, 1229, 1711, 2233, 2240, 2242, 2285, 2434, 2447, 2502, 2514, 2567, 2591, 2794, 2810, 2861, 2953, 2982, 2983, 3064
Persia........ 785, 1072, 2208, 2669, 2705
Persian.................. 1614, 1651, 2687
Persians........ 288, 832, 914, 1627, 1665, 1682, 1925, 2007, 2888, 2962
Persinger, Michael........ 1369, 1370 personal glory.................. 463 personal relationship with God........ 2408 personal responsibility...... 513, 2892 personal testimony............... 2863 personality disorders........... 2892 personal-transportation sector... 264 personified.................. 2694, 2695
Peru.......................... 1491 perversion.......................... 160 perverted.......................... 160, 2100 pessimism...................... 2447, 2870 pessimist....................... 219 pessimistic..................... 2808
pest-controlling plants........... 2802 pesticides...................... 891, 2562 pesticides, chemical............... 1099 pestilence.......................... 2727
Peter........ 79, 81, 325, 433, 958, 977, 1202, 1240, 1301, 1679, 1688, 1689, 1690, 1700, 1801, 1811, 1812, 1832, 1833, 1838, 1842, 1843, 1844, 1845, 1855, 1963, 1976, 1986, 2053, 2125, 2190, 2361, 2362, 2512, 2519, 2615, 2637, 2804, 2805, 2967, 2999, 3089
petit-bourgeois................ 441 petite-bourgeoise............... 1116 petrochemicals.................. 107 petrodollars.................... 2461
pets............................ 1197 planned economies..................... 1127 planned economy.......................... 266 platitudes...................................... 3058
Plato.......................................... 398, 443, 674, 703, 808, 916, 1086, 1858, 1859, 1864, 1901,
1902, 1903, 1904, 2020, 2021,
2454, 2679, 2696, 2703, 2946
Platonic.......................... 192, 398, 703, 811, 1799, 1860, 1861, 2014, 2478
Platonism.......................... 1704, 1799, 1830, 2008, 2182, 2463
Platonists.......................... 2016, 2696 plausible deniability.................. 136, 329, 490, 518, 563, 607, 617, 638, 725,
740, 744, 789, 834, 867, 1340,
1421, 1429, 1469, 1595, 1864,
1887, 1905, 2838
playboy........................................ 597 plea-bargain................................. 678 plea-bargaining............................ 1219 pleasant... 13, 382, 1019, 1052, 1081, 2883 pleasantness............................... 2883 pleasantries................................. 2838 pleasures of sin..... 658, 2311, 2395, 2937 pledges.............................. 576
Plotinus............................. 1899
Podhoretz, John...................... 1871
Podhoretz, Norman................... 1871 poetic justice.................... 2440, 2828
poetical.................................... 1210
poetry........................................ 725, 2704
Poetry............................... 1249
pogroms................................. 1583 Pointdexter, John.................... 696, 887 point of view............................. 539 point the finger......................... 1498 poisoning Palestinian wells........ 1578
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Pol Pot</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poland</td>
<td>1316, 1323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>police state</td>
<td>104, 141, 154, 236, 309, 317, 442, 622, 691, 965, 966, 1146, 1393, 1517, 2503</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>policing</td>
<td>1309, 1332, 1529, 1559, 2408, 2491, 2803</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>policing ministries</td>
<td>1309</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>policy wonks</td>
<td>1323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polish</td>
<td>104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>polite</td>
<td>100, 2552</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>polite society</td>
<td>2552</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>politeness</td>
<td>2283, 2754</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political cxxiii</td>
<td>1, 16, 35, 89, 97, 139, 177, 180, 268, 478, 479, 483, 484, 495, 514, 521, 554, 557, 563, 781, 836, 837, 868, 869, 929, 981, 1005, 1007, 1053, 1075, 1104, 1214, 1215, 1317, 1379, 1385, 1399, 1407, 1439, 1478, 1482, 1494, 1496, 1501, 1617, 1684, 1694, 1702, 1767, 1780, 1859, 1892, 1911, 1930, 2142, 2245, 2275, 2280, 2328, 2334, 2366, 2514, 2619, 2621, 2789, 3062, 3078</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political action committees</td>
<td>786</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political asylum</td>
<td>695</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political capital</td>
<td>559, 837, 868</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political correctness</td>
<td>544, 2373, 2769</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political dissidents</td>
<td>1532</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political economist</td>
<td>344, 1118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political elite</td>
<td>2946</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political enemies</td>
<td>953, 1510</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political patronage</td>
<td>1153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political prisoners</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political revolution</td>
<td>311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political reward</td>
<td>909</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Political Science</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political speech</td>
<td>1531, 2621</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political tax-audits</td>
<td>267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political-campaign contributions</td>
<td>245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political-enemies list</td>
<td>1549</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>politically</td>
<td>10, 13, 781, 1327, 1344, 1794, 2361, 2515, 2541</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>politically incorrect</td>
<td>100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political-party organizations</td>
<td>2788</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political-socialization indoctrination</td>
<td>573</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>political-socialization process</td>
<td>810, 920, 1120, 1326, 1521, 1694, 2398</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>politicians</td>
<td>245, 247, 360, 596, 823, 1110, 1115, 1161, 1226, 1414, 1494, 2338, 2622</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>politics</td>
<td>457, 780, 950, 1005, 1035, 2088, 2336, 2366, 2460, 2626, 3002</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> politics makes strange bedfellows
..................................................1545
Polk, James........................610, 777, 1329 poll fce.....................................182 pollution.......97, 107, 172, 173, 244, 251, 269, 276, 355, 356, 359,
367, 371, 418, 588, 745, 838,
951, 1024, 1105, 1130, 1135,
1187, 1190, 1193, 1383, 1384,
1434, 1462, 1542, 1546, 1694,
1695, 1829, 1984, 2117, 2562,
2734, 2739, 2751, 2752, 2753, 2754, 2755, 2773, 2780, 3032 poly chlorinated biphenyl...........1104 polyamory.....................................2646 polygamist....................................2074 polygamy................2046, 2074, 2107
polygraph...............................392, 578 polytheism..............................1956, 2061 pomp.................................153, 2833, 2928 pomposity.....................................2833 poor man's Harvard...............1876 poor workers..................184, 307

poor, the...12, 44, 46, 48, 51, 52, 54, 60, 82, 84, 104, 105, 108, 109,
110, 111, 139, 165, 170, 172,
173, 176, 177, 194, 203, 206,
228, 230, 232, 234, 235, 250,
251, 252, 253, 255, 260, 261,
314, 330, 348, 350, 351, 372,
408, 424, 452, 455, 458, 461,
504, 510, 513, 551, 574, 582,
586, 842, 860, 866, 888, 892,
907, 908, 922, 935, 950, 955,
976, 1009, 1021, 1035, 1036,
1047, 1048, 1050, 1053, 1058,
1062, 1064, 1105, 1106, 1117,
1132, 1142, 1145, 1155, 1157,
1158, 1159, 1162, 1175, 1176,
1186, 1197, 1228, 1236, 1242,
1306, 1330, 1360, 1374, 1432,
1433, 1434, 1449, 1455, 1462, 1465, 1466, 1477, 1481, 1485,
1486, 1489, 1491, 1503, 1572, 1628, 1712, 1816, 1817, 1819,
1850, 1869, 1874, 1876, 2109,
2161, 2179, 2197, 2202, 2217,
2219, 2239, 2271, 2277, 2278, 2318, 2356, 2357, 2461, 2497,
2533, 2534, 2535, 2564, 2565,
2601, 2614, 2620, 2641, 2692,
2735, 2737, 2742, 2743, 2757,
2758, 2795, 2796, 2829, 2830,
2840, 2841, 2846, 2856, 2988,
2989, 2990, 3087, 3088, 3089,
3090, 3095, 3096, 3097, 3105, 3107
popes.......155, 446, 964, 1034, 1844
Popper, Karl.........................658 poopy.............................................346 popular...........232, 434, 480, 917, 949, 1109, 1274, 1316, 1356, 1396, 1640, 2533, 2833, 2837
popular uprisings.............1109 popularity..............560, 917, 2477 popularity contest..............560 population explosion.........356, 1198, 1201, 1202
populism.................................948 populist........406, 407, 745, 1113, 1484 populistic..................................1447
pornography 673, 2264, 2284, 2468,
2875, 2928, 2934
Pornography............................... 339
portends ................................... 2205, 2528
portfolios................................. 184, 2231
Portugal...................................... 158
Portuguese................................. 1964 Posilac....................................... 1103 posing...................................... 28, 2399 positive.... 2, 837, 1071, 1202, 1460, 1928, 2093, 2262, 2403, 2555, 2765, 2832, 2980
positive correlation ...... 2897, 2898
positive role models........ 2760
possessed...... 74, 196, 461, 468, 629,
651, 799, 1246, 1673, 1783,
2010, 2119, 2545, 2858
post-capitalism............... 2808
posterity.... 254, 255, 277, 314, 371, 897, 1100, 1173, 1186, 1189, 1190, 1666, 1685, 2459, 2778
post-hypnotic suggestion......708 posthypnotic suggestions.......719
postmillennialism.2428, 2430, 2448, 2456 postmillennialists......2430, 2449
post-Nicene fathers........ 2305
posttraumatic stress disorder.1441, 1522, 2879, 3017
posttribulation.......................2433
Posttribulationists.................2433 posturing............................364, 561
Pot, Pol....................................1902 potato beetles................. 1101
Potter's Field.........................1740 poverty110, 175, 176, 251, 252, 254, 264, 361, 370, 371, 412, 415,
1242, 1417, 1457, 1462, 1481,
1494, 1729, 1804, 1816, 1817,
1898, 2278, 2410, 2641, 2796, 3109
POW.........................................940, 941
Powell, Colin......370, 390, 518, 557, 561, 590, 593, 779, 938, 1418, 1434, 1435, 1646, 1881
power elite..249, 289, 397, 398, 514, 525, 527, 531, 534, 622, 786,
787, 823, 1112, 1153, 1217,
1392, 1511, 1596, 1631, 1882, 2337, 2338, 2474, 2762
power grab.........................1511 power of the purse......... 954 power politics....190, 232, 455, 1062
powers that be..16, 83, 98, 155, 232, 244, 388, 472, 674, 747, 807,
871, 874, 882, 883, 884, 1010,
1014, 1245, 1262, 1265, 1273, 1297, 1298, 1299, 1310, 1372,
1386, 1478, 1479, 1523, 1525,
1552, 1679, 1830, 1991, 2018,
2130, 2132, 2221, 2308, 2342,
2349, 2351, 2358, 2409, 2489,
2623, 2677, 2838, 2843, 2851,
2891, 2904, 3007, 3015
pragmatism.............1762, 2713, 2714
pragmatist..............................2714 Prague.................................899 prayer rope............................1935 prayer-in-school......................846 prayers for war.........................784 praying for the president............811 precepts..........................55, 61, 64, 193, 218, 456, 457, 506, 508, 509, 808, 845, 1050, 1075, 1655, 1679, 1682, 1703, 1715, 1716, 1726, 1731, 1781, 1821, 1830, 1947, 2038, 2055, 2147, 2373, 2432, 2448, 2547, 2616, 2633, 2641, 2767, 2832, 2914, 3001, 3002, 3005, 3091 precision-guided weapons...........288 predation.............................764, 1712, 3046 predatory..........................255, 349, 764, 1497, 2956, 3018, 3022 predestination.....................505, 1807, 2497 destined..................349, 504, 513, 1626, 1805 predict you.........................1523 predictions..................1181, 1227, 2773
predilection.........................472, 2679 predilections.........................2934 predisposed..................385, 445, 1291, 1414, 1653, 1657, 1658, 1700, 1772, 1776, 1847, 1909, 2965, 3023, 3042 predisposition............1774, 1908, 3023, 3053 predispositions....................748, 1851, 1926 preempt..................383, 386, 400, 690, 1524 preemption 383, 386, 400, 407, 408, 666, 1156, 1516, 1524, 1552 preemptive.286, 372, 385, 710, 818, 829, 2325 preening.................................2956 pregnant..................165, 647, 746, 859, 1377, 1417, 2170, 2288, 2971, 2972, 2973
premillennialism..................2428, 2429, 2433
premillennialists...............2430 premonition.........................2205 premonitions.........................2205 preordain.................................705 preponderance of evidence...........2673
prepubescent.........................2466 Presbyterian.........................2833 presbyters...........................2640 prescription..660, 732, 1103, 1566, 1617, 1620, 1816, 2054
preservationists..............2517, 2520
president of the College

  Republicans.........................1224 presidential authority...........945, 1422 presidential election (2000).....2485
  presidential election (2004)382, 577, 742, 777
  President's Council on Environmental Quality...........267 presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church..................................1222 pre-signs............................1125 pre-Socratic.........................1125 presumption of innocence...........120 Preterism............................999 pretexts......376, 510, 808, 895, 1498, 1881, 2325 pretribulation.........................2433 pretribulationists......................2433 prey........383, 488, 1082, 1094, 1311, 1695, 2041, 2074, 2239, 2348, 2661, 2770, 2956, 3044, 3059 preys..............................................2897 price competitive......................2806 price fixing.................................2779 price of progress.......................320 priced out.......................................247
pride........9, 174, 477, 505, 906, 988, 1006, 1017, 1028, 1042, 1053, 1389, 1656, 1662, 1694, 1696, 1698, 1699, 1701, 1764, 1784, 1812, 1815, 1842, 1863, 2011, 2012, 2020, 2112, 2132, 2158, 2213, 2214, 2216, 2217, 2218, 2219, 2220, 2232, 2270, 2285, 2309, 2310, 2378, 2405, 2406, 2423, 2474, 2507, 2511, 2517, 2549, 2550, 2581, 2588, 2598, 2631, 2736, 2832, 2886, 2956, 3007, 3027, 3047, 3067, 3074
pride........477, 1695, 2214, 2218
prideful: 9, 93, 483, 656, 1656, 1695, 1712, 2013, 2213, 2218, 2249, 2310, 2517, 2523, 2593, 3027 priesthood of all believers (universal, royal priesthood)
..............................................2630, 2833, 3076
prime minister of Israel............484, 857 prime minister of the United Kingdom..............1316, 1318, 1320
prime mover: 412, 1423, 1759, 2702
prime-mover.................................2876
primitives.........................1291, 2102 primogeniture........152, 2097, 2188
primordial...............................1758 priming.................................2956 prince of darkness......153, 382, 402, 624, 699, 998, 2099, 2353, 2479, 2537 prince of the air.........................306 prince of the world...276, 798, 2153
prince of this world......65, 153, 272, 306, 467, 609, 698, 843, 1012, 1015, 1034, 1036, 1512, 1571, 1821, 1848, 2006, 2132, 2133, 2622, 2709, 3000, 3002 priorities78, 1433, 1973, 2053, 2446, 2660, 2729, 2752, 2753, 2816, 2819, 3082 prioritize.................................2817 prison...58, 230, 599, 755, 847, 903, 924, 1063, 1074, 1087, 1247, 1298, 1424, 1426, 1533, 2079, 2180, 2201, 2242, 2253, 2288, 2429, 2441, 2750, 2914 prison labor...............................318 prisoners.................................581 prisoners of war prisons pristine privacy private detective
private enterprise private insurance
private interpretation private military contractors private ownership
private property
private sector
Private Sector Development (PSD)
private wealth
private, special advantage and privilege privatization privatization revolution privatized
privatized currencies
privatized fire department privatized prisons privatizing privileged classes probability Probable cause probative proceeds pro-choice pro-coercion
procrastinating.....1815, 2512, 2730, 2828, 3110
procreation..725, 1686, 2659, 2678, 2679, 2778, 2936, 2950, 2979, 2981, 3016 Procter & Gamble Fund...........1168 pro-democracy...................567, 1455 prodigal..............................2135, 2651
Prodigal Son, the.1797, 2117, 2119, 2123, 2127, 2139, 2140, 2418, 2651, 2752
Producers.......................................166
profanity.........................2598, 2766
professing.11, 14, 17, 57, 61, 62, 67, 79, 82, 455, 482, 808, 1166, 1305, 1336, 1383, 1667, 1678, 1715, 1923, 2036, 2082, 2126, 2317, 2451, 2520, 2608, 2670, 2675, 2716, 3003 professionals.................491, 562, 860 profit center...............182, 1411, 1473 profit sharing.............105, 1135, 1572 profound: 40, 325, 382, 1292, 1364, 1859, 2068, 2269, 2880, 2904, 3024 pro-freedom of the press......567 progenitors.....................433, 472
Prognostications............2207
Programs for the Theological Exploration of Vocation (PTEV).......................511
Progressive Era............185, 2759
pro-Hebrew.........................1615 Prohibition.....................374, 1473 pro-homosexuality.............2366 pro-human rights..............567 Project for the New American Century..407, 500, 570, 620, 878, 894, 1078, 1167, 1420, 1872, 2274, 2340 proletariat.........441, 443, 447, 1127, 1460, 1568, 1569 pro-liberty.........................567 pro-life, consistently........2495
promiscuity.................117, 541, 544, 2200, 2602, 2905 Promised Land160, 275, 1582, 2160
promotions......................11, 793 pro-neocon.........................1634 proof positive...........2, 231, 1751 proof, logical..................1760 propaganda machine...........809, 826 propaganda minister..................826 propaganda movies, Hollywood
..................................................1541 propagandists..245, 664, 1868, 1887
propagandize............................912 property destruction..............2402 property taxes.........................2740 propertyless class..................441
prophecy.....7, 16, 28, 149, 158, 162, 219, 305, 422, 459, 482, 711,
767, 768, 772, 773, 966, 979,
989, 991, 993, 997, 1003, 1007,
1015, 1022, 1050, 1069, 1070,
1071, 1072, 1081, 1082, 1083,
1141, 1176, 1183, 1188, 1211,
1227, 1235, 1236, 1237, 1238,
1293, 1340, 1452, 1556, 1588,
1585, 1636, 1664, 1680, 1690,
1713, 1729, 1731, 1736, 1737,
1739, 1740, 1743, 1758, 1787,
1788, 1814, 1833, 1834, 1840,
1846, 1855, 1860, 1923, 1924,
1932, 1949, 2061, 2109, 2110,
2125, 2132, 2160, 2166, 2167,
2169, 2170, 2174, 2176, 2189,
2192, 2203, 2207, 2208, 2209,
2227, 2234, 2238, 2241, 2303,
2304, 2306, 2309, 2368, 2388,
2407, 2409, 2431, 2432, 2444,
2445, 2446, 2447, 2456, 2506,
2521, 2546, 2576, 2607, 2608,
2622, 2643, 2655, 2677, 2690,
2691, 2699, 2721, 2722, 2731,
2750, 2782, 2795, 2816, 2831,
2874, 2922, 2982, 3026, 3057, 3060, 3067, 3072
prophecy against prophecy........422 prophesied.131, 162, 195, 293, 305, 451, 471, 478, 482, 492, 727,
765, 996, 999, 1060, 1062, 1081, 1082, 1234, 1292, 1295, 1739,
1885, 2078, 2129, 2192, 2203,
2305, 2387, 2388, 2431, 2518,
2528, 2532, 2627, 2697, 2698,
2712, 2722, 2949
prophet 37, 93, 138, 213, 449, 586, 725, 998, 1062, 1072, 1181,
1714, 1739, 1784, 1814, 1840,
2009, 2120, 2159, 2203, 2204,
2205, 2304, 2388, 2414, 2420, 2447, 2624, 2840
prophets of capitalism..........304 proportionality...............3108 proportionate...194, 369, 716, 1366, 1836, 2059, 2254, 2822, 2823, 3034 prose.............................1249
proselytize........668, 1175, 1620, 1753, 1828, 2280, 2827
proselytized..................668, 1965
proselytizing......793, 1090, 1184, 1234, 1820, 1822, 1823, 2165, 2193,
2365, 2368, 2369, 2373, 2466,
2468, 2500, 2501, 2627, 2790,
2937, 2957, 2962, 2963
Proselytizing.................2970 prosperity.9, 10, 196, 256, 257, 976, 1256, 1305, 1306, 1307, 1308, psychosomatic..............................2023
psych-out..................................378
psyops 267, 515, 530, 655, 677, 699, 712, 714, 828, 1598, 1601
Psyops........................................624
psyops weapons..........................1369
PTL Network................................850
Ptolemy II Philadelphus...............2672 puberty......................................2467, 2957 public access............................530 classical public affairs..............203, 531 Public Broadcasting Service.......531, 909 public domain..........cxxiii, 2832, 2837
public education...............181, 358, 729, 1572, 2465
public healthcare.................1572 public highways......................1572 public housing.......................1572, 2758
Public interest.......................247
Public Interest Watch.............268 public libraries.....................181, 182 public media............................530, 534 public parks.........................182 public parks, safe and clean.....1572 public playgrounds, safe and clean
                              ..............................................1572 public relations........335, 548, 552, 576, 664, 669, 752, 762, 949, 975, 983, 1165, 1178
public roads............................181 public schools (US)...............182, 1762, 1820, 1830 public sector......................348, 893 public speaking......................2793 classical public speaking........830 public subsidies......................1456 public transportation.............1572 publican..................1773, 2256, 2365, 2400
publicans .........29, 63, 538, 544, 1206, 2197, 2614, 2891, 2978, 2988,
                  2995, 3106
Publicis Groupe.......................535 public-relations....................245, 267
public-school prayer................2930 public-works project..............2813 publisher................................1093 publishers.............185, 906, 2786, 2788, 2837 publishing houses............2787, 2837, 2838
Puerto Rico.............1153, 1330, 1331 pump priming (economic).........1147
Punk Rock.........................1357
Punk Rocker.......................1357
Purcellville.....................845 pure (democracy)......................585 pure fiction.............................74
purgatory..............................1638
Purim..........................2669
Puritan..........2455, 2832, 2833, 3075, 3076 puritanical.........................3074
Puritanism......................153, 3075
Puritans.154, 513, 1766, 2833, 3075 push people around..............288 pushers.............................345 pushing buttons.....................1368 put up food.........................2811
Putin, Vladimir ........... 293, 295, 296
Pyne, Joe ......................... 949 pyramids ........................................... 2705
Qahal (church) ...................... 3000
Qana ................................ 1594, 1595
Qana massacre .......................... 1595
Qatar .............................. 755, 1086, 1089
Qibya ......................................... 1596
Qibya massacre ..................... 1601 quaint ...................................... 796, 799, 1043
Quaker ........................................ 1110
Quakerism .............................. 1563 Quakers ................................. 1563, 1878 qualifications (for membership/office within the Real Liberal Christian Church)
 ............................................. 2632
qualifier ............................. 1170, 1171, 1867, 2230 qualifiers ............................... 1171 quality of life .................... 179, 231, 264, 349, 958, 1115, 1119, 1159, 1199, 1362, 2983
Quality of life ....................... 1119
quantum leap .................... 1779, 1940, 2808
Quebec ................................. 2599 queen of heaven ..................... 2173
quietism ...................................... 2033
Qumran ............................ 2305, 2678, 2686, 2707
Qur'anic law .......................... 2035, 2280
rabbinitic ......................... 697, 879 rabinic ........................... 853, 1044, 1046, 2674
Rabbinic ......................... 479, 2156
Rabbinic Jews ...................... 479 rabbinal-ceremonial trappings ...
 ........................................... 2658 rabinism .............................. 1825 rabinists .............................. 1454, 1895, 2156, 2162, 2166, 2181, 2182, 2426, 2664, 2677
Rabelais, François .............. 2384
Rabin, Yitzhak ...................... 1597, 1651 race horse ......................... 856 racial discrimination ............ 579 racial inferiority ................. 2761 racial integration .................. 1572 racial-and-ethnic profiling ....... 790
racism .......................... 102, 112, 159, 371, 486, 487, 577, 586, 1316, 1325, 1327,
  1328, 1527, 1543, 1544, 1564, 1628, 1629, 1648, 1649, 1876,
  2155, 2760
Racism ......................... 102, 486, 2762
racist .................. 486, 1325, 1379, 1497, 1499, 1543, 1565, 1598, 1623, 1649,
  1650, 1848, 1849, 1926, 1927, 2043, 2485, 2760, 2950
racists .................. 385, 389, 488, 1496, 1499, 1544, 1602, 1652, 1864, 1926,
  2225, 2670
Racists .......................... 1926
racket .......................... 128, 738, 1221, 1226, 2086, 2239 racketeering ...................... 403, 1440, 2086
racketeer ......................... 738 radiation experiments .......... 726 radical .......................... 118, 156, 189, 192, 220, 232, 406, 726, 731, 924, 968, 979, 1079, 1096, 1235, 1255, 1363,
  1369, 1383, 1431, 1653, 1658, 1674, 1774, 2141, 2143, 2144, 2395, 2403, 2452, 2459, 2700, 3075 radical evil.........................2403 radical transformation.............118 radicalism192, 193, 195, 1484, 1570, 1642, 1674, 2142
radicalization..........................202 radio....243, 714, 740, 824, 949, 950, 1345, 1370, 1514, 1530, 2261, 2482, 2495, 2498 radio bandwidth.........................824 radio frequency (RF) weapons.1370
Radio Frequency Identification Devices..........................1530, 2811
Radio Marti..........................522
Rag Heads............................898 rage .......................974, 1296, 1968, 2824
Rahman, Abdul.........................2035 rain barrels..........................2783 raises......89, 166, 505, 748, 793, 956, 1615, 2410, 2718
Rama.................................1931 rambling...................................3091
Rambo....................................524
Ramoth....................................2307
Rand, Ayn..................657, 674, 1169, 1434 random..................1092, 1760, 2587 randomness..................1041, 3082 range of debate.........................248 ransom202, 341, 557, 596, 631, 684, 735, 892, 1063, 1089, 2046, 2085, 2122, 2220, 2252, 2452, 2568, 2588, 2679, 2733, 2851, 2860, 3064
Ranucci, Sigfrido ...................381
rape...........110, 974, 1177, 1185, 2074, 2402, 2517, 2972, 2973, 3103
Rape ..................................2499, 2972
raped the earth.......................1200
rapture ..................2433, 2434, 2440
rational...........2391, 2522, 3081, 3082 rationale...........566, 1091, 1687, 1711, 1862
rationalism..............1704, 1726, 2522 rationalist.........................2776
rationalists..................1762, 2168
rationality......................2527
rationalization........44, 194, 206, 220, 335, 403, 629, 1512, 1657, 1807, 1860, 1863, 2006, 2564, 2893 rationalizations........152, 728, 1603, 2029, 2041, 2178, 2230, 2648 rationalize .........383, 438, 656, 663, 675, 679, 746, 815, 1089, 1091, 1171, 1366, 1375, 1554, 1602, 1680, 1806, 1889, 2234, 2335, 2381, 2382, 2574, 2849, 3026, 3038 rationalized.........159, 498, 509, 623, 657, 932, 1432, 1506, 1511, 1549, 1863, 1870, 2046, 2054, 2102, 2239, 2294, 2332, 2431, 2849, 3054 rationalizing........83, 313, 451, 501, 560, 1086, 1594, 1671, 1868, 1870, 2121, 2134, 2311, 2383, 2479, 2550 rats.........................358, 1102, 1208, 2799 Ratzinger, Joseph...........600 raw fooder....................................1975 RCA ..............................................1510 reactionaries..................137, 186, 819 reactionary..115, 370, 841, 864, 979, 1379
reactive patterns......................3026
reactivity.....................................2892
read between the lines.....1934, 2038
Reagan administration......705, 730, 836, 949, 1180, 1226, 1416, 1439, 1480, 1494, 1543, 1546, 1871
Reagan lies.................................1542
Reagan revolution .......................538
Reagan, Ronald..112, 164, 204, 347, 400, 543, 591, 598, 626, 722, 729, 731, 734, 738, 739, 757, 821, 822, 836, 837, 841, 851, 949, 969, 1129, 1133, 1143, 1144, 1180, 1182, 1334, 1416, 1417, 1424, 1438, 1453, 1494, 1540, 1545, 1546, 1555, 1875, 1893, 2231, 2476, 2904
Reagan-Bush administration.....1416
Reaganism....................................542
Reaganites...112, 319, 396, 397, 543, 706, 1182, 2477
Reaganomics.................................836 real anarchism..............................1169 real anarchists .........................1573 real bounty: 38, 48, 95, 133, 166, 229, 242, 256, 320, 369, 455, 459, 663, 752, 768, 769, 896, 1120, 1131, 1313, 1571, 1723, 1954, 2149, 2489, 2613, 2785, 2935, 3014, 3103
real bread: 41, 42, 853, 1037, 1046, 1170, 1791, 1841, 1848, 1850, 1956, 1991, 2072, 2146, 2306, 2418, 2524, 2596, 2657, 2661, 2700, 2701, 2832, 2896, 2929, 2993
Real Christian...................2635, 2733 realpolitik..................................218, 219 realpolitiker..............................1867 realpolitiks..............................217, 218, 868, 1578 real-world religion......................2038, 2039 reasonable suspicion..........................218, 219 reasonableness..............................1254 reasoning...................................99, 1273, 1726, 1727, 1730, 1810, 1847, 1860, 2130,
2384, 2386, 2522, 2597, 2794, 3015
Rebekah.....................................2052 rebellion.9, 327, 411, 526, 529, 706, 864, 888, 935, 1028, 1072, 1078,
1143, 1583, 1702, 1707, 1885,
1916, 1999, 2121, 2127, 2128,
2135, 2139, 2239, 2240, 2245, 2314, 2317, 2784, 2954
rebellious...............................409, 410, 411, 706, 797, 1028, 1133, 1143, 1206, 1742,
1817, 2007, 2116, 2201, 2240,
2310, 2329, 2385, 2435, 2561, 2785, 2891
reborn..................................70, 772, 1011, 1015, 1281, 1945, 2127, 2926
rebutting..................86, 97, 273, 274, 496, 2254, 2573 reconciliation.........................1318, 2046, 2183 recant..................................558, 839 receiving.41, 85, 599, 602, 702, 787, 905, 968, 1258, 1307, 1437,
1525, 1528, 1557, 1678, 1720,
1903, 2592, 2830, 2838, 2842, 3001, 3041, 3109
reception..................................26, 64, 748, 1048, 1372, 2846 recidivistic..............................1642, 1797, 2393 reciprocal ..........92, 567, 1134, 2298, 2753 reciprocated..............................456, 1165 reclassify..............................................1392 reclassifying.............................381, 1387 recompense.........................45, 177, 202, 257, 333, 370, 452, 764, 772, 1817, 2053,
2197, 2355, 2360, 2409, 2534,
2555, 2558, 2582, 2593, 2613,
2681, 2796, 2806, 2807, 2808,
2810, 2816, 2829, 2847, 2921,
2988, 3035, 3041, 3108, 3109
reconcilable 1083, 1250, 1756, 1854, 2344, 2352, 2877
reconcilably.................................639
reconcile.1083, 1250, 1287, 1363, 1525, 1607, 1828, 1860, 1921,
1957, 1970, 2015, 2061, 2102,
2236, 2243, 2280, 2305, 2414, 2731
Reconcile....................................127, 240, 1083, 1575, 1803, 1807, 2130, 2413, 2431, 2770, 3006
reconciled............1308, 1688, 1703, 1756, 1759, 1763, 1794, 1847, 1937,
1987, 2069, 2236, 2314, 2438, 2520, 3012, 3061
reconciles..........506, 2135, 2397, 2777
Reconnaissance.........................692 Reconstructionism.................2448 reconstructionist......................180, 2265, 2493, 2959
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>reconstructionist-dominionist</td>
<td>2493</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>movement</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reconstructionists</td>
<td>180, 349, 350, 447, 484, 853, 854, 2265, 2379, 2450, 2455, 2456, 2489, 2490, 2492, 2493, 2498, 2501, 2896, 2945, 2948</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>movement</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reconstructionists/dominionists</td>
<td>1564, 2265, 2456</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Recovered-Factory Movement</td>
<td>1456</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>recriminations</td>
<td>990, 1208, 2269, 2332, 2573, 3064</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>recruiting</td>
<td>535, 536, 551, 968</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>rectories</td>
<td>2629</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>recurrent nightmares</td>
<td>2884</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>recycle</td>
<td>411, 1192, 1203, 2588</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Red Cross, International</td>
<td>876</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Committee of the</td>
<td>924</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>red scare</td>
<td>1377, 2144</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Red Scare</td>
<td>527, 1524, 1626, 1876</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>red tape</td>
<td>2795</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>red-blooded American</td>
<td>2887</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redemption</td>
<td>28, 1218, 1275, 1293, 1296, 1533, 1638, 1771, 1908, 2039, 2117, 2121, 2122, 2123, 2126, 2128, 2135, 2141, 2164, 2234, 2336, 2343, 2444, 2502, 2594, 2651, 2925, 3027</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redistribute the wealth</td>
<td>2852</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redistribution</td>
<td>1954</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redistribution of wealth</td>
<td>48, 165, 182, 886, 1384, 1455, 1466, 2473</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redistricting</td>
<td>1215, 2475</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redlined</td>
<td>317</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>red-meat diet, all</td>
<td>1148</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redress grievances</td>
<td>1324</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redressing</td>
<td>2778</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Red.</td>
<td>549, 2888</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reductionism</td>
<td>2460</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redundancy</td>
<td>2365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Redundancy</td>
<td>2361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>redundant</td>
<td>32, 1760, 2361, 3091</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Red, Ralph</td>
<td>845, 1221, 1224, 1226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>re-engineering</td>
<td>1383</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>refined</td>
<td>66, 1257, 1541, 1578, 2994</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reflecting (soul searching)</td>
<td>2671</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reforestation</td>
<td>1572</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reform Party</td>
<td>1478</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reformed (liberal) Judaism</td>
<td>479</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regenerated</td>
<td>998</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regeneration</td>
<td>752, 2198, 2199, 2500, 2660</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Regent University</td>
<td>844</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regime change</td>
<td>233, 463, 782, 865, 939, 1524</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>registration rolls</td>
<td>577</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regulating</td>
<td>169, 326, 1127, 1872</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regulation</td>
<td>140, 343, 1142, 1150, 1159, 1483, 3022</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Regulation</td>
<td>1147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regulations</td>
<td>140, 286, 969, 1872, 2482</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regulators</td>
<td>336, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>rehabilitated</td>
<td>621, 2899</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>rehabilitating</td>
<td>3078</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Resistance........................................... 1373 resisting............................................ 399
restorationist........................................ 979
résumés............................................. 793
resurrected........................................ 1021, 2145, 2350, 2594, 2966
Residency rights.................................... 317
Resistances.......................................... 399, 665, 674, 1088
756, 774, 796, 803, 806, 826, 827, 851, 860, 897, 927, 929, 948, 952, 954, 965, 1105, 1112, 1181, 1214, 1215, 1216, 1219, 1222, 1333, 1412, 1421, 1445, 1479, 1543, 1544, 1545, 1546, 1548, 1570, 1630, 1753, 1875, 1887, 1907, 1952, 2473, 2475, 2477, 2483, 2485, 2486, 2487, 2488, 2780
Republican's (Spain)................................. 444, 446 reputation........................................... 110, 736, 984, 1094, 1222, 1785, 1786, 1807, 2197, 2299, 2300, 2650, 2910, 3075 rescues............................................. 2793 rescuing............................................. 2792, 2793, 2870 research and development.......................... 681, 1487 research papers....................................... 25, 26
Reserve Officers' Association......................... 571
Reserve Officers' Training Corps....................... 543, 548
Resistance........................................... 399, 665, 674, 1088 respiratory diseases................................ 355 responsibility...................................... 66, 321, 391, 774, 815, 1050, 1053, 1200, 1244, 1365, 1367, 1462, 1514, 1888, 2012, 2671, 2763, 2864, 2865, 2866, 2867, 2893, 2918, 3022, 3071
restorationist........................................... 979
résumés............................................. 793
resurrected........................................ 1021, 2145, 2350, 2594, 2966
resurrected........................................ 223, 353, 1031, 1049, 1060, 1061, 1063, 1083, 1235, 1888, 1977, 2159, 2223, 2429, 2643, 2782, 2870, 3057
resurrection of the just......................... 131, 1083 resurrection, first                      3057 resurrection, second                   3057
retali ate...386, 523, 552, 1096, 1356, 2332, 2502, 2753, 2804 retaliation ....572, 1356, 1419, 1515, 2370 Retaliation                                      1356 retaliatory strike                           299 retinas                                       1232 retire                                        188 retirees                                      184 retirement benefits                           184 retirement pensions                          1135 Retirement security                         322 retribution..103, 386, 567, 1420, 1474, 2085, 3061
retrocausality                               3068 Revava                                         475, 477 revelation cxxv, 6, 25, 30, 31, 38, 40, 42, 61, 64, 74, 77, 78, 91, 170,
  433, 452, 506, 689, 810, 1000, 1031, 1032, 1035, 1037, 1071,
  1072, 1236, 1240, 1375, 1388,
  1392, 1405, 1505, 1543, 1548,
  1678, 1727, 1728, 1729, 1733,
  1736, 1757, 1761, 1767, 1779,
  1787, 1792, 1793, 1802, 1807, 1810, 1812, 1831, 1832, 1836,
  1839, 1840, 1851, 1852, 1857,
  1860, 1901, 1921, 1923, 1947,
  2003, 2028, 2052, 2061, 2064,
  2078, 2125, 2135, 2143, 2146,
  2147, 2181, 2215, 2233, 2234,
  2236, 2286, 2294, 2297, 2300,
  2303, 2304, 2349, 2386, 2395,
  2396, 2401, 2413, 2414, 2415,
  2420, 2459, 2478, 2493, 2509,
  2510, 2522, 2530, 2551, 2556,
  2565, 2576, 2595, 2598, 2602,
  2603, 2617, 2630, 2669, 2675,
  2703, 2704, 2711, 2713, 2714,
  2715, 2722, 2725, 2753, 2770,
  2777, 2819, 2820, 2837, 2862,
  2874, 2922, 2926, 2998, 3035,
  3071, 3072, 3074, 3077, 3141 revelation of Moses                        2665 revelation, general and special..2713 revenge......286, 376, 463, 487, 1021, 1246, 1356, 1591, 1681, 2041, 2824, 3032
revenue bonds................................182 reverse engineer..........................1985 reverse engineering creation......710 revilers.....................................2933, 2935 Revised Version................................cxxxii revisionism...9, 517, 525, 616, 1036, 1144, 2046, 2048, 2145, 2317
revisionism (Islamic)........................2075 Revisionist Zionism.....................1619 revisionists.................................2351 revolutionary.....447, 641, 979, 1416, 1569, 2275
revolutions296, 297, 311, 962, 1460, 1469, 2097
revolving door........245, 1412, 1515, 1684, 2638
revolving-door............................245, 348
re zoning....................................2740 RFID..................................1530, 2811 rhetoric..........................................1256 rhinoceroses.................................2763
Rhode, Harold...............................464
Rice, Condoleezza.................390, 561, 1325
Richard and Helen DeVos
Foundation........................................1168
Richardson, James Otto.............618 rich wannabes..............................1548 Righteous Among the Nations 2131
right wing Communist....1434, 1489, 1600 rightwing Communists......309, 1600 ring...214
ring leaders...............................1222 rise above the fray...............1985 ritual........62, 159, 647, 658, 659, 713, 1819, 2644, 2655, 2920 ritual animal sacrifice.........647, 658 ritualistic.........................433, 2547, 2642 rituals....101, 432, 2161, 2520, 2593, 3004
Ritz-Carlton.........................2601
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
<th>Terms</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>rivals</td>
<td>327, 605, 1962, 2097</td>
<td>Rockefeller Foundation</td>
<td>624, 1342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>RLCC</td>
<td>3098</td>
<td>Rockwell</td>
<td>595</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>roadside bombs</td>
<td>1879</td>
<td>rod of iron</td>
<td>2186, 2429, 2431, 2577</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robber Baron</td>
<td>183</td>
<td>rogue</td>
<td>1521, 1700, 2763</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robber Baron Era</td>
<td>185</td>
<td>role play</td>
<td>2265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>robber barons</td>
<td>183, 443, 1172, 1173, 1189</td>
<td>role playing</td>
<td>2266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>robber-baron</td>
<td>1648</td>
<td>roles</td>
<td>2954</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robertson, Pat</td>
<td>572, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 848, 851, 852, 856, 857, 861, 863, 864, 866, 867, 951, 1221, 1307, 1443, 1604, 1820, 3136</td>
<td>rolling blackouts</td>
<td>1117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robertson, Tim (son of televangelist Pat Robertson)</td>
<td>857</td>
<td>Roma</td>
<td>1902</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robinson, Gene</td>
<td>1222, 1223</td>
<td>Roman</td>
<td>2098, 2449, 2946</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robinson, Vicki Imogene</td>
<td>1223</td>
<td>Roman Catholic</td>
<td>153, 154, 449, 587, 601, 602, 607, 646, 1257, 1261, 2922, 2939</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>robot</td>
<td>1914</td>
<td>Roman Catholicism</td>
<td>445, 599, 1261, 1650, 1964, 2374</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>robots (military)</td>
<td>1883</td>
<td>Roman Legions</td>
<td>354, 1896, 3060</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>rock of ages</td>
<td>890, 1920</td>
<td>Roman Legions</td>
<td>995, 997</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rockefeller Commission</td>
<td>719, 1376</td>
<td>Roman prefect</td>
<td>29, 1680, 2304, 2966</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rockefeller Foundation</td>
<td>624, 1342</td>
<td>Roman Republic</td>
<td>806, 970</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roman</td>
<td>995, 997</td>
<td>Roman Senate</td>
<td>889, 931, 971, 1551</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roman Triumph</td>
<td>995, 1246, 1583, 1586, 1614, 1665, 1679, 1681, 1682, 1710, 1801, 1812, 1813, 1846, 1914, 1922, 2584, 2966, 3059</td>
<td>Roman Triumvirate</td>
<td>2339</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Rove, Karl. 285, 390, 516, 521, 532, 954, 1219, 1224, 1226, 1420, 1423, 1424, 1426, 1429, 1434, 2475
Rowling, J. K. 3095
Rowling, Joanne 3095
royal treasury 336
royalist 2833
rubber hoses 937
rude 92, 2754
rudeness 1368
rule of existence 1713, 2503 rule of law 286, 403, 932, 1540, 1693, 1697, 2533, 2535 Rule of the exchange 1911 rules of engagement 377
rules of existence 2289, 2587
rumors 619, 1082, 2761, 2768
Rumsfeld (Donald) 571
Rumsfeld, Donald 244, 377, 390, 391, 461, 462, 489, 517, 522, 555, 562, 570, 571, 661, 668, 713, 714, 736, 744, 886, 887, 903, 904, 905, 925, 954, 967, 1518, 1628, 1881, 1883, 1885, 2491, 3144
runaways 2468
runoff 1191, 2799, 2800 rural states 778
rush to judgment 1605
Rushdoony, Rousas John 2450
rushing to judgment 1607
Russian 127, 142, 297, 442, 443, 830, 1405, 1583, 1870, 1876, 1902
Russian Constituent Assembly 142
Russian Empire 442
Russians 186, 284, 363, 549, 638, 707, 708, 710, 830, 962, 983, 1342, 1394, 1875, 2962
Rwanda 856
sabbath 2175
Sabbath 2196, 2655
Sabbaths 2658
saber rattling 676, 784, 1315, 1443, 2301
sabotaged 2757, 2769
Sabra and Shatila 858, 1596, 1601 Sachs, Jeffrey 1116 sacrament 1949, 2061
sacrments 1819, 2643
sacred bond 2029, 2107, 2915, 2916, 2951 sacred environmentalism 1180 sacred stewardship 1180 sacrificing pigs 784
sacriilege 676
sacrilegious 2287
Sadducee 130
Satanic 653, 1086, 1126, 1275, 1532, 2667
dananic spirit..... 656, 706, 980, 1262, 1897, 2026, 2039, 2199, 2261, 2704, 2807, 3012
satanism.................. 323, 471
Satanism. 207, 646, 660, 1635, 1636, 2488, 2508, 2509, 2566, 2599
Satanist.................. 661, 674
Satanists........ 660, 662, 677, 797, 901
Satan's...... 206, 398, 540, 754, 1059, 1060, 1275, 1397, 2148, 2247, 2512, 2579, 2581, 2594, 3013
Satan's army.................. 811
Satan's Empire .............. 2452
Satan's minions............... 397
Satan's recourse............... 324
Satan's revolution.......... 292 satellite...... 270, 377, 529, 649, 1177 satellite providers......... 910
Saturday.................. 2655, 2658
Saturday night specials...... 1879
Saudi.......................... 879
Saudi Arabia ... 562, 626, 1153, 1536, 2461
Saudi Arabia ... 562, 626, 1153, 1536, 2461
Saudi border.................. 1405
Saudis............... 1630, 2461, 2462
Saul of Tarsus...... 1247, 1298, 1299
savagery............... 312, 1356
SAVAK.......................... 736, 1449
savannah.................. 1483
Savings and Loan collapse.... 1130
Saxon.................. 807, 1316, 2198, 2832
Saxons.................... 157
Sayanim..................... 1631
Scaife Foundations.......... 1168
Scaife, Richard Mellon...... 1168
Scaife, Antonin........... 1245, 1253, 1260, 1262, 1263, 1264, 1270, 1272, 1273, 1297, 2246, 2481
scandal111, 543, 596, 598, 724, 841, 845, 887, 1224, 1398, 1399, 1416, 1435, 1482, 1683, 2479, 2779, 2875, 2885 scandalous.................. 2324, 2885
Scandinavia.................. 157
Scandinavian........... 359, 368, 369, 1496
Scandinavian countries...... 368 scapegoat.................. 227, 558 scapegoating....... 555, 897, 885, 1145
scapegoats................. 615 scars (self-inflicted)......... 1351
scenario models .............. 1523 schizophrenia........ 2888, 2889, 2897, 3022
Schlaff, Martin.......... 859
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Schmit, Loran</td>
<td>633</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schmitt, Carl</td>
<td>811, 813</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schneider, René</td>
<td>215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scholar</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scholasticism</td>
<td>1819</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>school boards</td>
<td>950, 1830</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>school breakfast and lunch</td>
<td>1572</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>school dormitories</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>School of the Americas</td>
<td>841, 1338, 1500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>schools</td>
<td>150, 169, 283, 845, 1115, 1142, 1143, 1326, 1404, 1466, 1504, 1599, 1647, 1725, 1727, 1731, 1748, 1749, 1762, 1820, 1821, 2231, 2321, 2521, 2654, 2674, 2759, 2930</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schopenhauer, Arthur</td>
<td>1927, 1928</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schutzstaffel (defense echelon)</td>
<td>659</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schwarzenegger, Arnold</td>
<td>1225</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>science and technology</td>
<td>227, 400, 402, 683, 1105, 1512</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>science fiction</td>
<td>1509</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>sciences</td>
<td>681</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scientific</td>
<td>268, 269, 658, 1031, 1037, 1040, 1042, 1102, 1211, 1346, 1370, 1705, 1726, 1734, 1747, 1748, 1749, 1750, 1757, 1761</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scientific method</td>
<td>1032, 1747, 1748, 1750, 1751</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scientific methodology</td>
<td>656</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scientists</td>
<td>6, 267, 268, 269, 270, 664, 680, 681, 700, 969, 1037, 1040, 1043, 1190, 1208, 1209, 1342, 1343, 1344, 1369, 1370, 1372, 1745, 1749, 1750, 1755, 1756, 1757, 1758, 1763, 2563, 3041, 3051, 3064, 3101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scien-fi</td>
<td>661</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scorn</td>
<td>1741, 2574, 2581, 2872, 3074</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scouter</td>
<td>2364, 2574, 2649, 2650, 2651, 2652</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scotland</td>
<td>1219</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scots</td>
<td>157, 1257</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scotus, John Duns</td>
<td>2522</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scrapper</td>
<td>2886</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scribes</td>
<td>12, 20, 21, 64, 65, 132, 134, 194, 240, 369, 510, 538, 631, 664, 986, 987, 1779, 1787, 1811, 2267, 2310, 2394, 2618, 2713, 2815, 2924</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> scriptural scholars ....................... 132
scripture (the letter without spirit) as the sole source of truth..1786, 1831 Scrooge, Ebenezer .............. 91, 2889 sea level................................. 1209 sea levels, rising......................... 3100 Seals, Barry.......................... 1436 seams...................................... 398 search-engine logs.................... 1532 searches and seizures............. 651 seats on the judicial bench....... 1508
Second Advent...................... 2044, 2434 second canon......................... 2683, 2717
Second Coming..................... 328, 1182, 1443
second death......................... 2428, 2652, 3057
Second Great Awakening....... 1563 second guess ......................... 2648, 2651, 2652
Second Jewish Revolt............ 328, 1586 second resurrection............... 968, 2257
second set of books.............. 2479
secondary boycotts.............. 319 second-class citizens........... 846, 1717, 1853 second-guess God's plan........ 994 secret bombing of Cambodia.... 626, 882, 953 secret police....................... 1449, 1556 Secret Service..................... 637, 645
secret societies.................... 1723, 3004 secret taping system............ 1394 secretary of defense........... 462 secretary of labor............... 887 secretary of state................. 370, 557, 887, 1331, 1418, 1449, 1464, 1647, 3040 secretary of the Navy.......... 620 secretary of the treasury..... 611, 887 secrets................................. 114, 462, 1008, 2308, 2333, 2347, 2352, 2359, 2541, 3011, 3012 sectarian leaders................. 2038 sects................................. 419, 479, 480, 1765, 1766, 1788, 1994, 1996, 2105, 2152, 2155, 2156, 2430, 2669, 2682, 2923 secular.150, 297, 478, 483, 484, 587, 1051, 1257, 1377, 1581, 1648, 1755, 1757, 1821, 1876, 2134, 2200, 2203, 2234, 2328, 2460, 2465, 2472, 2524, 2527, 2534, 2615, 2617, 2619, 2620, 2621, 2624, 2625, 2626, 2627, 2630, 2644, 2654, 2672, 2673, 2675, 2927 secular humanism.................. 1377, 1916 secular humanist................... 624, 1718 secular state....................... 2347
secularism......................... 660, 2366, 2654, 2774
secularists......................... 2183, 2775 secularized.......................... 2653 secure global communications.1509 Securities and Exchange Commission........... 1410, 1436 security clearance.......................... 792 security clearances.......................... 1513 Security Council.557, 590, 592, 729, 734, 735, 738, 1399, 1610, 1612 security guard............................... 1526 sedition...838, 945, 958, 1522, 2453, 2622
Sedition Trials ............................. 1381 seditionious............................... 958, 2453 seeking-spirit................................ 457 segregated.................................... 1543 segregation.................. 1545, 1625 segregationist................................. 846
segretti, Donald............................ 1424
Seko, Mobutu Sese......................... 856
Seleucid......................................... 1075 self-aggrandized leaders .......... 1357 self-aggrandizing................. 2736, 2737
self-authorization.... 658, 2307, 2887 self-censorship......... 212, 2021, 2284
self-centered 91, 132, 314, 582, 763, 944, 1156, 1166, 1169, 1174, 1211, 1218, 1260, 1267, 1394, 1456, 1569, 1710, 1809, 2468, 2516, 2748, 2768, 2819, 2956, 2989, 3060 self-centeredness......................... 2559 self-defense.611, 615, 618, 621, 670, 897, 1553, 1879, 2237, 2762, 2864 self-delusional.............................. 2961 self-denial...1200, 1541, 2566, 2972, 2973, 2976, 2979, 2980
self-determination.... 108, 109, 2276, 2533, 2534, 2535
self-discipline ......................... 1608, 2501 self-doubt.................................. 1125, 1775 self-esteem.... 121, 2495, 2558, 2768, 2906 self-evident...... 84, 193, 1118, 1258, 1292, 1657, 1726, 1727, 1751,
1752, 1755, 1795, 1855, 1859,
1960, 2012, 2169, 2599, 2716, 2891, 3086
self-evident truth....................... 193, 1755 self-exalted................................. 2308
self-flagellating............................. 2736 self-fulfilling... 217, 711, 1118, 1636, 1736 self-gratification......................... 2659 self-hating................................. 913, 918 self-hating Jews............................ 913 self-indulgent............................. 1260, 2976 selfish flashbacks.......................... 2639 selfish interest........... 44, 111, 131, 179, 413, 456, 490, 560, 662, 1515,
1568, 1905, 2057, 2088, 2143, 2312 selfish interests... 238, 438, 439, 609, 815, 1156, 1508, 1872, 2060, 2311, 2315, 2341, 2534, 2587
selfish-interest......................... 1483
selfishness........... 44, 58, 66, 73, 93, 112, 114, 118, 168, 170, 179, 189,
191, 192, 194, 204, 224, 232,
261, 266, 277, 279, 312, 326,
333, 336, 340, 344, 367, 368,
380, 410, 435, 438, 443, 450, 3336

self-mutilation........1017, 1353, 1355, 1357, 2826
Self-mutilation........1357
self-mutilators........1355

sign of the times...... 321, 1706, 2205 signs intelligence.............. 1507, 1539

signing statements.......... 396, 628, 949, 954, 959, 960, 963 signing-statement............... 960, 961 signs ...... 79, 196, 298, 305, 384, 401, 698, 706, 753, 754, 769, 813, 960, 961, 991, 992, 1014, 1018, 1038, 1208, 1352, 1372, 1524, 1629, 1666, 1694, 1695, 1706, 1813, 1877, 2205, 2206, 2207, 2210, 2214, 2220, 2241, 2408, 2432, 2441, 2444, 2446, 2528, 2587, 2596, 2691, 2750, 2853, 2854, 2893, 2978, 3012, 3031, 3036, 3040 signs of the times...... 305, 401, 698, 813, 1352, 1629, 1666, 2207, 2750

Simeon .................... 1838, 2413

Simon ...... 79, 80, 325, 693, 1301, 1812, 1832, 1896, 1976, 2361, 2507, 3087

simony:................................. 1812

Sims, James Marion............ 580 sin-affliction.................. 2944

Sinai Peninsula.................. 161

Sinatra, Frank................ 1472 single life.......................... 2934 single-crop...................... 2801

singleness......................... 25

Sinim...................................... 2189

sinister ...... 26, 33, 307, 551, 560, 700, 701, 727, 790, 794, 829, 830, 937, 2223, 2232, 2343 sinking of the Maine............. 288 sins of the fathers......... 2792, 3065, 3066

Sirhan Sirhan..................... 1470

Sistani, ayatollah........... 2032, 2033

Six-Day War...................... 1644

sixty-six books............... 2685 skeletons in the closet...... 1548, 2909

skin color............................ 2921

Skinner, B. F..................... 2394, 2395

Skull and Bones................. 338, 1266 skyscrapers.................... 317, 615, 621

slam-dunk........................... 522

slamming doors.................. 1368

slander............................... 630

slanderer.......................... 2639

slang................................. 1071, 2766, 2769

slant-drilling................... 757 slaughter........ 423, 859, 1080, 1235, 1298, 1561, 1562, 1905, 1932, 2062, 2080, 2081, 2102, 2131, 2180, 2335

slaughtered indiscriminately.. 2443 slave labor 308, 2600 slave market 763 slave states 1330, 3047
slave trade 2763
slave wages 139, 1135, 2312, 2599
slave-labor bill 319 slavery 208, 238, 307, 403, 450, 1024, 1025, 1341, 1562, 1664, 1716, 1768, 1775, 1931, 1948, 2046, 2074, 2076, 2090, 2093, 2480, 2759, 2760, 2763, 3046 slavery, transatlantic 1139 slave-trader mentality 1120
slavic 807
sleep deprivation 814, 924, 937 slight of hand 812, 1437, 2207 slippery slope 1078, 2200, 2260, 2930 SlopbHeads 899
slothful 1259, 1357, 1953, 3014 slothful stink 1357
slothfulness 1368, 2938
slow growth 1409
slum-dwellers 358
slums 309, 358, 2758
sluttish 1017
smallpox 571
small-r republicans 803
smart weapons 974
smear tactics 2911
smears 2911, 2912
Smith Act trials 1380
Smith Richardson Foundation 1168
Smith, Adam 106, 204, 263, 326, 1142, 1172, 1173 smoking 1191, 1351, 1398, 2978, 2983, 3022
Smoking 2781
sneak and peek 129
snipers 1414
snob 762
snobs 1648
snow packs 1209
snowmobiles 1178
soak the rich 188
social climber 762 social climbing 763 social Darwinism 1175, 1771, 1772, 1928 social democracy 169, 308 social democrats 139, 922 social gospel 1563
social justice 1035
social phobia 2864, 2906
social programs 2319
Social responsibility 911 social sciences 2897
social security 185
Social Security 1572, 2473, 2628
Social Security and Medicare Taxes 2628 social services 739, 1116, 1633, 2762
social status 762
social welfare 358, 1147
social-democratic 1496, 2275
socialism 141, 143, 297, 314, 321, 323, 358, 441, 1114, 1128, 1153, Socialism in one country .......... 115
Socialist ........... 231, 321, 437, 729, 918, 1108, 1154, 1170, 1378, 1416, 1457, 1467, 1481, 1489, 1583, 1619, 1639, 2273, 2465
Socialist Christian ............... 1170
Socialistic ......................... 1466, 1478
Socialists 314, 918, 1380, 1463, 2762, 3092
Social-program gutting ............ 1130
Social-welfare 169, 315, 2461, 2462, 2473
Social-welfare state 169, 315, 2461
Society 30, 101, 115, 251, 365, 424, 433, 783, 925, 983, 1092, 1096, 1349, 1367, 1477, 1703, 1724, 1764, 1926, 1928, 2026, 2266, 2399, 2402, 2403, 2489, 2758, 2843, 2919
Society for Worldwide Interbank Financial Telecommunication ............................................. 690
Society of Friends ........................ 1563
Sociological ............................. 1143
Sociopath 3041, 3043, 3046
Sociopathic 641, 656, 658, 679
Sociopaths 3045
Sociopathy 385, 657, 3043
Socrates 443, 808, 1902
Sodom 200, 672, 1222, 1721, 1789, 1790, 1791, 1792, 2219, 2329, 2371, 2470, 2585, 2931, 2942, 2947, 2951, 2970, 3069
Sodomites 423, 2933, 2935
Sodomites 160, 2951, 2970
Sodomized 2964
Sodomy 121, 853, 1223, 1713, 2032, 2465, 2501, 2936, 2947
Soft drugs 2906
Soft on Communism, large-c 741
Soft on crime 741
Soft on terrorism 741
Softhearted 45, 114, 261, 314, 397, 428, 581, 770, 1018, 1020, 1082, 1151, 1263, 1571, 1573, 1816, 1826, 1829, 1832, 1885, 1904, 1941, 1959, 2148, 2158, 2167, 2372, 2393, 2414, 2531, 2536, 2576, 2706, 2725, 2765, 2846, 2851, 2897
Softheartedness 95, 114, 118, 331, 643, 821, 888, 1010, 1353, 1520, 1596, 1755, 1845, 2010, 2269, 2471, 2699
Softics ............................................ 180
Software ......................................... 1508
Soil erosion 2562, 2801
Sola fide (faith alone) 2379, 2380
Sola fide 193
Sola gratia 2379
Sola gratia (grace alone) 193
Sola scriptura 1839, 1855, 2379
South Africa...592, 859, 1502, 1543, 1593, 1625
South America ...205, 405, 464, 611, 612, 894, 1108, 1115, 1443, 1490, 1628
South American...... 215, 1489, 1491
South America oil.......... 262
South Carolina.............. 845, 1428
South Korea.................. 1435
South Vietnam.................. 209, 525
South, the (US).............. 3047, 3048
Southeast Asia.............. 464, 1386, 1907
Southern Baptist............. 851
Southern Command............ 406
Southern fundamentalism....... 2450
Southerners..................... 1563
Southwest Asia.............. 279 sovereign....108, 228, 447, 627, 819, 979, 2001, 2511, 3004, 3005 sovereignty.108, 109, 401, 540, 889, 1009, 1127, 1392, 2406, 2511, 3004
Soviet.......................... 293, 737
Soviet containment................. 729
Soviet Union.... 115, 232, 236, 279, 298, 445, 518, 544, 977, 1134, 1147, 1323, 1434, 1495, 1873, 2093, 2745, 2802
Soviets................ 142, 493, 625, 729, 878, 1324, 1393, 1874, 1875 space (revolution).............. 311 space is water................ 2204
Spain.............139, 292, 444, 445, 446, 447, 567, 1108, 1331, 1665
Spanish.444, 898, 1331, 1332, 1485, 2093, 2962
Spanish Civil War............. 444 spatial reasoning.............. 1659 speaker of the United States House of Representatives........ 554, 1401
speaking in tongues........... 2168, 2922
speaking loudly.................. 1368 speaking truth to power........ 509
special forces............. 464, 466, 839, 1526
Special Forces............... 2496
Special Investigations Unit..... 555 special revelation............... 2714
speciation........................ 1746
Spectra Physics............... 595 spectroscopy...................... 1883 spectrum............... 17, 180, 408, 444, 446, 488, 529, 628, 661, 753, 824, 1017, 1070, 1090, 1096, 1169, 1232, 1452, 1466, 1514, 1619, 1774, 1970, 2045, 2216, 2440, 2501, 2509, 2513, 2533, 2542, 2579, 2824, 2910, 2946, 2949, 3018 spectra................ 680, 701, 824 speculate.................. 644, 1824 speculation334, 496, 590, 644, 1118 speculative investment....... 169 speculators............. 1132, 1256, 2461
spell............ 2, 313, 710, 749, 751, 1081, 1251, 1640, 1685, 2003, 2464, 2948 SPELLBINDER, Operation... 634 spellbinding............. 752 spells.................. 478, 1065, 2281 3346

Spence, Craig ..................... 634, 637
spermatozoa .......................... 3032
Sperry Corp. .......................... 595
Spics ........................................ 899 spies ........................................ 634, 665 spikenard ............................... 1019, 1242, 2564, 3087 spin yarn ................................. 2811 spiral galaxy ............................ 2205 spirit of oneness in service and friendship .............................. 752, 977, 1831, 2627, 2632, 3058, 3111
spirit of the law ....................... 54, 55, 137, 374, 942, 1062, 1261, 1271, 1272,
1279, 1281, 1419, 1567, 1617,
1692, 1741, 1779, 1801, 1803, 1911, 2115, 2152, 2176, 2208, 2238, 2597, 2666, 3009 spirit over matter .................... 709, 1044, 1527 spiritline ...................... 157, 1581, 1596, 1616, 1652, 2155, 2191, 2947, 2948, 2971 spiritual camps ....................... 2773 spiritual fall ........................... 1635 spiritual malnutrition ................ 2469 spiritual nation ....................... 225, 2110, 2158, 3006
spiritual nutrition ................... 2469, 2470
spiritual revolution .................. 1571 spiritual war ........................... 2773
spirituality ............................ 542, 713, 1686, 1975, 2681 spit polished .......................... 1357 spoil of war ............................ 819 spoil system ........................... 185, 247, 1153 sports ....................................... 2258, 3046 spring break ........................... 2654 Sprint Nextel Corporation ............ 1168 spy ......................................... 1343, 1375, 1551, 1559, 2327 squalid slums .......................... 2898
squeamish ............................. 681, 1591
SS Patria ................................. 1587
St. Louis (Missouri) .................. 416
Stalin, Joseph .......................... 441, 445, 1131, 1323, 1502, 1869, 1875
Stalinism ............................... 545, 759, 1140, 1147, 1495, 1501, 1869
Stalinist ............................... 297, 1320, 1489, 1495, 1873
Stalinists .............................. 214, 440, 446, 544, 1600, 1869 stampeding ............................ 2079
standard of living ...................... 167, 354, 355, 1119 standard of living (monetary) ....... 1119
Star Chamber ........................... 154 star system ............................. 1200
Star Wars .............................. 1875
Starbucks ............................... 1104 stark contrast ......................... 2559, 3011
Starlink-corn recall ................... 1102 start-up phase .......................... 2789 start-ups .................................. 1411 starvation .............................. 45, 474, 1130, 1313, 1338, 2238, 2250, 2357, 2515, 2516,
2641, 2727, 2851, 2898, 2974, 2977, 3072
starvation, mass ........................ 3100 starving ................................. 283, 294, 582, 752, 1050, 1199, 1204, 1220, 1254, 1312, 1462, 1932, 2140, 2194, 2333, stop-loss policy
straight... 3348
straighten straighten gate straighten gate strict construction strict constructionism
strict constructionist strict constructionists strictest strike strikes (labor) striked stress stress positions stressed stressed stressful stressful stressors stressors stream of consciousness streams of consciousness students student movement stumbling block subconscious
subconscious
subhuman.........................899, 1435 subliminal........................2954 submarines........................1670 subsidies.........................2278, 2533 subsidize........................2321, 2738 substance abuse...............1351, 2906 substitutionary atonement.....1063, 2716 subtle.............................544, 743, 744, 912, 1308, 1371, 1603, 2044, 2050, 2200, 2260, 2709, 2892, 2962
subversion......................945, 1970, 1973, 2142, 2360 subversive......................444, 1218, 1381 subwoofers........................1367 succeeding........................1775, 2728
Sudan.............................1153, 1628, 1932
Sudetenland.....................1316
Suez Group.........................1485
Sufi..................................2094
sugarcoat.......................472, 2552 suggestion.....................1375, 1608, 2675 Suharto.........................216, 282, 1336, 1337 suicide 322, 359, 634, 637, 719, 891, 965, 1098, 2458, 2902, 2929, 2966
Sukkot..............................2667
Sumer................................346 summation88, 805, 979, 1580, 2153, 2921
summer camps....................417 sun cycle............................2663
Sunday.........................1319, 2196, 2655, 2658
Sudan Growers..................1168
Sunni..............................1886, 2105, 2107
sunshine meetings..............1518
Super Bowl........................3046 super bugs..........................1104 super patriots......................2454 super volcanoes..................1207, 1208
supercomputer.....................1883
Supercomputers..................124 superficial......................1017, 2269, 2839
superficial reflection...........239 superficiality....................100 superfund cleanup sites........277
SWIFT.......................... 690 swindling.......................... 1222
Switzerland.......................... 1475 sword. 75, 110, 146, 199, 558, 1000, 1246, 1265, 1288, 1574, 1680, 1682, 1738, 1775, 1866, 1942, 1944, 1964, 2046, 2049, 2085, 2109, 2112, 2116, 2117, 2169, 2229, 2230, 2231, 2235, 2236, 2241, 2286, 2431, 2432, 2444, 2449, 2511, 2531, 2577, 2578, 2579, 2580, 2705, 2825, 2843, 2873, 2948, 3049, 3059 sword of truth........................ 2046 sword, mental and spiritual .... 2046
sword, metal........................... 2046 swords into plowshares........... 2811 sycophants..................... 883, 1643, 1891 syllogisms.......................... 583 symbolic...... 905, 1280, 1712, 1778, 1796, 1976, 2306, 2547, 2671, 2700, 3069, 3071
symbolism.................. 2196, 2199, 2662 symbolizes.................. 1583, 3047 sympathize.................. 1520, 1521 symphony..................... 1127 symptom...... 642, 2892, 2893, 2939
symptomatic.................. 1567 symptoms 251, 344, 348, 543, 1357, 1568, 2829, 2898, 2900, 2901, 3026
synagogue of Satan ... 103, 473, 474, 476, 696, 1898, 1899, 2220, 2426, 3073 synchronized.................. 1823 syncretic....................... 1461
syncretism.................... 686, 687, 689, 1321, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1916, 2195
syncretized....................... 1828 synergistically............... 1808, 2928 synonymous ...... 17, 30, 408, 533, 642, 672, 701, 990, 1002, 1169, 1480, 1577, 1606, 1656, 1805, 1956, 2147, 2153, 2349, 2767, 2862, 2869, 2929 synonyms........ 92, 93, 94, 980, 2215, 2597 Synoptic Gospels........... 1981
synthetic oil..................... 266
Syria.... 288, 472, 676, 697, 784, 938, 1075, 1298, 1894
Syriac.............................. 2686
Syriac translation............ 2686
Syrian text...................... 2836
Syrians...................... 697, 937, 1640, 2307 systemic unemployment.. 166, 1147, 1148, 1361, 1573, 2277 systemically unemployed 1117, 1129
taboo.............................. 1762, 2399
tabula rasa (erased tablet) 1059, 1066 Tacitus............................. 33 tactful.............................. 100, 2213
tactical........ 287, 299, 371, 566, 894 tactical errors................... 566 tactical nuclear weapons..... 287, 371
Taft, William Howard........ 1333
Taguba, Antonio.................. 2491
Taiping Rebellion .......... 327, 328 take heaven by force ..... 155, 300, 1009, 1078, 1532, 1769, 1770, 1773, 2162, 2369, 2455, 2946
takers, the .......... 342, 349, 418, 1115, 1116, 2099, 2339, 2571
takers, The .............. 1115, 2099
Taliban 564, 571, 572, 839, 878, 903 talking points ........... 490, 491, 576
Tallahassee ................. 645, 646
Talmudic ........................... 2669
Talmudic law .............. 853
TALON........................................ 1878
Tamerlane ................................ 1772 Tammuz .................................. 2004, 2702 tampering .... 1751, 1987, 2487, 2835 tangible ............. 11, 147, 476, 708, 929, 1029, 1178, 1292, 1612, 1734,
1933, 2420, 2488, 2608, 2874, 3000 tar sands .................. 266 targeting .... 736, 870, 974, 1327, 1861, 2087 targeting civilians .......... 1327
tariffs .............................. 1330, 2533
Tathagatha ............................. 1917 tattooing ...................... 1351
tattoos ........... 1017, 1018, 1232, 2010 tautological ............. 958, 1956 tautology ...................... 1760, 1956 tax 521, 1013, 1301, 1447, 1504, 1720, 1763, 2086, 2256, 2365,
2534, 2601, 2614, 2615, 2618,
2619, 2620, 2622, 2623, 2624, 2627, 2628, 2629, 2630, 2995 tax breaks .................. 2601 tax code ....................... 2614, 2630 tax collectors .... 234, 724, 1533, 2988
tax cuts ..... 164, 165, 166, 184, 1120, 3137
Tax cuts .......... 890, 1434, 2485
tax cuts for the rich .......... 164 tax cuts for the wealthy .... 164, 165, 1120
tax deductible ................ 2614
tax deductions ................ 545 tax exempt ...................... 2614
tax havens ...................... 2479
Taylor, Charles ............... 857
Teacher of Righteousness 433, 1975 technicality .................... 1420, 2058 technocrats .................. 1127 technological ............... 1346
technological singularity .... 1885
technologies .... 299, 364, 742, 973, 1158, 1187, 1370, 1529, 1531, 1561, 1685, 2056, 2963
technology 123, 204, 243, 304, 315, 320, 352, 363, 399, 574, 592,
645, 646, 701, 768, 786, 824,
894, 975, 1057, 1065, 1124,
1199, 1200, 1227, 1229, 1231,
1233, 1345, 1346, 1370, 1372,
1384, 1397, 1530, 1535, 1669,
1761, 1875, 1884, 2011, 2160,
2262, 2431, 2755, 2772, 2773, 2811, 2821, 2982
tectonics ..................... 1209
teenagers .......... 1349, 1748, 2259, 2763
Tehran .................. 1323, 1881, 2476, 3137
Tektronix ........................................... 595 Telecoms (telecommunications companies) ............ 910, 911, 1112 teleological (design in natural phenomena) .... 1292, 1727, 1731, 1755 teleevangelism .................................... 2841 teleevangelist .... 839, 841, 1221, 1307 teleevangelists .................................... 7, 1311 television ......................................... 243, 363, 528, 709, 840, 940, 1506, 1529, 2259, 2482 telexes ................................................ 646 tell-all ............................................. 765, 2879
Temple Mount .................................... 475, 476, 1597
Temple Mount Faithful ............................ 475, 853, 1592
Temple of Set .................................... 657 temporal ........................................... 153, 424, 506, 997, 1047, 1048, 1146, 1181, 1250, 1260, 1654, 1657, 1666, 1693, 1716, 1726, 1767, 2027, 2160, 2293, 2299, 2306, 2412, 2463, 2554, 2605, 2613, 2614, 2781, 2853, 2915, 3004, 3021, 3022, 3023, 3041, 3042, 3043, 3049 temporal lobes ................................... 3021, 3022, 3023, 3042 temporal parents ................................... 2999
ten commandments ......................... 2664
Tenet, George ................................ 390, 464, 557, 558, 572, 1881
Tenet, George ................................ 492
Tennessee Valley Authority .................. 265 tentacles ........................................ 436, 2849
3354

... bytes........................................ 876
... terminator seed........ 1100, 1102, 1104, 1190
... terror..... 376, 380, 605, 635, 667, 784, 822, 842, 1245, 1253, 1265, 1274, 1318, 1777, 2083, 2130, 2131, 2294, 2297, 2772, 2773, 2774, 2775
... terror (the backbone of US military policy)...................... 1611
... terrorism..... 128, 193, 269, 296, 338, 372, 390, 394, 399, 404, 500, 562, 646, 647, 670, 690, 694, 741, 782, 800, 801, 804, 854, 894, 931, 937, 945, 964, 980, 1135, 1452, 1513, 1539, 1578, 1611, 1655, 1870, 1877, 1878, 2089, 2142, 2144, 2480, 2774
... Terrorism Information Awareness Office.......................... 1513
... terrorist..... 394, 395, 400, 401, 406, 483, 499, 520, 567, 690, 782, 792, 795, 800, 801, 802, 803, 834, 854, 859, 875, 876, 890, 960, 963, 1326, 1327, 1373, 1378, 1385, 1450, 1451, 1468, 1501, 1504, 1506, 1538, 1539, 1554, 1556, 1579, 1586, 1592, 1598, 1602, 1862, 1878, 2142, 2222, 2232, 2274
... terrorist attack....... 803, 960, 963
... terroristic........ 1551, 1600, 2131
... terrorists..... 126, 127, 251, 338, 386, 395, 399, 407, 464, 490, 499, 575, 619, 744, 800, 963, 971, 1262, 1317, 1494, 1501, 1506, 1511, 1539, 1540, 1582, 1586, 1588, 1596, 1598, 1601, 1862, 1878, 2232, 2272
... Terrorists.................. 325, 1326
... terrorize......... 373, 499, 1318, 1378
... terrorized 150, 707, 825, 1327, 1449, 1589, 1599, 1611
... terrorizing........ 398, 661, 707, 795
... testability............................... 1754
... testers................................. 1754
... testing....... 28, 649, 756, 1365, 1425, 1702, 1705, 1755, 1910, 2024, 2114, 2487, 2503, 2508, 2575, 2596, 2751, 2753, 2782, 2805, 2901, 2974, 3031
... testing prayer...................... 1705
... testosterone driven................. 960
... testy............................. 2924
... Teutonic............................... 1645, 2098
... Texas..... 699, 730, 869, 1215, 1216, 1226, 1329, 1427, 1437, 1475, 2475, 2494
... Texas Air National Guard.............. 869
... Texas Rangers.......................... 1437
... Texas redistricting.................... 1215
... textiles................................. 2811
... Textus Receptus........ 1297, 2834, 2835
... Thanksgiving Day..................... 2654
... Thatcher, Margaret... 164, 837, 1133, 2904
... thaumaturgy......................... 3094
... The American-Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC)........ 1618
The Bible (as history) ........................................ 1252 the commons.................................................. 1252 146, 148, 149, 152, 195, 249, 438, 439, 440, 441, 529, 797, 821, 826, 849, 892,
1024, 1107, 1133, 1160, 1499,
1570, 2099, 2102, 2104, 2355,
2397, 2489, 2612, 2613, 2747,
2807, 2808, 2852, 2876, 2986
the devil made me do it ................................ 1641 the law and the prophets .................................. 1692, 1703, 1781, 1835, 2385, 2397,
2444, 2572, 2622, 2721
the Lord's house............................................ 3001
the most embarrassing verse in the Bible ..................................................................... 996 the only good Indian is a dead
Indian ............................................................. 1325
The Presidio of San Francisco ........ 657
the unity ......................................................... 102, 576, 947, 1045, 1591, 1822, 1912, 1915, 1924, 1954,
1955, 1956, 1960, 2004, 2019,
2061, 2125, 2181, 2413, 2590,
2899, 2926, 2972, 3101
Theban Legion ................................................. 1678, 1679, 2130 theft ............................................................... 1805, 2076, 2520, 2839
theism ............................................................. 655, 1913
theistic evolution ........................................... 1041
theme parks .................................................... 1178 theocracy ....................................................... 397, 818, 853, 854, 2265, 2398, 2447, 2448, 2451, 2452, 2460, 2476, 2503, 2927
theocracy, Islamic ........................................ 1613
theocratic-training schools ...................... 847 theologians .................................................... 1703, 1807, 1830, 2426, 2430, 2436, 2437
theological .................................................. 4, 152, 507, 1563, 1747, 1748, 1788, 1955, 2432, 2435, 2436, 2521
theology ....................................................... 3, 43, 865, 947, 966, 1747, 1748, 1751, 1762, 1819, 1822, 1953, 1974, 2436, 2789, 3077
theonomy ..................................................... 2448, 2503
theoreticians .................................................. 1142 theories ......................................................... 1115, 1142, 1685, 1745, 1750, 1926, 2440
theology .......................................................... 63, 865, 947, 966, 1747, 1748, 1751, 1762, 1819, 1822, 1953, 1974, 2436, 2789, 3077
theonomy ..................................................... 2448, 2503
theoreticians .................................................. 1142 theories .......................................................... 1115, 1142, 1685, 1745, 1750, 1926, 2440
theozology .................................................... 2785
theta waves .................................................... 525
Theta waves ................................................. 3018 thieves ......................................................... 68, 69, 72, 100, 141, 147, 224, 414, 1047, 1048, 1533, 2098, 2139, 2281, 2291, 2339,
2825, 2826, 2827, 2830, 2831, 2933, 2935
think tank ..................................................... 270, 1460, 2340 think tanks ................................................... 511, 552, 576, 761, 762, 765, 951, 983, 1084, 1166, 1169, 1172, 1618
Third Great Awakening ................. 1563 third temple .................................................. 475, 476, 481, 482, 1592, 1597, 2159
Third Way ..................................................... 139 third-world countries ......................... 1137
Thomas .......................................................... 1964
Thomas Christians ................................. 1964
Thomas, Clarence ................................. 812 Thomism (after Thomas Aquinas and scholasticism) ......................... 1819
Thomson CSF ................................................. 1536
Thoreau, Henry David........2395
thorn bushes...............2652, 2827 thought generation........1234 thoughtful........122, 2295, 2296, 2363, 2381, 2739, 2784, 3073 thought-terminating statements ........................................1892, 3058 thousand-year reign........3057 Threatening behavior........1233 threats........83, 114, 129, 155, 192, 262, 266, 307, 395, 602, 606, 630, 809, 924, 931, 1077, 1107, 1123, 1206, 1291, 1506, 1510, 1517, 1562, 1577, 1660, 2040, 2075, 2086, 2097, 2277, 2289, 2387, 2402, 2774, 2890, 2903, 3021, 3028
throwback........1085, 1903, 2049, 2107
throwbacks........504, 2042
throw-down weapons........1879
Thursdays are mo days........2466
THX...............................1396
TI Coating..........................595
Tiananmen Square...........329, 822
Tiananmen Square Massacre...963
Tiber River....................1952
Tiberium dedication block....1680 ticker-tape parade...........547
Tiger Force....................1413 tiger-cage prison...........1591 tilt (US tilt to West Pakistan)........1393
Time Warner...................243
Timor.........................282, 283, 1338
Timor Sea fields............282 tin soldier...................527 tip of the iceberg.........607, 730, 775, 1413 Tishrei.......................2666
tithe.12, 336, 1811, 2612, 3105, 3107
tithes.2451, 2611, 2741, 2785, 2984, 3111 title in common............2739
Titus.1290, 1342, 1655, 1679, 1681, 2689
tobacco........346, 1103, 2864, 2969
Tobacco..................268, 339, 664
Tobacco Institute........267, 268, 664 toilets.......................645, 1339 toiling.1013, 1708, 1987, 2140, 2248
Toledo, Alejandro...........1491 tolerance........85, 2373, 2538, 2766 tolerating..................99, 2937
toleration........85, 90, 96, 100, 103, 971, 1544, 2045, 2326, 2500, 2804, 2812
Toleration....................87
toll ways.....................151, 181, 195
Tolstoy, Leo...................1171
Tomlinson, Kenneth........532 tone of voice.............1351, 2539 toolbox.....................1612, 1613
toolboxes....................715 top-heavy...............1496, 1571, 1683
Topol-M missiles..........362 top-secret.............2333, 2346, 3051
Tora Bora.....................518 torment......... 753, 1055, 1329, 1673, 2650, 2879, 2891, 3058, 3060, 3061 tormentors ................. 2895, 3061 tornados .................. 1207 turbulence ..................... 1207
 Torture........ 726, 898, 924, 927, 940, 1391, 2494, 2891 tortured........ 154, 296, 408, 419, 653, 665, 683, 695, 715, 788, 825, 905, 929, 931, 937, 938, 943, 945, 1249, 1338, 1413, 1415, 1470, 1717, 2332, 2684, 3016 tortures........ 384, 575, 717, 814, 903, 904, 905, 921, 923, 930, 943, 968, 1074, 1490, 1591, 2288, 2402, 2710 torturing....... 503, 574, 677, 685, 789, 814, 882, 925, 928, 943, 944, 1660, 2490, 2909 total disarmament ............ 292
 total information awareness .... 1229, 1517, 1528, 1529
 Total information awareness.... 122
 Total Information Awareness... 403, 502, 604, 606, 628, 640, 662, 693, 804, 887, 888, 1373, 1512, 1514, 1515, 1530, 1559
 Total Information Awareness Office .................................. 1514 total recall.......................... 1530 total solution.................. 2005, 2006 total-government conservatives. 805 totalitarian 115, 180, 448, 790, 1128, 1131, 1336, 1417, 1459, 1468, 1600, 2142, 2375, 2448, 2776
 totalitarian dictatorship........ 1128 totalitarianism........... 759, 1147, 1468, 1869, 2404 tough question .................. 1422, 2037 tough questions... 192, 241, 242, 945, 952, 954, 955, 956, 957, 1170 tough talk ................................ 2886
 Tourette’s syndrome............ 1345 Tower of Babel............. 95, 1065, 1712 toxic cleanup.................. 2734 toxic sites .................... 244, 2588 toxics.......................... 140, 322, 2565
 Toxics Release Inventory ...... 276 tracking devices................ 129 trade (free).................... 2533 trade agreements..................242 trade income........................2628 trades..................................2802 tradition........................479, 1202, 1240, 1277, 1279, 1282, 1299, 1787, 1789, 1835, 1842, 1970, 2074, 2096, 2125, 2248, 2349, 2371, 2416, 2515, 2517, 2644, 2724, 3048
Tradition............................26, 27 traditional..................cxxiv, 2, 20, 24, 26, 31, 42, 61, 64, 82, 114, 435, 449, 457, 480, 495, 907, 976, 1009, 1069, 1072, 1074, 1246, 1276, 1288, 1767, 1786, 1835, 1845, 1895, 1911, 1994, 2167, 2187, 2197, 2206, 2363, 2408, 2409, 2410, 2411, 2412, 2416, 2520, 2523, 2524, 2593, 2597, 2615, 2630, 2636, 2640, 2644, 2653, 2674, 2675, 2677, 2710, 2726, 2727, 2729, 2733, 2745, 2769, 2787, 2788, 2828, 2871, 2920, 2997, 3006, 3066, 3082, 3091 traditional family-values.........2472 traditionalism..................36, 732, 1006 traditionalist..................64, 1074, 1081, 1085, 1904, 2095, 2162, 2515, 2531 traditionalist perfectionist......1520 traditionalists..................538, 540, 1047, 1072, 1082, 1322, 1520, 1830, 1911, 2031, 2156, 2392, 2414, 2463, 2515, 2516, 2520, 2674
traffickers.........................338, 1416 trafficking..................118, 338, 1417 trajectory.................................194 trance..................701, 706, 751, 753, 2464 tranquility...................1367, 2192, 2296 transcendence...................1207, 2967 transcendent....................1169, 1634, 1704, 1760, 1935, 2027, 2397, 2412, 2420, 2679, 2925, 3084 transcending..................70, 428, 1000, 1044, 1731, 2018, 2070, 2656, 2977 transfer (one of Israel's methods of ethnic cleansing).............1579 transfiguration......1031, 1049, 1207, 2529 transfigure.........................2433, 2528 transformation...............752, 1029, 1049, 1349, 1774, 1777, 1810, 1852, transformational.., 1049, 1773, 2823, 3019
transhumanism...................... 1884 transitory land...................... 2734 translating.......................... 2606 transnational monopolies ........... 141 transparency ...................... 888, 1905, 2533 transsexual ......................... 2944 transsexualism ...................... 2965 transitionary bland ................. 2734
translating.......................... 2606 transmission ....................... 26, 1372 treasure ............................ 52, 82, 94, 368, 892, 1054, 1784, 2310, 2378, 2531 treasures .................................. 166 treasury bonds ....................... 2461
treasury secretary ................... 564 treaties ............................... 208, 374, 1565 tree of knowledge of good and evil .................................. 1292 tree of life .................................. 1292 tree of Three Roots.................. 1444 trial by combat ....................... 2269 trial by jury ............................. 120 tribal warlords ....................... 652 tribulation 8, 43, 121, 122, 123, 163, 170, 451, 469, 470, 472, 474, 735, 811, 838, 888, 890, 894, 1069, 1082, 1083, 1181, 1207, 1227, 1234, 1443, 1509, 1646, 1814, 1888, 1898, 1940, 1943, 1995, 2027, 2161, 2162, 2203, 2237, 2297, 2368, 2429, 2431, 2432, 2433, 2434, 2440, 2445, 2446, 2489, 2510, 2512, 2607, 2608, 2825, 2997, 2985, 2990, 3034, 3011, 3110 tribute... 958, 985, 1077, 1301, 2353, 2622
trickle-down economics 1116, 1434, 2484
Trickle-down economics ....... 1685 tricks .................................... 171 trickster ............................... 2463
Tricky Dick ......................... 1399, 1424
Trilateral Commission ............ 1169
Trinitarianism ......................... 1952
Trinitarians ......................... 2067, 2125
Trinity ............................. 1799, 2181, 2724, 2835
Trinity Broadcasting Network (TBN) .................................. 622 tritheism ............................. 1955 undocumented adjustments......461 unemployment ......322, 1135, 1142, 1145, 1150, 1482, 2280, 2847
Unemployment ..........321, 1132
unemployment compensation...322 unemployment insurance1135, 1572
unethical .....336, 404, 577, 627, 649, 742, 906, 1173, 1424, 1436, 1482, 1654, 1711, 2600, 3083 uneven playing field ............113 unfair trade..................113, 1098 unfallen angels .................1223 unhealthy ......263, 1017, 1197, 2943, 2978
Unification Church............327, 1182 unified law ............................2460 unified theory ......................1142 uniformity ..........25, 156, 827, 2483, 2486
uniforms ...................2917, 2919
unilateral. 150, 286, 949, 1077, 1887 unilateralism .....................1887 uniformed .... 580, 825, 2463, 2778, 2780
Union Banking Corporation...... 186
Union of Soviet Socialist Republics
............................................ 1452, 2231 unionism ................................ 319, 1136 unionists ............................. 105, 1380 unionize ..................... 318, 1135, 2600 unions ............................ 319, 418, 1454, 1457 uniplurality ......................... 2095
Unisys .............................. 595
Unit 101 .............................. 859 unitary executive ................. 790, 935
Unitary Executive Doctrine ..... 931,
933, 934, 935, 945, 947, 959
United Agrt Products ............ 1168
United Church of Christ ........ 2500
United Fruit Company .... 737, 1132, 1332
United Kingdom cxxiii, 35, 36, 113, 178, 289, 513, 788, 1316, 1400,
1529, 1532, 1613
United Kingdom Parliament .... 1532
United Nations .114, 216, 259, 366, 370, 518, 557, 568, 569, 573,
593, 831, 835, 858, 938, 1418, 1552, 1871
United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference ............ 259
United Press International (UPI)
.................................................. 1182
United States ..................... 557
United States Electoral College .. 778
United States Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities
........................................... 1375 universal health insurance ........ 358 universal healthcare ............ 860 universal repentance ... 506, 641, 739, 840, 930, 1554, 1593, 1882,
1922, 2024, 2225, 2251, 2343,
2401, 2538, 2588, 2852, 2867,
2893, 2908, 2930, 2943, 2995,
3052, 3056, 3061, 3074, 3078
Universal repentance ............ 410 universal soldier ................. 551 untouchables................................1945 untraditional.....................................24 untrustworthy..66, 123, 1532, 1637, 1754, 1761, 1881, 2280, 2899, 2901, 3070
unutterable.....................................379 unwarranted......................................557 unwanted pregnancy .........................2971 unwanted sexual advances .................597 unwelcome......................................2895, 2900 unwholesome.........85, 88, 98, 1017, 2139, 2382, 2983 unwholesomeness...... 101, 469, 959, 1093, 1714, 2260, 2261 unworthy...... 66, 310, 349, 421, 457, 704, 794, 1463, 1517, 1819, 1999, 2001, 2059, 2283, 2424, 2539, 2768, 2844, 2906, 3036, 3057, 3070 Upanishads.................................1923 upper class . 183, 260, 310, 357, 546, 718, 898, 948, 977, 1569 upper-class mantra .........................184 upper-middle class .........................183 upright........................................253, 695 upside-down.................................1126 upwardly mobile...............................762 Ur 523
uranium 519, 593, 1186, 1418, 1420, 1435 urbanization......................................361 urge.... 685, 1223, 1345, 1358, 1396, 2230, 2903
Uriah the Hittite .........................1880
Uribe, Alvaro.................................1481
Urine-diverting toilets.......................3098
Uruguay.......................... 1478, 1488
US Agency for International Development...............1492
US Air Force Academy.............485
US ambassador to Afghanistan 2274
US ambassador to Iraq..............2274
US ambassador to the United Nations..............................1453
US Army...........................924, 1338, 1500
US attorney general. 952, 953, 1384, 1474
US Civil War...............................2224
US Congress.....................168, 392, 393, 692, 792, 795, 889 US corporations that supplied the illegal weapons of mass destruction to Iraq...............594
US Customs.................................650 US Department of Energy Nuclear Emergency Support Team. 1532, 1558
US Department of the Treasury
..............................1560
US foreign policy.................2898
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Pages</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>vanity</td>
<td>51, 58, 60, 333, 509, 1013, 1357, 1946, 2507, 2560, 2679, 2920, 2956, 3070, 3074</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vaporized</td>
<td>1884</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>variables</td>
<td>2700, 2953</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vassalage</td>
<td>2098</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vatican</td>
<td>600, 1035</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vázquez Rosas, Tabaré Ramón</td>
<td>1488</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vedanta</td>
<td>1923</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vedas</td>
<td>1923, 1948</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vedic</td>
<td>1926, 1929, 1971</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vedic religion</td>
<td>1926, 1929</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vegan</td>
<td>40, 1975, 2811</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vegans</td>
<td>2563</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vegetarian</td>
<td>40, 2799, 2811</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vegetarianism</td>
<td>1944, 2563, 2799</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vehicles</td>
<td>365, 1193, 2755</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Venable, Barry</td>
<td>381</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>venal</td>
<td>797</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Venezuela</td>
<td>170, 177, 292, 316, 567, 576, 626, 784, 866, 1108, 1333, 1443, 1445, 1446, 1447, 1448, 1454, 1455, 1456, 1457, 1459, 1460, 1464, 1465, 1467, 1477, 1478, 1480, 1491, 1498, 1894, 2273, 2461</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Verizon</td>
<td>909</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Verizon Communications</td>
<td>909</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vertical monopolies</td>
<td>347, 892</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vessel</td>
<td>1031, 1194, 1282, 1954, 2014, 2119, 2186, 2406, 2563, 2565, 2781, 2784, 2930</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vested interest</td>
<td>203, 888, 1120, 1568, 2788</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>veterans</td>
<td>375, 551, 899, 906, 2462, 2474</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Veterans of Foreign Wars</td>
<td>285</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>veto power</td>
<td>960, 961</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>veto-proof majority</td>
<td>927</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vetting</td>
<td>491, 557</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>viable</td>
<td>295</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Viacom</td>
<td>243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Viagra</td>
<td>2728</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vibrations</td>
<td>1348, 1349, 1353, 1369, 1935, 2753</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vicious cycle</td>
<td>2114, 2390, 2900, 2983, 3063, 3100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>victim</td>
<td>1593, 2074, 2253, 2890, 3018, 3020</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Term</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-----------------------------</td>
<td>--------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>voodoo economics</td>
<td>836</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>voter fraud</td>
<td>741</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voter Guides</td>
<td>844</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voter-ID</td>
<td>845</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>voter-registration drive</td>
<td>851</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>voting machines</td>
<td>578, 579, 2485, 2486, 2487, 2488</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>voting rights movement</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vouch</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>voucher</td>
<td>2472</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vouchers</td>
<td>2321, 2322</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vow of poverty</td>
<td>2641, 2726</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>voyeurism</td>
<td>1547</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vulgar</td>
<td>2954</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vultures</td>
<td>2340</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>VX</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wac</td>
<td>699, 2494</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waco Siege</td>
<td>699</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage slaves</td>
<td>203, 760</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage-and-price controls</td>
<td>1147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage-slaves</td>
<td>238</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wahhabists</td>
<td>878</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wailing Wall</td>
<td>481</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walden Pond</td>
<td>2305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wales, James</td>
<td>920</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walker, George Herbert</td>
<td>186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wall of separation</td>
<td>1751</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wall Street</td>
<td>532, 1440, 2473, 2486</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wall Street fascistic forces</td>
<td>188</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wallow in the mire</td>
<td>2391, 2709</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walsh, Lawrence E</td>
<td>887</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walt, Stephen</td>
<td>1617, 1621, 1629, 3142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walton family</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wanna-be-aristocrat liars</td>
<td>1568</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wanted dead or alive</td>
<td>2886</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> war contractor...............................243
war crimes..215, 373, 374, 377, 736, 739, 831, 926, 929, 1413, 2225 war criminal.................................373 war declaration.............................952 war games........298, 394, 871, 2262 war is hell.................................535, 929 War is illegal.................................805 war of aggression...........................1553 war of words..................................566 war on drugs.................................1377
War on Poverty...............................209 War on Terrorism.....808, 898, 962, 1377, 1468, 1499, 2773 war policy.................................378, 940 war president...............................881 war profits.................................389 war reparations.............................1317 war to end all wars........1963, 2040 warehousing people......................2758
White, George Hunter.................718
White, Robert..........................1439 white-collar gangsters..................1226 white-supremacist......................847 whitewash..............................830, 904 whitewashed..................824, 836, 1819
whitewashes.............................616 whitewashing...348, 616, 713, 920, 1416, 1435
Whitewater..............................596 whole house.195, 1477, 2120, 2580, 2792, 2846
whole truth.....63, 85, 219, 225, 301, 350, 570, 598, 663, 716, 732,
820, 1188, 1249, 1859, 2341, 2680, 2711
wholeness.....78, 89, 507, 598, 657,
701, 705, 753, 1017, 1352, 1525,
1608, 1792, 2013, 2041, 2595,
2889, 3011, 3025
wholeness-context.......................458 wholesome.........423, 644, 959, 1091, 1092, 1351, 1810, 2470, 2503, 2772, 2953
wholesomeness 14, 89, 96, 102, 228, 349, 587, 1093, 1777, 1796, 1827, 2239, 2794, 2876, 3012
whores......................................2764 wicked devices ......104, 2318, 2319, 2320, 2321, 2322, 2323, 2324,
2325, 2326, 2327, 2328, 2329, 2349, 2358
wicked temper.........................2904 wide path...121, 139, 196, 342, 388, 450, 566, 690, 1358, 1384, 1585, 1842, 1916, 2008, 2470, 2616
wide path to hell....196, 1384, 1585, 2470
Wikipedia.........912, 917, 919, 920
wild birds................................1179 Wild West..................317, 401
wilderness.....41, 62, 198, 251, 253, 429, 432, 561, 753, 1025, 1145,
1177, 1178, 1185, 1189, 1204,
1282, 1706, 1712, 1738, 1744,
1779, 1938, 1966, 1984, 2009,
2011, 2012, 2184, 2186, 2301,
2302, 2320, 2496, 2501, 2667,
2783, 3004, 3103, 3146
Wilderness.........................1178
Wilkinson, Benjamin George...1966, 1967, 3146
Wilkinson, James..........................521 will for victory..........................662 willful...149, 258, 409, 773, 797, 861, 1057, 1170, 1250, 1368, 1656,
1693, 1710, 1711, 1722, 1917,
2240, 2255, 2296, 2310, 2372,
2460, 2516, 2561, 2580, 2592,
2623, 2650, 2747, 2780, 2820, 2883, 2891
willfulness....306, 468, 505, 508, 769, 860, 888, 1391, 1664, 1702,
1710, 1713, 1805, 1820, 1916,
1922, 2240, 2371, 2372, 2515, 2516, 2698, 2862, 2950
William & Flora Hewlett Foundation ........................................ 1168
William Lloyd Garrison .................................................. 1564
William the Bastard ...................................................... 2098
William the Conqueror .................................................... 151
William, duke of Normandy ............................................... 2098
willpower ...................................................................... 683, 2220, 2384, 2385, 2864, 2885
Wilson, Joseph C. ............................................................ 1419
Wilson, Woodrow ............................................................ 189, 594, 1333 win-at-all-costs .............................................................. 663 Wind (energy) ................................................................. 2812 wind power ....................................................................... 1195 window dressing ............................................................ 2261 wink and nod ................................................................. 2288 Winstanley, Gerrard .......................................................... 145, 150 winter solstice ................................................................. 2199 win-win ........................................................................... 349, 2409 wisdom ........................................................................... 5, 27, 76, 142, 162, 193, 194, 324, 995, 1657, 1663, 1743, 1859, 2014, 2038, 2068, 2136, 2308, 2519, 2655, 2660, 2694, 2695, 2697, 2699, 2704, 2832, 2862, 2877, 2978, 2996
Wisdom ................................................................. 1282, 2694, 2724, 2978
Wisdom (female mother) .............................................. 2694, 2695 witch hunts ....................................................................... 918, 1378 witchcraft ............................................................ 3094 witches ........................................................................... 2282, 3094 witness tampering ........................................................... 606 wizard ............................................................................... 3094 wizardry .......................................................................... 3094 wizards ........................................................................... 172, 227, 1040, 2281, 2776
wobbles on its axis ........................................................... 2204
Wobblies .......................................................................... 105, 319, 1382
Wobblies Shop ............................................................... 1382 Wohlstetter, Albert ............................................................ 471, 554 wolf ................................................................. 177, 253, 1018, 1861, 2245, 2753 wolf in sheep's clothing .................................................. 1018, 1556, 2245, 2753, 2919
Wolfowitz Doctrine .......................................................... 287, 299, 364, 407, 552, 570, 776, 878 Wolfowitz, Paul ............................................................... 176, 278, 284, 286, 300, 462, 463, 620, 758, 776, 1078, 1079, 1630, 2355
does, ravening .............................................................. 1429, 1815, 2246, 2546, 2826
Woman Haters Club .......................................................... 2466 womanizing ................................................................. 597 women's rights ............................................................ 115, 528 women's suffrage .......................................................... 1572 wonders ................................................................. 2205, 2528
Wonders of the World...............266
Woodward, Bob................777, 1397, 1398, 3146
Woolsey, James..................1536
word games..................171, 172, 403 word-game ......................43, 2955
workable regime...............1324 Worker rights...................307 worker safety ..................746, 1572
worker's compensation......320, 1135
workers' compensation........1572 workers' councils .............142
worker-safety..................354 worker-state cooperatives..170, 316, 1455 workhouses.....................309 working conditions...........1683, 1685
Working conditions...........307
working conscience...........204, 913, 1906, 2286, 2350, 2650 Working on the sabbath......2500 working-class..................2759 workplace safety ...............105
Works Projects Administration.238
World Bank 176, 203, 259, 260, 261, 283, 300, 413, 416, 1106, 1131, 1478, 1485, 1488, 2278, 2355
world government 1155, 1156, 1157
World government...........1156
World Harvest Church...........2499
World Trade Center.........1327, 2220
World Trade Center bombing of 1993.............................1763
World Trade Organization......260, 1155, 1458
World War I...........143, 376, 472, 523, 594, 1317, 1570, 1650, 2088
World War II...........106, 241, 265, 279, 376, 594, 696, 708, 712, 801, 809, 815, 907, 1127, 1326, 1342, 1344, 1381, 1541, 1591, 1649, 1752, 1826, 1873, 1875, 1876, 1938, 2131, 2340, 2887
World War II movie..............2887
World War III...........7, 137, 401, 1885
WorldCom........................1438 world-house....................345 worldly Empire...............809, 812
Worldly Empire..598, 609, 754, 791 worldly evangelicals............559 worldly preachers...............852 worldly world...............913, 1801, 2678, 2781, 2908, 2949 worldview..................371, 401, 912, 1119, 1638, 1868, 1869 Worldwide Web..................907 worship money..................809
worship services...........1819, 2593, 2602, 2642
wounded........68, 448, 574, 973, 1354, 1516, 2043, 2179, 2307, 2827 wrath........28, 91, 126, 189, 190, 200, 201, 222, 224, 376, 380, 386, 396, 397, 422, 423, 425, 445, 448, 468, 511, 524, 677, 688, 753, 768, 810, 811, 916, 972, 997, 1177, 1227, 1246, 1248, 1249, 1251, 1265, 1268, 1269, yes men.................................572
Yeshua.................................2414
Yes.................................2414
YHVH.................................2000, 2001, 2416
Yiddish...............................1578, 1632
Yippie.................................762 yoke.................................111, 251, 260, 331, 955, 1146, 1469, 1953, 2322, 2373, 2383, 2591, 2699, 2860
Yom Kippur...........................2667
Yoo, John..............................812, 945, 946, 952, 2492
You cannot blame others for your mistakes........................3058, 3059 younger brothers.....................2097, 2104 younger sons...........................2098
youth culture.........................2764, 2765, 2766 youth leaders..........................2765 youth movement........................117, 1868
Yugoslavia..................1153
Yule-time.............................2198
yuppies.................................118, 762, 2875
yuppies.................................118, 762
Yuppies.................................760, 762
Zacchaeus..............................3105, 3106
Zacharias............................21, 510, 631, 1074, 1075, 2532
Zaire (now the Democratic Republic of the Congo)...........856, 1153, 1336
Zarqawi, Abu Musab al-.........571, 572
Zawahiri, Ayman al-.................697 Zawahri, Ayman al-..................879 zealot....................................2776
Zealots.................................1623, 2498
Zealots, the 1075, 1076, 1896, 2169, 2423, 2446
Zechariah.............................1074, 1075, 1083, 1809, 1814
Zen Buddhism..........................1923
Zen Buddhist...........................2008
Zeno.................................2696, 2704, 2718 zero toleration.........................2804 zero-sum...............................349
Zeus. 1825, 2065, 2689, 2690, 2691, 2695, 2704
Zimbabwe.........................784, 1461
Zimmerman, Rita.....................1470
Zinn, Howard......................1576, 1604
Zion............................135, 480, 1021, 1652, 1737, 2062, 2063, 2153, 2186, 2413
Zion (real), state of..............2153
Zion, spiritual.......................1721
Zionism..............................473, 475, 478, 479, 483, 484, 489
Zionism (the selfish brand).......1613
Zionist Lobby........................1629
Zionist, militant.....................1615
Zionists.........................480, 922, 1617, 2089 zodiac.................................2203, 2206
Zogby International..................523 zombie...................................196 zoning.................................416, 2740, 3098 zoning laws...........................416, 3098
zoological............................2956 zoology...................................2785
Zubaydah, Abu.........................939
Zumach, Andreas.....................592, 740
Zwingli, Huldrych...................3075